BOSTON CAFE, 384 GEO. ST.
For Ladies and Gentlemen
Open all the time.
Ice Cream Parlor Fancy Drinks

The Evening Examiner.

BOSTON CAFE, 384 GEO. ST.
For Ladies and Gentlemen
Open all the time.
Ice Cream Parlor Fancy Drinks

VOL. LV. No. 78 14 PAGES PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, APRIL 2, 1914 PAGES 1 TO 6 PRICE TWO CENTS

EASTER PHOTOGRAPHS

A Portrait of Mother or Father or a group of the children would be a fitting Easter remembrance.

New Styles and appropiate to the occassion.

Arrange for an appointment at

THE ROY STUDIO

140½ HUNTER ST.

BUILDERS' AND HOME FURNISHERS' DIRECTORY

Real Estate.
C. J. Carroll & Co., 372 Water Street.
Lumber Dealers.
Peterborough Planing Mill.
Builders' and Mason Supplies.
Thomas A. Rehill, 210 Wolfe Street.
Hardware and Paints.
Campbell & Best, 134 Hunter Street
Brick Manufacturers.
Curtis Bros., Smith Street.
Roofer and Roofings.
Archie R. Moore, 260 Aylmer Street.
Hot Air and Steam Heating.
W. R. Turner, 206 Simcoe Street.
Plumbing Contractors.
R. G. Sturgeon & Co., 202 Charlotte Street.
Plasterer.
William Saxby, 362 Smith Street.
Tin Smithing.
W. R. Turner, 206 Simcoe Street.
Gas Company.
Peterborough Light and Power Co., George Street.
Electrical Contractors.
Alexander & Miller, 436 George Street.
Painters and Decorators.
Coleman Bros., 445 George Street.
Piano Dealers.
J. M. Greene Music Co., 185 Charlotte Street.
Furniture Dealers.
Home Furnishing Co., 208 Charlotte Street.
Clothiers and Gents.' Furnishers.
H. LeBrun & Co., 396 George Street
Laundry.
Peterborough Laundry, 179 Charlotte Street.
Garage.
Manning & Strong, 368 Water Street.
Insurance Agent.
R. Boswell, 181 Charlotte Street.

NEW IDEAS

Having had the advantage of the recent valuable lectures and demonstrations given at the Eastman School by professional photographers, I am better prepared than ever to guarantee even higher results.

The newest ideas in the various processes of photography, new methods, materials and, tossing to keep abreast of the times.

ORME STUDIO
170 Charlotte. Phone 626

"FAGOTS"

For Friday, an Englishman's Savory Dish, made after the Yorkshire manner, by

WOODHOUSE, the Fishman

Deep in any kind, cold or thick. If you want Fish cooked to the taste of a connoisseur,

The Hot Fish and Chip Restaurant
308 George St. 'Phone 812

ROYAL THEATRE
TO-DAY
ENTIRE CHANGE
Special Vaudeville
REELS OF MOTION PICTURES
5c and 10c

IS WELL SATISFIED

Government Doesn't Want Inquiry Into Rural Depopulation

COMMISSION IS REFUSED

TORONTO, April 2.—After a long debate in the Legislature yesterday afternoon and evening the Ontario Government decided that a commission to investigate rural conditions in Ontario was not needed, and an Opposition resolution calling for one was defeated by 51 votes to 16.

Col. T. R. Mayberry (Lib., S. Oxford) presented a motion calling for the appointment of a non-partisan commission of practical members to enquire and report on the remedy of present conditions of rural depopulation. Col. Mayberry said the farmer was not gaining a fair share of attention. Although the wage of farm laborers had been increased, it had been a vain attempt to bring the men back to the farms, and the only solution in his mind was that specially-fitted men be brought from the old country by the Government. This had been tried in counties and had worked well.

In replying, Hon. J. S. Duff made a vigorous defence of the work of his Department as far as it affected the question. He cited figures showing decreases in rural population of 51,400 from 1881 to 1891, from 48,267 from 1891 to 1901, and from 1901 to 2911, 52,161, which showed materially better conditions under the present Government. Proceeding he quoted more figures showing the agricultural production of the province, and while there had been decreases in cereals and grains, including both spring and fall wheat, he maintained that the increased production of live stock and dairy products by feeding, more than compensated for the shortage. Mortgages were decreasing year by year. Only 45 per cent. of the farms were now mortgaged to 33 per cent. of their value, meaning that only 15 per cent. of the farms in Ontario were now under mortgage. He found that the total amount of farm moneys on deposit had increased from 15 to 30 per cent., the aggregate amount being over one hundred millions, and the aggregate wealth totaling $1,485,860,940.

Mr. Duff turned to the problem of rural depopulation and said that what was Ontario's loss was the Dominion's gain. The province was entitled to great credit for her share in Canadianizing the west.

In following up the Minister Mr. Rowell stated that there were many things in the Government policy with which he could agree. The support which was being granted to the O.A.C. was very commendable, and would always be assured of Opposition unanimity. The Government, however, was not doing all that it should, and the appointment of a commission would work well towards the solution of some of the agricultural problems.

Hon. Mr. Duff, he said, had missed the point of the Opposition motion in making such a vigorous defence of the work of his Department. They faced a condition, he said, that was not confined to Ontario, but was almost world-wide. A good commission would help to bring out the facts upon which action could be based.

George Pattinson (Con., S. Waterloo) and W. McDonald (Lib., C. Bruce) also spoke.

Radical legislation regarding inspection of boilers was introduced in the Legislature by Hon. Mr. Duff yesterday. Every boiler in Ontario and not only those in factories, shops or offices, must be annually inspected henceforth by qualified engineering inspectors. This will include theatres, hotels, schools and show building of all descriptions, and all come under a provincial supervision independent of insurance companies.

Children who work in canning factories during the summer months will have the hours of labor cut down from 12 to 10, and elevator operators must be over 18 years of age.

Copper Strike To Continue.

CALUMET, Mich., April 2. — The Western Federation of Miners, at a district meeting yesterday, decided to continue the copper strike indefinitely and to supply tents to any families evicted. Five hundred tents have been offered by the United Mine Workers of America.

Assassinate Rivals Banquet.

PARIS, April 2. — Revolutionary anarchists assembled last night and attempted to force their way into a banquet of the Socialist Republican party while ex-Premier Briand was speaking. The police were ready for them and dispersed the anarchists after a sharp scuffle.

NuBru-Co Laxatives

are especially good for children because they are pleasant to take, gentle in action, do not irritate the bowels nor develop a habit for continued or increased doses. 25c. a box, at your Druggist's.

[illegible] and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited. 177

ROYAL Baking Powder Absolutely Pure

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable to finest cookery and to the comfort and convenience of modern housekeeping. Royal Baking Powder makes hot breads, cakes and pastry wholesome. Perfectly leavens without fermentation.

Full instructions in the "Royal Baker and Pastry Cook" book for making all kinds of bread, biscuit and cake with Royal Baking Powder. Gratis to any address.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. NEW YORK

WHY NOT MEND IT?

Government Knows Remedy If N. T. R. Charges Are True

DEBATE NEAR ITS END

OTTAWA, April 2.—Premier Borden and his followers sat in the silence of discomfort yesterday afternoon as E. M. Macdonald, of Pictou, put his finger on the reasons underlying the Staunton-Gutelius attack upon the Transcontinental and Canada's credit.

Conservatives, he said, had argued that there had been over-payment to Transcontinental contractors and over-classification on contracts, with consequent loss to the country. If this is so, contended Mr. Macdonald, why has the Government not applied the remedy? The security deposited by contractors is still in the hands of the Government.

The debate will conclude to-night with speeches by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Prime Minister.

The debate was resumed by Mr. Gautier (Lib., St. Hyacinthe), who contended that the present Government had no right to degrade the standard of the National Transcontinental without first obtaining a mandate to that effect from the people.

He was followed by E. M. Macdonald (Lib., Pictou), who ridiculed the claim that Parliament in 1903, and the electorate in 1904, had endorsed the Grand Trunk Pacific scheme in the belief that the Government line between Moncton and Winnipeg would not cost over $13,000,000. He then read at length from Hansard to show that Mr. Borden had estimated the cost of the road at $150,000,000, while the late Hon. John Haggart and Speaker Sproule had put the cost at $125,000,000. Sir Edmund Osler, he said, had estimated the cost at $250,000,000. In 1903, when but a small portion of the work had been completed on the National Transcontinental, Hon. George E. Foster had declared in Parliament that the line between Moncton and Winnipeg would cost at least $155,000,000, while R. L. Borden had made the remarkably accurate estimate that the cost would be $161,726,185, exclusive of terminals, which he estimated at $5,000,000 additional. Now, in 1914, the entire Conservative Parliament, from Mr. Borden down, affected to be horrified, and astounded at the announcement that the complete line would cost $161,000,000, including terminals.

"The Laurier Government is responsible for $95,000,000 of this expenditure and the Borden Government for $66,000,000," declared Mr. Macdonald, "but if gentlemen on the other side say that the cost of the road is $200,000,000, $300,000,000 or $400,000,000, so much the worse for them, because for only $95,000,000 of the total expenditure was the Laurier Government to be responsible. In short, the road was little more than half finished when the present Government took charge two and a half years ago."

Major Fowler (Con., Kings and Albert) replied for the Government. After a brief defence of the standing and reputation of Messrs. Lynch-Staunton and Gutelius, he declared that the old National Transcontinental Railway Commission was either inefficient and ignorant, or fraudulent and corrupt. The contractors, he said, with the connivance of the commission, had looted the public treasury of Canada as no South American dictator had ever dared to loot the treasury of his country.

Mr. Fowler next took up the Deville farm crossing case. Deville had offered to sell his farm of 55 acres to the N. T. R. Commission for $2,500. The right of way agent reported that this price was excessive and the Railway Commission had accordingly granted 200 acres from him at $1100 an acre, and with other damages aggregating in all $700 more. Then Mr. Deville insisted upon having a crossing, so that he could drive his cattle to water. To meet this request the commission had enlarged a culvert so that the cattle could be driven through it, and in the end had expended $24,000, although the entire farm could have been purchased for $3,500.

Mr. Fowler said that he was not afraid to say that the $35,000,000 expended on constructing the line from Lewis to Moncton was a mere waste of public money. He had opposed its construction in 1903, and, notwithstanding the fact, had been re-elected to the House by his constituents in 1904. In conclusion, he said the salient facts which would remain in the public mind long after the debate was over were that the road was to cost but $61,000,000, and it would cost, including interest, $240,000,000. Moreover, there had been, beyond any dispute a wanton waste of $40,000,000, a large portion of which, in his opinion, had been actually stolen.

Judge McKenzie (Lib., N. Cape Breton and Victoria) followed, and Mr. Nesbitt (N. Oxford) moved the adjournment of the debate.

WHAT C.N.R. HAS HAD.

Statement of Federal Aid Is Given In the House of Commons.

OTTAWA, April 2.—The Dominion Government has thus far granted cash subsidies amounting to $28,854,042, and bond guarantees amounting to $59,746,582, to the Canadian Northern Railway Co. and its subsidiary lines. Of the total of the cash subsidies granted, the amount of $21,278,534 has thus far been earned, while on the bond guarantees the company has so far raised $39,927,322. In addition to this the company has received from the Federal Government land grants of 4,003,846 acres originally granted to the Lake Manitoba Railway & Canal Co., the Winnipeg & Hudson Bay Railway Co., and the Manitoba & Southeastern Railway Co., which roads were taken over and completed by the Canadian Northern Co.

This information was given in the Commons yesterday afternoon by the acting Minister of Railways, Hon. Dr. Reid, in reply to a question by Mr. J. H. Burnham (Peterboro). The details given, however, do not, of course, include public aid received by the Canadian Northern system from the various provinces or from municipalities.

Liberal Clubs To Meet In Toronto.

TORONTO, April 2.—The Liberal Club Federation of Ontario have arranged their second annual meeting for April 18 in the Ontario Club, where a dinner address will be given by N. W. Rowell. In the afternoon matters of interest to the organization will be discussed.

New Type of Aeroplane.

RHEIMS, France, April 2.—A new type of aeroplane consisting of seven planes arranged in a semi-circle was tried here yesterday for the first time and gave good results. The arrangement of the planes gives complete stability, and it is said the aviator will have to watch only the steering.

Gifts that Last

To get forks, knives, spoons and fancy pieces of quality and beauty ask for

1847 ROGERS BROS.

This brand is known as "Silver Plate that Wears"

To buy this wash to get the utmost service and satisfaction and the heaviest silver plate. Known for over 60 years. Sold by Leading Dealers

ASSESSMENT RETURNS FROM THE EAST WARD

CRICKET PLACE—SOUTH SIDE.

Geo. R. Record, owner, 13 Cricket Place. Lot 3, Plan 28. Frontage 40 feet. Land value $250. Buildings $1,050. Total taxable property $1,300. P.S.S.

Alva Fluke, owner, 9 Cricket Place. Lot 2, Plan 28. Frontage 36 feet. Land value $210. Buildings $1,000. Total taxable property $1,210. P.S.S.

Vernon O'Dette and Wm. Phillips, tenants, 7 and 5, Cricket Place. Owner Isaac Eastwood. East part lot 1, and west part lot 1, Plan 28. Frontage 58 feet. Land value $450. Buildings $1,800. Total taxable property $2,250. Tenants assessed $1,100 and $1,125. S.S.S. and P.S.S.

CRICKET PLACE—NORTH SIDE.

Fred Cook, owner, 32 Cricket Place. Lot 9, Plan 28. Frontage 35 feet. Land value $280. Buildings $1,420. Total taxable property $1,700. S.S.S.

R. O. Beamish, tenant, 28 Cricket Place. Owner Cornelius Gainey. Lot 10, Plan 28. Frontage 40 feet. Land Value $280. Buildings $970. Total Taxable property $1,250. P.S.S.

Daniel Hennessy, owner, 24 Cricket Place. Lot 11, Plan 28. Frontage 40 feet. Land value $280. Buildings $1,120. Total taxable property $1,400. S.S.S.

Robt. Allen, owner, 22 Cricket Place. Lot 12, Plan 28. Frontage 40 feet. Land value $280. Buildings $770. Total taxable property $1,050. S.S.S.

George Pattenden, tenant, 16 Cricket Place. Owner Mrs. Margaret McGregor. Lot 13, Plan 28. Frontage 40 feet. Land value $280. Buildings $920. Total taxable property $1,200. P.S.S.

Henry Gainey, owner, 14 Cricket Place. Lot 14, Plan 28. Frontage 40 feet. Land value $250. Buildings $1,350. Total taxable property $1,600. S.S.S.

RAILWAYS.

G. T. R. Co., owners, from Downer street north to bridge across Otonabee river, south of Smith street. Land value $5,150. No buildings. Total taxable property $5,150. P.S.S.

G. T. R. Co., owners, from intersection of Railway lines on block N, north of the limit of Ward 5. Size 4½ acres.

G. T. R. Co., owners, from intersection of Railway lines on Downer street, thence north westerly to Otonabee river. Size 4½ acres. Land value $1,420. No buildings. Total taxable property $1,420. P.S.S.

G. T. R. Co., owners, station ground, south of Hunter street. Land value $2,000. No buildings. Total taxable property $2,000. P.S.S.

C. P. R. Co., owners, from Otonabee river easterly to eastern boundary of Peterborough Land value $2,300. No buildings. Total taxable property $2,300. P.S.S.

MARIA STREET—SOUTH SIDE.

Burnham Estate, owner, lot 70, 69, 68, west of Concession street. Frontage 1 acre. Land value $300. No buildings. Total taxable property $300. P.S.S.

Wm. Scott, owner lots 70, 69, 68, west of Concession. Size 1 acre. Land value $300. No buildings. Total taxable property $300. P.S.S.

Wm. Scott, owner, north part lots 65, 64, 63, west of Concession street. Size 2-3 acre. Land value $350. No buildings. Total taxable property $350. P.S.S.

Bernard Kelly, owner, 163 Maria street. East part lot 10, west of Concession street. Land value $200. Buildings $450. Total taxable property $650. S.S.S.

George Green, tenant, 149 Maria street. Owner Bernard Kelly. West part lot 10, west of Concession street. Land value $200. Buildings $200. Total taxable property $400. P.S.S.

Vermont Marble Co., owners, lots 11, 12, 13 and part lot 14, and lots 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 3, 4, Plan 11. West of Concession street Size 4½ acres, and 650 feet frontage. Land values $1,300 and $4,300. Buildings $10,000. Total property liable for school rates only $15,600. Business assessment, liable for school rates only, $9,360. Total assessment $24,960. P.S.S.

John F. Allen, tenant, lot 2, Plan 11, west of Concession street. Owners the Vermont Marble Co. Land value $300. Buildings $100. Total taxable property $400. Business assessment $100. Total assessment $500. P.S.S.

Charles Adams, owner, 103 Maria street. North part lot 1, Plan 11, West of Concession street. Land value $150. Buildings $1,000. Total taxable property $1,150. P.S.S.

John Bragge, tenant, 197 Maria street. Owner the Armour Estate. Lots 2 and 1, west of Mark, and lots 146 and 147, west of Mark street. Land values $1,100 and $980. Buildings $900. Total taxable property $2,900. P.S.S.

Patrick Gorham, tenant, 49 Maria street. Owners the C. P. R. East part lot 148, west of Mark street. Land value $100. Buildings $300. Total taxable property $400. S.S.S.

The Burnham Estate, owner, part block E, south of Maria street. Frontage about 450 feet. Land value $1,500. No buildings. Total taxable property $1,500. P.S.S.

Peterborough Lumber Co., owner, part block E, Plan 12, south of C.P.R. piling grounds and sawmill. Size about 8 acres. Land value $7,000. Buildings $3,000. Total taxable property $10,000. Business assessment $6,000. Total assessment $16,000. P.S.S.

MARIA STREET—NORTH SIDE.

Burnham Estate, owners, south part lots 23, 24, east of Rogers. Size ¾ acre. Land value $300. No buildings. Total taxable property $300. P.S.S.

Fred Dover, owner, lots 62 and 61, west of Rogers street. Land value $200. No buildings. Total taxable property $200. P.S.S.

Albert Hamilton, tenant, 142 Maria street. City Property. Part lots 111 and 110, west of Rogers street. Land value $200. Buildings $200 Total taxable property $400. P.S.S.

City Property, owners, lot 109, west of Rogers street. Land value $150. No buildings. Total property, exempt, $150. P.S.S.

James Newhall, tenant, 130 Maria street. Owner Wm. Warbois. Lot 108, west of Rogers street. Frontage 16 feet 6 inches. Land value $150. Buildings $300. Total taxable property $450. P.S.S.

Miss Sarah Adamson, owner, 128 Maria street. East part lot 107, east of Mark street. Frontage 38 feet 6 inches. Land value $150. Buildings $770. Total taxable property $920. P.S.S.

T. B. Menicce, owner, west part lot 107, east of Mark street, and part lot 106, east of Mark street. Frontages 38 feet 5 inches, and 37 feet 7 inches. Land values $160 and $160. No buildings. Total taxable property $300. P.S.S.

Burnham Estate, owner, lot 106, and part lot 5, east of Mark street. Frontage 15 feet 9 inches. Land value $300. No buildings. Total taxable propert $300. P.S.S.

Earnest Scott, tenant, 116 Maria street. Owner James Graham. Part lot 106, east of Mark street. Frontage 40 feet. Land value $150. Buildings $1,000. Total taxable property $1,150. P.S.S.

John R. Scott, owner, 115 Maria street. Lot 1, east of Mark street. Frontage 228 feet 9 inches. Land value $350. Buildings $550. Total taxable property $900. P.S.S.

John J. Lundy, owner, lot 4 west of Mark street. Frontage 100 feet. Land value $300. No buildings. Total taxable property $300. P.S.S.

James Tobin, tenant, 48 Maria street. Owner Mrs. Johanna Tobin. Lot 3, east of Burnham street. Frontage about 100 feet. Land values $300. Buildings $150. Total taxable property $450. S.S.S.

J. J. Lundy, owner, frontage 231 feet.

Mrs. Minnie Strickland, owner frontage 240 feet.

Robt. Starr, owner, 18 Maria street. Lot 42, Plan 124. Frontage 45 feet. Land value $180. Buildings $970. Total taxable property $1,150. P.S.S.

Thos. Starr, owner, lot 43, Plan 124. Land value $180. No buildings. Total taxable property $180. P.S.S.

Frank Adams, owner, lots 40, 39, 38, Plan 124. Land value $540. No buildings. Total taxable property $540. P.S.S.

JAMES STREET—SOUTH SIDE.

John McLean, owner, 139 James street. West part lot 57, west of Rogers street, and west part lot 58, west of Rogers street. Land values $150 and $40. Buildings $330. Total taxable property $520. P.S.S.

Burnham Estate, owners, lot 71, west of Rogers street. Land value $250. No buildings. Total taxable property $250. P.S.S.

G. T. R. Co., owners.

George Hutchinson, owner, 129 James street. Lot 100 and 101, east of Mark street. Land value $200. Buildings $300. Total taxable property $500. P.S.S.

Mrs. Mary Culligan, owner, 125 James street. Lot 102, east of Mark street. Land value $250. Buildings $200. Total taxable property $450. S.S.S.

Chas. Whitered, owner, 123 James street. East part lot 103, east of Mark street. Land value $130. Buildings $610. Total taxable property $740. P.S.S.

George Beavis, owner, 119 James street. West part lot 103, east of Mark street. Land value $130. Buildings $160. Total taxable property $740. P.S.S.

Thos. R. White, owner, 117 James street. East part lot 104, east of Mark street. Land value $130. Buildings $610. Total taxable property taxable property $1,280. P.S.S.

Ezekiel Kellar, owner, 115 James street. West part lot 104, east of Mark street. Frontage 40 feet. East part lots 1 and 2, east of Mark street. Frontage 30 feet. Land values $130 and $100. Buildings $660. Total taxable property $890. P.S.S.

Wm. Kellar, tenant, 109 James street. Owner Ezekiel Kellar. Centre part lots 1 and 2, east of Mark street. Frontage 50 feet. Land value $150. Building $100. Total taxable property $250. P.S.S.

(Continued on Page 4.)

A Brand New Remedy

for Nervousness, loss of sleep and poor Blood, an excellent tonic for the stomach and a good appetizer.

MAKEMAN TABLETS are guaranteed by us to do all we say of them or refund your money. Therefore if you require medicine of this nature, you can try it at our expense.

M'DERMID & JURY
The Safe Satisfactory Druggists
Cor. GEORGE & CHARLOTTE

COULDN'T MAKE IT GO.

Princes Had Royal Blood But No Business Ability.

BERLIN, April 2. — Negotiations have been concluded in Berlin which mark the final collapse of the great German "Princes' Trust," consisting of the Kaiser's best friend, Prince Max Egon zu Fuerstenberg and his Majesty's kinsman, Prince Christian Kraft zu Hohenlohe. The princes, who have been in financial difficulties for months, have parted company and the control of their vast properties passes for the most part to the hands of the Deutsche Bank.

The "Princes' Trust," which came into existence seven years ago, represented an attempt on the part of its royal founders to emulate the "high finance" methods of American money makers. They organized a huge "community of interests" which comprehends de luxe hotels in Berlin, a Hamburg bank in Palestine, a steamship line to the Levant, huge department stores in Berlin, a realty and building company, the Berlin Omnibus lines, tin and copper mines in Silesia, breweries in the Black Forest and other vast concerns. Only one or two of these enterprises proved successful. The rest have gone steadily from bad to worse owing to the princes' incapacity as managers of affairs. They are said to have lost sums estimated as high as several million pounds.

TOLLS BILL IN SENATE.

Opposition U. S. Upper House Rallies For a Hard Fight.

WASHINGTON, April 2—The fight over the repeal of the tolls exemption clause of the Panama Canal act shifted quickly from the House to the Senate yesterday. President Wilson was undoubtedly delighted at the heavy majority polled for his measure in the House, and the opposition was proportionately discouraged. But yesterday the opposition in the Senate rallied, and the indications were that only a stubborn fight, long drawn, as all battles in the Senate are, would give the President a victory by a small margin, that so far cannot be accurately estimated.

"PEBLO"
INVISIBLE BIFOCAL LENSES

We are pleased to announce to the public that we are now in position to supply Invisible Bifocal Lenses in the "PEBLO" quality.

QUALITY ALWAYS

Quality with us is not so much a virtue as a habit developed by long experience. "PEBLO" Quality is reflected in every pair of Glasses we fit.

These "PEBLO" Invisible Bifocal Lenses are the most perfect invisible lens manufactured.

One Glass for all purposes—
For Reading, for Distance
Two different lenses combined into one.

Kindly call and let us show you this new "PEBLO" Invisible Lens. Remember they cost you no more than you pay for inferior kinds

We have the exclusive right to manufacture and sell "PEBLO" Quality Lenses.

ALL WORK POSITIVELY GUARANTEED.

A. A. FOWLER
Phm. B.
EYESIGHT SPECIALIST
10 years of continuous successful Optical Service in this City.
Optical Parlour and Lens Grinding Plant with
NUGENT DRUG CO'Y
386 George St., Peterborough

FOR MAKING SOAP SOFTENING WATER DISINFECTING CLOSETS, DRAINS SINKS, &c.

TRANSPORTATION

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

SETTLERS' FARES

(One Way Second Class)

From stations in Ontario, Kingston, Renfrew and we to points in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Each Tuesday During March and April

LOW COLONIST FARES

(One-Way Second-Class)

From stations in Ontario in certain points in Alberta, British Columbia, Arizona California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Texas, Utah and Washington

On sale March 15th to April 15th, inclusive

Full particulars at all Grand Trunk Ticket Offices or write C. E. HORNING, D.P.A., Toronto, Ont.

B. A. ROSE City Passenger and Ticket Agent.

F. SANDY Station Ticket Agent

CANADIAN PACIFIC

COLONIST FARES

(ONE-WAY SECOND CLASS)

From stations in Ontario to certain points in

Alberta	British Columbia
California	Montana
Oregon	Washington
Arizona	Idaho, etc.

Daily until April 15th

REDUCED SETTLERS' FARES

(ONE-WAY SECOND CLASS)

EACH TUESDAY, MARCH AND APRIL

Through Trains Toronto to Winnipeg and West. Colonist Cars on All Trains. No change for Berths.

Particulars from Canadian Pacific Agents or write M. G. Murphy, D.P.A., Toronto.

J. Skinner, C.P.A., 343 George Street.

Railway Time Tables

GRAND TRUNK

	ARRIVE.	DEPART
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Stouffville and Toronto	11.34 a.m. 9.00 p.m.	8.20 a.m. 5.35 p.m.
Port Hope and points east of Montreal and Boston	8.10 a.m. 5.30 p.m.	8.10 a.m. 9.05 p.m.
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago and west, Niagara Falls, Buffalo	12.10 p.m. 5.30 p.m.	11.40 a.m.
Cobourg, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 5.30 p.m.	9.05 p.m. 8.10 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay Stouffville, Uxbridge Markham Lindsay Local	11.34 a.m. 9.00 p.m. 10.15 p.m. 7.55 a.m.	7.10 a.m. 8.20 a.m. 5.35 p.m. 8.55 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 8.50 p.m.	8.20 a.m. 1.30 p.m.
Lakefield	8.05 a.m. 5.15 p.m. 7.00 p.m.	7.00 a.m. 12.20 p.m. 5.40 p.m.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

Going East—
Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec	11.43 a.m.
*Indian River, Norwood Havelock, Trenton	7.07 a.m.
Havelock, Montreal, Quebec, St. John, N.B., Boston	12.15 a.m.
Havelock, Montreal, Quebec, St. John, N.B., Boston	12.58 a.m.
Ottawa Special for Smith's Falls and Ottawa only	1.23 a.m.
Going West—
Toronto, Guelph, Goderich	4.37 a.m.
Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, New York, Galt, Woodstock, St. Thomas, London, Chatham, Detroit, Chicago	5.24 a.m.
North Toronto, West Toronto *Local for Cavanville Barkerton, Bobcaygeon, Myrtle, Toronto	6.18 a.m. 7.45 a.m.
Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, New York, Detroit, Chicago	4.33 p.m.
Local points from Port McNichol, Peterboro, Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	6.37 p.m.
New train for Lindsay, Orillia and Port McNichol *Daily except Sunday	9.16 a.m.

OUR SERIAL STORY PAGE

"THE MAYOR'S WIFE"

By ANNA KATHARINE GREEN

(Continued from yesterday.)

CHAPTER XVI.

IN THE LIBRARY.

I was still in Mrs. Packard's room brooding over the enigma offered by the similarity between the account I had just read and the explanation she had given of the mysterious event which had thrown such a cloud over her life, when, moved by some unaccountable influence, I glanced up and saw Nixon standing in the open doorway, gazing at me with an uneasy curiosity I was sorry enough to have inspired.

"Mrs. Packard wants you," he declared with short ceremony. "She's in the library." And, turning on his heel, he took his deliberate way down-stairs.

I followed hard after him, and, being brisk in my movements, was at his back before he was half way to the bottom. He seemed to resent this, for he turned a baleful look back at me and purposely delayed his steps without giving me the right of way.

"Is Mrs. Packard in a hurry" I asked. "If so, you had better let me pass."

He gave no appearance of having heard me; his attention had been caught by something going on at the rear of the hall we were now approaching. Following his anxious glance, I saw the door of the mayor's study open and Mrs. Packard come out. As we reached the lower step she passed us on her way to the library. Wondering what errand had taken her to the study which she was supposed not to visit, I turned to join her and caught a glimpse of the old man's face. It was more puckered, scowling and malignant of aspect than usual. I was surprised that Mrs. Packard had not noticed it. Surely it was not the countenance of a mere dignified servant. Something not to be seen on the surface was disturbing this old man; and, moving in the shadows as I was, I questioned whether it would not conduce to some explanation between Mrs. Packard and myself if I addressed her on the subject of this old serving man's peculiar ways.

But the opportunity for doing this did not come that morning. On entering the library I was met by Mrs. Packard with the remark:

"Have you any interest in politics? Do you know anything about the subject?"

"I have an interest in Mayor Packard's election," I smilingly assured her; "and I know that in this I represent a great number of people in this town if not in the state."

"You want to see him governor? You desired this before you came to this house? You believe him to be a good man—the right man for the place?"

"I certainly do, Mrs. Packard."

"And you represent a large class who feel the same?"

"I think so, Mrs. Packard."

"I am so glad!" Her tone was almost hysterical. "My heart is set on this election," she ardently explained. "It means so much this year. My husband is very ambitious. So am I—for him. I would give—" there she paused, caught back, it would seem, by some warning thought. I took advantage of her preoccupation to scrutinize her features more closely than I had dared to do while she was directly addressing me. I found them set in the stern mould of profound feeling—womanly feeling, no doubt, but one actuated by causes far greater than the subject, serious as it was, apparently called for. She would give—

What lay beyond that give?

I never knew, for she never finished her sentence.

Observing the breathless intrtest her manner evoked, or possibly realizing now nearly she had come to an unnecessary if not unwise self-betrayal, she suddenly smoothed her brow and, catching up a piece of embroidery from the table, sat down with it in her hand.

"A wife is naturally heart and soul with her husband," she observed, with an assumption of composure which restored some sort of naturalness to the conversation. "You are a thinking person, I see, and what is more, a conscientious one. There are many, many such in town; many amongst the men as well as amongst the women. Do you think—I am in earnest about this—that Mr. Packard's chances could be affected by—by anything that might be said about me? You saw, or heard us say, at least, that my name had been mentioned in the morning paper in a way not altogether agreeable to us. It was false, of course,—" She started, and her work fell from her hands. The door bell had rung and we could hear Nixon in the hall hastening to answer it.

"Miss Saunders," she hurriedly interposed with a great effort to speak naturally, "I have told Nixon that I wish to see Mr. Steele if he comes in this morning. I wish to speak to him about the commission entrusted to him by my husband. I confess Mr. Steele has not inspired me with the confidence that Mr Packard feels in him and I rather shrink from this interview. Will you be good enough—rather will you show me the great kindness of sitting on that low divan by the fireplace where you will not be visible—see, you may have my work to busy yourself with—and if—he may not, you know—if he should show the slightest disposition to transgress in any way, rise and show yourself?"

I was conscious of flushing slightly, but she was not looking my way and the betrayal cost me only a passing uneasiness. She had, quite without realizing it, offered me the one opportunity I most desired. In my search for a new explanation o Mrs. Packard's rapidly changin moods, I had returned to my first suspicion—the attraction and possibly the passion of the handsome secretary for herself. I had very little reason for entertaining such a possibility. I had seen nothing of his part to justify it and but little on hers.

Yet in the absence of every other convincing cause of trouble I allowed myself to dwell on this one, and congratulated myself upon the chance she now offered me of seeing and hearing how he would comport himself when he thought that he was alone with her. Assured by the sounds in the hall that Mr. Steele was approaching, I signified my acquisition with her wishes, and, taking the embroidery from her hand sat down in the place she had pointed out.

I heard the deep breath she drew; forgot in an instant my purpose of questioning her concerning Nixon and settled myself to listen, not only to such words as must inevitably pass between them, but to their tones, to the unconscious sigh, to whatever might betray his feeling toward her or hers toward him, convinced as I now was that feeling of some kind lay back of an interview which she feared to hold without the support of another's secret presence.

The calm even tones of the gentleman himself, modulated to an expression of utmost deference, were the first to break the silence.

"You wish to see me, Mrs. Packard"

"Yes." The tremble in this ordinary monosyllable was slight but quite perceptible. "Mr. Packard has given you a task, concerning the necessity of which I should be glad to learn your opinion. Do you think it wise to—to probe into such matters? Not that I mean to deter you. You are under Mr. Packard's orders, but a word from so experienced a man would be welcome, if only to reconcile me to an effort which must lead to the indiscriminate use of my name in quarters where it hurts a woman to imagine it used at all."

This, with her eyes on his face—of this I felt sure. Her tone was much too level for her not to be looking directly at him. To any response he might give of the same nature I had no clue, but his tone when he answered was cool and deferentially polite as was to be expected from a man chosen by Mayor Packard for his private secretary.

"Mrs. Packard, your fears are very natural. A woman shrinks from such inquiries, even when sustained by the consciousness that nothing can rob her name of its deserved honour. But if we let one innuendo pass, how can we prevent a second? The man who did this should be punished. In this I agree with Mayor Packard."

She stirred impulsively. I could hear the rustle of her dress as she moved, probably to lessen the distance between them.

"You are honest with me?" she urged. "You do agree with Mr. Packard in this?"

His answer was firm, straightforward, and, as far as I could judge, free from any objectionable feature.

"I certainly do, Mrs. Packard" The hesitation I expressed when he first spoke was caused by the one consideration mentioned,—my fear that something might go amiss in C—— to-night if I busied myself otherwise than with the necessities of the speech with which he is about to open his campaign."

"I see. You are desirous that Mr. Packard should win in this election?"

"I am his secretary, and was largely instrumental in securing his nomination for governor," was the simple reply.

There was a pause—how filled, I would have given half my expected salary to know. Then I heard her ask him the very question she had asked me.

"Do you think that in the event of your not succeeding in forcing an apology from the man who inserted against myself—that—that such hints of something being wrong with me will in any way affect Mr. Packard's chances—lose him votes, I mean? Will the husband suffer because of some imagined lack in his wife?"

"One can not say." Thus appealed to, the man seemed to weigh his words carefully, out of consideration for her, I thought. "No real admirer of the mayor's would go over to the enemy from any cause such as that. Only the doubtful—the half-hearted—those who are ready to grasp at any excuse for voting with the other party, would allow a consideration of the mayor's domestic relations to interfere with their confidence in him as a public officer."

"But these—" How I wish I could have seen her face! "These half-hearted voters, their easily stifled convictions are what make majorities," she stammered. Mr. Steele may have bowed; he probably did, for she went on confidently and with a certain authority not observable in the tone of her previous remarks. "You are right. The paragraph reflecting on me must be traced to its source. The lie must be met and grappled with. I was not well last week and showed it, but I am perfectly well to-day and am resolved to show that, too. No skeleton hangs in the Packard closet. I am a happy wife and a happy mother. Let them come here and see. This morning I shall issue invitations for a dinner to be given the first night you can assure me Mr. Packard will be home. Do you know of any such night?"

"On Friday week he has no speech to make."

Mrs Packard seemed to consider. Finally she said: "When you see him, tell him to leave that evening free. And, Mr. Steele, if you will be so good, give me the names of some of those half-hearted ones—critical people who have to see in order to believe. I shall have them at my table—I shall let them see that the shadow which enveloped me was ephermal; that a woman can rise above all weakness in the support of a husband she loves and honours as I do Mr. Packard."

PARALYZED LIMBS

To-day it is sleeplessness, headaches, digestive trouble, and irritability. Next thing you know some form of paralysis has developed. Mr. Alex. Hossburger, 10 Moore Street, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "Nervous trouble developed into paralysis of the limbs so that I became helpless. Doctors failed me, but after using ten boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I resumed work, and now feel better than I did for 20 years."

(To be continued.)

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., NEW YORK.

Small Pill Small Dose Small Price.

Washington

EASTER VACATION TOUR

Going Friday, April 10

Return limit April 24th. Stop-overs allowed on return trip at Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York.

$13.45 Round Trip Railroad Fare from Cape Vincent

Personally Conducted Tour

Covers supper at station restaurant, Utica; 4½ days' board and lodging in Washington and luncheon in Philadelphia.

$10.50 — $12.50 — $14.50 (According to hotel selected)

In addition to railroad fare shown above.

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES

Various sight-seeing trips will be arranged by representative in charge at low rates.

Obtain your tickets early. For railroad tickets or additional information consult N. Y. Central agent, or address N. Y. Central Lines Ticket Agent, Watertown, N. Y.

THIS WOMAN'S SICKNESS

Quickly Yielded To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Baltimore, Md. — "I am more than glad to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I suffered dreadful pains and was very irregular. I became alarmed and sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it regularly until I was without a cramp or pain and felt like another person, and it has now been six months since I took any medicine at all. I hope my little note will assist you in helping other women. I now feel perfectly well and in the best of health." — Mrs. AUGUST W. KONDNER, 1622 Hollins Street, Baltimore, Md.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Are You Going West This Spring?

If so, exceptional opportunities are now being offered by the Grand Trunk Railway System in connection with Homeseekers, Settlers and Colonist excursions.

Homeseekers' round trip tickets are issued from stations in Canada to points in Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan, at very low fares, and are in effect each Tuesday until October 27th, inclusive, via Chicago, St. Paul or Duluth. Tickets will also be on sale on certain dates via Sarnia and Northern Navigation Company.

Through Pullman Tourist Sleeping Cars are operated to Winnipeg each Tuesday, leaving Toronto 11.00 p.m. No change of cars. Tickets are valid returning two months from date of issue. Settlers' one-way second-class tickets are also on sale each Tuesday during March and April from stations in Ontario, Kingston, Renfrew and west to points in Alberta and Saskatchewan, at low fares.

Colonist one-way second-class tickets are sold at very low fares from stations in Ontario to certain points in Alberta, British Columbia, Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Texas, Utah and Washington, and are in effect daily until April 15, inclusive.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is the shortest and quickest route between Winnipeg-Saskatoon-Edmonton, with smooth roadbed, electric lighted sleeping cars, through the newest, most picturesque and most rapidly developing section of Western Canada.

Through tickets sold and reservations made by all Grand Trunk Agents. Costs no more than by other routes. Trains now in operation, Winnipeg to Saskatoon, Edmonton, and Regina, Yorkton and Canora, Sask.; Camrose, Mirror Edson and Calgary, Alberta; also to Jasper, Tete Jaune and Prince George, B.C.

Full particulars at all Grand Trunk Ticket Offices or write C. E. Horning, District Passenger Agent, Union Station, Toronto, Ont.

EASTER

Candy Baskets and Chocolate Eggs at

THE MARATHON CANDY KITCHEN

Delicious Ice Cream any flavours—5c a dish—Fruit Sundaes 5c and 10c

331 George St. Next to Bank of Nova Scotia

EDWIN ELCOME

Taxidermist.

Heads, Animals, Birds, Fish, etc mounted artistically and permanent.

Heads of Deer, Moose, Caribou Elk, etc., our Specialty.

Heads, Animals, Birds, Fish, Artificial Eyes, Taxidermist supplies. Bird and Flower Guide Books for sale.

692 Harvey St.

Peterborough Ontario

PETERBOROUGH COLD STORAGE

In full operation

All kinds of

COAL in Stock at Market Price

Both 'Phones 202

W. SCOTT CO., LIMITED

East End

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhœa. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE IMPERIAL LIFE

Assurance Co. of Canada

Each Premium Paid

On an IMPERIAL POLICY is so much money saved—not spent. Your family will reap the reward some day, or you may live to enjoy it yourself. In every case a Policy in THE IMPERIAL LIFE is

A Good Investment

W. G. MORROW, Agent

437 George Street

NO BETTER TIME!

TO HAVE YOUR PROPERTY INSURED AGAINST LOSS BY FIRE THAN NOW.

No better or safer Companies to take out a policy with, than those we represent.

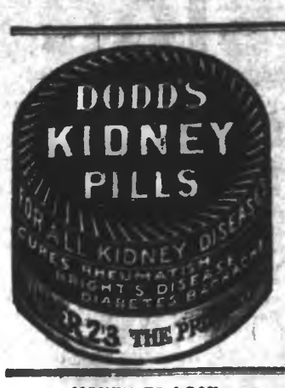
You may have much or little, it's worth insuring.

See us about Fire Insurance To-Day!

Davis-Thompson Company LIMITED

Insurance and General Agency

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO.



MONEY TO LOAN.

MONEY TO LOAN—On Mortgage Security on Farms and City property on lowest rates of interest. G. H. Gordon, Barrister, 367 George Street.

MONEY TO LOAN—On Farm and Town property, at lowest current rates on easy terms of repayment. HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON, Barristers, Solicitors & Notaries Public, Peterborough, Ont. Office—Over the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

MONEY TO LEND—On first-class City and Farm Securities only, on easiest terms. BENNETT & GOODWILL, Barristers, Solicitors, etc., No. 276 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone No. 196 J. W. Bennett; H. L. Goodwill.

MEDICAL.

DR. BUCHANAN, F.R.C.S., Edin., M.R.C.S., Eng., L.R.C.P., London. Eye, Ear, Nose, and Throat Specialist. Hours—9-11 a.m.; 2-4 p.m.; 7-8 p.m. 'Phone 669. Office: Corner Water and Murray.

T.W.H. YOUNG M.D., C.M.
L.R.C.P., L.R.C.S., L.M., L.F.P.S. P.T.M.C.
Diseases of Women and Children
Stewart St. 'Phone 26

CHIROPRACTIC.

DR. E. W. KIRKWOOD, Chiropractor. Telephone 926. Office hours—9 to 10 a.m., 1 to 3 p.m., 4 to 7 p.m. 467 Water Street, Peterborough, Ont.

OSTEOPATHY.

DR. ASA G. WARNER, D.O.—Osteopathic Physician. Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce; Hunter Street Entrance 'Phone: Office, 669; Residence, 669. Office hours—9 to 12 a.m.; 2 to 6 p.m. Evenings by appointment.

DR. IVA M. CARUTHERS, Osteopath. Office: Bank of Commerce building, opposite Post Office. Hours—10 to 12 a.m. 2 to 6 p.m., and by appointment. 'Phone 224 Residence 'Phone 1279.

LEGAL.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries Office, 4 Water Street, Peterborough. Money to Loan at lowest current rates of interest, on easy terms of repayment. H. A. Peck, F. D. Kerr, V. J. McElderry.

G. H. GORDON.—Barrister, Solicitor Notary Public and Conveyancer. Commissioner for New York State. Money to Loan. Office upstairs, first door south of Medill's Drug Store Bell 'phone 669; Machine 'phone 188. 367½ George St.

DOUGHELL & CORBERY.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries, Hunter Street, two doors West of Post Office. Daniel O'Connell, John B. Corbery.

RUDDY & BURNHAM.—Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, etc. Offices, 379 Water Street. Money to Loan. Robert Ruddy, K.C., J. E. Burnham, M.A. Telephone No. 94.

DUNBLE & JOHNSTON.—Barristers, Solicitors, etc. Office over Toronto Savings and Loan Company, 435 George Street D. W. Dumble, K.C.; W. F. Johnston.

A. E. DIXON.—Barrister, Solicitor, etc. Offices, Corner Hunter and George Sts. entrance: next Medill's Drug Store. do

HALL, HAYES & HALL.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries Public, Member of Peterborough Bars to St. John's Church. Money to Loan on lowest rates of interest. E. H. Hall, Q.C., Solicitor, Leslie M. Hayes, K.C.; and Basil D. Hall.

HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON—Successors to Deacon & Hall, Barristers, Solicitors etc., Peterborough, Ont. Offices, Corner of Hunter and Water Sts., over Canadian Bank of Commerce. E. E. Hall, K. C. Medd, W. S. Davidson.

W. H. MOORE.—Barrister, Solicitor, etc. Office, entrance first hallway West of Post Office, Peterborough, Ont. Money to Loan.

WOOD AND WEARING.—Barristers, etc. Office, over Canadian Express Office, George Street. Money to Loan. E. H. Wood, County Crown Attorney. Jos. Wearing, M.A.

ARCHITECTS.

W. BLACKWELL—Architect and Civil Engineer. Plans and estimates made on churches, public buildings and dwelling houses. Buildings heating and ventilation a specialty. Office, 379 Water Street, Peterborough.

AUCTIONEER
W. D. KETCHESON,
Licensed Auctioneer for Peterboro County takes attended to promptly and satisfactorily. Address 58 DOURO STREET, CITY 'Phone 1078.

Toronto Savings & Loan Comp'y

Notice is hereby given that a Quarterly Dividend of two and one-half per cent being at the rate of ten per cent per annum for the (3) three months ending 31st of March 1914, has been declared upon the Capital Stock of this Institution and the same will be payable at the offices of the Company in this City on and after April 1st, 1914.

The Transfer Books will be closed from the 19th to the 31st of March, both days inclusive.

By order of the Board,

W.G.MORROW
MANAGING DIRECTOR

Peterborough, March 20th, 1914

ASSESSMENT RETURNS FOR THE EAST WARD

(Continued from Page 1.)

Robt. Manice, owner, lot 112, west of Mark street. Land value $250. No buildings. Total taxable property $250. P.S.S.

J. J. Lundy, owner, lots 113 and 114, west of Mark street. Land value $500. No buildings. Total taxable property $500. P.S.S.

JAMES STREET—NORTH SIDE.

Burnham Estate, owners, lot 89, west of Rogers street. Plan 27A. Land value $200. No buildings Total taxable property $200. P.S.S.

Samuel Hathesley, owner, 136 James street. Lots 73 and 72, west of Rogers street. Frontage 120 feet. Land value $400. Buildings $400. Total taxable property $800. P.S.S.

G. T. R. Co., owner, frontage.

Mrs. Helen Sheehan, owner, 130 James street. East part lot 99, east of Mark street. Land value $150. Buildings $600. Total taxable property $750. S.S.S.

James Little, tenant, 128 James street. Owner Mrs. Helen Sheehan. Lot 89, east of Mark street. Land value $150. Buildings $450. Total taxable property $600. P.S.S.

Wm. Moore, tenant, 124 James street. Owner James Alyward. Lot 98, east of Mark street. Frontage 75 feet 6 inches. Land value $300. Buildings $70. Total taxable property $370. P.S.S.

George East, tenant, 118 James street. Owner Mrs. Geo. Carton. Lot 97, east of Mark street. Frontage 75 feet. Land value $300. Buildings $360. Total taxable property $560. P.S.S.

Burnham Estate, owners, east part lots 95 and 96, east of Mark street, Frontage 63 feet. Land value $250. No buildings. Total taxable property $250. P.S.S.

Robt. Maniece, owner, 84 James street. West part lot 132, west of Mark street. Frontage 85 feet 6 inches. Land value $150. Buildings $600. Total taxable property $750. P.S.S.

Joseph Murdoch, tenant, 70 James street. Owner Wm. Johnston. Lot 117, west of Mark street. Frontage 68 feet 9 inches. Land value $250. Buildings $700. Total taxable property $950. S.S.S.

Martin Hopecroft, tenant, 68 James street. Owner Wm. Johnston. East part lot 116, west of Mark street. Frontage 45 feet. Land value $150. Buildings $700. Total taxable property $850. P.S.S.

Edwin Wicker, tenant, 64 James street. Owner Wm. Johnston. West part lot 116, west of Mark street. Frontage 45 feet. Land value $150. Buildings $700. Total taxable property $850. P.S.S.

Fred Meeks, tenant, 54 James street. Owner Wm. Johnston. Lot 115, west of Mark street. Frontage 65 feet 9 inches. Land value $250. Buildings $400. Total taxable property $650. P.S.S.

SOPHIA STREET—NORTH SIDE.

Burnham Estate, owners, part lots 98 and 97, Plan 27A. Frontages 76 feet and 76 feet. Land values $300 and $300. No buildings. Total taxable property $600. P.S.S.

Fred Legion, owner, east part lot 96, Plan 27A. Frontage 40 feet. Land value $150. Buildings $900. Total taxable property $1,050. P.S.S.

Coleman Boyce, owner, 178 Sophia street. West part lot 96, plan 27A. Frontage 50 feet. Land value $200. Buildings $700. Total taxable property $900. P.S.S.

E. A. Peck, owner, lot 95, Plan 27A. Frontage 76 feet. Land value $300. No buildings. Total taxable property $300. P.S.S.

Redmond Carey, owner, east part lot 77, west of Rogers street. Frontage 35 feet. Land value $200. No buildings. Total taxable property $200. S.S.S.

James Newhall, tenant, 132 Sophia street. Owner A. J. Warne. West part lot 77, east part lot 76, west of Rogers street. Land value $250. Buildings $1,000. Total taxable property $1,250. P.S.S.

Wm. McIlmoyle, owner, west part lot 76, west of Rogers street. Frontage 67 feet. Land value $270. No buildings. Total taxable property $270. P.S.S.

Martin Guerin and Dennis Guerin, owner, 120 Sophia street. East part lots 89, 88 and 87, east of Mark street. Frontage 108 feet. Land value $400. Buildings $600. Total taxable property $1,000. S.S.S.

Robt. Gilman, owner, 116 Sophia street. Centre part lot 89, east of Mark street. Land value $80. Buildings $400. Total taxable property $480. S.S.S.

Robt. Lingard, 112 Sophia street. Owner James Stuart. Centre part lot 89, east of Mark street. Land value $40. Buildings $400. Total taxable property $440. P.S.S.

James Stuart, owner, part centre part lot 89, east of Mark street. Land value $440. Buildings $200. Total taxable property $240. P.S.S.

John W. Bailey, tenant, 92 Sophia street. Owner John J. Develin. Part lots 128 and 127, west of Mark street. Frontage 120 feet. Land value $350. Buildings $350. Total taxable property $700. P.S.S.

Mrs. Susan Calcutt, owner, part lots 126, 127 and 128, west of Mark street, and lot 125, west of Mark street. Frontage 166 feet 9 inches. Land values $100 and $400. No buildings. Total taxable property $500. P.S.S.

Wm. Crane, tenant, 68 Sophia street. Owners James and Henry Long. East part lot 12, west of Mark street. Frontage 38 feet 6 inches. Land value $300. Buildings $1,200. Total taxable property $1,500. P.S.S.

John Lynn, tenant, 62 Sophia street. West part lot 124, east of Burnham street. Frontage 37 feet 9 inches. Land value $300. Buildings $1,300. Total taxable property $1,600. P.S.S. Owners James and Henry Long.

Geo. Gillspie, tenant, 56 Sophia street. Lot 123, east of Burnham street. Frontage 76 feet. Land value $600. Buildings $1,100. Total taxable property $1,700. P.S.S.

Patrick Doria, owner, 46 Sophia street. Southeast part lot 1, east of Burnham stret. Frontage 40 feet. Land value $300. Buildings $1,500. Total taxable property $1,800. S.S.S.

A. M. Streng, tenant, 42 Sophia street. Owner Cleophas Brisbeau. Centre part lot 1, east of Burnham street. Frontage 94 feet 3 inches. Land value $300. Buildings $1,150. Total taxable property $1,450. P.S.S.

Mrs. Elizabeth Payne, tenant, 34 Sophia street. Owner Miss Amela Mercee. South part lot 1, east of Mark street. Frontage 102 feet 6 inches. Land value $400. Buildings $200. Total taxable property $600. P.S.S.

SOPHIA STREET—SOUTH SIDE.

Burnham Estate, owners, lot 83, west of Rogers street. Land value $300. No buildings. Total taxable property $300. P.S.S.

Wm. F. Moore, tenant, 133 Sophia street. Owner Mrs. Margaret Tigh. Lot 74, west of Rogers street. Frontage 72 feet. Land value $270. Buildings $450. Total taxable property $720. P.S.S.

Mrs. Fannie Long, owner, lot 75, west of Rogers street. Frontage 72 feet. Land value $270. Buildings $500. Total taxable property $770. P.S.S.

Wm. A. Levoire, owner, 127 Sophia street. Lots 90 and 91, east of Mark street. Land values $160 and $130. Buildings $120. Total taxable property $410. S.S.S.

John Cronin, tenant, 83 Sophia street. Owner James P. Dillon. West part lot 1, west of Mark street. Frontage 95 feet. Land value $150. Buildings $300. Total taxable property $450. S.S.S.

George Adamson, tenant, 89 Sophia street. Owner Douglas Lundy. Lots 118, 119 and 120, east of Burnham street. Frontage 231 feet 5 inches. Land values $400, $400 and $400. Buildings $400. Total taxable property $1,600. P.S.S.

Charles Crowe, owner, 45 Sophia street. East part lot 122, east of Burnham street. Frontage 52 feet. Land value $250. Buildings $330. Total taxable property $580. P.S.S.

Wm. Crowe, owner, 43 Sophia street. Part centre part lot 122, east of Burnham street. Frontage 43 feet 7 inches. Land value $200. Buildings $550. Total taxable property $750. P.S.S.

Mrs. Sarah Donoghue, tenant, 33 Sophia street. Owner John Weir. Part centre part lot 12, east of Burnham street. Frontage 46 feet. Land value $80. Buildings $450. Total taxable property $530. P.S.S.

ROBINSON STREET—NORTH SIDE.

Percy E. Hartley, tenant, 134 Robinson street. Owner Robt. Pollick. West part lot 48, west of Rogers street. Frontage 25 feet. Land value $120. Buildings $500. Total taxable property $620. P.S.S.

Wm. Maber, tenant, 130 Robinson street. Owner Robt. Pollick. West part lot 48, west of Rogers street. Frontage 25 feet. Land value $120. Buildings $300. Total taxable property $520. S.S.S.

Wm. Scott, lessee, north of Robinson, east of Mark street. Yards and coal sheds. Owners the G. T. R. Co. Land value $150. Buildings $200. Total taxable property $350. Business assessment $170. Total assessment $520. P.S.S.

Wm. Scott, lessee, north of Robinson, east of Mark street. Yards and coal sheds. Owners the G. T. R. Co. Land value $200. Buildings $2,200. Total taxable property $2,400. Business assessment $1,800. Total assessment $4,200. P.S.S.

Wellington Sanderson, owner, 114 Robinson street. East part Market Block. Frontage 66 feet 10 inches. Land value $300. Buildings $400. Total taxable property $700. P.S.S.

John Doria, tenant, 76 Robinson street. Owner James Drain. Lot 138, west of Mark street. Frontage 61 feet 7 inches. Land value $420. Buildings $350. Total taxable property $770. S.S.S.

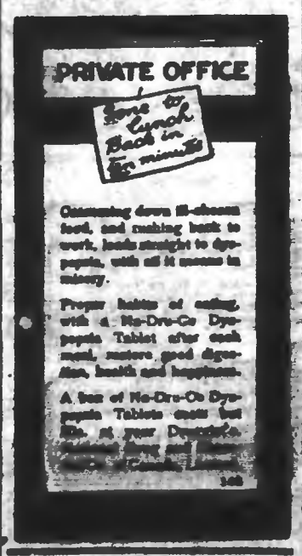
Mrs. Georgia Strain, 70 Robinson street. Lot 137, east of Burnham street. Frontage 54 feet 11 inches. Land value $370. Buildings $950. Total taxable property $720. P.S.S.

David Hummel, owner, 62 Robinson street, Southeast part lot 136, east of Burnham street. Frontage 56 feet 3 inches. Land value $370. Buildings $900. Total taxable property $1,270. S.S.S.

Henry Nokes, tenant, 53 Robinson street. Owner Miss Clara Adams. Frontage 56 feet 6 inches. Land value $330. Buildings $90. Total taxable property $420. P.S.S.

Frank Adams, owner, 50 Robinson street. East part lots 1 and 2, east of Burnham street. Frontage 52 feet 6 inches. Land value $350. Buildings $1,000. Total taxable property $1,350. Income assessment $50. Total assessment $1,400. P.S.S.

Alexander Miller, tenant, 40 Robinson street. Owner Frank Adams. Centre part lots 1 and 2, east of Burnham street. Land value $350. Buildings $960. Total taxable property $1,310. P.S.S.



LONDON FOLKLORE

Charms and Amulets Are Still Commonly Used

Mr. Edward Lovett, of the Folklore Society said that London is not far removed, in some respects, from even prehistoric days. There were fishermen plying their calling on the Lower Thames who used for hooks horns cut from the hedges on its banks. Jilted factory girls in the East End bought tormentil root at the herbalists', and burned it at midnight on a Friday in the hope of charming back the lost regard; if they suffered from an unrequited passion they did the same with "dragon's blood" in the hope that the innocent object of their affection might come to regard them with favor. The wearing, or hanging up in buildings, of amulets appeared to be far more general than one would suppose among the lower classes. That there were to-day men making a living by selling to sailors at the East India Docks charms supposed to ensure immunity from death by drowning was not, perhaps, so very surprising, but it would be news to many that so general was the belief in the efficacy of a small quantity of mercury carried on the person in a bottle as preventive of rheumatism that the articles were actually "stocked" by one of the leading firms of wholesale chemists. In Jewish quarters one might find exposed for sale small leaden tokens to preserve children from the "evil eye"; walking-sticks with handles resembling the clenched fist are carried for a similar purpose. Everyone, of course, knew that horseshoes were "lucky," but the knowledge was not given to everyone of the fact that the balls of silvered or colored glass often seen hanging in the windows of small sweetstuff shops were known as "witch-balls," to serve the purpose of securing immunity from evil influences. Attempts to purchase these would generally prove futile, perhaps for the same reason that anyone disposing of a charm was usually found extremely loth to speak much of it, or to say much about its purpose. Of these luck-bringers, or safeguards against evil, of which the photographs of many were projected on a screen, perhaps the most general and the least suspected were the wooden objects generally found attached to single blind-cords. These are generally in the shape of acorns, and acorns are potent against lightning.

Latest Auto Jack

A new automobile jack is featured by leather pads on the jaws to prevent the varnish on a car being marred and by gearing that makes it lift a car three inches each time the handle is pressed.

Next To Consumption.

There Are More Deaths From PNEUMONIA Than Any Other Lung Trouble.

Pneumonia is nothing more or less than what used to be called "Inflammation of the Lungs."

Consumption may be contracted from others, but as a rule pneumonia is caused by exposure to cold and wet, and there is only one way to prevent pneumonia, and that is to cure the cold on its first appearance.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will do this for you if you will only take it in time.

Mrs. Wm. M. Steeves, River Glade, N.B., writes:—"Please allow me to express my gratitude for the presence of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup in the house, for I believe it saved our little boy's life. Three years this fall we were in the lumber woods, and it was very hard to get a doctor to us, and our little boy got pneumonia, and was very ill. The only relief he could get was to take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and with the continued use of the Syrup, and your British Troop Oil Liniment, he soon got better, and was around in a couple of weeks. It certainly is a great remedy."

Price, 25 and 50 cents.

Be sure and get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"TIZ" FOR ACHING, SORE, TIRED FEET

"TIZ" for tender, puffed-up, sweaty, calloused feet and corns.

Good-bye sore feet, burning feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelling feet, tired feet.

Good-bye corns, callouses, bunions and raw spots. No more shoe tightness, no more limping with pain or drawing up your face in agony. "TIZ" is magical, sets right off. "TIZ" draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. Use "TIZ" and wear smaller shoes. Use "TIZ" and forget your foot misery. Ah! how comfortable your feet feel. Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" now at any druggist or department store. Don't suffer. Have good feet, glad feet, feet that never swell, never hurt, never get tired. A year's foot comfort guaranteed or money refunded.

LIGHTNING LAUNCH OF LARGEST LINER

White Star Steamer Britannic Afloat in 81 Seconds—Biggest Sea Monster in British Waters

Citizens of Belfast witnessed, in the launch of the new White Star liner Britannic, a vessel of 50,000 tons, and the third on the list of the world's big ships, the birth of the biggest sea monster yet constructed in British waters.

It was a lightning launch. Only 81 thrilling seconds passed between the moment one of her builders pulled the hydraulic lever releasing the great steel shell from the stocks and the moment when she touched the water and bowed gracefully, as it seemed, to the men who had fashioned her. In those 81 seconds this four-funnelled monster, which will carry a town across the Atlantic once a fortnight, and which 25,000 workmen have labored two and a half years to rivet into shape, sprang from inertia into life.

It drizzled icy rain while the Britannic was being prepared for the water. All Belfast was either packed beneath myriads of mushrooms of umbrellas in Harland and Wolff's yard or spread out in a black panorama on the County Antrim side of the river.

From the top of the enormous steel gantries flattered the White Star flag, and beneath them were four smaller flags, with the nautical eye translated into "Success."

A Democratic Launch

The launch was made without ceremony. There was no "christening" of the prow with wine—the White Star people have abolished that custom—and Lord Pirrie stood among a crowd of shipbuilders and owners and waved his top hat in the rain as the Britannic took the water.

It was what might be termed a democratic launch, and one of the best views was obtained by a telegraph boy who handed a message to Lord Pirrie at the moment the signal rocket burst in the air. The dutiful telegraph boy was returning to the Post Office when Lord Pirrie called him back to see the launch, at the same time making room for him on the platform above the ways.

Strength and Safety

It is claimed for the Britannic that she is one of the strongest liners ever built, and one of the safest. Certainly the captain will be able to exercise remarkable control over the nerves of the ship, for from the bridge he will be able to telephone to every vital part of the vessel, and an indicator in his cabin will show him the movements of her internal machinery.

Something new in lifeboat equipment has been effected. There are forty-eight boats, two fitted with powerful engines, and they are so arranged that all of them can be lowered at the will of the captain by means of little hawsers on the deck.

BRITISH METHODS

Why an American Company Appoints an English Manager

Frank H. Anderson, the American Woollen Company's agent for foreign countries, which has appointed an English manager, states that "Everywhere I went I found that Britain is recognized as the world's centre of the export business in woollens. Even German firms to whom I proposed business said if they were to look at our samples we must have an office in London, even at the expense of shipping our goods to Britain from the United States. It was during my tour of the world that I discovered the high esteem of foreigners for British business men and methods. I found that the British inspires confidence among buyers. In representation of his colleagues he is sound and honest. He has the faculty of adapting himself to national peculiarities; he pleases people, and this is a great business asset. Britain, too, has led in the woollen industry for so many years that its machinery is unequalled. We want a man who understands that machinery."

THE EVENING MEAL

Where There Are Appetites and Digestion to Match the Fare

Whilst our camp in the far north was in course of construction, says an explorer, we had stood nearby, knee deep in the snow, shivering, and impatiently watching the operation. But now, the fire ageing, we crowded in before the blaze, and after a few minutes of warming up, proceeded to get supper. The evening meal differed very little from those eaten during the day, but in deference to conventionalities we always termed it supper. Our bags were brought into the entrance and the cook and his outfit were given first place. One man filled the big tin bottles with snow and set them on the fire. To escape a scorching he handled them with a four-foot pole. A dozen bannocks were stuck up to thaw before the blaze while the cook heaped up the frying pan with a frozen mixture of baked pork and beans. Before taking the trail we had made ten dozen of these bannocks, and they had simply to be thawed out when they were ready to be eaten.

"Get busy, lads!" came the cook's cry. Each man turned from nursing blistered feet or tortured limbs to receive a bowl of steaming beans. With this, and a bannock apiece, we reseated ourselves on the bags and proceeded to "get busy." The tea pail coming to a boil, a handful of leaves were thrown in, and, after being put back on the fire for a few minutes, was set in our midst on the boughs. The mugs and the sugar bag were then produced. While the tea is yet too hot to be drunk the hand holding the mug must be kept in a deerskin mitten to protect it from the cold. This may seem incredible—many stories of that clime do until one is "up against them."

But then what feasting! The beans are well mixed with cinders, the tea has a strong flavor of spruce, and the half-thawed bannocks have each a "bone" in them yet—but what of it? We had appetites and digestions to match the fare, and besides—we were one day nearer home.

Gertrude Williamson, thirteen, floor-boy-hand, was fined by Pontefract magistrates for annoying the Rev. A. G. Shipley, vicar of All Saints' by knocking at his door. Mr. Shipley stated that ever since he came to Pontefract he had suffered constant annoyance through people knocking at his door and ringing his bell without cause.

HERE IS GOOD ADVICE TO TAKE

It will help those who have Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

There are other "old enemies" similar to the one mentioned in this testimonial. Kidney and Bladder Troubles are always enemies to good health. As soon as you start to take GIN PILLS these ailments begin to disappear. It is the same in cases of Lumbago, Sciatica and like complaints. This latter illustrates the benefit of GIN PILLS.

Winnipeg, Jan. 6th.

"I have been a sufferer from Lumbago for some years past and during Christmas week had a very acute attack which confined me to the house. About the latter part of April, I met your Mr. Hill and mentioned my complaint to him. He advised me to take GIN PILLS. I have been taking them at intervals during the early part of the present winter, and up to date have had no return of my old trouble—in fact, I feel better than I have for years and think that my old enemy has vanished for good and all." H. A. JUKES.

50c. a box—6 for $2.50—money back if not satisfied. Sample free by writing National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto.

Children can be helped by taking a piece of lemon, sprinkling it with common salt and rubbing it over the chilblain.

CHINA PAINTING
Mrs. Langley McCarthy
Teaches Biscuit's New and Beautiful Dark Work in China Painting.

HAGGIS' CONFECTIONERY

For home-made Candies try Haggis. We keep the best and freshest quality in the City.

Try our Ice Cream, always on hand. Fresh and Wholesome.

HAGGIS' CONFECTIONERY
382 Geo. St. Opposite Grafton's

ADVERTISERS

Are invited to make enquiry into the circulation of The Examiner. We regard the right to enquire not as a concession by a Newspaper, but as a matter of business.

THE

EXAMINER

has the Largest Circulation of any Newspaper between Toronto and Ottawa.

THE EXAMINER NEWSBOYS' COMPETITION

is assisting in the evolution of Peterborough's most widely read Newspaper

Every week substantial additions are made to the regular readers of The Examiner

Give your names to the Newsboys, or 'Phone the Office—1600 and 1601

ARCH-CRIMINAL'S GRAPHIC CONFESSION

The Story of a Lifetime of Crime

Told by John Kelly, Sneakthief, Pickpocket and Bank Burglar

HERE is the life story of John Kelly, better known as "Molasses Jack," a human derelict, the man "who never had a chance." The better part of his life spent behind prison bars, he returns to New York city, friendless and penniless. Old-time friends are either dead or in prison. Afraid to loaf in any one place too long for fear he will be arrested and arraigned as an habitual criminal, which would mean a life term in Sing Sing, he wends his weary way about the city with only a lone detective to befriend him, and pass him an occasional coin with which to buy food and lodging. "Molasses Jack" is upward of sixty years old now. He was first imprisoned in 1872, and he graphically describes the crimes he committed, the criminals with whom he consorted and the futility of a man with a prison record obtaining honest employment. Suicide, he says, is his only goal, and even that was denied him when the detective who has since befriended him rescued him as he was in the act of leaping into the river on the night of the recent big blizzard in New York.

HOW THE MOLASSES TRICK WAS WORKED ON SCHMIDT'Y.

By John Kelly.

THEY call me "Molasses Jack" To a man who has been everything from a sneak thief, pickpocket and strong arm guy to a bank burglar it doesn't make much difference what you call him.

Some persons think because I have struck so close to State's prison is why they call me "Molasses Jack." But they are wrong, and every time I think of the episode that gained me that moniker I nearly split my sides laughing, although it did cost me a ten months' bit "up the river." But I'll come to that later.

I haven't been out of Sing Sing very long and I am getting along in years now. In fact, I am more than sixty, and when a guy gets that old and has a prison record to live down the best thing for him is to do a Brodie off the highest bridge he can find. Nearly all my old pals are either doing their bits in State's prison, or else they are dead. I roam around New York and rarely see a familiar face. I need friends, too, because I am up against it good and hard.

No matter how hard I try I can't get a job. If I land something to do some fresh mug comes along and says:—"Why, that's Jack Kelly you got working here. He's an all round crook. He'd steal anything that isn't rivated hard and fast." Then I get the gate. It's the banner again for me and I walk around till I get so tired I nearly drop. I am afraid to loaf too long in one place because if the bulls see and recognize me they think I am looking low to pull off some job, so in I go.

I've got to that stage now when I am afraid to pull off even the easiest trick. Women pass me with handbags dangling wide open from their arms. Fat purses are sticking out and it's only a question of extending my mitt and I could get away with more coin than I have had at one time in ten years. But I know if I am caught doing anything like this I'd be arraigned as a habitual criminal, and you know what that means—a life term.

I don't ask favors and I don't want any the best of it, but when I look back at my life I can see now where I never had a chance from the day I left my cradle. I was born in this old burg and when I was ten years old I knew every nook and cranny in it. I was a street kid in the truest sense. I got my knocks early in life and everything that ever came my way I scrapped for or stole. My old man was one of the smartest thieves this country ever knew. I won't tell you his right name, or mine either, for that matter; but he was known as Sinclair and did time in many penitentiaries under that name. I never heard anything but crook talk in all my infancy and childhood. My old man was a "con" artist, and as a confidence man he had only one or two superiors. One of them was Hungry Joe. Now you know how good he was.

My old man's motto was, "Get the coin!" With that sort of talk going on around me all the time it was only natural that I should slumber after the long green before I was able or qualified to earn it. To work was a disgrace in my household. There is one thing I can truthfully say, I ain't never disgraced my old man or my old woman yet. They wanted me to be a thief, and in looking back at all the tricks I have pulled they certainly ought to be proud of me.

My first graft was that of a pickpocket. And, believe me, I was good, too. I could scent a fat wallet as far as my eyes would carry and mighty few of them got away from me. I have snatched leathers that contained all the way from thirty cents to $1,000. And I reckon I had just as much fun on the thirty cents as I did on the nine thou'. But it was the excitement in getting it that stirred my blood. Many a time I've trailed a guy all day long, waiting for a chance to lift his wallet, and I didn't need it, either. I've often seen a guy put a roll in his pocket that I knew didn't have as much in it as the one in my own kick. Yet I'd trail him till he got in a place or position where I could strick him up and get away with it.

I remember a man once that had a wallet fairly bulging with banknotes. I made up my mind to get him, and followed him for a couple of hours, hoping to do the job alone so I wouldn't have to split with anybody. This fellow had bad feet. He was terribly lame and his shoes were cut and slashed to ease the pressure on his corns and bunions. When I found I couldn't land him by myself I signalled a pal that we met. He joined me and we got on a car with our victim. As he stood in the centre aisle I stamped on his lame foot, and as he swung around and dropped down to clutch his aching foot I slipped his wallet out of his hip pocket and handed it to my friend, who quietly left the car, while I remained to sympathize with the old man and see if I could help him. He hadn't missed the pocketbook when I left the car, and when I joined my pal and opened the leather we found $2,000 in it. I went "up the river" for that piece of work, and my only regret then was that I hadn't stamped on his foot harder.

Now we come to the time when I gained a name of "Molasses Jack" There was a German who kept a delicatessen shop. Never mind where it was, but it was in the Thirties near Seventh avenue. This Dutchman always had a lot of money in his till, especially on Saturday afternoons. He always managed to plant his roll before evening, so that there was very little money left in the shop after sundown. We had tried to get this fellow several times, but the game never looked right and we didn't care to make a fliver. It was too juicy a plum to spoil by a fluke.

On this afternoon McGlone, as smooth a crook as ever lived; Tommy Murphy, Bobby Hawthorne and myself figured that the time was ripe to get my friend Schmidt. We knew we had to work some sort of a game that would throw him off his guard, so I doped out the molasses trick. We got an old high hat and as we entered the delicatessen shop we were engaged in a warm argument.

I was holding the hat, talking excitedly, and as I approached Schmidt I said:—"These fellows bet me $5 this silk hat won't hold a dollar's worth of molasses. Get out your jug and I'll prove it. I'll pay you for the molasses and give you a dollar for your trouble."

The Dutchman rose to the bait, hook, line and sinker. He got out his jug and began to carefully pour the sticky molasses into the hat. When the hat was almost full I up with the topper and clapped it over the Dutchman's head. As the molasses streamed down his face, almost drowning him, McGlone was behind the counter and opening the till, tapping it for all there was in it. Then out we bolted. We ran for ten blocks and got far enough away to stop and split the coin. My share was nearly $100, and as soon as I could stop laughing I went to the nearest gin mill to get a drink.

While I was standing at the bar drinking a young man came in and, after looking me over for some little time, remarked:—

"Young fellow, you are as full of molasses as a buckwheat cake. I guess you are the guy I am looking for. Your old friend Schmidt, the delicatessen man, wants to look you over. He's full of molasses, too."

This fellow was a detective, all right, and when he took me back to the delicatessen and I got a slant at Schmidt I nearly doubled up with laughter. His shock of hair was still stuck up with the black syrup and his beard was matted with it. His big fat wife was pouring hot water over his head and he was sputtering like a drowning man.

"That's the fellow," he yelled as soon as he saw me. "That's the scamp that poured molasses over me and then robbed me. Just let me get at him and I will gouge his eyes out!"

I got settled for that trick, in fact got nine months. Would have got a longer term, but in those days—that was way back in 1878—there was always a means of getting your term lightened provided you had the coin, and I was always there with the bank roll. I was sent away the first time in 1872, so you can see I am almost as old in crime as I am in years.

I met a pretty little Irish girl once when I was a likely young fellow. I was dead stuck on her, and for a time thought I would marry her. She worked in a big umbrella factory, and one night she was telling me how much money it took to pay off the hands every Saturday afternoon. That settled it. I had no other thought except to stick up that cashier. My girl told me how the money, about $4,000—was brought to the factory from the bank, and that it was in small notes, none bigger than a ten spot. Easy money to pass once you get it, I figured, and right then I determined to win that factory's payroll on the next pay day.

I went over in Second avenue, where the factory was located, to look the ground over. I could see the cashier's cage from the street window, and the game looked so easy I felt that it would be a shame to take the coin. I needed a confederate, and I knew just the man for the job. I got him to go to the factory with me and we looked the field over again. We discussed the best method to pursue. He wanted to make a snatch job of it, but I argued that it would be a better sneak trick.

His idea was to walk into the cashier's office just before paying off time, when he had the money sorted out in piles about him. All we had to do, he argued, was to stick an arm into the cage, grab the coin and beat it. But I determined that strategy was the better policy here and finally brought him to my way of thinking. We waited until Saturday afternoon, and after seeing the money stacked up in piles got ready for action.

With my pal waiting on the outside and watching developments I entered the office and stood before the cashier's window. He stopped counting his money to look me over, and when I was sure his gaze was riveted on me I suddenly was seized with a violent trembling and commenced to twitch and squirm. My face was distorted, and as the trembling became more violent I started to spin around like a pinwheel. The cashier immediately doped it out—as I intended he should—that I was about to have a fit.

He dropped off his high stool, and drawing a glass of water darted around from behind his cage and dashed the water in my face. While he was working over me, loosening my collar and chafing my hands and face, my pal had slipped behind the cage, grabbed all the money he could rake into a little hand bag he carried and then sped to the street. The cashier wasn't wise to his presence, and it was not until he had brought me to and went back behind the cage that he discovered the robbery. Strange to say, he never suspected me in the least and I was permitted to get away clear.

My pal played fair and I got my half of the $4,000 he swiped. We had the time of our lives while that roll lasted. But all this time Katie, my little sweetheart, was getting wiser. She had seen me throw the fit and she knew in a second that I had had something to do with the theft. From that day she commenced to pester me about marrying her. Every time I saw her she would ask me if I didn't think it was time she should quit her job and get her clothes ready for our wedding. I stalled her off as long as I could and finally told her I wouldn't marry her if she was the last girl in the world. Without a word she got up and left me, and when she came back she had a policeman with her. She handed me over to the copper as the umbrella factory thief. She had doped out such a strong case against me that the best I could do was to take a plea and get eight years.

You can look at me and see that I am a pretty athletic fellow yet. I could run like a deer in my young days and that saved me many a time. I recall one case where my legs and my wits got me out of a pretty serious scrape. I had gone through a fence on Third avenue street car and he was one of that kind who just wouldn't give up without a scrap. We usually had the conductor fixed in those days and we rarely had trouble in getting off the car. It was a case of look out for ourselves once we were forced to quit the car. To make a long story short, I ran through Fifty-seventh street toward Second avenue, and as I came to the public school there I thought I could scoot into the yard and either hide or get clear over the back fence.

Fortunately for me, as it turned out, the school gate was closed. The crowd that was following me in full cry was so close on my heels that there was nothing left for me to do but to dart into the open doorway of a big tenement house. Two policemen were leading the crowd, and I will say they could both run like deer. They were almost on top of me when I turned into the house and sped up the steps. I kept going up flight after flight, hoping to be able to get to the roof and in this way make my way down through some other building.

As I reached the top floor out of breath and almost exhausted I saw that the door of a flat was ajar. Two women were in the kitchen. One, a powerful big woman, was working away at the washtubs, while the other was running a sewing machine. I plunged into the room and approaching the big woman I gasped:—

"Lady, if they get me I'll be good for life. For God's sake save me. I am only a poor starving thief because I am out of work. If they get me my wife and babies will starve."

The big woman grabbed me by the back of the collar and yanked me across the room. At first I thought she was going to drop me over the banisters to the coppers. I could hear them puffing and blowing as they stumbled up the steps. Instead she rammed me into a closet filled with clothes and, covering me up, shut and locked the door. Then she opened wide the kitchen door and went on with her work, singing all the time.

The policemen came stumbling up the steps and paused long enough at the open door to ask which way I had gone. I learned afterward the laundress had pointed, without a word, to the roof and went on with her singing and scrubbing. The coppers and the crowd swarmed to the roof and, after a long search, found an open scuttle way down at the end of the row and concluded I had got away in this manner. They gave up the chase and went on to the street.

I was nearly suffocated when the woman opened the closet door and let me out. Then the big woman grabbed me and, giving me a shove, she fired me down the steps, calling after me:—

"G'wan home to your wife and babies, you loafer! If you ever show your ugly face around here again I'll break every bone in your shriveled little body!"

Women are funny, ain't they? You can never guess them. Here this woman risked doing a big jail bid to save me, a thief. Yet as soon as the police got away she nearly broke my back down the steps. I am upward of sixty years old, but I'll confess I don't know any more about women to-day than I did when I was a kid. They sure are queer.

I don't care much about State prisons and I never entered one yet that I didn't at once begin to figure some way of getting away. I beat it out of Sing Sing once and got clear. I also escaped from Dannemora once, but I wasn't out long before they collared me. I guess I better not write about those getaways.

JOHN KELLY

They were so easy that it might start a general jail delivery.

I don't see any of the old time crooks around town now that I used to know. In those days we were all out for big money. The thieves of to-day are cheaper and nearly all of them are pikers. Another thing, the detectives are smarter and they pick a man up now before he has time to wink an eye. I had a letter to-day from an old pal of mine who is just rounding out a twenty year bit in Sing Sing. He will be turned out this month and is looking for me to help him. I am flat broke and can't help myself and I almost dread meeting O'Connor—George O'Connor, that's his name—to tell him I've lost my nerve and am afraid to turn a trick.

He is an old time bank burglar. He got settled for a twenty year term and lost his commutation when he tried to escape. He had himself nailed up in a big packing box and shipped out of prison, but they got wise to him before he got very far and pulled him back. He's one of the nerviest men in the business. He robbed a bank in Twenty-third street near Third avenue of $12,000. While the detectives were scouring the city for him and looking over the sneak job he had just done he was down in Wall street where he trimmed another bank of $2,000. Nothing was said in the newspapers about this second job because the bank officers didn't want to let it be known that they had been tapped. But George got the coin, all right, and planted it, too. But the guy he planted it with done him dirty and got away with it. There wasn't enough left to buy George a lawyer and he had to take his medicine. Now when he comes out he will be an old man. He has been shot in one leg and is a cripple, so he will be unable to work. He'll have to carry the banner, the same as I do, for there isn't any place for a convict.

I said I haven't any friends. But that isn't true. There is a detective in this town, a young fellow named Toner. I used to know his daddy. That boy has made it possible for me to tell this story. A few weeks ago—it was during the big snow—I was down and out. Hungry and cold, with all the city lodging houses full to overflowing and only a mug of coffee and a stale roll the whole day, I was that blue I didn't care what became of me. I was down on the water front and had made up my mind to go into the river and end it for all time.

As I was standing there looking at the swirling snow and the huge chunks of ice that went floating by, I watched my chance for a plunge. I was trying to choose a time when there were no big cakes of ice near, for I knew that no matter how badly I wanted to end it all my first inclination after hitting the water would be to try and save myself. That's always the way with even the most desperate of us.

Suddenly I felt a tap on my shoulder. A tall dark chap was standing at my side, and in a quiet voice said:—

"Thinking about doing a Brodie, old man?"

"That's what I am," I answered.

"You are a damn fool," he said, "come on and get a cup of coffee."

"I ain't got the price," I says.

"To hell with the price," says he, "come on and I will stake you to a meal."

It's surprising how a square meal will encourage a man and give him an entirely new slant on life. With my vest swelling over the big meal I had tucked away I was ready to tackle anything. My friend, the detective staked me to a bed that night and gave me money enough for breakfast. He met me the next day and gave me the overcoat and shoes I am wearing to-day.

There wasn't any use in me telling him who I was. He knew all about me and knew my record from A to Z.

"Sure I know you are a crook," he says, "but that don't make any difference to me. I am going to try to make a man of you."

And he's keeping his word, too. I go to Police Headquarters nearly every day, and when he gets a chance he runs out and sees that I have change enough for a cup of coffee and some grub, with enough left over to get me a bed. God bless him! If he is too busy to get out and see me one of his partners comes along and slips me a little change, saying:—"Here, bum; Toner sent you this. I don't see what he is wasting his time on you for, but I guess he knows what he is doing."

We crooks don't waste much love on the fly coppers, but this young fellow is in a class by himself. He saved my life, and I would go to hell for him if it would do him any good.

Well, I guess I have told about all there is to tell about myself. This is the story of a once smart thief who is now a member of the Down and Out Club. I am honest to-day because I am afraid to be crooked, and that's the truth. Chances are if a break came my way and I could make a good haul and get away with it I might be tempted. But the getaway would have to be awfully sure, because with a life term staring me in the face I don't think I could be induced to take a chance.

I want a job where I can earn enough to hold soul and body together. I don't ask for much and I don't want a place where my employer would run any risk. But if there is a guy who is willing to take a chance I'd give him all the good that's left in this crooked old body of mine.

I've been a bad one. I never knew any other way. Maybe if I had had an old man and an old woman who cared a rap about bringing me up right I might be able to walk around and hold up my head, instead of always slanting my eyes back of me, expecting every second some bull is about to collar me.

They say honesty is the best policy. I guess it is, although I don't know much about that kind of life. I'd like to, though, at that, if it isn't too late.

Chemist Grows Wheat Indoors.

HIGH UP in a top room of Mansion House Chambers, in London, an idea is being matured which, if all that the originator claims for it be true, will revolutionize our daily life.

The man with the idea is Mr. Alfred Williams. The idea is to grow wheat in factories, thereby reducing the cost of the loaf to a quarter of its present price.

Mr. Williams is an unemotional chemist, born in Wales, and possessed of a profound belief in his own inventions—that is to be expected when he tells you that he has seen his factory grown wheat—and he contemplates the prospective subversion of society with perfect equanimity.

"Put a seed in the ground," he said, "and even after the absorption of the moisture you have to wait for a reasonable temperature condition before the wheat will sprout. I have been all through Siberia. If they had three weeks' more sunshine there a year they would reap far finer crops.

"I point to another natural limitation—the limitation of sunshine. I have travelled all through Ohio, and have seen thousands of acres of splendid wheat lands inundated with water. The water has frozen and the crop has been destroyed.

"Then, again," Mr. Williams proceeded, "there is the great waste in nitration under present methods. Of the nitrates put into the ground only a small proportion ever gets taken up by the roots of the crop that is sown."

Mr. Williams hopes to rise superior to all these limitations of nature. In the first place, he says that the soil is responsible for very little of the weight of a plant; it is the carbon from the atmosphere which gives it its weight.

On this point, Mr. Williams asserts that he has discovered a method of using electricity as a combination of discharge and radiation. This, he says, takes the place of light waves and facilitates the breaking up of the carbonic dioxide in the air, thus setting free the carbon to feed the wheat.

"That means," says Mr. Williams, "that the cereals I plant receive all the sunshine they want."

Under present methods of growth, the soil, of course, is essential to nitration. But Mr. Williams does without soil. He claims to obtain sufficient nitration by means of a certain solution which is his own secret, and he further claims that by this method those in need of that loss in nitration to which reference has already been made.

Here is this remarkable chemist's plan of cultivation. Expensive wheat lands are banished as unnecessary. Instead, he builds a rough structure of several floors—a sort of factory. Upon each floor he puts some soil—in reality, he points out, it does not matter whether you place mud or fine gravel there, the only object being that it should act as a support for the stalks and provide the necessary amount of dampness. Then the seed or the grain is sprinkled with the nitrate solution, and planted. The radiation is supposed to serve and there, and in two months there is a beautiful crop!

COAL
PRICES

ROBT. HICKS

Will announce Opening Prices of D. L. & W. Scranton Coal, Screened by his Improved Process, on April 11th.

These Prices will interest you.

COAL

Why not burn the BEST.
Our Coal is recognized as
THE COAL OF QUALITY
If you are not using it NOW your neighbor is.
Ask them about it then order some for yourself.

The Peterborough Fuel & Cartage Co.
162 Charlotte Street
Phones—Bell 361-270
341 Aylmer St. Phone Bell 302

EAST CITY
COAL & WOOD
YARD
111 Hunter St. E. 'Phone 96

FIRST QUALITY
PITTSTON COAL
ALWAYS IN STOCK
Best Coal Mined,
at lowest prices.
Mixed Wood, per cord.....$5.00
Cutting and Splitting Extra
Also Dry Pine and Hemlock Slabs $3.50
A. WEIR J. F. McCARTHY

First Class Scranton
COAL
ALL SIZES IN STOCK
AT LOWEST PRICES
H.B. Taylor & Son
Both 'Phones 209
Cor. Aylmer & Wolfe Sts.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

BERIAH SALLERBY'S HOUSE-KEEPER

By Arthur Chamberlain in "Farm and Fireside"

THE mild-looking little woman who came into Laban Rawter's store seemed intent upon purchases, but neither Rawter, white-aproned and important, nor any of the men gathered around the counter — customers, the most of them, by courtesy rather than in fact — paid the slightest attention to her entrance.

Hesitating for a moment she caught the storekeeper's voice, raised above the general hum:

"I says to Sallerby—'Well,' I says, 'Beriah, if so be it you want to post that notice, go ahead; you may an' welcome, I ain't hindering ye; but I guess it's liable to get some dusty an' fly-specked 'fore anything comes on it,' says I, for I'm one to speak my mind, let alone what Sallerby buys wouldn't keep a cat in rubbers."

There was a unanimous buzz of assent from the group before the counter.

Standing before the notice, which she had reached by this time, the woman read it slowly through. It set forth that:

Beriah Sallerby wants a woman who can keep house and her temper; cook three plain meals a day, and sew on buttons that will stay put. None under forty need apply. Wages by agreement.

She turned to the storekeeper. "Can you give me Mr. Sallerby's address?" she inquired pleasantly.

"Meaning where he lives, ma'am? Thought everybody — but there! You're a stranger in these parts, I see; if you wa'n't you wouldn't be for going near Beriah Sallerby. Take a friend's advice, ma'am, and keep away. He's snapped the head off o' me and nigh everybody in town, and —"

"Now, it seems to me you've a pretty good head, sir," interrupted the little woman with just the suspicion of a smile, amid the haw-haws of the company.

The storekeeper grinned. "I'll take that as a compliment, ma'am! Now, be you set on going around to Sallerby's?"

The woman merely nodded.

"It's about a quarter of a mile 'own the road, first right-hand turning," the storekeeper went on in answer to the nod. "Tumble-down shack — I wouldn't have the face to call it a house."

"He writes a good, clear hand, anyway," replied the woman. "Now, if I can get a spool of thread and a paper of needles, assorted sizes, I'll go along, thanking you for your information."

Her purchases made, the woman started down the road. "Just you see to it, Tryphosa Manners," she murmured to herself, "that you don't get put out of conceit with a good place 'long of listening to other folks' opinions. Not but what it was well meant and civil of him," she concluded carefully appreciative.

The Sallerby house, as she approached it, showed gray and weather-beaten in the late afternoon light; not a few of the shingles were gone from roof and walls.

"Does look a mite out of repair," she admitted to herself, going up the garden path, "but, my! Those shingles in the roof look like brown velvet where the sun strikes 'em!"

An unkempt figure stood in the porch as she came up. "What you want round here?" a somewhat truculent voice demanded.

"I just saw your notice at the store, sir," replied the woman quietly. "My name's Tryphosa Manners, and I thought maybe I'd suit as housekeeper."

"Set down," growled the man, indicating a clumsy chair, while he himself leaned back in the shadow. "Know how to keep house?"

"Well—I've had some years' experience," replied Miss Manners modestly.

"And your temper?" persisted Sallerby.

"I'm thinking it's best not to have a temper, then you won't be bothered with keeping it."

"Can you cook?"

"Never heard of anybody being the worse for my victuals yet."

"Your buttons stay put?"

"Long's the thread lasts — and I calculate to use good thread."

"Um." Sallerby paused, considering. "I ain't paying no fancy wages!" he broke out suddenly.

"We won't talk about wages yet awhile, if you please." Miss Manners' tone was gentle but decisive. "Try me a week and see how you like me; then we'll talk about wages."

Sallerby looked at her with a slight expression of astonishment. "I dunno whether you be a plumb idiot, or whether you're trying to make a fool of me," he rejoined dryly, attempting to be indifferent, "but you can come."

The following day was devoted to washing and ironing, followed by days of strenuous cleaning, but Beriah Sallerby seemed to pay but little attention to his newly acquired housekeeper or her work. He came to his meals and went away from them in grim silence, broken only by a few necessary directions. The house once cleaned, however, he appeared at the supper table with an armful of clothing which he dumped unceremoniously upon the floor.

"Need mending—and buttons," he explained concisely and, having swallowed his supper, strode out of doors.

Next morning a small, neat pile of clothing stood at Sallerby's plate on the breakfast table. He eyed it suspiciously.

"That ain't half what I gave you last night!" he growled resentfully.

Across the table Miss Manners raised her eyes, looking meekly but squarely into her employer's face.

"No, it's about quarter of 'em," she replied, mildly deliberate. "I mended enough to keep you going for a week, and then it was eleven o'clock, so I quit. Can't do my duty to you nor myself if I sit up late."

"See here!" stormed her employer. "When I start to do anything, I calc'late to keep at it till it's done. I ain't a quitter, and I won't have folks work for me—Now, what you bobbing your head at me for, I'd like to know?" he ended wrathfully.

"'Cause I know we both feel the same way about it," rejoined the housekeeper in unruffled tones. "I've always wanted to put things through with a rush, same's you do, and 'twas a real cross for me to go to bed last night and leave all that mending. But I have come to learn that if you do every job with a rush there's bound to be a lazy streak between rushes, and that streak'll go on widening till there's no rush left."

"Be you a-hinting—" broke in Sallerby roughly, but she checked him with a gesture and went on soothingly:

"'Course when we get beat out doing anything, just 'cause we have rushed it, we natur'lly hate it, and so we put off starting in on the next job. Take shingling: if you feel you've got to shingle nip and tuck till it's done, you kind of hold back but stick in a few shingles every day, and—why, you're shingled 'fore you know it!"

"Shiftless!" grunted Sallerby.

"Maybe it looks so to you," rejoined Miss Manners, "but it ain't half so shiftless as not shingling at all. Here's a shirt with all the buttons on it, Mr. Sallerby, and this suit—my, it looks almost too spruce to work round in, now it's mended up!"

A while before suppertime the housekeeper's attention was attracted by the sound of hammering. She paused a moment, listening. "Well, I ain't surprised — not one mite!" she commented to herself, going on with her work.

Sallerby appeared at the supper table, flushed and evidently somewhat tired, but without his usual grimness. He ate hastily and pushed away from the table.

"Cooking's half decent anyway!" he muttered with the abashed air of a man forced into a reluctant concession. "Guess I may's well g' out—"

"Oh, you let that shingling go till to-morrow!" advised Miss Manners placidly.

Her employer turned upon her. "Shingling? Who said anything 'bout shingling?" he demanded.

"I did, sir." The housekeeper drained her teacup. "You were at it for more'n an hour 'fore supper; you're het up and tired. There's a good two hours' more work on that shingling, and you'll have to scamp it if you're going to be through 'fore dark. And there's the chores besides."

Her employer paused irresolutely, but finally sat down. "What d'you know 'bout shingling?" he demanded.

"Nothing," responded Miss Manners promptly; "but I know when a man's done enough work for the time being. Now, you sit right here by the window—you won't be in my way one mite—and here is the Beckenfield 'Weekly Trumpet'."

"Where'd you get that rag of a paper?" demanded Sallerby.

"I bought it," replied Miss Manners in unabashed tones. "Always calculate to take the local paper and keep up with what's going on."

"I ain't had that paper in my house, not sence Anson Trafford—he's the editor—got so stuck up he wouldn't take garden truck in pay for subscriptions. Said he'd got to have cash!"

"Most folks do seem to have cash," commented the housekeeper, laying the "Trumpet" on the table at her employer's elbow.

A few minutes later she was startled by a snort of disgust, and looking up she saw her companion glaring at the "Trumpet," which he held with both hands at arms' length.

"You just listen to this!" he cried angrily. 'We learned through a visit to Laban Rawter's ably conducted emporium that a certain townsman, a widower of some twenty years' standing, has been—no, not advertising for a housekeeper, although we gather from a somewhat erratic notice that a housekeeper is what he desires. It is long since we have numbered the gentleman among our subscribers, and the method of announcement which he has chosen emphasizes the frugality that foregoes the "Trumpet."' There! What d'you think of that?"

"I'm sure I'd no idea you were a widower, sir; not in the least!" responded the housekeeper, shaking her head. "How your wife must have grieved at leaving you, and how you must have mourned—"

"Trafford'll 'pologize, or I'll— I'm going straight over to his office," declared Sallerby, making for the door.

"Well, maybe he'll apologize, and maybe he won't," commented Miss Manners. "Editors are dreadfully uppity, some of 'em. I heard of an editor out West who shot a man just 'cause he called him a spavined cayuse,—which of course he wasn't, being's a cayuse is a horse,—but the 'Trumpet's' office is shut up now for the day, and you ain't going to a man's house to row him with his wife setting by and all the children looking on, being's you're a gentleman and know what's good breeding."

Sallerby subsided into his chair. "First thing to-morrer morning, then; after breakfast."

"—and the chores, and the shingling," amended Miss Manners meditatively.

Breakfast over on the following morning, Sallerby rose from the table with an extra swagger. "Now for that smart Alec of an editor!" he announced defiantly.

"You're not counting on my doing the chores and the shingling, are you, sir?" inquired Miss Manners suggestively.

"Guess they can stand over till I've given Anson Trafford a piece of my mind!" fumed Sallerby, striding away.

Some two hours later the housekeeper noted a cautious step in the rear of the house, and looking out of the kitchen window noted her employer, who was going the round of the belated chores in a rather gingerly manner.

"There'll be time to do a good stent on that shingling 'fore dinner, Mr. Sallerby," she greeted him from the window.

He turned around with a little start. "Oh, yes; 'course!" he agreed hastily; and the housekeeper, going back to her work, heard before long the sharp tap-tap of driven nails.

Dinner was eaten in almost total silence, and Sallerby pushed away from the table. "Shingling ain't quite done," he murmured in coveret explanation of his haste.

"Now, won't it be nice to have that shingling all done and over with, being's it's Saturday, too; and you'll have all Sunday to rest in?" commented Miss Manners cheerfully as her employer disappeared, making little guttral sounds that might have indicated agreement with his housekeeper's sentiments—or the reverse.

The supper that greeted Sallerby when he came in after several hours of strenuous shingling was a brilliant contrast to the cup, mug, and tin pack snack that had long passed for a meal with him in his "unhousekeepered" days: an abundance of clean dishes with a slice of ham sizzling in the largest one, flanked by hot muffins and baked apples; with coffee, strong, brown and fragrant, in a well-soured coffee pot.

It was some time before Sallerby pushed back his chair. "Guess I had a coming appetite," he observed with a touch of awkwardness. "Dunno's I ever at better muffins, or tasted better coffee," he went on hurriedly, stopping with marked abruptness. "Well, the shingling's done," he announced suddenly.

"Now, if that isn't a good job over with!" rejoined Miss Manners, pleasantly commendatory.

Sallerby slowly cleared his throat. "You—you ain't asking me how I came out with Trafford?" he ventured suggestively.

"Well," answered the housekeeper in a tone of gentle deliberation, "it ain't really any of my business, but if you're liking to tell me I'm ready to listen."

"I s'pose," began Sallerby meditatively, "that if I'd gone last night, 'stead of sleeping on't, I'd 'a' tore round more or less and said things I'd 'a' wished I hadn't, and—well, I s'pose I would have gone if it hadn't been for you, Miss Manners."

"Just as well to sleep on a thing like that—things gen'rally look different in the morning," observed the housekeeper blandly.

"Still, being's I'd started in to do it, I thought I'd go round and see what 'ud come of it," went on Sallerby doggedly.

"Uh-huh" breathed the housekeeper.

"Well, I'm bound to say that Anson Trafford was pretty decent when I told him why I'd come. Said it did look a mite too sarcastic, come to see it in print, and if he'd riled me he was sorry.

"'No man can say fairer'n that,' I says, holding out my hand to him, which he takes; but when I starts to leave he kinder keeps holt and goes to patting me on the back with his other hand. 'See here, Beriah,' he says, pleasant-like but looking me in the eye, 'we've known each other, boy and man, for forty odd years. I've said I'm sorry if I put you out, and I am; but come right down to business, Beriah, ain't what I said the facts?'"

The housekeeper's eyes focused themselves upon the bottom of her teacup.

"I stood up and looked at him," her employer went on, "and I guess I opened my mouth, but no words came. Anson, he just shoved me gentle-like, inter the biggest, easiest chair in the office, an' sat down side er me. 'Beriah,' he says, 'you've been living by yourself all these years, and I dare say you've kind of dropped things one after another without just sensing it. You've got in the way of buying a pound of crackers and quarter of a pound of cheese, and picking up what news you could get hanging around Rawter's store. I'm not saying that you started in to be close-fisted, Beriah: but living hand to mouth, 'way you have, is enough to make any man skimpy. Maybe, though, that your taking on a housekeeper's the beginning of better things.'

"'I don't really know's I'm taken on yet,' observed Miss Manners, "but go right ahead, sir, if you please; it's very interesting."

"'You've been shingling, too, I noticed,' Anson says, and stops. 'Yes,' I says. 'Something the housekeeper was saying put me in mind on't.'"

"Well, I couldn't but see what was needed," interposed Miss Manners with a little cough.

"Then Anson, he leans back in his chair, like he was considering. 'Housekeeper you've got is a stranger to this town,' he says, 'but the folks wa'n't strangers to me. I worked for 'em when I was a husky young chap, 'fore I took to editing, and her pa and me were the salt of the earth, and from all I've heard the daughter ain't a bit behind 'em.'"

"Now, you needn't—" struck in Miss Manners, but Sallerby interrupted her.

"I'm just telling you what he said, that's all. Then we passed a word or two 'bout the weather and the crops, an' shook hands, and I came off; but I've kinder been thinking it over over since. Day's Saturday, ain't it? An' you come a-Monday. Well, week's most up."

"To-morrow's Sunday," continued the housekeeper, "and being as the week is 'most up I'd be glad to know how you feel about my staying on as housekeeper, if you don't mind, sir. Seems if I enjoy Sunday better, knowing 'twas settled one way or t'other."

"Hum-m-m!" Sallerby turned his head slowly around, viewing the neat, comfortable, well-cared-for room. "I may's well tell you, Miss Manners, that thinking it all over, I've decided I don't want a housekeeper. Not," he went on hastily, "but if I did, you'd be the one I'd want, Miss Manners! But—no, I don't want no housekeeper."

"Then I'd be better packing my things together, sir," replied Miss Manners a little dully. "I was kind of hoping—howsomever, it's for you to say."

"No," rejoined Sallerby slowly, "I ain't wanting a housekeeper." He paused, looking keenly into Miss Manners' face. "What I want, Miss Manners, is a wife."

"Oh!" Miss Manners paused, considering. "S'pose you've one all picked out," she went on rapidly. "Well, the house is all cleaned up for her, anyway!" she ended with an effort at cheerfulness.

"Far's I'm concerned she's picked out; yes," responded Sallerby doggedly; "and what's more, she's a-setting right in this room an' hearing me say so."

Miss Manners sent a sudden glance around the room; then her cheeks flamed and she sank back into her chair.

"Me?" she gasped.

Sallerby nodded solemnly.

"Beriah Sallerby! You never laid eyes on me till inside a week, and—"

"That's so, Tryphosy!" Sallerby leaned forward. "What I've seen of you is enough though, let alone what Anson Trafford said to me. You're the salt of the earth, Tryphosy, sure enough! And you know plenty 'bout me by this time anyway. You know I'm the oneriest, meanest, shiftlessest, no-accountest specimen in the whole township of Beckenfield. That ought to do ye, Tryphosy. But—there's been some change in this last week, and mebbe if you'd take hold for keeps there might be a bigger change yet. Come, Tryphosy, won't ye reak it?"

Miss Manners turned slowly towards Sallerby, her eyes glistening. "Well, Beriah, seeing how 'tis, I'll—yes, I'll risk it. There, there, Beriah! We're too well along for all that! Sakes alive, if it ain't going on half past seven, and those supper dishes not washed yet! Guess I'd better set some bread, too!"

—Farm and Dairy.

HEART WAS SO BAD
Could Not Do Her Housework

Many women get run down and are unable to look after their household duties owing to the heart action becoming impaired or the nervous system unstrung.

To all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief.

Mrs. Thomas Melville, Saltcoats, Sask., writes:—"I thought it my duty to write and tell you how much your Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. My heart was so bad I could not sleep, eat nor walk about the house. I could not do my housework at all, and what my husband could not do had to go undone. I had two small children depending on me besides three men to cook for, and it worried me to not be able to do anything. My husband had taken some of your pills some years ago, and insisted on me trying them, so I started, and before I had taken them two weeks I was considerably better, and before I had taken two boxes I was doing my own work again. Any one suffering from heart or nerve trouble should just give your pills a trial. If anyone cares to write me I will gladly give them all the information I know concerning your wonderful medicine."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, or three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Be Safe!

Don't take the many chances with smallpox, typhoid, scarlet, diphtheria, lung disease, scarlatina and all contagious and infectious diseases when Sulphurated Fumigating KENDALL'S Spavin Cure

It has been used by horsemen, veterinarians and farmers for 35 years—and it has proved its worth in hundreds of thousands of cases.

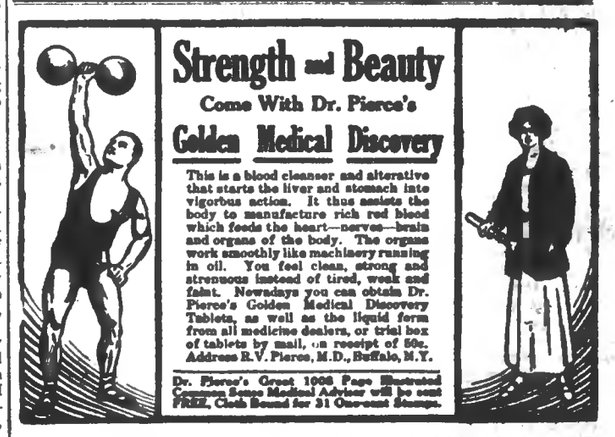
Richardville, Alta., Jan. 20, 1913.

"I have been using Kendall's Spavin Cure for a good many years with good results. In fact, I am never without it."

M. HAMMER.

$1 a bottle—6 for $5, at druggists—or write for copy of our book "Treatise on the Horse" free.

Dr. B. J. KENDALL COMPANY
Enosburg Falls, Vermont, U.S.A. 78



Strength and Beauty
Come With Dr. Pierce's
Golden Medical Discovery

This is a blood cleanser and alterative that starts the liver and stomach into vigorbus action. It thus assists the body to manufacture rich red blood which feeds the heart—nerves—brain and organs of the body. The organs work smoothly like machinery running in oil. You feel clean, strong and strenuous instead of tired, weak and faint. Nowadays you can obtain Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery Tablets, as well as the liquid form from all medicine dealers, or trial box of tablets by mail, on receipt of 50c. Address R.V. Pierce, M.D., Buffalo, N.Y.

Dr. Pierce's Great 1008 Page Illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent FREE, Cloth Bound for 21 One-cent Stamps.

Mutt Knew What to Do at That

By "Bud" Fisher

HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS AND FOOD FERMENTATION

By a Stomach Specialist.

As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, that which causes all the pain and difficulty, is acid in the stomach, usually due to, or aggravated by, food fermentation. Acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent. of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid, and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonfuls of bisurated magnesia, which is doubtless the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your druggist for the bisurated magnesia, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in the peculiarly valuable properties.—F. J. G.

I suppose that my heart should be joyous and light
And I should be deep in a trance,
For Ricky said "Yes" at the party to-night—
But, you see, all I asked was a dance.
—Judge.

"Pa, the paper says there's a crisis in Mexico. What's a crisis?"

"A scarcity of news, my boys."—Life.

"He hid beans, eh?" St. Peter said, "but cover them with chalk.
He's often listened for two hours to other people talk."
—Dallas News.

"Upon what does Torpidville base its expectation that its mine will go thundering down the lane?"

"It has not asked for a federal reserve bank."—Judge.

There once was a woman called Mrs.
Who said, "I don't know what a Kiss."
But a fellow in haste
Put his arm round her waist
And quickly answered, "Why, There."
—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

"I want you to understand," he said, addressing his seventeen-year-old son, "that I am still the boss in this house!"

"All right, dad," the boy replied. "But you're a coward to make the boast behind mother's back."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The interest on a borrowed kiss
Four kisses more will be.
We like transactions such as this Delightful usury.

THE BURDENS OF AGE

The kidneys seem to be about the first organs to wear out and fail to properly perform their work. The result is weak backs, aching limbs, rheumatic pains and failing strength. Many people of advanced years have recovered health and comfort by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They ensure the healthful action of liver, kidneys and bowels.

EXAMINER PATTERN SERVICE

DAILY FASHION HINT.

5956

Lady's Dress.

Serge, cheviot or broadcloth can be used to make this dress, with the collar of contrasting material. The dress closes at the front. The seven gored skirt can be made with either the Empire or regulation waistline.

The pattern, No. 5,956, is cut in sizes 32 to 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 5 yards of 36 inch material and ¾ yard of 24 inch satin for the collar.

The above pattern can be obtained by sending 10 cents to the office of this paper.

When ordering remember to give your name and address as well as the number and size of pattern required, and age of a child.

Address—The Examiner Pattern Service, The Examiner, Peterborough.

BOND GUARANTEE ASKED.

Hydro-Radial Delegates Want Construction Started This Year.

TORONTO, April 2.—Hydro radial enthusiasts from all over the province, but in the great majority hailing from points in western and central Ontario, swarmed into the Parliament Buildings yesterday, in a huge deputation, urging tangible Government assistance to the promotion of publicly-owned electric lines.

The requests were in brief as follows:

(1) That permission be granted to the Hydro Commission at once to proceed with the development of power at the spillway of the new Welland Canal, and that such funds as are necessary be placed at the disposal of the commission.

(2) That the model agreement which authorized the commission and the municipalities to enter into a contract for the construction and operation of such railways be adopted as the standard and be ratified by legislation.

(3) That the Government guarantee bonds approved by the commission and the municipalities to form a security, to be sold in the market.

(4) That the Government, by legislation, authorize such bonds for 50 years, and that no sinking fund be provided for the first ten years.

(5) That legislation be passed to divide the province into electoral zones so that one municipality could not hinder the construction of a radial that was desired by the majority of those concerned. The zones would be outlined by the commission.

The reply of the Government came through Hon. Dr. Pyne, an earlier member of the Cabinet, and Hon. Adam Beck, who was forced to respond, because of the insistence of the audience. The very serious consideration of the whole matter and a careful study of financial obligations involved was the promise of Dr. Pyne, and Mr. Beck stated, in addition, that the move had his sympathy, and that there was yet time during the session, he would think, to come to some conclusion.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

Police Commissioner Douglas I. McKay, of New York, has sent his resignation to Mayor Mitchell, to take effect not later than April 15.

Four grand jurors were fined $50 each for non-attendance when the court opened at Perth yesterday. The fine of one juror was remitted.

Customs receipts for Winnipeg during the past fiscal year, which closed Tuesday were about $2,000,000 behind those received during the year preceding.

Fourteen women and thirty-one men were arrested in a "clean-up" of the Montreal red light district. The police have set out to crush an organized union of vice.

Not until the Panama tolls question is settled will the question of approval by the American authorities of the international fisheries treaty come up at Washington.

A St. Eugene, Ont., despatch says that Gustave Evrasturel has decided to again be a candidate for the Legislature, but that his reception at meetings held was not over-enthusiastic.

The death occurred in Montreal yesterday of J. B. Tresmider, past grand master of the Quebec Grand Lodge A. F. and A. M., and Past Grand Regent of the Royal Arcanum.

The Canadian branch of the Inter-Parliamentary Union has selected Hon. G. H. Perley and Hon. Dr. Beland as delegates to the annual meeting to be held in Stockholm, Sweden, next summer.

Benjamin Wickham, 14 years old, in a Cranford, N.J., court yesterday, told of his experiences of three days locked in a refrigerator car filled with fruit that he could see through a grating, but could not reach.

A Gentleman.

"On the whole, the finest gentleman I have ever met," says a writer in the Unpopular Review, "was the Japanese Samurai and art critic, the late Okakura Kakuzo. I recall as vividly his courteous and expectant silence as I do his always eloquent and brilliant discourse. Indulgent to the small talk of others, he declined to share it. If he ever gave utterance to a mere prejudice or to any petty personal concern it was not in my hearing. He appeared to husband himself until the talk should take a wide impersonal range, and then his comment was fervent and illuminating. A noted American poet critic has somewhat similar habits. His prolonged silences are comfortable, even deferential, his rare speech instinct with sympathetic understanding with men and books and nature. The late John LaFarge, who was in congenial society a continuous talker, offered an interesting equivalent for reticence in the allevenness of his touch and in a beautiful perception of the kind of sympathetic response you would have made had you not been better occupied in listening to him. He had what most free talkers signally lack, perfect tact."

NEGLECT IS THE CAUSE OF GRAY HAIR

Easily Corrected If You Only Will.

No woman nowadays need lose the charm of her rich, lustrous hair with advancing years. Grey and faded hair destroys a woman's charm as nothing else will do.

It seems a shame that any woman should suffer the annoyance of grey hair when it is so easy to restore it to its natural colour.

Hay's Hair Health is so simple and easy to use and so sure in its results that no woman can afford to overlook it. It is not a dye, just a real tonic that brings new life and vigour and that natural coloured healthy look to the impoverished scalp and hair roots, restores the original, natural colour of the hair. It removes dandruff.

Your money will be refunded to you if it fails after a fair trial.

$1.00, 50c, 25c. Get it at our store.

For sale and recommended by the Wasse Drug Co.

COL. SEELEY, MINISTER OF WAR, ON PLATFORM.—Premier Asquith has declined to accept Col. Seeley's resignation, but it is believed his indiscretion will result in his transfer to another portfolio.

BEST MONEY HE HAS EVER SPENT

Was What C. Hansen Paid for Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Had Been Ailing for Six or Seven Years when He Took a Neighbour's Advice and Found a Complete Cure

Mona, Man., April 1.—(Special) — Mr. Cornelius Hansen, well known and highly respected here, is telling his friends of his ample but complete cure from a protracted illness. The facts in brief are: He had Kidney Disease; he took Dodd's Kidney Pills; they cured him. But let Mr. Hansen tell his own story.

"I was troubled with my Kidneys for six or seven years," he says. "My back was so sore I couldn't get out of bed in the mornings. I tried medicines, but they did me no good. Then I met a neighbour, and he advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. He said he had used them in his family for a long time and they were a great medicine.

"I bought six boxes of them, and by the time I had taken three of them I was feeling much better. Now I am quite well, and I think the best money I ever spent in my life was what I paid for Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are no cure-all. They simply cure sick Kidneys. But they do all that is claimed for them.

CHINESE FOR JAMAICA.

Fifty Traveling In Bond Are Closely Guarded at Montreal.

MONTREAL, April 2.—There are fifty Chinese in the immigration quarters of the C. P. R. at the Windsor station here waiting for the first ship which, touching at New York, will take them to Jamaica, where they will work on the sugar and coffee plantations under a system which is not unlike that of the "padrone" with the Italians. They are virtually enslaved. At the same time they are, in their own philosophical and stoical way, having a good time. Their food is brought to them from the outside, rice, and fish cut up in the rice.

Every one of the Chinese is under bond. He comes in like a piece of baggage. If the C. P. R. lost one of them the company would have to forfeit $500 and a fine besides. For that reason they are carefully watched; the windows are barred; the attendants can shoot, and would shoot, if necessary.

Big Group of Sun Spots.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—A large sun spot group about 50,000 miles long, consisting of a large circular spot and faculae with small spots in them, has been discovered by the naval observatory here. It was photographed at noon Tuesday. The group is in the solar north latitude.

Engineers Negligent.

MONTREAL, April 2.—The Board of Control, which investigated the break in the water main, which plunged the city into a drought at Christmas time, finds that workmen were allowed to cut too near the conduit, causing it to collapse. George Jonin, chief city engineer; Thomas Lemire, superintendent of the water department, and all the city engineers in charge of the work are found to have been grossly negligent in not compelling the workmen to follow lines laid down for the work.

Killed By Fall From Trapeze.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Ella Hackett, 19-year-old equestrienne, was killed almost instantly by a fall of fifty feet from a trapeze to an improvised platform in the arena at the Barnum and Bailey circus at Madison Square Garden late yesterday. Ambitious to appear in a trapeze act she was rehearsing after the afternoon performance, and while on a "revolving swing" she fell head downward.

Got His Reward.

Years ago a tradesman whose name is now a household word was employed in a modest capacity in a west end shop in London. While exhibiting some delicate ware to the very first customer he served he let it fall and break. The customer, a doctor, good naturedly took the blame and paid for the broken article. Years later the salesman, now a wealthy man, called on the doctor, reminded him of the incident and settled on him $5,000 a year for life.—London Answers.

Curious Ways of the Papuans.

In the Girara country, Papua, a district of New Guinea, where the country is almost entirely submerged, the natives are said to claim descent from the dog. They possess five totems which are drawn on all their houses. Their villages are erected on hillocks so as to be clear of the water, and the people of each village inhabit one large common house, sometimes as much as four to five hundred feet long and sixty to eighty feet in width. The centre of this huge building is a kind of common hall, which is used only by the men, while the walls of the structure are divided into cubicles in three or four floors, access to which is gained by means of ladders. The women are not allowed to enter the building by the same door as the men. A great deal of sorcery prevails in the western division. In the wilder parts of the country the chief is himself a head sorcerer. He claims to be able to separate his spirit from his body and to send it on various missions, including that of killing people.—Argonaut.

The Savannah River.

No one will take seriously the suggestion of a correspondent of the Atlanta Constitution that there is a "legend" to the effect that the Savannah river was so named because an Indian chief asked somebody to "Save Anna," his daughter, who had fallen from a boat into the river. But the recurrence of the puerile joke in the form of the suggestion gives occasion to say that the word "savannah" is a very old one, and philologists tracing it to its origin go back to ancient Greek through old Spanish. The English meaning of the word, spelled without the final "h," is a tract of level land covered with vegetation, usually grass or reeds, and void of trees or with trees occurring only occasionally. From the savannas along its banks the river was named. In the level, grassy savanna is observed some resemblance to a "sheet," which was one meaning of the word in Greek. Also it meant a towel.—Savannah News.

A Lace Novelty.

An odd idea in collar and cuff sets just out is to weave a Cupid's head in tenise lace. The head is the central portion of the design, the regulation pattern extending to the edges of the collars and cuffs.

PILES Quickly Cured

Instant Relief, Permanent Cure—Trial Package Mailed Free to All in Plain Wrapper.

We want every man and woman, suffering from the excruciating torture of piles to just send their name and address to us and get, by return mail, a free trial package of the most effective and positive cure ever known for this disease, Pyramid Pile Remedy.

The way to prove what this great remedy will do in your case is to just fill out free coupon and send to us and you will get by return mail a free sample of Pyramid Pile Remedy.

Then, after you have proved to yourself what it can do, you will go to the druggist and get a 50-cent box.

Don't undergo a noperation. Operations are rarely a success and often lead to terrible consequences. Pyramid Pile Remedy reduces all inflammation, makes congestion, irritation itching, sores and ulcers disappear—and the piles simply quit.

For sale at all drug stores at 50 cents a box.

FREE PACKAGE COUPON.

Fill out the blank lines below with your name and address, cut out coupon and mail to the PYRAMID DRUG CO., 406 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich. A trial package of the great Pyramid Pile Remedy will then be sent you at once by mail, FREE, in plain wrapper.

Name .....

Street .....

City ..... State .....

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO, April 1.—Unexpected stability of prices at Liverpool in the face of severe declines on this side of the ocean brought about better support today for wheat. The market closed firm at 1-4 to 3-8c net advance. Other leading staples, too, all showed gains, corn 1-4 to 3-8c, oats 1-8 to 1-4c, and provisions 2 1-2 to 7 1-2c.

TORONTO GRAIN MARKET.

Wheat, fall, bushel	0 92	to 0 93
Barley, bushel	0 53	0 55
Peas, bushel	0 83	....
Oats, bushel	0 33½	....
Rye, bushel	0 62	....
Buckwheat, bushel	0 70	0 71

TORONTO DAIRY MARKET.

Butter, store lots	0 24	0 26
Butter, creamery, lb. rolls	0 32	0 33
Butter, separator, dairy	0 31	0 32
Butter, creamery, solids	0 32	0 33
Eggs, new-laid	0 23	0 25
Cheese, old, lb.	0 15	0 15½
Cheese, new, lb.	0 14½	0 15
Honey comb, dozen	1 50	2 00
Honey, extracted, lb.	0 09	....

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, April 1.—Prices closed on the local exchange today as follows:

Cash: Wheat—No. 1 northern, 92½c; No. 2 do., 91½c; No. 3 do., 84½c; No. 4, 82½c; No. 5, 76c; No. 6, 76c; feed, 76c. No. 1 rejected seeds, 89½c; No. 2 do., 81½c; No. 3 do., 81½c; No. 4 do., 81½c; No. 5 do., 81½c; No. 6 do., 81½c; No. 2 do., 81½c; No. 3 do., 81½c; No. 1 rejected winter, 89½c; No. 2 do., 87½c; No. 3 do., 85½c.

Oats—No. 2 C.W., 34½c; No. 3 C.W., 33½c; No. 1 feed, 33½c.

Barley—No. 3, 44½c; No. 4, 42½c; rejected, 41½c; feed, 41c.

Flax—No. 1 N.W.C., $1.87; No. 2 C.W., $1.84; No. 3 C.W., $1.58.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN MARKET.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 1.—Close: Wheat—May, 89¾c; July, 90 to 90½c; No. 1 hard, 92½c to 93½c; No. 1 northern, 89½c to 91½c; No. 2 do., 87½c to 89½c.

Corn—No. 3 yellow, 61½c to 62c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 33½c to 33¾c.

Flour—Steady; patents, $4.50 in wood; first clears, $3.45 in jute; second patents, $3.70 in jute.

Bran—$26.00.

DULUTH GRAIN MARKET.

DULUTH, April 1.—Close: Wheat—No. 1 hard, 93½c; No. 1 northern, 89½c; No. 2 do., 86½c; May, 90½c; July, 91½c; Sept., 87½c.

CATTLE MARKETS

UNION STOCK YARDS.

TORONTO, April 1.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Yards were 21 cars, comprising 374 cattle, 803 hogs, 49 sheep and 67 calves.

Cattle—

Five extra choice steers, 1290 lbs. at $8.40; choice butchers' steers and heifers, $7.50 to $7.90; choice cows and heifers, $7 to $7.35; common to medium $7 to $7.50; choice steers, $6.75 to $7; good cows, $6.50 to $6.75; canners and cutters, $5 to $6.25; bulls, choice, $6.75 to $7.25; good bulls, $6 to $6.50.

Stockers and Feeders.

Stockers and feeders very scarce and plentiful. Prices of same unchanged. At $6.75 to $7; steers, 700 to 900 lbs., at $6.25 to $6.50; stockers sold at from $4.50 to $5.75.

Milkers and Springers.

There was a fair supply of milkers and springers. Prices ranged from $60 to $110, the bulk selling at $70 to $90.

Veal Calves.

On account of light deliveries calves sold as high as ever. Choice calves at $10 to $11; good calves at $9 to $10; medium at $7.50 to $8.50; common at $6 to $7.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts light and prices firm. Sheep, ewes, $6.50 to $7.50; rams, $5.50 to $6.50; lambs, choice, $9 to $9.75.

Hogs.

Selects fed and watered sold at $9.25 to $9.50, and $8.75 weighed off cars and $8 f.o.b. cars.

MONTREAL GRAIN MARKET.

MONTREAL, April 1.—At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending March 28 were 700 cattle, 110 sheep and lambs, 1100 hogs and 1250 calves. The offerings on the market this morning for sale were 250 cattle, 200 sheep and lambs, 200 hogs and 1000 calves.

There was no actual change in the condition of the market for cattle since Monday, prices being about steady, because of the smaller offerings. The demand was principally for small lots to fill actual wants for the balance of the week, owing to the near approach of the Easter trade, when butchers generally lay in large supplies in order to make a good showing.

Altho prices for hogs in the Toronto market advanced 15c per 100 lbs. yesterday, there was no actual change in the local market, except that the feeling was a little firmer for Ontario stock.

EAST BUFFALO LIVE STOCK.

EAST BUFFALO, N.Y., April 1.—Cattle—Receipts, 250; firm; prices unchanged.

Veals—Receipts, 100; active and steady; $4 to $11.

Hogs—Receipts, 3200; active and strong; heavy, $9.10 to $9.20; mixed, $9.15 to $9.20; yorkers, $9.10 to $9.20; pigs, $9; roughs, $8.35 to $8.35; stags, $7 to $7.50; dairies, $8.75 to $9.15.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 2200; sheep, active; wethers, 10c higher; lambs, steady, 25c lower; yearlings, $7.50 to $8; wethers, $6.50 to $6.75; ewes, $5.50 to $6.25; sheep, mixed, $6.50 to $6.75.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, April 1.—Cattle—Receipts, 19,000; market, steady; beeves, $7.30 to $9.50; Texas steers, $7.10 to $8.30; stockers and feeders, $6.25 to $7.90; cows and heifers, $3.70 to $8.00; calves, $8.10 to $9.75.

Hogs—Receipts, 19,000; market, strong; light, $8.50 to $9.07½; mixed, $8.50 to $9.12½; heavy, $8.35 to $9.00; rough, $8.35 to $8.55; pigs, $7.35 to $8.60; bulk of sales, $8.65 to $8.95.

Aerial Flights.

A foolproof aeroplane is all that it is claimed to be until a fool goes in it.—Detroit Free Press.

The French aviators continue to demonstrate their extraordinary fearlessness, but the demonstration involves a terrific loss of life.—Washington Star.

The suggestion that all civilized countries unite in raising a million dollar prize for the first flight around the world has the merit of helping to cool the enthusiasm if it never raised a dollar.—New York World.

Lt.-Col. King Dead.

QUEBEC, April 2.—Lt.-Col William M. King, brother of Rural Dean King of Quebec, died Tuesday at Georgeville, Beauce, in the Eastern Townships. The deceased raised the first company of the Lothinière and Megantic Regiment during the Transvaal, and after commanding it a captain rose to the command of the regiment. He served during the Fenian Raid and was awarded the medal of this service.

Cheap Magazine R. to Not Yet.

LONDON, April 2.—Assistant Secretary Parnall of the British General Postoffice yesterday declared that the statement attributed to Hon. Mr. Pelletier, Canadian Postmaster-General that the cheap magazine postal rate between Great Britain and Canada could be discontinued to-morrow is false. T. Farnall states that negotiations on this subject are even now being actively carried on by cable.

HOW THIN PEOPLE CAN PUT ON FLESH

A New Discovery

Take men and women—those big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your blood doesn't work that trick, and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are easily out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish foods and fussy excellent diets. Omit the fresh cream rub-ons. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating now and eat with every one of these 3 Sargol tablets. In two weeks note the difference. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy, "stay there" fat should be the net result. Sargol charges your weak, exhausted blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles—gives the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making nourishment in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food and prepares it for the blood in easily assimilated form. Thin people gain all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol, and the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a scientific combination of nine of the best flesh-producing elements known to chemistry. They come 60 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and independent, and all druggists sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Turkish Baths.

The proper way to take a Turkish bath is to devote plenty of time to its process. On entering step in the first room, the moderately hot one, until all feeling of oppression has passed off then move on into the second, the hot one, as it is called. The third one, called the oven, should seldom be used as the heat is too intense to be safe. It is best to be content with a mild perspiration at first and to stay in for short a time rather than too long. People are apt to think that the more they perspire the better they will be but that is not the case, and, what is more, there is an element of danger in prolonging the process. Taken quietly and with discrimination Turkish baths are one of the greatest boons to suffering humanity.—New York Telegram.

Billiard Cues.

Billiard cues are made of ash, with usually a lighter wood at the handle. A good cue should balance if a man's finger be placed under the middle of it, and as it tapers the butt must be of lighter wood than the shaft. But there is a vast amount of individuality in cues. The making of leather billiard cue tips has been an industry of a particular class of French peasants time out of mind.—Washington Star.

Plaster of Paris.

When mixing plaster of paris for mending cracks in plaster use vinegar instead of water. It should be of the consistency of putty, and when the cracks are filled the top should be smoothed over with a knife. The mixture will not harden for about half an hour.

Must Restrain His Grief.

A peculiarity of bridegrooms was pointed out by the curate who asked authentically for a medical certificate showing that he had a cold in the head.

"But that is self evident," said the doctor. "You don't need a doctor's word for that. You are all choked up, and your eyes are watery."

"It is these very symptoms that make a certificate necessary to placate the bridegroom," said the curate. "Without that he will think I am crying and will take my team as a personal insult. Copious weeping is the privilege of everybody at a wedding except the parson.

"Bridesmaids may smile, mothers may and bride and bridegroom father, but the man who ties the knot must remain dry eyed and clear visaged. Emotion on his part is construed as grief over the bride's bad bargain, and the best natured bridegroom on earth resents it."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Men and Cigars.

"Certainly I will make a few remarks," said the cigar salesman who, because of his solemn garb, had been mistaken for a man of the cloth. Ascending the platform, he said:

"Men are like cigars. Often you cannot tell by the wrapper what the filler is. Sometimes a good old stogie is more popular than an imported celebrity. Either may any all right in the showcase, on display, but are great disappointments when you get them home. No matter how fine a man is, eventually he meets his match. A two-for often puts out as many airs as a fifty-center. Some-how never get to the front at all except during campaigns. Some are very fancy outside and are soldered for pleasure. Others have a rough exterior, but spread cheer and comfort about them because of what is inside. But all men, as all cigars, good or bad, two-fers, stogies, rich or poor, come to ashes at last."—San Francisco Star.

A "Sufferin'" Bishop Smiles.

"As I often tramps to clear the 'ther day," says a writer, concerning the Athenaeum club, "I saw a bishop—a humble suffragan—drive up in a hansom and bid the (unpaid) cabman wait while he went into the club. A minute or two later out came a 'real' bishop, who guiltlessly got into the waiting hansom, and, being mistaken by the cabman for his original fare, was straightway driven off. Then issued the suffragan, whose inquiries for his cab led to his being informed by a second cabman that it had been taken 'by another gent in leggin's.'

"Piqued at this rebuke given to the episcopal garb, the suffragan turned on his heel. But as he replaced his purse in his pocket I marked the frown pass into a smile of satisfaction when he realized how the wind was tempered to the shorn lamb."—Westminster Gazette.

The clam in history had the floor.

"Can any scholar tell me where the Declaration of Independence was signed?" asked the teacher.

"At de bottom, like a letter," promptly replied a lad.—Detroit Free Press.

Terrible Dizzy Spells Would Come Over Me

The Nerves Were on Edge—Noises Excited and Irritated System Restored by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Overworking and under-eating—these words describe the cause of many a woman's physical breakdown. The body is a delicately-constructed machine, calculated to perform only a certain number of hours without rest. If overworked there is no time allowed for the reconstruction of the wasted cells, and breakdown is inevitable.

Rest is absolutely necessary to every woman who allows herself to become run down from overwork. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will help wonderfully in bringing back health and strength of mind and body. Women are particularly enthusiastic in praise of this great food cure because no treatment was ever discovered that will so thoroughly restore vigour, energy and vitality to the tired, overworked and run-down nervous system.

Mrs. T. P. Cullen, Fairview Farm, Shepard, Alta., writes: "My nervous system was so run down and exhausted that terrible dizzy spells would come over me, and I would have most peculiar feelings. Everything appeared as if it was falling on me, and caused me to jump after taking a few steps. While in this frightfully nervous condition I heard of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and began using it. This treatment built up my nervous system and completely cured me, and for this reason I am always glad to recommend it for the sake of those who suffer as I did."

No ailments cause greater suffering than diseases of the nerves, for they affect mind as well as body. You can get the nerves right by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, or 6 for $2.50. All dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Puddicombe's Auto & Taxi
Phone 250 Hunter
Taxi meets all trains. Known Rates.
Touring Cars
Office 7 Hunter St. Residence 1251

The Evening Examiner.

Pages 7-14

PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, APRIL 2, 1914

CITY WINS OUT IN ITS FIGHT WITH POWER COMPANY

Private Bills Committee Gives Peterborough Immediate Possession of Light and Power Company's Plant.

FIX PRICE AFTERWARDS

Special Wire to The Examiner:

TORONTO, April 2.— This was Peterborough's lucky day at the Legislature. That city won out on all three points in its fight with the Peterborough Light & Power Company.

The battle, which was in reality a fight in favour of the Hydro-Electric, reached the Private Bills committee of the Legislature to-day, when the Peterborough Bill came up for discussion. The situation is a peculiar one which developed in 1910 and concerning which Bills were put through the House in 1912 and 1913.

Review of the Situation.

According to the explanation of Mr. M. K. Cowan, who appeared on behalf of the City, Peterborough has been greatly pleased with the results conferred by the Hydro power in Western Ontario, and has been trying to clear the way for establishing the same system. In 1910 the City entered upon a thirty year agreement with the Light & Power Co., giving a franchise whereby electric lightsshould be distributed through the City, but the City received the right to acquire upon expropriation, all the works, franchise and property of the company, with no reserve to be allowed for prospective profits.

It was not until 1912 that Peterborough decided that they wanted to exercise the right of expropriation. They came to the Legislature and were given the right to expropriate, after which the company claimed that the City had only terminated the franchise in as much as they might take possession of the company's property on the City streets, while the lines leading to the residences remained in possession of the company. In 1913 the City followed up the fight by coming to the Legislature again and securing the right to purchase the lines leading to the houses.

The Company's Move.

In the meantime the company had stolen a march upon the City by buying up the Auburn Company at $600,000. The Light and Power Co. claims that Peterborough cannot buy them out without taking the auxiliary, which does not happen to be of any use to the City.

Three Points Claimed.

In view of that, Mr. Cowan pressed for three things:

First, he asked that their power facilities come under the Public Utilities Commission.

Secondly, he asked that the Light and Power Company property become the possession of the City of Peterborough immediately upon giving notice of expropriation and the payment of a price which the Hydro-Electric Commission might fix. If there was subsequent appeal as to price and if the City lost they would be willing to pay the extra amount later. The reason for asking immediate possession was that the company would doubtless appeal against the price of sale and that the following suits might drag for years through the courts, during all of which time the plant would be allowed to deteriorate and the City would lose.

Thirdly, Mr. Cowan asked that the City might be given the right to purchase the Light & Power Company with the auxiliary Auburn plant.

"The Auburn plant," he added, "was purchased in April. The Bill was passed in May giving the City the power to expropriate the property now used and operated by the Power Company, but the point is that when the Bill was being discussed last year before this committee the company's representatives did not mention the fact that they had purchased the larger plant in April. That was not announced until June and for that reason, I claim that we have the right to the smaller compay and that we cannot be forced into buying the larger."

Representative McInnis of the Hydro Commission, supported the contention of Mr. Cowan, while Mr. Strachan Johnston, appearing on behalf of the Peterborough Light & Power Co., alleged that the City was trying to buy all their transmission lines through the City streets, and would thereby cut off their means of supplying customers.

The City of Peterborough won all three points.

It will be remembered that ex-Ald. Gillespie was chairman of the Power committee, at the time the franchise was under discussion. During the hottest months of the summer the committee stood out for the clause that the company should not be allowed any franchise consideration for their franchise. Mr. Gillespie took a particularly keen interest on this point, although he may not have felt that the clause would have been a material asset some or any one of those franchise was granted.

FUNERAL OF UNFORTUNATE BULGARIAN

Whose Remains Will Be Made the Subject of a Rigid Examination

MURDER ALLEGED

HAVELOCK, April 2.—The funeral of N. Duloff, the Bulgarian whose body was found on Sunday in the C. P. R. pond south of the water tank, took place from the Town Hall on Tuesday afternoon to the Maple Grove Cemetery. Rev. C. W. Holdsworth conducted the services.

The Havelock Standard has the following to say of the finding of the body and the subsequent investigation:

SEVERE SCALP WOUNDS.

The body, which was badly decomposed, was taken from the water, and handed over to the authorities, who ordered an inquest in the Town Hall at 8 o'clock that night.

At the inquest before Coroner Kinsred, the remains were identified by fellow workmen as those of N. Duloff, the Bulgarian, who disappeared here on December 6th last, but whose disappearance was not communicated to the local authorities until the 28th of January.

Scalp wounds could plainly be discerned about the head of the unfortunate man, and the post-mortem, performed by Drs. Holdcroft and Ford on Tuesday forenoon, substantiated the theory that foul murder had been committed. The doctors found two fractures of the skull, one behind each ear, and either one sufficient to cause death. The inquest on Sunday night was adjourned until Monday of next week, at 1 o'clock p.m.

LEFT SUDDENLY.

At the time of Duloff's disappearance the affair was investigated by the Provincial detective department, but the man suspected of being concerned in the deed, left town suddenly when the matter was made public and his whereabouts could not be ascertained. It was discovered later that Kola Volceoff, the man who left town, had drawn a large sum of money just previously to January 6th, and that part of it, presumably, was Duloff's back pay. The general opinion at the time was that Volceoff was either a party to Duloff's disappearance or knew something about it, and that theory, it is thought, has been amply justified in the light of subsequent events.

According to interpreter Ned Vasiff, who has lately received letters from Bulgaria, Volceoff had returned to his native town near Troian, and told the father of the murdered man, that his son had been killed here. Volceoff, on information sent by the detective department, was arrested and has been held there ever since. Now he will be brought back by the authorities to stand his trial for the death of his comrade.

Duloff was but a mere boy, 20 years of age, and was remarkably good looking.

Whether he was murdered by Volceoff alone, or whether more were mixed up in the tragedy, is not known yet, but interesting developments may be expected when the trial takes place.

Judge Huycke Will Lecture

His Honour Judge Huycke will give an interesting lecture under the auspices of the Women's Art Association in their studio in the Public Library building this evening, at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "An Old Poem Made New." Members and their friends are cordially invited to be present.

IT ARRANGE FOR VISIT

A deputation of officers from the 15th Regiment at Belleville will visit the officers of the 57th Regiment, to make arrangements for the first of the Belleville regiment to our City on Victoria Day, May 24th. It has been formerly announced that such a project was under way, and if arrangements are satisfactorily completed, the combined regiments will make Victoria Day an occasion that will not be forgotten in Peterborough for a long while.

OPENING OF NAVIGATION ON THE GREAT LAKES.—Showing the steamer Wyandotte making her way through the ice fields near the south of the St. Clair River. This is the first move of navigation on the Lakes. The steamer is bound for Point Edward.

A DECREASE IN THE DEATH RATE

Vital Statistics for the First Quarter of the Year—Increase in the Number of Births.

BUILDING PERMITS

The vital statistics for the first quarter of the year ending March 31st show an increase in the number of births and a substantial decrease in the number of marriages and deaths over a corresponding period for last year. The stork had a busy time, and closed the period with a total of one hundred and thirty brand new babies to his credit. This is an increase over last year of eight. For the month of March alone there was a decrease, but the difference is more than made up during the two preceding months. The figures are as follows:

1913.	1914.
Jan.—47	Jan.—48
Feb.—28	Feb.—51
Mar.—47	Mar.—31
122	130

Increase over corresponding perior for last year—8.

MARRIAGES.

The little gentleman whose conventional attire consists of a pair of wings and a bow and arrow was less fortunate in that he failed to equal, much less, exceed the record established for the first quarter of the previous year. The total decrease in the number of marriages for the quarter is seventeen. The only logical explanation of the decline is the high cost of living, coupled with the fact that this is not leap year.

The marriage statistics for the first three months of 1913-14 respectively are as follows:

1913.	1914.
Jan.—20	Jan.—13
Feb.— 9	Feb.— 8
Mar.—21	Mar.—12
50	33

Total decrease—17.

DEATHS.

One outstanding and particularly gratifying feature of the vital statistics for the quarter is a decline in the death rate. Sixty-five deaths have been registered during the period, which is fourteen less than the number recorded for the first quarter of the previous year. Following is the record.

1913.	1914.
Jan.—32	Jan.—31
Feb.—21	Feb.—28
Mar.—26	Mar.—12
79	65

Decrease—14.

BUILDING PERMITS.

March, 1913, ten permits; valuation, $2,000.

March, 1914, nineteen permits; valuation, $5,695.

Work On The Ground Building Was Began This Morning

Work was begun this morning in cleaning up the property in front of the Curling Rink, preparatory to digging out the cellar and commencing the actual construction work of the building which Messrs. J. T. and R. C. Ground will erect. The details of the description of the new building have already been given. Six stores will be included in the structure and six flats for rental purposes.

TWO BURGLARS ARRESTED HERE

In Connection With Lindsay Robberies—Goods to Value of $600 Found on Them.

WERE HANDED OVER

Two formidable looking revolvers, and a modern Winchester repeating rifle were exhibited at the Police Court this morning, having been taken from the possession of Fred Smith and James Wilson, two youths who were arrested yesterday by Detectives Newhall and Meagher.

This morning they were charged with carrying fire arms, contrary to the Code. They pleaded guilty and the revolvers were forfeited.

Handed Over.

Chief Chilton of Lindsay then presented a warrant to Magistrate Dumble, under the hand and seal of Police Magistrate Jackson of Lindsay, for their apprehension, in connection with burglaries committed in that Town on Tuesday night.

The Burglaries.

On Wednesday morning Lindsay awoke to find that five or six stores had been entered during the night by daring burglars, the places of prominent business men having been given the preference. The stores were opened by the use of a "jimmy" in each instance, but one, and how that particular place was entered is altogether a mystery. The operations were all confined to Kent Street—Lindsay's main thoroughfare. It is not known where the burglars began or finished this work. The places visited by the midnight marauders were Britton's jewellery store, Morgan's drug store, Williams' pool room and barber shop; Robson's grocery and confectionery store. From these stores the young men, for young men they are, being but 18 and 19 years old, got away with between five and six hundred dollars' worth of goods. Mr. Britton probably was the heaviest loser. As a Lindsay paper says, the burglars met with horse shoe luck, as a precaution is always taken to set burglar alarms in this particular store. For some unaccountable reason this was not completed last night, and gave the men the opportunity they wished for, although they were scared at some burglar traps which went off.

Made Ready to Escape.

They ensured a safe escape in case they were surprised, by unlocking the back and front doors. When they had secured enough booty, or imagined they had enough, they decided to abandon their evil work, and make good their escape. Mr. Morgan's drug store was robbed of $10 in bills and silver. The thieves missed an opportunity for a larger haul when they either overlooked, or could not force another cash register on the same premises, which contained no less a sum than $55. Williams Bros., owners of a cigar and tobacco store, missed a quantity of tobacco, as well as a massage machine, valued at $35. Mr. Williams was of the opinion that it was the work of local men. The general public were, however, unable to conceive any idea as to whom the rogues might be, and various theories were advanced.

Chief Chilton Busy.

As soon as the robberies were found out Chief Chilton was communicated with and started his work of rounding up the criminals. The only clue he had to work upon was a note book which was found in Williams' pool room, and which described the town, the road leading to both G.T.R. and C.P.R. Stations, and how they were to act to each other when travelling. Their rendezvous in Bracebridge was also depicted. Some notes about travel on a boat were also noted. From this the Chief came to the conclusion that the hurglars were not Lind-

(Continued on Page 14.)

LESTER HUBBARD, who was third in the Dominion Government competition for the power house plans at Banff, Alta., and won the prize of $10. He is a second-year student at the same college as Denison.

RADIAL SCHEME APPEARS GOOD

Ald. Gordon Says the Proposed Provincial Trunk Line Was Favourably Received—An Association of Eastern Municipalities May Be Formed

MANY REPRESENTATIVES

Ald. Gordon was in Toronto yesterday in connection with the proposed Provincial Radial Railway scheme, and also in the interests of Peterborough's private bill, which was scheduled for a hearing today. To the Examiner this morning he stated that Eastern Ontario was represented from Port Perry to Prescott, and although not numerically as strong as the Western section of the Province, they had an equal share in the number of speakers when the matter was presented to the Legislature.

Ald. Gordon stated that the prospects were bright for the formation of an association of the Eastern municipalities for the purpose of uniting their efforts to the end that the project of a trunk radial line may be materialised.

Mayor Buller was one of the speakers and presented the demands of this section of Ontario, which, he thought, would be greatly assisted by the proposed scheme.

One suggestion is that the Legislature might bond the line and it would be paid for by themunicipalities which it affected. It is likely that steps will be taken to organise an association among the Midland municipalities when the whole question would be given a greater impetus than it has yet received. The project is really in its infancy, but it was apparently given serious consideration by the Legislature and the necessary assistance may be expected from this source.

Ald. Gordon remarked that he assisted in the work preliminary to presenting the City's Bill to-day and came home last night. Nothing remained but its presentation before the Committee to-day.

POLITICAL SITUATION IS QUIETING DOWN—FEDERAL SCHEME IS POPULAR ONE

CUSTOMS RECIPTS FOR YEAR SHOW $10,000 DECREASE

Total Collections Amounts to $468,197.29 As Compared With $478,883.87 For 1913

END OF FISCAL YEAR

Yesterday ended the fiscal year of the Customs Houses in the Dominion and though there have been large deficits in other cities, Peterborough comes out fairly well. The decrease in this City this year, is but $10,000. The total collections are $468,197.29. Last year they were $478,883.87.

OTHER CITIES LOSE

Montreal is over $900,000 behind last year. Winnipeg is over $1,000,000 behind, and Vancouver is behind the same amount.

Last year the total Dominion Customs revenue was $115,000,000. This year it will be approximately $105,000,000. There will be a total drop, therefore, of about $9,000,000 in Canada.

LAST YEAR'S REVENUE

The collections for the year just ended, by the month, are as follows:

April	$52,877.43
May	52,272.84
June	47,986.40
July	49,763.08
August	43,866.62
September	32,293.50
October	39,370.80
November	35,866.37
December	30,350.27
January	29,433.81
February	26,747.32
March	34,933.00
Total	$468,197.29
Last year	$478,873.87
Total Deficit for the year	$10,676.58

CANON DAVIDSON IS IN TORONTO

The Toronto Star says:

The special preacher at the noon day services at St. James' Cathedral this week is Canon Davidson, of Peterborough, who is giving a course of lectures every day on "The Way of Light." An unusual feature of these services is that the greater part of the congregation is composed of business and professional men, and Canon Davidson's subject yesterday on "The Divine Illumination" was particularly applicable to men. He urged that men were intended to exercise will power to get into situations where God's sunlight streams down unhindered, such as the church in the country, pure home life, and healthful reading, each in its own time and place.

WANTS TO SEE TRAMPS PARADE

Mr. Thompson, Y.M.C.A.

I would like very much to see your Tramps of the Tramp Reunion parade down George Street to-night.—Yours truly,

ONE WHO IS INTERESTED

PROPER FOOD FOR CHILDREN.

Dr. Hastings Gives Advice in This Month's Bulletin.

Toronto, April 2.—In speaking of the feeding of children over two years of age, Dr. Hastings, M.H.O. of Toronto, says in this month's bulletin:

"The feeding of children over two years of age must be governed largely by the observation of parents as to what agrees with the child. In general terms only the simplest, plainest and most easily digested foods should be given.

"Milk, beef, eggs, the lighter and more easily digested cereals, bread and butt should largely form the diet. All sweets, pastry, highly seasoned foods, candy, nuts, tea and coffee should be absolutely prohibited. When the appetite is poor and simple foods are not well taken, the child should not be allowed to take indigestible articles for the sake of eating something nor should the food be given between meals.

"Some children never are hearty eaters, but they manage to get along and feed well. If a child is well and looks healthy you can usually count on him deciding pretty accurately what he needs and you do not need to stuff him with the idea that it will make him fat."

Unionists Are Listening With Interest to Sir Edward Grey's Proposal of a General Resolution —Puget Mystery is Cleared Up

THE BYE ELECTION

LONDON, April 2.— Sir Edward Grey, appearing in the House of Commons yesterday to announcement for the Government on the second reading of the Home Rule bill, showed that the Cabinet was in a conciliatory mood. His proposal to the Unionist party, to hold an early general election, if the Opposition would allow the peaceful voting bill, as well as the Home Rule and Welsh Disestablishment bills, to go through, before the end of the present session, is regarded by the Unionists as preposterous, for the abandonment of the plural voting bill is just what the Liberals want to insure their continued ascendancy in power.

Sir Edward Grey's other offer of a federal solution in six years was far more interesting, and, in the opinion of the Unionists, much more satisfactory.

This means that Ulster could secure her own separate government, and most of the speakers from either side of the House supported the possibility of a federal scheme being worked out in the six years during which the option to the Ulster counties would be operative.

The first act of Premier Asquith in his new capacity as Secretary of State for War was to clear up the mystery surrounding the instructions given by the War Office to Gen. Sir Arthur Paget, commander-in-chief in Ireland. Home Secretary McKenna announced yesterday that all Gen. Paget had done was to ask the officers whether they would put their duty before any other considerations. Refusal, he told them, meant dismissal.

The result of the day's debate was to confirm the impression that an understanding will eventually be arrived at. A large meeting of Unionist members in favor of a settlement on the federal plan was held in a committee room of the House of Commons yesterday. The proceedings were private, but it is understood that the amendment to the Home Rule bill carrying out the views of the meeting was approved, and will be placed on paper after the bill has been read a second time for discussion in the committee stage.

Polling in the East Fife bye-election has been officially fixed for April 15. Until the meeting of the East Fife Conservative Association to-day, it cannot be definitely stated whether the Unionists will run a candidate, but the probability of their doing so now is extremely remote.

The association practically advised the Unionists to refrain from opposing Asquith on condition that he resigned mischievous anti-army proposals, of some of his colleagues. The position, says The Statesman, calls for wise action if Asquith's part and it adds: "But if there is any whisper of people versus the army in the Prime Minister's manifesto the resistance of Unionists should be instant and determined."

The Examiner Newsboy's Competition Ends Sat., April Eighteenth

The Prizes Amounting to $50.00 in Cash Will be Paid the Newsboys According to the Number of New Customers They Have Added to Their Own Lists.

The Examiner Newsboys' Competition has but a little over two weeks to run before the close, on April 18. Some boy is going to be the winner of $25.00, the first prize; another of $20.00, for the second prize, for the largest number of new customers secured for themselves during the period of the Competition. In all 27 cash prizes will be given, as the following list will show.

The boys who wish to secure the prizes should do some extra work during the next two weeks and earn enough money to start a good bank account.

A little effort on the part of the boys will secure a cash reward and that will more than pay for the effort.

AS THE STORY GOES.

A Scotch immigrant was hired by a Peterborough County farmer. At breakfast one of the famous cheeses of the country was set before him. His employers left the fleet at the table and later, when he appeared for work, said to him:

"Sandy, you take a long time over breakfast."

"Troth, master," replied the fleet, "a cheese is that nice is nae to be eaten as ye may think."

Evening Examiner

'Phones: Editorial 1066, Business Office 1065, Private Branch Exchange to all Departments.

The Paid Circulation of The Daily Examiner is Over

4700 COPIES DAILY

SWORN TO AND GUARANTEED

The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited; Office, 419 George Street.

The Weekly Examiner, published Thursday morning.

The subscription price of The Daily Examiner is $4.00 per annum; that of The Weekly, $1.00.

Special U. S. Representative: W. H. Stoothoff, 620 People's Gas Building, Chicago, Ill.

Advertising rates on application.

Hon. J. R. STRATTON, President.

R. M. GLOVER, Managing Director.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

THURSDAY, APRIL 2, 1914

C. P. R. KEEPS MOVING.

The C. P. R., between January and February, which were bad months, received 10 locomotives, and 200 steel frame box cars; 148 steel frame box cars from the Angus shops; 8 vans, 19 refrigerator cars; 1 ballast spreader, and 16 stock cars—the whole showing that the work of the C. P. R. goes on even if the figures fall a little during the winter months.

APPRECIATION.

The Examiner has received, with appreciation of the courtesy, a note from Mr. Burnham, M.P., complimenting the Examiner upon the fairness of its report of the Conservative mass meeting on Monday night. It was, he says, "a reasonable and clever one, of a much higher level than the cantakerous abuse usually served up to the hide-bound readers of one side or the other." The Examiner claims to be a newspaper, whose function is to furnish news; and to be of value in this regard, the reports it prints of events that constitute news, must be truthful and fair. The Examiner is glad to count a great many Conservative readers amongst its clientele, and in fairness to them, as well as to our general readers who look to it for information regarding current events, a reasonably full and thoroughly fair report of a public meeting like that mentioned, was good business as well as good morals. The Examiner is grateful for deserving commendation in this regard, and takes no particular credit for printing fair reports of the doings of its political opponents, though, as a matter of fact, it might claim some compensation, beyond the sense of duty done, some salve for its conscience, from a strictly partisan point of view, for disseminating political heresy. A newspaper that aims to deserve its name must be fair and just in its dealings with the news columns of its pages. Its editorial pages are the place where discussion and criticism have a legitimate space, only, however, on condition that, even there, fairness, temperate statement and reasonable inference must prevail.

CANADA GROWS

One can hardly appreciate the growth of Canada measured by its trade. Ten years ago, in 1904, the total trade of Canada yas 456 millions. The total trade of Canada for the fiscal year which closed yesterday, is 1,145 million dollars, a threefold increase in the decade. It is impossible to grasp the detailed significance of such figures as 1,145 millions. A sanctum visitor this morning made a calculation with this result: To count 1,145 millions, a man counting 100 per second, day and night for twenty years, would still have to put in two or three more to finish the count. These figures furnish a striking tribute to both the enterprise of our population and the magnitude of our resources. Both must have been great to have achieved a record of $153 per head for every man, woman and child in the Dominion; and taking the producing numbers of our population at one-fifth of the total population, we see that on the average every working man of the Dominion contributes $765 to our total trade, not including of course the amount of internal—interprovincial — trade. The most gratifying feature of our growth in trade is the marked increase of our exports. Similar increase has been shown in all other departments; for instance, our total revenues from all sources at Confederation was only 13½ millions. In 1912 our total revenue was 136 millions, a jump from 88 millions, the figures of 1902, ten years previous. The revenue of Canada has shown a continuous increase since 1896, when it was only 36½ millions till 1910, when there was a falling off of about 5 millions. Last year the apogee was reached, 136 millions. This year, it is to be feared, there will be a considerable reduction in the amount of the total revenue and with a valorous increase of expenditure in every department of government, we may have to look for a deficit, the first Dominion deficit in sixteen years.

THE PEOPLE MUST PREVAIL.

The mutiny of the British officers, their refusal to obey order, is a serious matter, especially when one comes to consider that it breaks the tradition of British discipline and obedience to orders conspicuous on every page of the brilliant history of British arms. It is in striking contrast with the spirit of British soldiery, expressed by Tennyson in his "Charge of the Light Brigade" — "their's not to reason why," but even though, "somebody blundered," to ride "into the jaws of hell." Such an epitome of the martinet grip of duty and obedience to orders, upon the British soldier should have lasted the life of the Empire and it is a shock to think that it has been in the slightest sense relaxed. Another serious feature of the action of the British officers is the departure from another tradition of the British army—complete abstinence from politics, especially partizan politics. That the officers in question have though negatively, become associated with party politics; even though unthinkingly, and no doubt became subject to the influence of party politics is a painful thing to believe. But there seems to be no resisting the suspicion — though a stronger word might be used—that a great historical party has made itself responsible for an unprecedented happening in British annals. Upon this point the Montreal Herald and Telegraph says:

> The dangerous character of the weapons with which the Unionists in Great Britain have been playing, in their efforts to frighten the Liberal Government into dissolution, is revealed in the seething excitement which now obtains over the new issue which has been raised of "The army versus the people," whether the resignations of the army officers over the Ulster question was part of a Unionist plot or not, the fact remains that some of the most prominent Unionist leaders have repeatedly threatened just such a move as took place, and, protest as they will, they cannot now disassociate themselves from the actual occurrences.

If these assumptions are more than assumptions—have a basis of fact — the action of the Unionist leaders has not only been disloyal to high patriotic ideals, but they have made a tactical blunder. The action of the officers has brought into popular prominence the question of the supremacy of Parliament over a body, the army, that exists in the interests of Parliamentary maintenance of law and obedience to constituted authority—a question that has been virtually disposed of since the days of the Revolution of the seventeenth century. There has been brought into prominence the question of class distinction. The political leaders that could justify the use of the army to overawe and perhaps shoot down, striking workingmen, must not be employed to enforce the decrees of Parliament, in respect of persons openly rebelling against the will of the supreme authority of the people as expressed through Parliament, the constitutional medium of registration of the popular will.

OUR HORSE-AND-RIG PARCEL POST.

Has any one obtained any real help from the Parcel Post in reducing the cost of living? If so, we should like to hear from him, for our experience so far has been that it has been of no use whatever in this, the ostensible reason for its establishment. In the United States the Parcel Post is a real factor in reducing the burden of prices. The latest improvement in the system is known as the "farm products" post. It is limited to the first and second zones, a distance of about 150 miles, and its purpose, to establish direct traffic relations between truck-gardener or farmer, and the city purchaser, will, it is believed, reduce the cost if living for the one and add to the margin of profit for the other. As sales are managed now, a writer in the Louisville Courier-Journal says: "food products for which the farmer receives $3.24 on his farm are retailed in the city for $5.55."

The new idea is attributed by this writer to a co-operation between Post Office and Agricultural Department experts, who calculate that the figuring of this sum under the parcel post system will work out somewhat as follows: The farmer will prepay postage and accept $4.25 for the articles of food for which the commission merchants now give him approximately $3.24 and which they sell to the consumer for $5.55. Thus the farmer will pocket an increase of $1.01, and the city consumer will save $1.30 on each such purchase. The ordinary crates used for the shipment of butter, eggs, fruits, berries, vegetbous, dressed poultry, and other articles by express will be accepted, provided that the maximum weight of these crates is not fifty pounds. Packages under twenty pounds must be securely packed so that they can be handled in mail bags with ordinary mail matter.

Contrast this with Canada's Parcel Post. Not only are Canada's rates far higher than those in the United States, but they are in many cases higher than the existing rates of the Express companies. Furthermore, where the United States have the cheapest rates in operation within an area of 150 miles with a weight limit of 50 pounds, Canada's cheap rate is limited to an area of 20 miles, with a weight limit of 11 pounds. In fact, Canada's Parcel Post is limited to the horse and rig zone, and thus does not even begin to touch the real problem, while the United States system is the real handmaid of the people.—Montreal Herald-Telegraph.

CANADA HERSELF BUILDS BIGGEST LAKE FREIGHTER

In view of the fact of Mr. Borden having declared that Canada would not be able to build big ships in fewer than twenty-five or fifty years, it is interesting to learn that preparations are being made at Port Arthur for the launching on Saturday of the W. Grant Morden, the biggest steel freighter on the Great Lakes, a vessel entirely constructed in Canada, and intended to handle Canadian trade. Much interest is being shown in shipping circles in the launching of the vessel, as she will be not only by far the largest vessel on the upper lakes, but it is expected to make several records in the way of grain carrying during the coming season.

That the W. Grant Morden is to be a big ship is shown by the fact that she will be fifty feet longer than the C.P.R. Empresses on the Atlantic route. The boat will be 625 feet, in length by 60 feet beam, and will have a carrying capacity of 500,000 bushels of wheat, or about 100,00 more than the James Carruthers," he previous biggest freighter on the Great Lakes, which was lost during the great storm of last autumn.

The W. Grant Morden is being built for the Canadian Steamship Lines, Ltd., and it was stated yesterday that her full cargo would represent 30 million loaves of bread. It was also calculated that she would make twenty round trips during the coming season, which, if fully loaded with wheat, would mean ten million bushels, or a good percentage of the export western wheat crop. The W. Grant Morden is costing the company in the neighbourhood of $600,000, and is regarded as about the most modern freight vessel on the Great Lakes, either American or Canadian. While she will be launched Saturday, it will be a month later before she starts active operations, when she will ply from Fort William and Port Arthur to such lake ports as cargoes are directed. While the new vessel is planned for grain carrying, she will take general cargoes during the season when grain is not offering.

It was stated yesterday by the representatives of the Canada Steamship Lines, Lt., that this vessel was completely of Canadian build, and had been put together at Port Arthur by the Western Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Co., Ltd., whose yards are at Port Arthur, the fact that so big a ship had been built by a Canadian firm for Canadian trade being noteworthy as showing the progress made in marine construction in Canada during the past few years.

There will be a large party to witness the launching of the vessel, including prominent people from Montreal, Toronto, Duluth, Winnipeg, Chicago, Cleveland and other cities.

HELP WANTED—Female

WANTED—DINING-ROOM GIRL. APPLY King George Hotel. 3d-76-4638

MAID WANTED. APPLY 353 BROCK. 3d-76-4654

WANTED—GOOD GENERAL SERVANT Apply Examiner Office. 3d-78-4683

FOR SALE

RANGE FOR SALE—PRACTICALLY New, a Bargain. Apply 486 Roger St. 3d-78-4674

PRIVATE SALE—AT 742 GEORGE ST. by L. S. Edney. A few specials left, Pandora Range, Sideboard, Extension Table, Small Tables, Dresser, Washstand, Rockers, Bicycle. All in good condition and going cheap. 1d-78-4680

FOR SALE—LARGE PARLOUR HEATER at a bargain. 289 Rubidge Street.

FOR SALE—2 GOOD SEWING MACHINES —one drop head, one drawing-room cabinet. Must be sold this week. Apply 916 Aylmer St. 3d-77-4671

FOR SALE—HOUSE, NO. 276 KING ST. All modern improvements. Hot water heating. 50 feet frontage. Apply to 300 Stewart Street. 28d-77-4673

FOR SALE—15 LOTS, WORTH $175 EACH, for $2,250, near De Laval Factory. Also buy or sell or exchange City or farm property. See John Bell, 451 Water St. 'Phone 1281.

LOTS SINGLY OR EN BLOC, FOR SALE near new factories, school and street car J. S. Bell, 451 Water Street, Tel. 1281 28d-69-4w-13-4560

FOR SALE—1 GREY PERCHERON MARE, rising 4 years old, weight 1,400 lbs. 1 Brown Mare, rising 8 years old, in foal to Percheron Horse, weight 1,300 lbs. Apply M. Tobin, Lot 16 Concession 2, Douro, Ont. 3d-76-4669

FOR SALE OR TO RENT—BRICK HOUSE on Reid Street. 6 bedrooms. All modern conveniences. Newly painted and papered. Apply to A. H. Stratton and Co., over Medill's Drug Store. tf-4 t p-63-4446

FOR SALE—ONE GOOD HOUSE, NEW, just completed, with every modern convenience. Six rooms and bathroom. Convenient to all factories. Situated on corner of Wolf and Bethune Streets. Act quick and come down and give your offer on easy terms. Best buying in the City, as it must be sold. Apply to 288 Charlotte Street. dtf-38

FOR SALE—ONE HEAVY HORSE, ONE heavy Mare, one Bay Horse about 1,100 lbs., one Mare with foal, one rubber-tyre top Buggy, four steel-tyre Buggies, one double Wagon, two platform Trucks, two sets of Double Harness, two sets of Single Harness. Address on the Corner of Woodbine and Cameron Sts. 3d-76-4651

READ THE EVENING EXAMINER

HOUSES FOR SALE

FROM $1000.00 to $3000.00

TO RENT

FROM $11.00 to $18.00

ROOMS TO RENT

ON STEWART STREET.

—BY—

T. Walker AND Co.

377 Park St. 'Phone 1002

OUR MOTTO: THE BEST VALUE

TO RENT

TO RENT—2 UNFURNISHED ROOMS. Apply 577 Division Street. 3d-76-4648

ONE ROOM TO RENT, FURNISHED OR unfurnished. Use of bath and 'phone. Apply to Box 4662, Examiner. 28-77-4662

COMFORTABLE FURNISHED ROOM FOR young gentleman. Residential section. Apply Examiner. 3d-76-4662

TO RENT—GOOD ROOM AND BOARD with private family. Apply Examiner Office.

FOR RENT—STORE AND DWELLING-House combined. Good business section. For particulars apply to No. 559 Water Street, City. dtf-76-4664

TO LET—A GOOD, WELL FURNISHED, steam heated Front Room for two gentlemen. Apply 60 Hunter Street. 28d-68

TO RENT—STORE, NO. 175½ SIMCOE ST. Immediate possession. Apply 457 George Street. dtf-111-3519

TO RENT—GROCERY STORE, WITH large cellar. Yard and stable. Good location. Apply to "Owners," 183 Antrim Street, City. dtf-69

TO RENT—ROOMS ON HUNTER STREET, between George and Aylmer, suitable for two dwellings. Apply 437 George. dtf-39

TO RENT—ONE STORE IN GRAND Opera House Block. Steam heating. Immediate possession. Apply J. J. Turner & Sons. dtf-52-9059

TO RENT — BRICK HOUSE, 778 WATER Street, with bathroom and electric light. Good grounds. Rent, $14.00 per month. Possession May 1st. Apply to J. J. Turner & Sons, George Street. 3d-77-4665

HOUSE TO RENT 6 ROOMS, CONveniences, south central district, possession May 1st. Apply Examiner. 3d-78-4685

TO RENT—FURNISHED ROOMS, ALL conveniences. Apply 514 Water St. 6d-78-4682

BOARDERS WANTED

SEVERAL YOUNG MEN CAN BE ACCOMmodated with good room and board. Apply 390 Queen. 3d-76 4660

FOUND

FOUND—GOLD TOP OFF RING, SET with brilliants. Apply Examiner Office. 3d-76-4656

LOST

LOST—SATURDAY, ENGLISH WHALEbone Whip on Stewart Street. Finder leave at Examiner. 3d-76-4655

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN—A SPOTted Coach Dog, about 7 mos. old. Anyone harbouring this animal after this notice will be prosecuted. Finder leave information at Examiner. 3d-77

NOTICE

PAINTING AND PAPER-HANGING AND Graining—I am prepared to do all kinds of painting and paper-hanging in a satisfactory manner and at reasonable prices. W. Kellar, 109 James Street. 'Phone 1413. 28d-74-4613

CHIMNEY SWEEPING, STOVE PIPE cleaning, carpets beat, window cleaning. Also lawns kept. Telephone 119 or apply, J. Vincent, 545 Chamberlain St. 3d-78-4676

HELP WANTED—MALE

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN, BRAKEMEN. Wages about $100. Experience unnecessary. Send age, postage. Railway, care Examiner. 28d-51-4202

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN, BRAKEmen, wages about $100 experience unnecessary. Send age, postage. Railway, care Examiner. 28d-78-4679

AGENTS WANTED

AGENTS, MAKE BIG MONEY HANDLING our fast selling goods. Exceptional opportunity. Write to-day. Troy Contracting Company, Cosgrave Building, Toronto, Ont. 28d-55-4230

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE. WE have specialty selling at night to automobile owners. Big profits. Investigate immediately. Clyde Specialty Co., 55 River St., Verdun, Que.

AGENTS WANTED—WE HAVE AN UNusual premium proposition; every person will be interested. No outlay necessary. Apply E. C. I. Co., Ltd., 228 Albert St., Ottawa, Ont. dtf-131-3530

WANTED

Carriage Painter, Paperhanger, Farm Help, Domestic Servants, Cooks, Chamber-maids, Saleslady, and Dining Room Girls.

DOMINION EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

PHONE 1214 174½ CHARLOTTE

REAL ESTATE AND BUSINESS CARDS

INSPECTOR DR. SMITH BLAMES MAGISTRATES

Points to Clause in Act Forbidding Sending Insane People to Jails.

Dr. Bruce Smith, provincial inspector of prisons and hospitals, in discussing the case of John Johnson, the insane man who died in Toronto jail recently, stated that the Toronto magistrates are a law in themselves.

He says that section 15 of the act, relating to prisons, hospitals and charitable institutions, clearly stated that no insane person shall be committed to any jail, prison or reformatory.

"I cannot conceive," he said, "how any magistrate would dare send any insane or feeble-minded man to jail in the face of such an act. They have this before them and still they perpetrate such actions as this."

PATENTS

HERBERT J. S. DENNISON, REGISTERed Attorney, 18 King Street West, Toronto. Patents, Trade Marks, Designs, Copyrights, protected everywhere. Eighteen years' experience. Write for booklet. dtf-94

GEORGE H. BOWEN

B. A. Sc., Registered Patent Attorney Mechanical and Electrical Engineer. Machines designed and patented. Trade-marks registered.

34 Victoria St. Toronto

TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS & DESIGNS PATENTS

STANLEY LIGHTFOOT

PATENT SOLICITOR AND ATTORNEY

LUMSDEN BLDG. ("TWENTY") TORONTO.

WRITE FOR TERMS. M. 3743.

FOR SALE

East half, Lot 5, South half of Lot 38, in the 14th Concession, Smith, containing two hundred acres more or less. Possession can be given any time.

Upon this farm is contained a first-class two-storey brick house and large barns and stables. Also a small orchard and timber and two wells. The property is known as the "Anglesey Homestead," and is three-quarters of a mile from Young's Point.

The above property must be sold at once to close out an estate.

G. N. GORDON,

Barrister, Peterborough.

March 9th, 1914. dtf-58-4337

A GOOD BUY

Modern brick house on Fredrick Ave., mantel and fireplace, front and back stairs, pantry, four bedrooms, bath, closets and cloak room, hot water in basement for laundry, cement floor outside entrance, also barn room for horse, buggy car. $3250.00. Apply to

MIGHT & TAYLOR

376 Water Street 10d-78

$1875 TAKES THIS

NEW TWO AND A HALF STOREY RED BRICK HOUSE, 7 rooms, light and water, 2 verandahs, and sleeping porch, cement floor in cellar, and cement walks, good location. This house would be a good buy at $2200. For terms apply to W. J. Koster, 599 Gilmour Street.

SIX BARGAINS READ THESE

Stewart St. Brick house. All conveniences. Attic floored. Price.....$2250

Simcoe St. Good house and lot, 4 bedrooms. Price.....$1850

Wolfe St. New house 3 bedrooms. Price.....$1250

Georgie St. Good house, 6 bedrooms. Price.....$1500

Bonaccord St. Brick house, good cellar, water and light. Price.....$1650

5 Acres of ground and building. Close to the City. Price.....$800

ASK

C. J. Carroll & Co

THEY KNOW

372 WATER STREET

Phone 822 Open Evenings

"WE SELL THE EARTH"

AUTO LIVERY

AUTO LIVERY — AUTOMOBILES TO Rent. Good autos, equipped with electric lights and shock absorbers. Careful chauffeurs. C. E. Banks. 'Phones 602 and 1061.

BOARDING HOUSES

MONTREAL HOUSE — TEMPERANCE House; Boarding House, Lunch Room, and Soft Drinks. Reasonable board by the week. 382 Aylmer St., 294 King St. James Head, Proprietor

GUN REPAIRING

GUN REPAIRING—GUNS OF ALL MAKES repaired promptly. C. E. Banks, 334 George Street. 28d-107-3466

HOTELS

AMERICAN HOTEL — A HOME AWAY from home; good accommodation; centrally located. American plan. Sam. Long, Mgr. 149 Hunter St. 'Phone 434

JUNK AND COAL

COAL. COAL. COAL.

COAL IS ONE OF THE BIGGEST ITEMS of expenditure in your home, and we believe you are interested in this explanation, comparison and POSITIVE PROOF OF WHY CONNELL ANTHRACITE COAL IS THE BEST TO BUY. PRESENT PRICE—$7.50 PER TON. Our prices are the lowest. We aim to give our patrons Coal at a Fair Price at all times. Rush your orders and we will promptly deliver. LOW & CO. Office and Yards, 385 Bethune St. Tel. Bell 697

MUSIC

PETERBOROUGH CONSERVATORY OF Music—Rupert Ghiddon, Musical Director. 10th Year. A staff of 20 Resident and Visiting Teachers. Subjects taught: Piano, Vocal, Violin and other Stringed Instruments, Wind Instruments, Musical Theory. Social and Fancy Dancing. Corner of Hunter and Rubidge Streets. 'Phone 356.

MILLINERY

PETERBOROUGH MILLINERY PARlours — All latest styles in Millinery. Call and see our stock. Mrs. W. B. Armstrong, 435 George St. Old T.A.S. Rooms

PHOTOGRAPHERS

THE RICHMOND STUDIO, 147 HUNTER Street, Corner George and Hunter Sts., is the place to go for Good Photographs. We specialize in Photographic Enlargements. See our new Flexible Mountings. Quality High—Prices Low. R. Farthing, Proprietor.

HAIR STORE

MRS. BYRNE'S HAIR STORE — ALL kinds hair goods, pads, shampooing and dressing. 484 George Street.

PIANOS AND MUSIC

W. L. TAYLOR — DEALER IN HIGHGrade Pianos and Real Estate. 350 Water Street. 'Phone 1402.

REAL ESTATE

A FIRST-CLASS COTTAGE, LARGE CORner lot, 75 x 136 ft. All in good repair. South End. Price, $2,300; terms easy. A number of Houses, below $2,000, will sell at terms of $100 down; balance on monthly payments from $10 to $20. Now is the time to get a home of your own on monthly payments. Apply J. A. Gibbs, 134½ Charlotte Street.

SOCIETIES

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY FOR CARE of Neglected and Ill-Treated Children. Incorporated by Act of Legislature. Information required. Informant's Name kept Strictly Private. Children for adoption. Geo. Cochrane, Agent and Assistant Secretary.

SHOE REPAIRING

W. A. GREENSLADE, ELECTRICAL SHOE Repairing Shop. You do not pay any more by having your boots neatly repaired and finished equal to new by our up-to-date machines. Come in and see how it is done. Oak leather used on all sewn work. Skates put on, ground and concaved. Corner Charlotte and Aylmer.

SKATING RINK

BROCK STREET ROLLER RINK OPEN for the Season. See our advertisement in other part of the paper, giving particulars of skating programme.

STOVES AND RANGES

WE SELL ON YOUR OWN TERMS — Weekly or monthly payments. New Empress Steel Range, Kitchen Cabinets, Chemical Closets, Sewing Machines, Standard Oak Heaters. One second-hand Singer Sewing Machine, drop head, at $15. Also a number of second-hand Stoves at a bargain. Call and see us. Open nights, Monday and Friday excepted. The National Manufacturing Co., 374 Water Street. Geo. E. Hawes, Manager.

STEAM LAUNDRIES

THE PETERBOROUGH LAUNDRY — ALL work laundered with the greatest care; W. P. Retherington, Prop. 178 Charlotte Street. 'Phone 66.

FANNING'S STEAM LAUNDRY — ALL work laundered with the greatest care; no tearing or damaging the goods. 286 George Street. Both 'Phones 264.

TYPEWRITERS

PETERBOROUGH TYPEWRITER CO — Typewriter and office supplies of every description. Typewriter repairs. 'Phone 666.

VACANT LOTS

OUR SPECIALTY

Just a few more weeks of winter weather and winter prices for vacant lots. If you are about to build you will surely save money by buying now before the spring opens up. The spring rush for property is already started and prices will begin to rise very soon. Foresight or hindsight, which will it be for you. Take the hint now and come in and see our list of properties.

REAL ESTATE GENERAL AGENTS — INSURANCE COMMISSION BROKERS — Crown Agencies

181 Charlotte St.

116 Hunter St.

Night 'Phone 1463. Day 'Phone 116

Blewett's List

Three Lots, with sewer, water and street car in front of them, each lot 40x100 feet, one corner.

One of the best Lots on Elgin Ave. Cheap for quick sale.

75 feet on Charlotte Street West $10 per foot

Lots on Alberta Ave., $8 per foot

Morrow and Alberta Ave. Lots, new extension, $7 to $10 per foot

Good Lot on Homewood Ave., 46 ft. frontage, faces South, at less than property alongside is selling for.

Apply to C. BLEWETT

173 Charlotte Street

opp. Post and Cartage Co. 'Phone 1221

FOR SALE

GROCERY BUSINESS

doing a $12,000 Business per year

Good Reason for Selling

R. J. KIDD

AGENT FOR

Fire, Life and Plate Glass Insurance—British, Canadian and American Companies

'Phone 672 374 Water St.

196 ft. 4 in. By 114 feet

The above is the size of ground and on it stands one beautiful modern house complete with hardwood floors, mantels, furnace, stone foundation, also one house in good repair but not modern, lane at rear.

There are a number of apple trees on lot and the same bear on an average 20 barrels per year harvest apples and winter apples. The 5 lots and 2 houses on a fine corner east front in a City like Peterboro' will be sold at $7100.00. Who will have this? Act quickly.

H. J. McCANNAN,

Real Estate and Building Contractor

Office 334 George St., C. E. Banks' Store Entrance, 'Phone 749.

Open Evenings—Call——Information Cheerfully Given.

PETERBORO REAL ESTATE

Modern Houses

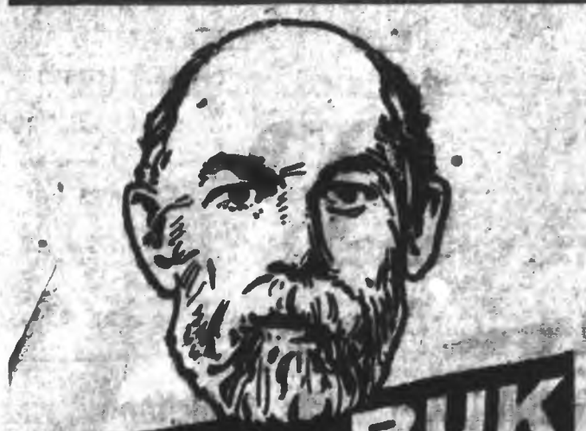
Building Lots

Business Opportunities

Western Realty Investments

Crown Building 118 Hunter St. Telephone 684

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER



ZAM-BUK SAVED MY ARM

So says Mr. John Evans, of 97 Lawrence St., Halifax, N.S. He had blood poison in his finger. A doctor attended him for three months, but the finger got worse; and a second doctor was called in. Finally the finger was cut off! But the mischief didn't end there. Another operation was performed, and the bones in the palm of his hand scraped. Still no relief, and the hand would not heal! The poison had got into the blood vessels of the arm, and the doctor said the arm must come off, too!

Then, after undergoing all this agony, Mr. Evans was advised to try Zam-Buk. It seems he should have taken right at the start. He says:—"The Zam-Buk quickly reduced the lumps which had formed on my arm and eased the pain. It was doing as much good after I said the doctor I would use nothing else. Day by day I applied it freely, both to the terrible gash in my hand and to my arm, and it drew the poison out marvellously. To cut a long story short, by the time I had used seven boxes of Zam-Buk my hand was healed, my arm was free from inflammation or pain, and every trace of blood-poisoning had been banished. Zam-Buk saved my arm."

THIS LESSONS TO THEM:—Use Zam-Buk right at the start for cuts, blood-poisoning, abscesses, ulcers, varicose veins, eczema, ringworm, scaly scalp, burns, bruises, and all skin troubles and disorders. Don't wait until these lead to a grave condition!

Cut out this question, send it with 1c. stamp (to pay return postage) to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, with name of this paper, and 60-full-sized box sample will be sent.

WRITE TODAY FOR FREE TRIAL BOX

TO FORM AN ORGANIZATION

Efforts Being Made to Form Branch of Daughters of Empire at Hastings

DEATH OF MR. M. HERMISTON

Special to The Examiner:

HASTINGS, April 1. — Once again death has entered our ranks and carried away to the great beyond Mrs. Mark Hermiston, who had reached the advanced age of 88 years. Deceased lady had been in failing health for some time and the end was calm and peaceful. Her younger days were spent on a farm in the township of Percy, but a few years ago she and her daughter removed to Hastings, where her last days were spent. She was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church and a constant attendant at the services. Her husband predeceased her some years ago, and those who are left to mourn her loss are her three daughters, Mrs. James Greenley of Campbellford, and Mrs. Wm. Greenley and Miss Hermiston of town. The funeral was held on Thursday last and the remains were laid in the Warkworth Cemetery beside those of her late husband.

The Epworth League service on Monday night was under the direction of the Citizenship committee and a good programme was given.

The ladies of Hastings and surrounding district were out in gala attire on Friday and Saturday last, visiting the millinery parlours on their spring opening days. The show room in under the capable direction of Miss Paquette, late of Toronto, who is untiring in her efforts to please the most fastidious.

Mr. McDowell of Normod has been visiting the rural district, distributing seeds, etc. to the several pupils who will compete for the prizes to be given at the rural school fair, which will be held in the early autumn.

The sugar season is upon us and several farmers nearby are preparing to take advantage of the opportunity to lay in a supply of the maple sweets.

Mr. Nelson Beavis spent Tuesday in Warkworth.

Miss Ingram, dressmaker, has returned home from an extended visit at her home in Campbellford.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb McKay of Otonabee, spent Wednesday last with friends near town.

The merry twitter of the robin is heard once more and we feel confident of the return of spring.

Miss Vera Fleming spent a few days during the past week with friends in Peterborough.

Mr. [illegible] McKee of Western Canada left this week for his home, after spending a holiday with friends here.

The [illegible] at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Davis on Saturday last and left a baby girl.

Mr. W. [illegible] of Peterborough, has been visiting under the parental roof.

Mr. and Mrs. Rev. Anderson returned on Friday from Toronto and Aurora.

All cutters have been laid aside and have been replaced by the wheels, which are better fitted for the condition of the roads at present.

Efforts are being made to organize a local Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire, here in the near future.

We regret to state that Mr. John Richardson is still in a critical condition.

HIS LORDSHIP BISHOP SWEENY

Visited Lakefield Last Week

Examiner Special:

LAKEFIELD, April 1.—Mrs. W. Dunford of Peterborough, spent a few days last week in the Village, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Watson.

Mr. R. O. Strickland of Burleigh, is spending a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Cassan at "The Cottage."

Mr. and Mrs. McKee and son returned to Peterborough on Tuesday last, after spending a few days in the Village, visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Sawyer on Bernat Street.

Miss Atwood was in Millbrook on Wednesday last.

Mrs. Wm. Gray of Peterborough, spent a few days last week visiting friends in the Village.

Mr. G. H. Grahame and several of the Grove School boys walked to Peterborough on Wednesday last.

Miss Edna Bullock of Otonabee is in the Village the guest of Mrs. Geo. Bullock.

Canon J. C. Davidson of Peterborough conducted the service at St. John Baptist Church on Wednesday evening last.

Mrs. Holdcroft of Havelock, is spending a few days visiting her sister, Mrs. H. A. Ben Ollet, at the Rectory.

Mr. W. M. Graham was in Toronto on Friday last.

Mr. J. O'Keefe of Peterborough spent a few days last week in the Village.

Mr. Hugh Kidd of Warsaw has moved to Lakefield and has purchased the blacksmith business of Mr. Jas. Isbister.

Mr. Leonard of Peterborough spent the week-end visiting his daughter, Mrs. Hewitt at "Uplands."

The Rev. Mr. McCausland of Toronto, is the guest of Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Mackenzie at "The Grove".

Mr. Charles Morrison has returned to Plainvilleafter a few days' visit to his brother, Mr. Wm. C. Morrison.

Miss Winnifred Mackenzie who is attending Bishop Strachan's School, Toronto, arrived on Tuesday to spend the Easter holidays at her home in the Village.

His Lordship the Right Rev. J. F. Sweeny, D.D., Bishop of Toronto, administered the holy rite of Confirmation at St. John Baptist Church on Monday evening, when twelve candidates were received into the Church The service, which was well attended, was a most impressive one. During his stay here the Bishop was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Graham.

Mrs. (Dr.) Cameron of Peterborough was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Mackenzie at "The Grove" on Monday.

Easter Cards and Post Cards are on display in great assortment at

THEBLOCK BROS.
417 George St.

ASSESSMENT RETURNS FOR THE EAST WARD

ROBINSON STREET—SOUTH SIDE.

Robt. M. Graham, tenant, 115 Robinson street. Owner John Mackels. Northwest part lot 49, west of Rogers street. Land value $150. Buildings $650. Total taxable property $800. P.S.S.

Jeremiah LaGrow, tenant, 133 Robinson street. Owner Harry Carveth. West part lot 78, Plan 27A. West of Rogers street. Land value $100. Buildings $800. Total taxable property $400. S.S.S.

Wm. Scott, lessee, south of Robinson, east of Mark streets. Owners the G. T. R. Co. Frontage about 150 feet. Land value $200. Buildings $50. Total taxable property $250. Business assessment $100. Total assessment $350. P.S.S.

Dennis Guerin, owner, lot 92, east of Mark street. Land value $80. No buildings. Total taxable property $80. S.S.S.

Joseph Graham, owner, 97 Robinson street. East part lots 1 and 2, west of Burnham street. Frontage 55 feet 6 inches. Land value $450. Buildings $300. Total taxable property $750. P.S.S.

Dennis Hoolihan, tenant, 93 Robinson street. Owner F. J. A. Hall. Centre parts lots 1 and 2, west of Mark stret. Frontage 57 feet. Land value $450. Buildings $300. Total taxable property $750. S.S.S.

J. C. Sullivan, owner, 83 Robinson street. West part lots 1 and 2, west of Mark streets Frontage 90 feet 9 inches. Land value $720. Buildings $3,100. Total taxable property $3,820. S.S.S.

Henry Calcutt and Miss Margaret Calcutt, owners, 73 Robinson street. Lot 133, west of Mark street, and west part lots 1 and 2, west of Mark street. Frontage 102 feet. Land value $800. Buildings $1,800. Total taxable property $2,600. P.S.S.

Wm. Stinson, tenant, 61 Robinson street. Owner Edward Wade. Lots 134 and 135, east of Burnham street. Frontage 151 feet 6 inches. Land value $1,200. Buildings $1,000. Total taxable property $2,200. P.S.S.

Arthur Russell, tenant, 51 Robinson street. Owner J. J. Lundy. East part lot 1, east of Burnham street. Frontage 37 feet 6 inches. Land value $250. Buildings $300. Total taxable property $550. P.S.S.

J. J. Lundy, owner, centre part lot 1, east of Burnham street. Frontage 19 feet 9 inches. Land value $500. No buildings. Total taxable property $500. P.S.S.

Patrick Lavery, tenant, 33 Robinson street. Owner J. J. Lundy. West part lot 1, east of Burnham street. Frontage 121 feet. Land value $900. Buildings $300. Total taxable property $1,200. S.S.S.

ROGERS STREET—EAST SIDE.

Robt. McCauley, owner, 220 Rogers street. North part lots 23 and 24, north of Maria street. Frontage 33 feet. Land value $100. Buildings $350. Total taxable property $450. P.S.S.

John Heathorne, owner, 222 Rogers street. South part lot 25, north of Maria street. Land value $150. Buildings $450. Total taxable property $600. P.S.S.

Wm. Heathorne, owner, 224 Rogers street. North part lot 25, north of Maria street. Frontage 36 feet. Land value $150. Buildings $150. Total taxable property $300. P.S.S.

James May, owner, west part lot 26, north of Maria street. Land value $80. No buildings. Total taxable property $80. S.S.S.

C. P. R. Co.

Burnham Estate, owners, lots 27, 28 and 29, north of Maria. Frontage about 250 feet. Each lot valued at $250. No buildings. Total taxable property $750. P.S.S.

Joseph Ball, owner, 260 Rogers street. Lot 30, north of Maria street. Frontage 99 feet. Land value $300. Buildings $400. Total taxable property $700. P.S.S.

John W. McWilliams, owner, southwest part lot 31, north of Maria street. Frontage 48 feet 3 inches. Land value $140. No buildings. Total taxable property $140. P.S.S.

Mrs. Mary McWilliams, owner, 270 Rogers street. north part lot 31, north of Maria street. Frontage 48 feet 3 inches. Land value $140. Buildings $350. Total taxable property $490. P.S.S.

John McMahon, tenant, 278 Rogers street. Owner James Tighe. South part lot 32, south of Sophia street. Frontage 44 feet. Land value $140. Buildings $450. Total taxable property $590. S.S.S.

James Tighe, owner, 284 Rogers street. North part lot 32, south of Sophia street. Frontage 51 feet. Land value $160. Buildings $450. Total taxable property $610. P.S.S.

Robt. Long and Arthur Knott, owner and tenant, 296 Rogers street. Lot 33, south of Sophia street. Frontage 97 feet. Land value $400. Buildings $500. Total taxable property $900. Former assessed $500, and latter $400. P.S.S.

Edward A. Peck, owner, 304 Rogers street. Lots 91, 92 and 93, Plan 27A. Frontages 152 feet 2 inches, 82 feet 10 inches, and 82 feet 10 inches. Land values $750, $400 and $400. Buildings $2,300. Total taxable property $3,850. P.S.S.

The Rev. Fred J. Sawyers, tenant, 334 Rogers street. Owners the Church of England. Lot 37, Plan 27A. Frontage 92 feet. Land value $620. Buildings $2,000. Total taxable property $2,630. P.S.S.

St. Luke's Church, owners, lot 28, Plan 27A. Frontage 92 feet. Land value $630. Buildings $9,370. Total property, liable for local improvements only, $10,000. P.S.S.

Home of Providence, owners, part lots 29 and 30. Land value $300. Buildings $27,300. Total property, liable for local improvements only, $28,000. S.S.S.

St. Joseph's Hospital, owner, part lots 29 and 30. Land value $1,000. Buildings $38,000. Total property, liable for local improvements only, $40,000. S.S.S.

Joseph Middleton, owner, 388 Rogers street. Lot 1, Plan 129. Frontage 29 feet. Land value $320. Buildings $1,450. Total taxable property $1,770. P.S.S.

John M. Elliot, owner, 390 Rogers street. Lot 2, Plan 129. Frontage 29 feet. Land value $320. Buildings $1,350. Total taxable property $1,670. P.S.S.

Charles McGibbon, tenant, 392 Rogers street. Owner Wm. Langford, Jr. Lot 3, Plan 129. Frontage 30 feet. Land value $330. Buildings $1,350. Total taxable property $1,680. P.S.S.

G. L. Hays, owner, frontage of 96 feet.

Mrs. Alice Wright, owner, frontage of 201 feet 6 inches.

Wm. C. McAuliffe, tenant, 424 Roger street. South part lot 1, north of Hunter street. Frontage 45 feet. Land value $310. Buildings $250. Total taxable property $560. S.S.S.

Mrs. Sarah Sheridan and John H. Sheridan, tenants, 426 Rogers street. Owner Alfred Mealey. North part lot 1, north of Hunter street. Frontage 50 feet. Land value $350. Buildings $1,350. Total taxable property $1,700. P.S.S.

Russel Harper, tenant, 432 Rogers street. Owner John Record. South part lot 2, north of Hunter street. Frontage 48 feet. Land value $350. Buildings $300. Total taxable property $650. P.S.S.

Samuel Taylor, owner, 438 Rogers street. North part lot 2, north of Hunter street. Frontage 48 feet. Land value $350. Buildings $1,350. Total taxable property $1,700. P.S.S.

John H. Smith, owner, 444 Rogers street. South part lot 3, north of Hunter street. Frontage 48 feet. Land value $350. Buildings $920. Total taxable property $1,270. P.S.S.

John Malone, owner, 448 Rogers street. North part lot 3, north of Hunter street. Frontage 48 feet. Land value $350. Buildings $820. Total taxable property $1,170. S.S.S.

James Hanlin, owner, lot 4, north of Hunter street. Frontage 98 feet. Land value $400. Buildings $1,200. Total taxable property $1,600. S.S.S.

Burnham Estate, owners, south part lot 5, south of Douro street. Frontage 99 feet. Land value $370. No buildings. Total taxable property $370. P.S.S.

Alfred Worrad, owner, 472 Rogers street. North part lot 5, south of Douro street, and lot 6, south of Douro street. Frontages 10 feet and 40 feet. Land values $50 and $260. Buildings $900. Total taxable property $700. S.S.S.

George McCartney, owner, 474 Rogers street. South part lot 7, south of Douro street. Frontage 23 feet 6 inches. Land value $170. Buildings $850. Total taxable property $1,020. P.S.S.

George McCartney, owner, 474 Rogers street. South part lot 7, south of Douro street. Frontage 23 feet 6 inches. Land value $170. Buildings $850. Total taxable property $1,020. P.S.S.

Joseph Roy, tenant, 476 Rogers street. Owner Stanley Warne. Centre part lot 7, south of Douro street. Frontage 31 feet 6 inches. Land value $180. Buildings $920. Total taxable property $1,100. P.S.S.

J. T. Robertson, tenant, 486 Rogers street. Owner John Butcher. North part lot 7, south of Douro street. Frontage 80 feet. Land value $520. Buildings $460. Total taxable property $980. S.S.S.

Clifford Cox, owner, south part lot 8, south of Douro street. Frontage 50 feet. Land value $300. Buildings $70. Total taxable property $370. P.S.S.

Henry Cox, owner, 496 Rogers street. Part lot 8, south of Douro street. Frontage 50 feet. Land value $350. Buildings $650. Total taxable property $1,000. P.S.S.

Wm. G. Robertson, tenant, 502 Rogers street. Owners the Martha Addison Estate. North part lot 1, north of Douro street. Frontage 66 feet. Land value $320. Buildings $780. Total taxable property $700. P.S.S.

Chamberlain Estate, owners, lot 1, Plan 3, north of Douro street. Frontage 49 feet 6 inches. Land value $270. No buildings. Total taxable property $270. P.S.S.

Nichols Martin, tenant, 532 Rogers street. Owners the Chamberlain Estate. Lot 2, Plan 3, north of Douro street. Frontage 49 feet. Land value $270. Buildings $70. Total taxable property $280. S.S.S.

Geo. W. Armstrong, tenant, 536 Rogers street. Owner Ed. Dillon. Part lot 3, Plan 3, north of Douro street. Frontage 69 feet 6 inches. Land value $380. Buildings $500. Total taxable property $880. P.S.S.

Thos. Quinlan, owner, 542 Rogers street. Lot 4, Plan 3, south of Clifton street. Frontage 98 feet 6 inches. Land value $300. Buildings $600. Total taxable property $900. S.S.S.

Thos. Connell, tenant, 552 Rogers street. Owner Martin Kylie. Lot 5, Plan 3, south of Clifton street. Frontage 49 feet 5 inches. Land value $280. Buildings $260. Total taxable property $540. P.S.S.

Fred Bellhouse, tenant, 554 Rogers street. Owner Martin Kylie. South west part lot 6, Plan 3, south of Clifton street. Frontage 33 feet. Land value $160. Buildings $1,340. Total taxable property $1,500. P.S.S.

KEENE NEWS

Indians at Rice Lake Are Preparing For Trapping Season —Other News

Examiner Special:

KEENE, APRIL 1.— Mr. and Mrs. David Edwards and Mrs. Robert Mewins were in Peterborough on Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Andrew Brown of Peterborough, was the guest of her mother a few days last week.

Mr. J. J. Moore returned on Saturday from Peterborough, where he has been spending a few days on business.

Mr. T. Sharpe and daughter, Miss Maggie, of Westwood, were the guests at the home of Mr. James McNeil on Wednesday of last week.

Miss Susie Moore spent Saturday in Peterborough.

Mr. Duncan Macfarlane returned on Saturday from Toronto, where he spent the past week.

Mrs. Marsh Weir and children have returned to their home at Bethany after a pleasant visit with friends here.

The Indians have opened camp at Sandy's Landing getting ready for the season's trapping.

Mrs. William Kempt was the guest of Mrs. H. McLachlan the past week.

Miss Bella Weir was in Peterborough on Saturday.

Miss Estelle Cuffe spent the week-end with Norwood friends.

A very pleasant time was spent at the home of Mrs. (Dr.) Harrison on Thursday afternoon last, when about 20 ladies of the Foreign Missionary Society met, for the purpose of quilting three quilts for the benefit of the Society.

Mrs. Thomas Howson came home last Wednesday from Peterborough, where she had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Malcolm McIntyre.

Mr. Robert McIntyre has moved into the property belonging to Mr. Arthur Elmhirst.

Mr. William Wedlock started his saw mill on Tuesday for the summer's work.

Miss Treleven, who has been the winter guest of Mrs. Peter Hewie, returned to her home at Newcastle on Saturday last.

Mrs. John Edwards entertained a few of her friends with a quilting bee last Friday. Those present were: Mrs. William Kempt, Mrs. Joseph Taylor, Mrs. A. Brown, Mrs. L. Burley and Mrs. H. McLachlan and Mrs. Robert Nevins.

Miss Bella McFarlane spent the past week with friends in Peterborough.

Miss Annie Tinslip has returned to her home in Alnwick after spending a few days with Miss Lola Kempt.

Mr. Patrick Bolin was in Peterborough Saturday on business.

Miss Margaret Bryce spent a few days last week with Peterborough friends.

Mr. Albert Fletcher, who is attending Business College at Peterborough, was at home over Sunday.

We are pleased to report Mr. Chris. Plunkett, who has been quite ill, able to be about again.

Mr. F. A. Easson was in Peterborough on Saturday.

Mrs. A. Campbell of Peterborough, spent a few days at the home of her son, Mr. Robt. Campbell last week.

Mr. James Lang who has been visiting at the home of his father, Mr. John Lang, the past few months, left for Edmonton last week.

Mr. Eddie Greer paid a visit to the village last Friday.

Mr. George McIntyre visited friends at Peterborough the past week.

We are sorry to report Mrs. Robert Adamson very seriously ill.

The three year old child of Mr. Alfie Crews, who was operated on at Bralesford Cedars last Friday, is getting along very nicely. Nurse Hill of Peterborough is the nurse in charge.

Mrs. Robert Miller was in Peterborough on Saturday.

Mrs. Dickson of Peterborough, visited Mrs. Peter Hewie last Friday.

Mrs. John McFarlane spent the week end with Peterborough friends.

Mrs. William Wedlock, who has been very ill, is able to be around again.

Mr. Joseph Thornton returned on Monday from Peterborough where he spent the week end with friends.

Omemee News

OMEMEE, Mar. 31.—Miss Tena Bootes of Bethel was a visitor to Omemee last week.

Mr. Samuel Stinson was in Lindsay on Wednesday on business.

Mr. Herb. Shields of Peterborough was in town on Friday last renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. William Lamb of Peterborough shipped a carload of cattle from this place last week.

Mr. J. McQuade was a business visitor to Lindsay on Saturday.

On Tuesday afternoon of last week the shareholders of the local telephone line of this vicinity held a meeting in the Commercial House to straighten up the business and arrange for installing a number of 'phones west of town, also to consider the building of a line north of the village.

Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Nugent and son, Master Harold, of Lindsay, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Colwell on Saturday last.

Rev. Mr. Knill, moderator of the Peterborough Presbytery, conducted the services in the Presbyterian Church last Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sluggett of Mount Horeb visited Omemee friends on Sunday.

Mr. F. D. Moore of Peterborough, agent for the Sun Life Insurance Co., was in town on Monday of this week.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. Seyward Switzer of Bethel has had a severe attack of appendicitis.

Mr. Arthur Brown of Mount Pleasant was a visitor to town the beginning of this week.

Miss Wray of the Public School staff, Omemee, was the guest of her parents in Lindsay over Sunday.

On Friday evening of last week about fifty of the young people of the Methodist Church, mostly members of the Epworth League, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Mahood to give them a "house warming." The early part of the evening was spent in music, etc., after which Mr. and Mrs. Mahood were asked to take two comfortable chairs in the drawing-room, and were presented with a large number of both beautiful and costly presents, among them being an elegant mat from the "Fortunate Bachelors."

Mr. Mahood replied in a few well-chosen words on behalf of his wife and himself, after which a dainty luncheon was served. The remainder of the evening was spent in the singing of old familiar songs, with Miss Amy Parsons as accompanist, after which all retired to their own places of abode, having spent a very pleasant evening.

ADVOCATES SIDE EXITS

Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—In all cases moving picture houses should be compelled to have side exits the same as theatres for the protection of the public. It is often stated that the operating rooms are fireproof. They are so long as the doors are kept closed, but if the cabinet was on fire the operator is only human and would want to save his life. There are so many picture houses with exits at the ends of the building and the ceiling so low that the house would fill with smoke so quickly that half the people would be suffocated or burned to death in case of fire before they could get out.

These are things that corporations should look into before granting a license. It is too late after a number of human lives are sacrificed. At the present time parties can rent a store and start a picture show in the centre of a block without any precautions as to the safety of the people that attend these places. Not so with a theatre. They have to have an alleyway on each side and fire escapes on each side, with doors opening outward, with lights over each door both on the inside and outside. They have to have all these things according to to government orders before they can get a license and where there is not anything like the danger there is in moving picture shows.

Yours truly,
An Observer.

KINGSTON COUNCIL SITS ALL NIGHT ON TAX RATE

KINGSTON, April 1.—The city council held one of the longest sessions on record, and not concluding until twenty-five yesterday morning. The principal discussion centred around the budget, with a view of finding a way of keeping down the tax rate. The Finance committee recommended an increase of two and a half mills or twenty-five and a half mills in all, but the Council decided to make twenty-five mills do.

Make heel caps of old kid gloves for the children, and you will have less darning to do.

Learn Railroading

YOUNG MEN WANTED

FOR RAILWAY WORK

Station Agents, Operators, Freight and Passenger Clerks, Telegraphers, as well as many other positions, opened up every day. Our system, "Railroading" practical study in your own home.

SPECIAL REDUCED RATES this month only. Write today for particulars.

DOMINION SCHOOL OF RAILROADING
Dept. 51. TORONTO, Ont.

Marmalade Oranges have arrived.

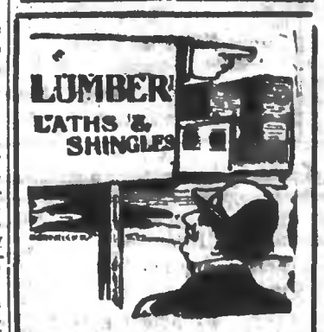
We have the famous ELEPHANT BRAND Oranges

We have everything in fresh Fruits.

Specialty in Lemons, Pineapples, Spring Onions, Radishes, Celery.

Try Our GROCERIES, always Fresh and Prices to Suit All.

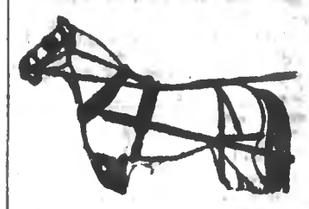
D. M. MINICOLO
410 GEORGE ST. 'Phone 935



4-ft. SLABS FOR SALE

Cut from Pine, Basswood, Oak, Cedar, Maple and Elm logs, $3.00 per cord delivered.

Peterboro' Planing Mill Co.
157-167 Dublin St. 'Phone 86



A. T. FONTAINE

has purchased Dr. Fulkinghorn's Livery Business at N. 193 Hunter Street and solicits a continuance of the public patronage. Speedy well harnessed horses and comfortable rigs ready on short notice. Careful drivers when desired. Telephone 782

The gloss can be removed from black silk by sponging with cold coffee and ammonia. A teaspoonful of ammonia to a cup of strained coffee.

Youre not really sick, still you don't feel "just right."

How often is this true of hundreds of us. We're not really sick, but feel sluggish, out of sorts, our keenness and activity are impeded. The chief cause for this is constipation. When you feel that way, take

Wesden's Pills

25c Box. LOOK FOR THE RED SEAL

UP IN NEW ONTARIO.

Got Rheumatism Through Exposure, but Wesden's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

"While on a trip with a survey party in Northern Ontario two years ago, I contracted rheumatism through exposure and sleeping in damp clothes. When I returned home I was very bad, and the pain in my joints was something awful. I was advised to try Wesden's Kidney Pills, and after taking four boxes my rheumatism was entirely gone. Last year I was up on the survey party again, but I was never without a box of Wesden's Kidney Pills, and have never had the slightest return of it.

John S. Dillon,
Soo, Mich.

SOLD AND GUARANTEED BY
Warne Drug Co. and James Lynch, Peterboro'

SPRING WEDDINGS

INVITATION CARDS
- ANNOUNCEMENTS -
EASTER STATIONERY
AT HOME AND CALLING CARDS

The "EXAMINER" Office
419 GEORGE STREET. 'Phone 1600

Fashionable Soft Chiffon Taffeta Silks

AN EXCEPTIONAL DISPLAY FRIDAY IN THE SILK DEPARTMENT OF PLAIN SHOT, STRIPE AND NOVELTY CHECK WEAVES IN COLOURINGS OF RARE BEAUTY

The Silk of the Hour - in Paris, New York and London

AT LAST we are able to announce the arrival of the New Chiffon Taffetas in all the leading weaves and in a magnificent assortment of all the charming new Spring and Summer shades. They are new—absolutely new. Our Mr. Hall bought them in London from the sample card the day previous to his sailing for home. Since then they had to be woven and shipped. Unless Peterborough had a representative buyer on the European ground it would be utterly impossible to offer to the buying public of this city, these materials for at least another season. The quality of these Silks is exquisitely soft, and much different to the old-style Taffeta. They are beautiful and lustrous in finish and are full 40 inches wide.

Some of the Shades In The Display

Royal Blue
Cinnamon Marine Taupe Mole
Sky Navy Black
Coffee Electric
Cherry
Mahogany Saxe
Hazel Purple Rose
White Cactus Bamboo Peach
Oleander

FOR REFINED EXCLUSIVENESS, for ultra fashionable effect, a Waist, Skirt or Costume made of these lovely New Imported Silks is most desirable. The colour blendings and effective combinations throughout the assortment are right up-to-the-moment with the latest dictates from Paris.

Prices, per yard—

$1.75 and $2.50

ALL WOMEN INTERESTED IN THE NEW SILKS SHOULD SEE THIS DISPLAY TO-MORROW

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

MR. SHAW'S STATEMENT REGARDING CAMPBELL'S NARROW'S BRIDGE

Answer to Complaint of Correspondent Signed "Harvey Taxpayer" in the Examiner a Few Days Ago

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Dear Sir, — In the Peterborough Examiner of March 28th, Harvey Taxpayer complains of the condition of the bridge at Campbells Narrows. No doubt it has not been in good shape for some time and cannot be helped until the channel opens, when it will be relieved of its great weight of ice and allowed to float.

The public have been crossing on the ice below the bridge up to March 27, and the mail carrier could have crossed if he felt so inclined. However the Harvey Council have nothing to do with the mail nor yet with the keeping of the bridge in repair, as it is entirely under the jurisdiction of the County.

The bridge was placed there in 1908 at a cost of about $3,300, the Dominion Government paying $1000, the Provincial Government $1000, the township of Harvey $300 to the County of Peterborough. The County built it, paid the balance, about $1,000, and kept it in fairly good condition since that time. Harvey Taxpayer appears to have some knowledge of what the Government is willing to pay towards the cost of a new bridge, but he does not say which government. Two years ago a deputation of the County Council, at the request of Mr. Burnham, M.P., interviewed the Hon. Mr. Cochrane, Minister of Railways and Canals, to try what could be done with regard to a new bridge. Mr. Cochrane appeared to view the matter favourably, but said he intended going over the Trent Canal the next summer, and after his visit would be in a better position to give a decided answer. I understand he has made his visit over the Canal, but the County has heard nothing from him.

I think I can safely state that the County Council are quite willing to consider any reasonable proposition that the Dominion or Provincial Governments will make towards the erection of a bridge at that point.

Yours truly,

Robert Shaw.

A Reply To Enquirer On Single Tax

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—My attention has been drawn to enquiries regarding the Single Tax made through your columns last week by "Enquirer." I am pleased to note the interest shown. It would be impossible, however, to answer "Enquirer's" objections fully in this short note. I can only make suggestions, and if "Enquirer" is really anxious to learn more of the Single Tax, if he will call on me at either my street or business address, I will be pleased to supply him with literature on the subject that will answer his enquiries fully.

The first weakness that "Enquirer" sees in the Single Tax is our claim that as land values arise from the presence of all, therefore the land belongs equally to all. He argues that if land belongs equally to all its value must be contributed equally by all which, he says, is not the case; and "Enquirer" is quite right. But his premises are wrong. We single taxers do not say that each man in the community contributes equally to the value of land, nor that they should benefit in equal proportion. We do claim that all men should have equal opportunities for the use of land and the benefit that they would derive under Single Tax depends altogether on the energy and ability that they display in making use of their opportunities. We would not have land standing idle as at present when thousands of men are eager and willing to make use of that land. Hence we would increase the opportunities for employment.

"Enquirer" asks if land has any value at all apart from improvements. He says a farm on the prairie is valueless until capital and labour have been expended upon it. I have had raw prairie land priced to me at $40 an acre, and in a recent letter in The Examiner a real estate man told of selling several thousand acres of unimproved prairie land at $11 an acre. A vacant lot on Hunter Street, Peterborough, recently sold for a long figure, and it was absolutely unimproved.

I will take the case of this same lot to show "Enquirer" that Single Tax is not a tax on labour as he seems to think. For over 40 years taxes have been paid on this lot, and as there has been no labour expended on it, it is evident that these taxes are not taxes on labour. It is rumoured, however, that a product of labor, a fine hotel, is to be built on this lot. When that hotel is built it will be taxed in addition to the land tax. Then we will have the tax on labour.

I will not take space to enlarge on these principles. If any, like "Enquirer," wish for further light on the Single Tax, I will be pleased to give it personally and, perhaps, later on, through the columns of The Examiner, if the Editor be willing.—I am, etc.,

F. B. ELLIS.

581 Gilmour Street.

CIVIC ECONOMY AND OTHERWISE

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir.—Being a somewhat considerable ratepayer I am deeply concerned in the heroic attitude of the City Council to keep down expenses, even if our Fire Department and our Health Department are made less fit. I admire particularly the zeal of the Chairman of the Power Committee. Very properly, from my point of view especially, he was anxious to have the city show well during the visit of the Cabinet Ministers. Even in this laudable desire, he did not forget the economy programme. He wished to put in use the superfluous magnetite arc lamps on George street, put in at great expense, to make the illumination the best possible. Did he squander money for the purpose? He did not. He persuaded the Light and Power Company to put on the lights free of charge. So the City saved $5 which it wouldn't, strictly speaking, have been proper to spend on a partizan demonstration. I am sorry an extravagant and unfeeing council sat on the noble proposal to finance the reception of the Governor-General by private subscription—it would have been a grand advertisement to the world of the loyalty and patriotism of our citizens and of the economy of the City Council. But the flesh is weak and high ideals can't bear the "peak load" all the time. The economical instincts of the City Council are not proof against personal pleasure. When it was a question of sending a deputation to watch the City's bill in Parliament, the Council that nailed the economy flag to the mast with railway spikes, went the whole hog. No deputation of two or three would do—one little bunch had no right to have a holiday at the City's expense in preference to another bunch. It shows how harmoniously our City Fathers can work together. The economy programme was suspended pro tem., and when somebody proposed that the whole Council should go as a deputation, the motion went through like a hot fork through a soft pat of butter. I don't know what the expense will be, but I am quite sure it won't be covered by the five dollars saved on civic illumination. Peterborough has many things to be proud of, but of nothing more than of our aldermanic representatives when it comes to a matter of great principle and regard for dignity or decency or consistency.

Yours truly,

Pettifogger.

EAST FIFE, WHERE MR. ASQUITH APPEALS TO HIS CONSTITUENTS. —East Fife, which Premier Asquith represents in the House of Commons and where he is appealing to his constituents as a result of his acceptance of the portfolio of War, is in the north-easterly section of the Scottish Lowlands. The parishes include Abbie, Abernethy, Anstruther Wester, Anstruther Easter, Arngask, Auchtermuchty, Balmerina, Cameron, Carnbee, Ceres, Collespie, Crail, Creich, Cults, Cupaw, Dairsie, Dunbog, Dunino, Elie, Falkland, Ferry-Port-on-Craig, Flisk, Forgan, Kemback, Kennoway, Ketle, Kilconquhar, Kilrenny, Kingaburns, Largo, Leuchars, Logie, Monimail, Moonzie, Newburg, Newburn, Pittenween, St. Andrew's, St. Leonard's, St. Monance, Scoonie, and Strathmiglo. Col. Sprot, Unionist, will oppose Mr. Asquith. On the two previous occasions when he ran, Col. Sprot was beaten by 2,059 in Jan. 1910, and by 1,799 in Dec., 1910. In the last of these two elections the vote was 5,149 to 3,350.

ASSOCIATION WAS FORMED AND OFFICERS ELECTED

Canadian Bar Association Takes Definite Form at Ottawa Meeting

OTTAWA, April 2.— The Canadian Bar Association, the formation of which has long been the idea of the Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, took definite form at a meeting in the railway committee room of the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. Representatives from all the provinces, including a number of members of Parliament, were present and a constitution based largely upon that of the American Bar Association adopted.

The principal officers were elected as follows: Hon. President, Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice; hon. vice-presidents, the Attorney-General of Canada; president, J. A. M. Aikins, K.C., M.P., of Winnipeg; secretary, E. Fabre, K.C., Montreal; associate secretary, R. W. McCraig, Winnipeg; treasurer, J. F. Orde, K.C., Ottawa, and a vice-president from each province.

Caterpillar In East City

Was Discovered by a Man Whose Chief Stock in Trade Was Modesty

The bugs have arrived. Not the baseball bugs or the bed-room variety, but the real hairy, worm-like grub, commonly known as a caterpillar. The 'vegetarian' was discovered in East City on Sunday last, by a local man whose powers of perception is exceeded only by his modesty. Strange to say, the man in question was mere eager to have the grub's premature arrival chronicled than in obtaining publicity for himself, consequently, in this case, preference must be given to the lepidopterous insect that was discovered promenading around the East Ward. This is the first announcement concerning the arrival of a caterpillar this season that has been reported to this office. This is in marked contrast to the one hundred and forty-nine robins that have been reported to date.

Madoc Bank Closes Its Doors

Depositors Are To Be Paid in Ten Days

BELLEVILLE, April 2.— A sensation was caused in the village of Madoc yesterday by the closing of the doors of J. C. Dale & Co.'s private bank. A notice was posted up that depositors would be paid in full in ten days. Mr. Jas. C. Dale, accompanied by his son, is away at a sanatarium, as his health has not been good of late. Your correspondent could not learn anything more definite from the other officials of the bank.

J. C. Dale & Company's bank is one of the few private banks of Ontario that have been able to survive the competition of chartered banks. Although a branch of one of the leading chartered banks was established in the village Dale's Bank retained its large patronage, and appeared to be doing a prosperous and expanding business.

No one in Madoc believes that the closing is in any way due to financial embarassment, but rather that owing to Mr. Dale's health some rearrangement of business is contemplated. Madoc village is the centre of a wealthy section, and Dale's Bank was commonly reported to be carrying well over a half-million dollars of deposits.

A WELL KNOWN BROKER SUICIDES

W. B. Spader Shoots Himself at His Home in Cobourg

COBOURG, APRIL 2—W. B. Spader, formerly a partner in the late brokerage firm of Marshall, Spader and Co. of New York and Toronto, committed suicide at his residence, here, last night, by shooting. Mr. Spader, who had dwelt in Cobourg for a year or more, appeared in excellent spirits during the day, although he had been in ill-health for some time. Late this afternoon he retired to his bedroom undressed, lay down and blew out his brains. A short note was found beside the body addressed to a local friend. It is said that the note merely wished his friend 'good-bye,' and gave no reason for the suicide.

Mr. Spader, who was 54 years of age, is survived by a widow and 3 daughters all living here. The family is well-known and popular in Cobourg's American colony. The remains will be taken to Rochester for interment Friday.

ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH BOYS' BRIGADE

To-morrow evening at 7.30 p.m. the Boys' Brigade attached to the above Church will parade for inspection by Col. Clegg, Major Mills and Capt. Carruthers, officers of the 57th Regiment Peterborough Rangers.

After inspection an informal social gathering will be held in the Sunday school room. This is, we understand, the only church in this district which has a properly organized and appointed Brigade. Some 30 lads will be present for inspection.

British Mails.

Mail for transmission to Europe, is despatched from this city every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and matter is received until midnight. Four mails a day are closed out at the Post Office, for transhipment to Great Britain. d-tf.

Pure, clean, flavory and strong, in sealed packets.

Red Rose Tea "is good tea"

MISSIONARY LAYMEN PLAN MANY MEETINGS

Canon Davidson of Peterborough Present at Missionary Conference

TORONTO, April 2.—There was an unusually large attendance at the business meeting of the Laymen's Missionary Movement yesterday afternoon in the Parish House of St. James' Cathedral. Several new members were welcomed to the Council. Canon Davidson of Peterborough, Plumptre were present as guests. Plumptre were present as guests.

The Chairman, Mr. John Paterson, said that great advance had been made during the last five years in missionary interest and giving, yet this advance had been far from what it should be.

Secretary Caskey spoke of the meetings recently held in British Columbia.

The Council decided to hold a conference for men, beginning Saturday, May 23, and concluding May 25, at the Brant Hotel, Burlington Beach. A special committee was appointed to make arrangements. Two other committees were also appointed, one on finance and another to suggest and study the matter for new pamphlet literature.

It is proposed to hold a series of meetings in Quebec the last of April and the first of May, and conduct a campaign in the Maritime Provinces, and also one in Saskatchewan and Alberta, in November and December. Secretary Caskey stated that he had just received copies of the printed report of the first Laymen's Conference held in England.

A Mysterious Young Boarder.

A learned, solitary young man is unable to pay his board bills. You'll find out why in "Queed," by Henry Harrison. Formerly sold at $1.25; Now 59c; over 1000 good titles to choose from at Trebilcock Bros. 'Phone 285.

Mr. A. McNabb Of Lindsay To Be G. T. R. Agent

Will Succeed Mr. F. Sandy, Who Will Go to Lindsay as Station Agent

Mr. A. McNabb, of Lindsay, has been appointed to succeed Mr. F. Sandy, as local Grand Trunk Station agent. Mr. McNabb is in the city to-day with Trainmaster MacMillan, and in a couple of weeks it is expected that he will take charge of the local station.

Mr. F. Sandy, who has been agent in this city for seventeen years, will go to Lindsay, and be identified with the G. T. R. in that town in the same capacity as he has been in this city. Mr. Sandy has a host of friends in this city who will be sorry to learn that he is leaving Peterborough. He is deservedly popular here. Mr. Sandy leaves in two weeks for Lindsay and his place here will be taken by Mr. A. McNabb at once. Before coming to this city Mr. Sandy was G.T.R. agent at Stirling.

CATTLE BROUGHT BIG PRICES

Sale of Holsteins Conducted by the Belleville District Breeders' Club

BELLEVILLE, April 2. — At the fourth annual consignment sale at Belleville District Holstein Breeders' Club, held in this City yesterday, 77 head of cattle were sold and the sum realized amounted to several thousand dollars. Princess Hele, of Harlam, the property of Mr. G. A. Kingston, of Campbellford, brought $1,060, this being the highest price for any of the animals offered for sale.

EASTER HATS

We are showing pretty adaptations of the New Styles for Spring Wear.

The collection includes clever and artistic devices in—

NEW SAILOR HATS with fore and aft trimming

SIMPLE SPRING HATS of Straw and Taffeta.

IMPORTED SPRAYS AND MOUNTS

Peterborough Millinery Parlours

MRS. W. B. ARMSTRONG, Proprietress 438 George St.
Miss Hornfield in Charge Up Stairs Old T.A.A. Rooms

C. B. ROUTLEY
379 GEORGE STREET

Window Shades
30 doz. Window Shades, best quality, with insertion..47c

Wall Papers
500 Rolls German Papers, reg. from 25c to 50c per roll, choice.....10c

Curtain Rods
3 distinct lines Brass Rods, extra good, each.. .....14c

Tinted Borders
We keep the best range of Borders suitable for tinted wall, 18 ins., at per yard..5c

Paints
Any colour of Paint to match Wall Paper, per quart .. 55c

Brushes
See our Paint Brushes at.... .....10c, 15c and 25c

Vegetable Dishes
150 China Vegetable Dishes, French make (Limoges), regular from $1.75 to $2.50, choice..... .....89c

Cups and Saucers
1,000 dozen White Cups and Saucers, per dozen.....59c

Tea Sets
50 China Tea Sets, 3 decorations, reg. 5.50, choice $3.25

Large Platters
75 large Meat Platters, most of them are of old willow and flow blue decoration, choice 47c

Cut Glass Tumblers
60 dozen Cut Glass Table Tumblers, each 12c

Cut Glass
1 Tankard Jug and 6 Cut Tumblers, for.....$4.65

Come and let us show you our Prices, they are right, at

C. B. ROUTLEY'S

Toronto, 262-4 Queen St. Peterboro, 379 George St.

Spring and Easter Style Show

THIS is to announce to our patrons, both present and prospective, the arrival and placing on display of our new

Spring and Summer Footwear

Always an event eagerly looked forward to by our customers, this season it will bring no disappointment, for fashion's latest fads and fancies have been met in every particular. No daintier, more fashionable or exclusive styles have ever been shown.

We invite you to call and inspect these new Styles

See our Window Display

C. E. Smith
384 George Street
Peterboro - - Ont.

The Tiny Tots' Every Need Can Be Supplied In Our New Department.

Although only opened a week or so ago this New Department of ours has proved a great success. Is it to be wondered at? Just ponder a moment and you will realize the convenience in having everything appertaining to childhood grouped conveniently together.

In this department, devoted entirely to children's needs, we are showing some very becoming styles in Coats and Dresses, direct importations from New York, these cannot but meet with your approval.

Children's headwear is here also, in a large assortment of chic little styles that are stunningly cute and becoming, with that touch of daintiness and charm that every mother seeks.

Visit this new department often, we've always "something new" to show you for the "kiddies," and everything economically priced.

Near Elevator 2nd Floor The GRESSMAN Company Limited Near Elevator 2nd Floor

Large Number Confirmed By Bishop Reeve At St. Luke's

Forty Young People Take Important Step—Interesting Ceremony Last Evening.

BISHOP'S REMARKS

The holy rite of Confirmation was administered to forty candidates by His Lordship Bishop Reeve, Assistant Bishop of Toronto, at St. Luke's Church, last evening. This impressive service of the Anglican Church was attended by a large congregation. The class, which included a large number of adults, had been carefully instructed for weeks past by their Rector, Rev. F. J. Sawers, and the instructive remarks of His Lordship, last evening, left no doubt in the minds of those to be confirmed, as to the great importance of the step they were taking, and the great blessing they received by so doing.

Previous to the solemn ceremony of the laying on hands, His Lordship addressed the congregation on the meaning of Confirmation, and the recognition in it of strength from God. He spoke of the two-fold purpose of the ordinance. First it was the open profession and confession of the candidate to carry out the promises made by one's parents at baptism, namely, to renounce the devil and all his works, to believe all the articles of the Christian faith, and to keep God's holy will. They covered the whole duty of man.

The second part was very different from the first, inasmuch as it was what God did for one. It was only in His strength that these promises could be kept. "The reason we have so often failed in the past," he remarked, "is because we relied only on ourselves, and not on the strength and power of God." He pointed out that Confirmation was not merely for the time being, but should be lasting throughout their lives. He urged them to the prayerful, to study God's Holy Word, and to make this great gift the turning point towards a life of greater service for Christ.

Then followed the confirming of the candidates, the Bishop laying his hands upon the head of each one as they knelt before him, His Lordship repeating a prayer.

The music was especially appropriate for the occasion. During the offertory the Choir sang "Send Forth Thy Light," with splendid effect.

Assistance Asked by Wireless.

NORFOLK, Va., April 2—Wireless calls for assistance from the American steamer Herman Frasch, in distress last night, off the north Carolina coast, sent the revenue cutter Onondaga steaming to the rescue from this port. The Frasch, bound from Portland, Me., for Sabine Pass, Tex., reported that she was eighteen miles southeast by east of Diamond shoal

Ladies' Hand Bags, Purses AND Card Cases

New Styles and Designs For Spring

F. C. Cubitt

370 Geo. St., Peterboro

Proposed Changes In The Engineer's Office Outlined

The changes proposed for the City Engineer's department as presented at Tuesday night's meeting are as follows:

To retain Mr. Hay in his present capacity.

To dispose with the services of the stenographer.

To retain Mr. Quartermaine and to have him do the type-writing work of the department in addition to his present duties, if practicable.

To change the system of bookkeeping so that the cost of each individual piece of work will be kept separate thus having a check upon the work of the foreman. At present the cost of all concrete sidewalks is kept in one account and all sewers in another. It is impossible to tell what the cost of each separate sidewalk or sewer is and whether it is reasonable.

A system of daily reports from the foreman will be started, so that the progress and cost of each piece of work can be checked up daily.

Foremen will be given written instructions, which are to be carefully followed.

HEARD ON THE 'PHONE

An East City lady took down the receiver of the party telephone yesterday and discovered that the line was in use.

"I just put on a pan of beans for dinner" she heard one woman compassionately informing another.

She hung up the receiver and waited for the conversation to end. Upon returning to the telephone she found the women still talking. Three times she waited, and then, at last, becoming exasperated, she broke into the conversation.

"Madam, I smell your beans burning," she announced crisply.

A horrified scream greeted the remark and the young lady was able to put in her call.

HUYLER'S CHOCOLATES

They cost you a little more but are appreciated by those who know

—SOLD BY—

Chemist E. L. PAYNE Druggist

CORNER OF GEORGE AND SIMCOE STREETS

Nurse's Association Addressed On "Oral Hygiene" Last Night

Dr. J. E. Middleton Spoke on Care of the Teeth and Danger of Neglecting Them.

HIS REMARKS

The Nurses' Association of this City held a meeting in the Public Library last night, which was largely attended. The Association was addressed by Dr. J. E. Middleton on 'Oral Hygiene.' His address, which is given in full below, was listened to with interest by the nurses.

In expounding the truths in regard to Oral Hygiene, Dr. Middleton spoke as follows:

In presenting this paper, may I be permitted to address you as "comrades in the fight for health and happiness." Health, to-day, has become a fight, and it is our purpose, if possible, to discuss briefly the part that the oral cavity plays as regards the enemies that would rob the human race of its right to good health.

At one age in our profession, the dentist waited until disease had worked its havoc on the teeth and surrounding tissues, and then he thought by his mechanical skill to substitute something that was not only prettier, but did mastication as well. Quite a different viewpoint is taken at the present time. We try to stand guard against the ravages of disease, and our watchword is 'prevention.' We realize that Nature is a much better artist than her children, and if only by our special care we can maintain a healthy condition of the mouth cavity our work will be worth while.

There are many points of difference in favour of one's natural teeth, but time would not permit to even open the question. Suffice it to say that apart from appearance, the maximum biting stress of the natural denture is 175 lbs. as compared with 40 lbs. in an artificial denture.

So much is written these days on pure food and even our Legislatures are spending a great deal of time, enacting laws that guard carefully all we eat. This is well, and there is still room for much improvement, but how absurd it is, when in so many cases, pure food and pure drink provided us at great expense to the State, is passed through mouths reeking with filth and pus, contaminating it to a far greater extent than public opinion would have permitted it to become contaminated, when offered for sale by the grocers, even before any pure food law was passed. It becomes the privilege then of all those interested in Hygiene to create a public sentiment in favour of a more rigid examination of the oral cavity, and providing a means for those who, through stress of circumstances, cannot afford the necessary expense to have the pathological conditions corrected.

It is to be lamented that graduate nurses must have not had the advantage, especially in our own hospitals, of very much instruction on the teeth, so far as being able to diagnose such a small thing as the six year molars. I mention this one in passing, because we dentists find that not one in fifty knows anything about this most important tooth the child has had or will ever have.

Between six and seven years the little maxilla has lengthened out so as to permit this big molar tooth to come in behind all the other temporary teeth. There are four, one on either side, both upper and lower. It takes a little practice, and one needs to examine a number of cases to be sure of the diagnosis, on account of the abnormaladies that occur, but usually there is not much difficulty in distinguishing them from the temporary teeth. These teeth seem to decay so easily that often at eight years of age they are hopelessly gone, and even at seven they are badly decayed. They are the guides to all the incoming permanent teeth and also their relation to one another, as the upper and lower occlude, is the key to proper contour of the face. Such malformations of the face as undershot, superior protrusion, and many other defects, are due very often to the early extraction of these teeth. Therefore, I would say to you nurses, as you see the mother and child long before we dentists do, that you impress the mothers with the necessity of the early care of these teeth. ou make take it as a general rule that the temporary teeth are not to be extracted unless they remain in the jaw after the time that the permanent ones should come. You can be of great help to mothers if you will look up your Grey's Anatomy and review the ages of dentition. It soon becomes as easy as the does that you spent so much time learning, and which now come to you as second nature.

When you consider that not 20 p.c. of the people in this, one of the oldest provinces, ever consult a dentist unless they have a toothache, you can readily understand that the people who most need some instruction are never reached unless some one else is to help us in this world. We gladly welcome the work that is being done by our school nurse, and whereas there are some differences of opinion, yet it will, in a large measure, help to better conditions. Here, too, there is create d a difficulty that the School Boards have not yet attempted to solve, and that is, what are the children going to do whose parents cannot afford to pay for professional services? (Reference was made to Rochester and Toronto where some provision has been made for children of poverty-stricken families.)

One great pathological condition in the mouth is carries, or decay of the teeth. It is a micro-organic growth, caused by a ferment produced from decomposed food material, and is limited by the vitality of the individual. These micro-organisms work their way into the crevices between the teeth and in the grooves and fissures in the teeth, finding a medium of quiet, heat and moisture, which is essential to their growth. Like any other plant, if they are disturbed, the growth is impaired, hence the necessity of exercise in chewing, washing and brushing. That dread disease, pyorrhoea, the germ of which has not yet been isolated, causes more loss of teeth than all other diseases combined. It is the result of an irritant to the outer or peridental membrane of the tooth, which produces absorption of the gum tissue and surrounding alveolar process. It is nearly always accompanied by copious flow of pus around the teeth and gradually and sometimes rapidly, the teeth become loosened and drop out, or become so sore and useless that they have to be removed. Much is being done to-day in the fight of this disease by keeping all deposits from around the teeth, the use of brushes, silk floss and mouth washes, and by keeping them under the constant supervision of the dentist. Let me pause for a moment on dentrifices. The vast majority of those on the market have been analyzed and have been proved to be lacking in some essential. There are two prescriptions, however, Pebico, by a Professor in John Hopkins' University, and Hutax, by a Professor in our own Toronto College. Both are good and free from impurities. The Hutax brushes seem to be best adapted to reaching all the surfaces. (Demonstrations given.)

A dentrifice once a day, a mouth wash and brushing after each meal and silk floss at night are among the essentials. It is not so much the kind as the constant daily sticking everlastingly at it, that count.

Let me say in closing that if I have spent too much time in telling you things you already know, that often we find we need to be stimulated to do what we know, quite as much as to force ourselves to know more. Someone says: "We live in deeds, not in words; in feelings, not in figures on a dial; he lives most, who thinks most, who act the noblest and who does his best."

Three Weeks Since Last Local Fire

Three weeks ago to-day the local Fire Department were called upon to extinguish a fire on the roof of a residence near the Wm. Hamilton foundry. The fire was caused by a spark from the cupola of the foundry lighting on the roof of the house and igniting it. Since that time the Brigade have waited and listened with cocked ears for the fire alarm, but without result. The feeding of the chickens, burnishing of brass, blackening of leather, grooming of the horses, and reporting "off duty, Chief," goes on the same as ever, but without the occasional, and usually welcome, break in the routine by a run to a fire. But the Chief maintains rigid discipline and the men are ready and waiting for the first intimation that a fire is burning somewhere that has to be extinguished. Thirty-one seconds after it is received the whole crew will be galloping toward the blaze at twenty knots an hour.

NO INFECTION IN THE AIR

The complete reversal of medical opinion on the air as a vehicle of infection is well illustrated in an exhaustive article in the Journal of the American Medical Association by Dr. Chas. V. Chapin, Superintendent of Health of Providence, R.I., than whom there is no greater authority.

Whereas thirty years ago it was believed that most infectious diseases were transmitted by the air, it is the general opinion among physicians today that few, if any, diseases other than tuberculosis and anthrax can so be transmitted.

It is the science of bacteriology that has brought about this change. The life and habits of bacteria have taught us that nearly all of them die as soon as they are exposed to the air. Those of influenza, for example, cannot resist the air.

The theory advanced by Fluegge that the bacteria were carried on particles of dust has also fallen to the ground, except for those of a very few diseases.

It is Dr. Chopin's opinionthat:

Typhoid fever is spread only by contact.

Cholera, dysentery and diarrhoea can be treated in general hospitals freely without danger of extension to other patients.

Air infection of wounds is not impossible, but practically no wound infection is to be considered except from contact.

Malaria and yellow fever are caused only by mosquitoes.

Typhus fever and plague are carried from person to person by vermin.

It is almost certain that contact alone can spread smallpox.

It is highly probable that influenza may be spread within a few feet of a coughing and sneezing patient by means of visible droplets. That it is transmitted by floating droplets or by dust is not likely.

Nothing is really known about the way the germs of pneumonia reach the lungs. Nearly half the population at times carry the germs in the mouth.

All the English hospital superintendents agree that diphtheria is not airborne.

Whooping cough can be nursed in the open wards of hospitals provided the beds are twelve feet apart and canopies be placed over the heads of the beds.

As for tuberculosis, the weight of evidence seems to indicate that the infection is commonly, if not usually, airborne, but this is probably because in this disease more germs are likely to get into the air than is the case in other diseases and because the bacilli have a fairly high resisting power.

GOING TO BUY A CAP?

The sooner you get it the better. These are the days when a smart cap looks right and feels right. We have a full assortment of everything new in Cap-Dom.

W. E. LECH Manufacturing Furrier and Hatter

366 GEORGE ST., Near Simcoe. 'Phone 726

VILLA OPTIMISTIC.

Rebel General Says Torreon Has Not Been Taken Yet.

JUAREZ, Mex., April 2.—Reports that Torreon had fallen were definitely denied by Gen. Villa late yesterday afternoon. His telegram was based on a message of congratulation on the "fall" of Torreon despatched to him Tuesday by Col. Fidel Avila, chief of arms of the garrison here. Gen. Villa replied as follows:

"In reply to your message, I wish to state that while I have taken a part of the city of Torreon the struggle is not yet completed. I expect to obtain a triumph, of which I will advise you."

The telegram is dated Gomez Palacio, yesterday.

Details of the struggle received yesterday was brief and showed that the relative positions of the contending forces have not changed to any extent in the last five days.

Great Paintings Bought.

OTTAWA, April 2.—Several notable art purchases are announced for the National Gallery here. They include:

"Oedipus," by Jean Francois Millet; "A Governor of Cadiz," by Goya, the last of the great masters of the Spanish renaissance; "Waterloo Bridge on a Foggy Day," by the father of the modern French impressionist, Claude Monet; and a Spanish picture of the seventeenth century, attributed to Herrera the younger.

Never use a cloth duster when dusting gilt frames, as it will dim them. Use a soft brush.

A faded carpet may be brightened by wiping with a cloth dipped in hot salt water.

Tea stains can be removed from linen by immersing in a strong solution of sugar for half an hour and then rinsing in soft water.

EASTER FAVOURS

We have many dainty gifts, typical for Easter. Many of these are priced at $1.00 and even less. They are new and attractive. Glad to show you.

Easter time makes gift-giving practical and appropriate.

SCHNEIDER, The Jeweller, George St.

Ladies' Tailored Suits, Coats and Skirts . . FOR EASTER & EARLY SPRING

We Guarantee our Goods and Lining, and perfect fitting garments assured, as we have none but expert Tailors to do the work.

Prices are very reasonable and can satisfy the most particular.

Toronto Ladies' Tailoring Co.

CORNER GEORGE AND BROCK STREETS

SPRING SUITS Coats, Dresses & Waists

Of the very latest styles and materials are all in now and a visit to our Ready-to-Wear Dept. will settle your Suit or Coat question. Our attractive styles, moderate prices and our modern system of charge accounts will make it very easy for you to select your Spring Garments right now.

: MILLINERY :

You can buy Ladies' Hats in many places in the City, but it is style that makes headwear look smart and becoming. We have carefully selected our Styles, Hats and Trimmings from the very largest and leading Millinery Houses in New York, and we have a large variety of Feather Mounts in all shades. Miss Henry, in charge of the dept., is well-known for her wide experience and good taste. We can assure you, by getting your Hat here, that you will have just what you have been looking for, at a very moderate price.

Men's & Boys' Spring Suits & Coats

Our stock of Men's Clothing is complete now. We have a great variety of the latest patterns and styles to choose from. The new Brown and Grey Tweeds are very becoming and the workmanship is guaranteed. Come for your Suit, Coat or Rain Coat now; don't wait till half the season is over and the best of the stock is picked out. Come in and we will show you how easy we can suit you in quality, price and terms of payments.

ZACKS BROS. 422 GEO. ST.

Quick Methods of Cleaning

Knowledge That Will Help in Spring Renovating

The average woman does not realize sufficiently how well things may be made to look like new, and this even at small cost and little labour. Formerly one had to send a piece of furniture to an expert to have it renovated; now it is quite easy to do much work at home, and though the cost of living increases in some directions, it certainly is diminishing in others, says the Pictorial Review.

A formula for cleaning carpets at home has been printed many times, but I find few of my acquaintances know of it, and continue to pay for the services of a professional cleaner. This is the recipe I gathered from one of these men at work in my home one day:

Three gallons of water, two bars of white soap, five cents worth of borax, the same character, one half pint of ammonia; boil all the ingredients until dissolved, with the exception of the ammonia, which should be added after removing from the fire.

Use the jelly hot or cold. Have a basin of hot water at hand; dip a scrubbing brush into the soap mixture, then into hot water and apply to the carpet a small space at a time. Scrub until a good lather is produced then take the sharp edge of the brush or a small board and scrape all the soap from the carpet. Wipe hard with a dry cloth and continue in this manner until the entire surface has been gone over. Mattresses and sofa pillows are also easily cleaned with this jelly.

For cleaning paint, avoid soap. It removes the gloss. Use instead a strong solution of ammonia—about one half cup to a gallon of water — or better still, although more disagreeable to use, add the same amount of kerosene. Kerosene is a wonderful cleanser. It will eradicate finger marks around door knobs better than anything else and leaves the paint unspoiled. It gives a fine polish to window panes and cleans porcelain with despatch.

Another method sometimes employed in cleaning white paint or enamel is that of rubbing the soiled surface with a paste of whiting and water. Let stand until dry, then brush off.

Now that painted walls are the rule for kitchens, an easy way to wash them is in order. Set the wash boiler on the stove, fill with soapy water and let boil until the room is filled with steam. Tie a cloth on the broom and wipe down the walls and ceiling while they are well moistened. Going over the walls with this, uncooked starch water before washing them will aid greatly in removing the grime. Or, let the starch dry on the walls and brush off with a clean broom.

For sweeping down the walls of the other rooms nothing can equal a broom cover made of velveteen. It provides just the right friction without injuring the paper.

Gilt frames may be brightened by rubbing with new baked bread moistened with ammonia, or by washing in the water in which onions have been boiled and a bit of sulphur added to give the yellow color needed.

Nickel will respond to kerosene and whiting, as will other metals. Brass curtain rings are quickly cleaned by boiling them in vinegar. If you have a great many pieces of silver, do not waste time polishing each one. Simply make a boiling solution of one-fourth pound of sal soda to a gallon of water; dip in one article at a time, rinse in hot water and rub dry.

Statuary is best cleaned with starch or whiting dissolved in a little water; spread thickly on and brush off when dry.

Do not forget to oil the casters on all furniture as well as the door hinges and now is a good time to size the edges of the rugs to prevent their curling upward. For this purpose use a solution of glue—about 10 cents worth to a pint of hot water. Apply with a paint brush.

In your zeal for cleanliness don't forget the cellar. Put some calcium chloride in a pan and set on the floor to absorb all dampness, and pour a strong solution of sal soda down each drain. Indeed, this should be done once a month.

Lemons hardened from long standing may be made usable by covering a few minutes with boiling water.

PROCEEDING RAPIDLY

Advices received at Canadian Pacific headquarters indicate that the work of the great tunnel in the west is proceeding rapidly. Eleven hundred feet on the east side have been driven, about 40 percent. of the approach has been cut on the west end. Mr. J. G. Sullivan, who is the chief engineer for the west, and who goes about planning his work and seeing that when planned it is efficiently carried out, has just returned from a visit to the tunnel which he states is being proceeded with in a most vigorous and successful manner. Mr. Sullivan states that this programme will mean, for the year, at least $30,000,000 of outlay. A great part of this money will be spent in British Columbia on the double track work; but there are also about 60 miles of new line to be laid on the prairie. Rails and ties will be a big item; the work on the tunnel will call for large outlays; while the double tracking always postulates big disbursements. All this work, as Mr. Sullivan points out, is part of the old programme—if it can be called old. It was provided for last year. It is part of a great plan which is to be gradually realized, from year to year, until it is all complete—a plan which contemplates the entire double-tracking of the entire system. This alone would take years and many millions of dollars. The work, however, will be prosecuted with steady perseverance.

When realized, it will be the biggest undertaking of modern times. The Canadian Pacific, has spent, before now, from $80,000,000 to $100,000,000 in the west in a single season. It has moderated its outlay this year, for 1914 will not be a year of thrills.

It is not without interest to know that Mr. J. G. Sullivan was the first assistant engineer to Mr. Stevens when the latter was in charge of the Panama Canal before the advent of Colonel Gosthals. Quite a number of important railway men were at work on the great ditch in positions of great responsibility and trust; and it is related by Mr. Edward J. Williams, paymaster of the Chicago and North Western railway, that when he was disbursin gofficer at the Canal he paid out $250,000,000.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Following is the programme for the Tramps' Re-union at the Y.M.C.A. tonight and to-morrow night:

Programme.

1. Musique a la Bande—Sig. Pidgeone, Directeur.
2. Gymnastic a la Flngs a la Fly.
3. Orchestra antique a la Hobo.
4. Jump a la Buck par Boys' Petits.
5. Musicahibus Trampibus "Leadorium."
6. Dance a la Hey Mowe—Barnum.
7. Jump Elephantic.
8. Wrestling, Le Hercules.
9. Weary Willie Musique, a la Voix.
10. Orchestra Antique—Hobo.
11. Selection le Voix Deux.
12. Rolluptumbleupjumpupandsitdown.

$1050 PAID FOR A HOLSTEIN COW AT BELLEVILLE SALE

Mr. George A. Gillespie, Mr. W. A. Anderson, of Otonabee, Mr. Robert Neill and several other Peterborough men attended a big sale of Holstein cattle held in Belleville on Wednesday. The prices paid for individual animals ranged from $45 all the way up to $1050, the latter price having been received by G. A. Kingston of Campbellford, for one of his offerings. W. A. Anderson of Otonabee, received $230, $135, and $100 respectively for three animals. All the cattle were thoroughbred Holstein-Friesians. G. A. Brethen of Norwood, received $580 for a bull. James A. Caskey of Madoc, received $405 for another. James Seymour of Cavan, residing on the gravel road, purchased a cow for $355. It was offered by A. D. Foster & Son of Bloomfield, Ont. The presence of Mr. Neill suggested that his interest in establishing a dairy farm has reached the stage where one of these days he may carry out a wish which it is understood he has entertained for some time. There was a large attendance at the sale and the quality of the stock was of the finest.

REV. A. L. GEGIE TO ADDRESS ANNUAL MEETING OF W.H.M.S.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Presbyterial of the Women's Home Missionary Society, will be held in St. Andrew's Church, on Monday, April 6th. The afternoon session will open at 3 o'clock.

The Rev. A. L. Gegie of Parkdale, will address the evening meeting, which the public are cordially invited to attend. A missionary offering will be received at both sessions.

COUNTRY ROADS ARE VERY BAD

The country roads leading from and to the City in all directions are very bad. In conversation with the Examiner this afternoon a farmer residing near Springville said that it was impossible to "get around" at all. Unless the roads dry up it is most probable that the market on Saturday will be a very small one.

LIVE STOCK MARKET

Special Wire to The Examiner:

UNION STOCK YARDS, April 1.—Receipts were light, only 31 cars, 374 cattle, 802 hogs, 49 sheep and lambs and 67 calves.

Cattle.— Trade in cattle was very dull. Receipts this week have been greater than the demand. With the exception of five cattle of choice Easter quality that sold at $8.40, all others were sold at less than $8.00. Choice butcher's steers, $7.50 to $7.75. Good butcher's steers, $7.00 to $7.35. Medium butcher's steers, $7.00 to $7.25. Common butcher's steers, $6.75 to $7.00. Choice butcher's heifers, $7.50 to $7.75. Common butcher's heifers, $7.00 to $7.25. Choice cows, $6.75 to $7.00. Good cows, $6.50 to $6.75. Canners, $3.00 to $4.50. Bulls, $6.50 to $7.50.

Feeders and Stockers.—Feeders were unchanged at firm prices. Choice steers, $6.75 to $7.25. Medium steers, $6.25 to $6.50. Stockers, $4.50 to $5.75.

Milkers and Springers. — Receipts moderate and prices firm at $60 to $110 each; bulk sold at $70 to $90.

Calves.—Receipts firm on a light delivery. Choice veals, $10 to $11. Common and medium, $8.50 to $9.50.

Sheep and Lambs.—Deliveries light and prices firm. Sheep, $6.50 to $7.50. Culls and rams, $4.50 to $6.50. Lambs, choice ewes and wethers, $8.00 to $8.75.

Hogs.—Were a little firmer. Selected, fed and watered, $9.35 and $9.60 f.o.b. cars, and $9.60 weighed off cars.

NORDICA RETURNING.

Singer Sails Against Wishes of Her Physicians.

Thursday Island, Queensland, April 2.—Mme. Lillian Nordica, who developed pneumonia last January, after the steamship Tasman, on which she was a passenger, went ashore in the Gulf of Papua, sailed from here today aboard the steamer Houlman. Mme Nordica is still greatly prostrated, and took passage on the steamer against the advice of her physicians.

German Trust Company Is In Difficulties

Examiner Special:

BERLIN, GERMANY, April 2.—The German "Princess" Trust, whose shareholders included many friends of the Kaiser, and, it is said, much trust funds of His Majesty, was formally dissolved to-day with losses of twenty-five million dollars. The concern was organized to control steamship lines, hotels, etc.

WINTER RESORTS DESTROYED

Examiner Special:

ST. AUGUSTINE, FLA., April 2.—Fire which started in the hotel district has already burned down four large winter resorts with a loss of one million dollars, and it is still spreading. So far as known, no lives are lost, although several guests, including some Canadians, had narrow escapes in their night clothing.

CANADIAN CREDIT IN EUROPE

(From the Financial Post of Canada)

"I consider that the treatment accorded Canadian securities abroad last year is the best indication of how high Canadian credit stands in Europe. At a time when the financial condition of the whole world was at its lowest ebb, London and the Continent gave us all the funds we required for legitimate enterprises. This speaks for itself, and is conclusive evidence of the high place in the world's credit in which Canada stands to-day." Such was the opinion expressed by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy in a special interview with the Post this week.

"The Canadian Pacific Railway will have no need to borrow further money for some time to come. A great deal of money will be spent this year on construction purposes, but we have a good deal of money yet in our treasury for this purpose. The Canadian Pacific Railway has been spending more money on its lines than it has borrowed; but it always has the debenture stock to fall back upon; that there are plenty of people who will eagerly buy this up." So said Sir Thomas Shaughnessy to The Post.

Sir Thomas was not in a hurry to express himself as to the stock market outlook. "I would rather not say anything about whether the present is or is not a good time to buy securities," Sir Thomas said; "I am concerned more with the operation of this railway than with the movements of the stock market."

"Regarding American railway securities, though, I am of the opinion that these are bound to go up in price. The 5 per cent. increase in the freight rates will place their earnings in a more satisfactory position. After the American Currency Bill gets properly operating, there should be plenty of money in the States for the purchase of securities.

"I look for business to rapidly pick up from now on," is the opinion of Sir Thomas. "Stocks of goods throughout the West are pretty well depleted and must early be replaced. This in itself will mean a very substantial volume of business.

"We do not expect so many immigrants this year as in 1913. But the difference in numbers will be made up by the importation of fewer ordinary labourers and workmen. During the past few years there has been very heavy demand for labourers for work in construction camps, and various kinds of railroad workers. A great deal of the railroad construction has now been completed, and the demand for construction labourers has fallen off. Hence fewer immigrants of this class will be brought out.

"In regard to farm labourers, I may say that we expect to carry nearly as many this year as last year. There will be no lack of these, which is really the best type of emigrant, and which the Dominion most requires."

Oio CoikEybe8- 8N 17?,a J.CcJr

A mild solution of borax will cure a cold in the head, if snuffed up the nose.

Orchard And Garden Notes

Spring is the best time to set out all kinds of fruits.

No place is too small to afford some garden or plant growth.

Do not cover fine seed deeply. Put on just enough dirt to cover the seed.

Take cuttings of all house plants that are to be planted out next spring.

Go over the vegetables and fruits in the cellar and pick out those that are decayed.

Bring in branches of plums, pussy willows, and poplars, and put them into water. They will open up and add brightness to the room.

Plants like sweet alyssum, nasturtiums, and some vegetables, as radish and lettuce, may be grown in a flat or window box if no other place is available.

Good topics for discussion in the farmers' clubs this month are:

The Vegetable Garden.

The Best Potatoes to Plant.

How to Secure a Good Strawberry Bed.

The Best Shrubs to Plant for a Succession of Flowers all the Year.

The Best Annuals for Cut Flowers.

The Best Three Flowering Perennial Plants.

Watch the hotbeds closely.

Ventilate hotbeds on the side away from the wind if possible.

Manure may be spread on the garden and plowed in next spring.

Be sure the manure is heating evenly before it is put in the frame.

If hotbed manure does not heat readily, put on a few buckets of hot water.

Bank hotbeds with manure that is not heating. Dry manure will not be so likely to freeze and take heat from the frame.

When pruning have a reason for every cut made and cut close to the limb or trunk. Leave no stubs.

Pruning may be done late in March. Cover all wounds over one-half inch in diameter with white lead or grafting wax.

Inspect all garden tools, sharpen and put them into the best condition. Perhaps there are some new ones that should be purchased. Now is a good time. Look them up.

Grafting wax is made by melting together four pounds of resin, two pounds of beeswax, and one pound of unsalted tallow. Heat this about 15 or 20 minutes, then throw into cold water and pull in the same manner as molasses candy.

—Farm and Dairy.

POULTRY POINTERS

Good hens, like good cows, always pay their way.

Failures with poultry are often accounted for by fancy ideas of how much a hen should eat to eat.

Some of us clean the roost board each day and the nests each six months. The first is alright; the second all wrong.

A handful of wood ashes in the drinking water tends to prevent roup. An open front house completely exterminates it.

When asked what were the two greatest detriments to poultry success, a prominent poultry editor replied, "Filth and vermin."

Keep the breed you like best, at least until you have proved to your satisfaction that it cannot make good. The hen may be relied upon, but her pen never cute.

Wet mashes are becoming a thing of the past. Dry mashes are easier prepared, easier fed and more rationally eaten. —Farm and Dairy.

BIRTH.

WILLIAMS.—On March 31st, 1914 to Mr. and Mrs. Idris Williams, 197 Rubidge Street, a daughter.

Mr. D. O'Connell Will Speak at Last Meeting Of Ladies' Literary

The concluding meeting of the Ladies' Literary Society of St. Peter's T. A.S. will be held on Friday evening, when an address will be given by Mr. Daniel O'Connell. The present season has been a very successful one, and the addresses have been of a high order. In obtaining Mr. O'Connell for this final meeting the members of the Ladies' Literary Society are assured of a profitable and pleasant evening. A good musical programme will be presented.

LIKE OLD NAME BEST

French-Canadians Resent Re-christening of Ancient Landmark.

QUEBEC, April 2.—The St. Jean Baptiste Society of Quebec has adopted a resolution to the effect that while it is animated by the deepest respect for the Duke of Connaught, it objects to the proposal to change the name of the historic St. John's Gate to that of Connaught Gate, and thinks that another occasion, another site, and another edifice should be chosen to do honor to the Governor-General, as the people of Quebec are practically one in demanding that there be no change.

Mayor Drouin was the first to suggest that the name be changed to Connaught, and wrote to the duke to ask if he would allow his name to be used in this way.

TO MODIFY ORDER

Postoffice Will Soon Allow $1 or Less to Travel In Letters.

OTTAWA, April 2.—The recent regulation against sending money through the mails, save by registered post, will be modified so as to exempt amounts not exceeding $1, said Dr. Coulter, deputy postmaster-general, yesterday. The change will be officially announced at an early date."

The regulation against sending money in unregistered letters was designed to remove the temptation from postal employes to steal from the mails, several cases of this kind having been detected in various cities. At present, letters violating the rule are being sent to the dead-letter office. It has been pointed out to the Department that it is a hardship to compel the registration of trifling amounts, as the hazard of sending them unregistered does not justify the extra expense.

VISITORS DURING WEEK AT MILLBROOK

Examiner Special:

MILLBROOK, April 1.—Mrs. W. O. Griffis of Gilbourne, is visiting friends in Town.

Miss Edna M. Lowrey is visiting friends in Port Hope and Cobourg.

Miss Lillian N. Lowrey, teacher of New Park School, visited her home, last week.

Miss Hazel Collins is back from Port Hope, and is staying with her aunt, Mrs. W. I. Collins.

Miss Smith of Peterborough, has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Wm. Turner, at the Station.

Mr. David Hall and Miss Hall of Cameron, visited their brother, Mr. Stewart Hall.

Mr. W. H. Lyle of Kinmount was in Town this week, getting his furniture shipped out to Kinmount, where he has been transferred to the Bank of Montreal.

Mr. John Wilson of Collingwood, has returned home, after visiting friends here.

Mr. Robt. Howden of Peterborough recently visited his sister, Mrs. E. Lowes.

Miss M. Hunter spent the week-end in Millbrook.

Mr. Geo. W. Twigg was in Town last week.

Miss Howell of Peterborough, is a guest of Miss Bertha Lock.

Miss Lila Pethick returned last week from a pleasant visit with Port Hope friends.

Mr. John Moore of St. Catharines was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mitchell.

Rev. C. E. Spencer was a visitor to Port Hope last week.

Mr. Archie Leach was a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Leach, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hamilton entertained the S. S. Orchestra at their home. A splendid programme of games, music, etc., was enjoyed by all. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Hamilton, in her inimitable style, after which a unanimous vote of thanks was given to Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton for their generous hospitality.

Miss Gertrude Richards returned to Peenlon Falls last week.

The Misses Nellie Dean of Toronto, and May McKim of Peterborough are visiting friends in Millbrook.

Mrs. Edgar Osborne of Newtonville is a guest of friends here.

Mr. Fred Burton was a visitor to Lindsay last week.

SCHOOL REPORT

Following is the school report of S. S. No. 4, Douro, for the month of March. Names are in order of merit:

Sr. IV.—Hazel Russell, Willie Tobin.

Jr. IV.—Reta Condon, Eleanor Hayes, Myra Sweeney, Francis Condon, Agatha Sullivan, Mary Kennedy.

Sr. III.—Harold Moher, Edgar Wood.

Sr. II.—Edward Allen.

Jr. II—Gerald Condon, Olive Russell and Lillian Russell (equal).

Sr. I.—Willie Whibbs, Helen Moher.

Jr. I—Percy Skinner, Mary Tobin. Miss K. O'Donohue, teacher.

The following is the report of the Keene Public school for the month of March. The names are in order of merit:

Fourth Class—Edna Carbarry, Margery Renwick, Lettie Wedlock, Leo Foley, Marian McFarlane, May McNevan, Nellie Stewart, Leona Stewart, Phoebe Wedlock.

Sr. Third Class— Wilfrid Fletcher, Bertie McNiel, Frank Brown, Mary Burley.

Jr. Third Class— Eva Miller, Lily Moore, Ella Foley.

Sr. II—Tom Wallbok 98, Joseph Burley 93, Rose Coturie 93, James McCarthy 90, George Bishop 89, Louise Bishop 81.

Jr. II—May Brown 98, Hazel Brown 90, Garfield Burley 90, Annie Wallington 88.

Sr. I.—Willie Moylan 98, Lyla Moore 95, Annie Burley 93, Mabel McKevan 90, James Bishop 88, Gilbert Moore, (absent.)

Jr. I—Evelyn Goodwill 98, Marjory Goodwill 90, Laura Richardson 87.

Primary — May Brown 94, Helen Goodwill 93, Reta Dickson 89, Charlie Bishop 88.

Teachers— Ada Kindervat and Elizabeth Nicolson.

SPRING CLOTHES

as tailored by

"Fashion-Craft"

Ready for Service or Made to Measure.

Never before have we been so well equipped to meet the needs of the smart dresser, who knows, and appreciates up-to-the-minute styles, combined with fine workmanship.

Everything new for men in clothesdom is here—Extreme styles, as well as the more conservative garments. All equal in fit and workmanship.

Prices range from $18 to $50.

We solicit your patronage. Courteous attention at all times.

SHOPS OF FASHION-CRAFT

A. M. LAIDLAW

140 Hunter St. : Peterborough

"I Know What I Want For Breakfast. —It's Kellogg's CORN FLAKES

Mother lets me have all I want of it. She says it's good for me."

Nothing else like Kellogg's.

Be sure of the signature.

10c at all Grocers.

WHITE STAR — DOMINION LINE

R. A. ROSE, C.T.P. J. SKINNER C.P.R., LOCAL AGENTS

PIANO TUNING

Orders for Piano or Organ Tuning promptly attended to

W. H. [illegible]

[illegible] Street.

Phone 750.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

INTERMEDIATE LACROSSE FOR PETERBORO' GREAT ENTHUSIASM SHOWN AT MEETING

Mr. Frank Doyle Addressed Gathering Under the Auspices of the Peterboro' Athletic Club.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

In spite of the decidedly inclement weather the meeting in the interests of lacrosse, under the auspices of the Peterborough Athetic Club, in St. Alphonsus' Lyceum, last night, was a splendid success. Fifty enthusiasts braved the down-pour to be present, and there was an enthusiasm evidenced that augurs well for a successful revival of Canada's national game. There were three features that stood out, the presence of Mr. Frank Doyle, Secretary of the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association, the attendance of so many old players and the number of boys that were on hand, showing that the youngsters are eager for a chance to play the game.

The net result of the meeting was the organization of a strong committee to take hold of the situation with a view to encouraging the game among the school boys, placing a team in the intermediate series of the Ontario Association and possibly organizing a City League as well. The Committee has arranged to hold a general meting on Monday night, when the Peterborough Lacrosse Club will be organized and arrangements made for entering a team in the Ontario Association and for appointing delegates to represent the Club at the annual meeting of that body on Good Friday.

Dr. McPherson, the President of the Peterborough Athletic Club, was in the chair. In opening the meeting he reviewed the steps that had already been taken to revive lacrosse. The officers of the Peterborough A. C. had been approached, he said, by a number of lacrosse enthusiasts who had suggested that something might be done to start the game in Peterborough again. The Club had decided to do what they could to help the movement along, and with this in view had called a preliminary general meeting which was well attended. The interest shown had been sufficient to warrant them in bringing Mr. Doyle to Peterborough, and they had accordingly arranged last evening's meeting. Before calling on Mr. Doyle, Dr. McPherson asked for opinion from some of the old-time enthusiasts.

Mr. Wm. Rudkins said that he was probably the oldest lacrosse player in the room. Lacrosse was the best game in the world, in his opinion. "I would like to see it revived here" Said Mr. Rudkins, "and I will do everything in my power to support the game.' The speaker said that to be successful the game had to be carried on on a strictly amateur basis, as it was in the old days.

Mr. R. J. Begley said that he liked lacrosse and would certainly like to see it revived. In the old days when they played lacrosse on every street corner Peterborough had turned out some of the finest athletes in the country. The great advantages of lacrosse were that every man in the game was practically playing all the time; it taught the players to be quick thinkers and every muscle was exercised.

Mr. Doyle's Address.

Mr. Doyle was received with hearty applause when he was introduced to the audience, and his eloquent address was attentively listened to. He first took up the reason for the decadence of lacrosse in many towns, and unhesitatingly pronounced the professional element as the principal cause. He reviewed the conditions of six or seven years ago, when a number of towns were practically importing entire teams. They brought in players who were paid from $18 to $30 a week, who were supposed to have situations, but whose principal occupation, when they were not playing lacrosse, was patronizing the hotel bars. These touring gentlemen had no sense of loyalty or honour, and could never be trusted. Their importation from small towns killed the game in these places and eventually in the centres into which they were brought.

In the last few years, however, these conditions had been done away with and lacrosse was coming back into its own.

Speaking of the merits of lacrosse, Mr. Doyle said that it was the game of games, as it developed a boy morally, physically, and intellectually. Some people had the idea that the game was a brutal one. "There have been more people seriously hurt at baseball and football than there ever have been playing lacrosse,' said Mr. Doyle. "The boys may get a few bumps, but that only does them good."

The O. A. L. A. Secretary traced the growth of that organization, showing how it had developed from an amalgamation of the old C. L. A. and the O. L. A. The first year the Association had 28 teams, last year there were 56, and this year, from all indications, there would be over 100 teams in the four series.

At a meeting in Montreal the question of popularizing the game among the youngsters had come up, and Mr. Lally, manufacturer of lacrosse sticks, had been approached. The Cortwall lacrosse magnate had generously agreed to supply sticks that usually sold at $1.50 for 50c and $2.50 sticks for $1. In addition, he had promised to supply gold medals for competition in every eight-team school or mercantile League.

Mr. W. J. Stacey, as one of the City teachers, was asked his opinion as to the chances for the game in the schools. He thought there were difficulties in the way, as only one teacher in the City knew the game, and as the boys had an opportunity of seeing lacrosse played or of learning the game. Then again there was baseball to contend with, the schools having had a baseball league for the past twelve years.

Dr. McPherson and Messrs. Begley and Weber were of the opinion that the boys would quickly pick up the fine points of the game. Provide them with lacrosse sticks and turn the youngsters loose with a ball and they'll soon learn to play.

Mr. Maurice Park, principal of the King George school, said that while the teachers did not know the game, he had no doubt there were many old lacrosse players in the City who would coach the boys. He believed that if the boys were provided with sticks, many of them would play the game. At his own school, a number of the boys, as soon as they heard of the prospects for lacrosse, had dug up sticks somewhere and announced that they were ready to play the game.

Mr. Ed. Dillon thought the proper thing to do was to place a team in the Ontario Lacrosse Association. He pointed out that Peterborough could secure a compact and convenient group with Havelock, Campbellford and other eastern towns. An intermediate team would stimulate the interest among the obys. He was certain that a large number of the old players in Peterborough would turn out and play the game again. Mr. Dillon also advocated a City League, suggesting the T.A.S., Y.M.C.A. and Peterborough Athletic Club as possible teams.

Mr. Fred McGrath agreed with the previous speaker in the advisability of placing a team in the O.A.L.A. He recalled the circumstances some years ago when a local team was started. There were only seven players in sight at the go-in, but before the end of the season over forty were playing the game here. In regard to the game in the school, he thought that the placing of sticks in the hands of the boys would stimulate an interest in the game and that by next fall it might be possible to oragnize a School League.

Mr. Larry Tracey was of the same opinion as the previous two speakers in regard to an intermediate team for Peterborough. Speaking of the boys playing the game, he was sure there were plenty of old players in each section of the City who would coach school teams.

Dr. McPherson suggested that some movement might be made towards organization. The Peterborough Athletic Club would be unable to take hold of lacrosse in the City. The club executive had many matters on its hands at the present time and it would be impossible to handle the lacrosse situation. That must be taken over by the older players and enthusiasts

Mr. Fred Trebilcock suggested that a committee should be appointed to work up the details of organization. He informed the meeting that he had two or three dozen sticks which he would donate to the boys.

Mr. Trebilcock's suggestion was carried out and the following were appointed as a committee: R. J. Begley, convener, L. Lebar, Fred McGrath, Ed. Dillon, Wm. Rudkins, Geo. Mein, W. J. Kosser, G. L. Galley, M. H. Park, T. H. Theobald, H. P. Morgan, R. M. Glover, F. Dobbin, F. C. Weber, L. Tracey, J. Milloy, C. G. Graham, P. Trebilcock and H. Donovan.

On motion of Messrs. Rudkins and Dillon a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Doyle for his enjoyable addres.

A vote of thanks was also tendered to St. Peter's T.A.S. for the use of the Lyceum for meeting purposes.

The general meeting then adjourned and the committee met and discussed prospects, briefly, deciding to hold an organization meeting on Monday night.

JOHNNY HOLLAND, the ex-amateur boxer, who is to bout in Montreal shortly. Holland is the liveliest middle and heavyweight seen in action in Canada for years. He is in good shape, and will give any of the top-notchers a good run. He has plenty of speed and courage, and a kick in both hands.

RUBE WADDELL PASSED AWAY

Examiner Special:

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 1—'Rube' Waddell, the famous left-hand pitcher, died here to-day. He had been ill for months with tuberculosis.

George Edward Waddell, one of the greatest of pitchers, was noted nearly as much for his eccentricities as for his ability as a ball player. In the seventeen years he spent in professional baseball he held positions with twelve teams, and, including 'return engagements' had fourteen jobs. His longest term of service was with the Philadelphia Americans where, under the watchful eye of Connie Mack, he pitched winning ball for a half-dozen seasons.

Waddell's inability to keep in condition discouraged most other managers, and was indirectly responsible for his contracting the disease which caused his death. There was no better pitcher than he when he was in form, but managers and club owners were aware of his powerlessness to resist temptation. As a result of his weakness the largest salary he ever received was $3,000 a year, from the Athletics.

Waddell shared with Robert Glade the strike-out record of the American League. On July 29, 1908, while pitching for the St. Louis Americans, to whom he had just been released by Mack, he fanned sixteen of the Athletics, his former team-mates.

The Minneapolis Club bought Waddell in 1910, and he was two years with that Club. Illness began to get the better of him, and last spring he was sent to Texas in an effort to prolong his life. Waddell was born in Butler, Penn., October 3, 1876.

Denmark Ratified Treaty.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Danish Minister Brun yesterday corrected a misapprehension which has arisen from cable reports concerning the status of the new arbitration treaty between the United States and Denmark. The treaty which was signed in Washington on Feb. 3 last was ratified unanimously and with great enthusiasm by both Houses of the Danish Parliament, and was approved by the King of Denmark on March 7 last.

Burnley's Chances Of Capturing The Cup Final

Winner of Play-off With Sheffield United Should Defeat Liverpool —Race For Promotion—Second Division Contest Shows Notts County in Strong Lead

The unexpected happened last Saturday in England, when Liverpool beat Aston Villa in the semi-final round of the English Football Cup. Practically everybody had been reckoning on Aston Villa winning the Cup again this year after the brilliant performances they have been putting up during the past few months, and undoubtedly the shock must have been very heavy to the directors of the team, as well as to the men on the team themselves.

There is only one real reason for the defeat, and that is that the team went stale at the last minute. Anybody who has played football knows well enough that a team may be playing like a book for a time, and all of a sudden without any apparent cause, the men cannot get any where near their stride, try how they will. Every little thing seems to go wrong just at the critical moment, making it seem that the luck is breaking for the other side, until this gets into the men's minds, and affects play enough to dishearten them, and take away that little extra ginger which has been winning matches for so long.

Of course there is a well-known saying in all games that one side plays as well as the other side lets it, and this is very true, but Liverpool, at their very best this season would never have bet on themselves to bett a brilliant team like the Villa, and hold them scoreless. Anyway it helps to make the game all the more fascinating when these unexpected events take place, and now Liverpool may rest until the other tie between Sheffield United and Burnley has been decided. Either of these teams will put up as game a fight as Liverpool will want, and I am inclined to back the winner of that game to win the Cup in spite of the fine performance of Liverpool last Saturday. It would spread the honours round if Burnley were to win the Cup, and it certainly would put the little town of Burnley into a fever of excitement that it would hardly ever recover from.

What Happened Once.

The writer well remebers the game they played some years ago against the Crystal Palace in one of the early rounds of the Cup. The game was played on the ground of the Palace team, the identical pitch on which the historica final is played each year, and at that time the Palace had taken the public fancy, and Burnley were treated rather lightly by by the same public. It was a wet and dirty day, the field being greasy and giving very little foothold for the players.

Right from the start the Burnley players put the Palace team on the defence, and practically kept them at it all through one of the most exciting games seen on that ground for a long time. The game was a draw with the score of nothing, nothing, necessitating a re-play at Burnley Moor during the week. That game at the Palace had evidently only been a ripe opener for the Burnley forwards and they beat the Palace in the replay by nine goals to nothing, taking the public entirely by surprise.

Burnley are a plucky team and fought their way into the first division of the English League against great odds, for football of the soccer code was not over popular in Yorkshire a few years ago, and it needed some good performances to attract the attention of the paying public, but Burnley soon found the way to the supporters' hearts by some good wins, and even when they were having a stiff fight in the second division for promotion they remodelled their ground making it equal to the best in England, in anticipation of an early entry into the first division. This brought a lot of criticism down on the heads of the directors, but they were justified in their policy, for Burnley soon went up to the first division, and have made themselves a very prickly thorn in the sides of many of the older organisations. Now all they require, is to win the Cup to set the seal on their enterprise and who knows—

A Curious Fact.

The race for promotion in the second division maintains its interest, getting a nearer thing every week, at least for second place. Notts County seems to have taken a grip on first place and their victory at the expense of Hull City on Saturday confirms that. Hull City are giving the Woolwich Arsenal team a hard time of it in the race for second honours Andas Woolwich are reported at a loss for caphle players to fill the positions of some of the players that have been injured lately, it looks as though they might disappoint their supporters at the last moment.

Leeds City are lying very handy, in the home stretch and any faltering on the part of either Hull City or Woolwich will put them up to second place.

A rather curious fact has come to light in connection with Cup ties this season. In past years it has been the habit for the directors of teams to take the players away for a holiday or special training as it is called to a seaside resort or a place famous for its baths. This year few, if any, of the teams have been taking this special training, and it is said that the habit is likely to be dropped in the future.

Scottish League Football.

Glasgow, April 1—Scottish League scores: Third Lanark 1, Celtic 3; Motherwell 0, Hearts 2; Falkirk 4, Rangers 1.

Cup Tie Replay.

London, April 1—The cup tie replay resulted: Burnley 1, Sheffield 0.

Southern League score: Watford 6, West Ham 0.

Complete List Of The Peterborough Ball Club's 1914 Pennant Hopes

Manager Curley Blount has forwarded a complete list of his squad, and for the benefit of the fans the roster is given below. In addition to these players there are several pitchers and a couple of outfielders who are going to try out at their own expense, and the squad will be further augmented if Byrne and Swarts come into the fold, as they are likely to do before the 15th. It will be seen that there will be keen competition all along the lines, especially behind the bat and in the infield, there being five backstops and two candidates for each infield berth. Frank Scrage, the young infielder whom Rowan tried out for a few days last season, and who looked like a very fast fielder, has been hooked up, and will fight it out for second base with Eddie Price, the Youngstown boy, who was with Fond du Lac last season. Outfielder John R. Bane has been released. He was recommended by Charley Hickman, the Cleveland scout, but Manager Blount has received word from Hickman that the outfielder will not be fast enough in view of the improved nature of ball that is promised for the Canadian league this season.

Here is the list of the players due to report at Youngstown on April 15th:

CATCHERS.

Elphege Chapdelaine, New Bedford, Mass.
Mully Miller, Massillon, O.
Frank Kelly, Erie, Pa.
M. Ryberg, Ridgeway, Pa.
Elmer McClure, Dunkard, Pa

PITCHERS.

Robert Sterling, Mount Vernon, N.Y.
Knut Belting, Rockford, Ill.
Ken. Tracey, Detroit, Mich.
Stan. Cresswell, Peterborough, Ont.
Louis Schettler, Youngstown, O.
Sid. Tirrell, Rochester, N.Y.

FIRST BASE.

Ed. Flanagan, Erie, Pa.
Willie O'Hearn, Lockport, N.Y.

SECOND BASE.

Eddie Price, Youngstown, O.
Frank Schrage, Bronx, N.Y.

SHORT STOP.

Geo. Miller, Massillon, O.
Lawrence Buckelew, Tyrill Hill, O.

THIRD BASE.

Chas. King, Parkersburg, West Virginia.
Frank Fox, Portville, N.Y.

OUTFIELDERS.

Curley Blount, Youngstown, O.
Paul Dawson, Clarkesburg, West Virginia.
J. J. Gaffney, Cleveland, O.
Chas. Naw, Jeannette, Pa.

BASEBALL

Bob Unglaub, former Boston-Washington first baseman, has signed to manage the Fargo team in the Northern league.

Manager Herzog of the Cincinnati Reds has had a hard time getting his outfield together this spring. Marsans was late in reporting and Bates is still kept home by his wife's serious illness.

The Oakland club of the Pacific Coast league has sold Buck O'Brien, the old Red Sox flinger, to the Indianapolis American association club.

Arnold Hauser is still suffering from nervous prostration and it is not likely he will be able to join the St. Louis Cardinals until mid-summer.

The Federal league moguls seem to be willing to get the limit to secure two or three big league pitchers, judging from some of the offers they are reported to have made recently. With good pitching material the Feds figure they can put up a rattling good pennant race.

Manager Bill Carrigan of the Red Sox believes that in Everett Scott, the St. Paul sensation of last season, he has found a classy understudy for Shortstop Heine Wagner.

Jay Kirke is performing brilliantly for the Cleveland American association team. Few big leaguers have had anything on the former Boston Brave outfielder this spring.

Charley Somers, owner of the Cleveland Naps, has offered Joe Jackson a substantial bonus this year for hitting above .400. .375 and .350. Joe's marks for the past four years have been .387, .408, .395 and .373.

LABATT'S STOUT
Has Special Qualities
MILDLY STIMULATING, NOURISHING, SUSTAINING
A Perfect Tonic
THIS IS THE TIME OF THE YEAR IT IS NEEDED
If not sold in your neighborhood, write
JOHN LABATT, LIMITED
LONDON CANADA
51

GRAND OPERA HOUSE ATTRACTIONS

GRAND OPERA HOUSE J. J. TURNER & SONS, Owners & Managers
TO-NIGHT The Play dear to Millions DENMAN THOMPSON'S
THE OLD HOMESTEAD
Mr. Frank Thompson presents the Original Company with the Famous Musical Features, including the Celebrated Double Male Quartette
PRICES—$1.00-75c-50c. Gallery 25c 5d-72 Seats on Sale

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, TO-MORROW AND SATURDAY
THIS WEEK, HIGH-CLASS MOTION PICTURES.
6—FULL REELS—6 COMEDY AND DRAMA.
Evenings only with Matinees Saturday at 2.30 and 4.00 p.m.
Continuous Evening Performance commencing at 7.30 & 9 p.m.
ADULTS 10c CHILDREN 5c.

BOXING

Now that SamMcVey has returned to Paris it is likely his next bout will be with Joe Jeanette.

Young Shugrue declares he will not make the journey to Australia unless he gets three round-trip tickets and $1,000 advance money.

Ray Campbell, one of the new crop of California lightweights, has arrived in Boston to tackle some of the speedy scrappers of New England.

If the Wisconsin Boxing Commission takes the ban off Packey McFarland the Milwaukee promoters will make another effort to bring McFarland and Mike Gibbons together.

RED MILL
TO-DAY
ENTIRE CHANGE
5c Admission To All 5c

STANDISH Arrow COLLAR 2 for 25¢

"Get the habit" and call at JAY'S STORES
they know how to sell cheap, for cash.
All kinds of Furniture and Stoves in stock also Sewing Machines from $4.00.
Ladies and Gentlemens secondhand clothing. We have a lot of children's new dress es made up for spring. Call and see them
390 Aylmer St. 'Phone 623

Princess Theatre
TO-DAY
ENTIRE CHANGE
5c and 10c

J. J. SHADGETT
High-grade
Sign, Carriage and Motor Car Painter
REPAIRS ATTENDED TO
Phones 443. Residence 1402
Cor. Charlotte & Aylmer

DELICIOUS FLORIDA TOMATOES
Fine and Firm and in Natural Condition
JOE LONGO & Co.
ITALIAN FRUIT DEALERS
TWO STORES 416 GEORGE ST. 'PHONE 931
230 CHARLOTTE ST 'PHONE 1012

New York Chinese Cafe Co.
320 George St. Phone 208
Regular meals served and short order at all hours. Comfortable dining rooms and splendid bill of fare. $4.00 for 21 meals Open day and night Tom Yen, Manager

Dominion Cafe
Modern and up-to-date dining rooms also private dining table. Drop in and try our special China dishes. Nothing but the best of steaks and chops used. We guarantee the best of satisfaction to strangers, and all our patrons. 'Phone 535
328 George St
TOM HIM Manager.
Open from 7 a.m. to 2 a.m

Cash or Credit For Furniture
Store filled with every day requirements for comfortable homes. Davenports, Parlour Tables, Rockers, Dressers, Bedroom Suites, Rugs, Oilcloths, Baby Carriages, Etc.
EMPIRE FURNITURE CO.
299 George St. Opposite Customs House
Telephone 812.
CASH OR CREDIT

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL
Spring Prices Dropped One Month Earlier Than Usual.
I sell exclusively Lehigh Valley Coal Company's Coal. THE BEST IN THE WORLD PROPERLY SCREENED at the following Cash Prices, to come in effect April 1st, 1914.

Egg Coal	-	$6.75 per Ton
Stove Coal	-	$6.75 per Ton
Nut Coal	-	$7.00 per Ton
Pea Coal	-	$6.00 per Ton

Early buyers are asked to order as soon as possible, and not wait till end of month, as prices quoted are for present delivery, so we will be pleased to have your orders by Mail, 'Phone or Personal Call at the Office.
Thanking the general public for the very large patronage of the past season, I hope by strict attention to your requirements to merit a continuance of the same.
J. E. A. FITZGERALD
'PHONE 111.

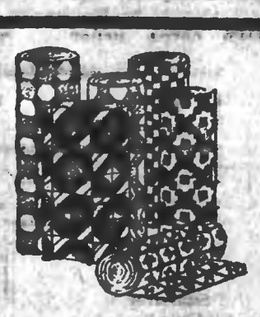
Robt. Fair & Co. Ltd.

FRIDAY and SATURDAY BARGAINS

April 3rd and 4th

Merely a Hint of The Many Bargains in Every Depart. Awaiting You Here for These 2 Days

The Linoleum Event of the Season takes place at "Fair's" Friday and Saturday.



Our right to expect a record breaking attendance at this Sale is based on the quality & prices. They come in 2, 3 and 4 yards wide at the following reduction per square yard.

50c for 42c 55c for 45c
60c for 48c 65c for 50c
70c for 55c 80c for 65c

35c Floral Designed Floorette, square yard 25c

200 yards Art Muslin at 10c—Cream ground with floral and fancy stripe designs. Sold regularly at 15c. Sale Price ..... yard 10c

100 Sample Curtain Net Ends—Of 1 to 2 yards each, worth 25c to 50c each. Marked to sell at ..... 10c and 15c

36 inch Bordered Scrim in plain cream with pretty coloured border. Worth 18c yard. On Sale at 12½c

New Curtain Nets Just Arrived—White and Ecru, very neat designs, scalloped edges, 36 inches wide. Sale Price ..... per yard 15c

Three Specials in Lace Curtains—Handsome new designs. Purchase now when you have more patterns to choose from. Here are three great values, per pair. ..... 45c, 75c and 1.00

27-in. Tapestry Stair Carpet—This particular stair Carpet is closely woven and will give excellent service. Sold regularly at 85c yard. On sale at 65c

Tapestry, Brussels and Velvet Carpet Ends—Handsome designs. High Grade Carpets but we must clear all short ends out at once. Regular 90c, $1.00, $1.10 per yard. To clear at ..... yard 65c

20 Brussel Rugs Reduced—The texture is fine Brussels and is one of the most serviceable floor coverings that you can place on your floor and easily kept clean. This quality is closely woven and will give excellent service. They come in Fawn, Green and Red in pleasing designs. Note size and reduction in prices.

6 ft. 9 in. x 9 feet. Reg. $12.00 for . $8.50
9 feet x 9 feet. Reg. $17.50 for $11.00
9 ft. x 10 ft. 6 in. Reg. $18.00 for $13.50
9 feet x 12 feet. Reg. $20.00 for $15.00

Boys Heavy Ribbed Cotton Hose—Spring Hosiery Stock here early and we picked out a line for sale purposes. Sizes 5 to 8 worth 20c for 15c pair ..... Sizes 8½ to 10, worth 25c pair. Sale price 19c

Ladies' & Children's Cotton Vests—In all weights ribbed, plain and fancy now in stock at 10c, 12½c, 15c, 20c, 25c

Wash Crepes and Crinkle Fabrics—A big assortment in plain, stripes, floral and dainty design, 27 inch wide ..... per yard 15c

Washable Dress Galatea in fine hair stripe and plain colours, 30 inches wide ..... per yard 15c

Corset Sale Continued at 98c—A low bust model with long skirt, rustless steels, suitable for the average figure, sizes 18 to 30. Regular value $1.50 on sale at 98c

Scalloped and Hemstiched 17 x 54 Scarfs and 32 x 32 Squares—Can be used for Sideboard or Dresser Covers, Table Covers and Pillow Shams. Worth regularly 40c each. Sale Price 29c

Hemmed Huck Towels—Already for use. Special at 25c pair. Sale Price ..... 3 pairs for 65c

Imported Turkish Bath Towels—Cream ground with Self or coloured design. Worth 35c pair. As a leading Special, per pair 25c

Hemstitched Pillow Cases—A better quality than usually advertised. Very heavy soft pliable Cotton used to make them. Sizes 42 and 44 inches. Regular 40c On Sale, each 30c

36 in. Apron Check Gingham—Big value this time. Will sell ..... 5½ yards for 50c

Just 200 yards of this Pure White English Flannelette—Very heavy make, wide width. Our best 15c quality. On Sale at ..... 8 yards for $1.00

LUMBER

Builders' Materials of all kinds, Shingles, Clapboards, Joist and Bill Stuff, Mouldings, Casings, Base and all kinds of Finish. Boxes and Box Shooks. Slabs and Mill Wood.

A.F. McDONALD ESTATE

Point St., Charles Mills

YOUR PORTRAIT—As an Easter remembrance, will be most fitting to the occasion—will be appreciated by your friends as an evidence of your thoughtfulness.

MOULE STUDIO

Next to Ohs's

374½ George St., 'Phone 46

"BE SURE YOUR SIN WILL FIND YOU OUT"

Subject of Stirring Address by Evangelist Pugsley

There were not only showers of rain but showers of blessings poured upon the large congregation at the Park street Baptist church last night. It is truly an old-time revival. Over 200 have yielded their lives to God.

Evangelist Pugsley preached another powerful sermon on "Be sure your sin will find you out." Scores arose and requested prayer to overcome their besetting sin, and eight accepted Christ, publicly confessing Him as their Lord. It was a mighty manifestation of the power of God.

Musical Director Peters sang a solo, "He knows." The large chorus choir is doing good work, and all are delighted with the service.

Subject, to-night: "Fat Kickers." Everybody welcome.

CITY AND GENERAL

The Examiner Office Telephones.

The telephone numbers of the Examiner Office have been changed. The Business Office, formerly 57, is now 1080; the Editorial Office, which was 214, is now 1081; Mr. Dawe and Mr. Menzies are changed from 1217, and can be had by calling either of the above new numbers. Private branch ex-

Probabilities.

North and north-west winds, cold and mostly cloudy to-day and on Friday local snow flurries.

Notice.

Painting, papering and graining at reasonable prices. —Geo. Hawke, Browntown P. O. 'Phone 1431. 28d-6t

Miss Butler,

635 George Street, (up-stairs), next to the Peterborough Millinery Parlours is prepared to make up dresses, suits and other ladies' apparel in the latest fashions, at moderate charges.

Notice!

Carting and moving promptly and carefully attended to. Call or address J. Kelleher, 261 Romaine St. 28d-6t

Poultry Association.

The regular monthly meeting of the Peterborough Poultry Association will be held to-night. All varieties of Wyandottes will be considered and ribbons will be awarded.

Has Sold His Residence.

Mr. W. R. Warren, of Peterborough, has sold his residence in this city to Mr. Fred. Sedgwick and has purchased Mr. F. F. Fry's country home, five miles east of Havelock on the Cordova road.

'Phone 752 Now.

For a well-harnessed horse and comfortable rig. Old number 278. Two new drivers added to already well equipped livery, prompt service. A. T. Fontaine, 193 Hunter St 2d-t.s.78

A Zam-Buk Window.

McDermid & Jury's Charlotte Street window has a display of the Zam-Buk Healing Remedies. This preparation is one of the very best of its kind on the market, and McDermid & Jury are doing their best to bring it prominently before the public.

Read This—Six Bargains.

Stewart Street—Brick house. All conveniences. Attic floored. Price $2,250.00.

Five acres of ground and buildings. Close to the city. Price $800.

Ask C. J. Carroll & Co. They know. 372 Water steret. 'Phone 822 Open evenings. We sell the earth.

Vagrants Not Wanted.

Magistrate Joyce, of Havelock, committed three knights of the road to ten days in the county jail on Wednesday. The three vagrants were gathered in by one of the C. P. R. policemen, and had been stealing a ride on a freight train. On the previous Monday Magistrate Joyce committed a man charged with vagrancy to one day in jail.

I.O.O.F. DEDICATION IN HAVELOCK.

Royal Lodge, No. 286, Independent Order of Oddfellows, has issued invitations to its friends to attend the official dedication of its new lodge lodge rooms in the Curtis Block on Friday evening of this week. The feature event of the evening will be a mock initiation, put on by the members of the Peterborough degree team.

Try The
Sanitary Grocery Store for

Home-made Raspberries, Sweet Oranges, Fancy Biscuits, Tickler's Pure Jam, Black Currant, Raspberry and Strawberry; Fearman's Hams and Bacon, fresh eggs and butter, Lea & Perrin's Sauce, Heins Catsup, Beans and Sweet Pickles, Castor Sugar and Loaf Sugar. Also Lettuce, Onions and Raddishes.—James R. Bell, 197 Hunter Street; near Bell Telephone Co. Phone 456.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. Harry M. Palmer left for Welland, Ont., to-day, where he has been transferred by the Canadian Car Service Bureau.

Mr. Frank Rossel, who has been ill for the past ten days, has sufficiently recovered as to be able to return to his work at Port Perry.

MORE OFFICERS RESIGN OR ARE FIRED

Special Cable to The Examiner:

LONDON, ENG., April 2.—It is understood that several of the King's equerries and other personal staff of King George have designed or have been dismissed as a result of recent army episodes. They are accused of taking too prominent a part in political discussions.

VESSEL GOES TO BOTTOM

Special Wire to The Examiner:

DOVER, ENG., April 2.—The Spanish vessel Jose Deramplona collided with the French liner Maine, from London to Calais, in a heavy fog off the Goodwin Sands to-day, and sent her to the bottom, it is feared, with all on board. A fleet of coast vessels and British navy boats are searching for survivors without results.

TWO BURGLARS WERE ARRESTED

(Continued from Page 7.)

say-men, and broader methods had to be employed to affect the arrest of the desperadoes.

Suspicious Characters.

As is general in such cases notices were sent out to the surrounding townsand cities, to be on the outlook for any one suspicious looking, and whatever clues were available, were followed up, and all trains were watched. Chief Chilton happened to notice Mr. George Balfour, Governor of the Victoria County Jail, who was coming to Peterborough on the train that arrives here at 11.40, and asked him to keep his eyes open, and watch for any suspicious characters that he might notice. This he promised to do. When the train pulled up at Reaboro, he noticed two young men get on the car and thinking that they talked with the meagre description that was available, he kept a close scrutiny on them.

On arrival at this city the men left the train, and he, in company with another man, followed them up Hunter Street.

Informed Local Police.

Leaving his companion to follow the movements of the two suspects, Mr. Balfour made his way to the local Police Station, and the following narrative of the arrest of the men was given to the Examiner this morning by Chief Thompson:

"While I was busy in Court yesterday morning, shortly before 12 o'clock, Mr. Balfour, Governor of the Lindsay Jail, came and called me out of court and told me of the number of burglaries that occurred in Lindsay the night before, and that while he was coming down on the train he noticed two young men get on at Reaboro, and they were, to his mind, suspicious looking. They got off at Peterborough. He with another man, followed them, and when the chance presented itself, he came and informed me. I immediately sent Detective Newhall and Detective Meagher after them, in company with Mr. Balfour. They went up Water Street and the prisoners, previous to this, were making their way into East City, and were just turning at the junction of Water and Hunter streets, near the Munroe House, when they were faced by the two detectives and placed under arrest. They were brought to the station, and two loaded revolvers were found on them. Bags which they carried and which had been sent on before them, contained jewellery and other articles, to the value of over $500, comprising gold watches, rings, lockets, charms.

The prisoners admitted stealing a quantity of other goods, which are missing, but said that they had thrown them into the river near Lindsay and were such articles as cuff links, collar buttons, etc., and also the massage machine, which was taken from the barber shop.

Their Homes.

Fred Smith, the younger of the prisoners, who says he is but 17 years old, says that his father used to be a Lindsay blacksmith, but that he now resides in Midland. Wilson, the elder prisoner, says his home is in Hamilton.

A Larger Gang.

Apparently they are connected with a larger gang, continued Chief Thompson, from information that we have received from the Provincial Police, and we shall probably round up the leaders in a few days. The younger of the men under arrest admits that he was connected with the burglaries that were perpetrated in Lindsay last fall and also as being an active party to robberies in Gravenhurst, Bracebridge and Barrie.

Gave Wrong Names.

Wilson said that he was employed on the boats that ply between Hamilton and Port William. The younger lad, Smith, says that he went West harvesting, last summer and got short of money, and that was what first induced him to start thieving. He worked his way back on a boat and fell in with Wilson. When taken to the Police Station they told Detective Newhall that their names were Oxley and Clark, but they afterwards admitted their right names after initials had been found in their caps.

Chief Chilton came to this City last evening, in company with Constables Foster, to take the prisoners and the stolen goods, back to Lindsay. The booty was placed into three suit cases, two of which were stolen, and was quite a heavy load on the Chief's arm. Among the goods stowed away were the following: Razors, shaving pots, etc., eye glasses, a dagger, and even a prayer book and a Bible. Some one offered the sugestion that these should be taken to the prisoners, saying that if they did no good, they would do no harm. A novel entitled 'The Wrecker,' was also visible, and the reading of that book may have had some influence on the robbers.

Finger Prints Taken.

After court this morning the finger prints of both men were taken and a visit was also made to Spy's Studio. The following are their descriptions:

James Wilson, born in 1886, fresh complexion, light brown hair, brown eyes, five feet, six inches tall, and weighing 138 pounds. He has a small scar on the right frontal, a tattoo mark (Indian's head) on the left fore arm, and a scar between the second and third fingers, on the left hand.

Fred Smith, born in 1897, fair complexion, light brown hair, and blue eyes; five feet, four and one-half inches tall, and weighs 110 pounds. Two marks on the right cheek bone; scar from a cut on the scalp, slightly to the right; tattoo mark, (star over sun) on the left bicep, and scar, the size of a quarter, inside the left knee.

Taken to Lindsay.

The youthful prisoners were taken toLindsay in charge of the Lindsay Chief and Constable, and will later appear on the charge of burglarising the stores.

Smith, the younger prisoner, says he has been convicted before, at Barrie, for a robbery he committed there and that he spent three months in the County Jail.

Sealing Steamer Is Sunk By Ice Floes

Feared That From 100 to 200 Men Have Lost Their Lives

ALL WERE BRITISH SUBJECTS

Examiner Special:

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., April 2.—It is feared that from one hundred to two hundred men were lost when the sealing steamer Southern Cross and other small craft went down in a terrible blizzard off this city, according to a wireless message received here from the Red Cross Liner, Florizel, which has picked up fifty bodies and has a hundred survivors aboard.

Later, news of the wreck of the Southern Cross confirmed by the arrival here of fifty survivors. The steamer was returning home from a successful sealing expedition and carried, in addition to its own crew, about one hundred men on hoste-leave from the Northern Sealing fields. While rounding Cape Race the steamer was caught in drift ice and sank in a few minutes. Those who could do so jumped upon the ice floes where they suffered terrible exposure till rescued. Nearly all those lost are British subjects.

WEDDING BELLS

WEDDING BELLS

At Vancouver, B.C., yesterday afternoon, the marriage was solemnized of Miss Thirza May Ford, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Ford, of Toronto, to Mr. Theodore Hector Storey, of Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. Storey will reside in Vancouver.

Miss Ford was formerly of this City, her father at one time having been superintendent of the Little Lake Cemetery.

OBITUARY

DAVID TRAVISS.

There passed away at his home last evening a very well-known resident of Emily Township, in the person of Mr. David Travis. The deceased gentleman was 86 years of age, and had been ailing for a year before his death.

The late David Travis was born in Cartwright Township, but many years ago he moved to Emily Township, where he is one of the oldest residents. For years he has made his home on the homestead, Lot 23, Con. 10.

He is survived by his wife, four sons and two daughters. The sons are Joseph and John, at home, Charles, of Winnipeg, and Nathaniel, in the States. The daughters are Mrs. Hennessey, in the West and Mrs. O'Donnel, of Dakota.

The funeral will be held to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock from the family residence to St. Martin's Church and Cemetery.

CARE OF BROODER CHICKENS

Before taking my chicks from the brooder room at two weeks old, I prepare small coops for them on a green plot about 15 yards apart. I sprinkle the floors of these coops with coal oil and then cover with sand. The coops are cleaned out twice a week and fresh sand is put in every week.

I dust the hens well with insect powder before putting them in the coops and then give each hen 20 chickens. The hens are dusted every week.

After the chickens are five weeks old I take them from the hens and put them in colony houses, these having been first well dusted and whitewashed with lime. The houses are cleaned out twice a week and always supplied with fresh sand.

I start to kill the chickens when they are two months old. I take them out of the houses just as I find them and they are always in good shape for killing. The main thing in keeping poultry is to keep the surroundings clean and free from vermin.

—Farm and Dairy.

Stock Markets

A. E. Stratton & Co., Bankers, report the following:

To-day witnessed some improvement in the Stock Market. The foreign money conditions are attracting more and more attention of a favourable character in conservative circles, where it seems to be the impression that in conjunction with the real liquidation of labour in this country, the easy money factor will be such as to encourage investors to buy on all reactions. Union Pacific is generally conceded to be the bull leader. The copper group is classed as the forefront of the industrial issues.

Southern Railway have placed orders for 35 steel coaches, 5 parlour cars and 10 baggage cars, with the Pressed Steel Car Company. The value of the order is estimated at $1,000,000.

N. Y. has been bought by big interests, who probably know of coming favourable developments and we consider it a purchase near 68.

A. E. Stratton & Co., brokers, report fluctuations in New York stocks to-day as follows:

New York Stocks

Stocks	Open.	Close.
ATCH	97	97
K. T.	18½	18½
C. O.	127⅞	127⅞
M. O. P.	27½	27
N. P.	114⅜	114⅜
R. I.	4½	4⅜
S. Z.	6¾	9¾
So. P.	101¼	101
S. P.	96	95
U. P.	159⅜	160¼
C. P. R.	208¼	208⅝
N. Y. C.	90⅝	90½
Ills.	111⅛	111
L. N.	137½	137½
S. R.	26	26
Pa.	110⅝	110⅝
ERIE	30	30¼
L. V.	144⅜	144¾
Rdg.	165¾	166¼
O. W.
B. O.	91¼	91½
C. O.	53⅜	53⅜
N. K.	103	102¾
R. R. T.	92⅜	92⅜
A. C. P.	77⅛	77¼
A. E.	69⅛	69½
U. S.	63½	63⅜
C. F. I.	32⅜	33⅛
A. L. O.	34⅜	34⅜
CAN.	30	30
RUB.	62½	62⅜
WOOLWORTH
SUGAR.	108½	100½
C. P. U.	27¼	27¼
M. S. P.	66½	67

Chicago Grain Market

Wheat	Open.	Close
MAY	91¼	91⅛
JULY	86⅞	87½
Corn
MAY	67⅜	67⅜
JULY	66	66⅜
Oats
MAY	38⅛	38⅛
JULY	39⅛	39¼

KEEP YOUR I ON THE BRIGHTER UP STORE

BRIGHTEN UP

That is our slogan for this month of April. Join our Brighten Up Club.

There is no membership fee, simply spread the Creed of the Brighten Up Club.

To Brighten Up myself, to be optimistic, cheerful and good natured.

To Brighten Up my home, and spread the Brighten Up Spirit among my neighbours.

To Brighten Up my Business, and take pleasure as well as profit from it.

To Brighten Up my town, and promote its Social, Industrial, and Commercial progress.

To promote the love of nature, sunshine and fresh air.

To adopt Brighten Up as your Slogan.

Call and get a Brighten Up Button.

Phone 110 MORGAN HARDWARE CO. 387 cashmore

The Home of Quality and Service

BRIGHTEN UP

Spring Millinery at it's Best

Every lady who visits this establishment in search of the most becoming hat may be assured she will find what she desires. There is a variety of charming shapes to wear with costumes or dress hats for special occasions.

MRS. J. WILSONS

'PHONE 45 372 GEORGE STREET

We Are Anxious

to give you any variety of

FISH

we can procure, and we always buy the best quality

Order Early to be sure of Prompt Delivery

Bell 'Phones 18 and 19

W. J. OKE

376 George Street

Wire Specialities

FOR USE IN THE KITCHEN

SEE OUR WINDOWS WATCH OUR AD.

OWING to the ever increasing demand for the largest assortment of WIRE GOODS, we have added to our well assorted Stock of Kitchen Utensils—a large line of Wire Specialities. An inspection of these articles will convince you that we will be able to fill your requirements. Below we mention a few of the articles.

Wire Egg Beaters
Wire Flour Sieves
Wire Broilers or Toasters
Wire Meat Skewers
Wire Potato Mashers
Wire Cup Strainers
Wire Bowl Strainers
Wire Tea or Coffee Balls
Wire Cake Cooling Stands
Wire Tea Pot Stands
Wire Pot Cleaners & Scrapers
Wire Sink Strainers
Wire Sink Brushes
Wire Gravy Strainers
Wire Fruit Strainers
Wire Tea or Coffee Strainers

FOR OFFICE USE

We have Wire Waste Paper Baskets, Wire Letter Baskets and Wire Baskets for Catching the Mail when put through the plate.

YOUR INSPECTION INVITED

Peterboro' Hardware Co.

Limited

BOSTON CAFE, 394 GEO. ST.
For Ladies and Gentlemen
Open all the time.
Ice Cream Parlor Fancy Drinks

The Evening Examiner.

BOSTON CAFE, 394 GEO. ST.
For Ladies and Gentlemen
Open all the time.
Ice Cream Parlor Fancy Drinks

VOL. LV. No. 79 14 PAGES PETERBOROUGH, FRIDAY, APRIL 3, 1914 PAGES 1 TO 9 PRICE TWO CENTS

EASTER PHOTOGRAPHS

A Portrait of Mother or Father or a group of the children would be a fitting Easter remembrance.

New Styles and appropriate to the occasion.

Arrange for an appointment at

THE ROY STUDIO

140½ HUNTER ST.

To Save Lives at Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., April 3.—A life-saving station is to be established on Goat Island by the Niagara State Reservation Commission. The object will be to rescue persons who are carried down the river past the danger line and to save them from a plunge over the falls.

The station is provided for in the plans adopted for the $10,000 service building which is to be erected on Goat Island.

German Aviator Killed.

MUNICH, Bavaria, April 3.—Lieut. Lampmeyer, a German army aviator, was killed and Lieut. Buchti, whom he carried as a passenger, was seriously injured yesterday in an aeroplane accident. Their aeroplane propeller broke into fragments when they were flying at a low altitude over the aerodrome. Pieces of the propeller snapped the rigging and the machine collapsed and fell.

No shiny celluloid or hard rubber about "Challenge" Waterproof Collars.

Look like linen—feel like linen—give you the smart, neat appearance of a brand new linen collar.

But are much better for you than linen.

Cleaned in a minute with soap and water—outwear a dozen linen collars.

Sold at all Men's Furnishing and Dry Goods Stores—or send 25c. for sample collar.

Absolutely the best Waterproof Collar made. 7

THE ARLINGTON COLLAR CO. OF CANADA, LIMITED
TORONTO, Canada.

Easter Custom

It is a pleasant custom to remember your friends and relatives at Easter.

Why not take advantage of the occasion and have a new Photograph taken in your Easter attire to send to friends?

OPEN GOOD FRIDAY

Appointments for Good Friday, (April 10th) should be made without delay.

ORME STUDIO
170 Charlotte. Phone 636

ROYAL THEATRE
TO-DAY
ENTIRE CHANGE
Special Vaudeville
7 REELS OF MOTION PICTURES 7
5c and 10c

SEALERS PERISH

Snowstorm Cut The Sealers Off From Their Vessel

CASUALTIES ARE HEAVY

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 3.—This year's seal fishery on the Newfoundland coast threatens to be the most disastrous for nearly twenty years. Already one disaster has certainly occurred which resulted in the known death of 64 members of the crew and steamer Newfoundland, and some estimates place the dead at over 100. Fears that the Southern Cross, another sealing steamer with 173 men on board had been lost, were dispelled last night by a bulletin from Channel, Nfld., saying she is safe. The seal hunt is a specially hazardous occupation. The steamers carry unusually large crews of from 160 to 270 men, and when the ice on which the seals are found is located all these men are sent out each morning over the fields of ice to kill the seals and drag them back to the ship or pile them in huge heaps where the ship can get them as it threads its way through the fragments of ice behind them. On any normally favorable day probably 3,000 men are thus occupied in small or large groups over the fields of ice for maybe 50 or 100 miles.

Last Tuesday morning this practice was resumed, as every day before, but after the men had been on the ice some few hours the blizzard broke, and sent them scurrying back, while the ships were also moved to unusual activity to reach their men. The steamer Newfoundland, however, got caught and her men were lost. The ship is one of the old style wooden vessels with less power than the modern steel boats, was caught between some fragments of heavy ice, and could not move, and her men in the dense, blinding snowstorm, lost all senses of the direction, and wandered aimlessly over the ice floes, knowing from sad experience what fate confronted them. Not until yesterday morning, forty-eight hours later, did the weather improve sufficiently for help to be given. Then the Newfoundland signalled to the two nearest ships, the Bellaventure and the Stephano, both powerful modern steamers, and these at once sent out parties of men to search over the snow-clad ice for the dead. Twenty-five bodies were found and thirty-five survivors, badly frostbitten. Most of these will be maimed for life.

WAS BRUTALLY HAZED.

University Girl Alleges Barbarous Treatment and Seeks Damages.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 3.—As a result of hazing in the girls' dormitory of Purdue University last January Mabel Rogers, of Shoals, Ind., yesterday filed suit against seven senior girls demanding $7,000. The plaintiff, who is a first year girl, alleges that, up to the time she was hazed, she was a healthy girl with normal eyes, but now her sight is impaired and her health destroyed.

Miss Rogers in her complaint, alleges that on a certain day in January, while she was preparing her lessons, seven girls dragged her from her room, tore off her clothing, painted her chest, back and neck with red ink, poured mucilage on her back and stuck her with pins in an effort to force her to kneel to her assailants. She further avers that she was ducked in a tub of water. She declares she was forced to go to a hospital for treatment following the hazing, and that she has been unable to do her work in the university.

Greeks From War Reach U. S.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Two thousand Greeks, most of them battle-scarred veterans of the Balkan wars, arrived here yesterday on the steamer Laconia. Many summoned to reenlist in America careers which they had abandoned to fight the Turks and Bulgarians. One of them, Charalabos Stathis, gave up a prosperous real estate business in Winnipeg to serve in the Greek army as a private. He comes back with the rank of sergeant.

WE HAVE FAITH IN THIS STOMACH REMEDY

A woman customer said to us the other day, "Say, you ought to tell everyone in town about Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. I would myself if I could." That set us to thinking. So many people have used them and have so enthusiastically sounded their praises both to us and their friends, that we had an idea you all knew about them. But, in the chance that some of you who suffer from indigestion, heartburn, dyspepsia, or some other stomach complaint, don't know about them,—we are writing this.

They contain Bismuth and Pepsin, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medical science. They soothe and comfort the stomach, promote the secretion of gastric juice, help to quickly digest the food and convert it into rich, red blood, and improve the action of the bowels. We believe them to be the best remedy made for indigestion and dyspepsia. We certainly would not offer them to you entirely at our risk unless we felt sure they would do you a lot of good. If Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets do not relieve your indigestion, check the heartburn, and make it possible for you to eat what you like whenever you like, come back and get your money.

Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only at our store. Three sizes, 25c, 50c, and $1.00.

—McDermid & Jury, E. L. Payne, Peterborough, Ont.

The Door Will Get Dirty!

Especially where there are children in the house, but Panshine makes doors, floors, tables, and cupboards, wondrous clean—a joy to look on. It shines everything—does the magic cleanser

PANSHINE

Panshine absorbs dirt and grease and grime as nothing else does. It makes the disagreeable part of kitchen work and cleaning, scouring and scrubbing simple and easy. Positively will not harm the hands.

Larger Either Size 10c.

At All Grocers

HOUSE GOT HEATED

Dr. McQueen and Capt. Machin Precipitated Wordy War

Z. MAGEAU'S BILL FALLS

TORONTO, April 3.—There was an exciting passage of arms in the Legislature last evening between Dr. McQueen (Lib., N. Wentworth) and Capt. Machin (Con., Kenora), which brought the members on both sides to their feet and for a time threatened the equilibrium of the Assembly.

It arose over a statement by Dr. McQueen that the liquor laws in Kenora riding were not as well enforced as they might be, and that when excursions passed through the town the inspector was frequently absent.

Hon. W. J. Hanna briefly replied that all appointments had been made in order, and that the enforcement was good in all respects.

Capt. Machin then took the floor, and retaliated on Dr. McQueen to the effect that the member for N. Wentworth had no right to preach temperance when he himself had broken the laws by giving a man on the Indian list more than the legal six ounces of whisky. Capt. Machin produced the orders in question. Dr. McQueen rose to give the history of the affair, which he said had been fully canvassed by his political enemies in North Wentworth. The man had come to the office on a Sunday on the verge of delirium tremens and his priest had urged the prescription.

Finally the uproar calmed and the House returned to business. Z. Mageau's bill to permit local option in assessment in the New Ontario districts was discussed, and defeated on division.

The debate was confined chiefly to two northern members, both of whom represent ridings that would be interested in the proposal. Z. Mageau championed his bill and Albert Grigg of Algoma, was a very vigorous opponent.

Hon Mr. Hanna said the principle of the bill was the same as that thrown out earlier, but that he had heard the case with interest, because of all places in the province the north would without doubt be the most favorable for such a scheme. Conditions in the west were partly experienced in the new parts of Ontario. He could not see, however, that it would relieve problems in the way hoped for.

The Ontario redistribution bill advanced another short stage in the Legislature yesterday. The whole matter now goes into the hands of a special committee of the House, which includes members from both parties, the second reading having been passed without dissent.

The members on the special committee which will guide it through the preliminary stages are as follows: Hon. Messrs. Hanna, Lucas and Preston, and Messrs. McDiarmid, Fraser, Hartt, Rose, Rowell, Clarke, Proudfoot and Bowman.

Three hundred square miles of fine timber land bearing great promise of future values will be added to the large reserve now known as Algonquin Park as the latest stroke of the Ontario Government in the conservation of this branch of natural resources. The price for this area is $185,000, and the compact received the sanction of the House yesterday afternoon after a long discussion. The present owners of the land in question are known as the Pembroke Lumber Co., and the matter arose in the House on the solicitation of Hon. W. H. Hearst, who has been negotiating for some time with a view to quelling the tangible aspects of the province in the north land.

In criticising Mr. Hearst's proposal Sam Clarke (W. Northumberland) felt that if they took the Minister's estimate of the situation as matter of fact, they were getting a marvelous bargain, but he advocated a still further report by other forestry experts in the employ of the Government.

METROPOLITAN TO QUIT.

Archbishop Hamilton of Ottawa Gives Advanced Age as Reason.

OTTAWA, April 3. — Most Rev. Charles Hamilton, Anglican Archbishop of Ottawa and metropolitan of Ontario, in a circular letter to the clergy and members of the church yesterday, announced his resignation to take effect on June 22 next. His advanced age is the reason for the step. The announcement is received with general surprise and regret.

Archbishop Hamilton was born in Hawkesbury, Ont., on Jan. 6, 1834. His father was Lt.-Col. Hon. George H. Hamilton, founder of the Hawkesbury Lumber Mills. He was educated at Montreal High School and University College, Oxford, Eng. His ordination as deacon of St. Matthew's Cathedral, Quebec, took place on Sept. 21, 1857. He was subsequently appointed rector. In 1885 he was enthroned Bishop of Niagara and resided at Hamilton until 1896, when he came to Ottawa. In 1909 he was made Archbishop of Ottawa and metropolitan of the ecclesiastical province of Ontario.

TRUST IN BATH-TUBS?

Big Dealers Agreed on Advance in Price Declares Paper.

MONTREAL, April 3. — The Star yesterday announced the disclosure of an alleged "bath-tub trust" in Canada, whereby prices on all enamelled ware were to be raised 15 per cent. and kept there.

Thirty large jobbers, it is asserted, joined certain firms in a plan to increase the prices on bath-tubs, lavatory equipment, and similar goods in Canada 15 per cent.

The duty on imported goods of this character is 35 per cent., and it is alleged the jobbers agreed not to sell any imported article at a lower price than that agreed on for the Canadian make.

It is further alleged that the collected sums obtained from the increase in price was to be pooled and divided among those in the agreement.

Not many months ago the American "bath-tub trust" was smashed by the courts.

Had Painful Experience.

PETROLEA, April 3.—For three or four hours Mrs. Donald Morrison of this town lay in a most painful posture, unable to help herself, as a result of a paralytic stroke. Mrs. Morrison is in her 84th year. She went into the hencoop, and while there was stricken with paralysis in the right side and lay with her feet doubled up and suspended over a railing 18 inches high, until accidentally discovered by Miss Bessie Gregory. Little hope is held for her recovery.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

are made according to a formula in use nearly a century ago among the Indians, and learned from them by Dr. Morse. Though repeated attempts have been made, by physicians and chemists, it has been found impossible to improve the formula or the pills. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are a household remedy throughout the world for Constipation and all Kidney and Liver troubles. They act promptly and effectively, and

Cleanse the System

HAGGIS' CONFECTIONERY

For home-made Candies try Haggis. We keep the best and freshest quality in the City.

Try our Ice Cream, always on hand. Fresh and Wholesome.

HAGGIS' CONFECTIONERY
382 Geo. St. Opposite Gaslton's.

ASSESSMENT RETURNS FROM THE EAST WARD

Martin Kylie, owner, 556 Rogers street. Part lots 6 and 7, Plan 3, south of Clifton street. Frontage 46 feet. Land value $230. Buildings $500. Total taxable property $730. S.S.S.

Martin Kylie, owner, 558 Rogers street. Part lot 7, Plan 3, south of Clifton street. Frontage 21 feet. Land value $120. Buildings $100. Total taxable property $220. Business assessment $100. Total assessment $320. S.S.S.

Mrs. Katherine Wand, owner, lots 21 and 22, north of Clifton street. Frontage 91 feet 3 inches. Land values $250 and $200. No buildings. Total taxable property $450. P.S.S.

Peter McGillan, tenant, 576 Roger street. Owner Mrs. Katherine Wand. Lot 23, north of Clifton street. Frontage 48 feet 9 inches. Land value $220. Buildings $950. Total taxable property $1,170. S.S.S.

Laughlin Anderson, tenant, 580 Rogers street. Owner Mrs. Katherine Wand. Lot 6, north of Clifton street. Frontage 48 feet 9 inches. Land value $220. Buildings $950. Total taxable property $1,170. P.S.S.

Alexander Patterson, owner, lots 7, 8, 9, 10, north of Clifton street. Frontage about 200 feet. Each lot valued at $200. No buildings. Total taxable property $800. P.S.S.

Josiah Gillard Estate, owner, lots 11 and 12, north of Clifton street. Land value $300. No buildings. Total taxable property $300. P.S.S.

Stephen Corkery, tenant, 616 Rogers street. Owner J. Hanard. South part lot 13, south of Hazlitt street. Land value $130. Buildings $330. Total taxable property $460. S.S.S.

James Mead, owner, 618 Rogers street. North part lot 13, south of Hazlitt street. Land value $110. Buildings $350. Total taxable property $450. S.S.S.

Michael Guerin, owner, 650 Rogers street. Lot 23 and 24, south of Hazlitt street, and lot 17, south of Hazlitt street. Frontage 73 feet 10 inches on Hazlitt street. Land values $400 and $150. Buildings $800. Total taxable property $1,350. Business assessment $100. Total assessment $1,450.

Thos. Starr, owner, 656 Rogers street. South part lots 16 and 17, north of Hazlitt street. Land value $250. Buildings $400. Total taxable property $650. P.S.S.

Earnest Holden, tenant, 662 Rogers street. Owner Thos. Starr. North part lots 16 and 17, north of Hazlitt street. Land value $100. Buildings $100. Total taxable property $200. P.S.S.

ROGERS STREET—WEST SIDE.

Frederick Dover, owner, lot 60, north of Maria, and south part lot 59, north of Maria street. Land value $250. No buildings. Total taxable property $250. P.S.S.

C. P. R. Co., frontage .

Burnham Estate, owners, lots 58, north of Maria street. Land value $250. No buildings. Total taxable property $250. P.S.S.

Hugh McWha, owner, 249 Rogers street. East part lot 57, south of James street. Land value $350. Buildings $400. Total taxable property $750. P.S.S.

Burnham Estate, owners, lots 84, 85, 86, 87, 88 and 90, Plan 27A. Frontage 385 feet 3 inches. Land values $250, $250, $260, $260, $260, $260. No buildings. Total taxable property $1,540. P.S.S.

Fredrick Long, owner, south part lot 82, Plan 27A. North of Sophia street. Frontage 66 feet. Land value $700. No buildings. Total taxable property $700. P.S.S.

Frank Whitehouse, tenant, 309 Rogers street. Owner Mrs. Effie Porter. North part lot 82, Plan 27A. North of Sophia street. Frontage 59 feet 4 inches. Land value $400. Buildings $1,400. Total taxable property $1,800. P.S.S.

Hannah Dickson, owner, 321 Rogers street. Lot 81, Plan 27A. North of Sophia. Frontage 59 feet 4 inches. Land value $400. Buildings $1,400. Total taxable property $1,800. P.S.S.

Geo. E. Revel, owner, lot 80, Plan 27A. North of Sophia street. Frontage 39 feet 4 inches. Land value $400. No buildings. Total taxable property $400. P.S.S.

Florence Revel and Charlotte Revel, owners, 333 Rogers street. Lot 79, Plan 27A. North of Sophia street. Frontage 59 feet 4 inches. Land value $400. Buildings $1,550. Total taxable property $1,950. P.S.S.

Harry Phillips and James Burgess, tenants, 335 and 337 Rogers street. Owner Henry Carveth. Frontage 59 feet 4 inches. Land value $350. Buildings $1,800. Total taxable property $2,150. Former assessed $1,080, and latter $1,070. P.S.S.

Charles Theobald, tenant, 345 Rogers street. Owner John Meekles. Northeast part lot 49, south of Robinson street. Land value $350. Buildings $550. Total taxable property $900. S.S.S.

Burnham Estate, owners, east part lot 48, north of Robinson street, and part lot 4, north of Robinson street. Frontages 135 feet 9 inches, and 56 feet. Land values $400 and $200. No buildings. Total taxable property $600. P.S.S.

James Mongraw and Wm. Ward, tenant and owner, 359 Rogers street. North part lot 47, north of Robinson street. Frontage 56 feet. Land value $350. Buildings $750. Total taxable property $1,100. Each assessed $550. S.S.S. and P.S.S.

W. J. Fergusion and Frank O'Donoghue, tenants, 367 Rogers street. Owner Alexander Edmonds. Lot 46, north of Robinson street. Frontage 68 feet. Land value $600. Buildings $800. Total taxable property $1,400. Former assessed $600, and latter $800. P.S.S. and S.S.S.

Alexander Edmonds, owner, lot 45, north of Robinson street. Frontage 101 feet 3 inches. Land value $600. No buildings. Total taxable property $600. P.S.S.

Mrs. Mary Brownlee, owner, 383 Rogers street. Lot 44, south of Hunter street. Frontage 95 feet 3 inches. Land value $560. Buildings $90. Total taxable property $650. P.S.S.

George Peters, owner, 387 Rogers street. South part lot 5, south of Hunter street. Frontage 50 feet. Land value $350. Buildings $450. Total taxable property $800. P.S.S.

R. B. Rogers, owner, flankage 144 feet.

John. T. Craig, owner, flankage 110 feet 6 inches.

Neil Tobin, tenant, 413 Roger street. Owner. John S. Craig. Part lot 5, north of Hunter street. Frontage 30 feet 9 inches. Land value $100. Buildings $850. Total taxable property $950. S.S.S.

Richard Record, owner, 417 Rogers street. North part lot 5, north of Hunter street. Frontage 51 feet 3 inches. Land value $250. Buildings $600. Total taxable property $850. P.S.S.

Fred Legion, tenant, 425 Rogers street. Owner David Hunter. Lot 204, north of Hunter street. Frontage 70 feet. Land value $420. Buildings $300. Total taxable property $720. P.S.S.

Alfred Simmons, tenant, 431 Rogers street. Owner John Record. Lot 205, north of Hunter street. Frontage 68 feet. Land value $410. Buildings $340. Total taxable property $750. P.S.S.

Stephen Gaskin, owner, 435 Rogers street. Lot 206, north of Hunter street. Frontage 63 feet 6 inches. Land value $200. Buildings $1,600. Total taxable property $1,800. P.S.S.

Simon Clancy, owner, 459 Roger street. Lots 207, 208 and 209, north of Hunter street. Frontage 204 feet. Land value $500. Buildings $1,200. Total taxable property $1,700. S.S.S.

W. J. O'Brien, owner, 465 Rogers street. Lot 210, north of Hunter street. Frontage 68 feet 4 inches. Land value $400. Buildings $550. Total taxable property $950. S.S.S.

Geo. S. Herald, tenant, 471 Rogers street. Owner Geo. Duncan. Part lot 6, south of Douro street. Frontage 33 feet. Land value $220. Buildings $520. Total taxable property $740. P.S.S.

John Taylor, tenant, 473 Rogers street, Owner Geo. Duncan. Centre part lot 6, south of Douro street. Frontage 33 feet. Land value $220. Buildings $520. Total taxable property $740. P.S.S.

Mrs. Sarah Sheridan, owner, 475 Rogers street. North part lot 6, north of Douro street. Frontage 32 feet 3 inches. Land value $220. Buildings $1,020. Total taxable property $1,240. S.S.S.

Mrs. Mary Anne McAuliffe, owner, lot 7, south of Douro street. Frontage 93 feet 3 inches. Land value $650. No buildings. Total taxable property $650. S.S.S.

Thos. O'Brien, tenant, 489 Rogers street. Owner Mrs. Mary O'Brien. Southeast part lot 211, south of Douro street. Frontage 72 feet. Land value $400. Buildings $250. Total taxable property $650. S.S.S.

A. J. Warne, owner, centre part lot 211 and 212, south of Douro street. Frontage 33 feet. Land value $150. No buildings. Total taxable property $150. P.S.S.

Edward Avery and Daniel Conneley, tenants, 497 Rogers street. Owner Sidney Crowe. East part lots 211 and 212, south of Douro street. Frontage 34 feet. Land value $150. Buildings $1,100. Total taxable property $1,250. S.S.S.

Geo. J. Johnston, tenant, 499 Rogers street. Owner W. B. Warne. Northeast part lot 211 and 212, south of Douro street. Frontage 28 feet. Land value $150. Buildings $1,150. Total taxable property $1,300. P.S.S.

W. J. Mus, owner, flankage.

T. H. Girven, owner, 523 Rogers street. North part lot 24 and 25, north of Douro street. Frontage 35 feet. Land value $170. Buildings $1,200. Total taxable property $1,370. P.S.S.

Henry T. Girven, tenant, 529 Rogers street. Owner Geo. Mathers. Lot 26, north of Douro. Frontage 60 feet 3 inches. Land value $330. Buildings $550. Total taxable property $880. P.S.S.

John J. Young, owner, 531 Rogers street. Lot 1, Plan 24, north of Douro street. Frontage 44 feet. Land value $240. Buildings $550. Total taxable property $790. S.S.S.

Stanley Cummings, tenant, 533 Rogers street. Owner John J. Young. Part lots 1 and 2, Plan 24, north of Douro street. Frontage 28 feet. Land value $150. Buildings $1,200. Total taxable property $1,350. P.S.S.

(Continued on Page 2.)

3 SAT. SPECIALS At McDermid and Jury's Drug Store

No. 1—
A Chamois, a Vanity Box and a 25c Tin of Rexall Talc. All for one price of 25c.

No. 2—
Tiger Hand Cleaner, worth 15c a Can, for 7c on Saturday.

No. 3—
25c Hair Brush and a 15c Mirror. Both for 25c.

McDERMID & JURY
The Safe Satisfactory Druggists
Cor. GEORGE & CHARLOTTE

TRACK GAVE WAY.

Two Men Killed When the Engine Plunges Down Bank.

TORONTO, April 3.—George Vincent, 484 Clendenan avenue, engineer, and A. Sinclair, St. John's road, Toronto, fireman, were instantly killed, and S. Shenstone, 1,472 Dundas street, Toronto, brakeman, injured, when the engine of a C.P.R. construction train plunged down a 50-foot embankment at Brock road, a mile and a quarter east of Cherrywood, which is 25 miles east from Toronto, at 10.15 a.m. yesterday.

The train had just reached one of the newly-constructed culverts when without warning the track sank beneath the weight of the engine, which broke away from the track and plunged down the embankment to the side of the track.

All three men were in the engine at the time. Sinclair and Shenstone jumped for their lives as the engine started on its downward course. Shenstone was fortunate enough to fall clear of the engine, but Sinclair fell under it and was crushed to death.

Vincent was at the throttle when the engine plunged and did not have time to get where he could jump from the engine.

He was instantly killed.

Shenstone was rushed to Toronto, where he was taken to the Western Hospital. He is suffering from scalp wounds, injured left leg and possible internal injuries.

Owing to the fact that the cars of the train stayed on the road bed the rest of the crew escaped injury.

The cause of the wreck was the collapse of a culvert, the earth around which had been loosened by the heavy rain.

An inquest will be opened in Toronto to-day.

Youths Found Guilty.

PERTH, Ont., April 3. — At the criminal assizes for the County of Lanark, Sir Glenholme Falconbridge presiding, James Sutton, aged 18, formerly of Wexford, Ireland, and William Evans, aged 19, formerly of London, Eng., found guilty of having attempted to wreck a C.P.R. train on March 16 last, were remanded for sentence. They will probably be sent to Guelph prison farm.

That Feeling Of Security

HAVE you noticed the decreasing number of cords or chains attached to Eyeglasses?

THIS is largely because a recent improvement on the Fowler Eyeglass Mount enables us to fit you with Eyeglasses so securely yet comfortably that they do not require a chain to keep them on.

THESE Fowler Mounts are guaranteed to give perfect comfort, and you will certainly admit, when you see them, that they present a remarkable handsome appearance.

DROP IN and examine one of these Mounts. Price $3.

REMEMBER we use PEBLO Quality Lenses in all our Glasses.

A. A. FOWLER
Phm. B.
EYESIGHT SPECIALIST
10 years of continuous successful Optical Service in this City.
Optical Parlour and Lens Grinding Plant with
NUGENT DRUG CO'Y
386 George St., Peterborough

CLARK'S
PLUM PUDDING
Ready to serve after heating—unsurpassed for quality and flavour. Don't waste your time in preparation.
—Buy "Clark's". 11
W. Clark Ltd. Montreal

TRANSPORTATION
London
From St. John — From Bristol
Apr. 8 - R. M. S. Royal George - Apr. 22
Apr. 22 - R. M. S. Royal Edward - May 6
From Montreal & Quebec — From Bristol
May 6 - R. M. S. Royal George - May 20
Suites of apartments with private baths, luxuriously fitted public cabins treated after historical periods, club-like comforts and service provide complete rest and pleasure on the Atlantic Royals. For beautifully illustrated booklets, write to 52 King St. East, Toronto, Ontario.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
SETTLERS' FARES
(One Way Second Class)
From stations in Ontario, Kingston, Renfrew and west to points in Alberta and Saskatchewan.
Each Tuesday During March and April
LOW COLONIST FARES
(One-Way Second-Class)
From stations in Ontario in certain points in Alberta, British Columbia, Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Texas, Utah and Washington
On sale March 15th to April 15th, inclusive
Full particulars at all Grand Trunk Ticket Offices or write C. E. HORNING, D.P.A., Toronto, Ont.
B. A. ROSE City Passenger and Ticket Agent.
F. SANDY Station Ticket Agent

CANADIAN PACIFIC
COLONIST FARES
(ONE-WAY SECOND CLASS)
From stations in Ontario to certain points in Alberta — British Columbia
California — Montana
Oregon — Washington
Arizona — Idaho, etc.
Daily until April 15th
REDUCED SETTLERS' FARES
(ONE-WAY SECOND CLASS)
EACH TUESDAY, MARCH AND APRIL
Through Trains Toronto to Winnipeg and West. Colonist Cars on All Trains. No charge for Berths.
Particulars from Canadian Pacific Agents or write M. G. Murphy, D.P.A., Toronto.
J. Skinner, C.P.A., 343 George Street.

Railway Time Tables

GRAND TRUNK

	ARRIVE.	DEPART
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Stouffville and Toronto	11.34 a.m. 9.00 p.m.	8.20 a.m. 5.55 p.m.
Port Hope and points east of Montreal and Boston	8.10 a.m. 5.30 p.m.	8.10 a.m. 9.05 p.m.
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago and west, Niagara Falls, Buffalo	12.16 p.m. 5.30 p.m.	11.40 a.m.
Cobourg, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 5.30 p.m.	9.05 p.m. 8.10 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay Stouffville, Uxbridge Markham Lindsay Local	11.34 a.m. 9.00 p.m. 10.15 p.m. 7.55 a.m.	7.10 a.m. 8.20 a.m. 5.55 p.m. 8.55 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 5.30 p.m.	8.20 a.m. 1.30 p.m.
Lakefield	8.05 a.m. 5.15 p.m. 7.00 p.m.	7.00 a.m. 12.39 p.m. 5.40 p.m.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

Going East—
Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec	11.43 a.m.
*Indian River, Norwood Havelock, Tweed	9.47 a.m.
Havelock, Montreal, Quebec, St. John, N.B., Boston	12.15 a.m.
Havelock, Montreal, Quebec, St. John, N.B., Boston	12.58 a.m.
Ottawa Special for Smith's Falls and Ottawa only	1.20 a.m.
Going West—
Toronto, Guelph, Goderich	4.37 a.m.
Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, New York, Galt, Woodstock, St. Thomas, London, Chatham, Detroit, Chicago	5.34 a.m.
North Toronto, West Toronto Local for Cavanville, Burketon, Bobcaygeon, Myrtle, Toronto	6.18 a.m. 7.45 a.m.
Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, New York, Detroit, Chicago	4.33 p.m.
Local points from Port McNichol, Peterboro, Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	6.37 p.m.
New train for Lindsay, Orillia and Port McNichol	9.14 a.m.

*Daily except Sunday

OUR SERIAL STORY PAGE

"THE MAYOR'S WIFE"

By ANNA KATHARINE GREEN

(Continued from yesterday.)

She must have looked majestic. Her voice was thrilled with anticipated triumph rang through the room, awakening echoes which surely must have touched the heart of this man if, as I had sometimes thought, he cherished an unwelcome admiration for her.

But when he answered there was no hint in his finely modulated tones of any chord having been touched in his breast, save the legitimate one of respectful appreciation of a woman who fulfilled the expectation of one alive to what is admirable in her sex.

"Your idea is a happy one," said he. "I can give you three names now. Those of Judge Whittaker, Mr. Dumont, the lawyer, and the two Mowries, father and son."

"Thank you. I am indebted to you, Mr. Steele, for the patience with which you have met and answered my doubts."

He made some reply, added something about not seeing her again till he returned with the mayor, then I heard the door open and quietly shut.

The interview was over, without my having felt called upon to show myself.

An interval of silence, and then I heard her voice. She had thrown herself down at the piano and was singing gaily, ecstatically.

Approaching her in undisguised wonder at this new mood, I stood at her back and listened. I do not suppose she had what is called a great voice, but the feeling back of it at this moment of reaction gave it a great quality. The piece—some operatic aria—was sung in a way to thrill the soul. Opening with a burst, it ended with low notes of an intense sweetness like sobs, not of grief, but happiness. In their midst and while the tones sank deepest, a child's voice rose in the hall and we heard, uttered at the very door:

"Mama busy; mama sing."

With a cry she sprang from the piano, and bounding to the door, flung it open and caught her child in her arms.

"Darling! darling! my darling!" she exclaimed in a burst of motherrapture," crushing the child to her breast and kissing it repeatedly.

Then she began to dance, holding the baby in her arms and humming a waltz. As I stood on one side in my own mood of excited sympathy, I caught fleeting glimpses of their two faces, as she went whirling about. Hers was beautiful in her new relief—if it was a relief—the child's dimpled with delight at the rapid movement—a lovely picture. Letty, who stood waiting in the doorway, showed a countenance full of surprise. Mrs. Packard was the first to feel tired. Stopping her dance, she peered round at the baby's face and laughed.

"Was that good?" she asked. "Are you glad to have mama merry again? I am going to be merry all the time now. With such a dear, dear dearie of a baby, how can I help it." And whirling about in my direction, she held up the child for inspection, crying: "Isn't she a darling! Do you wonder at my happiness?"

Indeed? I did not; the sweet baby face full of glee was irresistible; so was the pat-pat of the two dimpled hands on her mother's houlders. With a longing all women can understand, I held out my own arms.

"I wonder if she will come to me?" said I.

But though I got a smile the little hands closed more tightly round the mother's neck.

"Mama dear!" she cried, "mama dear!" and the tender emphasis on the endearing word completed the charm. Tears sprang to Mrs. Packard's eyes, and it was with difficulty that she passed thechinging child over to the nurse waiting to take her out.

"That was the happiest moment of my life!" fell unconsciously from Mrs. Packard's lips as the two disappeared; but presently, meeting my eyes, she blushed and made haste to remark:

"I certainly did Mr. Steele an ardent injustice. He was very respectful; I wonder how I ever got the idea he could be anything else."

Anxious myself about this very fact, I attempted to reply, but she gave me no opportunity.

"And now for those dinner invitations!" she gaily suggested. "While I feel like it I must busy myself in making out my list. It will give me something now to think about."

CHAPTER XVII.

The Two Weird Sisters.

Ellen seemed to understand my anxiety about Mrs. Packard and to sympathize with it. That afternoon, as I passed her in the hall she whispered softly:

"I have just been unpacking that bag and putting everything back into place. She told me she had packed it in readiness to go with Mr. Packard if he desired it at the last minute."

I doubted this final statement, but the fact that the bag had been unpacked gave me great relief. I began to look forward with much pleasure to a night of unbroken rest.

Alas! rest was not for me yet. Relieved as to Mrs. Packard, I found my mind immediately reverting to the topic which had before engrossed it, though always before in her connection. The mystery of the so-called ghosts had been explained, but not the loss of the bonds, which had driven my poor neighbours mad. This was still a fruitless subject of thought, though I knew that such well-balanced and practical minds as Mayor Packard's or Mr. Steele's would have but little sympathy with the theory ever recurring to me. Could this money be still in the house?—thepossibility of such a fact worked and worked upon my imagination till I grew as restless as I had been over the mystery of the ghosts and presently quite as ready for action.

Possibly the hurried glimpse I had got of Miss Thankful's countenance a little while before, in the momentary visit she paid to the attic window at which I had been accustomed to see either her or her sister constantly sit, inspired me with my present interest in this old and wearing trouble of theirs and the condition intow hich it had thrown their minds.

I thought of their nights of broken rest while they were ransacking the roms below and testing over and over the same boards, the same panels for the secret hiding-place of their lost treasure, of their folish attempts to scare away all other intruders and the racking of nerve and muscle which must have attended efforts so out of keeping with their age and infirmities.

It would be natural to regard the whole matter as an hallucination on their part, to disbelieve in the existence of the bonds, and to regard Miss Thankful's whole story to Mrs. Packard as the play of a diseased imagination.

But I could not, would not, carry my own doubts to this extent. The bonds had been in existence; Miss Thankful had seen them; and the one question calling for answer now was, whether they had ben ong ago found and carried off, or whether they were still within the reach of the fortunate hand capable of discovingtheir hiding-place.

The nurse who, according to Miss Thankful, had wakened such dread in the dying man's breast as to drive him to the attempt which had ended in this complete loss of the whole treasure, appeared to me the chief factor in the first history. If any one had ever found these bonds, it was she; how, it was not for me to say, in my present ignorant state of the events following the reckoning of the house after this old man's death and burial. But the supposition of an utter failure on the part of this woman and of every other subsequent resident of the house to discover this mysterious hiding-place, wakened in me no real instinct of search. I felt absolutely and at once that any such effort in my present blind state of mind would be totally unavailing. The secret trap and the passage it led to, with all the opportunities they offered for the concealment of a few folded documents, did not, strange as it may appear at first blush, suggest the spot where these papers might be ying hid. The manipulation of the concealed mechanism and the difficulties attending a descent there, even on the part of a well man, struck me as precluding all idea of any such solution to this mystery. Strong as dying men sometimes are in the last flickering up of life in the speedily dissolving frome, the lowering of this trap, and above all, the drawing of it back into place which I instinctively felt would be the hardest act of the two, would be beyond the utmost fire or force conceivable in a dying man.

(To be continued.)

PILES Do not suffer another day with Itching, Bleeding, or Protruding Piles. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once and as certainly cure you. 60c. a box; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Sample box free if you mention this paper and enclose 2c. stamp to pay postage.

Strength and Beauty
Come With Dr. Pierce's
Golden Medical Discovery
This is a blood cleanser and alterative that starts the liver and stomach into vigorous action. It thus assists the body to manufacture rich red blood which feeds the heart—nerves—brain and organs of the body. The organs work smoothly like machinery running in oil. You feel clean, strong and strenuous instead of tired, weak and faint. Nowadays you can obtain Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery Tablets, as well as the liquid form from all medicine dealers, or trial box of tablets by mail, on receipt of 50c. Address R.V. Pierce, M.D., Buffalo, N.Y.
Dr. Pierce's Great 1008 Page Illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent FREE, Cloth Bound for 31 One-cent Stamps.

For biliousness, constipation, sick-headache, or any ailment arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, take
"Keep the Nation Healthy" Wesden's Pills "Keep the Nation Healthy"
Act directly on the stomach and liver. 25c box
Sold and guaranteed in Peterboro by
James Lynch, Druggist, 168 HUNTER ST.
The Warne Drug Co. Limited, 351 GEORGE STREET

THE BANK OF OTTAWA
ESTABLISHED 1874.
HEAD OFFICE, - - OTTAWA, Canada.
Travellers' and Commercial Letters of Credit
Negotiable throughout the world, furnish a most safe and convenient method of obtaining funds when travelling abroad.
Peterboro Branch, Geo. St., G. C. Wainwright, Manager

SEAL BRAND COFFEE
The Finishing Touch To A Perfect Meal
CHASE & SANBORN
MONTREAL. 147

MODERN HOMES BOARDING HOUSES

A Bishop Deplores Those Tendencies Which Destroy Home Life in Modern Times

"Our idea of a home to-day is that of a boarding house where people lodge, and sleep at night. The old beautiful idea of the fireside and the family circle is gone. As soon as the last cup of coffee is drunk in the morning the man of to-day hurries off to his business, and as soon as he finishes his evening meal, out he goes to the streets for pleasure."

In these words the Bishop of Toronto arraigned the modern tendency which disrupts home life, during the course of a sermon at St. Alban's. "Our permanency as a nation depends upon our honoring God's law," added he, and pointed out how the selfish desire for pleasure is leading to the destruction of home life. The menace to the nation from the apartment house, where children are not desired because of the trouble they entail, was also referred to, the preacher characterizing it as "a blotting out of the purpose of holy matrimony and a shirking of responsibilities to the State."

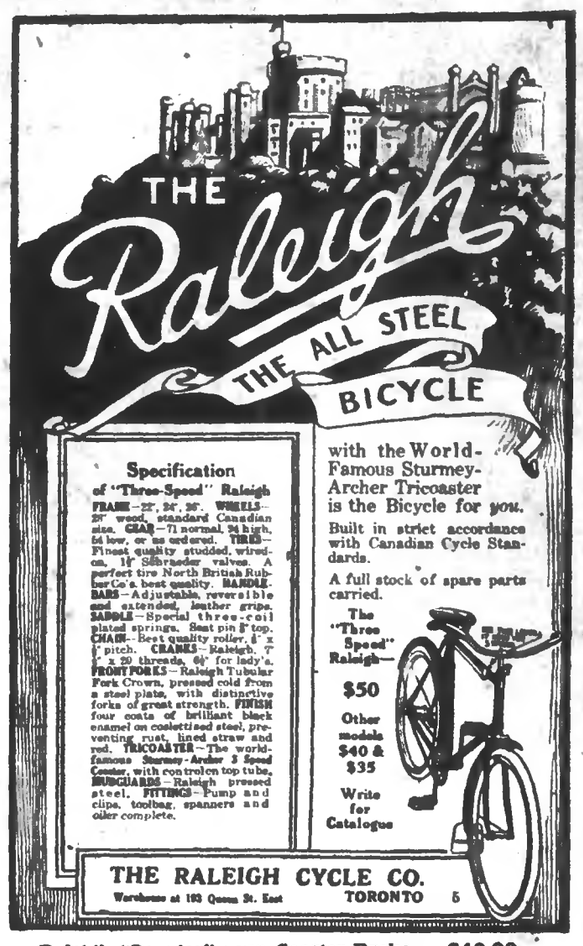
About Shampooing

Even the best shampoo is somewhat drying, and if the hair is not naturally oily, I suggest that just before the shampoo, you apply olive oil to the scalp, rubbing it into the hair roots vigorously. Then use pure stallax for the shampoo. Dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This will leave the hair very clean, soft and fluffy.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.
Genuine
Carter's Little Liver Pills.
Must Bear Signature of
Brent Good
See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.
Very small and as easy to take as sugar.
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS
FOR HEADACHE. FOR DIZZINESS. FOR BILIOUSNESS. FOR TORPID LIVER. FOR CONSTIPATION FOR SALLOW SKIN. FOR THE COMPLEXION
Purely Vegetable.
CURE SICK HEADACHE.

EDWIN ELCOME
Taxidermist.
Heads, Animals, Birds, Fish, etc mounted artistically and permanent. Heads of Deer, Moose, Caribou Elk, etc., our Specialty.
Heads, Animals, Birds, Fish, Artificial Eyes, Taxidermist supplies. Bird and Flower Guide Books for sale.
692 Harvey St.
Peterborough — Ontario

PETERBOROUGH
COLD STORAGE
In full operation
All kinds of
COAL in Stock at Market Price
Both 'Phones 282
W. SCOTT CO., LIMITED
East End



Specification of "Three-Speed" Raleigh
FRAME—22", 24", 26". WHEELS—28" wood, standard Canadian size. GEAR—71 normal, 94 high, 64 low, or as ordered. TIRES—Finest quality studded, wired-on, 1¼" Schraeder valves. A perfect tire North British Rubber Co's. best quality. HANDLE-BARS—Adjustable, reversible and extended, leather grips. SADDLE—Special three-coil plated springs. Seat pin 5" top. CHAIN—Best quality roller, ½" x ⅜" pitch. CRANKS—Raleigh, 7" x 20 threads, ⅝" for lady's. FRONT FORKS—Raleigh Tubular Fork Crown, pressed cold from a steel plate, with distinctive forks of great strength. FINISH four coats of brilliant black enamel on coalettised steel, preventing rust, lined straw and red. TRICOASTER—The world-famous Sturmey-Archer 3 Speed Coaster, with control on top tube. MUDGUARDS—Raleigh pressed steel. FITTINGS—Pump and clips, toolbag, spanners and oiler complete. with the World-Famous Sturmey-Archer Tricoaster is the Bicycle for you.
Built in strict accordance with Canadian Cycle Standards.
A full stock of spare parts carried.
The "Three Speed" Raleigh— $50
Other models $40 & $35
Write for Catalogue
THE RALEIGH CYCLE CO.
Warehouse at 193 Queen St. East — TORONTO 5
Raleigh "Popular" with Coaster Brake....$40.00
" "Gazelle " $35.00
DEALERS WANTED

A quiet, dignified bearing and quiet manner can pretty safely be counted upon to protect a girl from annoyance on the street. A girl has only herself to blame, if, by loud manner or exaggerated style of dress, she invites trouble. Men take "a dare," and they read a dare in the dress and manners of women, sometimes innocently enough assumed on the street.

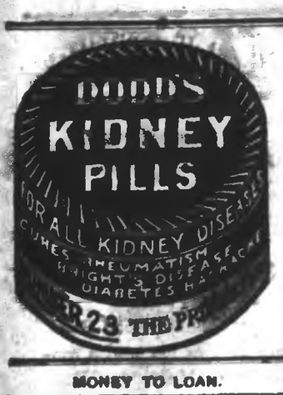
Mothers should teach young girls the importance of modesty and self-respect, which is protection to womanhood everywhere.

Untidiness on the street is unforgivable at any time, but especially in a young girl who has no excuse for it. In the glare of the street every defect is magnified — a button off, spotted coat, unpressed clothes, all attract unfavourable attention.

Take the "stitch in time," clean off spots, and press your clothes, then with good shoes and gloves you will be attractive. Remember, girls, cleanliness in itself is attractive. Do not depend entirely on your good looks.

THE IMPERIAL LIFE
Assurance Co. of Canada
Each Premium Paid
On an IMPERIAL POLICY is so much money saved—not spent. Your family will reap the reward some day, or you may live to enjoy it yourself. In every case a Policy in THE IMPERIAL LIFE is
A Good Investment
W. G. MORROW, Agent
437 George Street

NO BETTER TIME!
TO HAVE YOUR PROPERTY INSURED AGAINST LOSS BY FIRE THAN NOW.
No better or safer Companies to take out a policy with, than those we represent.
You may have much or little, it's worth insuring.
See us about Fire Insurance To-Day!
Davis-Thompson Company
LIMITED
Insurance and General Agency
PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO.



MONEY TO LOAN.

MONEY TO LOAN—On Mortgage Security on Farm and City property on lowest rates of interest. C. H. Cowdry, Barrister, etc., 297 George Street.

MONEY TO LOAN—On Farm and Town property, at lowest current rates on easiest terms of payment. HALL, REDD & DAVIDSON, Successors to Stratton & Hall, Barristers, Peterborough, Ont. Office — Over the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

MONEY TO LEND—On first-class City and Farm Securities only, on current rates. KERRIDGE & GOODWILL, Barristers, Solicitors, etc., No. 371 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone No. 191. J. W. Kerr; E. L. Goodwill.

MEDICAL.

DR. BUCHANAN, F.R.C.S., Edin., M.R.C.S., Eng., L.R.C.P., London. Eye, Ear, Nose, and Throat Specialist. Hours—9:30 a.m.; 2-4 p.m.; 7-8 p.m. 'Phone 612. Office: Corner Water and Murray.

T.W.H. YOUNG M.D., C.M.
L.R.C.P., L.R.C.S., L.M., L.F.P.S., P.T.M.C.
Diseases of Women and Children
Stewart St. 'Phones 247

CHIROPRACTIC.

DR. E. W. KIRKWOOD, Chiropractor, 'Phone 226. Office hours—8 to 10 a.m., 1 to 3 p.m., 6 to 7 p.m. 467 Water Street, Peterborough, Ont.

OSTEOPATHY.

DR. ASA G. WALMSLEY — Osteopathic Physician. Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce; Hunter Street Entrance 'Phone: Office, 649; Residence, 609. Office Hours—9 to 12 a.m.; 2 to 5 p.m. Evenings by appointment.

DR. IVA M. CARUTHERS, Osteopath. Office: Bank of Commerce Building, opposite Post Office. Hours—10 to 12 a.m. 2 to 5 p.m., and by appointment. 'Phone 144. Residence 'Phone 1289.

LEGAL.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries Office, 41 Water Street, Peterborough. Money to Loan at lowest current rates of interest, on easy terms of repayment. E. A. Peck, F. D. Kerr, V. J. McElderry.

C. H. GORDON.—Barrister, Solicitor Notary Public and Conveyancer. Commissioner for New York State. Money to Loan. Office upstairs, first door south of Madill's Drug Store. Bell 'Phone 63; Machine 'Phone 169. 397½ George St.

CORNELL & CORKERY.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries, Hunter Street, two doors west of Post Office. Daniel O'Connell, John B. Corkery.

RUDDY & BURNHAM.—Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, etc. Offices, 379 Water Street. Money to Loan. Robert Ruddy, K.C.; J. H. Burnham, M.A. Telephone No. 64.

DUNDLE & JOHNSTON.—Barristers, Solicitors, etc. Offices over Toronto Savings and Loan Company, 438 George Street. D. W. Dumble, K.C.; W. F. Johnston.

C. S. DIXON.—Barrister, Solicitor, etc., Notary. Corner Hunter and George Sts.; entrance, next Madill's Drug Store. dw

HALL, HAYES & HALL.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries Public, Hunter St. Peterborough. Next to St. John's Church Money to Loan at lowest rates of interest. E. D. Hall, City Solicitor; Louis H. Hayes, K.C.; and Basil D. Hall.

HALL, REDD & DAVIDSON.—Successors to Stratton & Hall, Barristers, Solicitors, etc., Peterborough, Ont. Office, Corner of Hunter and Water Sts., over Canadian Bank of Commerce. E. E. Hall, K.C.; T. Redd, W. S. Davidson.

W. E. MOORE.—Barrister, Solicitor, etc. Office, entrance first hallway west of Post Office, Peterborough, Ont. Money to Loan.

WOOD AND WEARING.—Barristers, etc. Offices, over Canadian Express Office, George Street. Money to Loan. E. B. Wood, County Crown Attorney. Jos. Wearing, M.A.

ARCHITECTS.

W. BLACKWELL—Architect and Civil Engineer. Plans, estimates made, all structures, public buildings and dwellings erected. Buildings heating and plumbing a specialty. Office, 371 Water Street, Peterborough.

AUCTIONEER
W. D. KETCHESON,
Licensed Auctioneer for Peterboro County
Sales attended to promptly and satisfactorily
Address 88 DOURO STREET, CITY
'Phone 1078.

ASSESSMENT RETURNS FOR THE EAST WARD

(Continued from Page 1.)

Henry Faux, tenant, 535 Rogers street. Owner John J. Young. Part lot 2, north of Douro street. Frontage 29 feet. Land value $150. Buildings $530. Total taxable property $680. S.S.S.

Wm. Perdue, owner, lot 3, Plan 24, north of Douro street. Frontage 50 feet. Land value $250. No buildings. Total taxable property $250. S.S.S.

Wm. Welsh, owner, 547 Rogers street Lot 4, Plan 24, north of Douro street. Frontage 31 feet 2 inches. Land value $250. Buildings $950. Total taxable property $1,200. S.S.S.

Geo. Marshall, tenant, 553 Rogers street. Owner Roland Tivey. Lot 7, Plan 24, south of Stanley avenue. Frontage 48 feet. Land value $230. Buildings $750. Total taxable property $980. P.S.S.

Mrs. Bessie Coombs, tenant, 559 Rogers street. Owner Roland Tivey. Lot 6, Plan 24, south of Stanley avenue. Frontage 48 feet. Land value $230. Buildings $750. Total taxable property $980. P.S.S.

Charles Cotten, tenant, 565 Rogers street. Owner Roland Tivey. Lot 2, Plan 24, north of Stanley avenue. Frontage 48 feet 3 inches. Land value $230. Buildings $750. Total taxable property $980. P.S.S.

Geo. A. Hammon, tenant, 573 Rogers street. Lot 1, Plan 24, north of Stanley avenue. Frontage 48 feet 3 inches. Land value $230. Buildings $750. Total taxable property $980. P.S.S.

Roland Tivey and Albert Tivey, owners, south part lots 14 and 15, south of Wilson. Frontage 40 feet. Land value $200. Buildings $600. Total taxable property $800. P.S.S.

Edgerton Hartley, owner, lot 22, south of Dickson street. Frontage 81 feet 3 inches. Land value $270. No buildings. Total taxable property $270. P.S.S.

Robt. Allen, owner, 629 Rogers street. Lot 5, Plan 17, south of Dickson street. Frontage 46 feet. Land value $150. Buildings $400. Total taxable property $550. S.S.S.

W. S. Clarke, owner, 633 Rogers street. Lot 4, Plan 17, south of Dickson street. Frontage 45 feet 9 inches. Land value $150. Buildings $400. Total taxable property $550. P.S.S.

Robt. Beavis, owner, lot 3, Plan 17, south of Dickson street. Frontage 48 feet. Land value $150. Buildings $450. Total taxable property $600. P.S.S.

Wilfred Dwyer, owner, 645 Rogers street. Lot 2, Plan 17, south of Dickson street. Frontage 48 feet. Land value $150. Buildings $320. Total taxable property $470. S.S.S.

John Kearns, owner, 649 Rogers street. East part lot 1, Plan 17, south of Dickson street. Frontage 48 feet 9 inches. Land value $200. Buildings $450. Total taxable property $650. S.S.S.

D. W. Dumble, owner, lots 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7, north of Hazlitt street. Land values $120, $120, $110, $110, $110, $110. No buildings. Total taxable property $680. P.S.S.

Mrs. Eliza F. Brown, owner, lot 1, south of Dufferin street. Land value $150. No buildings. Total taxable property $150. P.S.S.

Mrs. A. E. Anderson, owner, lot 8, north of Hazlitt street. Land value $150. No buildings. Total taxable property $150. P.S.S.

ST. LUKES AVENUE—SOUTH SIDE.

Burnham Estate, owners, lot 94, Plan 27A. Frontage about 152 feet. Land value $250. No buildings. Total taxable property $250. P.S.S.

ST. LUKES AVENUE—NORTH SIDE.

Burnham Estate, owners, lots 102, 101 and 100, Plan 27A. Frontage 229 feet. Land values $300, $300 and $300. No buildings. Total taxable property $900. P.S.S.

MARK STREET—EAST SIDE.

G. W. Hatton, owner, south part lot 1, Plan 11, south of Maria street. Frontage 180 feet 4 inches. Land value $250. Buildings $50. Total taxable property $300. P.S.S.

C. P. R. Co., owners, frontage 24 feet 6 inches.

The Burnham Estate, owners, north part lot 2, north of Maria street, and part lots 2 and 1, south of James street. Land values $150 and $600. No buildings. Total taxable property $750. P.S.S.

John H. Breen, owner, 254 Mark street. South part lot 96, north of James street. Frontage 45 feet. Land value $200. Buildings $800. Total taxable property $1,000. P.S.S.

Burnham Estate, owners, north part lot 96, north of James street, and lots 95, 94, 93, north of James street. Frontage 245 feet. Land value $730. No buildings. Total taxable property $730. P.S.S.

Cleophas Brisbois, owner, lot 92, south of Sophia street. Frontage 95 feet 8 inches. Land value $380. No buildings. Total taxable property $380. S.S.S.

James Stuart, owner, 306 Mark street. Southwest part lot 89, north of Sophia street. Frontage 34 feet 6 inches. Land value $170. Buildings $400. Total taxable property $570. P.S.S.

Harry J. Hanwell, owner, 308 Mark street. Northwest part lot 89, north of Sophia street. Frontage 30 feet 6 inches. Land value $150. Buildings $350. Total taxable property $500. P.S.S.

Charles Cressman, tenant, 314 Mark street. Owner Absolem Peters. West part lot 88, south of Sophia street. Frontage 63 feet. Land value $310. Buildings $450. Total taxable property $760. P.S.S.

Mrs. Georgina Gage, owner, 322 Mark street. West part lot 87, north of Sophia street. Frontage 64 feet 6 inches. Land value $320. Buildings $530. Total taxable property $850. P.S.S.

Walter Naish, tenant, 336 Mark street. Owner Mrs. Mary Murray. Lot 86, south of Robinson street. Frontage 96 feet 6 inches. Land value $480. Buildings $850. Total taxable property $1,330. P.S.S.

Peter Hogg and Walter Walters, tenants, 344 and 346 Mark street. Owner Mrs. Mary Phillips. Lot 85, south of Robinson street. Frontage 97 feet. Land value $500. Buildings $1,300. Total taxable property $1,800. Each assessed $900. P.S.S.

Miss Johanna Sheehan and Wm. A. Halpin, owner and tenant, 352 Mark street. West part Market Block, north of Robinson street. Frontage 102 feet on Robinson street. Land value $300. Buildings $800. Total taxable property $1,100. Each assessed $550. S.S.S.

Wm. C. McAuliffe, owner, west part Market Block, north of Robinson street. Land value $280. Buildings $120. Total taxable property $400. S.S.S.

Michael Lynch, tenant, 360 Mark street. Owner Miss Johanna Sheehan. West part Market Block, north of Robinson street. Frontage 41 feet 4 inches. Land value $300. Buildings $1,200. Total taxable property $1,500. SS.S.

Bruce Doupe, owner, 364 Mark street. West part Market Block, lot 84, and southwest part lot 83, north of Robinson street. Land value $750. Buildings $820. Total taxable property $1,570. P.S.S.

Bruce Doupe, owner, 366 Mark street. East part lot 84, north of Robinson street. Land value $140. Buildings $300. Total taxable property $440. P.S.S.

Henry W. Morgan and Miss Isabella Morgan, owners, 368 Mark street. North part lot 83, north of Robinson street, and southwest part lot 83, north of Robinson street. Frontage 32 feet 6 inches. Land value $250. Buildings $820. Total taxable property $1,070. P.S.S.

Michael O'Brien, owner, 388 Mark street. Lot 79, south of Hunter street. Land value $580. Buildings $4,220. Total property, taxable for local improvements only, $4,800. P.S.S.

Charle E. Cragg, tenant, 378 Mark street. Owners the Methodist Church. Frontage 58 feet 6 inches. Land value $530. Buildings $700. Total taxable property $1,230. P.S.S.

Stanley Matchett, owner, 384 Mark street. Lot 80, south of Hunter street. Frontage 79 feet 2 inches. Land value $630. Buildings $700. Total taxable property $1,330. P.S.S.

Michael O'Brien, owner, 388 Marg street. Lot 79, south of Hunter street. Frontage 65 feet 3 inches. Land value $600. Buildings $600. Total taxable property $1,200. S.S.S.

Wm. Ashley, owner, 390 Mark street. Southwest part lot 8, south of Hunter street. Frontage 21 feet 3 inches. Land value $150. Buildings $100. Total taxable property $250. P.S.S.

David Hunter, owner, 406 Mark street. Southwest part lot 8, north of Hunter street. Frontage 123 feet on Mark street. Land value $400. Buildings $1,350. Total taxable property $1,750. P.S.S.

IN THIS AIR-TIGHT, GERM-PROOF PACKAGE

In the finest grain of Windsor Salt, refined to absolute purity—and blended with Magnesium Carbonate, which adds to its healthfulness. 124

AN ISLAND OF DANGER

Strange Currents Which Have Caused Many Wrecks

Sable Island lies off the coast of Nova Scotia, about seventy miles distant. It is twenty-one miles long, with bars at both ends, the bar on the south end extending out about ten miles, and the bar at the east end about seventeen miles. The tides around and about Sable Island are accountable for the wreck of many a fine ship. Vessels find themselves on the sands when, by all the rules of the sea, they should be many miles away.

Many years ago the superintendent of the island despatched a small boat to the mainland for provisions. Thirteen days later the boat floated on to the beach, exactly six miles from the place from which she had been dispatched, and the boat's crew thought they were landing on the mainland.

In calm weather a barrel will circle around the island several times. If a vessel is lost on the south side, the watchers will search the north side for the bodies.

Some ten years ago the government established a Marconi wireless station on the island, and it has been of great benefit to the vessels installed with wireless. But while any vessels ply the sea without wireless Sable Island will continue to be a very grave menace. How many vessels have left their keels there nobody can ever tell. There is a record of over two hundred, mostly wooden ships, though several steamers have been lost there, including some very large ones.

Sable Island is equipped with two light houses, one at each end, and a life-saving crew maintained by the Canadian government.

This island was first discovered by John and Sebastian Cabot, three hundred and fifty-three years ago. The first landing was made by Portuguese fishermen. In the sixteenth century, Sir Humphrey Gilbert took possession in the name of Queen Elizabeth. France attempted to colonise it in 1598, by placing forty convicts there. They all died but twelve.

TO CHECK A COLD

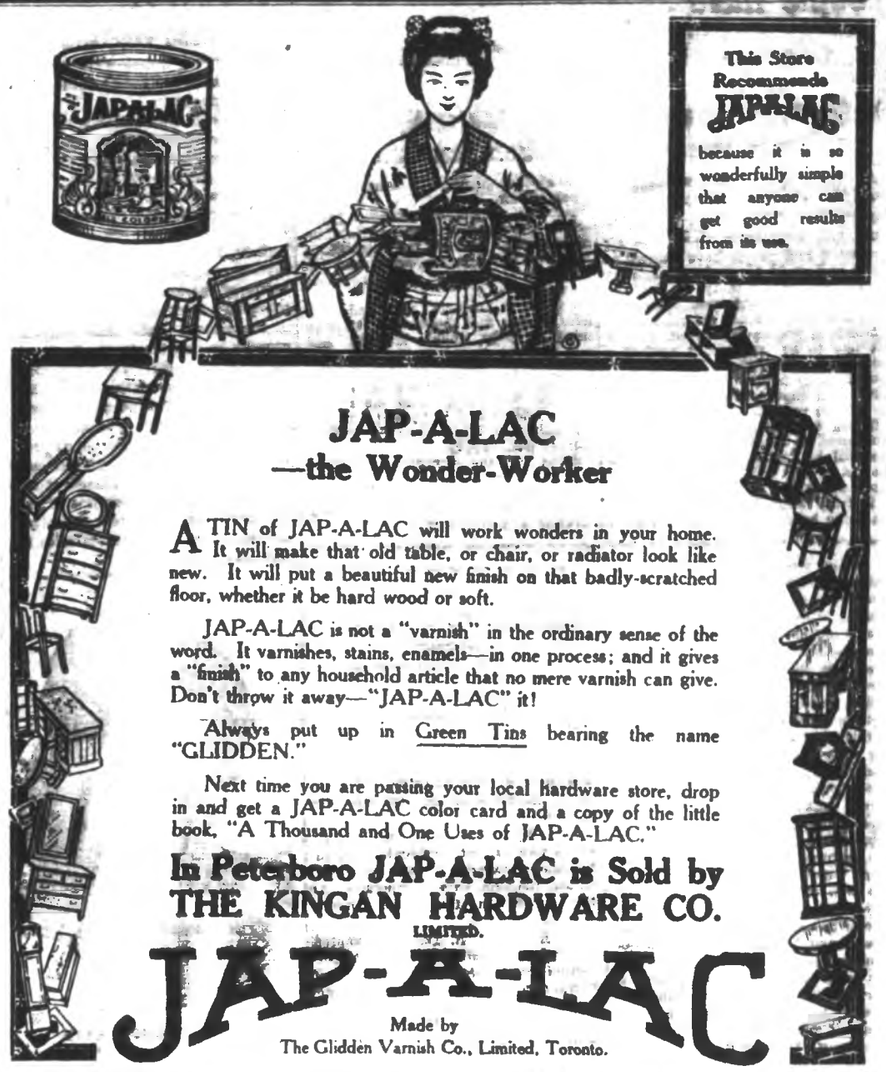
It is easy to check a cold if you begin in time. Frequent doses of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine keep the cough loose, allay the inflammation, and so prevent it spreading to the bronchial tubes and lungs. Mrs. S. M. Moore, Shortreed, B.C., writes: "I wish to state my gratitude for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, for it cured a cold which a friend said would soon put me in the grave."

SPIRIT FROM POTATOES

Farmers Generally Are Watching the Progress of a German Industry

Canadian farmers are following with interest the development of a German industry which manufactures motor spirit from potatoes. It is claimed that good and bad tubers can be used and that about $8.50 worth of spirit can be extracted from a ton of potatoes. Discussing this question in England the London Post says: "There are some 460,000 acres of potatoes raised in England and Wales, whereas Germany devotes considerably over eight million acres to the same crop. The policy which farmers have outlined for themselves in this country favors the production of the potato as a vegetable, and compared with its value for spirit-making purposes it is probably worth from two to four times as much when grown for the table. The normal procedure when tubers go wrong is to pick out the bad ones and after boiling feed them to stock. If a spirit industry would absorb the surplus and indifferent tubers it would unquestionably be preferable to losing them in wholesale fashion, but it might further tend to keep prices at a monotonous level. In the larger potato-growing districts the planting of potatoes for spirit extraction is not viewed with great favor, as the area already allotted to the crop is great, and the only field of expansion would be in those districts where potato growing is at present practised on an insignificant scale.

"If the class of tuber suitable for spirit-making were planted the farmer would require to depend upon a super yield for his profit. The coarser and better yielding varieties would be favored, but with a value of $5 a ton the product does not wear very attractive, as the probable inclusive cost of growing would be about $50 an acre, certainly not less if the usual practice of manuring heavily is carried out. As a means of disposing of surplus stocks the spirit factory might be very useful and would no doubt be eagerly supported, but in a year of scarcity there would be some difficulty about supplies. It is important to keep the land in cultivation, and no crop does more to maintain it in good heart than the potato, which is one of the pivots of the rotation, but it remains to be seen whether farmers would be willing to risk the production of a heavy yield as an offset to the low price offered. In all probability contract growing would be necessary to ensure supplies."



HOW TO MAKE AN OMLET

The art of making an omelet is an exact and delicate one, requiring judgment and regard to several "principles" of egg cooking.

The pan should be thin, as quick cooking is of prime importance.

To make a tender omelet, the number of yolks should exceed the number of whites.

Up to 1840 the number of yolks was twice that of the whites, but more whites now enter into French recipes. But if there is too much white left, no art can prevent any omelet from being too hard.

The egg omelet must not be liquid at all, but barely set.

In serving a spoon or fork must be used. A knife ruins its texture.

For a French omelet break the eggs into a bowl, add as many teaspoonfuls of water as there are eggs, counting two yolks as one egg. For each three eggs add one-quarter teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper. If six eggs are used, three whites are better than four whole quality, not quantity, is preferred. Beat them with a fork until a spoonful can be lifted as if it were liquid without clinging to the rest.

Put a tablespoonful of butter and melt in a thin pan, strain the egg into it, set on a hot part of the range, and as soon as the edges begin to cook, separate them from the edge of the pan with a thin knife or spatula; slowly, and gently, rock the pan back and forth so that the uncooked portion runs down next the pan, until the whole is creamy. Now commence the art of rolling. On the side next the handle start the roll, curling it over gently and letting the pan rest a moment on each curve long enough to brown it lightly, and turn on a hot platter to be eaten without standing and losing a degree of heat. Cool omelet is ruined omelet.

For a three-egg omelet, the formula is two whole eggs, two yolks, three tablespoonfuls of milk or one tablespoonful of water, pepper and salt.

POACHING EGGS.

In poaching eggs the bottom of the skillet should be brushed with oil, then partly filled with boiling water that is not allowed to boil or simmer after slipping the egg in from the cup into which it has been first broken. If the water is slightly salted and a teaspoonful of vinegar added, it is an improvement. The eggs must not be old or the white will dissolve. Forty-eight hours after laying gives the best results in poaching. Let the yolk be nearly covered and do not disturb until the albumen has set. Remove with a skimmer.

This is in a five-five-five formula. Five eggs well beaten; add five tablespoonfuls each of milk and grated cheese, season with pepper and salt, pour into a hot thin pan well oiled with butter, and stir until the mixture is creamy and thick. This is a nice dish to prepare and serve at the table with a small chafing dish, as the hotter it is the better the dish.

Toronto Savings & Loan Comp'y

Notice is hereby given that a Quarterly Dividend of two and one-half per cent being at the rate of ten per cent per annum for the (3) three months ending 31st of March 1914, has been declared upon the Capital Stock of this Institution and the same will be payable at the offices of the Company in this City on and after April 1st, 1914.

The Transfer Books will be closed from the 19th to the 31st of March, both days inclusive.

By order of the Board,

W.G.MORROW
MANAGING DIRECTOR

Peterborough, March 20th, 1914

People Have Learned To Think For Themselves

On Health, Disease and Medicine--No Longer Mystified by Terms--Give Credit to Medicines That Cure

A decade or two has witnessed a wonderful change in matters regarding health and sanitation. The magazines and newspapers abound in information and people have learned to think and study for themselves. They no longer follow blindly the instructions of doctors but soon grow sceptical if results are not satisfactory.

And it is results that count. It does not pay to be prejudiced against a medicine just because it is advertised. Almost every medicine that is largely advertised first proved a big success in private practice.

If you are suffering from some derangement of the nerves, for instance, you will be interested in what people are saying almost daily in this paper about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It is truly wonderful the cures that are being brought about by this great prescription of the famous Receipt Book author.

Nervous prostration, nervous headaches, nervous dyspepsia, irritability, melancholia and all the distressing forms of nervous depression and exhaustion are being cured by this great food cure.

So many business men and business women find themselves tired in mind ad body, unable to sleep and rest and yet do not realize how close they are to nervous breakdown and paralysis. Women in the home, too, find the work and worry more than their systems can bear, and long for the help that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food can so well supply.

Study out the symptoms for yourself and if you need a restorative for the nerves put Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to the test. The results will surprise and delight you.

Paul's Personal Appearance.

All that we know of Paul's personal appearance from his own writings is found in II Cor. x. 10, which indicates that he did not possess the advantage of a distinguished or imposing presence. His stature was somewhat diminutive, his eyesight weak (see Acts xxiii, 5, and Gal. iv. 15), nor did he regard his address as impressive. Much of this personal criticism, however, may have been the outcome of the apostle's desire to avoid magnifying himself or his own talents. A fourth century tablet represents him as venerable looking and dignified, with a high, bald forehead, full bearded and with features indicating force of character. One ancient writer says Paul's nose was strongly aquiline. All the early pictures and mosaics, as well as some of the early writers (among them Malalas and Nicephorus) agree in describing the apostle as of short stature, with long face, prominent eyebrows, clear complexion and a winning expression, the whole aspect being that of power and dignity. The oldest known portrait is the Roman panel of the fourth century, already referred to above.—Christian Herald.

Easy Solution.

"Say," said the "wise guy" to the patient listener, "did you hear about that fellow who came in on a South American liner the other day and nobody could make him understand any one of seventeen different languages? They even tried him with the deaf and dumb stuff, but he only shook his head and said nothing. Finally they had to send him back to the boat, and he'll probably spend the rest of his life sailing back and forth between here and South America, as nobody knows what country he comes from. I bet I could find where he hails from. Simplest thing in the world. Just get a collection of coins from all countries and place them before him one after another. When the right one came along he'd show his nationality right there. They all talk for money, you know."—New York Tribune.

If Hair Is Turning Grey, Use Sage Tea

Here's Grandmother's Receipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair

The beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns grey, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a humdredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth' Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural colour, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time ;by morning the grey hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

For sale by Warne Drug Co.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

At the age of eighty-one Mme. Daynes-Grassot is playing leading parts on the Paris stage.

For assisting a constable in difficulty Miss Eveline Mullins of Swansea, England, has received a bracelet from the police department.

Marie Schwabacher, a pretty Antwerp milliner, who was courted by two brothers, promised to marry the winner of a game at cards, but eventually eloped with the one who was beaten.

Mrs. Belle Van Dorn Harbert, recently elected first president of the international congress of farm women at Ghent, Belgium, lives in Colorado. At the convention twenty-one nations were represented.

Dr. Katherine B. Davis, appointed by Mayor Mitchel of New York as correction commissioner at a salary of $7,500 a year, received her doctor's degree from the University of Chicago in 1900 for work in the department of political economy. This is thought to be the most responsible position ever given to a woman in administrative work in this country outside of the field of education.

Flippant Flings.

We move that the day John D. Rockefeller pays that $12,000,000 tax assessment be made a national holiday.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

Astronomical alarmists say that the big dipper is going to disappear. Very well. This is the age of the sanitary individual drinking cup. — Chicago News.

A Paris savant says cooks should wear kid gloves. Most of 'em do in this country. And the housewives have to wear 'em too. Keeping a cook is a kid glove affair here.—New York American.

There is no longer any danger of a naval war with Switzerland, for that country has signed an agreement with the United States to wait a year before attacking us, so that any dispute may be amicably settled.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Writers.

Francesco Bicchi, Italian poet, has celebrated his one hundred and second birthday.

N. V. Tilak, an Indian poet whose fame in the western portion of India is said to be greater than that of Rabindranath Tagore, the Nobel prize winner, is a Christian minister of Ahmadnagar.

Rudyard Kipling recently celebrated his forty-eighth birthday. Born in Bombay, he has been connected with the realm of letters for over thirty-two years, for he was the assistant editor in India of the Civil and Military Gazette and Pioneer as long ago as 1882.

Town Topics.

Old Mr. Rain is still the best street cleaning commissioner New York ever had.—New York World.

Sitka, Alaska, has a mean annual temperature about equal to that of Washington, which is mean enough, to a certainty.—Chicago News.

Chicago claims the longest street car ride in the world for a nickel, but Boston retains the palm for quality of service and scenery.—Boston Herald.

The first sign that the cost of living is to be less comes from Cleveland, O., where they have reduced the price of marriage licenses from $1 to 80 cents. —Philadelphia Ledger.

ONTARIO VEGETABLES

The London Standard has the following paragraph:

"Ontario is well suited for the production ofevery variety of garden vegetables. The following are average crops per acre: Cabbages, 10 tons; cucumbers, 5 tons; tomatoes, 250 bushels; potatoes, 200 bushels; onions 300 bushels. Onions have yielded as high as 1,200 bushels. Owing to the rapid expansion of Ontario cities large tracts of market gardens have been taken up and utilized for city lots, and at the present time the vegetable growers are unable to supply the demand of the rapidly increasing population. Excellent market garden land can be produced at reasonable rates and those who are engaged in the business find a ready market at profitable prices. There is a splendid opening in Ontario for thousands of men who understand the business of raising vegetables. The great difficulty is the lack of efficient men to raise the produce required."

SENATOR CHOQUETTE

who would make it a criminal offence for Canadian newspapers to publish pictures of criminals.

WOMEN IN CANADA

Dominion Conditions Not Favorable to Women Farmers

"There are two objections to Canada as far as women are concerned," says a writer in the London Referee.

"One is that Canada refuses the free grant of land to women that is given to men. Two or more girls with a knowledge of farming and a little capital can do very well in Canada, even putting up their own buildings; but, with a free grant of land, how many more could succeed, while their lives would be easy compared with that of the wife of a farmer or even a domestic servant, where climatic conditions make domestic work so hard.

"The second objection to Canada for women is its laws, where married women are concerned. Not long ago a man willed his farm to his brother, away from his wife, though her money had been invested in it.

"In New Zealand, where women vote, such a will would in itself have been considered a proof of mental incapacity, and would, therefore, not have been allowed to stand.

"Australia, New Zealand, and Rhodesia are at present far more suitable for women emigrants than Canada, and fruit farms can be successfully run by women alone."

RAILWAY FLOWERS

Scores of thousands of packages of flowers are being sent out every year along the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway to the agents and section hands—to all in the employment of the Company who will undertake to care for them and take a pride in their growth. In the early fall thousands of bulbs are sent out—narcissi, jonquils, tulips, hyacinths, daffodils and all the familiar names which have their appeal in the homes of the agents when they appear in bloom, either in the earth itself or in glass-case cultivation against the windows. When these have gratified the eye and finished their course, the seeds will be ready to come up; and thus the year round, all over the vast system, there is a color scheme which has the most inspiring effect.

A Good Complexion

Skin, to be healthy, must breathe. It also must expel, through the pores, its share of the body's effete material. Creams and powders clog the pores, interfering both with elimination and breathing. Women should use ordinary mercolized wax instead of cosmetics and they would have natural, healthy complexions. This remarkable substance is not absorbed by the skin; its action is just the opposite. The skin repels mercolized wax, and at the same time throws off all imperfections. An exquisite new complexion peeps out, quite free from any appearance of artificiality. Apply nightly like cold cream, for a week or so, washing it off in the morning.

Trapped a Witness.

Nearly every murder trial has its tense moments when every eye is on the witness in the box. A man named Hardy was on trial, and a witness swore most persistently that the prisoner had been in his company at the time the murder was committed.

"Are you quite certain of the exact time?" asked the prosecuting counsel.

"Certain!" replied the witness.

"How are you so sure about it?"

"We were in the Bear public house and I saw the time by the clock in the bar," said the witness. "It was twenty-seven minutes past 9."

"You saw that clock yourself?" asked counsel.

"Yes."

Suddenly counsel turned around and, pointing dramatically to the clock in the court, said: "You see that clock? What is the exact time by it?"

The witness became ghastly pale, gasped and was silent. He looked helplessly at the counsel and then at the clock. He had been lying, for he could not tell the time.

The prisoner was condemned.—London Globe.

A Lunch Innovation.

Americans who have never been abroad will be surprised to know that they are only beginning to install bathrooms in the houses of ordinarily well off people in Paris. Twenty years ago few of the hotels even had baths installed in bathrooms. They had movable baths, and the bath cart stopped at the house, the man carrying up a tub and filling it with a hose and then moved on, to carry the tub away on his return.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessnessan durinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been ueds for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active, and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Science Siftings.

The diameter of our own moon is estimated by the astronomers to be 2,162 miles.

A University of Pennsylvania scientist asserts he has found a way to tell from crystals in a drop of blood the race of the man from whom the blood came.

To increase the resolving power of the microscope an Austrian scientist utilizes ultra violet rays, which, though invisible to the eye, are highly effective in photography.

Have You Tried

O'Keefe's

"Gold Label" ALE

The O'K brewmaster says it is his masterpiece,—a rich, old, creamy ale of matchless purity.

J. M. BROOKS & CO., Distributors, 416 Water Street, 'Phone 61.

PURE FOOD SPECIALTIES

Stop! Look! Listen!

ORDER A BAG OF

MONARCH FLOUR

THE CAMPBELL FLOUR MILLS CO. L'T'D.

PETERBORO TORONTO

Good With Cream Sauce.

After carefully cleaning a fresh cod fish place in a kettle of salted cold water. When it begins to boil let it boil fast for 15 minutes, then boil slowly until done. Take out and remove skin. Make a cream sauce by putting 1-2 cup butter into a stew pan. When melted blend in one tablespoon of flour, brown, and stir in a cup of cream, add a pinch of salt and pepper and serve with the fish.

Corn Fritters.

Beat two eggs very lively with a spood, add one cup of milk, one cup of canned corn from which liquor has been drained, a saltspoon of salt, and one cup of flour sifted twice, with one teaspoon of cream of tartar and one-half teaspoon of soda. Drop by spoonfuls into deep boiling fat and fry until a golden brown. Serve very hot. Delicious with either fried or boiled chicken or with salmon.

Chocolate Pudding.

One-half cup sugar, 1 egg, 1 square melted chocolate mixed with egg, sugar and butter; 1 cup flour, 1-4 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon melted butter, 1-2 cup milk, 1-2 teaspoon cream of tartar. Steam one hour.

Sauce: Cream piece of butter size of an egg and heaping cup of powdered sugar, adding sugar slowly. One well-beaten egg. Flavour with vanilla.

Cold Meat Sandwiches.

Take rare, lean, cold beefsteak or toast beef, run through meat grinder. Season with a few drops of Worcestershire sauce, catsup, or a tiny bit of onion juice; season to taste and spread between thin slices of buttered bread. Trim outer crust and cut into neat finger strips.

A Healthful Refreshing Drink

Knox's Sarsaparilla

An excellent Blood Purifier in Spring, and a tonic—a combination of Pure Sarsaparilla and Soda Syrup.

Good for young and old. Children crave for it.

Order from your grocers, or from

D. KNOX

Soda Water Co.

Factory and Office 384 Queen St., Peterboro. 'Phone 132 and 61.

STORE UP ENERGY

Nearly every person feels a lack of energy and a tendency towards catching cold at this season.

NORVALL'S SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES

Corrects the disordered blood and debilitated nerves and strengthens the lungs to throw off colds. Stimulates the appetite and increases the brain and muscular power. 75c large bottle

W. J. KENT

DRUGGIST 402 GEORGE ST., PETERBORO

MILK is the most economical food in use, but unless it be pure and clean it is the dangerous food. Most all communtable deseases can be carried to human being through impure milk.

Pasteurized milk is recognized as the only safe milk to use, because all disease germs are destroyed.

We furnish Pasteurized milk delivered in perfectly sterilized bottles and you can depend upon it at all times.

PETERBORO' PURE MILK COMPANY,

PHONE 650 377 AYLMER STREET

Marmalade Oranges have arrived.

I have the famous ELEPHANT BRAND Oranges

We have everything in fresh Fruits.

Specialty in Lettuce, Parsley, Spring Onions, Radishes, Celery.

Try Our GROCERIES, always Fresh and Prices to Suit All.

D. M. MINICOLO

410 GEORGE ST. 'Phone 935

NOTICE OF REMOVAL

The Peterborough Public Market will be transferred on

APRIL 1st. to 461 George St.

where the business will he carried on in the future.

We wish to thank our many customers for their kind patronage and trust by supplying first class meats at reasonable prices to merit a continuance of the same.

ALL KINDS OF FRESH MEATS IN SEASON

SEE OUR—

Saturday Specials

Lumley & Perrin

'Phone 39 461 George St.

Coleman's Baking

Is Making Many Friends.

It's noted for

That Delicious Flavour sound only where a careful felection of the Highest Quality of Choicest Ingredients Are Used

Try some of our Special Week End Delicacies for Sunday

Easter Novelties

Chocolate Eggs

In Abundance

Coleman Bros

414, 426 GEORGE STREET

HONEY

Bright and Coloured

IN PAILS

Coloured, 5 lbs.	50c
Coloured, 10 lbs.	$1.00
Bright 5 lbs.	75c
Bright, 10 lbs.	$1.45

Also in 20c Jars.

Porter S. White

336 George, 'Phone 208.

Do You Need Building Up?

If you are run down and need a tonic you should use

CALCUTT'S DUBLIN PORTER

ORDER A CASE.

For sale by all Liquor Dealers.

Manufactured by

Calcutt Brewing & Malting Company

Phone 98

THE PETERBORO LIGHT and POWER Co. Ltd.

What about the cook who prepares the meals in your home.

Is she using an enamel lined Up-to-date Sanitary Gas Range?

Food is best prepared with gas. The food values, the life giving essences of food are retained by this system. When you roast a piece of beef under a gas flame you harden the albumen on the surface of the meat and keep the juices inside. This insures Nutritious Food.

"The cup that cheers" is the cup of tea or coffee that is prepared on a gas range from fresh boiled water.

Present the lady of your home with an up-to-date gas range and thus insure clean and sanitary meals for yourself and family.

STOVES FOR SALE ON EASY TERMS

BREATHE FREELY! OPEN NOSTRILS AND STUFFED HEAD--END CATARRH

Instant Relief When Nose and Head are Clogged from a Cold. Stops Nasty Catarrhal Discharges. Dull Headache Vanishes.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake to-night struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith — just once — in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

For sale by Warne Drug Co.

COAL PRICES

ROBT. HICKS

Will announce Opening Prices of D. L. & W. Scranton Coal, screened by his Improved Process, on April 11th.

These Prices will interest you.

COAL

Why not burn the BEST. Our Coal is recognized as THE COAL OF QUALITY

If you are not using it NOW your neighbor is.

Ask them about it then order some for yourself.

The Peterborough Fuel & Cartage Co.

162 Charlotte Street
Phones—Bell 361-270
41 Aylmer St. Phone Bell 302

EAST CITY COAL & WOOD YARD

Hunter St. E. 'Phone 96

FIRST QUALITY

TTSTON COAL

ALWAYS IN STOCK

Best Coal Mined, at lowest prices.

Wood, per cord.....$5.00
Cutting and Splitting Extra
Dry Pine and Hemlock Slabs $3.50

WEIR J. F. McCARTHY

First Class Scranton COAL

ALL SIZES IN STOCK AT LOWEST PRICES

.B. Taylor & Son

Both Phones 209
t. Aylmer & Wolfe Sts.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

THEY HAD A GOOD TIME

"Well," began Caroline's father, as he unfolded his napkin, "did the party go along satisfactorily last night? It was so late when the guests all finally departed that I forbore to ask. I had consideration for the natural weariness of a hostess at close of a function.' "

"Do you mean did we have a good time?" demanded his young daughter, succintly. "It takes you so long to say anything. I'd have had a dandy time if Genevieve hadn't been so mean. She"——

"Hostesses aren't supposed to have a good time," corrected Caroline's father. "It's up to them to keep busy seeing that their guests do, however."

"Pooh!" said Caroline. "When it was at Genevieve's house she just ate and ate and took the last piece of cake and everything. Say, I'll bet that George and Harold drank five glasses apiece of that lemonade stuff! They were regular pigs."

"Tut; Tut!" reproved her father. "A hostess must be blind to bad manners in her guests. It seems to me there was a superabundant amount of racket and noise for a gathering of 18 young ladies and gentlemen. What was the occasion of the tumbling of a trunk down the basement stairs and the smashing down of a door?"

"Why, there wasn't any trunk," declared his daughter in perplexity. "Oh, I know! That must have been the time they shoved Migs down into the basement and locked the door so he couldn't get back. He was pounding on it with the hatchet. He said he went around down there in the dark falling over things until he found the kindling and coal room and he tumbled over things till he just naturally found the hatchet. Of course, he didn't use thes harp edge to hammer with. He wanted to let them know he didn't like it."

"Quite natural under the circumstances," agreed her father. "Any gentleman would be justified in objecting to being thrown down hte jecting to being thrown down the basement stairs. I wosh, though, he had not left two electric lights turned on in the laundry. They burned all night and that costs money. How long did they keep—er—Migs down there?"

"I suppose he had to see," defended his daughter. "Oh, they didn't keep him. You can't make Migs do anything he doesn't want to— always squirms out. He just went out the back basement door"——

"Leaving it unlocked for burglars"——

"Why, he couldn't go outside and lock it on the inside, too," explained Caroline in disgust. "It's so hard to make you see things. He went through the alley and came around in front"——

"Ah!" interrupted her father, "I understand now. That was the time I went out of the front door on an errand and a snowball smashed my hat. Somebody gasped, 'Gee, did I paste you?' That must have been Migs."

"I suppose so," said Caroline, placidly. "He must have been scared, because he acted real quiet for a few minutes after he came inside. But he was awful!"

"I see that the pieces of cloisonne are still in the living room," went on her father. "I feared when I heard that crash"——

"Oh, that!" said Caroline, excitedly. "Say, you should see the way Harold can make a figure eight of himself! It's the funniest! That was what he was doing when he slid off the couch and tipped over the little table with the lamp. Migs caught the lamp, but the plate of ice cream that was on it fell off and broke. Harold was awfully scared, but I told him not to mind, it was all right. Mother has said never to make a guest feel bad when he broke anything. I told Horald we often broke 'em."

"I suppose you know the plate belonged to mother's best dessert set," said her father, "and can't be matched."

"Oh, did it?" inquired Caroline, a trifle subdued. "But, of course, Harold couldn't help it. It must have been the fault of the couch, because he's made figure eights loads of times before and never slipped.

"The funniest thing was when George showed us how to balance a glass of water on his nose. He looked just like a turtle. He didn't hear mother when she came in with the cake and he tried to stop suddenly — that was when the water spilled all over the piano. It ran out of sight between the keys, so I guess it didn't hurt anything.

"I was real sorry when Migs sat down in the fernery mother had just filled. If he hadn't ben so heavy it wouldn't have been so bad. He couldn't help it, of course—some one pushed him. Yes, I guess they had a good time."

"It would seem so," said her father with a sigh of rseignation, "At least we can be thankful for that."

Thought She Would Go Mad WITH HEADACHE.

In all cases of headache the treatment should be directed to remove the cause, for with the cause removed the headache vanishes for all time. Headache powders just relieve for the time being, but what is necessary for a permanent cure is something that will go right to the seat of the trouble. For this purpose it is impossible to find a better remedy for headaches of all descriptions than Burdock Blood Bitters, acting as it does on every organ of the body to strengthen, purify and regulate the whole system.

Mrs. Althea Bowman, Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"I have suffered terribly with my head for weeks at a time till I thought I would go mad. A friend advised me to give Burdock Blood Bitters a trial, so I got a bottle and found relief. I have used four bottles in all and I am glad to say that I have had no more headaches since. I would advise all sufferers to give it a fair trial."

Cook's right hand.

In the kitchen there is not a day when cook can't find a use for Edwards' Soup. To-day she strengthens her stews with it, to-morrow she uses it as a basis for a dish of her own, the next day she thickens her gravies with it. She says "It's the best thing I ever put into the kitchen cupboard."

EDWARDS' DESICCATED SOUPS 5c

But you MUST boil them for half-an-hour—Worth it! Grand for flavouring hashes, stews and made dishes. Of all wholesale and Retail Grocers, etc. packet and 1gh lbs.; but the 25c A.B.E. has more than

W. G. PATRICK & CO., Limited, Toronto, Representatives for the Province of Ontario.

A woman always has a grouch
When thinking of her fetters,
But she is sure to smile the day
The postman brings her letters.
—Yonkers Statesman.

Mrs. Flitt—My husband very seldom goes to his club.

Mrs. Flatt—Oh, is that so? My husband goes to his club nearly every day. "But you do your own cooking, don't you?"—Yonkers Statesman.

It des 'bout all dat you kin do
Ter hol' yo' livin' groun'
While de worl' des beats de lightnin'
De way it's spinnin' roun'!
But all de time you's de lucky one,
Kase you can't fall off nohow, my son!
—Atlanta Constitution.

"I think the world takes a man at his own valuation."

"I think you're mistaken. The custom house inspectors are as alert as ever."—Town Topics.

Said a cubist hen to herself one day,
With a puzzled kind of a mien,
"If I didn't know that I was a hen I'd think that I was a bean!"
—New York Sun.

Mrs. Hiram Offen (to applicant)—But you have had a good many places in a short time. Servant—Yes, ma'am; that shows how much competition there is to secure my services.—Boston Transcript.

"Will you marry me?" asked the millionaire
In tones of deep distress.
The maiden wrote her answer on a card.
'Twas simply "Y-E-[illegible]!"
—Florida Times-Union.

"Faint heart never won fair lady."
"I detest that proverb."
"Why so?"
"I consider it a slap at us brunettes."
—Kansas City Journal.

Get out and work; your talents use;
Live life while life is sweet.
For those who wait for dead men's shoes
Will often get cold feet.
—San Francisco Chronicle.

Willie—Paw, what is meant by saying that a girl has an arch look?

Paw—It means that she is bowlegged, my son.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Zapata preserves the amenities by announcing that he will hang Huerta when he catches him. Latin-American courtesy is an engaging quality of the Mexican character.

The sex is emancipated and has shaken off all shackles except that of the bargain counter. No woman has yet willingly delegated to an understudy the joy of shopping.

The ardent admirer of Mrs. Pankhurst who prophesies that she'll have a monument in Westminster abbey forgets that if England doesn't soon come across there won't be no abbey.

Now some misguided reformer has had it put in the paper, right where the ambitious young men of the neighborhood can't help seeing it, that playing on the cornet is a fine way to develop the lungs.

"Votes for children!" Thus explains Alice Thatcher Post of Washington, wife of the assistant secretary of labor. Somebody must do the electing in these days when good citizens are too busy to vote.

A Brooklyn man paid his fiancee's way through a course in domestic science. On completing the course the girl eloped with another man. The jilted one has this consolation: T'other fellow will have to eat the domestic science biscuits.

TO SAVE ST. PAUL'S

Appeal For £70,000 to Restore Historic Pile

So serious a view is taken of the structural condition of St. Paul's Cathedral that the Dean and Chapter are appealing for £70,000 to be devoted towards a comprehensive restoration of the fabric.

Hitherto works of repair on the structure have been executed in a somewhat piecemeal fashion by sums raised from time to time when needs became urgent. Such methods, say the Dean and Chapter, are inadequate and unsatisfactory, and it is unanimously felt that steps must at once be taken to carry out a large scheme for the permanent strengthening of the fabric where it has been disturbed by foundational movements or by the great stress of the weight of the dome.

The work now suggested will include the insertion of new stone, cement grouting, wherever it may be possible or expedient, and the removal of the iron which was used by Sir Christopher Wren in considerable quantities, and which is the source of serious and increasing mischief to the masonry.

There is, the Dean and Chapter continue, a constant anxiety lest underground buildings or sewerage operations should affect the subsoil and endanger the cathedral; and it is the strong conviction of all their expert advisers that no work whatever that may be undertaken on the fabric will ensure its safety if any tunnelling be permitted in the vicinity of it. They are further informed that the strengthening of the superstructure must be completed, or approaching completion, before anything could be done to the foundations.

They think it advisable, therefore, without further delay to issue this appeal for the fabric only, and to defer the question of the foundations, with regard to which experiments are now being made, for future consideration.

The work now contemplated will take several years to finish. The regular funds of the cathedral barely suffice for the ordinary upkeep of the fabric; but in appealing to the country for this help they are confident that they will not look in vain, at a critical moment, to those many thousands, in these islands and beyond them, to whom the cathedral is hallowed by innumerable ideas and associations, religious, historical, and artistic.

Savage Assault on Stepson

A wire worker named John Meek was, at Nottingham, sentenced to six months' hard labor for ferociously assaulting his stepson, Ernest Bywater aged nine. Meek thrashed the lad with bellows and a strap, giving him two black eyes, and his forehead was burnt

Special Sale of Delicious "Sunkist" Oranges

Not a seed in "Sunkist." Juicy, rich, healthful oranges—the finest selected tree-ripened fruit grown in the world.

"SUNKIST" oranges are the cleanest of all fruits. Never touched by bare hands—all "Sunkist" pickers and packers wear clean cotton gloves while at work.

Buy a box of "SUNKIST" oranges—much cheaper by the box or half-box than by the dozen.

"Sunkist" Oranges Bring Handsome Rogers Silverware

Send the trademarks cut from "Sunkist" orange wrappers to us. We offer as premiums, elegant Rogers Guaranteed A-1 Standard silverware. 27 different, magnificent premiums in exclusive "Sunkist" design.

This handsome orange spoon sent to you for 12 "Sunkist" trademarks and 12 cents. Trademarks from "Red Ball" orange wrappers count same as "Sunkist."

In remitting, send amounts of 20 cents or over by Postal Note, Post Office or Express Money Order.

Buy "Sunkist" Oranges at Your Dealer's

Send your name and full address for our complete free premium circular and Premium Club Plan. Address all orders for premium silverware and all communications to

CALIFORNIA FRUIT GROWERS EXCHANGE
(174) 166 King Street, East, cor. Church, TORONTO, ONT.

THE CARE OF EGGS

1. Keep the nests clean. Change the straw, or shavings, once a month.
2. Gather the eggs twice a day.
3. Keep the eggs in a cool, dry place
4. Never keep eggs near onions, fish, kerosene or anything with a strong odor, as the shell is porous and they absorb odors.
5. Never market dirty eggs or those found in stolen nests.
6. Keep the extra small and extra large eggs at home, as they will spoil the appearance of a nice, uniform shipment.
7. Market eggs as regularly and frequently as possible, so as to procure the best price and at the same time enable the consumer to get a first class article.

A cloth dipped in kerosene oil will clean your brass bed. Polish with moist chamois.

Pert Personals.

But what would John D. have left if he paid all his fines and all his taxes?—Detroit Free Press.

Mr. Carnegie has moved up another $2,000,000 toward dying poor; but, withal, he doesn't appear to be making much headway.—Indianapolis News.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy, our efficient representative in the City of Mexico, has not exactly declared war; but, as he carries two revolvers, he may be said to be upon a war footing. In a country where most people are shot in the back all that he needs now is caution. He has courage, evidently.—New York World.

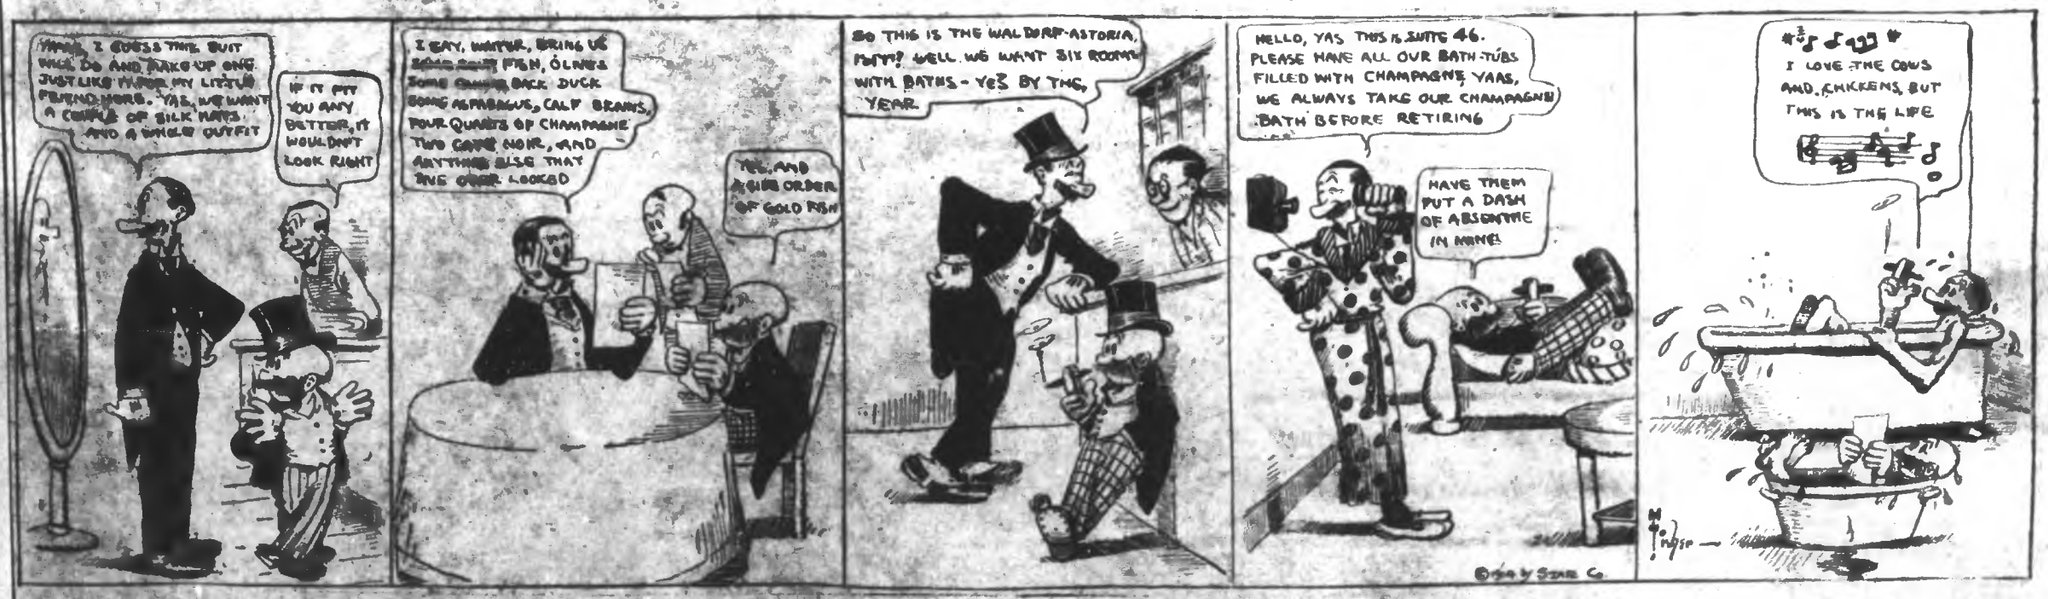
CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Worth Saving?

A bar of N.P. SOAP costs 15¢. It takes from four to five 5 cent cakes of other soaps to come near the same weight. That's a difference of at least 5¢. On a dollars worth of soap it amounts to from 25¢ to 40¢. And N.P. SOAP is better soap. Try it and see.

Mutt and Jeff Are Living a Very Licentious Life At That

By "Bud" Fisher



"Salada" Tea is "Hill-Grown"

"Hill-grown" tea has the small, tender leaves—with full, rich, delicious fragrance, redolent of the spicy tropics.

"SALADA"

Tea is grown high up on the mountains of Ceylon—with its native delicacy and fragrance held captive in the sealed lead packages.

BLACK, GREEN or MIXED

CAPTURED AT LAST.

Torreon Fell Last Night at 10.20 Says Gen. Carranza.

JUAREZ, April 3.—Gen. Carranza announced that Torreon fell at 10.20 o'clock last night.

Escapes From Villa.

NEW ORLEANS, April 3. — Luis Terrazas, jr., the wealthy Mexican held a prisoner for ransom at Chihuahua by Gen. Francisco Villa for the past three months, has escaped and made his way south toward Mexico City, according to reports received by a newspaper here Through the assistance of an old family servant and a traitor in Villa's camp, the story says, the political prisoner obtained his liberty and reached Saltillo, beyond the zone of Constitutionalist control.

Lind to Take Vacation.

WASHINGTON, April 3. — John Lind, former governor of Minnesota, and for the last eight months the personal representative in Mexico of the President of the United States will sail from Vera Cruz to-day for Washington aboard the Presidential yacht Mayflower.

The announcement of Mr. Lind's prospective visit was made by President Wilson, with the explanation that his envoy had requested a vacation and rest from his labors in a tropical climate, and that as soon as that had been obtained he would return to Mexico.

YOUR OWN DRUGGIST BACKS THIS LAXATIVE

If you only knew as much as we and those who have used them do about Rexall Orderlies, you would be as enthusiastic about recommending them as we are. They taste just like candy and act so easily and pleasantly that taking them is a pleasure.

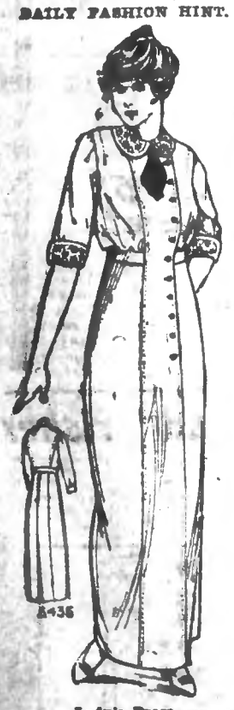
Rexall Orderlies have a splendid tonic, cleansing and strengthening effect upon the bowels. They help free the system and keep it free from the ailments that result from irregular or inactive bowels. They do this quietly, without griping, nausea, purging or excessive looseness. In a short time they usually make unnecessary the continued use of physics. We don't ask you to take our word for this. We want you to make us prove it, and at no cost to you.

Buy a box of Rexall Orderlies. If not thoroughly satisfied, tell us, and we will return your money without question. In vest pocket tin boxes; 10c, 25c, 50c.

You can buy Rexall Orderlies only at The Rexall Stores, and in this town only of us. —McDermid & Jury, E. L. Payne, Peterborough, Ont.

EXAMINER PATTERN SERVICE

DAILY FASHION HINT.



A435

Lady's Dress.

A pretty frock, and one quite easy of construction, is shown in this design. The garment closes at the left side of the front and can be made with high or Dutch neck and long or short sleeves. Gingham, chambray or percale may be chosen for development.

The pattern, No. 8435, is cut in sizes 36 to 42 inches bust measure. Medium size requires 6¾ yards of 36 inch material.

This pattern can be obtained by sending 10 cents to the office of this paper.

When ordering remember to give your name and address as well as the number and size of pattern required, and age of a child.

Address—The Examiner Pattern Service, The Examiner Peterborough.

CHINA PAINTING

Mrs. Langley McCarthy

Teaches Bissell's New and Beautiful Dark Work in China Painting.

NEEDS OVERHAULING.

Toronto's City Architect's Department Criticised by Judge.

TORONTO, April 3.—Judge Denton's report upon the investigation into the efficiency of the city architect's department, and into the charges preferred against the acting city architect and the department by Ald. Wanless, was handed to Mayor Hocken yesterday afternoon.

The reorganization of the department into a "department of buildings" is recommended.

Acting City Architect Price comes in for severe criticism; the Board of Control, the City Council and Chief Thompson also.

Judge Denton laconically states in regard to favoritism to builders: "If Mr. Price has shown favoritism and discrimination he does not stand alone in that connection. The Board of Control and City Council have also sinned. Many instances have been given of concessions asked and granted by the property committee or the Board of Control in the face of the opposition of the department."

"MENACE" SHUT OUT.

American Paper Denied Mail Privileges Because It Attacks Clergy.

OTTAWA, April 3. — "The Menace," a weekly paper published in the United States, has been barred by the Postoffice Department from transmission through the Canadian mails, and an authorization to establish a similar paper at Aurora, Ont., has been refused. The reason given is that the statements in the paper are found to be so "scurrilous, abusive and derogatory to a great many of the people of Canada that there was nothing for the Department to do but live up to the law and deny it the privilege of mail."

The main subject of the attacks is the Roman Catholic priesthood and the adherents of the Roman Catholic religion generally who are accused of the most obscene, immoral and indecent conduct, persistently carried on. The priesthood are accused of being a lecherous bunch of white slavers.

Big Sawmill Burned.

NORTH BAY, April 3.—Ferguson & McFadden's sawmill at Temigo, 27 miles from North Bay on the T. & N. O. R., was totally destroyed by fire yesterday morning with a loss estimated at over $50,000. This mill is one of the largest in Northern Ontario.

Another Venezuela Revolution.

WELLENSTADT, Curacao, April 3.—Rumors are in circulation here that a revolution broke out on March 30 in the interior of Venezuela. It is stated that the movement started in the state of Falcon.

NEURALGIA

"NEARLY DROVE ME WILD, UNTIL I TOOK KEPHALDOL"

Mr. Thomas Cooper, Ludley, Sussex, England, was almost frantic with Neuralgia, when he first took a KEPHALDOL Tablet.

"I am nearly 71 years of age and have suffered with Neuralgia nearly all my life. A friend told me about KEPHALDOL and I had my people get me a 25. package. I took two tablets as soon as I got them and quickly received relief. It was joy."

So great became the fame of KEPHALDOL Tablets abroad that their reputation spread to this country. The demand for KEPHALDOL grew so rapidly that arrangements were made to establish a Canadian office and supply all the druggists. These wonderful tablets, the prescription of Vienna's famous nerve specialist, Herr Doctor Stohr, have brought welcome relief to hundreds suffering from Neuralgia and Headaches, the ravages of La Grippe, Rheumatism, Sciatica and Lumbago, Pain in the Back, and in fact any pain.

If you cannot get the 50c. tubes at your druggist's, write Kephaldol Limited, 31 Labour Street, Montreal.

"Get the habit" and call at
JAY'S STORES
they know how to sell cheap, for cash.
All kinds of Furniture and Stoves in stock also Sewing Machines from $4.00.
Ladies and Gentlemens secondhand clothing. We have a lot of children's new dress to made up for spring. Call and see them
390 Aylmer St. Phone 440

J. J. SHADGETT
High-grade
Sign, Carriage and Motor Car Painter
REPAIRS ATTENDED TO
Phones 443. Residence 1402
Cor. Charlotte & Aylmer

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

The Dominion House of Commons will take a week's holidays over Easter, adjourning from Wednesday the 8th inst. to Wednesday the 15th inst.

Paul Johann Ludwig von Heyse, the German poet and novelist, died at Munich yesterday in his 85th year. He was awarded the Nobel prize for literature in 1910.

Thomas Poore of Leamington, employed as driller with the Leamington Oil Co. in the Romney field, shot and killed a bald eagle, which had a spread of over seven feet.

The Ottawa Public School Board has issued an order that the Union Jack must be raised on all schools between the hours of 8.45 a.m. and 4 p.m. on days when classes are held.

The Austrian Zoological and Botanical Society has awarded the Archduke Palmer gold medals to Professors Ross, Granville, Harrison and George Reber Wieland of Yale University.

Two years in the penitentiary was the sentence imposed upon Robert Metcalf, a Winnipeg bartender, for administering knock-out drops by means of liquor for the purpose of robbery.

Mrs. J. Barrette died in Montreal yesterday, aged 107. She was born in St. Joseph de Maskinonge, Que. Almost to the last Mrs. Barrette was able to walk around and could read without glasses.

Out of several hundred names suggested for a synonym for Sarnia, the committee of the Board of Trade yesterday announced the choice of the words, "The Beacon City" to replace the former nickname, "The Tunnel Town."

ROBBERS GOT $75.

Masked Men at Quebec Entered Woman's Little Grocery.

QUEBEC, April 3.—Masking the lower part of their faces with handkerchiefs and with caps pulled well down over their foreheads, two robbers broke into a house at Lauzon, across the river, about midnight Wednesday by making an entry through the coal shed. The house was the property of Madame Bourget, who keeps a grocery store, and only she and her little daughter were in it. Lighting a lamp the burglars awoke the two and roughly demanded money, holding a revolver to their heads.

She had in the house $75, and while she was getting it the child made an attempt to get away and warn the neighbors, but the man caught her and threatened to blow her brains out if she moved.

As soon as the intruders had gone, Madame Bourget went out and told some of her relatives, but their efforts to find the men were futile.

Racial Constitution.

PEKIN, April 3.—The constitutional convention, which has been in session at the capital since March 18, yesterday adopted unanimously the amendments of President Yuan Shi Kai to the provisional constitution of the Chinese republic. The delegates to the convention have now taken up the question of drafting a new constitution by which the president will be given large dictatorial powers.

Rev. Dr. Strong Dead.

BOSTON, April 3.—Rev. Ebenthan E. Strong, D.D., for 25 years editor of The Missionary Herald, died yesterday, in his 82nd year. In his long association with the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, he became widely known as a statistician and expert upon work of mission boards throughout the world.

Fashion Frills.

Bustles are coming back. That's where they belong.—Portland Oregonian.

Modern styles in female street wear have dealt the deathblow to the old fashioned chest protector.—Chicago News.

"Spring Gowns Tight, With Loose Effect." In one bright lexicon at least there is no such word as "impossible."—New York Post.

Society is threatened with cubist and futurist clothes for both sexes. The year has started out to be of unexampled horrors.—Baltimore American.

Facts From France.

France is to take a census of its automobiles and motorcycles capable of being used in war.

An average clever lacemaker in eastern France gets 30 to 35 cents a day. Those who cannot make the more intricate patterns receive 12 to 19 cents a day.

M. Hennion, recently appointed police prefect for Paris, has established a school for policemen, in which recruits will be instructed in their duties by the cinematograph.

An Upside Down Record.

LONDON, March 28. — Airman Hinck yesterday at Northampton flew upside down for two miles. He had previously flown his two-seatboat alone for a flight.

For Beautifying Your Hair

The Ladies in this Town are Simply Going Wild over Harmony Hair Beautifier. And no wonder, because to make the hair lustrous, soft and silky we believe there's nothing else—and we sell about all the various hair preparations made—that anywhere near comes up to Harmony Hair Beautifier.

Ask any one of the many women in this town who use it—she'll tell you she "loves" it. Just look at her hair, and you'll come to us and get some yourself.

HARMONY HAIR BEAUTIFIER

Is just what its name implies.—Just to make the hair glossy, lustrous, more beautiful.—Just to make it easier to dress, and more natural to fall easily and gracefully into the wavy lines and folds of the coiffure.

It leaves a delightful fresh and cool effect, and a lingering, delicate perfume. Will not change or darken the color. Contains no oil; therefore doesn't leave the hair sticky or stringy. Simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. But first, make sure that your hair and scalp are clean, by using

Harmony Shampoo

—A liquid shampoo to keep the hair clean, soft, smooth and beautiful. It gives an instantaneous, rich, foaming lather, penetrating to every part of the hair and scalp. It is washed off just as quickly, the entire operation taking only a few moments. It leaves no lumps or stickiness.—Just a refreshing sense of cool, sweet cleanliness.—Just a dainty, pleasant and clean fragrance.

—Both in odd-shaped ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops.

Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c.

Both are guaranteed to please you, or your money back.

These Stage Beauties Endorse Them

There is no class of women who know better how to discriminate in the use of things to make them more beautiful than actresses. Among the many celebrated stage beauties who use and enthusiastically endorse both Harmony Hair Beautifier and Harmony Shampoo are:

FITZI BARRYMORE
Starring in "Tantalizing," Empire Theater, New York.

ELSIE FERGUSON
Star in "A Stranger Woman," Lyceum, New York.

LOUISE DRESSER
Star in "Potash and Perlmutter," G. M. Cohan Theater, New York.

LAURETTE TAYLOR
Star in "Peg o' My Heart," Cort Theater, New York.

NATALIE ALT
Star in "Adele," Longacre Theater, New York.

ROSE COGHLAN
Star in "Fine Feathers," now touring the United States.

Sold only at the more than 7000 Rexall Stores. One in the Rexall Store in this Town

McDermid & Jury E. L. Payne
Peterborough, Ontario

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO, April 3.—Green bugs in Oklahoma and Hessian fly elsewhere had a scarecrow effect today on short sellers of wheat. Largely in consequence the market closed firm at ⅛c to ⅜c net advance. There was a gain, too, in all other speculative articles—corn, ¼c to ⅜c; oats, ⅛c to ¼c, and provisions 5c to 12½c.

TORONTO GRAIN MARKET.

Wheat, fall, bushel	$0 96	to $1 00
Barley, bushel	0 62	0 64
Peas, bushel	0 80	....
Oats, bushel	0 41	....
Rye, bushel	0 85	....
Buckwheat, bushel	0 70	0 72

TORONTO DAIRY MARKET.

Butter, store lots	0 24	0 26
Butter, creamery, lb. roll	0 31	0 32
Butter, separator, dairy	0 27	0 29
Butter, creamery, solids	0 27	0 28
Eggs, new-laid	0 21	0 22
Cheese, old, lb	0 15	0 15½
Cheese, new, lb	0 14½	0 15
Honey combs, dozen	2 50	3 00
Honey, extracted, lb	0 09	....

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, April 3.—Cash close: Wheat—No. 1 northern, 90c; No. 2 do., 88⅜c; No. 3 do., 86⅜c; No. 4 do., 82⅜c; No. 5 do., 80c; No. 6 do., 76c; feed, 76c; No. 1 rej. seeds, 86c; No. 2 do., 84⅛c; No. 3 smutty, 82¼c; No. 1 red winter, 89c; No. 2 do., 88⅛c; No. 3 do., 86⅛c.

Oats—No. 2 C.W., 34⅞c; No. 3 C.W., 33¾c; extra No. 1 feed, 34c; No. 1 feed, 33¼c; No. 2 feed, 32c.

Barley—No. 3, 44¼c; No. 4, 43½c; rejected, 41½c; feed, 41c.

Flax—No. 1 N.W.C., $1.87⅞; No. 2 C. W., $1.84⅝; No. 3 C.W., $1.82⅜.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN MARKET.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 3. — Close: Wheat—May, 89⅛c to 89⅜c; July, 91¼c; No. 1 hard, 93⅛c; No. 1 northern, 90⅛c to 92⅛c; No. 2 do., 87⅞c to 89⅞c.

Corn—No. 3 yellow, 33c to 33½c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 36c to 36½c.

DULUTH GRAIN MARKET.

DULUTH, April 3.—Close: Wheat—No. 1 hard, 92c; No. 1 northern, 91c; No. 2 do., 89c; May, 91c; July, 92c; Sept., 88¼c.

CATTLE MARKETS

UNION STOCK YARDS.

TORONTO, April 3.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Yards were 22 cars, comprising, 396 cattle, 1436 hogs, 16 sheep and 23 calves.

Butchers.

Choice steers and heifers sold at $8.10 to $7.75; good steers and heifers, $7 to $7.30; common to medium, $7.40 to $7.25; choice cows, $6.75 to $7; good cows, $6.40 to $6.65; common, $5.25 to $5.75; canners and cutters, $3 to $4.50; bulls, choice, $6.75 to $7.25; good bulls, $6 to $6.50.

Stockers and Feeders.

Stockers were in good demand and scarce. Prices of steers, 800 to 900 lbs., at $6.75 to $7; steers, 700 to 800 lbs., at $6.50 to $6.65; common sold at from $6.00 to $6.25.

Milkers and Springers.

Not many milkers were on the market. Best prices remain firm at $60 to $65, the bulk selling at $50 to $55.

Veal Calves.

On account of light deliveries calves sold on brisk to-day. Choice calves sold at $10 to $11; good calves sold at $9 to $9.50; common at $7.50 to $8.50; common at $6 to $7.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts light and prices firm. Sheep, ewes, $6.50 to $7.50; rams, $5.50 to $6.50; lambs, choice, $9 to $9.75.

Hogs.

Selects, fed and watered, sold at $9.25 to $9.50, and $9.75 weighed off cars, and $9 f.o.b. cars.

EAST BUFFALO LIVE STOCK.

EAST BUFFALO, N.Y., April 3.—Cattle—Receipts, 250; slow and steady.

Veals—Receipts, 125; active and steady; $4 to $11.

Hogs—Receipts, 3600; active and 5c to 10c higher; heavy, $9.10 to $9.15; mixed, $9.25 to $9.30; yorkers, $9.15 to $9.20; pigs, $9.10 to $9.15; roughs, $8.25 to $8.50; stags, $7 to $7.50; dairies, $8.90 to $9.25.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 2600; steady; sheep, active; lambs, slow; unchanged.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, April 3.—Cattle—Receipts, 4000; market, steady; beeves, $6.95 to $9.80; Texas steers, $7.20 to $8.20; stockers and feeders, $5.50 to $7.80; cows and heifers, $3.70 to $8.40; calves, $6.75 to $10.

Hogs — Receipts, 112,000; market, strong; light, $8.60 to $8.80; mixed, $8.60 to $8.90; heavy, $8.35 to $8.75; rough, $8.35 to $8.45; pigs, $7.35 to $8.65; bulk of sales, $8.65 to $8.75.

Sheep — Receipts, 11,000; market, steady; native, $6.40 to $6.90; yearlings, $8.50 to $7.45; lambs, native, $7.35 to $8.35.

Coxey Will Lead Another Army.

NEW YORK, April 3. — Jacob S. Coxey, leader of the famous army which bore his name and marched on Washington in 1894, yesterday established headquarters here. He said he would spend several days looking after plans for the mobilization of the New York wing of an army of 500,000 men which he intends to lead into the national capital some time this month.

The main division of the army, he said, will leave Massillon, Ohio, on April 16, and will be joined outside Washington by the eastern division.

Disgraced Soldiers Ended Lives.

VIENNA, April 3.—Lieut. Soltus of the Austrian Gendarmerie, and one of his men, committed suicide yesterday in consequence of the discovery that they and a number of other officers and men have been accepting bribes from the proprietor of an emigration agency at Presznal, in Galicia. The agent, with their help, had smuggled out of the country a large number of young men liable to military service. Nine gendarmes and several others have been arrested.

Will Not Oppose Asquith.

LONDON, April 3.—A prolonged and animated meeting of East Fife Unionists' Association, held yesterday at Cupar, it was decided not to run a candidate in opposition to Asquith they resolved that "in consequence of a desire to further the best interest of the country in the present critical circumstances to take no action, but to regard the matter of contesting the bye-election to the executive committee with full powers to act if the present position changes."

The Baseball War.

In the baseball world the Federals seem to be the revolutionists.—Chicago News.

It looks now as if the courts were going to do a great deal of baseball umpiring this year.—Philadelphia Press.

As near as we can get at it, the Federal league has done everything but lease the peanut and popcorn privileges.—Detroit Free Press.

If the fight keeps up much longer there will be better baseball in the courts than on the diamond next season.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Terribly Afflicted With Lame Back.

Could Not Sweep The Floor.

When the back aches and pains it is almost impossible for women to do their housework, for every move and every turn means an ache or a pain.

Women are beginning to understand that weak, lame, and aching backs from which they suffer so much are due to wrong action of the Kidneys, and should be attended to at once so as to avoid years of suffering from kidney trouble.

On the first sign of anything wrong with the back Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken.

They go right to the seat of the trouble.

Mrs. Wilfrid Jolicoeur, Nouvelle, Que., writes:—"I take pleasure in writing you stating the benefit I have received by using Doan's Kidney Pills. About three years ago I was terribly afflicted with lame back, and felt so bad I could not sweep my own floor. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I only used three boxes, and I am as well as ever. I highly recommend these pills to any sufferer from lame back or kidney trouble."

Price, 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Toronto, Ont.

If ordering direct specify "Doan's."

Gravity of a Spinning Top.

A spinning top is kept from falling because of the speed with which it revolves. The attraction of gravitation is temporarily overcome by the centrifugal force produced by the rotation of the top when it is spun. Each part of the top is subject to the same centrifugal force as each other part at the same distance from the axis of rotation and to no greater force, so that there is no cause for the top being pulled in any particular direction by the force of gravity. As long as the centrifugal force tends to lessen because of lessening speed of rotation the attraction of gravity begins to be exerted again and the top begins to wabble. When the spinning motion diminishes to such an extent that the attraction of gravitation becomes greater than the centrifugal force the top

PIANO TUNING
Orders for Piano or Organ Tuning promptly attended to
W. H. CUNNINGHAM,
563 Weller Street.
Phone 790.

Dominion Cafe
Modern and up-to-date dining rooms; also private dining table. Drop in and try our special Chinese dishes. Nothing but the best of meats and chops used. We guarantee the best of satisfaction to strangers, and all our patrons. 'Phone 328
328 George St
TOM HILL Manager.
Open from 7 a.m. to 2 a.m.

DELICIOUS FLORIDA TOMATOES
Fine and Firm and in Natural Condition
JOE LONGO & Co.
ITALIAN FRUIT DEALERS
Tel. (Bell) 416 Queen St. Tel. (Rural) 220 Auburn 1913

New York Chinese Cash Co.
438 George St. Phone 806
Genuine vegetable oil and chow mein noodles, also all kinds of Chinese delicacies. Orders by mail or parcel post promptly attended to. Open day and evening. Sat. 1 to 11 p.m.

Cash or Credit For Furniture
Stores filled with strong, dry merchandise, the most reliable kind. Prices and terms to suit purse. Drummond, Parlor Suites, Oak Dressers, Rocking Chairs, Etc.
EMPIRE FURNITURE CO.
299 George St. Opposite Carnegie Library
Telephone 812.
CASH OR CREDIT

LABATT'S LAGER
IS MILD, PURE, APPETIZING
Just the Beverage for the busy man:—rests the nerves and ensures sound sleep.
If not sold in your neighborhood, write
JOHN LABATT, LIMITED
LONDON - - CANADA
Special arrangements for direct shipment to private consumers.

Published daily by The Evening Examiner Printing and Publishing Co., Limited, Peterborough, Ont.

The Evening Examiner.

Pages 7-14

PETERBOROUGH, FRIDAY, APRIL 3, 1914

THE CITY CAN TAKE OVER LIGHTING PLANT IMMEDIATELY

By Paying Into Trust a Sum Approximately $100,000, on the Value of Plant as It Stood in 1912 With Additions

THE BONDHOLDERS

The Peterborough deputation that was in Toronto yesterday in connection with the City's private bill returned last evening. They regard the result as a veritable triumph over the Power Corporation. As was stated in yesterday's issue of the Examiner, the Private Bills Committee of the Legislature decided that the City of Peterborough could acquire the plant of the Peterborough Power and Light Company at a value set by arbitration and that the City did not have to purchase any other work controlled by the holding company despite the efforts of the latter to load the City up with another plant. The Hydro made its fight through the City. The holding company made its fight through the Peterborough Company and the bond-holders. The Hon. Adam Beck, chairman of the Hydro-Electric Commission, on behalf of the City of Peterborough, told the Committee exactly what the situation was at the present time.

Three Provisions.

Although the Hon. Mr. Lucas decided that a legal committee should decide as to the exact working of the clause, the committee passed the following three provisions which are subject to clerical changes.

"The City of Peterborough can take over immediately the plant of the Peterborough Power and Light Company by paying into trust a sum in the neighbourhood of $100,000, or the value of the plant as it stood in 1912, with the additions made since. Should the Board of Arbitrators decide that the plant is worth more than that the City can pay the difference when the decision is reached by the Board."

2. "The City can take over the plant of the Peterborough Power and Light Company without taking over the plant of the Auburn Power Company."

3. "The city will only be liable for damage caused by the severance of the distributing plant (The Peterborough Power and Light Company) from the Auburn Company.

Not Enough Legislation.

Mr. M. K. Cowan, K.C., explained the situation on behalf of the City of Peterborough. The Company agreed when it secured the 30-year charter that nothing in the agreement should prevent the City going into the power and light business at any future date. In 1912 the City was given power by the Legislature to take over the Company at a price to be fixed by arbitrators.

City Thinks it a Trick.

The legislation went into effect on May6, 1913, and the City notified the Company that they would pay them $94,000 for the property. The Company refused to sell, and advised the City that they would have to also take over the Auburn Power plant, bringing the total cost up to $200,000. The company held that they had purchased the plant in April, 1913, although the sale was not registered until June, 1913. The City was convinced that it was a trick to load the two plants on to them.

Carry to Privy Council.

Mr. Cowan held that if the matter went to arbitration again the case could be carried to the Privy Council. In the meantime the City would be growing and the power lines would have to be extended. The Company wouldn't increase the size of the plant as property maintain it, as in the end they might only get the $94,000 originally decided upon. Therefore the City would be taking over a plant that had decreased in value. That was the reason why the City wanted to take it over immediately. The Hydro Commission should be allowed to fix the award and if it was more than the sum paid into court by the City then the City could make up the difference.

"We object to buying anything but the property they had at the date of the legislation, May 6, 1913," said Mr. Cowan. "We are not going to allow them to load the other plant on us by a shrewd trick."

Hydro Obstructed.

"It is impossible for the Hydro to carry out its contract with the City until this plant is taken over by the City," said Mr. McLaren for the Hydro-Electric Commission. "I don't think that you, honourable gentlemen, intended to allow any opening in the original legislation for the Company, and I think that it was more a mistake of language than a mistake in the bill itself."

Wanted Ruin Business.

Mr. A. E. Colville, for the Company said that the Auburn plant was in the ring and that it was really a part of the other Company. There were twenty or thirty companies included in the same holding company. The Auburn Company really supplies

(Continued on Page 13.)

TO SPEND THE HOLIDAY IN BERLIN

Peterborough Rangers Will Be Invited to Spend Labour Day in Dutchtown

500 STRONG

BERLIN, April 3. — His Worship Mayor Euler received a letter yesterday from Adjutant Maclean, of the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, intimating that it is the desire of the officer and men to take a holiday trip to some Western Ontario city on Labour Day holiday, and that Berlin is favoured by the majority of the Regiment.

The communication assured the Mayor that there would be no expense on the part of the city, as the entire cost of the trip will be defrayed by the Regiment, which registers 500 strong. His Worship was asked if there were suitable grounds in the vicinity of Berlin which could be secured as a temporary camp.

Mayor Euler stated that he proposes inviting the Regiment to spend the Labour Day holiday in this city, and is conferring with the members of the Park Board regarding allowing the use of the old Woodside Park on Queen Street, south.

It is expected that the Regiment, if the Mayor's invitation is finally accepted, will reach Berlin on Saturday night, Sept. 5th, and spend the following Sunday and Monday in the city.

The last military regiment to visit Berlin was about fifteen years ago when the 13th Regiment of Hamilton, and the Royal Grenadiers of Toronto, celebrated Victoria Day here.

"HIS HOUR OF TRIUMPH"

A Splendid "Imp" Feature at "The Grand" To-night

Local lovers of motion pictures should make it a point to see the splendid two-reel feature film which will be shown at "The Grand" to-night, entitled "His Hour of Triumph." Wm. Shay and Jane Gail, who no doubt are very familiar to local patrons, have the leading roles in this interesting "Imp" production. It concerns a new theatrical play, and in the picture the scenes both in front and back of the main curtain are vividly shown. In addition to this there will be four other good reeels of comedy and drama. For to-morrow (Saturday) the management have arranged for a good programme both for the matinee and evening performances. If you have not yet tried The Grand make it a point to do so either to-night or to-morrow, matinee and night. You can depend on getting one and a half hours clean, bright amusement in a high airy theatre where the seats are roomy and comfortable. The prices are 10c for adults and 5c for children.

Should Be Maple Syrup Offered At Saturday's Market

It is expected that there will be a quantity of maple syrup offered for sale on the market tomorrow. There were no reports from the woods during the week, but it is expected that if there is going to be any syrup this Spring there should be some forthcoming to-morrow.

Given a good attendance, the price of eggs should be knocked down to a new level. The supply should be heavy although there may be conditions which will step in and hold the price firm.

G. T. R. Officials Are In The City

The "Official Car" of the Grand Trunk Railway passed through the City this morning en route to Midland. Several officers of the railway were on the car, and they stopped off here for a couple of hours. They were making a tour of inspection of this part of the system and looking after certain other business concerning the operation of the lines in this district. The party consisted of Messrs. C. J. Quarker, General Supt. Eastern Lines, C. F. Coyle, Supt. of Belleville, C. E. Quwey, Freight Traffic Manager, Montreal, L. McDonald, District Freight Agent, M. S. Blackstock, Engineer Maintenance of Way, J. D. McMillan, Trainmaster, Lindsay, and C. Mitchell, Track Supt.

RADIAL RAILWAY SCHEME WAS WELL RECEIVED

Mayor Buller Carries His Project to the Provincial Legislature

LOCAL DELEGATES

The Peterborough section of the deputation that attended the conference in Toronto in connection with the proposed radial railway scheme for Eastern and Western Ontario are satisfied with the reception they received at the hands of the Provincial legislators. It is estimated that over two hundred delegates were present, including a big representation from Peterborough, Norwood, Hastings, Havelock, Lakefield and other points east of Toronto.

Mayor Buller pointed out that the East had been neglected. He also recommended reciprocal relations between the East and West. The Mayor went on to show that a big belt of fertile country, situated in Peterborough and adjoining centres could be served by a radial railway. The object of the deputation was to solicit the support of the Provincial Government, so that when the logical time arrives, the Government may see fit to guarantee the bonds in connection with the enterprise. Similar representations have been made to the Dominion Government in anticipation of a grant from that source. The delegates were assured that their proposal would receive the consideration of the Government.

Among those present from Peterborough County, besides Mayor Buller and members of the City Council were Dr. Kindred of Havelock, Reeve W. G. Howden of Monaghan and Reeve Fitzgerald of Lakefield.

CONTINUE TO DRAW CROWDS

Another Interesting Sermon at Park St. Baptist Church

The Park Street auditorium was filled last night and all who were rebelling against God listened to a sermon from the shoulder. Shot and shell fell right and left and scores complimented Evangelist Pugsley at the close of the sermon, claiming it was the most helpful of the series. Rebellion is a sin God despises, and for which he always punishes severely. The Evangelist gave many personal illustrations of the result of fighting against God. Two accepted Christ at the close of the sermon. The male quartette sang.

Rev. Clarry of St. James', was on the platform and offered prayer. Rev. McLaren of Gilmour, was also present.

Subject to-night, "We Let Her Drive." All come and have a good time. Come to an old-time, old-fashioned revival.

Heavy Fine For Assaulting Officer

In the Police Court this morning, a local man who pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly, yesterday, was fined $5.75 by Magistrate Dumble.

James Robertson, who pleaded guilty a week ago to a charge of being drunk in a public place, but was remanded on account of his shaky condition, was fined $2. to be paid in ten days, for his offence.

Joseph Tye, who entered a guilty plea to a charge of being drunk, was assessed the usual tax.

Garnett Allen, who has frequently appeared in Court, occupied the box again this morning. He faced two charges. They were, that of being drunk and assaulting a police officer. He pleaded guilty to both, was fined $2 for the first offence, and $5.75 for the latter, making a total of $7.75, which was ordered to be paid forthwith. Chief Thompson remarked that Allen had assaulted police officials before, but this was the first time he had been charged. Not having the necessary capital, Allen will dine with Gaoler Nesbitt for the following fifteen days.

$650 Damages For Son's Death

A communication from the lawyers acting for Mr. F. W. Miller in Winnipeg, in the action which Mr. Miller brought against the City of Winnipeg for damages in connection with the death of his son, announces the fact that Mr. Miller has been awarded $650 as a compensation.

ASQUITH AND HIS ELECTION SMILE.—Right Hon. Herbert H. Asquith, Prime Minister of Great Britain, is himself one of the best "stump" speakers in the Old Country. He is able to get and maintain the interest of his audience, even though it be very hostile. They do say it is largely on account of his broad smile, as seen in the picture. He will probably "try it on" with his constituents in East Fife, to whom he is appealing at present.

New Policemen Enable Chief Thompson To Patrol Outlying Parts Of The City

The addition of two men to the police force has enabled Chief Thompson to create two new beats which have been uncovered up to the present. One man is detailed to a section of the north ward, and P. C. Patterson has been assigned to a route in the south and west end of the city. Some of the residents in the latter district were of the opinion that the bonnie Scotchman was wandering far from the centre of the city, but others rightly concluded that Chief Thompson had been able to extend the police protection toward the outer boundaries of the city. Some of the residents apparently felt that the presence of the police officers portended trouble for some wrongdoers, for in the past a blue coat was seldom seen unless they were on somebody's tracks. It is expected that this note will be more or less of a warning to the "gangsters," if there are any, for the police will be able to keep a closer watch on them in future away from the centre of the city.

Newsboy Picks Up Ten Dollar Bill And A Little Want Ad In The Examiner As Last Resort Leads To Its Return

Here is a little story that should please honest hearts, strengthen your faith in humanity, and bring a blush to the cheeks of those who are none too scrupulous in the deciding of what is mine and what is thine. It is nobler than a sermon and more powerful than a parable.

A week ago an Examiner reporter lost a ten-dollar Bank of Montreal bill. He had practically given up all hope of its being returned to him. The immoral opinion that finders are keepers obtains too generally in regard to lost bills, umbrellas and other forms of property to entertain much hope for their recovery. He had thought of writing out a want "ad", but postponed the step for the reason just mentioned. Finally deciding that an "ad" would at least do no harm, the following advertisement was inserted in the Lost and Found column of Wednesday's Examiner:

LOST—Ten-dollar bill on Friday last. Reward. Finder please leave at the Examiner Office. 1d-77

Within twenty-four hours, in fact just as Thursday's papers were coming from the press, a woman—a lady, called at the Examiner office and stated that she had come to enquire about the ten-dollar bill. The particular reporter who had been a trifle careless in the handling of his money was out at the time, but a street address was left for him.

Later at her home, for the loser was eager to meet the subject of such honesty, the lady said her boy had found the money. The reporter traced his steps and mentioned taking some change from his pocket in front of the Examiner office before starting on a visit at the conclusion of which he found himself minus a good ten-dollar bill.

The lady said that her little boy who by the way sells the Daily Examiner, had picked up a Bank of Montreal ten-dollar bill in front of the Examiner office at the time mentioned. He had brought it home and given it to his mother. On noticing the advertisement she had reported the find as soon as she could. There was no garage at the back of the house, nor did the rooms blaze with Mazdas, nor was there a player-piano in the dim light of a back parlour. The circumstances suggested a humble, self-respecting, ordinary family.

The lady felt satisfid that the money belonged to the reporter, and while some of it was left behind, though he was not a Croesus, the journalist afterwards wished that he had left the whole ten for the boy.

Some time ago, the mother said, her son had picked up a small roll of bills on the street, and two girls who had apparently lost the money grabbed them from the boy without an "I thank you." The incident should surely be an encouragement for ye of little faith.

FEDERAL SCHEMES WILL LIKELY BE ACCEPTED

Special Wire to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., April 3.—(Special cable.)— Although the optimism over the prospects of settlement are somewhat checked by Balfour's speech in the Commons yesterday there is still a feeling that eventual settlement will come through the adoption of the Federal idea. Undoubtedly the "die hards" of both Nationalists and Unionists will fight the Federal idea to a finish, but there is a strong undercurrent among the thinking Liberals and Unionists towards a compromise along that line.

One direct result of the Home Rule controversy is the announcement that the parliamentary golf handicap, usually a brilliant social function, has been postponed and probably abandoned. There is so much bitterness between the factions on the outstanding political issues that they cannot even play golf together.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY

Rev. E. Farewell Will Visit George St. Church on Sunday.

The anniversary of the George St. Methodist Sunday School will be observd on Sunday next. Rev. F. L. Farewell, Associate Secretary of Sunday Schools, of the Methodist Church in Canada, will be the visiting clergyman. He will address a congregation of children in the morning, Sunday School in the afternoon, and preach in the evening. The Sunday school is one of the best in the city with all departments thoroughly organized, and a splendid staff of teachers and officers under the able leadership of Mr. Wilson Taylor, B.A., of the Collegiate staff, as superintendent.

SIR WILFRID CLOSES ONSLAUGHT ON THE COMMISSIONER'S FINDING

MAJORITY WERE IN FAVOUR OF MEASURE

City Council is Well Pleased at the Outcome of Their Trip to Toronto —A Few Minor Changes Were Made

TO THE BILL

The civic deputation comprising His Worship Mayor Buller, Aldermen McIntyre, Anderson, Langford, Johnston, Green, Duffus, Stratton, Gordon and Duncan, also City Solicitor Hall and City Clerk Armstrong have returned after a two days' sojourn in Toronto. Each and every member of the delegation is satisfied with the legislative ability of the Ontario Legislature as was exemplified by the Private Bills Committee's endorsation of the City's measure to secure control of the distribution system of the Peterborough Light and Power Company.

Mayor Buller when seen this morning by an Examiner representative, said that a large majority of the members of the Private Bills Committee of the Ontario Legislature showed their approval of the principles contained in the City's bill by giving it legislative effect. There were only one or two dissenting voices. A few minor changes concerning the wording of the bill were subsequently made

AFTERNOON SESSION.

A meeting attended by City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall and Mr. M. K. Cowan, representing the City, Mr. C. B. Mavlanes, representing the Hydro-Electric Commission, Mr. A. E. Colville, solicitor for the Peterborough Light and Power Company, Mr. E. A. Peck, Provincial member for East Peterborough, Mayor Buller and others met in the afternoon, and agreed upon the changes referred to with one exception. Mr. Colville objected to clause two, which says:

"Nor shall anything be taken into consideration or allowed for or on acount of damages resulting from or occasioned by severance of any lands, works, or any other property of the company by the exercise of the powers conferred by this Act."

The company would have this read: "Nor shall anything be allowed on account of damages resulting or occasioned by severance of any lands because the city did not take the Auburn dam."

The City's representatives would not accept this amendment on the grounds that it was too indefinite, and left the City's position open to potential difficulties. The conference which lasted until 6.30 yesterday afternoon closed without settling this point, so that it will probably remain for the Legislature to decide the issue.

WILL BECOME LAW

The net result of the new legislation will be that the Company shall within one month after the passing of the Act furnish the City Council with a complete list of the property defined by the company, showing what was owned by, conveyed to, or vested in the company prior to the 15th day of April, 1912, and also full particulars of any and all additions made to the distributing system of the company since the said date. The City will then proceed to take possession of the system in accordance with the terms of the Act, and on payment into court of such sums as may be fixed by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission by way of deposit towards the sum to be thereafter fixed as the sum to be paid to the company. The amended Act will become law as soon as it receives the official signature of the Lieut.-Governor of Ontario.

Superintendent Of The Hope Co. To Reside On Chamberlain St.

Mr. Richardson, superintendent of the Henry Hope Works, will move into a new house recently built by Mr. J. W. Byers, on Chamberlain Street, just east of the Boundary Road. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson are at present living in the City. The work at the factory is progressing steadily, and the machinery is being rapidly installed. The beginning of operations should be announced in a short time.

Doctors Met.

A meeting of the local doctors was held last night when matters of a private nature were discussed. A paper was given by Dr. Neal.

Liberal Leader Declares That He Rejoices in the Attacks Made on Him in Connection With the G.T.R.

VOTE IS DEFEATED

OTTAWA, April 3.—In a remarkable speech of nearly two hours' duration, marked by all his old-time fire, eloquence and vigor of argument and delivery, Sir Wilfrid Larier last night summed up the Liberal indictment against the "unblushing partisan libel against the Liberal party, against the National Transcontinental Railway, and against Canada itself," contained in the report of Messrs. Gutellus and Lynch-Staunton.

Premier Borden replied at length and at a late hour the vote of censure was defeated by the Government forces, 105 to 87.

Mr. Hugh Guthrie (Lib., S. Wellington) resumed the debate yesterday afternoon. He said there could have been no undue extravagance in building the road, because the Grand Trunk had tendered upon 17 of the 21 contracts for the express purpose of keeping down the cost of construction. He criticized the action of the present commission in introducing mountain grades in spite of the protests of the Grand Trunk Pacific. Evidently this had been done in order to give the Grand Trunk Pacific the opportunity to refuse to lease the Winnipeg-Moncton line for fifty years under its contract with the Government.

W. H. Bennett (Con., E. Simcoe) said the Grand Trunk Pacific scheme had been devised in order to make a lot of Liberal campaign followers rich. The Yukon had played out and the western lands had been exploited to the limit, so some new get-rich-quick scheme had to be invented. The Government had a complacent Minister of Railways in Mr. Graham, and a commission was quite ready to join hands with the contractors in making party favorites rich. At the head of the commission was placed the "precious Mr. Parent," who was disgraced and discarded by the Liberal politicians of the Province of Quebec. It was this same Mr. Parent who, in behalf of the Government, promised a charter to the Banque Internationale upon condition that Sir Rodolphe Forget did not run against Mr. Geo. Parent in Montmorency in 1911.

Hon. H. R. Emerson asked whether the Government believed that $35,000,000 had been wasted in constructing a line between Levis and Moncton. If it did believe that why was it spending $50,000,000 more in terminal facilities at Halifax, and $30,000,000 more in improving the port of St. John, N.B.?

Sir Wilfrid Laurier received an ovation from his followers upon rising. Sir Wilfrid went over the careers of the two investigators to show that they were biassed politically, and had not given the accused a fair trial.

"What is this report?" he asked. "It is an unblushing partisan libel, reeking with unfair insinuendoes and untrue insinuations, but nowhere is there a direct open page of dishonesty or graft."

The charge against the late Government, Sir Wilfrid continued, was that they had built too good a road, that they had too much faith in Canada and too much hope for her future. For himself he was here to say that the National Transcontinental would realize the fondest hopes of the country unless the men now in charge of the road degraded its high standard.

Sir Wilfrid then dealt with the points in the report.

The commissioners well knew that the $45,000 for the Transcona shops had not been illegally expended, and that the present Minister of Justice had so declared. They also knew that the present Government had expended $2,500,000 upon similar shops at Quebec, but that fact was not mentioned in their report. They also knew that the present Government had sent an impartial expert to examine the Transcontinental shops, who had reported that they were none too large.

As for the statement that the Moncton-Levis line was a sheer waste of money, that was only the echo of Lynch-Staunton's speeches in Ontario in 1904 and 1908. At that time Ontario Conservatives had been breaking off the line at Quebec.

In conclusion, Sir Wilfrid said that it had been repeatedly charged during this debate that he was responsible for the construction of the National Transcontinental. If that were intended as a stigma, he accepted it as an honor. No greater service could be performed for the confederation than to connect Quebec and Winnipeg with a continuous chain of settlements. "It is our responsibility, the construction of this road; it is for the Government to accept the responsibility from degrading and destroying it," he said.

There was a great demonstration from the Government benches when the Prime Minister rose to reply. Sir Wilfrid's speech, he said, was an admirable though abbreviated edition of the speech delivered last week by Mr. Graham, with a few decorative flourishes and statements from the ex-Premier's speech in introducing the Grand Trunk Pacific legislation in 1903.

(Continued on Page 9.)

Evening Examiner

Phone Editorial 1020, Business Office 1022
Private Branch Exchange to all Departments

The Paid Circulation of The Daily Examiner is Over

4700 COPIES DAILY

SWORN TO AND GUARANTEED

The Daily Examiner, published every week day evening by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited; Office, 410 George Street.

The Weekly Examiner, published Thursday morning.

The subscription price of The Daily Examiner is $4.00 per annum; that of The Weekly, $1.50.

Special U. S. Representative: W. H. Scarlett, 623 People's Gas Building, Chicago, Ill.

Advertising rates on application.

Hon. J. H. STRATTON, President.

R. M. GLOVER, Managing Director.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

FRIDAY, APRIL 3, 1914

CANAL TOLLS.

There is a tendency to regard the action of the United States House of Representatives in rescinding the legislation that permitted coastwise shipping of that country exemption from Panama Canal tolls, as one of unusual merit. But we cannot easily see how any other action could have been taken, by a nation having any regard for treaty obligation or fair play. The Hay-Pauncefote treaty provides that "the canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations * * * on terms of entire equality." This of itself demanded the legislation negativing remission of the legislation proposing to remit tolls to United States vessels; but if it were not quite enough, the coup de grace would have been given by honourable consideration of the fact, that Canadian canals are open to United States shipping on "terms of entire equality," and without any treaty formality.

A WARRANTED ACTION.

The action of the Public Library Board in increasing the salary of the Librarian, Mr. Dela Fosse, warrants commendation. It seems to be theologically sound and Scriptural, a practical recognition of the truth—"the labourer is worthy of his hire." Mr. Dela Fosse has, as librarian, held three years in charge of the Library, and it is only ordinary recognition of effective service to say that, with the co-operation of the public-spirited Board, the present excellent condition and standing, and popularity and usefulness of the Library are largely due to the work of the Librarian. Added to his qualifications in the way of educated culture, wide reading, and literary ability and knowledge, a courteous attitude to the public, and diligent attention to duty have justified the Board in taking the action they took last night to recognize these qualities and qualifications. A good, public servant should be adequately paid; an inferior should be paid—off.

PURE WATER.

The ratepayers of Ottawa have voted against a proposal for a supply of pure city water which would have undoubtedly been got, if the Thirty-one-mile source of supply had been approved. Ottawa will now have to get its water from the Ottawa river. Naturally the water of the river is pure; but it is greatly contaminated before it raches Ottawa by sewage and other impurities. This means that the Capital will still have to fight disease—the prevalence of typhoid that results from impure water. In this connection the attitude of the Dominion Government in refusing to consider immediate legislative action aimed at preventing the pollution of navigable streams, used as sources of human water supply, is reprehensible. The situation is one that concerns Peterborough. Our water supply is theoretically one of exceptional purity in its natural condition. But the increasing summer population of our lakes provides for conditions of water pollution that call for earnest attention. The authorities, civic and provincial, should employ all the means in their power to preserve our water sources from contamination. The situation is one for immediate action. Cheap water is desirable; but pure water is indispensable, if the health of those who use it is a consideration; and no money value can be placed upon health.

LACROSSE.

The agitation for the revival of lacrosse is in every way, commendable; and it is hoped that the organization meeting to be held next Monday night will result in the establishment of lacrosse upon a sound basis. Lacrosse is worthy of encouragement as our national game, as its encouragement and practice involve patriotism, while at the same time it furnishes clean, exciting sport, and, when free from the curse of professionalism is deserving of popular favour. Once professionalism enters into sport it ceases to b sport, and is degraded to the level of a commercial enterprise. In days gone by Peterborough had plenty of good and clean lacrosse. When we won a game or a championship it was our own triumph; not the winning of a few paid players, whose only connection with the town or city would be their relation to the money they take out of the people in the form of salaries. We should have lacrosse firmly established in Peterborough for the sake of the sport itself, and for the patriotic reasons that the practice of our own national game involves. It should thus be popular with all classes and, if any are not influenced by such considerations they might be influenced by the policy of very many to have "no truck nor' trade with the Yankees.' Baseball is an unquestionable importation from the United States, where it enjoys a great popularity. There is no desire to disparage baseball as a game; it is a lively "gingery" game, but it should not be allowed to monopolize the stage of sport to the exclusion of our own equally lively and gingery game. Lacrosse is a sport; baseball, to a large extent, is an industry, a business. If we wish to encourage healthy sport, a sport that provides first-class athletic training and, for successful practice, demands clean-living, and steady habits, we should encourage lacrosse that contains all the elements of popularity. It is easily learned, and the equipment is simple, permitting everybody who has the foot speed, and agility, to become proficient. The prospects are that the eclipse that has of late overshadowed purely Canadian sport is passing off and that this summer we shall have revived in the form of lacrosse a summer sport that will be complementary to our most popular winter game. We should, and can, have, city leagues and church leagues as w have in hockey. Every patriotic citizen should lend his support and encouragement to lacrosse.

A SUGGESTION FOR J. H.

The addition of two hyphens, which may originally have belonged to him, gives the ultra democratic member for West Peterborough a most aristocratic and distinctive name, thus: "John Ham-Burn-Ham." Propery hoalnced, with hair parted in the middle and flowing Dundreary whiskers, that name, under woman's suffrage, would sweep the polls in any constituency in Canada. We are under obligations to Mr. Burnham for many of his bright ideas, and offer this one as a slight return.—Orillia Packet.

SECRECY AN IMPERTINENCE.

Secrecy is a menace to public ownership of public services. The Hydro-Electric or any other public service operated directly or indirectly by elected representatives will become a reproach and a failure unless the public are fully and continuously informed as to what is being done in their name and on their behalf. Concealment by the men who are the agents while the public are their principals is a monumental impertinence. No excuse can be offered and no explanation can be made. The friends of the Hydro-Electric service, who hope for its success, must work for full publicity. Without this, abuse, antagonism, and failure are inevitable.

Those responsible for secrecy, no matter how able they may be in other respects, are worse than useless so long as they take this unwarranted and presumptuous view of their position. If they continue in that view the urgent and immediate necessity is to get rid of them. In this there is a warning against long-term Commissioners or representatives. A one-year term, renewable, is always permanent enough, and it enables the public to get rid of their agent as soon as he conceals what he is doing with their money or their plant. Mr. McNaught and Col. Hendrie demanded that the conference between the city and the Hydro-Electric representatives should be secret. If they continue in that attitude it is the end of their usefulness. Unless they take a normal view of their position the safety of this public service under public control demands their removal from the Provincial Commission.—Globe.

CANAL NOTES FROM HASTINGS

The canal staff under Mr. West, who have been at Harwood for the past two months returned to town on Saturday, and are now fitting up the boats ready for the summer's work. The old railway bridge out from Harwood has all been cross sectioned and it is likely that the old piers and piles will all be dredged out, as they are mostly under water and a menace to navigation. The survey boat, Oriental, has been to Peterborough all winter being rebuilt and having a new engine installed.

Jack Burness and Mike Murphy have started on fitting up No. 7 dredge. The former will run No. 7 this season. The Coate Bros., who have run No. 7 the past two seasons, will run the No. 8 this season.

Most of the launch owners are getting at their boats looking them over and fitting for the coming season, the last few days' fair weather putting everyone on the lookout for an early spring. The water in the river is rising steadily despite a number of stop logs out, and if the present weather holds we can look for our high water almost a month early. —Hastings Star.

SPLENDID BIRDS WERE EXHIBITED

At Poultry Association Meeting Last Night—Will Ask For More Varieties at Exhibition

The regular monthly meeting of the Poultry Association was held last night in their rooms on Simcoe Street. President Holmes occupied the chair and there was a good attendance. After a number of communications had been dealt with and other routine business transacted the educative part of the meeting was proceeded with.

The Poultry Association have inaugurated educative demonstrations and the innovation certainly took well with all the members present last night. Some splendid White and Buff Wyandottes were exhibited and these were judged for the benefit of the newer breeders. The birds were very carefully compared and their relative advantages pointed out in detail so that this was of great benefit to those anxious to learn what condition to aim at in raising wyandottes.

One of the experienced breeders gave a short talk on how to tell which of the poultry raiser's hens are really laying the most eggs, and how to discriminate between those and the hens that were not laying. This talk, too, was greatly appreciated, and had much of interest to all present.

Ribbons were awarded to the prize winners of the birds shown. Mr. Arthur Aish was awarded the first prize in Buff Wyandottes. The birds he exhibited were in magnificent condition, and were some of the finest of the class ever shown in this City. Mr. Brown carried off the ribbon for White Wyandotte pullets, and Mr. Archie Breault was awarded the ribbon for White Wyandotte cocks.

"How to Mate Properly" was the subject of another demonstrative address which was heard with interest by the gathering of poultry raisers.

Mr. Geo. Paxman was appointed to represent the Association before the Fair Directors this evening to urge that the number of classes of poultry exhibited at the Exhibition next year be increased, and that provision be made for more varieties.

The educative portion of the meeting was voted by all present to be a great success and next meeting there will be Black Hamburgs and Rocks of all kinds exhibited.

RESIGNATION HAS BEEN ACCEPTED

Mr. F. W. Miller has received a communication from Mr. W. D. Scott, superintendent of the Immigration Department at Ottawa, notifying him that his resignation as Immigration Officer at Peterborough has been accepted. Mr. Miller's duties as such an officer therefore have ceased, and Mr. Miller has commenced his duties which have lately been assigned to him by the City Council.

$100 FINE WILL BE APPEALED

The April sittings of the County Division Court were conducted in the Court House before His Honour Judge Hayeke this morning. The following is the list of cases, which came up for judgment:

R. E. Finlay vs. Canadian Pacific Railway Co. for $79.10.

Charles J. Carrell vs. A. W. Turner for $95.

Alexander Sanderson vs. A. W. Smith for $14.05.

M. J. Hickey vs. Frank Togas and Halls, Ltd., for $15.54.

Frederick Mahood vs. Joseph Manley for $22.

Toronto Slipper Mfg. Co. vs. J. W. Carey for $135.70.

Frank Vinall vs. Canadian Electric Co. for $197.75.

Daniel Lawrence vs. Robt. Hoskin for $96.80.

The appeal against the judgment made by Magistrate Dumble against Herbert Clayton, proprietor of the Royal Theatre, fining him $100 for allowing a child under 15 years of age, not accompanied by an adult, to witness a performance of moving pictures, will be heard to-day. Mr. Daniel O'Connell is acting for Mr. Clayton.

HOUSES

FOR SALE
FROM $1800.00 to $9000.00
TO RENT
FROM $11.00 to $18.00
ROOMS TO RENT
ON STEWART STREET.
—BY—
T. Walker & Co.
377 Park St. 'Phone 1002
OUR MOTTO: THE BEST VALUE

TO RENT

TO RENT — GOOD ROOM AND BOARD with private family. Apply Examiner Office.

FOR RENT—STORE AND DWELLING-House combined. Good business section. For particulars apply to No. 659 Water Street, City. dtf-76-4653

TO LET—A GOOD, WELL FURNISHED, steam heated Front Room for two gentlemen. Apply 64 Hunter Street. 2td-62

TO RENT—STORE, NO. 173½ SIMCOE ST. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-111-2819

TO RENT—GROCERY STORE, WITH large cellar. Yard and stable. Good location. Apply to "Owners," 143 Antrim Street, City. dtf-59

TO RENT—ROOMS ON HUNTER STREET, between George and Aylmer, suitable for two dwellings. Apply 437 George. dtf-39

TO RENT — ONE STORE IN GRAND Opera House Block. Steam heating. Immediate possession. Apply J. J. Turner & Sons. dtf-52-2069

HOUSE TO RENT 6 ROOMS, CONveniences, south central district, possession May 1st. Apply Examiner. 3d-78-4685

TO RENT—FURNISHED ROOMS, ALL conveniences. Apply 514 Water St. 6d-78-4682

FOR SALE

RANGE FOR SALE — PRACTICALLY New, a Bargain. Apply 486 Roger St. 3d-78-4674

FOR SALE—BASSWOOD CANOE, 16 FT. Peterboro. Newly painted. Apply 508 Water Street. 2d-79-4686

FOR SALE—LARGE PARLOUR HEATER at a bargain, 549 Bubidge Street.

FOR SALE—2 GOOD SEWING MACHINES —one drop head, one drawing-room cabinet. Must be sold this week. Apply 516 Aylmer St. 3d-77-4671

FOR SALE—HOUSE, NO. 270 KING ST. All modern improvements. Hot water heating. 50 feet frontage. Apply to 300 Stewart Street. 28d-77-4673

FOR SALE OR TO RENT ON EASY terms—One New Brick House on McGIH Street. Small payment down. Will rent same at $30.00 per month. Handy to factories. Apply to A. H. Stratton and Co., over Mandill's Drug Store. tf-m w f-63-4446

FOR SALE—15 LOTS, WORTH $175 EACH, for $2,250, near De Laval Factory. Also buy or sell or exchange City or farm property. See John Bell, 451 Water St. 'Phone 1281.

LOTS SINGLY OR EN BLOC, FOR SALE near new factories, school and street car J. S. Bell, 451 Water Street, Tel. 1281 28d-69-4w-13-4560

FOR SALE — ONE GOOD HOUSE, NEW, just completed, with every modern convenience. Six rooms and bathroom. Convenient to all factories. Situated on corner of Wolf and Bethune Streets. Act quick and come down and give your offer on easy terms. Best buying in the City, as it must be sold. Apply to 208 Charlotte Street. dtf-35

NOTICE

J. R. DOCHERTY IS PREPARED TO undertake Painting and Repairing Church Steeples. Painting of Water Tanks, Smoke Stacks and Houses a specialty. 'Phone 1665, or 350 Water St. 29d-68-4551

PAINTING AND PAPER-HANGING AND Graining—I am prepared to do all kinds of painting and paper-hanging in a satisfactory manner and at reasonable prices. W. Kellar, 169 James Street. 'Phone 1413. 28d-74-4613

CHIMNEY SWEEPING, STOVE PIPE cleaning, carpets beat, window cleaning. Also lawns kept. Telephone 119 or apply, J. Vincent, 545 Chamberlain St. 3d-78-4676

LOST

LOST—SMALL BLACK PURSE, FRIDAY, March 27th, containing sum of money. Please leave at Examiner Office. Reward. 3d-79-4688

LOST—ON THURSDAY, A CAMEO RING with Pixie head and eight pearls, between Dr. Buchanan's and Corner George and Charlotte Streets. Reward at Examiner Office. 3d-79-4691

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN—A SPOTted Coach Dog, about 7 mos. old. Anyone harbouring this animal after this notice will be prosecuted. Finder leave information at Examiner. 3d-77

FOUND

FOUND—BREAST COLLAR AND TRACES. Apply Examiner Office. 3d-79-4690

FOUND — A STERLING SILVER CUFF Link. Apply at Examiner Office. 3d-79-4689

FOUND—BRACELET AND TWO PINS IN Park Street Church. Owner can have same by applying at Examiner. 1d-79

HELP WANTED—Female

WANTED—DINING-ROOM GIRL. APPLY King George Hotel. 3d-75-4638

WANTED—GOOD GENERAL SERVANT Apply Examiner Office. 3d-78-4683

HELP WANTED—MALE

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN, BRAKEMEN. Wages about $100. Experience unnecessary. Send age, postage. Railway, care Examiner. 28d-61-4288

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN, BRAKEmen, wages about $100 experience unnecessary. Send age, postage. Railway, care Examiner. 28d-78-4679

WANTED

WANTED — WORK BY THE DAY BY young woman. Apply Box 4687, Examiner Office. 3d-79-4687

FIRST-CLASS SALESMAN OR SALESlady wanted at once. Good proposition to right parties. Apply Mr. B. J. Lash, Room No. 1, Grand Hotel. 1d-79-4692

WANTED

Salesmen, Married Couples, Domestic Servants, Farm Help.

Call and we will assist you in getting a position.

DOMINION EMPLOYMENT BUREAU
'PHONE 1214 174½ CHARLOTTE

REAL ESTATE AND BUSINESS CARDS

AGENTS WANTED

AGENTS, MAKE BIG MONEY HANDLING our fast selling goods. Exceptional opportunity. Write to-day. Troy Contracting Company, Cosgrave Building, Toronto, Ont. 26d-66-4286

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE. WE have specialty selling at sight to automobile owners. Big profits. Investigate immediately. Clyde Specialty Co., 28 River St., Verdun, Que.

AGENTS WANTED — WE HAVE AN UNusual premium proposition; every person will be interested. No outlay necessary. Apply B. C. I. Co., Ltd., 238 Albert St., Ottawa, Ont. dtf-131-2510

SITUATION WANTED

YOUNG MAN SEEKS POSITION AS general clerk in grocery or dry goods store, 3 years' experience, good references. Apply 528 Weller St. 3d-79-4695

PATENTS

HERBERT J. S. DENNISON, REGISTERed Attorney, 18 King Street West, Toronto. Patents, Trade Marks, Designs, Copyrights, protected everywhere. Eighteen years' experience. Write for booklet. dtf-94

GEORGE H. BOWEN
B. A. Sc. Registered Patent Attorney
Mechanical and Electrical Engineer.
Machines developed and patented. Trade-marks registered.
34 Victoria St. Toronto

TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS & DESIGNS
PATENTS
STANLEY-LIGHTFOOT
PATENT SOLICITOR AND ATTORNEY
LUMSDEN BLDG. (TORONTO) TORONTO.
RATES FOR TERMS. M. 3743.

FOR SALE

East half, Lot 35, South half of Lot 36, in the 13th Concession, Smith, containing two hundred acres more or less. Possession can be given any time.

Upon this farm is contained a first-class two-storey brick house and large barns and stables. Also a small orchard and timber and two wells. The property is known as the "Anglesey Homestead," and is three-quarters of a mile from Young's Point.

The above property must be sold at once to close out estate.

N. GORDON.
Executor, Peterborough.
March 9th, 1914. dtf-56-4337

A GOOD BUY

Modern brick house on Fredrick Ave., mantel and fireplace, front and back stairs, pantry, four bedrooms, bath, closets and cloak room, hot water in basement for laundry, cement floor outside entrance, also barn room for horse, buggy car. $3250.00. Apply to

MIGHT & TAYLOR
376 Water Street 10d-78

$1875 TAKES THIS

NEW TWO AND A HALF STOREY RED BRICK HOUSE, 7 rooms, light and water, 2 verandahs, and sleeping porch, cement floor in cellar, and cement walks, good location. This house would be a good buy at $2200. For terms apply to W. J. Koster, 599 Gilmour Street.

SIX BARGAINS READ THESE

Stewart St. Brick house. All conveniences. Attic floored. Price.....$2250

Simcoe St. Good house and lot, 4 bedrooms. Price.....$1850

Wolfe St. New house 3 bedrooms. Price.....$1250

George St. Good house, 6 bedrooms. Price.....$1500

Bonaccord St. Brick house, good cellar, water and light. Price.....$1650

5 Acres of ground and building. Close to the City. Price.....$600

ASK

C. J. Carroll & Co
THEY KNOW
372 WATER STREET
Phone 822 Open Evenings
"WE SELL THE EARTH"

AUTO LIVERY

AUTO LIVERY — AUTOMOBILES TO Rent. Good autos, equipped with electric lights and shock absorbers. Careful chauffeurs. C. B. Banks. 'Phones 582 and 1082.

BOARDING HOUSES

MONTREAL HOUSE — TEMPERANCE House; Boarding House, Lunch Room, and Soft Drinks. Reasonable board by the week. 298 Aylmer St., 304 King St. James Head, Proprietor

GUN REPAIRING

GUN REPAIRING—GUNS OF ALL MAKES repaired promptly. C. H. Banks, 304 George Street. 28d-107-2460

HOTELS

AMERICAN HOTEL — A HOME AWAY from home; good accommodation; centrally located. American plan. Sam Long, Mgr. 109 Hunter St. 'Phone 404.

JUNK AND COAL

COAL. COAL. COAL.

COAL IS ONE OF THE BIGGEST ITEMS of expenditure in your home, and we believe you are interested in this explanation, comparison and POSITIVE PROOF OF WHY CONNELL ANTHRACITE COAL IS THE BEST TO BUY. PRESENT PRICE—$7.50 PER TON. Our prices are the lowest. We aim to give our patrons Coal at a Fair Price at all times. Book your orders and we fill promptly deliver. LOW & CO. Office and Yards, 305 Bethune St. Tel. Bell 697

MUSIC

PETERBOROUGH CONSERVATORY OF Music—Rupert Gliddon, Musical Director. 10th Year. A staff of 20 Resident and Visiting Teachers. Subjects taught: Piano, Vocal, Violin and other Stringed Instruments, Wind Instruments, Musical Theory, Social and Fancy Dancing. Corner of Hunter and Rubidge Streets. 'Phone 265.

MILLINERY

PETERBOROUGH MILLINERY PARlours — All latest styles in Millinery. Call and see our stock. Mrs. W. B. Armstrong, 435 George St. Old T.A.S. Rooms

PHOTOGRAPHERS

THE RICHMOND STUDIO, 147 HUNTER Street, Corner George and Hunter Sts., is the place to go for Good Photographs. We specialize in Photographic Enlargements. See our new Flexible Mountings. Quality High—Prices Low. R. Farthing, Proprietor.

HAIR STORE

MRS. BYRNE'S HAIR STORE — ALL kinds hair goods, pads, shampooing and dressing. 434 George Street.

PIANOS AND MUSIC

W. L. TAYLOR — DEALER IN HIGH-Grade Pianos and Real Estate. 370 Water Street. 'Phone 1468.

REAL ESTATE

A FIRST-CLASS COTTAGE, LARGE CORner lot, 75 x 115 ft. All in good repair. South End. Price, $2,300; terms easy. A number of Houses, below $2,000, will sell at terms of $100 down; balance on monthly payments from $10 to $20. Now is the time to get a home of your own on monthly payments. Apply J. A. Gibbs, 174½ Charlotte Street.

SOCIETIES

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY FOR CARE of Neglected and Ill-Treated Children. Incorporated by Act of Legislature. Information required. Informant's Name kept Strictly Private. Children for adoption. Geo. Cochrane, Agent and Assistant Secretary.

SHOE REPAIRING

W. A. GREENSLADE, ELECTRICAL SHOE Repairing Shop. You do not pay any more by having your boots neatly repaired and finished equal to new by our up-to-date machines. Come in and see how it is done. Oak leather used on all sewn work. Blakes put on, ground and countersunk. Corner Charlotte and Aylmer.

SKATING RINK

BROCK STREET ROLLER RINK OPEN for the Season. See our advertisement in other part of the paper, giving particulars of skating programme.

STOVES AND RANGES

WE SELL ON YOUR OWN TERMS — Weekly or monthly payments. New Empress Steel Range, Kitchen Cabinets, Chemical Closets, Sewing Machines, Standard Oak Heaters. One second-hand Singer sewing Machine, drop head, at $15. Also a number of second-hand Stoves at a bargain. Call and see us. Open nights, Monday and Friday accepted. The National Manufacturing Co., 354 Water Street. Geo. E. Hawes, Manager.

STEAM LAUNDRIES

THE PETERBOROUGH LAUNDRY — ALL work laundered with the greatest care; W. P. Herherington, Prop. 179 Charlotte Street. 'Phone 66.

FANNING'S STEAM LAUNDRY — ALL work laundered with the greatest care; no tearing or damaging the goods. 286 George Street. Both 'Phones 383.

TYPEWRITERS

PETERBOROUGH TYPEWRITER CO — Typewriter and office supplies of every description. Typewriter repairs. 'Phone 666.

FOR SALE

GROCERY BUSINESS

doing a $12,000 Business per year

Good Reason for Selling

R. J. KIDD
AGENT FOR
Fire, Life and Plate Glass Insurance—British, Canadian and American Companies
'Phone 672 374 Water St.

196 ft. 4 in. By 114 feet

The above is the size of ground and on it stands one beautiful modern house complete with hardwood floors, mantels, furnace, stone foundation, also one house in good repair but not modern, lane at rear.

There are a number of apple trees on lot and the same bear on an average 20 barrels per year harvest apples and winter apples. The 5 lots and 2 houses on a fine corner east front in a City like Peterboro' will be sold at $7100.00. Who will have this? Act quickly.

H. J. McCANNAN,
Real Estate and Building Contractor
Office 236 George St., C. B. Banks' Store
Entrance, Phone 760.
Open Evenings—Call—Information Cheerfully Given.

VACANT LOTS
OUR SPECIALTY

Just a few more weeks of winter weather and winter prices for vacant lots. If you are about to build you will surely save money by buying now before the spring opens up. The spring rush for property is already started and prices will begin to rise very soon. Foresight or hindsight, which will it be for you. Take the hint now and come in and see our list of properties.

REAL ESTATE GENERAL AGENTS — Crown Agencies — INSURANCE COMMISSION BROKERS

181 Charlotte St.
116 Hunter St.
Night 'Phone 1462. Day 'Phone 116

Blewett's List

Three Lots, with sewer, water and street car in front of them, each lot 40x160 feet, one corner.

One of the best Lots on Elias Ave. Cheap for quick sale.

75 feet on Charlotte Street West $10 per foot

Lots on Alberton Ave., $6 per foot

Morrow and Alberton Ave. Lots, new extension, $7 to $10 per foot

Good Lot on Hazelwood Ave., 66 ft. frontage, faces South, at less than property alongside is selling for.

Apply to C. BLEWETT
173 Charlotte Street
con. Peel and College Co. 'Phone 1221

PETERBORO REAL ESTATE

Modern Houses
Building Lots
Business
Opportunities

Western Realty Investments
Crown Building 118 Hunter St. Telephone 684

Ladies' Tailored Suits, Coats and Skirts . .
FOR EASTER & EARLY SPRING

We Guarantee our Goods and Lining, and perfect fitting garments assured, as we have none but expert Tailors to do the work.

Prices are very reasonable and can satisfy the most particular.

Toronto Ladies' Tailoring Co.
CORNER GEORGE AND BROCK STREETS

EASTER HATS

We are showing pretty adaptations of the New Styles for Spring Wear.

The collection includes clever and artistic devices in—

NEW SAILOR HATS
with fancy and silk trimming

SIMPLE SPRING HATS
of Straw and Taffeta.

IMPORTED SPRAYS AND MOUNTS

Peterborough Millinery Parlours
MRS. W. B. ARMSTRONG, Proprietress — 425 George St.
Miss Mansfield in Charge — Up Stairs — Old T. A. S. Rooms

Easter Cards and Post Cards are on display in great assortment at
TREBILCOCK BROS.
417 George St.

IF YOU REALLY HAVE A TASTE FOR THE GOOD THINGS OF LIFE BUY—

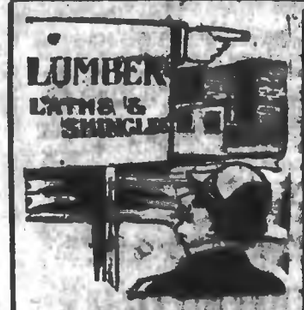
HOOPER'S SWEETS

Always of the best quality. Made in a large variety.

HOOPER'S BAKING

Is just as good as his sweets. Watch for Hooper's Easter Dainties and Novelties.

T.H. Hooper
3 Stores: 327 George. Phone 169; 413½ George. Phone 1243; Cor. A Dublin. Phone 391



LUMBER
LATHS & SHINGLES

4-ft. SLABS FOR SALE
Cut from Pine, Basswood, Oak, Cedar, Maple and Elm logs, $3.00 per load delivered.

Peterboro' Planing Mill Co.
157-167 Dublin St. Phone 66

CLEANLINESS IS NEXT TO GODLINESS

A Plea For a Swimming Place

To the Editor The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Surely it is time that the Civic authorities got busy on the question of swimming accommodation. This important subject has been mooted from time to time, but no definite action appears to have been taken, despite the excellent facilities with which nature has endowed this fair City. The City Council should surely take some definite step in the matter, so that adults and youngsters might enjoy, in some place—where they would not be liable to pains and penalties—either on Sundays or week days—the best of morning baths, namely a dip in the clear water of the Otonabee.

Why should not some practicable plan be developed in readiness for the coming summer.

Yours faithfully,
A Swimmer.

WHY DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND

Vinol for Run-Down People.

If anyone person should know the value of medicines it is the druggist who dispenses them and from our experience we want to say if people in this vicinity only knew the value of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic (without oil) at this season of the year, we would not be able to supply the demand.

This is because Vinol is a combination of the two most world-famed tonics, namely, the medicinal curative elements of cods' livers without the oil, and iron for the blood.

Vinol tones up the digestive organs, purifies and enriches the blood, promotes healthful sleep and a normal appetite.

Old people, delicate children, rundown, overworked and tired women, should try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Mackechnie & Jury, druggists, corner George and Charlotte Streets; also Payne's drug store, corner George and Simcoe Streets.

A wine glass of hard cider taken each day is good for rheumatism.

"FAGOTS"
For Friday, as Hughtlement's Every Dish, made from Choice Meats.
WOODHOUSE, the Fishman
Open in 327 hour, day or night. If you want Fish cooked to the taste of a connoisseur.
The Red Fish and Chip Restaurant
329½ George St. Phone 812

TO THE AUTO CLUB

We have installed a new STEAM VULCANIZER for Vulcanizing Motor Tires, both Casings and Tubes and can guarantee perfect work.

MOTOR SUPPLIES of all kinds, CAR and TIRE REPAIRS skilfully executed, FILTERED GASOLINE

Agents for the New Way Gasoline Engine. Come and see it in operation.

MANNING & STRONG
388 Water St. Phone 1947

Governour Balfour's Recipe For Apprehending Burglars

How the Doughty Laird of Scugogville Goal Shadowed the Culprits to Peterborough—Burglars Got Away With Everything But the Town Clock.

Governor Balfour of the Lindsay County Gaol has addressed the appended communication to the Lindsay press:

To the Editor:

After listening to the street talk re the recent burglaries in our town until I could endure no longer the attempts to twist matters in order to place credit and feathers where they do not belong, I consented, at the request of some of the officials of the town, to give to the citizens a true account of the shadowing and arrest of the parties who burglarised the four or five stores on the night of March 31st, and when I say "true account, I mean it, for I contend I am the only person who is intimately acquainted with the arrest, and the details leading up to it.

I do not pose as a detective, neither did I start from home on the morning of April First expecting that anything unusual should happen.

Having obtained permission from my superior officer, the Sheriff, I went to Peterborough and visited the goal in order that I might get some pointers from Gov. Nesbitt, who has been in office for a long time, and who kindly spent upwards of an hour with me, showing me through the gaol and in conversation over matters which apply particularly to our offices as gaolers.

On my way to the station to take the 10.50 train for Peterborough, I heard of the burglaries, and at the station I was approached by Constable Foster, who, upon learning that I was going to Peterborough, requested me to keep a look out on my way down at the different stations for strangers, who might be getting on the train. As the train approached Reaboro I got out on the car steps and jumped off on the platform. Two young men came out of the freight shed and went to the opposite end of the car from me. I saw Mr. Elliott, the postmaster from Mount Horeb, on the platform, after the mail, I suppose, and I rushed over to him, and asked him if he knew these young men, and he said, "No, they are strangers." As the train was moving, I jumped on again and went through the narrow hall way to the smoker. Conductor Jones came along to these two and punched their tickets. As the conductor came into the hall I asked him to let me see the tickets he had just punched, and he very kindly showed me the tickets and told me they were bought down town in Lindsay, dated March 31st, and that they had not been used from Lindsay to Reaboro, or they would have been punched. I said to him, "You no doubt become familiar with the faces of people getting on at the different stations along your route." He said, "yes." "Do you recognise the young men as having seen them before?" He said, "No, they do not belong here."

Now, I have three points against them. Elliott, a man well acquainted in the neighbourhood, calling them strangers, the conductor calling them strangers, an then the tickets. With these points, I was certainly encouraged, but when I looked at the boyish faces of these now criminals, I could not believe that they would be guilty of such a crime as burglary. I do not think that they are over twenty years old. I now sat down and made a description of them to hand to the detectives at Peterborough, lest they should elude me on arriving there. I had no way of communicating with them to meet me at the station.

I got off at the other stations on the way down. At Omemee there got on an old Omemee boy, Joe Johnston, down from the west. He sat in with me. I did not make him wise as to what was doing, but asked him to stay as closely as possible to me after we got off at Peterborough. When the train stopped these two young men were the first off and started at a brisk walk up town. I followed as closely as necessary in order not to lose sight of them and also not to excite their suspicion. I was on the lookout for a policeman, but there were none to be seen. On the street, my friend Johnston was with me, and on approaching the Munroe house, they went in. I left Johnston to watch, and I ran down to the police office, met Chief Thompson and told him what I wanted. He placed two detectives at my disposal and in less time than it takes to tell it, I was on the street with the detectives, went back to the Munroe House and when crossing the street they came out. I pointed them out to the detectives. They arrested them quickly and brought them to the police office. As Detective Newhall put his hand into a pocket he said, "Here is the stuff," as he brought out a handful of jewellery. Then for the first time I realized that my little escapade was a success.

Now, not in a fault finding spirit, but as a citizen of Lindsay, interested in its welfare as a town, and also in the welfare of its individual citizens, I want to ask the question, "What did the authorities of Lindsay do to apprehend the culprits, or recover the fruit of the honest toil of the citizens who were burglarised? I will give you the answer of an outside man.

It was about one o'clock when I left the police office to get dinner, and Chief Thompson said to me, "There was a burglary in Lindsay last night. You have come all the way down here and pointed out the men to us. We arrested them and got the stuff, and I have never received any notice of a burglary having been committed in Lindsay.

Yours, etc.,
GEO. A. BALFOUR.

Farm and Dairy Market Report

Toronto, Monday, March 30.—There is little to be said of trade conditions. Most people with business instincts would rather boost than grumble. Depleted trade is less talked of than increasing orders. The general tone of optimism which abounds, however, seems to be that while trade is improving prospects are slight for any new records this year. Money holds steadily at six per cent on call, and gilt-edged mortgages go at six and one-half to seven per cent.

On the farmers' market the most noticeable change is in eggs, which have come down with a thump, much to everybody's gratification. Fowl are the other heads are up. The grain market is quiet. In cattle the tendency is to lower levels.

WHEAT

Government statistics place the acreage seeded to fall wheat in the United States at 31,000,000 acres as compared with a little over 32,000,000 last year. The wheat is in the best condition on record at this time of year, and all conditions point to a bumper crop. Seeding in Alberta is now in the Canadian West with soil conditions good. Last years crop is quoted at the following export flour mark: No. 1 Northern, 95c; No. 2, 94c; Ontario wheat, 90c to 91c.

COARSE GRAINS

Oats are in active demand for local delivery, but there is little being offered for export. Old Country cables are the most important. Quotations are as follows: Oats, C.W. No. 2, 40½c; No. 3, 39c; No. 1 extra feed, 39c to 39½; American corn, 70c to 70½c; Ontario corn, 70c to 71c; malting barley, 48c to 49c; feed barley, 46c to 46½; buckwheat, 70c to 72c; peas, 90c to 92c.

Quotations at Montreal were: Oats, C.W. No. 2, 44c to 44½; No. 3, 43½c; corn, 70c to 71c; barley, malting, 60c to 62c; feed, 48c to 49c; buckwheat, 70c to 72c; rye, 90c to 92c; flour, first patents, $5.40 to $5.60; 2nd, $5.10 to $5.30; strong bakers', $4.90 to $5.10.

MILL FEEDS

Prices steadily advance, what bran is said to be worth. Car lots of Manitoba bran are quoted at $23 to $24; shorts, $25 to $26; Ontario bran, $23 to $24; shorts, $25 to $26; middlings, $28 to $30; feed flour, $5 to $5.50; mouille, $30 to $35; moulee, $32 to $38; per ton, in bags, Montreal dealers ask for bran, $25; shorts, $28; middlings, $30.

HAY AND STRAW

Receipts of hay have recently shown some improvement in quantity, which naturally affects the market and shows a slightly easier tone. Quotations are still as the previous week, viz.: Choice No. 1 timothy, $16 to $16.50; No. 2, $15 to $15.50; No. 3, $13 to $14; mixed clover, $13 to $13.50; No. 1 clover and mixed, $13 to $13.50; No. 2, $11 to $11.50; No. 1 clover, $12 to $12.50; No. 2, $10 to $10.50; No. 1 sheaf oats, $8 to $8.50.

POTATOES AND BEANS

Potatoes have ceased all live events a hard during the week, and the market remains quiet. Car lots are still offered on track at Montreal ten cents per bag less. At Montreal car lots are nominal at 80c and small potatoes at 85c.

Beans continue easy. Primes, $2.20 to $2.25; hand-picked, $2.30 to $2.35. At Montreal dealers quote primes, $2.20 to $2.30; hand-picked, $2.35 to $2.40; choice pea beans, $2.25.

HONEY

Wholesale quotations are: Basswood, in 60-lb. tins, 10½c to 11c; clover, 60-lb. tins, 10c to 10½c; 30-lb. tins, 10½c; comb honey, No. 1 at $3.; clover, $2.50; buckwheat, $2.

EGGS

Wholesale receipts are coming in fine shape and sell as follows: Red clover, No. 1, $19 and $21; No. 2, $17.50 to $18.50; alsike, No. 1, $21; No. 2, $17 to $18.50; timothy, No. 1, $8.50 to $9.50, No. 2, $7.25 to $7.50; alsike, No. 1, $20 to $22; No. 2, $15 to $18.50.

Merchants are paying farmers a basket as follows: Alsike, No. 1, $9.50 to $9; No. 2, $7.50 to $8; No. 3, $5 to $7; red clover, No. 1, $9.50 to $9.75; No. 2, $7.50 to $8; timothy, No. 1, $5.75 to $6.25; No. 2, $3.75 to $4.25.

Dressed poultry are on the boom, the Jewish trade being accountable. Demand is fine. Ducks are selling from 20c to 22c; geese, 16c to 18c; fowl, 15c to 20c; chickens, 18c to 22c; turkeys, 18c to 22c and 24c to 25c.

HIDES AND WOOL

Quotations are: Hides, cured, 14½c to 15c; part cured, 13½c to 14c; green, 12c to 13c; kips, cured, 14½c to 15c; green, 12c to 13c; calfskins, 16c to 18c; deacons, 50c to $1; horse hides, $3 to $4.50.

Wool quotations are: Unwashed, coarse, 20c to 21c; fine, 27½c to 28½c; rejects, 18c to 19c; delaine, 29½c to 30½c; combing, 30½c to 31½c; fine, 30½c to 31½c.

DAIRY PRODUCE

Butter is coming in in increasing quantities, but a good demand is taking up the offers at just about trade prices. Extra creamery is quoted at 30c; solids, 29c to 29½c; prints, 30c to 31c; dairy, solids, 26c to 27c; prints, 27c to 28c; inferior, 24c to 25c; bakers' creamery, 24c to 25c; dairy prints, 25c to 26c; solids, 24c to 25c; inferior, 23c to 24c; cheese manufacturers: New large, 15½c to 16c; twins, 16c to 16½c; old large, 16½c to 17c; twins, 16½c.

LIVE STOCK

The live stock market has showed a tendency to weakness, the feeling being occasioned by the fact that the packers have not been operating much lately, and their supplies are running out. Trading was very small yesterday, and prices were practically nominal. Choice steers and heifers sold at $7.50 to $7.75; light steers, $7.25 to $7.50; choice cows, $6.50 to $6.75; bulls, $6.50 to $6.75; feeders, $6.50 to $7; stockers, $6.25 to $6.50; canners and cutters, $5.50 to $6.

Choice milkers sold steadily at $85 to $100; cows to sell, $40 to $60; springers, $60 to $80. Calves showed considerable activity, $8.50 to $9.50 for choice veals. Sheep and lambs showed very little change. Offerings were cleaned up at regular prices. Spring lambs, $9 to $9.50; yearlings, $8 to $8.50; wethers, $7.50 to $8; ewes, $6 to $7; bucks, $5 to $6; calves, $8.50 to $9.50; hogs, fed and watered, $8.75 to $9; off cars, $9.25; f.o.b., $8.50; country points, $8.25.

Montreal hogs sold abattoirs the first of the week, but prices declined somewhat when it became known that packers were buying freely at $8.50 to $8.65. Veals were very scarce.

"A GIRL OF THE UNDERWORLD"

A play of conjecture and suspense, "A Girl of the Underworld" will be seen at the Grand, on Wednesday next, April 8th, written by Jack Gorman, it tells a story of life in New York, and it is characterised by the most thrilling scenes, yet so full of heart interest as to be true to life. Among the characters are Tom Norris, a gambler and thief, with whom a 'beautiful' young girl from the country, Marion, has fallen deeply in love, thinking him the equal of honour and manhood. Peggy, a sister of Marion, whose personal opinion of Tom is far from flattering; and Dougherty, a kindly, central office detective, who has a heart. The trials of Marion, who is travelling a rocky road, constitutes the serious part of the play, and the comedy is afforded by the wrangling of Peggy and Tom, whose mutual disapproval of each other forms a basis for much comedy. There are also scenes re presenting life in the underworld and picturing the many pitfalls of life in a great city. It has been said that the wheels of justice grind slowly, and as in this story, when it would seem positively certain that 'right' would encounter 'right,' a fond realisation that every cloud has a silver lining is followed by the victory of retributive justice.

The cast is headed by Boss Stafford who is the fascinating Marion; Shumer Nichols impersonates Tom Norris; June Bridges appears as Peggie, Vic. Bouvier as Mugsy Regan, Geo. W. Pierce as Dougherty, the detective; others in the cast are Corinne Vivian, Frank Morris and Frank Larrabee. An elaborate scenic production is carried by this Company, which pictures original scenes in New York's tenderloin.

SIR WILFRID CLOSES ONSLAUGHT ON COMMISSION'S FINDING

(Continued from Page 7.)

[illegible] the commissioners. Mr. Borden said that either Mr. Cahellus or Mr. Lynch-Staunton, or both, were equal in integrity, character, record and reputation to any member of the Opposition, from the highest down. It was said that these commissioners had not been sworn, but he challenged Sir Wilfrid Laurier to name one royal commission that had been sworn during his sixteen years of office.

Of Mr. George Lynch-Staunton, Mr. Borden said, that no breath of scandal had ever assailed his personal or professional reputation, and against Mr. Cahellus no more serious charge was brought than that he was born in the United States. Surely the Opposition's case must be a desperate one when such appeals were made to prejudice.

Mr. Borden then discussed the cost of the National Transcontinental, allowing for interest charges, the cost of the Quebec bridge and the money paid out on account of the construction of the western division between Winnipeg and Prince Rupert. It was not unfair to say that the road would cost Canada $305,000,000. When Sir Wilfrid Laurier had estimated the cost at $13,000,000 he was a trifle inaccurate, to say the least.

Mr. Borden, replying to C. M. Macdonald, said it was preposterous to hold the Borden Government responsible for living up to the contracts made by the former Government. These contracts could not be repudiated.

It had been charged by Sir Wilfrid Laurier that the Government had printed and distributed 250,000 copies of the report. As a matter of fact, there had only been 14,000 copies printed all told, 10,000 in English and 4,000 in French. In conclusion, the Prime Minister said: "We have not one, but two transcontinental railways, which we must either see through to completion or leave them uncompleted. We are not afraid of the situation, nor are we unable to deal with it, but we will give to that situation which we did not create, our best efforts as trustees for the Canadian people."

The vote was then taken.

NEWSPAPERS CATCH CRIMINALS.

Would Not Prohibit Publishing of Photos and Records of Criminals.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 2.—"Newspapers catch criminals," said Chief McCaskell, of the Quebec Provincial Police, while in the city, "and if the proposed federal law to prevent newspapers from publishing photos and records of criminals were submitted to a referendum every criminal and crook in Canada would vote for it.

"I could name you scores of instances in which a newspaper cut has resulted in the capture of dangerous criminals. I remember the case of Gadillon, who fleeced the Montreal public for more than $1,000,000. We spent thousands of dollars to catch him, but failed, until we put his photo and record in the papers. Straightway we got word from Pittsburg and got our man. He is now serving time."

WHITE SPOTS ON FURNITURE.

Every housewife knows the ugly, white stains which hot dishes leave on polished dining-room tables. It is not only possible to prevent this by always placing on asbestos mat between the hot dish and the table, but it is also possible to remove the stains in this way: Hold a hot iron over the spot until the wood regains colour, then polish it with a cloth wet in kerosene. If it be a small stain put a muslin ring around it, and let the iron rest on it. This confines the heat and at the same time pads the hand. If it is not a very deep stain it may be possible to remove it with a few drops of sweet oil and afterwards polish with spirits of wine and a soft cloth.

Low Priced Goods For Quick Selling
—ON—
SATURDAY

Unusual Values For Unusual Prices

10 New Suits—The latest Spring Novelties yet produced mostly black and white, navy and greys. Only one suit of a style. Prices range from..... to Quick Selling Saturday..... $10 to $25

6 Hose Supporter Corset—Splendid quality coutil. Regular D. & A. $1.25 model, very low bust with long skirt. After one trial we know you would use no other. We have the exclusive right to sell this Corset in Peterboro', ... $1.00

6 Hose Supporter Corset—It has quite a low bust, good quality coutil, well boned over the hips and is held together by a hook at the bottom. Special Price .. 50c

Embroideries—Some extra wide Embroidery. The 36 in. width usually sold at 50c, is made in 15 different dainty patterns to be sold special..... 39c

The 25c Embroidery is a lovely fine quality about 22 ins. in width & makes an exceptionally good map at 22c

Kid Gloves—Our special quality 69c Kid Glove is known for miles around. It comes in black, tan and grey, every size at the special price of..... 69c

Blouses in White Only—There are 25 different designs including buttoned down front and back, short or long sleeve, low or high neck and each and all of them are up to the minute in style, trimmed with nice embroidery and lace. Quick Selling on Saturday 98c

Girls' Stylish Spring Coats—From 6 to 12 years sizes. We cleaned out a mill's supply of new up-to-date designs in in Girls' Coats. Every coat this season's latest cut. Regular $6 to $9 coats Saturday for.... $4.48

New Laundry Bags—Embroidered in good washable white and pale blue material. Just the thing for soiled linen. Special price at the Fancy Department.... 35c

Ladies' Scotch Thistle Underwear—Both vests and drawers full ladies' size, guaranteed to be pure wool. Regular 75c. Special..... 50c

Lace and Crepe Collars—A wide and varied display of new designs at the collar counter. Special 50c

ELLIOT'S

White Crochet Cotton, all sizes, 5c

Hair Nets Full Size Black or White, 6 for 25c

Concerning Gelatin Which Is Used Largely In Jelly Powders

Recent Bulletin Published by Department of Inland Revenue

MORE CARE REQUIRED

OTTAWA, April 2.—The department of Inland Revenue has published a bulletin giving the results of the first systematic examination of gelatin by the Dominion analyst. It tells a lot about gelatin. It tells things of which people eating gelatin have been unaware. "Gelatin as an article of food," it says, differs from ordinary glue only in the case employed in its manufacture. Both are the product of treating the so-called collagens of bones, tendons, cartilages, etc., with boiling water. It goes without saying that in the manufacture of gelatin only carefully selected materials should be employed; no portion of the animal which is filthy, diseased or otherwise disgusting should be used."

It is explained that gelatin enters largely into the various jelly powders, crystals and blocks sold everywhere for making domestic jelly; also into tinned and potted jellied meats, and as a stiffener in ice cream. Then there occurs the following somewhat disturbing paragraph: "By the use of known methods of refining, bleaching, etc., it is possible to make a very attractive article of gelatin from the most objectionable raw material. Nor does it follow that an analytical process applied to the finished article must certainly discover the nature of the original substances used. For this reason the inspection of all gelatin factories should be insisted upon; and the meat inspection act administered by the Department of Agriculture covers this point."

The bulletin goes on to say that glue is made from every kind of waste animal matter containing collagens; that the greatness of manufacture probably destroy any germs in the product, but "it violates every sense of refinement to imagine such material being used as the source of edible gelatin." Notices of the destruction of commercial gelatin in the United States as being filthy, putrid material, or as being plain glue, or as containing arsenic and zinc, are referred to as proof that commercial gelatin may be "an objectionable food substance."

No satisfactory definition of gelatin as distinguished from glue, the bulletin says, has been published. Ash of high grade gelatins should not exceed 2 per cent. The ash is above 2 per cent. in 38 samples examined, and herein reported. It does not reach 3 per cent. in any same. The sulphurous acid varies from a trace to 1090 parts per million. It is certain that this last figure is excessive."

The samples tested by the analyst numbered 161, collected in June and July of last year. In a number of samples the presence of vegetable dyes and aniline dyes were disclosed.

STARCHFIELD ACQUITTED.

Judge Stopped the Case in Which Man Was Accused of Killing Child.

NEW YORK, April 3.— A cable to the Tribune from London says:

There was a dramatic ending yesterday to the trial of Starchfield, charged with the murder of his young son, Willie Starchfield, whose body was found in a train on the North London Railway on January 9th. The judge stopped the trial before the prosecution had completed its case and bluntly asked the Crown counsel whether the case could safely be allowed to go to the jury. Counsel admitted that the evidence of identification was unsatisfactory, and the judge instructed the jury to return a verdict of "not guilty."

The end was swift and startling, even to those who have had great experience in murder trials. As the acquitted man emerged from the court he was greeted with wild cheers. The crowd was so dense that he had to take refuge in a shop.

From both sides during the trial came scathing comments regarding the coroner's inquest. The judge was even severer than the counsel.

"The manner in which the inquest was conducted," he said, "violated all the principles under which any such enquiry should have been carried on. It was an entire mockery and abuse of the duties entrusted to a coroner."

Fashion's Pronouncements in Easter Attire

The Styles of the Easter Suits are Unusually Smart

EASTER SUNDAY is really the "coming out" day of the New Spring Suits—so it is natural that every woman should desire to have on a Suit that she can feel comfortable in wearing—not alone as a comfortable fit, but, also from the fact of knowing her Suit is absolutely fashionable. Authentic and exclusive styles are the only styles shown here. They are to be seen in such new materials as Hammered Crepe, Gabardines, Brocades, Shepherd Checks, Ratines, and Diagonal Serges.

Splendid Easter Values at $15.00, $18.50, $20.00 and $25.00

Fashionable and Becoming Millinery for Easter

SURELY A WOMAN should not find any difficulty in making a satisfactory selection of an Easter Hat at this store. Here one will find all the new, piquant shapes that are so popular for Spring, and the styles are so varied that you can be sure to find a shape particularly adapted to your features. Trimmings, too, are varied, though they tend mainly to be of the simple variety—offering the scope for simple but very effective trimming ideas. Among the styles some good values are obtainable at—

$7.50, $10.00 and $12.50

40 inch Coloured Mulls

Saturday Yard 28c

Delightfully soft, coloured Mulls with self coloured stripes for Summer Dresses, in shades of Nile, Green, Rose, Pink and sky. 40 inches wide and regular 40c. Saturday Special per yard..... 28c

28 inch White Cotton Vestings

Saturday Yard 21c

All good quality Vestings, good patterns, ranging in price from 25c to 35c yard. Some a little soiled from handling. All one price. Saturday Special, yard..... 21c

Size 22 x 40, Fine Huck Towels

Saturday pair 75c.

Fine Huck Bedroom Towels, Size 22 x 40 inches. Hemstitched ends, Damask Border, pure bleached. Regular 1.00 pair. Saturday Special pair 75c

58 inch, Half Bleached Table Linen

Saturday Yard 34c

Three pieces of good wearing quality, half bleached Table Linen, Floral Designs, 58 inches wide. Regular 45c. Saturday Special per yard 34c

New York Dresses included in the Display of Easter Attire

Smart, modish and exclusive Dresses—in styles for afternoon and reception wear. These are some of the models purchased by our buyer while in New York City.

Materials include

Cassick, Boutonne, Golfine, and Ramie Linen, Peplum and Tier styles, some in combination colourings.

They are NEW and DIFFERENT in general outline and character.

See them Saturday. Prices—

$15.00 up to $40.00

When Buying Corsets remember the Style Possibilities of "KABO" and "GOSSARD"

You'll be satisfied with the comfortable fit and good lines of these two famous American made Corsets.

That's why we tell you about them.

All the Easter styles are now on display—Corset Dept. Main Floor.

New Easter Neckwear

To tone up and complete the new outfit some attractive bit of lacy Neckwear is indispensable. All of Fashion's newest and most charming fads and fancies are here—at prices that will please you.

Special Easter Showing of the New Balmacaan Coats

Balmacaan Coats are being much asked for—(and Fashion authorities have it that they will increase in favour as the season advances) that we have planned for Saturday a special showing of this new style Coat. In materials consisting of combination Tweed and Velvet. Balmacaan Coats are made in three-quarter length, with full hanging back and cutaway front; English Raglan shoulder; sleeves finished with fancy cuffs and fancy buttons.

Combination Tweeds, price $17.50. Velvets, price $13.50. Other styles up to $35

White Cotton Metalessa

A New Wash Fabric

40 inch White Cotton Metalessa, in pretty brocaded effects. Very correct for Wash Suits or Separate Coats. Saturday, yard

75c and 98c

Women's Fine Cashmere Hose

Saturday

pair 35c

3 pairs $1.00

Women's Black Cashmere Hose in fine plain weave and seasonable weight, full fashioned and seamless. Double ply yarns at heel and toe. All sizes.

Saturday, pair 35c

3 pairs $1.00

A New Easter Suit or Skirt Makes Necessary a Waist

And there is so much smartness to the New Waists that you will want at least two or three of them. The Waists of Voile and Crepe are especially appealing. See the Special Values which are on Sale Saturday at ..... 1.98 and 3.50

Silk Suede In Dainty Plain Shades

Saturday, yard, 75c

This new and dainty material is made in France expressly for us. It is an ideal cloth both in colour and in weight. It has a beautiful Suede finish and drapes most gracefully into charming Summer Dresses. The attractive soft shades include Peach, Cream, Turquoise Blue, Minaret, Chamois and Mauve. Special Saturday yard 75c

Pailette Silk in Black and Colours, Saturday Yard 98c

36 inch Pailette Silk in black and colours, quality guaranteed not to cut, bright finish. We highly recommend this silk for its satisfaction giving and long wearing qualities, used for afternoon or evening gowns.

Saturday Special Yard 98c

Gloves Are a Necessity to Women's Dress

Guaranteed Qualities at $1.00 Pair

What woman would think of venturing on Easter morn with a new Spring frock on and not have new, fresh Gloves to complete her costume? At the popular price of $1.00, we can supply Gloves of guaranteed quality, in either Glace Kid, Cape Skin, or Chamois, in all the wanted shades and sizes. One and two dome wrist fasteners.

Easter Special, pair, $1.00

New Idea Patterns, 10c

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

FOSTER CASE TO COME UP

Examiner Special:

MOBILE, Ala., April 3.—The case of Joel M. Foster, who was arrested here in the early part of the winter on a charge of violating the Mann white slave law, is on the court docket for trial to-morrow. Foster is the son of a millionaire resident of Scranton, Pa. The charge against him was the result of his alleged elopement with his sixteen-year-old stenographer, Delilah Bradley. After his release on bail Foster returned to New York and it is understood that he has since been confined in a sanatorium.

EASTER FAVOURS

We have many dainty gifts, typical for Easter. Many of these are priced at $1.00 and even less. They are new and attractive. Glad to show you.

Easter time makes gift-giving practical and appropriate.

SCHNEIDER, The Jeweller, George St.

Tramps' Re-union Made a Big Hit At The Y.M.C.A. Last Night

Three Hundred Were Delighted With the Antics of the Weary Willies Who Performed in the Gymnasium.

REPEATED TO-NIGHT

A rapid sketch artist with an appreciation of his responsibility could have made about one thousand and seventeen different drawings at the Tramps Re-union held in the gymnasium of the Y.M.C.A. last night. And what is more he would have spent two hours of the evening in a way that would result in the pleasing of his humourous, musical and physical make-up. For with just enough of the laughable to make it thoroughly humourous, with just enough of the musical to make it exceedingly enjoyable and just nough of the really difficult athletic feats to make it most entertaining, the affair at the "Y" last night made a big hit with a big audience.

There was not a department of the show that had been neglected. The tramps that turned out in answer to the dinner horn of Physical Director J. J. Thompson would have made a large season's catch for the whole local police court. And from every quarter of the hall came rounds of applause after every number on the programme.

In proper style the Re-union was opened by the grand entry of weary willies in their glad rags. Lead by the band (which to the audience at times sounded to consist solely of a large bass drum and a smaller kettle drum), the procession was a picturesque one and a suitable forerunner of the events which were destined to transpire during the evening. The band was a lusty one and when the tunes it played were recognizable added materially to the pleasure of the audience. One of its members later displayed his ability by rendering several splendid tunes on eight different instruments. For this he received one square meal and appeared more than satisfied with the transaction. Many tunes were given, (and more were executed) by this band during the night and every piece was enjoyed.

While touching on the music of the entertainment Douglas Carlisle's Dockstader Minstrels must be given due credit for their performance last night. They rendered a number of popular tunes, different artists taking the solo parts, and the while crew joining in the chorus. The several solos thus given were very heartily received, and the chorus work was real harmony, the minstrels ringing in strong and true in all the parts. This particular bunch of hobos presented a real minstrel show, getting away with a number of good side-splitters with their leader as interlocutor. Their portion of the programme was received with the glad hand by the crowd, and should be one of the drawing cards for to-night.

The Mandolin Club (supported by the international association of ne'er-do-wells) gave seven or eight numbers. The five mandolins produced an interpretation of some of the best popular songs that made the listeners applaud and applaud. The music supplied by the club was fine, and aside from the catchiuss of the airs themselves, found much favour with the three hundred present.

In turning to the physical part of the entertainment it must be noted that the physical manoeuvres of several of the acrobats were of a nature that defy description and can only be appreciated by actual observance of them. In this class particularly were the two artists who performd in the early part of the programme on the flying rings. Their aerial passages were exciteing in the extreme and many a poorer act is seen across the footlights than the one given by these two hobos last night. Then too there was the "horse" and "parallel bars" drills by the boys which gave a good idea of the work being done for the physical development of the more youthful members in the gymnasium.

There are ten different parts of the show that are more than worth the price of admission, and the tramps should have a crowded house to-night, just as they did last night.

The clowns on roller skates, the policeman and many of the tramps who threw off the cares of the world to amuse the audience last night certainly succeeded in doing so and a good laugh was the order every minutes of the night.

COBOURG CASE IS SET DOWN

Reid-Aull Case Will Probably Be Tried in May

TORONTO, April 3.—In a month or six weeks, probably, society will throng the corridors of the City Hall for a chance of listening to the details of the Aull-Reid wedding, which was staged in an impromptu fashion at Cobourg last July. Miss Doris Reid, who then became the bride of Robert Aull, jr., of St. Louis, alleges that she was not mistress of herself at the time, and that she was not consciously willing to marry Mr. Aull. She now seeks to have the marriage set aside, the action being brought by her father, as she is not yet of age.

The case has been set down for trial, and will go upon the general list three weeks hence, after which it will take its chance and turn with the other cases ahead of it. It will be tried in public without a jury. The Attorney-General will be represented.

Whether Mr. Aull appears for the trial or not, the action may be proceeded with even in his absence.

EASTER

Candy Baskets and Chocolate Eggs at

THE MARATHON CANDY KITCHEN

Delicious Ice Cream, in a dish; Ice Cream Sodas, any flavour; Ice Sundaes; Fancy Sundaes; Ice and Ice Cream Brick; Ice Cream Punch; Ice Cream Moulds; Ice Cream Bricks; Ice Cream Cakes; Ice Cream Pies; Ice Cream Rolls; Ice Cream Cones; Ice Cream Sandwiches; Ice Cream Tarts; Ice Cream Pudding; Ice Cream Pie; Ice Cream Cake; Ice Cream Roll; Ice Cream Cone; Ice Cream Sandwich; Ice Cream Tart

Chic Trimmed Hats Saturday 5.75

Here's a very special offering for our Saturday customers that is very opportune with Easter so near at hand. About thirty of these "Just Trimmed" Hats, made in our own workrooms, of fine quality imported materials and trimmings. Each Hat a 'Marvel of Beauty' and made as carefully as the one that sells at three times the price. For quick selling..... Saturday..... 5.75

Second Floor

The First Saturday of the Advance Spring Sale of Shoes

Three Popular Models for $2.39

There is the Kid Button, the Kid Blucher Lace and the Blucher Lace in Patent. Three lines that combine fit, durability and appearance. At the regular stock prices they have been good selling lines; and at reduced prices they are a decided snap ..... Pair..... 2.39

Second Floor

Neat, Dressy Cloth Topped Button Boots, Price $2.95

No matter what occasion may arise, the neat, dressy appearance of these Boots is considered appropriate. The leather is a Patent Colt and the cloth is a stout Cravenette, while this particular last is called the "Dixie," all sizes and widths, a regular $3.50 Boot. Sale Price..... 2.95

Second Floor

Maltese Cross Brand Rubbers, 64c pair

Nothing but fine Para Rubber is used in the manufacture of these Rubbers. It is undoubtedly the best girls' and women's Rubber on the market and is procurable in all shapes and sizes. Sale Price, pair..... 64c

Second Floor

Watch for the Green Price Cards Saturday Snaps

New Shadow Flouncings and Lace Corset Coverings, 29c

This is an offer that should keep our Lace Dept. pretty busy on Saturday—whilst these laces last. There are just ten pieces, about 200 yards in all. These Corset Coverings and Shadow Flouncings are made of a beautiful soft net and come in very new and attractive designs. The corset coverings have the beading edge on both sides. Regular 40c, 45c and 50c. Saturday Snap..... 29c

Main Floor Centre

25c Rippiette Crepe Sat. Snap, 19c

Here's a new range of dainty American washable Crepes, very suitable for waists and dresses. This line comes in a splendid range of combination stripes, also white. The very fact of Crepes being so much in demand makes this a very timely bargain. 28 inches wide. Regular 25c. Saturday Snap 19c

Main Floor North

$5.00 Lace Blouses, $1.95

This is certainly a Snap, but it will be necessary for you to come early, as there are only 19 of these cream and black Lace Blouses. They are just odd lines that we wish to clear quickly—that's the reason we have cut so deeply into the regular price. Reg. $4.90 and $5.00. Saturday, only.. $1.95

Second Floor

Japanese Mats Reg. 35c for 24c

Just 50 of these Jacquard Japanese Mats. Size 27 x 54 inches. Reg. 35c for 24c

Third Floor

$1.00 New Spring Shirts 79c, 3 for $2.25

This is a decidedly attractive shirt special. There is nothing old and mussy about these shirts, they are JUST IN and are extra good value at their regular price—one dollar. The materials are Percales and American Cambrics and they come in natty designs of blue and white, and black and white. Perfectly fast colours. All sizes 14 to 17. Saturday Snap 79c

3 for $2.25

Men's Section

D. & A. Corsets Sat. Snap, 47c

Two new Spring D. & A. Models. You can have these covered in either French coutil or batiste. Medium low bust, lace trimmed, four hose supporters. This is an exceptionally low price for such a well made corset. Sizes 18 to 26. Saturday Snap 47c

Main Floor South

2.00 Satin Finish Honeycomb Spreads, Sat. Snap, $1.49

There are just three dozen of these Spreads, so we advise you to come early as this is a very special line. They are splendid value at $2. Pressed honeycomb weave in nice satin finish, large double bed size; will launder splendidly. Only 3 doz. at this low price. Regular $2.00. Saturday Snap .. $1.49

Main Floor North

Velvet Door Mat Specials

2 dozen Velvet Door Mats—
18 x 34, $1.00 for..... 69c
16 x30, 85c for 59c

Third Floor

New Cloth Dresses That Are Splendid Value at $12 --Saturday $7.95

A splendid offering of New Cloth Dresses in plain colours and checks; with all the new touches of Fashion. The colours include black and white check, brown and white check, also plain brown, Copenhagen, and navy serges. These have the new drop sleeve effect, and are trimmed with a collar and tailored girdle of corded velvet. The skirts are button trimmed and have a piping of satin. These dainty dresses are splendid value at $12.00, but the sizes are broken—that's the reason you can obtain one on Saturday for $7.95

Second Floor

An Attractive Showing of Stylish Suits Specially Priced $15

We have selected for Saturday selling a large range of Suits which we are going to sell at fifteen dollars. These Suits embody all the newest touches of Dame Fashion.

The coats are made in the cutaway style, have Raglan and kimona sleeves, a shawl collar of moire silk and a wide belt of self material form the trimming. The skirts are slight peg-top and have a one-tier effect. The colours include navy, tan, Copenhagen, grey and black. Extra value Saturday $15.00

Second Floor

White Muslin Collars Reg. 50c Sat. Snap 29c

A new imported line of dainty Muslin Collars, semi-Dutch lay-down style, with pleated chiffon and lace insertion edging. This line was bought to sell at 50c, but we decided to put them in for one day only at a very special price. Saturday Snap..... 29c

Main Floor Centre

The GRESSMAN Emporium Limited

Bee-keepers' Association Met In Recreation Room Of Armouries

Splendid Address on "Spring Management" and "Co-operation" by Mr. Morley Petit and Mr. H. B. Cowan.

GOOD ATTENDANCE

The Bee-keepers' Association of the County of Peterborough met in the Recreation Room of the Armouries, yesterday afternoon. In spite of the fact that the bad roads prevented many beekepers from a distance from attending the meeting, the Recreation Room was crowded. Mr. Morley Petit, Provincial Apiarist, delivered a splendid address. Mr. Agar, Foul-Food Inspector, was scheduled to speak also, but through illness was unable to do so. Mr. Anderson, chairman of the Association, occupied the chair.

In the first part of his address Mr. Petit dealt with the "European Foul Brood," a disease that has ravaged the bee colonies of this Province to an alarming extent of late. The disease was very infectious, he said, and had already spread from the beehives of Prince Edward County as far as Norwood on the north, and Keene on the west. It was approaching very near to this City, he pointed out, and therefore should be combated by the bee-keepers of this locality. The only sure prevention, which was also a simple one, was the introducing of the Italian queen-bee into the hives. This was a certain preventive measure which should not be negected by the bee-keepers of this district whether or not their hives had as yet been invaded by the disease. By this means they were in a position to save a lot of bees. Otherwise they ran a danger of losing a lot and some colonies had been so ravaged by the disease that it was necessary to group the remnants of several of them to make one good-sized colony. European Foul Breed attacked the bee in the larvae stage. The young grub at this stage is curled at the bottom of the cell. If it dries and curls up, adhering to one of the sides of the cell, that was an indication of the presence of the disease and the destruction of the larvae to some extent, but the advised precautionary measure was that of introducing an Italian queen-bee into the hives. Larvae affected by the disease appeared darker and gave off a very noxious odour, not unlike that of decayed fish. Besides the introduction of the Italian queen-bee, it might be necessary to stimuate the bees by a little feeding every day until the disease had been conquered.

Then, dealing with the real subject of his address, the speaker turned to a discussion of things in connection with Spring management of bees. In the Spring the bees were taken from the cellar, where they had been wintered, to the outside. In doing this there were two methods to be followed. One was to wait until the arrival of a warm day and take all the bees out on that day, when they could fly. The keeper should be careful not to take one half of the flock out one day and the remainder the next warm day that came along. For the first lot of bees would rob the second lot when the latter were out for their first good fly.

The second method was to take them out while the weather was yet cool. Then when the weather became warmer all the bes would fly on the same day. If this latter plan were followed the bees would, of course, have to be covered until the warm weather set in. If the bees were wintered outside they should not be unpacked until the first of June.

Too much of the honey was being sent to the same large centres of population, said the speaker. People knew that there was a great demand for it in Toronto, Montreal and Winnipeg and consequently all of it was shipped to these places. The result was that though Toronto was one of the largest consumers of honey, yet the supply exceeded the demand. For this reason the market was spoiled to a certain extent.

The speaker advised his hearers to be very chary about going extensively into the production of comb honey. The dealers were after well ripened extracted honey, particularly if it was in a season when it was a probability that the honey would have to be held for a year. The market for honey was slow in some places, but to a great extent, sure. One circular letter, advertising some honey for sale, a year ago, was still bringing in orders. The speaker, in answer to a question, said that the temperature should be seventy degrees in the shade and no wind blowing when the honey was taken. If the honey was not ripened sufficiently before being extracted, or if it was kept in a dark place it would turn sour. Dealers were beginning to demand well-ripened honey to a greater extent every season.

Mr. Petit described the 'smoke method' of introducing a queen-bee into the hive. The entrance to the hive should be greatly reduced by a block of wood, and another block should be handy to completely block the entrance to the hive. Then three puffs of smoke should be sent into the hive. The door should be closed for fifteen seconds and when the colony began to roar, and its disorganization was at its highest the queen-bee should be ushered in and the door closed for ten minutes.

There was also the starvation method of keeping the queen bee a short time without food and then letting it into the hive. Of course the old queen would have to be found and ejected before another was introduced.

Mr. H. B. Cowan was present and gave a brief but graphic description of what co-operation was doing for other places.

GOING TO BUY A CAP?

The sooner you get it the better. These are the days when a smart cap looks right and feels right. We have a full assortment of everything new in Cap-Dom.

W. E. LECH Manufacturing Furrier and Hatter

366 GEORGE ST., Near Simcoe. 'Phone 726

British Mails.

Mail for transmission to Europe, is despatched from this city every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and matter is received until midnight. Four mails a day are closed out at the Post Office, for transhipment to Great Britain. d-tf.

DISASTER IS REPORTED BY TRAVELLER

Quaker Oats Company Hear From Their Eastern Representative

The local office of the Quaker Oats Company has received a wire from Mr. Thos. McKay, one of their Maritime Provinces travellers, in regard to the disaster which overtook the Newfoundland vessels. Mr. McKay's wire states that the steamer Newfoundland was wrecked and sixty-eight men were dead. A gloom had been cast over the City of St. Johns.

LEAVES $100,000 TO THE CHURCH

Special Wire to The Examiner:

LONDON, Ont., April 3.—By the will of Mrs. Jane Rudd, an eccentric woman of eighty, who lived alone, her property, worth a hundred thousand dollars, is left to St. Paul's Anglican Church. Her will was found carefully sealed in an envelope wrapped in cloth, tied with strings and tacked firmly to the bottom of an old oak chest. A few days ago the old lady arose at two o'clock in the morning to build a fire, and falling over a carpet, fractured her leg and sustained injuries which caused her death.

REV. E. G. POWELL IS APPOINTED

Special Wire to The Examiner:

LONDON, Ont., April 3.—Rev. E. G. Powell, of Exeter, has accepted the post of field secretary for temperance in Perth County and will start immediately his "banish the saloon" work in that county. He hopes to have the recent victory in Huron duplicated in Perth next November.

DEMONSTRATION FOR ASQUITH

Special Cable to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., April 3. — Prime Minister Asquith was given a rousing demonstration this morning when he left for East Fife to speak to his constituents there to-morrow night. Despite the fact that he has no opposition, Mr. Asquith will address several meetings arranged by the Liberal agents. A large corps of newspaper correspondents accompanied Asquith into his constituency.

REBELS HAVE WON AGAIN

Have Captured Torreon After Three Days Hard Fighting

Special Cable to The Examiner:

MEXICO CITY, Mex., April 3. — General Huerta's officers here to-day admitted that Torreon passed into the control of the rebels last night after three days' hard fighting in which both sides lost by fearful butchery. However, a strong force is already on the way towards Torreon, including some of the best troops in the government service. There will be another severe fight for Torreon in a day or two. General Villa and his rebels now control a big triangular shaped slice of Northern Mexico.

RT. HON. SIR WILFRID LAURIER REGARDS ATTACKS AS HONOUR

OTTAWA, April 2.—"In the lengthy course of the debate I have had the privilege of having been taken to task more than once, many, many times, and held responsible for the construction of this railway. The statements, charges, reproaches, stigmas, call them what you will, I accept, yes, accept as an honour. (Cheers.) I hold myself largely responsible for conceiving and carrying on the great undertaking, an undertaking conceived to secure for this Dominion a transcontinental railway, all on Canadian soil, the best and shortest on the American continent. (Renewed cheers.)

"I had high aspirations. I sought to bring the western farmer closer to the markets of the world, I sought to do my share to open up the great fertile plains of Northern Ontario and Quebec, I planned to link the producing lands with the great Atlantic and Pacific ports, I aimed to be in the van of those who courted the new and great possibilities of the dawning Oriental trade. Yes, all these considerations impelled us to construct the best railway 'that science could devise or money could build.' And I use the ter, and renewed cheering.) Ah, yes, I repeat, 'that science could devise or money could build.' And I use the words in a far nobler purpose than they were ever used before. (Renewed cheering.)

"We fell before our task was accomplished. To other hands was committed the completion of the work. We have our responsibility on this side; yonder they have their responsibility on the other side. We have the responsibility; we accept it gladly. They have the responsibility of destroying; they cannot escape it."— Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the debate on the National Transcontinental Railway in the House of Commons yesterday.

COUNCIL MEETING

At the last meeting of the North Monaghan Council a by-law was passed authorizing the issue of debentures to the amount of $3,500, this money to be used in finishing up the rooms at S. S. No. 2, and to purchase additional property.

One acre of land will be purchased with a view to providing suitable playgrounds for the pupils of this school, the attendance at which has shown a steady growth.

LINDSAY RACES LAST WEEK IN JUNE

Mr. Thos. Hodgson, of Orillia, arrived in town on Wednesday morning and informed Mr. Albert Ashmore of the King Edward Hotel, that the race meet of the grand circuit will be held in Lindsay the last week in June of this year. A meeting will be held some time about the 15th of April, when the grants of the purse will be arranged. It is thought that about $1500 in purses will be hung up for the lucky winners. The races will last three days so that about $500 will be given on each day.—Lindsay Post.

Belleville Officers Visit Peterboro'

Captains Howland and Allen of the 15th Regiment, Belleville, were in the City last evening in connection with the proposed trip of the 15th to this City on Victoria Day. It is altogether probable that the Regiment will arrive in the City on Saturday and will remain over until Monday. They will camp in Victoria Park during their stay in the City.

SPRING SUITS

Coats, Dresses & Waists

Of the very latest styles and materials are all in now and a visit to our Ready-to-Wear Dept. will settle your Suit or Coat question. Our attractive styles, moderate prices and our modern system of charge accounts will make it very easy for you to select your Spring Garments right now.

: MILLINERY :

You can buy Ladies' Hats in many places in the City, but it is style that makes headwear look smart and becoming. We have carefully selected our Styles, Hats and Trimmings from the very largest and leading Millinery Houses in New York, and we have a large variety of Feather Mounts in all shades. Miss Henry, in charge of the dept., is well-known for her wide experience and good taste. We can assure you, by getting your Hat here, that you will have just what you have been looking for, at a very moderate price.

Men's & Boys' Spring Suits & Coats

Our stock of Men's Clothing is complete now. We have a great variety of the latest patterns and styles to choose from. The new Brown and Grey Tweeds are very becoming and the workmanship is guaranteed. Come for your Suit, Coat or Rain Coat now: don't wait till half the season is over and the best of the stock is picked out. Come in and we will show you how easy we can suit you in quality, price and terms of payments.

ZACKS BROS. 422 GEO. ST.

MANY EXTRA SPECIALS

Mark Saturday as a Great Shopping Day

HOME FURNISHINGS

Extra Special Offering in Window Shades 49c

A final clearance of these well trimmed Window Shades They are made from splendid quality Shade Cloth, in White or Cream, some trimmed with Laces or Insertions, others combinations of both. Mounted on durable Spring Rollers. Complete with brackets and Shade ring. Saturday Special 49c

Short Lengths of Cocoa Matting 25c yard

We are taking this way of clearing out all Short Lengths of Cocoa Matting up to 2½ yards. Qualities worth up to 75c yard. Saturday Special, yard 25c

Double Width Fish Net Curtainings 12½c yd.

Just at the time of the year when Window Hangings come in for more than usual attention. They are double fold, in a good range of small, neat patterns, in white or cream. Sat. Special, yd. 12½c

27 inch Tapestry Stair Carpets 48c yard

A choice lot of Tapestry Stair Carpets, with the price greatly in favour of early buyers. Pretty patterns on Fawn, Crimson or Green grounds, finished with neat borders on each side. 27 inches wide. Saturday Special, yard..... ..... 48c

36 in. Union Carpet 18½c yard

A very popular Carpet because of its splendid wearing qualities, for Hall or Bedroom use. Colour combinations of Crimson and Fawn only. 36 inches wide. Saturday Special, yard 18½c

Art Sateens 12½c yd.

The assortment of Art Sateens at this figure should attract a great crowd of early buyers. We have grouped together a splendid range of stripe and conventional patterns in light or medium colors. Saturday Special, yard..... ..... 12½c

MAIN STORE

Women's Fine Quality Lisle Gloves 15c pair

They are priced to start Saturday business off with a rush. The silky softness of the fabric is a special feature. They are finished with two dome fasteners and cord stitching on backs, colours black and chamois. Saturday special per pair..... 15c

Children's Cape Gloves 59c and 69c per pair

Splendid quality Children's Walking Gloves, mostly finished with stitching on back and have dome fastening. Sizes up to 6 years 59c pair. Those wearing size up to 6½ may procure them for 69c

Double Width Crepe 29c per yard

The price doesn't represent near its regular value. It's fine and evenly woven, comes double fold width and is one of the most popular fabrics for this season's blouses or dresses. Regular 50c value. Saturday Special per yard 29c

Comforter Chintz 9c yer yard

This is a worth-while saving for Saturday only. Splendid grade Turkey red chintz, free from dressing, in good Paisley designs. They are 30 inches wide and priced for Saturday at per yard. 9c

Wide Flannelette 7¾c per yard

A splendid range of striped flannelettes will be on sale for Saturday shoppers. The quality is the best Canadian made, the patterns are light, medium or dark stripes. The width 36 ins, making this a saving of unusual merit. Saturday Special per yd 7¾c

25c and 29c Dress Foulards 14½c

A most generous assortment of mercerized dress foulards are ready for to-morrow's selling. Check, stripe, spot and small neat designs in almost any combination colour on light and dark grounds. Regular 25c and 29c per yd. Saturday Special yd 14½c

Good Choosing in Easter Millinery and Ready-to-Wear Garments in Our George Street Store

On Saturday we will make a Special Showing of Easter Hats, Coats, Suits, Separate Skirts and Blouses in the George Street Store
Some of the Lines picked are:—

Separate Skirts at $5.00 and $7.50

It is a long time since the Separate Skirt was as popular as it is this season. We are showing an immense new range in one, two and three tier styles, also Peg-Top and Tunic models, in smart Checks, Plaids and plain Serges. Extra values at ..... $5.00 and $7.50

The New Easter Hats Are Exquisite

Fancy styles in new Easter Hats, made of fine Tagel and Milan braids, smartly trimmed with Moire or Roman stripe Ribbons, Flowers or Mounts. Specially priced for Saturday..... $5.00 and $7.50

$10.00 Raincoats only $7.95

Women's full length Raincoats made of all wool Paramatta Rubber lined in new grey and tan shades lined yoke, slit pockets, ventilated under arm. Choice of Raglan or set in sleeves, reg. $10. Saturday Same style in Poplin only $4.98 7.95

New Shipment of Hat shapes $2.98

For a Saturday Special we will offer a fresh shipment of unbraided shapes made of Tagel and Milan Straws in Burnt Tans, Blues and Black. All popular small and medium models. One day only 2.98

Easter Blouses to Suit Every Taste

An immense showing of New Spring Blouses, in Cotton Voiles, Crepe, Silk Crepe de Chines and Shadow Allovers, with new drop shoulders, ruffled collars, front buttoning, long or short sleeves, high or low necks. Sizes 34 to 44. Prices range. .... $1.00 to $6.50

Black Moire Silk Suits and Coats

Moire or Watered Silk is so popular to-day that it is almost impossible to procure any, but we have just received a small shipment of Black Moire Suits and Separate Coats. Only one of a style, all handsome high-class garments, to sell at..... $25.00, $30.00 and $35.00

TURNBULL'S

"An Old Poem Made New" Was The Subject Of Lecture To The Women's Art Association

Judge Huycke Addressed a Large Gathering in Public Library Last Evening—It Was a Very Enjoyable Lecture.

THE COMPARISONS

His Honour Judge Huycke delivered the following lecture to the members of the Art Association and their friends in their rooms at the Public Library. There were a large number present. The following is the address:

"If we were to visit old London, the metropolis of the world, any time during the coming Spring or Summer, and travel down one of the less noisy streets, we would see a unique but inviting looking building with a strange Eastern name over the entrance, chiselled in fantastic Oriental characters. Watching it for a while we should see thoughtful, scholarly looking individuals passing in and out, apparently intent, not on business, but on study and seclusion. Accosting one of them with a stranger's enquiry for explanation, the good fortune of an invitation to enter might be ours. The furnishings we find rich and rare, and the rooms, redolent with an Eastern atmosphere, are filled with treasures of what seems another world, so much out of place do they seem in the dull fog of the English Thames.

Gem of the Collection.

Passing out to the yard or garden behind, we are shown what is said to be the gem of the collection, most highly prized and protected of all, and our surprise and curiosity are unbounded, when we see but a plain, ordinary rose bush, wild and straggling in appearance, and in due season, covered with curious single white roses, whose spicy fragrance fills the air about us. Our curiosity still further aroused, eager questions are asked and are fully answered by our guide, who tells us that rose tree was brought over the seas from far off Persia, and that its parent tree flourishes by the grave side of the great Persian pagan poet, astronomer, mathematician, philosopher and tent maker, dead now eight hundred years, but whose fame still lives and who has given existence and his name to the place we are now visiting. Going back we decipher with difficulty the inscription over the portal and find we have been admitted within the sacred precincts of the Omar Khayam Club.

In imagination let us take another and longer trip to far off Naishapur in Persia, a typical Oriental and Mahometan city. We follow up our quest of the so long forgotten Omar, and with difficulty try to locate some of his homes and haunts, but with less difficulty we find his grave on the outskirts of the City.

The stone is almost covered with fallen leaves and flower petals. This is the Mecca of many a pilgrimage, a tomb, ancient and moss grown, fringed round about by a bewildering growth of rose trees; they are bounded on the north by vines and fruit trees, so that pursuant to his dying request to friends and followers, the north wind should always scatter fragrant petals over his last resting place. His recorded words, as reported are, "My tomb shall be in a place where the North wind shall scatter roses over it."

But who is this Omar to whom so many, especially in these later days, gladly do honour.

Born A. D. 1050.

His full name was Ghiyalhuddin Abulfath Omar bin Abrahim Al-Khayyammi. He was born, lived, and died in Naishapur, born about D.D. 1050, and died about 1123. Khayam means simply, tentmaker, thus indicating his occupation, or more probably that of his father. He was, of course, brought up a Mohammedan and trained in all the mysteries of that faith. His teacher was the vizier Imam Mowaffak, one of the wisest and greatest of his day. One of his fellow pupils was Hassan Ben Sabbath, the founder of the later dreaded and terrible sect of the Assassans, named after him, and from whose name comes our modern word assassin. Hassan was the terrible "old man of the mountains," so feared and dreaded by the Crusaders.

Love of Human Sympathy.

Omar's broad, strong, nature and intelligence made him rebellious and brought him into constant contact with the religious autocrats of his day. His protests against the formalism of the Pharisees and hypocrites of the age made them his enemies; they bitterly assailed him and are the cause of what by some has been assumed to be irreverence, but which I think was not so intended. These snatches of song which have immortalized his name, seem to have been relaxation from the strain of useful professional toil, now all but forgotten. In this he offers a striking resemblance to the two great European poets, Dante and Goethe, to whom the pursuit of knowledge was the business of life, to sing of it, their recreation. A passionate devotion to natural science is character of all three and in each we see a yearning love of human sympathy and a capability of pure and lofty friendship.

Hope of the Eternal

In his Rubaiyat we are spectators of his great life drama, a master spirit's progress and development through the clash and conflict of the eternal. There seems in him three dominant, but everchanging moods, the epicurean, the sceptical and the mystic. He sings in various strains the praises of "roses and love and wine," but sings as mostly as the pessimist and fatalist to obscure and forget the blankness and despair of what he fears will be an eternal extinction. Sometimes but not often we see flash forth a hope of the eternal, but usually "It is eat, drink and be merry," for there is nothing other or better than to-day.

I invite your comparison at leisure of him with the writer of Job and the preacher in Ecclesiastes. With them more frequently the Hebrew faith rises uppermost and triumphs over despair. His is the Moslem pessimism that sees faintly if ever or at all, through the veil, but, ever strong and courageous, ever defiant in his declarations.

Was a Persian.

He was one of the first and best exponents of spiritual liberty and his satire cuts keenly the pretenders to divine knowledge. But Omar was a Persian and long since dead, for centuries almost forgotten. How and why should we be interested in him, his songs or his teachings.

His name is better known to-day in French, German and English literature than in the Persian. How, when and why did this come about? Why is his name a household world wherever the English tongue is spoken or read? Why for the past quarter of a century throughout Britain and America have Omar Clubs been, as one critic says, "as thick as blackberries??" Why was the Khayam Club, the outstanding literary feature of the closing days of the Nineteenth Century and the opening of the Twentieth?

"Old Poem Made New."

For this rejuvenation, for this "old poem made new" we must look to and thank Edward Fitzgerald, whose poem or translation, or both, compelled the attention and admiration of all who love the strong, and true, and the beautiful in art and literature.

But before Fitzgerald there were others who paved the way and drew some attention to the indomitable Moslem, the splendid, undaunted old pagan-Omar of Naishapur. He was an unknown quantity to literary England till the seventeenth century, when Reverend Thomas Hyde, D.D., Professor of Arabic and Hebrew at Oxford, Secretary and interpreter to Charles II., published his monumental work, "Veterum Persarum Religio: "Religion of the Ancient Persians." In it he devoted some space to the life and works of Omar with other almost equally forgotten Eastern worthies. This work, together with the then aggressive policy of the East India Company, then laying the first foundation of England's Empire in the East, and the first translation into English of the "Arabian Nights," for the time being almost Orientalized Great Britain in thought and feeling. Slight reflections of this atmosphere may be seen in "Addison's Vision of Mirsa," and Johnson's "Rasselas."

Lived, Flourished, Studied.

In the next century Sir Gore Ouseley lived, flourished and studied; he became English Ambassador to the Shah of Persia and performed most valuable services as a diplomatist of tact and ability. He was the first who ever attempted translation of any of Omar's works into English.

In this same century some French and German scholars whom I need not stop to name, assisted in the revelation and restoration of this forgotten genius.

Dr. Edward Cowell.

But the John the Baptist of the Khayam cult was Dr. Edward Cowell, Professor of Sanskrit at Cambridge. He it was who lighted the torch, for he was the teacher of Edward Fitzgerald, and inspired him with love of Persian literature, and especially with an undying enthusiasm for Omar the old astronomer. The growth of this fad, cult or rage as it has been differently called by different persons, calling for edition after edition, almost without number, of the Rubaiyat, may be attributed almost wholly to the interpretation of Edward Fitzgerald. How much of his work is Omar and how much Fitzgerald? What part is translation and what is original, is and must be a moot question, but however that may be, he ingeniously wove into a life cycle a number of isolated quatrains blending them all with the unity of his own personality and the brilliance of his own peculiar genius. He took the Persian's thought and the Persian's manner, but made it his own with just such high-handed, modest, almost unconscious art of lordly rapine as Shakespeare displayed towood the predecessors, whom he robbed but to glorify and immortalise them.

There are few characters in modern literature who stand out with clearer individuality, or whose lives have been more transparent than Edward Fitzgerald.

Who Is Fitzgerald.

But who, what, and whence is Fitzgerald? He was the son of John Purcell, Woodbridge, Suffolk, England; his mother's name was Fitzgerald, and her father at death left his very considerable property to the family on condition they took his name. Hence we see Edward Purcell from and after nine years of age, known as "Edward Fitzgerald." He was born March 31st, 1809. Mark the date, March 31st, 1809; the year 1809, indeed the "annus mirabilis" of the nineteenth century.

Fitzgerald numbered among his friends the Tennysons, Carlyle, Dickens, Spedding, and many others not unknown to fame. He lived the life of a modest, retiring, simple, courteous, well to do English gentleman. Literature was to him a relaxation and pleasure, an amusement rather than an avocation. His works were in no sense "pot boilers." He translated a number of Greek tragedies and evidently believed his fame, if any, would rest on them rather than on his less pretentious and as he thought, less worthy Rubaiyat. So do men, great men, err. His chief amusements were gardening and yachting.

"The Scandal."

His favourite yacht he named "The Scandal," from as he said, the chief commodity of Woodbridge, his home town. Possibly some more modern and more pretentious towns or even cities, might emulate Woodbridge in such claims to immortality. Fitzgerald was consistently and conscientiously a vegetarian, rather to the discomfort and discomfiture of an occasional guest. Tennyson, for example. He sometimes called himself and was lovingly known by many of his friends as the "Laird of Little Grange," or mor affectionately and familiarly still "Old Fitz." His Rubaiyat was first published anonymously in 1856, and for private circulaton only, but his old friend and master Cowell, thought so well of it, that it was revised and republished in various guises till in the early eighties it came out in its present perfection. In the early spring of 1883, Tennyson visited him at Woodbridge; many were the pleasant hours they spent together exchanging reminiscent tales, any many more, perhaps more pleasant, they passed enshrouded in silence and tobacco smoke. Those of us old or growing older, know right well "the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts." The old friends parted—alas forever in this life.

Peacefully Sleeping.

Fitzgerald living then alone, went to pay a short visit to his old friend Crabbe at Bredfield vicarage. There it was that he died on the morning of June 14th, 1883. Mr. Crabbe found him "as it peacefully sleeping, but quite dead."

On hearing of Fitzgerald's death Tennyson wrote to their mutual friend, Sir Frederick Pollock, father of the present Sir Frederick, and like him an eminent lawyer, as follows:

No Truer Friend.

"I had no truer friends he was one of the kindest of men, and I have never known one of so fine and delicate a wit. I had written a poem to him the last week, a dedication which, alas, he will never see."

The circumstances of his death and the praise bestowed by Tennyson, then in the summit of his glory, no doubt attracted attention to the Rubaiyat, for it rapidly became and has ever since remained and deservedly so, one of the most popular poems in the English tongue during the past quarter century, probably the most popular one.

Follows Persian Original.

Fitzgerald's English version he makes to follow largely the style of the Persian original. Each verse with him too is a quatrain — four lines only. Here too as in the Persian we find either all four in rhyme, or more frequently the first, second, and fourth in rhyme — the third blank—this being one distinguishing feature of the rubai. The succession of sounds too are said to imitate so far as possible those in the original Persian. The metre used is on common in English verse, the iambic pentametre, i.e., five iambic the iambus being two syllables, a short followed by a long one. This metre is frequently used by Tennyson (vide "In Memoriam"), Byron, Gray and many others. In all languages it is a favourite and effective medium for the expression of poetic thought and sound.

Laughed At Fate.

We, as a matter of fact, at all times must be very chary in our interpretation of Omar, or indeed any Oriental poet, the view-point and figures of speech being so essentially different. Taking Fitzgerald as our guide we must, I think, adopt the middle course and take him as a strong, brave man ,a genius as well, who laughed at fate, who smiled in the blackest despair of doubt, who did not, could not se clearly beyond the veil, who, buffeted, but not conquered, said to-day is all we have,—let us use it, but even when praising pleasure, led himself a sad, perhaps austre and ascetic life.

Student and Philosopher.

Rejecting dictation as to life and conduct from blind religious leaders who could not see ,and did not lead, who he despised and who consequently hated him, his life and verses became one continued protest, protest of the thinker against bigotry, protest of the fair mind against hypocricy, protest of the creature against the Creator, of the pot against the potter, of life against death. He refused wealth and position, choosing work and retirement, the dignified, thoughtful retirement of student and philosopher. This is Fitzgerald's picture; in it all there seems but one flaw, if it is a flaw, accepting the dicta of best Persian scholars. It is that his English poem is rather a work on Omar than Omar himself, to some extent an original poem, not an exact or literal translation. That I believe is true, but it is equally true that he has caught the spirit, the beauty and the splendid triumphant sentiment of olud Omar, and that surely is more valuable and important than a simple literal transmission of the very words, the "ipsissima verba" of the Oriental sage. He gives us the happy meat; wine, it is true is the favourite theme, we may even weary of it, but through it all, while we may not see with those who claim it simply a figure for Divine Love, "the wine of the love of God," we do come to regard it as more than sensual pleasure.

Influence Has Been Marvellous.

Khayam is materialistic certainty, but not so much so as to regard pleasure the sole and only end of life. The influence of the work upon other and great men has been marvellous. Swinburne and Rosseti were profoundly impressed by it, became enthusiastici students and admirers, even dipping into Persian and studying it hard for the occasional sidelight thus obtained. Of course the whole of Omar is not contained in the Fitzgerald poem. Omar wrote or left some five hundred or six hundred Rubaiyat. Fitzgerald gives us only slightly over one hundred of them. On the other hand he has combined and compressed, so we have in our possession vastly more than that in proportion.

Another Pilgrimage.

One more pilgrimage and a short one! We have in imagination visited Omar's grave, "on a spot where the north wind may strew roses upon it," these words being the foundation of inspiration of Theodore Watts' famous sonnet "Hear us, ye winds."

Let us now seek Fitzgerald's last resting place at Boulge, near his home and birthplace in his own Suffolk, in his dear native England. The grave is covered by a slab of rosy granite! At the head and foot are rose trees and infixed in the granite slab is a bronze plate containing this inscription:

"This rose tree, raised in Kew Gardens from seed brought by William Simpson, artist traveller, from the grave of Omar Khayam at Naishapur, was planted by a few admirers of Edward Fitzgerald in the name of the Omar Khayam Club, 7th October, 1893."

At this ceremony was read this verse written by a Canadian author, Grant Allen:

"Here on Fitzgerald's grave from Omar's tomb
To lay fit tribute pilgrim singers flock,
Long with a double fragrance let it bloom,
The rose of Iran on an English stock."

Pitiful Scenes On The Streets

Special Wire to The Examiner:

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., April 3.— There were pitiful scenes in the streets of this city to-day, when hundreds of relatives and friends of seal fishermen gathered to get definite news of their loved ones who were on the Steamers Southern Cross and Newfoundland, both now supposed to be lost. A terrific blizzard is still in progress outside the harbour, and rescue ships are separated from land by sheets of drift ice. Their wireless apparatus was apparently useless in the gale.

TWO ARE DEAD FROM LOCKJAW

Special Wire to The Examiner:

KINGSTON, Ont., April 3.— Gerald Howes, aged 7, and son of Geo. Howes, of Parham, is dying in the General Hospital with lockjaw. A week ago he fell on a strip of ice, inflicting an ugly wound on the head. Tetanus set in yesterday.

NEW BABIES & NEW BABY CARRIAGES

WE HAVE THE

CARRIAGES

The "HEYWOOD" 1914 Styles Now on Display

It will be easy choosing a suitable coach for the NEW BABY from the various styles shown and the strength and durability of the "HEYWOOD" make is well known.

We have real Slumber Carriages, Pullman Sleepers, Sulkies and Folding Carts.

COME AND SEE OUR EXHIBIT

CLEGG'S FURNITURE STORE

427 George St. Phone 79

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

CUP TIE DRAWS LARGE CROWDS--HUGE GATE RECEIPTS

Last Saturday 104,000 People Paid Admission at the Different Cup Tie Fixtures---Ireland Heads the List

Trippingly off the tongue comes the well-worn phrase that there is nothing new under the sun. Any Irishman would dispute the truth of the proverb to-day when Ireland stands out boldly as the champions among British nations at the great game of association football. It is our duty, nay more our pleasure, to congratulate the Irish Association and their players upon an unprecedented triumph.

Such an event is a novelty beyond all question. In spite of the historical victory when Ireland obtained over England at Windsor park, Belfast, last year, we venture to assert that no man would, even on that day—February 15, 1913—have dared to suggest that on March 14, 1914, the Irish team would on that same ground, establish a position which gives them the premiership of those countries which consider the association code as the sport of the people.

All honour to Ireland for their successes over Wales at Wrexham by 2 to 1, and over England at Middlesbrough by by 3 to 0. Their drawn match (1 to 1) with Scotland on Saturday, placed them on the pinnacle of fame, because neither Scotland nor England can even equal their points.

The relative placings can be seen at a glance from his table:

	P.	W.	L.	D.	F.	A.	Ps
Ireland	3	2	0	1	6	2	5
Scotland	2	0	0	2	1	1	2
Wales	2	0	1	1	1	2	1
England	1	0	1	0	0	2	0

Such a happy issue is a reward that no man calling himself a sportsman can begrudge after Ireland has struggled, chiefly with adversity, for 32 years. Ireland was on equal terms with England and Scotland at the close of the 1902-03 campaign, when each country gained two victories and suffered one defeat, but this season their supremacy is unquestioned.

Such a success should prove a powerful stimulant to the cultivation of a fine sport which was described as the "noxious Scotch weed' when Queen's Park and the Glasgow Caledonians played the first exhibition match of this kind of football on the ground of the Ulster Cricket Club on October 28, 1878. The long lane of defeat has reached the turning this year, and we feel sure that no one will endeavour to minimize the importance of a new era in Irish football.

A Big Draw.

Cup ties are always a big draw, and though there is not the same amount of money in the Rugby as in the soccer games, still they greatly benefit those clubs that are fortunate enough to go far enough in the tourney. The gates on Saturday for the first round of the Northern Union cup were highly satisfactory, for in the sixteen games played something like 104,000 people paid for admission at the different grounds, representing in gate money £2793, or an average gate of 6500 and average money of £174.

These will appear paltry figures to our association friends, but when the two positions are reviewed the Northern Union figures come out exceedingly well, and demonstrate the hold the handling code has now got on the public. The attendance and figures were far in advance of last season, and with good weather conditions prevailing in the subsequent rounds I shall look to all records being beaten.

The biggest attendance last Saturday was at Hull, where Salford were the visitors, for some 15,000 people were present and the gate money amounted to £479—quite a nice little division and consolation for the Weaste Club. Rochdale came next in the list with £288, while Warrington Castelford and Barrow all topped the £200 mark. Swinton Park did very well in transferring the venue to Huddersfield, for the receipts amounted to £196. The Runcorn gate was the smallest of the ties, for only £43 was taken; still, the club lives to fight another day. The same thing applies to St. Helens, who only took £44.

LACROSSE CLUB WILL BE ORGANIZED MONDAY

The Peterborough Lacrosse Club will be organized at a meeting in St. Alphonsus Lyceum on Monday night, and every lacrosse fan in the city should make it a point to attend and do his share in putting the game firmly on its feet. The committee appointed at Wednesday night's meeting has been hard at work, and there is every reason to expect a rousing meeting. Officers will be elected and other arrangements made for the season. Every player and fan is invited and a special invitation is extended to the boys of the city to be present at the meeting.

OUTFIELDER KROY.— A youngster with the Toronto International League team last season, whose hitting and fielding will be one of the big features of the coming season.

WANTED TO TRADE TWO MEN FOR BRANT

The Peterborough Ball Club received a letter yesterday from the management of the Battle Creek club proposing a trade. The Michigan club wanted to trade a second and third-baseman for Shortstop Harry Brant, vidently being ignorant of the fact that the clever infielder is now the property of the Fort Wayne club.

A Belleville battery would like to try out with the Petes.

These are the only two items of interest from local headquarters this morning.

New Pitcher For Ottawa

OTTAWA, April 2—The Ottawa baseball club to-day purchased Pitcher Sammy Hall from the Cleveland Naps. The Cleveland club drafted Hall from the Johnson City team of the Appalachian League last fall and he has been down south with them. They wanted Ottawa to take him under optional agreement, subject to recall, but the Canadian League champions refused and finally purchased him outright for $600.

Hall won nineteen and lost nine games for the Johnson City team. He has done good work for Cleveland, but as Blanding and Kahler have returned Manager Birmingham was overloaded with pitchers. He decided to let Hall go to Ottawa.

BOXING

Dick Burge, manager for Bandaman Blake, lost a considerable sum when Bombardier Wells defeated Blake recently. Burge figured the Bandaman a sure winner and had backed him heavily.

Toronto Wrestlers Coming Big Bouts Scheduled At The Local Y. M. C. A.

Mr. S. W. Collings, wrestling instructor of the Central Y.M.C.A., Toronto, has definitely notified the local Y.M.C.A. that he will send a bunch of crack wrestlers to take part in the Championship contests to be held in the local Y.M.C.A. on Thursday evening of next week. Physical Instructor Thompson has secured a permit from the Provincial Association to hold the contest for the City championships. Thus any wrestlers in Peterborough or vicinity who care to take part for the championships will have a chance to do so. They will need to obtain their amateur cards in advance. Entries will close on Tuesday of next week.

Ever since it was announced that the Toronto champions might come to Peterborough the wrestling quarters at the local Y. M. C. A. have been showing signs of unusual activity. The class of wrestlers has been working out every evening from 5.30 to 7 o'clock. Most of the local boys are rounding into shape. Lees, who will take part in the 115-pound class, will have to get off a few pounds to make his class, but expects to do so without trouble. Hartiaken, who will take part in the 125-pound class, is already right on the weight limit and promises to put up one of the best bouts of the night. Forbes, who will enter the 135-pound class, is a few pounds over weight, but expects to make the weight without difficulty. Scott, the 145-pound man, has taken off three pounds within the past couple of days, and has to reduce only about five pounds more to be ready in his class. Mel Turner, who will enter the welter-weight class, is light enough to take part in the 135-pound class, but will probably stick with the 145-pound wrestlers.

Mr. Collings writes that Oswald, the St. Andrew's College 105-pound wrestler, who has won distinction in a number of bouts in Toronto, would like to come to Peterborough. A bout is being arranged for him with H. Keegan. Keegan has been out of the game for two years, and is not in the best of shape, but has promised to get to work in order that he may help to put on a bout at that weight. Keegan is sure to give a good account of himself, as he is strong for his weight, and has enough knowledge of the game to help him out.

It is also definitely known that Durnan, who won the 125-pound championship in Toronto two weeks ago, beating the local wrestler, Hartiaken, on points, is coming to Peterborough. This means that there will be a particularly fine bout between these two men, as Hartiaken is anxious to have another try at Durnan. It will be remembered that in the Toronto bouts Durnan got behind Hartiaken with the scissors hold which Hartiaken was unable to shake off. Durnan won the final with the same hold against a wrestler from the West Y. M. C. A. Ever since returning to Peterborough Hartiaken has been practising holds to counter the scissors hold of Durnan, and will be ready for him when they meet next Thursday. Hartiaken, who had considerable wrestling experience in Finland before coming to Peterborough, and who has been working steadily all winter, is an exceptionally good wrestler with a wonderful defence, and so strong that it is practically certain he will not be thrown by any man his weight, no matter how many bouts he goes through, while he stands a first-class show of winning in his class. The names of the other Toronto entries will be announced within the next few days. It is reported that Gibson, the 145-pound crack, and that Walsh, the former Ontario champion, and the Toronto city champion, now at 135 pounds, will both be down.

Athletic Club Was Organized

King George School Boys Elect Their Officers

A meeting was held in the King George school for the purpose of organizing an Athletic Club.

The following officers were elected:

Hon. President—Rev. F. J. Sawers.
President—Mr. M. H. Park.
Vice-President—H. Miller.
Manager—Mr. Steer.
Secy-Treasurer—J. Gillespie.

Members of Committee— Form IV, H. Miller, J. Gillespie; Form III, L. Lipsett, K. Anderson; Form II, S. Record.

ORILLIA PLAYERS HONOURED

ORILLIA, April 2.—One hundred and fifty enthusiasts attended the banquet this evening, when Orillia did honour to its hockey boys, they having won the O.H.A. junior championship for two successive years, and the intermediate team being runners-up in their first season's play. The citizens feel that the town has something of which to be proud.

Mayor Gofatt presided, and upon him fell the pleasing duty of presenting the players and their managers with gold lockets, suitably engraved as a testimonial from the citizens. The O.H.A. junior trophy and championship medals were presented by Mr W. A. Hewitt, of Toronto, Secretary of the association. The principal toasts were: "Canada" and "The Ontario Hockey Association." The former was proposed by Mr. George H. Clark, and eloquently responded to by Mr. J. P. Downey. "The Association" was proposed by Mr. John C. Miller, and responded to by Mr. A. Copeland of Midland and Mr. C. L. MacNab of Orillia, members of the O.H.A. Executive. Among other speakers were Mr. W. H. Tudhope, President of the Orillia Hockey Club; Mr. H. W. Caswell, manager of the intermediates; Mr. J. E. Tudhope, manager of the juniors. Musical numbers were contributed during the evening by Messrs. H. A. Croxall, S. Plunkett and W. R. Birkett.

Enthusiasm Over Lacrosse At Havelock

HAVELOCK, April 2.— A very enthusiastic gathering of lacrosse supporters was held here to-night, when the game was discussed in detail from its origin into its balmy balmy days and through its decadence into the present days of its great revival. The lacrosse fever has hit Havelock. In attendance at the meeting were some 60 school boys who are very anxious to see the season opened.

Secretary Doyle of Toronto was present and urged the younger element as well as the older boys to keep the game clean. Four dozen sticks have been ordered for school boys, and two or three teams will contest for the gold medals along with Norwood, Hastings and Campbellford.

At to-night's meeting an intermediate team was organized with the following officers: Hon. President, Dr. Kindred; Hon. First Vice-President, Rev. Mr. Holdsworth; Hon. Second Vice-President, L. G. Rogers; President, H. T. Andrews; First Vice, Dr. Thompson; Second Vice, Dr. Holdcroft; Third Vice, W. J. Brown; Secretary-Treasurer, H. E. Nichol; manager, T. P. Lancaster; assistant manager, A. Armstrong; Executive Committee, President, Secretary, and Messrs. T. Dineen, C. Warren, J. Easterbrook and D. A. Forde; coach, H. T. Andrews; assistant coach, D. A. Forde; delegates to O. A. L. A., H. T. Andrews and A. Armstrong.

The ten-man team idea met with favour here and will be strongly supported at the annual convention. Percy Lancaster, manager of the club, is a candidate for the O.A.L.A. Executive, and the Havelock club will leave no stone unturned to secure his election.

A vote of thanks was tendered Secretary Doyle for his return visit, which has resulted in the national game being put on a firm basis here.

CITY CAN TAKE OVER LIGHTING PLANT IMMEDIATELY

(Continued from Page 7.)

all the power for the City, through the Peterborough Power Company as distributor. He declared that the Company would be put out of business, and that it could find no market for its power. They had no rights of their own and they were dependent on those of the Peterborough Company for the use of the streets.

Mr. Beck Makes Charges.

Hon. Adam Beck charged Mr. Coville and his company with refusing to entertain a proposition from the Commission for a supply of power. The reason given was that the Company's power was all under contract. This did not quite agree with his argument that the sale of one plant without the other would result in injury to the Auburn Company. Mr. Coville replied that the Commission had never asked for power. Mr. Beck insisted that they had, and said he could produce correspondence showing the business transactions.

The Poor Bond Holders.

Mr. Strachan Johnston said he represented the bond holders, and that they should be considered. They had invested their money thinking that the charter was good for a number of years. He thought that the Auburn company was reallly a part of the Peterborough Light and Power Company inasmuch as the Seymour people owned all the companies.

Mr. Colville again undertook to advance reasons why the bill should not be passed.

Hon. Mr. Beck—"Tell us candidly what is your object?"

Mr. Coville—"To sell all our holdings in Peterborough?"

Mr. Beck—"What did you pay for the company? Is it not true that you simply transferred a mortgage and paid a dollar?"

Mr. Coville—"That does not matter in this case."

Hon. Adam Beck—"I want to tell the gentlemen of this Committee that the Hydro has been hampered in all its work by this sort of thing. If this committee had listened to all the technicalities brought forth by the power interests we would never have had Hydro in existence. This is simply a clever scheme of transferring stock from one company to another. Look at this case. Here is the stock of the Auburn Company transferred from J. G. G. Kerry of that Company to J. G. G. Kerry of the other Company on the payment of one dollar. It is a shrewd trick and only used to load the plant on the City. You should pass the bill."

A Mysterious Young Boarder.

A learned, solitary young man is unable to pay his board bills. You'll find out why in "Quoed," by Henry Harrison. Formerly sold at $1.35; Now 50c; over 1000 good titles to choose from at Trebilcock Bros. 'Phone 888.

Suits to Measure on "Special Orders"

Here you are:

Over 300 English Cloths to select from, the finest weaves and newest patterns in Worsteds, Cheviots, Serges, Homespuns, Tweeds, Moorats.

30 different style plates from which to select styles and give special directions.

Garments finished to order in five days by expert men tailors who are specialists in fine tailoring.

Prices for Suits and Overcoats, $18 and up to $40. A perfect fitting garment guaranteed, or your money refunded.

Semi-ready Tailoring means Satisfaction to You.

THE CRESSMAN COMPANY
PETERBORO, ONT.

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL

Spring Prices Dropped One Month Earlier Than Usual.

I sell exclusively Lehigh Valley Coal Company's Coal. THE BEST IN THE WORLD PROPERLY SCREENED at the following Cash Prices, to come in effect April 1st, 1914.

Egg Coal	-	$6.75 per Ton
Stove Coal	-	$6.75 per Ton
Nut Coal	-	$7.00 per Ton
Pea Coal	-	$6.00 per Ton

Early buyers are asked to order as soon as possible, and not wait till end of month, as prices quoted are for present delivery, so we will be pleased to have your orders by Mail, 'Phone or Personal Call at the Office.

Thanking the general public for the very large patronage of the past season, I hope by strict attention to your requirements to merit a continuance of the same.

J. E. A. FITZGERALD
'PHONE 111.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE ATTRACTIONS

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, TO-NIGHT AND SATURDAY
THIS WEEK, HIGH-CLASS MOTION PICTURES.
Featuring To-Night "His Hour of Triumph"
6—FULL REELS—6 COMEDY AND DRAMA
Evenings only with Matinees Saturday at 2.30 and 4.00 p.m.
Continuous Evening Performance commencing at 7.30 & 9 p.m.
ADULTS 10c CHILDREN 5c.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, WEDNESDAY APRIL 8th.
A Play of New York Life—With Nothing to Defend.
A GIRL OF THE UNDERWORLD
IN FOUR ACTS
PRICES—25c, 35c, 50c—Gallery 15c.

Packey McFarland says he will retire from the ring after he finishes with Mike Gibbons.

RED MILL
TO-DAY
ENTIRE CHANGE
5c Admission To All 5c

Princess Theatre
TO-DAY
ENTIRE CHANGE
5c and 10c

Brock St. Rink
Roller Skating Daily
Band Concert Saturday Night
By the 57th Reg. Band

Here, Gentlemen, Are Clothes of Quality

Clothes that any man, no matter what his position in life, can be proud to wear; Clothes that will lift any man up and away from the ordinary by giving him an appearance and bearing of taste, dignity and good judgment.

IN A WORD, MEN, we offer to you the finest Tailored Clothes in the world, garments that not only look well when you buy them, but as long as you wear them, because every detail in their making is looked after with the greatest care that not a solitary thing be left undone that is vitally important in making them the

"CLOTHES THAT SATISFY"

$18 to $30

They are made by SOCIETY BRAND, of course. Some men do not buy them because they think they are "expensive," but as a matter of fact, they are the cheapest clothes in the world, if you consider all that you get for the money. Any man who wears them will tell you so.

Society Brand Clothes We Would Like to Show You a Few of the Newest Styles. Come

H. LeBRUN & CO.
WHERE QUALITY IS KING

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

CUP TIE DRAWS LARGE CROWDS—HUGE GATE RECEIPTS

Last Saturday 104,000 People Paid Admission at the Different Cup Tie Fixtures—Ireland Heads the List

Trippingly off the tongue comes the well-worn phrase that there is nothing new under the sun. Any Irishman would dispute the truth of the peoverb to-day when Ireland stands out boldly as the champions among British nations at the great game of association football. It is our duty, nay more our pleasure, to congratulate the Irish Association and their players upon an unprecedented triumph.

Such an event is a novelty beyond all question. In spite of the historical victory when Ireland obtained over England at Windsor park, Belfast, last year, we venture to assert that no man would, even on that day—February 15, 1913—have dared to suggest that on March 14, 1914, the Irish team would on that same ground, establish a position which gives them the premiership of those countries which consider the association code as the sport of the people.

All honour to Ireland for their successes over Wales at Wrexham by 2 to 1, and over England at Middlesbrough by by 3 to 0. Their drawn match (1 to 1) with Scotland on Saturday, placed them on the pinnacle of fame, because neither Scotland nor England can even equal their points.

The relative placings can be seen at a glance from his table:

	P.	W.	L.	D.	F.	A.	Pts.
Ireland	3	2	0	1	6	2	5
Scotland	2	0	0	2	1	1	2
Wales	2	0	1	1	1	2	1
England	1	0	1	0	2	0	0

Such a happy issue is a reward that no man calling himself a sportsman can begrudge after Ireland has struggled, chiefly with adversity, for 39 years. Ireland was on equal terms with England and Scotland at the close of the 1902-03 campaign, when each country gained two victories and suffered one defeat, but this season their supremacy is unquestioned.

Such a success should prove a powerful stimulant to the cultivation of a fine sport which was described as the "noxious Scotch weed' when Queen's Park and the Glasgow Caledonians played the first exhibition match of this kind of football on the ground of the Ulster Cricket Club on October 28, 1878. The long lane of defeat has reached the turning this year, and we feel sure that no one will endeavour to minimize the importance of a new era in Irish football.

A Big Draw.

Cup ties are always a big draw, and though there is not the same amount of money in the Rugby as in the soccer games, still they greatly benefit those clubs that are fortunate enough to go far enough in the tourney. The gates on Saturday for the first round of the Northern Union cup were highly satisfactory, for in the sixteen games played something like 104,000 people paid for admission at the different grounds, representing in gate money £2793, or an average gate of 6500 and average money of £174.

These will appear paltry figures to our association friends, but when the two positions are reviewed the Northern Union figures come out exceedingly well, and demonstrate the hold the handling code has now got on the public. The attendance and figures were far in advance of ast season, and with good weather conditions prevailing in the subsequent rounds I shall look to all records being beaten.

The biggest attendance last Saturday was at Hull, where Salford were the visitors, for some 15,000 people were present and the gate money amounted to £479—quite a nice little division and consolation for the Weaste Club. Rochdale came next in the list with £288, while Warrington Castelford and Barrow all topped the £200 mark. Swinton Park did very well in transferring the venue to Huddersfield, for the reecipts amounted to £196. The Runcorn gate was the smallest of the ties, for only £43 was taken; still, the club lives to fight another day. The same thing applies to St. Helens, who only took £44.

LACROSSE CLUB WILL BE ORGANIZED MONDAY

The Peterborough Lacrosse Club will be organized at a meeting in St. Alphonsus Lyceum on Monday night, and every lacrosse fan in the city should make it a point to attend and do his share in putting the game firmly on its feet. The committee appointed at Wednesday night's meeting has been hard at work, and there is every reason to expect a rousing meeting. Officers will be elected and other arrangements made for the season. Every player and fan is invited and a special invitation is extended to the boys of the city to be present at the meeting.

OUTFIELDER KROY.— A youngster with the Toronto International League team last season, whose hitting and fielding will be one of the big features of the coming season.

WANTED TO TRADE TWO MEN FOR BRANT

The Peterborough Ball Club received a letter yesterday from the management of the Battle Creek club proposing a trade. The Michigan club wanted to trade a second and third-baseman for Shortstop Harry Brant, vidently being ignorant of the fact that the clever infielder is now the property of the Fort Wayne club.

A Belleville battery would like to try out with the Petes.

These are the only two items of interest from local headquarters this morning.

New Pitcher For Ottawa

OTTAWA, April 2—The Ottawa baseball club to-day purchased Pitcher Sammy Hall from the Cleveland Naps. The Cleveland club drafted Hall from the Johnson City team of the Appalachian League last fall and he has been down south with them. They wanted Ottawa to take him under optional agreement, subject to recall, but the Canadian League champions refused and finally purchased him outright for $600.

Hall won nineteen and lost nine games for the Johnson City team. He has done good work for Cleveland, but as Blanding and Kahler have returned Manager Birmingham was overloaded with pitchers. He decided to let Hall go to Ottawa.

BOXING

Dick Burge, manager for Bandsman Blake, lost a considerable sum when Bombardier Wells defeated Blake recently. Burge tigured the Bandsman a sure winner and had backed him heavily.

Toronto Wrestlers Coming Big Bouts Scheduled At The Local Y. M. C. A.

Mr. S. W. Collings, wrestling instructor of the Central Y.M.C.A., Toronto, has definitely notified the local Y.M.C.A. that he will send a bunch of crack wrestlers to take part in the Championship contests to be held in the local Y.M.C.A. on Thursday evening of next week. Physical Instructor Thompson has secured a permit from the Provincial Association to hold the contest for the City championships. Thus any wrestlers in Peterborough or vicinity who care to take part for the championships will have a chance to do so. They will need to obtain their amateur cards in advance. Entries will close on Tuesday of next week.

Ever since it was announced that the Toronto champions might come to Peterborough the wrestling quarters at the local Y. M. C. A. have been showing signs of unusual activity. The class of wrestlers has been working out every evening from 5.30 to 7 o'clock. Most of the local boys are rounding into shape. Lees, who will take part in the 115-pound class, will have to get off a few pounds to make his class, but expects to do so without trouble. Hartiaken, who will take part in the 125-pound class, is already right on the weight limit and promises to put up one of the best bouts of the night. Forbes, who will enter the 135-pound class, is a few pounds over weight, but expects to make the weight without difficulty. Scott, the 145-pound man, has taken off three pounds within the past couple of days, and has to reduce only about five pounds more to be ready in his class. Mel Turner, who will enter the welter-weight class, is light enough to take part in the 135-pound class, but will probably stick with the 145-pound wrestlers.

Mr. Collings writes that Oswald, the St. Andrew's College 105-pound wrestler, who has won distinction in a number of bouts in Toronto, would like to come to Peterborough. A bout is being arranged for him with H. Keegan. Keegan has been out of the game for two years, and is not in the best of shape, but has promised to get to work in order that he may help to put on a bout at that weight. Keegan is sure to give a good account of himself, as he is strong for his weight, and has enough knowledge of the game to help him out.

It is also definitely known that Durnan, who won the 125-pound championship in Toronto two weeks ago, beating the local wrestler, Hartiaken, on points, is coming to Peterborough. This means that there will be a particularly fine bout between these two men, as Hartiaken is anxious to have another try at Durnan. It will be remembered that in the Toronto bouts Durnan got behind Hartiaken with the scissors hold which Hartiaken was unable to shake off. Durnan won the final with the same hold against a wrestler from the West Y. M. C. A. Ever since returning to Peterborough Hartiaken has been practising holds to counter the scissors hold of Durnan, and will be ready for him when they meet next Thursday. Hartiaken, who had considerable wrestling experience in Finland before coming to Peterborough, and who has been working steadily all winter, is an exceptionally good wrestler with a wonderful defence, and so strong that it is practically certain he will not be thrown by any man his weight, no matter how many bouts he goes through, while he stands a first-class show of winning in his class. The names of the other Toronto entries will be announced within the next few days. It is reported that Gibson, the 145-pound crack, and that Walsh, the former Ontario champion, and the Toronto city champion, now at 135 pounds, will both be down.

Athletic Club Was Organized

King George School Boys Elect Their Officers

A meeting was held in the King George school for the purpose of organizing an Athletic Club.

The following officers were elected:
Hon. President—Rev. F. J. Sawers.
President—Mr. M. H. Park.
Vice-President—H. Miller.
Manager—Mr. Steer.
Secy-Treasurer—J. Gillespie.
Members of Committee— Form IV, H. Miller, J. Gillespie; Form III, L. Lipsett, K. Anderson; Form II, S. Record.

ORILLIA PLAYERS HONOURED

ORILLIA, April 2.—One hundred and fifty enthusiasts attended the banquet this evening, when Orillia did honour to its hockey boys, they having won the O.H.A. junior championship for two successive years, and the intermediate team being runners-up in their first season's play. The citizens feel that the town has something of which to be proud.

Mayor Gofatt presided, and upon him fell the pleasing duty of presenting the players and their managers with gold lockets, suitably engraved as a testimonial from the citizens. The O.H.A. junior trophy and championship medals were presented by Mr. W. A. Hewitt, of Toronto, Secretary of the association. The principal toasts were: "Canada" and "The Ontario Hockey Association." The former was proposed by Mr. George H. Clark, and eloquently responded to by Mr. J. P. Downey. "The Association" was proposed by Mr. John C. Miller, and responded to by Mr. A. Copeland of Midland and Mr. C. L. MacNab of Orillia, members of the O.H.A. Executive. Among other speakers were Mr. W. H. Tudhope, President of the Orillia Hockey Club; Mr. H. W. Caswell, manager of the intermediates; Mr. J. E. Tudhope, manager of the juniors. Musical numbers were contributed during the evening by Messrs H. A. Croxall, S. Plunkett and W. F Birkett.

Enthusiasm Over Lacrosse At Havelock

HAVELOCK, April 2.— A very enthusiastic gathering of lacrosse supporters was held here to-night, when the game was discussed in detail from its origin into its balmy balmy days and through its decadence into the present days of its great revival. The lacrosse fever has hit Havelock. In attendance at the meeting were some 50 school boys who are very anxious to see the season opened.

Secretary Doyle of Toronto was present and urged the younger element as well as the older boys to keep the game clean. Four dozen sticks have been ordered for school boys, and two or three teams will contest for the gold medals along with Norwood, Hastings and Campbellford.

At to-night's meeting an intermediate team was organized with the following officers: Hon. President, Dr. Kindred; Hon. First Vice-President, Rev. Mr. Holdsworth; Hon. Second Vice-President, L. G. Rogers; President, H. T. Andrews; First Vice, Dr. Thompson; Second Vice, Dr. Holdcroft; Third Vice, W. J. Brown; Secretary-Treasurer, H. E. Nichol; manager, T. P. Lancaster; assistant manager, A. Armstrong; Executive Committee, President, Secretary, and Messrs. T. Dineen, C. Warren, J. Easterbrook and D. A. Forde; coach, H T. Andrews; assistant coach, D. A. Forde; delegates to O. A. L. A., H. T. Andrews and A. Armstrong.

The ten-man team idea met with favour here and will be strongly supported at the annual convention. Percy Lancaster, manager of the club, is a candidate for the O.A.L.A. Executive, and the Havelock club will leave no stone unturned to secure his election.

A vote of thanks was tendered Secretary Doyle for his return visit, which has resulted in the national game being put on a firm basis here.

CITY CAN TAKE OVER LIGHTING PLANT IMMEDIATELY

(Continued from Page 7.)

all the power for the City, through the Peterborough Power Company as distributor. He declared that the Company would be put out of business, and that it could find no market for its power. They had no rights of their own and they were dependent on those of the Peterborough Company for the use of the streets.

Mr. Beck Makes Charges.

Hon. Adam Beck charged Mr. Coville and his company with refusing to entertain a proposition from the Commission for a supply of power. The reason given was that the Company's power was all under contract. This did not quite agree with his argument that the sale of one plant without the other would result in injury to the Auburn Company. Mr. Coville replied that the Commission had never asked for power. Mr. Beck insisted that they had, and said he could prduce correspondence showing the business transactions.

The Poor Bond Helders.

Mr. Strachan Johnston said he represented the bond holders, and that they should be considered. They had invested their money thinking that the charter was good for a number of years. He thought that the Auburn company was reallly a part of the Peterborough Light and Power Company inasmuch as the Seymour people owned all the companies.

Mr. Colville again undertook to advance reasons why the bill should not be passed.

Hon. Mr. Beck—"Tell us candidly what is your object?"

Mr. Coville—"To sell all our holdings in Peterborough?"

Mr. Beck—"What did you pay for the company? Is it not true that you simply transferred a mortgage and paid a dollar?"

Mr. Coville—"That does not matter in this case."

Hon. Adam Beck—"I want to tell the gentlemen of this Committee that the Hydro has been hampered in all its work by this sort of thing. If this committee had listened to all the technicalities brought forth by the power interests we would never have had Hydro in existence. This is simply a clever scheme of transferring stock from one company to another. Look at this case. Here is the stock of the Auburn Company transferred from J. G. G. Kerry of that Company to J. G. G. Kerry of the other Company on the payment of one dollar. It is a shrewd trick and only used to load the plant on the City. You should pass the bill."

A Mysterious Young Boarder.

A learned, solitary young man is unable to pay his board bills. You'll find out why in "Queed," by Henry Harrison. Formerly sold at $1.25; Now 50c; over 1000 good titles to choose from at Trebilcock Bros. 'Phone 205.

Suits to Measure on "Special Orders"

Here you are:

Over 300 English Cloths to select from, the finest weaves and newest patterns in Worsteds, Cheviots, Serges, Homespuns, Tweeds, Moorats.

30 different style plates from which to select styles and give special directions.

Garments finished to order in five days by expert men tailors who are specialists in fine tailoring.

Prices for Suits and Overcoats, $18 and up to $40. A perfect fitting garment guaranteed, or your money refunded.

Semi-ready Tailoring means Satisfaction to You.

THE CRESSMAN COMPANY
PETERBORO, ONT.

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL

Spring Prices Dropped One Month Earlier Than Usual.

I sell exclusively Lehigh Valley Coal Company's Coal. THE BEST IN THE WORLD PROPERLY SCREENED at the following Cash Prices, to come in effect April 1st, 1914.

Egg Coal	-	$6.75 per Ton
Stove Coal	-	$6.75 per Ton
Nut Coal	-	$7.00 per Ton
Pea Coal	-	$6.00 per Ton

Early buyers are asked to order as soon as possible, and not wait till end of month, as prices quoted are for present delivery, so we will be pleased to have your orders by Mail, 'Phone or Personal Call at the Office.

Thanking the general public for the very large patronage of the past season, I hope by strict attention to your requirements to merit a continuance of the same.

J. E. A. FITZGERALD
'PHONE 111.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE ATTRACTIONS

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, TO-NIGHT AND SATURDAY
THIS WEEK, HIGH-CLASS MOTION PICTURES.
Featuring To-Night "His Hour of Triumph"
6—FULL REELS—6 :-: :-: COMEDY AND DRAMA
Evenings only with Matinees Saturday at 2.30 and 4.00 p.m.
Continuous Evening Performance commencing at 7.30 & 9p.m.
ADULTS 10c :-: :-: :-: CHILDREN 5c.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, WEDNESDAY APRIL 8th.
A Play of New York Life—With Nothing to Defend.
A GIRL OF THE UNDERWORLD
IN FOUR ACTS
PRICES—25c, 35c, 50c—Gallery 15c.

Packey McFarland says he will retire from the ring after he finishes with Mike Gibbons.

RED MILL
TO-DAY
ENTIRE CHANGE
5c Admission To All 5c

Princess Theatre
TO-DAY
ENTIRE CHANGE
5c and 10c

Brock St. Rink
Roller Skating Daily
Band Concert Saturday Night
By the 57th Reg. Band

Here, Gentlemen, Are Clothes of Quality

Clothes that any man, no matter what his position in life, can be proud to wear; Clothes that will lift any man up and away from the ordinary by giving him an appearance and bearing of taste, dignity and good judgment.

IN A WORD, MEN, we offer to you the finest Tailored Clothes in the world, garments that not only look well when you buy them, but as long as you wear them, because every detail in their making is looked after with the greatest care that not a solitary thing be left undone that is vitally important in making them the

"CLOTHES THAT SATISFY"

$18 to $30

They are made by SOCIETY BRAND, of course. Some men do not buy them because they think they are "expensive," but as a matter of fact, they are the cheapest clothes in the world, if you consider all that you get for the money. Any man who wears them will tell you so.

Society Brand Clothes We Would Like to Show You a Few of the Newest Styles. Come

H. LeBRUN & CO.
WHERE QUALITY IS KING

Robt. Fair & Co. Ltd.

Saturday Bargains
APRIL 4TH

Some Exceptional Opportunities to Save are Enumerated in This Advertisement. 'Phone 145.

The Rush for Easter Apparel is on us Now

"Fair's" Suits Reflect the Latest Refined Touches of Correct Fashions—Stylish smartly designed suits in the many novelty weaves. There are hardly two suits following similar lines of designs or colour, therefore we can offer you a selection of remarkable extent. Suits from .. .. .. $10 to $42

New Spring Coats—Many novelties, both in fabrics and colourings, short and three quarter attractive models. Prices range from $10.00, $20.00. $25.00

Prettily Made Wash Dresses—Dainty stripe and check ginghams and chambrays, smartly designed and trimmed with embroidery, and insertion and piping. Regular $1.65. On sale at $1.39

We are Showing the best One Dollar Blouse in the City—The materials are stripe percales in black and white, sky and white, &c. collars and cuffs trimmed with white pique. Also in white lawns, India Linen, and Linenette. They are worth $1.25 to $1.50. On Sale for each $1

Offerings From The Whitewear Section—Two tables of specially priced gowns, corset covers, drawers, &c., marked at one third less than regular, like this per garment
35c for 25c 50c for 35c $1.00 for 83c

A Special in Black Pailette Silk—Full 36 inches wide, most beautiful soft lustrous finish. For Dresses, Gowns and Waists. Regular $1.00 Special Selling Price per yard 73c

Storm Resista Rain Coat Special—Quality guaranteed, plain colours and with fine stripe and Tweed effects in fawns, browns and greys. Has set in and raglan sleeves. Sold by many dealers at $6.50 Sale price $5.00

Showing of Tweeds for Separate Skirts—Special designs for the separate skirts in Hair stripes, checks and mixed Tweed effects per yard.. .... 50c & 75c

An Extra Special in Tweeds—For the new separate skirt in greys, browns, tans, &c, 48 to 50 inches wide. Regular price $1.25 on sale at per yard 98c

More Arrivals in Black and White Shepherds Check Dress Goods - We are showing many novelties in this popular fabric at per yard 50c, 85c, $1.25

The Best 8-4 Unbleached Sheeting Value Ever offered—And you will say so when you see it. Extra heavy twill, will wear longer than any you have ever bought at 50c per yd. On Sale at per yard 35c

23 inch Check Glass Towelling—Extra good quality, special for dishes. Our special at 10c. On sale at... ... .11 for $1.00

Hand or Roller Towelling –18 in wide. Our regular 10c lines on sale at..... ....3 yards for 25c

Special Prices in White Quilts—Just a few of each line left. The very best of value at $2.50 for $1.98, $3.00 for $2.39.

Blue Check Shirting at 10c yard—For Men's and Boys' Shirts. Indigo Blue, the kind that washes. Worth 12½c. On Sale at, yard.. .... 10c

A Leading Line in Corset Embroidery—Our aim has been to have a Special at 25c yard. This week we will offer a 35c quality for, yard..... ..... 25c

Hand-Loom Edgings and Insertions—Beautiful designs on superior quality cambric and Swiss muslin. Worth 7c and 8c. On Sale at.....5 yards for 25c

Embroidery Flouncing Priced Low for Quick Selling—They are not soiled or damaged or last year's stock but new, fresh and up-to-date designs. 27 in. Flouncing, regular 35c, Sale Price, yard 25c. 45 inch Flouncing, regular 65c, Sale Price, yard 39c.

Our Easter Display of TRIMMED MILLINERY
Is Now at Its Best..

You will find in this Exhibit and Sale the widest possible range of shapes, shades and trimmings, a wide range of prices too.

$5, $7.50, $10, $12.50, $15

LUMBER
Building Materials of all kinds. Shingles, Sasnalings, Joist and Bill Stuff, Mouldings, Castings, Sash and Doors of all kinds, Boards and Box Shooks, Slabs and Mill Wood.
R.L. MARSHALL ESTATE
Point St. Charles Mills

YOUR PORTRAIT – As an Easter remembrance, will be most fitting to the occasion – will be appreciated by your friends as an evidence of your thoughtfulness.
MOULE STUDIO
Next to Ohp's
374½ George St., 'Phone 46

"THE OLD HOMESTEAD"

A big house greeted the "Old Homestead" last night, and a big treat greeted the big audience in the splendid presentation of this clean, capably acted and splendidly staged play. Every detail of stage setting was in keeping with the scene presented, and all the accesories, incidental music, etc., were in excellent keeping with the character of the play, whose features were faithful portrayals of humble rural life, rapid alternation of uproariously funny and touchingly pathetic situations, and, running through all, a strong thread of wholesome philosophy of life and principle and deep moral teaching. One can go to the "Old Homstead" for far more important products than grain and fruits, and screamingly funny Reuben—clean entertainment and high moral lessons.

A WORD OF GRATITUDE

"In justice to humanity I want to tell you that I was a great sufferer from itching piles and have found Dr. Chase's Ointment the best treatment obtainable," writes Mr. Fred Hinz, Brodhagen, Ont. "It gives instant relief and I can recommend it to any sufferer from this dreadful disease."

WILL IMPROVE AND ENLARGE JUNIPER WHARF

Stony Lake Cottagers' Association Held Annual Meeting in the Bank of Montreal Last Night

OFFICERS ELECTED

The annual meeting of the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association was held in the Bank of Montreal Chambrs last night. The Association who, as a joint stock company, own the Juniper Island store and pavilion, declared a dividend of five per cent last night, and a considerable surplus in th treasury. The election of officers took place and resulted as follows:

President—Mr. R. Neill.
Vice-President—Mr. H. W. Stock.
Secretary -Treasurer — Mr. F. Brownacombe.

It will be welcome news to a large number of cottagers to know that the Association last night announced that they had sufficient working funds to add materially to the present wharfing accommodations at Juniper Island. They propose this summer to improve the present wharves for smaller craft and extend them as much as possible. The launch wharf which was beginning to show signs of disintegration last year will be repaired and other details for the convenience of the cottagers attended to.

CITY AND GENERAL

The Examiner Office Telephones.

The telephone numbers of the Examiner Office have been changed. The Business Office, formerly 57, is now 1600; the Editorial Office, which was 236, is now 1601; Mr. Dawe and Mr. Menzies are changed from 1217, and can e had by calling either of the above new numbers. Private branch ex-

Notice.

Painting, papering and graining at reasonable prices. —Geo. Hawke, Browntown P. O. 'Phone 1431. 323d-64

Notice!

Carting and moving promptly and carefully attended to. Call or address J. Kelleher, 261 Romaine St. 28d-67

FORECASTS

Fresh north and north west winds; mostly fair and cold to-day, and on Saturday; local snow flurries.

Transient Trader Fined.

A man charged with being a transient trader was fined $5 at Havelock by County Magistrate Edmison. He intends to take out a license.

Special Meeting.

Special meeting of Peterborough Circle, No. 193, O.C.H.C. in K. O. P. Hall to-night. Representative from head office here to explain new rates. All members requested to be present. O. S. Matchett, Fin. Sec.

Read This—Some Bargains.

Stewart Street—Brick house. All conveniences. Attic floored. Price $2,250.00.

Five acres of ground and buildings. Close to the city. Price $800. Ask C. J. Carroll & Co. They know. 372 Water steret. 'Phone 822. Open evenings. We sell the earth.

Try The Sanitary Grocery Store for

Home-made Raspberries, Sweet Oranges, Fancy Biscuits, Tickler's Pure Jam, Black Currant, Raspberry and Strawberry; Fearman's Hams and Bacon, fresh eggs and butter, Lea & Perrin's Sauce, Heins Catsup, Beans and Sweet Pickles, Castor Sugar and Loaf Sugar. Also Lettuce, Onions, and Raddishes.—James B. Bell, 197 Hunter Street; near Bell Telephone Co. Phone 455.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. R. M. Glover is in Toronto today on business.

Mrs. Karl Simpson, Gilmour Street, will not receive on Tuesday, nor again this season.

Among the honorary officers of the Canadian Militia, as tabled in the House of Commons, was Hon. Capt. C. E. Jamieson, who is serving of the Cadet Committee.

The many friends of Mr. Charles James, 505 Sherbrooke Street, will regret to learn that he is off duty for the time being, and confined to his home suffering from an attack of heart failure.

JUST A WALK FOR THE ATHLETICS.

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—Captain Ira Thomas, who has been in active charge of the Athletics, is out with a statement that he world's champions are stronger than at any time last season, and will walk away with the pennant without trouble. He says:

"We haven't any youngsters likely to show up as stars, but our old men are strong enough to offset any possible weakness in the young material. The outfield and infield remain intact. But there are improvements in the battery that ought to give us strength.

"Of he catchers Schang, I believe, will be just twice as good as he was last season. He not only will be a better catcher, but a harder hitter. As for Lapp, he is sure to improve over his game of last year."

TAIT OPTICAL CO.
410 George St. 'Phone 1160

THE HOUSE WITH A GUARANTEE

Our Guarantee is not just so many words. It means that if your Glasses are not right, we will make them right, to your entire satisfaction.

Besides being experts in Eye Examination and Lens Manufacturing, we are adepts at adjusting frames and mounts to suit your own individual face.

Come and let us adjust your Glasses free of charge, whether we made them or not.

Absolute Satisfaction Guaranteed

ARBITRATION IN CONNECTION WITH CITY PROPERTY

Mr. W. H. Bradburn and City Trust Commissioners Cannot Agree on Value of Land

ARBITERS SELECTED.

From the situation of things at present it is a foregone concusion that the rental of the land of the old Opera House block, owned by by the City, wil be fixed by arbitration. The lease held by Bradburns, Limited, (the Bradburn Estate), who own the buildings, expires shortly after the end of this month, and so far the City Street Commissioners and Mr. W. H. Bradburn have been unable to agree as to the rental that should be paid. This contingency is provided for by law and the amount of rental will have to be fixed by arbitration. The City Trust Commissioners have appointed Mr. Wm. Langford to represent them in the matter, and Mr. W. H. Bradburn has appointed Mr. Robt. Hicks as arbitrator for the Bradburn interests. The arbitration is likely to commence in May or the first of June.

The taking over of the buildings by the City will be discussed by the Trust Commissioners in connection with this matter, though as yet it has not been given serious consideration. The land in question is on the East side of George Street, between Hunter and Simcoe. The particular buildings under consideration are those bounded on the south by the G.T.R. ticket office and on the north by the Union Bank. It includes the Grand Trunk Ticket office, P. S. White's grocery, R. Denne's flour and feed store, Gordon Davies Co's. premises and the Union Bank. The land heretofore has been rented in twenty-one year leases.

SHOT BY THE POLICE

Special Wire to The Examiner:

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 3.—Richard Ryer, former employee of the Gubelman family, was found by the police in the upper room of the Gubelman residence this morning, and when he attacked the police with a carving knife, he was shot dead. This is the fifth man killed by Buffalo policemen's bullets within a few weeks. It is thought Ryer had criminal designs.

Will Probe Into Accounts

Special Wire to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, Ont., April 3.— Liberal members of the Public Accounts committee will on Tuesday next, commence to probe into some of the transactions of the present government since it became responsible for the construction of the National Transcontinental Railway.

LITTLE MACK IS INDISPOSED

Sporting Editor of the Examiner.

Sir—Owing to recent illness Little Mack says that all prospects of a match between Forbes and himself are off. We leave for England Saturday.

Yours respectfully,
H. P. Nort.

PINE WILL BE CHEAPER.

The total quantity of timber cut in the Ontario woods this year, according to the figures of the deputy minister of lands, forests and mines was 472,500,000 feet, as against 562,595,898 feet last year. Pine will be from one to two dollars less per thousand feet this year than last according to a member of a prominent lumber firm, and he states the price of hemlock will be $16.50 as compared with $16.50 last year. —Cobalt Nugget.

Investigation Of Lindsay's Police Force

Altogether Too Many Get-Aways To Suit the Citizens—Ran-to-be-posted Between the Chief and the Governor of the Gaol

MORE GOODS RECOVERED

Examiner Special:

LINDSAY, April 3.—Echoes of the recent burglaries along Kent Street are providing considerable interest to-day. Last night County Constables Thornbury and Foster went out to Renbore, where they uncovered part of the loot which the two young thieves buried in a field when they found that they were loaded with more than they could conveniently carry. The culprits outlined the location of the spot, and the constables had but little difficulty in recovering the articles.

AN INTERESTING INCIDENT.

In an interview yesterday, Governor Balfour, of the County Jail, expressed an opinion that Chief Chilton should have telegraphed to the police of surrounding municipalities in order that the trains might have been watched. The fact that Governor Balfour was on the train and noticed the two young individuals, whom he immediately suspected, was indirectly responsible for their arrest. To-day Chief Chilton went up to the jail to enquire about this reported reflection, and the result was that the Governor is said o have fired the Chief of Police bodily from the gaol. It was rumoured that legal proceedings might follow this little clash, but it is more likely that the matter will be smoothed out.

In the meantime the council is said to be arranging for an investigation of the police force. It is stated that nothing short of exceeding laxity would account for the wholesale clean-up of a few nights ago. Lindsay has been the centre of different burglaries and smooth games during the past year, and it is believed that the most recent clean up is just about the last straw. Prominent citizens demand a change of some kind that will present a stronger assurance that property is more carefully protected.

$15 A Day And Expenses

Special Wire to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, Ont., April 3.—When he was told in committee this morning that Messrs. G. M. Macdonell, Dr. Etherington and J. P. Downey, commissioners who enquired into Kingston Penitentiary, got fifteen dollars a day and five dollars living expenses, Mr. Edwards, Conservative member for Frontenac, said: "That is not an exorbitant price to pay commissioners if they are any good, but in this case I don't think these men are worth fifteen cents a day." Edwards strenuously objected to passing this item till the report of the commissioners was tabled.

BASEBALL

Jake Daubert of the Brooklyn Superbas will be in the race for the pennant from the start.

The way Pitcher Doc White moved down his former pals of the White Sox at Venice, Cal., the other day, must have made Jim Callahan wish that Doc was still on the Sox pay roll.

Billy Wright, who was purchased from President George O'Neil, of the Erie Club, this winter by Buffalo, is making good in the spring training with the Bison Club of the International League. Just Saturday he hammered out a two-bagger and two singles in four trips to the plate. His hits were responsible for the majority of the runs secured by Buffalo off Pitchers Ruelbach and Aitcheson of the Brooklyn National League Club. Wright distinguished himself in the outfield as well and there is little chance of the former Canadian leaguer coming back to the League where he made his debut. He is leading the Buffalos in the batting order.

McNeil, who caught for Peterborough last season, was behind the bat during part of the game and d throw to first base with a man on third allowed the Brooklyns to win the game. This was the only error made by the Buffalo team, which would have won Saturdays contest but for this play.

ST. THOMAS, April 1.—The base ball season was given a mild opening to-day when George Ort, Midge Craven, Harry Howick, Fred Gadsby, Gilbert Forgue, Dusty Bullock and other Canadian League and local ball players had a workout at Recreation Park this afternoon.

The boys tossed the ball around quite freely for a while and to-night are complaining of feeling a little sore. They will indulge in another practice when the weather permits until the middle of April, when they all leave to join their respective teams.

Stanly Cresswell, the Peterborough home-brew, will again hurl for the White Caps. He pitched one game for Ottawa two years ago but Lewis Cook passed him up. Last summer Cresswell was a sensation.—Toronto Globe.

SWP—BRIGHTEN UP!—SWP

Now's The Time to REPAIR WINTER'S WEAR

Ordinary wear and tear during the winter naturally means scratched woodwork and dulled floors. Then there is that room or two you've been promising to do over "next spring." In others there are painting jobs, which all together mean a great deal toward keeping up the house. This time ask your decorator to use

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS
PAINTS, VARNISHES, STAIN AND ENAMELS

Uniform Excellence of Quality, and the satisfactory results they give, make S & W Paints and Varnishes popular with decorators and economical for OWNERS. Get our book

"THE TRUTH ABOUT PAINT"—FREE

also the Household Decorator and Colour Cards.

'Phone 110 MORGAN HARDWARE CO. 327 George
The House of Quality and Service

SWP—BRIGHTEN UP!—SWP

EASTER MILLINERY

MRS. J. WILSON'S
'PHONE 321 312 GEORGE STREET

POLES WILL BE REMOVED

Off George Street—Will be Erected on the C. P. R Property

While in Toronto yesterday, Mayor Butler, together with City Solicitor Hall and other members of the City Council, waited upon Mr. Marshall, superintendent of the C.P.R. Telegraph Company, and there learned that Mr. Marshall had recommended the removal of the C.P.R. telegraph poles off George Street. The poles, eighteen in number, will be erected along the river front on the company's own property, until Charlotte Street is reached, when they will cut across to the company's uptown office.

OLD COUNTRY SOCCER.

The first round of the Irish Gold Cup resulted in a win for Linfield who defeated Glenavon 2 to 1.

First League results yesterday were:
Aston Villa 2, Preston 3.
Newcastle 1, Liverpool 2.

Southern League:
Gillingham 0, Reading 0.

Results yesterday in the English Cup replay were:
Burnley 1, Sheffield 0.

Watford 6, Westham 0.

Scottish League results yesterday:
Third Lanark 1, Celtic 3.
Motherwell 0, Hearts 2.
Falkirk 4, Rangers 1.

Dr. B. E. Kelly Late House Surgeon at St. Luke's and Manhattan Maternity Hospitals, New York. Late House Physician at Riverdale Isolation Hospital, Toronto. Hours 1-3.30 p.m.; 7-8 p.m. 'Phone 1349. Office, 262 Hunter St. tfm

We Are Anxious to give you any variety of
FISH
we can procure, and we always buy the best quality
Order Early to be sure of Prompt Delivery
Bell 'Phones 18 and 19
W. J. OKE
376 George Street

Wire Specialities

FOR USE IN THE KITCHEN

SEE OUR WINDOWS WATCH OUR AD.

OWING to the ever increasing demand for the largest assortment of WIRE GOODS, we have added to our well assorted Stock of Kitchen Utensils—a large line of Wire Specialities. An inspection of these articles will convince you that we will be able to fill your requirements. Below we mention a few of the articles.

Wire Egg Beaters	Wire Cake Cooling Stands
Wire Flour Sieves	Wire Tea Pot Stands
Wire Broilers or Toasters	Wire Pot Cleaners & Scrapers
Wire Meat Skewers	Wire Sink Strainers
Wire Potato Mashers	Wire Sink Brushes
Wire Cup Strainers	Wire Gravy Strainers
Wire Bowl Strainers	Wire Fruit Strainers
Wire Tea or Coffee Balls	Wire Tea or Coffee Strainers

FOR OFFICE USE

We have Wire Waste Paper Baskets, Wire Letter Baskets and Wire Baskets for Catching the Mail when put through the plate.

YOUR INSPECTION INVITED

Peterboro' Hardware Co.
Limited

BOSTON CAFE, 304 GEO. ST.
For Ladies and Gentlemen
Open all the time.
Ice Cream Parlor Fancy Drinks

The Evening Examiner.

BOSTON CAFE, 304 GEO. ST.
For Ladies and Gentlemen
Open all the time.
Ice Cream Parlor Fancy Drinks

VOL. LV. No. 80 16 PAGES PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, APRIL 4, 1914. PAGES 1 TO 8 PRICE TWO CENTS

EASTER PHOTOGRAPHS

A Portrait of Mother or Father or a group of the children would be a fitting Easter remembrance.

New Styles and appropriate to the occassion.

Arrange for an appointment at

THE ROY STUDIO

140½ HUNTER ST.

Britain Not Land-Grabbing.

PHILADELPHIA, April 4. — That the principle of the Monroe doctrine is just as alive now as it ever was and that President Monroe's declaration is not an "obsolete shibboleth" was the trend of discussion yesterday at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, which is considering the present international relations and obligations of the United States.

Speaking of Great Britain, in relation to the Monroe doctrine Seth Low said the British "crave no more territory."

Cut Caused Lockjaw.

KINGSTON, April 4. — Gerald B. Howes, seven-year-old son of G. B. Howes, of Parham, died in the General Hospital yesterday of lockjaw. A week ago while at play he fell on the ice and suffered a bad cut on the forehead. He was doing finely before lockjaw set in.

STANDISH 1460

ARROW COLLAR 2 for 25c

Canada Factories, Hamilton, Standish, Toronto, Canada

RUPTURE

is a thing you should not experiment with.

Let Specialists handle your case. For 28 years we have been making and fitting individual cases with correct appliances suitable to the conditions.

You take no chances with us.

AUTHORS & COX
136 Church St., Toronto
Specialists in Trusses, Artificial Limbs
Orthopedic Appliances & Elastic Stockings

Easter Custom

It is a pleasant custom to remember your friends and relatives at Easter.

Why not take advantage of the occasion and have a new Photograph taken in your Easter attire to send to friends?

OPEN GOOD FRIDAY

Appointments for Good Friday, (April 10th) should be made without delay.

ORME STUDIO
170 Charlotte. Phone 636

ROYAL THEATRE

TO-DAY

ENTIRE CHANGE

Special Vaudeville

7 REELS OF MOTION PICTURES 7

5c and 10c

80,000 Acres Of Land In British Columbia To Be Opened To Pre-emption

VICTORIA, B.C., April 4.—Eighty thousand acres of land adjacent to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, which is to be completed from ocean to ocean on April 10th, a large proportion bordering on the railroad, will be opened to pre-emption in the valley of the South Fork of the Fraser River, in June, according to an announcement made yesterday by the Hon. William R. Ross, Minister of Lands.

When the work of building the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway was begun, this valley, which contains a large amount of agricultural land, favourably situated, was placed in reserve. In 1907 a reserve was created under which a strip of six miles covering the valley was reserved for the pre-emptor. Now that the railroad is completed the agricultural lands are being opened to the settler.

The land being opened to settlement is in two parts, the eastern half stretching on either side of McBride, the young city 90 miles from the eastern border of the Province, where a divisional point has been created, car shops, large yards, etc., are being built, and a city is in its infancy. The Western half stretches from Willow Station on the G. T. P., not far east from Fort George, to join the other part of the tract.

The lots in the eastern half will be opened to entry by preemption at McBride on June 1st, at 9 a.m., a special office being opened there by the Land Commissioner of the District for one week in order to give those who seek a homestead there an opportunity to file their records at the nearest city to the land, and after a week records will be made at the office of the Government Agent to rthe District at Fort George. The lots in the western half will be opened to entry by preemption on June 15th, at 9 a.m., at the office of the Government Agent at Fort George.

McBride, where the lots in the eastern half will be opened for a week, beginning at 9 a.m. on June 1st, was the first township laid out in the district, and the first postoffice in the district was created there. It is a bustling young town, and as it is in the heart of the agricultural land, is expected to become a great centre. It is 145 miles from Fort George, 90 miles from the eastern border of the Province, 346 miles from Edmonton.

The town, named in honour of British Columbia's Premier, is both the passenger and freight divisional point, and a large amount of money has been expended by the railway company to make preparations for the future, all its construction being of a large type. The yards cover 8 miles, and the station yards, roundhouse, shops, etc., are the largest between Winnipeg and Prince Rupert. The G.T.P. have a hospital, and there are a few permanent buildings ,the number of which is being increased. There are some rooming-houses and three or four well-stocked stores.

The valley of the South Fork of the Fraser, in which the large area of land, set aside when the railroad was begun, and held until transportation facilities were provided for the pre-emptor, varies in width from one to two miles in its upper part at Tete Jaune Cache to five miles at McBride, six at Goat River, and about ten miles at the Canyon. It lies at a mean altitude of 2250 feet above sea level.

The main industry of a great part of the valley, other than farming, will be lumbering, and this should reach considerable proportions. There is a large amount of good timber, and the lumber mills built to handle it, together with the towns along the railroad between Fort George and Mount Robson Park, which, before long, will prove a great touring resort reached from the West through this valley, should prove a ready market for farm produce from this district. A large mill with a maximum daily capacity of 100,000 feet, has been built by the Upper Fraser Mills Company at Mile 142, near Dome Creek. Another big mill is projected for Mile 128 and a number of other sites are being sought for mill purposes.

A pamphlet descriptive of the district, with special maps showing the various lots which will be available for preemption in this valley in June, is now being prepared and will shortly be issued by the Department of Lands.

READING AND ITS PLEASURES

(BY F. M. DELA FOSSE)

POETRY—PART ONE.

In touching on the subject of poetry one has to pick one's steps carefully, for the field is so great and compasses within its borders such a vast amount of varied vegetation. In fact, when one thinks over the matter it is really almost appalling to find how many diverse opinions there are regarding poetry, and as to what constitutes the true poet. On the one hand we see the work of Shakespeare and of Milton held up to ridicule as balderdash and, on the other, the efforts of some of our present day obituary versifiers and patriotic bards acclaimed as genuine specimens of the divine afflatus. The number indeed is small of those who recognize true poetry when they see it, and the best of us may be led astray occasionally by the lilt of some soothing lyric into mistaking mere melody for the true outpourings of the Muse. But there is a world of difference between melodious commonplace and the pitiful effusions that from one cause or another are allowed to find their way into newspapers and magazines. There is no need whatever to single out any one paper or periodical as especially sinning in this respect, because it is epidemic all over the country, and the more rural the district wherein the paper or periodical is published the more glaring are the specimens of bucolic dementia that is publishes. Take, for instance, obituary poetry. In the name of common sense and all that it implies wherein lies the need of dragging one's private sorrows into public view through such an agency as a few miserable verses of doggerel? Is it fair to the memory of the dead, who cannot defend themselves? Is it fair to members of the afflicted family, who have perhaps enough sense of the fitness of things to feel that by such means they are being brought into undeserved ridicule? The Canadian newspaper is, I honestly believe, one of the greatest agencies for the distribution of knowledge that we possess. For countless thousands it is the sole means of gaining an insight into the world's affairs and a smattering of scholarship that is attainable. All honour to it for the good that it accomplishes. It is undoubtedly hard for any rural publication to try to keep up to a high level of literary excellence. This may be easily admitted. But it cannot be hard to keep its columns form being burdened with rubbish, especially unrhythmic rubbish, which is the worst rubbish of all.

In a public library one gets incontrovertible evidence of the great influence of the daily newspaper. In the reading rooms the same people will be found day after day perusing the papers and magazines. Very few indeed of these ever borrow a book on a borrower's ticket. Their sole reading consists of what they find ready to hand where they sit. Most of such readers are well-versed in the affairs of life, but there are others who are no so fortunately circumstanced and whose literary taste has not been greatly cultivated. For such as these it is not a good thing to be brought face to face with such specimens of morbid asininity as above alluded to. If written by someone personally known to a reader, the effect is appreciably heightened, for not knowing good poetry from bad, the main thing that appeals to him is that there in al the glory of type stands the brainwork of John Smith or Henry Jones, his fellow-townsman. Why should not he also blossom out as a bard? Too often he does essay the ask and more drivel is the result. If only some of these halt and blind toilers to Parnassus knew the mirth that their efforts create, it is safe to say that they would be tardy enough in attempting its rocky declivities.

There are many who frankly dislike poetry in any form and are prone to say with Carlyle, "If you have anything to say, why sing it?" Members of this class, however, are generally not obtuse enough to deny literary merit to real singers. They simply do not possess the power to appreciate this particular form of literature, but are quite willing to allow that others may see beauties in it from which an unkind fate has debarred them. There are others again, who have no ear whatever for music, and to whom the finest creations of our greatest poets are nothing but senseless combinations or variations of sound. There are others still, who are very fond of poetry, but could not be induced on any account to wade through the epics of Milton or of Dante, or poems like Browning's "The Ring and the Book." Their preference lies entirely in the way of lyrics and sonnets, whose musical measures haunt the memory. By far the greatest proportion of readers of poetry belong to this class. Some of the widest known scholars indeed have confessed that they never could read through the works of Milton or of Spencer, and it is safe to say that a critical world thinks none the worse of them for the confession.

FOR ECZEMAS AND RASHES

Use CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

The itching, burning, suffering and loss of sleep caused by eczemas, rashes and irritations of the skin and scalp are at once relieved and permanent skin health restored in most cases by warm baths with Cuticura Soap followed by gentle applications of Cuticura Ointment.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world. A liberal sample of each, with 32-page booklet on the care and treatment of the skin and scalp, sent post-free. Address Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 12K, Boston, U. S. A.

DELICIOUS FLORIDA TOMATOES

Fine and Firm and in Natural Condition.

JOE LONGO & Co.

ITALIAN FRUIT DEALERS

TWO STORES | 416 GEORGE ST. PHONE 691
230 CHARLOTTE ST. PHONE 1012

FOUND IN CUPBOARD.

One Suffragette Is Caught and Others Left Cloaks In Flight.

GLASGOW, Scotland, April 4—The caretaker of a large vacant mansion near Ruthergien, three miles southeast of Glasgow, yesterday captured a militant suffragette found hiding in a cupboard in the cellar of the mansion. The woman was locked up by the caretaker, who telephoned the police, who arrested her. The police arrived too late, however, to prevent the escape of several other suffragettes in the building, who in their hurried flight had left their cloaks behind them.

Search of the mansion disclosed bottles containing paraffin and also cotton wool and matches and other inflammable material, which had been placed evidently with the purpose of starting fires.

Submarine Hits Gunboat.

LONDON, April 4.—While riding after having been submerged during a sham attack off Harwich, Essex, yesterday, submarine C 3 struck the propeller of a gunboat. The periscope and part of the conning tower of the submarine were torn away by the impact, and only the coolness of her officers and crew prevented her from sinking.

A Real Large Gentleman

GOLD WATCH FREE.

A straightforward statement offer from an established firm. We are giving away Watches to thousands of people all over the world as a first advertisement. Here is your chance to obtain one. Watch, guaranteed for 25 years, made for use of our fashionable Ladies' and Gents' Dress Watches, with the finish, which will be given from different plans and thousand pounds worth of other valuable presents. Send your name and address at once for full particulars, which will be sent you by return post, free of charge, to—WILLIAMS & LLOYD, Wholesale Jewellers (Dept. 9), 60, Cornwallis Road, London, N., England.

HAGGIS' CONFECTIONERY

For home-made Candies try Haggis. We keep the best and freshest quality in the City.

Try our Ice Cream, always on hand. Fresh and Wholesome.

HAGGIS' CONFECTIONERY
282 Geo. St. Opposite Gaskens's

FOSSAL BALM

Goes Right to the Spot

If you have a cold in the head—if your nasal passages are inflamed, stuffed up, smarting—or if you suffer from chronic nasal catarrh—you can get quick relief by using Fossal Balm.

This is an antiseptic, healing salve put up in a collapsible tube so formed as to make it remarkably easy to use. When the elongated cap is removed it uncovers the nozzle-shaped end of the tube, about half an inch long. This is inserted in the nose and the tube squeezed gently, depositing a little of the Balm well up in the nasal passages. A little rubbing of the nose, and the indrawn breath, distribute the Fossal Balm throughout the passages, where it comes directly into contact with the inflamed membranes and the germs of disease. The latter it kills—the former it soothes and heals. The smarting irritation disappears—the nostrils are cleared, making breathing easy—and the catarrhal conditions, if they exist, are corrected.

Get a 50c tube of Fossal Balm from your Druggist, or write for it direct to us. National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Montreal. 1

ASSESSMENT RETURNS FROM THE EAST WARD

Fredrick Morris, tenant, 416 Mark street. Owner Geo. Ward. North part lot 8, north of Hunter street. Frontage 77 feet. Land value $200. Buildings $400. Total taxable property $600. P.S.S.

James Bryce, owner, 422 Mark street. South part lot 1, north of Hunter street. Frontage 42 feet. Land value $300. Buildings $1,400. Total taxable property $1,700. P.S.S.

Wm. Laing, owner, 428 Mark street. North part lot 1, north of Hunter street. Frontage 52 feet 9 inches. Land value $400. Buildings $1,300. Total taxable property $1,700. P.S.S.

John Kerr, owner, 434 Mark street. South part lot 2, north of Hunter street. Frontage 46 feet 4 inches. Land valu $350. Buildings $1,300. Total taxable property $1,650. P.S.S.

Mrs. Emily Herron, tenant, 436 Mark street. Owner Robt. Baker. Centre part lot 2, north of Hunter street. Land value $100. Buildings $350. Total taxable property $350. P.S.S.

G. W. Berwick, tenant, 438 Mark street. Owner Robt. Baker. Land value $280. Buildings $900. Total taxable property $1,180. P.S.S.

Wilbert S. Houson and Leo. Kraut, owner and tenant, 442 and 444 Mark street. South part lot 3, north of Hunter street. Frontage 50 feet. Land value $400. Buildings $2,500. Total taxable property $2,900. Each assessed $1,450. P.S.S.

Archibald Weir, owner, 448 Mark street. North part lot 3, north of Hunter street. Frontage 46 feet. Land value $380. Buildngs $820. Total taxable property $1,200. P.S.S.

Mallory Smith, tenant, 450 Mark street. Owner Matthew Carton. Part lot 4, north of Hunter street. Land value $100. Buildings $100. Total taxable property $200. P.S.S.

Lonard Maund, tenant, rear 452 Mark street. Owner Matthew Carton. East part lot 4, north of Hunter street. Land value $100. Buildings $100. Total taxable property $200. P.S.S.

A. J. Barrington and Robt. Hewick, tenants, 452 Mark street. Owner Matthew Carton. Centre part lot 4, north of Hunter street. Land value $360. Buildings $800. Total taxable property $1,100. Each assessed $550. P.S.S.

W. J. Doupe, tenant, 452½ Mark street. Owner Matthew Carton. Centre part lot 4, north of Hunter street. Land value $100. Buildings $600. Total taxable property $700. P.S.S.

Webber Turner, owner, 454 Mark street. North part lot 4, north of Hunter street. Frontage 36 feet. Land value $300. Buildings $1,700. Total taxable property $2,000. P.S.S.

Mrs. Margaret Gilman, owner, 466 Mark street. Lot 5, south of Douro street. Frontage 102 feet 3 inches. Land value $820. buildings $340. Total taxable property $1,160. S.S.S.

Mrs. Susan Taylor, owner, 472 Mark street. South half lot 6, south of Douro street. Frontage 47 feet 6 inches. Land value $400. Buildings $1,600. Total taxable property $2,000. P.S.S.

John Hutchinson, owner, 474 Mark street. North half lot 6, south of Douro street. Frontage 32 feet. Land value $250. Buildings $1,250. Total taxable property $1,500. P.S.S.

James Ellis, owner, 482 Mark street. Centre part lot 7, south of Douro street. Land value $350. Buildings $1,250. Total taxable property $1,600. P.S.S.

Thomas Moore, tenant, 488 Mark street. Owner Joshua Smithson. North part lot 7, south part lot 8, south of Douro street. Frontage 87 feet 3 inches. Land value $650. Buildings $550. Total taxable property $1,200. P.S.S.

Mrs. Margaret Clarke, tenant, 496 Mark street. Owner Robt. Sedgewick. Centre part lot 8, south of Douro street. Frontage 35 feet. Land value $280. Buildings $1,370. Total taxable property $1,650. P.S.S.

Mrs. Maria Sedgewick, owner, 498 Mark street. Northwest part lots 8 and 9, south of Douro street. Land value $300. Buildings $750. Total taxable property $1,050. P.S.S.

MARK STREET—WEST SIDE.

Wm. Godfrey, owner, 217 Mark street. Part lots 1 and 2, north of Maria street. Land valu $300. Buildings $700. Total taxable property $1,000. P.S.S.

Burnham Estate, owner, lots 2 and 1, south of James street. Land values $250 and $300. No buildings. Total taxable property $550. P.S.S.

Thos. B. Maniece, tenant, 253 Mark street. East part lot 132, north of James street. Frontage 71 feet. Land value $300. Buildings $950. Total taxable property $1,250. P.S.S.

Robt. Maniece, owner, lot 131, north of James street. Frontage 71 feet. Land value $250. No buildings. Total taxable property $250. P.S.S.

Burnham Estate, owner, lots 130 and 129, north of James street. Frontage 140 feet. Land value $560. No buildings. Total taxable property $560. P.S.S.

James P. Dillon, owner, 303 Mark street. East part lot 1, south of Sophia street. Frontage 103 feet 6 inches. Land value $400. Buildings $900. Total taxable property $1,300. S.S.S.

John J. Develin, owner, east part lot 127, nouth of Sophia street. Frontage 33 feet. Land value $160. Buildings $500. Total taxable property $660. S.S.S.

John J. Develin, owner, east part lot 127, north of Sophia street. Frontage 30 feet. Land value $140. No buildings. Total taxable property $140. S.S.S.

John J. Develin, owner, east part lot 127, north of Sophia street. Frontage 33 feet. Land value $150. Buildings $600. Total taxable property $750. S.S.S.

John Sanderson, tenant, east part lot 127, north of Sophia street. Frontage 31 feet. Land value $150. Buildings $850. Total taxable property $1,000. P.S.S. Owner John J. Develin.

John Playford, tenant, 321 Mark street. Part lot 126, north of Sophia street. Frontage 66 feet. Land value $280. Buildings $20. Total taxable property $300. P.S.S.

R. C. Episcopal Corporation, lots 139 and 140, north of Robinson street. Frontage 202 feet 9 inches. Land value $3,300. Buildings $1,000. Total property $4,300, liable for local improvements only. S.S.S.

Terriot Glover, owner, 365 Mark street. Lot 141, south of Hunter street. Frontage 42 feet 6 inches. Land value $500. Buildings $400. Total taxable property $900. P.S.S.

Peter Glover, owner, 367 Mark street. Front part lot 142, south of Hunter street. Frontage 47 feet. Land value $550. Buildings $1,600. Total taxable property $2,150. P.S.S.

J. L. Wood, owner, west part lot 142, south of Hunter street. Frontage 45 feet. Land value $130. No buildings. Total taxable property $130. P.S.S.

James McDonald, owner, 369 Mark street. Front part lot 143, south of Hunter street, and west part lots 143 and 144, south of Hunter street. Frontages 35 feet and 110 feet. Land values $380 and $240. Buildings $1,650. Total taxable property $2,270. P.S.S.

E. V. Frederick, owner, front part lot 144, south of Hunter street. Land value $380. No buildings. Total taxable property $380. P.S.S.

Alexander Fitzgerald, owner, west part lot 144, south of Hunter street. Land value $200. No buildings. Total taxable property $200. P.S.S.

Mrs. Christina Newell and Wm. Remo, owner and tenant, 381 Mark street. South part lot 9, south of Hunter street. Frontage 44 feet 3 inches. Land value $350. Buildings $50. Total taxable property $400. Each assessed $200. P.S.S.

Thos. Rouse, H. E. Seeley and John Hampton, 383, 385 and 387 Mark street. Owner J. T. O'Connel. Part lot 9, south of Hunter street. Frontage 35 feet 6 inches. Land value $280. Buildings $1,300. Total taxable property $1,680. Each assessed $560. P.S.S.

City Property, owner, centre part lot 9, south of Hunter street. Frontage 82 feet. Land value $820. No buildings. Total property, exempt, $820. P.S.S.

Clancy Estate, owners, flankage.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mein, owner, 423 Mark street. South part lot 1, north of Hunter street. Frontage 47 feet 3 inches. Land value $380. Buildings $1,500. Total taxable property $1,880. P.S.S.

Wm. Mein, owner, 427 Mark street. North part lot 1, north of Hunter street. Frontage 47 feet 3 inches. Land value $380. Buildings $1,500. Total taxable property $1,880. P.S.S.

Wm. J. Rame, owner, 435 Mark street. Lot 2, north of Hunter street. Frontage 96 feet 6 inches. Land value $800. Buildings $600. Total taxable property $1,400. P.S.S.

Malcolm McIntyre, owner, 443 Mark street. South part lot 3, north of Hunter street. Frontage 48 feet 11 inches. Land value $380. Buildings $1,620. Total taxable property $2,000. P.S.S.

Wm. Porter, owner, 447 Mark street. North part lot 3, north of Hunter street. Frontage 48 feet 11 inches. Land value $380. Buildings $420. Total taxable property $800. Income assessment $380. Total assessment $1,180. P.S.S.

Miss Adelaide Davidson, owner, 453 Mark street. South part lot 4, north of Hunter street. Frontage 52 feet. Land value $400. Buildings $1,100. Total taxable property $1,500. P.S.S.

Andrew J. Hall, owner, 457 Mark street. North part lot 4, north of Hunter street. Frontage 47 feet. Land value $370. Buildings $1,550. Total taxable property $1,920. Income assessment $600. Total assessment $2,520. P.S.S.

David McMahon, owner, 461 Mark street. South part lot 203, south of Douro street. Frontage 32 feet 1 inch. Land value $250. Buildings $1,100. Total taxable property $1,350. S.S.S.

Frank McMahon, owner, 463 Mark street. North part lot 203, south of Douro street. Frontage 32 feet 10 inches. Land value $250. Buildings $350. Total taxable property $600. S.S.S.

3 SAT. SPECIALS At McDermid and Jury's Drug Store

No. 1— A Chamois, a Vanity Box and a 25c Tin of Rexall Talc. All for one price of 25c.

No. 2— Tiger Hand Cleaner, worth 15c a Can, for 7c on Saturday.

No. 3— 25c Hair Brush and a 15c Mirror. Both for 25c.

M'DERMID & JURY
The Safe Satisfactory Druggists
Cor. GEORGE & CHARLOTTE

WILL NOT COMPROMISE.

Flat Repeal of Panama Tolls Bill Demanded by Wilsonites.

WASHINGTON, April 4. — In the Panama Canal toll exemption controversy two salient points were emphasized in the under current developments of the day. One was the concerted effort being made by Republican Senators to unite against the President's repeal policy on the ground of political expediency, and the other was the reinforced determination of administration leaders to yield to no compromise on the House bill providing for flat repeal of toll exemption for American ships.

Among Republican Senators who have been classified as doubtful with regard to their position concerning the repeal, there is a general tendency to line up against the President. Democratic Senators who are championing the President's cause assert that they welcome this movement, confident that it can have no other effect than to solidify the Democrats and aid in securing success for the administration. These Democrats, while admitting that five of their number cannot be induced to abandon their opposition to the bill, insist that there is every indication that all other majority Senators eventually will support the bills.

They also are assured of support for the measure by some of the Republican Senators, despite the effort of some of the minority to unite against the President.

Pioneer Fruit Grower Dead.

GRIMSBY, April 4.—The death occurred at the old Pettit homestead here of Andrew Hamilton Pettit, aged 77 years, the well-known fruit grower. Mr. Pettit complained of feeling ill but a few hours before death came.

Mr. Pettit was one of the eldest residents of Grimsby, and was a pioneer fruit grower of the Niagara district. He had charge of the Canadian fruit exhibit at the Chicago World's Fair, in 1893.

In politics Mr. Pettit was a Conservative, and in 1896 ran as Conservative candidate against Mr. Blain, then Liberal Speaker in the House at Ottawa.

Mr. Pettit was a captain and Fenian Raid veteran.

That Feeling Of Security

HAVE you noticed the decreasing number of cords or chains attached to Eyeglasses?

THIS is largely because a recent improvement on the Fowler Eyeglass Mount enables us to fit you with Eyeglasses so securely yet comfortably that they do not require a chain to keep them on.

THESE Fowler Mounts are guaranteed to give perfect comfort, and you will certainly admit, when you see them, that they present a remarkable handsome appearance.

DROP IN and examine one of these Mounts. Price $3.

REMEMBER we use 'PERLO' Quality Lenses in all our Glasses.

A. A. FOWLER
Phm. B.
EYESIGHT SPECIALIST
10 years of continuous successful Optical Service in this City.
Optical Parlour and Lens Grinding Plant with
NUGENT DRUG CO'Y
286 George St., Peterborough

In dainty tins.

Each Cube enclosed in a dust-proof wrapper—everyone a meal—simply add hot water. Splendid to work on—good for the digestion—a tonic to the whole system.

A Cube to a Cup

TRANSPORTATION

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

Easter Holiday Fares

SINGLE FARE — Good Going and Returning April 10 only

FARE and ONE-THIRD — April 9-10-11-12 — Return Limit April 14, 1914

(Minimum fare 25c)

Between all stations in Canada east of Port Arthur; also to Detroit and Port Huron, Mich., Buffalo, Black Rock, Niagara Falls and Suspension Bridge, N.Y.

SETTLERS' FARES (One-way Second-class)

From stations in Ontario, Kingston, Renfrew and West to points in Alberta and Saskatchewan, each Tuesday during April.

LOW COLONIST FARES (One-way Second-class)

From stations in Ontario to certain points in Alberta, British Columbia, California, Colorado, Oregon, Washington, etc. ON SALE DAILY UNTIL APRIL 15 inclusive.

Full particulars at all Grand Trunk Ticket Offices or write C. E. HORNING, D.P.A., Toronto, Ont.

B. A. ROSE, City Passenger and Ticket Agent
P. SANDY, Station Ticket Agent

CANADIAN PACIFIC

HOMESEEKERS' EXCURSIONS

TO MANITOBA, ALBERTA, SASKATCHEWAN

Each Tuesday until October 27, inclusive

Winnipeg and Return - $35.00
Edmonton and Return - 43.00

From Toronto, and Stations West and North of Toronto. Proportionate fares from Stations East of Toronto.

Return Limit two months.

Particulars from Canadian Pacific Agents or write M. G. Murphy, D.P.A., Toronto.

J. Skinner, City Passenger Agent, 543 George St.

Railway Time Tables

GRAND TRUNK

	ARRIVE.	DEPART
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Sudbury and Toronto	11.34 a.m. 6.35 p.m.	6.20 a.m. 1.30 p.m.
Port Hope and points east of Montreal and Boston	6.10 a.m. 6.35 p.m.	6.10 a.m. 9.05 p.m.
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago and west, Niagara Falls, Buffalo	12.10 p.m. 5.35 p.m.	11.40 a.m.
Cobourg, Montreal and East	6.10 a.m. 6.35 p.m.	9.05 p.m. 6.10 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay, Stouffville, Uxbridge Markham	11.34 a.m. 9.00 p.m. 10.15 p.m.	7.10 a.m. 9.20 a.m. 5.35 p.m.
Lindsay Local	7.55 a.m.	8.55 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	6.10 a.m. 6.35 p.m.	9.20 a.m. 1.30 p.m.
Lansdeld	8.05 a.m. 5.15 p.m. 7.00 p.m.	7.00 a.m. 12.20 p.m. 6.40 p.m.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

Going East—
Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec	11.45 a.m.
*Indian River, Norwood Havelock, Tweed	9.57 a.m.
Havelock, Montreal, Quebec, St. John, N.B., Boston	12.55 a.m.
Havelock, Montreal, Quebec, St. John, N.B., Boston	12.55 a.m.
Ottawa Special for Smith's Falls and Ottawa only	1.20 a.m.
Going West—
Toronto, Guelph, Goderich	4.37 a.m.
Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, New York, Galt, Woodstock, St. Thomas, London, Chatham, Detroit, Chicago	5.24 a.m.
North Toronto, West Toronto *Local for Cayuga, Burketon, Bobcaygeon, Myrtle Toronto	6.10 a.m. 7.45 a.m.
Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, New York, Detroit, Chicago	4.33 p.m.
Local points from Port McNichol, Peterboro, Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	6.37 p.m.
New train for Lindsay, Orillia and Port McNichol *Daily except Sunday.	9.16 a.m.

Headache

Zutoo tablets will insure you against headache—a splendid policy, honest and reliable.

Harmless as the soda they contain, yet they never fail.

A phenomenal success. Praised by all users.

Buy a box and be protected.

Insurance

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

Homeseekers' Excursions

Round Trip Tickets to to points in Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan via Chicago, St. Paul or Duluth, on Sale each Tuesday until October 27, inclusive, at low rates.

Through Pullman Tourist Sleepers to Winnipeg on above dates, leaving Toronto 11 p.m. No change of cars.

RETURN LIMIT, TWO MONTHS

SETTLERS' FARES (One-way Second-class)

From stations in Ontario, Kingston, Renfrew and West to points in Alberta and Saskatchewan, each Tuesday during March and April.

LOW COLONIST FARES (One-way Second-class)

From stations in Ontario to certain points in Alberta, British Columbia, California, Oregon, Washington, etc. ON SALE MARCH 15 TO APRIL 15, inclusive.

Full particulars at all Grand Trunk ticket offices, or C. E. Horning, D.P.A., Toronto, Ont. 5

LONDON — PARIS

WHITE STAR

Fine Montreal or Quebec via Liverpool on the magnificent Canadian Service Steamships:

"TEUTONIC"....May 2 .... May 30
"MEGANTIC"....May 9 .... June 6
"CANADA".....May 16 .... June 13
"LAURENTIC"...May 23 .... June 20

Rates from $52.50 First, and $30 Second Class

S. A. ROSE, C.T.R. J. SKINNER C.P.R., LOCAL AGENTS

DOMINION LINE

ALLAN LINE

For full information apply local agents or Toronto office.

ALLAN LINE
95 King St. W., TORONTO

	To LIVERPOOL From HALIFAX	ST. JOHN
Tunisian	11 Apr.	18 Apr.
Victorian
Alsatian	25 Apr.	29 Apr.
Virginian
	To GLASGOW From PORTLAND	BOSTON
Grampian		7 Apr.
Scandinavian	14 Apr.
Hesperian		21 Apr.
ST. JOHN N.B. to LONDON and HAVRE. Carthaginian		16 Apr.

OUR SERIAL STORY PAGE

"THE MAYOR'S WIFE"

By ANNA KATHARINE GREEN

(Continued from yesterday.)

No, even if he, as a member of the family, knew of this subterranean retreat, he could not have made use of it. I did not even accept the possibility sufficiently to approach the place again with this new inquiry in mind. Yet what a delight lay in the thought of a possible finding of this old treasure, and the new life which would follow its restoration to the hands which had one touched it only to lose it on the instant.

The charm of this idea was still upon me when I woke the next morning. At breakfast I thought of the bonds, and in the hour which followed, the work I was doing for Mrs. Packard in the library was rendered difficult by the constant recurrence of the one question into my mind: "What would a man in such a position do with the money he was anxious to protect from the woman he saw coming and secure to his sister who had just stepped next door?" When a moment came at last in which I could really indulge in these intruding thoughts, I leaned back in my chair and tried to reconstruct the room according to Mrs. Packard's description of it at that time. I even pulled my chair over to that portion of the room where his bed stood, and, choosing the spot where his head would naturally lie, threw back my own on the reclining chair I had chosen, and allowed my gaze to wonder over the walls before me in a vague hope of reproducing, in my mind, the ideas which must have passed through his before he rose and thrust those papers into their place of concealment. Alas! those walls were barren of all suggestion, and my eyes went wandering through the window before me in a vague appeal, when a sudden remembrance of his last moments struck me sharply and I bounded up with a new thought, a new idea, which sent me in haste to my room and brought me down again in hat and jacket. Mrs. Packard had once said that the ladies next door were pleased to have callers, and advised me to visit them. I would test her judgment in the matter. Early though it was, I would present myself at the neighbouring door and see what my reception would be. The discovery I had made in my unfortunate accident in the old entry way should be my excuse. Apologies were in order from us to them; I would make these apologies.

I was prepared to confront poverty in this bare and comfortless-looking abode of decayed gentility. But I did not expect quite so many evidences of it as met my eyes as the door swung slowly open some time after my persistent knock, and I behold Miss Charity's meagre figure outlined against walls and a flight of uncarpeted stairs such as I had never seen before out of a tenement house. I may have dropped my eyes, but I recovered myself immediately. Marking the slow awakening of pleasure in the wan old face as she recognized me, I uttered some apology for my early call and then waited to see if she would welcome me in.

She not only did so, but did it with such a sudden breaking up of her rigidity into the pliancy of a naturally hospitable nature, that my heart was touched, and I followed her into the great bare apartment, which must have once answered the purposes of a drawing room, with very different feelings from those with which I had been accustomed to look upon her face in the old attic window.

"I should like to see your sister, too," I said, as she hastily, but with a certain sort of ceremony, too, pushed forward one of the ancient chairs which stood at long intervals about the room. "I have not been your neighbour very long, but I should like to pay my respects to both of you."

I had purposely spoken with the formal precision she had been accustomed to in her earlier days, and I could see how perceptibly her self-respect returned at this echo of the past, giving her a sudden dignity which made me forget for the moment her neglected appearance.

"I will summon my sister," she returned, disappearing quietly from the room.

I waited fifteen minutes, then Miss Thankful entered, dressed in her very best, followed by my first acquaintance in her same gown, but with a little cap on her head. The cap, despite its faded ribbons, carefully pressed out but with too cold an iron, gave her an old-time fashionable air which for the moment created the impression that she might have been a beauty and a belle in her early days, which I afterwards discovered to be true.

It was Miss Thankful, however, who had the personal presence, and it was she who now expressed their sense of the honour, pushing forward another chair than that from which I had risen, with the remark:

"Take this, I pray. Many an honoured guest has occupied this seat. Let us see you in it."

I could detect no difference between the one she offered and the one in which I had just sat, but I at once stepped forward and took the chair she proffered. She bowed and Miss Charity bowed, and then they seated themselves side by side on the hair-cloth sofa, which was the only article of furniture in the room.

"We are — we are preparing to move," stammered Miss Charity, a faint flush tingeing her faded cheeks, as she caught the involuntary glance I had cast about me.

Miss Thankful bridled and gave her sister a look of open rebuke. She had, as one could instantly see from her strong features and purposeful ways, been a woman of decided parts and strict, upright character. Weakened as she was, the shadow of an untruth disturbed her. Her pride ran in a different groove from that of her once over-complimented, over-fostered sister. She was going to add a protest in words to that expressed by her gesture, but I hastily prevented this by coming at once to the point of my errand.

"My excuse for this early call," I said, this time addressing Miss Thankful, "lies in an adventure which occurred to me yesterday in the adjoining house." It was painful to see how they both started, and how they instinctively caught each at the other's hand as they sat side by side on the sofa, as if only thus they could bear the shock of what might be coming next. I had to nerve myself to proceed. "You know, or rather I gather from your kind greetings that you know that I am at present staying with Mrs. Packard. She is very kind and we spend many pleasant hours together; but of course some of the time I have to be alone, and then I try to amuse myself by looking about at the various interesting things which are scattered through the house."

A gasp from Miss Charity, a look still more expressive from Miss Thankful. I hastened to cut their suspense short.

"You know the little cabinet they have placed in the old entrance pointing this way? Well, I was looking at that when the whim seized me — I hardly know how—to press one of the knobs in the moulding which runs about the doorway, when instantly everything gave way under me and I fell into a deep hole which had been scooped out of the alley-way—nobody knows for what."

A cry and they were on their feet, still holding hands and endeavouring to show nothing but concern for disaster.

"Oh, I wasn't hurt," I smiled. "I was frightened, of course, but not so much as to lose my curiosity. When I got to my feet again, I looked about in this surprising hole—"

"It was our uncle's way of reaching his wine-cellar." Miss Thankful explained with great dignity as she and her sister sank back into their seats. "He had some remarkable old wine, and as he was desirous of it, he conceived this way, of securing it from everybody's knowledge but his own. It was a strange way, but he was a little touched," she addded, laying a slow, impressive finger on her forehead, "just a little touched here."

The short, significant glance she cast at Charity as she said this, and the little smile she gave us to give me to understand that this weakness had descended in the family. I felt my heart contract; my self-imposed task was a harder one than I had anticipated, but I could not shirk it now.

"Did this wine-cellar you mention run all the way to this house?" I lightly inquired. "I stumbled on a passage leading here, which I thought you ought to know is now open to any one in Mayor Packard's house. Of course, it will be closed soon." I hastened to add as Miss Charity hurriedly rose at her sister's quick look and anxiously left the room. "Mrs. Packard will see to that."

"Yes, yes, I have no doubt; she's a very good woman, a very fair woman, don't you think so, Miss ——"

"My name is Saunders."

"A very good name. I knew a family of that name when I was younger. There was one of them—his name was Robert—" Here she rambled on for several minutes as if this topic and no other filled her whole mind; then, as if suddenly brought back to what started it, she uttered in sudden anxiety, "You think well of Mrs. Packard? You have confidence in her?"

"Indeed I have," I cried. "I think she can be absolutely depended on to do the right thing every time. You are fortunate in having such good neighbours at the time of this mishap."

At this minute Miss Charity re-entered. Her panting condition, as well as the unsettled position of the cap on her head, told very plainly where she had been. Reseating herself, she looked at Miss Thankful and Miss Thankful looked at her, but no word passed. They evidently understood each other.

"I'm obliged to Mrs. Packard," now fell from Miss Thankful's lips, "and to you, too, young lady, for acquainting us with this accident. The passage we extended ourselves after taking up our abode in this house. We—we did not see why we should not profit by our ancestor's old and undiscovered wine-cellar to secure certain things which were valuable to us."

Her hesitation in uttering this final sentence—a sentence all the more marked because naturally she was a very straightforward person—awoke my doubt and caused me to ask myself what she meant by this word 'secure.' Did she mean, as circumstances went to show and as I had hitherto believed, that they had opened up this passage for the purpose of a private search in their old home for the lost valuables they believed concealed there? Or had they, under some temporary suggestion of their disorganized brain, themselves hidden away among the rafters of this unexplored spot the treasure they believed lost and now constantly bewailed?

The doubt thus temporarily raised in my mind made me very uneasy for a moment, but I soon dismissed it and dropping this subject for the nonce, began to speak of the houses as they now looked and of the changes which had evidently been made in them since they had left the one and entered the other.

"I understand," I ventured at last, "that in those days this house had a door opening on the alley-way. Where did it lead—do you mind my asking?—into a room or into a hallway? I am so interested in old houses."

They did not resent this overt act of curiosity; I had expected Miss Thankful to, but she didn't. Some recollection connected with the name of Saunders had softened her heart toward me and made her regard with indulgence an interest which she might otherwise have looked upon as instrusive.

"We long ago boarded up that door," she answered. "It was of very little use to us from our old library."

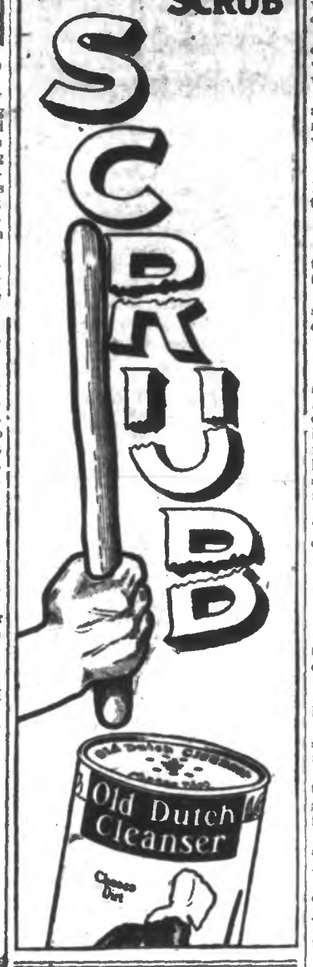
"It looked into one of those rooms then?" I persisted, but with a wary gentleness which I felt could not offend.

"No; there is no room there, only a passageway. But it has closets in it, and we did not like to be seen going to them any time of day. The door had glass panes in it, you know, just like a window. It made the relations so intimate with people only a few feet away."

"Naturally," I cried. "I don't wonder you wanted to shut them off if you could." Then with a sudden access of interest which I vainly tried to hide, I thought of the closets and said with a smile, "The closets were for china, I suppose; old families have so much china."

(To be continued.)

The Club That Knocked Half The Rub Out Of SCRUB



CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE SICK HEAD ACHE

Sick Headache and relieves all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK HEAD ACHE

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

SICK HEAD ACHE

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., NEW YORK.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

HOUSECLEANING?

USE RONUK

For Floors

For Leather Upholstery

For Linoleum

For Furniture

For Woodwork

For Auto Bodies

and cut the labor of housecleaning by using RONUK on your floors.

RONUK is a cleanser as well as a polish. It eliminates scrubbing—apply RONUK with a cloth—it immediately removes stains, spots and dirt.

Then polish with a dry cloth or brush and your floor is in perfect condition.

And it will stay so, for RONUK is a unique composition that sinks into the pores of the wood and produces a finish that is hard and durable. Dust sits lightly on a RONUK surface and is easily collected. RONUK is sanitary and antiseptic without being offensive or corrosive.

You will find it possible to keep a RONUK floor absolutely clean without ever scrubbing it by occasionally going over the surface with RONUK.

A little RONUK covers a large surface—it is economical and easy to apply.

Try RONUK for linoleum, painted woodwork, tiles, leather upholstery, auto bodies, etc.—and you will find it a most satisfactory cleanser.

RONUK is your best aid in housecleaning.

RONUK comes in two forms—Paste at 35c the lb., smaller tins 10c, 25c and 75c. Liquid RONUK at 25c pint, $1.00 quart.

On sale everywhere.

RONUK LIMITED

Head Office for Canada, 53 YONGE STREET, TORONTO

Factory: Portslade, Eng. Write for sample to Dept. U

91-93 Yonville Sq., Montreal

PETERBOROUGH COLD STORAGE

In full operation

All kinds of COAL in Stock at Market Price

Both 'Phones 262

W. SCOTT CO., LIMITED
East City

EDWIN ELCOME
Taxidermist.

Heads, Animals, Birds, Fish, etc mounted artistically and permanent.

Heads of Deer, Moose, Caribou Elk, etc., our Specialty.

Heads, Animals, Birds, Fish, Artificial Eyes, Taxidermist supplies. Bird and Flower Guide Books for sale.

692 Harvey St.
Peterborough Ontario

THE IMPERIAL LIFE
Assurance Co. of Canada

Each Premium Paid

On an IMPERIAL POLICY is so much money saved—not spent. Your family will reap the reward some day, or you may live to enjoy it yourself. In every case a Policy in THE IMPERIAL LIFE is

A Good Investment

W. G. MORROW, Agent
437 George Street

TWENTY YEARS AGO on the First of March next, a wellknown resident of this city took out at age 28 a 10 pay 20 year endowment policy for $1000, No. 43860, in the Sun Life of Canada.

The yearly premium he paid on the participating plan for 10 years only was.....$69.30

The yearly premium he would have to pay on the non-participating plan for the ten years is.....$62.25

Extra paid for profits for ten years.....$7.05

He received in cash at the end of 20 years, $1,279.25, that is, the $70.50 extra that he paid for profits yielded him $279.35, almost 400 per cent.

Or, he could draw out $736.45 in cash, which is $43.45 more than all he paid in, and receive a fully paid-up participating policy for life.

You can never obtain such results as these on the non-participating plan unless you die and die early, so that the price will not become too high.

For particulars in your case call or 'phone the Sun Life Office, Crown Chambers Building.

W. H. HILL'S

General Insurance Agency, Crown Chamber Building

Corner Hunter and Water Streets

A. WEDDELL, Business Manager. 'Phone 14

NO BETTER TIME!

TO HAVE YOUR PROPERTY INSURED AGAINST LOSS BY FIRE THAN NOW.

No better or safer Companies to take out a policy with, than those we represent.

You may have much or little, it's worth Insuring.

See us about Fire Insurance To-Day!

Davis-Thompson Company
LIMITED
Insurance and General Agency
PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO.

MONEY TO LOAN.

MONEY TO LOAN—On Mortgage Security on Farms and City property on lowest rates of interest. E. N. Gordon, Barrister, 297 George Street.

MONEY TO LOAN—On Farm and Town property, at lowest current rates on easiest terms of payment. HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON Conveyancers to Stratton & Hall, Barristers, Peterborough, Ont. Office—Over the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

MONEY TO LEND—On first-class City and Farm Securities only, on current rates BENNET & GOODWILL, Barristers, Solicitors, etc., No. 324 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone No. 191 J. W. Bennet; R. L. Goodwill.

MEDICAL.

DR. BUCHANAN, F.R.C.S. Edin., M.R.C.S. Eng., L.R.C.P., London, Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist. Hours—9-11 a.m. 2-4 p.m.; 7-8 p.m. 'Phone 619. Office Corner Water and Murray

T.W.H. YOUNG M.D., C.M.
L.R.C.P., L.R.C.S., L.M., L.F.P.S. F.T.M.C.
Diseases of Women and Children
Pleasant St. 'Phones 341

CHIROPRACTIC.

DR. S. W. KIRKWOOD, Chiropractor Telephone 266. Office hours—9 to 10 a.m. 1 to 3 p.m., 4 to 7 p.m. 407 Water Street Peterborough, Ont.

OSTEOPATHY.

DR. ASA G. WALMSLEY — Osteopathic Physician. Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce; Hunter Street Entrance Phone: Office, 640; Residence, 259. Office hours—9 to 12 a.m.; 2 to 6 p.m. Evenings by appointment

DR. IVA M. CARUTHERS, Osteopath Office; Bank of Commerce Building, opposite Post Office. hours—10 to 12 a.m. 2 to 5 p.m., and by appointment. 'Phone 414 Residence 'Phone 1279

LEGAL

PECK, KERR & MacELDERRY.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries, Office, 41 Water Street, Peterborough. Money to Loan at lowest current rates of interest, on easy terms of repayment. H. A. Peck, K. C. D. Kerr, V. J. MacElderry

E. N. GORDON.—Barrister, Solicitor Notary Public and Conveyancer. Commissioner for New York State. Money to Loan. Office upstairs, first door south of Madill's Drug Store Bell 'phone 219; Machine 'phone 180. 297½ George St

O'CONNELL & CORBERY.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries, Hunter Street, two doors west of Post Office. Denis O'Connell, John E. Corbery.

REDDY & BURNHAM.—Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, etc. Offices, 379 Water Street. Money to Loan. Robert Reddy, K.C.; J. H. Burnham, M.A. Telephone No. 64.

DUMBLE & JOHNSTON.—Barristers, Solicitors, etc. Office over Toronto Savings and Loan Company, 435 George Street D. W. Dumble, K.C.; W. F. Johnston.

A. E. DIXON.—Barrister, Solicitor, etc. Offices, Corner Hunter and George Sts. entrance, next Madill's Drug Store.

HALL, HAYES & HALL.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries Public, Hunter St. Peterborough. West to St. John's Church Money to Loan at lowest rates of interest. E. E. D. Hall, City Solicitor; Louis M. Hayes, K.C.; and Basil D. Hall.

HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON—Successors to Stratton & Hall, Barristers, Solicitors etc., Peterborough, Ont. Offices, Corner of Hunter and Water Sts., over Canadian Bank of Commerce. E. E. Hall, A. T. Medd, W. S. Davidson

W. H. MOORE.—Barrister, Solicitor, etc. Office, entrance first hallway west of Post Office, Peterborough, Ont. Money to Loan.

WOOD AND WEARING.—Barristers, etc. Offices, over Canadian Express Office, George Street. Money to Loan. E. H. Wood, County Crown Attorney. Jos Wearing, M.A.

ARCHITECTS.

V. BLACKWELL—Architect and Civil Engineer. Plans and estimates made for churches, public buildings and dwellings in town. Buildings, heating and plumbing a specialty. Office, 373 Water Street Peterborough

AUCTIONEER
W. D. KETCHESON,
Licensed Auctioneer for Peterboro County Sales attended to promptly and satisfactorily
Address 855 DOURO STREET, CITY
'Phone 1078.

Toronto Savings & Loan Comp'y

Notice is hereby given that a Quarterly Dividend of two and one-half per cent being at the rate of ten per cent per annum for the (3) three months ending 31st of March 1914, has been declared upon the Capital Stock of this Institution and the same will be payable at the offices of the Company in this City on and after April 1st, 1914.

The Transfer Books will be closed from the 19th to the 31st of March, both days inclusive.

By order of the Board,

W.G.MORROW
MANAGING DIRECTOR

Peterborough, March 20th, 1914

RURAL PROBLEM OF POPULATION

Statements of Rev. John McDougall Regarding Movements From Country to City

Rev. John McDougall, Spencerville, in the course of an address to the Social Congress of Canada, said:

"D'Arcy McGee, that true patriot and sagacious statesman, once said: 'We Canadians are here to vindicate our capacity by test of a new political creation. In order to do so, what we most immediately want is men, more men, and still more men, in town and country.' In the town that need is being met, but the country, far from gaining 'men and still more men,' cannot hold her own. In D'Arcy McGee's own Province of Quebec, often cited as our one example, in eastern Canada, of real, though slight, rural growth, Canadian capacity has been vindicated by an urban growth of three-quarters of a million since his day, but in older Quebec, the Quebec he knew, there has been absolute rural loss. In three census districts—districts alone—there has been an expansion of 77,000. To the south of the St. Lawrence there has been an expansion into new territory eastwards of over 95,000. In older Quebec there has, therefore, been a rural loss of over 100,000. Ontario's total rural loss since Confederation is 111,000. But she has now a rural population of 146,000 in Muskoka, Algoma, and the newer north, where then there were but 12,000 souls all told. The rural decline in older Ontario is therefore more than 248,000. Her urban growth meanwhile is over 1,615,000.

Monetary Tribute

"It must be remembered that the rural loss is not measured by diminution alone, but by diminution plus natural increase cancelled. The natural increase of the rural population of all eastern Canada since Confederation would, at a rate of but one per cent. per annum, have amounted to 1,418,000. This has been entirely cancelled, and we have diminution instead. But the urban population, whose natural increase would have been but 354,000, has actually increased two millions.

"This general movement of population forms the groundwork of the rural problem. At great cost the country is building the city. Upon the 97,000 whose going decreased the rural population of older Ontario, and upon the additional 148,000 whose going cancelled the natural increase, rural Ontario spent $500,000,000. This drain, a clear gift of the country to the city, is universal.

The Drain of Life-blood

"But the monetary tribute is the least part of the contribution. The country has surrendered a multitude of occupations which once gave it social wealth. Countryside commerce is waning before the mail-order system. Choice of occupations is combined to one, that of agriculture. The loss to the farmers themselves is greater still; unrest has robbed farm life of poise and permanency. Impoverishment is seen in the lessened proportion of women in the country. The excess of men over women in Ontario's rural population is 35,900. In the cities there are 102 women to 100 men; in the country 116 men to 100 women. Women are even more dissatisfied with farm life than men. The schools suffer. In my home township there is a school with but a single pupil on the roll. Last year the school was not opened, the trustees paying $300 to have the solitary pupil conveyed daily to the next district school and taught there. Yet fifty years ago that school had an attendance of 45. In Ontario in 1913, there were 110 schools with an average attendance for the year of less than five."

Kitchener's Story

"There was a young woman, a pronounced brunette," said Lord Kitchener of Khartoum, "who came out to Cape Town disguised as a lady nurse, her object being to keep her eye on her husband, who held a billet under General Forrestier-Walker at the base. Later on he was unfortunately sent to the front, where, still more unfortunately, he was forthwith picked off by a wandering Mauser bullet. The widow was such a victim to the luxury of unrestrained grief that it was observed her raven locks turned amber in a single night. Then," added the Locrosity with a malicious grin, "East and West do occasionally meet. The darkest widow on the Ganges puts saffron on her head as an indication of her bereavement, and the widow from the banks of the Thames applies peroxide of hydrogen as an advertisement of her uncontrollable sorrow."

Judicial Nicknames

One of the many proofs of Mr. Justice Bucknill's popularity at the English Bar has been the familiar use of his Christian name.

The Bar, which has always spoken of Lord Alverstone as "Dick Webster," and of Lord Loreburn as "Bob Reid," has been accustomed to speak of the present Lord Chief Justice as "Rufus," and of Mr. Justice Bucknill as "Tubby."

2 IN 1
SHOE POLISHES
Black—Tan—White
10c
THE F. F. DALLEY CO., LTD., BUFFALO, N. Y., HAMILTON, ONT.

AMERICA'S DARK CONTINENT

Explorer Believes it Equals Africa

Charles Wellington Furlong, South American explorer, who is a visitor in Los Angeles, believes that there is more unexplored territory in South America than in the "Dark Continent."

Furlong was the first American to go through the heart of Terra del Fuego. He explored the tropical forests with only natives as guides. There were no other white men in the expedition.

The explorer made a special study of the customs and habits of the three tribes of primitive Indians—Yahgans of the Fuegian Archipelago, the Onas of Terra del Fuego, and the Patagonians.

"It is difficult for Americans to realize the great size of South America," Furlong said. "There are thirteen political divisions in the continent and one of them, Brazil, is larger in area than the United States. Argentina is one-half as large as the United States.

"The most interesting natives are the Yahgans, or canoe Indians, of the Fuegian Archipelago, in the region of Cape Horn. These is one of the stormiest climates of the globe, they live most of the time in open canoes. They have the strange custom of keeping fires burning in the bottom of their canoes. Their only method for starting a fire is by rubbing sticks together, and, as this is a very difficult process, they are careful to keep their fires burning. They place sod in the bottom of the canoes, on which the fires are built.

"It is supposed that Magellan saw the smoke from the fires in the canoes, and for that reason named the region 'Tierra del Fuego'—'Land of Fire.' The tribe is nomadic. The Indians spend the time during the day in their canoes, and at night go ashore, wherever they happen to be, to sleep.

"The principal food of the Yahgans is shellfish and birds and small animals, which they kill with spears or slingshots. The region in which these Indians live is very barren, and they are forced to roam from one place to another in search of food. In physical appearance the Yahgans resemble the Esquimaux. They use a disjointed harpoon, similar to that used by the tribes of the north.

"The Yahgans are noted for their ability to endure cold. The women, most of them, are expert swimmers, and dive into ice-water for sturgeon. It appears that these Indians have no form of worship and they have no chiefs."

Rooms in London's Three Zones

Lord George Hamilton, speaking at the Mansion House Council on Housing, said:

"Dividing London into three zones—the inner and outer zones of the London County Council and the greater London beyond—he found that during the past five years there had been a diminution of 7,800 rooms in the inner zone of the London County Council, and an increase of 25,000 in the outer zone of the London County Council; but in the area beyond that, known as Greater London, there had during that period been an increase of over 107,000 rooms."

Ambiguous Words

Many words in everyday use have quite a different meaning in remote corners of the country. An auction is a dirty or untidy place; and some rustics, when unwell, tell you that they feel "comical." A pig or piggy is a hot-water bottle—hence the story of a traveller who returned to civilisation with a tale that Northumberland the people slept a pig in the bed for warmth.

Suicide at Twelve

Loosely fastened round the neck of Thomas Leslie Mellor, aged twelve, of Darlington, who committed suicide on the railway at Durnham, was a handkerchief, indicating that he had blindfolded himself before stepping in front of a train. At the inquest Mellor's father stated that the boy had been reading novels and attending picture palaces. He was much impressed by the pictures, and once saw a representation of a man being knocked down by a train. A verdict of "Suicide" there being no evidence to show the state of mind, was returned.

Are You Going West This Spring?

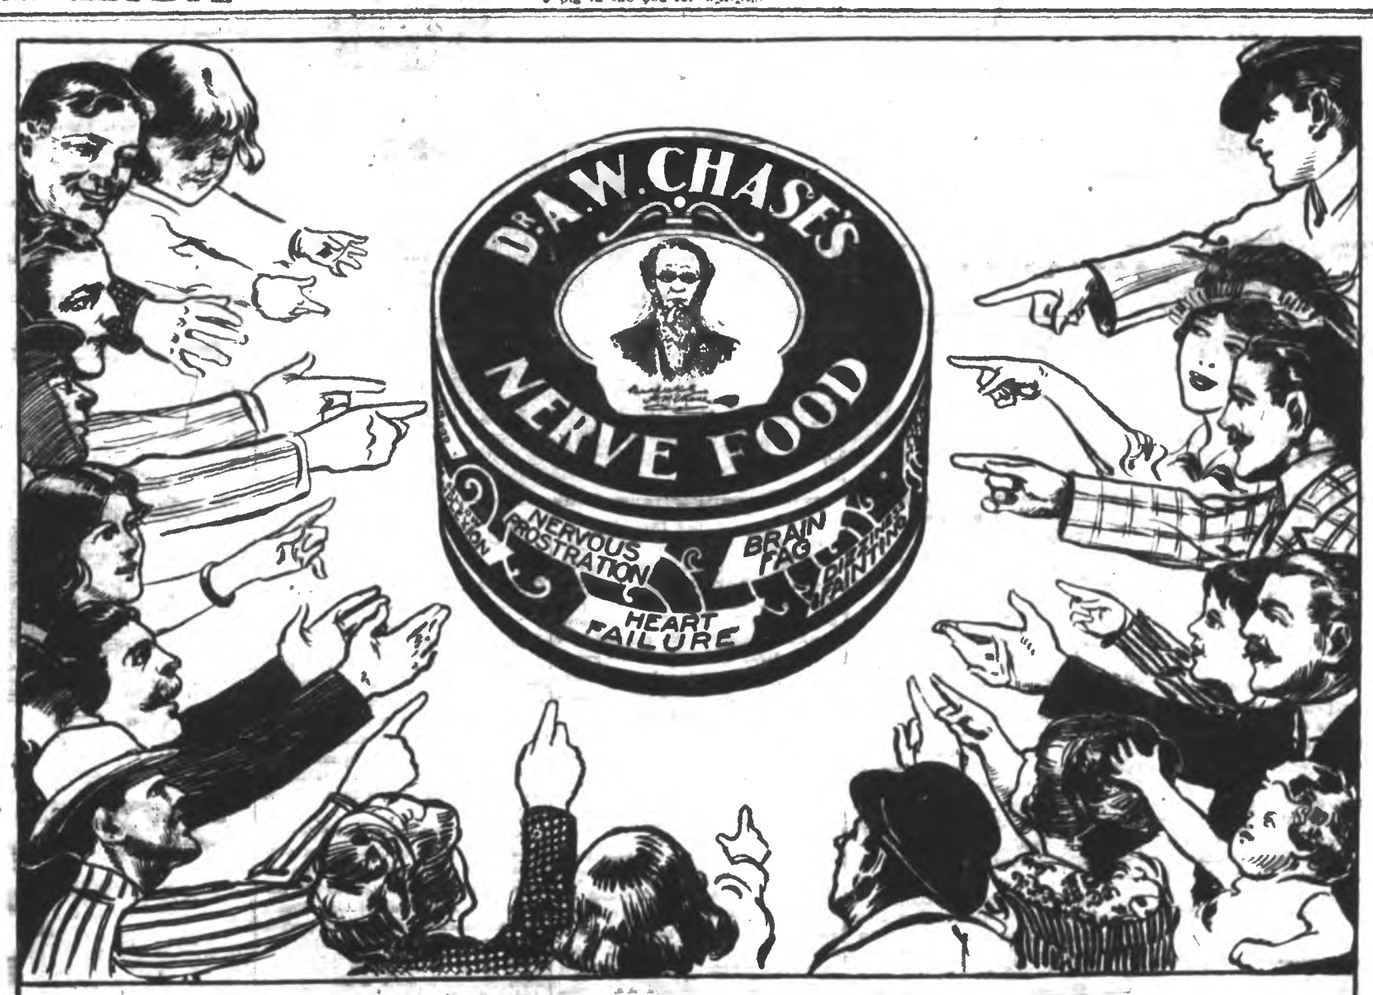
If so, exceptional opportunities are now being offered by the Grand Trunk Railway System in connection with Homeseekers, Settlers and Colonist excursions.

Homeseekers' round trip tickets are issued from stations in Canada to points in Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan, at very low fares, and are in effect each Tuesday until October 27th, inclusive, via Chicago, St. Paul or Duluth. Tickets will also be on sale on certain dates via Sarnia and Northern Navigation Company. Through Pullman Tourist Sleeping Cars are operated to Winnipeg each Tuesday, leaving Toronto 11.00 p.m. No change of cars. Tickets are valid returning two months from date of issue. Settlers' one-way second-class tickets are also on sale each Tuesday during March and April from stations in Ontario, Kingston, Renfrew and west to points in Alberta and Saskatchewan, at low fares.

Colonist one-way second-class tickets are sold at very low fares from stations in Ontario to certain points in Alberta, British Columbia, Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Texas, Utah and Washington, and are in effect daily until April 15, inclusive.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is the shortest and quickest route between Winnipeg-Saskatoon-Edmonton, with smooth roadbed, electric lighted sleeping cars, through the newest, most picturesque and most rapidly developing section of Western Canada.

Through tickets sold and reservations made by all Grand Trunk Agents. Costs no more than by other routes. Trains now in operation, Winnipeg to Saskatoon, Edmonton, and Regina, Yorkton and Canora, Sask.; Camrose, Mirror Edson and Calgary, Alberta; also to Jasper, Tete Jaune and Prince George, B.C. Full particulars at all Grand Trunk Ticket Offices or write C. E. Horning, District Passenger Agent, Union Station, Toronto, Ont.



SUCH LETTERS AS THIS EXPLAIN WHY

Everybody Uses Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a Spring Tonic

We have on file thousands of letters telling of similar cures by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Skeptics are invited to write to Mrs. Scarbo for confirmation of her cure.

Mrs. Jules Scarbo, Moulinette, Stormont Co., Ont., writes:—"I think it is my duty to write and let you know the great benefit I received from taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Early last fall I became greatly run down, could scarcely eat anything and could not sleep at night. The least sound would make me start and I was so nervous I could hardly bear to have anyone talk to me. I tried many medicines but none helped me and I was in this extremely nervous condition for five months.

"I read in the almanac about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and bought 3 boxes from Mr. Armstrong, druggist at Mille Roches. Before completing the first box I felt the benefit and now believe the cure to be thorough and complete. I am feeling fine and eat and sleep well, thanks to the wonderful good, accomplished by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I wish everybody troubled as I was knew of this grand medicine, which is so quick in action and so permanent in results. It will always have my praise."

You can avoid the feelings of fatigue and depression which make spring so dreaded by very many who are not in robust health. Sleeplessness, irritability, indigestion and headaches soon disappear when you increase the vitality of the mind and body by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Write for free booklet on the "Nerves."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the greatest of spring restoratives, because it actually forms new, red corpuscles in the blood.

Your Easter Breakfast!

Make it worthy of the anticipation—a morning meal that shall stand right out from the ordinary run of breakfasts. Let it be

"Swift's Premium" Ham or Bacon

A few slices of this mild, delicately-cured ham or bacon—cooked to a tempting brown—served sizzling hot—here's a repast indeed! Never again will you want to go back to "ordinary" ham and bacon. "Swift's Premium" will win you for all time. There's a sweet, succulent tenderness about "Swift's Premium" ham and bacon you find in no other brand.

Tell your dealer you must have "Swift's Premium" for Easter Sunday Morning! Order it now.

Swift Canadian Co., Limited

Toronto
Winnipeg
Edmonton

34

WHERE WOMEN RULE

In Polygamous Tribe Wife is Head of the Family

With no taxes to pay and no wearisome restrictions to undergo, living in a land so fruitful that a few weeks' labor is enough to supply them with food, home and clothes for a whole year, the Ekoi, natives of extreme Southern Nigeria, on the equator, should be and probably are among the happiest people on earth.

"The Ekoi are devoted parents," writes Mr. P. A. Talbot, an African explorer. "They have curious beliefs as to the advent and death of their babies. One charming superstition forbids all quarreling in a house where there are little children. The latter, so they say, love sweet words, kind looks and gentle voices, and if these are not to be found in the family into which they have been reincarnated they will close their eyes and forsake the earth until a chance offers to return again amid less quarrelsome surroundings.

"To the Ekoi dancing is one of the main occupations of life. With them the dance provides an outlet both for the dramatic instinct and for religious fervor. At the new year and on all great festivals the chief societies of men, women and children come up to the station to give a series of dances.

"The Ekoi are a polygamous people, but the chief wife, not the husband, is the head of the house. Each wife has control over her children, who almost invariably go with her if she leaves her husband, and her rights as to property are most strictly safeguarded by native law."

Not at Home

A young lady reporter on a country paper was sent out to interview leading citizens as to their politics. "May I see the gentleman of the house?" she asked of a large woman who opened the door at one residence.

"No, you can't!" answered the woman decisively.

"But I want to know what party he belongs to," pleaded the girl.

"Well, take a good look at me," she said sternly. "I'm the party he belongs to."

To Cure Colds

An incipient cold can often be prevented by taking ten or twenty deep, slow, full breaths in the open air or at an open window. The breath must be drawn through the nose very slowly till the lungs are filled, held a second and exhaled slowly till the lungs are emptied.

Redpath Extra Granulated Sugar Comes to your table absolutely pure

IF we were not sure that once you try REDPATH Sugar you will always want it, we would never have put it up in these distinctive, easily recognized cartons.

Redpath Extra Granulated Sugar stands on its own merits, and is sold under its own name, in ORIGINAL PACKAGES of size to suit any household—2 and 5 pound Sealed Cartons—10, 20, 50 and 100 Pound Cloth Bags.

70

Canada Sugar Refining Co., Limited, : Montreal.

For City and Town Development.

BOSTON, Mass., April 4.—In response to a call issued by Governor Wals delegates from nearly every county of Massachusetts met in conference here to-day to diacuss community dvelopment, city planning and civic advancement. John H. Fahey, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, presided and among the speakers were Governor Walsh, Prof. Thomas N. Carver, of the Rural Organization Service at Washington, and Dr. B. H. Rastall, of the Bureau of Municipal Service, of New York.

St. Lawrence Sugar

Suit Your Sugar Taste.

St. Lawrence extra granulated is now sold in three different sizes of crystals; all choicest and purest cane sugar.

Fine Grain (red label): In this every grain from top to bottom is about the size of a pin point.

Medium Grain (blue label): Like small-sized pearls, even and white and marvels of sweetness.

Coarse Grain (green label): Like small diamonds and almost as brilliant, but quickly melted.

Order The Size You Prefer.

Every grain, no matter its size, is finest extra granulated pure cane sugar, shown by analysis 99-99-100 to 100% pure.

The weight is guaranteed as well as the quality.

Bags 100 lbs., 25 lbs., 10 lbs.
Cartons 5 lbs., 2 lbs.

St. Lawrence Sugar Refineries, Limited, Montreal. 4

Cream Cocktail

Sir George Fisher Smith, chairman of the Halifax Licensing Bench, stated that new regulations had been framed in regard to premises to which cinematograph and music licenses were granted. A clause provides that no children under fourteen years of age will be allowed to enter into or upon the licensed premises after seven p.m. unaccompanied by parent or guardian. No child under the age of ten will be allowed in under any circumstances after nine p.m.

Prohibit Flannelette

Dr. Robert A. Fawcus, house surgeon of Guy's Hospital, giving evidence at an inquest on a child whose flannelette clothing caught fire, said he thought the law should prohibit children under five wearing flannelette.

Heart and Nerves Were Bad.

Could Not Sleep.

To the thousands of people who toss on a sleepless pillow night after night, or who pace the bedroom floor with nerves on the jump, the heart action all wrong, and to whose eyes sleep will not come, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills offer the blessing of sound refreshing slumber, as they restore the equilibrium of the deranged nerve centres and correct the wrong action of the heart.

Mrs. Charles Teel, Horncastle, Ont., writes:—"Just a few lines to let you know what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. My heart and nerves were so bad I could not sleep, and the least noise or excitement would make me feel so that I used to think I was going to die, and I would tremble until I could hardly stand. I took doctor's medicine, but it did not do me much good. At last I tried Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and can certainly say they did me a great amount of good. I can recommend them to anyone who is suffering as I was."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have been on the market for the past twenty years, and have done more to steady shaky nerves and strengthen weak hearts, than any other known preparation.

Price, 50 cents per box, or three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

NIGHT IN CAMP

How Travellers Protect Themselves in the Far North

R. J. Fraser, writing in "Rod and Gun," thus describes a winter night on a lonesome trail in the far north:

By the heat of the fire dry duffles and moccasins were hastily put on, and slackly tied so as not to stop the circulation in the feet and limbs that were already in various stages of swollenness. One by one the men rolled up in their eiderdowns, which we had sewn up into the form of bags. Into these each put such mittens or moccasins as were still damp. If the heat of our bodies did not dry them, they at least prevented them from freezing. Pulling woollen caps down over face and ears, we crawled feet first into the bags and pulled the coverings up and over us, enveloping even the head. After one has grown accustomed to half-suffocation, the arrangement is found to be almost comfortable; it is necessary to prevent the face from freezing as well as preserve the warmth of the body by retaining it within the bag. Make an opening no larger than the size of one's fist for a very few minutes only and you let in a quantity of the penetrating, frosty air that takes the natural heat of the body a quarter of an hour to overcome. Of course some opening must be left at the top of the bag to permit of the sleeper's breathing; but the steaming breath, blown out through a tiny aperture, is at once converted into frost that covers the head of the bag and that of its inmate. At times that nearest to the source of heat melts and trickles down the face and neck of the sleeper, proving most discomforting.

"Shall I dissolve another pearl in the chalice for your breakfast?" asked Charmion. "No," replied Cleopatra. "Pearls are too inexpensive and commonplace. Boil me an egg."

To sup off sausages and mashed potatoes is the latest fad of the English smart set and at private dinners plain suet pudding is the favored dish.

More Armed Liners

The Wilson Line, in conjunction with the Admiralty, are equipping several of their ships with 4.7-inch quick-firing guns. The liner Francisco, which left for New York recently carried a quick-firer for the first time in her stern. In each case the gun is fitted in a stern angle of but 20 degrees so it can only be used for defensive purposes and whilst being pursued.

The liners all run between Hull and New York, and carry grain and food cargoes, the idea being that guns would be useful for protection from small attacking craft.

Cancer in Trout

Dr. Gaylord found that about 5 per cent. of the 100,000,000 trout bred in New York State, many of which are served in the expensive hotels and restaurants disclosed germs of cancer and goitre. There is no doubt, he adds, that susceptible persons drinking water which the infected fish inhabit acquire the diseases.

Corsons Floral Orchid Talcum Powder

—is the most refreshing and pleasant of all talcs

Its elusive fragrance, soothing and antiseptic qualities have placed it foremost among talcums and made it the favorite of many users.

The high quality of the talc—its fineness of texture and the excellence of the perfume that gives it its fragrance are not equalled in any other talc you can buy.

All Druggists, 25c. tins.

Made by

INSECT TREE PESTS

Canadian Timber Being Destroyed by Insects

"The large larch sawfly," says the Dominion Entomologist, "has destroyed between fifty and one hundred per cent. of the native larch, or tamarack." Through the continued attacks of a single forest pest, whose ravages it is now impossible to control, one of the most valuable timber trees of Eastern Canada is now in danger of extinction.

In British Columbia, forest insects have destroyed in some places over twenty-five per cent. of the timber crop. Technical foresters in the employ of the Dominion Forestry Branch have noted similar depredations, when conducting forest surveys in the Northwest. It is likely that in Canada as much damage is done to the standing timber by forest pests as by forest fires. Fortunately the former are largely dependent for their existence on the latter, for fire furnishes the chief feeding and breeding grounds, to the insect foes of the forest. Thus the Dominion Forestry Branch, by reducing the fireburned area on Dominion forest reserves last summer to less than two one-hundredths of one per cent. (0.2 p.c.) has succeeded in "killing two birds with the one stone." Fire minimizes the vitality of the tree and climate takes advantage of the weakness, thereby creating a condition favorable to insects and fungi. By minimizing the damage done by fire and handling the various stands according to one of the silvicultural systems suitable to that type the result can be strong, vigorous trees better equipped to withstand all natural enemies."

Practical Aid

A man and his wife were charged at Malmesbury with neglecting their adopted child and discharged. It has become known that Lord Suffolk, who was on the bench, instructed an officer of the court to take the child to an outfitter's in the town and see that he was provided with a complete suit of [illegible] clothes.

IT TAKES

a lot of care and knowledge to make anything as well as we make

PERRIN'S

Dairy Cream Sodas

If you want to taste something that seems almost too dainty to be a "soda biscuit" try either Perrin's "Fancy Thin" or the regular Dairy Cream Sodas, which are just a little better than you thought a soda biscuit could be.

Either kind comes to you with all its delicious oven-freshness, preserved by the sealed package.

The "Perrin Sample Package" of some other delicious Perrin's products will be sent you for 10c. in stamps or coin and your grocer's name.

Look for the Perrin Trade Mark on every package.

5c, 10, and 25c. at your grocers.
Every Package Guaranteed.

D. S. PERRIN & COMPANY, LIMITED
London, [illegible] Canada

A PAGE OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO EVERY WOMAN

The One Dish That Agrees With The Aged

Kellogg's

CORN FLAKES

Get the Original

111

Fresh flowers should for mthe foundation of all springtime table decorations. And the simpler and daintier the flowers, the better suited they are to this season. Of course, it is too early, yet in most localities for the wild flowers. But when they appear they should be used liberally on the table. Nothing is lovelier than a bowlful of hepaticas, for instande, or wid violets arranged with their own foliage. These flowers possess a certain attraction lacking in the more formal hothouse flowers that we gladly welcome throughout the winter. So do the other wid flowers—arbutus, anemones, spring beauties and all the rest.

"HER POCKET-BOOK"

may have just as many dollars in it, but they don't go as far as they did a few years ago. The richest woman in the world cannot buy anything more wholesome or more nutritious than

SHREDDED WHEAT

It contains all the body-building nutriment in the whole-wheat grain, and being in little-loaf form it is so easy to prepare with it a deliciously nourishing meal at a cost of four or five cents. Try it with sliced bananas or stewed prunes.

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with hot milk or cream will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work. Deliciously nourishing when eaten in combination with baked apples, stewed prunes, sliced bananas, canned or preserved fruits. Try toasted Triscuit, the Shredded Wheat wafer, for luncheon with butter, cheese or marmalade.

The Canadian Shredded Wheat Company, Limited

Niagara Falls, Ontario

Toronto Office: 49 Wellington Street East

71A

A SURE CURE FOR WOMEN'S DISORDERS

Ten Days' Treatment Free

ORANGE LILY is a certain cure for all disorders of women. It is applied locally and is absorbed into the suffering tissues. The dead waste matter in the congested region is expelled, giving immediate mental and physical relief; the blood vessels and nerves are toned and strengthened, and the circulation is rendered normal, as this treatment is based on strictly scientific principles, and acts on the actual location of the disease it cannot help but effect a cure of all forms of female troubles, including delayed and painful menstruation, leucorrhoea, falling of the womb, etc. Price $1.00 per box, which is sufficient for one month's treatment. A Free Trial Treatment, enough for 10 days, worth 25c, will be sent Free to any suffering woman who will send me her address. Enclose 2 stamps and address Mrs. FRANCES E. CURRAH, Windsor, Ont.

For Sale by Leading Druggists Everywhere

Milady's Mirror

Supple Shoulders Give a Youthful Air.

"If you want to look young do not let your shoulders get stiff," says a woman who likes to look youthful and knows how to do it. "Flexibility of expression and pose is the hallmark of youth.

"Many women in their desire for an erect carriage think they have achieved it by hoisting up their shoulders and holding them hoisted with relentless persistence. Why have a stiff dignity of pose when one can have a graceful dignity?

"To keep your shoulders young try to keep your mind young by not letting it worry needlessly or think overintensely.

"The mind affects the shoulders, and they affect the mind. If you cannot stop thinking too seriously or worrying, move your shoulders and arms about a bit, let your shoulders fall into place easily, and you will see that at once your mind is rested.

"Don't worry about your household cares while you are attending to them, as most women do, accomplishing them with knit brow and stiff shoulders. Decide what you have to do and then just do it with easy mind and easy pose.

"Thus you keep your face from acquiring set expressions that soon age it by robbing it of its life and giving it a lot of unnecessary wrinkles. You also keep your shoulders from that inelasticity that is a foe to youthful looks.

"Don't when you can go out shopping walk along with your mind stolidly or feverishly set upon your errands. You can't do this without stiffening your shoulders.

"Stiffly held erect shoulders are bad enough in giving a woman the stamp of age's rigidity, but stiffly held bent shoulders are a crime against health as well as beauty in cramping the lungs. Stooping is a habit that requires great will power to overcome. There is a dangerous tendency toward stooping shoulders in the present vogue for droop of pose brought about by the limp, picturesque clothes that are now the fashion.

"Let your shoulders fall into natural easy lines and at once your arms thrill with life and do graceful things that enhance your beauty and preserve your youth. Stiff shoulders stiffen the whole figure. Years fall from rigid shoulders corrected of the fault."

An Easy Way to Reduce.

"If you want to reduce yourself quickly and with no harmful results try this way," says a specialist in the art of reducing corpulency. "I've seen it work wonders in an incredibly short time.

"It's what I call the sawing exercise. Put your right foot up on a chair and with both arms go through an up and down sawing motion toward the left side, bending over as far as possible and drawing back as far as possible. Do this fifty times and then do the same thing toward the right side with the left foot raised on a chair.

"The exercise calls into play every muscle in the body, especially round the abdomen.

"It should be gone through regularly fifty times one side, fifty times the other, every morning.

"I know of no exercise that will so quickly set a good tingle of circulation through the body as this simple one. If you haven't had enough outing and walking through the day a performance of it will largely atone for the lack.

"It should be gone through with even force and vigor, exactly as though you were really sawing wood. Done limply and without interest it is waste time, just like any other feebly done exercise."

Foot Massage.

Where the feet are in good condition a massage lightly given about once a week will prove quite beneficial. But when feet are in a troublesome condition they must, to obtain relief, be treated daily. One thing the feet need very much, and of which they get very little, is air. They should be freed from shoes and stockings at least half an hour every day. True, the feet are bare at night time; but, as a rule, they are not uncovered, so they do not get much air.

Daily bathing, a weekly massage, properly fitting shoes and stockings, with a daily change of the latter and sufficient airing, would relieve and undoubtedly cure mostly all foot troubles.

Still, there is another thing to be mentioned regarding the care of the feet, and that is the stockings. Sometimes, where apparently no trouble at all exists and the feet are given the best possible attention, they begin to smart and burn.

White or unbleached stockings are usually the best for the feet, but some women prefer colored, and for that reason it is advisable to purchase these with at least white soles. This part of the stocking is never seen, even with low shoes, and the white sole will prove a great benefit to the feet.

REPLENISH YOUR BLOOD IN THE SPRING

Just now you are feeling "out of sorts" — not your usual self. Quite exhausted at times and cannot devote real energy to your work. Sleep does not rest you and you wake up feeling "all tired out." Perhaps rheumatism is flying through your muscles and joints, or may be your skin is disfigured by rashes, boils or pimples. Headaches, twinges or neuralgia, fits of nervousness, irritability of temper and a disordered stomach often increase your discomfort in the spring.

The cause——winter has left its mark on you. These troubles are signs that your blood is poor and watery, that your nerves are exhausted. You must renew and enrich your blood at once and restore tone to your tired nerves, or there may be a complete breakdown. The most powerful remedy for these spring ailments in men, women and children is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, because these Pills cleanse bad blood and strengthen weak nerves.

New, rich, red blood—your greatest need in spring—is plentifully created by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and with this new, pure blood in your veins you quickly regain health and increase your strength. Then your skin becomes clear, your eyes bright, your nerves strong, and you feel better, eat better, sleep better, and are able to do your work.

Begin your spring tonic treatment to-day for the blood and nerves with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills — the Pills that strengthen.

These Pills are sold by most dealers, but do not be persuaded to take "something just the same." If you can't get the genuine Pills from your dealer they will be sent you by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Spring Table

Ferns from the woods are lovely on the table. They can be transplanted from their native home to a jar for the table as soon as they have reached a few inches in height. They may not live very long, but they can be repalced with others, and they may become well acclimated to their new home, if they are put out of doors much of the time when they are not in use on the table.

Some of the florists are selling small china jars, each containing a single tulip bulb, planted in sand, just ready to bloom. The jars are bright red or yellow and with tulips of the same colours they are very effective. The bulb flowers of the spring are certainly appropriate for table decoration. Tulips, daffodils, narcissus—all these last fairly well and are very attractive.

A Japeneselandscape is a charming spring table decration. Three small landscapes are the specialty of some florists. But it is possible to make one that is attractive and not so expensive as those bought ready-made. Buy a flat Japanese dish with high sides. In the middle of the dish c at one side put a small mirror. The spread half an inch of sand over the bottom of the dish, clearing it away over the mirror, which, of course, is to be a ake. Make a hill on one side of good garden earth and face it with moss. Perhaps you can get moss from the wods, with a little of the earth attached about the roots, that will really grow. Now buy some buildings for your landscape. Perhaps you can buy a ittle pagoda or a bridge of china or metal. Small wooden houses with Japanese figures working in front of them can also be found. Arrange a pagoda or two, or a house or two on the hill or in the sandy valley. A small bridge over one end of the lake adds to the prettiness of the scene. Some trees can be twigs of evergreen stuck into the moss or sand. The Japanese of course, use real dwarfed trees, tiny things not more than three or four inches, that are yet full-grown trees, but these are more expensive.

Significance of Little Things.

We love little things, we hate little things, we fear little things. Our lives are knit up with little things from the time we are born to the day we die.

Big things draw us up to heaven or crush us down to hades. Little things live beside us on the earth, eat and sleep with us, laugh and grumble with us, catch the early train with us or make us miss it, irritate and appease us—never leave us alone for a minute.

That is why they are so much more important than the big things—the things that come only once in a way, at long intervals, and even then are nearly always the result of a hundred and one little things combined.

To be crushed by a large misadventure is natural, but to fall a victim to a series of petty misfortunes is humiliating. There are many who would prefer to break their necks once and for all by falling off a mountain than to bruise their whole bodies and dislocate their tempers by the daily stumbling over a molehill. It is the little things that count. The satisfaction of climbing Mount Olympus is a poor sort of attainment if the scenes and scenes of pleasant details which wait upon success be absent.—Atlantic.

HOUSEHOLD RECIPES

CORN STARCH DESSERTS.

There is all the difference in the world between good corn starch desserts and the other kind. And the secret of making good corn starch desserts lies in having the corn starch thoroughly cooked before adding it to the body of the dessert. It is the raw taste of the corn starch that gives the carlessly made dessert its unpleasant flavour. In using corn starch with milk it should always be dissolved with a little of the milk and added to the remainder of the milk when it is boiling. The mixture then should be stirred till thick, and after that it should be cooked in a double boiler for twenty minutes.

Hasty Pudding.

To make this pudding, you will need one quart of milk and four teaspoonfuls of corn starch, mixed and cooked as described above. A saltspoonful of salt should be added with the milk and corn starch. When it is thoroughly cooked add one tablespoonful of butter, beat well and serve hot with hard sauce. This is an specially wholesome dish for children.

Corn Starch Pudding.

This rule calls for one and a half pints of milk and three level teaspoonfuls of corn starch with four tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar. When this has been cooked as directed above, add the beaten whites of three eggs, and half a teaspoonful of vanilla, and turn into a mould to set.

This pudding can be served with a custard made of the yolks of three eggs, the whites of which have been used in the pudding, or it may be served with canned fruit. A good idea if canned fruit is used is to drain a cupful of small canned fruits and add them before the pudding mixture is poured into the mould. The syrup drained from the fruit can be used as a sauce.

Jelly Deserts.

Fruit jelly.—First make plain lemon jelly, adding sugar according to the fruit to be used.

When beginning to set add bananas, sliced thin; white grapes, or oranges cut in small pieces and figs. Serve with whipped cream or a thin custard.

Orange Jelly: Soak one-half box of gelatin in one-half cupful of cold water for three minutes. Dissolve with one cupful of boiling water, stir well, add one cupful of sugar, and when that dissolves put in one pint of orange juice and the juice of a emon. Mix thoroughly.

Banquette of Veal.

Cut breast veal into small squares. Make a blanquette sauce as follows: Melt a large lump of butter in a dish and, as it softens, stir in a spoonful of flour; continue to stir, adding, little by little, two glasses of hot water, salt, pepper, parsley, and hashed chives. Put the meat in this sauce, and let it cook a quarter of an hour over a hot fire, then two hours over a gentle fire.

Chocolate Corn Starch Dessert.

This rule calls for two cupfuls of milk, one-half cupful of granulated sugar, one square of unsweetened chocolate, two tablespoonfuls of corn starch and a half pint of whipped cream. The milk and sugar should first be thoroughly dissolved in a double boiler. Then the square of chocolate should be added and melted, and stirred smooth. Then the corn starch, dissolved in a little cold milk, should be added to the hot mixture and the whole cooked thoroughly for twenty minutes. When it is thoroughly cooked it should be poured into cups to harden, and kept on ice till needed. When needed the cups should be turned out on dessert plates and topped off with a tablespoonful of whipped cream.

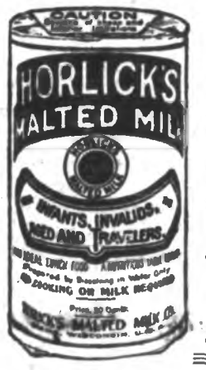
ROYAL Yeast Cakes

BEST YEAST IN THE WORLD.
DECLINE THE NUMEROUS INFERIOR IMITATIONS THAT ARE BEING OFFERED
AWARDED HIGHEST HONORS AT ALL EXPOSITIONS
E.W. GILLETT COMPANY LIMITED.
WINNIPEG TORONTO ONT. MONTREAL

BEST DIET for INFANTS and INVALIDS

Pure Full-cream milk and the extract of selected malted grain, reduced to powder form.

Get the Well-Known Round Package



Delicious, Invigorating Nourishing

The Food-drink for All Ages.

Superior to tea, coffee, cocoa.

A quick lunch digested by the weakest stomach; prepared in a moment by briskly stirring the powder in hot or cold water. Keep at home or when travelling. In Lunch Tablet form, also, ready to eat.

Ask for HORLICK'S

Original-Genuine

All Chemists, Hotels, Cafés and Stores.

Apply to Glaxo Bros. & Co., Dept. H., Montreal, Can.

Clothes make the man
—but Corsets make the woman

So said a witty Parisienne couturiere. And it's true. That's why every well dressed Canadian woman should be careful to get a pair of C/C a la Grace Corsets to properly set off each new gown. Remember, too, that comfort becomes second nature to wearers of

C/C à la Grace Corsets

Send for our daintily illustrated booklet of new corset styles. Decide upon the corset you need. Then go to your favorite store and get it. Address

CROMPTON CORSET CO. Limited
78 York Street
TORONTO

FOUGHT WITH LORD ROBERTS

Veteran of Crimean War and Indian Mutiny Suffered Horribly With Rheumatism, Until "Fruit-a-tives" Brought Welcome Relief.

GEORGE WALKER, Esq.

Chatham, Ont., April 3rd., 1913

"I was a veteran of the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, volunteering from the Royal Artillery into the Royal Engineers, and served under Lord Roberts during the Indian Mutiny, and am a pensioner of the British Government. Pierce hardship-hand fighting and continual exposure, left me a great sufferer from Rheumatism, so much so that my legs swelled up making it impossible for me to walk. My bowels were so constipated that I only had one passage a week until I got using "Fruit-a-tives." They cured me of both the Constipation and Rheumatism. To-day, my bowels move immediately after breakfast, and in my regular employment I walk thirty miles a day and enjoy perfect health. No more Rheumatism or Constipation.

You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter and my photo if it will be advantageous to "Fruit-a-tives." GEO. WALKER

This letter of Mr. Walker tells how to cure Rheumatism, but does not tell WHY "Fruit-a-tives" cures this trouble. Rheumatism is the result of poisoned blood, due to weakness or faulty action of the bowels, kidneys or skin. In Mr Walker's case, Rheumatism was the result of excessive Constipation. Waste matter remained too long in the system, was absorbed by the blood and inflammed the nerves and membranes in his legs. When he started to take "Fruit-a-tives," these tablets immediately acted on the liver. More bile was given up to move the bowels. As the bowels were cleaned, the poisonous waste matter was removed, the blood became clear and the nerves were no longer irritated. To-day, Mr. Walker is enjoying vigorous health that was his when he fought with Lord Roberts and helped to plant the British Flag firmly in our Over-Seas Possessions. He is as active as a man of forty and cannot praise "Fruit-a-tives" too highly. Try them yourself, 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c., at all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

The Uplift.

"I believe I'll go in for the uplift. Everybody ought to go in for the uplift, don't you think?"

"I s'pose so. What office do you want?"—[redacted]

Sad Farm.

Beggar—Kind sir, I'm hungry. Chol ly Van Winkle—But you certainly haven't the appearance to dine at this time of the year—in those clothes!—Yonkers Statesman.

CATARRHOZONE 25c.

A cure direct to the diseased parts by the Vaporized Blower. Heals the ulcers, clears the air passages, stops drop-pings in the throat and permanently cures Catarrh and Hay Fever, 25c. a box; blower free. Accept no substitutes. All dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Na-Dru-Co Headache Wafers certainly do make short work of headaches. 25¢ per box. 139

You're not really sick, still you don't feel "just right."

How often is this true of hundreds of us. We're not really sick, but feel sluggish, out of sorts, our keenness and activity are impeded. The chief cause for this is constipation. When you feel that way, take

Wesden's Pills

25c Box. LOOK FOR THE RED SEAL

SOLD AND GUARANTEED BY

Warne Drug Co. and James Lynch, Peterboro'

UP IN NEW ONTARIO.

Got Rheumatism Through Exposure but Wesden's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

"While on a trip with a survey party in Northern Ontario two years ago, I contracted rheumatism through exposure and sleeping in damp clothes. When I returned home I was very bad, and the pain in my joints was something awful. I was advised to try Wesden's Kidney Pills, and after taking four boxes my rheumatism was entirely gone. Last year I was up on the survey party again, but I was never without a box of Wesden's Kidney Pills, and have never had the slightest return of it.

John S. Dillon,
Soo, Mich.

UNION BANK OF CANADA

The Union Bank of Canada gives a Modern Banking Service

There is a growing tendency, which we have always fostered, towards closer relations between business men and their bankers, with a broader and more valuable service from bank to customer. Open an account with the Union Bank of Canada and take advantage of the exceptional facilities which our 310 Branches enable us to offer.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH — C. E. PENNEFATHER, Manager
SOUTH END BRANCH, Cor. Park & Aylmer Sts. — A. C. MACKENZIE, Manager
HUNTSVILLE BRANCH — A. E. WILKINSON, Manager
BARRIE BRANCH — C. B. HEARNE, Manager
STERLING BRANCH — W. S. MARTIN, Manager

Cy Warman's Condition Serious.

CHICAGO, April 4.—The condition of Cy Warman, known as the Rocky Mountain poet, who has been ill in a hospital here for several weeks, is serious [redacted] according to his physicians. Mr. Warman was taken ill while at a hotel here March 15. His condition became so serious that he was taken to a hospital two days later.

Missionaries in Chips Warned.

PEKIN, April 4.—All the missionaries in the vicinity of Sian-Fu Province of Shensi have been ordered to take refuge in Sian-Fu, as the brigands have invaded the nearby plains and now are within twenty miles of the city. A Government force from the city of Shensi is proceeding to the affected district to relieve the situation.

ASQUITH ACCLAIMED

Crowds Greet Prime Minister on His Way to Scotland.

UNIONISTS ARE UNDECIDED

Their Next Move Will Depend Upon the Tone of Mr. Asquith's First Speech at Ladybank To-day and If Unpleasant Issue Is Raised They Will Fight Election—His Journey a Triumph.

LONDON, April 4.—Premier Asquith was given a big send-off when he departed from London yesterday for his constituency of East Fife, Scotland, where he is to deliver today a speech to his constituents. Large crowds of Liberal supporters gathered at the stations along the line, and at every stopping place the Premier received addresses from Liberal associations, expressing the wish that "the electors of East Fife will send you back to Parliament with redoubled authority to maintain the traditions of the army, the authority of the crown and the power of the people."

Mr. Asquith will make his first speech at Ladybank, eight miles southwest of Cupar-Angus. The Unionists threaten that if this speech is provocative in the sense of raising the army question as an electioneering device, they will regard their decision not to oppose the Premier's re-election.

At Edinburgh yesterday Mr. Asquith said:

"I really do not know what is going to happen now in Fife. I have been somewhat diverted as I came along by reading what my friends who are in political opposition to me are going to do. I gather that after some hesitation and much deliberation they have, provisionally at any rate, came to the conclusion that I am to have a conditional walkover; conditional that is upon my behaviour during the next two or three days. Gentlemen, this is very alarming. I can only say, and I say it in all good temper, that if they think that either hope or fear of what they are going to do or not going to do will have any effect whatever upon what I say or upon what I do, then it is high time they disabused themselves of that impression."

The Standard says the Unionists regard the big farewell demonstration when Mr. Asquith left London yesterday morning as provocate, and much will depend on whether his speech to-night is as conciliatory as it is hoped for or not whether he will have an opponent.

The "die hard" Conservative organs [redacted] warnings against undue optimism as to the Ulster situation. The Pall Mall Gazette, the daily edition of W. L. Garvin's Sunday Observer, declared yesterday that "an election first" remained the Unionist policy, and added: "If an election first be accepted, there will be an increasing movement in favor of the principle of federalism and full co-operation between the parties in working out a great scheme of devolution."

The Pall Mall Gazette reiterates the determination of the Unionists of Ulster to proceed with the establishment and proclamation of the provisional government if the Home Rule bill be passed before an election.

When yesterday's developments in Parliament are reviewed by the newspapers this morning there seems a general concensus of opinion that the politicians are drifting apart again, and that Mr. Balfour's speech has served to stiffen the once slackening opposition. The apparent Unionist support of Sir Edward Grey's federal idea proposition has dwindled away in view of the impossibility of carrying out such a scheme prior to a general election.

The Ulster leaders declare that there are but three alternatives — a referendum, a general election, or the withdrawal of the Home Rule bill and the consequent maintenance of Ulster's position within the Empire.

The Morning Post says the Liberals are now trying to make all possible capital out of Premier Asquith's bold appeal for a vote of confidence from his own familiar friends in East Fife, because the Unionists have not at once decided to contest the seat. The cry is being raised, they are afraid of challenging the verdict of the electors. As a matter of fact, in view of the strong feelings in the constituency, it is by no means certain that there will not be a fight. A contested election would serve a useful purpose even if its result were wholly unfavorable to the Unionist candidate. It is the Liberals who have shirked and who continue to shirk a fair and open trial at the bar of public opinion.

Premier Asquith's progress from London to Fife is calculated to awaken recollections among the elders of the people of Gladstone's famous travels through the country, when every stoppage was made the occasion of a speech from the train window. Addresses of confidence from local Liberals were presented at Grantham, York, Newcastle, Berwick and Edinburgh.

Joy is the peculiar feeling experienced by the man who counts his money and discovers that he has all he thought he had and a few dollars more.

The decennial celebration of the first flight by the Wright brothers is also a reminder that the real conquest of the air is still a long flight from realization.

Other managers spend the winter shaking $25,000 in one another's faces, but Connie Mack relaxes quietly at home making sofa pillows of surplus peasants.

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO, April 3.—Profit-taking by speculative holders of wheat developed into more than an offset today for stories of green bugs in Oklahoma. Accordingly the market closed weak at the same as last night to 1-2c to 1-4c down. Corn finished unchanged to 1-2c higher, oats 1-16c to 1-8c to 1-2c and provisions ranging from yesterday's latest figures to 5c to 7 1-2c decline.

Wheat futures closed at Liverpool today unchanged to ½d higher; corn, ½d higher.

TORONTO GRAIN MARKET.

Wheat, fall, bushel	$0 96	to $1 00
Barley, bushel	0 60	0 64
Peas, bushel	0 80	.....
Oats, bushel	0 42	.....
Rye, bushel	0 80	.....
Buckwheat, bushel	0 70	0 75

TORONTO DAIRY MARKET.

Butter, store lots	$ 24	$ 25
Butter, creamery, lb. rolls	0 31	0 32
Butter, separator, dairy	0 27	0 29
Butter, creamery, solids	0 27	0 28
Eggs, new-laid	0 21	0 22
Cheese, old, lb.	0 16	0 16½
Cheese, new, lb.	0 14½	0 15
Honey comb, dozen	0 60	2 00
Honey, extracted, lb.	0 09	.....

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, April 3.—Prices closed on the local exchange today as follows:

Cash: Wheat—No. 1 northern, 96c; No. 2 do., 94½c; No. 3 do., 94½c; No. 4, 83½c; No. 5, 76c; No. 6, 75c; feed, 70c; No. 1 rejected seeds, 94c; No. 2 do., 84½c; No. 3 do., 83½c; No. 1 smutty, 95c; No. 2 do., 84½c; No. 3 do., 83½c; No. 1 red winter, 96c; No. 2 do., 85½c; No. 3 do., 84½c.

Oats—No. 2 C.W., 25c; No. 3 C.W., 24c; extra No. 1 feed, 24½c; No. 1 feed, 23½c; No. 2 do., 22c.

Barley—No. 3, 44½c; No. 4, 42½c; rejected, 41½c; feed, 41c.

Flax—No. 1 N.W.C., $1.39; No. 2 C.W., $1.36; No. 3 C.W., $1.28.

CATTLE MARKETS

EAST BUFFALO LIVE STOCK.

EAST BUFFALO, April 3.—Cattle—Receipts, 50; easy; prices unchanged.

Veals—Receipts, 1200; active, $1 higher, $8 to $11.

Hogs—Receipts, 5000; active, 10c to 15c higher; heavy, $9.25 to $9.30; mixed, $9.35 to $9.40; yorkers, $9.15 to $9.40; pigs, $9 to $9.15; roughs, $8.25 to $8.50; stags, $7 to $7.50; dairies, $9 to $9.35.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 4000; active; ewes, steady; others, 10c to 25c higher; lambs, $8.80 to $8.85, a few $8.75; yearlings, $8.50 to $7.75; wethers, $6.75 to $7.25; ewes, $4 to $6.60; sheep, mixed, $6.10 to $6.40.

Britain's Conscience Fund.

Much more money has been sent anonymously to the British government's conscience fund than to that of the American government. The first recorded payment of this kind was the sum of $1,300, sent to Pitt in 1790, with a letter requesting him to apply the money "to the use of the state in such manner that the nation may not suffer by its having been detained from the public treasury. You are implored to do this for the ease of conscience to an honest man." Nearly every year since then the chancellor of the exchequer has received a certain amount of conscience money. In 1841 the chancellor received $70,000 from a person who stated that he had engaged in smuggling for many years, and that this sum represented all his profit therefrom. One year the conscience money forwarded by British taxpayer totaled $80,000.

Old Estimate of Field Hands.

The sixteenth century Earl of Warwick stayed the slaughter after the suppression of Kett's rising by an argument which shows how completely agricultural workers were regarded as mere "hands." Of the 20,000 insurgents who had encumped with Kett on Monselhold heath 2,000 or 3,000 had been killed in the battle, the strength of the victors lying in German and Italian mercenaries. Kett himself was hanged from the walls of Norwich castle, forty-five others were hanged, drawn and quartered in the market place, and 300 in all are said to have been executed. Warwick checked the demand for increasing the number of victims by asking, "What shall we do, then—hold the plow ourselves, play the carters and labor the ground with our own hands?"—London Chronicle.

Health worth having makes life worth living. If you feel run down, with a tendency toward throat and lung troubles growing on you—act quickly and wisely—take

NA-DRU-CO Tasteless Preparation of Cod Liver Oil

This is a perfect and pleasant combination of the best Norwegian Cod Liver Oil with Malt Extract, Cherry Bark and Hypophosphites. It restores wasted energies, fortifies the system to resist coughs and colds, and gives that abounding vitality which makes one glad to be alive. As a food-tonic after wasting illness, or for weak, puny children, it has few, if any, equals.

In 50c. and $1.00 bottles—at your Druggist's.

NATIONAL DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO. OF CANADA, LIMITED. 308

CANADIAN PACIFIC

EASTER FARES

Between all Stations in Canada, Port William and West, and to Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Suspension Bridge and Niagara Falls, N.Y.

SINGLE FARE. Good going Apr. 10 Return Limit Apr. 10 | Fare and One-Third Good going Apr. 9-10-11 Return Limit Apr. 14

COLONIST FARES

(One-Way [illegible]) to certain points in Alberta, California, Oregon, Arizona, British Columbia, [illegible], Washington, Idaho, etc. Daily until April 15th

REDUCED SETTLERS' FARES

(One-Way Second Class) Each Tuesday until April 28.

Through Trains Toronto to Winnipeg and West. Colonist Cars on All Trains. No change for Berths.

Particulars from Canadian Pacific Agents or write M. G. Murphy, D.P.A., Toronto.

J. Skinner, C.P.A., 343 George Street.

60 YEARS OF AGE

29 Broadway, New York

"I bought some of your GIN PILLS at Victoria, B.C., last September. Your remedy I find, at 60 years of age, to give perfect relief from the Kidney and Bladder Troubles incident to one of my age. I urgently recommend GIN PILLS to friends." E. G. WOODFORD.

GOOD FOR RHEUMATISM

Montreal, March 29th, 1912.

"It affords me great pleasure to inform you that I have used GIN PILLS for about six months and that they have done me a great deal of good. I had Rheumatism for two years and this winter I saved myself from it by taking GIN PILLS." A. BEAUDRY.

CURED HIS BACK

Lyons Brook, N.S., Feb. 20th.

"You are perfectly free to use my name in any way to benefit GIN PILLS, for they deserve the highest praise. My back has never troubled me since taking GIN PILLS, and my wife feels much better after taking GIN PILLS for her back."

JAMES L. NAUSS.

STONE IN BLADDER

Hamilton, Ont.

I was taken down with what the doctors called Inflammation of the Bladder.

My wife read in the papers about GIN PILLS and sent for a box. From the first they did good and in six weeks brought away a stone in Bladder.

John Herman.

KIDNEY DISEASE

Lachute Mills, Q.

March 11th, 1912.

"I was troubled for many years with Kidney Disease, and a friend told me to take GIN PILLS. After taking a few boxes I was greatly relieved, and after finishing the twelfth box, the pain completely left me."

Thos. Stephenson.

USED CRUTCHES

Perth, N.B.

For two years I was an invalid, incapable of any work and unable to move without the assistance of a crutch and a cane.

A friend advised me to try GIN PILLS, and within two months was completely cured."

Alex. Stephenson.

TERRIBLE PAINS

Marder Lake, Ont.

"I had been suffering for some time with my Kidneys and Urine. I was constantly passing water, sometimes as many as thirty times a day. Each time the pain was awful. I took GIN PILLS and they cured me in two days."

Sid. Castleman.

FREE SAMPLE

Brantford, Ont.

"After reading in the newspaper what GIN PILLS would do I thought I would write you for a free sample. I took them as directed, and thank God I am cured entirely. Altogether I took twelve boxes of the Pills. Now I can work every day."

John S. Anderson

LAME BACK

Cornwall, N.S.

"About a year ago, I was suffering so much with a dreadful Lame Back and Hips, that I could not stand up straight. I was informed by a friend about GIN PILLS. I have taken about twelve boxes and am now cured."

B. C. David

SEVERE PAIN

Hamilton, Ont.

"I have been for the last two years a cripple with Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. Your manager in this city recommended GIN PILLS and I have since taken eight boxes and am now cured."

W. C. Reid

A NEW MAN

Yarmouth, N.S.

"I have been bothered with Rheumatism for the past year. One day a friend advised me to try GIN PILLS and after taking one box of them, I felt like a new man and would advise all sufferers from Rheumatism to try GIN PILLS."

Wm. Conty.

From Ocean to Ocean come Words of Praise for Gin Pills

FOR THE KIDNEYS

Read what people right in your town or neighborhood—perhaps friends—say about GIN PILLS. These letters tell the story of GIN PILLS better than we can—because they tell the actual experience of those who have tested GIN PILLS and prove their true worth. Rheumatism—Stone in Bladder and Kidneys—Weak Kidneys—acute attacks of Kidney and Bladder Trouble—Chronic Inflammation of the Bladder and Cystitis—Lumbago and Sciatica—all these troubles are quickly relieved and permanently cured by GIN PILLS.

SOLD ON A MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE

WRITE FOR FREE SAMPLE

222

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, and sold by dealers everywhere on our money-back guarantee of satisfaction. Sample free if you write

NATIONAL DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO'Y, OF CANADA, LIMITED - TORONTO

KIDNEYS IN BAD SHAPE

I received the sample box of GIN PILLS and was greatly benefitted by them. My kidneys were in such bad condition I could not lift or stoop without pain. I have taken three boxes of GIN PILLS, working all the time at heavy work on the railroad and did not lose a day.

FRANK TRUMPER, Nagagami, Ont.

GOOD FOR WOMEN

Big Lorraine.

"During the last winter, I was bothered very much with a weak back. I was advised by a friend to try GIN PILLS and I did. The first box I found helped me very much and I found when I had taken the second, I was completely cured."

Mrs. F. WILCOX

DRUGGIST TOOK THEM

Winnipeg, May 19th, 1913.

"In the autumn of 1911, I suffered with a continual pain in the back. Having sold GIN PILLS for a number of years, I thought there must be good in them. I gave them a fair trial and the results I found to be perfect."

GEO. E. ROGERS.

Ko-Ko-Co Laxatives are different in that they do not gripe, purge nor cause nausea, nor does continued use lessen their effectiveness. You can always depend on them. 25c. a box at your Druggist's. 170
National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited.

COAL
PRICES
ROBT. HICKS
Will announce Opening Prices of D. L. & W. Scranton Coal, Screened by his Improved Process, on April 11th.
These Prices will interest you.

COAL
Why not burn the BEST.
Our Coal is recognised as
THE COAL OF QUALITY
If you are not using it NOW your neighbor is.
Ask them about it then order some for yourself.
The Peterborough Fuel & Cartage Co.
162 Charlotte Street
Phones—Bell 261-270
241 Aylmer St. Phone Bell 302

EAST CITY
COAL & WOOD
YARD
111 Hunter St. E. 'Phone 96
FIRST QUALITY
PITTSTON COAL
ALWAYS IN STOCK
Best Coal Mined,
at lowest prices.
Mixed Wood, per cord.....$5.00
Cutting and Splitting Extra
Also Dry Pine and Hemlock Slabs $3.50
A. WEIR J. F. McCARTHY

First Class Scranton
COAL
ALL SIZES IN STOCK
AT LOWEST PRICES
H.B. Taylor & Son
Both 'Phones 209
Cor. Aylmer & Wolfe Sts.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

Carrier No. 1

In private life Carrier No. 1 was known as Asahel Rugg, but always as Asahel Rugg, the letter carrier.

Elsie Denton lived with her father and mother out on Orange street, and she was one of the prettiest and most popular young women in Essex Falls.

For years Asahel Rugg had handed the blue-eyed, laughing girl, leaning upon the gate letters, cards, papers and parcels for herself and her house, and stopped for a gay word and a hearty laugh with her.

Carrier No. 1 was a chirographist of no little skill; he knew at the glance which told him the destination of the letter if it were from the handsome young engineer who had lived in the town the year before, or young Halsey Sears, who dashed about town in a rubber-tired buggy, and who used in the past to snowball him in winter and attack him with a pea-shooter in the summer.

The young engineer was Harry Pelton, who had lived in the town while he worked on the new bridge over the river. He was a clean, nice-mannered young fellow, and the town took a lively interest in the affair between him and Elsie, but he went off to the city after a while, as most of them did, and the affair was considered ended by all except Elsie and Asahel Rugg.

Halsey Sears was the only son of Hiram Sears, the carriage builder, and a fat, red-faced, loud laughing young man with a taste for trotting horses, big black cigars and the burleque shows which came to the opera house.

One night as Asahel Rugg was passing the Denton house on his way home to his cottage on the edge of the town, Halsey Sears whisked up in a smart runabout and dropped Elsie at her gate.

And Elsie began to look less bright and rosy as time went on, for Father Denton was becoming very friendly with the Sears family, and very importunate as to his ambitions for his child and his family.

"Business men, when they don't hear from some one they're expectin' to, usually write to know the reason," Rugg suggested one day.

"Oh, Mr. Rugg, a lady could never do anything like that," said Elsie, tremulously. But it was only two days later, when Asahel was locking up the letter box at the corner of Orange and Lakeside that Elsie came running to him, breathless and excited.

"Oh, Mr. Rugg," she panted, "will you please help me? I—I dropped a letter in there 'bout half an hour ago, and now I don't want it to go; I wouldn't have it go for—for anything, Mr. Rugg. Will you please give it back to me?"

"Was it to him?" asked Asahel bluntly.

She nodded and cast down her eyes.

"Mebbe you think you was a little over harsh to 'im, Elsie?" he suggested softly, "is that it?"

"No," she answered, unable to raise her eyes to his, "that isn't it, Mr. Rugg. I guess—well, you see, I wrote very hastily — all of a sudden—and now I guess I said—more than was proper. I'm afraid he'll think I'm begging him back, and I'm not, any such thing."

"Ahem," grunted Asahel, clearing his throat. His duty was now plain, and he became entirely Carrier No. 1. "I'm afraid I can't do nothin' to help you, Elsie. Givin' a letter that's been posted back to the writer is one an' the same as robbin' the Dominion mails."

From that time Asahel could hardly wait for the daily sorting of the mail, but the expected letter was long in coming, it seemed to him.

Once again he was passing the Denton place as Elsie and the carriage manufacturer's son returned from buggy riding, and the young people were so excited about something that they seemed not to notice him as he passed.

"Well, I shall come for an answer on your birthday night," declared the young man.

Carrier No. 1 went into the post-offices after finishing the last delivery and deposited the collection from the boxes on his route; then he started to go home, for carriers are not allowed to loiter in the office after their duties are performed. A mail had just come in from the West and the letters and parcels were dumped in a loose pile upon the sorting table. A bulky letter tumbled out of the heap and lay by itself near the edge of the table.

"Good lord!" he cried, pouncing upon it like a cat.

"Just stamp this, will you? I'm goin' to take it up to Miss Denton," he said to the young assistant postmaster.

"But you know you can't take that out of the office, Asa," protested the young official with authority. "You've now finished your day's work, and it's against regulations for you to touch any of the mail matter."

"Oh, damn the regulations!" shouted Asahel—and it was the nearest to profanity the men had ever heard from him—"I learned the regulations and et them up, young man, while you were still suckin' taffy round the streets here. It's little Elsie Denton's birthday, an' she goin' to have her letter if I lose my plagued job. An' I want a postmark on that letter."

"I won't stamp it," said the young man in an injured tone, "and if you take it out of the office I'll prefer charges against you, Rugg."

"What's the matter out here, anyhow?" asked the good-natured postmaster, coming out of his office, surprised at the wordy disturbance in his well-ordered stablishment.

"Rugg, here, has taken a letter out of the mail and says he's going to deliver it to Miss Denton, and I forbade him to do it; it's against regulations," accused the assistant.

"That's the case, exactly, Mr. Wells," said Asahel. "I know the regulations as well as the next man, but there's a little girl cryin' her eyes out for this letter, and she's goin' to have it if I have to fight my way outer this blamed place."

The postmaster laughed good humouredly. "Asa, you're a blamed old mule," he said, "but I'll be darned if I've got the nerve to fight you. Asa is kind of an old friend of the Denton family, and I guess perhaps he's got a right to take their mail up to them if they want him to."

It was near tea-time and Elsie sat by one of the parlour windows pretending to read. Asahel approached the house cautiously like a bandit. At last he chirruped a straind little whistle, and uttered a hoarse whisper, which might hav been heard from cellar to garret in the house: "E—l—sie!"

With that marvellous intuition peculiar to the sex, which never fails a conspirator in extremity the girl got up and laid down her book and sauntered out into the garden like a consummate actress.

"Here I am," whispered Asahel—"over here."

And he strolled ovr to the lilac and plucked a branch before she reached the fence.

"Here it is, Elsi," he whispered, eagerly, thrusting the fat letter into her trembling hand. But don't tell, 'cause it's against regulations."

Without a word the girl tore off the envelope and let it fall to the ground and breathlessly scanned the closely written sheets: and the crystal dew rushed into her eyes; and rosy flush which had lately been absent from her cheeks came back to its own suddenly. And as she devoured the written speech she utterly forgot that such a person as Carrier No. 1 lived, that she never knew when he stole softly away up the street with the smile of a saint on his face to hasten home and tell Mrs. Ruggs all about it.

Flowers for the table can be produced from budded branches of fruit trees. Cut short lengths of the branches and bring them into the house. Give them plenty of water and keep them in a sunny window until they begin to open. They can then be transferred to the table.

MOTHER OF SCHOOL GIRL

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Daughter's Health.

Plover, Iowa.—"From a small child my 12 year old daughter had female weakness. I spoke to three doctors about it and they did not help her any. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had been of great benefit to me, so I decided to have her give it a trial. She has taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound according to directions on the bottle and she is cured of this trouble. She was all run down when she started taking the Compound and her periods did not come right. She was so poorly and weak that I often had to help her dress herself, but now she is regular and is growing strong and healthy."—Mrs. MARTIN HELVIG, Plover, Iowa.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

If you are ill do not drag along and continue to suffer day in and day out but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a woman's remedy for woman's ills.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Hose bearing the Penman trademark snuggle like a second skin to every curve of foot and limb: They do not rip, or tear because there is not a seam about them. And they're made for men, women and children in cotton, cashmere, silk and lisle—in any weight and all popular colors.
Ask for Penmans Hosiery and look for the trademark!
Penmans Limited, Paris, Canada
Hosiery Sweaters Underwear
94

"I Wish I Had Beautiful Teeth Like Yours!"

"You Can Have! Stop Wishing and Start Chewing the Clean—Pure—Healthful
WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT
It's a mighty pleasant way to keep your teeth white and strong—to give you an appetite for food—then to help digest it. I think the refreshing juice of the mint leaves is the finest confection known. No wonder they call it 'The Goody That's Good For You.'"
Be SURE it's Wrigley's
BUY IT BY THE BOX
of twenty packages. It costs less—of any dealer—and stays fresh until used.
Chew it after every meal
Made in Canada
Wm. Wrigley Jr. Co., Ltd.
7 Scott St., Toronto, Ont.
WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT PEPSIN GUM
THE FLAVOR LASTS
THE FLAVOR LASTS
Wm. Wrigley Jr. Co. Ltd. TORONTO
84

All the world is to get its time from the Eiffel tower in Paris. That is all right. Paris has never been accused of being behind the times.

As a matter of fact, Mona Lisa has the peculiar smile of the wife who has lately rifled her husband's pockets in the still watches of the night.

Menelik of Abyssinia is again reported dead, and Raisuli of Morocco is again reported captured. They insist on keeping at their old tricks.

"Keep only well bred hens" advises a farm journal; but, then, most of 'em have already joined what the Socialists call the nonproducing class.

Oysters grow on trees in West Africa, says a report from London, but does the money with which to purchase them grow the same way?

Thomas J. Lynch did not vacate his job as president of the National league without registering a kick. An old ball player hates to lose a game anyway.

YOUR PERSONAL APPEARANCE.

A woman who it neat in her personal appearance is not apt to be untidy in the home.

It is hard to imagine a woman who is always clean and smartly dressed remaining in a house of dirt and disorder.

Any woman who continually lives in a chronic state of chaos, and dirt, will betray the fact to a close observer. No one remains impervious to their surroundings.

It is a good plan, therefore, for mothers to set young daughters a worthy example in this respect, by having strict rules and laws with regard to order in their home.

Attractiveness and neatness lead to greater efforts, and harmony is the result.

Have you ever in your life rested properly in a disordered room? Can you not recall a certain day, when you were "nearly dead" with fatigue and dropped in on a friend who asked you to have a cup of tea, in a perfectly charming room? The very walls spoke welcome! The perfect order of the place rested you,

No Cause For Rejoicing.

"Why is Gwendolen so in the dumps? She used to be so popular."

"Yes, with a lot of amateur photographers."

"Well, what's the matter now?"

"She has seen their poses of her."

Shiloh 25¢
A safe, old-time remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis and whooping cough. Does not upset the stomach. Perfectly safe for all ages, even nursing infants. A small dose, only needed and gives quick results. A household friend to thousands of Canadian homes since 1870. Buy Shiloh for coughs and colds.

To Absorb Freckles And Other Blemishes

Every spring numerous inquiries are made by girls seeking some reliable recipe for removing freckles. Last year very favorable reports were received from many who had used mercolized wax during the freckling season. The wax seems to possess unusual properties which completely absorb the freckles, with no harmful effect. The complexion improves wonderfully, becoming as soft as a rose petal, and as delicately tinted. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at any druggist's, spread a thin layer of it over the entire face every night for a while, washing this off in the morning. For rough, spotty skin, sallowness, blackheads, pimples, and all cutaneous blemishes, this treatment is superior to any other.

Springtime also brings wrinkles to many sensitive skins that are much exposed to winds and changing temperatures. To a half pint witch hazel add an ounce of powdered saxolite, which quickly dissolves. Bathe the face in this; the effect on a wrinkled skin is remarkable.

Aged Magistrate Retires.

RIDGETOWN, April 4. — When John P. McKinlay resigned the position of police magistrate of Ridgetown, the oldest magistrate in active service in Ontario, ceased his official duties. Mr. McKinlay celebrated his 91st birthday on Jan. 1, and has been holding court and deciding cases regularly.

Blacks Kill Missionaries.

PERTH, Australia, April 4.—It is reported that the blacks have destroyed the Drysdale River mission and murdered two priests and lay brethren and many half-breeds.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

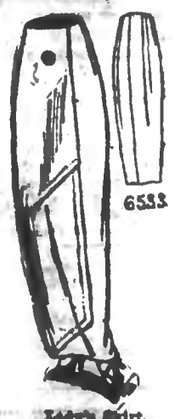
Eat Less Meat If You Feel Backachy or Have Bladder Trouble

Most forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

EXAMINER PATTERN SERVICE

DAILY FASHION HINT.



6533

Lady's Skirt.

This graceful two piece skirt is in semi-tailored style. The front is plain except for a box tuck half way down, near the line of closing, while the sides are somewhat gathered and leave the back flat. For a separate skirt plaid and striped materials, figured satins and sponge are used, and for costumes whatever is selected for the blouse or coat.

The skirt pattern, No. 6533, is cut in sizes 22 to 32 inches waist measure. Medium size requires 2¾ yards of 44 inch material.

This pattern can be obtained by sending 10 cents to the office of this paper.

When ordering remember to give your name and address as well as the number and size of pattern required, and age of a child.

Address—The Examiner Pattern Service, The Examiner Peterborough.

CHINA PAINTING
Mrs. Langley McCarthy
Teacher Bisoff's New and Recent Art Work in China Painting

LUMBER
Building Materials of all kinds. Sashes, Doors, Joist and Bill Stuff, Mouldings, Cedar Posts, Rose and Pine Slabs of Finish, Basing and Box Boards, Slabs and Mill Wood.
ALF. McDONALD ESTATE
Phone 28. Charlotte Street

NO PUBLIC 'PHONES

Provincial Government is Unwilling to Enter the Field

PROPOSAL IS VOTED DOWN

TORONTO, April 4.—After a brief debate yesterday the Ontario Legislature rejected J. C. Elliott's resolution regretting that Hon. I. B. Lucas had not submitted a report to the House on his investigations in Great Britain two years ago into the public ownership and operation of telephones, and urging that immediate steps be taken to establish a public-owned and operated service.

The debate was continued from Thursday night's adjournment. Mr. Elliott maintained that under proper administration the cost of this service would be greatly lessened and the benefit of the telephone extended to almost every home in the province.

Hon. Dr. Lucas, in continuing the debate, referred to the vague nature of the resolution. There was not a single suggestion what the Legislature should do except think about it. The whole matter, said the Minister, was one which came under the jurisdiction of the Federal Government, which had granted the concessions in the first place. As for buying out the company, it would take probably $30,000,000 to buy the Bell Telephone Co. Should they take up the long-distance and fight the thing out whith the Bell Telephone Co.- It would mean duplication of plant, immense economic waste in this province, and years of bitter fighting.

The amendment of Mr. Pattinson was carried.. It was to the effect that the House approve of the report of the Provincial Treasurer, made to the House in 1913, that experience in Great Britain justified the conclusion that it was not desirable for the Government to duplicate existing lines and enter into competition with the telephone system, owned and operated by a corporation over which the province had no jurisdiction.

Further amendments to the motor vehicles act are sought by Mr. Wm. McDonald (Centre Bruce) to reduce the speed of cars to four miles an hour when passing horse-drawn vehicles, and to prohibit the use of streamers and pennants.

To Drive Last Spike.

WINNIPEG, April 4.—A large number of railway men and special guests left Winnipeg last night on No. 1 over the G.T.P., bound west for the driving of the last spike in the Grand Trunk Pacific, which will link up the main line from Winnipeg to Prince Rupert.

The party included Morley Donaldson, general manager and vice-president of the G.T.P.; G. W. Cave, assistant general manager; A. S. Smith, manager of G.T.P. telegraphs; H. H. Hansard, legal representative; H. A. K. Drury, engineer of the board of railway commissioners, and a number of other officials.

YOUR HAIR NEEDS PARISIAN SAGE

It Quickly Removes Dandruff, Stops Falling Hair and Scalp Itch.

Just because your hair is full of dandruff, thin, streaky, dull, and never will do up to look pretty, do not think it must be so. Beautiful hair, thick, fluffy, lustrous and absolutely free from dandruff is only a matter of a little care. Hair is like a plant—it needs attention.

A little Parisian Sage, one of the most helpful and invigorating tonics, frequently applied and well rubbed into the scalp, will work wonders. Just one application stops itching head, removes dandruff, cleanses the hair and scalp of all dust and excessive oil. It goes right to the hair roots stimulating them and furnishing the nourishment that is needed—the hair becomes soft, fluffy, abundant and radiant with life.

Parisian Sage not only saves the hair and stimulates it to grow long and heavy but gives it that incomparable gloss and beauty so much desired by both girls and women of all ages.

Get a bottle from the Warne Drug Co. at once. Use it as directed and if you are not both surprised and delighted with results they will return your money.

Parisian Sage is faintly perfumed—no lasting odour — not sticky or greasy, and is sold in 50-cent bottles at drug and toilet counters everywhere. There is no other "Just-as-good." Accept nothing else.

VILLA IS IN CONTROL

He Has Now Conquered an Immense Wedge of Territory

EXECUTING HIS ENEMIES

TORREON, Mexico, April 4.—Gen. Villa, the victorious, took dinner in the Hotel Salvadore last night after two weeks of beans and tortillas, his hair uncombed and his face unshaven. The day was given over to looting and executions. Velasco and his little band of Federals are battling against the inevitable in an effort to gain a friendly port to the southward. In close pursuit is Ortega and Rosalio Hernandez. They have been barking at Velasco's heels all day, and they have orders to take him prisoner at any cost of men or mounts.

In the city the volley firing against adobe walls indicates the fate of the brave Federal defenders. No "Colorados" are to be taken prisoners. The "Colorados" are the former rebels of Orozco's revolution who joined with Huerta. Villa considers them as traitors, and says that they must pay the penalty all traitors pay. The poor neon Federals, driven to battle by the flats of swords, and impressed from the prisons, are to be spared, for men are needed to repair the line, to bury the dead, and bring in the wounded. How many have been killed, how few have escaped, and how many executed prisoners, no one will ever know. Velasco started the valiant defence of the city with 12,000. He left with less than 2,000, and many of these are dropping on the desert from the fatigue of the long fight and the wounds they received. Villa suffered heavily, and his losses will likewise be scurtless, as he keeps no muster roll and the unknown dead cover the flats by the river.

The fighting since Sunday week has been almost continuous. Repulse after repulse was suffered by Villa and his forces, but they returned to the fray, and finally triumphed. This victory is the most significant event that has occurred since Madero captured Juarez in his revolution. The revolution of Villa can no longer be classed as one of national importance. Huerta, at the National Palace, faces the most formidable revolution Mexico has ever seen. The very gates of the capital are to be stormed, and by a ragged outlaw brigand who crossed the Rio Grande only thirteen months ago with three mules, a sack of maize flour and a half-dozen followers. Last night Villa was cheered as the greatest military genius of modern Mexico. Recruits are flocking to him from all parts of the war-ridden country to replace the thousand men who were lost in battle. Before the celebration was under way Villa issued orders that Saltillo and Monterey, the two remaining garrisons in the central tier of the States, would be stormed, and he is already preparing to attack these points preliminary to moving on Mexico City itself.

With the taking of Torreon by the rebels the Constitutionalists now control an immense wedge-shaped portion of Mexico, with the point resting on Torreon, 500 miles south of here, and the top extending along the American border, from Nogales, Ariz., to a point just west of Eagle Pass, Texas. At Piedgras Negras, known as Ciudad Porfirio Dias, across the Rio Grande from Eagle Pass, there is a Federal garrison, but it does not now constitute a menace to the rebels.

Tampico To Surrender?

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Constitutionalist outposts within five miles of Tampico are preparing to attack the city, Rear Admiral Fletcher reported yesterday, adding that he had private advices that the Federals are preparing to surrender without resistance.

ROBERTS IS PRESIDENT.

British Covenanters Choose Field Marshal as Chief.

LONDON, April 4.—Lord Roberts last night was elected president of the League of British Covenanters at a meeting held in Caxton Hall. Resolutions were adopted at the meeting pledging the British covenanters to do all in their power to prevent the establishment of Home Rule in Ireland without sanction of the nation and the support of the people in Ulster in "their gallant struggle to maintain their constitutional rights."

Speeches were made at the meeting by Walter Hume Long, former Chief Secretary for Ireland; Lord Milner and Sir Edward Carson. Sir Edward said the Government either would have to exclude Ulster from their bill or make up their minds that they would have bloodshed and coercion.

Labatt's

ALE --- STOUT --- LAGER

PURE — PALATABLE — NUTRITIOUS — BEVERAGES

FOR SALE BY WINE AND SPIRIT MERCHANTS EVERYWHERE

LOCAL OPTION—Residents in the local option districts can legally order from this brewery whatever they require for personal or family use. Write to

JOHN LABATT, LIMITED, LONDON, CANADA

SEALER MAY BE LOST.

Fears For the Safety of the Steamer Southern Cross.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 4.—As the hour went by last night without word from the sealing steamer Southern Cross, fear grew that her crew of 170 men had been added to the toll of Tuesday's blizzard in which most of the sealer Newfoundland lost their lives.

The number of the Newfoundland's dead was placed definitely at 77 late yesterday, with the further possibility that several of the 112 who were rescued would succumb to the effects of the 48 hours' exposure.

Arrangements were made last night for the reception of the crew of the ship Bellaventure, which is expected to arrive to-day, bringing most of the dead, and many of the survivors.

In an effort to solve the mystery of the disappearance of the Southern Cross, the Newfoundland Government asked the American revenue cutter Seneca to leave the ice patrol and search for the missing sealer. The coastal steamer Kyle, which has a wireless equipment, was fitted out here for a cruise along the southeastern coast of which the Southern Cross was last seen on Tuesday morning, a few hours before the three days' blizzard set in.

Although the vessels of the so-called wooden walled sealing fleet of which the Southern Cross was one, have bucked ice floes with impunity, and are regarded as very staunch ships, sealers say her cargo of 17,000 seal pelts would be an active danger during a storm on account of instability.

Called Mason: Gets Damages.

MONTREAL, April 4. — Judge Charbonneau yesterday morning awarded Gonsalves Desnainier, K.C., $356 damages in his suit against L'Action Sociale, the organ of Archbishop Begin of Quebec. Mr. Desnainier asked for $25,000. L'Action Sociale reprinted the statements of a French professor who accused Mr. Desnainier of being a Mason, and always willing to stir up unfounded scandals against the Roman Catholic Church.

Union Station Plans.

MONTREAL, April 4.—Vice-President Kelley of the Grand Trunk yesterday morning considered the plans prepared for the proposed union station in Toronto. No statement is forthcoming from either the Grand Trunk or the C.P.R. as to when construction work will begin, but it is understood that the plans now being considered are the last that it will be necessary to produce, and that they may be adopted in the near future.

Greeks and Albanians Clash.

VIENNA, April 4.—A report was received here yesterday from Avlona, Albania, that Greek irregular forces were fiercely attacking Koritza and other towns on the Argyro-Castro Koritza line. Koritza was reported to be in flames, and many persons were said to have been killed.

RHEUMATISM AND BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Prof. Budlong Was Quickly Relieved of Both Afflictions by Using Rheuma

If you suffer from any form of Rheumatism, remember that RHEUMA goes to work quickly to remove the cause, not simply to relieve the distress. Many years' use has demonstrated that it goes to the seat of the disease and expels the poisonous matter through the natural channels—the kidneys, bowels, liver, and skin.

"For many years I was troubled with Rheumatism, also with Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. I suffered awfully. Tried many advertised remedies. After using your truly remarkable preparation, RHEUMA, I was fully cured."—Prof. C. J. Budlong, Sound View, Conn.

RHEUMA is guaranteed by Warne Drug Co., who sell it for 50 cents a bottle.

GEMS WORTH £1,000,000.

Huge Store of Glittering Wealth is Sold in London.

LONDON, April 4.—A great diamond deal has just been completed by Messrs. L. Bretmeyer & Co., London, who bought German Southwest African uncut diamonds to the amount of 900,000 carats for approximately £1,000,000. Other large firms in England and on the continent have been competing for the diamonds, which are of moderate size, and in bulk would almost fill an ordinary traveling trunk. They will be forwarded to England in parcels labelled according to the size of the stones. Transactions of this kind are carried out for the cost of the estimated value of the rough diamonds. One, in German Southwest African, in 1913, involved £13,000,000. The stones, which are sold through the Government, are found by the shore, where they are knocked into shape by heavy winds which cause the sand to rub against them. After a gale they can be found on the surface.

SPY GOES TO PRISON.

Frederick Adolphus Gould Gets Six Years; Wife Gets Off.

LONDON, April 4.—The trial of Frederick Adolphus Gould and his wife, charged with spying on the British navy, supposedly in the interest of Germany, was begun and ended yesterday at the Old Bailey.

Gould was sentenced to six years' penal servitude, to be followed by deportation. Mrs. Gould was discharged, the indictment against her being withdrawn.

The fact that Gould's arrest followed upon an investigation by the secret service police indicates that he obtained possession of important naval documents, and the serious view taken of the case was shown by the sentence, the maximum penalty being seven years.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poison! Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill.

Then again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this.

Again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh of 101 Delorimier Ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Co. and told them that for over twenty-five years he had had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four year ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. To-day—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years — he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema.

All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 1c. stamp (to pay return postage.) Address Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

DOESN'T OWN A SHARE.

Sir Hugh Graham Denies That He Is In Montreal Tramways.

MONTREAL, April 4—Five months The Montreal Herald before it was merged with The Telegram, printed this query in connection with its campaign against the street railway system: "Who owns ten thousand shares of Tramway stock?"

A "reader" has now written to The Montreal Star asking if it is possible that Sir Hugh Graham, its head, owns the stock, and Sir Hugh has issued a specific denial with the offer to give $800,000 to different hospitals and $200,000 "for a fund to provide a decent living for the blackmailers of the Montreal press," if his denial is found incorrect.

Sir Hugh's denial follows:

"Not only do I not own ten thousand shares of Tramway stock, but as it happens, I do not own one share and have no option promise, or expectation of shares. I remember some years ago my secretary having bought in the open market for my brother a small lot of street railway shares. That is the nearest I ever got to owning Tramway stock."

Steamer Montreal Disabled.

HALIFAX, N.S., April 4. — The C.P.R. steamer Montreal arrived in port yesterday from Antwerp in a disabled condition, and will probably go into drydock for repairs. The Montreal's rudder post snapped three days ago during a hurricane, and she steered for 380 miles by means of her propellers. The Montreal carried 183 passengers.

May Expropriate Company.

WINDSOR, Ont., April 4. — The president of the Sandwich, Windsor and Amherstburg Railroad Co. has refused an offer of $150,000 made by the civic light committee for the company's lighting plant, and expropriation proceedings probably will be taken. The object is to eliminate competition to the Hydro system.

Leaves Money Where Found.

MONTREAL, April 4. — Fifty dollars in bills having been left on the desk of H. M. Necker, city superintendent of motive power, as he believes, for the purpose of corrupting him in connection with the purchase of automobiles, the board of control yesterday morning decided to leave the money where it was found.

BITS FROM THE WIRES.

Five men are now dead as a result of the boiler explosion at the Drummond Colliery, Westville, N.S., Thursday.

John Coulter, governor of Welland County jail for thirty years, died yesterday morning from pneumonia, aged 73 years.

Welland Town Council has decided to accept the offer of a Carnegie Library and has purchased a site on Muir and Young streets for $9,000.

Rev. William Miller, who has been pastor of the U. B. Congregation Church at Listowel, has decided to go to Central Africa as a missionary.

John Sutherland, of Elkton, for over eighty years a resident of Blanchard Township, passed away early Wednesday morning, in his 87th year.

C. G. Cullum, who for the past nine months has been connected with the Petroleum branch of the Department of Agriculture, will join the staff of O. A. C.

The White Star line yesterday ordered another leviathan for the passenger service between Liverpool and New York. The new vessel is to displace 32,000 tons.

"Le Devoir" of Montreal announces that Henri Bourassa will leave about the end of the month for a five weeks' trip in England, Ireland and Scotland, to write for the paper.

Prince Henry of Prussia, accompanied by Ramon Barros, President of Chile, inspected twelve corps of the Chilean army in the presence of 50,000 spectators at Santiago yesterday.

Elizabeth Fry, a suffragette, attempted to board the train on which Premier Asquith was en route to East Fife yesterday, and after a terrific struggle with two policemen, was borne away unconscious.

A Question of Reliability.

LONDON, April 4.—The Spectator, commenting upon the status of the Panama Canal tolls repeal bill in the United States Congress, says in an editorial yesterday:

"The honor of the United States is now at stake before the whole world. We do not think we shall be charged with affectation if we say that the question whether British ships are, or are not, to pay more than their share for the up-keep of the canal is as nothing compared with the question whether the United States can or cannot be counted upon to accept the obvious meanings of treaties and scrupulously to observe them."

Windsor Wants Member.

WINDSOR, Ont., April 4. — The city council last night adopted a unanimous resolution to present a claim for a separate member of the Provincial Legislature in the next redistribution of seats. The last Government census showed the population to be 19,000, but it has grown, and now has reached the 25,000 mark.

The first aeroplane motor used by the late Wilbur Wright will be preserved in a French museum. It ought to be in the United States, but its presence in France will be a reminder of America's inventional progress in a field in which the French have made great strides.

DRUNKENNESS CAN BE CURED ALCURA WILL DO IT

ALCURA, the widely known treatment for Alcoholism can now be obtained at our store. It is guaranteed to cure or benefit, or money refunded. Remedy that has been tried by thousands and found to do just as it claims.

Drunkenness is a disease. Those who are afflicted with the craving for liquor have to be helped to throw it off. Alcura No. 1 can be given secretly in Coffee or food. Alcura No. 2 is the voluntary treatment.

Help your loved ones to restore themselves to lives of sobriety and usefulness and to regain the respect of the community in which you live.

Only $1.00 pr box. Ask for Free Booklet.

McDermid & Jury, Druggists, Peterborough.

PREVENT HAIR LOSS BY USING HERPICIDE

Did you ever try to discover a reason for the dying of a valuable plant? You perhaps found that life was destroyed by some insect or parasite working about the roots and sapping away the elements which go to support plant life.

The dandruff germ exercises the same destructive influence upon the life of the hair. It forces its way down the follicle around the hair bulb and thus prevents the hair from getting proper nourishment. The hair dies and drops out.

Newbro's Herpicide prevents this by eradicating the dandruff. It also frees the scalp from the accumulations of dirt and scarf skin. With the removal of these obstacles to a clean, healthy scalp, the hair will grow naturally and luxuriantly.

Herpicide is known as "the Original Dandruff Germ Destroyer."

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c. and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

Applications may be obained at the better barber shops and hair dressing parlours.

Send 10c. in postage or silver to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., for a nice sample of Herpicide and a booklet telling all about the hair.

McDermid & Jury, special agents.

Nurse Proclaims Skin Cure

"Ten years I suffered with eczema—three years of that time I could not appear in public. My entire body was covered with the disease. I could not eat. I could not sleep. I could not live. I have at last found the great Prescription D. D. D. My body is clean, smooth. If there were one bottle only of D. D. D. in the world and I had it, Mr. Rockefeller's millions could not buy the golden fluid."

Nurse Myrtle Hahn, (Watts Hospital, Durham, N.C.)

How about you?

If you have any skin blemish or a little rash, do not let it develop into something more serious. Remember D. D. D. Prescription has been recognized for fifteen years as the standard skin remedy. It always helps, and if used according to directions, it should cure in a short while.

All druggists sell this standard remedy, but if you come to us, we will offer you the first full size bottle with the guarantee that unless it stops the itch at once we will refund the purchase price. Ask also about the equally efficient skin soap.

McDermid & Jury, E. L. Payne, Peterborough.

Myrtle Hahn Says D. D. D. Prescription is Worth Rockefeller's Millions to Her

STOMACH TROUBLES DUE TO ACIDITY

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, stomach-ache and inability to retain food, are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. This trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, and said formation is not only unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity in a few minutes. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. F. P.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complxion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as it is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

IF YOU ARE A DRINKING MAN

You had better stop at once or you'll lose your job. Every line of business is closing its doors to "Drinking" men. It may be your turn next. By the aid of OBRINE thousands of men have been restored to lives of sobriety and industry.

We are so sure that OBRINE will benefit you that we say to you that if after a trial you fail to get any benefit from its use, your money will be refunded.

When you stop "Drinking," think of the money you'll save; besides, sober men are worth more to their employers and get higher wages.

Costs only $1.00 a box. We have an interesting booklet about OBRINE that we are giving away free on request. Call at our store and talk it over.

Wm. Madill, corner of Hunter and George Streets.

"Get the habit" and call at
JAY'S STORES
they know how to sell cheap, for cash.
All kinds of Furniture and Stoves in stock also Sewing Machines from $4.00.
Ladies and Gentlemens secondhand clothing. We have a lot of children's new dresses made up for spring. Call and see them.
320 Aylmer St. Phone 633

J. J. SHADGETT
High-grade
Sign, Carriage and Motor Car Painter
REPAIRS ATTENDED TO
Phones 443, Residence 1402
Cor. Charlotte & Aylmer

PIANO TUNING
Orders for Piano or Organ Tuning promptly attended to
W. H. CUNNINGHAM,
243 Weller Street.
Phone 790.

Dominion Cafe
Modern and up-to-date dining rooms; also private dining table. Drop in and try our special China dishes. Nothing but the best of steaks and chops used. We guarantee the best of satisfaction to strangers, and all our patrons. 'Phone 105
328 George St
TOM HILL Manager.
Open from 7 a.m. to 2 a.m.

New York Chinese Cafe Co.
328 George St. Phone 308
Regular meals served and short order at all hours. Oysters in every style and splendid hot coffee served day and night. Yee Yen, Manager

Cash or Credit For Furniture
Stores filled with every day requirements for comfortable homes. Represents: Parlour Tables, Rockers, Draperies, Bedroom Outfits, Rugs, Mattresses, Baby Carriages, Etc.
EMPIRE FURNITURE CO.
299 George St. Opposite Customs House
Telephone 812.
CASH OR CREDIT

Peterborough's Public Free Library, 120 Hunter
The Library Room is Open Week Days, Excepting Tuesday Only, Continuously Open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.
Office Phone 250. Residence 1104

The Evening Examiner.

Pages 9-16

PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, APRIL 4, 1914

TAX RATE MAY BE REDUCED TO TWENTY-FIVE AND A HALF MILLS

Will Mean a Further Reduction in the Estimates of Five Thousand Dollars---Street Watering Appropriation Will Suffer---Council Will Prepare By-law.

It was a hard battle. For the most part of the time it was waged while upwards of twenty thousand inhabitants of this fair City slumbered. Its course was intensified by the uncertainty of the issue, and the potential effect of a right or wrong decision. It involved nine members of the City Council, comprising His Worship Mayor Buller, Anderson, Langford, Johnston, Duffus, Green, Gordon, Saunders and Duncan. The issue at stake was the tax rate, and the snag that held up civic legislation for nearly two hours and defeated the purpose of the meeting which was as to whether the tax rate should be fixed at twenty-six or twenty-five and one-half mills. Sufficient to say, the meeting adjourned with the question undecided, and a motion to subject the budget to a microscopic examination with a view of determining whether it would stand a further reduction of five thousand dollars so as to facilitate a twenty-five and one-half mills' tax rate. The post-mortem on Ald. Anderson's list of estimates will have to be made before Monday night next, as upon that date, a by-law will have to be enacted, fixing the tax rate for the year 1914. Ald. Saunders voted for a reduction of one-half mill and immediately lapsed into his characteristic attitude of stolid silence, even when the discussion waxed hottest and one or two of the Aldermen were ready to forsake the Council Board.

Alderman Green's anxiety to catch the last car for home found little favour with the majority of the members that constituted a meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council, and which foregathered in the City Hall last evening for the purpose of fixing the tax rate for the current year. The meeting proved to be a strenuous conclusion to a hard week as was evidenced by the desire of a number of the aldermen to limit the discussion and bring matters to a speedy and satisfactory conclusion. The Council has given more attention to civic business during the present week than probably during any previous week of the year. A portion of the time was spent in Toronto in connection with the city's private bill, and Mayor Buller's radial railway scheme.

Aldermen Duncan and Green's motion to have a by-law passed fixing the rate at twenty-six mills followed Alderman Anderson's presentation of the budget, which he declared necessitated an expenditure of $123,643. The amount that would be raised by the adoption of a twenty-six-mill rate would be $129,681, which leaves a difference of $38.

Amendment Carried.

The original motion was followed by an amendment fathered by Aldermen Gordon and Duffus, to have the rate fixed at twenty-five and one-half mills. The amendment carried so that it remained for the committee to reduce the proposed expenditures by about five thousand dollars. The following reductions were suggested by Alderman Gordon.

Board of Works Department	$1,500
Hydro-Electric	1,000
Fire Department	500
Miscellaneous	500
Street watering	500
Special grants	400
Fuel and repairs for incinerator	270
Total	$4,670

Only Tentative.

These reductions are only tentative and are subject to change. It was also suggested that a portion of the salaries of the engineering staff be charged to the cost of constructing the proposed sewage disposal system, in so far as such a course is possible. This would mean that a portion of City Engineer Parson's salary would be chargeable to the debenture debt instead of figuring in expenditures that are provided for by direct taxation. Under the general rate the whole amount raised by direct taxation is $123,681.89. Of this amount the city has control of about forty or fifty thousand dollars.

Mayor Buller—"I would like to see a twenty-five-mill rate."

Alderman Duncan—"So would I. But it is evident that we have got to make it twenty-six mills to do the work right."

Alderman Anderson also objected to the tax rate being reduced to twenty-five and one-half mills. He pointed out that the Board of Works had less money to spend this year than they had last year.

Alderman Green—"You can't cut the rate without sacrificing much of the needed improvement. We can't afford it."

"If we increase the rate this year, what's going to prevent an increase next year?" queried Alderman Gordon. "If we don't inaugurate a policy of retrenchment the rate will continue to go up each year."

Wanted Incorporation.

Alderman Johnston submitted that the separation of the various municipal boards such as the Police Department, which is managed by a police commission and the school board, was not conducive to economic government, and not until these bodies were incorporated under the City Council, would the best intereats of the people be served.

"That will never be," said Alderman Anderson. "The Legislature will never conceede the control of the municipal department of education to the City Council. Tax rates are increasing all over the country. Our expenditures are increasing from year to year. The local hospitals and the school board have contributed their gether and endeavour to fix the rate I don't think it is good policy to cut the rate, and I don't think the people will think so," said Alderman Anderson in conclusion.

The matter was left over until Monday, when the committee will get together and endeavour to fix the rate so as to facilitate the passage of a by-law at the regular meeting of the City Council on Monday evening, confirming the rate for the current year. Some of the aldermen are confident that the rate will be reduced, while others are equally as confident that it will remain at twenty-six mills.

The Tramps Score Again

500 People Saw Entertainment in the Y.M.C.A.

Five hundred people saw the repeat performance of the Tramps' Re-union in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium last night and the programme which was snappily and cleverly put on, was greatly enjoyed. The whole entertainment reflects great credit on Physical Director J. J. Thompson, to whose efforts the success of the project must be credited.

APPOINTMENT OF R. N. STEWART NOT RECOMMENDED

To the Editor, The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In this morning's issue of the Times appears an article to the effect that Mr. R. N. Stewart had been appointed as caretaker of the Lovesick Lock in place of William McFarlane, and that Mr. Stewart had been recommended by the Conservative Association of Young's Point.

I wish to state that Mr. Stewart's name was never considered by the Conservativ Association of Young's Point, and he was not recommended by them.

W. E. Brooks,
President Conservative Association of Young's Point.

Soloists Secured For St. George's Choral Society's Big Production

The St. George's Choral Society wish to announce that they have secured the following artists for the Judas Maccabaeus production on Wednesday, April 29: Miss Olive Casey, soprano, who is considered one of the finest oratorio singers in Canada; Mr. Frank Oldfield, basso, and Mr. Albert Downing, tenor. These gentlemen are soloists in the Eaton Memorial Church Choir, Toronto. They will tour England with the University Glee Club during July and August. The Choral Society has also been successful in obtaining the instrumental quartette from the Toronto Symphony Orchestra.

POOR TRUST HELD MEETING

A meeting was held in the chambers of the Dominion Bank this afternoon by the William Hall Dominion Peterborough Poor Trust.

When the late William Hamilton passed away he bequeathed the sum of thirty thousand dollars to the Protestant poor of Peterborough. The Board of Trustees is appointed of 4 Presbyterians, 1 Methodist, 1 Baptist, Anglican and 1 Bible Christian.

The money is distributed among the poor, as occasion demands it.

BOTH SIDES WILL MODIFY THEIR METHODS

Unionists and Liberals Alike Badly Frightened Over the Recent Incidents—England Was Within an Ace of Civil War

A CABLE FROM CHESTER

Special Cable to The Examiner:

Special Chester Cable:

LONDON, Eng., April 4. — The present position of the Home Rule controversy is this,—both sides have tacitly agreed to modify the extreme controversial methods. Unionists and Liberals are both now saying little concerning the army versus the people, most Liberals being satisfied with having restated the authority of Parliament, and the Unionists recognizing such a cry means certain defeat.

Both sides are combining to keep the King's name outside the controversy. People who freely claimed his support privately in their anti-Government views have had a severe lesson. Both sides realize they blundered over the Curragh incident. The Liberals admit the methods of dealing with the officers was stupid and needlessly provocative, while the Unionists recognize they were playing with lightning when they asserted the right of the officers to disobey orders. Both sides are badly frightened over the recent incidents. They knew England was within an ace of civil war.

Federalism represents, apparently, the only possible way of settlement, and it will likely be adopted. The Nationalists regard the exclusion of Ulster in order to formulate the Federal scheme, with unconcealed dislike. They recognise Federalism would rob the Dublin Parliament of much of its glory and power, but they have no alternative scheme which would avoid the coercion of Ulster. The suggestion is made in some Unionists quarters that Ireland should have two local parliaments, making Ulster a separate unit. This would be unacceptable. Many Liberals are anxious that under the Federal scheme that the central parliament should be a single chamber body.

130,000 PAID ADMISSIONS TO FOOTBALL GAME

Special Cable to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., April 4. — There were one hundred and thirty thousand paid admissions today to the great soccer game at Glasgow. It was a record-breaking crowd, and the sight was magnificent.

Result was Scotland 3, England 1.

AXE SLIPPED SEVERING FOOT

Accident Resulted Fatally to Young Man in Smith Township

SHOCK CAUSED DEATH

The death took place this week of Frederick Hampton, son of Mr. William Hampton, of Smith, at the age of 18 years and 6 months, under peculiarly sad circumstances. On Friday of last week the young man was engaged in chopping wood on his father's farm in Smith Township, when the axe slipped and struck his left foot, the sharp blade nearly severing the front part of the foot. The injured man was brought to Lakefield where the wound was dressed, the cut requiring a great many stitches to close it. He was unable to survive the shock and passed away early on Tuesday morning. The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon, the remains being interred in the Hillside cemetery.—Lakefield News.

SUPPLY OF SYRUP WILL BE SHORT THIS SEASON

None Has Yet Been Offered on the Local Market—Other Prices Are Steadily Dropping—The List

Last week the patrons of our local market were looking for maple syrup and were disappointed, and their conceptions were again deceived this morning when no sign of the sweet liquid was noticed. The tapping of trees in Canada seldom commence before March, and should be done when indications point to warm days and frosty nights. It is safe to predict that the season this year will be a very poor one, and only a change in the weather will alter the present conditions.

Butter.

A large quantity of butter found a ready sale at from 32 to 33 cents a pound. The price, however, had no relation to the quality offered. The price also was almost identical with that of two weeks ago, displaying the fact that conditions for butter making were not improving.

Eggs.

Eggs have dropped considerably in price during the past two or three weeks. At that time 25 cents a dozen to all was the price, but this morning 19 cents per dozen was the prevailing price. To account for such a drop in price it is to suggest that the feathered farm yard occupants are awake to the fact that Spring is with us, and are accordingly exerting their greatest energies to alleviate the sufferings of the poor housekeeper.

Outside Supplies.

Corresponding with last week, the attendance was very small, and those present did all the trade. The usual commodities were to be found in fair quantities, at the same prices that usually prevail among the men with the rigs. Potatoes were not quite so plentiful as usual, and sold readily at from $1.15 to $1.25 per bag. Beef sold at 12 and 13 cents a pound, while pork raised a cent, to 13 and 14 cents; for a like quantity.

Other prices were: Oats, 36 cents a bushel; barley, 50 and 55c.; fall wheat, 97 and 98c., spring wheat 90 cents a bushel; hay, $12 and $18 a ton for loose and baled hay, respectively.

GRAVE FEARS IN MEXICO CITY

Special Wire to The Examiner:

MEXICO CITY, April 4.—There are grave fears of what may happen here if Villa pushes his Torreon victory in this direction and advances to capture this capital city. It is thought that President Huerta would not scruple to destroy Mexico City if it came to a battle and defeat here.

BONNIE BEL AIR LOOMS INTO LIGHT OF INVESTIGATION

Mr. E. B. Carvell's notice of inquiry in the House of Commons as to who was appointed to purchase the Bonnie Bel-Air property for the Government, will give the Minister of Militia an opportunity of clearing up a mystery. The bald facts in connection with this purchase are that for a considerable period in the early part of 1912 there was great activity in certain circles in connection with the purchase of a military camp site near Montreal. Then, on June 17, the Militia Department paid Messrs. Rodden, Fair, and Cameron $180,000 for the Bonnie Bel-Air property at Dorval, a large portion of which property was purchased by Major Rodden only a matter of days previously. Now the remarkable thing is this: On May 23, 1912, an Order-in-Council was passed authorizing Col. Sam Hughes to pay $180,000 for "a camp site near Montreal." On June 8—just 16 days, afterwards — Major Rodden purchased the property completing the Bel-Air block, and just nine days afterwards the Government re-purchased it from him, at over 10 per cent. advance on the purchase price, the net profit on the transcation being $95,004.

All this is remarkable. But nothing short of startling is the extraordinary coincidence that the sum paid to Major Rodden on June 17 was exactly the amount mentioned in the Order-in-Council passed on May 23, although Mr. Rodden did not buy the property till June 8. Now if Col. Hughes had no particular block of land under option on May 23, why did he get an Ordesin-Council passed empowering him to pay exactly $180,000 for one? And if he did have this particular site in mind, why did he get this military man—this major—to act on behalf of private speculators, instead of on behalf of the Government, in purchasing the property? And lastly, how was the valuation of exactly $180,000 arrived at? Mr. Carvell shows legitimate curiosity in demanding to know who was appointed to make the purchase.—Montreal-Herald Telegraph.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The Life Problem Club will meet Sunday afternoon at 4.15. The speaker will be Chief Thompson. A hearty invitation is extended to all young men.

The senior traders' examination will be held to-night at 8 o'clock.

City Basketball League to-night at 8 p.m., P.A.C. vs. P.O.I.

BIG CIRCUS FOR PETERBORO'

Peterborough is to be visited by a big circus this season. Mr. N. J. Petit, representative of Ringling Bros' Big Shows, was in the city yesterday making arrangements for the visit to Peterborough of this monster attraction. June 20th is the date fixed for the appearance of Ringling Bros. here. Peterborough is one of the few cities in Ontario favoured with a visit from the big shows.

SALVATION ARMY IN OLD TEMPLE

Through the Kindness of the Christian Scientists the Army Will Hold an Early Morning Service on Easter Sunday in the First Temple They Occupied Here

SPECIAL SPEAKERS

What bids fair to be the biggest event in Salvation Army history in this City starts next week.

Thursday, April 9th, will will be the 29th anniversary of the opening of the Salvation Army in Peterborough, and the officers and soldiers are planning big things in the way of a five days' special campaign.

On the opening night His Honour Judge Huycke, Mayor Buller and Magistrate Dumble will be the principal speakers. Good Friday, there will be two special services in keeping with the commemoration of the death of Christ. Saturday evening will be an old-timers' meeting, and a welcome to Staff-Captain and Mrs. McAmmond, old officers of the Corps.

On Sunday morning (Easter) there will be a march at 6.30 a.m. and an old-fashioned love feast in the first building which the Army held services, on Aylmer Street, kindly loaned for the occasion by the Christian Science brethren.

A holiness meeting will be held at 11 a.m., conducted by Staff-Captain and Mrs. McAmmond.

At 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon J. H. Burnham, M.P., A. E. Peck, M. P. P., and a representative of the City Council will be the chief speakers. Further details of this meeting will be forthcoming later.

Sunday night's meeting will be conducted by Staff Captain and Mr. McAmmond.

Monday night, the wind up of the special series of the five days' meeting, will be Young People's night, when a beautiful Easter service will be given by the children, entitled the Floral Cross.

Adjt. and Mrs. McElhinney and all the local corps are looking forward to the best results obtainable in the interests of the work of God in this City and the work of the Salvation Army.

An anniversary banquet will be included in the big events. Leave Thursday night open or put it down for you should attend the opening of these big events.

Appeal Is Allowed By Judge Huycke

An appeal was heard yesterday afternoon by His Honour Judge Huycke against the fine of $100, which was imposed on Herbert Clayton, by Magistrate Dumble, for allowing a child, under the age of fifteen years, unaccompanied by an adult, to witness a performance of moving pictures. It will be remembered that the cause, which was heard some weeks ago, was decided on the evidence of Robert Batley, a young lad of thirteen years, who, as he acknowledged, was a thief, and as was proved, wrong in his statements.

The case was appealed before the Division Court, yesterday, and evidence was given by the boy, Batley, along the same lines that he had given at the Police Court.

At the conclusion of the evidence, Mr. O'Connell, counsel for Mr. Clayton, moved for a dismissal of the case, as the evidence did not prove that Clayton was connected with the Theatre in any way, either as owner, or manager, and therefore there was not anything to connect him with the case, and upon the grounds that the evidence was not strong enough to warrant a conviction.

The Judge agreed with that view and said that as Clayton's connection with the Theatre had not been proven there was, therefore, nothing to do but allow the appeal and quash the conviction.

Mr. O'Connel was then asked if he would apply for costs and in reply, he said that under the circumstances he would not. The consequence is that the fine imposed upon Mr. Clayton, is but now payable.

BUILDINGS AND YARDS MUST BE CLEANED ON OR BEFORE MAY FIRST

FAIR DIRECTORS WILL DOUBLE THE GRAND STAND

Also Engage O. A. C. Man to Lay Out the Grounds Preparatory to Determining Where Buildings May Be Located—Dates Conflict With Lindsay's

BETTER ATTRACTIONS

The directors of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibtion, at a meeting held last night, indicated that they are determined to go ahead with the improvement of their present grounds. It was decided to secure the services of Prof. Hutt of the Ontario Agricultural College, at Guelph, for the purpose of laying out the grounds, locating sites for buildings and generally preparing plans for the improvement of the grounds.

The members feel that the present grandstand is not large enough for the growth of the Fair and will secure estimates on the cost of doubling the present structure.

The Peterborough and Lindsay Fairs conflict as to dates, but this is not deterring the local directors. It is more of an incentive to make the Peterborough Fair as big and attractive as possible.

There was some discussion about the changing of the entrance gates. Two proposals were submitted. One favoured the erection of a temporary entrance near the corner of Lock and Lansdowne streets. The other suggestion recommends a permanent gate on the north side, at the foot of Lock Street. At this gate is is proposed to install turnstiles, the price of which is already at hand. No definite action was taken last night but it is felt that the matter will be disposed of in the near future.

Better Attractions.

The directors have practically decided to follow a new method of securing attractions. In the past the grandstand features were obtained through a booking agency, but by dealing directly with the producers there is a prospect of securing much better shows. This is another detail that has to be worked out during the coming weeks.

Gun Club May Go.

While no action was taken in regard to the use of the grounds by the Peterborough Gun Club, some of the members stated that they thought the Club could secure an equally satisfactory location for their shoots. The complaints of the residents in that vicinity, objecting to the gun reports are receiving the consideration of the Directors.

BIG ATTRACTION FOR ROYAL THEATRE
Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday

May Kelly, novelty entertainer, will headline the bill at the Royal Monday. May Kelly opened at the Majestic Theatre, Toronto, six weeks ago, and was held there for six weeks owing to her splendid specialties. Don't fail to see her Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday at the Royal Seven reels of special motion pictures on the same bill. Admission 5 and 10c. Special programme for Holy week.

Telephone For Night Constable

Several merchants in discussing the burglaries on Thursday stated that a telephone should be placed by the town in Night Constable Short's residence. Although the officer was on duty the time the burglaries were committed, he knew nothing of the affair and he came up town the following afternoon. Of course the alleged burglars were arrested, but had they escaped, much time would have been lost in ascertaining whether the night constable had seen any suspicious characters during the night, and a clue furnished that might prove of importance. Under present conditions it was argued, such information cannot be promptly obtained

Yes, and they might remove Constable Short's chair from the post office

City Sanitary Inspector Spence Has Promised That This Regulation Will Be Strictly Enforced—Outside the Privileged Area, the Annual Clean-Up Is Still Regarded as a Necessary Evil.

SOME HINTS FOR HOTELS

While "in the Spring time the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love," the thoughts of the more sedate and harassed householder wearily turn to the cleaning-up of the back yard. This erstwhile, disagreeable duty has materially lost its terrors for those who reside in the garbage collecting area and have availed themselves of its advantages, while outside the privileged area the annual clean-up is still a necessary evil. The man who has conscientiously, during the winter months, carried out the garbage bylaw, has now the laugh on his recalcitrant neighbour, who has allowed a heap of refuse to accumulate at his back door, inviting Nemesis, in the form of a Board of Health notice, requiring its removal in twenty-four hours under penalty of a fine.

Yards Clean by May 1st.

According to the Public Health Act, Schedule B, all cellars, buildings, out buildings and yards and outside closets must be cleaned on or before May 1st, and Sanitary Inspector Spence has promised that this will be strictly enforced. This provision of the Act yearly becomes easier to comply with as the garbage collecting areas increase, and when the whole City is served the necessity of such a regulation should become obsolete, for there will then be no plausible excuse for having dirty and untidy yards.

Wrap garbage in Paper.

Now that the incinerator is working the householder is no longer required to keep his garbage in a receptacle by itself. The following regulations should be carefully observed: Keep all table refuse, peelings, vegetables, discarded food, tea leaves, etc., dry, and wrapped in paper. This will prevent odour, keep the flies away, (a very necessary thing), and keep the garbage can clean. This garbage may be deposited in a covered receptacle along with all other refuse, except ashes. Ashes must be kept by themselves in boxes or other receptacles that can be handled by one man. The heavier and more cumbersome the box, the more likelihood of injury occurring to it. Place your receptacles in a convenient position at 7 o'cock in the morning on the day of collection, following out the above regulations, and you will have a satisfactory service.

The Latest in Garbage Receptacles.

The Morgan Hardware Co. has a splendid article for holding garbage, and where one of these is in use the housefly will be put out of business. It consists of a metal framework to which can be fitted an oiled waterproof paper bag. Attached to the frame is a metal selfclosing lid which fits over the mouth of the bag, thus preventing flies from gaining access to the contents. This appliance can be fixed to the wall by the sink or any convenient place and garbage deposited in the bag whenever occasion requires. As soon as the bag is full, pull the string attached thereto and the bag is slightly closed. It is then removed and another bag fitted in the frame. The bags are of various sizes, the largest being big enough to hold a week's garbage from an average household. A man could buy no better Easter present for his wife than one of these up-to-date, sanitary garbage holders.

Hints for Hotels and Restaurants.

Special efforts will be made this summer to exterminate the fly in hotels and restaurants. This nuisance will not be tolerated by the Board of Health, and swarms of flies in the dining room or kitchen of an eating house will be sufficient justification for the cancellation of the license. It is not too early to make provision for eliminating this pest by arranging for screen doors and windows, and fly-proof receptacles for garbage, and where there is a stable yard to see that the manure box is fly proof.

Whitewash Outbuildings.

Stables, chicken houses, and other outbuildings would be benefitted by a coating of lime this Spring. This would entail but little expense and labour, and with a small amount of arbolic acid added to the lime, would act as a good disinfectant.

Best for Fort William.

The first movement of the local boats was noticed this morning when Mr. Cameron's launch was taken from its winter quarters, at the foot of Lock Street, was loaded on to a flat car at the C. P. R. station, preparatory to a trip to Fort William.

Evening Examiner

'Phones: Editorial 1066, Business Office 1065
Private Branch Exchange to all Departments.

The Paid Circulation of The Daily Examiner is Over

4700 COPIES DAILY

SWORN TO AND GUARANTEED

The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited: Office, 340 George Street.

The Weekly Examiner, published Thursday morning.

The subscription price of The Daily Examiner is $4.00 per annum; that of The Weekly, $1.00.

Special U. S. Representative: W. H. Stackwell, 600 People's Gas Building, Chicago, Ill.

Advertising rates on application.

Hon. J. R. STRATTON, President.
R. H. GLOVER, Managing Director.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

SATURDAY, APRIL 4, 1914

AN IMPROVEMENT.

The provision of two extra members of the police force, permitting the patrolling of the outlying districts of the city, is a movement in the right direction. Heretofore citizens of the residence sections of the city—outside police patrol—have not only not had adequate protection, but virtually no protection at all. The presence of the police in these districts will have a deterrent effect, and yield a revenue besides. If the offence of riding bicycles on the sidewalks, to the danger and annoyance of pedestrians, remains as frequent as it has been in the past, the two extra policemen can be made useful in collecting enough in fines of offenders to pay their salaries. But the offence will not be so frequent. The very presence of a policeman, with the possibility of his appearing any moment, will have a wholesome effect, not only on disobedient bicyclists, but will deter the many bad boys whose actions in the unpoliced residence streets, while nto being overtly vicious, have been annoying to citizens and deprived them of the comfortable conditions of residence and living that is the right of everybody. Disorderly characters, tramps, "mashers" and that class will be under surveillance, and the tendency will be that they will curtail their activities and avoid places where they cannot operate with impunity. This will make the streets safe for unprotected females. Besides, the better possible enforcement of the curfew law, will keep children off the streets at unseemly and forbidden hours, and tend to lessen the dangerous schooling in vice that our resi-fall, without adequate police dence streets, especially after night-control, provide, especially for young girls. The extra policemen detailed for duty in the residence streets of the city represent a decided improvement in the conditions that make Peterborough a pleasant, safe and comfortable place to live in.

COMMISSIONS.

Investigation into the Transcontinental is not to be ended with the partisan report of Messrs. Gutelius and Lynch-Staunton. The Liberal members of the Public Accounts committee at Ottawa are aiming to insert the probe into some of the transactions in connection with the railway since the present government come into power and assumed the responsibility. Though the Liberals are going into the matter in a proper way they are not going at it rightly if their object is to gain political capital by injuring their opponents, whether there is anything wrong or not. To be consistent with the Borden government plan, to parallel it in its main feature, there shou'd have been appointed a commission of two Grits, with full power to conduct a dark lantern inquiry, and, to give them a freer hand, they should not be sworn to deal honestly with their duties. Borden government commissions are not to be rated very high. Even government supporters are pretty hard critics of them. During the South Lanark bye-election, the Nestor of the party, Hon. Geo. E. Foster, said that "commissions were useless.' They were as thick as blackberries and that the reports they made were pigeonholed and forgotten. Mr. Foster must have been prophetic and had in his mind's eye the Lynch-Gutelius commission, whose report has proven so much a boomerang, and also the Kingston penitentiary commission. Anent this commission, Mr. Edwards of Frontenac, erstwhile the government's most ardent supporter, when he was informed in the house that the commissioners got $15 per day and $5 additional for "board money," declared that the commissioners were not worth 15 cents per day. If the Borden government's sins of omission equal their sins of commission, they have a big responsibility to meet. Commissions are necessary some times, and the expense of them is justified if they are bona fide agencies of honest investigation; but the money invested in commissions to produce party profit represents waste, and worse, of the public money.

THE MARKET MATTER.

When Mayor Buller was formulating his civic platform last December for election to the mayoralty he promised greater attention to the interests of the city market. This showed that, in his opinion, there was room for improvement, and his opinion was and is correct. If there is one civic concern or interest more than another that has been more stepmothered in the way of neglect it is the market.

The needs of our market and its importance in the civic and in the domestic economy of Peterborough are so many and so various, that more than one chapter would be needed to half adequately indicate them; but a few ideas that may set thinking Mayor Buller and his fellow burden bearers of authority, may be suggested.

In the first place, at the beginning of April the market changes masters. The new lessee steps in and the old lessee steps out. In regard to the latter, there is no effort to draw upon the experience of his past incumbency, to learn something that might be valuable; to show what features of the market are defective, and what conditions may be improved in order to bring the market up to the mark and make it of the real service to both the surrounding farmers and gardeners and the citizens who are expected to derive benefit from the market. The property committee of the city council who have theoretically charge of the market, seem to think their duty discharged when they award the privilege of farming the market to the fortunate bidder. They seem to think that is enough; and as a rule the market and its concerns are a terra incognito, and a matter of indifference the rest of the year. This attitude of indifference should not be; it is not fair to the market nor to the interests it serves, for there are two distinct interests concerned—the people who sell and the people who buy. Properly regarded and properly administered, the market should be a medium of bringing together in more harmonious relations the country people and the city people to their mutual advantage. Dollar Day, operated by the Examiner and the merchants, had for its main object the bringing of the merchants and the purchasing public of the city and country together. Useful and beneficial to this end as was Dollar Day, its direct influence was confined to one day, though its indirect and resultant influence will be of much longer duration. Our market, properly managed, would bring city and country together effectively, twice a week the year round.

This is no reflection in relation to former lessees or former property committees; they have only followed precedent. Proper management, proper appreciation of the market, implies making it of the greatest benefit to the two chief interests it is intended to serve — the seller and the buyer of farm ad garden products.

It is difficult to indicate what the defects consist in and what would be the best way to remedy the defects, for it will be admitted that there are defects and that our way of dealing with the market is not bringing the best results that could be brought about. It might not be a half bad idea to appoint a committee of investigation to discover some means of bettering the relations of the farmers and the market patrons; to study the whole matter of market management. Such a committee could get the opinions of farmers and of city people, and if they were at variance, to invite suggestions as to the best means of bringing the relations of the two into harmony. Both these interests are concerned, and it would be to mutual advantage to have the convenience of both met.

It has been suggested that the market is of sufficient importance to be placed in charge of a commission of the character of permanence of the police commission or commission of the town trust. It might be the duty of such a commission to study our market and give it the attention which, unfortunately, it does not now receive. If Mayor Buller wants to make a name for himself and live in the memories of the farmers' wives and the housewives of the city, he will create some claim to such distinction by studying, or providing for the study of, our market, its conditions and its needs in order to make it of the importance and mutual advantage to town and country that it can be made.

The Examiner is not merely finding fault for the sake of idle criticism. As it has always shown, it is desirous of improving conditions in a way to benefit the city by bringing together in more advantageous, profitable and harmonious relations, the people of the country and the city, the classes who have a mutual interest in making our city market what it can be made, one great element in serving the public satisfactorily. The pages of the Examiner will be freely opened for the publication of temperate, bona fide discussion of conditions, and suggestions of remedies where remedies may be indicated as necessary.

THE OUTBREAK OF COLONELS.

Canada is rapidly becoming a land of colonels. Col., the Hon. Sam Hughes has established a kind of court at Ottawa, with an aristocracy all of his own creation. Thanks to him, Canada now has the privilege of having a colonel as Premier of the Dominion, a colonel as the premier of British Columbia, a colonel for the Premier of Manitoba, a colonel as Minister of Public Works, a colonel as Minister of Customs, a colonel as Postmaster-General, and various colonels—in the Government ranks—as members of Parliament.

"And whaur's me regiment?" we fancy Sam won't allow any man, if he can help it, to come into the limelight without being decorated with a colonelcy to give him "tone." Mr. David McNicoll, of the C.P.R., was doubtless flabbergasted to read in the papers yesterday that he was a colonel. "And waur's me regiment?" we fancy we can hear this doughty Scotchman saying. Mr. Chamberlin, of the Grand Trunk, is also dragged from he cares of his weighty office, to bask in the reflected glory of the Hon. Sam, as one of the said Hon. Sam's colonels.

Two venerable archdeacons have, at a stroke of Colonel Sam's pen, been converted into men whose chief distinction in his eyes in future will be that the bear the rare and honoured and honourable title of colonel. Even Dr. Robert Johnston, of the American Presbyterian Church, has been unable to escape. He, too, has been made a man of war — a colonel. In fact, Colonel Sam has now dotted colonels ai round, all over, and all through this wide Dominion. Let us hope the Hon. Mr. Doherty does not get jealous, and decorate the remainder of us with the title of "Judge."—Montreal Herald-Telegraph.

Two Fell Dead of Fright.

WORCESTER, Mass., April 4.—Patrick Eagleson, 70 years of age, of Duggan street, Spencer, and Mrs. Bennis Arseneault, 60 years old, of 48 Maple street, Spencer, dropped dead from fright in the street yesterday afternoon, as they witnessed a three-cornered fight between Martin Niederberger, a chauffeur employed by Walter Watson, of Leicester, and Stanley Orutt and Chas. Barmon, employes of a Niagara cereal company who were distributing samples in the town.

The three fighters are under arrest.

PERSONAL

OUT THIS OUT FOR LUCK. SEND birth date and 10c for wonderful horoscope of your entire life. Professor Raphael, 499 Lexington Ave., New York. 6d-a74-4694

HELP WANTED—Female

WANTED—DINING-ROOM GIRL. APPLY King George Hotel. 3d-78-4638

WANTED—GOOD GENERAL SERVANT Apply Examiner Office. 3d-78-4683

WANTED — MACHINE OPERATORS — 1 whitewear and aprons. Apply Gemmell & Co., 212 Charlotte St. 3d-80-4707

WANTED BY RELIABLE DRESSMAKER, work by day. Latest styles. Good work. Apply Box 4699, Examiner. 1d-80-4699

LADIES WANTED FOR PERMANENT home work, colouring pictures; can make $15.00 to $20.00 weekly; experience unnecessary; material supplied; no canvassing. Royal Art Company, St. James' Chambers, Toronto, Ont. 8d-s-w-58-4508

WANTED—LADIES TO DO PLAIN AND Light Sewing at home; whole or spare time; good pay; work sent any distance; charges paid; send stamp for full particulars. National Manufacturing Company, Montreal 18d-20-e-12w-4-3576

HELP WANTED—MALE

WANTED — SINGLE MAN FOR 7 OR 8 months on farm. Good salary for good man. Apply 166 Brock. 3d-80-4714

WANTED — YOUNG MAN, ABOUT 16 years, to learn telegraphy. Can start as messenger and draw salary while learning. Apply G. N. W. Telegraph Office. 3d-80-4713

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN, BRAKEmen, wages about $100 experience unnecessary. Send age, postage. Railway, care Examiner. 28d-78-4679

WANTED

WANTED—WORK BY THE DAY BY young woman. Apply 498 Cambridge Street. 3d-80-4700

WANTED — WORK BY THE DAY BY young woman. Apply Box 4687, Examiner Office. 3d-79-4687

WANTED — UNFURNISHED, FOR APRIL 20, 4 Rooms—a bathroom flat would do—for light housekeeping. Box 1601, Examiner. 3d-80-4715

TENDERS FOR COLLECTION OF GARBAGE AND REFUSE

Sealed Tenders addressed to "Ald. W. Langford [illegible] City Committee," and endorsed "Tender for Garbage Collection," will be received at the office of the undersigned up to 4 o'clock p.m. on Thursday, the 9th day of April, 1914, for the collection and conveyance to places of disposal of garbage, ashes and refuse from the several districts in the City of Peterborough, from June 1st to Dec. 31st, 1914. Particulars of the districts and other information may be obtained from the Sanitary Inspector.

Tenders will be received from the same person for one or more districts.

Tenders will furnish teams, vehicles and all assistance required to do the work under the By-laws and regulations applicable thereto.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted. S. E. ARMSTRONG, City Clerk
4d-ex30-28-al-4

Board of Health Notice

Ashes and Other Refuse must be removed from Cellars, Outbuildings and yards, and Closets and Cesspools cleaned out on or before May 1st, 1914.

By Order,
C. A. G. SPENCE,
Sanitary Inspector.

4da-80

HOUSES

FOR SALE
FROM $1800.00 to $6000.00
TO RENT
FROM $11.00 to $18.00
ROOMS TO RENT
ON STEWART STREET.
—BY—
T. Walker AND Co.
377 Park St. 'Phone 1002
OUR MOTTO: THE BEST VALUE

TO RENT

TO RENT — GOOD ROOM AND BOARD with private family. Apply Examiner Office.

2 ROOMS AND USE OF KITCHEN FOR light housekeeping. House modern. Apply Examiner Office. 1d-80-4708

FOR RENT—STORE AND DWELLING-House combined. Good business section. For particulars apply to No. 559 Water Street, City. dtf-76-4653

TO LET—A GOOD, WELL FURNISHED, steam heated Front Room for two gentlemen. Apply 64 Hunter Street. 28d-62

TO RENT—STORE, NO. 175½ SIMCOE ST. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-111-2819

TO RENT—GROCERY STORE, WITH large cellar. Yard and stable. Good location. Apply to "Owners," 185 Antrim Street, City. dtf-59

TO RENT—ROOMS ON HUNTER STREET, between George and Aylmer, suitable for two dwellings. Apply 437 George dtf-59

TO RENT — ONE STORE IN GRAND Opera House Block. Steam heating. Immediate possession. Apply J. J. Turner & Sons. dtf-52-9089

HOUSE TO RENT 6 ROOMS, CONveniences, south central district, possession May 1st. Apply Examiner. 3d-78-4685

TO RENT—FURNISHED ROOMS, ALL conveniences. Apply 514 Water St. 6d-78-4682

FOR SALE

RANGE FOR SALE — PRACTICALLY New, a Bargain. Apply 486 Roger St. 3d-78-4674

FOR SALE—BASSWOOD CANOE, 16 FT. Peterboro. Newly painted. Apply 508 Water Street. 2d-79-4686

FOR SALE—LARGE PARLOUR HEATER at a bargain. 309 Rubidge Street.

PEDIGREED JAPANESE SPANIEL (Bitch) for sale. Enquire at 190 Stewart Street. 3d-80-4703

FOR SALE—HOUSE, NO. 270 KING ST. All modern improvements. Hot water heating. 50 feet frontage. Apply to 380 Stewart Street. 28d-77-4673

FOR SALE—15 LOTS, WORTH $175 EACH, for $2,250, near De Laval Factory. Also buy or sell or exchange City or farm property. See John Bell, 451 Water St. 'Phone 1281.

LOTS SINGLY OR EN BLOC, FOR SALE near new factories, school and street car J. S. Bell, 451 Water Street, Tel. 1281 28d-69-4w-13-4560

FOR SALE OR TO RENT—BRICK HOUSE on Reid Street. 6 bedrooms. All modern conveniences. Newly painted and papered. Apply to A. H. Stratton and Co., over Madill's Drug Store. tf-t t s-63-4446

FOR SALE — ONE GOOD HOUSE, NEW, just completed, with every modern convenience. Six rooms and bathroom. Convenient to all factories. Situated on corner of Wolf and Bethune Streets. Act quick and come down and give your offer on easy terms. Best buying in the City, as it must be sold. Apply to 208 Charlotte Street. dtf-35

LOST

LOST—POCKET BOOK AT G. T. R. STATion. Reward at Examiner Office. 3d-80-4701

LOST—A BEAVER NECK SCARF. FINDer will be suitable rewarded on leaving at Examiner 1d-80-4716

LOST — $25.00 ENCLOSED IN NOVA Scotia Savings Deposit Book. Liberal reward on delivery to Examiner Office. 3d-80-4712

LOST—SMALL BLACK PURSE, FRIDAY, March 27th, containing sum of money. Please leave at Examiner Office. Reward. 3d-79-4688

LOST—ON THURSDAY, A CAMEO RING with Diana head and eight pearls, between Dr. Buchanan's and Corner George and Charlotte Streets. Reward at Examiner Office 3d-79-4691

FOUND

FOUND—BREAST COLLAR AND TRACES. Apply Examiner Office. 3d-79-4690

FOUND — A STERLING SILVER CUFF Link. Apply at Examiner Office. 3d-79-4[illegible]

WANTED

Salesmen. Married Couples, Domestic Servants, Farm Help.

Call and we will assist you in getting a position.

DOMINION EMPLOYMENT BUREAU
'PHONE 1214 174½ CHARLOTTE

BRICK HOUSE FOR SALE

All Modern Conveniences
MARGARET AVE.

APPLY TO—ELLIOT'S
302 George St.

REAL ESTATE AND BUSINESS CARDS

NOTICE

J. R. DOCHERTY IS PREPARED TO undertake Painting and Repairing Church Steeples. Painting of Water Tanks, Smoke Stacks and Houses a specialty. 'Phone 1405, or 350 Water St. 28d-68-4551

PAINTING AND PAPER-HANGING AND Graining—I am prepared to do all kinds of painting and paper-hanging in a satisfactory manner and at reasonable prices. W. Kellar, 109 James Street. 'Phone 1413. 28d-74-4613

CHIMNEY SWEEPING, STOVE PIPE cleaning, carpets beat, window cleaning. Also lawns kept. Telephone 119 or apply, J. Vincent, 545 Chamberlain St. 3d-78-4676

AGENTS WANTED

AGENTS, MAKE BIG MONEY HANDLING our fast selling goods. Exceptional opportunity. Write to-day. Troy Contracting Company, Cosgrave Building, Toronto, Ont. 28d-66-4290

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE. WE have specialty selling at sight to automobile owners. Big profits. Investigate immediately. Clyde Specialty Co., 88 River St., Verdun, Que.

AGENTS WANTED — WE HAVE AN UNusual premium proposition; every person will be interested. No outlay necessary. Apply R. C. I. Co., Ltd., 228, Albert St., Ottawa, Ont. dtf-151-3819

SITUATION WANTED

YOUNG MAN SEEKS POSITION AS general clerk in grocery or dry goods store, 3 years' experience, good references. Apply 528 Weller St. 3d-79-4695

PATENTS

HERBERT J. S. DENNISON, REGISTERed Attorney, 18 King Street West, Toronto. Patents, Trade Marks, Designs, Copyrights, protected everywhere. Eighteen years' experience. Write for booklet. dtf-94

GEORGE H. BOWEN
B. A. Sc. Registered Patent Attorney
Mechanical and Electrical Engineer.
Machines designed and patented. Trade-marks registered.
34 Victoria St. Toronto

TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS & DESIGNS
PATENTS
STANLEY LIGHTFOOT
PATENT SOLICITOR AND ATTORNEY
LUMSDEN BLDG. (COR. ADELAIDE & VICTORIA) TORONTO.
WRITE FOR TERMS. M. 5753.

A GOOD BUY

Modern brick house on Fredrick Ave., mantel and fireplace, front and back stairs, pantry, four bedrooms, bath, closets and cloak room, hot water in basement for laundry, cement floor outside entrance, also barn room for horse, buggy car. $3250.00. Apply to
MIGHT & TAYLOR
376 Water Street 10d-78

$1875 TAKES THIS

NEW TWO AND A HALF STOREY RED BRICK HOUSE, 7 rooms, light and water. 2 verandahs, and sleeping porch, cement floor in cellar, and cement walks, good location. This house would be a good buy at $2200. For terms apply to W. J. Koster, 599 Gilmour Street.

SIX BARGAINS
READ THESE

Stewart St. Brick house. All conveniences. Attic floored. Price.....$2250

Simcoe St. Good house and lot, 4 bedrooms. Price.....$1850

Wolfe St. New house 3 bedrooms. Price.....$1250

George St. Good house, 6 bedrooms. Price.....$1500

Bonaccord St. Brick house, good cellar, water and light. Price.....$1650

5 Acres of ground and building. Close to the City. Price.....$800

ASK
C. J. Carroll & Co
THEY KNOW
372 WATER STREET
Phone 822 Open Evenings
"WE SELL THE EARTH"

196 ft. 4 in. By 114 feet

The above is the size of ground and on it stands one beautiful modern house complete with hardwood floors, mantels, furnace, stone foundation, also one house in good repair but not modern, lane at rear.

There are a number of apple trees on lot and the same bear on an average 20 barrels per year harvest apples and winter apples. The 5 lots and 2 houses on a fine corner east front in a City like Peterboro' will be sold at $7100.00. Who will have this? Act quickly.

H. J. McCANNAN,
Real Estate and Building Contractor
Office 324 George St., C. P. Boulter's Store Entrance, 'Phone 749.
Open Evenings——Call——Information Cheerfully Given.

SPEND YOUR MONEY FOR THE GOODS AS ADVERTISED IN THE EXAMINER

PETERBORO REAL ESTATE
Modern Houses
Building Lots
Business
Opportunities
Western Realty Investments
Crown Building 118 Hunter St. Telephone 684

AUTO LIVERY

AUTO LIVERY — AUTOMOBILES TO Rent. Good autos, equipped with electric lights and shock absorbers. Careful chauffeurs. C. E. Banks. 'Phones 582 and 1081.

BOARDING HOUSES

MONTREAL HOUSE — TEMPERANCE House; Boarding House, Lunch Room, and Soft Drinks. Reasonable board by the week. 281 Aylmer St., 294 King St. James Head, Proprietor.

GUN REPAIRING

GUN REPAIRING—GUNS OF ALL MAKES repaired promptly. C. E. Banks, 284 George Street. 28d-167-2456

HOTELS

AMERICAN HOTEL — A HOME AWAY from home; good accommodation; centrally located. American plan. Sam Long, Mgr. 189 Hunter St. 'Phone 434.

JUNK AND COAL

COAL. COAL. COAL.

COAL IS ONE OF THE BIGGEST ITEMS of expenditure in your home, and we believe you are interested in this explanation, comparison and POSITIVE PROOF OF WHY CONNELL ANTHRACITE COAL IS THE BEST TO BUY. PRESENT PRICE—$7.50 PER TON. Our prices are the lowest. We aim to give our patrons Coal at a Fair Price at all times. Rush your orders and we will promptly deliver. LOW & CO. Office and Yards, 385 Bethune St. Tel. Bell 697.

MUSIC

PETERBOROUGH CONSERVATORY OF Music—Rupert Gliddon, Musical Director. 10th Year. A staff of 20 Resident and Visiting Teachers. Subjects taught: Piano, Vocal, Violin and other Stringed Instruments, Wind Instruments, Musical Theory. Social and Fancy Dancing. Corner of Hunter and Rubidge Streets. 'Phone 365.

MILLINERY

PETERBOROUGH MILLINERY PARlours — All latest styles in Millinery. Call and see our stock. Mrs. W. B. Armstrong, 435 George St. Old T.A.S. Rooms.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

THE RICHMOND STUDIO, 147 HUNTER Street, Corner George and Hunter Sts., is the place to go for Good Photographs. We specialize in Photographic Enlargements. See our new Flexible Mountings. Quality High—Prices Low. H. Farthing, Proprietor.

HAIR STORE

MRS. BYRNE'S HAIR STORE — ALL kinds hair goods, pads, shampooing and dressing. 424 George Street.

PIANOS AND MUSIC

W. L. TAYLOR — DEALER IN HIGHGrade Pianos and Real Estate. 350 Water Street. 'Phone 1405.

REAL ESTATE

A FIRST-CLASS COTTAGE, LARGE CORner lot, 75 x 136 ft. All in good repair. South End. Price, $2,300; terms easy. A number of Houses, below $2,000, will sell at terms of $100 down; balance on monthly payments from $10 to $20. Now is the time to get a home of your own on monthly payments. Apply J. A. Gibbs, 194½ Charlotte Street.

SOCIETIES

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY FOR CARE of Neglected and Ill-Treated Children. Incorporated by Act of Legislature. Information required. Informant's Name kept Strictly Private. Children for adoption. Geo. Cochrane, Agent and Assistant Secretary.

SHOE REPAIRING

W. A. GREENSLADE, ELECTRICAL SHOE Repairing Shop. You do not pay any more by having your boots neatly repaired and finished equal to new by our up-to-date machines. Come in and see how it is done. Oak leather used on all sewn work. Skates put on, ground and concaved. Corner Charlotte and Aylmer.

SKATING RINK

BROCK STREET ROLLER RINK OPEN for the Season. See our advertisement in other part of the paper, giving particulars of skating programme.

STOVES AND RANGES

WE SELL ON YOUR OWN TERMS — Weekly or monthly payments. New Empress Steel Range, Kitchen Cabinets, Chemical Closets, Sewing Machines, Standard Oak Heaters. One second-hand Singer Sewing Machine, drop head, at $15. Also a number of second-hand Stoves at a bargain. Call and see us. Open nights, Monday and Friday excepted. The National Manufacturing Co., 334 Water Street. Geo. E. Raven, Manager.

STEAM LAUNDRIES

THE PETERBOROUGH LAUNDRY — ALL work laundered with the greatest care; W. P. Hetherington, Prop. 179 Charlotte Street. 'Phone 65.

FANNING'S STEAM LAUNDRY — ALL work laundered with the greatest care; no tearing or damaging the goods. 295 George Street. Both 'Phones 365.

TYPEWRITERS

PETERBOROUGH TYPEWRITER CO — Typewriter and office supplies of every description. Typewriter repairs. 'Phone 695.

VACANT LOTS
OUR SPECIALTY

Just a few more weeks of winter weather and winter prices for vacant lots. If you are about to build you will surely save money by buying now before the spring opens up. The spring rush for property is already started and prices will begin to rise very soon. Foresight or hindsight, which will it be for you. Take the hint now and come in and see our list of properties.

REAL ESTATE GENERAL AGENTS — Crown Agencies — INSURANCE COMMISSION BROKERS

181 Charlotte St.
116 Hunter St.
Night 'Phone 1463. Day 'Phone 116

Blewett's List

Three Lots, with sewer, water and street car in rear of them, each lot 40x100 feet, one corner.

One of the best Lots on Elm Ave. Cheap for quick sale.

75 feet on Charlotte Street West $10 per foot

Lots on Albertus Ave., $8 per foot

Morrow and Albertus Ave. Lots, new extension, $7 to $10 per foot

Good Lot on Homewood Ave., 46 ft. frontage, lane South, at less than property alongside is selling for.

Apply to C. BLEWETT
173 Charlotte Street
opp. Post and Cartage Co. 'Phone 1221

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

Ladies' Tailored Suits, Coats and Skirts . .
FOR EASTER & EARLY SPRING

We Guarantee our Goods and Linings, and perfect fitting garments assured, as we have none but expert Tailors to do the work.

Prices are very reasonable and can satisfy the most particular.

Toronto Ladies' Tailoring Co.
CORNER GEORGE AND BROCK STREETS

EASTER HATS

We are showing pretty adaptations of the New Styles for Spring Wear.

The collection includes clever and artistic devices in—

NEW SAILOR HATS
with fore and aft trimming

SIMPLE SPRING HATS
of Straw and Taffeta.

IMPORTED SPRAYS AND MOUNTS

Peterborough Millinery Parlours
MRS. W. B. ARMSTRONG, Proprietress 438 George St.
Miss Horsfield in Charge Up Stairs Old T.A.S. Rooms

SCHOOL REPORT

S. S. No. 11 Otonabee.

The following is the report of Hiawatha Public school for March, 1914, by percentage:

Sr. IV—Effie Sexsmith and Lucy Paudash 85, Margaret Mather 80.

Jr. IV— Fred Hawkins 94, Parker Anderson 91, John Simpson 87, Robert Cowle 85, Will Muskratte 81, Stella Howard 80, Verna Crowe 48.

III.— Lizzie Sexsmith 87, Kenneth Crowe 85, Tommy Mather 83.

II.—Pearl Coward 96, Pauline Cowle 93, Beatrice Cowie 91, May Simpson 86, Lucy Simpson 65.

First— Lloyd Latham 95, Madden Howard 94, Ethel Muskratte 92, Oswald Crowe 90, Edward Sutton 89, Edwin Coward 88, John Mather 54.

Primer— Willie Sexsmith 96, Violet Crowe 95, Freddy Simpson 94, Irene Cowie 91, Laura Cowie 80.

Perfect Attendants— Violet Crowe, May Simpson, Pearl Coward, Lucy Simpson, Lizzie Sexsmith, Madden Howard, Willie Sexsmith, Edwood Sutton, Lloyd Latham, Pasker Anderson.

Number on roll — 30. Average attendance—25.

MINA E. THROOP, Teacher.

Report of S.S. No. 14, Douro, Pine Grove School:

Class IV.—Celia Dunford, Wilbert Frankish, Russell Little, Ettie Abbott, Roy Frankish.

Class III.—Harold Dunford, Percy Frankish, Wilbert Abbott.

Class II.—Ora Dunford, Dulcie Abbott, Vera Dunford.

First—Dora Darling.

Primer, Senior—Edna Frankish, Stanley Darling, Hazel Darling.

Primer, Junior—Eddie Rowe.

Honour roll for attendance—Russell Little, Wilbert Frankish, Ettie Abbott, Percy Frankish, Roy Frankish, Harold Dunford, Vera Dunford, Dulcie Abbott, Dora Darling, Stanley Darling, Edna Frankish, Eddie Rowe.

The following is a report of pupils of S. S. No. 3, S. Monaghan, for March, by percentage:

Sr. IV—May Dawson 84, Cora Bradshaw 83, Frank Dawson 45.

Jr. IV—May Murney 66.

Sr. III—Dawson Rutherford 69, Harold Dawson 62.

Sr. II —Marion Dawson 73, Roy Rutherford 70, Olive Atchison 69, Percy Gainer 67, Jimmy Gainer 64, Ernest Dawson 62,) Teressa Thompson (absent.

Jr. IIA—Reggie Atchison, Florence Deyell, Willie Lawrence, McIntosh Bradshaw (absent.)

Jr. IIB—Olive Dawson.

Perfect Attendance—Cora Bradshaw, Dawson Rutherford, Olive Atchison, Marion Dawson, Roy Rutherford, Reggie Atchison.

Learn Music In Sixty Minutes

Not 6 Years, 6 Months or 6 Days, But 60 Minutes.

We mean just what we say and we can point to men, women and children of all ages and classes, in almost every nook and cranny of this Continent, who have learned to play the piano or organ in ONE HOUR. The invention is so simple as to astonish every one, makes this startling statement absolutely true.

We send the entire invention absolutely free. It will enable you to read and play at once—within one hour any one of the 100 pieces of music we send you which music is among the world's best pieces written by famous composers. No charge of any kind. No ifs ands backs or tricks.

"Just Think! I Have Learned a Piano Solo."

You receive the entire method and 100 pieces of music, free, if you just write us that I may use Easy Form Music Method for 7 days free trial as announced in Peterboro' Examiner No cash. No C.O.D. All you do is to write us to-day. Think of it—a piece before you and you can play the piano or organ and you know you can play and you are satisfied—then send us $1.00 and after that $2.00 in small monthly payments. Could anything be easier? This is the sentimental road straight home to the heart of some one you may know. Don't wait—here's a chance to test free this great invention. You know business men well enough to realize that unless we pleased and satisfied customers, we could not afford to pay express charges and other expenses, unless we were certain of this great invention. State Number of white keys on your piano or organ, also your address. Easy Method Music Co., 422 Yonge St., Toronto, Ont., Canada.

Ladies' Hand Bags, Purses AND Card Cases

New Styles and Designs For Spring

F. G. Cubitt
370 Geo. St., Peterboro

WOMAN'S REMAINS FOUND IN FURNACE "CHINK" BLAMED

Special Wire to The Examiner:

VANCOUVER, April 4.—The remains of Mrs. Charles Millard, wife of the Canadian Pacific Ticket Agent, here, were found in the furnace of their home, by blood hounds, and Jack Chink, a seventeen year old Chinaman, employed by Millards as a servant, is under arrest, charged with complicity in the murder. Tremendous excitement prevails throughout the City as a result and in some quarters it is dangerous for Chinamen to appear on the streets, as the feeling against them runs high. Some time ago burglars at the Millard house got away with $300 worth of jewellery. Last Wednesday Mrs. Millard disappeared mysteriously; and no trace, until dogs which sniffed through the house from cellar to garret, finally dragged human bones and the dead womans rings from the ashes in the furnace. The police say they have evidence against Chink.

LOOKING FOR A PETERBOROUGH MAN

The Toronto Morality Department are making inquiries in this district and are anxious to learn the present whereabouts of Dennis H. Scully. He was living in Toronto two years ago, and since that time has not communicated with his wife, who is a present living in Peterborough.—Lindsay Post.

TRADES AND LABOUR NOTES

Notes by the Official Scribe

A Non-Union, or Unfair, House.

As at last meeting much vigorous debating arose over the local show houses, Representative Howarth of the Musicians wanted the stigma which was cast on the union musicians, now playing at the Grand Opera House, by the Council, raised, as Owen Weller, the Secretary of the American Federation of Musicians, had written saying they did right by not quitting the Grand till they were ordered to do so from headquarters.

To declare the Grand Opera House off the unfair list the Council did not wish, as Mr. Turner positively refused negotiations for a settlement.

If Mr. Clayton could not obtain an entire union staff the fault was not his, so good union men of the City can still sympathize with the locked-out Theatrical Workers as heretofore. There was a goodly number at the Council's meeting this week. J. J. Hartley, President, calling the representatives to order shortly after 8 p.m.

Another Visit from Jas. Simpson.

Controller Simpson of Toronto announced his willingness to speak at a public meeting on request of the Council. A very full list of engagements prevented him from offering a date earlier than May 6th. The meeting thereupon declared itself satisfied with the date and hope that the working men of Peterborough, whether organized or not, will flock to the Labour Hall that evening, and listen to the workingmen's champion, James Simpson, as he unfolds, in his own brilliant way, the possibilities of a shoulder-to-shoulder stand, when taken by the world's wealth producers.

The Machinists' Representative.

The City is to have in its make-up the next six weeks another labour leader, in the person of James McIntee, International Representative of the Machinists' Union. He will be asked to address the Council at its next meeting, April 15. Mr. McIntee has an enviable reputation as an orator on the rights of labour, and his lucid and forceful explanations of the questions that confront capital and labour will be most beneficial to all who will make an effort to come and hear him.

SAVING IN PURCHASE OF ELECTRICAL FIXTURES

About two years ago we were fortunate in securing a small interest with one of Ontario's prominent Fixture Manufacturers. We hav since been able to increase that interest so as to have ourselves placed on the Jobbers 'List which will make a considerable saving in the purchase and resale prices in all kinds of electrical fixtures. It is our intention to place on sale immediately our entire stock of fixtures comprising many beautiful pieces at a reduction of one third the original prices, so as to clear same in order to receive our new stock which is already startnig to arrive. Onyone contemploting the purchase of fixtures would do well to look these over.

Alexander and Miller.

POSTMISTRESS IS QUITE WELL AGAIN

Found Complete Cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Gray, who was Nervous and Run Down for Two Years, Tells How She Found New Health.

Tichborne, Frontenac Co., Ont., April 3.—(Special)—Mrs. H. Gray, the popular postmistress here, is telling her friends of the great benefit she has received from taking Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"For about two years" Mrs. Gray says, "I was all run down. My sleep was broken and unfreshing, and I suffered from shortness of breath, and heart flutterings. I finally decided that the Kidneys were the cause of my trouble and decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I took four boxes in all, and I feel quite strong and like myself again. I certainly think Dodd's Kidney Pills are a good medicine."

The experience of the postmistress is similar to that of thousands of other Canadian women. They were weak, run down, nervous and in bad health generally. They took Dodd's Kidney Pills and are strong and well again.

The reason is that when the Kidneys get out of order they fail to strain the impurities out of the blood and general lassitude and weakness ensues. The natural cure is to cure the Kidneys. The experience of thousands of others tells you that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the Kidneys.

THE GOVERNMENT'S RELATIONS TO THE LIQUOR INTERESTS

Special to The Examiner:

TORONTO, April 4.—Parliament Buildings.—Dr. McQueen is the hero of the hour in the Legislature. He has been congratulated on every hand by Conservatives as well as Liberals. The attack made on him by Captain Machin, of Kenora, although undoubtedly inspired and engineered by the Government, has strengthened McQueen's position as one of the most popular, valuable and straightforward members of the Legislature.

Anyone who watches the House closely knows that many of the rank and file of the Conservative party are incensed at the Government's attitude to the temperance question. This subterranean revolt was never nearer the surface than at present.

The Government's alliance with the liquor interests is becoming more apparent every day. This dramatic McQueen incident, showing still more letters turned over by hotel-keepers to the Government, has emphasized the Government liquor alliance.

Whether it is because of lack of leadership or not, the Government has made more blunders in the six weeks of this session than most men make in six years. The attack on McQueen, which was meant to embarrass the Liberal party on the temperance question, has hit the Government instead.

A Conservative member from the North in the lobby of the House after the Machin-McQueen incident, frankly expressed his disgust. "I am about through with politics," he said. "If that is the kind of politics the members of the Government are trying to play. The mud they tried to throw has dirtied themselves and they deserve all they get."

COUNCIL WILL INVESTIGATE ON MONDAY

Efficiency of Lindsay's Police Force Will be Probed—Other Developments—All Stolen Goods Recovered

The two young burglars, Smith and Wilson, who were apprehended here in connection with the Lindsay burglaries, were remanded until next Thursday.

The Lindsay Post has the following to say regarding the outrages:

Smith and his pal went to Peterborough after the burglary, but intended coming back Lindsay way en route to Orillia, where they were to meet another bandit contingent. There they would pack the loot stolen during their operations and ship it to headquarters at Montreal.

All the burglaries committed in this section of late, and also through Hastings and Durham counties, were committed by members of the gang.

Smith and Wilson were supposed to be in Orillia to-day to meet their confederates.

All of the loot taken from the local stores by the boy bandits, has been accounted for.

Last night High County Constable Thornbury and Constable Foster and young Smith journeyed to Reaboro, where the latter stated a portion of the stolen goods had been secreted. Previous to this, however, Wm. McMann, of Reaboro, had notified Constable Thornbury that he had found several articles of jewellery, etc.

Between Two Logs.

When the officers and the boy bandit arrived at Reaboro they found that the spot where McMann found the loot was just a mile this side of Reaboro, near where the Midland Railway crosses the highway. The goods were placed between two logs and covered with cedar boughs, which the bandits cut with their knives. The loot consisted of three lockets, a gold watch, two rings, and a cuff cutton, Smith states that the reason they left the watch was because there was a name engraved on it.

Considerable Loot.

After visiting this spot the police came back to Cunningham's Corners. Smith took them down the railway track a short distance and pointed out another hiding place, where considerable loot was found. Smith says the reason they hid the goods was because they had too much to carry.

This morning, Chief-of-Police Chilton, accompanied by Constable Foster, left per C.P.R. for Orillia in the hope that (with the assistance of the Orillia police) they would be able to round up the other bandits, who were supposed to reach that town to-day.

Council to Investigate.

"The council will deal with the matter on Monday night," said Mayor Beal this morning to a Post reporter in referring to the lax manner in which matters in connection with the recent burglaries were handled by the Police Department.

Many citizens were very outspoken this morning in their criticism of the police in not becoming more active in trying to round up the burglars. It is claimed that no information was sent out to outlying points warning the police to be on the lookout, and that no word was sent to Peterborough. The only telephonic communication it is said Chief Chilton had with Peterborough was when he answered Governor Balfour's message.

WILL DISCUSS WOMAN SUFFRAGE

The Peterborough Lodge of Oddfellows will hold their regular monthly open meeting on Thursday, April 16. The evening will be devoted to the discussion of Woman's Suffrage, and a number of ladies and gentlemen have promised to give addresses on that subject. The meeting will commence at 8 oclock, sharp, and the audience is requested to come between 7.30 and 8 oclock. A capacity house is expected and late comers will have difficulty in getting seats.

Vesper Services.

Vesper services will be held in the W.C.A. to-morrow afternoon at 5 o'clock. Mrs. J. G. Lewis will give an address and Miss Ella Kent will sing.

Make Father Play The "Blue Danube" To-night

Of course Father's not much of a musician in his fingers, but in his soul he can play the "Blue Danube" or any other waltz, so that you forget it's only Brother John you're dancing with. The

Dean Sealer Williams Player Piano

With the "Meister-Touch—most human of all."

makes Father's fingers as expert as his soul is musical.

The treasure house of music is unlocked through this marvelous instrument. Dances, operas, concertos, overtures, or the newest of popular airs, are at your command as mood or occasion dictates. And when Father and Mother are alone—he'll play her some of those almost forgotten melodies, that stirred their hearts long before you were even thought of.

Tell him it's as easy on his purse as it is to buy theatre tickets for the family—and a thousand times more enduring a pleasure. Get him to meet you at noon and find out for yourselves by a visit to our warerooms what a joy you are all missing.

J. M. Greene Music, Peterboro', Ont.

Makers The Williams Piano Co., Ltd. Oshawa Ont.

We sell direct where not represented—Write

PRIZE WINNERS IN THE WORLD'S PROVERB CONTEST

Following are the results of the Everywoman's World provery contest, in order of merit:

Ford touring car, 1914 model, won by W. F. Geddess, 46 Robert Street, Toronto.

Genuine Gourlay piano, won by Mrs. Chas. Stafford, 1025 14th Avenue W., Calgary, Alta.

Shetland pony, cart and harness, won by Ralph L. Tindall, P.O. 322, Lennoxville, Que.

Columbia Grafonola, with $50 in records, won by Mrs. E. Lancaster, Propsy, Alta.

Fine blue-white diamond ring, won by Walter H. Lobis, 95 Maitland Street, Toronto.

Five-piece mahogany parlour suite, won by Henry C. Clarke, Box 6, Cobalt, Ont.

Genuine McClary Pandora range, won by F. B. Duhamel, 25 Spark Street, Ottawa.

Famous Singer sewing machine, won by Geo. Englert, 112 Wellington Street, Berlin, Ont.

Cleveland 1914 bicycle, won by Miss Bertha Gendron, Suton, Que.

Men's 14k. gold Waltham awtch, won by D. Stuart McLellan, 205 Westmoreland Avenue, Toronto.

Solid gold genuine Waltham ladies' watch, won by Mrs. Angus Fraser, St. Ann's, B.C.

Hamilton Ideal kitchen cabinet, won by Wm. F. Comeau, Dalhousie, N.B.

Solid gold pearl and amethyst lavalier, won by Miss Joyce Quiney, 56 McGil College Avenue, Montreal.

Spanish leather upholstered rocker, won by Edgar Warner, 22 Spencer Avenue, Toronto.

25-piece Rogers' silverware cabinet, won by Mrs. W. H. Cole, 2015 James Street, Edmonton.

97-piece English dinner set, won by Mrs. H. d'Orsonnens, St. Johns, Que.

7-jewel Waltham watch, men's 16-size, won by James Reid, care Mrs. Robertson, Coboconk, Ont.

7-jewel Waltham watch, ladies' size, won by Mrs. Edward Gee, P.O. Box 4425, Edmonton S., Alta.

20-volume set Chas. Dickens' works, won by Mrs. Allan H. Dedels, Oyen, Alta.

English gold-filled engraved bracelet, won by Miss Etta Kimberley, Box 568, Smith's Falls, Ont.

Cremona violin and bow, complete, won by John D. McLeod, South Gatt, Victoria, N.S.

Imported mandolin in case, won by Carson F. Morrison, Ituna, Sask.

10k. ladies' ring, set with 5 whole pearls, won by Mrs. J. W. Comeau, Lower Saulnierville, N.S.

Men's heavy 10k. gold garnet ring, won by John A. Armstrong, P.O. Box 63, Newbury, Ont.

Golden oak upholstered Morris chair, won by John A. Jackson, Broadfield Farm, Gravelbourg P.O., Sask.

44-piece English dinner set, won by Miss Lenore Parkinson, 505 St. James Street, London, Ont.

40-piece Royal Vienna tea set, won by F. L. Connolly, Vernon River, P.E.I.

High-grade ebonized mantel clock, won by Albert E. W. Snyder, M.D., Pincher Creek, Alta.

Waterman Ideal fountain pen, won by Fred Stanford, 2 1-2 King Street, Sherbrooke, Que.

Premo camera, won by W. Ambrose Petipas, Tracadie, N.S.

Gilette safety razor, won by Ross S. McCabe, Box 644, Truro, N.S.

Electric (or gas) sad iron, won by Mrs. Ida Gagne, 225 Dalhousie Street, Ottawa, Ont.

Pair hockey skates and boots, won by Wm. H. Perry, 21 Callahill Street, Toronto, Ont.

Hand-painted parlour lamp, won by Mrs. W. I. Ingalls, Grand Haror, Grand Manan, N.B.

Set of table linen (cloth and 12 napkins), won by Mrs. G. Mellish, 1374 Queen Street, W., Toronto, Ont.

Cut glass salad bowl, 8-inch, won by Miss Ina Mackie, 2044 Granville Street, Vancouver, B.C.

7-piece Cambridge water set, with tray, won by Miss Huetta McMillan, 7112 Rupert Street, Strathcona, Alta.

Grand Rapids carpet sweeper, won by Mrs. James MacLean, 2603a Park Avenue, Montreal, Que.

Solid gold 10k. birthday ring, won by Miss Hazel I. Jones, 362 Wateloo Street, London, Ont.

Solid gold 10k. birthday ring, won by A. Sponenburgh, Melbourne, Ont.

Solid gold 10k. birthday ring, won by Peter Dick, Aexandria, Ont.

Solid gold 10k. birthday ringl, won by Mrs. W. J. Weir, 24 East Street, Galt, Ont.

Solid gold 10k. birthday ringti, won by Miss Margaret B. Trevorrow, Meadowvale, Ont.

Pair 10k. solid gold cuff links, won by Herbert T. Coyne, 264 Grace Street, Toronto, Ont.

Pair of solid gold 10k. beauty pins, won by Mrs. Charles Clark, Perdue, Sask.

7-volume set Edgar Allan Poe's works, won by Lionel Behenna, 448 St. John's Avenue, Winnipeg, Man.

Solid 10k. gold Fleur-de-Lis tie pin, won by Alton H. Burke, Queen's Co., R. R. No. 1, Southport, P.E.I.

Real seal hand bag, bronze mounted, won by Mrs. Phil Coulter, Carmangay, Alta.

Mahogany finished parlour table, won by John M. Miller, Garth P.O., Garth, Alta.

Cut glass sugar and cream set, won by W. H. Stoot, Boarding house, Church Street, Mimico, Ont.

Radway's Ready Relief

Mrs. J. Westervelt, Paterson, N. J., writes: "I have a large family of small children, and it has saved me many a doctor's bill. I Pur money above that it is a king over that. My little girl has sprained her ankle and it commenced to swell, but with Radway's Ready Relief."

CURES SORE THROAT

Apply the Relief to the throat and chest until the surface smarts and reddens. Give Radway's Pills in such doses as will freely move the bowels. For a sudden cold, take a large dose of Radway's Pills, and a teaspoonful of Relief with a teaspoonful of molasses, in a tumbler of hot water. Retire at once to bed. A profuse perspiration will break out, and in the morning the cold will be gone.

RADWAY & Co., Montreal, Can.

IMIGRATION OFFICES WILL BE INSPECTED

Mr. James Mitchell has been appointed Inspector of Employment Agencies in Ontario. The work comes under the Department of Immigration. Mr. Mitchell will have charge of the inspection of all employment agencies in Ontario doing business with immigrants. Under his direction there will be a number of inspectors, each responsible for agencies in a particular district.

An order-in-council last year placed on the Department the responsibility of inspecting all agencies in the Dominion used by immigrants.

Mr. Mitchell has for a long time been prominently connected with Ward Four Conservative Association.

The Peterborough agency will come within Mr. Mitchell's jurisdiction.

Proven Quality

When choosing silverware it is both economy and satisfaction to purchase

1847 ROGERS BROS.

This brand, known as "Silver Plate that Wears" ranks first in quality and has been best for over 60 years. Made in the heaviest grade of plate. Sold by Leading Dealers

Easter Cards and Post Cards are on display in great assortment at
TREBILCOCK BROS.
417 George St.

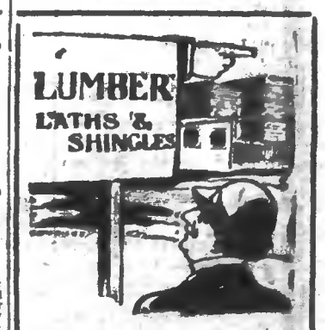
"FAGOTS"

For Friday, an Englishman's favory Dish, made after the favourite manner, by

WOODHOUSE, the Fishman

Drop in any hour, day or night, if you want Fish cooked to the taste of a connoisseur.

The Hot Fish and Chip Restaurant
305 George St. 'Phone 812



4-ft. SLABS FOR SALE

Cut from Pine, Basswood, Oak, Cedar, Maple and Elm logs, $3.00 per cord delivered.

Peterboro' Planing Mill Co.
157-167 Dublin St. 'Phone 86

Modified Styles in Distinguished Looking

SUITS FOR EASTER

QUITE SO, THE SUIT STYLES THIS SEASON ARE DIFFERENT IN GENERAL OUTLINE OF design—some really bordering upon the extreme—BUT NOT SO WITH OURS.

The Suit Styles selected by us for Easter are—

Modified, Sensible and Refined

Nothing loud or conspicuous about them—but every Easter Model is full of practical style and within keeping of good taste and fashionable judgment.

So nice, so stylish and so easy to wear are our Easter Suits that when you see them you will positively fall in love with one.

On the 2nd floor the following Models, as well as a host of others, are to be seen

Black and White Check Suit

This Suit presents the very latest style ideas. It is very distinctive and unusually becoming and very low in price. The Coat is made in Sport style, with patch pockets and broad belt. Skirt is smartly tailored in three piece style, fastens all the way down front with self-covered buttons. Price..... $15

Blue Brocade Suit

A Suit of very highest class designed in the new cataway effect. This stunning model is shown in a beautiful all-wool Brocade in French blue shade. The Coat is in cutaway outline, closing with two large buttons and silk lined. The Skirt is two-piece style, has long graceful lines with side openings & lapped-seams, back finished at waist with six small tucks. Price $20

Navy Blue Serge Suit

This beautifully tailored Suit is made in out-size, from a heavy good-wearing English Serge. The Coat is cut in one of the new models which gives an appearance of slenderness to the figure inclined to stoutness. Coat is lined throughout with silk serge. The Skirt is well made—a very attractive feature being a broad band to form tunic effect. ... $25

Wear Gossard Corsets They have laces in front. We sell them

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

A PARTIZAN ATTACK ON THE GRAND TRUNK

It is probably too much to expect that Mr. Borden will disavow the charge of wanton waste in the construction of the National Transcontinental made by his partisan investigators in so far as the Liberal party is concerned. The remarkably complete statement of the actual condition of affairs made by Hon. Geo. P. Graham turned the tables on the Government, and it is now on the defensive before the country, with the Liberals demanding that unsupported charges of wrongdoing shall be withdrawn. But as the report was prepared for political purposes the Conservatives in Parliament must at least profess to believe, though they cannot prove, that the railway was wastefully built, and that millions of dollars could have been saved by cheaper methods of construction.

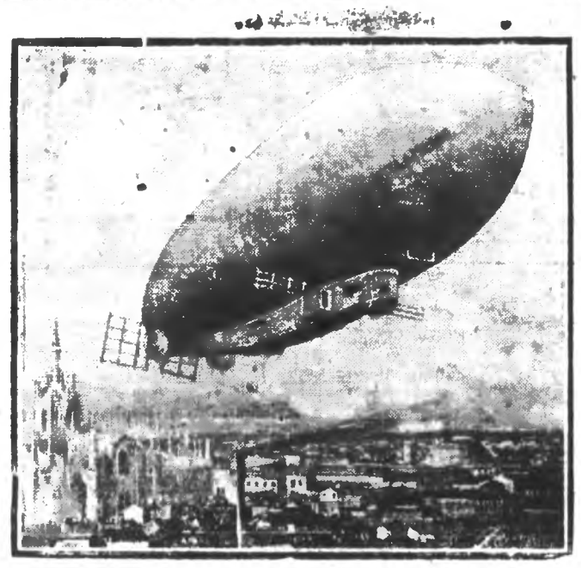
But why should it be regarded as necessary to couple the Grand Trunk Pacific with the Liberal party in an endeavour to make political capital, and thus injure the credit of one of the greatest of Canadian enterprises in the world's money markets? Here are some of the statements made by Messrs. LynchStaunton and Gutelius about the G. T. P. and its responsible managers: "Excepting where Mr. Hays urged the cancellation of contracts Nos. 16 and 17, and where he gave his not too strong support to District Engineer Doucet in his efforts to have a pusher grade at La Tuque, and where the Company offered to do train-hauled filling, after the railroad was completed, at half the cost paid by the Commissioners, appreciating the gravity of our statement, we unhesitatingly find that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, instead of discountenancing, has rather encouraged this inexperienced Railway Commission in its extravagant expenditure on this railway. If the railway company really expected to operate this railway when completed according to the terms and at the rental provided in its agreement with the Government, we must atribute its want of proper care to its indifference to the interests of its own shareholders or its desire to so increase the cost of construction of the 353 miles of railway for which it was contractor as to reap the largest present profit possible therefrom." We are further informed that in allowing the G. T. P. to build a seventh of the line as contractors the Commission were inducing that Company "not only to connive at but to encourage improper expenditures on the railway."

Now what are the outstanding facts on which this grave charge is made? The Grand Trunk Pacific was to lease the road when completed, paying a rental of three per cent. on the cost. To make sure that the cost would not be excessive the entire line was built under the joint supervision of the Company's engineers and those of the Railway Commission. The Grand Trunk Pacific bid on quite a number of sections to keep down the price, and secured the contracts for 353 miles. It did no actual construction work, but let out the various portions to sub-contractors, some of whom in turn had their "stationmen" who worked on piecework. This is the usual method pursued in railway building, and the Grand Trunk Pacific, in sub-letting for five per cent. profit, took less than the usual profit that accrues to the original contractor.

Were the prices obtained by the G. T. P. in these contracts excessive? Was the work scamped? Nothing is shown to warrant any such assertion. On contract No. 1 the engineer's estimate was $1,017,000, the G.T.P. bid $969,000, and the lowest private bid $1,146,000. On contract three, which was also awarded to the G. T. P. as the lowest tenderer, the engineer's estimate was $933,000, and the G. T. P. bid $767,000. There were no other tenders. On contract four the engineers estimate was $2,356,000, the G. T. P. bid $1,898,000, and the lowest bid from a private contractor $2,001,000. On contract eleven the engineer's estimate was $1,776,000, the G.T.P. bid $1,691,000, and the lowest private bid $1,951,000. On contract fourteen the engineer's estimate was $3,985,000, the G. T. P. bid $3,986,000, and the lowest private bid $4,423,000.

It will be noted that on these contracts, had the G. T. P. not bid and secured them, private contractors would have done so at prices in some cases hundreds of thousands of dollars higher. How, in the face of such a record could any honest man charge the Company with conniving at improper expenditures? Looking at the question not merely from the standpoint of holding down profits on individual contracts, but in regard to the prevention of 'overbreak' and 'over-classification,' what folly it would have been for the G. T. P. to encourage the doing of unnecessary work at improper prices on the seventh of the mileage on which it was earning construction profits, well knowing that for half a century it would have to pay interest on such unnecessary work upon the six-sevenths of the mileage built by private contractors and upon which the G. T. P. was obtaining no contractor's profits.

There is no warrant in fact for the savage attack of Messrs. Lynch-Staunton and Gutelius on the G. T. P. That attack but emphasizes the fact that the management of the road took all reasonable steps to hold down the cost while maintaining a high standard of construction.—The Globe.



Italian Forlanini Type of Airship Being Built for Britain.—Three large semi-rigid airships of this design afford great promise. The first of these will be constructed abroad, and the other will be made in England. These ships are being built, along with others of other types, following the supplementary estimates for the navy, of which Mr. Churchill in his speech in the British House spoke about.

EASTER WEEK AT ROUTLEY'S

WE have good things to offer our Customers Each Day or Week in the year. Next Week from the 6th to 12th we will offer

Easter Cards and . . Wallpaper . .

Besides all the Short Lines we are continually putting out in lots too small to advertise.

Easter Cards

Regular Prices	5c	10c	15c	20c
Sale Price	2c	3c	4c	6c

Wallpapers & Decorations

Enough to complete any Bed-room measuring from 45 to 60 feet including 5 or 6 panels; Paper, Borders and Panels complete for..... ... $2.72

C. B. ROUTLEY'S

Toronto, 282-4 Queen St. Peterboro, 379 George St.

Learn Railroading

YOUNG MEN WANTED

FOR RAILWAY WORK

Ticket Agents, Operators, Freight and Passenger Clerks. Qualify at home and get position as soon as you graduate. Six months' course only—study in your own home or at our school.

SPECIAL REDUCED RATES this month only

Write to-day for particulars.

DOMINION SCHOOL OF RAILROADING

Dept. 51. TORONTO, ONT.

JOHN R. BOOTH 88 YEARS OLD

Special Wire to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, Ont., April 4.—John R. Booth, for more than half a century a leader in Canadian industrial circles, will celebrate his eighty-eighth birthday to-morrow, having been born April 5, 1826. Mr. Booth began his career as a bridge carpenter. To-day he is rated among the richest men of Canada. In early life he removed to the Ottawa Valley and at Chaudiere Falls built the largest lumber mill on the continent. To this he added immense pulp and paper mills. He was the builder of the Canada Atlantic Railway, which he sold to the Grand Trunk for $16,000,000.

LONDON'S BIG UNDERGROUND CAR SYSTEM

Special Wire to The Examiner:

LONDON, April 4.—After two and a half years of steady work the task of linking up the old and new lines of London's underground railway system is now an accomplished fact, and on Monday the through schedules will be put in operation. The achievement is a remarkable one, not merely in view of the traffic facilities it will afford, but also because of the many engineering difficulties that have been overcome. The project has been carried through without any interference with the regular service. The new Charing Cross station is to be the principal transfer point of the completed system. Altogether 2,139 trains will pass through the new station daily.

BIG CARRIER LAUNCHED

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., April 4.—The steamship W. Grant Morden, built for the Canada Steamship Lines, and said to be the largest grain carrier in the world, was successfully launched to-day at the local yards of the American Shipbuilding Company. Lady Williams-Taylor performed the christening ceremony. Prominent among the invited guests of the occasion were Earl de la Warr and Sir Montagu and Lady Allan.

COMPLIMENT TO MEN OF THE REGIMENT

Invitation From Headquarters Asking That Some of the Sergeants of the 57th Act as Musketry Instructors

Lieut.-Col. Clegg received a communication from the officer commanding the 3rd Division this morning, asking if some of the sergeants of the 57th Regiment would be allowed to act as assistant musketry instructors at the Petawawa camp this year, from the 15th to the 28th of June.

This is a distinct compliment to the 57th Regiment. The men must be fully qualified or such an invitation would not be given. During the winter, classes of musketry instruction have been held at the local Armouries, and it was this course that has prepared the men.

Col. Clegg does not definitely know yet if the men will go, as he has to consult them as to whether or not they can spare the time. If the invitation is accepted, it will be considered a special appointment.

FIRST ANNUAL CONCERT WAS A SPLENDID SUCCESS

Peterborough Co-operative Society Observed First Anniversary Last Night

The Peterborough Co-operative Society held their first anniversary concert in the Woodmen of the World Hall last night. There was a large audience in attendance and the concert was a very enjoyable one. President Wm. Common presided.

The programme, successfully presented, was as follows:

Vocal solo—Miss R. Quartermaine.
Instrumental solo—Mr. C. Devey.
Vocal solo—Mr. Heafield.
Vocal solo—Mr. W. Ward.
Violin solo (on one string)—Mr. D. Eldred.
Vocal solo—Mr. G. Harris.
Solo—Miss Greenhalgh.
Instrumental—Mr. C. Devey.
Vocal solo—F. Wainwright.
Vocal solo—Mr. F. Roberts.
Vocal solo—Mr. Bartley.

After the entertainment, the artists were the guests of the society at a dinner in the Savoy, where Messrs. Coleman Bros. served up an appetizing meal.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS USED FOR YEARS

When a mother uses only one medicine as long as there are little ones in the home it certainly bears grand testimony to the value of that particular remedy. Thousands of mothers use nothing else but Baby's Own Tablets. Concerning them Mrs. M. LeBlanc, Memramcook West, N.B., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my little ones for the past ten years and know of nothing to equal them during teething time or for colic, constipation and indigestion. All my neighbours who have used them think as I do.' The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NO SIGN OF BETTER TIMES.

Why all these dreadful styles of clothes
The ladies now must wear,
And why such frightful fashions
For doing up their hair.

Have women now no common sense
That they will thus submit,
To wear a dress or suit about
That has no sign of fit.

Last year the clothes were all so tight
The creatures scarce could walk,
And the way they got in street cars
Causd men to laugh and talk.

Why not put out Dame Fashion
And a wiser person get,—
The women would appreciate
Some decent clothes, you bet.

Let's write and tell the Pankhursts
To knock her quickly out,
'Twould be a feather in their cap
We all would give a shout.

The rainbow's pale beside the hues
Fashion decrees to-day.
And hands to us in bunches
Of orange and green so gay.

Their hair looks worse than nothing
Upon their empty heads,
Some frizz it with kid curlers
And others use tea leads.

In one flat knot upon each ear
Some folks delight to wear it.
What comfort can they have like that?
'Tis not my wish to share it.

If one wears wide old-fashioned skirts
There's some to talk about it,
And if they wear a real tight skirt
There's others that will shout it.

If I can't find a suit of clothes
That's simple, neat and pleasing,
I'll get the very best I can
So long as it's not squeezing.
—E. H.

THE "FIRME" DANCE.

At the "Firme" dance to be held in the Conservatory Hall on Friday April 17th, Mr. Asa Huycke's Orchestra will play four selections of Mr. Huycke's competition. The Orchestra is also playing for a dance at Millbrook on the 16th

A lady's comment—'Tastes better—goes farther.'

Red Rose Tea "is good tea"

Praise Expressed In Work Well Done

Noon-day Sermon by Canon Davidson in St. James' Cathedral, Toronto

TORONTO, April 3.—Noon-day services at St. James' Cathedral and Holy Trinity Church have been well attended throughout the week. Dean Abbott, of Hamilton, has been the preacher at Holy Trinity. At St. James' Cathedral Canon Davidson, of Peterborough, has given a course of addresses on "The Way of Light," setting forth the Gospel of Divine Illumination, healthymindedness and good cheer.

His concluding subject to-day was "The Life of Praise." Praise was defined in its broad sense to be love in action towards God, the response called for by the Divine Nature. It was the language and occupation of Heaven and of people here who had something of Heaven in them. God did not need mans praises, but man needed to give them as acts of training, duty and spiritual blessing.

Praise also found expression in daily work well and cheerfully done to the Divine Glory. It included man's life cheerfully and cheeringly lived, the up-turning of the whole life Godward in gladness and rejoicing, reflecting back Divine light. In this wide sense praise was a big offering to a glorious God of big men who were made bigger by words, actions and lives of Praise.

The services will conclude next week, Canon Plumptre giving the ad-

TAXPAYER OBJECTS TO $1000 GRANT

Says General Booth is Better Able to Pay Than the City Council

The following communication was received by the Finance committee at a meeting held yesterday:

Mayor Buller.

Dear Sir,—I as well as other City taxpayers was stunned to see in the Saturday night Examiner that the Salvation Army Agitent wanted a grant of $1,000 from the Peterborough mayor to help pay their trip to the international congress to london like of that was never heard in paper before look at the poor widows and orphans as should receive it in our own town besides Peterborough could not afford sus nor one as that why i dont think churches was such an impitence as that they get $500 every summer for playing in V park besides Peterborough has feed a lot of poor English immegrants that came out in this city they should try and look after the poor in Peterborough they are lots of poor weman going out scrubbing with no work taxes has been rising of late evry year and as a citizen for years i am sorry to see anyone ask our mayor such a question to get the town money $1000 toward their trip, and General Booth is more able to give t than Peterborough.

Yours truly,
Taxpayer.

M.P.'S WERE TIRED.

Long Debate on N. T. R. Report Followed by a Calm.

OTTAWA, April 4.—The House of Commons having been in session until after three o'clock yesterday morning all contentious matters were avoided at yesterday's sitting. Several Government bills were advanced yesterday afternoon, including Mr. Nantel's bill to amend the Adulteration Act, which was given a second reading. The bill is introduced to protect the manufacturers and vendors of maple syrup, and prohibits the use of the word "maple" on any brand or label upon any syrup which is not boiled down syrup of the maple tree. The bill was referred to a select standing committee on agriculture, and all persons desiring to be heard for or against the bill should notify Mr. Semmith (East Peterboro), the chairman of the committee.

Mr. Pelletier's resolution making some slight advance in the pay of certain postal employes passed through committee and the bill founded thereon was introduced and read the first time.

At four o'clock the House went over to the Senate chamber, where the royal assent was given to a number of bills, including the interim supply bill.

In the public accounts committee yesterday W. M. German of Welland, after securing an order for the production of all papers and vouchers respecting payments of $18,858,000 to J. D. McArthur, railway contractor, had the committee summon Major Leonard, chairman of the Transcontinental commission; Gordon Grant, chief engineer, and Collingwood Schreiber, C.M.G., to give evidence on Tuesday next. The subject of the enquiry will be payments made in connection with McArthur contract in respect to over-classification.

CAPACITIES OF LOCAL VESSELS

The Dominion Steamboat Inspection report for 1913 gives the following information regarding the tonnage and the number of passengers alowed on local vessels:

	No of Pass.	Tonnage.
Rainbow	210	56
Geneva	214	93
Monarch	176	73
Stoney Lake	220	156
Islinda	211	54
Empress	245	85
Lintonia	209	59
Naiad		16
Rob Roy		12
Bessie Butler		77
Maida Vale		19

BOYS!

Your Spare Time is Worth Money to You

You can earn 50c to $2.00 every week selling Examiners in your spare time.

COAL

Best Quality Lehigh Coal, properly screened

Spring Cash Prices

Stove $6.75 Pea $6.00

Chestnut $7.00

Remember all orders of One Ton and over - weighed over Market Scales.

R. W. Davidson

171 Antrim St. Phone 1260

EASTER FAVOURS

We have many dainty gifts, typical for Easter. Many of these are priced at $1.00 and even less. They are new and attractive. Glad to show you.

Easter time makes gift-giving practical and appropriate.

SCHNEIDER, The Jeweller, George St.

EASTER

Candy Baskets and Chocolate Eggs at

THE MARATHON CANDY KITCHEN

Delicious Ice Cream, be a dish, Ice Cream Sodas, any flavour, 5c a glass. Fruit Sundaes 5c and 10c

331 George St. Next to Bank of Nova Scotia

ICE CREAM ALL YEAR ROUND

Satisfaction Guaranteed And Money Back. . .

During 1913 the amount Paid to Beneficiaries and Policyholders was

$1,448,719.16

A Concrete Example of Life Insurance Benefits.

Write for copy of Full Report. It will interest you. A postcard to-day will do.

The Manufacturers' Life Insurance Co.

374½ Water Street, Peterborough, Ontario

THOMAS MARK GENERAL AGENT

We Are Showing a Complete Range of Domestic & Imported Rugs Economically Priced

If there are any faded and threadbare spots in your Carpets the bright sunshine of Spring will show them up. During the dark and dreary days of Winter these imperfections may have escaped your notice, but now they loom up terribly, striking a discordant note with the harmony of an otherwise beautifully furnished room.

Our Carpet Department is at present able to show you one of the most complete and up-to-date ranges of domestic Rugs ever shown in Peterboro.

Handsome Wiltons with their deep velvety pile; Axminsters in the famous Templeton makes, so noted for their splendid durability, choice designs and soft colourings; Brussels in handsome woven designs, the wearing qualities of these Rugs are almost unbeatable; and last, but not the least popular, a full range of Tapestry Rugs for those who prefer something real serviceable and a little lower priced.

SPRINGTIME IS WALLPAPER TIME

So of course we are showing a splendid selection of Wallpapers in all the newest effects and suitable for every room. Of special interest is a new shipment of Robert Graves Papers, in a splendid Oatmeal finish, these come in Green and Tan shadow effects with handsome cut out Applique Friezes; also in crown effects in the same colourings. These are used extensively for Parlours, Dining-rooms, Living-rooms and Halls. Also a very choice range of Bedroom Papers in dainty floral and stripe effects, with cut out borders to match. Estimates and ideas cheerfully given.

The CRESSMAN Company Limited

City Council Authorize A Grant Of $275 To The Salvation Army Band

Will Also Purchase a Supply of Books—Ten Thousand Copies To Be Distributed in England

A DISADVANTAGE

At a meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council, which was held last evening, it was decided to give the Salvation Army Band a grant of $275 towards defraying the Band's expenses to the Old Country, and also to purchase one hundred dollars' worth of books, advertising Peterborough. The Band asked for a grant of $1,000, and in return they agreed to distribute ten thousand copies of the books in England, besides leaving a large quantity in Peterborough for local distribution. The book in question contains a variety of information pertaining to Peterborough, presenting its commercial and industrial advantages in turn. It is to contain numerous illustrations, including a picture of the Peterborough City Council. This latter feature, Alderman Gordon submitted was a disadvantage as it would tend to keep people away from Peterborough rather than encourage them to come here.

Amendment Was Defeated.

After considerable discussion it was moved that the Salvation Army Band be given in addition to the regular grant of $225, the sum of $275 towards the publication of a book advertising Peterborough to be distributed in England, and that the city buy 400 copies of the book for local distribution at a cost of $100.

Alderman Duncan contended that the amount was insufficient. He was in favour of giving the band $500 in addition to the regular grant.

"You gave the curlers $250 to feed two or three Scotsmen," he remarked. Anderman Anderson expressed a similar opinion.

Alderman Saunders could not see how the city would derive $275 worth of benefit through the distribution of 10,000 copies of the books in the Old Country. Alderman Gordon instanced the good work that had been accomplished by the Home Reunion Association in the matter of promoting immigration to Peterborough.

Alderman Duncan moved in amendment that the grant be $350 in addition to the usual fixed grant of $225.

The original motion carried.

The Maple Leaf Band.

Mr. Dunford, representing the Maple Leaf Band, together with two other members, waited upon the Council with the object of securing assistance from the city in the matter of procuring a place in which to practice. Mr. Dunford explained that the membership of the band was fourteen, and that it was the desire of the organization to secure permanent quarters.

Mayor Buller agreed to wait upon the City Trust Commissioner accompanied by a deputation of the City Council, and see if that body had a room available for the purpose suggested.

Additional Help Required.

Alderman Langford, chairman of the Property Committee, reported that the man in charge of the garbage incinerator was being over-worked, and that he had engaged another man to assist him. A man was employed for four days to relieve the congestion which was occasioned by a spell of fine weather, and the desire on the part of a number of householders, to clean up their back yards. Alderman Langford was given permission to employ any additional help that might be required and at the same time see that this privilege was not abused.

The Board of Trade.

It was moved by Alderman Duncan and seconded by Alderman Green, that the Board of Trade be given for distribution purposes a supply of envelopes advertising Peterborough. The city has a large stock of the aforesaid mentioned envelopes on hand.

A grant of $900 was voted to the Horticultural Society. This was the same as last year.

Discount Allowed.

A discount of two per cent. will be allowed on the last half of the taxes if paid at the same time that the first half is paid. The first half is due on August the first, and the second on November the fifteenth. This will mean a difference of $2,000 in favour of the taxpayer.

CHIEF CONSTABLE WAS APPOINTED

And at Once Suspended — Sensational Meeting of Port Hope Council

PORT HOPE, April 4—A sensation occurred at last night's meeting of the Town Council, when Constable Allan P. Royce was appointed Chief of Police by the board, and immediately afterwards suspended from the office for thirty days by Mayor Bush, who will prefer certain charges against Royce to the County Judge for investigation. Such was the dramatic sequel to a four months' controversy over the appointment of a Chief Constable for Port Hope.

Royce was formerly night constable of the town for a number of years, and has been Acting Chief since the dismissal of the former occupant of the position by last year's Council. The Police Committee advertised for applicants some weeks ago, as a result of which they received about twenty-five applications, including one from Royce, who came into prominence in the interim through his enforcement of the liquor license act. Certain charges were preferred against him to the Police Committee, the investigation of which did not satisfy the Mayor and some members of the Council.

Last night's vote on Royce's appointment stood four to four, and Councillor George A. Smith, who was in the chair, gave the casting vote in favour of Royce, thereby appointing him at a salary of $700 per annum and uniform. This was followed by Royce's suspension by the Mayor, and in order to clear the atmosphere the charges against Royce will be referred to the County Judge to investigate.

BREAK IN THE STOCK MARKET

C. P. R. Lost a Couple of Points—The Weekly Bank Statement

NEW YORK, April 4—The stock market aftera rally in the tractions, broke through the night and lost from one to two points.

Atch. ends retrenchment in western shop, mechanics get pay increased 25 per cent. over that of January 1st.

Failures this week 236 against 299 previous week.

Duns Review says: In Westinghouse there is more activity and business sentiment quite confident because of promising crop outlook.

12 industrials declined .36.
20 active rails declined .55.

Following is the bank statement for the week:

Reserve decrease	$ 8,211,750
Loans increase	18,594,000
Specie decrease	782,000
Legals decrease	2,923,000
Deposits increase	22,825,000

MORNING MUSICALE AT MISS GLADMAN'S

Address Given By Mrs. R. E. Wood

The Morning Musical met on Thursday at Miss Gladman's, when a paper on Schubert was read by Mrs. Frederick and, after an interesting address by the President, Mrs. R. E. Wood, the following programme was rendered by the members:

Piano solo from 'Impromptu No. 3'—Mrs. Fessenden.

Song, "Serenade" — Miss Richardson; Mrs. Porter, accompaniste.

Violin solo, "Minuet"—Mrs. Boyd. Mrs. Gladman, accompaniste.

Piano solo, "Valse"—Mrs. Porter.

The next meeting will be held at Miss Fair's, 506 Dickson Street, on Thursday, April 16th, when Macdowell will be studied.

LEG BROKEN IN AN ACCIDENT

Local Young Man Hurt at Echo Bay

Word has been received in the City to the effect that Stephen O'Toole, son of Mr. Wm. O'Toole, 97 Hunter Street, had met with an accident at Echo Bay, Ont., in which he had a leg broken. No particulars were given as to how the accident occurred, but it is understood that the young man has been removed to the Hospita at Sudbury for treatment.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT GOSPEL HALL

A special series of meetings is being arranged for the Gospel Hall. Mr. Robert McMurdo, of Chicago, the editor of the new religious journal, "The Armour of Light," will be the special speaker. The services will commence with four meetings on Easter Sunday, and there will be a meeting every night of the following week.

Climax To A Great Week

"We Let Her Drive", Subject of Evangelist Pugsley's Sermon Last Evening

Friday night's service at the Park Street Baptist Church was the climax of one of the greatest weeks in its history. The auditorium was filled and the way that all took part in singing and testimony was truly an old-fashioned revival meeting. The sermon on, "We Let Her Drive" was a disposition of the 27th chap. of Acts, where the sailors, captain and all on board came to a place where they could not do anything but strike sail and so were driven. God cannot use any man or woman till they have come to the end of self, and like the Publican, Phillopian Jailor and Jonah cry out, "What must I do to be saved."

Musical Director Peters sang, "Throw Out the Life Line," assisted by the chorus choir.

There will be four great services on Sunday. Prayer meeting at 10 a.m. in lecture room, led by Paston Conners. At 11 a.m. Evangelist Pugsley will preach on, "What is Our Hope." At 3 p.m. the evangelist will preach to men only, "Boot Strap Religion." A male quartette will sing also. Musical Director, Peters Peters, and at 7 p.m. the subject will be, "A Beggar at a Banquet." Special music by chorus choir. Come and bring a friend.

System Is A "Roaring Farce"

Ald. Johnston Attacks the Legislation Governing Street Watering —Appropriation May Be Reduced

"The way the street watering is done in Peterborough, constitutes a roaring farce," said Ald. Johnston at last nights meeting of the committee of the Whole Council. He objected to the legislation that compelled the City to adopt one of two methods of paying for street watering. He contended that it was a shame that people should be compelled to pay for street watering when they received absolutely no benefit from it. People residing in the outlying districts, which were not covered by the system, were compelled to contribute to the cost of the work on the same basis as those who were benefitted by the work.

Ald. Duncan—"We can't help ourselves."

"Get a new government," suggested Ald. Duffus.

"I don't believe in changing governments," remarked Ald. Green. "If we had inserted that clause in our Private Bill, we would have got it through."

Ald. Gordon was also of the opinion that the streets were insufficiently watered.

Later in the evening when it was practically decided that one half mill would have to be cut off the tax rate for 1914, Aldermen Johnston and Gordon were a party to the suggestion that five hundred dollars be cut off the appropriation for street watering as that the prospects for adequate street watering this year are even less than they were last year. The matter was shelved for future discussion.

"Queen Zephra"

This beautiful musical extravaganza will be presented at the Grand Opera House April 14, 15, 16 and matinee, April 16th, under the auspices of the Conservatory of Music orchestra.

A full carload of beautiful spectacular scenery, a complete electrical equipment and special properties are necessary for the proper staging of this piece and a beatuiful scenic display is assured.

The training of 150 people for parts in cast of characters, choruses and dance ensemble is well under way under direction of Harry J. Booth of Boston and an artistic production will be the result.

There is no doubt but that "Zephra" will be one of the most beautiful and pleasing events of the theatrical season.

Coleman's Baking

Is Making Many Friends.

It is noted for

That Delicious Flavour found only where a careful selection of the

Highest Quality of Choicest Ingredients Are Used

Try some of our Special Week End Delicacies for Sunday

Easter Novelties
Chocolate Eggs
In Abundance

Coleman Bros
414, 426 GEORGE STREET

Enjoyable Recital

Miss Edwina Palmer's Playing Delighted Large Audience

A most enjoyable violin recital was given in the Conservatory of Music Hall, last evening, by Miss Edwina Palmer, graduate of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, and a member of the staff of the local Conservatory. Miss Palmer was given an enthusiastic reception by the arge audience, and her playing was worthy of the ovation she received. Her numbers were brilliantly executed. During the evening Miss Palmer received a number of beautiful bouquets, the presentation being made by little Agnes Logan. Miss Adamson was assisted by Miss Elsie Drechsler Adam, a most accomplished 'cellist. Miss Jeanette Killmaster and Miss Gwendolyn Smith presided at the piano. Following was the programme:

Trio—(a) Serenade ..... Widor
(b) Spring Song ..... Mendelssohn
Edwina Palmer, violinist; Elsie Drechesler Adamson, 'cellist; Jeanette Killmaster, Pianist.

Violin solo—Concerto, Moderato) ..... Viotti
Edwina Pamer.

'Cello Solo—Romance ..... Davidoff
Elsie Drechsler Adamson .. ..

Violin solo — (a) Meditation from Thais ..... Massanet
(b) Scherzo .. Dittersdorf-Kreisler
(c) Hongrois..... Deszo Lederer

'Cello solo—Melodie ..... Moffat

Violin solo—
(a) Canzonetta ..... d'Ambrosio
(b) Sebon Rosmarin ..... Kreisler
(c) The Bee ..... Schubert

ST. JOHN'S BIBLE CLASS TO MEET

The St. John's Bible class will mee in Coleman's parlour, George Street, instead of the Church. Lesson for Sunday, St. Luke, Chap. 24, 13:35, "The Journey to Emmanus." Golden Text, It is Christ that died, yea rather than is risen again. In the lesson we are told, "That their eyes were hidden that they should not know Him." Ho ware our eeys? Are they blind to the vision of Christ? If so, why? A Christian does not need eyeglasses to see his Muster, but needs only to open the window of truth. Come and join us for one brief hour and help open that window. Free discussion of the lesson which opens at 3 p.m. All welcome.

Hair Dressing

Ladies' Hair-dressing, Shampooing Manicuring, etc. Hair carefully matched and made up to order. Combs, Pins, Barrettes and other accessories in nice assortment, always in stock.

MISS E. SMITH
523 George St. Bell 'Phone 118 Machine " 133

International Harvester Co.
Farm Machinery
Complete lines of both McCormack and Deering Machines

McLaughlin and Carnell Carriage Co.
Carriages
Buggies, etc.

London Sanitary Mails, Litter Carriers, Hay Forks, George White's Threshing Machinery, Full lines of Harness, Whips, Oils, Rugs, Horse Blankets, Mitts, &c.

SPECIAL HARNESS SALE NOW ON

Heard & Northey
370 Water St. 'Phone 1320

GOING TO BUY A CAP?

The sooner you get it the better. These are the days when a smart cap looks right and feels right. We have a full assortment of everything new in Cap-Dom.

W. E. LECH Manufacturing Furrier And Hatter
366 GEORGE ST., Near Simcoe. 'Phone 736

NEW BABIES & NEW BABY CARRIAGES
WE HAVE THE CARRIAGES

The "HEYWOOD" 1914 Styles Now on Display

will be easy choosing a suitable coach for the NEW BABY from the various styles shown and the strength and durability of the "HEYWOOD" make is well known.

We have real Slumber Carriages, Pullman Sleepers, Sulkies and Folding Carts.

COME AND SEE OUR EXHIBIT

CLEGG'S FURNITURE STORE
427 George St. 'Phone 79

COBALT

"Trade the Hammer for the Horn"

McKINLEY-DARRAGH'S depleted reserves and the dropping of the Buffalo and Nipissing bonus dividends do not mean that Cobalt is decadent. Do you know there is a greater rich acreage at Cobalt untouched than has ever been explored? We do; and

We are telling you the facts about Cobalt in Weekly Market Letter just issued. Copies FREE upon request.

Chas. A. Stoneham & Co
(Established 1903)
23 Melinda Street, Toronto. 'Phone M. 2569

LATEST IMPROVED
VACUUM CLEANERS

Hand Power Domestic Vacuum Cleaners $11.00.
Electric Power Vacuum Cleaners from $25.00.
Recommended to give the best service of any Vacuum Cleaner on the market. For sale by

GRANT & THORPE
Electrical Supplies & Contractors
430 GEORGE ST. PHONE 798

Asthma Catarrh
SPASMODIC CROUP
COUGHS COLDS
Vapo-Cresolene
ESTABLISHED 1879
A simple, safe and effective treatment for bronchial troubles, without dosing the stomach with drugs. Used with success for thirty years.
The air carrying the Antiseptic vapor, inspired with every breath, makes breathing easy, soothes the sensitive and inflamed membranes, relieves spasmodic attacks. Cresolene is recommended by the mothers of young children as a SAFEGUARD against Asthma. Sold on a postal for descriptive booklet.
ALL DRUGGISTS.
The CRESOLENE ANTISEPTIC THROAT TABLETS are the preferred remedy when the throat is sore, dry or ticklish. Sold by druggists or sent by mail, 25c in stamps.
Vapo-Cresolene Co.
62 Cortlandt St., N.Y.
Canadian Office Building, Montreal, Can.

Father Minehan Visits Orangeman

Members of L. O. L. 857 last night warmly applauded a reference in the sick committee report, presented by the deputy master, in which it was stated that Rev. Father Minehan had visited one of the brethren, Alfred Lee, who is ill, and who lives in Father Minehan's parish, and left him a bouquet of roses.

"Yes, I took flowers to Alfrd Lee," said Father Minehan this morning. "I did not know he was an Orangeman. He is a neighbour of mine and lives just a few doors south. I know him very well, and do not care if he is an Orangeman twenty times; I have taken him flowers and will certainly take him some more."

"Are you not afraid of action being taken?" the reporter ventured.

"No, I am not," Father Minehan replied.

Father Minehan, it will be remembered preached Temperance Sermons at the Church of the Sacred Heart, two weeks ago.

CHARIOT RACE UP WATER STREET

A farmer is now in the Police Station, peacefully snoring in a drunken sleep. He was arrested by P. C. Reid this afternoon after he had had a chariot race with a team of horses attacked to a rig.

He, in company with his father came to town, and got the worse for liquor. Time came to go home, and father and son got into the rig at the bottom of Water street. The son, evidently thinking that he was getting a very slow ride, wrenched the reins from his father's hands, and started the horses off at a tremendous rate up Water street. A blank-eyed crowd of farmers stood watching, as the horses dodged in and out of passing vehicles, and several times, a heavy collision was averted by only a hair's breadth. At the top of Water street, the father managed to secure possession of the lines, threw his son off the rig, and drove back to town. The son followed later and subsequently became one of Chief Thompson's wards.

He will appear on charges of being drunk and driving carelessly.

Contracted A Severe Cold After An Operation.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP
Effected A Complete Cure.

Mrs. Thos. A. Julian, Almonte, Ont., writes:—"I gave a few lines to let you know how thankful I am for what Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has done for me. A few years ago I was operated on for appendicitis, and was confined to the hospital for five weeks. When I returned home I contracted a severe cold which left me with a bad cough. A neighbor told my husband about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup so I decided to try a bottle. When it was finished it had done me so much good I took another which completely cured me. I can very, very strongly recommend it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup contains all the lung healing virtues of the famous Norway pine tree, which makes it the very best combination for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, and all Throat and Lung troubles.

Price, 25 and 50 cents.

See you get "Dr. Wood's" as there are many imitations on the market. The genuine is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

TO
The Drink Habit
THE NEAL THREE DAYS' TREATMENT
For the liquor habit will break these shackles. A simple, safe and effective treatment. Write or 'phone for particulars.
NEAL INSTITUTE,
78 St. Alban's Street,
TORONTO.

100,000 Coal Miners Now Out On Strike

England is Facing Immediate Prospect of Coal Shortage If the Difficulty is Not Settled At Once

STRIKE MAY EXTEND

Special Cable to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., April 4.—Scarcely a ton of coal was mined in the great Yorkshire collieries to-day, and interest in the Home Rule crisis is being subjected somewhat to the great immediate prospect of coal shortage. One hundred thousand miners are idle, and unless a compromise is reached shortly there will be a serious tie-up in the nation's commerce and national life will be imperilled, as Yorkshire is depended upon to supply a big proportion of the country's coal.

The trouble has arisen over the interpretation of the minimum wage clause of the recent agreement. Men say it should be the equivalent of a dollar and ninety cents per day, but the employers will only pay a dollar seventy-two. The strike may extend to other coal districts, which would make things more serious.

Here You Have Both Sides Of Army Problem

Unionists Speak in London and Premier Asquith in East Fife

Special Cable to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., April 4.— Sir Edward Carson, Lord Charles Beresford and other prominent Unionists, were the principal speakers to-day at a tremendous rally of Unionists and Unionist sympathizers in Hyde Park and other parts of London. Twenty-two processions, with fifty bands, converged on Hyde Park from all parts of the city.

"We will not allow the army and navy to be coerced by the Liberal government to force Home Rule on Ireland," was the keynote of the speeches, which were received with ringing applause.

Thousands of police kept huge crowds in order until after the Unionists and labour demonstrations were over. Then the suffragettes took possession and a riot started. Flora Drummond and others were arrested.

Premier Asquith.

LADY BANK, SCOTLAND, April 4.—Our army will hear nothing of politics from me and reciprocating we will expect to hear nothing of politics from our army." In these words before his constituents in East Fife to-night, Prime Minister and Secretary of War Asquith explained his standing definitely and eloquently in regard to recent army episodes. Asquith indignantly denied that the government had any intention of provoking the army to hostilities. Asquith was again wildly cheered when he said: "The recent Tory doctrine, permitting officers to say when and where they shall or shall not serve, strikes at the root of army discipline and demoralizes governments."

Board Of Trade For Millbrook

Business Men Organize—Officers Elected

MILLBROOK, April 2.—At the call of the Reeve a number of business men met in the Council Chamber on Monday night, to talk over trade matters affecting the town. The Reeve discussed various ways in which he thought such an organization would be good for the progress of the place. The following officers were elected:

Chairman—Morgan Carry.
Vice-Chairman—W. H. Coombe.
Secretary—H. R. Armstrong.
Treasurer—G. S. Carveth.
Committee—R. N. Edmunds, G. W. Sayles, L. S. Clarry, J. H. Bingham, P. I. Rentley, I. Needham, R. Deyell, Wm. Lang, A. Leach, J. Steele, W. J. E. Gillott, W. Northey.

LOCAL LODGES VISITED HAVELOCK

Participated in Dedication of New Oddfellows' Hall

A number of the members of Peterborough and Otonabee Lodges, I.O.O. F., took the local C.P.R. train to Havelock last night, and participated with the Havelock lodges in the ceremony of the dedication of the new Oddfellows' Hall.

A public entertainment was given, and the spacious new hall was crowded for the occasion. This part of the celebration was very successful, the local Oddfellows contributing the feature of the evening, a mock initiation, put on by the local degree team. The local Oddfellows were greatly pleased with the splendid new quarters of the Havelock lodge.

The presiding officer of the Havelock lodge, in his usual finent style, welcomed the visiting brethren. After the public function the visitors were entertained at a sumptuous banquet. Bright speeches were delivered by the presiding officers and others of the Havelock Oddfellows, and by Past Grand Master W. Savigny, R. Hillier, G. Duncan, Target and Stiles.

Presenting Title 'Royal" to Canadian Institute.—This is the first Scientific Institute in Canada which has been given this title. The membership includes scientists and professional men all over Canada. Sir John Gibson presided, representing H.R. H. the Duke of Connaught.

MAN CONSUMES 82 BOTTLES OF PAIN-KILLER

Patient at St. Joseph's Hospital Discovers a Substitute For Whiskey

To those who drink whiskey and cannot get, try "Pain Killer."

That this is an excellent substitute, was brought to light at a meeting of the Finance committee of the City Council which was held last evening in the committee room of the City Building.

"Pain Killer" has been used with remarkable success by one of our citizens, at least, it would be a success if quantity would determine success or failure.

Mr. F. W. Miller, Relief Officer, and investigator of indigent patients, in his report to the committee, was dealing with persons who had been admitted as free patients to the St. Joseph's Hospital. Some were really unable to pay on a count of sickness, or being out of work, but the particular case to which reference is now being made, was endorsed, "This man should pay." The report then reads as follows: "This man makes good money, but spends it all in whiskey, and when he can't get whiskey, he gets "Pain Killer." His wife said that she found 82 bottles of this drug in his bedroom."

It was then noticed that the reporters present were noting the name for publication, when one of the aldermen present asked that no names be published.

"Is it right," said Ald. Green, "that these men should or should not, be published. Such a "dried apple cuss" as this should be made public. Such people are taking the public money, and I think it should be known." His object ion, however, was eventually over-ruled.

Toronto Free Hospital.

A communication was read from the Board of the Toronto Free Hospital for tubercular patients, intimating the fact that the City would be liable for the expenses of a Peterborough resident who was an inmate of that institution.

Indigent Patients.

A list of some twenty-five patients who will receive free treatment at the expense of the City, in the Nicholls Hospital was read, being contained in a report from the Hospital Board.

Duplicated Donation.

Last year the Finance committee donated $10 towards the work of the Dominion Tactile Press. That organization again applied to the charitable institutes of the committee, and were successful in getting the donation duplicated. The society has sent religious literature to our Public Library during the past year and signifies its intention of continuing the practice.

Cartier Centenary.

A letter was read from the promoters of a centenary celebration in memory of George Cartier, well known to all Canadians, asking that the City make a grant to a fund which is now being raised to build a monument on the slopes of Mount Royal, in honour of the prominent Canadian statesman.

Mayor Butler said he did not know George very well, but he thought that as they were doing something for the centinary peace celebration, that was enough. Ald. Johnston's suggestion that the communication be given the usual six months' stay found favour.

There were present at the meeting, Ald. Anderson, chairman, and Ald. Green, Johnston, Langford and Mayor Butler.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY

Rev. E. Farewell Will Visit George Street Church on Sunday

The anniversary of the George Street Methodist Sunday School will be observed on Sunday. Rev. F. L. Farewell, Associate Secretary of Sunday Schools, of the Methodist Church in Canada, will be the visiting clergyman. He will address a congregation of children in the morning, and preach in the evening. The Sunday School is one of the best in the City with all departments thoroughly organized and a splendid staff of teachers and officers under the able leadership of Mr. Wilson Taylor, B.A., of the Collegiate staff, as superintendent.

On Monday evening an illustrated lecture on "Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress" will be delivered, under the auspices of the Sunday School.

PROVINCIAL BOARD OF HEALTH TO SUPPLY ANTITOXIN

Dr. John S. McCullough, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, has sent out a circular to the local Board of Health, stating that arrangements have been made for a supply of anti-diphtheretic serum at greatly reduced rates. The antitoxin will be of standard quality, 30 per cent. in excess of the marked label, and will be sold at 25 cents per 1,000 units, 50 cents per 2,000 units, $1.25 per 5,000 units, and $2.50 for 10,000 units. Syringe packages of these units will be ten cents extra in each case.

Regimental Orders

Headquarters,
Peterborough, April 3rd, 1914.

Orders by the Officer Commanding 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers:—

1. The Regiment will parade in drill order at the Armouries at 8.00 p.m. on Tuesday, April 7th, 1914, and until further orders on each subsequent Tuesday at the same place and hour.

2. All recruits enlisting for the drill season of 1914 must be enrolled on or before Tuesday, May 5th, 1914.

D. WALKER, Major.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

A Shiny Skirt.—One of the many problems of the woman in the matter of dress is that of the skirt that has acquired shine through wear. Oftentimes a skirt is perfectly good except for the very noticeable gloss it bears after being worn for a considerable length of time. Unfortunately this fault cannot be remedied entirely, though there are several methods which improve the skirt for a time at least. One is to rub the shiny portions gently with emery cloth or fine sandpaper, rubbing after with a warmed silk handkerchief. Another method is to rub with a bit of flannel dipped in turpentine, or sponge with a solution of common washing blue and water; press while still damp under a thin cloth.

* * *

The sunny smile is more than money in the bank. It makes friends that coin cannot buy. You may be shy on the head group, so develop a big smile, just for the sake of having a little business capital.

—Farm and Dairy.

JUDGMENT RESERVED IN HAVELOCK CASE

County Magistrate Edminson has reserved judgment, after considerable evidence had been taken in the case of C. . Boardman, who appeared before him on a charge of being a transient trader.

The point which Magistrate Edmison has to decide is whether or not he can be treated as a transient trader.

The circumstances of the case are briefly these:

Boardman, some time ago, was in business in Havelock as a harness maker, and after he had been in business for a considerable time, he left the town, and returned last February, after an absence of nearly two years. He bought himself a house, and rented a store, and the Council of Havelock was instrumental in having an information laid against him.

If by law he is found to be a transient trader, and is doing what he ought not to do, he is liable to a fine of $50, but the by-law also provides that this amount may be deducted from his taxes when they become due. Boardman claims that he is not a transient trader, according to law, and appeared before Magistrate Edminson on Thursday last to deny the charge. He conducted his own defence.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The semi-annual election of officers of the St. James' Church Boys' Guild was held last evening. The officers elected are as follows:

Hon. President—Mr. Wright.
President—Orel Puffer.
1st Vice President—Max Sloan.
2nd Vice President—George Robinson.
Secretary—Earl Barrie.
Treasurer—B. Payne.
Athletic Committee — O. Puffer, (leader); Willie Jeffries, Stanley Rootes and Max. Sloan.

The Churches

ANGLICAN

St. John's Church

REV. J. C. DAVIDSON, RECTOR.

SIXTH SUNDAY IN LENT.
PALM SUNDAY.

8.30 a.m.—Holy Communion.
11 a.m.—Matins and sermon.
Venite 84. Benedicite 54. Benedictus 51
Office hymn 128. "All glory, laud and honour."
Before sermon 133. "Ride on! in majesty."
Offertory, "The Palms" (Rameau), Miss Quartermaine.
Recessional 128. "Glory be to Jesus."
3 p.m.—Sunday School and Bible Classes. Mr. Kingdon's Men's Class meets in the Church.
7 p.m.—Evensong and sermon.
Gloria 55.
Magnificat 85.
Nunc Dimittis 105.
Office hymn 133. "Ride on, ride on."
Before sermon 140. "His are the thousand sparkling rills."
Offertory. "Could ye not watch?" (Stainer).
Recessional 60. "There is a green hill far away."
Stainer's "Crucifixion" will be sung at 8 p.m. on Good Friday.
Richard J. Bovey, Organist and Choirmaster.

All Saints' Church

REV. R. S. GYDES, M.A., RECTOR.

PALM SUNDAY.

11 a.m.—Holy Communion. Preacher, the Rector.
Hymn 247. "I hunger and I thirst."
Kyrie 121. Gloria Tibi 123.
Hymn 128. "All glory, laud and honour."
Offertory solo. "The Palms." Miss Helen Rush.
Hymn 132. "Lord, as to Thy dear Cross we flee."
Gamma 129. Gloria in Excelsis 131.
Alms presentation 126. Amen 134.
3 p.m.—Sunday School and Bible Class.
7 p.m.—Evening prayer. Preacher, the Rector.
Hymn 133. "Ride on, ride on in majesty."
Sermon, "St. Paul, the Missionary."
Choir Leader and Organist, Mr Geo A. Kenyon.

St. Paul's Church

REV. ROBERT POGUE, PASTOR.

11 a.m.—Morning service. The Pastor will preach.
Organ prelude, "Intermezzo" (Hoffman).
Recit. and Aria, "O worse than death indeed" "Angels ever bright and fair" ("Theodora") (Handel), Miss Dorothy Allan.
Offertory anthem, "God so loved the world" ("Crucifixion") (Stainer).
Organ postlude, "Worthy is the Lamb that was slain" (Handel).
3 p.m.—Sabbath School. Young Men's Class—Teacher, Mr. H. B. Cowan. Young Women's Class—Teacher, Dr. Meir. Mitto Adult Bible Class—Teacher, Mr. Dutton.
7 p.m.—Evening worship. The Pastor will preach. Subject of sermon: "The Demands and Duty of Labour."
Organ prelude, "Meditation" (D'Ecry).
Solo (soprano), "The Palms" (Faure), Miss Dorothy Allan.
Offertory anthem, "Jesus word of God incarnate" (Gounod).
Organ postlude, "Lift up your heads" ("Messiah") (Handel).
Organist and Choirmaster, Mr. John Allen.

St. George's Church South Peterborough

(Lech and Braidwood)

REV. J. PRICE, Rector.

11 a.m.—Morning prayer and sermon.
3 p.m.—Sunday School.
7 p.m.—Choral evensong and sermon.
Monday, 8 p.m.—Choir practice.
Good Friday, 10.30 a.m. — Service and sermon.

St. Luke's Church

REV. F. J. SAWERS, M.A., RECTOR.

PALM SUNDAY.

11 a.m.—Holy Communion and sermon.
3 p.m.—Sunday School and Bible Classes. The Rector's Bible Class in the Church.
4.10 p.m.—Holy Baptism.
7 p.m.—Evening prayer and sermon. Subject: "Great Hymns of the Church. 'There is a green hill far away.'"
Miss Phyllis Dawson will sing "The Palms" at the morning service.
The Rector will preach at both services.
All Seats Free.
Special service every evening in Holy Week.
Good Friday services at 10.30 a.m. and 8 p.m.

ROMAN CATHOLIC

St. Peter's Cathedral

There will be three masses celebrated: At 8 a.m., Low Mass; at 9.15 a.m., Children's Mass; at 10.30 a.m., High Mass; at 7 p.m., Vespers, with sermon.

METHODIST

Charlotte Street Methodist

11 a.m.—Morning service.
2.30 p.m.—Sunday School Session.
7 p.m.—Evening service.
Rev. H. A. Frost, B.A., of Victoria College, will preach morning and evening.

George Street Methodist

REV. R. G. PEEVER, B.D., PASTOR.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY.

10 a.m.—Society Class Meeting and Junior Epworth League.
11 a.m.—Morning service.
3 p.m.—Sunday School Session and Bible Classes.
7 p.m.—Evening service.
Rev. F. L. Farewell, of Toronto, will preach at both services and will address the Sunday School in an open session at 3 p.m.
Good Music. All Welcomed.
Monday, 8 p.m.—Illustrated Lecture on Bunyon's "Pilgrim's Progress."

Mark Street Methodist

REV. C. E. CRAGG, B.D. PASTOR.

10 a.m.—Class services.
11 a.m.—Morning worship. Subject: "Growth in Grace."
2.45 p.m.—Sunday School, Bible Class.
7 p.m.—Evening worship. Subject: "A King in Pillory."
The Pastor will preach at both services.
Monday—Young People's Society. Mr. H. B. Cowan will speak on the subject "The Land Question—Why Social Problems are Going to Become Greater."
Wednesday, 8 p.m.—General prayer service.

St. James' Methodist

(Corner of Romaine and Aylmer Streets)

REV. J. N. CLARRY, B.A., PASTOR.

10 a.m.—Class meeting.
11 a.m.—Divine service. Reception of members by letter or profession of faith.
2.30 p.m.—Sunday School.
7 p.m.—Divine service.
Monday, 8 p.m.—Senior Epworth League.
Tuesday, 8 p.m.—Meeting of Finance Board.
Wednesday, 8 p.m.—Prayer meeting.

PRESBYTERIAN

Knox Church

REV. H. J. KEITH, B.D., M.A., PASTOR

11 a.m.—Morning service.
Children's solo, by Miss Mabel Pearson. Anthem, "What shall I render unto the Lord?" (Simper).
Sermon, "The Man Who is Not Poor Enough."
3 p.m.—Sunday School. Bible Classes. Ladies' Bible Class—Teacher, Mrs W. Roger. Men's Bible Class—Teacher, Sheriff Hall. Young Men's Class—Teacher, Rev. H. J. Keith.
7 p.m.—Evening service.
Solo, "The Palms," Mr. Geo. Kenyon.
Anthem, "Ere another Sabbath Close" (Bowles).

BAPTIST

Murray Street Baptist Church

REV. J. R. WEBB, PASTOR.
Residence, 204 London St.

11 a.m.—Morning service.
3 p.m.—Sunday School and Bible Classes.
7 p.m.—Evening service.
All Seats Free.
Strangers Cordially Welcomed.

Park Street Baptist Church

REV. F. A. CONNOR, PASTOR.
Residence, 207 King Street.

11 a.m.—Morning service.
7 p.m.—Evening service.
H. Hill, Organist and Choirmaster.
We plan to have for you here, Doors, Seats, Hands and Hearts Open.
You plan to be with us and bring your friends.

MISCELLANEOUS

Salvation Army Temple

ADJUTANT AND MRS. McELMINEY IN CHARGE.

7 a.m.—Knee Drill.
10 a.m.—Bible Study.
10.15 a.m.—United Open Air, Cor. Louis and Charlotte Sts.
11 a.m.—Old Time Holiness Meeting, Salvation Army Temple.
2 p.m.—Sunday School and Bible Class.
2.15 p.m.—Open Air, Cor. Hunter and George Sts.
3 p.m.—Old Fashioned Experience Meeting.
3 p.m.—Sunday School.
7.15 p.m.—Songster Brigade. Market Square.
7.15 p.m.—Senior Band. Hunter St., near George.
Monday, 7.15 p.m.—Open Air Service.
Monday, 8 p.m.—Soul Saving Service.
Junior Band in attendance.
Wednesday, 8 p.m.—Soldiers', Converts' and Recruits' Meeting.
Thursday, 7.15 p.m.—Open Air Service.
Thursday, 8 p.m.—Soul Saving Service.
7.15 p.m.—Open Air. Corp Cadets and Songster Brigade in attendance.
Friday, 8 p.m.—Old Fashioned Holiness Meeting.
Saturday, 7.15 p.m.—Open Air Service.
Saturday, 8 p.m.—Salvation Meeting. Senior Band in attendance.

Bethany Tabernacle

REV. E. E. JOHNSON, PASTOR.

10.30 a.m.—Prayer circle.
11 a.m.—Preaching.
3 p.m.—Sunday School.
7 p.m.—Evangelistic service.
Thursday, 8 p.m.—Prayer and praise service.
A cordial welcome to all.

Free Methodist

Aylmer Street, between Charlotte and King Streets.

REV. C. CUNNINGHAM, PASTOR.

9.45 a.m.—Sunday School.
11 a.m.—Morning service.
7 p.m.—Evening service.
Tuesday evening—Prayer meeting.

Gospel Hall

11 a.m.—Lord's Supper.
3 p.m.—Sunday School. Bible Class.
7 p.m.—Gospel service.
Wednesday, 8 p.m.—Prayer meeting.
Thursday, 3 p.m.—Sisters' meeting.
Friday, 7 p.m.—Children's Picture Talk.
Friday, 8 p.m.—Bible Reading.

DUSTBANE
puts the ee's (eems) in sweeping
IT KNOCKS THE DRUDGERY OUT OF SWEEP-DAY
Cleans Carpets
Brightens Floors
Order a tin to-day at your grocers or from your hardware man
Don't ask for sweeping compound
SAY DUSTBANE
BEWARE OF SUBSTITUTES

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

MORE ENTRIES FOR WRESTLING CHAMPIONSHIPS

Two More of Toronto's Crack Grapplers Have Entered for the Peterborough City Championships to be Held at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday Night Next.

Entries have been received from two more of Toronto's crack wrestlers for the Peterborough Championships to be held in the Y.M.C.A. next Thursday evening. The latest entries have come in from S. W. Collings, wrestling instructor of the Central Y.M.C.A., Toronto. They are those of R. Hood, Toronto City Champion in the 115 pound case, and of M. Walsh, a former Ontario and City Champion, and a successful competitor in the recent tournament in Toronto, who will take part in the 135 pound class. This ensures lively bouts in both these classes, as the Peterborough entries in both classes are sure to give a good account of themselves.

In the 11 lb. class Hood will meet Harold Lees of Peterborough. According to the results of the recent tournament in Toronto, Hood should win; but he will have to work for it. In the Toronto tournament Clay beat Lees on points after the liveliest kind of wrestling for the full period of six minutes. Both men were in danger at different times, but always managed to work out of the holes put on them. Clay, who is a little pocket Hercules, has been wrestling for ten years, and has won many important bouts. During this period he has defeated Hood on different occasions. Two weeks ago Hood managed to get a decision over him in Toronto, there being no fal. This is about the first time Hood ever got a decision over Clay. The fact that Hood could not throw Clay and that Clay could not throw Lees, indicates that the bout between Hood and Lees will be a live ly one. Lees probably has quite a little the advantage in strength and is fully as fast a wrestler as Hood. Hood has the advantage in science and experience. It will be a rattling fast bout from start to finish and well worth seeing in itself.

The 135 Pound Class.

The Peterborough entry in the 135 lb. class is David Forbes, a brother of the well-known professional wrestler, Jack Forbes, who wrestled in Peterborough a year ago. David Forbes has held the light weight wrestling championship of Scotland and won a championship on Victoria Island about a year ago. He has been in Peterborough since shortly after t he first of the year, and attended the wrestling class at the Y.M.C.A. regularly for the past few months. Forbes is a fast and aggressive wrestler, with more than the usual amount of science.

Walsh, whom Forbes will meet in the 135 pound class, is a winner of several important tournaments, including the Ontario Championship. He is probably stronger than Forbes, is cool and cautious in the ring and well enough up in the science of the game to know most of the most dangerous holes. These two men should be very evenly matched and will provide a ding-dong bout throughout. With the Durnan, Hartikan bout in the 125 lb. class and the Keegan, Oswald bout in the 105 lb. class four excellent bouts are already ensured, with prospects of several entries in the heavier classes. The tournament promises to be the most successful even of the kind ever pulled off in Peterborough.

HAWK BICYCLES

An up-to-date High Grade Bicycle, fitted with Roller Chain, New Departure Coaster Brake and Hubs, Enamelled Wood Rims, Detachable Tires, high grade equipment, including Mudguards, Pump and Tools, $22.50

Send for FREE 1914 Catalogue, 90 pages of Bicycles, Sundries and Repair Material. You can buy your supplies from us at Wholesale Prices.

T. W. BOYD & SON, 37 Notre Dame St. West, Montreal.

GEE! THAT'S SWELL

SIMPLEX SHOE POLISH

Brightest and Best

Swartz Is Willing To Sign Contract

Manager Blount Will Deal With the Case of the Outfielder

President Denham of the Peterborough Ball Club, received a letter from Outfielder Willie Swartz stating that although he thought he ought to have an increase in salary, he was willing to sign up at the old terms. President Denham will turn the case over to Manager Blount and let him deal with Swartz as he sees fit.

The Reading boy is the only one of the original Templin White Caps now held by the Peterborough Club.

PETES LEAD IN PITCHERS

The Best Squad in the League is Ottawa Opinion

Ottawa Free Press—The Canadian League will be jammed with good pitchers this season, and some of those consistent .300 hitters will suffer a wonderful strinkage by the middle of the schedule. Peterborough just now heads the list with a real good line of chuckers, viz., Sterling, Belting, Schettler, Tracey and Cresswell. London has Steiger and Bobbie Heck of last year's club, both left-handers, and cracking good men. Reisling may do a little flinging himself, but claims two good right-handers. St. Thomas presents a fair trio in Clemen, Howick and Baker. Erie has Eddie Stark and Lefty Dorbeck from last year's Guelph team, with three other good ones Smith has corralled. Hamilton has Donahue and Grogan. Toronto shapes well with Bill Bradshaw, Kirley and the overflow from Joe Kelley's batterymen.

Ford

The Ford—the Lightest, Surest, Most Economical--the very essence of automobiling--and all Canadian

Model T Runabout, f.o.b. Ford, Ontario $600

Get particulars from J. J. Duffus, Duffus Garage, Simcoe St.

ANOTHER CHALLENGE FROM JACK FORBES

JACK FORBES—The Scotch wrestler, is deeply disappointed at Little Hack's refusal to wrestle him. It is understood Hack would not meet him under any conditions; and now in order to secure a match, Forbes hereby challenges any man in the world at his weight, in "Jiu-Jitsu, or catch-as-catch-can wrestling. He is also prepared to meet anyone, up to 135 pounds in a weight-lifting contest. Anyone intending to take up this challenge please reply through the medium of The Examiner.

Athletic Club Will Meet On Wednesday Next

There will be a general meeting of the Peterborough Athletic Club in the Y.M.C.A. on Wednesday night of next week, and every member and intending member is asked to be present. For the past ten days the P.A.C. executive has been busy with the lacrosse campaign, but now that that has been fairly launched, the general work of the club will be pushed forward at once. Wednesday's meeting will be a very important one.

LACROSSE MEETING ON MONDAY

Lacrosse enthusiasts are reminded of the meeting at St. Alphonsus' Lyceum on Monday night when the Peterborough Lacrosse Club will be organized. Every player and fan in Peterborough should be on hand at 8 o'clock.

CANADIAN LEAGUE NOTES

London Advetriser: London is picked as a sure first division club and the team to beatout for the Canadian League pennant by many of the dopesters on the circuit. The general opinion is that Manager Reisling cannot help but get a good team with a foundation such as the players left over from last season will make. It is also pointed out that the local team has five series at Tecumseh Park during May and this should enable Doc Reisling's club to get a good start pennantward. With this advantage many of the writers on the circuit expect to see London on the top of the league by the first of June.

Dope Not Always Right.

Doping a club by the strength of the players left over from last season does not always pan out well. Last season, Brantford was looked upon in the earlier part of the year to be a pennant contender. It was figured that Amby Kane had the most likely looking bunch of players in the league mainly because he finished second with them the previous season after pulling up from the second division. All the players with one exception were reserved and they reported last spring. The Brantford Club of last season looked good just for about a week, then it blew up higher than a kite and was a joke for the balance of the season, being out of the race practically from the middle of June. Before the season ended, Kane and most of his so-called likely players had been released, Chubby Coose being the only member of the club to stick.

Petes a Dark Horse.

With two new clubs, Erie and Toronto, in the league, the race will be hard to dope out until the teams have been seen in action. There is bound to be a dark horse, and indications are that Peterborough will spring the big surprise this season. The Petes were one of the strongest teams in the league last season, and with the proper kind of handling would have copped the rag. Most of the players will be back again this season, and under Curley Blount, who has landed some good ones, should prove a strong contender.

Shag Must Be Counted In.

The Ottawa club must also be figured in the race. With any other manager but Frank Shaughnessy the Senators would not cause much worry, but Shag is the original cut-up, when it comes to topping pennants, with joke teams, and his steal last season, with the wobbliest bunch in the league, has earned him a lot of respect from the other clubs. Rube Deneau can also be depended upon to put Brantford on the baseball map again, and his club will bear a lot of watching. Hamilton, with Manager Yates, is also an unknown quantity, while St. Thomas and Erie are quite capable of upsetting all the figuring. From this distance it looks like anybody's rag and there is no doubt that several surprises will be sprung before the season is well on its way.

BRITISH SOCCER RESULTS

Special Cable to The Examiner:

International.

Scotland 3, England 1.

English League.

First Division.

Aston Villa 1, Newcastle U. 3.
Blackburn R. 3, Bolton U. 2.
Bradford C. 0, Chelsea 0.
Derby C. 4, Manchester U. 2.
Everton 2, Westhrom A. 0.
Manchester City 2, Oldham A. 1.
Middlesboro 4, Preston N. E. 1.
Sheffield United 5, Burnley 0.
Sunderland 0, Sheffield Wed. 1.
Tottenham H. 0, Liverpool 0.

Second Division.

Barnsley 0, Notts County 1.
Blackpool 0, Clapton O. 0.
Bury 0, Bradford 0.
Fulham 1, Wolverhampton 0.
Grimsby T. 0, Birmingham 2.
Huddersfield T. 0, Stockport C. 2.
Hull City 0, Leicester Fosse 0.
Lincoln City 1, Glossop 5.
Notts Forest 2, Leeds City 1.
Woolwich A. 1, Bristol City 1.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE.

Airdrieonians 4, Aberdeen 1.
Ayr United 3, Hamilton A. 1.
Morton 2, Clyde 0.
Hearts 5, Dumbarton 1.
Dundee 2, Motherwell 1.
Falkirk 3, Hibernians 2.
Raith Rovers 5, St. Mirren 1.

RUGBY.

Old Leysians 21, Manchester 11.
Liverpool 23, Birkenhead 10.
Black Heath 25, Bristol 0.
Devonport 8, Cardiff 0.
Bedford 18, Rugby 3.
Swansea 11, Llanelly 3.

Wagner's Misfortune.

"Your letters are sad," the musician Liszt once wrote to his friend Wagner, "and your life is sadder still. You want to go out in the wide world, live, enjoy, revel. Ah, how cordially I wish you could! But your greatness constitutes also your misery. The two are inseparably united and must ever annoy and torture you."

Its Bite.

Little Willie—Say, will a Welsh rabbit bite? Little Bobby—No; not unless you eat it.

The Golden Opportunity

To Test the Merits of "Fashion-Craft"

Special Order Department

Models of every accepted style are here awaiting your choice.
Selecting your style and material, we do the rest.
Quality governs the price. The same workmanship in all garments we make.
Price may be $20, or may be $40—whatever you purchase we guarantee perfect satisfaction, or ask you not to accept.

What could be fairer? What tailor would make the same offer?
The selection for Spring is best now—Why delay.

VISIT SHOPS OF "Fashion-Craft"

A. M. Laidlaw
140 Hunter St.

214

A GENTLEMAN.

(From the American Boy.)

In competition for a prize to be awarded to the person sending to a newspaper the best short definition of the word "gentleman," a New Yorker who was at that time a student, sent the following: "Gentleman—A man who has pride without vanity; courage without bravado, and who is innately considerate of the feelings of others. He received the prize and wrote the words on a card which he had framed, and the "gentleman" definition now hangs in the office.

Great Lovers of Water.

The Siamese are more devoted to the water than any other nation in the world. They are nearly always bathing, generally with their clothes on, and they never go anywhere by land if they can possibly go by water. The streets of Bangkok are like those of Venice, and the inhabitants say that their idea of paradise would be a town with canals where there were currents in both directions, so that they might be spared the effort of rowing.

It Wasn't Love.

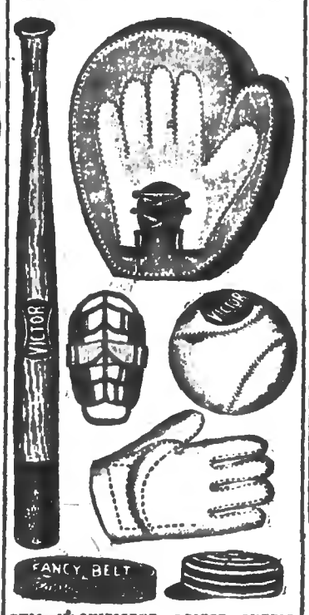
"Your former husband must still love you."

"Why so?"

"He tells me that he owes a great deal to you."

"He's referring to the back all money."—Pittsburgh Post.

FREE!



THIS MAGNIFICENT 7-PIECE OUTFIT GIVEN AWAY ABSOLUTELY FREE.

The big baseball season, more popular than ever, is here, more baseball and grander games will be played this season than ever before, every player must be completely equipped. We here offer free to every player the grandest baseball outfit ever made. Made by the greatest American manufacturer bearing a trade mark known by all — a trade mark the manufacturers are proud of as representing the best baseball goods made.

There are seven splendid pieces in this great outfit. The ash bat is a good one. The mask is made of heavy wire, full size. The catcher's mitt is thickly padded, very heavy and has patented fastener. The glove is of tanned leather and has patent clasp. The ball is strongly stitched and will last. A neat adjustable belt and a dandy cap complete this great outfit. Remember you get the whole outfit of seven pieces for a little easy work.

To obtain one of these sets just send us your name and address and agree to sell only 36 bottles of our delicious oriental perfume at only 10 cents a bottle. Our perfumes sell like hot cakes. We will send you 36 bottles post paid and trust you with them until sold. As soon as you have sold them return us $3.50 and we will send you immediately this complete seven-piece baseball outfit exactly as represented. We arrange to stand all charges to your door. By returning the money in 30 days you have a chance to secure a dandy pair of baseball shoes as well. Send your name to-day to

THE ROSE PERFUME CO.,
TORONTO, ONT. DEPT. 60

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL

Spring Prices Dropped One Month Earlier Than Usual.

I sell exclusively Lehigh Valley Coal Company's Coal. THE BEST IN THE WORLD PROPERLY SCREENED at the following Cash Prices, to come in effect April 1st, 1914.

Egg Coal	-	$6.75 per Ton
Stove Coal	-	$6.75 per Ton
Nut Coal	-	$7.00 per Ton
Pea Coal	-	$6.00 per Ton

Early buyers are asked to order as soon as possible, and not wait till end of month, as prices quoted are for present delivery, so we will be pleased to have your orders by Mail, 'Phone or Personal Call at the Office.

Thanking the general public for the very large patronage of the past season, I hope by strict attention to your requirements to merit a continuance of the same.

J. E. A. FITZGERALD

'PHONE 111.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE ATTRACTIONS

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, TO-NIGHT

THIS WEEK, HIGH-CLASS MOTION PICTURES.

Featuring To-Night "His Hour of Triumph"

6—FULL REELS—6 COMEDY AND DRAMA

Continuous Evening Performance commencing at 7.30 & 9 p.m.

ADULTS 10c CHILDREN 5c.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, WEDNESDAY APRIL 8th.

A Play of New York Life—With Nothing to Defend.

A GIRL OF THE UNDERWORLD

IN FOUR ACTS

PRICES—25c, 35c, 50c—Gallery 15c.

SEATS ON SALE MONDAY

TERSELY CHARACTERIZED.

"What sort of a woman is this Mrs. Mundane you are talking about?"

"Well, she's one of those women that would sooner have a clear com-

RED MILL

TO-DAY

ENTIRE CHANGE

5c Admission To All 5c

Princess Theatre

TO-DAY

ENTIRE CHANGE

5c and 10c

Brock St. Rink

Roller Skating Daily

Band Concert Saturday Night

By the 57th Reg. Band

EDISON DIAMOND DISC

The Phonograph with the new voice

This wonderful Edison achievement is more than an amusement phonograph. It is a beautiful musical instrument—beautiful in tone and beautiful in design. It represents years of study and experiment in sound reproducing and musical acoustics.

Edison Disc Phonograph. Mahogany cabinet, gold-plated metal parts. Fitted with reproducer and concealed speaking master with sound gate. Diamond-point reproducer and automatic stop.

The Special Reproducer, with its diamond point, has given the instrument a new voice—tones of marvelous depth and a mellow sweetness.

The records are of a material heretofore unknown to record making. Years of playing will not affect their perfect playing qualities.

All Edison Discs are of the cabinet (horn-less) type, made of rare woods along graceful lines. Hear this new Edison. Compare it with any others you have heard. It is a decided advancement in musical reproduction.

TRADE MARK Thomas A Edison

Edison dealers in Peterboro---
The J. M. Greene Music Co. Charlotte St.
Peterboro Music Co. (J. Cunningham), 404 George St.

OBITUARY

MRS. R. G. STRICKLAND.

The following is from the Kalispell, Montana, Bee, of March 20th: The many friends and neighbours of Mrs. Richard G. Strickland were saddened by the news of her death, which occurred at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening. She had suffered an illness of six weeks but the direct cause of her death has not been ascertained. Mrs. George Parr, of Argyle, Minnesota, her daughter, was at the bedside with the members of the family who reside in Kalispell.

The funeral was held at the Strickland home on Woodlawn Avenue and interment was made in the Conard Memorial cemetery. Mrs. Strickland is survived by her husband and three daughters, Mrs. Parr, Mrs. Whitwel and Miss Olive Strickland. Emily (Caddy) Strickland was born in Lakefield, Ontario, April 1, 1844. After her marriage to R. G. Strickland they moved to Grand Forks, N.D. In June 1893 they moved to Kalispell where they have lived ever since.

Mrs. Strickland was well known in Kalispell and during her long residence here made many friends.—Lakefield News.

MERRILL DENISON, who won the second Dominion Government prize of $15 in the competition for plans of a power house near Banff, Alta. He is a third year student at the School of Practical Science and son of Mrs. Flora McDonald Denison, the prominent suffragette.

CITY AND GENERAL

British Mails.

Mail for transmission to Europe, is despatched from this city every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and matter is received until midnight. Four mails a day are closed out at the Post Office, for transhipment to Great Britain. d-tf.

The Examiner Office Telephones.

The telephone numbers of the Examiner Office have been changed. The Business Office, formerly 57, is now 1600; the Editorial Office, which was 294, is now 1601; Mr. Dawe and Mr. Menzies are changed from 1217, and can e had by calling either of the above new numbers. Private branch exchange to all departments.

Notice.

Painting, papering and graining at reasonable prices. —Geo. Hawke, Browntown P. O. 'Phone 1431. 328d-64

Notice!

Carting and moving promptly and carefully attended to. Call or address J. Kelleher, 261 Romaine St. 28d-67

One Drunk.

One drunk was the whole docket at Police Court this morning. He was remanded for a week.

New Electric Signs.

Mr. R. Turner has completed a handsome new electric sign for Williams' Garage, Lindsay. Mr. Turner has similar signs under way for Sturgeon Falls and Cobalt.

'Phone 350 Now.

For a well-harnessed horse and comfortable rig. Old number 278. Two new drivers added to already well equipped livery, prompt service. A. T. Fontaine, 193 Huntr St. 2d-t.s.78

Auction Sale.

Tuesday, April 14th, at the home of Mr. R. Waram, 267 Sherbrooke street, Newcombe piano, gas stove — high oven, sewing machine and other household goods. W. J. Hancock, Auctioneer. 1d-80.

A Mysterious Young Boarder.

A learned, solitary young man is unable to pay his board bills. You'll find out why in "Queed," by Henry Harrison. Formerly sold at $1.25; Now 59c; over 1000 good titles to choose from at Trebilcock Bros 'Phone 285.

Who Owns Them?

The Examiner has in its possession three articles awaiting ownership. One is a tie pin, the initial W.; a sterling silver cuff link, and a set of collar and tugs. Will the owners please call and get these articles?

In Canadian Motorist.

In the April number of the Canadian Motorist, under the heading of "Club News," appears handsome photogravures of Mr. A. E. Coulthard, President of the Peterborough Automobile Association, and of Mr. G. R. Rackham, Secretary-Treasurer.

Read This—Six Bargains.

Stewart Street—Brick house. All conveniences. Attic floored. Price $2,250.00.

Five acres of ground and buildings. Close to the city. Price $200. Ask C. J. Carroll & Co. They know. 372 Water steret. 'Phone 822. Open evenings. We sell the earth.

Try The
Sanitary Grocery Store for

Home-made Raspberries, Sweet Oranges, Fancy Biscuits, Tickler's Pure Jam, Black Currant, Raspberry and Strawberry; Fearman's Hams and Bacon, fresh eggs and butter, Lea & Perrin's Sauce, Heinz Catsup, Beans and Sweet Pickles, Castor Sugar and Loaf Sugar. Also Lettuce, Onions, and Radishes.—James R. Bell, 197 Hunter Street; near Bell Telephone Co. Phone 455.

New Maple Syrup.

First of the season. Fresh in from the Maple Groves of Athens, Ontario. $1.40 per gallon, 40c quart. Porter S. White, Grocer, George St.

A Week of Circus.

During the week beginning Monday, July 6th, a big show will be presented to the public, the details of which will be published as the date of the affair approaches.

Wheel Stolen.

A citizen named Charles Rolands, of Princess street, notified Chief Thompson yesterday, that some one had stolen his wheel. The lost property has not yet been recovered.

HUNT CLUB IN EDMONTON.

A Hunt Club has been formed in Edmonton and the intention is to purchase hounds and accoutrements, and make the Club a replica of such institutions in the Old Country.

Who Owns Them?

The Examiner has in its possession three articles awaiting ownership. One is a tie pin, the initial W., a sterling silver cuff link and a set of collar and tugs. Will the owners please call and get these articles.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Women's Mission Circle of the Murray Street Baptist Church will be held on Tuesday, April 7th at 3.30 p.m. A very interesting programme has been arranged and all interested in missions will be cordially welcomed.

St. George's Boys' Brigade

An Inspection of "the Junior 57th" Last Evening by Major Mills and Captain Carruthers

A SMART COMPANY OF BOYS

Last evening the first line of defence—the miniature army connected with the Anglican Church of St. George in South Peterborough, in the form of the Boys' Brigade, underwent their inspection at the hands of Major Mills and Captain Carruthers of the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers.

The parade took place in the school room belonging to the Church, some twenty-four boys being drawn up for the purpose.

Although it is but a few weeks since the corps was formed, the boys went through their evolutions of formatiop and carbine drill with a precision which not only did them great credit but reflects a large amount of kudos on their painstaking instructor, Instructor Howarth. Some preliminary company drill and carbine exercises having been satisfactorily executed, the arrival of the inspecting officers was the signal for the command, 'Present arms,' when with a precision which would have done credit to old hands, the officers were saluted in correct military fashion. The boys, after carrying out various manoeuvres, were duly inspected, the ranks taking open order for the purpose.

The inspecting officers subsequently addressed the young recruits with seasonable words of commendation and encouragement.

The Rector, the Rev. James Price, said he was happy to inform the inspecting officers that he had never heard a swear or improper word from any of the boys, who dubbed themselves the "Junior 57th," and moreover they all went regularly to church and were well conducted therein, showing what good effect generally their patriotism has had upon them. This little defending force will shortly be provided with a uniform and in the spring and summer will be taught skirmishing, outpost duty, company formation and various field exercises. They are already provided with dummy carbines, which were made for them as a gift by Mr. Rye, from lumber donated by the Peterborough Lumber Company.

Col. Clegg had intended to be chief inspecting officer, but was unavoidedly unable to be present, owing to sudden military demands upon his time.

Mr. Kerr, who takes a great interest in the general welfare of St. George's Church, then addressed the Brigade. He said they were a nice-looking lot of boys and he was very glad to have been down to see them, and complimented them on their smartness.

A few more squad exercises having been carried out the parade was dismissed.

The parade dismissal was followed by a variety of games which appeared to be hugely enjoyed by the embryo soldiers—leap frog, toby dance, frog race, tug of war, two-legged race, hobble race, being the general favourites.

After these, refreshments, in the acceptabe form of coffee and cakes were handed round by the ladies, following which an impromptu 'sing-song' was the order of the evening, 'Who Killed Cock Robin?' 'The Maple Leaf' and 'God Save the King' being the prominent items.

Three cheers were then given for His Majesty the King, for the Inspecting Officers, for the Instructor, the Rector, and last, but not least, for the ladies, who had so hospitably entertained the whole company.

A considerable number of guests were present, all of whom expressed themselves in high terms of the efficiency of the youthful warriors and the general success of the evening.

The officers and non-commissioned officers of the St. George's Boys' Brigade so far are:

Captain Fuller,
Quartermaster Clifford Sedon,
Colour-Sergeant Rue,
Sergeant Wise.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Dr. Frederick was in Toronto yesterday.

Mr. W. H. Casement, of Lakefield, is in the city to-day.

Mr. Fred. Might and son were in Toronto on Friday.

Miss Grace Denmark of Campbellford is in the City for a few days.

Miss Wise of Toronto, is the guest of the Misses Hill, Bethune Street.

Mr. Ernest Poole returned to Cochrane yesterday after a two-weeks' visit in Peterborough.

Dr. F. L. and Mrs. Robinson returned last night from Toronto, where they spent several days.

Miss Nellie Wood, Belmont avenue, returned on Friday evening after spending the past two weeks with her brothers in Toronto.

Mrs. Sheaffer of Toronto, who has been visiting her father, Mr. Peter Thompson, for a few days, has returned home.

Mr. Martin Libby has returned to Windsor, where he will remain until after the investigation of the Detroit fire.

The Alumnae Literary Club of Erasmus Hall, Brooklyn, N.Y., held their reception and dance on March the twenty-eighth. It may be of interest to some Peterborough friends to see amongst the name of those present Miss Doris Donaldson, formerly of this City. Miss Donaldson wore a Tango evening dress of pale pink silk chiffon with cream tunic of point de sprie.

DEATH OF MRS. W. CLAUDE FOX

Well Known Toronto Lady, Also Known in Peterborough, Dies in Paris, France

The death has occurred in Paris, France, of Mrs. W. Claude Fox. The late Mrs. Fox and her husband left Toronto about eight weeks ago with a party of friends, for a trip to the Hoy Land, intending to return home via Paris and London, at the end of April. Death occurred as the result of Bright's disease, from which Mrs. Fox had been suffering for the last two years.

Mrs. Fox was keenly interested in many charities, and was on the board of the Infant's Home for many years. She was also interested in art, music and languages.

Surviving are her husband, a brother, Mr. Wm. Coutts of Glen Road, and a sister Mrs. Robert MacDonald of Cleveland, who arrived in Toronto yesterday.

The late Mrs. Fox was a frequent visitor to Peterborough, having been many times a guest at Strathormond.

Runaway On Charlotte Street

Milk Outfit Drawn By Frightened Horse Caused Excitement

Considerable chaos was occasioned on Charlotte Street, this morning, about 9.30 o'clock, when Mr. Dunnit's mik outfit careened for several blocks at breakneck speed. Vehicles and pedestrians hurried in all directions to avoid the charging horse and outfit. Several tried to catch it but in vain, and it was not until the horse had reached Park Street that it was stopped. The waggon was not badly damaged and the horse escaped injury.

Another runaway is reported this morning. Messrs. Denne's team of grey horses were about to be shod at Kennedy's forge. They had been taken from the dray to which they were attached, and when the driver turned his head, they had made an exit. Most horses are content to occupy the roadway, but this team, would take nothing so common, and bolted to a righ rate along the south side of Charlotte street on the sidewalk. A number of pedestrians had to get into the roadway to avoid being run down. When opposite the curling rink, one of the horses slipped into the road and dragged the other with it. It was at first surmised that a leg was broken, which, however, did not later prove to be the case. Luckily no one was injured.

Scotland's Combination Won Game

Showed Better Team Work in the International Game

Special Cable to The Examiner:

GLASGOW, Scotland, April 4. — One hundred and thirty thousand paid admissions, and thousands were turned away for to-day's International game won by Scotland. Right off the reel England set a cracking pace and penned Scotland in the goal area. The Scotch defence kept steady, however, and after five minutes got their forwards going and forced a corner. Thomson scoring for Scotland. England again put on pressure and ten minutes later Fleming caught a cross from the left and scored. The pace continued until the interval. In the second half McMenemy as a sequel of some nice combination, scored for Scotland, and ten minutes later the same player hit the net high up and scored again. Scotland continued a strong game and came out easy winners. In the first half England were the better team, but in the second Scotland were superior. The English forwards failed in combination and forceful tactics. The Scots' halves were very punishing, and completely took the sting out of England's attack. The Scots' inside forwards showed masterly combination and most striking individuality.

The Englishmen had great speed and dash, but failed to blend. The halves played well, but the backs were not up to the standard of Scotland's defence. England suffered ill luck in the first half, otherwise the game might have taken a different turn. It was the keenest international game ever seen in Glasgow, until Scotland scored their third goal when England appeared to go under entirely.

Confesses To Murder

Special Wire to The Examiner:

VANCOUVER, B.C. April 4.—(Bulletin.)— A Chinese servant arrested here, has confessed to the murder of Mrs. Millard.

Stock Markets

New York Stocks

Stocks	Open.	Close.
ATCH	96⅝	96⅝
B. T.
C. O.	126⅛	127⅛
M. O. P.	25⅜	25⅜
N. P.	113⅞	114⅛
R. T.	3½	3½
R. Z.	5⅜	5⅜
So. P.	100⅝	100⅝
S. P.	94⅛	94⅜
U. P.	159⅛	159⅝
C. P. R.	206½	206½
N. Y. C.	89⅜	90
Ills.	111	111
L. N.
S. R.
Pa.	110⅞	110⅝
ERIE	29½	29½
L. V.	143⅞	144⅛
Rdg.	165⅛	165⅜
O. W.
R. O.	89⅝	89¾
C. O.
N. K.
B. R. T.
A. C. P.	76¼	76½
A. R.
U. S.	62⅞	63⅛
C. F. I.	31⅜	31⅝
A. L. O.
CAN.	29⅜	29⅜
RUB.	61	61
WOOLWORTH
SUGAR	108½	108½
C. P. U.	27⅛	27⅛
M. N. P.	65⅛	65⅛

SWP — BRIGHTEN UP! — SWP

Now's The Time to REPAIR WINTER'S WEAR

Ordinary wear and tear during the winter naturally means scratched woodwork and dulled finish. There is that room or two you've been promising to do over "next spring." In others there are painting jobs, which all together mean a great deal toward keeping up the house. This time ask your decorator to use

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS
PAINTS, VARNISHES, STAIN AND ENAMELS

Uniform Excellence of Quality, and the satisfactory results they give, make S-W Paints and Varnishes popular with decorators and economical for OWNERS. Get our book

"THE TRUTH ABOUT PAINT"—FREE

also the Household Decorator and Colour Cards.

'Phone 199 MORGAN HARDWARE CO. 257 George

The House of Quality and Service

SWP — BRIGHTEN UP! — SWP

Dr. B. E. Kelly Late House Surgeon of St. Francis and Manhattan Maternity Hospitals, New York. Late House Physician at Riverdale Isolation Hospital, Toronto. Hours 1-3.30 p.m.; 7-8 p.m. 'Phone 1269. Office, 348 Hunter St. tfn

YOUR PORTRAIT— As an Easter remembrance, will be most fitting to the occasion —will be appreciated by your friends as an evidence of your thoughtfulness.

MOULE STUDIO
Next to Ollo's
314½ George St., 'Phone 46

We Are Anxious to give you any variety of

FISH

we can procure, and we always buy the best quality

Order Early to be sure of Prompt Delivery

Bell 'Phones 18 and 19

W. J. OKE
376 George Street

EASTER at ELLIOT'S

Millinery and Ready-to-Wear Department

Ladies' Latest Easter Styles

New Coats
New Suits
New Skirts
New Dresses

All up to the latest moments of styles.

Our Millinery Has Just a Little Higher Class Style Than You Usually See . . . . .

Please do not delay to the last moment, to order your Easter Hat. There are always many "Last Orders" that cannot be filled.

BE SURE and COME EARLY

See Our Specials in Girls' Coats

Very Stylish Garments for The Little Folks

Your choice for

$4.48

C C

d la Grace
CORSETS

are made to grace every whim of the dictates of Fashion.

But every model gives perfect ease and comfort without sacrificing style.

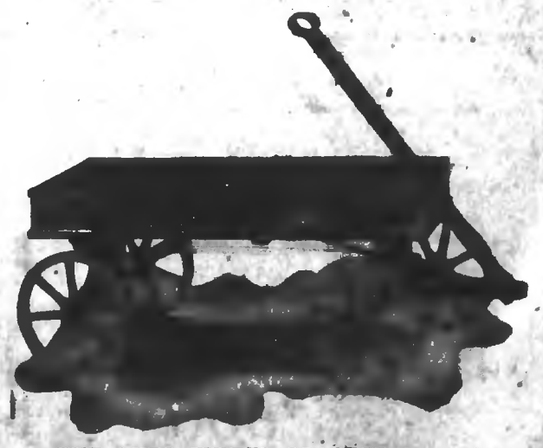
The one thing we suggest is that you carefully select the corset best suited to you.

For medium figures, we recommend Model 727. There is a complete range of sizes in each model.

ELLIOT'S

FUN FOR THE BOYS

SEE OUR WINDOWS! -:-:- WATCH OUR AD!



THE AUTO WHEEL COASTER WAGON

Has Roller Bearing and is the strongest, best constructed, easiest running, most reliable and most popular Coaster Wagon ever offered for sale. "A chain is no stronger than its weakest link" and a wagon is no stronger than its weakest part—the wheel. If you are going to buy a wagon for your boy see the construction of this wagon before buying. We have wagons from $1.35 to $3.50

Peterboro' Hardware Co.
Limited

BOSTON CAFE, 394 GEO. ST.
For Ladies and Gentlemen
Open all the time.
Ice Cream Parlor Fancy Drinks

The Evening Examiner.

BOSTON CAFE, 394 GEO. ST.
For Ladies and Gentlemen
Open all the time.
Ice Cream Parlor Fancy Drinks

VOL. LV. No. 81 14 PAGES PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, APRIL 6. 1914 PAGES 1 TO 6 PRICE TWO CENTS

EASTER PHOTOGRAPHS

A Portrait of Mother or Father or a group of the children would be a fitting Easter remembrance.

New Styles and appropiate to the occassion.

Arrange for an appointment at

THE ROY STUDIO

140½ HUNTER ST.

VELASCO MAKES STAND.

Federal General Said To Be Trapped By Hernandez.

TORREON, Mexico, April 6.—Desperate fighting between Federal forces under Gen. Refugio Velasco, which evacuated this city Thursday night, and columns set in pursuit under Gen. Rosalio Hernandez is reported by couriers from Parras, five miles east of San Pedro, where Constitutionalists cornered Gen. Velasco's rear guard Friday night killing more than one hundred and taking many prisoners. The messengers left San Pedro early Saturday, and state that after the butchery at that place the Federals fell back on Parras, where they were making a determined stand when the messengers left.

Gen. Villa returned to Torreon late Saturday night with news that Gen. Hernandez has Gen. Velasco's army cooped up five miles east of Parras. Another battle is imminent.

Gen. Carranza had nearly an hour's conference with Gen. Villa over the telegraph wire Saturday night. The subject of the conference was that reinforcements shall be sent from here to assist in the campaign against Monterey. Gen. Villa asks that no reinforcements be sent at once, but that 3,000 men be held in readiness to despatch when he sends for them.

Gen. Villa is reported to have said that he will prevent Gen. Velasco's army from making a junction with Gen. Joaquin Maas, at Saltillo, if it takes every soldier in the army to accomplish it.

Villa To Follow Up Victory.

JUAREZ, April 6.—The opinion that Gen. Villa intends to take every advantage of the defeat of the Federals at Torreon was expressed here Saturday. It was based on the intelligence officially announced Friday night that Villa had left suddenly for San Pedro to take personal charge of rebel troops reported to have participated in an encounter with the fleeing Federals.

The departure of Villa from Torreon prevented that promised telegraphic conference with Gen. Carranza.

LOCOMOTOR ATAXIA

"My nerves were very bad, and I could not sleep at night, nor could I control my arms or legs," writes Mrs. Robert Bustard, Maxwell, N.B. "Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cured me of what I believe was the worst case of locomotor ataxia or paralysis I cannot described what I suffered before I saw I am entirely cured."

Easter Custom

It is a pleasant custom to remember your friends and relatives at Easter.

Why not take advantage of the occasion and have a new Photograph taken in your Easter attire to send to friends?

OPEN GOOD FRIDAY

Appointments for Good Friday, (April 10th) should be made without delay.

ORME STUDIO

170 Charlotte. Phone 626

ROYAL THEATRE

TO-DAY

BIG ATTRACTION

The Sea Eternal

in 2 parts

DON'T MISS THIS

5—Other Reels—5

SPECIAL

Vaudeville

MAYKELLY

5c and 10c

BODIES INTO PORT

St. John's Nfld., is a City of Mourning After Tragedy

FATHER AND SON TOGETHER

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 6. — In every church yesterday the disaster which overtook the Newfoundland's men on the ice was the theme of the sermon. Messages of sympathy from the King and the Canadian Premier were read and were gratefully received.

By noon all but five of the sixty-nine bodies of the Newfoundland's hunters, brought in Saturday by the Bellaventure, had been identified. These were shipped on a special train last night to Bonavista, where most of the victims lived.

Attendants at the Grenfell Institute, which was turned into a morgue, said that the scenes accompanying the identification of the bodies were almost beyond endurance.

One woman found two bodies clasped so tightly in death that they could not be separated. They were her husband and son. The lad was wrapped in his father's arms as if the man had been trying to shield him from the pitiless cold.

The hand of another dead man was missing. One of the survivors, who had lain helpless near the body for nearly forty-eight hours, said that his comrade, unable to stand the agony of frost bite, had sliced off his hand with his seaman's knife.

A gray-haired mother, supported by her two daughters, passed down the long rows looking for her sons. Attention was suddenly drawn to them when the woman fell to the floor in a faint. They had found not only the four sons and brothers, but two cousins, among the dead.

Of the thirty survivors in the hospital none is expected to die, but the majority will never be fit for active service again. Three lost both hands and both feet. Five lost both feet Eight others lost a foot and 11 will lose a hand or fingers. The others will bear scars for life.

Some of the survivors said they sought shelter from the Arctic gale behind the bodies of dead shipmates, but in all the delirium of the two days and nights of exposure, the bodies of the dead were left inviolate. Each man of the 150 endured his lot with firm patience, and each one, the dead as well as the living, was found with his full equipment of clothes, boots and sealing gear intact.

By Tuesday, when special memorial services will be held, if the Southern Cross fails to appear, the families of her 173 men must be provided for as well as those of the Newfoundland's dead and crippled.

Owing to the absence of Gov. Davidson and Premier Morris, the acting Premier, Mr. Bennett, directed the work of caring for the dead and injured. Every physician and nurse in the city volunteered for service. The new Grenfell Institute was turned into a morgue.

The disaster which overtook the Newfoundland's hunters was unavoidable, according to Capt. Randell of the Bellaventure. Tuesday dawned somewhat overcast, but with no hint of blizzard conditions, he said, so that it was quite permissible to put men on the ice after seals. Four ships were within sight of him, the Newfoundland, Stephano, Florizel and Bonaventure. These had a total of a thousand men on the ice.

The storm broke with typical Arctic suddenness. The hunters from the Bonaventure and the Florizel were fortunate enough to reach their ships safely. The Stephano's men, being nearer the Florizel than their own vessel, hurried on board her. The Stephano meanwhile steamed towards the spot where her crew had been seen before the snow shut in. This took her away from the Newfoundland's group, who were far from their own ship. As soon as the Stephano was notified by the Florizel's wireless of the safety of her own men, she headed back into the storm to pick up the Newfoundland's hunters.

It was impossible to see a ship's length ahead into the snow curtain, and when the Stephano's captain thought he was within a mile of the stranded hunters he lay too and kept his whistle going in the hope that they might be guided towards him.

As hours passed and not a man reported he concluded all had reached their own ships. But the Newfoundland had no wireless and all that day and all Wednesday the fleet remained in ignorance of the fate of the 150 men marooned on the floes.

On Thursday the weather cleared and the Bellaventure was making ready to start her men after seals again, when a lookout reported men on the ice. Captain Randell immediately ordered every available man from the ship to the rescue. The main party of castaways were four miles away, over a broken field of ice. The Bellaventure was driven toward them with all possible speed, but so bad were the ice conditions that it required nine hours to cover the four miles.

In the meantime his men had reached the castaways. Only a few of the hardiest were conscious and able to help themselves. Many were in a stupor. Some were raving, others had been stricken with ice blindness. Many bodies were found frozen so fast in the ice that pickaxes were necessary to chop them out. Two of the survivors were nearly mad from their own sufferings and from grief. Each had watched a brother die in his arms.

"MY STOMACH IS FINE

Since Taking Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets"

Mrs. J. Merklinger, Waterloo, Ont., enthusiastically recommends Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets. Her experience with them, as she outlines it, explains why.

"I was greatly troubled with my stomach", she writes. "I had taken so much medicine that I might say to take any more would only be making it worse. My stomach just felt raw. I read of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, and a lady friend told me they were very easy to take, so I thought I would give them a trial and really they worked wonders. Anyone having anything wrong with his stomach should give Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets a trial, they will do the rest. My stomach is fine now and I can eat any food."

One of the many good features of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets is that they are so pleasant and easy to take. The relief they give from heartburn, flatulence, biliousness and dyspepsia is prompt and permanent. Try one after each meal—they'll make you feel like a new person.

50c. a box at your druggist's compounded by the National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Montreal. 143

DELICIOUS FLORIDA TOMATOES

Fine and Firm and in Natural Condition

JOE LONGO & Co.

ITALIAN FRUIT DEALERS

TWO STORES | 416 GEORGE ST. PHONE 681 | 230 CHARLOTTE ST PHONE 1013

MME. CAILLAUX IN HER OWN HOME.—A recent picture of the wife of the ex-Minister of Finance for France, who shot M. Calmette, the editor of Figaro on account of the appearance in his journal of some articles in criticism of her husband. Preliminary trial is now proceeding.

TO LEAD HIS ARMY.

Prince William of Albania Will Drive Out Greek Guerillas.

DURAZZO, Albania, April 6.—Prince William, the new ruler of Albania, Saturday announced his intention of taking the field and leading the Albanian troops against the Greek insurgents who have taken the town of Koritza, which Friday night was reported captured and partly destroyed. A general mobilization of the Albanian forces was ordered.

ATHENS, Greece, April 6. — The Albanian town of Koritza has fallen into the hands of "insurgents," according to an official announcement here Saturday. It is explained that the "insurgents" are Greeks, who have risen in opposition to the decision of the European powers that Koritza must belong to Albania.

Reports are current that the insurgents are in the pay of the Greek authorities.

Freight Train Rams On to Platform.

LONDON, Ont., April 6. — While passing through the station yard of the Grand Trunk Railroad, about three o'clock Saturday morning, the locomotive of a west-bound freight train left the rails, plowing up about 20 feet of platform.

As the speed at the time was only four miles an hour, beyond the smashing of the platform, there was no great damage done and no injuries in the city.

STEAMER STILL MISSING.

Possible Loss of Southern Cross Will Treble Loss of Life.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 6.—Anxiety deepened last night for the 173 men on the sealing steamer Southern Cross, which has been missing since Tuesday's blizzard. She was not reported either by incoming vessels of the sealing fleet or by the steamer Kyle, sent out by the Government to search for her. By sunset to-day if she is not heard from, she will be officially posted as lost with all on board. Disaster to her, following so closely on the loss of 77 men of the sealer Newfoundland would bring upon the colony the greatest tragedy in its history, desolating whole settlements of their bread-winners and rendering one thousand women and children dependent upon charity.

As the public learned yesterday from the Newfoundland's survivors, who were landed Saturday, the details of the two days' blizzard and the condition in which it caught the Southern Cross, the first hopes, based on the stoutness of the ship faded.

Capt. Martin, of the sealer Erik, says he parted company from her a week ago Thursday, when the Southern Cross turned homeward with 17,000 seals. She was so deeply laden that all her provisions and part of her bunker coal were stored on deck, so that every available space below could be filled with her catch.

Capt. Barlett, of the Terranova, says the last he saw of the Southern Cross was a week ago Friday, when she was wallowing slowly down the coast. Other ships of the fleet sighted the steamer driving before the gale last Thursday morning. She has not been reported since, and the skippers of the fleet who came through that gale and the storm of equal severity later in the week, say every chance was against a vessel so deep in the water as the Southern Cross.

New Head of Prison.

KINGSTON, April 6. — Announcement is made of the appointment of William J. MacLeod, formerly steward of the Portsmouth Penitentiary to the wardenship of the penitetniary at Prince Albert, where he has been acting warden for the past six months. Mr. MacLeod has been in the penitentiary service eighteen years. He is a brother-in-law of Penitentiary Inspector W. S. Hughes.

Learn Railroading

YOUNG MEN WANTED

FOR RAILWAY WORK

Ticket Agents, Operators, Freight and Passenger Clerks. Positions at $40 pay when short, secured as soon as you graduate. Six months' course only—study in your own home or at our school.

SPECIAL REDUCED RATES this month only

Write today for particulars.

DOMINION SCHOOL OF RAILROADING

Dept. 51. TORONTO, ONT.

HAGGIS' CONFECTIONERY

For home-made Candies try Haggis. We keep the best and freshest quality in the City.

Try our Ice Cream, always on hand. Fresh and Wholesome.

HAGGIS' CONFECTIONERY

382 Geo. St. Opposite Grafton's

ASSESSMENT RETURNS FROM THE EAST WARD

Geo. Pollard, tenant, 471 Mark street. Owner Thos. Smiley. Lot 202, south of Douro street. Frontage 63 feet 6 inches. Land value $500. Buildings $300. Total taxable property $800. P.S.S.

John J Develin, owner, 473 Mark street. South part lot 201, south of Douro street. Frontage 33 feet. Land value $250. Buildings $1,100. Total taxable property $1,350. S.S.S.

Miss Norah Develin, owner, 475 Mark street. North part lot 201, south of Douro street. Frontage 30 feet 6 inches. Land value $220. Buildings $830. Total taxable property $1,050. S.S.S.

Patrick J. Develin, owner, 477 Mark street. South part lot 200, south of Douro street. Frontage 34 feet 7 inches. Land value $240. Buildings $1,000. Total taxable property $1,240. S.S.S.

Mrs. Margaret Malane and Wm. Simmons, tenants, 485 Mark street. Owner Edward Conroy. North part lot 200, south of Douro street. Frontage 33 feet 8 inches. Land value $230. Buildings $200. Total taxable property $430. Former assessed $220, and latter $210. S.S.S. and P.S.S.

Robt. Mitchell, owner, 487 Mark stret. East part lot 199, south of Douro stret. Frontage 65 feet 6 inches. Land value $430. Buildings $420. Total taxable property $850. P.S.S.

James E. Doxee, owner, 495 Mark street. East part lot 198, south of Douro street. Frontage 43 feet 6 inches. Land value $340. Buildings $960. Total taxable property $1,300. P.S.S.

James Swanson, owner, flankage, 31 feet 8 inches.

HUNTER STREET—NORTH SIDE.

Alex. Richardson, tenant, part block B. Land value $100. Buildings $1,400. Total property, exempt, $1,500. P.S.S.

James Davis, tenant, part block B. Land value $100. Buildings $1,400. Total property, exempt, $1,500. P.S.S.

Public School, owners, north of Hunter, east of Concession. Size 6 acres. Land value $3,000. Buildings $33,000. Total property, exempt, $36,000. P.S.S.

Frederick Dover and Mrs. Annette Dover, 194 Hunter street. Lot 1, west of Concession. Frontage 120 feet. Land value $1,150. Buildings $750. Total taxable property $1,900. Income assessment $200. Total assessment $2,100. P.S.S.

Wm. A. Graham, owner, 186 Hunter street. East part lot 2, west of Concession street. Frontage 101 feet. Land value $1,000. Buildings $1,100. Total taxable property $2,100. P.S.S.

Johnston H. Alxander, tenant, 174 Hunter street. Owner Miss Sarah Hamilton. West part lot 2, and east part lot 3. Frontage 60 feet 6 inches Land value $610. Buildings $1,400. Total taxable property $2,010. P.S.S.

Henry Johnston, owner, 166 Hunter street. West part lot 3, east of Rogers street. Frontage 60 feet 6 inches. Land value $600. Buildings $350. Total taxable property $950. P.S.S.

Mrs. Alice Wright, owner, 154 Hunter street. Lot 4, east of Rogers street. Frontage 117 feet. Land value $1,400. Buildings $500. Total taxable property $1,900. P.S.S.

John T. Craig, owner, 146 Hunter street. Southeast corner of lot 5, west of Rogers street. Frontage 36 feet. Land value $300. Buildings $1,000. Total taxable property $1,300. P.S.S.

Chas. H. Moore, owner, 142 Hunter street. West part lot 5, west of Rogers street. Frontage 67 feet. Land value $700. Buildings $1,800. Total taxable property $2,500. Income assessment $200. Total assessment $2,700.

James T. Reid, tenant, 140 Hunter street. Owner Chas. Moore. Rear part lot 5, west of Rogers street. Frontage 12 feet. Land value $140. Buildings $430. Total taxable property $570. P.S.S.

James B. Gillespie, owner, 138 Hunter street. East part lot 6, west of Rogers street. Frontage 34 feet 4 inches. Land value $400. Buildings $1,310. Total taxable property $1,710. P.S.S.

Wm. T. Whitnell, tenant, 132 Hunter street. Owner James Gillespie. West part lot 6, west of Rogers street. Frontage 80 feet 6 inches. Land value $720. Buildings $230. Total taxable property $950. P.S.S.

G. T. R. Co., owners, frontage.

Geo. A .Gillespie, owner, 120 Hunter street. East part lot 7, east of Mark street. Frontage 42 feet 4 inches. Land value $380. Buildings $1,330. Total taxable property $1,710. P.S.S.

M. J. O'Sullivan, tenant, 114 Hunter street. Owner J. T. O'Connel. West part lot 7, east of Mark street. Frontage 40 feet. Land value $380. Buildings $1,330. Total taxable property $1,710. S.S.S.

Thomas Smiley, owner, 112 Hunter street. East part lot 8, east of Mark street. Frontage 38 feet 2 inches. Land value $380. Buildings $1,330. Total taxable property $1,710. P.S.S.

Francis Weir, tenant, 106 Hunter street. Owner Geo. F. Ward. Southwest part lot 8, east of Mark street. Frontage 33 feet. Land value $400. Buildings $1,350. Total taxable property $1,750. P.S.S.

Clancy Estate, owners, lot 9, west of Mark street. Executors Wm. Collins and Cornelius Clancy. Frontage 121 feet 9 inches. Land value $1,500. Buildings $50. Total taxable property $1,550. S.S.S.

Mrs. Celia McGregor, owner, lot 10, west of Mark street. Frontage 108 feet 3 inches. Land value $1,080. No buildings. Total taxable property $1,080. P.S.S.

James E. Holcomb, tenant, 74 Hunter street. Owner Wm. McGregor. East part lot 11, west of Mark street. Frontage 47 feet 2 inches. Land value $600. Buildings $1,400. Total taxable property $2,000. P.S.S.

George Lipsett and George Bowers, owner and tenant, west part lot 11, west of Mark street. Frontage 57 feet 3 inches. Land value $850. Buildings $2,650. Total taxable property $3,500. Former assessed $3,200, and latter $300. P.S.S.

Peterborough Machine and Lublicating Co., owners, 60 Hunter street. East part lot 12, east of Driscoll Terrace. Frontage 32 feet. Land value $680. Buildings $1,020. Total taxable property $1,700. P.S.S.

Peterborough Furniture Co., tenants, 60 Hunter street. Owners Earnest Oke and Thos. W. Oke. Centre part lot 12, east of Driscoll Terrace. Frontage 42 feet. Land value $680. Buildings $1,020. Total taxable property $1,700. Business assessment $1,020. Total assessment $2,720. P.S.S.

Driscoll Terrace. Frontage 30 feet. Land value $480. Buildings $1,400 To Driscoll Terrace. Frontage 30 feet. Land valu $480. e Buildings $1,400. Total taxable property $1,880. Business assessment $270. Total assessment $2,150. S.S.S.

Thos. Hill, tenant, 54 Hunter street. Owner Francis J. Hurley. East part lot 13, east of Driscoll Terrace. Frontage 26 feet 9 inches. Land value $420. Buildings $680. Total taxable property $1,100. Business assessment $100. Total assessment $1,200. P.S.S.

Francis J. Hurley, owner, 52 and 50 Hunter street. West part lot 13, east of Driscoll Terrace. Land value $650. Buildings $500. Total taxable property $1,250. The tenants are:

Hum Hong. 52 Hunter street. Frontage 20 feet. Taxable property $550. Business assessment $100. Total assessment $650. P.S.S.

Walter Herron and Edward Herron, tenants, 50 Hunter street. Frontage 20 feet. Each assessed $300. P.S.S.

John Swanson, Mrs. Annie Swanson and Wm. Swanson, owners, 46 Hunter street. Lot 15, east of Driscoll Terrace. Land value $700. Buildings $500. Total taxable property $1,200. P.S.S.

Wm. Collins, owner, 38 Hunter street. Southeast corner lot 15, west of Driscoll Terrace. Land value $400. Buildings $3,000. Total taxable property $3,400. Business assessment $630. Total assessment $2,730. S.S.S.

Wm. Collins, owner, west part lot 15, west of Driscoll Terrace. Land value $1,440. No buildings. Total taxable property $1,440. S.S.S.

Edwin Wand, tenant, part block G, north of Hunter. Planing Mill. Owners the Peterborough Hydraulic Co. Land value $200. Buildings $400. Total property $600. Business assessment $360. Total assessment $360. (Owners are assessed for the property.) P.S.S.

Peterborough Hydraulic Co., owners, part block G, north of Hunter. Planing Mill. $600. Land lying between lot 15 and Flour Mills, north of Hunter street $1,500. South part block G. (Flour Mills)—Land value $3,500. Buildings $2,250. Total property $15,750. Land lying north of Hunter, south of Douro and west of Raceway $11,500. North of Hunter, west of Driscoll Terrace, northeast part block G $1,000. West part block H and block A, north of Douro street $1,000. Lot 5, south of Hazlitt street $1,250. South part block M, and water power south of Hazlitt street $9,000. Part block M, north of Hazlitt street $600. West part block N, north of Hazlitt street $1,300. West part block P, south of Smith street $500. Lot 11, north of Smith street $1,000. Total property $45,000, liable for local improvements only. P.S.S.

HUNTER STREET—SOUTH SIDE.

Robt. Hamilton, owner, 109 Hunter street. Northeast part lot 1, west of Concession stret. Frontage 40 feet. Land value $240. Buildings $810. Total taxable property $1,050. P.S.S.

Miss Margaret O'Brien, owner, 103 Hunter street. Centre part lot 1, west of Concession street. Frontage 38 feet 6 inches. Land value $240. Buildings $760. Total taxable property $1,000. S.S.S.

David Kumming, tenant, 189 Hunter street. Owner John Kerr. West part lot 1, west of Concession street. Frontage 40 feet. Land value $240. Buildings $910. Total taxable property $1,150. P.S.S.

Miss Mary Wall, owner, lot 2, west of Concession street. Frontage 116 feet 4 inches. Land value $1,000. No buildings. Total taxable property $1,000. S.S.S.

John Spier, owner, 173 Hunter street. Lot 6, Plan 129, west of Concession street. Frontage 37 feet 2 inches. Land value $350. Buildings $1,450. Total taxable property $1,800. P.S.S.

Joseph Succee, owner, 169 Hunter street. Lot 5, Plan 129, west of Concession street. Frontage 37 feet 2 inches. Land value $350. Buildings $1,500. Total taxable property $1,850. P.S.S.

Gilbert Eareland, tenant, 165 Hunter street. Owner Samuel Taylor. Lot 4, Plan 129, west of Concession. Frontage 38 feet. Land value $350. Buildings $1,450. Total taxable property $1,800. P.S.S.

If you Buy a Kodak or Camera or if you do not

We are always pleased to talk Kodak over with you. If you have any idea of buying, but are still in doubt, come in and we will explain everything in detail and will not be disappointed if you decide not to purchase.

If you have trouble with your developing or printing let us help you, it is our business.

We develope any size Roll of Film for 10c. Our charge for Printing is equally reasonable. Call at

M'Dermid & Jury's

THE KODAK STORE

EXTRA—A Fresh Shipment of Huyler's Chocolates just arrived.

THREE MEN ARRESTED.

C.P.R. Alleges Wholesale Thefts of Freight In Transit.

NORTH BAY, Ont., April 6.—Detectives have been engaged by the Canadian Pacific Railway since the first of the year ferreting out cases of stealing goods in transit in freight cars. Complaints of shippers and claims for lost goods determined officials to make a thorough investigation from coast to coast, and the results thus far are alleged to have been startling, although reticence has so far been followed.

Three men from here were accused, A. T. Sweeny and R. N. Watt, freight conductors, and W. E. Martin, brakeman. They were remanded on bail of $3,000.

It is said that prosecution will bring witnesses from all over Canada to identify goods seized in houses of railroad men under search warrants. Searchers have thus far been made of thirty houses of railway employes in North Bay alone, and seizures have been made of over one ton of merchandize, including kodaks, boots, clothing, fur coats. At Chapleau a quantity of silverware was seized in the shack of a railroad laborer.

MME. CAILLAUX ASSAILED.

Two Women Prisoners Resented Attention Shown to Her.

PARIS, April 6.—Mme. Henriette Caillaux, who recently shot and killed Gaston Calmette, editor of Le Figaro, was attacked in the corridor of St. Lazare Prison Saturday by two women, who objected to the favors being shown to the wife of the ex-Minister of Finance. Mme. Caillaux and the two other women were exercising under the eyes of the guards when the attack occurred. As one of the women passed Mme. Caillaux she leaped upon her and pummeled her viciously. The two guards ran to the aid of their famous prisoner and then the other woman joined in the assault.

The combatants struggled for several minutes, but other guards were summoned and separated them. The two assailant were bustled into dungeons, still screaming protests.

That Feeling Of Security

HAVE you noticed the decreasing number of cords or chains attached to Eyeglasses?

THIS is largely because a recent improvement on the Fowler Eyeglass Mount enables us to fit you with Eyeglasses so securely yet comfortably that they do not require a chain to keep them on.

THESE Fowler Mounts are guaranteed to give perfect comfort, and you will certainly admit, when you see them, that they present a remarkable hand some appearance.

DROP IN and examine one of these Mounts. Price $3.

REMEMBER we use 'PEBLO Quality Lenses in all our Glasses.

A. A. FOWLER

Phm. B.

EYESIGHT SPECIALIST

10 years of continuous successful Optical Service in this City.

Optical Parlour and Lens Grinding Plant with

NUGENT DRUG CO'Y

386 George St., Peterborough

HEADACHES ALMOST DROVE HER WILD

Until A Friend Advised Her To Use "Fruit-a-tives"

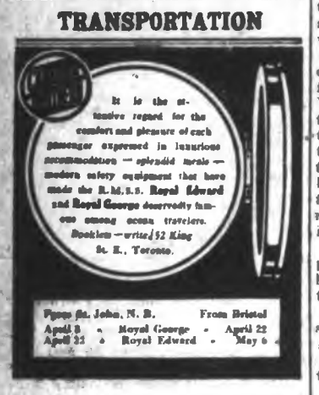
NEWBURY, ONT., May 29th. 1913.

"About four years ago, I was in a dreadful run-down condition, weak and hardly able to walk up stairs. Weakness peculiar to women was the chief trouble. I had Headaches that almost drove me wild, and most distressing constipation. I took many dollars' worth of medicine from the doctors without any good results.

A neighbor advised me to take "Fruit-a-tives" and they proved to be the best medicine I ever got and the only medicine to do me any good. Today, I feel as a young girl, and am able to go about my household duties as usual. My health is splendid and "Fruit-a-tives" is the cause of it". MRS. WM. CRIM.

50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

TRANSPORTATION



From St. John, N. B. — From Bristol
April 3 - Royal George - April 22
April 22 - Royal Edward - May 6

From Montreal & Quebec — From Bristol
May 2 - Royal George - May 22

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

Easter Holiday Fares

SINGLE FARE	FARE and ONE-THIRD
Good Going and Returning April 10 only	April 9-10-11-12 Return Limit April 14, 1914

(Minimum fare 25c)
Between all stations in Canada east of Port Arthur; also to Detroit and Port Huron, Mich., Buffalo, Black Rock, Niagara Falls and Suspension Bridge, N.Y.

SETTLERS' FARES
(One-way Second-class)
From stations in Ontario, Kingston, Renfrew and West to points in Alberta and Saskatchewan, each Tuesday during April.

LOW COLONIST FARES
(One-way Second-class)
From stations in Ontario to certain points in Alberta, British Columbia, California, Colorado, Oregon, Washington, etc. ON SALE DAILY UNTIL APRIL 15 inclusive.

Full particulars at all Grand Trunk Ticket Offices or write C. E. HORNING, D.P.A., Toronto, Ont.
B. A. BOSS, City Passenger and Ticket Agent
F. SANDY, Station Ticket Agent

CANADIAN PACIFIC

EASTER FARES

Between all Stations in Canada, Fort William and East, and to Sault Ste. Marie, Detroit, Mich., Buffalo and Niagara Falls, N.Y.

SINGLE FARE — Fare and One-Third
Good going Apr. 10 | Return Limit Apr. 10 — Good going Apr. 9-10-11-12, Return Limit Apr. 14

COLONIST FARES
(One-Way Second Class) to certain points in Alberta, California, Oregon, Arizona, British Columbia, Montana, Washington, Idaho, etc. Daily until April 15th

REDUCED SETTLERS' FARES
(One-Way Second Class)
Each Tuesday until April 28.
Through Trains Toronto to Winnipeg and West. Colonist Cars on All Trains. No change for Berths.
Particulars from Canadian Pacific Agents or write M. G. Murphy, D.P.A., Toronto.
J. Skinner, C.P.A., 343 George Street.

Railway Time Tables

GRAND TRUNK

	ARRIVE.	DEPART
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Stouffville and Toronto	11.34 a.m. 9.00 p.m.	8.20 a.m. 5.35 p.m.
Port Hope and points east of Montreal and Boston	8.10 a.m. 5.30 p.m.	8.10 a.m. 9.05 p.m.
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago and west, Niagara Falls, Buffalo	12.10 p.m. 5.30 p.m.	12.40 a.m.
Cobourg, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 5.30 p.m.	9.05 p.m. 8.10 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay Stouffville, Uxbridge Markham Lindsay Local	11.34 a.m. 9.00 p.m. 10.15 p.m. 7.55 a.m.	7.10 a.m. 8.20 a.m. 5.35 p.m. .55 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 5.50 p.m.	8.20 a.m. 1.30 p.m.
Lansdeld	8.05 a.m. 5.15 p.m. 7.00 p.m.	7.00 a.m. 12.20 p.m. 5.40 p.m.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

Going East—
Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec	11.43 a.m.
Indian River, Norwood Havelock, Tweed	9.07 a.m.
Havelock, Montreal, Quebec, St. John, N.B., Boston	12.15 a.m.
Havelock, Montreal, Quebec, St. John, N.B., Boston	12.50 a.m.
Ottawa Special for Smith's Falls and Ottawa only	1.20 a.m.
Going West—
Toronto, Guelph, Goderich	4.37 a.m.
Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, New York, Galt, Woodstock, St. Thomas, London, Chatham, Detroit, Chicago	5.24 a.m.
North Toronto, West Toronto *Local for Carnarille, Burketon, Bobcaygeon, Myrtle Toronto	6.18 a.m. 7.05 a.m.
Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, New York, Detroit, Chicago	4.35 p.m.
Local points from Port McNichol, Peterboro, Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	6.37 p.m.
New train for Lindsay, Orillia and Port McNichol	9.15 a.m.

*Daily except Sunday.

OUR SERIAL STORY PAGE

"THE MAYOR'S WIFE"

By ANNA KATHARINE GREEN

(Continued from Saturday.)

Miss Charity nodded, complacency in every feature; but Miss Thankful thought it more decorous to seem to be indifferent in this matter.

"Yes, china; old pieces, not very valuable. We gave what we had of worth to our sister when she married. We keep other things there, too, but they are not important. We seldom go to those closets now, so we don't mind the darkness."

"I—I dote on old china," I exclaimed, carefully restraining myself from appearing unduly curious. Won't you let me look at it? I know that it is more valuable than you think. It will make me happy for the whole day, if you will let me see those old pieces. They may not look beautiful to you, your are so accustomed to them; but to me every one must have a history, or a history my imagination will supply."

Miss Charity looked gently but perceptibly frightened. She shook her head, saying in her weak, fond tones:

"They are too dusty; we are not such housekeepers as we used to be: I am ashamed—"

But Miss Thankful's peremptory tones cut her short.

"Miss Saunders will excuse a little dust. We are so occupied," she explained, with her eye fixed upon me in almost a challenging way, "that we can afford little time for unnecessary housework. If she wants to see these old relics of a former day, let her. You, Charity, lead the way."

I was trembling with gratitude and the hopes I had suppressed, but I managed to follow the apologetic figure of the humiliated old lady with a very good grace. As we quitted the room we were in, through a door at the end leading into the dark passageway, I thought of the day when, according to Mrs. Packard's story, Miss Thankful had come running across the alley and through this very place to astound her sister and nephew in the drawing-room with the news of the large legacy destined so soon to be theirs. That was two years ago, and to-day— I proceeded no further with what was in my mind, for my interest was centred in the closet whose door Miss Charity had just flung open.

"You see," murmured that lady, "that we haven't anything of extraordinary interest to show you. Do you want me to hand some of them down? I don't believe that it will pay you."

I cast a look at the shelves and felt a real disappointment. Not that the china was of too ordinary a nature to attract, but that the pieces I saw, and indeed the full contents of the shelves, failed to include what I was vaguely in search of and had almost brought my mind into condition to expect.

"Haven't you another closet here?" I faltered. "These pieces are pretty, but I am sure you have some that are larger and with the pattern more dispersed—a platter or a vegetable dish."

"No, no," murmured Miss Charity, drawing back as she let the door slip from her hand. "Really, Thankful," — this to her sister who was pulling open another door,—"the look of those shelves is positively disreputable—all the old things we have had in the house for years. Don't—"

"Oh, do let me see that old tureen up on the top shelf," I put in. "I like that."

Miss Thankful's long arm went up, and, despite Miss Charity's complaint that it was too badly cracked to handle, it was soon down and placed in my hands. I muttered my thanks, gave utterance to sundry outbursts of enthusiasm, then with a sudden stopping of my heart-beats, I lifted the cover and—

"Let me set it down," I gasped, hurriedly replacing the cover. I was really afraid I should drop it.

Miss Thankful took it from me and rested it on the edge of the lower shelf.

"Why, how you tremble, child!" she cried. "Do you like old Colonial Blue ware as well as that? If you do, you shall have this piece. Charity, bring a duster, or, better, a damp cloth. You shall have it, yes, you shall have it."

"Wait!" I could hardly speak. "Don't get a cloth yet. Come with me back into the parlour, and bring the tureen. I want to see it in full light."

They looked amazed, but they followed me as I made a dash for the drawing-room, Miss Thankful with the tureen in her hands. I was quite mistress of myself before I faced them again, and, sitting down, took the tureen on my lap, greatly to Miss Charity's concern as to the injury it might do my frock.

"There is something I must tell you about myself before I can accept your gift," I said.

"What can you have to tell us about yourself that could make us hesitate to bestow upon you such an insignificant piece of old cracked china?" Miss Thankful asked as I sat looking up at them with moist eyes and wildly beating heart.

"Only this," I answered. "I know what perhaps you had rather have had me ignorant of. Mrs. Packard told me about the bonds you lost, and how you thought them still in the house where your brother died, though no one has ever been able to find them there. Oh, sit down," I entreated, as they both turned very pale and looked at each other in affright. "I don't wonder that you have felt their loss keenly; I don't wonder that you have done your utmost to recover them, but what I do wonder at is that you were so sure they were concealed in the room where he lay that you never thought of looking elsewhere. Do you remember, Miss Quinlan, where his eyes were fixed at the moment of death?"

"On the window directly facing his bed."

"Gazing at what?"

"Sky—no, the walls of our house."

"Be more definite; at the old side door through which he could see the closet shelves where this old tureen stood. During the time you had been gone, he had realised his sinking condition, and, afraid of the nurse he saw advancing down the street, summoned all his strength and rushed with his treasure across the alley-way and put it in the first hiding-place his poor old eyes fell on. He may have been going to give it to you; but you had company, you remember, in here, and he may have heard voices. Anyhow, we know that he put it in the tureen because —" here I lifted the lid—"because—" I was almost as excited and trembling and beside myself as they were — "because it is here now."

They looked, then gazed in each other's face and bowed their heads. Silence alone could express the emotion of that moment. Then with a burst of inarticulate cries, Miss Charity rose and solemnly began dancing up and down the great room. Her sister looked on with grave disapproval till the actual nature of the find made its way into her bewildered mind, then she reached over and, plunged her hand into the tureen and drew out the five bonds which she clutched first to her breast and then began proudly to unfold.

"Fifty thousand dollars!" she exclaimed. "We are rich women from to-day," and as she said it I saw the shrewdness creep back into her eyes and the long powerful features take on the expressive character which they had so pitifully lacked up to the moment. I realized that I had been the witness of a miracle. The reason, shattered, or, let us say, disturbed by one shock, had been restored by another. The real Miss Thankful stood before me.

Meanwhile the weaker sister, dancing still, was uttering jubilant murmurs to which her feet kept time with almost startling precision. But as the other let the words I have recorded here leave her lips, she came to a sudden standstill and approaching her lips to Miss Thankful's ear said joyfully:

"We must tell—oh," she hastily interpolated as she caught her sister's eyes and followed the direction of her pointing finger, "we have not thanked our little friend, our good little friend who has done us such an inestimable service." I felt her quivering arms fall round my neck, as Miss Thankful removed the tureen and in words both reasonable and kind expressed the unbounded gratitude which she herself felt.

"How came you to think?" How came you to care enough to think?" fell from her lips as she kissed me on the forehead. "You are a jewel, little Miss Saunders, and some day —"

But I need not relate all that she said or all the extravagant things Miss Charity did, or even my own delight, so much greater even than any I had anticipated, when I first saw this possible ending of my suddenly inspired idea. However, Miss Thankful's words as we parted at the door struck me as strange, showing that it would be a little while yet before the full balance of her mind was restored.

"Tell everybody," she cried: "tell Mrs. Packard and all who live in the house; but keep it secret from the woman who keeps that little shop. We are afraid of her; she haunts this neighbourhood to get at these very bonds. She was the nurse who cared for my brother, and it was to escape her greed that he hid this money. If she knew that we had found these our lives wouldn't be safe. Wait till we have them in the bank."

"Assuredly. I shall tell no one."

"But you must tell those at home," she smiled; and the beaming light in her kindled eye followed me the few steps I had to take, and even into the door.

So Bess had been the old man's nurse!

CHAPTER XVIII.
THE MORNING NEWS.

That evening I was made a heroine of by Mrs. Parkark and all the other members of the household. Even Nixon thawed and showed me his genial side. I had to repeat my story above stairs and below, and relate just what the old ladies had done and said, and how they bore their joy, and whatever I thought they would do with their money, now they had it. When I at last reached my room, my first act was to pull aside my shade and take a peep at the old attic window. Miss Charity's face was there, but so smiling and gay I hardly knew it. She kissed her hand to me as I nodded my head, and then turned away with her light as if to show me she had only been waiting to give me this joyous good night.

This was a much better picture to sleep on than the former one had been.

Next day I settled back into my old groove. Mrs. Packard busied herself with her embroidery and I read to her or played on the piano. Happier days seemed approaching, nay, had come. We enjoyed two days of it, then trouble settled down on us once more.

It began on Friday afternoon. Mrs. Packard and I had been out making some arrangements for the projected dinner-party and I had stopped for a minute in the library before going up-stairs.

A pile of mail lay on the table. Running this over with a rapid hand, she singled out several letters which she began to open. Their contents seemed far from satisfactory. Exclamation after exclamation left her lips, her agitation increasing with each one she read, and her haste, too, till finally it seemed sufficient for her just to glance at the unfolded sheet before letting it drop. When the last one had left her hand, she turned and, encountering my anxious look, bitterly remarked:

"We need not have made those arrangements this morning. Seven regrets in this mail and two in the early one. Nine regrets in all! and I sent out only ten invitations. What is the meaning of it? I begin to feel myself ostracised."

I did not understand it any more than she did.

"Invite others," I suggested, and was sorry for my presumption the next minute.

Her poor lip trembled.

"I do not dare," she whispered. "Oh, what will Mr. Packard say! Some one or something is working against us. We have enemies — enemies, and Mr. Packard will never get his election."

Her trouble was natural and so was her expression of it. Feeling for her, and all the more that the cause of this concerted action against her was as much a mystery to me as it was to herself, I made some attempt to comfort her, which was futile enough, God knows. She heard my voice, no doubt, but she gave no evidence of noting what I said. When I had finished — that is, when she no longer heard me speaking—she let her head droop and presently I heard her murmur:

"It seems to me that if for any reason he fails to get his election I shall wish to die."

(To be continued.)

Refreshing Sleep

A glass or two of the "Beer That Builds" at bed time, will bring restful, refreshing sleep. The tired business man—the woman who is nervous and run-down—will find this tonic and food most beneficial. Rich in food value—easily digested—and extra mild.

O'Keefe's

Special EXTRA MILD STOUT

Your dealer should have it. Don't take a substitute but insist on having the genuine O'Keefe brew.

The O'Keefe Brewery Co. Limited, Toronto.

346

J. M. BROOKS & CO., Distributors, 418 Water Street, 'Phone 81.

Toronto Savings & Loan Comp'y

Notice is hereby given that a Quarterly Dividend of two and one-half per cent being at the rate of ten per cent per annum for the (3) three months ending 31st of March 1914, has been declared upon the Capital Stock of this Institution and the same will be payable at the offices of the Company in this City on and after April 1st, 1914.

The Transfer Books will be closed from the 19th to the 31st of March, both days inclusive.

By order of the Board,

W. G. MORROW
MANAGING DIRECTOR

Peterborough, March 20th, 1914

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

E. W. GILLETT CO. LTD.
TORONTO, ONT.
WINNIPEG MONTREAL

TRAGEDY, ROMANCE, OF DOWN-AND-OUTS

Clergymen, Lawyers and Doctors and Sandwich Board Men in London

Men who have been clergymen, solicitors, and University men carry sandwich boards in the streets of London. —Statement at a City inquest.

"There can be no question of the truth of that," the manager of a City advertising company told a "Daily News" representative. People would certainly be astonished if they knew the number of well-educated men who come down to board-carrying.

"I have a fellow here who is still a doctor. If he is not addressing envelopes he is to be found carrying boards. His downfall was due to drink. Another sandwich-man carrier is a fully qualified chemist, while a third was a cashier with a big city firm for twenty years. He was dismissed as he was considered too old for the post, and so he came down to this. I have a solicitor who will carry boards or address envelopes—anything to make a shilling or two."

But sometimes a man who has come down to carrying sandwich boards will "win through" again.

"For instance," said the advertising manager, "there was the case of the headmaster of an English school in Portugal who drifted to the last ebb, came here, worked hard, saved a little and started writing books.

"He was helped by Mr. Stead and Mr. Bernard Shaw, and has now written several very clever books. He is doing well. Another man, a music hall artiste, saved sufficient to make himself presentable, and he is now earning £5 and £6 a week.

"I am looking for a man who has worked for me. A solicitor called some weeks ago and said that this man had been left a large sum of money, but, as luck will have it, I cannot trace him."

ON AGRICULTURE

Politicians Must Not be Allowed to Knock Heads Together

Lord St. Audries addressing the West Somerset Farmers' Club, said it was true that in the last ten years the income of Great Britain had increased by over $950,000,000 a year, but another important fact was that during that time the income of the landowners had not only not remained stationary but had actually gone down, while extra burdens had been thrown upon them. It was therefore not fair to say, as was said by so-called land reformers, that while the wealth of the country had gone up the wages of the agricultural laborers had not increased, because the wealth of the landowners had decreased, whereas the wages of the laborers had advanced, although not to the extent that the employers would like. They all wanted to see agricultural laborers' wages increased, but there was only one sound economic way of increasing them rapidly and permanently, and that was by making the industry by which they lived more profitable than it was now. Parliament could not do a great deal towards that, but they could take off the heavy and increasing burdens on agricultural land which prevented it from being developed as it ought to be, and could also restore confidence in investments in land, which would enable people to put their capital into it, which they did not do now. If they were going to make agriculture a success they should put their heads together and should not allow any politician, on whatever side of the House he sat, to knock them together.

Labatt's INDIA PALE ALE

Not a Useless Intoxicant, but a WHOLESOME BEVERAGE with dietetical and medicinal uses

— MADE AS GOOD AS WE CAN MAKE IT —

If not sold by nearest wine and spirit merchant, write

JOHN LABATT, LIMITED
LONDON - - CANADA 53

Love's Awakening.

When a girl imagines that a big sook who has bristles on his chin and who smells like an old pipe is the greatest thing ever invented—that is love.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

They Do It.

"Nobody can achieve the impossible." "Oh, yes, they can. I know at this moment plenty of folks who can't sing, but who will sing." Baltimore American.

DR. AMICI

the Pope's physician. During an illness of the Pontiff he never leaves the Vatican, day or night.

PETERBOROUGH COLD STORAGE
In full operation
All kinds of COAL in Stock at Market Price
Both 'Phones 162
W. SCOTT CO., LIMITED
East City

EDWIN ELCOME
Taxidermist.

Heads, Animals, Birds, Fish, etc mounted artistically and permanent. Heads of Deer, Moose, Caribou Elk, etc., our Specialty.

Heads, Animals, Birds, Fish, Artificial Eyes, Taxidermist supplies. Bird and Flower Guide Books for sale.

692 Harvey St.
Peterborough Ontario

THE IMPERIAL LIFE
Assurance Co. of Canada

Each Premium Paid

On an IMPERIAL POLICY is so much money saved—not spent. Your family will reap the reward some day, or you may live to enjoy it yourself. In every case a Policy in THE IMPERIAL LIFE is

A Good Investment

W. G. MORROW, Agent
437 George Street

NO BETTER TIME!

TO HAVE YOUR PROPERTY INSURED AGAINST LOSS BY FIRE THAN NOW.

No better or safer Companies to take out a policy with, than those we represent.

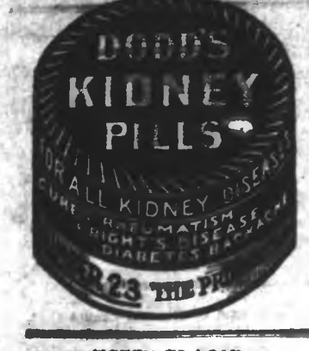
You may have much or little, it's worth insuring.

See us about Fire Insurance To-Day!

Davis-Thompson Company
LIMITED
Insurance and General Agency
PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO.

Shiloh 25¢

A safe, old-time remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis and whooping cough. Does not upset the stomach. Perfectly safe for all ages, even nursing infants. A small dose, only, needed and gives quick results. A household friend to thousands of Canadian homes since 1870. Buy Shiloh for coughs and colds.



MONEY TO LOAN.

MONEY TO LOAN—On Mortgage Security on Farm and City property on lowest terms of interest. G. N. Gordon, Barrister, 387 George Street.

MONEY TO LOAN—On Farm and Town property, at lowest current rates on easiest terms of payment. HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON, Successors to Stratton & Hall, Barristers, Peterborough, Ont. Office:—Over the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

MONEY TO LEND—On first-class City and Farm Securities only, on current rates. BENNET & GOODWILL, Barristers, Solicitors, etc., No. 376 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone, No. 191. J. W. Bennet; E. L. Goodwill.

MEDICAL.

DR. BUCHANAN, F.R.C.S., Edin., M.R.C.S., Eng., L.R.C.P., London, Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist. Hours—9-11 a.m., 2-4 p.m., 7-9 p.m. 'Phone 619. Office: Corner Water and Murray.

DR. E. E. KELLY, Late House Surgeon St. Francis and Manhattan Maternity Hospitals, New York. Late House Physician of Riverside Isolation Hospital, Toronto. Hours, 1-3.30 p.m., 7-8 p.m. 'Phone 169. Office: 342 Hunter St. 6m

T.W.H. YOUNG M.D., C.M.
L.R.C.P., L.R.C.S., L.M., L.F.P.S. P.T.M.O.
Diseases of Women and Children
Hunter St. 'Phone 367

CHIROPRACTIC.

DR. E. W. KIRKWOOD, Chiropractor, Telephone 935. Office hours—8 to 10 a.m., 1 to 3 p.m., 4 to 7 p.m. 467 Water Street, Peterborough, Ont.

OSTEOPATHY.

DR. ASA G. WALMSLEY—Osteopathic Physician. Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce; Hunter Street Entrance. 'Phone: Office, 649; Residence, 609. Office hours—9 to 12 a.m., 2 to 5 p.m. Evenings by appointment.

DR. IVA M. CARUTHERS, Osteopath. Office: Bank of Commerce Building, opposite Post Office. Hours—10 to 12 a.m., 2 to 5 p.m., and by appointment. 'Phone 688. Residence 'Phone, 1373

LEGAL.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office, 415 Water Street, Peterborough. Money to Loan at lowest current rates of interest, on easy terms of repayment. E. A. Peck, F. D. Kerr, V. J. McElderry.

G. N. GORDON.—Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public and Conveyancer. Commissioner for New York State. Money to Loan. Office upstairs, first door south of Madill's Drug Store. Bell 'phone 239; Machine 'phone 100. 397½ George St.

O'CONNELL & CORKERY.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries, Hunter Street, two doors west of Post Office. Daniel O'Connell, John E. Corkery.

RUDDY & BURNHAM.—Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, etc. Offices: 379 Water Street. Money to Loan. Robert Ruddy, K.C.; J. H. Burnham, M.A. Telephone No. 64.

DUMBLE & JOHNSTON.—Barristers, Solicitors, etc. Office over Toronto Savings and Loan Company, 458 George Street. D. W. Dumble, K.C.; W. F. Johnston.

A. H. DIXON.—Barrister, Solicitor, etc. Offices, Corner Hunter and George Sts.; entrance, next Madill's Drug Store. dw

HALL, HAYES & HALL.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries Public, Hunter St., Peterborough. Next to St. John's Church. Money to Loan at lowest rates of interest. E. H. D. Hall, City Solicitor; Louis M. Hayes, K.C.; and Basil D. Hall.

HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON.—Successors to Stratton & Hall, Barristers, Solicitors, etc., Peterborough, Ont. Office, Corner of Hunter and Water Sts., over Canadian Bank of Commerce. E. E. Hall, S. T. Medd, W. S. Davidson.

W. E. MOORE.—Barrister, Solicitor, etc. Office, entrance first hallway west of Post Office, Peterborough, Ont. Money to Loan.

WOOD & WEARING.—Barristers, etc. Office, over Canadian Express Office, George Street. Money to Loan. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney. Jos. Wearing, M.A.

ARCHITECTS.

W. BLACKWELL—Architect and Civil Engineer. Plans and estimates made on churches, public buildings and dwelling houses. Buildings heating and plumbing a specialty. Office, 373 Water St., Peterborough.

AUCTIONEER
W. D. KETCHESON,
Licensed Auctioneer for Peterboro County
Sales attended to promptly and satisfactorily
Address 88 DOURO STREET, CITY
'Phone 1078.

PIANO TUNING
Orders for Piano or Organ Tuning promptly attended to
W. H. CUNNINGHAM,
563 Weller Street.
'Phone 790.

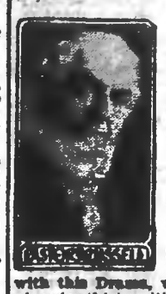
Dominion Cafe
Modern and up-to-date dining rooms; also private dining table. Drop in and try our special China dishes. Nothing but the best of steaks and chops used. We guarantee the best of satisfaction to strangers, and all our patrons. 'Phone 839
328 George St
TOM BEE Manager.
Open from 7 a.m. to 2 a.m.

CREATION DRAMA IN AUDITORIUM THEATRE

Chicagoans Astonished --Seats Free--No Collections.

PASTOR RUSSELL IS HERE

In Forenoon Discourse He Discussed That Part of Creation's Drama Which Relates to the Typical Feature of the Passover Lamb—Typically, He Says, It Has Spoken the Divine Plan For Centuries—Blessings For Christian Church—Blessings For Jewish Church—And For All Nations and Kindreds, Tongues and Peoples—Kingdom Soon to Be Established.



Chicago, Ill., April 5.—Pastor Russell is here for the purpose of inaugurating his Photo-Drama of Creation at the Auditorium Theatre, the name of which is a guarantee that the Drama of Creation is in every respect first class.

One of the remarkable things in connection with this Drama, which is now running in thirty cities and witnessed by about 30,000 people daily, is that the best theatres are used—and all seats are free and no collections lifted.

Asked for an explanation, Pastor Russell declared that the Photo-Drama of Creation merely presents the Gospel of the Bible, which ought always to be free. He said he has no objection to other people taking up collections, but has found no authority in the Bible for doing so himself.

The Photo-Drama of Creation, he said, is financed by Christians who by it desire to re-establish faith in God and in the Bible as a Divine revelation.

Pastor Russell's address was in the forenoon and evening and is to continue for some time. The text of the Pastor's discourse was:

"Christ our Passover is slain for us; therefore let us keep the feast." (1 Corinthians 5:7, 8.) He said:

For thirty-five centuries God's holiest people, Jewish and Christian, have with more or less directness, and more or less understanding, celebrated the Passover. But while many have recognized the form, few have looked deeper—into its real import. Those who see the real meaning of the Passover have great cause for gratitude toward God and for confidence in the Bible, "the Word of God, which liveth and abideth forever." To understand the Passover means to understand the Plan of God in respect to humanity.

St. Paul reminds us that God's first intimations respecting His glorious purposes of mercy toward our race were given to Abraham. After God had tested his faith and obedience, He called Abraham His friend, and revealed to him in part things to come. The essence of the Divine Message of Peace was, "I will bless all the families of the earth through thy Seed"—thy posterity. (Galatians 3:8.) This, God's sure Word of Promise, was afterward confirmed with an Oath, because the time would be long, and therefore it would be necessary that the heirs of salvation should exercise faith in it.

Pastor Russell reviewed to his hearers the institution of the Passover. He reminded them that the children of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob were in bondage to Egypt, and God commanded Pharaoh to let them go, sending chastisement after chastisement upon the Egyptians, to compel his obedience. God's mercy in lifting one plague after another merely hardened Pharaoh's heart, until the final, the tenth plague. By this plague all the first-born of Egypt died in one night; while the first-born of the Israelites living in Egypt escaped because passed over.

The Passover, therefore, memorialises the favored of God.

The first-born of Israel were subsequently exchanged for the tribe of Levi, which thereafter was counted especially the Lord's—some of the Levites serving as priests, sacrificing at His altar, and some of them doing an inferior service—assisting the priests in the work of instructing and blessing all the other tribes. Moses and Aaron were members of this priestly tribe, all of whom became leaders of God's chosen people in their subsequent experiences, particularly in their crossing of the Red Sea and, later, in crossing the Jordan—both typical events.

The Pastor explained that before the first-borns of Israel could be passed over, a certain sacrifice was necessary, according to the Divine arrangement. A lamb without blemish was sacrificially killed, and its blood used to sprinkle the door-posts and lintels of all the dwellings of the Israelites. Each family or group repeated the same picture, sprinkling the blood of the lamb upon the door-posts and lintels, roasting the flesh, and later eating it with herbs and unleavened bread—ready for departure from Egypt for the land of Canaan. As the morning broke, the journey out of Egypt began. Later, all the host crossed the Red Sea, the waters of which returning engulfed the Egyptians, who had started in pursuit of them.

The meaning of all this to the Christian is that God has promised deliverance from the power of Satan and the slavery of sin to all who are truly His people. These were under the bondage when God sent forth His Son, Jesus, to be their antitypical Lamb—to die, "the Just for the unjust," and thus to give His flesh for the life of the world. As a result of that redemptive work, the Father highly exalted Him to the spirit plane, where He was before He was made flesh. Indeed, His resurrection was to a still higher nature—the Divine, far above men, angels, principalities, powers, etc.

The blood represents the life, as the Bible tells. The blood of the passover lamb thus typically represents the life which Jesus gave. The sprinkling of the blood upon the door-posts and lintels represents the part which must be experienced by all who belong to the Household of Faith. All such must trust, not in works of their own for justification before God, but in the work, the sacrifice, of Christ, who died for us, "the Just for the unjust." Not only must we exercise faith in the sense of entering into the Household of Faith, but additionally we must be of those who partake of the Lamb, who appropriate the merit of Christ's sacrifice by faith. All such are counted as being partakers of Christ's holiness, and are sharers with Him to the sufferings of this present time, and prospectively His joint-heirs in His Kingdom to come.

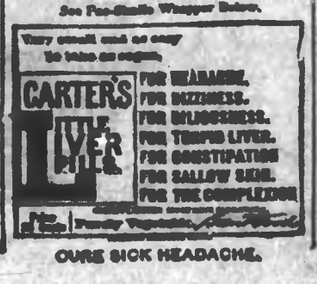
Thus, said the Pastor, has Israel's Passover found its antitype throughout this Gospel Age. From the time that Jesus died, as the Lamb of God to take away the sin of the world, to the present time, there has been a feast spread for those who are able to appreciate it. There has been a covering with the merit of His sacrifice for those who had faith to accept it. All such are counted members of the "Church of the First-borns," whose names are "written in Heaven." (Hebrews 12:23.) This Church is not yet completed. Thank God! we may still sprinkle the blood of the Lamb upon the door-posts of our hearts, may still have imputed to us His precious merit, and still have the privilege of becoming members of the Church of the First-borns.

But the Morning is near at hand. The First-borns will soon be recognised of God. They will be "changed in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye." By resurrection power they will be made like unto their glorious Redeemer. They will begin their great work as the Royal Priesthood. Under the leadership of the great Prophet, Priest and King—Jesus—these under-priests, under-kings, under-prophets, will labor with Him in His great Messianic Kingdom work. These with the Redeemer will constitute the Spiritual Seed of Abraham, through whom God's blessing is to come to Natural Israel, and ultimately to every nation, people, kindred and tongue.

The great work of deliverance will require a thousand years—the period of Messiah's Reign. This deliverance is pictured by the passing through the Red Sea. God's mighty hand will be exercised on behalf of all who are truly His, during the thousand years. They will escape from the power of Satan and his hosts of sin, who will be restrained for a time. In the destruction of Pharaoh's hosts in the Red Sea, we find a pictorial prophecy of the destruction of Satan and all who are his—all who [illegible]

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine
Carter's Little Liver Pills.
Must Bear Signature of
Brent Good
See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.



CURE SICK HEADACHE.

BAD BLOOD IS THE DIRECT CAUSE OF Pimples.

Pimples break out on the face and body, and it is impossible to get rid of them, unless you cleanse the blood of all of its impurities.

Burdock Blood Bitters is without a doubt, the very best medicine for this purpose.

This old, and reliable medicine has been in use for nearly forty years, and has a reputation unequalled by any other preparation for removing all the impurities from the blood and banishing the pimples.

Mr. Edward Paquette, Navan Centre, Ont., writes:—"One month ago my face was covered with pimples and a rash. I had tried a number of these so called blood purifiers with no avail. Seeing an almanac of yours in which you strongly recommend Burdock Blood Bitters, I decided to try a bottle, and after I had taken it I could see a decided change, and after using three bottles more all the pimples had completely disappeared."

[illegible] God and His righteous arrangements.

First the natural, afterward the spiritual, is God's order, the Apostle tells us. (1 Corinthians 15:46.) In one sense of the word, the entire posterity of Jacob were the heirs of God's Promise to Abraham. The first privilege was guaranteed to them under the Law Covenant. But as God foresaw, the Jews were unable to keep that Law Covenant because, like the remainder of humanity, they are all imperfect, all sinners, and because God's Law is perfect—the measure of a perfect man's obedience and ability. But they were profited by their endeavors to keep the Law, and glorious characters were developed amongst them—Moses, David, the Prophets, and many of lesser prominence, who, as St. Paul declares, manifested their faith and obedience even unto death. —Hebrews 11:35-40.

These Ancient Worthies endured not in vain. They have the promise of a better resurrection than the remainder of their nation and the world. Theirs is to be a resurrection to human perfection. They are to constitute the nucleus of the earthly phase of Messiah's Kingdom. To His standard, thus set up in the world, will assemble gradually, not only the natural seed of Abraham, but all of humanity desiring God's favor and everlasting life.

Pastor Russell then stated that, before these blessings could come to Abraham and mankind in general, there must be a Spiritual Seed of Abraham. He showed that Jesus was Abraham's seed according to the flesh, but that as such He never could have accomplished His great Messianic work. It was necessary, he said, for the Man Christ Jesus to lay down His humanity sacrificially before He could be received to the glories of the Divine nature by resurrection power. So also it must be with all who will become joint-heirs with Jesus on the Heavenly plane.—2 Peter 1:4.

The testing of the loyalty of Jesus and all those of every nation who would be of the Spiritual Seed of Abraham has progressed now for eighteen centuries, and the Pastor believes it will soon be completed. The gathering of the Elect will complete this Age and inaugurate the New Dispensation, during which God's blessings through Messiah's Kingdom will fill the earth, superseding the curse which has rested upon mankind for six thousand years—six great Days. Messiah's New Dispensation will be the antitypical Sabbath Day, a thousand years long, in which Messiah will bring in everlasting righteousness, destroy all who love unrighteousness, and grant everlasting life to all the obedient.

John the Baptist, in announcing Jesus as the great Messiah, said, "Behold the Lamb of God, who taketh away the sin of the world." It is well that we should notice the difference between the taking away of the sin of the world and the taking away of the sin of the Church. The Church is described as the Church of the First-borns, leaving the world to have the blessing of the after-born members of the same family of God. Only by close scrutiny can we discern the deep things of God. The Spirit was promised to guide Jesus' followers into an understanding, not merely of the outward, or superficial, features of God's arrangement on man's behalf, but also into the deeper parts.

The sin of the world is the Adamic sin. By one man's disobedience, sin entered the world. The penalty of that sin was not eternal torment nor purgatory. But, as the Apostle explains and as we also read in Genesis, the curse, the penalty for sin, is death—"Dying, thou shalt die." No one could be thoroughly released from that penalty of death—and completely resurrected out of death—except by the payment of a Ransom-price—the payment of his penalty. No member of the race could pay the penalty because every member was under that penalty himself. Hence God's compassion manifested itself in providing the Redeemer—a Ransomer. One capable of satisfying the claims of Justice and thus legally setting Adam and all of his race free from the death penalty—the curse.

But while the Lamb of God was to take away the sin of the whole world and give all an opportunity for Restitution, He will not be the Passover Lamb for the world. Jesus is our Passover—the Church's Passover Lamb. This shows the difference between the deliverance of the Church during this Age, and the future deliverance of the world during the Millennium. The Church is delivered or passed over by faith—through the imputation of the merit of the Redeemer. The Church class may, therefore, even now speak of sins forgiven and of having passed from death unto life—but not so the world. Indeed, the taking away of the sins of the world in the next Age will be on a totally different basis. The merit of the Redeemer will not be imputed to mankind. The world will not be justified by faith. The taking away of their sins will be actual, and their justification will be actual.

The Church of the First-born has special privileges and blessings, as well as special trials. In the Passover type, the lives of the first-born were in jeopardy, while the lives of others of Israel were in no danger. This signifies in the antitype that the Church of the First-born will be liable to death at a time when the remainder of the world will not be thus liable. The reason for this is clear, in the light of other Scriptures, as we shall see.

The call of the Gospel Age the Apostle styles a "high calling," a Heavenly calling, because the Church is not under a law. Rather, a Heavenly reward is held up before the minds of some, and they are invited to enter into a Covenant with God, to follow such a course of life in the present time as will eventually bring them to the glorious prize set before them in the Revelation. This prize is sometimes styled the Kingdom, and sometimes the Divine nature—and it includes both.

But if the reward is so great that Jesus called it the "pearl of great price," and St. Paul declared that he counted all other things as loss and dross in comparison, we should not be surprised to find the conditions, or terms, for obtaining it very stringent. Notice the stringency of the call: "Gather together My saints unto Me," saith the Lord, "those who have made a Covenant with Me by sacrifice." (Psalm 50:5.) Again, notice Jesus' words, "If any man will be My disciple, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow Me."

From the foregoing Scripture, it will be noticed that the condition upon which any may become a member of the Church of the First-born is that he shall sacrifice his earthly nature. Only by faithfulness in thus sacrificing can he obtain the Heavenly nature. Unfaithfulness would hinder him from ever obtaining the new nature. As for the earthly nature, such give up all right to it, in order that they may run in the sacrificial race for the spirit nature. Hence it is that the First-borns are represented in the type as being exposed to death—annihilation.

Not so the world; for the world is only under Adamic condemnation. God has promised that through Christ that curse shall be removed. Hence of all the people in the world, the only ones who at the present time are in danger of going into extinction are those who have made a consecration to be the followers of Jesus.

Look back again at the type. There we see the lamb provided for all. There we see the blood upon the door-posts for all. But we see the first-born the only ones in danger. In the antitype, these, if passed over, will become the Church in Glory, the Royal Priesthood. How beautiful the picture! How solemn the thought of our opportunities and privileges, and responsibilities corresponding!

JAPAN IGNORES TIME.

"Immediately" There May Mean Now or Next Month.

Impatience among the Japanese is a thing you will rarely observe as you travel about through their strange and beautiful country. If, on the other hand, you yourself in touring Japan might, upon occasion, grow somewhat impatient, you will only become the quiet laughing stock—behind your back—of the little Japs themselves. An hour, or even a day, more or less in this oriental country is of little account, and matters cannot be made to move any the quicker because of any irritability. In fact this latter acts as an obstacle to your progress as well as to one's peace of mind. If, for example, your jinricksha coolies wish to stop for a meal just after you have started on a trip, you will find it expedient to accept the delay philosophically. "Storming" will not mend matters in the least.

If you might chance to be in a large Jap town with its steamship docks lying only a mile or two distant, you naturally would expect to receive reliable information as to the dates and hours of sailing for the steamships. You will often be told upon inquiry at the hotel offices—and in perfectly good faith, too—that the steamers leave daily. Upon arriving at the docks on schedule time, you find frequently that your particular steamer leaves but once in three days, and the vessel you sought left yesterday. Getting excited will not remedy the situation in the least. The Jap word "tadaima," meaning immediately, may in reality mean any time between now and next month.

To all of your queries the natives will say "shikataganai,"—"it can't be helped"—which brings an end to the matter, so far as the native is concerned. Incidentally, you might as well imitate his example. It will save you much waste of energy and loss of comfort, and if you are to enjoy your travel in Japan you will readily learn the art of "resignation" to your fate, and you oftentimes will have many good opportunities of studying Japanese life in its natural pictorial setting. Don't get annoyed, either, if nearly every casual Jap acquaintance you meet asks you a lot of personal questions. To ask personal questions is the Jap way of showing kindly interest in your welfare.—Clyde Witmer in Philadelphia North American.

Selecting a Toothbrush.

The daily care of the teeth should consist of washing and brushing. The toothbrush is a very important instrument, which should be sterilized both before and after using. As soon as the bristles wear or begin to drop out, it is time for a new brush. A new brush is needed about once a month. In selecting a toothbrush remember that it is not simply to rub or polish the enamel or remove the food from between the teeth, but it is also intended to stimulate the gums. Therefore it should not be too stiff.

Reducing the Hands.

An old pair of kid gloves, worn at night, after an astringent has been applied, will do wonders in keeping the hands small and also in breaking down the fatty tissues. However, if the bones are large, reducing the flesh will only succeed in making the bones more prominent, and the hands look old and even larger. It would be better to pass the time making them soft and white, and in keeping the nails well manicured.

Rise Quietly.

Do not spring out of bed as soon as you open your eyes in the morning. Remember that while you sleep your vitality is lowered and your circulation not so strong. A sudden jump out of bed is a shock to the heart. Stretch and yawn as soon as you wake, and then yawn and stretch and take plenty of time doing it. Then get up quietly when you are thoroughly awakened.

PILES Do not suffer another day with Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. No surgical operation necessary. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once and as certainly cure you. 60c a box; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Sample box free if you mention this paper and enclose 2c stamp to pay postage.

ENO'S "FRUIT SALT"
The Household Remedy

ALWAYS keep a bottle of Eno's in the house in readiness for an emergency. There is not the least danger of any ill effect or improper results any case, as the bottle is entirely in accord with Nature.

Eno's "Fruit Salt" contains the valuable constituents of ripe fruit in a portable, agreeable and simple form, and is in every respect as harmless as the juices of the fruits from which it is obtained.

Sold in all the principal towns and cities of Canada.

Prepared only by
J. C. ENO, Ltd., "Fruit Salt" Works, London, Eng.
Agents for Canada:
Harold F. Ritchie & Co., Limited
10 McCaul St., TORONTO

GOT HER THREE WISHES.

But They Sank Her Beneath the Waves of the Social Sea.

The late King Edward of England, while a very gracious and genial man, could be very severe with those who overstepped the rules of etiquette, and Frederick Townsend Martin in "Things I Remember" recalls what happened to an American girl who offended him when he was Prince of Wales.

At a society bazaar the winner of a lucky lottery ticket had the privilege of asking three wishes from the Prince of Wales, and fate favored a young lady from the United States.

"What is your first wish?" asked H. R. H.

"Oh, sir; it is to have your photograph."

The prince beamed. "Granted," he said. "And the next?"

"I would like you to bring me the photograph in person."

H. R. H. hesitated, frowned and, recovering from his surprise, answered: "That shall be done. Now, what is the last?"

Never was the truth of the saying so apparent that "fools rush in where angels fear to tread." The young lady disregarded the warning looks from those around her. "The third wish, sir, is that you will present me to the Princess of Wales."

The prince looked at her coldly. "Granted," he said and walked away without a word. The silly girl realized that she had sinned against society, which never forgives fools. She made a hasty exit, and the waves of the social sea closed over her forever.

There's now a golden chance, it seems,
For actresses who stutter.
Impediments of speech don't hurt
Before the cam'ry shutter
—Denver Republican.

Pert Personalities.

Colonel Goethals also serves a purpose by demonstrating that the theory of the office seeking the man is not always a joke.—Kansas City Journal.

Lillian Russell says strong women, mentally and physically, are more beautiful than any doll with. Maybe somebody is getting stout.—Toledo Blade.

Count Boni says he will never marry an American woman again. Let us hope no American woman will ever again be tempted to marry Boni.—Macon Telegraph.

David Livingstone.

David Livingstone will always rank among the most illustrious of the African explorers. He was a real pathfinder and civilizer as well as a most devoted Christian and philanthropist. Upon his large and lasting fame there seems to be not a single blot. From the spot in Africa where he died, near Chitambee village, on the Bangweolo, Livingstone's body was in 1874 taken to England and deposited with high honors in Westminster abbey, the government bearing all the expenses of the elaborate funeral.

Two Views.

"What I want to see," said the reformer, "is a city that knows absolutely nothing of graft."

"That's just what I'd like to see," replied the ward politician. "Wouldn't it be a gold mine for the right parties?"—Washington Star.

Quite a Word.

What word is there in the English language the first two letters of which signify a male, the first three a female, the first four a great man, and the whole a great woman? Heroine.

ADVERTISERS

Are invited to make enquiry into the circulation of The Examiner. We regard the right to enquire not as a concession by a Newspaper, but as a matter of business.

THE EXAMINER

has the Largest Circulation of any Newspaper between Toronto and Ottawa.

THE EXAMINER NEWSBOYS' COMPETITION

is assisting in the evolution of Peterborough's most widely read Newspaper

Every week substantial additions are made to the regular readers of The Examiner

Give your names to the Newsboys, or 'Phone the Office—1900 and 1901

A PAGE OF THE BEST HUMOR OF THE WEEK

Remember, Ladies.

Bath City has adopted a set of very strict rules for women's dress. The hat skirt is barred, the open-work blouse is barred, lace stockings are barred, etc.

Rev. H. P. Anderson, defending Bath City's course, said the other day:

"If you would realise the necessity for this course all you need do is to look at the latest Paris fashions. The bodices are outrageously décolleté. The skirts are more and more cut away in front."

Dr. Anderson permitted himself a blushed smile.

"These dreadfully décolleté blouses—these skirts more and more cut away—can it be that the ladies are trying to make both ends meet?"

After His Own Heart.

At the Progressive banquet in New York last month a westerner told a story about the colonel.

"My wife and I," he said, "have a large family of children, and whenever the colonel comes west and stops off we have a new addition to show him. That pleases him, you bet.

"The last time the colonel came to see us he was in a hurry. As he was leaving my wife said to him:

"'But you haven't seen our last baby!'

"'No ma'am,' says the colonel, his eyes twinkling behind his glasses, 'and I never expect to!'"

A Lesson From History.

P. Irving Fletcher, at one of the Publicity Club's dinners in New York, began a historical review of advertising with the words:

"None understood the value of advertising better than Samson. Samson took two solid columns. The result was that he brought down the house."

Unflattering.

Charles F. Murphy, apropos of Richard Croker's famous letter, said good-naturedly at Good Ground:

"Mr. Crocker's letter makes me feel like the lady at the Norristown Hotel. This lady was plainly dressed, but she did not think that she looked out of place at the hotel's 75-cent table d'hote. Yet her waiter, having set before her a plate of soup and a plate of fish simultaneously, bent down and whispered in her ear:

"'Eat yer soup first.'"

Not Always.

William J. Burns, the eminent detective, had just captured a forger who, formerly clean-shaven, now had his countenance disguised under a huge growth of brown dundrearies.

"Ha, ha," laughed Mr. Burns, "his disguise didn't go with me. It isn't always true, you see, that the best way to get out of a scrape is to raise a beard."

Aviator (to workman who has rescued him from the sea): "Ah, my preserver, my good preserver!"

Workman (dejectedly): "Stow it, guv-nor. Don't chaff a fellow just because he works in a jam factory."

The wife of a bibulous citizen waited, one Saynight, for her husband till ten o'clock, and then went to the police station to see if he was there.

"No, ma'am, he ain't here," the sergeant said; "but sit down and wait—we're expectin' him every minute."

Tourist: "I say, guide, it's about time we were getting near those famous falls, isn't it?"

Guide: "Yes, sir. May I request the ladies to stop talking for a moment, and you will then be able to hear the thunder of the waters quite distinctly."

Fred: "I thought you'd forgiven what I said, and promised to forget it?"

Bella: "But I didn't promise to let you forget I'd forgiven it."

A beginner at golf was playing his first game, and his opponent was struggling with his emotions as he watched the attempts to hit the ball. But he was unable to repress a smile when he overheard his caddie remark to his confrere:

"Bill, if he was a-playin' wiv new-laid eggs his golf wouldn't cost him much, would it?"

A school scene. The teacher speaking:

"Be industrious, children, and you will succeed. You remember, do you not, the great difficulty George Washington had to contend with?"

"Yes, sir; yes, sir," the children piped.

"And what difficulty, what almost insuperable difficulty, nearly crippled the great George?"

"He couldn't tell a lie!" chorused the children.

A tourist recently stopped for a drink of milk at an Irish cottage. He noticed on a dresser a brick with a faded red rose on the top of it.

"Why do you keep these?"

"Sure, sir," was the reply, "there's memories hangin' about them. Do ye see this big dent in my head? Well, it was the brick done it, sir."

"But the rose?" asked the tourist.

His host smiled quietly.

"The rose, sir, is off the grave of the man what threw the brick."

One on the Butcher.

Mrs. Putton-Ayres had picked up a few French phrases which she worked into her talk on every possible occasion. Entering the butcher's shop one day she inquired if he had any "bon-vivant."

"Boned what, ma'am?" asked the butcher, puzzled.

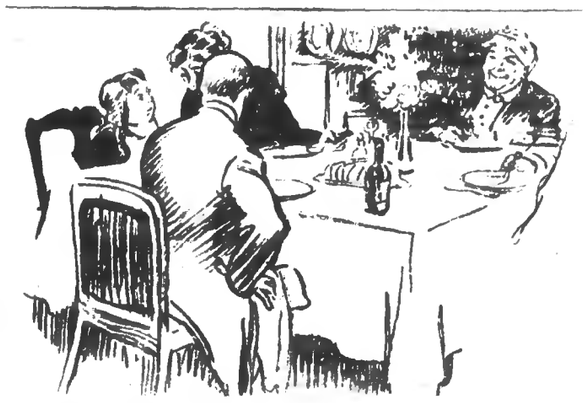
"Bon - vivant,' she repeated. "That's the French for good liver, you know."

THINGS THAT ONE MIGHT HAVE PUT DIFFERENTLY.
"How de do, Lady Smythe? I've just driven the motor over to fetch my wife away."
"How nice of you, Admiral; but I do wish you'd come sooner."

Mr Hoggenheim: "Come and dine with me tomorrow."

Mr. Walker: "Sorry, I'm fixed up; I'm going to see 'Parsifal.'"

Mr. Hoggenheim: "That's all right; bring 'im along with you."



Mother: "Helen, little girls must not talk all the time at the table."
Helen: "When will I be old enough to, mother?"

The cry of "Divide, divide!" which aroused discussion as to its legitimate use in the commons the other evening, reminds one of a country view of the words, as noted in "Sussex Folk and Sussex Ways." The canvasser was trying to persuade a voter that every member of parliament did not make money in the house, but the voter could not be persuaded.

"Come," he answered, "I am not going to believe that. Don't you see in the paper often enough cries of 'Divide, divide'? Now, do you think they'd cry 'Divide!' if they'd got nothing to divide? No, no; they just take the taxes and divide them amongst themselves, that's what they do."

Fair Play.

Two motorists, having almost ruined their tempers — and their tires — in a vain attempt to find a hotel with a vacant bed, were at last forced to make the best of a small inn. Even then they had to share a bed, which was — and on this the landlord laid great stress — a feather bed.

They turned in, and one of the pair was soon fast asleep. The other was not. He could not manage to dodge the lumps, and heard hour after hour strike on the church clock until 3. Then he violently shook his snoring friend.

"What's the matter?" growled the sleeper. "It can't be time to get up yet!"

"No it isn't," retorted his friend, continuing to shake him, "but it's my turn to sleep on the feather!"

Could Be Trusted.

There is a certain Ohio judge whose wit has enlivened many a dull case. On one occasion, counsel made in his court this statement on behalf of a plaintiff of somewhat bibulous appearance:

"My client, your honor, is a most remarkable man, and holds a very responsible position; he is manager of a waterworks."

After a survey of the client, his honor replied:

"Yes; he looks like a man who could be trusted with any amount of water."

A Give-Away.

"What made you think Mr. Lovetwet had been drinking?"

"Why, when the charlotte russe was set before him he tried to blow off the foam."

Not in His Proposition.

"How did you propose to support my daughter, sir?"

"I didn't propose to her to support her at all. I only proposed to her to marry me."

The Parson's Imprudence.

"Confound her impudence!" he exclaimed in an unguarded moment, speaking of an important but troublesome member of the congregation.

Next day the lady called again, and the clergyman's little boy entertained her briefly:

"What does 'Confoun' her impence' mean?" he sweetly queried. "That's what papa said when you went out the other day."

Ask the Birdie.

Mother: "Now, Willie, run along to school, and mind you be a good boy! A little bird will tell mother if you are bad."

Willie: "All right, mother!"

Mother (after school): "Well, was my little boy good at school today?"

Willie: "Nothing doin'; you go ask your birds!"

Retired Painter and Decorator (to artist whom he has commissioned to paint his daughter's portrait): "And none o' your slapdash paintin' for me; three good coats, mind ye!"

At a luncheon in her beautiful New York residence a journalist said to Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont:

"I am glad you entertained Mrs. Pankhurst so splendidly while she was here. Mrs. Pankhurst is, saving your presence, the most brilliant woman speaker, the most eloquent woman speaker, I have ever heard."

"And yet," said Mrs. Belmont, smiling, "she never finishes her sentences, does she?"

A vicar and his churchwarden were playing a round of golf. The man of the cloth was completely off his game, and after foozling most of his shots, and suffering from the disadvantage of being unable to use the common expletives which give comfort to the ordinary golfer, he gave up in despair.

"Cheer up, my friend," consoled the layman. "There's one thing—you'll get your own back when you have to bury me."

"That's all very well," was the gloomy reply of the vicar, "but even then it will be your note."

A certain territorial officer is much disliked by his men. One evening, as he was returning home, he slipped into some deep water. A private in his regiment, however, happened to see him, and after some trouble succeeded in pulling him out. The officer was very profuse in his thanks, and asked his rescuer the best way he could reward him.

"The best way you can reward me," said the soldier, "is to say nothing about it."

"Why, my dear fellow," said the astonished officer, "why do you wish me to say nothing about it?"

"Because, if the other fellows knew I'd pulled you out, they'd chuck me in!"

A good story of how the president of the board of education was cornered by a London elementary schoolgirl is being told. It is Mr. Pease's excellent habit to visit schools in his spare time, and he is just now devoting much attention to the problem of the disturbance of work by outside noises. He was in a school near a railway line the other day listening to a class of girls in a reading lesson, when a noisy train went by. He stopped the girl who was reading and said to her:

"Did you unconsciously raise your voice as the train went by?"

The girl replied:

"If I was unconscious of it how can I tell you?"

For once a cabinet minister had no reply ready.

How He Knew.

A certain young man's friends thought he was dead, but he was only in a state of coma. When, in ample time to avoid being buried, he showed signs of life, he was asked how it seemed to be dead.

"Dead?" he exclaimed, "I wasn't dead. I knew all the time what was going on. And I knew I wasn't dead, too, because my feet were cold and I was hungry."

"But how did that fact make you think you were still alive?" asked one of the curious.

"Well, this way. I knew that if I were in heaven I wouldn't be hungry. And if I was in the other place my feet wouldn't be cold."—London Opinion.

Friendly.

A child-loving adult relates the following story:

Having recently moved, with her family, into a new neighborhood, she one morning answered the doorbell to find six or seven solemn youngsters ranged along the porch.

"Please, ma'am," asked the small spokeswoman of the party, "who lives here?"

"Why, I do."

Silence for a moment, then:

"Are there any little kiddos? We've come to call on them if there are."

In the Plural.

"Spell 'cow,' dear," said the primary teacher to a gentle little pupil.

"C-o-w, cow."

"That's right, dear! Now spell 'cows.'"

"C-o-w, c-o-w, c-o-w!"

Mrs. Jawkins: "I heard something this afternoon that fairly knocked me speechless."

Mr. J.: "Do you mind repeating it to the baby, my dear?"

A gentleman, rushing from his dining-room into the hall and sniffing disgustedly, demanded of Jeames, the footman, whence arose the outrageous odor that was pervading the whole house. To which Jeames replied:

"You see, sir, today's a saint's day, and the butler, 'e's 'igh church, and is burning hincense, and the cook, she's low church, and is burning brown paper to hobviate the hincense."

He had held forth for so long on the subject of his adventures that the entire smoking-room was distinctly bored. Finally he reached India.

"It was there that I first saw a man-eating tiger," he announced, boastfully.

"Pooh! that's nothing," said a mild-looking little man, edging towards the door. "I once saw a man eating rabbit."

And he sauntered gracefully out.—Tit-Bits.

The attendant led the visitor into the violent ward.

"For Heaven's sake!" exclaimed the stranger, "what are those lunatics doing with that straw, leaves, flowers, feathers, and ribbons?"

"Our millinery department," explained the attendant. "This is where the hat styles originate."

"Mary," said her little brother at the breakfast table, "did Mr. Evans take any of the umbrellas or hats from the rack when he was going home last night?"

"Why, of course not, Jack," replied Mary, with a laugh. "Why should he?"

"That's just what I'd like to know," said Jack. "Because when he went out I heard him say, 'I'm going to steal just one,' and—why, what's the matter, Mary?"

A drill-sergeant was drilling a recruit squad in the use of the rifle. All went smoothly until blank cartridges were distributed. The recruits were instructed to load their pieces and stand at "ready," and then the sergeant gave the command: "Fire at will!"

Private Lunn was puzzled. He lowered his gun. "Which one is Will?" he asked.—Tit-Bits.

While the judge was giving his charge to the jury in the burglary case, one of the jurymen fainted. His lordship had just impressively said:—

"Gentlemen of the jury, in arriving at a verdict you must take the testimony of the witnesses for the defence into consideration and give them full weight."

At the words "and give them full weight," the jurymen swooned away. He was a coal merchant.

A story is told of Viscount Bryce, whose book on the American constitution is a classic on the other side of the Atlantic. A young American had as companion on one of his railway journeys in this country a more elderly man. They got into conversation, in the course of which an argument arose as to a certain point in American politics. They differed widely in their opinions, and finally the young man said:—

"I know that I'm right, for I'm quoting your fellow-countryman, James Bryce."

"I am Bryce!" was the other's quite retort.

Church: "Are you doing anything to help along this reform in spelling?"

Gotham: "Yes; I've just discharged my blonde typewriter."

"So you are deaf and dumb?"

"Perfectly. But I will not say a word except in the presence of my attorney."

It is said of General Smuts that, during his last visit to England, he was present at an official reception, and in the course of the evening he found himself next to a rather high and mighty young officer.

"Let me see," remarked the latter, staring at General Smuts rather superciliously, "haven't we—eh—met somewhere?"

"Yes," replied the General.

"Thought so," remarked the officer, adding with a bored air: "One meets so many people. Let me see, where did we meet?"

"In South Africa," returned the General, curtly. "You surrendered to me during the war!"

Mr. Green: What a lot I seem to have learned tonight! How I have benefited by this conversation with you, my dear Miss Roberts. Somehow your intellect seems to appeal to mine. Are you a literary lady?

Miss Roberts: No, I am a teacher in an infant school!

It Sure Am.

Down in South Carolina they caught an old negro roost-robber "with the goods on him," as the saying goes, and forthwith haled him into court to stand trial for chicken stealing. When old Rastus was placed in the dock the judge said:

"Now, Uncle Rus, I suppose you realize that you're in a court of law, and you quite realize what a court is?"

"Why, shore, boss!" came back Rastus, "a co't? Why a co't am a shore a place where dey dispenses wif justice!"

Busy Days.

"Get uptown telephones for an officer at once. Burglar in the house."

"Let me see," said the captain, reflectively, "I've got four men censoring plays, two inspecting the gowns at a society function, and two more supervising a tango tea. Tell him I can send him an officer in about two hours."

The Cabby and His Bible.

An Edinburgh cabman was driving an American round the sights of the northern city. In High street he stopped, and with a wave of his whip announced:

"That is John Knox's house."

"John Knox!" exclaimed the American. "Who was he?"

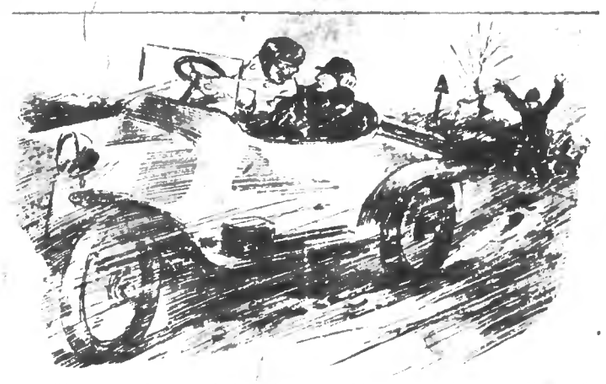
This was too much for the cabby. "Good heavens, man!" he exclaimed. "Did you never read your Bible?"

Little Bobby heard his father say one evening: "Pshaw, I wish young Sparks would go. It's nearly midnight and I'd like to lock up the house and get to bed. What on earth can Sparks and Mabel find to talk about all these hours?"

Bobby tiptoed to the parlor door, peeped thru the keyhole, and then, tiptoeing back to his father, said:

"It ain't Mr. Sparks' fault, pa. He can't go. Mable's sitting on him."

During the morning services at a western university the pranks of the boys annoyed the instructor in charge very much. Finally he burst out: "Boys! Such conduct is displeasing to God; and what's more, I won't stand it."



Motorist: "I contend that the man with no regard for the lives of others deserves to lose his own."
Candid Friend: "Then I hope you're insured, old chap!"

Tommy: "Do you like cheese, Stella?"

Stella: "Oh, I just love cheese! Why?"

"Tommy (bashfully): "A certain party called me a piece o' cheese today!"

"Why don't you brush your hair?" asked the man of the boy with the frowsy head.

"Ain't got no brush."

"Why don't you use your father's brush?"

"He ain't got no brush."

"No brush? Why hasn't he a brush?"

"Ain't got no hair."

"I wonder why the Baron and Jaromir, the poet, always go about together? They are so utterly different."

"Well, the Baron thinks himself intellectual when he is with the poet, and the poet thinks he looks smart when he is with the Baron."

"The question resolves itself into this," said Harkaway: "Does prohibition really prohibit?"

"Oh, yes," said Wilkins. "Prohibition prohibits all right, but the trouble is it doesn't prevent."

A GENTLE HINT.
Tom: I feel just like having a good time. Can't we celebrate something?
Kitty: Why, yes; today would have been the anniversary of our wedding if we had married just a year ago. Let's celebrate that."

"Oh! Ethel, why don't you use your finger bowl?"
"What's the use o' wastin' this nice jam, mother, when I can lick my fingers?"

COAL PRICES

ROBT. HICKS

Will announce Opening Prices of D. L. & W. Scranton Coal, Screened by his Improved Process, on April 11th.

These Prices will interest you.

COAL

Why not burn the BEST.
Our Coal is recognized as
THE COAL OF QUALITY
If you are not using it NOW your neighbor is.
Ask them about it then order some for yourself.

The Peterborough Fuel & Cartage Co.
162 Charlotte Street
Phones—Bell 261-270
541 Aylmer St. Phone Bell 302

EAST CITY
COAL & WOOD YARD
111 Hunter St. E. 'Phone 96
FIRST QUALITY
PITTSTON COAL
ALWAYS IN STOCK
Best Coal Mined, at lowest prices.
Mixed Wood, per cord.....$5.00
Cutting and Splitting Extra
Also Dry Pine and Hemlock Slabs $3.50
A. WEIR J. F. McCARTHY

First Class Scranton
COAL
ALL SIZES IN STOCK AT LOWEST PRICES
H.B. Taylor & Son
Both 'Phones 209
Cor. Aylmer & Wolfe Sts.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

THE SPORTING SPIRIT

"We're all entered, more or less," announced Berrick, who was less hard hit than any. "Who's the favourite—and what odds?"

"Blatchford, returned Van Norden. "Jack Blatchford. He's our blue ribbon winner! He is a good fellow, too, and good looking."

"With not a penny to his name," "She's got all the gold that's necessary. That's one reason why it would be an excellent match.

"Langley's head over heels in love with her."

Both men haw-hawed their amusement.

Langley's — "Dick" Langley's — polo and consequently in a measure "Dick" Langley himself was something of a joke. Almost every club wherever situated had had some of its best snapped up from part of Langley's stable.

Through this very fact he took a marked position in the polo world. His handicap was the lowest—in fact, now at near the close of his second year a simple zero stood after his name in the association's books.

"Think of any good man — if Blatchford were mounted like that," Berrick had often found occasion to groan discontentedly.

"There's not a member of the Langley family for three generations that has had a spark of the sporting spirit or would know it if they met it in broad daylight. As for Dick—why, he has a laboratory and shuts himself up and invents things."

The week of the match for the Colony cup was approaching. The knowledge of its nearness haunted the Westmead mind, disturbing peace and destroying happiness. Played on their own ground, failure was not to be considered, and yet nothing appeared more likely.

"He's determined to play, "Berrick continued bluntly to Miss Newlands, "and you must know the reason. He wants to show off before you. Do the gallery racket."

"Oh, I can't think as badly of him as 'that,'" she said and added decidedly. "I dont know."

"You know," said Langley to her one day as he drew up his steed beside her trap, "that I am to play in the cup games."

"Yes," she answered.

"I must do something then,' he almost groaned. "I feel that it's my only chance. I know what the sporting spirit think of me."

"The sporting spirit—yes," she answered at once. "I believe in it thoroughly."

"It's for me to show you that I've got a little in me," he declared, desperately. "I want to do something to help our side win."

"That's it!" she approved, enthusiastically. "That's the thing — to help our side to win."

The week of the Colony Club matches was the height of the Westmead season.

At last the players stood in line in the centre of the field with the Northbrooks grouped before them. All were present, except Langley.

Sally Newlands suddenly grasped Mrs. Elwick's hand and held it.

"What is it?" the other gasped.

"See."

"What?"

"Why — oh — Jack Blatchford is there all dressed and ready. He is mounting. He is joining. He is taking his place." A moment of silent intensity followed. "Oh," Sally cried, "they have begun. He is number two. Mr. Langley isn't one of the team."

"And Jack Blatchford's riding Dick's best pony, Frisco," gasped Mrs. Elswick. "I don't understand at all."

To tell of the game were surplusage. It lives in Westmead annals.

"Please," implored Mrs. Elswick to Brackenbury, who hurried up, "What does it mean?"

"Why," he explained, "Langley saw at the last moment that the only hope for us was to have Blatchford play. He went to Van Norden and said that he would lend Blatchford all his ponies. Van Norden jumped at it. Consequently Blatchford is in with all Langley's stable to use. Isn't he a wonder? Did you ever see anything like him?"

If perfect polo was ever witnessed it was to be seen in Blatchford's performance that day. Miss Sally Newlands sat as if in a trance, no incident escaping her steadfast gaze.

When the gong finally sounded, when there could be no doubt as to the result of the hardly fought field, and the Colony cup was theirs, then a great shout went up. Instead of turning away at once the crowd lingered for several minutes. Not a person, not a trap moved, each onlooker cheering wildly.

Blatchford, the centre of a turbulent group, was almost lost to sight. Two men were shoving him by each hand. Three were pounding him on the back. Langley, a polo mallet in his hand—almost seemed to be supporting his dragging steps with it—was making his way alone towards the club house. Sally Newlands, standing up in the automobile, saw them both.

"Oh, she exclamedi "I can't wait I want to get down."

"Where are you going?"

"Never mind,' she answered, hurried lydescending. She fairly ran forward over the field.

"Mr. Langley—Dick," she called softly.

He, advancing slowly, turned with a start and stared in amazement.

"Oh," she panted, "it was splendid —glorious — I wanted to tell you at once!"

"What?" he demanded.

"What you did. Letting Mr. Blatchford have the ponies— making it possible for him to play—"

"How he did it!" Langley exclaimed with generous enthusiasm.

"Yes, I know," she answered. "But that is not it. It—it's you—"

"I?"

His tone betokened that he stood astounded.

"You are the real victor!" she exclaimed, with breaking voice. "Don't you understand?"

"I—," he said. "I thought you'd never want to see me again after I chose to drop out — after Blatchford did so well. It was the only way for our side to win."

"That is it. What did we say?" she asked, as they suddenly stood still. "To help our side to win. Oh! the sporting spirit isn't playing for the gallery. Generally the bes tof it is what the gallery doesn't see. It's quite as much self forgetfulness and sacrifice and doing everything one honestly can, so that—yes, that is it —so that one's side may win. Didn't we agree that was the test —standing by others?"

"Really!" he half cried in amazement. "Are you satisfied with me? May I—will you—?"

"I said — almost," she answered briskly, "that I'd give my heart and hand, myself, to who did the best, and you are he. Oh, Dick, do you want me?"

"I've thought of nothing else—lived for nothing else—sweetheart."

"Then—then — it's all right," she sobbed.

From Girlhood to Womanhood

THE change may be critical and cause untold suffering in after-life. The modern young woman is often a "bundle of nerves"—"high strung"—fainting spells—emotional—frequently blue and dissatisfied with life. Such girls should be helped over this distressing stage in life—by a woman's tonic and nervine—that has proven successful for over 40 years.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a keen enemy to the physical weaknesses of woman. A medicine prepared by regular graduated physician of unusual experience in treating woman's diseases—carefully adapted to work in harmony with the most delicate feminine constitution.

It is now obtainable in liquid or sugar-coated tablet form at the drug store—or send 50 one-cent stamps for a trial box, to Buffalo.

Every woman may write fully and confidentially to Dr. Pierce and his staff of physicians and Specialists at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and may be sure that her case will receive careful, conscientious, confidential consideration, and that experienced medical advice will be given to her free.

DR. PIERCE'S PLEASANT PELLETS regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar coated, tiny granules easy to take as candy.

Saved Money.

"What are you taking for your cold?"
"Advice."
"Does that help it?"
"No."
"Why do you take it?"
"It doesn't cost anything."

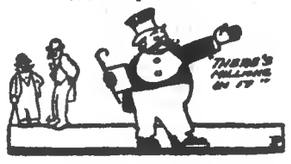
Of Course.

"I like a man with a good head on him."
"So do I, but am particular as to the kind."
"What kind do you prefer?"
"A good head of steam."

Canny.

"Why will you be such a fool?"
"Self protection."
"Would you mind explaining?"
"The Lord looks after fools, you know."

The Merry Promoter.



"How does he make his living?"
"Figuring how other people can make money."
"I don't understand."
"He gets a good rakeoff for convincing them."

Good Idea.

"Why did Jane change her mind?"
"It lacked suitability."
"Suitability?"
"Yes; didn't harmonise with her new suit."

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

The people who talk the most about the dignity of labor are the ones apt to abstain from it with the greatest dignity.

Some people have to worry a great deal because others won't worry at all.

Of course we shouldn't expect the man who runs an advice factory to be a demonstrator of the output.

Don't try to reform other people. They are as apt to be as misfit after you have finished as before you began, and you are then charged with a failure.

The more of your temper you keep the less of it you will have.

SIR THOMAS D. WAR WITH AFRICAN LIONS

Slew Eleven of Them in Two Months —A Night Adventure—A Tribe Whose Men Never Work

Sir Thomas Dewar was a member of a fascinating big game hunting expedition in the heart of British East Africa and slew eleven lions within the compass of two months.

"I think you'll be interested in the Masai tribe on the borders of Victoria Nyanza," he began. "They never work. We call them the East African Dukes or the Idle Rich. They are a tribe that Mr. Lloyd George might well tax. There are forty thousand natives, and they are the brigands of the country. They have robbed the poorer tribes of their property, are many of them individually worth thousands of pounds, possess individually again as many as 4,000 head of cattle and 6,000 head of sheep, and are only taxed three rupees, or about four shillings for every hut.

"The men are absolutely lazy, and even allow their wives to build their homes for them. If a Masai has six wives, as is often the case, the only tax he pays for the privilege is four shillings, though he may have £4,000 in stock value on his farm. I suggest to Mr. Harcourt that instead of taxing a Masai according to his hut, tax him according to the cattle and sheep he owns.

Babies Sold, But Not Oxen

"They never sell you an ox. I wanted one for a bait for the lions, but nothing would induce them to part with one. They sell their babies—particularly infant girls—for cattle, and sometimes, if a native obtains cattle on the prospective chance of more babies, and the babies don't materialize, he has to surrender his cattle."

An adjoining tribe are the Kavirondas. They are stark naked, and are the most moral persons in Africa. The unclothed nigger has no rival in that respect. If a wife is detected in misconduct she is instantly killed amidst the approval of the community.

"I went out to escape civilization for a time," said Sir Thomas. "Civilization in many respects is barbarous. We live in vitiated atmosphere in crowded cities, eat three meals a day, and walk at most a mile, whereas the native out there eats one meal a day, runs fifty miles, breathes God's own sunshine, and drinks water which is often half mud without any harm."

"The lion," said Sir Thomas, "looks much larger than in captivity, thanks to the early morning mirage. Once I saw a large hartebeeste lying on the ground, and the herd stampeding in the distance. Lionesses had sprung upon the animal and twisted its neck as one would do a chicken. My presence had frightened them off before they could begin their feed. I saw a bullock that had been killed in this fashion, and have even seen a lioness pick up an ox which it had worried to death and jump a five feet thorn fence with it in its jaws. The lionesses hunt in the same regular fashion as we do with driven partridges in England."

Stared Out by a Lion

One experience was of a terrifying character.

"I fell sound asleep in our zareba after having kicked back part of the covering to allow as much ventilation as possible. I awoke—I cannot imagine what awakened me—and looked down at my feet. I saw the enormous head of a lion sniffing at my boots. I first imagined it was a nightmare. The lion raised its head and looked me straight in the eyes. His mane stood on end, his ears pricked forward, his mouth was open, and I was conscious of his breathing.

"I was petrified. For what appeared to be hours, but might have been seconds, the lion stared me out; there was something fascinating about it in one way, and it made me lose my nerve, but I was saved by suddenly grasping my rifle. Immediately the animal gave a big whoof and sprang off. I looked out of the opening in front of the zareba and sent him a right and left as he was disappearing, but missed."

The Lion in Statistics

Remarking that the lion is a magnificent mathematical proposition, Sir Thomas declared that if the eleven lions he shot had remained alive today they would have killed by now 100 animals. The eleven killed and the wounded one which got off would in three years have amounted to 250 lions. The balance of the animals they will now be prevented from killing at compound interest will amount in three years to over 4,000 head.

Sir Thomas added: "I was also in the Kikuyu country, of which you have heard so much recently. The fierce competitions amongst the missions in this part of the world has no doubt led each creed to push business rather strenuously, which seems to be the cause of the trouble at the present moment."

The Island of Tea

The choicest tea in the world grows high up on the mountain-sides of Ceylon. The native purity and garden-freshness of this superb Ceylon Tea is preserved by the sealed lead packages used in packing.

"SALADA"

Black, Green or Mixed

SEALED LEAD PACKETS ONLY.

DUKE WHO PAWNED WATCH

There died recently in a turning off Tottenham Court Road, London, a pawnbroker who, had he known it, once had a Royal customer. This was the late Duke of Edinburgh, who, one night, found himself "stranded." His companions were in the same boat, and, since dinner was a positive necessity, His Royal Highness decided that they should all pawn their watches in order to raise the necessary funds.

The pawnbroker, as His Royal Highness was afterwards fond of relating, scrutinized his timepiece very carefully, the obvious value of it rather surprising him. In the end he evidently decided that it might have been come by honestly, and lent a tithe of its value upon it. As a matter of fact it was a present to the late Prince from Queen Victoria.

"Mad For Picture Palaces"

Two nine-year-old boys charged at Kingston-on-Thames with begging were bound over for six months on condition that they do not go to picture palaces during that period. The police court missionary said the boys "were mad for picture palaces, and minded bicycles in the streets to get pence to go to them."

STAGE DOOR PESTS

No Sympathy For a Brazilian From the Magistrate

Mr. Francis, the Westminster magistrate, condemned the stage door nuisance the other day. Jacob Denton, 46, baggage porter and assistant hall keeper at the Victoria Palace, Victoria street, London, was charged with causing injury to Renato Junqueira, a young Brazilian, of independent means, staying at a West End hotel. Junqueira said he was at the stage door of the Victoria Palace at 11.30 one night, waiting for one of the young ladies engaged in the revue, and this Denton told him to clear out and struck him several violent blows on his face.

"I've known him for weeks," said Denton, "and I warned him a number of times to keep away from the stage door and not pester the girls. He is one of those young fellow, who will interfere with the girls—those he does not know. He gets their names from the program and then sends messages pressing his unwelcome attentions."

Mr. Francis: "I have no reason to doubt what the theatre people say, and there must be some protection afforded the young women on the stage. In my opinion the prosecutor has bothered and pestered them and brought this on himself. There may have been some unnecessary violence, but all I shall do is to order prisoner to pay the doctor's fee and to be bound over."

Backache Banished.

Thousands of men and women are suffering from weak, lame and aching backs, and many of them unable to do any work for the pain.

The stitches, twitches and twinges are bad enough and give enough misery, but, back of the backache, and the cause of it all are the disordered kidneys crying out in warning through the back.

Backache is kidney ache, and there's serious trouble ahead for you if you neglect it.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure every form of backache by curing the sick kidneys that cause it.

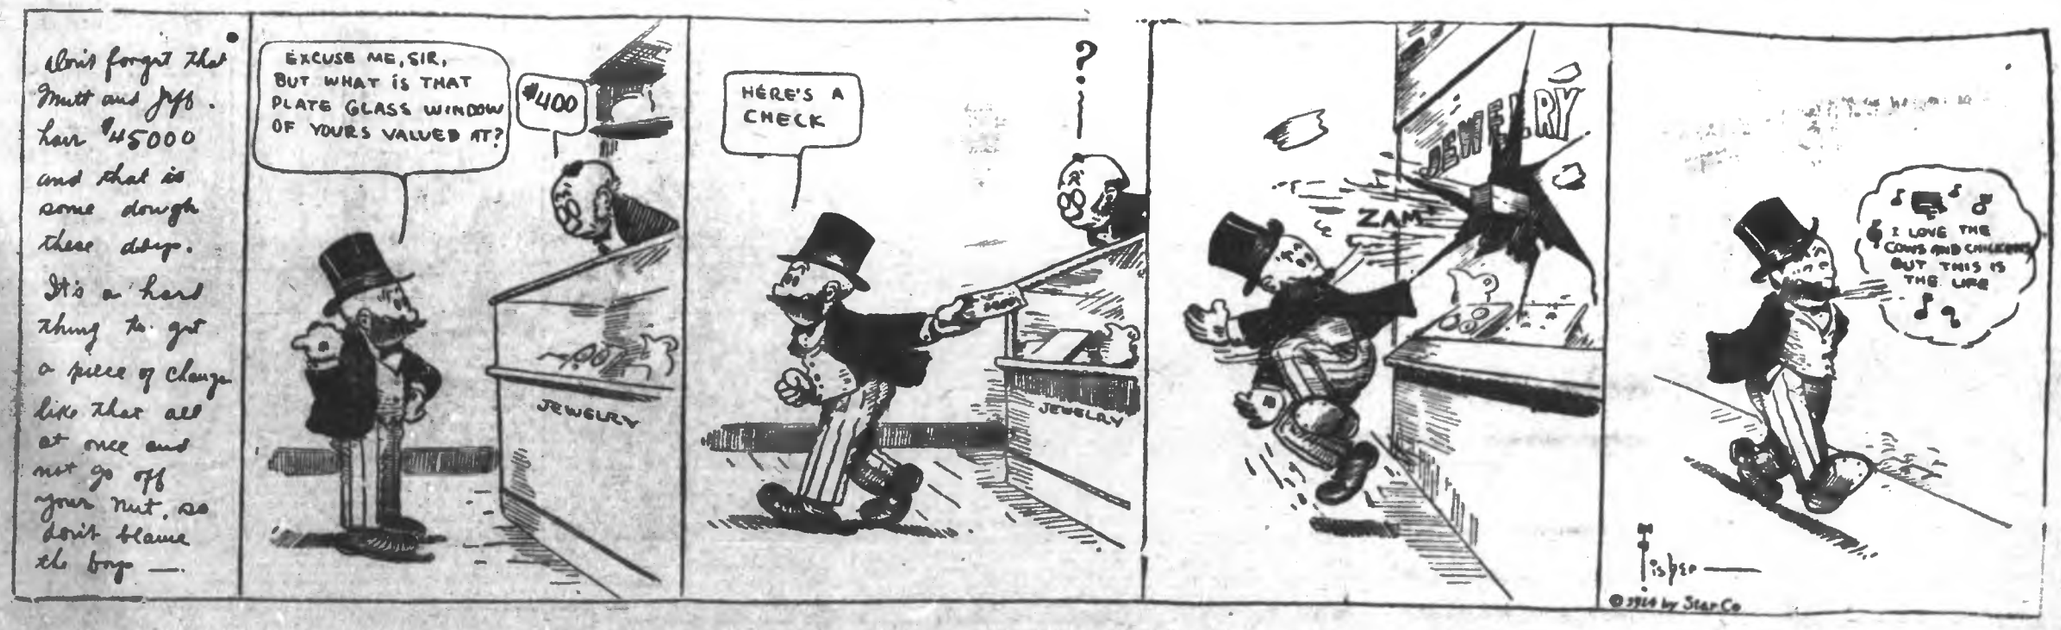
Mrs. Jack Mason, Springhill, N.B., writes:—"I have been suffering from backache for a very long time. I tried everything and did everything, but still I would suffer. One day I was looking over your Almanac, and saw your advertisement for Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got 5 boxes, and I am glad to say that they brought me back to life again, and from now on I will never be without them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

If ordering direct specify "Doan's."

Jeff Is Thoroughly Enjoying This Life, Thank You

By "Bud" Fisher



NO MORE PAIN

"KEPHALDOL CAN NOW BE HAD AT YOUR DRUGGIST'S

Herr Doctor Stohr, the famous Austrian nerve specialist, first used KEPHALDOL prescription in his private practice and hospital work, in Vienna. Other noted physicians and surgeons adopted this formula in treating severe cases of Rheumatism Sciatica and Lumbago, La Grippe, and Colds, Neuralgia and Headaches. The wonderful properties of KEPHALDOL became known in England, where a company was formed to prepare KEPHALDOL TABLETS and supply them to the public at a nominal price.

Canadians, visiting the Old Country, heard of KEPHADOL — tried them—and brought them back to Canada. So great became the demand for KEPHALDOL here, that a Canadian office was established to distribute these tablets on this side of the ocean.

So what one famous physician did in Austria, has resulted in thousands and thousands of sufferers being cured of pain.

KEPHALDOL is absolutely safe, having no ill-effects on the heart or other vital organs.

If your druggist should not have KEPHALDOL, a 50c tube of tablets may be obtained by remitting the price to Kelphaldol Limited, 31 a-tour Street, Montreal.

Conversational Inadvertance.

"Before we were married you told me I was as pretty as a picture."

"And so you were, Henrietta," replied Mr. Meekton. "But they have been getting out a lot of handsome postcards since then."—Washington Star.

Railway Collisions.

It is a curious fact that in railway collisions nearly all the passengers who are asleep escape the bad effect of shaking and concussion. Nature's own anaesthetic preserving them.

Persian Stamps.

The stamps of Persia show the lion and the sun—the lion as a symbol of power and the sun as an emblem of the ancient fire worship of the Persians.

Good Hard Tip.

"Was it a genuine tip Hawson gave you on the stock market?"

"I guess it was; it made me lose my balance."—Boston Transcript.

Do not give way to fretfulness. It takes the fragrance out of life.

EXAMINER PATTERN SERVICE

DAILY FASHION HINT.

Lady's Dressing Gown.

This simple dressing gown has a great deal of style. The front and back are plain and in the full length garment fall in straight lines, but in the short length they may be gathered into a deep hip band. The collar and cuffs are uncommon and are of either heavy lace or embroidery. Silk, crepe, cashmere and certain rich crepons are much used for these garments.

The wrapper pattern, No. 6,535, is cut in sizes 34 to 44 inches bust measure. Medium size requires 4¾ yards of 44 inch material for the long kimono.

This pattern can be obtained by sending 10 cents to the office of this paper.

When ordering remember to give your name and address as well as the number and size of pattern required and age of a child.

Address—The Examiner Pattern Service, The Examiner Peterborough

CHINA PAINTING
Mrs. Langley McCarthy
Teaches Bisco's New and Easy

LUMBER
Builders' Materials of all kinds Shingles, Scantlings, Joist and Bill Stuff, Mouldings, Casings, Base and all kinds of Finish. Boxes and Box Shooks. Stake and Mill Wood.
ALF. McDONALD ESTATE
Point St. Charles Mills

TROOPS MUS T OBEY

Shall Not Become a Political Instrument, Says Asquith

ALLIANCE WITH LABOURITES

LONDON, April 6.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—"The army in this country is not, I pray, to become a political instrument. It has no place and no voice in framing our policy or moulding our laws," said Premier Asquith at Ladybank, opening his bye-election campaign in East Fife on Saturday.

A brilliant spring day and notable scenes of enthusiasm at Ladybank marked the occasion. The meeting took place in the village assembly room, and was opened by the usual formal business, including the adoption of the Prime Minister as the Liberal candidate. Mr. Asquith, Mrs. Asquith and their daughter, were given a rousing welcome.

Sir James Scott, who presided, welcomed the Premier amid cheers, as the greatest Parliamentarian they had known. Mr. Asquith returned thanks for his adoption as the Liberal candidate. He said it was a novel experience, contesting a bye-election, but they lived in strange times, and in no respect were they more strange than in the way in which credulity dogged the heels of invention, and invention strove, and strove in vain to keep pace with credulity.

The true doctrine of army administration, he said, was laid down by the older William Pitt.

The Prime Minister said it was his duty in the post which he had assumed, by searching personal inquiry, and with the co-operation upon which he could count, to see that the army was fit, in ever shifting conditions, for its primary and elementary duty. The army would hear nothing of politics from him, and he expected in return to hear nothing of politics from the army. (Cheers.)

Responsibility for the preservation of domestic peace, continued the Prime Minister, lay with the magistrates and the police. Under normal conditions, the army's aid could not and ought not to be invoked by the civil power. It was only in emergencies which were happily rare, that any such call could be addressed to the army. When such an occasion arose it was the duty of the soldier as it was the duty of the civilian, to comply with the demands of the civil power. But these present Tory doctrines struck at the very root, not only of army discipline, but of democratic government. (Cheers.)

Where did they lead to? They set a precedent which was capable of an infinite number of applications, and was much more dangerous in its consequences than the one which went before it. (Cheers.) If the Government was to recognize the existence of a dispensing and discriminating power they must recognize it not only in the officers, but in the men, and not only in the army but in every body of public servants.

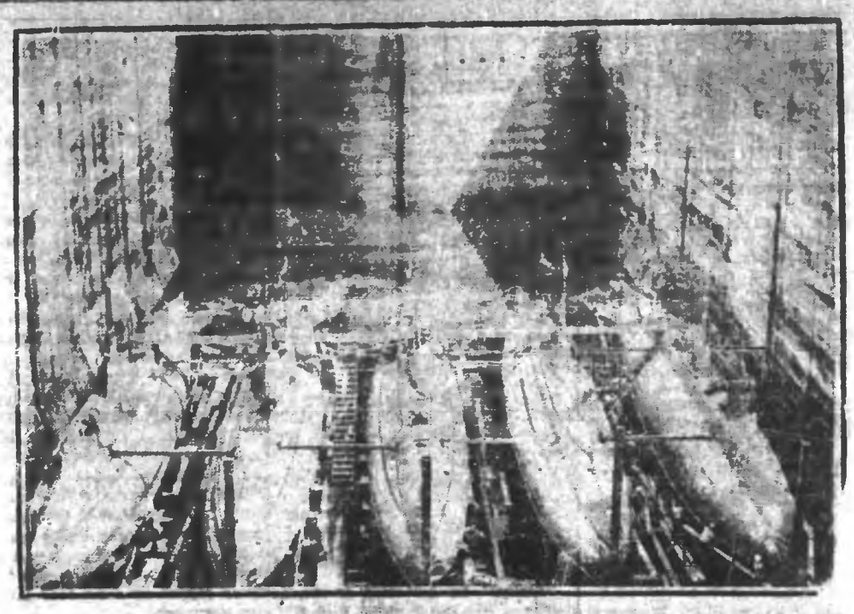
Two years ago in this hall he had described the Tory doctrines as furnishing a complete grammar of anarchy. (Cheers.) He repeated now that these new dogmas, countersigned by the Tory leaders, would be invoked whenever a spirit of lawlessness undertook to block the ordered machinery of self-government. (Cheers.)

"We believe that settlement by consent is in the interests of the country and of both great political parties," continued the Premier, dealing with the Home Rule issue. "Those who believe in Home Rule do not desire to see the new system started under the most unfavorable conditions and amidst the clouds and darkness of civil turmoil. On the other hand, those to whom Home Rule is repugnant cannot face with equanimity the problems which the government of Ireland present if by any misadventure now the hopes and expectations of four-fifths of the Irish people were to be dashed to the ground." (Cheers.)

Mr. Asquith recapitulated his temporary exclusion plan, and while admitting its disadvantages said that it had the great merit, at least, that it got rid of any question of coercion. It gave the populations concerned the immediate arbitrament of the ballot. "I am anxious for peace, and I say this for both sides, it must be peace with honor." (Cheers.)

They must see some process applied, with necessary variations, and applied without delay, to other parts of the United Kingdom, in the conviction that such a reconstruction of constitutional organization would lead to greater efficiency in the conduct of both local and Imperial interests.

There remained one very serious point to be emphasized. If they studied the bye-elections of the last few years, they would find, with perhaps one exception, that every loss of a seat to the Liberals had been due to a split in the forces of progress. Upon the great issue of Home Rule the bye-elections has pronounced with an overwhelming majority in favor of the Government policy. It was indeed a melancholy thing for those whose hearts were bound up in the future prospects of wise democratic legislation to find the democratic army split asunder in the face of the common enemy. It was time that such a state of things came to an end. It would surely be childish if, in the great issues before them, which could only be brought to success by unity and loyal co-operation, they should allow comparatively trivial differences upon issues not vital, to divide a force which united was irresistible. (Cheers.)



Using Panama Cana Lock Chamber as a Drydock for Submarines.—Five of Uncle Sam's submarines which will guard the Pacific entrance to the Canal are resting on the floor of the upper lock chamber of the Gatum Locks. The new use for the upper lock chamber was demonstrated when the 5 submarines were floated in to the chamber, the gates of the locks closed, and then the water let out, resulting in the ships resting on the floor of the chamber, so that workmen can overhaul, repair, and paint the vessels prior to their taking up their duties as guardians of the Pacific approach to the Canal.

SUFFRAGETTES MOBBED.

Rowdies Set Upon Parade of Militants In London.

LONDON, April 6.—Suffragists created a diversion during the Unionist demonstration in Hyde Park Saturday, and as a result "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond and the Misses Rogers and Virtue were arrested.

The women, about 1,000 strong, marched through the London streets to the park, and although the police had not given a permit for the procession, the women forced their way through the crowds gathered at the gates of the park. The women were waving the suffragette colors.

Immediately on their entrance to the park crowds of rowdies charged them, and for nearly an hour a fierce fight was in progress, the police having repeated to interfere to save the women from the mob.

Miss Virtue was on the point of being thrown into the Serpentine when policemen got her out of the hands of her tormentors.

Gets $50,000 Damages.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The largest verdict for personal injuries in the history of the local courts was awarded to Matt Yurkonis, 42 years old, a Lithuanian of Staten Island, who was awarded $50,000 by a jury in the U. S. District Court. Yurkonis sued for $75,000.

The verdict is against the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad, which employed Yurkonis as a laborer in a mine at Scranton, Pa., where he was injured in an explosion. Yurkonis went into the mine with an open lamp to test the gas. When rescued it was found both his eyes had been blown out of their sockets, his limbs dangled insensitive and limp. He will be a cripple for life and blind.

Four Buildings Burned.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 6.—Two fires early yesterday destroyed four business buildings in the heart of this city and a portion of a manufacturing plant in East Birmingham, causing losses estimated at $325,000. The Acme White Lead and Color Works, a paint and glass establishment, a furniture store and two clothing stores were first destroyed, entailing a loss of about $200,000. Later the Stockham Pipe & Fitting Co. plant in East Birmingham was damaged to the extent of $125,000.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

John Weir, aged 14, and Wm. Weir, 46, of Toronto, died of pneumonia within two days of all other.

Mrs. Squirrel, an Indian woman, with her husband and little child walked 96 miles to New Liskeard undergo an operation.

Matthew Wayman, of Toronto, will contest the seat for South Timiskaming in the Provincial Legislature in the interests of the Social-Democratic party.

Sheriff H. Endicott, of Orangeville, has received from an unknown person in Toronto $21, the amount of a debt owing to Endicott Bros., 20 years ago.

Miss Ruth Ward, of Rochester, N.Y., was knocked down and robbed in broad daylight at Niagara Falls, Ont., of her purse, containing nearly $40, by a well-dressed young man.

The Chas. W. Grant Morgan, the largest and longest freight steamer on the great lakes, having a capacity of twenty trains of thirty cars each, was launched at Port Arthur Saturday.

Mrs. Victor Garnish, who was for twenty years a licensed engineer in Minnesota, yesterday applied to take out a license in Regina to run her husband's traction engine, but was refused.

Allan Turner, of the Brockville customs staff, died suddenly in the same chair in which his father passed away suddenly nearly forty years ago and in the same room in which he was born.

Wm. A. G. Hake, of Brighton, Eng., who is the oldest barrister in Great Britain, and the only barrister, it is said, who ever attained such a great age as 103, celebrated his birthday yesterday.

An explosion in St. Martin's Church, Trafalgar Square, London, last night, which did considerable damage to the pews and a stained window in the south aisle, is blamed on suffragettes.

WOMEN GO TO POLLS.

Fair Sex Will Exercise Franchise In Chicago for First Time.

CHICAGO, April 6.—Two hundred thousand women will have their first real say in city affairs to-morrow. With 470,000 men, they will choose 36 candidates. In the list of those who aspire to make municipal laws there are eight women—another Chicago innovation.

The Progressive party presents three women candidates—Miss Marion H. Drake in the first ward, Miss Bernice Napierski in the 12th, and Mrs. Julia Agnew in the 31st. The Socialists have four candidates—Josephine C. Kane, in the 6th, Lydia E. McDermut in the 7th, Gertrude R. Dubois in the 20th, and Maude J. Ball in the 21st. Miss Harriet E. Vittum is running as an Independent in the 17th ward.

Interest in the women candidates centres chiefly on Miss Drake, because she has dared what few men have tried and none successfully—to vanquish Ald. "Bath House John" Coughlin who, with "Hinky Dink" Kenna, has held undisputed sway in the first ward for nearly a quarter of a century.

Prayed For Carsonites.

LONDON, Ont., April 6.—Orangemen to the number of several thousands, from the city and surrounding districts, gathered at St. Matthew's in this city yesterday, in order to hold a special service of prayer for Sir Edward Carson and his anti-home rulers. The meeting was held by Rev. T. B. Clarke and a number of other prominent Orangemen and home rulers, lay and clerical. The affair partook of something of the nature of a spectacle, as the different lodges paraded and marched to the church.

Fire at the Soo.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., April 6.—Shortly after two o'clock yesterday morning fire broke out in the T. T. Barnes drug store and caused the loss of several thousand dollars. The origin of the fire is unknown. The stock of drugs and stationery, which was large, was completely destroyed.

Indeed He Couldn't.

"What can you do?" asked the butcher of the applicant for a job.

"Most anything around a shop."

"Well, I'll start you at $6 a week. Can you dress a chicken?"

"Not on $6 a week."—Kansas City Star.

Thin Blood is Poison To The Nerve Centres

Headaches, Irritability, Sleeplessness, Discouragement Result—Dr. Chase's Nerve Food the Great Restorative

A nervous temperament may be inherited, but nervous troubles only come when the nerve centres fail to derive proper nourishment from the blood.

Under ordinary circumstances the loss caused by wear and tear on the nervous system is restored by the nutrition contained in the blood.

When the blood gets thin and watery the nerves are starved and poisoned, and troubles of a serious nature appear.

Brain fag, headaches, sleeplessness, irritability, low spirits, and discouragement are among the symptoms of a starved nervous system.

There is nothing like Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a means of forming new, rich blood.

Through the blood stream nutrition is carried direct to the nerve centres, and is converted into nervous energy.

Every beat of the heart, every breath of the lungs, and all the functions of digestive and other vital organs are dependent for life and energy on the nervous system.

Consequently the whole system is benefited when health and vigour are restored to the nerve centres.

The nerves of the stomach resume tehir functions and digestion is improved. The appetite sharpens, the liver, kidneys, and bowels gain strength, and the blood derives further nourishment from the food taken into the body.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is reconstructive and upbuilding in its influence, and therefore of lasting benefit. Fifty cents a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Age Bars You From Opportunity

Good Places Go To Young-looking Men

It's up to you to be one.

Grey Hair is the biggest handicap—but it's also the one you can most easily escape.

Hay's Hair Health restores grey hair to its natural colour and vigour. It is not a dye, it is a tonic easy and safe to use, stimulating and nourishing the scalp and hair-roots, imparting new life and vigour and giving that healthy natural look which is so essential to a youthful appearance. It removes dandruff.

Your money will be refunded if fails after a fair trial.

$1.00, 50c., 25c. Get it at your store.

For sale and recommended by the Wairo Drug Co.

Hon. Nelson Monteith Hurt.

ST. MARY'S, April 6.—Hon. Nelson Monteith, ex-Minister of Agriculture, is seriously ill at his home near Stratford, as the result of injuries by being kicked by a steer.

A Vanished Ocean.

In the tertiary period the geographical configuration of the globe was steadily approaching that of the present day. The same holds true for the faunal aspect and the climate was verging on the glacial period. It was at this time the great equatorial ocean "Tethys," existed still, and there is evidence that East India and Africa Australia and Asia, north Europe and North America were united by land connections. In the latter part of the period the ocean "Tethys" gave place to mountainous formations, such as the Alps, Himalayas and Carpathians, through the folding up of the crust of the sea. At the same time there were enormous outpourings of volcanic materials. Snakes and true birds advanced rapidly toward their modern position in this period, which was characterized also by the maximum expansion of mammals taking the place of the great saurians.—New York Sun.

An Old Time Scotch Sunday.

The sixteenth century practice of the elders in Scotland of going the rounds to pick up offenders against Sunday rules survived until the eighteenth century. Mr. Thomson in his "Weavers Craft" gives details of the "bag." "The minister himself would make the rounds to spy with his own eyes the sins of the absentees. Here one man is found romping with his bairns, another detected kissing his wife, two men were found drinking ale, and one was found with his coat off, as if he were going to work, and still another was seen eating an hours dinner. All were pulled up before the session of the kirk and 'repentences' enforced upon each." And now one can understand the wherefore of the drawn blind on the Sabbath which struck James Payn as astonishing in the Edinburgh of the sixties.—London Chronicle.

A Bald Venus.

The ancient Romans at one time knew a Venus the Bald. The goddess was worshiped by that name in a particular temple after the invasion of the Gauls, the reason assigned for this strange fact in antiquity having been that the brave women of Rome cut off their hair to make bowstrings for the city's defence.

It Certainly Was.

"Well," said a farmer to an Irish man who was employed on his farm "I hear that you had a lively little encounter with my bull yesterday. Who came off best?"

"Sure, your honor," said Pat, "it was a toss up."—London Telegraph.

His Only Chance.

Mother (crossly)—Tommy, haven't I told you you must not talk when I am talking? Tommy—But mamma, you won't let me stay up after you go to bed!—London Sketch.

Poetic.

"Who is that maid over there the one counting his fingers?"

"That's Blobbs, the poet. But he isn't counting his fingers. He's counting his feet."—Judge.

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO, April 4.—Bearish influence of the largest harvests and the finest condition of winter crop ever reported at this time of the year, held down today the price of wheat. The market, altho firm at the close, was on the same level as last night, to 1-4c lower. In the other leading staples, there was a net decline all around—corn 1-8 to 3-8c, oats a shade to 1-8c and provisions 5 to 7 1-2c.

TORONTO GRAIN MARKET.

Wheat, fall, bushel	$0 96	to $1 00
Barley, bushel	0 62	0 64
Peas, bushel	0 80	....
Oats, bushel	0 41	....
Rye, bushel	0 65	....
Buckwheat, bushel	0 70	0 71

TORONTO DAIRY MARKET.

Butter, store lots	0 24	0 25
Butter, creamery, lb. rolls	0 31	0 32
Butter, separator, dairy	0 27	0 28
Butter, creamery, solids	0 27	0 28
Eggs, new-laid	0 21	0 22
Cheese, old, lb	0 15	0 15½
Cheese, new, lb	0 14½	0 15
Honey, combs, dozen	2 50	3 00
Honey, extracted, lb	0 00	....

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, April 4.—Close—Cash—Wheat—No. 1 northern, 89¾c; No. 2 do., 88c; No. 3 do., 86¼c; No. 4, 82¾c; No. 5, 80c; No. 6, 75c; feed, 70c; No. 1 rejected seeds, 86¾c; No. 2 do., 84c; No. 1 smutty, 85¾c; No. 2 do., 84c; No. 1 red winter, 89¾c; No. 2 do., 88c; No. 3 do., 86¼c.

Oats—No. 2 C.W., 34¾c; No. 3 C.W., 33¼c; extra No. 1 feed, 34c; No. 1 feed, 33c; No. 2 feed, 32¾c.

Barley—No. 3, 44¼c; No. 4, 42¾c; rejected, 41¾c; feed, 41¼c.

Flax—No. 1 N.W.C., $1.38; No. 2 C.W., $1.35; No. 3 C.W., $1.27.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN MARKET.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 4.—Close—Wheat—May, 91¾c; July, 90¾c; No. 1 hard, 93¾c to 93¾c; No. 1 northern, 89¾c to 91¾c; No. 2 do., 87¾c to 89¼c.

Corn—No. 3 yellow, 63¾c to 63¾c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 36c to 36¼c.

Flour—Unchanged.

DULUTH GRAIN MARKET.

DULUTH, April 4.—Close—Wheat—No. 1 hard, 91¾c; No. 1 northern, 90¾c; No. 2 do., 89¾c; Montana, No. 2 hard, 89¾c; May, 90¼c; July, 91¾c.

CATTLE MARKETS

EAST BUFFALO LIVE STOCK.

EAST BUFFALO, April 4.—Cattle—Receipts, 300; dull; prices unchanged.

Veals—Receipts, 100; active and steady; $6 to $12.

Hogs—Receipts, 3500; active and strong; heavy and mixed, $9.35 to $9.40; yorkers, $9.35 to $9.40; pigs, $9.10 to $9.15; roughs, $8.85 to $8.50; stags, $7 to $7.75; dairies, $9.10 to $9.35.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 3000; active; yearlings, 15c higher; lambs, $6.50 to $8.65; yearlings, $6.50 to $7.90.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, April 4.—Cattle—Receipts, 200; market steady. Beeves, $6.90 to $9.50; Texas steers, $7.20 to $8.20; stockers and feeders, $5.50 to $7.90; cows and heifers, $3.70 to $8.40; calves, $7 to $10.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 9000; market strong; light, $8.75 to $9.55; mixed, $9.65 to $9.95; heavy, $9.65 to $9.90; rough, $9.45 to $9.60; pigs, $7.60 to $8.75; bulk of sales, $9.80 to $9.90.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 500; market steady; native, $5.40 to $7; yearlings, $6.50 to $7.50; lambs, native, $7.35 to $8.20.

The Poetic Tennysons.

No other family has within two generations produced so many poets as the Tennysons. All the laureate's brothers wrote poems, and both his sons published verses in Macmillan's Magazine, though they did so anonymously. "It is a curious fact," wrote Alexander Japp in 1902, "that the Tennyson family, every male member of which wrote verse, and successfully should have so far abstained from publishing openly or publishing at all as if they disliked the idea of coming into competition with the great poet Specimens of the work of Lionel and Hallam Tennyson will be found in Poets and Poetry of the Century and I may add that these pieces were sent to me by the old poet himself in a letter now before me, with such words as most certainly show that he did not share the feeling of Scott thanking God that his sons showed no poetic symptoms."

He Capitulated.

His wife met him at the door. His dinner had been waiting for thirty minutes, but she was smiling sweetly. Her hair was done up in a becoming style, and she looked ten years younger than usual.

She put her arms around his neck drew his head down and kissed him sweetly.

"Give me your hat and coat," she said. "I will hang them away, for I can see that you are tired. Have you had a hard day at the office, dear?"

"Yes," he replied. "I'm all fagged out."

"I'm sorry. But never mind. I feel sure that things will take a turn for the better soon. I've got a surprise for you—the maid has prepared a nice chicken stew, the kind you like so well. Shall I run upstairs and get your slippers?"

"Never mind, little woman," he replied, pushing his hand into his pocket. "how much do you want?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

"TIZ" GLADDENS SORE, TIRED FEET

No pulled-up, burning, tender, sweaty feet—no corns or callouses.

"TIZ" makes sore, burning, tired feet fairly dance with delight. Away go the aches and pains, the corns, callouses, blisters, bunions and chilblains.

"TIZ" draws out the acids and poisons that puff up your feet. No matter how hard you work, how long you dance, how far you walk, or how long you remain on your feet, "TIZ" brings restful foot comfort. "TIZ" is magical, grand, wonderful for tired, aching, swollen, smarting feet. Ah! how comfortable, how happy you feel. Your feet just tingle for joy; shoes never hurt or seem tight.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" now from any druggist or department store. End foot torture forever—wear smaller shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet and happy. Just think! a whole year's foot comfort for only 25 cents.

A Tragedy of Errors.

Scene 1. Early morning in young woman's boudoir. The young woman is inspecting an expensive white suit.

"This suit needs cleaning. I'll just call up the cleaners and have them call for it." Places bundle by the door.

Scene 2. Same morning in relative's room in same house. Relative is inspecting a white and black suit.

"I believe I'll have this suit dyed black." She calls a cleaning establishment operated by a man whose last name is the same as the name of the men who keep the shop where the young woman intends to send her suit.

Scene 3. Wagon stops in front of house and driver rings doorbell.

"Package for ——" he asks, and the maid, seeing the bundle left near the door by the young woman, hands the driver the package. The package goes to the establishment, which has orders to dye a suit black.

Scene 4.—The white suit is dyed and the package is returned.

Scene 5. ——————

—Indianapolis News.

WHEN BLOOD IS POISON

The blood must be filtered, otherwise you are poisoned. If the kidneys fail the liver is overworked, and be comes torpid. By using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you get both these filtering organs working right, and also ensure healthful action of the bowels. For this reason these pills are an ideal family medicine. They cure biliousness, constipation, chronic indigestion and kidney disease.

Roundel.

Without, the winter storms and blows
(Mark thou that comma, printer)—
Within, the summer, warm and cosy;
Without, the winter.

O shades of frozen ears and toes!
I scarcely can begin to Express my hate for wintry snows
Without, the winter.

"Express" did I say? Then it goes.
But, gosh, I can't e'en hint 'er!
I could be happy, goodness knows,
Without the winter!

—New York Tribune.

Trying to Please.

"Climate that suits one person does not suit another, you know," said the New York man.

"I know that," replied the westerner, "but you have so many kinds of weather here in New York."

"Quite true. But just think of the many different kinds of people we've got to please!"—Yonkers Statesman.

The Hired Girl.

She sallies forth on Sunday fine
And tells us she'll be in at nine—
The hired girl
When she returns it's past eleven
Next morn she sleeps till half past seven—
The tired girl.
In fiery tones on washing day
She strikes us for a raise in pay—
The tired girl.
And, knowing well the chores she's shirked,
She looks back sadly where she worked—
The fired girl.

—Puck.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

"Get the habit" and call at
JAY'S STORES
they know how to sell cheap, for cash.
All kinds of Furniture and Stoves in stock also Sewing Machines from $6.00.
Ladies and Gentlemens secondhand clothing. We have a lot of children's new dress es made up for spring. Call and see them
390 Aylmer St. Phone 621

J. J. SHADGETT
High-grade
Sign, Carriage and Motor Car Painter
REPAIRS ATTENDED TO
Phones 443. Residence 1402
Cor. Charlotte & Aylmer

New York Chinese Cafe Co.
230 George St. Phone 269
regular meals served and short order at all hours. Comfortable dining rooms and splendid bill of fare. $4.00 for 21 meals. Tim Yee, Manager

Cash or Credit For Furniture
Store filled with every day requirements for comfortable homes. Davenports, Parlour Tables, Rockers, Dressers, Bedroom Outfits, Rugs, Oilcloths, Baby Carriages, Etc.
EMPIRE FURNITURE CO.
299 George St. Opposite Customs House
Telephone 912.
CASH OR CREDIT

Publication Office & Tool Co., 362 Water
Telephone 130 or 2 Extra Reels.
Printing, Ruling, Binding Done.
Envelopes Manufactured.
Office Phone 371 Residence 1181

The Evening Examiner.

Pages 7-14

PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, APRIL 6, 1914

$15,000 BLAZE DAMAGES KINGSTON HOUSE OF PROVIDENCE THIS MORNING

Heroic Work on Part of Firemen and Sisters of Institution Saved Lives of Fifty People.

PATIENTS CARRIED OUT

Special Wire to The Examiner:

KINGSTON, Ont., April 6.—A fire which broke out at 5:40 this morning did damage estimated about $15,000 to the House of Providence. Heroic work on the part of the firemen and Sisters of the institution saved the lives of fifty people who were sleeping at the time. The fire reached the infirmary, where some had not been out of bed in twenty years. These inmates had to be carried out through windows and down the stairways by the Sisters and firemen. The fire started from a furnace pipe.

GENERAL FLORA DRUMMOND CAUSED SCENE IN COURT

Special Cable to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., April 6.—Owing to the intense feeling aroused against the suffragettes by the attempt to wreck the historic St. Martins-in-the-Filds Church by a bomb last night, Mrs. General Drummond was brought to Marlborough Police Court for a trial to-day under a strong guard, in a private automobile.

Arriving there, however, it was found impossible to go on with the case as the defendant shouting at the top of her voice harangued the court, until kicking and screaming her limbs were roped together and she was carried struggling from the court, by four stalwart policemen. Several other women pleaded guilty to rioting and were fined heavily.

ANOTHER CITY LANDMARK GOES

Absorbed by the Peterborough Creamery Development

One of the oldest landmarks of the City is being demolished to-day to pay the toll to the ever increasing growth of our local industries. The brick cottage on Aylmer Street, south of the Peterobrough Creamery is to be replaced by a suitable brick addition to form a new wing to the butter, milk, cream and ice cream products of the creamery, which has been demanding more room. Mr. Blackwell is the architect and Mr. Jones the contractor, for the new building, which will be rushed under Mr. G. A. Gillespie's guiding hand.

LEAVES FOR NORTH BAY

Mr. Claude Bartlett Transferred by the Bank of Ottawa

Mr. Claude Bartlett left this morning for North Bay, where he has been transferred by the Bank of Ottawa. He has been connected with the local branch here for some time. He will be greatly missed in many circles in Peterborough, having played Rugby with the Peterborough team and basketball with the Peterborough Athletic Club and other teams. He is a promising wrestler, a good gymnast and a clever musician.

Prompt Settlement Appreciated

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Permit me through your columns to state that I wish to draw the attention of the public at large to the prompt and satisfactory settlement I received at the hands of Davis-Thompson Co., Limited, for the loss by fire of my house, and Mr. W. H. Hill for the loss by fire of my furniture.

WM. GILGOUR,
Water Street north.

Peterborough, April 4, 1914.

Found Dead At His Home

Special Wire to The Examiner:

CAVANVILLE, April 6.—Mr. George Sisson of this village, was found dead in bed at his home on Saturday morning. Heart failure was the cause of death. Deceased was the father of the late Dolly Sisson, who was one of the victims of the Turnbull disaster. He has resided in this district for the greater part of his life, with the exception of a few years, during which he resided in Peterborough. Since returning to Cavanville, the late Mr. Sisson has faithfully and consistently performed the duties of sexton of St. John's Anglican Church. He was widely known and highly respected.

Deceased is survived by a wife, two daughters and four sons, namely, Jessie and Ewell at home, Glen and Hanlon of Peterborough, and Fred and Alex. of Montreal. The funeral took place this afternoon to St. John's Cemetery.

REV. A. LOGAN GEGGIE TO-NIGHT

St. Andrew's Church Collection for Home Missions is asked for.

CITY SOLICITOR E. H. D. HALL WILL RESIGN

Owing to Appointment of Member of Firm as Judge He Will Have to Step Out of the Position

WHO WILL SUCCEED HIM?

City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall has announced his intention of resigning his position in the service of the City. He gives as the reason for his action the fact that Mr. L. M. Hayes, of the firm of Hall, Hayes and Hall, has been appointed senior judge in Wellington County, and that henceforth the pressure of the firm's business will not permit him to devote the time necessary to safeguard the interests of the City as City Solicitor.

Mr E. H. D. Hall has held the position which he now intends relinquishing, for the past twelve years, and during that time the successive councils have had much reason to be grateful for his sane decisions in cases that affected the welfare and revenue of the City. Since his appointment to the office, on January 16th, 1912, Mr. Hall has contributed many by-laws to the archives of the City, and formulated many suggested changes to the Ontario Statutes, in all of which he has very carefully arranged that the City's interests should be secured.

As Mr. Hall's resignation has not been officially tendered as yet, there are, of course, no applicants announced for the position. Three names are mentioned, those of E. A. Peck, M.P.P.; S. T. Medd, and Ald. G. N. Gordon.

Mr. Hall is anxious to be relieved of his duties at once, and it is his hope that nothing will occur that will result in a delay in freeing him from the responsibilities of the City Solicitorship.

NEW PREMISES ARE COMMODIOUS

Handsome New Quarters of Lane and Kane at 186 Hunter Street

Messrs. Lane and Kane, undertakers, and furniture dealers, are now settled in their new premises, 186 Hunter Street. Their present quarters are extremely attractive and commodious, the work of the decorators making a transformation that must be seen to be realised. The walls have been beautifully papered and by the removal of a partition, the show room has been greatly enlarged, making it a spacious apartment for the display of furniture. In this connection it might be mentioned that the additional floor space has made it possible for this firm to carry a larger and more varied stock than in the former store. All the latest and newest ideas in furniture are here shown, and can be seen to the best advantage in the new warerooms.

In the undertaking department accommodation has been made for a morgue. The very best service in undertaking is assured the public and the firm may be reached at any time during the day and night.

EXPLOSION ON WARSHIP

Special Wire to The Examiner:

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., April 6.—A mysterious explosion on board H. M.S. Alwyn early to-day fatally injured three firemen and slightly injured a number of others. Although a hole was blown through the side of the vessel, she was kept afloat until the docks were reached. In many quarters foul play was suspected. Churchill has ordered a thorough investigation.

SERGT. ADAMS OF LOCAL POLICE PASSES AWAY

One of the Best Known Citizens of Peterborough Dies After a Lingering Illness

SERVED MANY YEARS

A very large number of the citizens of Peterborough will learn with deep regret of the death of a very highly respected resident of this city in the person of Mr. Robert H. Adams, sergeant of the local police force. After a lingering and painful illness the late Sergeant Adams passed away yesterday evening at 6 o'clock.

Deceased was born in Ireland and came to Peterborough 40 years ago. For thirty-two years he served faithfully on the local police force, and his unfaltering loyalty to duty, as well as other admirable characteristics, won for him many friends. He was 68 years of age and a faithful member of St. Andrew's Church.

He is survived by his sorrowing wife, two brothers and two sisters.

The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, 306 Stewart street, to the Little Lake cemetery. Kindly omit flowers.

The Examiner Newsboy's Competition Ends Sat., April Eighteenth

The Prizes Amounting to $30.00 in Cash Will be Paid the Newsboys According to the Number of New Customers They Have Added to Their Own Lists.

The boys who received prizes this week in The Examiner Newsboys' Competition, is given below. Only two weeks left for the boys to add to their list of customers and secure a money prize, the first of which is $75.00, the second $30.00, and the third $15.00. Twenty-seven prizes will be given, and twenty-seven boys will get prizes.

First—Heal.
Second—Anderson.
Third—Schwertz.
Fourth—Murray.

CHARIOT RACE COST $8.75

The large crowd which always gathers outside the Police Court, or as they were termed by a local lawyer, "Chief Thompson's friends," were greatly disappointed this morning when the doors were not opened to them. The reason was that only two drunks were docketed, and these were dealt with by Magistrate Lumble in the squad room.

Allan Ferran, who appeared in court a few days ago, found his way back again. He pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk and was assessed $2.

A sequel to the chariot race which took place on Water Street, on Saturday last, was aired before the Police Magistrate, when Leonard Riel was charged with being drunk in charge of a horse and rig, not being able to drive the same to the public safety. He pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and $3.75 costs.

BIRTHS.

ROSS—On Thursday, April 2, 1914, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ross, 675 George Street, a son.

ALFRED NOYES, the English poet, who is now touring Canada. Many people think he should have been appointed poet-laureate in place of Bridges.

Chief Ten Eyck of the Hamilton Fire Brigade will be appointed Chief Fire Marshal for Ontario by the Government. This is the first time that this position has been filled in the history of the Province.

PALM SUNDAY

On Palm Sunday each year, the minds of millions of Christians the world over are occupied with thoughts of this significant occasion. On the eastern spur of the Mount of Olives lays the little town of Bethany, a few miles away from Jerusalem. On the memorable morning of His entrance into the city, Jesus secured near Bethany, which was His home, the ass upon which He made His memorable journey to Jerusalem. The occasion was the Feast of the Passover, and pilgrims from Peres, Galilee and Eastern Judea, the localities in which His ministry had been performed, accompanied Him upon the journey. Slowly the procession came around the southern end of the Mount of Olives, with the gorge of the Hendron to the south, until the wonderful City of Jerusalem burst into view. Then, descending into the valley, Jesus entered the city through this gate, in the midst of a cheering multitude of people, who waved their palm branches before Him. Just as the sun was setting behind the hills, He found His way to the temple. He sought not a waiting throne, but a quiet place for worship. Then, in the hush of the evening, He quietly returned to His humble home in Bethany. The gate, as we see it to-day, is entirely sealed. Many hundred years after Christ had passed through it, the city fell into the hands of the Turks, and it was their belief and fear that our Lord Jesus was about to return and re-enter the city through this gate. It was not their will that He do this, and they believed that by sealing it up in this manner, His coming would be prevented. And so it remained to this day—the Sealed Golden Gate—the most remarkable and interesting biblical landmark in the world.

CONCILIATION SUGGESTED

Nationalist Leader Says They Will Not Tolerate the Exclusion of Ulster

VOTE TO-NIGHT

Special Cable to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., April 6.—The final hours of the debate on the second reading of the Home Rule bill this evening in the Commons were marked by further suggestions of conciliation and prospects of settlement by consent. It is expected the vote will be reached before midnight. The speech of John Redmond, leader of the Nationalists, was unexpectedly conciliatory. "There is no length to which the Nationalists will not go to remove the prejudices of Ulster," he declared. However, while expressing sympathy for the Federal scheme of government suggested by Sir Edward Grey, Redmond said the Nationalists would not tolerate the permanent exclusion of Ulster from the Irish parliament.

John Redmond—Leader of the Nationalists in the British House of Commons, who says that no compromise in the way of Federalism would be satisfactory to the Nationalists.

BUDGET SPEECH THIS AFTERNOON

Hon. W. L. White Will Make Annual Financial Address in the House To-Day

FREE WHEAT OUT

Special Wire to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, Ont., April 6.—Shortly after three o'clock this morning Hon. W. L. White, Minister of Finance, will deliver his annual budget speech in which he will outline the Canadian conditions, the record of past and proposed expenditures, the national debt of the Dominion, revenue and surplus and changes decided upon, if any, in the existing customs tariff. It is believed that White will make some reference to the obligations which the government will have to incur this session in connection with the C. N. R. and G. T. P. While some members express hope that the budget will contain the announcement of a decrease in the duties on agricultural implements, there are many who predict that under present conditions of falling revenues and heavy obligations, the tariff will be left alone for this session. It is understood that free wheat proposals have been abandoned, and there are a few who, this morning, expect that they will figure in the budget.

At noon it was announced that A. K. McLean, the chief Opposition financial critic, will not speak to-day on the budget. At the conclusion of Hon. W. L. White's speech, McLean will move the adjournment of the debate, and the House will proceed with other business. McLean will speak on Tuesday afternoon, closing with an amendment calling for free wheat and free agricultural implements.

NEW PREMISES ON GEORGE ST.

Opened by Mr. Edgar Burnham—A Growing Enterprise

Mr. Edgar Burnham has transferred the agency of the Montreal Biscuit Company from 464 Weller Street to 186 George Street. The latter premises will provide adequate accommodation for the ever increasing trade of the company, which has as its sole representative for this district Mr. Burnham, Associated with him is Mr. F. W. Burnham, a brother. It is sufficient to say that the Burnham brothers have had the benefit of several years' experience in the wholesale and retail business, in consequence of which they are in a position to dispense quality plus service.

The new premises are situated directly opposite the C.P.R. station on George Street. They have been remodelled and are adaptable in every particular. Two carloads of stock have already been received from the Montreal Biscuit Company, in addition to which a full line of paper, twine and sundries will be kept in stock.

THREE OF THE OLD POLICE GUARD HAVE GONE TO REST

Former Constable Joseph Stewart Tells of the Twenty Years During Which He Was the Fourth Member of the Staff.

GOOD NEWS FOR SOME WORKMEN

A strong indication that business and mercantile conditions are improving, as expected with the coming of spring, is the information learned by the Examiner to-day that one of the departments of the Canadian General Electric Company which was practically shut down, is to resume work.

The department referred to has been running continuously since the works started here, until last fall, and it has been practically closed since that time.

BANK CLEARING HOUSE WILL BE OPENED HERE

Room Secured in Bank of Montreal Chambers—Some of the Workings of a Clearing House

TO APPOINT OFFICERS

Arrangements have been made for the establishment of a clearing house in Peterorough for the convenience of the local banks. The necessary permission has been obtained from the Bankers' Association and a room has been engaged in the Bank of Montreal building. It was even rumoured today that officers had been appointed, with Mr. Peter Campbell, manager of the Bank of Toronto, as president, but to the Examiner Mr. Campbell stated that there was absolutely no truth in the report. The appointment of officers remains to be made, the positions being president, vice-president and secretary.

The word clearing house practically explains itself. Under the present methods, two juniors from each bank are sent out every morning with the cheques and bills on other banks receives returned to the particular banks, and thus a form of clearing is carried on in a manner involving more or less delay. It is certainly not conducive to despatching this portion of the day's business with adequate celerity. With a clearing house in operation, each bank will send its parcels to this depot every morning at a particular hour and the business of exchange will be carried on with greater facility and with assurance of its being completed at a comparatively early hour. One banker stated that under the existing method a bank is not sure when it will be cleared for the day.

Another advantage of the house is found in the recording of the total amount of business transacted in the City through the agency of the banks. This is giving Peterborough a decided financial flavour. There are not many clearing houses in the Province. Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford and a few other larger centres boasting of them.

The preliminary details have been practically completed. The management and operation of the clearing house is in the hands of the local bank representatives, who arrange for the incidental expenses. It is understood that the next step locally is the appointment of officers, after which the house should soon be opened.

The banks represented in Peterborough at the present time are: the Bank of Montreal, Bank of Toronto, Commerce, Dominion, Ottawa, Royal, Nova Scotia and Union. The opening of a clearing house is another evidence of the growth of Peterborough, and the progressiveness of the local managers. The institution may not mean a great deal to the average citizen, but it should be of great assistance to the interwork of the banks.

---

harry were appointed. Then came the death of the Chief, and now I'm the only one of the four left.'

A City Force Now.

The Peterborough police force is now composed of comparatively young men. Detective Newhall has seen the longest service in the City, and Detective Meagher comes next. Under Chief Thompson it has grown, as the City has grown, to possess many of the qualities of a City squad. The older citizens recall the rushes the old force used to have with the tramps about this time of the year and on through the summer. But the City does not stop to remember the old incidents.

WHEN DUTIES WERE PLENTY

Do you remember the old big four of the police force? Chief Rossel, Robt. Adams, Chas. McGinty and Jos. Stewart. For twenty years they constituted Peterborough's police force; they saw strenuous times, and they gained the esteem and the respect of the entire citizenship. The first three have crossed the bar with the great majority. The surviving member, Mr. Stewart, pursues the duties of License Inspector, and should survive his former associates by many years.

Robt. Adams was appointed to the police force on August 7, 1888, by the Council of which H. H. Smith was Mayor. On the same evening Richard Pidgeon was added to the force, the vacancy which they were chosen to fill being caused by the death of P. C. John McGee.

Constable Was Drowned.

Some of the older residents may remember P. C. McGee. He lived on George Street, in the house next to the grocery store between Rink and Perry Streets.

In the summer of 1888 he and his wife and one of her lady friends paddled across the lake to the garden party at J. J. Lundy's. On their return the canoe, in the dark, ran into a boom or pier, was overturned and all three were thrown into the water. McGee managed to save the women by helping them to a pier, but he sank after his exertions.

A Small Force.

Up to that time the police force was composed of Chief George Johnston and P. C. McGee. These were the days before the control of the police passed from the Council, and at the meeting on August 7, 1888, Pidgeon and Adams were selected as successors to the valiant McGee. The first recorded arrest by P. C. Adams was on August 9, when he landed one Robert Burns, drunk and disorderly, who cashed in for the City's benefit.

Several Changes.

Events moved rather rapidly during the next few years. Chief Johnston passed away, and his successor, Chief Cooper was not an entire success. He was relieved of his duties and for a year P. C. Adams was acting Chief. Then came the occasion when it devolved upon the Council to appoint another Chief. P. C. Adams made application, but the position went to the late Chief, George I. Rossel. At the same meeting Mr. Jos. Stewart was named as a successor to P. C. Pidgeon, who moved across the border, and then commenced the regime of the Big Four.

Mr. Stewart Reminiscent.

"I think Chief Rossel and I were appointed in the spring of 1888," said Mr. Stewart in his office this morning. "Mr. Adam Hall was Mayor. There was the Chief and Charley and Bob and myself. We were together eighteen or nineteen years, I'm not sur which, but you might as well say that we served the city for twenty years. I don't want to say anything regarding myself, but the citizens of Peterorough do not know what they owe to the three men who have gone before me. I was taken on at $450 a year and had to buy my uniforms. So was P. C. Adams take on at the same salary. When I left the force I was receiving $700 a year. So you see the police were not paid a fortune in those days, and for that sum we policed the City, enforced the sanitary by-law, the cow and dog by-laws, and in fact all the by-laws on the City books.

They Were Busy Days.

The sanitary inspections meant a great deal of work. There was only one sewer on George Street, from above Hunter, to Ring, and all those back yards had to be inspected. That meant that the Chief himself was on duty in the day time, McGinty went on at night and was, of course sleeping in the day time, and Bob and I had the sanitary work. We began in May, and it took all summer before we got through. We went over the City twice and summoned those who did not comply with our first instructions.

The Best of Feeling.

I say we worked together about twenty years, and we never had the least trouble. I remember two little tiffs that arose, but they quickly blew over. I can speak only in the highest terms of the three men who have gone before me. I know they always had the interests of the City at heart. The hours were often extended, and the work was quite strenuous and hard. Chief Rossel was for a long time as much of a constable as any of us. He was one of the kindest men I ever worked with. The citizens will say whether we did our duty or not, although few of them know the ins and outs of the work. Eight years ago this June I resigned and Newhall and Mc

Evening Examiner

'Phones: Editorial 139, Business Office 139. Private Branch Exchange to all Departments.

The Paid Circulation of The Daily Examiner is Over

4700 COPIES DAILY

SWORN TO AND GUARANTEED

The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited; Office, 360 George Street.

The Weekly Examiner, published Thursday morning.

The subscription price of The Daily Examiner is $4.00 per annum; that of The Weekly, $1.00.

Special U. S. Representative: W. H. Stockwell, 429 People's Gas Building, Chicago, Ill.

Advertising rates on application.

Hon. J. H. STRATTON, President.

E. H. CLOVER, Managing Director.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

MONDAY, APRIL 6, 1914

CLEARING HOUSE FOR PETERBOROUGH.

Another evidence is being added to the constantly recurrent indications of the healthy and steady growth and progress of Peterborough. It is stated that, as detailed in another column, a bank clearings house is to be established in the City. Without detailing what this means in the technical financial sense, it is a matter of congratulation, less for the financial conveniences involved than for the evidence it affords of our growing commercial and financial importance; for the new place of importance it gives Peterborough among the cities of the Dominion. In a banking sense Peterborough will be put upon the map, and in financial circles her development will be gauged, her name appearing in the regular statement of bank clearings, with those cities like Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa, Halifax, etc. The establishment of a clearing house will be an epoch, a point from which to mark the developmental stage of a greater Peterborough.

EXAMINATIONS.

The examination evil seems to be omnipresent. It is coming into discredit as a test for scholarship in educational matters. There is a tendency to eliminate examinations as a test for admission to high schools and collegiate institutes. As a test of scholarship and possession of knowledge, examinations ar defective when the questions submitted are more of a puzzle than a test. At their best, examination questions do not cover a ten-thousandth part of the range and details of knowledge demanded as a qualifying condition. But as usually compiled, these questions become simply a farce. Parliament—both Liberals and Conservatives—has declared war on "high-browed theorists" who set the complicated, academic, impractical and "catch" questions which have turned the civil service examinations into a standing joke at the Capital. The manner of questions prescribed tend to deter practical men, with practical knowledge of the duties required, from applying for examinations. So that the best are not secured and the interests of the civil service suffer.. The matter is considered of such importance at Ottawa that samples of the freak examinations are to be submitted to Parliament to permit of specific dealing with the examination evil as it affects candidates for admission to the civil service. There is enough misplaced confidence in electing members of parliament on the strength of a party label, with no assurance that they possess the slightest qualifications for law making, without employing defective means of recruiting the civil service. If we are to have examinations as a test of knowledge or fitness, the questions propounded as tests must be such as will serve the purpose, and not an expression of the fad or mental twist of some erratic and pedantic examiner.

THE CITY BEAUTIFUL.

With the thermometer indicating between fifteen and twenty degrees of frost on Palm Sunday, the outlook for crocuses and snow drops on Easter and for Easter bonnets and other feminine finery of summer calibre, is not promising. But all things, even spring, come to those who wait. And there are compensations. We have had a long and severe winter; but its material evidences have disappeared in the best manner. Winter has justified itself in the manner of its departure. The snow has gone away beautifully, gradually and without floods; and has left no undesirable traces of its severity except the bulk and longitude of our coal bills, which are in an active compilation on April 6th as they were on January 6th.

This winter has dealt kindly with our lawns, which are generally free from the gray, frost-burnt spots that nearly every spring discloses, and our short summers scarcely restore. Nearly everything in nature, lawns, trees and shrubs, and our new pavement, have come through the winter unscathed, and the vernal beauty of the city promises well. We are encouraged to put forth new efforts to renew the beauty of the outer places of the city, our gardens, lawns and boulevards.

We have conquered in the fight against nature, and now the fight begins against the ravages of man. The citizen who has a lawn on a corner, unfenced—a small city park—has before him the dread of the dogs and the human vandals that make it a "short cut," tramping the life out of the grass and making zig-zag cow paths through the beautiful sward. The same dread assails the owner of a fine boulevard which is not intended to be, but is made, a foot path; and the money he has spent, the care he has bestowed in making his boulevard an extension of the beauty of his lawn are wasted.

These things should not be; if we are to have the city beautiful, we must have a good deal of moral regeneration. The city council at one time passed a by-law to make trespass upon boulevards an offence punishable by a fine, the same as trespass upon private property. But like hundreds of other by-laws and laws, it was honoured more in the breach than the observance. By-laws won't protect the rights of a private citizen or the interests of the public in beautiful streets. Like real reform in anything, reform must begin with the individual. If our schools and our churches fail to popularize the possession and practice of the moral sense, that implements the divine spirit of loving one's neighbours as oneself, it is time that their influence and that of other agencies should be brought into more practical operation. It is not enough, nor the best thing, to bring about popular observance of the minor matters of the law. The scribes and pharisees were unctuous sticklers for observing the outward manifestations of religion; but they were flayed to the bone for neglecting the weightier matters of the law. It is not enough to have people go to church on Sundays and show a fair outside, while the real spirit of religion, real morality as implied in our duty to our neighbour, is neglected. It is not enough to teach children and train the future citizen intellectually, with too little or no regard for ethical culture. We need not have dogmatic religious teaching in our schools; that would provoke controversy, but we could teach morals—the God-like spirit of the golden rule, believed in, if not practiced by everybody.

Our citizens spend time, money and taste in beautifying their premises and surroundings and the foot of the vandal tramps them out of existence, so to speak, in an hour. These vandals are made in our schools and not chasened in our churches. If we paid more attention in our schools towards training children in the better refinement of character — regard for the rights of others and subordination of selfish indulgence, that outrages these rights, we should add a quality to our citizenship, that would result in unspeakably improving the beauty of our city, add a nameless charm to life and intensify the joy of living in Peterborough.

A STATUTORY LESSON.

The Brantford verdict of $1,500 damages to Gladys Meredith is a salutary and necessary rebuke to and corrective of police outrages. The lady was seized and subjected to a physical medical examination on the chance of connecting her with a crime. Such terrorism and aggression preceded police corruption across the line. We should emphatically stop the initial stage here.—The Globe.

MALICIOUS ATTACK ON DR. M'QUEEN.

The member for North Wellington in the Legislative Assembly has drawn upon himself the fire of the Ministerial majority in the Legislative Assembly by his fearless attitude on the temperance question, and for that reason the decree has gone forth that it is absolutely necessary, at whatever sacrifice of self-respect on the part of his opponents, he must be crushed by calumny. They know it is useless to try another weapon.

A motion by Dr. M'Queen for papers regarding the enfocement of the license law at Kenora aroused the ire of the member for the district of the same name, and in an effort to get even with the member for Wentworth Mr. Machin produced certain orders for alcoholic liquors issued six years ago by Dr. M'Queen in the course of his ordinary medical practice. One of these was for whiskey to be administered, with the sanction of the man's own spiritual adviser, as a preventive for delirium tremens; another was for malt liquor to be used for an indefinite time, the order for the quantity authorized at one time being issued to obviate the necessity of the patient travelling many miles repeatedly to get it in small quantities.

It is perfectly clear that these technical violations of the letter of the license law were not for the purpose of injuring those for whom the liquors were ordered. No one who knows Dr. McQueen would for a moment suspect him of any wrong doing in the matter; even the members of the Opposition would acquit him of any sinister motive in what he did. It is matter for regret, then, that they should have deliberately planned to secure these documents and produce them in Parliament.

The intention was, of course, to destroy the political usefulness of the member for North Wentworth; the effect wil lbe to intensify the belief that the Conservatives in the Legislature and the representatives of the liquor traffic in this Province are in close working alliance. Nothing but this can explain how the original orders for liquor came to be in the possession of Mr. Machin, ready for use whenever a favourable opportunity to use them should arrive. —Globe.

SCHOOL REPORTS

Following is the report of S.S. No. 1, Douro, for March:

Class IV.—May Guerin, Annie Cavanagh, Jno. Lonergan, Mamie Cavanagh, Vincent Sullivan, Marie Devlin, Jno. Whibbs, Jos. Sheehan, Chas. Whibbs.

Class III.—Oswald O'Toole, Jno. O'Toole, Mary Kerr, Irene Guerin, Ada Lonergan, Mary T. Cavanagh, Josie Cavanagh, Jno. Kerr, Rosy Tucker, Jno. Collins, Leo. Sullivan absent for one examination.

Class II.—Katie Cavanagh, Mary Killeen, Maurice Meade. Alice Devlin absent for one examination.

Sr. I.—Gladys Tucker, Ray Killeen.

Jr. I.—Anna Collins, Jno. Meade, Jas. Devlin.

Sr. Pr.—Geraldine Cavanagh, Lena O'Toole, Kathleen Sullivan, Gussie Whibbs.

Inter. Pr.—Michael Meade, Willie Devlin, Stanley Killeen.

Jr. Pr.—Maggie O'Toole, Jos. Lonergan.

Those who attended every day—Mamie Cavanagh, Jno. Lonergan, May Guerin, Annie Cavanagh, Jno. Collins, Ada Lonergan, Irene Guerin, Jno. O'Toole, Rosy Tucker, Anna Collins, Lena O'Toole, Geraldine Cavanagh, Jos. Lonergan, Maggie O'Toole.

A. HOLLAND, Tacher.

Following is the report for S.S. No. 4, South Monaghan for month of March, by percentage:

V. Class—Violet Buckham 87, Gladstone Finnie 84.

Sr. IV.—Mary Whittington 84, Vincent Whittington 76, Roy Whittington 63, Annie Nicholson 59.

Jr. IV.—Marjorie Emberson 68, Marie Powers 67, Charlie Smyth 63, Eva Nurse 60, Kathleen Byers 55.

Sr. III.—Marian Emberson 76, Ethel Whittington 74.

Jr. III.—Geraldine Powers 90, Pearl Finnie 82, Jimmy Wood 81, Helen Wh on 79, Milly Nurse 79, Mary Wc Verna Byers 70.

Ir. Class—Edmena Wedlock 78, Thomas Hammond 70, Charlie Ingram, Luella Pue absent.

I. Class—Harold Thorne, Cliffard Emberson, Wilbert Wright.

Primer—Mary Wood, Willie Collins, Joe Powers, Greta Byers.

Perfect Aatendance—Mary Whittington, Helen Whittington.

Number on the roll 30.

Average attendance, 23.

G. E. MARSHALL, Teacher.

BOARD WANTED

WANTED—BOARD AND ROOM FOR 2 OR 4 men. Central. With English people. Apply Box 4717, Examiner Office. 1d-81-4717

AGENTS WANTED

AGENTS, MAKE BIG MONEY HANDLING our fast selling goods. Exceptional opportunity. Write to-day. Troy Contracting Company, Cosgrave Building, Toronto, Ont. 28d-56-4298

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE. WE have specialty selling at sight to automobile owners. Big profits. Investigate immediately. Clyde Specialty Co., 62 River St., Verdun, Que.

AGENTS WANTED—WE HAVE AN UNusual premium proposition; every person will be interested. No outlay necessary. Apply R. C. I. Co., Ltd., 228 Albert St., Ottawa, Ont. dtf-131-2810

SITUATION WANTED

YOUNG MAN SEEKS POSITION AS general clerk in grocery or dry goods store, 3 years' experience, good references. Apply 528 Weller St. 3d-79-4695

HELP WANTED—Female

WANTED — MACHINE OPERATORS — 1 whitewear and aprons. Apply Gemmell & Co., 212 Charlotte St. 3d-80-4707

WANTED—SALESLADY. Apply Zacks Bros., 422 George Street. 3d-81-4730

GOOD GIRL WANTED TO ASSIST IN Small Family. Apply 96 Douro. 3d-81-4729

LADIES' WANTED TO WORK SPARE time at home. Box 44, Niagara Falls, Ontario. 6d-81-4722

WANTED—LADIES TO DO PLAIN AND light sewing at home; whole or spare time; good pay; work sent any distance; charges paid; send stamp for full particulars. National Manufacturing Company, Montreal 12d-80-e-12w-4-3576

HELP WANTED—MALE

WANTED — SINGLE MAN FOR 7 OR 8 months on farm. Good salary for good man. Apply 166 Brock. 3d-80-4714

WANTED — YOUNG MAN, ABOUT 16 years, to learn telegraphy. Can start as messenger and draw salary while learning. Apply G. N. W. Telegraph Office. 3d-80-4713

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN, BRAKEmen, wages about $100 experience unnecessary. Send age, postage. Railway, care Examiner. 28d-78-4679

WANTED

WANTED—SEWING BY THE DAY AT your home. Apply Mrs. Hall, 148 Antrim Street. 3d-81-4736

WANTED—WORK BY THE DAY BY young woman. Apply 498 Cambridge Street. 3d-80-4709

WANTED — WORK BY THE DAY BY young woman. Apply Box 4687, Examiner Office. 3d-79-4687

WANTED—UNFURNISHED FOR APRIL 28, 4 Rooms—a bathroom that would do—for light housekeeping. Box 4682, Examiner. 3d-80-4715

"CHEER UP"

THE BEST IS YET TO COME!

If you save your money and BUY A LOT.

The best investment on EARTH in Earth itself.

Lots from $100 to $3000. Cash or Easy Terms by

T. Walker AND Co.

377 Park St. 'Phone 1002

The Original Lot Specialist

TO RENT

TO RENT — GOOD ROOM AND BOARD with private family. Apply Examiner Office.

2 ROOMS AND USE OF KITCHEN FOR light housekeeping. House modern. Apply Examiner Office. 3d-80-4708

FOR RENT—STORE AND DWELLING-House combined. Good business position. For particulars apply to No. 559 Water Street, City. dtf-76-4653

TO LET—A GOOD, WELL FURNISHED, steam heated Front Room for two gentlemen. Apply 64 Hunter Street. 28d-62

TO RENT—STORE, NO. 173½ SIMCOE ST. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-111-3289

TO RENT—GROCERY STORE, WITH large cellar. Yard and stable. Good location. Apply to "Owners," 143 Antrim Street, City. dtf-59

TO RENT—ROOMS ON HUNTER STREET, between George and Aylmer, suitable for two dwellings. Apply 437 George. dtf-39

TO RENT — ONE STORE IN GRAND Opera House Block. Steam heating. Immediate possession. Apply J. J. Turner & Sons. dtf-52-3060

TO RENT—FURNISHED ROOMS, ALL conveniences. Apply 514 Water St. 6d-78-4682

FOR SALE

PEDIGREED JAPANESE SPANIEL (Bitch) for sale. Enquire at 190 Stewart Street. 3d-80-4705

FOR SALE—HOUSE, NO. 270 KING ST. All modern improvements. Hot water heating. 50 feet frontage. Apply to 269 Stewart Street. 28d-77-4675

FOR SALE—15 LOTS, WORTH $176 EACH, for $2,250, near De Laval Factory. Also buy or sell or exchange City or farm property. See John Bell, 451 Water St. 'Phone 1281.

LOTS SINGLY OR EN BLOC, FOR SALE near new factories, school and street car J. S. Bell, 451 Water Street, Tel. 1281 28d-69-4w-13-4560

FOR SALE—3 HORSES, 1 PERCHERON Mare and Foal, 8 years of age; one Grey Horse, weight 1350; One Grey Colt, coming 3 years of age. Apply J. H. Leahy, Lot 11, 6 con., Douro. 1d-81-3w-15-4727

FOR SALE OR TO RENT ON EASY terms—One New Brick House on McGill Street. Small payment down. Will rent same at $10.00 per month. Handy to factories. Apply to A. H. Stratton and Co., over Medill's Drug Store. tf-m w f-63-4446

FOR SALE — ONE GOOD HOUSE, NEW, just completed, with every modern convenience. Six rooms and bathroom. Convenient to all factories. Situated on corner of Wolf and Bethune Streets. Act quick and come down and give your offer on easy terms. Best buying in the City, as it must be sold. Apply to 208 Charlotte Street. dtf-35

LOST

LOST—BLACK SABLE RUFF. BELOW Little Lake Cemetery. Please leave at Examiner Office. 1d-81-4721

LOST—POCKET BOOK AT G. T. R. STATION. Reward at Examiner Office. 3d-80-4701

LOST — $25.00 ENCLOSED IN NOVA Scotia Savings Deposit Book. Liberal reward on delivery to Examiner Office. 3d-80-4712

LOST—SMALL BLACK PURSE, FRIDAY, March 27th, containing sum of money. Please leave at Examiner Office. Reward. 3d-79-4698

LOST—ON THURSDAY, A CAMEO RING with Diana head and eight pearls, between Dr. Buchanan's and Corner George and Charlotte Streets. Reward at Examiner Office. 3d-79-4691

LOST—A GOLD LOCKET AND CHAIN on Sunday. Finder leave at Examiner Office. 3d-81-4725

FOUND

FOUND—BREAST COLLAR AND TRACES. Apply Examiner Office. 3d-79-4690

FOUND — A STERLING SILVER CUFF Link. Apply at Examiner Office. 3d-79-4689

WANTED

Salesmen, Married Couples, Domestic Servants, Farm Help.

Call and we will assist you in getting a position.

DOMINION EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

'PHONE 1314 174½ CHARLOTTE

BRICK HOUSE FOR SALE

All Modern Conveniences

MARGARET AVE.

APPLY TO—

ELLIOT'S

392 George St.

REAL ESTATE AND BUSINESS CARDS

NOTICE

J. R. DOCHERTY IS PREPARED TO undertake Painting and Repairing Church Steeples. Painting of Water Tanks, Smoke Stacks and Houses a specialty. 'Phone 1695, or 830 Water St. 28d-69-4551

PAINTING AND PAPER-HANGING AND Graining—I am prepared to do all kinds of painting and paper-hanging in a satisfactory manner and at reasonable prices. W. Kellar, 199 James Street. 'Phone 1413. 28d-54-4513

PATENTS

HERBERT J. S. DENNISON, REGISTERed Attorney, 18 King Street West, Toronto. Patents, Trade Marks, Designs, Copyrights, protected everywhere. Eighteen years' experience. Write for booklet. dtf-94

GEORGE H. BOWEN

B. A. Sc., Registered Patent Attorney Mechanical and Electrical Engineer. Machines designed and patented. Trade-marks registered.

34 Victoria St. Toronto

TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS & DESIGNS

PATENTS

STANLEY LIGHTFOOT

PATENT SOLICITOR AND ATTORNEY

LUMSDEN BLDG. (OPP. POST OFFICE) TORONTO.

MAIN 7770. AD. 3775.

REAL SNAPS!

Double Dwelling on Wolfe St., will yield over 12½ per cent. on investment.

2 Lots on McGill Street, in good location.

Lot on Romaine Street, can be bought at a Bargain.

Market Garden to Rent and one for Sale.

New Modern Dwelling on George St. For Sale at a price below valuation.

R. J. KIDD

Agent for Fire, Life and Plate Glass Insurance British, Canadian and American Companies

'Phone 672 374 Water St.

A GOOD BUY

Modern brick house on Fredrick Ave., mantel and fireplace, front and back stairs, pantry, four bedrooms, bath, closets and cloak room, hot water in basement for laundry, cement floor outside entrance, also barn room for horse, buggy car. $3350.00. Apply to

MIGHT & TAYLOR

376 Water Street 10d-78

$1875 TAKES THIS

NEW TWO AND A HALF STOREY RED BRICK HOUSE, 7 rooms, light and water, 2 verandahs, and sleeping porch, cement floor in cellar, and cement walks, good location. This house would be a good buy at $2200. For terms apply to W. J. Koster, 599 Gilmour Street.

SIX BARGAINS READ THESE

Stewart St. Brick house. All conveniences. Attic floored. Price.....$2250

Simcoe St. Good house and lot, 4 bedrooms. Price.....$1850

Wolfe St. New house 3 bedrooms. Price.....$1250

George St. Good house, 6 bedrooms. Price.....$1500

Bonaccord St. Brick house, good cellar, water and light. Price....$1650

5 Acres of ground and building. Close to the City. Price.....$800

ASK

C. J. Carroll & Co

THEY KNOW

372 WATER STREET

Phone 822 Open Evenings

"WE SELL THE EARTH"

AUTO LIVERY

AUTO LIVERY — AUTOMOBILES TO Rent. Good autos, equipped with electric lights and shock absorbers. Careful chauffeurs. C. R. Banks. 'Phones 562 and 1021.

BOARDING HOUSES

MONTREAL HOUSE — TEMPERANCE House; Boarding House, Lunch Room, and Soft Drinks. Reasonable board by the week. 208 Aylmer St., 206 King St. James Head, Proprietor.

GUN REPAIRING

GUN REPAIRING—GUNS OF ALL MAKES repaired promptly. C. R. Banks, 234 George Street. 28d-69-3458

HOTELS

AMERICAN HOTEL — A HOME AWAY from home; good accommodation; centrally located. American plan. Chas. Long, Mgr. 189 Hunter St. 'Phone 484.

JUNK AND COAL

COAL. COAL. COAL.

COAL IS ONE OF THE BIGGEST ITEMS of expenditure in your home, and we believe you are interested in this explanation, comparison and POSITIVE PROOF OF WHY CONNELL ANTHRACITE COAL IS THE BEST TO BUY. PRESENT PRICE—$7.50 PER TON. Our prices are the lowest. We aim to give our patrons Coal at a Fair Price at all times. Rush your orders and we will promptly deliver. LOW A CO. Office and Yards, 285 Bethune St. Tel. Bell 697.

MUSIC

PETERBOROUGH CONSERVATORY OF Music—Rupert Glidden, Musical Director, 10th Year. A staff of 20 Resident and Visiting Teachers. Subjects taught: Piano, Vocal, Violin and other Stringed Instruments, Wind Instruments, Musical Theory, Social and Fancy Dancing. Corner of Hunter and Rubidge Streets. 'Phone 388.

MILLINERY

PETERBOROUGH MILLINERY PARlours — All latest styles in Millinery. Call and see our stock. Mrs. W. B. Armstrong, 435 George St. Old T.A.S. Rooms.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

THE RICHMOND STUDIO, 147 HUNTER Street, Corner George and Hunter Sts., is the place to go for Good Photographs. We specialize in Photographic Enlargements. See our new Flexible Mountings. Quality High—Prices Low. E. Farthing, Proprietor.

HAIR STORE

MRS. BYRNE'S HAIR STORE — ALL kinds hair goods, pads, shampooing and dressing. 424 George Street.

PIANOS AND MUSIC

W. L. TAYLOR — DEALER IN HIGHGrade Pianos and Real Estate. 289 Water Street. 'Phone 1469.

REAL ESTATE

A FIRST-CLASS COTTAGE, LARGE CORner lot, 75 x 136 ft. All in good repair. South End. Price, $2,250; terms easy. A number of Homes, below $2,000, will sell at terms of $200 down; balance on monthly payments from $20 to $25. Now is the time to get a home of your own on monthly payments. Apply J. A. Gibbs, 174½, Charlotte Street.

SOCIETIES

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY FOR CARE of Neglected and Ill-Treated Children. Incorporated by Act of Legislature. Information required. Informant's Name kept Strictly Private. Children for adoption. Geo. Cochrane, Agent and Assistant Secretary.

SHOE REPAIRING

W. A. GREENSLADE, ELECTRICAL SHOE Repairing Shop. You do not pay any more by having your boots neatly repaired and finished equal to new by our up-to-date machines. Come in and see how it is done. Oak leather used on all sewn work. Shoes put on, ground and conserved. Corner Charlotte and Aylmer.

SKATING RINK

BLOCK STREET ROLLER RINK OPEN for the Season. See our advertisements in other part of the paper, giving particulars of skating programme.

STOVES AND RANGES

WE SELL ON YOUR OWN TERMS — Weekly or monthly payments. New Empress Steel Range, Kitchen Cabinets, Chemical Closets, Sewing Machines, Standard Oak Heaters. One second-hand Singer Sewing Machine, drop head, at $15. Also a number of second-hand Stoves at a bargain. Call and see us. Open nights, Monday and Friday. Accepted. The National Manufacturing Co., 334 Water Street. Geo. E. Raven, Manager.

STEAM LAUNDRIES

THE PETERBOROUGH LAUNDRY — ALL work laundered with the greatest care; W. P. Hetherington, Prop. 179 Charlotte Street. 'Phone 66.

FANNING'S STEAM LAUNDRY — ALL work laundered with the greatest care; no tearing or damaging the goods. 285 George Street. Both 'Phones 355.

TYPEWRITERS

PETERBOROUGH TYPEWRITER CO. — Typewriter and office supplies of every description. Typewriter repairs. 'Phone 685.

196 ft. 4 in. By 114 feet

The above is the size of ground and on it stands one beautiful modern house complete with hardwood floors, mantels, furnace, stone foundation, also one house in good repair but not modern, lane at rear.

There are a number of apple trees on lot and the same bear on an average 20 barrels per year harvest apples and winter apples. The 5 lots and 2 houses on a fine corner east front in a City like Peterboro' will be sold at $7100.00. Who will have this? Act quickly.

H. J. McCANNAN,

Real Estate and Building Contractor

Office 324 George St., C. B. Banks' Store Entrance. 'Phone 749.

Open Evenings—Call—Information Cheerfully Given.

SPEND YOUR MONEY FOR THE GOODS AS ADVERTISED IN THE EXAMINER

PETERBORO REAL ESTATE

Modern Houses
Building Lots
Business
Opportunities

Western Realty Investments

Crown Building 118 Hunter St. Telephone 684

VACANT LOTS

Gladstone Ave. South Side
2 lots 30 x 150 each....$7 per ft.
2 lots 30 x 150 each....$8 per ft.

Cameron St. North Side
1 lot 30 x 180 to 12 ft lane..$100
7 lots 30 x 180 " " each $175
8 lots 30 x 180 " " each $150
6 lots 30 x 180 " " each $160
4 lots 30 x 180 " " each $160
1 lot 50 x 185 " " $285

Monaghan Road, East Side
3 lots 30x90 to 10 ft. lane ea. $150

Park St., West Side
3 lots 28, 27, 27 x 90..each $100

George St. West Side, N. Lake
1 lot 40x100, price on application
Cor. lot 50x74 " "

Gladstone Ave., South Side
4 lots, 30 x 150 ..... each $300
4 lots, 30 x 150 ..... each $360

House and lot, 158 Lake St..$1600

REAL ESTATE GENERAL AGENTS — INSURANCE COMMISSION BROKERS — Crown Agencies

181 Charlotte St.
116 Hunter St.
Night 'Phone 1462. Day 'Phone 116

Blewett's List

Three Lots, with sewer, water and street car in rear of them, each lot 40x100 feet, one corner.

One of the best Lots on Ellen Ave. Cheap for quick sale.

75 feet on Charlotte Street West $10 per foot.

Lots on Alberta Ave., $6 per foot.

Murrow and Alberta Ave. Lots, new extension, $7 to $10 per foot.

Good Lot on Homewood Ave., 46 ft. frontage, faces South, at less than property alongside is selling for.

Apply to C. BLEWETT
173 Charlotte Street
over Peel and Carnage Co. 'Phone 1271

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

Never Out of Style

The Gentleman's Chesterfield Overcoat

Worn by the conservative well dressed man the world over.

Most stylish clothes and colorings for this Season's wearing—Greys very much in evidence.

Made in the characteristic Fashion-Craft way, they look the part, and retain the look.

Prices $18 to $35.

A special Silk Lined Grey Cheviot at $30 is deservedly popular. 914

"Fashion-Craft"

A. M. Laidlaw, 140 Hunter St.

THE REAL ESTATE DEBATE

Another Letter From W. C. Austin on the Subject of Land Speculation

To the Editor, The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In my letter of last week I stated that I was willing to lay down the pen if Mr. Ellis was. However, it seems Mr. Ellis does not want to stop unless he has both the first and last letter. I did not ask Mr. Ellis to enter a debate with me and he can have no unfair advantage. I had reason to expect from Mr. Ellis' references to an "enlightened Christian Conscience"—that an ordinary illustration which I gave him last week would not be misquoted and misrepresented this week, and yet here is exactly what occurred. I had said that a company with which I was connected bought 12,800 acres of land at $7.00 and sold it to the L.L. Co. of St. Paul, at $11.00—who in turn sold it to Iowa and Wisconsin farmers who had just sold out their high priced lands in the United States and were delighted to get this land at $13.00 to $17.00 per acre. I did not intimate that I made one dollar on the deal—yet this is Mr. Ellis' twisted version of it:

"Mr. Austin got $50,000" profit. This, of course, was quite untrue—no foundation for it at all in fact—and further down, "Mr. Austin cornered" in three years what a working man saving $400 per year would take 125 years to save. Why does Mr. Ellis say this? Just to inflame some poor working man and stir up ill feeling—and then Mr. Ellis further comments that when the profit goes to an individual—that it is legalized theft. There was nothing said in any way to warrant the conclusion Mr. Ellis drew, and his statements are simply such as one would expect from a man who had a very bad case.

Mr. Ellis figures as follows—12,800 acres at an advance of $4.00 in three years—equals $51,200—and he says to take off $1,200 for taxes and incidentals. This is particularly rich—and every man who has ever handled any blocks of western property will enjoy the fun — where Mr. Ellis supposes you can carry 12,800 acres for three years and pay the taxes and commission out of $1,200. If anything were needed to show clearly that Mr. Ellis knows absolutely nothing of western taxes—or commission or conditions, this supplies it all. To a man that knows anything of western land sales, Mr. Ellis' last letter was equal in humour to some of the best pages from Mark Twain's "Innocents Abroad."

Mr. Ellis comes next to deal with the American farmers who came in and bought the land from the L.L. Co.—let us see how he distorts things—he says—"these settlers will have to toil and sweat for five years to pay off speculators' profits." How silly a man can show himself is shown by the fact that these poor toiling, sweating settlers paid us in the first fourteen months $49,783 on account, and within two years had paid $77,000 on account, and you can not purchase an acre of that land from them to-day under $35.00 per acre. You are throwing away, Mr. Ellis, barrels of sympathy that are simply "wasted on the desert air." These men got exeellent value for their money—and have paid out in full. You, Mr. Ellis, may and probably do know a lot about cows—and hogs—and sheep and farming—but your knowledge of western land conditions—well to say the least—it would be a joke—only you take yourself so seriously—and yet one can not help—some smiles. If there is any one thing that as Canadian people we should be proud of, it is that the settlement laws of our Northwestern Provinces—are so fair and just, and our Dominion Government has done so much and so well—for the homesteader that over 400,000 new people came into these provinces last year, the bulk of these were homesteaders, and if there ever was a poor man's country—where the poor settler has the chance of his life it is in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

I asked a homesteader in 1907 — a mon from Missouri—a German—how he was getting on—and how he was being used? "Last winter," said he "when we were nearly all snowed in, the Mounted Police came through here—went to every shack to find out whether we had food and wood, and they brought flour 46 miles from Battleford for us and the Government ordered them to furnish us our seed grain in the spring." "This," he said, "is the best government I ever lived under." Not one, but many told me of such things, and yet Mr. Ellis only sees something to grumble at—something to knock. Says the homesteader is badly used—and that the real estate man who buys some Railway Grant Land—is thereby forcing poor homesteaders way out on the borders of civilization. In fact I think all of the evils that ever existed in society have by Mr. Ellis been laid at the door of speculation. He forgets that accusation is not proof.

We have been accused of causing the slums in cities—this is a mere accusation by Mr. Ellis—no proof, whatever is offered. Dr. T. Albert Moore, head of the Temperance and Moral Reform Department of the Methodist Church, who has been for many years making a special study of slum conditions, says that drink and crime, and idleness are the principal factors in the make-up of slums and slum conditions. He probably knows as much about this—and perhaps more, than Mr. Ellis does — that was his view as expressed here recently. Mr. Ellis says that we who make profit on real estate in this way—are extortioners, unjust, immoral—reminds me of two men that went up into the Temple to Publican—and the Pharisee stood and Publican—and the Pharisee stod and prayed thus—"God I thank that I am not as other men are—extortioners, unjust, adulterers—or even as this Publican. I fast twice in the week, etc." We see how great minds thus run along the same channels, the ancient and modern Pharisee use nearly the same phraseology. Mr. Ellis argues further that this "single tax" should come into more general use—that if a half loaf is good—a whole loaf is better—and says there are 117 single taxers in the British House of Commons. There are a great many people who allow and believe that in so far as the single tax tends to lower the tax rate on improvements—to that extent it is good. It does not follow that because a little of a certain thing is useful and a large number of people believe that a little of this remedy is useful—that therefore this thing used in larger quantities would be either desirable or useful. For example I could get you the names of perhaps 100,000 men who would advocate the use of strychnine—in one-thirtieth to one sixtieth grain tablets—taken as a remedy for the heart. In these doses it is excellent—and yet if one grain and a half or two grains are taken the heart stops forever. In the same way as mentioned above single tax is useful in very small homeopathic doses—in reducing the tax on improvements—but when you take on the free trade in labour and manufactures, when you open the doors of this country to the cheap labour of China and Japan—you give this country a dose just as fatal to its prosperity as the two grains of strychnine would be to the individual.

Canada has always been a white man's country and—please God—it always shall be. We do not want the hordes of Sikhs—nor Japs—nor Chinese to pour into this country and get control, for that would spell ruin to our white working men, and ruin to our industries. If you doubt my word, ask any man from British Columbia or California—how they who live on the coast look on these things. Yet when the Nationala Conference of the Single Tax Lague was held at Cooper Union, New York, in 1890, and Mr. Henry George was chairman, the fourth plank of their platform, was to be free trade, throughout the world in labour and manufactures, same as existed between the different states of the Union. No person was or is hampered in going from one state of the Union to the other.

China has four hundred million of people, labour is six to ten cents per day. An old college friend of mine has lived there for twenty years. He says China is fast waking to her possibilities as a manufacturing nation—and when she does so—other nations will sit up and take notice. There are men here in Peterborough, who are constantly trying to agitate and influence the mind of the average man—to make him belive that he is ill-used, that the government is against him—that the government is legalizing theft. Mr. Ellis speaks frequently of "legalized theft"—apparently thinking that he is judge—and that he knows more than the law-makers, who made our laws—and that what he calls theft—is theft—no matter what anybody else may think. And that making a little money on a real estate transaction is worse than making it gambling in cards. I cannot better close this, my last letter for the time being at least; than by quoting an article from Leslie's Weekly, entitled—"Who?"

Who?

Who built our mills? Who built our railroads? Who redeemed the desert? Who uncovered the hidden richness of our mines and our fields? Who dignified American labour and made it the best paid in the world?

The thrifty man with his savings built the factory. The capitalist with the courage of his convictions and willing to take the risk built the railroad. The farmer, following the immigrant trail, braving the dangers of the desert and turning the waters of the snowy mountain into irrigation ditches, supplanted the sage brush with fields of w wing corn and snowy cotton. Then came the demagogue.

The demagogue has been a trouble maker for all time and everywhere. Bcause of his mischievous interference between the people of the North and South, on a social question that should have been settled by thoughtful men in a reasonable way, he plunged this country into a terrible civil w r.

The mischievous demagogue has put this Nation on the brink of a financial panic more than once by advocating the issue of fiat money under the crazy notion that all the Government needed was plenty of printing presses to turn out greenbacks by the ream for everyone to carry away enough to enrich himself. The demagogue forgot that money must have behind it credit, collateral and security and that it is not the business of the Government to give away cash, and impoverish itself and pauperize its people.

The demagogue is always willing to try new experiments at the people's expense. With a silver tongue and a brazen voice, he coddles and cajoles the crowd until he has a following sufficiently strong to lift him into public office. Then his power for mischief is greatly increased.

It is true that the people, after a time, realize the hypocrisy of the demagogue and drive him out of power. A bad dollar bill will not always pass scrutiny. Some day the counterfeit will be discovered and that will be the end of it. But when one bad bill is destroyed another takes its place. So when the people are rid of one demagogue another appears to staddle them with new theories, new promises and new schemes of popular salvation.

But for the staying power of a few tried and trusted statesmen, the demagogues long since would have plunged this country into anarchy and revolution. They did it in France. They have done it in other lands. History tells its dreadful story. They are trying it again here, and sober-minded man and women may as well face the fact squarely.

But remember that a demagogue never filled a pay envelope—and never will!

Thanking you Mr. Editor, for your consideration in giving space for this discussion.

Respectfully yours,
W. C. AUSTIN.

Easter Cards and Post Cards are on display in great assortment at TREBLECOCK BROS. 417 George St.

MURDERED BY BOY

Vancouver Woman is Killed by Youthful Chinese Servant

RACE FEELING IS AROUSED

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 6.—The shocking murder of Mrs. Charles Millard, the young wife of the chief ticket agent of the C.P.R. at the terminal depot in this city, has stirred the city profoundly. Aside from the question of the crime itself, the fact that she was killed by her Chinese servant, who for five years had lived in the Millard house, has brought the whole burning Oriental question to the fore here. Saturday night the police took special precautions to prevent the slightest chance of a riot in Chinatown, and the night passed quietly enough there. Uptown, however, when a slightly inebriated citizen began to attack every Oriental he met he soon drew a crowd. The police took no chances, but whisked him off in the patrol.

Scores of Chinese servants have been dismissed from residences, especially in the west end and Shaughnessy Heights. Downtown restaurants and hotels are being warned personally by customers and by personal messages that they must get rid of their Chinese or lose business.

The coroner's jury Saturday night brought in a verdict of murder at the conclusion of a three-hours' enquiry over the pitiful little pile of whitened bones that are all that remain of Mrs. Millard. Mrs. Barnard, a neighbor of the Millards, said that on Wednesday afternoon she smelled burning flesh and remarked at the column of black smoke coming from the Millard's chimney. It was during that afternoon that the unfortunate woman's body was cremated by the 17-year-old Chinese boy, and when her husband arrived at 11 o'clock in the evening of that day all the visible evidences of the crime had been wiped out.

Jack Kong, the Chinese boy, in his confession in writing, given to the police on Saturday, says that on Wednesday morning his mistress complained to him that the porridge was burned and ordered him to prepare another dish. He refused to obey and she told him she would have to cut his ear off to make him be good. In a flash the lad says he swung a chair over his head and knocked her apparently dead. Then he got the family carving knife, he say, and cut off the legs and arms and fed them into the furnace. He then dragged the body downstairs and he used there a cleaver to assist the carving knife in the dissecting. He attempted to clean up the stains, both up and down the stairs, but a close examination since made by the police showed many small specks of blood still about.

He took off Mrs. Millard's rings and watch, and these, together with some other trinkets, he had stolen a fortnight ago, were found Saturday afternoon hidden in a corner of the basement.

When Mr. Millard came in late from Victoria, he thought the house looked slightly upset, but he accepted the Chinese boy's explanation that Mrs. Millard had gone out to spend the day with one of her four sisters, who live in different suburbs. That night the Chinese boy crept downstairs and carried into the corner of the attic Mrs. Millard's hat and street clothing and veil, which she would have used had she gone out, and which would have excited her husband's suspicion had he seen them in the house. Next morning the boy refused to go to school, because he had washed his trousers the day before, and they were not dry, for he had gotten them covered with blood while carrying out the murder.

Somewhat dissatisfied by the lad's conduct, but suspecting nothing serious, Millard went down to his office, and from there began to telephone his sisters-in-law, attempting to locate his wife. When he failed to find her, he returned to his home and found the Chinese boy still cleaning up. The lad had a big fire in the furnace, and was much agitated at Millard's unexpected appearance. Thoroughly aroused by this time, Millard telephoned to the police.

When the fire finally died down the Chinese boy, in his confession, said he took out the skull and all the bones. He did not get them all, however, and it was this fact that gave the police their first definite clue. A couple of handfuls of whitened bones still remained in the furnace. The skull and large leg bones, the Chinese boy had stuffed into the flue below the drawing-room grate.

The Chinese boy is a rather pleasing-looking little fellow, who was getting along rapidly at the Lord Roberts School. Saturday on his way to attend the inquest he whistled a popular tune. He made his confession to Mr. Millard in the presence of the police.

A REPLY TO CHIEF CHILTON'S STATEMENT

Balfour-Chilton Controversy is Still in Progress

The following letter in reply to a statement by Chief Chilton was addressed to the "Warder," and appeared in Saturday's issue of that paper:

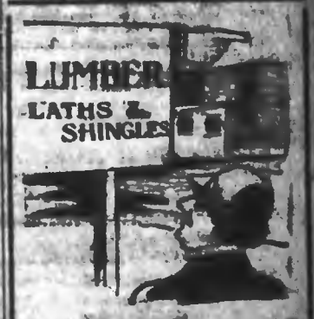
Sir,—Will you kindly give me space in your issue of to-day's Daily Warder to contradict the statement made by Chief Chilton in yesterday's issue.

I do not wish to prolong this controversy, but when statements are made with such reckless regard for the truth and reflecting upon me, I believe it to be my duty to put myself right in the eyes of the public.

There may be a good deal of truth in his statement when he says if Constable Foster had not told me about the affair I would not have known about the robberies or suspicious characters or anything else concerning the matter until my return home again to Lindsay. I say there may be some truth in this statement, but concerning my knowledge, I knew about the robberies for an hour before I left Lindsay, and talked it over with several citizens, whose names I can furnish if required. If I had not had this knowledge before starting, then he is right in his statement that I would not have known anything about it until I arrived home in Lindsay, for the reason that no word was sent out to the outside world about it, and in order to get the information you would have to come to Lindsay and mingle with and engage in conversation with the people on Kent street.

I wish to say, further, that I have no ill feeling toward Chief Chilton. I have been in Lindsay two and a half years; he is one of the first men I became acquainted with after coming here. In our associations we have met frequently, and we never had a cross or sharp word until now, and if he had accepted my criticism in the spirit in which it was given, then he would have been benefitted at least to the extent of knowing that the citizens are looking to him as the prime factor in guarding the property and interests, and endeavour as best we know how to measure up to their expectation. Yours, etc.,

GEO. A. BALFOUR.



4-ft. SLABS FOR SALE

Cut from Pine, Basswood, Oak, Chestnut, Maple and Elm logs. $3.00 per cord delivered.

Peterboro' Planing Mill Co.
157-167 Dublin St. 'Phone 66

Ladies' Tailored Suits, Coats and Skirts . .
FOR EASTER & EARLY SPRING

We Guarantee our Goods and Union, and perfect fitting garments assured, as we have none but expert Tailors to do the work.

Prices are very reasonable and can satisfy the most particular.

Toronto Ladies' Tailoring Co.
CORNER GEORGE AND BROCK STREETS

NEW BABIES & NEW BABY CARRIAGES

WE HAVE THE

CARRIAGES

The "HEYWOOD" 1914 Styles Now on Display

Will be easy choosing a suitable coach for the NEW BABY from the various styles shown and the strength and durability of the "HEYWOOD" make is well known.

We have real Slumber Carriages, Pullman Sleepers, Sulkies and Folding Carts.

COME AND SEE OUR EXHIBIT

CLEGG'S FURNITURE STORE
427 George St. 'Phone 79

WANT THE WATER POWER CONSERVED

Deputation From Peterborough Will Wait on the Government

OTTAWA, April 6.—A deputation from the Peterborough district, headed by E. G. Patterson, superintendent of the C. G. Electric Co., and W. H. Denham, of the Quaker Oats Co., will interview the government after Easter and lay before them a petition from various eastern municipal bodies representing three-quarters of a million people asking the government to give its attention to the conservation of the water power in the Trent district. J. H. Burnham, M.P. for West Peterborough, will introduce the deputation. He will point out that the dual control of the Dominion and Provincial governments is disadvantageous. The Hydro system is being introduced and ten millions of dollars will be spent in the Trent system and conservation of all the water power there for the people is absolutely necessary.

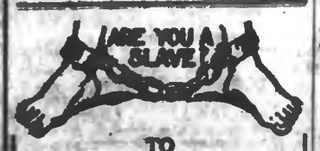
Gray Hair Becomes Dark, Thick, Glossy

Try Grandmother's Old Favourite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural colour and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or grey; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is musay and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy!" You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the grey hair disappears and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

For sale by Warne Drug Co.



TO

The Drink Habit

THE REAL THREE DAYS' TREATMENT

For the liquor habit will break these shackles. A simple, safe and effective treatment. Write or 'phone for particulars.

NEAL INSTITUTE,
78 St. Alban's Street, TORONTO.

For biliousness, constipation, sick-headache, or any ailment arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, take

"Keep the Nation Healthy" Wesden's Pills "Keep the Nation Healthy"

Act directly on the stomach and liver. 25c box

Sold and guaranteed in Peterboro by

James Lynch, Druggist
168 HUNTER ST.

The Warne Drug Co. Limited
351 GEORGE STREET

Special Easter Week Values in

ATTRACTIVE STYLISH ATTIRE

The Usual "Hall" High Standard of Quality and Excellence is Maintained in the Following Special Easter Week Values

EASTER SUITS $15.00, 18.50 and 20.00

These Suits show all the new touches which add so much to the spring fashions and are extra good Easter value at the above prices. Tailored from all the new materials in pretty shades including black and navy. Coats short and jaunty, skirts in plain, tier and draped style.

EASTER COATS $10.00, 13.50 and 15.00

The original lines and fabrics in these smart separate coats will be readily appreciated by the woman who desires a serviceable and stylish coat for a moderate sum. Women's and misses' coats in all shades and sizes.

EASTER DRESSES $15.00, 20.00 and 25.00

Cantoon cloth, Boutonne, Golfine and Ramie Linen are the materials of the New Spring Dresses. Every dress reflects the new fashion notes. Some have ruffles. Some have tunics others have pulls. All are extremely dainty and the prices are very attractive.

EASTER BLOUSES $2.00, 3.50 and 4.25

There is more style, more value and more variety in "Hall's" Blouses than can be found elsewhere in this city. Plain, snowflake and fancy crepes and voiles, in styles suitable to wear with the Easter suit. Every blouse is irresistable pretty.

EASTER MILLINERY $8.50, 10.00 and 12.50

An exceptionally clever variety of smart hats for wear with walking suits, semi-dress hats also dress hats which are marvellously picturesque and distinctly Parisian. It is a pleasure to select a hat from such a varied assortment and for such sensible prices.

Ready-to-Wear and Millinery Depart. Second Floor

A visit to the Hall Store during Easter week will more than repay you. Come in just to look around. You are more than welcome.

The Hall Service and Moderate Prices can be appreciated only by actual experience and comparison.

Wear Kabo or Gossard Corsets. They are Comfortable.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

"THE MAN WHO IS NOT BUSY ENOUGH" SUBJECT OF DISCOURSE

Spiritual Things Should Have First Place—Strong Sermon by Rev. H. J. Keith

HIS MESSAGE

At Knox Church yesterday morning Rev. H. J. Keith delivered an interesting discourse on the subject of "the man who is not busy enough," taking his text from Proverbs, 24, 30-32.

"I went by the field of the slothful, and by the vineyard of the man void of understanding, and lo! it was all grown over with thorns and nettles had covered the face thereof, and the stone wall thereof was broken down. Then I saw and considered it well. I looked upon it and received instruction."

The message on the face of this passage is not far to seek. But it is most suggestive of a truth that applies to every phase of life and to none more effectively than to the religious life. There is none that has more reason for activity—the opposite to slothfulness. Slothfulness spells death to the cause of Christ and to the development of a man in righteousness. Activity in spiritual things is the only means of obtaining spiritual results. This realm must be put first above business and pleasure. One may give time and thought to work and comfort and recreation, but let these gain the upper hand and there will soon be little spiritual life to consider.

Of the two factors in spiritual development, the divine and the human, we may for the moment dismiss the former, not because it is unimportant. God's work is absolutely necessary in human life,—and what we know of Him teaches us His ceaseless activity on behalf of each human soul. What is necessary is that we emphasize the necessity and urgency of human co-operation with God that the result may prove to be a life transformed Christlike. What we most need is activity. The man who is slothful about his religion, indifferent to all his surroundings, whether they will build up or destroy, will soon have no religious life to bother him. Being busy in this sphere is more necessary than in any other.

Sin worketh, let me work too;
Sin undoeth, let me do;
Busy as sin my work I ply—
Till I rest in the rest of eternity.

I.

The passage scarcely requires explanation. What it does require is application — adapting its lesson to our own personal need. It comes home to us in the daily task. Its truth is well known in the picture it at once suggests, that of the farm. Had the traveller who drew the picture lived to-day and in the west of the world, where farming is no child's play, he would have found his illustration more easily understood than when he wrote it. With all the development in agricultural methods and science, the man who follows that life knows he cannot afford to be negligent in any department of his work, or he will some face ruin. Industrial depressions in the city give this man no excuse for easing off. Let him fail to keep up to date and let him grow careless and indifferent. It will not be long until broken fences, barns in a state of collapse, fields covered with destructive weeds, reveal the man within the house and tell the story of his downfall.

The same truth applies to all industry. The pace is set for the industrial worker. Slothfulness means his dismissal. If he does keep up the speed, he will probably finish his life in keeping with the machine with which he toils. And the man in business is pushed to the last ounce of speed. His work must spell system until it drives him mad. In this age of competition he dare not allow sloth to enter his mind or it will commence his ruin.

All this but emphasizes the need of activity and energy in the sphere of religion. These other activities have crowded it out. Men say we have no time for church — we are too busy for religion. They are shallow statements. There is the greater need of society being readjusted, and the greater need of a foundation of life that reaches to the very depths of spiritual power. The evidences of spiritual sloth are on the surface. When sentinels of mind and heart are remored, when one shows little personal responsibility in the affairs of the church, and the kindom of righteousness, when one shows only a remittant interest in religious things and religious services, there is abundant evidence of spiritual slothfulness pictured to us in broken fences and weedy fields. What little religion such a man may have will soon disappear. He will grow more lax in his appreciation of moral issues. He will be indifferent in his relations to worldliness. He will soon be engrossed in pursuits that have no vital spark of religion about them.

II.

One thing is certain: Jesus never made provision for the slothful man in religion. He did not provide for an easy-going conscience nor an easy going life, knowing that such mean death. Christ's urgency for activity may grate on us and His severity may irritate, but these feeling or ours do not eliminate the fact that He is urgent and severe. He that would come after Me let him deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow Me. The issues are so great and vital that stern strife and sacrifice are necessary in order to gain them.

"Must I be carried to the skies.
On flowery beds of ease?
While others fought to win the prize
Or sailed thro' bloody seas.

Since I must fight if I would reign,
Increase my courage Lord;
I'll bear the toil, endure the pain,
Supported by Thy word.

Experience tells us that a smooth life without cross-roads and ups and downs is dangerous and leads to degeneration. In Jeremiah we are told Moab had been at ease from his youth and as a result has settled on his lees No struggle, no activity, no trials no service, no endeavour to grow like Christ, no willingness to endure inconvenience for His sake, nay even to suffer for the sake of the life He gives; surely here we have slothfulness in religion and ruin more terrible than that which visits the slothful farmer.

Pauline Johnston's last verse, written in the hospital in Vancouver in the face of death, has a message for the Christian:

"They shot my flag to ribbons, but in rents
It floats above the height.
Their ensign shall not crown my battlements
While I can stand and fight.
I fling defiance at them as I cry.
Capitulate? Not I."

Should there not be reason for every follower of Christ showing an even more defiant spirit in the face of the world's evil?

III.

This experience of the traveller suggests one thing that should dispel all signs of slothfulness from us. There are many others that in themselves are sufficient, but I note this one in mere outline. The traveller did what was first essential. He took the lesson home to himself, seeing the condition before him was sufficient. There is a suggestion here of a means of development and activity in Christ's affairs. It is simply observation and I merely suggest it. One can recall what one has read of Watts, Sir Isaac Newton, Galileo and others to know that some of God's greatest truths are here around us for open eyes to see. An observation of history discovers much for us in God's dealings with nations and what He approves of and blesses. There are lessons for rulers and voters here. Observation should prevent the Church from indolence and set it to a jealous pursuit of its divine task. Observation of human lives and lives near at hand will warn us of the danger of indolence and the certainty of slothfulness and laziness in religion, bringing death.

A hard, strenuous path was necessary for the martyrs. Why should a life less strenuous be sufficient for us? The way to the crown is by way of the Cross. The results of activity are so great and necessary we cannot afford to miss them or to pass through slothfulness to poverty in eternal riches.

Board of Education.

A regular meeting of the Board of Education will take place at the Secretary's Office, 437 George Street, on Tuesday night, at 7.45 o'clock p.m.

The Christ Spirit

(Los Angeles, Cal., Times)

"Why, God owes me as much as He does any one else, and if I am in trouble He is surely going to help me out."

Such was the remark made to the writer recently by one who would be called a hardheaded business man. So expert is he in his line, indeed, that he has been called to push the interests of a very important business in a large city. A simple statement like this, accompanied by such childlike trust, was a clear indication that he had come into touch with the Christ spirit, and it developed later that his confidence had been brought about by reading the text-book of Christian Science, not that such teaching is confined to this book, for it is simply the teaching of the Bible.

It is this practical sense of the ever-presence of God that the business man needs. When he grasps the fact that the God of a perfect universe is supreme in the counting-house, that the God of Heaven is the God of his home, that there is indeed but one God, and He omnipotent, then he has a sense of a God with whom he wishes to be associated. In fact, it would be to every man's advantage if he would consider himself in partnership with God.

That man can hardly expect to be led aright who refers only certain questions to God and tries to carry others along by himself. One cannot say "Thy will be done" in that and mine in this, or even have the so-called minor or unimportant matters to take care of themselves. What did Jesus mean when he said, "But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered," unless it was that the smallest details of daily living are governed and directed by our Father, and that we should commit ourselves entirely to His guidance and protection?

The Cure for Unrest.

The preaching of the kingdom of God, and the healing of them that have need of healing are just as inseparable now as they were in Jesus' time, and that it is as essential to Christianity to-day as it was then that we should have in us that Mind "which was also in Christ Jesus," in order to do this or any other work for the benefit of humanity. The fact that at the present time mortal thought is greatly stirred on all questions affecting human liberty, possibly more stirred than ever before, makes necessary an understanding of God, and of our Master's great ministry, which will hold in check the marked unrest of this time and restrain it from seeking license instead of liberty. The proof of this understanding must necessarily come through the same proofs which Jesus gave, otherwise there is no means of knowing that the gospel in its purity —the gospel of the kingdom of God —is being preached; and it is not preached and practiced with signs following, but little is to be expected in turning human unrest into that "glorious liberty of the children of God" which the apostle Paul declares in the natural heritage of "the sons of God."

The world is slowly learning the lesson that neither brute force nor dominant willpower is the right factor to bring about a solution of or a doing away with, the social and industrial evils that to-day are holding the interest and attention of the more thoughtful. No merely arbitrary ruling can effect the accomplishment of what are generally conceded to be needed reforms, but when we have attained to such a degree of understanding that we are able to bring to bear the omnipotence of divine Love as each problem presents itself we shall prove for ourselves that "the way to extract error from mortal mind is to pour in truth through flood-tides of Love." We shall look upon all these phases of error not with bitterness and angry resistance, but with that same tender compassion, that yearning to cast off the shackles of sin and disease, as did the Master when the multitudes thronged him; and in proportion as we are endued with his vision of the spiritual man, perfect in the image and likeness of God, it will be said of each one of us, He "healed them all," healed them of their poverty, their sickness, their unrest, with the realisation and understanding of that Love which must ultimately settle all human questions.

EASTER FAVOURS

We have many dainty gifts, typical for Easter. Many of these are priced at $1.00 and even less. They are new and attractive. Glad to show you.

Easter time makes gift-giving practical and appropriate.

SCHNEIDER, The Jeweller, George St.

EASTER

Candy Baskets and Chocolate Eggs at

THE MARATHON CANDY KITCHEN

Delicious Ice Cream...be a dish; Ice Cream Sodas, any flavour, be a glass; Fruit Sundaes be and like

331 George St. Next to Bank of Nova Scotia

ICE CREAM ALL YEAR ROUND

THE DUTIES OF LABOUR

Rev. Mr. Pogue Preaches Sermon on the [illegible] Sabbath

The duty of Labour in relation to Capital was the subject of the sermon by the Rv. R. Pogue of St. Paul's Church Sabbath evening.

He spoke in the first place on the demand of Labour for a living wage, and said in part as follows: A distinction must be made between a living and a minimum wage. A living wage is based upon the principles of justice and brotherhood and is such a wage as will enable th Labourer to live a free, natural, healthful, moral life. The conditions under which a man labours ought to be such that his work and its reward will promote his health, his intelligence, his morality—in short, that it will promote an all-round efficiency of his life and all his powers as an individual and as a social and a religious being. It can be quite asily shown that the community or country that enjoys the highest level of wages has the highest degree of happiness and the highest standard of citizenship, and that the peoples of the lands with low wages are abject in their misery, degradation and servility. So that there can be but one answer to this demand of Labour for a living wage. It must be granted. The law of justice and of brotherhood as well as the law of Christ demands that it should. But a living wage is not a minimum wage. The demand for the former may be a just and reasonable one but that for the latter may be sometimes exceedingly unjust and may result in the complete demoralization of Capital. There are many men doing business in Peterborough who cannot pay what they themselves feel ought to be a minimum wage for the reason that if they were to do so they would have to shut up shop. Here is a fact that may not be known to labouring men generally, namely that 85 per cent. of the men who start in business for themselves, fail. So keen is competition to-day in business and such are the conditions in the industrial world that it is quite impossible for many employers to pay a minimum wage. If the Labour organizations of the country should demand a minimum wage for the different grades and professions to go into effect to-morrow the result would be the complete demoralization of industry and the failure of thousands upon thousands of business enterprises throughout the country. Labour therefore, must be reasonable in its demands. It is the duty of Labour at times to make sacrifices just as I [illegible] a week ago there are times [illegible] duty of Capital to make [illegible]. It is no answer to say [illegible] cannot pay a minimum [illegible] ought to get out of business. Suppose he were to get out of business, what would follow? Exactly what has followed the organization of "trusts" throughout the country. The result of a centralizing of business in our large cities has been the shutting up of small enterprises in the towns and villages and the throwing out of employment of great numbers of men. These men have gone into the large centres and the result has been unemployment or the employment of only skilled labour and the cutting down of wages because of the over-supply in the Labour market.

Must Not Be Slavery.

Another demand which Labour makes is the demand that work shall not become slavery, that it shall be so arranged that men shall find pleasure in it, and that regard shall be had to the welfare of the workmen as much as to the quantity of the output. [illegible] such a regulation of the hours of labour and the conditions of labour that labourers shall not become brutalized by their work—now this surely is a reasonable demand. Work to every healthful man ought to be a joy. To accomplish some desirable thing by mental or physical exertion ought to add to a man's happiness. But Labour must remember here that there are times when it is necessary for all of us to do our work under very exacting conditions, and to work even to exhaustion. The minister of religion, the doctor, the professional nurse, the school teacher, the mother in the home or hundreds of others that I might mention, can not confine their labour to an eight-hour day, though oftentimes their strength is not adequate to the demands that are made upon them. They must work frequently when their service is of the most sacrificial kind and without any thought of pecuniary reward from Society for the work that they do. Why should not men in other callings be willing for the social well-being to do hard and difficult things? Men will only find pleasure in their work to the extent that they think of the social good and when they relate their work to the well-being and comfort of Society rather than to the size of their pay envelope at the close of the week. When a man who works eight hours a day at the monotonous and nerve-racking task of making rivets is able to relate those rivets to the ship for which they are being made and picture to himself that ship riding on the high seas and doing the commerce of the world, then he feels the dignity of toil and of work, and he finds a pleasure in it that is not possible without this vision. Of course it is only fair to add that no one will have this high ideal of work unless he feels that he is getting a fair share in wages of the wealth that he produces. If he is not getting this then it is his duty not to be content with his task and to do everything in his power to bring about a new and a better industrial order.

More Leisure Time.

The third demand of Labour is for a greater amount of leisure, for more time to rest, to play, to think and to worship. When a man has to work without any time to play and not enough time to sleep, the result is to brutalize him and to efface the Divine image stamped upon him by his Creator. There are two or three things, however, that Labour must remember in enforcing this demand. The first is that Labour must not be guilty of violence. I do not question the right of Labour to organize. That right has long since been conceded by all reasonable employers. But Labour cannot teach and preach the doctrine of brotherhood and yet itself, in acts of violence and bloodshed, be guilty of the most flagrant violations of the law of brotherhood. Labour must be willing to exhaust every means within its power to settle its disputes by arbitration before resorting to force. Then secondly Labour must not stand for the doctrine of a limited output. It is evident that if Labour puts a limit on the number of useful things made, then Labour itself must have less of these things to enjoy. The desires of Labour as well as Capital are yearly expanding. And this is right. Men to-day want better food and more of it, better clothing, better homes, better education, more ease, more leisure, and mor pleasure. But it is evident that if the hours of Labour be reduced in a sort of sliding scale until men shall only work five or six hours a day, the result will be such a limitiation of the things produced that there will not be enough things produced to contribute to these increased wants. To quote the words of another: "There is no way to gratify these keener appetites and more delicate tastes, except by increasing the annual stream of wealth, and especially the wealth of lovely and refining things. The man who pretends to be a friend of the working classes and suggests the limiting of the hours of labour, until only a fragment of each day is employed, is all unconsciously the deadliest foe of their well-being. Whoever increases the wealth of the world, increases the betterment of the poor. Whoever lessens the stream gives someone less to drink of its satisfying waters." But the strongest indictment that con be brought against this doctrine if a limited output is that it interfers with the sacred rights of personality.

It is a violation of a fundamental law of human nature not to use to the fullest the powers with which we have been endowed and not to bring these to their highest efficiency. Our struggle with nature to wrest from nature all that nature can give us is the very best thing possible for the development of one's powers. And when a man is denied by hard and fast laws of Labour Unions to work all he wants to work and to produce all he is capable of producing, then he is denied the privilege and the right of developing to the full the powers that God has given him. I pointed out last Sabbath that it was the duty of Capital to invest Capital, the duty of Capitalists to use their talent of wealth to the full. It was a duty that they owed to their own nature and it was a duty that they owed to society. I say exactly the same words to Labour. Labour can no more bury its talent than can Capital. Labour must never deny to the workman the right of free competition. Competition ought to be natural to all healthy, normal, happy men. The exhillaration consequent upon "speeding" incites men to put forth their best powers, and it is only by putting forth their best powers that they can gain increase of power. I have used the word, free competition advisedly. You will deny that free competition is possible in our present industrial system. I agree with you that it is not possible. But in the circumstance two duties are quite clear. The first is to work and labour and pray for the coming of a new and righteous order. And the second duty is the duty of making the highest use of all your powers, physical, mental, moral and spiritual until that new time comes, the duty which the Master laid upon the servants in the parable of the pounds when He said: "Trade ye herewith till I come."

LIFE PROBLEM CLUB.

Chief Thompson addressed the members of the Life Problem Club of the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon, and his interesting and helpful remarks were greatly enjoyed.

"FAGOTS"

For Friday, an Englishman's Savory Dish, made after the favourite manner, by

WOODHOUSE, the Fishman

Drop in any hour, day or night, if you want Fish cooked to the taste of a connoisseur.

The King Fish and Chip Restaurant

306 George St. 'Phone 812

Easter, Reading

If you intend to travel, have a good Book to read on the train, or for a quiet day at home there is a wonderful choice in our big list of

1000 Titles at 59c Each

Here are a few taken at random from our book-shelves—

Owned
Within The Law
Cease Firing
The Virginian
The Black Creek Stopping House
The Second Chance
The Iron Woman
The No'er Do Well
The Silver Horde
Treasure Valley
Duncan Polite
The Silver Maple

The Mistress of Shenstone
The Winning of Barbara Worth
Calling of Dan Matthews
Set in Silver
Freckles
Girl of the Limberlost
Love of the Wild
Round the Corner in Gay Street
Strawberry Acres
When Patty Went to College
The Trail of '98
A Canadian Bank Clerk

Buy One of These for Easter—59c

Get our list of over 1000 titles.

Trebilcock Bros.

417 George St. - - - 'Phone 285

LANE & EANO

UNDERTAKERS AND FURNITURE DEALERS

REMOVAL SALE OF FURNITURE

IN THEIR OWN NEW BUILDING

186 HUNTER STREET 3 DOORS WEST OF OLD STAND

GET OUR PRICES BEFORE BUYING.

Spring Suits and Overcoats

That Will Win Your Admiration

WITH EASTER comes that all-important question of your new Spring Clothes. Of course you wish to look spick and span on Easter morning—who doesn't? Winter clothes seem out of place and you feel out of place unless you have something new on. We—whose business it is to supply that newness—have a very attractive display of new Spring models.

Clothes stamped with that individuality such as only the Semi-Ready Tailoring know how—clothes that embody all the essentials that a man requires.

STYLE FIT QUALITY

Suits That Men of Fashion will Appreciate

Amongst the season's newest models in the Suits we are showing, are some very stylishly cut 2 and 3 button sacs, with semi-soft roll lapels, and the new fairly straight fronts. The patterns are mostly neat and quiet, including some particularly natty models in hairline stripes—these promise to be exceptionally popular for Spring, 1914. Remember—each part of the Semi-Ready Suits is made by men who know how; that's why you can always distinguish them.

$15 $20 $25

Lord Algy

The Hat with the Pugaree Band

Here's something that's entirely new. New York's latest craze is the hat with the pugaree band. We have a particularly smart model, namely, the "Lord Algy." This has the new high diamond crown and can be had with the pugaree band or scarf. In popular shades of navy, brown and grey. Price $2.50.

Easter Neckwear---Direct from New York

We have just received a large shipment of New Neckwear, direct from New York, amongst which some very nifty styles will be found. We would advise those who are on the lookout for something a little different, to see this line. Prices—

50c 75c $1.00

New Shirts, Pyjamas Underwear Gloves, Hosiery

Your Spring Coat, Sir? We Have It Here

Of course you require something in the light weights—just enough warmth in it to keep out the chilly air of Spring mornings and evenings. You will find that we are showing some particularly nifty Coats that will appeal to men of particular tastes—Coats that combine style with service. These come in all the popular shades, including steel grey, brown, and black; also a complete range in the light weight Tweed effects, made in the fly front and button through styles.

$15 $20 $25

The Plaza Shoe

The Plaza Shoe, which is priced at $6, is an English model of superior design, having the low and receding toe. It also has the invisible eyelets. This Shoe has a splendid appearance and the leather and workmanship warrant much service. Procurable in either black or tan.

The GRESSMAN Emporium Limited

Over Two Hundred Were Converted

Revival Meetings at Park St. Baptist Church Crowned With Success

Sunday was a busy day at the Park Street Baptist Church. Pastor F. A. Conners led a largely attended prayer meeting at 10 a.m., and at 11 Evangelist Pugsley preached a helpful and instructive sermon on "Our Hope." Two decided for Christ. The church was filled with men at 3 o'clock, and all were delighted with the talk on "Boot Strap Religion." Five men gave themselves to Christ. The male quartette delighted the men.

The church at 7 o'clock was packed, in fact scores were turned away. The anthem by the choir, solo by Musical Directors Peters, "At the Feast of Belshazzar," and solo, by Miss Adams, "Step out for Jesus," were delightfully rendered.

Evangelist Pugsley was at his best and at the close of the sermon 12 came to the altar, which makes a grand total of 233.

There will be a service for converts to-night. All welcome.

NINE WORKMEN ARE KILLED

Special Wire to The Examiner:

MEMPHIS, Ten., April 6—Trapped in the murky depths of the caisson used in the construction of the big bridge here, nine workmen, known as "sand hogs," were smothered to death by a gas explosion. All were dead when brought out.

WAS FOUND DEAD IN BED

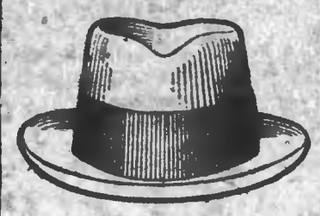
FORT WILLIAM, Ont., April 6.—Arthur Vickers, aged 41, a B.A. of Toronto University, a prominent oarsman and a wealthy real estate man here, was found dead upstairs in his home this morning with gunshot wounds in his head. Friends claim it was accidental. His young wife was one of the social beauties of Port Arthur. Vickers had agents in many Ontario cities to sell his properties here.

LIVE STOCK MARKET

Special Wire to The Examiner:

TORONTO, April 6.—Live Stock: Receipts fair; trade varied, prices generally higher; choice butcher's, $7.75 to $8.25; good medium, $7.40 o $7.60; calves, stockers and sheep unchanged; hogs, fed and watered, $9.25 to $9.35; off cars, $9.65; fo.b., $8.90 to $9.

A Very Popular Soft Hat



Looks fine on most men—and This Store is the place to get it.

A smart Style that takes with men who want individuality and distinction.

Come and see our STETSON assortment. If you wish, we will give expert help in selecting the one model you ought to wear.

W. E. LECH Manufacturing Furrier and Hatter

366 GEORGE ST., Near Simcoe. 'Phone 736

CLAIMS $2000 FOR BREACH OF PROMISE

A writ has been issued by Mr. G. N. Gordon, counsel for Miss Annie Lamb, against Percy Breault of this City. The plaintiff is bringing the action to secure two thousand dollars' damage's from the defendant, for breach of promise of marriage, and for seduction while relying on that promise.

FORMER LOCAL LADY TOOK PART

A recent issue of a Fort William exchange contains a flattering references to a former Peterborough lady, in the person of Mrs. T. H. Gillespie, who took part in the presentation of Handel's "Messiah" by the Fort William Philharmonic Society. Mrs. Gillespie (nee Miss Mabel McCaw, of this City) sang the soprano parts.

Referring to Mrs. Gillespie, the Fort William paper says: "Mrs. T. H. Gillespie sang the soprano solos with skill and understanding, and is evidently quite at home with this kind of music."

THE DUST EVIL

How Long Shall We Suffer? Asks a Correspondent

Editor of The Examiner,—

Sir,—In the memorable words of the immortal Hydro-Johnston, "the way the street watering is done in Peterborough constitutes a roaring farce," but not in the sense he uses it. I allude to the ever-recurring tardiness of our Council in commencing operations in the spring. The doctors tell us, and we all know, that the waste matter of winter which constitutes the dust of spring is heavily laden with the most deadly microbes, and is productive of more disease, such as consumption, than all other direct causes combined.

If Mayor Buller and his colleagues would "get a gait on," and confine themselves to such important matters instead of playing to the gods in the gallery and seeking their own promotion it would serve our interests better and be in compliance with their oath of office. How much longer shall we suffer? Yours, etc.,

SUFFERER.

April 6, 1914.

VOTING IN MONTANA CITIES

BUTTE, Mon., April 6—This is municipal election day in the principal cities and towns of Montana, including Butte, Missoula, Helena, Great Falls, Bozeman and Deer Lodge. The issues were almost wholly of a local character. In several of the larger cities the Socialist vote figured conspicuously.

ANNIVERSARY OF GEORGE STREET SUNDAY SCHOOL WAS OBSERVED YESTERDAY

Rev. F. L. Farewell, of Toronto, Addressed Both Services and the Sunday School in the Afternoon.

TEA THIS EVENING

The anniversary of the George Street Sunday School was observed yesterday, and the Rev. Mr. Farewell, Field Secretary for the Methodist Sunday Schools of Ontario, addressed the three services yesterday.

In the morning the gallery and part of the body of the church was filled by the different Sunday School classes, who met in the Sunday School Room and marched into the church in a body. In the afternoon the Sunday School was also held in the church.

The Rev. Mr. Peever was in charge of the morning service, and Mr. Wilson Taylor, superintendent of the Sunday School, was on the platform and took part in the service. The Rev. Mr. Farewell preached a powerful sermon to the parents and officers of the Sunday School, taking his text from Mark x., 13, 14 and 15.

In opening the speaker said that before him was the greatest asset of the City and of the Church — the young people of the Sunday School, and he came with a message on behalf of the boys and girls to the officers and teachers of the Sunday School and the parents of the home. He said the young people came as a deputation to the superintendent and his assistants and the fathers and mothers.

It was coming to be realized more and more that the boys and girls were Canada's greatest national asset. The Government were making determined efforts to conserve the material resources with which this Dominion was so prodigally blessed. "But the nation shall be great 25, 50 or 100 years from now, just as we have succeeded in conserving the best mental, moral and spiritual life of the young people of our land."

The first request to the officers, teachers and parents was that the younger folk would like them to take a more active interest in their play life. They would also like them to see that playgrounds were convenient where the environment was clean and wholesome. It was agreed that play was a God-given and not devil-given instinct. Under the right conditions play was an educator in courtesy, fair play, quickness of thought and action. The prevailing spirit on a playground should be clean, wholesome, amateur, buoyant and elevating.

The speaker told of the time when he was a member of a team that went visiting to other cities. After the game, having no place else to go, the members of the visiting aggregation would return to the hotel, and before the evening was over several of them would become intoxicated. This was not the fault of the game, but of the Church and fathers and mothers who did not provide leaders in the games, nor a place to go when the battle was over.

The second request was to "put in our way good books, that the heroes we worship may be good heroes and the ideals we form may be good ideals." To the extent the Church failed to direct the reading of the boys and girls, from which they formed their ideals, to that extent they failed to do all they could to conserve the mental, moral and spiritual life of the youth.

The third was for the older folk to understand the social lives and organiations of the young people, because they did not give so many a chance to save a young man or a number of them was lost.

The fourth and last request was to trust the young people, have confidence in them and give them big things to do. The time had come when the Church was beginning to realize that the greatest number of boys were won to Christ when they were 16 years of age, and girls between the ages of 14 and 15 years. The time to appeal to them was when they were 10, 11, or 12 years of age.

In the afternoon prizes were presented to those who had attended 50 out of 52 Sundays of the past year, and Bibles were presented to the pupils being promoted from the primary to the junior intermediate section of the Sunday School.

Brief addresses were given by the Rev. Mr. Peever, the Rev. Mr. Farewell and Messrs. D. W. Dumble, S. R. Armstrong, Wilson Taylor, J. J. Hartley, Hagerman and T. W. Robinson.

Those who received prizes for attendance were Mr. W. H. Cunningham, Mrs. W. H. Cunningham, Marjorie Cunningham, Masie Cunningham, Mr. C. E. Wiley, Mrs. C. E. Wiley, P. Wiley, Martha Mahaffy, Cecil Mahaffy Mrs. Frederick, Jennie Frederick, Lottie Hamilton, Annie Kerr, Fiola Fussee, Salima Huycke, Hazel Outram, Miss C. Wilson, Laura Payne, Donald Munroe, Jock Renwick, Dick Bates, Mrs. Jinks, John Dormer, Thelma Darling Gladys Pentland, Ernest Olse, Marion Duggan, Mr. Alex. Stewart, Mr. A. E. Micks.

ILLINOIS SALOON CONTEST BITTER

Special to The Examiner.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 6—Illinois goes to-morrow to the stiffest test which has been made up to date in the State between the liquor interests and the anti-saloon forces. Springfield, Decatur, Moline, Danville, Monmouth, Aurora, and, in fact, nearly every city of importance in the State is witnessing to-day the closing of a bitter campaign. Chicago and Peoria are practically the only cities of importance that are not involved in the contest. The leaders of the "dry" movement predict that several thousand saloons will be voted out of business when the ballots are counted.

Crucifixion At All Saints'

Stainer's Crucifixion will be given at All Saints' Church this evening, under the direction of Mr. Geo. Chandler, by the choir of All Saints', assisted by the choir of St. John's Church. A great deal of preparation has been given this beautiful work, and a meritorious performance may be expected.

FORTY YEARS A SUBSCRIBER

The Examiner hasn't many names on its lists of subscribers now that were on its forty years ago. But quite accidentally one of them spoke of it to-day, and with a feeling of reverence and pride mentioned the year he started to subscribe for The Examiner, as the year A.D., 1874. Mutual congratulations were exchanged for many more years of usefulness and good conduct on the part of both Mr. R. J. Kidd and The Examiner.

CHICKEN THIEF IN SMITH TOWNSHIP

Despite the fact that several residents in Smith Township, just on the outskirts of the City have kept their chicken houses securely locked some person, who has evidently taken a liking to the pick of the fowl belonging to three residents, got successfully away with fourteen on Friday night.

County Constable Cochrane has been communicated with regarding the matter and investigations will be made.

FEATHERS MAY SOLVE DEATH

Special to The Examiner:

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 6—Powder burns upon feathers of one fowl and lack of such marks on feathers of another are expected to play an important part in the investigation into the death of Mrs. Laura Wilder Simpson, by the grand jury, which convened to-day. Mrs. Simpson, a bride of a few weeks, was shot to death February 22, with a revolver belonging to her husband. It is still to be proved whether she was murdered or shot herself. The Coroner's jury failed to return a vedict. Subsequently the body was exhumed for examinaton. Dr. W. H. Wilder of Chicago, father of the victim, has expressed himself as convinced that his daughter met death through an accident. The Grand Jury's investigation is to be made largely at the request of Mrs. Simpson's husband, a wealthy turfman of this city, who says he desires to remove any suspicion from himself.

MR. EDNEY REMEMBERED

For the last few years, Mr. L. H. Edney has been a faithful chorister in S.t John's Church, and after the morning service yesterday, a handsome edition of "The Book of Common Praise," with tunes, was presented to him by the choristers as a mark of esteem. The choirmaster, Mr. Devey, in asking Canon Davidson to make the presentation, expressed the regret felt by all at their loss, and hoped that Mr. Edney would meet with success in his new sphere of work.

The rector presented the book, and stated how much the church valued the services of Mr. Edney, and all those choristers who so faithfully served, year in and year out.

Mr. Edney left on an early train this morning for Hamilton.

EASTER SPECIALS

We have prepared for Easter with a finer stock than ever of LADIES' READY-TO-WEAR, DRY GOODS, MILLINERY, GENT'S CLOTHING and FURNISHINGS. These must be sold and we have cut the prices till our profits have gone out of sight.

Men's Ready-to-Wear

We have a Larger and Better Stock of Men's Suits this year than we ever had.

We can give you a well made Tweed Suit, which is well worth $8.00, for $5.00

One of the Newest Tweed and Worsted Suits which is well worth $10 for $7.50

See Our $10 Semi-Ready Suit Quality and Fit Guaranteed. This is the most valuable suit for the money which Peterboro' has ever offered.

Men's Llama Sox, worth 25c anywhere, on sale for ..... pair 17½c

Men's Work Shirts, regular 50c for 39c

Men's Tweed and Worsted Trousers for $1

A Snap in Men's Fine Sample Shirts, worth up to $1.50, for 50c

MILLINERY

The Very Latest at the Lowest Prices.

Do'nt wait till the Season has advanced when we can sell you your Easter Hats at August Prices. A few of the latest shapes for 98c

Watered Silk Ribbon in all shades 5 ins. wide, for only, per yard 12½c

French Plumes in Black and White, 17 ins. long. Well worth from $3 to $4 for $1.50

Black Tango Plumes, 27 ins. long. These range in price from $20 to $25. On Sale for only $10.00

LADIES' SUITS

We have a fine new range of Ladies' Plain Tailored Suits, made of Japanese Serge and Whipcords, with lining of Silk & Satin. These are all worth $18, for $9.98

DRY GOODS

Mill Ends of very fine Lawn from one to five yards length, worth up to20c per yard. On Sale ..... yard 7½c

Pink and Pale Blue Flannelette. Regular 10c for 7½c

Table Oil Cloth, 45 inches wide, 25c everywhere .....On Sale 20c

Linen Towelling, 17 inches wide, Regular 10c. Sale Price 6½c

French Bath Towels, 36 x 40 in., well worth 40c for 25c

Art Sateen—All of which are latest designs suitable for comforters or furniture covering, reg. 15c for 10c

Curtain Scrim in newest patterns. Regular 20c for 12½c

Ends of Foulard Silk, worth 25c for 12½c

A Clearing Lot of Laces, worth up to 10c a yard. Now 2 yards for 5c

All-Over Aprons. Regular 50c for 29c

Ladies' and Children's Dresses, slightly damaged, worth up to $2 for 50c

Ladies' Skirts, slightly damaged. These are neatly made of vicuna cloth. On Sale for 59c

5 Cord Brooms, 14½ inch Corn, a 40c value for 25c

N. SUKLOFF 293 George St. 'Phone 21

Navigation Will Open On April 22

The unusually mild weather of March has proved a boon to early lake shippers, for with no dangerous ice packs in Lake Huron and very few in Lake Superior, water communication will shortly be re-established with the great northwest and western Canada.

April 22nd is the date that has been set by the Northern Navigation Company for the opening of navigation on their lines. Already it is said there is a large quantity of package freight accumulating at the various ports where this company's vessels touch.

Indications are that the freight shipments into the great and growing Canadian Northwest will far surpass any previous year in marine history. Men who know predict that 1914 will be the greatest volume of Lake travel ever, both passenger and freight. People are just beginning to realise the advantages of inland lake shipping and travelling, say marine experts.

April 4th is the date that has been set for the receiving of freight at all points in Eastern Canada and United States for Port Arthur, Fort William and Westford, also for the northwest and British Columbia. April 12th has been named as the date at receiving points for Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and Georgian Bay service.

"Early shippers are extremely fortunate in having the weather man with them this year," said General Manager H. H. Gildersleeve of the Northern Navigation Co. in debating on the early opening date named by his company.

"Usually at this time of the year it would be foolhardy to think of getting under way until the first of May at the very earliest. Now, however, barring a big assignment of frenzied weather we will start our fleet out from Sarnia on April 22nd and from Owen Sound April 25th. This will enable shippers to get prompt and efficient service by water and rail to great Canadian Northwest and all northern points in United States."

"The going into commission this Spring of our new steamship Noronic will increase our service greatly. Commercial interests have begun to realize the immense field of Northwest Canada and United States and we were forced to increase our carrying facilities."

ANNUAL EXAMINATIONS

The annual examination of candidates and probationers for this district of the Methodist Church will be held in the George St. Methodist Church on Tuesday, April 21st, commencing at 9 o'clock a.m., and continuing for two days. Rev. Robert Burns, of Deseronto, the chairman and Rev. J. G. Lewis, Peterborough, secretary, will be the presiding examiners.

Evidently Innocuous.

"You are sure this play contains nothing shocking?"

"Absolutely sure. There wasn't any crowd in line to buy tickets."

MAKE TAKE OVER DALE'S BANK

Chartered Bank Mentioned—Account is Working on Books

BELLEVILLE, Ont., April 6.—No new developments have taken place in connection with the closing of Dale's Private Bank at Madoc village, 26 miles from this city. The only new fact known is that an expert accountant has been at work on the books for several days. It is rumoured that the showing of assets may not be as favourable as at first expected.

More reports are current in Belleville than in Madoc, and it is hinted that the Bank of Commerce, which had business connections with Dale's Bank, may take it over. However, nothing definite can be obtained, nor is anything expected until a full statement of the finances is issued.

SKIN ERUPTIONS

Evidence of Impure Blood and a Run-Down Condition.

When the blood becomes thin, poor, devitalized nature cries out through such external evidence for help, and the safest, surest and most helpful remedy we know is Vinol.

This is because it is a combination of the two most world famed tonics — the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil (without the oil) and tonic iron for the blood. Vinol strengthens the digestive organs, creates a hearty appetite, purifies and enriches the blood, creates strength.

Mrs. Helen Wingate, St. Louis, Mo., says: "I was in very poor health, nervous and run-down, and nothing in the way of medicine did me any good until my druggist recommended Vinol. It built up my health, restored strength and I feel that I owe my life to Vinol. I cannot praise it too highly."

We say positively there is nothing like Vinol to purify and enrich the blood and build up weak, run-down people. If it should fail in your case we will return your money.

McDermid & Jury, cor. George and Charlotte Sts.; also Payne's Drug Store, cor. George and Simcoe Sts.

ELECTION IN MONTREAL TO-DAY

Special to The Examiner:

MONTREAL, P.Q., April 6—Following an exciting and bitter campaign the voters of Montreal, including several thousand women, went to the polls to-day to elect a mayor and members of the board of aldermen. The final results of the balloting are awaited with intense interest, partly because of the importance of some of the issues involved and also because of the charges of extensive graft, and of the mismanagement of city affairs that have been made openly in the campaign. An extensive probe into civic deals and the situation with regards to the water supply are the main questions at issue.

ST. THOMAS PURCHASES MOTOR FIRE TRUCK

For $3,800—Peterborough's Proposed Motor Driven Truck Was to Have Cost $8,000

ST. THOMAS, April 6.—At the regular meeting of No. 3 committee, Chairman Horton announced that the special committee appointed for the purpose had purchased an up-to-date fire-truck from the Reo Automobile Company of St. Catharines, for the sum of $3,800. This is $200 below the estimated cost of the truck, the committee being allowed to expend $4,000 on this latest addition to the city's fire-fighting equipment.

The new truck is a 35-h.p. machine, and, according to the members of the purchasing committee, will fulfil all the requirements of this city. It is what is known as a two-ton truck, and is quite capable of carrying sufficient amount of equipment without overloading. It is equipped complete with 253 feet of chemical hose and a 40-gallon chemical tank, two Dietz lamps, with holders, 1,500 feet of 2.1-2 in. hose in two compartments, to facilitate the laying of two lines, locomotive bell, two crowbars, one Detroit door opener, two pickhead axes, two 12 ft. pike poles, four cotton hooks, one fourtined fork, two play pipe holders, running boards, one 20 ft. extension ladder, and a 12 ft. hook roof ladder, brass hand rails on each side, electric searchlight, and is also fitted with standard electric lighting and starting equipment. It will be painted the real fire department red and the name of the local fire department will be put on in gold lettering, both on the bonnet of the machine and on the side.

Some Pointed Questions.

The representatives of a competing firm for the city's order for a fire truck has requested the publication of the following somewhat formidable list of questions regarding the proposed truck:

An explanation should be made as to why a Reo truck with body equipment for the fire department should cost St. Thomas $3,900, as ordered by the fire committee. Current advertisements of the Reo two-ton truck, which is made in Lansing, Mich., and not in St. Catharines, Ont., give a retail price in the United States of $1,-650, f.o.b. Lansing, Mich. The price of this truck in St. Thomas, without body, should not exceed $2,112, plus the freight from Lansing, Mich., to St. Thomas, Ont., and this would also cover the commission of some $300 to the Reo dealer in St. Thomas. The full market value of this truck, f. o.b. St. Thomas, duty paid, is not, therefore, in excess of $2,162, adding $50 for freight.

The special committee, authorized to purchase a truck for the fire department are, therefore, paying the difference between $2,162 and $3,-900 or $1,738, for a body to carry water hose, a chemical tank, axes, hand extinguishers, etc. Surely this equipment should not be worth more [illegible] very outside.

St. Thomas seems to be establishing two records—one for purchasing for industrial fire protection the cheapest two-ton machine made in America, and the other for paying in excess of the reasonable market value for the same.

Peterborough's proposed motor truck was to have cost in the neighbourhood of $8,000.

LIBERAL PARTY'S RELATION TO THE PARTIZAN REPORT

The debate on the notorious transcontinental report has come to an end. It commenced with a brilliant speech from Mr. Graham. It closes on the Liberal side with a burst of illuminating eloquence from Sir Wilfrid Laurier. When the garbled synopsis was first sent out through the Conservative press the question in the minds of most people was: What defence can the Government make? So far as the Liberals are concerned their defence soon became an attack. And an attack it has been all along the line.

The commissioners have been the subjects of attack. Not as to their ability, but as to their character. They have been cited to appear before the public without disguise. The one a bitter partisan, and a strong opponent of the Transcontinental Railway, the other an employee of a rival road, temporarily in the service of the Government at the highest salary Canada has ever paid. They have been attacked for the way they carried on their investigation, holding their sessions behind closed doors, confining themselves to the time of the late government, and making no inquiries into the conduct of the present administration, though the terms of their appointment covered the latter period as well as the former. It has been shown that they presented false statements, and gave a garbled account of facts, that in their conclusions they have disregarded the opinions of the best legal and railway experts; and they have overlooked the well-considered policy approved by parliament and people, that they have accused the former government of business methods which, if bad, have been imitated by the present authorities, that in their report "from every syllable partisanship oozes out in distortion and misrepresentation."

The present Government has been attacked with vigour. Its animus object in appointing a commission of partisans for the sole purpose of proving wrong-doing on the part of its predecessors was self-evident. But most clearly has been shown another underlying motive—the desire to injure the Transcontinental, and to justify themselves in completing it as an inferior line, at a serious disadvantage when compared with rival railways. And they have been attacked for their possibly unintentional blow to the credit and good name of the Dominion. That Mr. Borden and his colleagues should have been anxious to injure their predecessors was perfectly excusable. But when they undertake to damage what should be one of Canada's greatest assets, and cast reproach on their country besides, that is unpardonable.

So far as the defence of the Liberal Government was concerned, the attack on Mr. Borden and his commission served the purpose amply. Sir Wilfrid for himself and his associates is prepared to take all the responsibility for the course pursued in constructing a railway that should have no superior on this continent. The Liberals have faith in Canada, and are not ashamed of any effort to have our public works worthy of Canada's future. And they can confidently appeal from the judgment of prejudiced partisans of the present to the common sense of the people both now and hereafter.

CAMP INSPECTED BURGLARS GONE

Detectives Newhall and Meagher of the local force, assisted the Lindsay police last week in inspecting the rendezvous of the burglars who invaded Lindsay. The Lindsay Warder says that the Peterborough officers were met at the Lindsay (C. P. R.) station, on Friday morning, at 10.23 a.m., by Chief Chilton and Constable Foster, the four officers taking the train for Orillia. The object of the visit to the lake town was for the purpose of further investigating matters in connection with the recent burglaries which took place in Lindsay.

The tranquilizers of trouble arrived there at 11.45 oclock a.m., where they were met by Chief of Police Reid and his assistant Constable Wright.

Visited the Camp.

After dinner Chief Reid engaged a rig and drove the officers to the shack, two miles north of Orillia, where the bandits hold high carnival and foregather to distribute their plunder and formulate plans for raids through near-by towns. It is the Octopus or head octpus, and sends out its tentacles to the places most vulnerable, using youths in most instances to perform the most nefarious work. Weak-minded youths, lured by a monetary consideration, risk their lives to support a gang of wise old renegades.

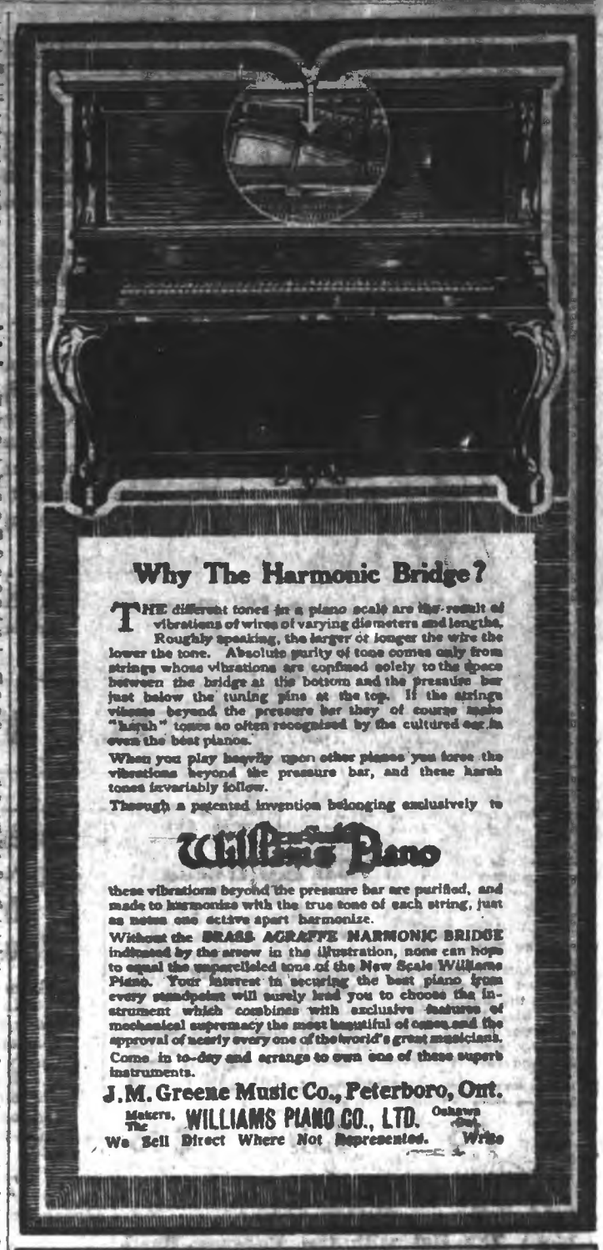
In the rendezvous.

The officers on going out to the shack, which is built of boards, found it was fitted up with boxes to sit upon, the floor being littered with straw, upon which the outlaws slept. Old rags were strewn around, a bolster placed under their head while resting, and a large comforter comprised some of the contents and bedding. Cotton batting was discovered on the premises. This was used for packing around explosives which are used in safe bowing. Cartridges, rail road tickets and other goods were found.

The place was exactly as young Smith described it to Chief Chilton before the constables left for Orillia.

Birds Had Flown.

The officers found the men had flown before they got there, but they received sufficient information to put them in touch with the workings of the secret organization, which has Montreal as the metropolis, where the loot is sent to and disposed of.



Why The Harmonic Bridge?

THE different tones in a piano scale are the result of vibrations of wires of varying diameters and lengths. Roughly speaking, the larger or longer the wire the lower the tone. Absolute purity of tone comes only from strings whose vibrations are confined solely to the space between the bridge at the bottom and the pressure bar just below the tuning pins at the top. If the strings vibrate beyond the pressure bar they of course make "harsh" tones so often recognized by the cultured ear in even the best pianos.

When you play heavily upon other pianos you force the vibrations beyond the pressure bar, and these harsh tones invariably follow.

Through a patented invention belonging exclusively to these vibrations beyond the pressure bar are purified, and made to harmonize with the true tone of each string, just as notes one octave apart harmonize.

Williams Piano

Without the BRASS AGRAFFE HARMONIC BRIDGE indicated by the arrow in the illustration, none can hope to equal the unparelleled tone of the New Scale Williams Piano. Your interest in securing the best piano from every standpoint will surely lead you to choose the instrument which combines with exclusive features of mechanical supremacy the most beautiful of cases and the approval of nearly every one of the world's great musicians.

Come in to-day and arrange to own one of these superb instruments.

J. M. Greene Music Co., Peterboro, Ont.

Makers, The WILLIAMS PIANO CO., LTD. Oshawa, Ont.

We Sell Direct Where Not Represented. Write

NO MORE "NEAR MAPLE."

New Act Will Restrict Use of Word to Pure Syrup.

OTTAWA, April 6.—If the act to amend the adulteration act of Mr. Nantel becomes law, it will make illegal the use of the word "maple" or anything like it on any sugar or syrup that is not pure maple sugar or syrup. No compounds will henceforth be permitted to use the word "maple." They will have to be named in some other way.

The House gave the bill a second reading and sent it to the Agriculture Committee, where the sugar producers and dealers and others interested will have a chance of making their wishes known.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Blackburn Rovers Lead The First Division By 8 Points

Complete List of League Tables to Date—Notts County in Running For Second Division—Swindon and Crystal Palace Near Each Other in Southern League.

The Thistle beat the Rose by three goals to one Saturday at Hampden Park, Glasgow, and according to cables received and published in Saturday's Examiner it was a magnificent sight. Over a hundred and thirty thousand paid for admission to the game, and thousands were turned away.

The line-up was:

Scotland

Brownlie (Third Lanark), McNair and Dodds (Celtic), Gordon (Rangers), Thomson (Sunderland), Hay (Newcastle), Donalson (Bolton Wanderers), McMenemy (Celtic), Reid (Rangers), Croal (Falkirk), Donnachie (Oldham.)

England.

Hardy (Aston), Crompton (Blackburn), Pennington (West Bromwich), Sturgess (Sheffield United), McCall (Preston), McNeal (West Bromwich), Walden (Tottenham), Fleming (Swindon), Hampton (Aston), Smith (Bolton), Mosscrop (Burnley).

The goal scorers were: McMenemy 2, Fleming and Thompson.

Derby Surprise Manchester.

Derby County gave Manchester United a bad beating at Derby to-day, much to the surprise of the Lancashire men who predicted an easy win for their favourites. The Hyde Road aggregation, however, relieved the situation and gave the Oldham team a beating at Manchester, thus evening things up a little.

Sheffield United have the cup finalists a five to nothing whitewashing at Sheffield. It looks as if Burnley are holding themselves in readiness for the final at the Palace with Liverpool. It must be a lucky day for Sheffield, as while the United were piling up a score at home the Wednesdays were defeating Sunderland at Sunderland. The poor "Villans" got it bad again, beaten at Birmingham by their old rivals, Newcastle United. They must now say good-bye to their chances of getting the league championship for the season.

Tailenders Make Tall Score.

Glossop, the tailenders of the Second Division, put it all over the "Imps" at Lincoln Saturday and the score sheet read 5 to 1 in favour of the visitors when the whistle blew for time. Only two of the home teams in the Second Division managed to win and these were Notts Forest and Fulham. The former downed the "Peacocks" from Leeds, and the latter just got one goal ahead of the "Wolves" from Wolverhampton. Notts County maintained their hold on the leadership by getting a narrow decision over Barnsley.

Only Seven Games in Scottish.

Only seven league games were played in Scotland on account of the great interest taken in the international game at Glasgow. Hearts and Raith Rovers divided the honour of high scorers for the day, both elevens getting five. The former had Dumbarton as their victims, whilst the latter put St. Mirren on the wrong side of the score sheet. The following are Saturday's scores and league standings compiled up to date:

International

Scotland 3, England 1.

The following are the league tables compiled to date:

First Division.

	P.	W.	L.	D.	Goals Fr.	Ag.	Pts
Blackburn R.	36	19	6	9	77	40	47
Bolton W.	36	15	9	9	61	42	39
Aston Villa	33	16	11	6	57	42	38
W. Brom. A.	36	13	10	12	39	38	38
Sunderland	34	15	13	6	57	48	36
Middlesboro.	32	15	12	5	60	54	35
Oldham A.	32	13	11	8	45	42	34
Bradford C.	33	11	10	12	34	33	34
Everton	33	12	12	9	43	46	33
Chelsea	33	12	13	8	38	40	32
Burnley	33	10	12	11	50	44	31
Totten. H.	33	11	13	9	46	52	31
Liverpool	33	12	1	7	42	53	31
Newcastle U.	33	11	13	9	36	45	31
Manches. U.	32	14	14	4	48	58	30
Manches. C.	33	11	14	8	41	47	30
Sheffield W.	34	12	16	6	47	61	30
Sheffield U.	32	12	15	5	50	53	29
Preston N. E.	35	11	19	5	49	63	27
Derby Coun.	33	9	15	10	51	61	28

Second Division.

	P.	W.	L.	D.	Goals Fr.	Ag.	Pts
Notts County	35	23	7	6	64	54	50
Woolwich A.	32	17	8	7	44	34	41
Bradford	33	19	12	8	52	44	41
Hull City	33	15	9	9	49	53	39
Leeds City	32	17	11	4	70	43	38
Bristol C.	32	15	11	7	48	45	37
Clapton O.	32	15	17	7	49	38	37
Wolver W.	33	16	13	4	44	45	36
Bury	32	13	11	9	35	34	35
Fulham	32	14	13	6	43	49	34
Barnsley	32	13	11	8	40	50	34
Grimsby T.	30	12	12	6	36	47	30
Stockport C.	33	11	1	9	47	46	31
Birmingham	33	11	14	8	40	52	30
Hudders. T.	33	10	17	7	36	47	27
Blackpool	33	6	14	11	28	37	27
Leic. Fosse	33	10	20	3	42	55	23
Glossop	33	9	19	5	45	60	23
Lincoln C.	34	8	20	6	34	63	22
Notts Forest	36	6	18	9	33	64	21

Scottish League.

	P.	W.	L.	D.	Goals Fr.	Ag.	Pts
Celtic	32	25	3	4	81	11	54
Rangers	34	25	6	3	72	27	53
Hearts	35	23	5	8	65	34	52
Morton	35	23	10	2	71	37	48
Airdrie	36	18	7	11	70	30	47
Falkirk	36	18	9	8	64	49	44
Dundee	36	16	14	5	54	51	37
Third Lanark	31	11	12	8	35	41	30
Raith R.	34	12	17	5	52	51	29
Motherwell	33	12	16	5	47	47	29
Clyde	36	10	16	9	40	48	29
Kilmarnock	13	10	14	9	44	61	29
Partick T.	33	10	16	7	34	40	27
Ayr United	34	11	18	5	47	67	27
Hibernians	33	11	18	4	51	66	26
Aberdeen	34	9	17	8	35	52	26
Queen's Park	31	9	15	7	47	69	25
Hamilton A.	33	8	19	6	43	62	22
Dumbarton	33	8	20	5	37	71	21
St. Mirren	33	8	19	6	36	66	20

Southern League.

	P.	W.	L.	D.	Goals Fr.	Ag.	Pts
Swindon T.	33	20	8	5	76	38	45
Crystal P.	36	16	5	12	55	39	44
Reading	33	18	8	8	43	30	42
Plymouth A.	32	13	8	11	42	38	37
W. Ham. U.	32	14	9	9	53	47	37
Northampton	33	10	7	16	36	31	36
Brigh. and H.	31	13	9	9	37	35	35
Queen's P. R.	31	12	10	9	38	37	33
Exeter City	32	11	10	11	37	33	33
Portsmouth	32	1	11	10	45	42	32
Gillingham	32	12	11	8	46	45	32
Southampton	33	13	14	6	48	49	32
Millwall A.	31	11	11	9	45	44	31
Norwich City	33	8	11	14	46	46	30
Cardiff City	32	10	13	9	40	40	29
Southend U.	33	10	15	8	38	49	28
Watford	34	9	18	7	43	49	25
Bristol R.	32	9	16	7	39	61	25
Merthyr T.	32	7	16	9	28	54	23
Coventry C.	33	4	17	12	34	63	20

PETERBOROUGH ATHLETIC CLUB MEETS WEDNESDAY

Every member of the Peterborough Athletic Club is expected to attend the meeting of the club in the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday night of this week. Important business will come up, including the club room question which will be settled on Wednesday. All members and all wishing to join should make it a point to be on hand on Wednesday night at 8 o'cock, sharp. The reports from the collectors are very encouraging.

Big Crowd For The Lacrosse Meeting To-night

Judging by the interest being shown around town there will be a grand meeting at the St. Alphonsus Lyceum to-night when the Peterborough Lacrosse Club will be organized It is expected that all the old players and enthusiasts will be out while there will be a big attendance of youngsters as well. Officers will be elected to-night and other arrangements made for the season.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE FOR PETES TRAINING CAMP

Manager Curley Blount has all arrangements completed for the training season and transportation will be sent to the players on the Petes' roster this week. The players will be ordered to reach Youngstown a week from to-morrow, Tuesday, April 14, ready to commence training on the following morning. The Peterborough players will be quartered at the Tod House, Youngstown and the training will be carried on at Wright Park, a spendid grounds, with comfortable dressing rooms equipped with shower baths and other facilities for training. The Petes will spend three weeks at Youngstown and in that time will play six or seven exhibition games, including one with the Chicago White Sox, if Manager Blount's plans go through.

The new leader of the Petes is decidedly businesslike and he has taken hold of the preliminary work in a manner that is delighting the local directors. He has everything ready for the training camp and will undoubtedly drive the Petes at top speed through the three weeks of training. This is the longest spring workout the Peterborough ball club has yet undertaken and the players should be in fine shape when they face the barrier in Erie on May 7th. Incidentally, the presence of the Petes in Ohio for nearly a month will be a big publicity boost for this City.

Athletic Club Won From Collegiate By 35 To 34

In the closest and most evenly fought game of the season the Peterborough Athletic Club feated the Collegiate Institute team in a City Basketball League fixture in the Y.M. C.A. gymnasium on Saturday night by 35 points to 34. Half-way home the students were in front by 20 to 18. The figures are an accurate indication of the play. The teams were very evenly matched and the pace was fast from start to finish. The Collegiate opened stu at a clip that had the Athletic Club going and before the double blue had scored a point the Collegians had caged five field baskets and a foul. With the score 11 to 0 against them, the P.A.C. rallied and had the better of the play until the end of the half, leaving the floor at half time a basket behind. Early in the second half the double play forced matters and went out in front. It was nip and tuck until the finish, but the Athletic Club managed to hold their lead. With a minute to play they were four points in front, but the Collegians managed to score a field basket and a foul in the last sixty seconds, leaving the Athletic Club winners by the narrowest possible margin of one point. The P. A.C. were without Bartlett, while the Collegiates were shy the services of Horsfield. The teams were as follows:

Collegiate—
Backs—Peever, Rogers.
Centre—Canniff.
Forwards—Knapman, Carruthers.

Peterborough A.—
Backs—Darling, Craig.
Centre—Flowers.
Forwards—Long, Smyth.

The standing in the League is as follows:

	W.	L.	To Play
Peterborough A.C.	2	0	2
Leaders	1	1	2
Collegiate	0	2	2

MORE ENTRIES FOR THE WRESTLING CHAMPIONSHIPS

The classes are filling up nicely for the city wrestling championships that are to be decided in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium next Thursday evening. In addition to the entries already reported entries have now been received in some of the heavier classes, including T. Harpley and Andrew Gibson in the welter-weight, or 145-pound class, and of Alex. Gibson in the 158-pound class. All three entries are from Toronto.

Harpley is a wrestler whom Scott of the Peterborough Y.M.C.A. defeated on points in Toronto two weeks ago. Harpley is strong and has been working out faithfully with the Toronto boys, and is anxious if possible to get another try at Scott in the hope of reversing the decision. Andrew Gibson is one of the classiest wrestlers in Toronto. He is the Ontario Y.M.C. A champion, and has decisions to his credit from Adams, of the West-End Y.M.C.A., the crack wrestler who beat Scott on points in the recent Toronto tournament.

It is a sight worth going some distance to see just to look at Gibson's magnificent physical development. In the Toronto championships he was as lean as a race horse with muscles standing out in knots all over his shoulders, arms and stomach. His abdomenal development is equalled by very few athletes. None of the Peterborough boys met him in the Toronto contests, but it was noticed that he was fast and tricky and inclined to go after the scissors holds. He had a way of jumping across his opponent when on the mat taking a face hold and throwing his opponent backward in an effort to secure the scissors hold and arm lock. This manoeuvre he reversed once or twice by taking a leg lock over his opponent's head, getting a body hold and endeavouring to throw his opponent by sommersaulting him over his head. Gibson looks like a likely winner in this class, although he will have to work for his decision. Other entries in this class besides Harpley are Will Scott, Mel Turner, and possibly a third entry on the part of a new member of the local class, who has been doing good work during the past year.

As yet Alex. Gibson, a brother of Andrew, is the only entry in the middle-weight class. No entries from Peterborough have been received in this class as yet.

Entries close to-morrow with Mr. J. J. Thompson, Physical Instructor, Y.M.C.A.

MORE TOWNS ENTER THE RACING ASSOCIATION

The Central Ontario Racing Association, organized some weeks ago at Orillia, has grown by leaps and bounds. Other towns have come in and a splendid circuit will be arranged. The list now includes Peterborough, Belleville, Lindsay, Beaverton, Cannington, Orillia, Penetang, Brace bridge, Huntsville, Burk's Falls, and possibly New Liskeard, while Port Hope also wants to come in. There will be a meeting at Orillia on Monday next, when the details of the circuit will be arranged.

A meeting of the local horsemen has been called for the Montgomery House to-morrow, Tuesday night, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of arranging the classes and purses for the local meet, which will open the circuit, the bell ringing here on June 17th and 18th.

The success of the new association seems to be assured.

TO NEGOTIATE FOR A TRADE

President O'Neil of the Erie Canadian League Club will open negotiations with Manager "Midge" Craven of the St. Thomas club for the transfer of a first baseman for some of the pitching staff, which the Railroad City leader seems to have plenty of with a conspicuous absence of a first-sacker. With former Erie First Baseman Gygil, who was purchased from St. Joseph, of the Western League, almost certain to deliver the kind of ball not to wearrant the carrying of another man on the Erie Club, Manager Smith feels inclined to make a deal with First Baseman Owen Harris of Baltimore, for one of the St. Thomas pitchers. An even deal would be considered for Pitcher Joe Clement by the Erie Club.

VICTIM OF WRECK IS BURIED TO-DAY

Special Wire to The Examiner:

NORWOOD, April 6.—The funeral of Engineer G. L. Vincent, the former Norwood man, who was killed at Cherrywood on the new line of the C.P.R. last week, took place here at noon to-day on the arrival of the noon C.P.R. train. The deceased was born and raised in Norwood, and had many friends here, although no close relatives of his reside in this village. He leaves a wife and four small children.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE ATTRACTIONS

GRAND OPERA HOUSE : : : TO-NIGHT AND TUESDAY

J. Warren Kerrigan in "THE PASSERBY" A splendid 3-reel Victor Feature

4 Other Reels 4 Comedy and Drama

Continuous Evening Performance commencing at 7.30 & 9 p.m.

ADULTS 10c CHILDREN 5c.

WATCH THIS SPACE FOR SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT FOR GOOD FRIDAY AND SATURDAY AT "THE GRAND"

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, WEDNESDAY APRIL 8th.

A Play of New York Life—With Nothing to Offend.

A GIRL OF THE UNDERWORLD

IN FOUR ACTS

PRICES—25c, 35c, 50c—Gallery 15c.

SEATS ON SALE

Random Ravings

Things we do not expect to see this summer:

Jo Jo Keenan.
Louie Cook.
Umpire Daly.
Cozy Dolan stealing two bases in one game.
Stan. Cresswell batting .350.
Dad Stewart throwing a man out at the home plate.
Ottawa finishing a game with the line-up which they started.

With Flanagan and O'Hearn fighting it out for the position there is a kind of a Home Rule tinge to the first base job on the Peterborough Ball club.

Ottawa papers all remind us,
And Shaughnessy himself says its true;
That the Senators will cop once again,
With nothing but the wrecking crew.

A fan wants to know if Trout will come back to Peterborough if he doesn't make good with the Toronto Internationals. Like Kelly will.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE RACE STARTS TO-DAY

Special to The Examiner:

CHARLESTON, S.C., April 6.—The race for the championship pennant of the South Atlantic baseball league started to-day, with Columbia playing Augusta, Jacksonville at Albany, Columbus at Macon and Savannah in this city. Since the close of last season the league has enlarged its circuit from six clubs to eight clubs by the addition of Columbia and Augusta, both of which cities were formerly members of the organization. The schedule this year calls for two seasons, the first opening to-day, and the second June 18. The season will close August 29.

BASEBALL

TORONTO, April 6.—The Toronto Canadian Leaguers will report in this city on the 20th inst., and immediately commence training at the Island Stadium. Exhibition games with Niagara University have been booked for the Stadium on Friday and Saturday, May 1 and 2, respectively.

The management of the local Canadian Leaguers have made a diligent search of Toronto and immediate environs for property that would make a suitable park. To date it has been impossible to secure such a place, and it is now almost a certainty that both Toronto teams will play their games at the Island Stadium.

At a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Typos Ball Club, held at the Examiner Office on Saturday night, the club was re-organised for the season. The Typos will enter the Mercantile League if one is formed, or else make application for a City League franchise. The following officers were elected:

Hon. Presidents: Messrs. R. M. Glover, T. W. Whalley, W. H. Robertson.
President, Fred. D. Craig.
Vice-President, C. E. Curtis.
Secretary-Treasurer, J. Cook.
Executive Committee: Jos. A. Maynard, J. Cook, A. Miller.
Manager, Jos. A. Maynard.

RED MILL TO-DAY CYNTHY
Featuring MISS. WADLEY
The Great Peterboro Favourite
KING BAGGOT in an IMP Feature
4—Other Reels—4
6—Reels Every Show—6
5c Admission To All 5c

Princess Theatre
TO-DAY BIG FEATURE
AMERICAN BORN
in 2 parts
5—Other Reels—5
SPECIAL VAUDEVILLE
Matinees Nights
5c and 10c

SIMPLEX
SHOE POLISH
Brightest and Best

Here, Gentlemen,
Are Clothes of Quality
Clothes that any man, no matter what his position in life, can be proud to wear; Clothes that will lift any man up and away from the ordinary by giving him an appearance and bearing of taste, dignity and good judgment.
IN A WORD, MEN, we offer to you the finest Tailored Clothes in the world, garments that not only look well when you buy them, but as long as you wear them, because every detail in their making is looked after with the greatest care that not a solitary thing be left undone that is vitally important in making them the
"CLOTHES THAT SATISFY"
$18 to $30
They are made by SOCIETY BRAND, of course. Some men do not buy them because they think they are "expensive," but as a matter of fact, they are the cheapest clothes in the world, if you consider all that you get for the money. Any man who wears them will tell you so.
Society Brand Clothes
We Would Like to Show You a Few of the Newest Styles. Come
H. LeBRUN & CO.
WHERE QUALITY IS KING

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL
Spring Prices Dropped One Month Earlier Than Usual.
I sell exclusively Lehigh Valley Coal Company's Coal. THE BEST IN THE WORLD PROPERLY SCREENED at the following Cash Prices, to come in effect April 1st, 1914.

Egg Coal	-	$6.75 per Ton
Stove Coal	-	$6.75 per Ton
Nut Coal	-	$7.00 per Ton
Pea Coal	-	$6.00 per Ton

Early buyers are asked to order as soon as possible, and not wait till end of month, as prices quoted are for present delivery, so we will be pleased to have your orders by Mail, Phone or Personal Call at the Office.
Thanking the general public for the very large patronage of the past season, I hope by strict attention to your requirements to merit a continuance of the same.
J. E. A. FITZGERALD
PHONE 111.

Robt. Fair & Co. Ltd.

Every Day Something New For Easter

New Suits, New Coats
New Dresses New Waists

Suits in the newest spring models in all the popular materials. A host of new arrivals daily—you almost hourly—at this busy period of the season. They represent the cleverest and most desirable of the latest models. As fast as they are produced they come to us. Our stock is always kept up with the neatest styles for your selection.

Leading The Way in New Millinery

Our whole sale suppliers in New York keeps us in direct touch with every up-to-the-minute creation in Millinery, and acting on advice received during the past few days our skilled Milliners have made up many new models presenting fresh touches of novelty.

At $5.00, $5.98, $7.00 and $9.50 may be found charming trimmed hats from our works rooms.

Gloves Most Acceptable Easter Gifts

Nowhere in Peterboro will be found so large an assortment and reliable a quality as carried by Robt. Fair & Co. Complete spring stock.

Glace, Suede, Cape Mocha in Ladies' and Children's sizes

75c, $1.00, $1.35, $1.50

CITY AND GENERAL

Notice.

Painting, papering and graining at reasonable prices. —Geo. Hawke, Brownstown P. O. 'Phone 1431. 22d-6t

Notice!

Carting and moving promptly and carefully attended to. Call or address J. Kelleher, 261 Rotaline St. 26d-6t

Probabilities.

Fresh winds, unsettled with occasional rain or sleet to-night, and on Tuesday a little higher temperature.

UNION SERVICE.

A union service will be held on Good Friday under the auspices of the Ministerial Association in Murray Street Baptist Church at 3 o'clock. The service will be conducted by the different ministers of the City.

A Mysterious Young Boarder.

A learned, solitary young man is unable to pay his board bills. You'll find out why in "Quaed," by Henry Harrison. Formerly sold at $1.25; Now 50c; over 1000 good titles to choose from at Trebilcock Bros. 'Phone 285.

Auction Sale

At the home of Mr. R. Waram, 227 Sherbrooke Street, Tuesday, April 14th, at 1.30 o'clock, including piano, sewing machine, gas stove, wool carpets, rugs, and general household goods. All must be sold. Terms cash. —W. J. Hancock, Auctioneer. 6d-8t

Read This—Six Bargains.

Stewart Street—Brick house. All conveniences. Attic floored. Price $2,250.00.

Five acres of ground and buildings. Close to the city. Price $600.

Ask C. J. Carroll & Co. They know. 372 Water steret. 'Phone 822. Open evenings. We sell the earth.

ST. JOHN'S NOTICES.

Holy Week.

Monday—7.30, Evening service; 8 p. m., Communicants meet in school room.

Tuesday—5, Evening service.

Wednesday—8, Special Lenten service. Address by the Rev. F. J. Sawers.

Maundy Thursday—5 p.m., Evening service; 8 p.m., Choir practice. Boys at 7.30.

Good Friday—11 a.m., Morning prayer, Litany and sermon; 2.30, Children's service; 3 p.m., Union service in Murray Street church; 8 p.m., Solemn performance of Stainer's "Crucifixion" by the choirs of All Saints' and St. Luke's.

Holy Saturday—9 a.m., Boys' practice. Flowers sent to Chancel Guild for Easter decoration; 5 p.m., Easter eve service.

Easter Day—7, 8, 12, Holy communion; 11 a.m. Matins and sermon; 7, Choral evensong and sermon. Preacher, Rev. Dr. Boyle, Trinity College, Toronto.

Should Have Been Omitted.

In the Division Court docket, published in Friday's Examiner the case of the Toronto Slipper Mfg. Co. vs. J. W. Carey, should not have appeared. The case was settled fully two weeks previous, but had not been struck from the list, consequently its publication. The amount should have read $35.70, instead of $135.70.

Try The Sanitary Grocery Store for

Home-made Raspberries, Sweet Oranges, Fancy Biscuits, Tickler's Pure Jam, Black Currant, Raspberry and Strawberry; Fearman's Hams and Bacon, fresh eggs and butter, Lea & Perrin's Sauce, Heinz Catsup, Beans and Sweet Pickles, Castor Sugar and Loaf Sugar. Also Lettuce, Onions, and Raddishes.—James R. Bell, 197 Hunter Street; near Bell Telephone Co. Phone 455.

ASK US AND SEE BETTER

TAIT OPTICAL CO.

410 George St. 'Phone 1160

THE HOUSE WITH A GUARANTEE

Our Guarantee is not just so many words. It means that if your Glasses are not right, we will make them right, to your entire satisfaction.

Besides being experts in Eye Examination and Lens Manufacturing, we are always at adjusting frames and supplies to suit your own individual face.

Come and let us adjust your Glasses free of charge, whether we make them or not.

Attention Satisfaction Guaranteed

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. T. W. Robinson, Weller Street, will not receive Tuesday or again this season.

Mrs. G. G. Graham, Gilmour street, will not receive to-morrow, nor again this season.

Mrs. R. P. Watt, Gilmour Street, will not receive Tuesday, nor again this summer.

Mrs. H. C. Moyer, 555 Weller Street, will not receive to-morrow, (Tuesday), nor again this season.

Mrs. W. Nicholls of Haliburton, and Miss Clara Balock of Keene, have returned from a short visit to Port Perry.

Mr. L. S. Edney, formerly of Crossman's, left this morning for Hamilton, where he will take up his new duties with the A. M. Souter Co.

Miss Gertrude Kylie and Miss Minnie Corrin left to-day for Montreal, where they will spend a week visiting friends and relatives.

MUSIC AT ST. ANDREW'S

At the morning service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, yesterday morning, Mr. Edward Jones sang "The Palms. Mr. Jones has a resonant tenor voice, and his solo was greatly appreciated.

In the evening Master Sam Whitehouse rendered "Oh Happy Day," in a clear soprano voice, and added greatly to the brightness of the service.

OBITUARY

JOSEPH H. GOODFELLOW.

The death of Joseph H. Goodfellow, formerly of Peterborough, took place at the home of his sister, Mrs. T. A. Somerville, Hartney, Man., on Wednesday, March 18, 1914.

The deceased was 34 years and 9 month old. He was born at Frazerville, Ont., June 19, 1879. There he spent his youth on a farm, being educated in Peterborough, where he also learned the trade which he followed to the time of his illness.

He worked for a number of years in Peterborough, afterwards going to the Great Lakes where he served four years as night-watchman and cook. Later he was employed for some time as cook for the Victoria Harbour Lumber Company, where he remained until coming to Hartney, Man., in the fall of 1912, where he has since lived with his sister until the time of his death.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his mother, who was at his bedside at the time of his death, and one sister, Mrs. T. A. Somerville, Hartney, Man., and three brothers, Archie Goodfellow, R. T. Goodfellow, of Calgary, Alta., and Jas. Armstrong, a half-brother of Peterborough.

Interment was made at Riverside cemetery, Hartney, Man., on Friday, March 20, 1914.

Th Rev. D. B. Kennedy, pastor of the Methodist Church, Hartney, Man., conducted the services at both the residence and the grave before a large gathering of friends and neighbours, speaking words of counsel and solace to the sorrowing hearts of the bereaved.

Suspect Arrested By Barrie Police

BARRIE, April 6.—Chief of Police King has placed under arrest here a burglar suspect, who gave his former place of residence as Lindsay. He will be held until the police are satisfied with his story. There have been a number of burglaries here of late, and the police of this town as well as the northern centres are keeping a sharp look-out for suspicious characters.

UNIONIST RETURNED UNOPPOSED

Special Cable to The Examiner:

BELFAST, Ireland, April 6.—Colonel Sharman Crawford, Unionist, was to-day returned unopposed as member of Parliament for East Belfast, in succession to the late Major McMordie.

Wonder if the younger generation gets the spring allowance of Sussers specialty, molasses and sulphur?

Says the Omemee correspondent to the Millbrook Reporter: "Mr. W. G. Hamilton has sold his high-stepping driving horse for a good figure." If it is true that many men have sold themselves for good figures this must have been some horse.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED

Bulgarian Apprehended in His Native Country in Connection With Death of Countryman at Havelock

INQUEST TO-DAY

From a Staff Reporter:

HAVELOCK, Ont., April 6.—Public sentiment, coupled with information emanating from official sources, support the theory that 20 year old N. Duloff, a Bulgarian, whose body was taken from the pond here on Sunday, March 29th, was foully murdered, with robbery as the motive. Kolo Volicoff, who hurriedly returned to Bulgaria following Duloff's disappearance, has been apprehended in his native country. It is expected that information will be revealed at the investigation that will result in the return of Volicoff to Peterborough County. It is stated that Volicoff cashed the cheeks which were made out in favour of Duloff, and which amounted to several hundred dollars.

It was thought at first to-day that the inquest scheduled for this afternoon would have to b postponed, as Assistant Crown Attorney Wearing failed to arrive on the noon train. However, Mr. Wearing arrived here on a freight train and has ordered the inquest to proceed providing the necessary jurymen and witnesses can be rounded up. Provincial Detective Boyd is also here, and he went over the scene of the supposed murder in company with Constable Post.

ANNUAL MEETING OF PETERBOROUGH DISTRICT PRESBYTERIAL

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Presbyterial of the Women's Home Missionary of the Presbyterian Church was held in the St. Andrew's Church this afternoon. Tonight the Rev. A. L. Geggie of Parkdale will address a public meeting.

This afternoon the meeting was attended by delegates from the different Presbyteries in this district, there being a good representation. The time was devoted to reports and routine business. The reports were encouraging and were indicative of the activity of the Presbyterial during the past year.

On all four walls of the Church there were hung in preparation for the meeting, photographs and diagrams indicating what work was being done, what work there was to do and under what conditions it must be done. One picture showed in an interesting group the Church, Manse and main street of Fort George, B. C. The hospital at Telegraph Creek, the Indian scholars at Birtle, B. C., the new hospital at Wakaw, Sask., and many other scenes of interest to those engaged in promoting the domestic missionary work were shown in detail by splendid photographs.

Several charts were hung at different prominent places in the Church, and one of them depicted by figures the actual population of a mining town in northern Ontario. The population of this town was:

Germans 20, French 37, Spanish 35, Polish 183, English etc., 151; Bulgarian 169, Italian 314, Finns 209, Total, 1061.

Three maps, one of the past, one of the present, and one of the future showed how many Presbyterian churches there were a hundred years ago; how many there are today, and the third showed the lines in Canada along which settlement of the country is taking place. The first map was only sparsely dotted with blue spots, but the second was almost covered with them.

A drawing of the $25,000 hospital being erected at Kenora, Sask., by Mrs. Hugh Waddell of this City, in memory of her husband, was also included in the pictures.

Deputation Will Wait Upon The City Council

In Reference to a By-law That Was Enacted Recently Governing the Sale of Cigarettes

HOTELS NOT AFFECTED

It is understood that a deputation representing the local tobacconists will wait upon the City Council this evening, in reference to the by-law that was recently enacted, compelling retail tobacconists and others engaged in the retail sale of cigarettes, to pay a license fee of forty dollars a year. Storekeepers claim that a license fee of forty dollars, is prohibitive and tends to create a monopoly among a few of the larger dealers and hotels. The latter are not affected by the new regulation, as they are governed by provincial legislation, which at the present time concedes the privilege of retailing cigarettes under the wing of the regular liquor license. A petition has been widely circulated by the dealers, and signed by those who profess to be in sympathy with the dealers. This document will in all probability be presented to the City Council, this evening. It is stated that the profit accruing from the sale of one ten-cent box of cigarettes, is one cent, so that a dealer would have to sell four hundred boxes in order to pay the license.

A Fifty Dollar License.

Aylmer, Ontario Council has decided to strictly enforce a by-law passed some years ago, governing the sale of cigarettes there. A license fee of $50 will be charged all dealers handling cigarettes after May 1, and any found guilty of selling without a license will be prosecuted.

SWP—BRIGHTEN UP!—SWP

Don't Worry!

These finger marks will wash right off. Walls finished with Sheltwin Flattone

Flattone Wall Finish

Are as durable as they are delicate and beautiful. They are not easily marred and can be easily and quickly washed. Flattoned Walls are fadeless and stay bright and beautiful for many years.

Flattone Wall Finish

Makes an ideal finish for every room of the house. You have your choice of many beautiful colours. "Soft as the Rainbow tints," they harmonize perfectly and make home cheery and bright.

Flattoned Walls

Lend themselves admirably to artistic panelling. Call and get our folder of colours and suggestions.

Phone 119 MORGAN HARDWARE Co. 227 George.

LIMITED

The House of Quality and Service

SWP—BRIGHTEN UP!—SWP

Stock Markets

A. E. Stratton & Co., brokers, report fluctuations in New York stocks to-day as follows:

New York Stocks

Stocks	Open.	Close.
ATCH	97¼	97¼
B. T.
C. O.	127¼	127¼
M. O. P.	25⅜	25⅜
N. P.	114⅜	114⅜
R. I.	3⅜	3⅜
R. Z.	6¼	6¼
St. P.	100⅝	101
S. P.	94½	94⅝
U. P.	159⅜	159⅜
C. P. R.	206½	206¼
N. Y. C.	89⅝	89½
Ills.	111	111
L. N.
S. R.	25⅛	25⅜
Pa.	111	116⅛
ERIE	29⅜	29⅜
L. V.	144⅛	144⅞
Rdg.	165½	166⅛
O. W.
B. O.	89⅜	89⅞
C. O.	53⅜	53½
N. K.	103⅜	103⅝
B. R. T.	92⅛	92⅜
A. C. P.	76⅛	76⅜
A. R.	69⅜	69⅜
U. S.	63⅛	63½
C. F. I.	32½	32½
A. L. O.
CAN.	29⅛	29½
RUB.	61¼	61
WOOLWORTH
SUGAR	100½	100
C. P. U.	25½	25½
M. S. P.	65¼	65⅛

Chicago Grain Market

Wheat	Open.	Close
MAY	91	91¾
JULY	87	86¾
Corn
MAY	68¼	68¾
JULY	66¾	66⅝
Oats
MAY	39⅜	39⅝
JULY	36⅜	36⅝

YOUR PORTRAIT—As an Easter remembrance, will be most fitting to the occasion—will be appreciated by your friends as an evidence of your thoughtfulness.

MOULE STUDIO

Next to Ohe's

274½ George St., 'Phone 46

We Are Anxious

to give you any variety of

FISH

we can procure, and we always buy the best quality

Order Early to be sure of Prompt Delivery

Bell 'Phones 18 and 18

W. J. OKE

376 George Street

EXTRA! EXTRA!

Special Easter Suit Purchase

4 DAYS' SUIT SALE

TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY and SATURDAY

This Special Purchase of 55 Suits goes on Sale on Tuesday Morning. Could anything be more opportune, coming as it does, just when you are thinking about your new Easter Suit? These Suits come from one of the best makers—they embody all the newest ideas as the make-up was only completed on Saturday. Almost every colour is represented including all the most popular shades, in a host of different styles, every one up to the minute. Our 4 Days' Sacrifice means a reduction of almost 50%, as they were made to sell at from $18 to $25, some even higher. On sale Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday at one price $12.50

These Suits will not be shown in our windows. An early choice is advised.

The CRESSMAN Store

Women's AND Misses' SUITS

Purchased by Telephone on Saturday.

ON SALE TUESDAY MORNING AT A

LITTLE OVER HALF-PRICE

$12.50

FUN FOR THE BOYS

SEE OUR WINDOWS! -:-:- WATCH OUR AD!

THE AUTO WHEEL COASTER WAGON

has Rubber Bushing and is the strongest, best constructed, easiest running most reliable and most popular Coaster Wagon ever offered for sale. "A chain is no stronger than its weakest link" and a wagon is no stronger than its weakest part—the wheels. If you are going to buy a wagon for your boy also the construction of this wagon before buying. We have wagons from $1.25 to $6.50

Peterboro' Hardware Co.

Limited

BOSTON CAFE, 394 GEO. ST.
For Ladies and Gentlemen
Open all the time.
Ice Cream Parlor Fancy Drinks

The Evening Examiner.

BOSTON CAFE, 394 GEO. ST.
For Ladies and Gentlemen
Open all the time.
Ice Cream Parlor Fancy Drinks

VOL. LV. No. 82 14 PAGES PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, APRIL 7, 1914 PAGES 1 TO 9 PRICE TWO CENTS

EASTER PHOTOGRAPHS

A Portrait of Mother or Father or a group of the children would be a fitting Easter remembrance.

New Styles and appropriate to the occassion.

Arrange for an appointment at

THE ROY STUDIO
140½ HUNTER ST.

BIG SHOW AT EDMONTON

Special to The Examiner.

EDMONTON, Alta., April 7.—The first annual horse show and fat stock show under the auspices of the Edmonton Exhibition Association was opened here to-day under conditions that promise the most successful affair of its kind held in Western Canada. All departments of the exhibition are filled with entries of a high class. Ten thousand dollars in cash prizes and trophies will be distributed. The show will continue until Saturday.

THIS STOMACH REMEDY REMARKABLY SUCCESSFUL

You know us—your home druggist. You know we wouldn't guarantee any remedy to relieve indigestion or dyspepsia, or money back, unless we felt the utmost confidence in that remedy. Therefore, when we offer you Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets with this proof of our faith in them, it leaves you no room for hesitation or doubt.

The remarkable success of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is due to the fact that they contain, among other things, Bismuth and Pepsin, two ingredients endorsed by the medical profession as invaluable in the treatment of stomach ills. They soothe the inflamed stomach, check heartburn and distress, stimulate the secretion of gastric juice, aid in rapid and comfortable digestion of the food and help to quickly convert it into rich, red blood. In a short time they tend to restore the stomach to a naturally comfortable, easy-acting, healthy state. They also benefit the bowels.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

—McDermid & Jury, E. L. Payne, Peterborough, Ont.

Easter Custom

It is a pleasant custom to remember your friends and relatives at Easter.

Why not take advantage of the occasion and have a new Photograph taken in your Easter attire to send to friends?

OPEN GOOD FRIDAY

Appointments for Good Friday, (April 10th) should be made without delay.

ORME STUDIO
170 Charlotte. Phone 626

DELICIOUS FLORIDA TOMATOES

Fine and Firm and in Natural Condition

JOE LONGO & Co.
ITALIAN FRUIT DEALERS
TWO STORES } 416 GEORGE ST. PHONE 881
230 CHARLOTTE ST PHONE 1013

ROYAL THEATRE
TO-DAY
BIG ATTRACTION
The Sea Eternal
In 2 parts
DON'T MISS THIS
5—Other Reels—5
SPECIAL
Vaudeville
MAYKELLY
5c and 10c

Something About Judas Maccabeus

Great Oratorio Will Be Presented Wednesday, April 29th

The announcement in last Saturday's issue that the soloists are engaged for "Judas Maccabaeus," Handel's famous oratorio, to be given in the Grand Opera House, reminds us that the second season of the highest type of choral study, the oratorio, nears its end, as the work is to be given on Wednesday, April 29th. The amount of arduous work in a production is enormous, and all the members of the St. George's Choral Society are worthy of the hearty support of the public.

Second only in importance to the "Messiah," (so finely given last year by the same organization), the story of the great hero "Judas Maccabaeus" who lived B.C. 200 and rescued the Jews from their Syrian foes, is to be found in the "Apocrypha," as well as in the 12th Book of Antiquities" (Josephus). It is hard to believe that the heathen gods, "Jupiter," "Bacchus" and "Ashtoreth" were at this time set up in the Temple at Jerusalem. Such was the case, but on the return from the defeat of the Syrian army under the valiant Georgias, the Temple was reclaimed for the worship of the true God. The music abounds in patritic fire, and has a marvellously dramatic ending in the last four numbers, "See the Conquering Hero," "Sing Unto God," "O Lovely Peace" and the "Hallelujah."

The well known bass solo, "Arm, Arm Ye Brave," was sung here a year ago by this year's bass soloist, Mr. Frank Oldfield, a skilled singer, especially in oratorio.

The first of the four final practices will be held to-morrow (Tuesday) in the Collegiate Institute, when the Conservatory orchestra will also be present. This, the greatest choral event of the year in our City, is being keenly looked forward to, and the veteran Dr. Torrington, of Toronto, assures Mr. R. J. Devey that he will come to hear the work here. Dr. Torington first gave the same work in Toronto twenty-seven years ago, and has kindly lent for use here, the score used by him so long ago.

Would Take Over C. N. R. For People

D. B. Jacques, President of the Single Tax Associaion of Ontario, wrote asking the Council to join in the endorsation of the proposal that the Dominion Government take over the C.N.R. for the people, at the same time making provision for recompensing private capital that has been expended in the construction work up to the present. Ald. Gordon suggested that the letter be referred to the Power committee, but Mayor Buller tabled it.

A WORD OF GRATITUDE

"In justice to humanity I want to tell you that I was a great sufferer from itching piles and have found Dr. Chase's Ointment the best treatment obtainable," writes Mr. Fred Illing, Brodhagen, Ont. "It gives instant relief and I can recommend it to any sufferer from this dreadful disease."

ROYAL Baking Powder Saves Health and Saves Money and Makes Better Food

Mr. D. O'Connell Compares Present Conditions With Those Of Rome Before Her Fall

The Ladies' Literary Society of St. Peter's T.A.S., held their last meeting for the season on Friday evening, when Mr. D. O'Connell, whom the ladies were fortunate enough to secure fo the final evening, delighted a large audience with a fine address on "The Two Civilizations."

Mr. O'Connell carried his theme back to the early ages, when 80 years before Christ the city of Rome was built upon the banks of the Tiber. The people, governed first as a monarchy, then as a republic, and finally under the imperial form, grew in strength, conquered the whole of the civilized world, and overcame the barbarians of the west and south of Europe. They possessed the characterists necessary for the foundation of greatness, being then a people of simple habits, strict integrity and morals, and above all imbued with a deep religious sense even under a pagan dispensation. They were frugal and industrious, with a strong sense of the domestic and civic virues, and much of our modern jurisprudence is founded on the laws of ancient Rome. But as the Empire grew in power and might, and wealth poured in from all parts of the conquered world, excesses crept in, morals became lax, and the zealous patriots who had been willing to lay down their lives, and go on long and weary marches into far lands for the further advancement of the Empire, now gave themselves up to insidious habits of luxury and self-indulgence. A loose system of philosophy sprang into existence which turned the whole of their religion into ridicule. The outstanding point in the history of religion at that period of time was the fact that it was a national affair. No distinction was made between Church and State, and the King or Emperor was almost the high priest. It was on this degenerate condition that the Christian religion burst like a new light, and finally after centuries of torture and persecution, found its way to the hearts of all classes, until in the year 312 A.D., the Emperor Constantine ascended the throne, embraced the Christian doctrines and made it the religion of the State, bringing down with a final crash all the ancient gods in the Pantheon. The seat of Peter was fixed in Rome, and it was there centuries later, that Charlemange was crowned Emperor, and the great Empire of the west was raised on the ruins of the east.

The strange people of the Middle Ages, with no sense of self-restraint, and yet capable of great sacrifices for the cause of the Church, were the people who organized the Crusades to defend the holy places of the Saviour's birth and death, and who built the wonderful Gothic cathedrals. Then came the 16th century with the mendicant friars travelling over Europe, gathering funds for the building of St. Peter's, in Rome, the criticisms of Luther, and the Reformation in England.

Mr. O'Connel pointed on the similarity between modern conditions and those prevailing in the ancient empire before her downfall, the world daily becoming more materialistic and less spiritual, the same loose ideas in regard to marriage and divorce, and the growth of the capitalist class. A poor labourer may go on toiling day after day, giving his sweat and blood for the creation of wealth, and end in the poorhouse, while surrounded by those who are squandering in luxury enough to support thousands of needy families. And the siren song of the Socialist is ringing in his ears, preaching doctrines that would destroy the State and overthrow all ancient ideals, choke ambition and individuality, overthrow the home, and make even the child the ward of the State.

A vote of thanks was tendered the speaker by the Chairlady, Miss May Hickey, and Rev. Dean McColl also thankedhim warmly in the name of the Society.

The musical programme was as follows:

Instrumental duet—Misses K. and E. Conroy.
Vocal solo—Miss H. Warmington.
Recitation—Miss Carr.
Vocal solo—Miss M. Clancy.
Accompanists—Misses K. O'Brien, and L. Clancy.

This Store Recommends JAP-A-LAC because it gives a "finish" to any household article that no mere varnish can give.

JAP-A-LAC— the Furniture-Saver

WHEN you start on your campaign of home-beautifying this Spring, don't just ask for "varnish" — ask for JAP-A-LAC; and don't be content with anything but JAP-A-LAC. Always put up in Green Tins, bearing the name "GLIDDEN." Made in 21 beautiful colors, providing for every possible requirement of the housewife. JAP-A-LAC is indeed a wonder-working aid in keeping furniture, floors and woodwork "spic and span."

No matter how badly scratched or marred a piece of furniture may be, a coat of JAP-A-LAC will make it look like new. It covers up the scratches and produces a beautiful, brilliant, durable finish. Quickly and easily applied. No experience required.

Ask your local hardware store for the JAP-A-LAC color card and book entitled "A Thousand and One Uses of JAP-A-LAC"

In Peterborough Jap-a-Lac is sold by THE KINGAN HARDWARE CO. Limited

JAP-A-LAC

Made by The Glidden Varnish Co., Limited, Toronto

PLEASE REPORT

The Examiner does not knowingly accept false or fraudulent advertising, or other advertising of an objectionable character. Every advertisement in its columns is published with confidence in the character and reliability of the advertisers and the truth of the representation as made. Readers of The Examinef will confer a favour if they will promptly report to us any failure on the part of an advertiser to make good any representation contained in an Examiner advertisement.

ASSESSMENT RETURNS FROM THE EAST WARD

Alfred Hagerman and Albert A. F. Fowler, tenants, 161 and 159 Hunter street. Owner John Taylor. East part lot 4, east of Rogers street. Frontage 51 feet. Land value $460. Buildings $2,600. Total taxable property $3,060. Each assessed $1,530. P.S.S.

Augustus L. Hay, 155 Hunter street. Northwest part lot 4, east of Rogers street. Frontage 58 feet. Land value $550. Buildings $1,620. Total taxable property $2,170. P.S.S.

Richard G. Rogers, owner, 147 Hunter street. Northeast corner lot 5, west of Rogers street. Frontage 56 feet 9 inches. Land value $680. Buildings $1,470. Total taxable property $2,150. P.S.S.

Wm. H. Pretty and John F. Harvey, tenants, 141 and 139 Hunter street. Centre part lot 5, west of Rogers street. Frontage 60 feet. Owner Mrs. Margaret Rogers. Land value $700. Buildings $3,300. Total taxable property $4,000. Former assessed: Taxable property $2,000. Income $250. Total $2,250. Latter assessed $2,000. P.S.S.

Mrs. Margaret Rogers, owner, 135 Hunter street. Northwest corner lot 5, west of Rogers street, and east part of lot 6. Frontage 73 feet. Land value $800. Buildings $600. Total taxable property $1,400. P.S.S.

Mrs. Margaret Rogers, 127 Hunter street. West part of lot 6, Warehouse. Frontage 36 feet 6 inches. Land value $400. Buildings $300. Total taxable property $700. P.S.S.

George Stephens, tenant, south of Hunter, north of Robinson street, east of G. T. R. Owners the G. T. R. Co. Land value $400. Buildings $400. Total taxable property $800. Business assessment $480. Total assessment $1,280. P.S.S.

Archibald Weir and J. T. McCarthy, tenants, south of Hunter street, north of Robinson street, (Coal Sheds), and south of Hunter, north of Robinson streets, west of the G. T. R. Land values $500 and $100. Buildings $150 and $150. Total taxable property $900. Business assessment $450 P.S.S. and S.S.S.

G. T. R. Co., owner, frontage 97 feet 6 inches.

Wm. Scott, owner, 109 Hunter street. Northeast part lot 8, east of Mark street. Frontage 57 feet 6 inches. Land value $690. Buildings $1,510. Total taxable property $2,200. P.S.S.

Michael McCauley, tenant, 103 Hunter street. Owner Hugh McFee. Northwest corner lot 8, east of Mark street. Frontage 60 feet. Land value $720. Buildings $1,400. Total taxable property $2,120. S.S.S.

Thos. B. Maniece, tenant, 99 Hunter street. Owner City Property. South of Hunter, west of Mark street. Frontage 13 feet 6 inches. Land value $200. Buildings $900. Total taxable property $1,100. Business assessment $330. Total assessment $1,430. P.S.S.

George Wheeler, tenant, 97 Hunter street. Owner City Property. South of Hunter, wst of Mark streets. Frontage 13 feet 6 inches. Land value $200. Buildings $850. Total taxable property $1,050. Business assessment $320. Total assessment $1,370. P.S.S.

John Kerr, tenant, 95 Hunter street. City Property. South of Hunter, west of Mark street. Frontage 13 feet 6 inches. Land value $200. Buildings $850. Total taxable property $1,050. Business assessment $320. Total assessment $1,370. P.S.S.

Frank Hamilton, tenant ,93 Hunter street. South of Hunter, west of Mark streets. Frontage 13 feet 6 inches. Land value $200. Buildings $850. Total taxable property $1,050. Business assessment $320. Total assessment $1,370.

Thos. Anthony, tenant, 91 Hunter street. South of Hunter, west of Mark street. Frontage 15 feet 2 inches. Land value $230. Buildings $850. Total taxable properyt $1,080. Business assessment $320. Total assessment $1,400. S.S.S.

Hurrel Dodds and J. A. Dodds, tenants, 89 Hunter street. Mrs. Isabella Romborough. Northwest part lot 9, west of Mark street. Frontage 20 feet. Land value $280. Buildings $720. Total taxable property $1,000. Each assessed $500. P.S.S.

Miss Elizabeth Graham and Fred Roberts, tenants, 83 Hunter street. Owner Alex. Fitzgerald. Lot 10, west of Mark street. Frontage 115 feet. Land value $1,380. Buildings $1,030. Total taxable property $2,410. Former assessed $1,410 ,and latter $1,000. P.S.S.

Cornelius Clancy, owner, 69 Hunter street. Lot 11, west of Mark street. Frontage 115 feet. Land value $1,150. Buildings $500. Total taxable property $1,650. S.S.S.

Vincant Sullivan and James Marshall, tenant, 65 and 63 Hunter street, Owner J. C. Sullivan. East part lot 12, west of Mark street. Frontage 49 feet. Land value $500. Buildings $950. Total taxable property $1,450. Former assessed: Taxable property $600. Business assessment $300. Total assessment $900. S.S.S. Latter assesed $860. P.S.S.

Victor Sullivan and J. C. Sullivan, owners, centre part lot 12, west of Mark street. Frontage 49 feet. Land value $750. No buildings. Total taxable property $750. S.S.S.

Victor Sullivan and J. C. Sullivan, owners, 59 Hunter street. West part lot 12, west of Mark street. Frontage 25 feet. Land value $400. Buildings $1,900. Total taxable property $2,300. Business assesment $690. Total assesment $2,990. S.S.S.

John W. Boorman, tenant, 55 Hunter street. Owner Samuel Long. East part lot 13, west of Burnham street, and north part lot 135, east of Burnham street. Land value $480. Buildings $620. Total taxable property $1,100. Business assessment $330. Total assessment $1,430. P.S.S.

Patrick Hogan, owner, 53 and 51 Hunter street. West part lot 13, west of Burnham street. Land value $520. Buildings $1,600. Total taxable property $2,120. The tenants are:

John Spier, tenant, 53 Hunter street. Frontage 17 feet. Taxable property $850. Business assessment $250. Total assessment $1,100. P.S.S.

Arthur Moffat, tenant, 51 Hunter street. Frontage 16 feet 10 inches Taxable property $720. Business assessment $180. Total assesment $900 P.S.S.

Wm. Patterson, tenant, over 53 and 51 Hunter street. Taxable property $550. P.S.S.

Patrick Hogan, owner, 45 Hunter street. East part lot 14, east of Burnham street. Land value $700. Buildings $3,000. Total taxable property $3,700. Business assesment $750. Total assessment $4,450. S.S.S.

James R. Bell, tenant, 43 Hunter street. West part lot 14, east of Burnham street. Frontage 18 feet. Land value $200. Buildings $710. Total taxable property $1,000. Business assessment $300. Total assesment $1,300. P.S.S. Owner Patrick Hogan.

A. E. Banks, tenant, 41 Hunter street. Owner Patrick Hogan. West part lot 14, east of Burnham street. Frontage 24 feet. Land value $390. Buildings $210. Total taxable property $600. P.S.S.

David Conroy, owner, lot 15, east of Burnham street. Frontage 95 feet. Land value $1,460. Buildings $2,000. Total taxable property $3,460. S.S.S.

Dickson Co., owners, north part lot 16, 17 and 18, west of Burnham street. Land value $4,000. No buildings. Total taxable property $4,000. P.S.S.

Peterborough Hydraulic Co., owner, centre part lot 18, west of Burnham street. Frontage 26 fet. Land value $500. No buildings. Total property, liable for local improvements only, $500. P.S.S.

Riverside Park, owner, block F, south of Hunter street. Owner Dr. Wightman and J. J. Houden. Land value $2,000. Buildings $200. Total taxable property $2,200. P.S.S.

Rapid Tool Co., owners, part lots 18, 19, 21, south of Hunter street. Frontage 60 feet. Land values $500, $800 and $200. Buildings $2,500. Total taxable property $4,000. P.S.S.

Louis Schneck, tenant, 5 Hunter street. Owner Wm. H. Faint. East part lot 20, south of Hunter street. Frontage 72 feet. Land value $1,440. Buildings $1,200. Total taxable property $2,640. P.S.S.

John Bettes, tenant, south part lots 20 and 21, south of Hunter street. Land value $640. Buildings $1,000. Total taxable property $1,640. P.S.S.

James Ellis, tenant, 3 Hunter street. Owner Wm. H. Faint. Northwest part lot 20, south of Hunter street. Land value $700. Buildings $1,000. Total taxable property $1,700. Business assessment $1,020. Total assessment $2,720. P.S.S.

BURNHAM STREET—WEST SIDE.

Mrs. Minnie Strickland, owner, 15 Burnham street. Lots 1 and 2, north of Maria street. Frontage 190 feet. Land value $2,000. Buildings $1,200. Total taxable property $3,200. P.S.S.

Aaron G. Carruthers, tenant, 239 Burnham street. Owner Wm. B McAllsiter. Block G, north of Charles street. Frontage 93 feet 6 inches. Land values $1,500 and $100. Buildings $2,000. Total taxable property $3,600. P.S.S.

Wm. Quinn, tenant, 247 Burnham street. Owner Fred Champion. Block C, north of Charles street, south part block A, north of Charles street. Frontage 44 feet 5 inches. Land values $450 and $50. Buildings $1,150. Total taxable property $1,650. P.S.S.

James Fox, owner, 223 Hunter street. Lot 8, Plan 29, north of Charles street. Frontage 60 feet. Land value $400. Buildings $1,600. Total taxable property $2,000. P.S.S.

City Property, owners, 40 feet.

John Henderson, owner, 265 Burnham street. Lot 7, Plan 29, north of Charles street. Frontage 46 feet. Land value $330. Buildings $1,900. Total taxable property $2,230. P.S.S.

John Howland, owner, 269 Burnham street. Lot 6, Plan 29, north of Charles street. Frontage 46 feet. Land value $330. Buildings $1,410. Total taxable property $1,800. P.S.S.

E. S. Clarry, owner, lots 5 and 4, Plan 29, north of Charles street. Frontage 92 feet. Land value $660. No buildings. Total taxable property $660. P.S.S.

Webber Turner, owner, lot 3, Plan 29, north of Charles street. Frontage 46 feet. Land value $330. No buildings. Total taxable property $330.

If you Buy a Kodak or Camera or if you do not

We are always pleased to talk Kodak over with you. If you have any idea of buying, but are still in doubt, come in and we will explain everything in detail and will not be disappointed if you decide not to purchase.

If you have trouble with your developing or printing let us help you, it is our business.

We develope any size Roll of Film for 10c. Our charge for Printing is equally reasonable. Call at

M'Dermid & Jury's
THE KODAK STORE

EXTRA—A Fresh Shipment of Huyler's Chocolates just arrived.

Address And Presentation

On Friday evening last the young ladies of the Girls' Own Bible Class paid a surprise visit to their teacher, Miss Alice Leader, 748 George street, and presented her with a handsome purse, and the following address:

Dear teacher,—We, the members of the Girls' Own Bible Class, of St. James' Methodist Sunday School, have learned with regret of your departure from our midst, and we feel that we cannot let you go without expressing in some way our sincere appreciation of your faithful and untiring service among us as teacher of our class as well as in all branches of the church where help was needed.

We realize the self-sacrifice it means for you to attend so faithfully and to take such a whole-hearted interest in the class when your home is at a great a distance from our Sunday School, and while we know that we will have difficulty in finding a teacher with the capabilities of your choice, to one who will so readily take her place in our affections, we pray that God will be with us, guiding us, and we know that He will bless your work in whatever sphere you are placed.

We ask you to accept this small token of our esteem, not for its value but because we wish to express to you in some tangible way, our love and esteem for you.

Our earnest prayer will be that God will bless you always, and that you will long be spared to continue in His service.

(Signed) The Officers and Members of the Girls' Own Bible Class.

Miss Leader expressed her appreciation in a few well chosen words and the evening was spent pleasantly with music and games.

We're Wrong Again.

"Of course, you have your little theory about the cause of the high cost of living?"

"I have," replied Mr. Growler, "too many people are trying to make political economy take the place of domestic economy."

That Feeling Of Security

HAVE you noticed the decreasing number of cords or chains attached to Eyeglasses?

THIS is largely because a recent improvement on the Fowler Eyeglass Mount enables us to fit you with Eyeglasses so securely yet comfortably that they do not require a chain to keep them on.

THESE Fowler Mounts are guaranteed to give perfect comfort, and you will certainly admit, when you see them, that they present a remarkable handsome appearance.

DROP IN and examine one of these Mounts. Price $3.

REMEMBER we use PEBLO Quality Lenses in all our Glasses.

A. A. FOWLER
Phm. B.
EYESIGHT SPECIALIST
10 years of continuous successful Optical Service in this City.
Optical Parlour and Lens Grinding Plant with
NUGENT DRUG CO'Y
386 George St., Peterborough

LONDON — PARIS
WHITE STAR
Ave Montreal or Quebec to Liverpool on the magnificent Canadian Service Steamships:
"TEUTONIC".... May 2 ... May 30
"MEGANTIC".... May 9 ... June 6
"CANADA"..... May 16 ... June 13
"LAURENTIC".. May 23 ... June 20
Rates from $72.50 First, and $30 Second Class
H. A. ROSE, C.T.R. J. SKINNER C.P.R.,
LOCAL AGENTS
DOMINION LINE

Washington

EASTER VACATION TOUR
Going Friday, April 10
Return limit April 24th. Stop-overs allowed on return trip at Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York.
$13.45 Round Trip Railroad Fare from Cape Vincent
Personally Conducted Tour
Covers supper at station restaurant, Utica; 4½ days' board and lodging in Washington and luncheon in Philadelphia.
$10.50 — $12.50 — $14.50 (According to hotel selected)
In addition to railroad fare shown above.
NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES
Various sight-seeing trips will be arranged by representative in charge at low rates.
Obtain your tickets early. For railroad tickets or additional information consult N. Y. Central agent, or address N. Y. Central Lines Ticket Agent, Watertown, N. Y.

CANADIAN PACIFIC
EASTER FARES
Between all Stations in Canada, Fort William and East, and to Sault Ste. Marie, Detroit, Mich., Buffalo and Niagara Falls, N.Y.
SINGLE FARE — Fare and One-Third
Good going Apr. 10 — Good going Apr. 9-10-11-12. Return Limit Apr. 14
COLONIST FARES
(One-Way Second Class) to certain points in Alberta, California, Oregon, Arizona, British Columbia, Montana, Washington, Idaho, etc. Daily until April 15th
REDUCED SETTLERS' FARES
(One-Way Second Class)
Each Tuesday until April 28.
Through Trains Toronto to Winnipeg and West. Colonist Cars on All Trains. No change for Berths.
Particulars from Canadian Pacific Agents or write M. C. Murphy, D.P.A., Toronto.
J. Skinner, C.P.A., 343 George Street.

Railway Time Tables

GRAND TRUNK

	ARRIVE.	DEPART
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Stouffville and Toronto	11.34 a.m. 9.00 p.m.	6.20 a.m. 5.35 p.m.
Port Hope and points east of Montreal and Boston	8.10 a.m. 5.30 p.m.	8.10 a.m. 9.05 p.m.
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago and west, Niagara Falls, Buffalo	12.10 p.m. 5.30 p.m.	11.40 a.m.
Cobourg, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 5.30 p.m.	9.05 p.m. 8.10 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay Stouffville, Uxbridge Markham Lindsay Local	11.34 a.m. 9.00 p.m. 10.15 p.m. 7.55 a.m.	7.10 a.m. 6.20 a.m. 5.35 p.m. 8.55 p.m.
Trenton, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 8.50 p.m.	8.20 a.m. 1.30 p.m.
Lakefield	8.05 a.m. 5.15 p.m. 7.00 p.m.	7.00 a.m. 12.20 p.m. 5.40 p.m.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

Going East—

Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec	11.43 a.m.
*Indian River, Norwood Havelock, Tweed	7.07 a.m.
Havelock, Montreal, Quebec, St. John, N.B., Boston	12.15 a.m.
Harcourt, Montreal, Quebec, St. John, N.B., Boston	12.55 a.m.
Ottawa Special for Smith's Falls and Ottawa only	1.20 a.m.

Going West—

Toronto, Guelph, Goderich	4.37 a.m.
Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, New York, Galt, Woodstock, St. Thomas, London, Chatham, Detroit, Chicago	5.24 a.m.
North Toronto, West Toronto	6.15 a.m.
*Local for Cayuga, Burketon, Bobcaygeon, Myrtle Toronto	7.45 a.m.
Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, New York, Detroit, Chicago	4.33 p.m.
Local points from Port McNicoll, Peterboro, Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	6.37 p.m.
New train for Lindsay, Orillia and Port McNicoll	9.16 a.m.

*Daily except Sunday.

PETERBOROUGH
COLD STORAGE
In full operation
All kinds of
COAL in Stock at Market Price
Both 'Phones 262
W. SCOTT CO., LIMITED
East City

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
Easter Holiday Fares

SINGLE FARE	FARE and ONE-THIRD
Good Going and Returning April 10 only	April 9-10-11-12 Return Limit April 14, 1914

(Minimum fare 25c)
Between all stations in Canada east of Port Arthur; also to Detroit and Port Huron, Mich., Buffalo, Black Rock, Niagara Falls and Suspension Bridge, N.Y.
SETTLERS' FARES
(One-way Second-class)
From stations in Ontario, Kingston, Renfrew and West to points in Alberta and Saskatchewan, each Tuesday during April.
LOW COLONIST FARES
(One-way Second-class)
From stations in Ontario to certain points in Alberta, British Columbia, California, Colorado, Oregon, Washington, etc. ON SALE DAILY UNTIL APRIL 15 inclusive.
Full particulars at all Grand Trunk Ticket Offices or write C. E. HORNING, D.P.A., Toronto, Ont.
B. A. ROSE, City Passenger and Ticket Agent
F. SANDY, Station Ticket Agent

Are You Going West This Spring?

If so, exceptional opportunities are now being offered by the Grand Trunk Railway System in connection with Homeseekers, Settlers and Colonist excursions.

Homeseekers' round trip tickets are issued from stations in Canada to points in Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan, at very low fares, and are in effect each Tuesday until October 27th, inclusive, via Chicago, St. Paul or Duluth. Tickets will also be on sale on certain dates via Sarnia and Northern Navigation Company. Through Pullman Tourist Sleeping Cars are operated to Winnipeg each Tuesday, leaving Toronto 11.00 p.m. No change of cars. Tickets are valid returning two months from date of issue. Settlers' one-way second-class tickets are also on sale each Tuesday during March and April from stations in Ontario, Kingston, Renfrew and west to points in Alberta and Saskatchewan, at low fares.

Colonist one-way second-class tickets are sold at very low fares from stations in Ontario to certain points in Alberta, British Columbia, Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Texas, Utah and Washington, and are in effect daily until April 15, inclusive.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is the shortest and quickest route between Winnipeg-Saskatoon-Edmonton, with smooth roadbed, electric lighted sleeping cars, through the newest, most picturesque and most rapidly developing section of Western Canada.

Through tickets sold and reservations made by all Grand Trunk Agents. Costs no more than by other routes. Trains now in operation, Winnipeg to Saskatoon, Edmonton, and Regina. Yorkton and Canora, Sask.; Camrose, Mirror Edson and Calgary, Alberta; also to Jasper, Tete Jaune and Prince George, B.C. Full particulars at all Grand Trunk Ticket Offices or write C. E. Horning, District Passenger Agent, Union Station, Toronto, Ont.

CHINA PAINTING
Mrs. Langley McCarthy
Teaches Bisco's New and Boast ful Flash Wash in China Painting

LUMBER
Builders' Materials of all kinds' Shingles, Scantlings, Joist and Bill Stuff, Mouldings, Casings, Base and all kinds of Finish. Boxes and Box Shooks, Slabs and Mill Wood.
ALF. McDONALD ESTATE
Point St. Charles Mills

OUR SERIAL STORY PAGE

"THE MAYOR'S WIFE"

By ANNA KATHARINE GREEN

(Continued from yesterday.)

She as in this state of dejection, with the echo of this sad sentence in both our ears, when a light tap at the door was followed by the entrance of Letty, the nurse-maid. She wore an unusual look of embarrassment and held something crushed in her hand. Mrs. Packard advanced hurriedly to meet her.

"What is it?" she interrogated sharply, like one expectant of evil tidings.

"Nothing! that is, not much," stammered the frightened girl, attempting to thrust her hand behind her back.

But Mrs. Packard was too quick for her.

"You have something there! What is it? Let me see."

The girl's hand moved forward reluctantly. "A paper which I found pinned to the baby's coat when I took her out of the carriage," she faltered. "I—I don't know what it means."

Mrs. Packard's eyes opened wide with horror. She seized the paper and staggered with it to one of the windows. While she looked at it, I cast a glance at Letty. She was crying, from what looked like pure fear; but it was the fear of ignorance rather than duplicity; she appeared as much mystified as ourselves.

Meanwhile I felt, rather than saw, the old shadow settling fast upon the head of her who an hour before had been so bright. She had chosen a place where her form could not fail of being more or less concealed by the curtain, and though I heard the paper rattle I could not see it or the hand which held it. But the time she spent over it seemed interminable before I heard her utter a sharp cry and saw the curtains shake as she clutched them.

It seemed the proper moment to proffer help, but before either Letty or I could start forward, her command rang out in smothered but peremptory tones:

"Keep back! I want no one here!" and we stopped, each looking at the other in very natural consternation. And when, after another seemingly interminable interval, she finally stepped forth, I noted a haggard change in her face, and that her coat had been torn open and even the front of her dress wrenched apart as if she felt herself suffocating, or as if—but this alternative only suggested itself to me later and I shall refrain from mentioning it now.

Crossing the floor with a stumbling step, with the paper which had roused all this indignation still in her hand, she paused before the now seriously alarmed Letty, and demanded in great excitement:

"Who pinned that paper on my child; you saw it done. Was it a man or ——"

"Oh no, ma'am, ma'am," protested the girl. "No man came near here. It was a woman—a nice-looking woman."

"A woman."

Mrs. Packard's tone was incredulous. But the girl insisted.

"Yes, ma'am; there was no man there at all. I was on one of the park benches resting, with the baby in my arms, and this woman passed by and saw us. She smiled at the baby's ways, and then stopped and took to talking about her,—how pretty she was and how little afraid of strangers. I saw no harm in the woman, ma'am, and let her sit down on the same bench with me for a few minutes. She must have pinned the paper on the baby's coat then, for it was the only time anybody was near enough to do it."

Mrs. Packard, with an irrepressible gesture of anger or dismay, turned and walked back to the window. The movement was a natural one. Certainly she was excusable for wishing to hide from the girl the full extent of the agitation into which this misadventure had thrown her.

"You may go." The words came after a moment of silent suspense. "Give the baby her supper— I know that you will never let any one else come so near her again."

Letty probably did not catch the secret anguish hidden in her tone, but I did, and after the nurse-maid was gone, I waited anxiously for what Mrs. Packard would say.

It came from the window and conveyed nothing. Would I do so and so? I forgot what her requests were, only that they necessitated my leaving the room. There seemed no alternative but to obey, yet I felt loath to leave her and was hesitating near the doorway when a new interruption occurred. Nixon brought in a telegram, and, as Mrs. Packard advanced to take it, she threw on the table the slip of paper which she had been poring over behind the curtains.

As I stepped back at Nixon's entrance I was near the table and the single glance I gave this paper as it fell showed that it was covered with the same Hebrew-like characters of which I already possessed more than one example.

The surprise was acute, but the opportunity, which came with it was one I could not let slip. Meeting her eye as the door closed on Nixon, I pointed at the scrawl she had thrown down, and wonderingly asked if that was what Letty had found pinned to the baby's coat.

With a surprised start, she paused in her act of opening the telegram and made a motion as if to repossess herself of this, but seeming to think better of it she confined herself to giving me a sharp look.

"Yes," was the curt assent.

I summoned up all my courage, possibly all my powers of acting. "Why, what is there in unreadable characters like these to alarm you?"

She forgot her telegram, she forgot everything but that here was a question she must answer in a way to disarm suspicion.

"The fact," she accentuated gravely, "that they are unreadable. What menace may they not contain? I am afraid of them, as I am of all obscure and mystifying things."

In a flash, at the utterance of these words, I saw my way to the fulfillment of the wish which had actuated me from the instant my eyes had fallen on this paper.

"Do you think it a cipher?" I asked.

"A cipher?"

"I have always been good at puzzles. I wish you would let me see what I can make out of these rows of broken squares and topsy-turvy angles. Perhaps I can prove to you that they contain nothing to alarm you."

The gleam of something almost ferocious sprang into this gentle woman's eyes. Her lips moved and I expected an angry denial, but fear kept her back. She did not dare to appear to understand this paper any better than I did. Besides, she was doubtless conscious that its secret was not one to yield to any mere puzzle-reader. She could safely trust it to m curiosity. All this I detected in her changing expression, before she made the slightest gesture which allowed me to secure what I felt to be the most valuable acquisition in the present exigency.

Then she turned to her telegram. It was from her husband, and I was not prepared for the cry of dismay which left her lips as she read it, nor for the increased excitement into which she was thrown by its few and seemingly simple words.

With apparent forgetfulness of what had just occurred — a forgetfulness which insensibly carried her back to the moment when she had given me some order which involved my departure from the room—she impetuously called out over her shoulder which she had turned on opening her telegram:

"Miss Saunders! Miss Saunders! are you there? Bring me the morning papers; bring me the morning papers!"

Instantly I remembered that we had not read the papers. Contrary to our usual habit we had gone about a pressing piece of work without a glance at any of the three dailies laid to hand in their usual place on the library table.

"They are here on the table," I replied, wondering as much at the hectic flush which now enlivened her features as at the extreme paleness that had marked them the moment before.

"Search them! There is something new in them about me. There must be. Read Mr. Packard's message."

I took it from her hand; only eight words in all. Here they are — the marks of separation being mine:

I am coming—libel I know—where is S. Henry.

"Search the columns," she repeated, as I laid the telegram down. "Search! Search!"

I hastily obeyed. But it took me some time to find the paragraph I sought. The certainty that others in the house had read these papers, if we had not, disturbed me. I recalled certain glances which I had seen pass between the servants behind Mrs. Packard's back,—glances which I had barely noted at the time, but which returned to my mind now with fo eful meaning; and if these busy girls had read, all the town had read — what? Suddenly I found it. She saw my eyes stop in their hurried scanning and my fingers clutch the sheet more firmly, and, drawing up behind me, she attempted to follow with her eyes the words I reluctantly read out. Here they are, just as they left my trembling lips that day — words that only the most rabid of opponents could have instigated:

Apropos of the late disgraceful discoveries, by which a woman of apparent means and unsullied honour has been precipitated from her proud preeminence as a leader of fashion, how many women, known and admired today, could stand the test of such an inquiry as she was subjected to? We know one at least, high in position and aiming at a higher, who, if the merciful veil were withdrawn which protects the secrets of the heart, would show such a dark spot in her life, that even the aegis of the greatest power in the state would be powerless to shield her from the indignation of those who speak loudest in her praise.

"A lie!" burst in vehement protest from Mrs. Packard, as I finished. "A lie like the rest! But oh, the shame of it! a shame that will kill me." Then suddenly and with a kind of cold horror: "It is this which has destroyed my social perstige in town. I understand those nine declinations now. Henry! my poor Henry!"

There was little comfort to offer, but I tried to divert her mind to the practical aspect of the case by saying: "What can Mr. Steele be doing? He does not seem to be very successful in his attempts to carry out the mayor's orders. See! your husband asks where he is. He can mean no other by the words 'Where is S—?' He knew that your mind would supply the name."

"Yes."

Her eyes had become fixed; her whole face betrayed a settled despair. Quickly, violently, she rang the bell. Nixon appeared.

She advanced hurriedly to meet him.

"Nixon, you have Mr. Steele's address?"

"Yes, Mrs. Packard."

"Then go to it at once. Find Mr. Steele if you can, but if that is not possible, learn where he has gone and come right back and tell me. Mr Packard telegraphs to know where he is. He has not joined the mayor in C— "

"Yes, Mrs. Packard; the house is not far. I shall be back in fifteen minutes."

The words were respectful, but the sly glint in his blinking eyes as he hastened out fixed my thoughts again on this man and the uncommon attitude he maintained toward the mistress whose behests he nevertheless flew to obey.

(To be continued.)

COFFEE
The Best Reason Why You Should Drink
SEAL BRAND COFFEE
Is, Because You Will Like It.
CHASE & SANBORN
MONTREAL

PROBLEMS OF CIVILIZATION.

We Are Too Stupid and Narrow to Solve Them, Says Shaw.

We are a stupid people, and we are bad looking people. We are ugly, we have narrow minds and we have bad manners. A great deal of that is due to the effect of being brought up in a society of inequality. I know perfectly well what happened to myself.

I can remember one of my earliest experiences in life was my father finding me playing with a certain little boy in the street and telling me I was not to play with that little boy, giving me to understand that he was a very inferior and objectionable kind of little boy. I had not found him so. I asked my father, "Why?" He said, His father keeps a shop." I said to my father, "Well, but you keep a mill." Therefore my father pointed out to me that he sold things wholesale and that this little boy's father sold things retail, and that consequently there was between me and that boy a gulf which could never be respectably bridged.

When you are brought up, as you inevitably are in a society like ours, with that sort of blasphemy being continually dinned into your ears; when you are taught to be unsocial at every point and brought up to be unsocial, then any little chance that your natural endowments at your birth may have left you of being able to grapple with the enormous problems of our modern civilization—problems that demand from you the largest scope of mind, the most unhesitating magnanimity, the most sacred recognition of your spiritual and human equality with every person in the nation—is utterly destroyed. That is why I doubt whether these problems can be solved by us, brought up in that way. To solve them you need a new sort of human being.—George Bernard Shaw in the Metropolitan Magazine.

An Appreciated Verbalist.

My Uncle Jim he likes to start
A general debate
It warms the cockles of his heart
To stand up and orate.
He'll quote a rod or so of prose
And several yards of rime
And reel off anything that goes
To pass away the time.

It's said we have too many laws.
There might be even more
If he did not compel a pause
When he demands the floor.
We haven't always understood
His sentences sublime,
But mebbe he has done some good
By harmless use of time.
—Washington Star.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
CURE
Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing
SICK
Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured
HEAD
Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.
ACHE
Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.
CARTER MEDICINE CO., NEW YORK.
Small Pill Small Dose. Small Price.

Toronto Savings & Loan Comp'y
Notice is hereby given that a Quarterly Dividend of two and one-half per cent being at the rate of ten per cent per annum for the (3) three months ending 31st of March 1914, has been declared upon the Capital Stock of this Institution and the same will be payable at the offices of the Company in this City on and after April 1st, 1914.
The Transfer Books will be closed from the 19th to the 31st of March, both days inclusive.
By order of the Board,
W. G. MORROW
MANAGING DIRECTOR
Peterborough, March 20th, 1914

RAILROAD MAN HAD TO LAY OFF

Until He Took GIN PILLS

Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have been a Pullman conductor on the C. P. R. and Michigan Central for the last three years.

About four years ago, I was laid up with intense pain in the groin, a very sore back, and suffered most severely when I tried to urinate.

I treated with my family physician for two months for Gravel in The Bladder but did not receive any benefit. About that time, I met another railroad man who had been similarly affected and who had been cured by GIN PILLS, after having been given up by a prominent physicians who treated him for Diabetes. He is now running on the road and is perfectly cured. He strongly advised me to try GIN PILLS which I did—with the results that the pains left me entirely."

FRANK SLIDE.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. Sample free if you write National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada Limited, Toronto. 198

Quick Justice.

There is scarcely any crime in New Zealand largely because they make a tremendous effort there to arrest, try, convict, hang and bury a criminal within two weeks of the commission of his crime, if that be murder, or, if not a hanging offense, to get him as quickly as possible into a disagreeable prison, where he will have to work hard and live upon bread and water.—Exchange.

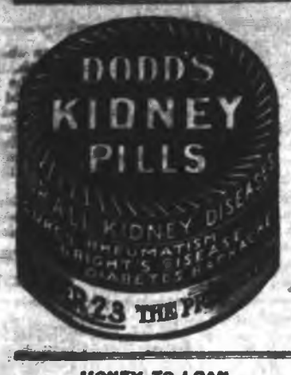
SANTAL MIDY CAPSULES
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER Relieved in 24 Hours
Each Capsule bears the name MIDY
Beware of counterfeits

DEATH IS CERTAIN
For all of us. The only uncertainty is when it may visit you. Life Insurance provides protection for your dependents by creating an immediate cash estate in the event of your death. Last year this Company paid Death Claims of $491,529.52.
Get a policy to-day in
The Manufacturers' Life Insurance Co.
374½ Water Street, Peterborough, Ontario
THOMAS MARK
GENERAL AGENT

Caught in the Act

Yes! Caught with the goods—a box of Kellogg's Corn Flakes. But it would be a shame to scold them when they like it so well, and it's so good for them.
Kellogg's
CORN FLAKES
Get the original. 10c a package

Reduce the high cost of living
Do you know that buying soap in cakes is wasting from 25¢ to 40¢ on every dollar? N.P. SOAP, the best soap you ever used, costs 15¢ a bar. It weighs more than four 5¢ cakes of ordinary soap, and more than five cakes of some brands.
BUY IT, WEIGH IT, TRY IT.



MONEY TO LOAN.

MONEY TO LOAN—On Mortgage Security on Farm and City property on lowest rates of interest. G. N. Gordon, Barrister, 397 George Street.

MONEY TO LOAN—On Farm and Town property, at lowest current rates on easiest terms of payment. HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON, Successors to Stratton & Hall, Barristers, Peterborough, Ont. Office — Over the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

MONEY TO LEND—On first-class City and Farm Securities only, on current rates. BENNET & GOODWILL, Barristers, Solicitors, etc., No. 376 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone No. 191. J. W. Bennet; E. L. Goodwill.

MEDICAL.

DR. BUCHANAN, F.R.C.S., Edin., M.R.C.S., Eng., L.R.C.P., London. Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist. Hours—9-11 a.m., 2-4 p.m., 7-8 p.m. 'Phone 619. Office: Corner Water and Murray.

DR. D. E. KELLY, Late House Surgeon St. St. Francis and Manhattan Maternity Hospitals, New York. Late House Physician at Riverside Isolation Hospital, Toronto. Hours, 1-4-30 p.m., 7-8 p.m. 'Phone 1255. Office: 368 Hunter St. dw

E.W.H. YOUNG M.D., C.M.
L.R.C.P., L.R.C.S., L.M., L.F.P.S., T.T.M.C.
Specialist of Women and Children
Sherbrook St. Phone 367

CHIROPRACTIC.

DR. R. W. KIRKWOOD, Chiropractor. Telephone 291. Office hours—9 to 10 a.m., 1 to 2 p.m., 4 to 7 p.m. 467 Water Street, Peterborough, Ont.

OSTEOPATHY.

DR. ADA C. WALMSLEY—Osteopathic Physician. Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce; Hunter Street Entrance. 'Phone: Office, 649; Residence, 609. Office hours—9 to 11 a.m., 2 to 4 p.m. Evenings by appointment.

DR. IVA M. CARUTHERS, Osteopath. Office: Bank of Commerce Building, opposite Post Office. Hours—10 to 12 a.m., 2 to 5 p.m., and by appointment. 'Phone 514. Residence 'Phone, 1373

LEGAL.

BECK, KERR & McELDERRY.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office, 416 Water Street, Peterborough. Money to Loan at lowest current rates of interest, on easy terms of repayment. E. A. Peck, F. D. Kerr, V. J. McElderry.

G. N. GORDON.—Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public and Conveyancer. Commissioner for New York State. Money to Loan. Office upstairs, first door south of Medill's Drug Store. Bell 'phone 630; Machine 'phone 169. 357½ George St.

O'CONNELL & CORKERY.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries, Hunter Street, two doors west of Post Office. Daniel O'Connell, John E. Corkery.

RUDDY & BURNHAM.—Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, etc. Offices: 379 Water Street. Money to Loan. Robert Ruddy, K.C.; J. H. Burnham, M.A. Telephone No. 64.

DUNBLE & JOHNSTON—Barristers, Solicitors, etc. Office over Toronto Savings and Loan Company, 416 George Street. R. W. Dunble, K.C.; W. F. Johnston.

A. E. DIXON—Barrister, Solicitor, etc. Office: Corner Hunter and George Sts.; entrance, next Medill's Drug Store. dw

HALL, HAYES & HALL—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries Public, Hunter St., Peterborough. Next to St. John's Church. Money to Loan at lowest rates of interest. H. D. Hall, City Solicitor; Louis M. Hayes, K.C.; and Basil D. Hall.

HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON.—Successors to Stratton & Hall, Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, etc. Office: Cor. Hunter and Water Sts., over Canadian Bank of Commerce. H. E. Hall, S. T. Medd, W. S. Davidson.

W. H. MOORE—Barrister, Solicitor, etc. Office, entrance first hallway west of Post Office, Peterborough, Ont. Money to Loan.

WEARING & WEARING.—Barristers, etc. Office, over Canadian Express Office, George Street. Money to Loan. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney. Jos. Wearing, M.A.

ARCHITECTS.

W. BLACKWELL—Architect and Civil Engineer. Plans and estimates made on churches, public buildings and dwelling houses. Heating and plumbing a specialty. Office, 372 Water St., Peterborough.

AUCTIONEER
W. D. KETCHESON,
Licensed Auctioneer for Peterboro County
ADDRESS 14 DOURO STREET, CITY
'Phone 1078.

PIANO TUNING
Orders for Piano or Organ Tuning promptly attended to
W. H. CUNNINGHAM,
363 Weller Street.
'Phone 790.

Dominion Cafe
Modern and up-to-date dining rooms also private dining table. Drop in and try our special China dishes. Nothing but the best of steaks and chops used. We guarantee the best of satisfaction to strangers, and all comers. 'Phone 826
328 George St
TOM HIS Manager.
Open from 7 a.m. to 2 a.m.

SETTING HENS

They Should be Made Quite Comfortable

If you are setting only two or three hens there is no need to get special boxes; sugar boxes will do excellently if they can be put in a place where there is no fear of rats getting at the eggs. If there is this danger, a door of wood, well perforated to let in air, or one made with a wooden frame and covered with fine wire netting can be fixed up with very little trouble.

Don't think that a small box will do. If the box is too small the hen is almost certain to break some of her eggs in getting on and off the nest every day.

Such boxes should be used for one year only, as there is always risk of their harbouring vermin, and it is better to give them a good coat of whitewash and let this dry thoroughly before making up the nest.

The very best way to make a nest is to turn the box on its side, dig up a good spadeful of fresh turf, and put this in, with the earth side upwards. Eggs need a certain amount of moisture during incubation, and it is much better to supply it by means of the turf than by sprinkling the eggs with water.

On top of the turf put a covering of hay, working it well round with the hands into the shape of a wild bird's nest. It may be necessary to hollow out the centre of the piece of turf a little in order to do this, but if it were left quite flat the eggs might quite possibly roll away into the corners, and get so chilled that a poor hatch would result.

The hollow must not be made too deep, however, or the eggs may get piled on top of one another and get broken.

If the nest is just slightly hollowed out the hen will be able to cover more eggs than if the nest is badly arranged.

Some people use straw for the nest instead of hay, but hay is softer and can be more easily moulded to the proper shape.

King's Busy Life

The behind-the-scenes work of the Monarch of the British Empire never ceases, but when parliament is sitting and the work of government is in full swing, then, apart from the work which he carves out for himself the King's diary is the diary of one of the busiest men in the country.

Wild Bee Honey in Tree

A party of Renfrew hunters, who were back of Folger, chopped down a tree and secured 40 pounds of wild bee honey, which they strained through a pan in which they punched holes and then through cheese cloth.

Thought Nothing But Death Would End Her Misery.

WAS TROUBLED WITH Heart Disease.

Mrs. J. D. Talbut, Owen Sound, Ont., writes:—"I have been a great sufferer from heart disease, and leaking valves. I have had resource to every kind of treatment I could think might help me, including the skill of several doctors. I suffered so for years that at times I have felt that nothing but death could end my misery. I was advised by a friend, who had suffered untold pain and misery, just as I had, and had been cured by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, to give them a trial, so I decided to do so. I am delighted with the result, as I am now completely cured, and can eat and sleep as I have not done for years.

You are at liberty to use my name at any time as I am convinced they are the best pills on the market for any form of heart disease."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

J. J. SHADGETT
High-grade
Sign, Carriage and Motor Car Painter
REPAIRS ATTENDED TO
Phone 443. Residence 1402
Cor. Charlotte & Aylmer

New York Chinese Cafe Co.
328 George St. Phone 826
Regular meals served and short order at all hours. Comfortable dining rooms and private hall at rear. Call for Moon
Open day and night Yee Fun, Manager

Cash or Credit For Furniture
Stores filled with every day requirements for Kitchen, Dining Room, Bedroom, Parlour, Kitchen Cabinets, Linoleum, Bedroom Outfits, Rugs, Carpets, Baby Carriages, Etc.
EMPIRE FURNITURE CO.
340 George St. Opposite Customs House
Telephone 812.
CASH OR CREDIT

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS FROM THE OLD LAND

An elephant in Bostock's Menagerie attacked its keeper at Retford. The man was rescued alive, though severely mauled.

Seizure in Church

The Rev. Josiah Mander, rector of Prindes' Risborough, Bucks, was taken ill after conducting service at Longwick, and died the same night from heart failure. He had been rector since 1897.

Foot-and-Mouth Disease

Another outbreak of cattle disease has occurred in Liverpool in two separate districts. In Everton five out of a herd of ten animals were affected, while a considerable number of a herd of over twenty cows at Walton Shippon were also discovered to be suffering.

Chief Constable and Jackdaw

A jackdaw which had impaled itself on a sharp ornamental spike protruding from the steeple of St. James' Church, Tunbridge Wells, was killed from the roadway with a shot gun by the Chief Constable, whose aid was summoned by Archdeacon Scott, the vicar. The archdeacon states that a pigeon was impaled in a similar way twenty years ago.

Town Planning

The Nottingham Corporation decided to apply to the Local Government Board for authority to prepare an important scheme of town planning, the proposal being to deal with a large area of undeveloped land near the Daybrook Valley. One speaker mentioned that the project involved considerable possibilities, and might take a dozen years to carry out.

Family's Beds on Chairs

In a case at Blackburn Fredk. Hanson, a Mellor laborer, was fined for neglecting his children. An inspector said he found the mother and the eldest girl, aged twenty, sleeping on chairs at the house in front of the fire, and two younger children sleeping on the sofa without covering. The mother said the children had not been in a bed for thirteen weeks.

Gallant Attempt at Rescue

A Scotsman's gallant conduct was the subject of commendation in Dundee, when the circumstances attending the death of a lascar named Gomes, who was second cook on board the steamer Clan Shaw, were under consideration. Gomes fell overboard, and John M'Lean, a native of Stornoway, and third officer on board the Clan Shaw, grasping a lifebelt jumped into the Tay. He caught hold of the lascar by the hand, but owing to Gomes's struggling and the strong current he was unable to retain his grip, and Gomes disappeared.

Plucky Rescue

A young woman, Lucy Mackay, a fish worker, had a narrow escape from drowning at Stornoway, and was saved only by the ghastly action of Mr. John M. Maclean, son of Baillie Maclean. It was a dark and stormy night, and the young woman, while making hands from the pier with friends on board the small steamer, overbalanced and fell between the steamer and the pier, fracturing one of her legs. Mr. Maclean, who was on board the steamer, hurriedly divested himself of a heavy overcoat, dived in, and with great difficulty brought her ashore.

Highlander Duped

At Glasgow John Ullis was sent to prison for six months for defrauding a seaman by pretending that he would gain for him a larger amount by betting on horses. The seaman made up to a simple Highland sailor who had come off ship, and induced him first of all to part with £5. They then went to a public-house to await the result of the horse race, and while there the sailor took out his pocket-book to get some money to pay for drink. Accused snatched the pocket-book and attempted to get off, but the Highlander seized him.

Not a Necessity

A small child who was the youngest member of a very hard-up family was told one day by her father that she had a new baby sister. "Isn't that nice?" he asked. But hard lessons of domestic economy had already taken hold of the young lady, and she answered quaverly, "Well, daddy, I s'pose it's all right, but it seems to me there's a lot of things we could have."

MORE BIRTHS IN ENGLAND

Increase Also in the Number of Marriages in Britain

Last year 881,630 persons were born in England and Wales (449,179 boys and 432,801 girls), 505,626 died (261,347 males and 243,179 females), and 972,584 persons were married. There is thus an increase in every respect, the figures for the previous year being 872,767 births, 499,967 deaths, and 966,890 persons married.

In London last year there were 111,783 births, 64,143 deaths, and 83,758 persons married, compared with 113,759 births, 62,127 deaths, and 84,454 persons married the year previous.

Boy Eats Wet Poison

Poisoned bread-and-jam laid down for bait by a neighbour was eaten by a three-year-old boy named Frederick James Stanton, the son of a commissionaire living in Shaftesbury road, Westminster.

In Japan girls in spinning factories work on an average thirteen to fourteen hours, and those in weaving factories fourteen to sixteen hours.

Austria has seventeen trade unionists per thousand inhabitants.

NATURE'S FLY TRAPS

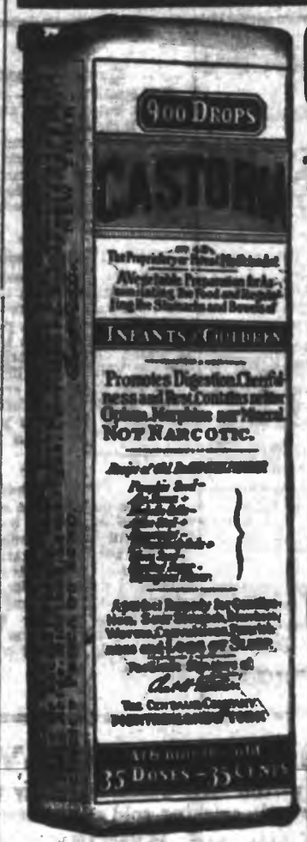
American Plants Which Absorb the Flies

Dame Nature has a wonderful invention known as the Venus fly-trap, which, in the United States, finds its home mainly in the swamps near Wilmington, North Carolina. A specimen transplanted into moss and rich earth will thrive in the house if kept very moist, and it makes the best kind of fly-trap, for it is always on duty and looks after itself. As the older traps lose their vitality fresh shoots appear and new traps are developed.

The Venus fly-trap is regarded as one of the greatest wonders of the plant world, for it seems to exercise a discrimination of taste that is more than human. It is provided with three delicate hair-triggers, and it exudes a sort of honey-dew that attracts the flies. Woe to the fly, however, that touches one of the triggers, for, quick as a flash, the two heavy leaves of the trap close upon the victim and crush it, much the same as an ordinary steel trap acts. There is no escape for the fly when he is once in.

The plant then settles down to digest its meal of fresh meat—this being one of the very few vegetables that take to a meat diet. A species of gastric juice is secreted by the closed trap and the body of the fly undergoes a process of real digestion, so that the nutriment is absorbed by the plant. Then when the fly has been reduced dry the trap opens and disgorges the indigestible remains.

Now, the most wonderful thing about the Venus fly-trap is that it knows the difference between a nice, juicy, fresh fly and either a dead or injured fly or any foreign substance, such as a stick. Touch the trigger with a lead pencil and the trap will respond very slowly. Partly crush a fly so that it is not very lively and give it to the plant and it will still respond with very little show of appetite. But let a lively fly touch the triggers and snap go the jaws of the trap together, imprisoning it. Thus the plant prefers to do its own killing.



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY

Cards Are Out.

Jack (lolling with magazine) — It says here that there's enough phosphorus in a man's body to make forty thousand matches.

Ethel (nibbling a chocolate) —And not sand enough to make one.

A Fletcherite.

"Cannon is a terrific smoker."

"Oh, he doesn't really smoke much as you think."

"I'm positive he gets away twenty cigars a day."

"Yes, but he eats half 'em."

PURE FOOD SPECIALTIES

Stop! Look! Listen!

ORDER A BAG OF

MONARCH FLOUR

Corn Meal Pancakes.

Two cups flour, one-half cup corn meal, and one-half tablespoons baking powder, one and one-half teaspoons salt, one-third cup sugar, one and one-half cups boiling water, one and one-quarter cups milk, one egg.

Add meal to boiling water and boil five minutes; turn into bowl, add milk and remaining dry ingredients mixed and sifted, then the egg well beaten, and butter. Cook on a greased griddle.

THE

CAMPBELLFLOUR MILLS CO. LTD.

PETERBORO TORONTO

Queen of Puddings.

One quart of milk, one pint bread crumbs, butter size of an egg, half cup sugar, three eggs.

Scald milk, bread and butter. Beat yolks of eggs and add with sugar. Bake and when cold make a meringue of white of eggs and three tablespoons sugar and lightly brown in a cool oven.

Baked Beans.

Soak one pint of beans over night. In the morning drain off the water, add one-half of three-fourths teaspoonful of soda with plenty of fresh water. Boil them, not till they break to pieces, but till when you take up some on a spoon and blow cold air on them the skins will crack and curl. Drain and rinse. Then prepare for the oven as you wish with pork, bacon or butter. Add a little mustard and molasses.

Plain Ice Cream.

Make a custard first of one pint of milk, two eggs, well beaten; one tablespoonful of cornstarch and one cupful of granulated sugar. Mix eggs, sugar and cornstarch, together, put the milk in a double boiler, add the egg mixture to the milk and cook until it thickens like custard; then strain it into one quart of cream and beat until it is cold. Flavour with vanilla to taste and freeze.

STORE UP ENERGY

Nearly every person feels a lack of energy and a tendency towards catching cold at this season.

NORWALL'S SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES

Corrects the disordered blood and debilitated nerves and strengthens the lungs to throw off colds. Stimulates the appetite and increases the brain and muscular power. 75c large bottle

W. J. KENT

DRUGGIST 402 GEORGE ST., PETERBORO

MILK is the most economical food in use, but unless it be pure and clean it is the dangerous food. Most all communicable deseases can be carried to human being through impure milk.

Pasteurized milk is recognized as the only safe milk to use because all disease germs are destroyed.

We furnish Pasteurized milk delivered in perfectly sterilized bottles and you can depend upon it at all times.

PETERBORO' PURE MILK COMPANY,

PHONE 650 377 AYLMER STREET

NOTICE OF REMOVAL

The Peterborough Public Market will be transferred on

APRIL 1st. to 461 George St.

where the business will be carried on in the future.

We wish to thank our many customers for their kind patronage and trust by supplying first class meats at reasonable prices to merit a continuance of the same.

ALL KINDS OF FRESH MEATS IN SEASON

SEE OUR—

Saturday Specials

Lumley & Perrin

'Phone 39 461 George St.

Do You Need Building Up?

If you are run down and need a tonic you should use

CALCUTT'S DUBLIN PORTER

ORDER A CASE.

For sale by all Liquor Dealers.

Manufactured by

Calcutt Brewing & Malting Company

'Phone 98

A Healthful Refreshing Drink

Knox's Sarsaparilla

An excellent Blood Purifier in Spring, and a tonic—a combination of Pure Sarsaparilla and Soda Syrup.

Good for young and old. Children crave for it.

Order from your grocers, or from

D. KNOX

Soda Water Co.

Factory and Office

324 Queen St., Peterboro.

'Phones 232 and 61.

Marmalade Oranges

have arrived.

I have the famous ELEPHANT BRAND Oranges

We have everything in fresh Fruits.

Specialty in Lettuce, Parsley, Spring Onions, Radishes; Celery..

Try Our GROCERIES, always Fresh and Prices to Suit All.

D. M. MINICOLO

410 GEORGE ST. 'Phone 935

HONEY

Bright and Coloured

IN PAILS

Coloured, 5 lbs.	50c
Coloured, 10 lbs.	$1.00
Bright 5 lbs.	75c
Bright, 10 lbs.	$1.45

Also in 20c Jars.

Porter S. White

336 George, 'Phone 208.

Coleman's Baking

Is Making Many Friends.

It is noted for

That Delicious Flavour found only where a careful selection of the Highest Quality of Choicest Ingredients Are Used

Try some of our Special Week End Delicacies for Sunday

Easter Novelties

Chocolate Eggs

In Abundance

Coleman Bros

414,426 GEORGE STREET

THE PETERBORO LIGHT and POWER Co. Ltd.

What about the cook who prepares the meals in your home.

Is she using an enamel lined Up-to-date Sanitary Gas Range?

Food is best prepared with gas. The food values, the life giving essences of food are retained by this system. When you roast a piece of beef under a gas flame you harden the albumen on the surface of the meat and keep the juices inside. This insures Nutritious Food.

"The cup that cheers" is the cup of tea or coffee that is prepared on a gas range from fresh boiled water.

Present the lady of your home with an up-to-date gas range and thus insure clean and sanitary meals for yourself and family.

STOVES FOR SALE ON EASY TERMS

BILL GOES AHEAD

Home Rule Gets Second Reading on Its Last Journey

OPPOSITION IS CONCILIATORY

LONDON, April 7.—By a majority of 80, an amendment for the rejection of the Home Rule bill was defeated in the House of Commons last night, and without division the bill was given for the third time its second reading in the House.

The announcement of the figures evoked louder cheers from the Opposition than from the Ministerialists, the Opposition interpreting them as gratifying proof of a dwindling Government majority. But the diminution is accounted for to some extent by the abstention from voting of the O'Brienites.

The speeches yesterday were generally much more conciliatory in tone than those which marked the bill's earlier passages. John E. Redmond, the Nationalist leader, who opened the debate, again held out the olive branch to Ulster in a speech of great eloquence, but insisted that it was impossible for him and his colleagues to agree to the permanent exclusion of Ulster and to abandon in principle "Ireland a Nation."

Andrew Bonar Law, the Opposition leader, though professing in certain passages of his speech, to see hardly any hope of a peaceful settlement, and predicting that civil war was certain if the Government persisted in pushing the bill through, declared that he and his colleagues would gladly accept a proposal for the renewal of the conversations with the Government leaders, but feared nothing would come of it.

Augustin Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland, was most optimistic. Despite all adverse criticism, he was certain that great progress has been made towards a peaceful settlement, and civil war, he declared, was impossible.

The second reading of the Home Rule bill was carried the first time by a majority of 101, and the second time by a majority of 98. Last night eight O'Brienites abstained from voting and two Liberals voted against the Government. One Nationalist was absent through illness. Three Laborites were also absent, and Charles F. G. Masterman, who had previously voted as a member of the Government, lost his seat in the election for Bethnal Green last February.

Mr. Asquith took no part in the voting, as he recently resigned his seat to stand for re-election in his appointment as Secretary for War.

A large gathering of Irishmen, all carrying green flags, assembled outside Parliament last night to celebrate the passage of the bill. They cheered wildly when the result of the vote was announced and gave ovations to the members of the Government and the Nationalist leaders as they left the House.

"The real question of the moment is how far each side is prepared to advance toward an agreement," said Mr. Redmond.

The Nationalists, he declared, would have been glad to accept the scheme proposed by Mr. Horace Plunkett in February, by which a plebiscite would be taken after a certain number of years on the question whether any section of Ulster desired to continue subject to the Irish Parliament.

Mr. Redmond said he was in sympathy with the general proposal of a scheme of federation, but vague talk on the subject, he declared, was mischievous and could not solve the present difficulty.

Following his Nationalist compatriot came Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster Unionist leader, who declared that the Government's attempt to "jump" Ulster with naval and military forces had made him skeptical of any reality in their profession of peace and conciliation.

Sir Edward Carson suggested that Mr. Redmond, like the Government, was trying to create an atmosphere favorable to himself without an attempt to find a practical compromise. The talk of federalism had not, he said, advanced the settlement of the Ulster question.

Took Chance; Three Killed.

ATTICA, Ind., April 7.—Three persons were killed and about 35 others injured when the Wabash passenger train No. 4, known as the Continental Limited, was wrecked when the bridge over the Wabash river, just west of here, gave way Sunday. The engine, a baggage car and the day coach dropped into the water.

The bridge over the Wabash river was weakened when a freight train was wrecked upon the structure, and the Continental Limited was stopped on the west side. A switch engine was safely sent across, and the limited was then ordered to proceed.

Spain Will Enter Protest.

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 7.—M. Riano, the Ambassador from Spain, received official notice yesterday of Villa's expulsion of Spanish subjects from Torreon, and prepared to make representations in protest to Secretary Bryan. Spain also objects to the confiscation of their property, estimated to run into the millions.

Whites Assault Chinese.

VANCOUVER, April 7. — Several assaults by whites upon Chinese in the streets have been reported as an outcome of the murder of Mrs. Chas. Millard by her Chinese servant boy.

Quite Serious.

Gabe—I saw the doctor's auto in front of your house today. Anything serious? Steve—Serious? Should say so. He collected his bill.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The intellect of the wise is like glass. It admits the light of heaven and reflects it.—Hare.

CONSTIPATION RELIEVED ENTIRELY AT OUR RISK

Unless Rexall Orderlies relieve your bowel troubles and make you feel like coming back to thank us for telling you about them, then come back anyway, and ask us to give you back your money. This is just as strong as we can make this guarantee, and we want to make it strong, because we believe that Rexall Orderlies are the best bowel remedy made.

Soothing and easy in action, they cleanse the bowels, thoroughly toning and strengthening them, and make you feel great. They promote easy and regular bowel action, help to promptly relieve constipation and overcome its cause. In these things they differ from old-fashioned, harsh, disagreeable salts and other physics which usually give only temporary relief and often leave the bowels in worse condition than ever. They taste like candy and even children like them. They are particularly good for children and for delicate and aged people. In vest pocket tin boxes: 10c, 25c, 50c.

You can buy Rexall Orderlies only at The Rexall Stores, and in this town only of us. —McDermid & Jury, E. L. Payne, Peterborough, Ont.

A DIP INTO SPACE

From Our Little Solar System to the Far Starry Limits.

SOME MARVELOUS DISTANCES

The Stellar Universe as We Know It and What it Means in the Matter of Miles to Reach Its Boundaries From the Center of Our Own Sun.

It is worth while making an effort to picture to ourselves the vast extent of the starry system in which we reside. Having gained some faint notion of the extent of the lesser solar system, which occupies a small corner of the stellar system, we must work outward from that beginning. Let us take for our unit of measurement the space which separates the earth from the sun and let the 92,000,000 miles of this distance be represented in our minds by a single inch. In proportion the sun itself must be pictured by a tiny ball less than one hundredth part of an inch in diameter, while our earth must be a mere speck less than one ten-thousandth of an inch in diameter. And this little sun and this minute earth must be just an inch asunder.

Following out the same idea, Mercury and Venus, being closer to the sun than we are, have to be less than an inch away from him, while Jupiter will be five inches off, Saturn will be ten inches off, Uranus will be over nineteen inches off, Neptune will be almost thirty inches off. Then the solar system as a whole, leaving only out of the question certain comets which travel farther, will be inclosed in a circle less than two yards in diameter.

The question arises next, What will be the proportionate size of the stellar system on this same scale of measurement? If the solar system is to be comprised with a hoop not two yards across how wide a space should we allow to the surrounding system of stars, "our universe?" How near will be the nearest of outlying stars? And the answer is sufficiently startling. If the sun is reckoned to be one inch away from our earth, if Neptune is reckoned to be less than three feet away from the sun, then on the same scale the star which lies closest of all outer stars in the whole universe to us, Alpha Centauri by name, must be reckoned as lying at a distance of about three and a half miles. And between the two—nothing; at least nothing in the shape of a star. An occasional comet may lag slowly along in the darkness, finding its way from one sun system to another, and dark bodies, cooled suns, may possibly float here or there unseen by us, but of stars radiant with heat and light none is found in that wide area.

Astronomical writers sometimes talk of stars "in the vicinity" of the sun, and this is what is meant by "vicinity." Think of the distances implied. Our whole solar system is first brought down into a small circle two yards across—every inch in those yards standing for more than 90,000,000 miles—and then on every side and above and below is an encompassing void of three and a half miles, every inch of those miles again representing more than 90,000,000 miles. And then we come upon one gleaming star. Only one quite so near. Another star in the sun's "vicinity," known as 61 Cygni, would lie at a distance of seven miles, and the brilliant Sirius would be over ten miles off. Others must be placed at distances of twenty miles, fifty miles, 100 miles. It is easy to start with a list of these figures. It is not easy to say where one should stop. That the starry system has limits we do not doubt, but to define those limits is not possible. On such a scale as is given above those limits certainly would not lie within a distance of 100 miles nor of 1,000 miles.

It is believed that some dim stars, barely to be detected, may be 10,000 times as far away as our sun's nearest neighbor, Alpha Centauri, and this at once gives, even on our much reduced scale, a line from the center of 35,000 miles. Suppose that the limits of the stellar system lay somewhere about there. Thirty-five thousand miles each way from the center would mean a diameter for the whole of 70,000 miles. Imagine a starry system 70,000 miles across from side to side, each inch in those miles representing MILLIONS of real miles, and somewhere in the midst of it our small solar system, just two yards across, separated from all other stars by a wide blank of three or four miles.

That would be stupendous enough. But we have no reason whatever for supposing that the limits of our universe do lie there. The true boundaries of the stellar system may be twice as far, four times as far, ten times as far. We do not even know with certainty that our solar system is placed anywhere near its center, though this seems rather likely. Far off as the boundary reaches in one direction, it may reach much further in another direction.—Chambers' Journal.

An Ant Illusion.

The idea of mutual aid among ants is pronounced by M. Cornetz, a French entomologist, to be an illusion. In his observations, a single ant drags a load rapidly toward the nest, but when others take hold of the object they pull in different directions, and slow progress is made.

The gain of lying is nothing else, but not to be trusted any more, nor to be believed when we say the truth.—Sir Walter Scott.

A Model Child.

George III. was such a thrifty king that we cannot doubt that he hugged the little chap, of whom Thackeray tells this delightful story, and longed to knight him on the spot.

One day, when the king and queen were walking together, probably at Kew, they met a little boy—they were always fond of children, the good folks—and patted the little towhead.

"Whose little boy are you?" asked the king.

"I am the king's beef eater's little boy," replied the child.

On which the king said, "Then kneel down and kiss the queen's hand."

But the innocent offspring of the beef eater declined this treat.

"No," said he; "I won't kneel, for if I do I shall spoil my new breeches."—Youth's Companion.

Didn't Miss a Dose.

Old lady looking contentedly out of window in railroad train. Interest of passengers excited by ringing of what sounds like an electric bell. Old lady calmly opens up grip and shuts off an alarm clock which had begun to ring. Takes bottle of medicine from pocket and drinks spoonful. Readjusts clock, closes grip and again looks out of window, remarking casually to her neighbor: "Best little reminder that I know of. I have to take my medicine every two hours, so I carry that alarm clock with me, the alarm set so that it will ring when medicine time comes around."—New York Tribune.

Regularity

of the bowels is an absolute necessity for good health. Unless the waste matter from the food which collects there is got rid of at least once a day, in decomposing, poisons the whole body, causing headaches, indigestion and sick headaches, biliousness and other harsh natural symptoms, irritate the delicate lining of the bowels. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills—entirely vegetable—regulate the bowels effectively without weakening, sickening or griping. Use

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

So far, no historian has denied that Dewey was at Manila.

It is never too late to mend, but it is just as well if you don't have to.

Lots of people who aren't very sharp nevertheless have their good points.

Has anybody kept account of the days on which the Panama canal is to be opened?

"Get the habit" and call at

JAY'S STORES

they know how to sell cheap, for cash. All kinds of Furniture and Stoves in stock also Sewing Machines from $4.00. Ladies and Gentlemens second hand clothing. We have a lot of children's new dress es made up for spring. Call and see them

390 Aylmer St. 'Phone 628

EDWIN ELCOME

Taxidermist.

Heads, Animals, Birds, Fish, etc mounted artistically and permanently. Heads of Deer, Moose, Caribou Elk, etc., our Specialty.

Heads, Animals, Birds, Fish, Artificial Eyes, Taxidermist supplies. Bird and Flower Guide Books for sale.

692 Harvey St.

Peterborough Ontario

HAGGIS' CONFECTIONERY

For home-made Candies try Haggis. We keep the best and freshest quality in the City.

Try our Ice Cream, always on hand. Fresh and Wholesome.

HAGGIS' CONFECTIONERY

382 Geo. St. Opposite Grafton's

THE IMPERIAL LIFE

Assurance Co. of Canada

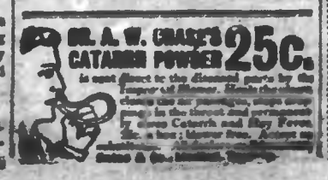
Each Premium Paid

On an IMPERIAL POLICY is so much money saved—not spent. Your family will reap the reward some day, or you may live to enjoy it yourself. In every case a Policy in THE IMPERIAL LIFE is

A Good Investment

W. G. MORROW, Agent

437 George Street



NO BETTER TIME!

TO HAVE YOUR PROPERTY INSURED AGAINST LOSS BY FIRE THAN NOW. No better or safer Companies to take out a policy with, than those we represent.

You may have much or little, it's worth insuring.

See us about Fire Insurance To-Day!

Davis-Thompson Company

LIMITED

Insurance and General Agency

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO.

First Class Scranton
COAL
ALL SIZES IN STOCK
AT LOWEST PRICES
H.B. Taylor & Son
Both 'Phones 209
Cor. Aylmer & Wolfe Sts.

EAST CITY
COAL & WOOD
YARD
111 Hunter St. E. 'Phone 96
FIRST QUALITY
PITTSTON COAL
ALWAYS IN STOCK
Best Coal Mined,
at lowest prices.
Mixed Wood, per cord.....$5.00
Cutting and Splitting Extra
Also Dry Pine and Hemlock Slabs $3.50
A. WEIR J. F. McCARTHY

COAL
PRICES
ROBT. HICKS
Will announce Opening Prices of D. L. & W. Scranton Coal, Screened by his Improved Process, on April 11th.
These Prices will interest you.

COAL
Why not burn the BEST.
Our Coal is recognised as
THE COAL OF QUALITY
If you are not using it NOW your neighbor is.
Ask them about it then order some for yourself.
The Peterborough Fuel & Cartage Co.
162 Charlotte Street
Phones—Bell 281-270
341 Aylmer St. Phone Bell 302

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

THE BARGAIN SALE

A very short lady was in the very centre of the pushing, impatient crowd in the store.

Her fair hair was already falling into disorder under her velvet toque, and she felt as if she was standing at the bottom of a deep narow shaft. The only free space around her was that above her head, and she used it to hold up their hands, waving her purse and the bill.

When her turn to pay would come she did not know, for the living wall in front of her prevented her from seeing the cashier's desk. From far away came the voices of the nervous cashiers, "Please don't throw the bills about.' Slowly, almost imperceptibly the crowd moved forward. There was still a human circle all around the short lady, groaning and sighing.

The short lady stood close behind Max and Anne Clause. It was really they. So that capricious woman had even been able to persuade her giant of a husband, who was very much in love with her, to come with her to a bargain sale. A man can give no greater proof of his love.

Admiringly the short lady's eyes rested on Anne's beautiful face and wonderful complexion, that so strongly contrasted with the pale or sallow colour of the faces around her. The fascinating expression which ordinarily made the young wife's eyes so dangerous to the hearts of men seemed to have disappeared. The short lady even thought she was an expression of anxiety in them, and her colour came and went quickly.

Max Claus stood apparently unmoved next to his wife, but his face looked like a mask that concealed something.

Suddenly the inquisitive eyes of the short lady opened wide. She had discovered the cause of Anne's nervousness and anxiety — Louise Helson, fair and tall and aristocratic looking as always, stood right next to Anne. Her expression did not betray that she had discovered the irony of fate of placing her next to the young couple.

Everybody, including Anne, of course, knew that Max Claus had been madly and hopelessly in love with Louisa, and that even now he admired her as much as ever.

The short lady forgot all her impatience and misery in her enjoyment of this silent drama. But what was Anne figuring inside her muff so nervously all the time? And why had her blush become permanent? The short lady kept her eyes glued on her, she felt something was going to happen.

Yes, now it did happen. For with nimble fingers Anne suddenly put a blue silk remnant into the pocket of Louise's ulster, so that merely a corner of it was visible. Pushed from every side, Louise felt nothing.

As if she had been hypnotized, the short lady stared at the bright blue corner of the silk peeping from the pocket. She shuddered at the thought that she might have to testify in court as to what she had just seen. She noticed an expression of relief in Anne's face, and suddenly realized why she had been so nervous before. She had stolen the silk herself.

It was now the short lady's turn to pay, but the cashier had to remind her twice. For a short moment she lost sight of the Clauses. Then she saw them again. They were ready to leave when an excited female voice stopped them short. Max Claus shuddered and elbowed his way through the crowd. Anne followed close behind him. She was ghastly pale.

In front of a coldly polite store official stood Louise Helsen, her aristocratic face flashing with anger. Indignantly she stared at the blue silk remnant the man held in his hand.

You deny that you stole this, he said sarcastically. Perhaps you will explain how it happened to get into your pocket?

The young lady wrung her hands.

I have not the slightest idea, she declared.

Oh, the wind just blew it into her pocket, said a coarse voice from the crowd. An outburst of laughter followed.

The man took hold of Louise's arm.

Please come along, he said, but suddenly he felt himself flung aside.

You dare touch me, sir? Louise's eyes shot fire.

What an acress! cried a thin little man in the front row. The officer made another attempt to lay his hands on the 'thief.'

The short lady trembled. She cleared her throat and tried to speak, but before she succeeded she suddeny felt an open space at her side, into which she quickly moved.

It was Max Caus who had pushed the crowd aside and now protectingly placed himself in front of Louise.

"You are mistaken," he said, and his face was as white as a sheet. "This young lady is innocent.'

Breathess silence followed. The official bowed politely to Claus.

'May I ask you to step into the office, sir?' he said.

Max Claus offered Louise his arm. A piercing cry rang out behind him. He turned around and looked into the terified face of his wife.

"Do you know who did it, Max?' she asked.

He had not known it until this moment, but Anne's face told him everything. He fought a dreadful struggle with himself. His face seemed to turn into stone.

Without letting go of Louise's arm he followed the official into the office. Sympathetic women looked after Anne, who had fainted.

The short lady waited outside the door until Louise came out again alone, with a similar expression of happiness in her eyes.

She did not care to discover how Claus settled the affair and she made up her mind never to play the part of a private detective.

WAS SUBJECT TO SEVERE BRONCHITIS.
Doctors Only Gave Temporary Relief.
Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup
CURED HIM.

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather, and is a very dangerous inflammatory affection of the bronchial tubes. Neglected bronchitis is one of the most general causes of consumption, so cure it at once by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Mrs. C. G. Dring, Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"Our little boy has been subject to severe bronchitis ever since birth, and different doctors claimed to be only able to relieve him temporarily. A neighbor advised us to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle, and after the third dose noticed a decided change, so kept on with it, and a couple of bottles were enough to completely cure him. Now we always keep a bottle on hand, and give it to him as soon as we notice him troubled with a cold, after which it disappears as if by magic. We recommend it to all our friends who find it is just as good as I say."

Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

Be sure and get the genuine "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it. Put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, and manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MRS. MABEN WAS MADE WELL

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Wants Other Suffering Women To Know It.

Murfreesboro, Tenn. — "I have wanted to write to you for a long time to tell you what your wonderful remedies have done for me. I was a sufferer from female weakness and displacement and I would have such tired, worn out feelings, sick headaches and dizzy spells. Doctors did me no good so I tried the Lydia E. Pinkham Remedies — Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash. I am now well and strong and can do all my own work. I owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and want other suffering women to know about it."— Mrs. H. E. MABEN, 211 S. Spring St., Murfreesboro, Tenn.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for nearly forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Why Lose Hope.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Life seems to be a game of hide and seek between the right opportunity and the right man.

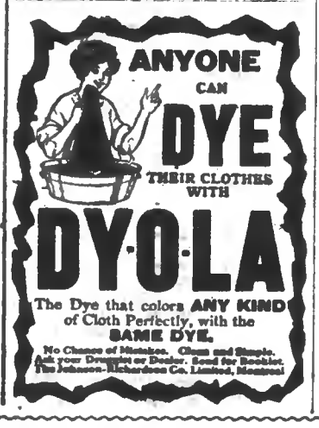
It is well to have public officials liable, but it is a whole lot better to have them reliable.

One good thing about the income tax is that actors have ceased boasting about their big salaries.

One reason so many men are unlucky is that they never go to work and give luck a chance.

Speaking of inconsistencies, consider the appeal for the ballot by the women of queen ruled Holland.

One might infer from reading the news from that republic that Haiti hires its presidents by the day.



Woman's World

Cordelia Lee the Latest Violin Virtuose.

MISS CORDELIA LEE.

Miss Cordelia Lee is the latest woman violinist of note to appear on the American musical horizon. Not only is this charming western girl a musician, but she is exceptionally beautiful and unaffected. Eight years away from the prairies of Dakota and from the city of Minneapolis have in no way changed Miss Lee. She has acquired no affectations from Paris, Berlin or St. Petersburg, but still clings to the same natural, broad tone which one expects to find in the folks of the middle west.

Since going abroad Miss Lee has learned to love the Russians. It matters not what may be said about the people of the czar, Miss Lee evidently found all that was good in the big empire. In fact, she appeared in St. Petersburg and Moscow four times in one season and each time was a tremendous success. So it is no wonder she loves Russia and its people.

When asked about Russian audiences Miss Lee replied: "The Russians are the greatest music lovers in the world. Even the peasants know good music and how to appreciate it. To hear them applaud and see them wave their handkerchiefs and hats—well, I think they often spoil young artists."

Miss Lee has studied with the greatest teachers in France and Germany and has played to audiences in all the large cities of the continent. One of her favorite cities in Europe is Helsingfors, Finland. That is a wonderful musical center in the eyes of this young violinist. It is a city of only 25,000, but it supports two magnificent orchestras. Everybody there goes to hear good music, and it is a not uncommon sight, says Miss Lee, to see a dozen fishermen and their wives standing in line at the box office. The members of the peasant class in Finland enjoy the best musical scores just the same as conservatory graduates.

Simple Life in Official Washington.

Back to the old fashioned pink tea.

Back to the simple festivities of long ago.

Back to the old fashioned country cooking, the good old southern cooking, to be exact.

All these will be in Washington this winter.

Late advices from the capital hint at a revolution in social functions. An era of true democratic simplicity will be the vogue, and a return to the simple life is at hand.

Pink teas will be followed by dancing. Formal functions will be confined to a few affairs, and these will be as informal as courtesy will allow.

Menus at the affairs will also be simple. French chefs and English butlers will go their way with the social secretaries.

Sugar cured ham, fried chicken, corn bread, poundcake, homemade creams and confections, hot biscuits and all the other delectables that were served by good old southern Dinahs will grace the company boards this winter.

Society women are already hunting through the attic for their cookbooks from every state south of Mason and Dixon's line, and there won't be a suspicion of the French chef's art on the fashionable menus from now on.

Lady Scott Refuses King's Offer.

Lady Scott, the widow of the antarctic explorer, was offered recently a suit of rooms in the Hampton Court palace by King George.

These suits are given for life to the widows of eminent men who are unable to maintain their position with their private means.

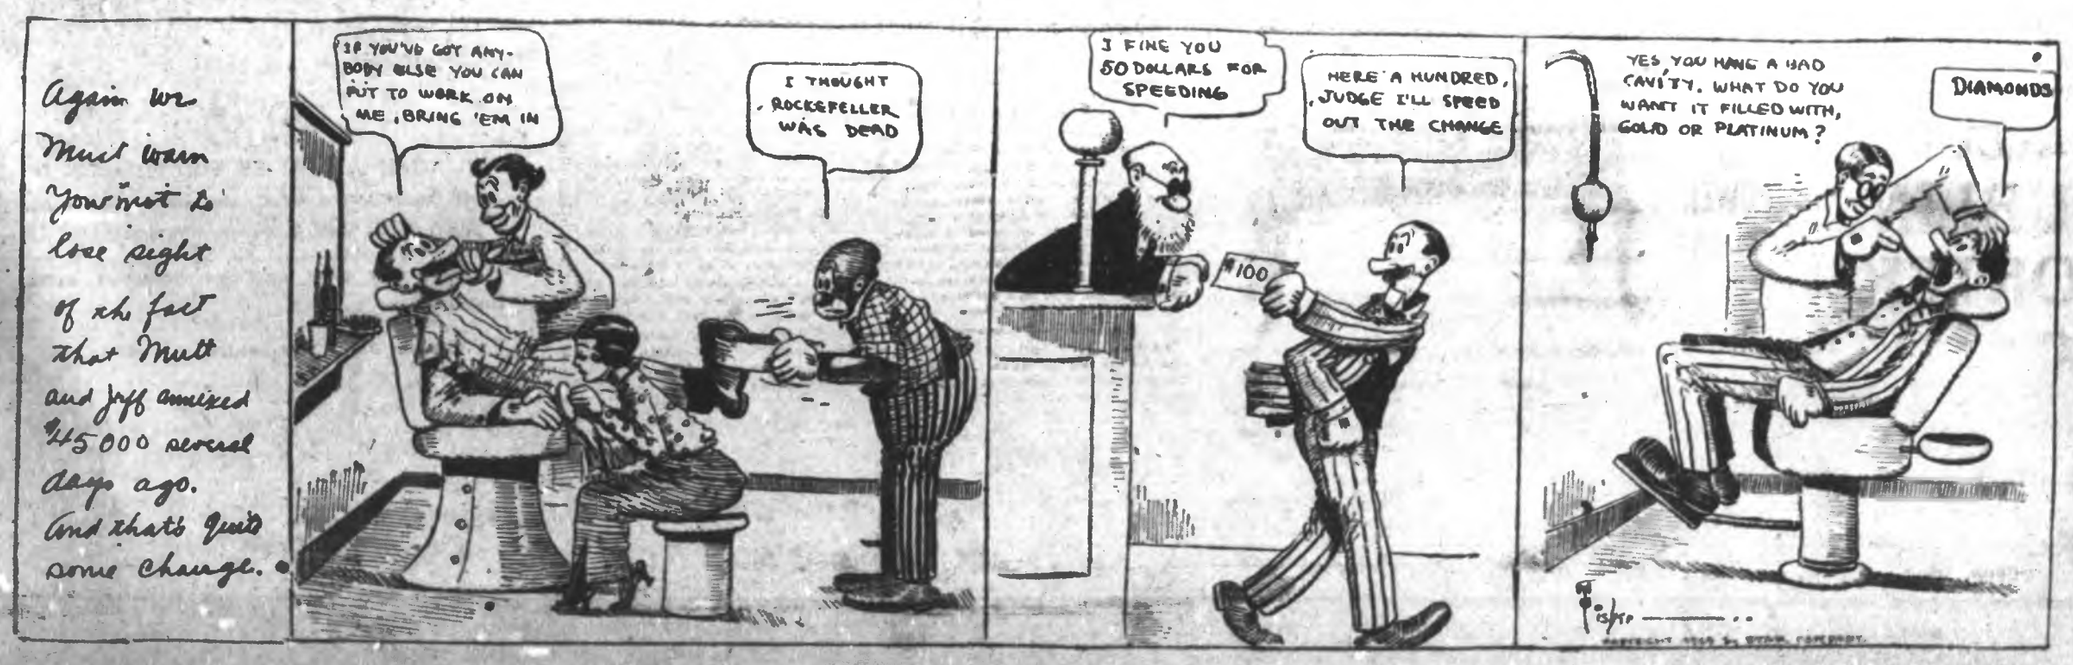
To the surprise of the king, Lady Scott declined the offer on the ground that she could not pursue her art as a sculptress at Hampton court. Her refusal is understood to be really a protest against the scale on which the fund raised in memory of her husband and his fellow heroes has been distributed as between them and the permanent memorial. She thinks the Times should have been so divided as to place her above the necessity of being an object of royal benevolence.

Scotch Sabbath Morality.

Even in Scotland up to the middle of the eighteenth century Sabbath morality was geographical. Sabbath, according to a contemporary writer, never "got aboon the pass o' Killiecrankie." For generations after the reformation the highlander on Sunday drove his cattle to market, brought home his fuel, baked his bread, fished, played shinty and put the stone." Sunday christenings and many weddings were common, and the presbytery books merely sent warnings against piping, fiddling and dancing at them.

But in the lowlands the church took a sterner view. The assembly forbade shippers and sailors to begin any voyage on the Lord's day or to "loose any ships, barks or boats." Aberdonians were fined if they failed to attend worship, the good man and good wife of the house contravening paid 6s. 8d. and "ilk servant 2s. Scots." A note had den to be borne in the seventeenth century. The record of absentees is scanty.—London Chronicle.

At This Rate Mutt and Jeff Will Soon Be Busted -:- -:- -:- By "Bud" Fisher



THIN PEOPLE CAN INCREASE WEIGHT

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and most any thin man or woman can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food, it turns the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten, into rich, ripe fat producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepares it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. All this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol stops the waste and does it quickly and makes the fat-producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and incomparable.

Druggists sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

English Publishers Anxious.

LONDON, April 7. — The London Chamber of Commerce yesterday passed a resolution expressing the greatest concern at the pronouncement of Postmaster Pelletier of the possible discontinuance, or alteration, of Canadian cheap postal rates for English magazines, and urging that they should be continued as at present. They urged that any increase would be a severe setback to the cause of Imperial unity.

It was stated that the cheap rate had resulted in wide distribution of the English magazines, and that large sums of money had been invested in the enterprise. The resolution will be forwarded to Hobhouse, British Postmaster-General, who is now in negotiation with the Canadian Government.

An Alibi For Krafchenko.

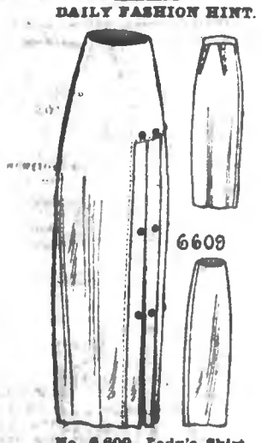
MORDEN, Man., April 7. — That Jack Krafchenko called on him at 4 o'clock on Dec. 3, the day of the Plum Coulee murder, and paid a deposit on the rent of a room, was the assertion of David Davis, 288 Aikens street, Winnipeg, who was the first witness called by the defence upon the resumption of the murder trial yesterday morning. Davis was positive as to the date, and in his identification of Krafchenko.

NOTHING LIKE IT FOR COLDS

Mrs. Holland Ferguson, Sheffield, N.B., writes: Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has cured my children and myself of severe colds. We are never without it in the home. There is nothing like it for colds and throat trouble, and it is so soothing and pleasant to take, my children would drink a whole bottle if they were permitted."

EXAMINER PATTERN SERVICE

DAILY FASHION HINT.



No. 6,609, Lady's Skirt.

This skirt is rarely handsome and entirely novel. It will make a beautiful walking skirt in twilled fabrics, whipcord, heavy ratine, chiffon taffetas and the like. It is in two pieces, one of which forms the pleated section which is inserted at the side a little below the usual yoke depth. The rest of the skirt is plain, with two tiny pleats near the belt in the back.

The skirt pattern, No. 6,609, is cut in sizes 22 to 32 inches waist measure. Medium size required 3¾ yards of 44 inch material or 2½ yards of 54 inch.

This pattern can be obtained by sending 10 cents to the office of this paper.

When ordering remember to give your name and address as well as the number and size of pattern required, and age of a child.

Address—The Examiner Pattern Service, The Examiner Peterborough.

MANUFACTURERS GET THE BEST

Five Per Cent. Reduction on Harvesters is the Only Item of Importance in Favour of the Farmer

FREE WHEAT IS REFUSED

OTTAWA, April 17.—In his budget speech yesterday, Hon. W. T White spent the first two hours in explaining that the period of Canadian depression which had followed the advent of the Borden Administration was something the Government couldn't help. The arrival in office of Premier Borden and his colleagues just happened to "synchronize," as it were, with the Balkan war and the phenomena of recurring economic cycles.

All that can be done for the farmer is to reduce the duty on two implements — binders and reapers— from 17½ per cent. to 12½ per cent. But all other farm implements stay fixed. Wire rods are taxed, but when imported for fencing will be free.

All the other tariff changes were specially slated to be for the advantage of the manufacturer. In essence the tariff has been subjected to a minor revision upward, having the interests of the manufacturers in view.

As for the finances of the nation Mr. White announces a surplus of $36,500,000, a decrease in revenue of $6,000,000 and an increase of $19,000,000 in the national debt.

Mr. White, in opening, recalled the prosperous year ending March 31, 1913, when the revenue of the Dominion reached the enormous sum of $168,688,000. For that year the current expenditures of the Government were $112,000,000, leaving a surplus revenue over current expenditures of $56,630,366. The expenditures for that year aggregated $32,369,000 and left a clear surplus of over $24,000,000. Of this surplus $11,000,000 had been expended in the purchase of 3 per cent. Grand Trunk Pacific bonds guaranteed by the Dominion Government, and $2,300,000 had been loaned to the Montreal Harbor Commission.

For the fiscal year ending on March 31 last, the revenues of the Government were estimated at $163,000,000 or a falling off from revenues of the preceding year of nearly $6,000,000. During the first six months of the fiscal year there had been a gain of $5,499,055 but the falling revenues between October and March had turned this gain into a loss for the year of between five and six million

The expenditures upon current account during the fiscal year ending March 31 last had aggregated $126,500,000, an increase of $14,500,000 over the preceding year. This left a surplus over current expenditures aggregating $36,350,000. The capital expenditures including railroad subsidies of $19,000,000 and the $15,000,000 loan to the Grand Trunk Pacific aggregated $57,000,000, so that the debt of Canada for the year was increased by $20,500,000. At the same time the Financial Minister pointed out that, in spite of the financial stringency, the revenues of the year closed had been sufficient to meet all current expenditures and also expenditures upon public works. The increase in debt had been entirely due to the large railroad subsidies, including the subsidy to the Canadian Northern, which had been necessary in order to keep railroad construction afoot and prevent additional financial stringency.

Coming to the trade figures, Mr. White said that our total trade for the year ending, March 31st last, would exceed our total trade for the year ending March 31, 1913. Moreover the percentage of exports would show a considerable increase. Our exports were indeed increasing rapidly, having risen from $274,000,000 in 1912 to $355,000,000 in 1913. While our exports for the eleven months ending Feb. 28, 1913 amounted to $330,000,000, the same eleven months would exceed $397,000,000, so that our total trade for the eleven months ending Feb 28, 1914, would amount to about $1,038,000,000.

The Finance Minister turning to the year 1914-15 said the estimate before the House called for an appropriation of $146,000,000 for current account and $43,000,000 for capital account. It was unlikely that all this money would be actually expended and he believed that our revenue for the year which began April 1, would meet all current expenditures and a considerable portion at least of our expenditure upon capital account.

"As for the financial stringency," Mr. White continued. "I believe the worst is over. Money is easier and we should have before us a year of great production. The financial institutions of the country will act with prudence and caution, but they will also be inspired with courage and confidence."

Coming to the demand for the removal of the wheat duty in order to secure free entry of wheat into the U. S. Mr. White said that the Government had decided that the wheat and flour duties should not be disturbed. It was hoped that with the completion of the Canadian Northern, the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Hudson Railway, together with the opening of the Panama route, that the western farmers would obtain competitive and therefore lower freight rates. Objection to free wheat had been voiced by millers and mixed farmers who relied on mill products. In view also of the enormous investment in railways such a step was not advisable.

Mr. White said it was not the intention of the Government to renew the old bounties, nor was it prepared at this time to give the bounty asked upon iron or manufactured Canadian ore, although an investigation would be made by the Department of Mines upon that particular branch of the subject during the recess, and such a bounty might be brought in at a subsequent session. The Government also felt compelled to refuse the request for an increase in duty upon pig iron and steel billets, as these were raw materials entering extensively into many manufactures.

Wire rods, heretofore on the free list, will hereafter, however, be subject to a duty of $2.25, British preferential, and $3.50 intermediate, and general per ton, and the Governor-General in council will have the power to equalize the existing schedules on rolled iron and steel beams, channels, etc. A drawback of 99 per cent. will be allowed on wire imported for fencing.

Mr. White also announced that the Government had determined that importers of bituminous coal for the manufacture of coke to be used for smelting or foundry purposes should be entitled to a rebate of 99 per cent.

The House was all attention when immediately after the dinner recess, Minister White took up the section on agricultural implements. He said that Sir Wilfrid Laurier in preaching free food at Hamilton and Montreal, was really preaching free trade. He now desired to say that when the Liberal party demanded free agricultural implements, it was really demanding free trade.

Continuing, Mr. White said that manufacturers of agricultural implements had to pay a duty on practically everything he used in his plant and in his business, including steel, brick, building material, engines, machinery, plant, iron, steel sheets, wire tubing chains, castings, etc. The duty upon these articles ranged from 20 to 30 per cent. In addition to this he paid 53 cents per ton upon the coal he used as fuel. Now in ordinary justice could this manufacturer who paid so many duties be stripped of all protection? If the Liberals were consistent in their demand for free agricultural implements they would have to favor abolishing all the duties upon all the raw and manufactured materials used by the implement manufacturer. He challenged them to announce such a platform. They would not dare to do so because it meant absolute free trade.

But even if the manufacturer of agricultural implements had no duties to pay he could not compete with his competitor in the United States because the latter had a far wider market. He believed that to abolish the duties upon agricultural implements would close out seventy-seven factories in Canada, would scrap an investment of $45,000,000 and threw ten thousand men out of employment.

The Government, however, was anxious to do what could be done for the farmer, and it was felt that upon one range of agricultural implements the duties might be reduced because of the extensive rebates enjoyed by the manufacturer.

Mr. White said that upon harvesters, binders, mowers and reapers the Government intended to reduce the duties from 17-12 per cent., to 12½ or two and one-half per cent. lower than the rate fixed by the reciprocity pact of 1911. Parts of ditching machines necessary for repairs would henceforth be on the free list also.

There is an increase in the duty upon building stone which at present comes in at 20 per cent., being practically imported from Ohio. Hereafter on stone sawn upon four sides the duty will be 15 cents per cwt., being equivalent to a duty of 30 per cent., and cut plain and further finished 45 cents per cwt.

Caustic soda and chloride of lime heretofore on the free list, will hereafter be dutiable. Brass, in sheets, bars and rods, now free, will hereafter pay a duty of 10 per cent.

No bounty will be granted to the pig iron industry at this session, but the Government during the recess will enquire into the propriety of granting assistance.

Mr. White gave notice of an amendment to the Customs Act respecting the surtax, which is now an additional one-third of the duty. The amendment allows the governor-in-council to prescribe the surtax in any case against goods imported from a country which discriminates against Canadian merchandise or shipping, but said surtax is in no event to exceed 20 per cent. ad valorem. Mr. White also laid upon the table amendments of minor importance dealing with a number of other schedules not discussed in the budget speech.

When through old age the bodily functions become sluggish,

Na-Dru-Co Laxatives

give gentle, timely and effective aid, without discomfort or distress.

25c. a box at your Druggist's. 173

National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited.

You're not really sick, still you don't feel "just right."

How often is this true of hundreds of us. We're not really sick, but feel sluggish, out of sorts, our keenness and activity are impeded. The chief cause for this is constipation. When you feel that way, take

Wesdens Pills

25c Box. LOOK FOR THE RED SEAL

SOLD AND GUARANTEED BY

Warne Drug Co. and James Lynch, Peterboro'

UP IN NEW ONTARIO.

Got Rheumatism Through Exposure but Wesden's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

"While on a trip with a survey party in Northern Ontario two years ago, I contracted rheumatism through exposure and sleeping in damp clothes. When I returned home I was very bad, and the pain in my joints was something awful. I was advised to try Wesden's Kidney Pills, and after taking four boxes my rheumatism was entirely gone. Last year I was up on the survey party again, but I was never without a box of Wesden's Kidney Pills, and have never had the slightest return of it.

John S. Dillon,
Soo, Mich

Rich Silverware

—rich in quality and beauty—should grace every home. Choose

1847 ROGERS BROS.

"Silver Plate that Wears"

This brand is known as

It is the original and genuine "Rogers" as well as the heaviest grade of plate made.

Sold by Leading Dealers

TO IMPROVE PRETTY HAIR AND BEAUTIFY UGLY HAIR

Harmony Hair Beautifier, a delightful liquid hair dressing, is just what it is named—a hair beautifier. No matter how pretty your hair now is, it can be made to look even better by using Harmony Hair Beautifier. To those who mourn because the hair is stringy, dull, lustreless and homely, Harmony Hair Beautifier will prove a real blessing and pleasure. It seems to polish and burnish the hair, making it glossy, silky-soft and more easy to put up in graceful, wavy folds that "stay put." It overcomes the oily smell of the hair with a dainty, true-rose fragrance, very pleasing to the user and those around.

Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick, thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony laboratories, Toronto, where the celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made.

McDermid & Jury, and E. L. Payne, Peterborough.

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat also take glass of Salts Before eating breakfast

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to moral activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Fashion Frills.

The notion that girls dress to keep warm was discarded long ago.—Detroit Free Press.

Followers of extreme fashion now wear rainbow hair. Beauty, once at least skin deep, has become an optical illusion.—Washington Star.

According to a fashion editor, there is a great deal of personality seen in dress these days. It almost seems at times as if there might be more personality than dress.—Cleveland Leader.

The blue and green and other colored wigs introduced at a recent dinner party in London are reported as sure to become the fashion. If so the circus clowns will have to invent something new to make themselves look funny.—Philadelphia Press.

Baseball Tips.

Chance out, Murphy unassisted; Evers out, Murphy unassisted; Murphy out, Johnson to Tener.—Boston Herald.

It doesn't seem quite correct to say there is no panic in the country. Look at what the new baseball league is doing.—Topeka Journal.

The way in which some of the baseball players have been jumping around would seem to make some of the spring training unnecessary.—Philadelphia Press.

If baseball as played professionally has been a monopoly the indications are that it is going to have plenty of competition this year without any help from the Sherman law.—New York World.

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO, April 6.—Chances that the government crop report tomorrow will prove of the most flattering sort, tended today to lower the price of wheat. The market closed easy at ⅛c to ¼c net decline. Corn finished with a gain of ⅛c to ¾c; oats up ⅛c to ⅛c, and provisions varying from a shade off to 5c advance.

TORONTO GRAIN MARKET.

Wheat, fall, bushel	0 96	to $1 00
Barley, bushel	0 63	0 64
Peas, bushel	0 80	....
Oats, bushel	0 41	....
Rye, bushel	0 65	....
Buckwheat, bushel	0 70	0 76

TORONTO DAIRY MARKET.

Butter, store lots	0 24	0 26
Butter, creamery, lb. rolls	0 31	0 32
Butter, separator, dairy	0 27	0 29
Butter, creamery, solids	0 27	0 28
Eggs, new-laid	0 21	0 22
Cheese, old, lb.	0 15	0 15½
Cheese, new, lb.	0 14½	0 15
Honey, combs, dozen	2 50	3 00
Honey, extracted, lb.	0 09	....

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, April 6.—Wheat—Cash—No. 1 northern, 86¼c; No. 2, 87¾c; No. 3 do., 83½c; No. 4, 83¼c; No. 5, 80c; No. 6, 76c; feed, 70c; No. 1 rejected seeding, 85¾c; No. 2 rejected seeds, 83¾c; No. 1 smutty, 85¼c; No. 2 smutty, 83¾c; No. 1 red winter, 85¼c; No. 2 do., 87¾c; No. 3 do., 85¾c.

Oats—No. 2 C.W., 35c; No. 3 C.W., 34c; No. 1 feed 33¼c; No. 2 feed, 32c.

Barley—No. 3, 44¾c; No. 4, 42¾c; rejected, 41¾c; feed, 41¼c.

Flax—No. 1 N.W.C., $1.87½; No. 2 C. W., $1.84¾; No. 3 C.W., $1.78.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN MARKET.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 6.—Close—Wheat—May, 85¾c; July, 89⅝c to 89⅝c bid; No. 1 hard, 91⅜c to 91¾c; No. 2 northern, 89⅛c to 91⅛c; No. 3 northern, 86⅝c to 88⅝c.

Corn—No. 3 yellow, 64c to 64½c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 36⅛c to 36⅝c.

Flour and bran unchanged.

DULUTH GRAIN MARKET.

DULUTH, April 6.—Close—Wheat—No. 1 hard, 90⅝c; No. 1 northern, 89⅝c; No. 2 do., 89⅛c; No. 3 hard, 85¾c; May, 89⅛c to 89⅝c; July, 86⅛c to 87c.

CATTLE MARKETS

UNION STOCK YARDS.

TORONTO, April 6.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Yards were 48 cars (comprising 703 cattle, 875 hogs, 46 sheep and 121 calves.

Butchers.

Choice steers by the load sold as high as $8.40, one load at that price; choice steers and heifers, $7.75 to $8; good, $7.50 to $7.75; medium, $7.25 to $7.50; common, $7 to $7.25; choice cows, $7 to $7.25; good cows, $6.50 to $6.75; common to medium cows, $5 to $6.75; canners and cutters, $3.75 to $4.75; bulls, $6 to $7.00.

Stockers and Feeders.

Stockers and feeders were none too plentiful. Prices of steers, 800 to 900 lbs., at $6.75 to $7; steers, 700 to 800 lbs., at $6.25 to $6.50; stockers sold at from $4.50 to $5.75.

Milkers and Springers.

Not many milkers were on the market, but prices remain firm, at $60 to $95, the bulk selling at $70 to $85.

Veal Calves.

On account of light deliveries, calves sold as high as ever. Choice calves at $10 to $11; good calves at $9 to $10; medium at $7.50 to $8.50; common at $6 to $7.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts light and prices firm. Sheep, ewes, $6.50 to $7.50; rams, $5.50 to $6.50; lambs, choice, $9 to $9.75.

Hogs.

Selects, fed and watered, sold at $9.25.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

MONTREAL, April 6.—The display of fancy and extra choice stall fed stock at the local stock yards today was by no means as large as in former years, which was attributed to the fact that prices asked for such stock in the country were so much higher than in previous years and drovers did not feel disposed to take any wide chances in getting their own back. However, there was an ample supply of good to choice cattle for butchers and packers to choose from, which in every respect suited for the Easter trade, but there was practically no advance in prices paid a week ago, except for a few odd lots of picked steers. The weather was all that could be desired by the trade, and the gathering of buyers was large, including some from Quebec and Ottawa. Butchers' cattle, choice, $8.50 to $8.75; do., medium, $8.40 to $8.50; do., common, $8 to $8; canners, $4 to $4.25; butchers' cattle, choice cows, $7 to $7.25; do., medium, $6 to $6.75; do., bulls, $5 to $7.50; milkers, choice, each, $80 to $100; do., common and medium, each, $70 to $80; springers, $60 to $80; sheep, ewes, $7 to $7.50; do., rams, each, $6 to $6.50; lambs, $8.50 to $9; hogs, off cars, $9.75 to $10; calves, $5 to $15.

EAST BUFFALO LIVE STOCK.

EAST BUFFALO, April 6.—Cattle—Receipts—4400; heavy, active, 10c to 15c higher; others, fairly active and strong to easy; prime steers, $8.85 to $9.10; shipping, $8 to $8.85; butchers, $6.75 to $8.40; heifers, $6 to $8; cows, $3.75 to $7.35; bulls, $6 to $7.50; stockers and feeders, $6.75 to $7.25; stock heifers, $5.25 to $6.75; fresh cows and springers, steady; $35 to $85.

Veals—Receipts, 1600; active and steady; $6 to $13.

Hogs—Receipts, 14,800; active and steady to 5c lower; pigs, 10c to 15c higher; heavy, $9.15 to $9.20; mixed, $9.20 to $9.25; yorkers, $9.25 to $9.35; pigs, $9.25 to $9.35; roughs, $8.25 to $8.50; stags, $7 to $7.75; dairies, $9 to $9.25.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 17,600; slow; ewes, steady; others, 15c to 25c lower; lambs, $8.10 to $8.40; yearlings, $6.50 to $7.10; wethers, $6.75 to $7; ewes, $4 to $6.50; sheep, mixed, $6.60 to $6.65; silvered lambs, $7 to $7.25.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, April 6.—Cattle—Receipts, 25,000; market weak; beeves, $6.80 to $9.60; Texas steers, $7.20 to $8.10; stockers and feeders, $6.40 to $8.20; cows and heifers, $3.20 to $8.50; calves, $8.50 to $11.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 40,000; market lower; mixed, $9.30 to $9.60; heavy, $9.30 to $9.60; rough, $9.30 to $9.45; pigs, $7.60 to $9.10; bulk of sales, $9.35 to $9.60.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 20,000; market weak and lower; native, $5.25 to $6.75; yearlings, $6.75 to $7.75; lambs, native, $6.25 to $8.

Labor Saved.

Spread a couple of thicknesses of newspapers on your desk board. Set your ashtrays, mucilage or other dirty things on the paper instead of on the board. This saves the board from many a stain and saves much scouring.

TEMPERANCE WORKER DEAD.

Mrs. Stevens, President of National W. C. T. U. Passes Away.

PORTLAND, Me., April 7. — Mrs. William M. N. Stevens, president of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, died yesterday. She had been ill for several weeks with kidney trouble.

Mrs. Stevens, who was born in Dover, Maine, 70 years ago, continued to the last the temperance work to which she had devoted most of her life. Her mind remained clear, and late last week she was able to dictate correspondence in connection with the duties of her office. With her when the end came were her husband, Michael Stevens; her daughter, Mrs. Gertrude S. Leavitt of this city, and Miss Anna Gordon of Evanston, Ill., vice-president of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union.

At conventions of the World's Christian Temperance Union at Geneva, New York and Boston, Mrs. Stevens, as vice-president at large, presided in the absence of the president. Her ability as a speaker and worker for temperance first became recognized in the campaign of 1884, which placed the prohibitory amendment in the Maine constitution.

THE "GEN." WAS NOISY.

Mrs. Drummond Yelled So Loudly She Couldn't Be Tried.

LONDON, April 7. — "Gen." Mrs. Flora Drummond, the militant suffragette, shrieked so loudly when she was arraigned yesterday at the police court in connection with the suffragette disturbance at the Unionist demonstration in Hyde Park on Saturday that she had to be forcibly removed, and her trial adjourned. She would not allow either the magistrate or the prosecuting attorney to utter an audible word.

When Mrs. Drummond entered the prisoners' enclosure she shouted at the top of her voice that she would not permit any one but herself to speak, because, she said, the magistrate and the police courts were doing the dirty work of Premier Asquith.

Duke Visits Woodstock May 8.

WOODSTOCK, April 7. — Mayor Hobson received a letter from Government House yesterday, stating that the vice-regal party would be in Woodstock on May 8 on their proposed trip through western Ontario. The communication also stated that the Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia would accompany the Governor-General on the trip. It is likely that the arrangements for the opening of the nurses' home will be changed to that date, in order to have the duke preside over the ceremony, together with Bishop Farthing.

PILES Quickly Cured

Instant Relief, Permanent Cure—Trial Package Mailed Free to All in Plain Wrapper.

We want every man and woman, suffering from the excruciating torture of piles to just send their name and address to us and get, by return mail, a free trial package of the most effective and positive cure ever known for this disease, Pyramid Pile Remedy.

The way to prove what this great remedy will do in your case is to just fill out free coupon and send to us and you will get by return mail, a free sample of Pyramid Pile Remedy.

Then, after you have proved to yourself what it can do, you will go to the druggist and get a 50-cent box.

Don't undergo a operation. Operations are rarely a success and often lead to terrible consequences. Pyramid Pile Remedy reduces all inflammation, makes congestion, irritation, itching, sores and ulcers disappear—and the piles simply quit.

For sale at all drug stores at 50 cents a box.

FREE PACKAGE COUPON.

Fill out the blank lines below with your name and address, cut out coupon and mail to the PYRAMID DRUG CO., 406 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich. A trial package of the great Pyramid Pile Remedy will then be sent you at once by mail, FREE, in plain wrapper.

Name .....

Street .....

City ..... State .....

Get a Jar.

"Algy was talking of trying a complexion cream. Did he get a jar?"

"He got a jar, all right. The saleslady called him a sissy."—Kansas City Journal.

The Other Side.

"Love will find the way," he cried.
"If we submit our wills!"
"Perhaps," the lovely maiden sighed,
"But love won't foot the bills!"
—Los Angeles Express.

Going and Coming.

Biz—Does your wife ever go to the club for you when you are out late?

Diz—No, but she goes for me when I get home.—Boston Transcript.

Worry Stops Digestion And Destroys The Nerves

This Letter Tells of Case Which Baffled Doctors—Lasting Cure Effected by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

If you only worry enough, digestion will stop entirely. Worry and anxiety consume nerve force at a tremendous rate. Blood rushes to the brain to renew the wasted nerve cells, and other parts of the body must suffer accordingly. When nervous energy is being consumed by the brain in worry, there is not sufficient left to run the machinery of digestion. This is why nervous, irritable, worrying people usually suffer from the food they eat the nourishment essential to the maintenance of health.

"Laugh and grow fat" is an old saying laden with value for nervous people in particular. Drop the worry habit and use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and you will soon get the nervous system restored to good condition. Digestion will improve, appetite will return, and you will find such symptoms as headache and sleeplessness fast disappearing.

Mrs. Fred Jenson, 60 Gladstone Avenue, Windsor, Ont., writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for nervousness and stomach trouble and never found anything to equal them. I was a nervous wreck. Doctors gave me up as incurable, but now I feel well again and have recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to several people suffering as I did, and they have also been cured by its use. I am fifty-one years old, do all my own work, and am very thankful that I learned about this great medicine. I am satisfied that my cure is lasting and want others to benefit from my experience."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

The Manufacturer's Problem Solved!

THE solution will be found on page 4 of "The Elevator," a new book just off the press. We want to place a copy of this Book in the hands of every progressive manufacturer in the country.

It may prove to be worth hundreds of dollars to YOU. In its pages appear many illustrations and suggestions for manufacturers, retailers, jobbers and wholesalers, any one of which may be the solution of your individual problem. The successful manufacturer owes much of his success to the intelligent arrangement of his plant and the elimination of needless effort and wasted energy. This Book points the way to bigger profits and greater efficiency. Write to-day for YOUR copy.

OTIS-FENSOM ELEVATOR COMPANY LIMITED

80 BAY ST., TORONTO

Tear out, fill in and mail this Coupon now.

COUPON "N 25"
Please send me your Book.
Name.....
Address.....

Published every Afternoon (except Sunday) and Tri-Weekly on Monday, Wednesday and Friday Mornings. Tri-Weekly issued as a Home Rule, Conservative and Farmers' Organ. Office, Hunter Street, Peterborough, Ont. Telephone 373

The Evening Examiner.

Pages 7-14

PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, APRIL 7, 1914

City Council Adopts 26 Mill Tax Rate For The Present Year

Alderman Gordon Resigned From Council And Was Appointed City Solicitor

DETECTIVE DEPARTMENT IS IN POSSESSION OF SOME VERY IMPORTANT EVIDENCE

Concerning Tragic Death of Havelock Man—Medical Testimony Adduced—Murder is Suspected

INQUEST ADJOURNED

HAVELOCK, April 7.—The absence of an extradition treaty between Canada and Bulgaria, will in all probability serve as a warrant of security to Kola Volceoff, the star witness in connection with the investigation, that was resumed here yesterday, in connection with the unnatural death of N. Duloff. Deceased, it will be remembered, disappeared on December the sixth, a circumstance that was not communicated to the local authorities until the 28th of January. Duloff's body was found on Sunday, March 10th, in the pond south of the C.P.R. water tank. The remains which were badly decomposed were turned over to the authorities, who ordered an investigation. Severe scalp wounds one of which, was sufficient to cause death, were located behind the ear. The skull was fractured and a piece of the bone driven in. This, together with the report of the post mortem examination that was conducted by Dr. J. H. Holdcroft of Havelock, and Dr. Ford of Norwood, substantiates the theory that a brutal murder had been committed.

Doctors Examined.

Nothing but the evidence of the two doctors, who conducted the post mortem, was adduced at the inquest, that was resumed yesterday, with Coroner Dr. Kindred of Havelock presiding. The hearing was called for one o'clock in the Town Hall, but was delayed owing to the unavoidable absence of Assistant Crown Attorney Wearing. The latter misjudged the time of departure of the train leaving Peterborough at 11:45, but lost no time in catching a freight train. By the time Mr. Wearing arrived in Havelock, the hearing had been postponed until Friday, April 17th. Constable Post was notified of the arrival of the Crown's representative and a hurry call was sent out, summoning the jurors to their respective places in the Town Hall. It was decided to limit the hearing to the examination of Drs. Holdcroft and Ford so as to obviate the necessity of having them appear again.

Skull Was Fractured.

Dr. Holdcroft was first examined by Mr. Wearing. Witness reported that the body upon which he had been ordered to conduct a post mortem, was badly decomposed. The skull was fractured at the base of the left ear and a portion of the bone driven in. The nature of the wound indicated that deceased had met a violent death, and the absence of water in the lungs testified to the fact that Duloff had met death before entering the water, in which he was found. The nature of the wounds was sufficient to bring about immediate insensibility. Dr. Holdcroft could not say whether the instrument used was sharp or dull.

Dr. Ford has been a practising physician for fifty years. He corroborated the evidence submitted by the previous witnss. He was of the opinion that deceased met death before he went into the water.

As there were no other witnesses present, Coroner Dr. Kindred adjourned the investigation until Friday, April 17th.

Provincial Detective Present.

Provincial Detective Boyd was present at the hearing. To The Examiner representative, the sleuth, whose familiar figure is well known to the authorities in Peterborough County, expressed the opinion that the Detective Department was in possession of some very important evidence, and that if such course be possible, Volceoff, will be brought back to Peterborough County, where it is possible, he may have to stand trial on a charge of being implicated in the circumstances surrounding Duloff's disappearance. Detective Boyd stated that it was doubtful if the authorities would surrender Volceoff, owing to the fact that no extradition treaty exists between the two countries. He left over the scene of the tragedy in company with Constable Post, returning to Toronto on the afternoon train.

Left Suddenly.

At the time of Duloff's disappearance the affair was investigated by the Provincial Detective Department, but the man suspected of being concerned in the deed, left town suddenly when the matter was made public and his whereabouts could not be ascertained. It was discovered later that Kola Volceoff, the man who left town, had drawn a large sum of money just previously to January 28th, and that part of it, presumably, was Duloff's back pay. The general opinion at the time was that Volceoff was either a party to Duloff's disappearance or knew something about it, and that theory, it is

(Continued on Page 10.)

COUNCIL BACK-FIRED ON BY-LAW

Work of Ald. Langford's Property Committee Nullified by Last Night's Work

ALD. STRATTON INDIGNANT

The Council hesitated at nothing last night. Although the Property Committee had spent considerable time in outlining an extended section for garbage collections, the Aldermen turned on the proposal last night, and cut off everything except the territory covered last year.

Mr. Jas. Dillon and Mr. Sam Bickle were speakers for a small delegation from East City to protest against collecting garbage from the territory across the river. Ashes are used for filling in low ground. What is the use, they said, of paying the city to carry the material away, and then paying carters to bring material to even up the properties that need it. As for table refuse, nearly everybody has hens. Ninety-nine out of every hundred East Ward citizens do not want the garbage collected.

Alderman McIntyre.

Alderman McIntyre showed that only 200 calls would be made by the collectors in the outlined district of the East Ward, whereas 800 were required in some of the districts on this side of the river. East City people did not wish to have dirty premises, but they did not need garbage collection.

Alderman Johnston declared that the same applied to parts of the North Ward which might be omitted this year.

Alderman Duncan stated that he did not wish to have anything imposed that would be regarded as a hardship, but if the whole city was to be compelled to clean up, East City should be included in the scheme.

Alderman Johnston moved, seconded by Alderman Green that all the new districts outlined for this year be cut out.

Alderman Langford—Tenders have been advertised for.

Alderman Green said that for the seven remaining months of this year the present districts could be covered and at the beginning of the new year the whole question could be gone into.

Alderman Stratton felt that the clause of the by-law, calling for the collection of garbage from the districts outlined should be maintained.

Alderman Duncan expressed himself in the same manner and moved, seconded by Alderman Gordon, that the by-law be adopted in full. Only three members supported this—Alderman Duncan, Gordon and Stratton.

The Situation.

Alderman McIntyre moved, seconded by Alderman Duffus that only East City be eliminated from this year's plans. This was also defeated.

Alderman Johnston's motion to cut out the whole new territories was supported by himself and Aldermen Saunders, Green and McIntyre.

Several Complaints.

Even Mayor Buller showed irritation at the outcome. "We sit here all week discussing these things," he said, "and all for nothing."

Alderman Stratton wanted to know why Alderman Langford did not support the clause which as chairman of the Property Committee he fathered.

"We were all agreed," he said, "and decided to extend the districts. Then we come here to-night and the whole thing is nullified. That's a mighty funny way of doing business."

The amended by-law was then adopted.

Alderman Langford—What position are we in regarding the tenders we called for?

Mayor Buller—I can't tell you.

Money was spent in advertising for the tenders, time was spent in preparing the plans for the extension of the collections, and the whole thing was shot to pieces in a twinkling.

FUNERAL OF SERGT. ADAMS

The funeral of the late Sergeant Adams of the Police Force tok place this afternoon from the residence, Stewart Street, to Little Lake cemetery and was largely attended. Represented in the funeral cortege were the City Council, the Police Department, Fire Department, and other local bodies. The Independent and Canadian Order of Foresters were also represented. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful.

REDUCTION OF THE TAX RATE IS IMPOSSIBLE

26 Mills Was the Best Effort of the Council, Keeping in View the Welfare and Needs of the City—City Fathers Could Not Move

MAYOR EXPRESSED REGRET

One of the important announcements made at Monday night's Council meeting was Alderman Anderson's report that the tax rate for this year will be 26 mills. In spite of the efforts which the City Fathers have been making during the past year to prune the estimate for a 25 or 25½-mills rate, it was generally expected that nothing short of 26 mills would meet the requirements for the present year.

Alderman Anderson stated that he had been provided with the completed figures just previous to the meeting and was unable to review the situation as he would like to have done and as he felt the subject meritad.

The increased expenditure for this year, a large portion of which does not fall within the Council's control, amounts to $26,446.77. The increased revenue from assessments provides for $17,000, and with the extra mill on the rate the entire demand will be met.

Per Capita Tax Low.

The Finance Minister pointed out a ray of comfort for the taxpayers of the city. While the rate seems to be crawling up, the taxes per head are comparatively low. Out of twenty-four Ontario cities, Peterborough stood twenty-first in regard to the per capita taxes. The only way to reduce the rate would be to increase the assessment. At the present time Peterborough is carrying the peak load in regard to its debt. Very few debentures are maturing or will mature for a few years.

Figures quoted by Alderman Anderson in regard to debentures falling due are as follows:

1914	$ 20,000
1915	none
1916	none
1917	3,000
1918	20,000
1919	17,132
1920	113,096

Level the Assessments.

Mayor Buller said he was sorry the Council could not hold the rate at 25 mills. The Council had worked hard to do it, but there are some departments over which the Council has no control in regard to expenditures. The Library Board had a surplus which they did not know what to do with, and they raised the Librarian's salary. The Mayor stated that he opposed this proposal. He felt that the chairmen of the Council committees had tried to cut their demands, but the city's work had to be carried out. There is no doubt that the assessment in Peterborough is very low. In some cases it may be high, but the whole assessment needs remodelling. The assessor is going over this work now, and next year it should make a big difference to the city.

NEW BUILDING WILL SOON BE COMMENCED

Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., has written the Council that the Minister of Public Works has assigned the chief architect to the work of preparing for the City's new public building and that construction work will be begun as soon as possible. He regretted that the dry-dock work is held up owing to prices asked for required property. The prices are regarded as being too high, and some time may elapse before the matter is straightened out.

EX-ALD. GORDON WAS APPOINTED CITY SOLICITOR

Resigned From the Council at Last Night's Meeting and Was Appointed Successor to E. H. D. Hall

AN ALDERMAN THREE YEARS

The City Council received the resignation of City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall at last night's meeting and shortly after Ald. Gordon handed in his resignation as Alderman for the Centre Ward. Before the meeting concluded he was appointed to succeed Mr. Hall, receiving the salary of $1,000.

Mayor Buller, Ald. Duncan and Ald. Duffus expressed their regret that Mr. Hall had found it necessary to give up his duties in connection with the City. Mr. Hall has held the position since 1903 and was a member of the City Council previous to that from the year 1888 to 1899, with the exception of a few intervening years. When he was appointed the last by-law passed by the Council numbered 971, and upon his resignation the last by-law was 1800, so that during his twelve years' service there were passed almost as many bylaws as during the previous 58 years, or since the incorporation of the Town. Mr. Hall expressed, in his letter, his deep appreciation of kindnesses received at the hands of the various Councils.

His resignation was accepted, on motion of Ald. Duncan, seconded by Ald. Duffus.

Minus an Alderman.

Ald. Gordon, a few minutes later, announced his resignation as Alderman. During the past three years he had become acquainted with the inner workings of the Council and had obtained an experience as useful as it had been pleasant. His resignation was accepted.

Ald. Johnston—"What's this all about?"

Ald. Green—"This Council can do anything."

Plus a Solicitor.

A by-law was introduced later when the Council went back to the seventh order of business, and on motion of Ald. Duncan and Green, ex-Ald. Gordon was appointed City Solicitor at the salary recived by Mr. Hall—$1,000 a year.

Ald. Langford said he did not regard it a good idea to move so quickly. He felt that the question might be deferred for a few days at least, and an effort made to consider other lawyers who might serve.

It was pointed out that Mr. Hall was anxious that his resignation take effect as soon as possible.

PRESENTATION OF "CRUCIFIXION"

The presentation of Stainer's "Crucifixion last night was well attended in All Saints' Church. The Rev. R. B. Grobb conducted devotions before and after the work. The choirs of All Saints' and St. John's combined under the leadership of Mr. R. J. Devey, with Mr. George Chandler, choirmaster of All Saints', as tenor soloist, and Mr. Gorge Harris of St. John's, as bass soloist. As this makes the fifteenth presentation of this work in this district, it is too well known to require any detailed account. The choruses were evening sung, as were also the special parts, and the quartette, "God So Loved the World." Both soloists were good, and Mr. Boddy, singing in the duet for tenor and bass with Mr. Chandler gave a good rendering. Miss Flowers presided at the organ and played expressively. Both choirs will sing the work again on Good Friday in St. John's.

PETERBORO' BILL PASSED TO-DAY

Peterborough's private bill, giving the city immediate possession of the Peterborough Light and Power Company's property was passed this morning. The news is conveyed in the following telegram from Mr. E. A. Peck, M.P.P.:

The Peterborough Bill passed the Private Bills Committee this morning without further opposition. Mayor Buller and City Solicitor Hall were present for the city.

ULSTERITES ARE DRILLING EVERY NIGHT

Take No Stock in the Peace Overtures in the House and Are Preparing for Trouble

HOSPITALS READY

Examiner Special:

LONDON, ENG., April 7—(Special Cable),—What will happen now that the Commons has carried the second reading of the Home Rule Bill? It is stated to-day there will be no settlement between the parties until after the bill reaches the Lords, and in some quarters it is understood that the bill will not be sent to the Lords till May 9th. In the meantime there is considerable comment on the fact that Sir Edward Grey was not present in the House last night to forward his federal scheme. The Federalists are saying to-day that their cause made little advancement as the result of his going on a fishing trip when he should have been on duty. Both Unionists and Nationalists are repudiating an electioneering leaflet issued by the National Unionists' Association, stating "A vote for a Radical means a widow in Ulster."

ULSTERITES PREPARING

TORONTO, Ont., April 7.—That the Ulsterites are taking no chances and are very suspicious of the peace overtures going on in the House of Commons in London is indicated by a special cable received by the Toronto Star to-day from its staff correspondent who has just arrived at Londonderry. Maitland says the Unionists in Derry are drilling every night under the very eyes of Government police. They say they have the sympathies of the bulk of the British army, and if troops are sent to force the Dublin Government on them they will fraternize and all fight on the one side. Two spacious residences are already equipped as hospitals, and the Derry ladies are all experts in ambulance work. The Ulster army is fully organized with all arms and auxiliary services.

NEW "COP"

P. C. Brown, who has been appointed to the local force for only two weeks, handed in his resignation last evening. Ex-P. C. Brown left this morning, on the 11:43 C. P. R. train for St. John, whence he will embark on the "Royal George" for England. The reason for his unexpected departure is that his mother is not expected to recover from a recent illness that befell her. Mr. Brown was summoned to go right away by his brother.

He has been in Canada for ten years, and his departure, which may be a final one, will in one way be regretted by a large circle of friends which he has made, during his sojourn in this country.

The vacancy caused by his resignation has already been filled. Mr. Arthur Blade, son of Mr. A. W. Blade, the local florist, will be his successor. Mr. Blade is well experienced, having served two years on the London, Ont. Force, which is considered to be one of the finest organizations in Canada. He went there on a recommendation from Chief Thompson. His duties will commence here at once.

FROST-GROWN PANSIES

Mr. W. R. Morris has kindly left with The Examiner some pansy blossoms plucked in the open at his place, Rocklands, on April 6th. The adventurous plants had pushed their full bloom into the sunshine from the rigidly frozen soil. One might easily expect to see blooming pansies in the warm air of a hot-house, but to see them successfully pitting their delicacy against the biting fore of frost is one of the marvels of nature. These enterprising pansies are the last word in optimism—they are making it spring whether it is spring or not.

THE CITY COUNCIL CUTS THE CIGARETTE LICENSE FROM $40.00 TO $15.00

By-law Passed at March Council Meeting Was Practically Rescinded Last Night.

MAYOR'S VOTE COUNTED

Not the least interesting, nor the least wonderful, was the manner in which the Council man-handled Alderman Anderson's cigarette by-law.

It will be remembered that the Andy Broder of the Council fathered a by-law fixing the license for the sale of cigarettes at $40. Last night it was reduced to $15, Mayor Buller's vote breaking a tie, the aldermen having divided evenly in their ballotting.

Quite a numerous delegation of tobacconists including Harry Gainey, Bruce Patterson, Nelson Graham, Arthur Mitchell, Archie Breault, and others were present.

Mr. Breault stated that he had a petition signed by 500 ratepayers asking that the $40 by-law be rescinded. Mr. Gainey dealt with the financial side, pointing out that $300 worth of cigarettes would have to be sold before any profit would begin. The trade would be taken from the small dealer and centralized among the hotels and larger stores, the tendency in Alderman Anderson's ward would be to send the boys into the hotel for their supplies.

Bruce Patterson said he held no brief for the use of cigarettes, but the only way to prevent the boys from getting them was to prevent their manufacture.

Waited Until Midnight.

The members of the deputation were kept waiting until near midnight before their question was dealt with. In fact the clocks were striking midnight when the Mayor said "Aye."

Alderman Anderson retraced the ground which had been covered at previous meetings.

"I cannot congratulate the members of the deputation," he said, "on the promptness with which they have taken this up. I gave notice of motion for this by-law in February, and a month elapsed before it was introduced at the March meeting and passed. Not a single serious objection was raised until the Mayor's seal had been placed on the by-law." He answered some of the statements presented and declared that he did not want to be unreasonable. He was willing to reduce the fee as long as the object of the by-law was not destroyed.

Alderman Gordon.

Alderman Gordon said the by-law would tend to create a monopoly in the sale of cigarettes. He favoured a license of $15.

Alderman Duffus felt that even the retailers were opposed to the cigarette habit, but as long as they were manufactured and people asked for them, there would be a serious loss of business to barbers and others. One sale often leads to another. He favoured the $15 fee.

Alderman Green Unmoved.

Alderman Green refused to budge. The by-law had received the careful consideration of the Council, and nothing was done but what was right. He had no reason to change his mind on the subject.

Ald. Duffus replied that he had held out when the matter was up before that it was a mistake to make the amount $40.

The Ballotting.

Alderman Anderson moved, seconded by Alderman Stratton, that the fee be placed at $25.

Alderman McIntyre would be lenient. He moved for $20, but had no seconder.

Alderman Duffus moved, seconded by Alderman Gordon that it be $15.

The resulting vote left the old fee of $40 intact. Alderman Duffus called for ayes and nays, and the city fathers responded as follows:

Ayes.	Nays.
Stratton	Saunders
Gordon	Duncan
Duffus	Green
Langford	Johnston
McIntyre	Anderson

Mayor Buller cast the deciding vote with the ayes and the by-law must be amended to change the license to $15.

Said Alderman Green—This Council can do anything after that.

BUDGET DEBATE WILL PROCEED

Mr. McLean Chief Opposition Financial Critic Will Speak This Afternoon

PROPOSE FREE WHEAT

Special Wire to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, Ont., April 7.—The general impression created from the budget speech delivered by Hon. W. T. White, the Minister of Finance yesterday, is that the government intends to stand by the national policy as in the past and to make its next appeal to people so far as the tariff is concerned on the protectionist ticket. It is not considered here that the reduction made in the duties on binders and mowers is to be taken a sany indication of a tendency toward lower tariffs on the part of the government. This is practically the only item revised downward as announced by Mr. White, and the Minister has declared that in view of the high state of proficiency now reached by the manufacturers of these implements and in view of the fact that they are exporting heavily, the reduction is justified and is after all not contrary to the principles of national policy which provides for "adequate" protection only.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 7.—It was arranged this morning that the budget debate will be proceeded with at once, as several members on both sides of the House are desirous of being heard before the Easter adjournment. McLean, the chief Opposition financial critic, will commence his criticism of the Minister of Finance's statement shortly after three o'clock, and will likely speak until six at least. He is expected to conclude with a motion calling for free wheat and free agricultural implements.

Changes On George Street

A number of George Street business places are undergoing chances at the present time, a sort of spring activity agitating the street. Mr. S. C. Warne, jeweller, is doubling the capacity of his store by taking in the former Singer Sewing Machine store to the south.

The Gordon-Davies Company are carrying out some alterations that will give them more space at the front of the store.

Barrie's, Limited, have moved their retail business to the corner of Brock and George Streets, formerly occupied by the Venice Cafe, and Messrs. Zacks Brothers have taken over the store vacated by Barrie's, Limited, and have opened a furniture and house furnishings business. The store adjoins their drygoods and ladies' and gentlemen's furnishing store.

TO-DAY'S STOCK MARKET

Special Cable to The Examiner:

TORONTO, April 7.—Live stock receipts fair, trade good, prices firmer. Choice butcher cattle, $7.75 to $8.25. Good to medium, $7.40 to $7.60. Fat cows, $6.50 to $7.25. Bulls, $7 to $8. Stockers and sheep unchanged. Hogs, f. & w. $9.25 to $9.35; off cars, $9.50 to $9.60; f.o.b., $8.90 to $9.

MR. G. M. GORDON

Who Resigned from the Council last night and was appointed City Solicitor.

FIREMEN'S HOLIDAYS

The holiday season has started for the local firemen, and at present one of them is out of the City on his annual vacation jaunt. The holiday season for the firemen commences on the 1st of April, and continues until the last day of October. To decide what particular two weeks each man will have, all the names of the firemen are dropped into one hat, and slips of paper with all the two-week periods put in another hat. Then one slip at a time is drawn from each hat. Thus it is determined what two weeks each man will have for his holidays. The men are given 48 hours after the "draw" to trade with each other, and then they must hand in the slips they hold showing the date when they will be off duty, and the day they will resume their work. During the six months from April to October a substitute fireman is employed. Thus the force is at full strength during the summer. F. Deacon is at present enjoying his holidays, having drawn the first two weeks in April.

BIRTH.

ANDERSON—To Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Anderson, 371 William Street, on April 5, 1914, a son.

GRADY—On Tuesday, April 7th, 1913, the wife of Mr. W. J. Grady, Clarendy, of a son.

Suffragette Released

Special to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., April 7. — After serving 20 days of her six months' sentence for cutting up the Velasquez Venus in the National Gallery with a meat axe, Mary Richardson, the suffragette, was released to-day very ill, having been on a hunger strike for ten days.

Evening Examiner

Phones: Editorial 139, Business Office 139. Private Branch Exchange to all Departments.

The Paid Circulation of The Daily Examiner is Over

4700 COPIES DAILY

SWORN TO AND GUARANTEED

The Daily Examiner, published every evening by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited; Office, 380 George Street.

The Weekly Examiner, published Thursday morning.

The subscription price of The Daily Examiner is $4.00 per annum; that of The Weekly, $1.00.

Special U. S. Representative: W. H. Wadsworth, 620 People's Gas Building, Chicago, Ill.

Advertising rates on application.

Hon. J. R. STRATTON, President.

R. H. GLOVER, Managing Director.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed.

TUESDAY, APRIL 7, 1914

VALUE OF GOOD BUILDING.

The report of the Gutelius-Lynch-Staunton Commission on the construction of the Transcontinental Railway did not disclose or profess to have discovered a single instance of "graft" or diversion of a dollar of the funds of the public used in the building of the line. The net result of the two years' work of a partizan commission at a cost of $65,000, was the statement—that anybody could have found out without any investigation—that forty thousand dollars was "wasted" because the road was too well built; that is the road would have cost forty millions less, if forty millions less had been spent to make it a low grade railway line instead of, as it now is—the best railway on the continent, with the result of keeping the bills for repairs and maintenance at the lowest point, but primarily to effect a saving in operating expenses. The importance of such a saving, which would be a saving for all time—as long as the road shall be operated, —is shown by the fact that the saving in operating expenses through the easier curves and grades, will amount to no less than seven million nine hundred thousand dollars a year. The Grand Trunk Pacific is to pay to the Government, to the people of Canada, rental at the rate of 3 per cent. on the cost of the line, estimated at 180 millions. That will mean an annual interest payment of five million four hundred thousand dollars. This means that the Grand Traffic will be able to meet its interest obligations and keep square with the Dominion with two or three millions to boot, just by having the use of a thoroughly first-class railway. It could not have done this if a road costing forty millions less for steep grades and sharp curves, had added five or six millions more, for extra cost of operation to the interest bill. In permanent work it pays to make it permanent.

TWENTY-SIX MILLS.

Twenty-six mills in the dollar is a pretty stiff rates of taxation, compared with Toronto's nineteen mills; but the City Council seems to have been justified in striking the rate at this figure. The proposal to reduce the rate half a mill would have starved the civic service without representing any considerable relief to the taxpayer. The proposal to lame some departments by cutting the estimates for them would not have been in the public interests. For instance, it was proposed to lop off considerable from the estimates for street work—streets and bridges. This could not be done in fairness to certain sections of the City, nor in justice to the interests of the City at large. Our City Council is proposing an ambitious range of permanent pavement for the business section of the City. But this will cover only a comparatively small length of the streets that have to be traversed to reach the business centre and from it reach the outlying sections. The great bulk of the travelling to be done in the transaction of the commercial business of the city—buying and selling—and meeting the requirements of social intercourse, will have to be done on unpaved streets; and it stands to reason that these should be kept in as good condition as possible. If they are neglected their neglected condition will appear all the greater in contrast with the splendid surfaces presented by paved highways. If we build this season two or three miles of permanent pavement, we are leaving between 60 and 70 miles of streets to be dealt with by the evidently inadequate sum of $20,250, an advance of $750 over the appropriation of last year, but, nevertheless, much too little. We must not, if possible, swamp our outward streets. Many of them are very badly in need of repair; the pub lic suffers from their condition, and no thoughtful ratepayer will complain of a rate necessary to give him, as far as possible, good streets, which are the measure of our advance or retrogression in civilization.

FAITHFUL PARTIZANS.

Good Tory Toronto seems to be quite content to make itself a door mat, for the use of politicians of the right brand, or a stepping stone for the politically ambitious. Its self sacrifice in devotion to the Conservative party is touching. To both Provincial and Dominion legislatures it sends a solid contingent of supporters, who in turn won't do anything for their creators. The people of Toronto voted almost unanimously for local option in taxation methods, and not one of its members has urged, or even lifted his voice to make the strongly supported Conservative government implement the wishes of Toronto electors. The Dominion government has promised, time after time the past three years, to build a great "Federal square" in Toronto, fenced in with palatial government buildings—post office, customs and other buildings. Still there has been no sign outside of fervid promises, of the much needed buildings, no sign of them, even on blue prints. It appears to be almost as fatal for a city to give overwhelming support, as too strong opposition to the government. Perhaps the government counts on Toronto being so unchangably loyal to party, so slavishly submissive, that it will uncomplainingly and continuously be content on a regimen consisting more largely of kicks than of half pence. Or perhaps the scarcity of money and hard times that have come into power with the Borden government areconsidered a legitimate excuse. Or perhaps, again, Col., the Hon. Sam Hughes' military squanderings leave little money for the prosaic purposes of peace. His budget demands ten million dollars this year, exclusive of the cost of drill halls. In 1896 the militia expenditure totalled a trifle over two million dollars, with a gradual increase, largely rendered necessary by the Laurier government relieving the Home government of the expense of maintaining its fortifications at Halifax and Esquimault, to seven millions when the Laurier government went out of power. The first year Col., the Hon. Sam, had his innings as minister, the militia bill jumped to over ten millions; and this year, including drill halls, etc. ,it will be about twelve millions. Evidently Toronto will have to wait till Col., the Hon. Sam finishes seeding — sowing drill halls broadcast throughout all the smiling land.

IT IS A QUESTION OF POLICY AND OF OPERATING PROFIT

Lessened Cost of Operation the Deciding Factor in Determining the Standard of Construction of the National Transcontinental Railway

The crux of the whole question in regard to the construction of the National Transcontinental railway and the Gutelius-Staunton report, now that the main charges of hte scandal-hunting investigators as to deliberate waste in construction have been absolutely disproved, simmers down to a straight question of policy. Were the Liberals right in advocating and carrying through the policy of constructing the road with minimum curvatures and gradients, and with permanent structures from the outset? Or are the Conservatives right in proposing sharper curves, heavier grades and temporary structures, and are they justified in reversing the Liberal policy as twice endorsed by the people of Canada, and in now departing from the high standard of construction adopted by every big railway on the continent and advocated by every leading transportation expert?

Here is the answer from the standpoint of facts and figures.

In an official report on file in the National Transcontinental office, prepared by ex-chief engineer Lumsden of the Commission and Mr. M. J. Butler, ex-deputy minister of railways—authorities surely better than Messrs. Gutelius or Lynch-Staunton in matters of practical railway engineering —the following facts are given. On the Levis to Moncton section of the National Transcontinental the annual saving in operating expenses, on a basis of ten fully loaded freight trains per day, is $2,970,864, as compared with the hauling of the same amount of traffic over the Intercolonial with its one per cent. grades. Capitalized at four per cent this gives $53,938,613 as the increased value of the Transcontinental because of its low grades and superior hauling capacity. That increased value, from the standpoint of operation alone, is more than the whole cost of this section of the road. If the Grand Trunk Pacific can save $2,157,544 each year in operating expenses bcause of the low grade and low curvatures on this 485 mile section, then on the whole 1,800 miles from Moncton to Levis the annual saving in operating expenses will be $7,990,000.

If momentum grades and sharper curvatures had been adopted, as advocated by Messrs. Gutelius and Staunton and by the Conservatives, Mr. Lumsden in an official report made before he retired from the Commission estimates that the total cost of the road would be $36,800,000 less. That would make a total cost of $143,200,000 on which the Grand Trunk Pacific would be required to pay rental at three per cent. That would make the annual charge for rental $4,296,000 as against $5,400,000 which would be the rental charge on the present estimated cost of $180,000,000. The difference is $1,104,000. But the annual saving in operating expenses would, as has been said, be $7,990,000 through adhering to the standard of construction adopted by the Liberal Government. The net saving through the adoption of the Liberal policy is $6,886,000. These figures do not include the saving in passenger traffic which is estimated at $2,255,333 per annum, thus giving a grand total of $9,181,383 in favour of operating 1,800 miles of low gradient railway as compared with the standard of road which the Conservatives wanted to build.

Apart altogether from the obvious misrepresentations and untruths of the Gutelius-Staunton report and its unsubstantiated charge that forty millions of the people's money has been wasted in building a road of too high a standard of construction from the first, figures like these, which have so far never been refuted and which were deliberately ignored by the investigators and by the Conservative speakers, supply a convincing reply to the whole Government case.

POINTS FROM THE PROPOSED NEW TARIFF

No free wheat.

No free agricultural implements.

Reduction in duty from 17½ to 12½ per cent. upon binders and mowers.

No reduction upon ploughs and other farm implements.

Increase in tariff upon building stone.

Increased protection for iron and steel beams.

Wire rods, hitherto free, made subject to duty, except wire for fencing, which is made subject to drawback.

Increase in drawback on imported pig iron used in manufacturing.

Bituminous oal, for smelting and foundry purposes only, made subject to drawback of 99 per cent.

Increase in tariff upon iron and steel tubing.

Brass sheets, bars and rods, heretofore free, made subject to 10 per cent. tariff.

Importation of aigrettes, osprey plumes and other plumage prohibited after January 1, 1915.

Sixty-one schedules of tariff changes submitted.

The existing tariff provides for inflexible surtax of one-third of the duty. Hon. Mr. White said he would submit an amendment under which imports from countries which discriminate against imports from Canada or Canadian shipping will be subject to a surtax above the regular duties of an amount not exceeding 20 per cent. ad valorem.

MEET TO-NIGHT

St. George's Choral Society will meet to-night in the Collegiate Institute at 8 o'clock to rehearse the oratorio "Judas Maccabaeus," for April 29th. The Conservatory Orchestra has ben invited to combine with this rehearsal, and a record attendance is hoped for.

The executive committee meet afterwards.

A Fanatic.

"They say that Briggs is a temperance crank of the extremist kind."

"I should say he is. He wouldn't even buy stocks because they frequently take a drop."

SITUATION WANTED

SITUATION WANTED ON FARM BY good, experienced Ploughman. H. D., 164 George St., Peterborough, Ont. 3d-82-1w-15-4746

HELP WANTED—Female

WANTED — MACHINE OPERATORS — 1 whitewear and aprons. Apply Hemmell & Co., 212 Charlotte St. 3d-80-4707

WANTED—SALESLADY. Apply Zacks Bros., 422 George Street. 3d-81-4730

GOOD GIRL WANTED TO ASSIST IN Small Family. Apply 96 Douro. 3d-81-4729

LADIES' WANTED TO WORK SPARE time at house. Box 44, Niagara Falls, Ontario. 6d-81-4722

WANTED

TWO PRESSERS ON LADIES CLOTHES. Apply Parkers Dye Works. 1d-82-4728

WANTED—WORK BY THE DAY BY young woman. Apply 498 Cambridge Street. 3d-80-4709

WANTED — TENDER FOR 6-ROOMED House. For particulars apply Edwards, 498 George. 1d-82-4743

WANTED — RESPECTABLE MAN AND Wife for positions of caretaker and housekeeper. References required. Some experience in market gardening preferred. House, room free. Or, market and fruit garden to rent. Apply 92 Dufferin Street, City. 1d-82-4732

Wanted

by a first-class Canadian Company

LIFE INSURANCE MAN

A good proposition covering Counties of Peterboro', Durham, Northumberland and Victoria is open to a capable Life Insurance Man of Record. Strict confidence regarding application will be observed.

Apply to-night

Room 22 Oriental Hotel

"CHEER UP"

THE BEST IS YET TO COME!

If you save your money and BUY A LOT.

The best investment on EARTH in Earth itself.

Lots from $100 to $3000. Cash or Easy Terms by

T. Walker & Co.

377 Park St. 'Phone 1002

The Original Lot Specialist

WANTED TO RENT

WANTED — UNFURNISHED, FOR APRIL 20, 4 Rooms—a bathroom flat would do—for light Housekeeping. Box 1021, Examiner. 3d-80-4715

HELP WANTED—MALE

WANTED — SINGLE MAN FOR 7 OR 8 months on farm. Good salary for good man. Apply 166 Brock. 3d-80-4714

WANTED — YOUNG MAN, ABOUT 16 years, to learn telegraphy. Can start as messenger and draw salary while learning. Apply G. N. W. Telegraph Office. 3d-80-4713

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN, BRAKEmen, wages about $100 experience unnecessary. Send age, postage. Railway, care Examiner. 28d-78-4679

AGENTS WANTED

AGENTS, MAKE BIG MONEY HANDLING our fast selling goods. Exceptional opportunity. Write to-day. Troy Contracting Company, Cosgrave Building, Toronto, Ont. 28d-56-4390

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE. WE have specialty selling at sight to automobile owners. Big profits. Investigate immediately. Clyde Specialty Co., 88 River St., Verdun, Que.

AGENTS WANTED—WE HAVE AN UNusual premium proposition; every person will be interested. No outlay necessary. Apply R. C. I. Co., Ltd., 288 Albert St., Ottawa, Ont. dtf-131-2510

TO RENT

TO RENT — GOOD ROOM AND BOARD with private family. Apply Examiner Office.

2 ROOMS AND USE OF KITCHEN FOR light housekeeping. House modern. Apply Examiner Office. 3d-80-4709

UNFURNISHED ROOMS TO RENT. ONE child not objected to. 594 Waterford Street. 3d-82-4735

FOR RENT—STORE AND DWELLING. House combined. Good business section. For particulars apply to No. 369 Water Street, City. dtf-76-4653

TO LET—A GOOD, WELL FURNISHED, steam heated Front Room for two gentlemen. Apply 54 Hunter Street. 28d-62

TO RENT—STORE, NO. 175½ SIMCOE ST. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-111-2389

TO RENT—GROCERY STORE, WITH large cellar. Yard and stable. Good location. Apply to "Owners," 143 Antrim Street, City. dtf 69

TO RENT—ROOMS ON HUNTER STREET, between George and Aylmer, suitable for two dwellings. Apply 437 George. dtf-31

TO RENT — ONE STORE IN GRAND Opera House Block. Steam heating. Immediate possession. Apply J. J. Turner & Sons. dtf-82-3969

TO RENT—FURNISHED ROOMS, ALL conveniences. Apply 514 Water St. 6d-78-4682

FOR SALE

PEDIGREED JAPANESE SPANIEL (Bitch) for sale. Enquire at 190 Stewart Street. 3d-80-4705

KITCHEN RANGE WITH RESERVOIR. Good baker. Cheap. 577 Bethune St. 3d-82-4733

FOR SALE—GOOD AXMINSTER CARPET, 13½ x 26; also good Rug, 2 good Persian Lamb Coats. Apply 190 Brock St. 2d-82-4734

FOR SALE—HOUSE, NO. 270 KING ST. All modern improvements. Hot water heating. 50 feet frontage. Apply to 380 Stewart Street. 28d-77-4673

FOR SALE—15 LOTS, WORTH $175 EACH, for $75.00, near De Laval Factory. Also buy or sell or exchange City or farm property. See John Bell, 451 Water St. 'Phone 1281.

LOTS SINGLY OR EN BLOC, FOR SALE near new factories, school and street car J. S. Bell, 451 Water Street, Tel. 1281 28d-69-4w-13-4560

FOR SALE OR TO RENT—BRICK HOUSE on Reid Street. 6 bedrooms. All modern conveniences. Newly painted and papered. Apply to A. E. Stratton and Co., over Madill's Drug Store. tf-4 t s-81-4666

FOR SALE — ONE GOOD HOUSE, NEW, just completed, with every modern convenience. Six rooms and bathroom. Convenient to all factories. Situated on corner of Wolf and Bethune Streets. Act quick and come down and give your offer on easy terms. Best buying in the City, as it must be sold. Apply to 288 Charlotte Street. dtf-38

LOST

LOST—POCKET BOOK AT G. T. R. STATion. Reward at Examiner Office. 3d-80-4721

LOST — $25.00 ENCLOSED IN NOVA Scotia Savings Deposit Book. Liberal reward on delivery to Examiner Office. 3d-80-4712

LOST—BUNDLE OF CURTAINS LAST Wednesday on Bethune Street, between 383 and 219. Finder leave at 219 Bethune Street. 1d-82-4744

LOST—A GOLD LOCKET AND CHAIN on Sunday. Finder leave at Examiner Office. 3d-81-4725

WANTED

Salesmen, Married Couples, Domestic Servants, Farm Help.

Call and we will assist you in getting a position.

DOMINION EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

'PHONE 1294 174½ CHARLOTTE

REAL ESTATE AND BUSINESS CARDS

NOTICE

J. R. BOCHERTY IS PREPARED TO undertake Painting and Repairing Church Steeples. Painting of Water Tanks, Smoke Stacks and Houses a specialty. 'Phone 1405, or 380 Water St. 28d-68-4651

PAINTING AND PAPER-HANGING AND Graining—I am prepared to do all kinds of painting and paper-hanging in a satisfactory manner and at reasonable prices. W. Kellar, 169 James Street. 'Phone 1413. 28d-74-4613

PATENTS

HERBERT J. S. DENNISON, REGISTERed Attorney, 18 King Street West, Toronto. Patents, Trade Marks, Designs, Copyrights, protected everywhere. Eighteen years' experience. Write for booklet. 42d-96

GEORGE H. BOWEN

B. A. Sc., Registered Patent Attorney Mechanical and Electrical Engineer. Inventions developed and patented. Trade-marks registered.

34 Victoria St. Toronto

TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS & DESIGNS

PATENTS

STANLEY & LIGHTFOOT

PATENT SOLICITOR AND ATTORNEY

LUMSDEN BLDG. (TORONTO) TORONTO.

WRITE FOR TERMS. M. 5749.

REAL SNAPS!

Double Dwelling on Wolfe St., will yield over 12½ per cent. on investment.

2 Lots on McGill Street, in good location.

Lot on Romaine Street, can be bought at a Bargain.

Market Garden to Rent and one for Sale.

New Modern Dwelling on George St. For Sale at a price below valuation.

R. J. KIDD

Agent for Fire, Life and Plate Glass Insurance British, Canadian and American Companies

'Phone 672 374 Water St.

A GOOD BUY

Modern brick house on Fredrick Ave., mantel and fireplace, front and back stairs, pantry, four bedrooms, bath, closets and cloak room, hot water in basement for laundry, cement floor outside entrance, also barn room for horse, buggy car. $3250.00. Apply to

MIGHT & TAYLOR

376 Water Street 10d-78

$1875 TAKES THIS

NEW TWO AND A HALF STOREY RED BRICK HOUSE, 7 rooms, light and water. 2 verandahs, and sleeping porch, cement floor in cellar, and cement walks, good location. This house would be a good buy at $2200. For terms apply to W. J. Koster, 599 Gilmour Street.

CENTRAL PROPERTY

AYLMER STREET

We have for sale in the centre of the City and on one of the best residential streets a House with four bedrooms and bathroom, good clothes closets, parlour, dining rooms, kitchen summer kitchen, 33 ft. frontage and 100 ft. deep, hardwood floors. This property can be bought on good terms.

PRICE - $3600.00

ASK

C. J. Carroll & Co

THEY KNOW

372 WATER STREET

Phone 322 Open Evenings

"WE SELL THE EARTH"

AUTO LIVERY

AUTO LIVERY — AUTOMOBILES TO Rent. Good autos, equipped with electric lights and shock absorbers. Careful chauffeurs. C. B. Banks. 'Phones 662 and 1021.

BOARDING HOUSES

MONTREAL HOUSE — TEMPERANCE House; Boarding House, Lunch Room, and Soft Drinks. Reasonable board by the week. 282 Aylmer St., 204 King St. James Read, Proprietor

GUN REPAIRING

GUN REPAIRING—GUNS OF ALL MAKES repaired promptly. C. B. Banks, 204 George Street. 28d-107-2456

HOTELS

AMERICAN HOTEL — A HOME AWAY from home; good accommodation; centrally located American plan. Sam Long, Mgr. 189 Hunter St. 'Phone 404.

JUNK AND COAL

COAL. COAL. COAL.

COAL IS ONE OF THE BIGGEST ITEMS of expenditure in your home, and we believe you are interested in the explanation, comparison and POSITIVE PROOF OF WHY CONNELL ANTHRACITE COAL IS THE BEST TO BUY. PRESENT PRICE—$7.50 PER TON. Our prices are the lowest. We aim to give our patrons Coal at a Fair Price at all times. Rush your orders and we will promptly deliver. LOW & CO. Office and Yards, 306 Bethune St. Tel. Bell 697.

MUSIC

PETERBOROUGH CONSERVATORY OF Music—Rupert GHddon, Musical Director. 20th Year. A staff of 20 Resident and Visiting Teachers. Subjects taught: Piano, Vocal, Violin and other Stringed Instruments, Wind Instruments, Musical Theory, Social and Fancy Dancing. Corner of Hunter and Rubidge Streets. 'Phone 255.

MILLINERY

PETERBOROUGH MILLINERY PARlours — All latest styles in Millinery. Call and see our stock. Mrs. W. B. Armstrong, 435 George St. Old T.A.S. Rooms

PHOTOGRAPHERS

THE RICHMOND STUDIO, 147 HUNTER Street, Corner George and Hunter sts., is the place to go for Good Photographs. We specialize in Photographic Enlargements. See our new Flexible Mountings. Quality High—Prices Low. R. Farthing, Proprietor.

HAIR STORE

MRS. BYRNE'S HAIR STORE — ALL kinds hair goods, pads, shampooing and dressing. 424 George Street.

PIANOS AND MUSIC

W. L. TAYLOR — DEALER IN HIGHGrade Pianos and Real Estate. 380 Water Street. 'Phone 1403

REAL ESTATE

A FIRST-CLASS COTTAGE, LARGE CORner lot, 75 x 116 ft. All in good repair. South End. Price, $2,350; terms easy. A number of Houses, below $2,000, will sell at terms of $100 down, balance on monthly payments from $10 to $20. Now is the time to get a home of your own on monthly payments. Apply J. A. Gibbs, 194½ Charlotte Street.

SOCIETIES

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY FOR CARE of Neglected and Ill-Treated Children. Incorporated by Act of Legislature. Information required. Informant's Name kept Strictly Private. Children for adoption. Geo. Cochrane, Agent and Assistant Secretary.

SHOE REPAIRING

W. A. GREENSLADE, ELECTRICAL SHOE Repairing Shop. You do not pay any more by having your boots neatly repaired and finished equal to new by our up-to-date machines. Come in and see how it is done. Oak leather used on all sewn work. Shoes put on, grooved and concaved. Corner Charlotte and Aylmer.

SKATING RINK

BROCK STREET ROLLER RINK OPEN for the Season. See our advertisement in other part of the paper, giving particulars of skating programme.

STOVES AND RANGES

WE SELL ON YOUR OWN TERMS — Weekly or monthly payments. New Empress Steel Range, Kitchen Cabinets, Chemical Closets, Sewing Machines, Standard Oak Heaters. One second-hand Singer Sewing Machine, drop head at $16. Also a number of second-hand Stoves at a bargain. Call and see us. Open nights, Monday and Friday excepted. The National Manufacturing Co., 334 Water Street. Geo. E. Mason, Manager.

STEAM LAUNDRIES

THE PETERBOROUGH LAUNDRY — ALL work laundered with the greatest care; W. P. Hetherington, Prop. 179 Charlotte Street. 'Phone 66.

PANNING'S STEAM LAUNDRY — ALL work laundered with the greatest care; no tearing or damaging the goods. 380 George Street. Both 'Phones 153.

TYPEWRITERS

PETERBOROUGH TYPEWRITER CO — Typewriter and office supplies of every description. Typewriter repairs. 'Phone 666.

SPECIALS

First-class modern brick house with furnace situated on Stewart St. east from south of Charlotte St. Price $2650.00 Terms.

Modern red brick house on Dublin St. Price $2050.00 Terms.

A fine brick cottage, stone foundation, light and water, large lot, on Dalhousie St. Price $1500.00 Terms easy.

One lot with sewer and water past, south front. Price $400.00

A red brick house newly decorated, new plumbing, large lot and in a first-class locality, south of Charlotte St. Price $2300.00

A pair of modern houses, complete plumbing, 5 rooms $3400.00 for the 2, South City.

If you have anything for sale or to rent, list at 324 George St.

H. J. McCANNAN,

Real Estate and Building Contractor

Office 324 George St., C. P. Banks' Store Entrance. 'Phone 749.

Open Evenings — Call — Information Cheerfully Given.

VACANT LOTS

Gladstone Ave. South Side
2 lots 30 x 150 each....$7 per ft.
2 lots 30 x 150 each....$8 per ft.

Cameron St. North Side
1 lot 30 x 180 to 12 ft lane..$100
7 lots 30 x 180 " " each $175
8 lots 30 x 180 " " each $150
6 lots 30 x 180 " " each $160
4 lots 30 x 180 " " each $160
1 lot 50 x 185 " " $285

Monaghan Road, East Side
3 lots 30x90 to 10 ft. lane ea. $150

Park St., West Side
3 lots 28, 27, 27 x 90..each $100

George St. West Side, N. Lake
1 lot 40x100, price on application
Cor. lot 50x74 " "

Gladstone Ave., South Side
4 lots, 30 x 150 ..... each $300
4 lots, 30 x 150 ..... each $360

House and lot, 158 Lake St..$1600

REAL ESTATE GENERAL AGENTS — INSURANCE COMMISSION BROKERS

Crown Agencies

181 Charlotte St.
116 Hunter St.

Night 'Phone 1463. Day 'Phone 116

Blewett's List

Three Lots, with sewer, water and street car in front of them, each lot 40x100 feet, one corner.

One of the best Lots on Elias Ave. Cheap for quick sale.

75 feet on Charlotte Street West $10 per foot

Lots on Alberton Ave., $8 per foot

Morrow and Alberton Ave. Lots, easy extension, $7 to $10 per foot

Good Lot on Homewood Ave., 66 ft. frontage, faces South, at less than property alongside is selling for.

Apply to C. BLEWETT
173 Charlotte Street
con. Fuel and Cartage Co. 'Phone 1251

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

SPEND YOUR MONEY FOR THE GOODS AS ADVERTISED IN THE EXAMINER

PETERBORO REAL ESTATE

Modern Houses
Building Lots
Business
Opportunities

Western Realty Investments

Crown Building 118 Hunter St. Telephone 684

"FAGOTS"

For Friday—as Englishmen's Savory Dish, made after the favourite manner, by

WOODHOUSE, the Fishman

Drop in any hour, day or night. If you want Fish cooked to the taste of a connoisseur.

The Hot Fish and Chip Restaurant

305 George St. 'Phone 812

ORDER HOT

CROSS BUNS EARLY

Best Made At HOOPER'S

Easter Novelties

Chocolate Rabbits and Chickens, Chocolate Cream Eggs, Coloured Eggs, Hens, Chicks etc.

T.H. Hooper

3 Stores: 327 George. Phone 169; 412½ George. Phone 1342; Geo. & Dublin. Phone 291

DANGER IN INFERIOR HAY

The market will not take inferior hay at remunerative prices, hence many of us feed it at home. When fed to horses this hay is dangerous. Just why is fully explained by Mr. W. H. Underwood in a recent issue of The Indiana Farmer. Mr. Underwood says:

"When eating such hay the dust is inhaled, creating an irritation of the bronchial tubes and air cells; the stomach is easily overloaded with the indigestible material, highly taxing the digestive organs and hence weakening the digestion; thus the horse loses energy and is reduced in condition, while the owner mistakenly attributes the trouble to the want of a grain ration.

TROUBLE AND MORE TROUBLE

"This state of affairs, if continued, excites and irritates the branches of the pneumogastric nerves that supply the stomach, and as the lungs and air cells are largely supplied by the same nerve, the latter become affected. Being irritated by the inhalation of dust already noted, the walls of some of the cells become abnormally distended, the horse coughs more or less, causing them to rupture and a case of heaves is the result.

"When inferior hay is fed to horses, the danger may be greatly alleviated by taking care to shake the hay so as to remove as much of the dust as possible, and then dampening the residue before feeding with lime water. This may be prepared by slacking a lump of lime in a large vessel of water, and stirring briskly. The undissolved lime will precipitate, the clear water on top being 'lime water,' which may be preserved fresh for a long time, some care being taken to keep it from freezing."

—Farm and Dairy.

Queen of [illegible] with little Daughter [illegible] when her father was fighting the Turks)—The young Princess Catherine of Greece, the sixth child of Queen Sophia, the sister to the German Kaiser, was born while her father, the King of Greece, was at the front during the Balkan War. While on the battlefield he was appraised of the birth of the Princess, and vowed that every soldier of the Empire would be the godfather to his newlyborn daughter. As the fighting strength of the Grecian Army at that time was 150,000 men, and as there were on the reserve list another 200,000 men, the charming young princess can boast of being the only living infant who has 350,000 godfathers. Princess Catherine has two sisters and three brothers. Her mother married the present King Constantine in 1889.

EASTER HATS

We are showing pretty adaptations of the New Styles for Spring Wear.

The collection includes clever and artistic devices in—

NEW SAILOR HATS with fore and aft trimming

SIMPLE SPRING HATS of Straw and Taffeta.

IMPORTED SPRAYS AND MOUNTS

Peterborough Millinery Parlours

MRS. W. B. ARMSTRONG, Proprietress 438 George St.

Miss Horsfield in Charge Up Stairs Old T.A.S. Rooms

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL

Spring Prices Dropped One Month Earlier Than Usual.

I sell exclusively Lehigh Valley Coal Company's Coal. THE BEST IN THE WORLD PROPERLY SCREENED at the following Cash Prices, to come in effect April 1st, 1914.

Egg Coal	-	$6.75 per Ton
Stove Coal	-	$6.75 per Ton
Nut Coal	-	$7.00 per Ton
Pea Coal	-	$6.00 per Ton

Early buyers are asked to order as soon as possible, and not wait till end of month, as prices quoted are for present delivery, so we will be pleased to have your orders by Mail, 'Phone or Personal Call at the Office.

Thanking the general public for the very large patronage of the past season, I hope by strict attention to your requirements to merit a continuance of the same.

J. E. A. FITZGERALD

PHONE 111.

SPRING WEDDINGS

INVITATION CARDS

ANNOUNCEMENTS

EASTER STATIONERY

AT HOME AND CALLING CARDS

The "EXAMINER" Office

419 GEORGE STREET. Phone 1600

REACTIONARIES ELECTED.

Montreal's Civic Campaign Goes Against Reform Movement.

MONTREAL, April 7. — Returns from the whole of the 31 wards of the city, with 12 polls to hear from, show that only half-hearted support was given in yesterday's civic elections to the slate backed by the Citizens' Association, which helped largely to clean up Montreal after the Judge Cannon graft enquiry some years ago. Major George W. Stephens was badly beaten by the French voters, his opponent, Mederic Martin, M.P., having a majority around 5,000 over the ex-chairman of the harbor board.

The figures for the Board of Control are:

Thomas Cote, 28,614; E. N. Hebert, 27,404; Joseph Ainey, 26,568; A. V. Roy, 18,899.

The latter two were endorsed by the Citizens' Association, together with the runner-up, Duncan McDonald, who received 17,215 votes, and who was "knocked" in his campaign by the Grahams papers, who put up the sixth man on the list, P. W. St. George, who had 16,544 votes.

Supporters of the Citizens Association claim that Cote and Hebert with St. George, were practically nominees of the Montreal Tramway Company, which is seeking a renewal of franchise for forty years. In any case, say these supporters of the cracked slate, the net result of this election is the return of a reactionary administration.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

While riding on his bicycle across the G. T. R. crossing, Harold Hebel, of Berlin, aged 19, was badly hurt.

The action of Father Gnam, formerly parish priest at Wyoming, Ont., against Archbishop McNeill, has been dismissed.

The painters and decorators of Brantford threaten to strike unless they receive higher wages. They now get 25 to 30 cents an hour.

The girls working in the flax mills at Blackpool, Ireland, mauled a crowd of suffragettes who were attempting to do some proselytising.

Maxim Gorky, in a letter to the Russkoe Slovo, maintains that he was completely cured of tuberculosis by the application of the Rentgen Ray.

The Cairns Building in Saskatoon, Sask., occupied by several retail merchants, was destroyed by fire last night. The loss is estimated at $250,000.

Nine men were killed when they were caught by a gas explosion in caisson No. 5 of the new Harahan bridge under construction across the Mississippi river.

Mrs. Margaret Elliott, one of the royal matrons of the Six Nation Indians, and a daughter of the famous Chief John Smoke Johnson, died on the reserve yesterday; aged 90.

The members of the Public School Board who resigned in a body recently at Strathroy, when a vote of the people on the bylaw submitted by council did not meet with their approval, met yesterday and accepted their own resignations.

Princess Cand Prince in "Zephra"

Grand April 14, 15, 16, 17

ONE OF THE BEST.

This expression has been applied to "Zephra" by the press and the public in every city in Canada and United States that it has been staged.

The best recommendation that "Zephra" has is that it has been playing cities through Ontario for the second time (and some of them for third time) and always is considered more beautiful and more pleasing than ever before.

The management of "Zephra" advertise nothing that will not be reproduced and carry a full carload of beautiful, spectacular scenery, electrical equipment and costumes and not only carry it, but display it in your theatre.

There is "scenery" and "scenery," but spectacular scenery and electrical effects are of the highest class and by the best scenic artists in the country. The class of scenery and effects that Maud Adams used in "Peter Pan."

"Zephra" at the Grand Opera House, April 14, 15, 16 and 17 will be staged with this class of settings.

Tickets are on sale and the public are assured of a $2.00 production for 25c., 50c. and 75c.

NOTED CASE COMES TO TRIAL

Special to The Examiner:

COLUMBIANA, Ala., April 7. — A special term of the Shelby County Circuit Court convened to-day for the trial of James G. Oakley on a charge of embezzling about $3,500 of State funds. This is one of the cases in which leading politicians of Alabama have become involved and which is attracting the keenest attention throughout the State.

Oakley was president of the State Convict Department at the time that Theo Lacy left Montgomery carrying with him about $40,000 of State funds. When Oakley was tried in Montgomery County recently on another indictment, he admitted that he had used the State funds, but that he did so in the belief that he was using his own money. He declared that in 1911 he paid over to Lacy, who was then chief clerk of the State Convict Department, $27,500 and that he thought that he was using this money when he converted State cheques. Lacy recently was tried and convicted on the charge of embezzlement. After his conviction he declared that he had given $27,500 to Governor O'Neal. The latter replied that Lacy's statement was wholly without foundation and intimated that it had been instigated by B. B. Comer to further his aspirations for the governorship.

MUST PAY IN FULL

Testators Cannot Distribute Their Estates to Avoid Tax

MR. LUCAS TO AMEND ACT

TORONTO, April 7.—The Provincial Government is determined to get after those who evade the tax on inheritances by distributing property before death.

In the Legislature yesterday afternoon Hon. I. B. Lucas asked leave to introduce a bill to amend the Succession Duties Act, the amendment being framed with a view to meeting an objection to the present act on the ground that it embodies a form of indirect taxation.

"I have no thought whatever of urging the question in detail at this stage," said Mr. Lucas. "We are making the beneficiary primarily liable for the duty instead of the administrator or executor, and so get rid of the idea of indirect taxation.

"As mentioned in the House during the Budget discussion, an effort will be made to meet the difficulty of distribution of estates before death. This method of evading succession duties has caused a good deal of trouble in the United States and England. Any person who distributes his estate one year before death, and actually parts with possession, evades all succession duties, and the experience of the department has shown that testators are doing this to a large degree.

"If we are to have succession duties at all, we must meet this condition, and it is proposed that any person who has distributed his estate without receiving any value for it, shall nevertheless remain liable as if the portion distributed were still part of the estate at the time of testator's death.

"Lest this should work a hardship as it might in cases where portions of estates have been distributed to carry on family businesses, or for such purposes, there is included a provision that this shall not apply to distribution made to any child, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, father or mother of, the donors when the amount does not exceed $20,000."

Where the aggregate value of the property exceeds $50,000, and any property passes either in whole or in part to immediate relatives specified in the act, the following scale of fees shall apply:

Where the aggregate value exceeds $50,000, but not $75,000, the tax shall be 1½ per cent.; from $75,000 to $100,000, 3 per cent.; from $100,000 to $150,000, 4½ per cent.; from $750,000 to $1,000,000, 3½ per cent.; and all in excess of $1,000,000, at the rate of 10 per cent.

LARGE INCREASE IN COBOURG CUSTOMS

COBOURG, April 7.—Report of Customs for the year ending March 31st show collections at this port of $201,107.90. This shows a handsome increase over last year's figures of $177,607.18. Of the amount paid this year $117,621.80 was contributed by the G. T. R. for coal brought over on the Ferry.

CARSON TO RUN?

Daily Chronicle Says He May Oppose Asquith in East Fife.

LONDON, April 7.—Nothing can be definitely ascertained regarding East Fife. Leaders of the Tory party in a division decided on Saturday night that there should be no contest, and when the Conservative executive met yesterday it was assumed that the meeting would formally ratify the decisions of the chairman and secretary, but an obstinate minority, anxious for a fight at all costs, revealed itself.

It appears that the Ulster members of the Unionist executive at East Fife are very strongly opposed to the idea that Asquith should have a walk over, and are moving heaven and earth to get somebody to oppose him. They are ready with money, and are prepared to flood the constituency with missionaries from Ulster.

"The latest rumor," says The Daily Chronicle, "is that Carson is going to resign his seat in order to fight the Prime Minister. Should there by any chance be a contest, Asquith will speak at Leven on Thursday night.

Hon. Mr. Monteith's Injury.

LONDON, April 7.—Word from St. Mary's yesterday is that Hon. Nelson Monteith, former Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, is progressing favorably after a recent operation. Some weeks ago he received an abdominal injury, due to a kick from a steer, and had a severe relapse not long ago from a strain while tapping trees in his maple bush. An operation then became necessary.

WHAT WE ARE

Showing in our Hose & Underwear Dept.

FOR

Wed., and Thurs.,

Bargains On Children's Goods

Children's Coloured Cashmere Hose, up to 8½ 25c
Children's Knitted Corset Waists 15c
Children's Black, White and Tan Stockings, 2 for 25c or per pair 15c
Boys' Jerseys, long or short sleeve 25c
Children's summer Vests 10c

For Ladies'

Ladies' Llama Hose, 3 pairs for $1.00
15 New Styles Ladies' Summer Vests 25c
200 dozen Ladies' Vests, for 10c
Ladies' Summer Combinations 25c
50c, 75c, and $1.00 Fancy Hose, for 39c
Ladies' Plain Black Hose, at 15c
Sadies' Silk Ankle Hose, at 25c

Gent's Wear

Men's Balbriggan Underwear, at 25c
Gent's Summer Silk Socks, all sizes 25c
Cashmere Socks, a new kind, at 25c
Men's Athletic Combinations. Regular $1.00, for 89c

ELLIOT'S

DOCTOR TO FACE A CHARGE OF MURDER

Special to The Examiner:

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 7—The case of Dr. W. T. Elam, under indictment for first degree murder, will be called in court tomorrow and it is expected the trial will proceed within a few days. The crime of which Dr. Elam is accused was one of the most sensational enacted in this city in several years. On November 19th last he is alleged to have shot and killed William Putnam Cramer, whom the physician accused of intimacy with his wife. The killing occurred in a room in a local hotel where the two men had met to talk the matter over. Dr. Elam had previously prepared a list of questions which he intended to propound to Cramer. The latter was accompanied to the hotel by his attorney, and Dr. Elam was attended by a private detective who he had hired to shadow Cramer and Mrs. Elam. At the time of the conference, however, the two principals were alone in the room and there were no witnesses to the tragedy. Following a single shot from a revolver Dr. Elam came out of the room and is alleged to have declared that he had killed the destroyer of his home. Later, however, he stated that the shooting was an accident and that he did not know how it occurred. The victim of the shooting died almost instantly. Dr. Elam is a resident of St. Louis, and for many years he occupied a high place in the medical profession. Cramer, the victim of the tragedy, was an advertising solicitor for a well-known magazine and lived with his wife in Chicago. After the killing Mrs. Elam went to Detroit to reside with her mother.

Austria last year produced nearly 49,000,000 short tons of coal, of which about 18,000,000 tons were bituminous and the rest brown coal.

A Pennsylvania inventor claims to have greatly increased the strength and durability of rubber without impairing it in any way by adding vanadium as it is being manufactured.

EASTER

Candy Baskets and Chocolate Eggs at

THE MARATHON CANDY KITCHEN

Delicious Ice Cream, 5c a dish; Ice Cream Sodas, any flavour, 5c a glass; Fruit Sundaes 5c and 10c

331 George St. Next to Bank of Nova Scotia

ICE CREAM ALL YEAR ROUND

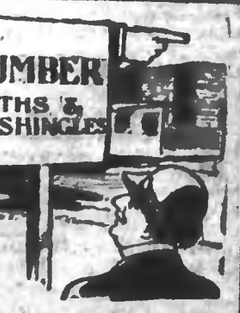
Ladies' Hand Bags, Purses AND Card Cases

New Styles and Designs For Spring

F. C. Cubitt

370 Geo. St., Peterboro

LUMBER LATHS & SHINGLES



4-ft. SLABS FOR SALE

Cut from Pine, Basswood, Oak, Cedar, Maple and Elm logs. $3.00 per cord delivered.

Peterboro' Planing Mill Co.

157-167 Dublin St. 'Phone 86

IF THOSE WHO NEGLECT THEIR HAIR ONLY KNEW THE CONSEQUENCES

The dandruff germ is a deadly enemy to healthy, luxuriant hair. No matter how thick, heavy and beautiful your hair looks, the dandruff germ may be there at work and very busily, too.

Just so sure as you do not take steps to check the ravages of this germ, just so sure you will sooner or later lose your hair.

Baldness may always be prevented by the timely use of Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide removes every particle of dandruff. It cleans the scalp and allows the hair to grow as nature intended. There are no disappointments, unless the hair follicles are completely atrophied, so why put off the treatment until it is too late?

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

Applications at the best barber shops and hair dressing parlours.

Send 10c in postage or silver to The Herpicide Co., Dept. E., Detroit, Mich., for a nice sample of Herpicide and a booklet telling all about the hair.

McDermid & Jury, Special Agents.

Handsome Dresses for Easter Wear

New Yorkers! All of Them!

Styles Are Such as Have Never Been Seen Till This Season

IN OUR READY-TO-WEAR DEPARTMENT ON THE SECOND FLOOR THERE is a little group of Easter Styles in New York Dresses which represent very adequately the way in which the more extreme French Fashions are being adapted to the needs of practical everyday wear—while losing none of their original charm.

Each one of these handsome imported Dresses is distinctly wearable—yet the styles are quite different to any you have as yet seen. The newness is unmistakable—you will find that the lines of these New Dresses seem odd at first but their grace and charm will grow till your eye rejects all others as commonplace. They're "New Yorkers" — all of them. Nothing like them in the City. Come in and see them.

Boutonne Dress

For street wear, with skirt having two tier ripple Peplum and broad silk Golfine girdle, waist double breasted Bolero style, closing over with two beautiful large pearl buttons, cuffs and collar of Golfine. Price..... $30

Floral Ratine Dress

In Pastel Green shade—a charming frock for street or afternoon wear. Skirt made in draped tunic style, new French sleeve, brocaded vest, lace collar and cuffs Price $20

French Crepe Dress

In new Maize shade for street wear—low drape skirt, Roman stripe girdle soft clinging waist, mummy sleeve, white net vest, collar of Roman stripe. Price..... $22.50

Charmeuse Taffeta Dress

Of course you know the Paris vogue for Taffeta Dresses. This Model—a New York importation, is a direct copy of one of the French Styles. It is made from Charmeuse Taffeta, in the new French blue shade and suitable for reception wear, puff skirt, full soft waist, drop shoulder, White Brussels Net Vest..... .. Price.. ..... $32

Some of Wednesday's Special Bargains

Washable Street Dress	$2.39
White Coutil Corsets, Easter Model, pair	98c
Coloured Paillette Silk, 36 in. wide, Wednesday, yard	97c
Bleached Cotton, 36 in. wide, sold in any length, Wednesday	9½c
Tapestry Rugs, 2 sizes, all slightly damaged, reg. $18.50 to $28.50,	$16.50
Half Bleached Table Linen, 60 in. wide, Wednesday	42c
New Easter Styles in Sport Coats	$13.50
Easter Suits, distinguished styles, Wednesday	$15.00
Cotton Hose, Radium quality, pair	25c
French Kid Gloves, guaranteed qualities, Wednesday, pair	$1.00

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

CITY COUNCIL CHAFF

20,000 Gallon Tanks To Be Installed Here

A representative of the Crown Oil Col. Hamilton, asked for permission to install underground tanks (capacity 20,000 gals) for oil and gasoline on Rink Street, opposite the shovel factory. This will be used by the company as a distributing centre for the district between Toronto and Montreal.

Moved by Ald. Duncan, seconded by Ald. Saunders, that the request be referred to the City Engineer and Board of Works.

Gospel Hall Gets Use of Central Park

Mr. G. W. Mulligan, on behalf of the Gospel Hall congregation, asked for the use of Central Park for Sunday evening meetings during the summer months.

Moved by Ald. Duncan, seconded by Ald. Johnston that this request be granted.—Carried.

Controller Church May Visit Peterborough

Controller Tommy Church of Toronto, wrote as a representative of the Great Waterways Union of Ontario, that he or J. W. Lyon would be able to visit Peterborough after Easter to give an address on the question of Canadian waterways, the Council to forward early notice if the address is desired.—Referred to Power committee.

Council Will Attend Festival At St. John's

Rev. Jas. Price invited the Council by letter to the second St. George's Day festival celebration to be held in St. John's Church on April 20th. St. George's Day falls on April 23, but the Archbishop of Ottawa who will attend was unable to come to Peterborough on the 23rd. The Bishop of Kingston, Rev. Dr. Bidwell, will preach the sermon.

Moved by Ald. Johnston, seconded by Ald. Duffus, that the invitation be accepted and that the Council attend the celebration in a body.—Carried.

TRANSMISSION LINES TO HENRY HOPE CO.

W. H. Munroe of the Peterborough Light and Power Company, wrote to the effect that the Henry Hope Co. had applied for electrical power. Transmission lines would have to be extended 400 feet on Romaine Street and Monaghan road at a cost of $350. The Power Company asked that they be guaranteed this sum in the event of the City taking over the power lines. Mayor Buller stated he had written Mr. Munro assuring him that the City would guarantee the amount mentioned for the required line extension. Moved by Ald. Gordon and Stratton that the actionof the Mayor be confirmed.—Carried.

The Separate School Board Needs $10,300

Mr. John Corkery wrote on behalf of the Separate school Board giving notice that $10,300 would be required for school purposes this year.

Moved by Ald. Anderson, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that the usual provision be made to meet this demand and that the money be paid monthly as desired.—Carried.

Ask For Use of Room From The Council

Wm. Lyburn, secretary of St. John's Ambulance Association, wrote, asking for the use of one of the Council's rooms for its class work which, he stated, was of general interest to the City and in behalf of the public good.—Referred to Property committee.

Will Hold The City Responsible For Loss

W. S. Robinson wrote that he had notified the City Engineer and Chairman of the Board of Works in regard to the condition of the street at the corner of Aylmer and Westcott Streets and would hold the City responsible for any additional damage. The water had pooled in front of his residence and leaked into his cellar, occasioning a loss to him.—Referred to the Board of Works.

RESIDENTS OBJECT TO ASPHALT MACHINE

G. W. Hatton, representing residents in the vicinity of McDonnel and Bethune Street, asked that the asphalt mixing plant be moved to an outlying part of the City, as its noise was a nuisance and its odours injurious to health. The plant had the bad habit of running at 3 and 4 a.m. last summer and even on Sunday, according to Jas. Stewart, who indignantly termed the outfit an infernal machine.

Ald. Duncan stated that the contractor regretted that any citizens had been inconvenienced and would move the plant as soon as the material on the ground had been used.

How long will that be? asked Mr. Hatton.

Ald. Duncan—About ten or twelve days.

Mr. Hatton—That is quite satisfactory.

EASTER FAVOURS

We have many dainty gifts, typical for Easter. Many of these are priced at $1.00 and even less. They are new and attractive. Glad to show you.

Easter time makes gift-giving practical and appropriate.

SCHNEIDER, The Jeweller, George St.

The Trades' Council Oppose The License

Wm. Stevens, secretary of the Trades Council, wrote that at the regular meeting of the Council a resolution was passed opposing the $40 license on the sale of cigarettes, giving their opinion that it would tend to create a monopoly.—Received.

City's Bank Balance Shows Debit of $2,975.42

Mr. Peter Campbell notified the Council that the City's statement at the Bank of Toronto shows a debit balance of $2,975.42.—Referred to Finance committee.

LIVE STOCK MARKET

Special Wire to The Examiner:

TORONTO, April 6.—Union Stock Yards.—Receipts were light. 48 cars, 703 cattle, 875 hogs, 46 sheep and lambs, 121 calves.

Cattle—The cattle trade was active owing to the light receipts and prices were 15c to 25c per cwt. higher than the close of last week. Choice butchers' steers, $8.00 to $8.40; good butchers' steers, $7.75 to $8.00; medium butchers' steers $7.25 to $7.60; common butchers' steers, $6.90 to $7.15; choice butchers' heifers, $7.75 to $8.00; common butchers' heifers, $7.25 to $7.50; choice cows, $6.75 to $7.25; good cows, $6.00 to $6.50; canners, $3.50 to $4.75; bulls, $6.00 to $7.50.

Feeders and Stockers—Not many offered and market firm. Choice steers, $7.00 to $7.25; medium steers, $6.50 to $6.75; stockers, $5.75 to $6.25.

Milkers and Springers—Not many on the market at $60 to $85 each, bulk sold at $70 to $75.

Calves—Market firm. Choice veals, $10.50 to $11.00; common to medium, $6.90 to $9.00.

Sheep and Lambs — Market as strong as ever. Spring lambs are being offered in small numbers, selling from $6.00 to $9.85 each. Sheep $6.50 to $7.50; culls and rams $4.50 to $6.25; lambs, choice ewes and wethers, $9.00 to $9.85.

Hogs—Receipts light and prices firm. Selected, fed and watered $9.35 and $9.00 f.o.b. cars, and $9.50 to $9.60 weighed off cars.

STEAMER STILL MISSING.

No Word Has Yet Been Received of Sealer Southern Cross.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 7.—The sealing steamer, Southern Cross, with 173 men on board is still missing. The steamer Kyle, sent in search of her by the Government was lying too in a heavy gale last night well out on the grand banks with all observation cut off by thick snow. She had been in communication during the day with the United States revenue cutter Seneca, on the ice patrol. Neither had found any trace of the missing vessel.

Although the underwriters have said they would post the Southern Cross as lost with all on board if she remained unreported sundown yesterday, the Kyle was ordered to continue search for two days more.

Hope for the missing steamer has been practically abandoned.

So thick was the storm last night that the Furness liner, Eagle Point, was obliged to give up her trip to Halifax.

The New Jersey legislature is considering a bill requiring poison tablets to be made coffin shaped to distinguish them from medicines.

DETECTIVE DEPT. IS IN POSSESSION, ETC.

(Continued from Page 7.)

thought, has been amply justified in the light of subsequent events.

According to interpreter Ned Vasiloff, who has lately received letters from Bulgaria, Volceoff had returned to his native town near Troian, and told the father of the murdered man, that his son had been killed here. Volceoff, on information sent by the Detective Department, was arrested and has been held there ever since.

Detective Boyd does not place much evidence in the story concerning the alleged apprehension of Volceoff.

Blood Stained Clothing.

Some blood stained clothing was discovered about four hundred yards from where the body was found This is taken to indicate that the body was carried a distance of four hundred yards from the spot where the murder is supposed to have been committed, and deposited in the pond, from which it was recovered a few days ago. On the strength of this theory, it is believed that more than one man was concerned in the disposal of Duloff Some caustic criticism is directed at the Provincial Detective Department respecting the delay that is said to have occurred before the investigation was instituted. The Havelock authorities were notified of Duloff's disappearance on January 28th, or nearly two months later. The Provincial Police were then notified, but Volceoff fled before they appeared on the scene. Volceoff, following his disappearance, is said to have written to a chum of his in Havelock, in which he stated that he had secured a job in a coal mine at Halifax. He subsequently returned to his native land. This letter was handed over to the Provincial authorities.

As Usual.

Church usher (on "Church-going Sunday")—"Where would you like to sit, sir?"

Prosperous-looking stranger—"Why—e-er—about the fourth row, centre, and an aisle seat, please."

Canada's Greatest Boy Singer

The management of "The Grand" have arranged for a special programme for Good Friday and Saturday. They have secured from the Famous Players Co. of New York, a splendid three-reel film entitled "Chelsea 7750." This is a thrilling detective story, and is bound to hold the audience in its grip.

In addition to this there will be three other reels of high class motion pictures.

To secure this special programme it has been necessary to go to considerable extra expense, which no doubt will be appreciated by local patrons.

As a special added feature, Douglas Stanbury, Canada's greatest boy singer, son of Dr. Stanbury of Toronto, has been engaged to sing at both daily performances. Douglas was specially commissioned to sing before the Duke of Connnaught at the opening of the Howard Memorial Gates, Toronto, on Thursday March 26th. His splendid rendition of "O Canada" being highly praised by the Duke, and also the Toronto papers.

Many Peterborough people have already had the pleasure of hearing this wonderful boy contralto, as he appeared at the Grand Opera House during the last Local Option campaign.

For the big programme the prices will be 20c. for the entire lower floor and first section of the baloney, and these seats can be reserved, and the Boy Office will be open for this purpose to-morrow (Wednesday) morning at 9 o'clock. The second section of the balcony and the top gallery seats will be sold at 10c. These seats will not be reserved.

The matinee will commence at 2.30 each day, and the evening performance at 8.15.

COAL WEIGHING BY-LAW DEFEATED

The coal weighing by-law was sent to Coventry at last night's meeting, sharing in the general mauling that previous recommendations received.

It may be remembered that a committee of the Whole Council held a conference with some of the coal dealers about a month ago, and the spirit of the meeting was that the dealers or those of their employees who handled the scales would make affidavits as to the weights, in order that the citizens would be assured of receiving full measure.

Last night a by-law was introduced to provide for this new method. Ald. Langford stated that a prominent dealer told him he would refuse to make affidavits. He would be making public the tonnage of coal he handled and his competitors and the public would know exactly what business he was doing.

Ald. Gordon—The dealers at the meeting heartily agreed to the suggestion.

Ald. Stratton did not believe it was fair to make public the reports. It looked like discrimination against one class of retailers.

Ald. Duncan—My idea is that the present by-law is all right if eighty loads of coal are weighed by the police during the year and the by-law strictly enforced.

Ald. Duffus favoured the present by-law and suggested that a certain number of loads be weighed each month. This would be a guarantee that the total number of loads mentioned in the by-law would really be weighed.

Ald. Johnston stated that personally he believed the old by-law was a good one, but the suggestion in regard to the affidavits came from the coal dealers.

Moved by Ald. Duffus, seconded by Ald. Anderson, that the by-law be sent back on account of its being too cumbersome.

And sent back it was, which practically means that the proposal to have the dealers make affidavits of their weights goes into the discard.

Duke Donates Cup.

GALT, April 7.—Col. Biscoe, assistant secretary of the Galt Horse Show Association, is in receipt of letter from Arthur F. Sladen, private secretary to the Governor-General stating that H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught would donate a silver cup for the Galt Horse Show. He desired to leave the class and regulations to competition for this cup in the hands of the directors.

Clean, pure and wholesome, a tea you will like.

Red Rose Tea "is good tea"

POLICE COURT

John Donohue, who has been a frequenter of the local Police Court for many years, again came before Police Magistrate Dumble this morning on a charge of being found drunk. After demurring for a while he admitted his guilt, but pleaded for an opportunity to get out of Town and back to the woods. He was allowed to go.

A coal man was charged with being under the influence of liquor while on the prohibited list. He pleaded guilty and was assessed $10, to be paid in ten days.

One Consolation.

"I see that New York women have begun wearing wigs which match their gowns."

"Well, there's one consolation. It won't take much of a wig to match the average gown, as gowns go."

AN OLD CHILD'S VERSE RE-MADE

(By a Spring Poet)

Mary had a little plan,
She fostered it with care,
It was to go to Ottawa,
And see a great man there.

"Oh come not here," the Justice cried;
For he was overcome,
"But go to the Toronto man,
And he may help you some."

Then to Toronto Mary went,
As fast as she could hike;
She caught th' Attorney in his den,
The "report" she brought to light.

"Consideration it shall have,"
The Attorney-General sighed;
"Consideration"—that's too bad!
— He'll never more replied.

EASTER WEEK AT ROUTLEY'S

WE have good things to offer our Customers Each Day or Week in the year. Next Week from the 6th to 12th we will offer

Easter Cards and . . Wallpaper . .

Besides all the Short Lines we are continually putting out in lots too small to advertise.

Easter Cards

Regular Prices	5c	10c	15c	20c
Sale Price	2c	3c	4c	6c

Wallpapers & Decorations

Enough to complete any Bed-room measuring from 45 to 60 feet including 5 or 6 panels; Paper, Borders and Panels complete for $2.72

C. B. ROUTLEY'S

Toronto, 262-4 Queen St. Peterboro, 379 George St.

TO THE AUTO CLUB

We have installed a new STEAM VULCANIZER for Vulcanizing Motor Tires, both Casings and Tubes and can guarantee perfect work.

MOTOR SUPPLIES of all kinds, CAR and TIRE REPAIRS skilfully executed, FILTERED GASOLINE

Agents for the New-Way Gasoline Engine. Come and see it in operation.

MANNING & STRONG

388 Water St. Dealers in Automobiles, Automobile Repairs, Filtered Gasoline, etc., Steam Vulcanizing. 'Phone 1347

LANE & EANO

UNDERTAKERS AND FURNITURE DEALERS

REMOVAL SALE OF FURNITURE

IN THEIR OWN NEW BUILDING

186 HUNTER STREET 8 DOORS WEST OF OLD STAND

GET OUR PRICES BEFORE BUYING.

Exceptional Values In These Sample Bath Towels

Here's a great opportunity to get some real nice Turkish Bath Towels far below their regular value. We secured two cases of these Sample Towels and are placing them in the Annex on Wednesday as a leading feature. There are only one or two, or, in a few cases, three pairs of a kind but amongst them will be found all styles, colors and sizes; fringed and hemmed ends; splendid drying qualities. You will appreciate the extra values of these Towels,

At Easter Annex Prices

Men's Laundered Shirts 55c 3 for $1.55

Made in the popular coat style. This is an Easter Annex Leader. Annex customers will surely appreciate the splendid value shown in these Shirts. The materials are fine quality English Cambrics — the kind that launders well. In quality, finish, and pattern these Shirts are equal to our regular 75c quality; and they come in light grounds with neat stripe patterns; all sizes 14 to 17. See Window display Monday afternoon and Tuesday. Annex Leader 55c

3 for $1.55

3 Hours Sale—11 a.m. to 2 p.m

Pure Bleached English Cotton 8c yd

We have only 800 yards of this pure bleached English Cotton—that's the reason we have put a time limit on this line. It is a splendid line, much better than the 10c value, fully bleached and in a nice, firm, even weave, free from dressing. 35 x 36 inch wide. We cannot fill 'Phone or C.O.D. orders on this line. Easter Annex Leader 8c

Not cut in less than 5 yard lengths.

The Feature Easter Annex Event

437 Annex Event — April 8th 1914

An Exceptional Lot of Dress Goods "Mill Ends" At the Easter Annex Feature Price of $1.25 an End

This Mill Lot is, if anything, better than the splendid values we were offering in the Annex two weeks ago. Amongst this lot will be found many useful skirt lengths in wool, tweeds and suitings. The lengths are mostly 1½, 1¾ and 2 yard end, in 54 x 56 inch goods. Several Dress Goods lengths amongst the lighter weight fabrics in the 42 x 44 inch width. These splendid Mill Ends are worth in the regular way from $2.00 to $4.00 the End. A special window display will be made of these goods on Monday night and Tuesday. Come early on Wednesday morning, as we expect a big rush on this exceptional value giving line. Annex Event Price, per end $1.25

New Shipment of Dutch Blue Overall Aprons, Priced 45c

This is an Apron that every woman needs whilst doing morning housework, for it forms a complete covering for the dress. Made of good quality English print in the Dutch blue colour with neat flowered designs. It buttons down the back, and is fitted with a waist belt. There is bound to be a big demand for this useful Apron, so we advise you to come early. Easter Annex Leader 45c

Women's Sample White Cotton Gowns & Underskirts 79c

We were very lucky to secure this very fine lot of factory samples for the Easter Annex Sale. These garments are made of good quality cotton and nicely trimmed. They come in a variety of styles and are real good value at $1.00 and $1.25, but we secured a good discount on them which enables us to offer them at so low a price. Easter Annex 79c

EXPLANATION THE 55 SUITS promised us for this Tuesday Morning, and advertised in yesterday's paper, failed to reach us to day. We have the manufacturer's assurance that they will positively be expressed to-day and will be here early on Wednesday morning. THE CRESSMAN CO.

Laundry Soap---17 Bars 50c

Every housewife knows the cleansing power of this soap, and will welcome this Easter offering of seventeen full sized bars at such a low price. Now is the time to stock up... Annex. 17 BARS FOR 50c

The CRESSMAN Company Limited

Royal Toilet Paper 7 Rolls 25c

An especially good quality soluble paper in large size rolls. This line does not need an introduction to our Annex Customers; the value is truly great. As an Easter Leader..... 7 ROLLS for 25c

Very Dainty New Easter Blouses, Wednesday Annex Feature 79c

You will only have to see the window display of these Blouses on Tuesday to realise what an exceptional bargain this is. Made to Fashion's very latest ideas with Russian debutante drop shoulders and deep hemstitched silk ruffled open neck. The material in these waists is very fine French white satin, with vests and cuffs of dainty flowered crepe. Sizes 34 to 42. At $1.25 these would be splendid value. As an extra Special Annex Leader 79c

Ladies' Spring Umbrellas and Parasols $1.19 & $1.39 Values for 89c

A ten dozen lot of these Parasols and Umbrellas, lines that we usually sell at $1.19 and $1.39. The covers are made of a splendid quality silk and wool gloria, extra strong frames; new novelty directoire and crook handles, in a splendid assortment. Easter Annex Leader..... 89c

See Window on Tuesday

Two O'clock Easter Annex Sale

D. & A. Corsets 39c per pair

A new shipment has just arrived of these New Spring Model Snap Corsets; made of white coutil with medium bust and skirt. A special feature of this Corset is the side pieces, which tend to reduce the figure. 4 supporters. This is one of the best procurable in a low price Corset, and can be had in sizes from 18 to 26. On Sale at 2 o'clock..... 39c

CIGARETTE COMMITTEE ARE IN SESSION

Special Wire to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, April 7.— At the initial meeting of Andrew Broders' special committee of the Commons to inquire into the proposal to prohibit the manufacture, sale and importation of cigarettes, Broder expressed the view that the prize package system was largely responsible for the growth of the cigarette evil. He understood that some of the manufacturers would be glad to have this stopped. It was decided that a committee hear evidence of police court magistrate of towns and cities, medical men of public institutions and representatives of manufacturers of cigarettes.

W. J. HICKEY ASKS CITY FOR DAMAGES

Mr. M. J. Hickey, who fell on the icy sidewalk at the corner of Murray and George streets, breaking his arm, on January 14th last, asked the Council last night what the city proposed to do for him in the way of damages.

Alderman Duncan—"Did you notify the Council of your accident?"

Mr. Hickey—"No."

Alderman Duncan—"Well, I think it is the duty of citizens in such cases as yours to immediately notify the city authorities of the accident, so that the ground and cause of accident may be at once inquired into. Such a course is only fair in the interests of the city in general. People who urge you to soak the city for damages seem to forget that they themselves will have to pay the costs and whatever damages are awarded, if any."

Mr. Hickey was notified that his claim will be acted upon in committee.

200,000 WOMEN WILL VOTE TO-DAY AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Ill., April 7.—Under cloudy skies that threatened at any time to break into rain, a suffrage army of nearly two hundred thousand women began movin gon the polls this morning in perhaps the greatest test of suffrage strength ever made in the world. Ten thousand women canvassers are out persuading every woman registered to go out and use the ballot and give Chicago a clean sheet. Their special object of attack is "Bath House John Coughlin" and his saloons. More than three thousand saloons may be wiped out throughout Illinois as the result of voting in the state to-day.

EXAMINATION OF ONE WITNESS TOOK NEARLY THREE HOURS

Witness's Disinclination to be Explicit in Her Answers Resulted in Undue Prolongation of an Interesting Case That Was Aired in the County Court

An action involving a claim for the value of one horse, a Saskatchewan buffalo robe, two collars, part of a set of harness and one set of single harness, was commenced this morning in the county court before His Honour Judge Huycke.

The plaintiff, Mrs. Harry Carter of Havelock, was represented by Mr. G. N. Gordon, of Peterborough, and Mr. Ghent of Havelock. Mr. D. O'Connell of this city acted on behalf of the defendant, Mr. Harry Bowen, of Havelock. The articles mentioned in the claim are said to have been illegally converted to the use of the defendant.

FORMED A PARTNERSHIP

It appears that the late Frank Carter, together with the defendant, Harry Bowen, once conducted a livery business in Havelock, on a partnership basis. Deceased was a son of Mrs. Harry Carter, who subsequently to his decease, was appointed administratrix of the estate. The latter among other things included the late Frank Carter's interest in the livery business. When the partnership was formed deceased, it is said, mortgaged a farm to the extent of $500, which sum he placed in the business together with one horse and the articles mentioned in the statement of claim. Upon his death Mrs. Harry Carter, mother of deceased, was appointed administratrix of the estate. It is said that a settlement amounting to $700, minus debts, was eventually agreed upon, and that when the debts were paid the sum of $324 accrued to the plaintiff. The latter contends that in addition to this, she is entitled to the possession of the horse, buggy and harness, which it is stated Carter took away from the farm and placed in the business when the partnership was formed. Plaintiff claims in her statement that defendant refused to deliver to her the goods mentioned, with the result that action was instituted for the purpose of securink same.

EXAMINATION OF ONE WITNESS

For nearly three hours Mrs. Carter was examined and cross-examined by Mr. G. N. Gordon and Mr. D. O'Connell respectively. Her apparent disinclination to confine her answers to the limits demanded by the counsel resulted in undue prolongation of the examination.

To Mr. Gordon, counsel for plaintiff, Mrs. Carter said that her son, the late Frank Carter, prior to his death, conducted a livery business in Havelock, in partnership with Harry Bowen. He contributed in addition to the sum of $500, one horse, buggy, harness and other chattels mentioned in the statement of claim.

WANTED MORE LAXITY

It was here submitted by Mr. Gordon that greater laxity should be allowed by the court in the matter of adducing evidence in that it concerned the settlement of an estate.

"Do you think so, or do you ask me to think so?" inquired His Honour Judge Huycke.

Mr. Gordon—"I submit that greater laxity is permissible in cases of this character."

The court ruled otherwise, stating that there was no authority to support the contention submitted.

Mr. Gordon contended that Mr. O'Connell's anxiety to keep evidence out, showed his anxiety to retain on behalf of his clients the property contested.

Mr. O'Connell objected to this statement, whereupon Mr. Gordon again submitted his former contention, which was negatived by the Court.

Continuing the examination of Mrs Carter, counsel for the plaintiff caused to be produced in Court, numerous accounts relating to the business in which the late Frank Carter was a partner.

EXHIBIT FIVE

Exhibit five constituted a letter from Harry Bowen to Mrs. Carter in which the former intimated that he was in a position to purchase the livery business and pay all accounts. Later defendant disputed a number of the accounts alleged to be due the plaintiff. Witnes stated that her son mortgaged his farm to the extent of $500, with which to enter into partnership with Harry Bowen. He also took with him a horse, buggy and other articles mentioned in the claim.

Mr. O'Connell, flourishing a paper. "Is that your writing?"

"I guess it is; my name is signed."

"Well, now; we won't have any supposing. Is it your writing or is it not?"

"Yes, it is."

"Where did they start the partnership business?"

"Beg pardon."

Prolonged silence, followed by the repetition of the question.

"In Havelock," snapped the witness.

Witness went over the list of chattels with Mr. O'Connell.

After considerable interrogation witness admitted that she did not know how much her son had paid for the harness mentioned in the claim; she thought that it was about $25.

WITNESS BECAME WEARY

"Don't be so headstrong, and take your hands away from your eyes," pleaded Mr. O'Connell. "If you want to sit down, you may," Witness sat down.

"You are trying to corner me up," countered the witness, following Mr. O'Connell's efforts to get from the witness a statement as to what she ought to get when the business was disposed of. Witness would not agree that she was only entitled to one-half of the proceeds after the debts were all paid.

"You appear to be afraid of me. Don't be afraid of me," admonished Mr. O'Connell.

The plaintiff's share was eventually fixed at $700, exclusive of debts, which left a balance of $324, after the accounts were paid.

"Is this one of the accounts?" asked Mr. O'Connell.

"Yes, that is my writing," shouted witness vehemently.

"Don't get so hysterical," remarked counsel for defendant.

"I refuse to go on and I demand my friends to release me from this box!" exclaimed the witness. With that she tossed a letter at Mr. O'Connell and proceeded to step out of the witness box.

"Sit down! Sit down! Don't act like a school girl!" said Mr. O'Connell. A few minutes later the court adjourned for lunch.

Special Train From Havelock

Albert Sinclair, a C.P.R. engineer, whose funeral took place in Havelock on Sunday, left a wife and one child. Deceased, together with G. L. Vincent, a fireman, were killed when the engine of a C.P.R. construction train plunged down a fifty-foot embankment near Cherrywood on Thursday last.

The train had just reached one of the newly-constructed culverts when without warning the track sank beneath the weight of the engine, which broke away from the track and plunged down the embankment to the side of the track.

All three men were in the engine at the time. Sinclair and Shenstone, the brakeman, jumped for their lives as the engine started on its downward course. Shenstone was fortunate enough to fall clear of the engine, but Sinclair fell under it and was crushed to death.

Vincent was at the throttle when the engine plunged and did not have time to get where he could jump from the engine.

He was instantly killed.

A Norwood Man.

The funeral of G. L. Vincent, who was a former Norwood man, took place yesterday at Norwood. The deceased was born and raised in Norwood, and had many friends there. He leaves a wife and four small children.

A special train bearing friends and members of the organizations with which the deceased was associated, was run from Havelock. Members of the Hamilton, Toronto and London branches of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen accompanied the remains to Norwood.

A new patent concrete bridge at Allentown, Pa., though neither the highest nor the longest in the world, contains the greatest amount of material.

MR. HARRY PHELAN
Elected Hon. President of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club last night.

What The Council Did Last Night

Tax rate fixed at 26 mills.

Alderman Gordon resigned from the Council and was appointed City Solicitor at $1,000 a year, succeeding E. H. D. Hall.

Amended cigarette by-law and pruned the license from $40 ot $15.

Rejected the recommendation of the Property Committee to extend the garbage collection area. Alderman Langford, chairman of that committee, was among those who opposed the report.

Fixed auctioneers' licenses for the city at $25.

Rejected the Legal Committee's recommendation regarding dealers' affidavits of the weights of loads of coal.

Commenced at 8 o'clock and adjourned at 12:45 a.m.

Passed a by-law enforcing the sale of poultry by weight on the market.

Granted $600 to the Industrial Exhibition and $300 to the Horticultural Society.

Gave a supply of envelopes advertising the city to the Board of Trade.

Passed a resolution to inform Mr. E. A. Peck that the Council is in favour of extending the Municipal Franchise to include married women.

Passed a resolution expressing appreciation of the services rendered by Hon. Adam Beck as chairman of the Hydro-Electric Commission.

Empowered Alderman Duncan to sell the lot at the corner of Babb's Lane and Gilmour street.

Dined at the K. & P. as guests of Alderman Gordon, one expense Mayor Buller did not object to.

The Aldermen arrived home on the wrong side of 2 a.m.

Alderman McIntyre and Alderman Langford were absent from the box feed.

Law the Guardian.

The Nut—"I never could understand why a fellow couldn't have more than one wife."

The Old 'Un—"When you're older you will learn that the law protects those who are incapable of protecting themselves."

SINGER TALKS

Have you ever wondered why it is that dealers in other makes of sewing machines takes pains to emphasize their claim that their particular machine is "just as good as" the Singer.

Or why it is that more than 2,000,000 women buy Singers every year—more than all other makes combined?

Or why Singer sales have spread all over the world, in every civilized country?

The Singer has so long represented the highest degree of excellence that it is to-day everywhere recognized as the standard of perfection.

It is easy to own a Singer. Ask in any Singer store—they're everywhere.

Singer Sewing Machine Co.
C. B. COOMB, M'gr. 345 George St.

HUYLER'S CHOCOLATES

They cost you a little more but are appreciated by those who know

—SOLD BY—

Chemist E. L. PAYNE Druggist

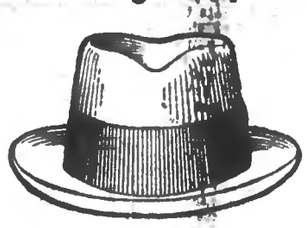
CORNER OF GEORGE AND SIMCOE STREETS

A Very Popular Soft Hat



Looks fine on most men—and This Store is the place to get it.

A smart Style that takes with men who want individuality and distinction.

Come and see our STETSON assortment. If you wish, we will give expert help in selecting the one model you ought to wear.

W. E. LECH Manufacturing Furrier And Hatter

366 GEORGE ST., Near Simcoe. 'Phone 726

Easter Bargains

We are Offering Exceptionally Great Values in Ladies' and Gents' Ready-to-Wear and Millinery for Easter Week.

Ladies' Cloth Dresses—In all the latest shades and styles, regular up to $10, this week only..... $4.95

Ladies' Silk Dresses—Fine quality of silk, newest styles, in navy, brown, pink, Copenhagen and black, all sizes, regular $15.00 for..... $7.98

Ladies' Suits—Specially priced for this week. Regular up to $20.00 for..... $9.95

Ladies' Voile Blouses—Just from New York, latest styles, regular up to $2.00 for..... $1.00

Millinery—2 tables of Hats specially priced for Easter week, regular up to $7.00 for..... $2.98

Ostrich Feathers—Large size, in all leading shades, regular $5.00 for..... $1.98

Flowers—A great variety to choose from, regular up to $1.50 for only per bunch..... 25c

Men's Suits—A special line of high class Tweeds and Worsteds, latest materials, regular $16.00 for..... $9.95

Men's Rain Coats—Guaranteed water-proof top, silk finish, all wool lining, regular $16.00, this week only..... $9.95

We Invite all Trustworthy People to Open a Charge Account with

Zacks Bros.

420—422 GEORGE STREET

We Advise you not to Miss These Genuine Bargains

An Extra Strong List of Easter Specials for Wednesday Shoppers

Special Showing of Easter Ready-to-Wear Garments and Millinery In Our George St. Store, Wednesday

Misses' Sample Suits only $12.95

Manufacturers' Sample Suits, in Copenhagen Blue Serge. Sizes and styles suitable for Girls, Misses or small Women. No two alike. Regular $17.50 lines. Wednesday, choice..... 12.95

Special Showing of Millinery

On Wednesday we will show several new styles in Easter Hats in Tricorn, Bicorn, Watteau and Sailor shapes, in All Black, Black with coloured trimmings, Burnt Tan, Nigger Brown and Navy. Trimmings include small clusters and wreaths of flowers and fruit, loops and bows of Moire, Dresden or Roman stripe Ribbons. Prices range up from..... 5.00

$7.50 Women's Raincoats $4.98

A special purchase of Raincoats from an Overloaded Maker enables us to offer the best $7.50 Coat. Made of Paddin, in loose fitting Raglan styles, close fitting College Collar and throat guard. Ventilated under arm, in Fawn, Navy or Grey. Sizes 34 to 44. Regular $7.50, Wednesday..... 4.98

An Easter Offering in Waists $1.39

One of the best Waist Offerings we have yet made is an All-White Striped Voile, with Ratine Vest, drop shoulders, frill around collar, cuffs, and down front. Sizes 34 to 44. Wed. Special.. 1.39

A Special Offering of Sample Coats $12.95

If you wish a separate Coat which cannot be duplicated, materials all being used up, see our showing of Makers Samples. No two are exactly alike. All are the most up-to-date in style and cut, perfect fitting and well tailored. Regular $15.00 and $17.50. Wednesday, choice 12.95

Special Showing of Separate Skirts

Dozens of pretty styles in Separate Skirts, in Shepherd Checks, Men's Serges and Dull Plaids, in single, double, or 3 tiered models. All carefully cut and tailored, in Black and Navy or Mixtures. Band sizes 25 to 30. Lengths 37 to 42. Extra Values at..... .....$5.00 and 7.50

The Easter Specials for Wed. in our Main Store Offer Splendid Choice of small Dress Accessories as Gloves, Neckwear, etc.

Also a Table Linen Value at a Great Saving.

New Linen Table Cloths with Napkins to Match, at Special Easter Prices

3 splendid new patterns in fine Pure Linen Table Cloths 2½ and 3 yds. long, with Napkins to match, in 20, 22 or 24 in. sizes. As an extra special for Wednesday these will be sold at about ¼ off regular value.—

2x2½ yd. Cloths.....1.69 2x3 yd. Cloths.....2.69
20x20 in. Napkins....1.69 22x22 in. Napkins....1.98
24x24 in. Napkins..... 2.29

Children's Cape Gloves 59c pair

Splendid quality Children's Cape Walking Gloves, neatly finished with stiching on back and have dome fastening, sizes up to 6 years..... Wednesday, pair..... 59c

Women's Silk Hose 42½c pair

Unusual value in Spring Hosiery for to-morrow's selling. Women's Silk Hose that will give excellent wear, the correct weight for Spring, colours are black, white and tan, Wednesday, pair.. 42½c

Sample Lace Collars 25c

These consist of an excellent lot of Bebe Irish and Guip are patterns in both cream or white, in latest shapes in sailor, pointed and oval shapes, many worth three times the sample price.... Wednesday, each..... 25c

French and Dresden Frilling 39c yard

Pretty French and Dresden Frillings, in silk chiffon and nets, most popular for the new Spring Blouses and low neck Dresses, regular up to 60c yard. Wednesday Special, yard 39c

Perrin's Kid Gloves 98c pair

Only a few days to Easter and our Glove Dept. is prepared to meet great demand for smart stylish Gloves at a very moderate price. The quality is soft and pliable. The colors are black, tan and white with black stitching on back, also washable Suede Gloves, all guaranteed, Wednesday, pair..... 98c

OFFERINGS OF SPLENDID VALUE NECESSARY TO BRIGHTEN UP THE HOME FOR THE EASTER VISITORS

Lace Curtains 50c pair

Splendid new Fish Net Designs in neat all-over effects, in cream or white, with edges well scalloped and tops of each curtain woven with new finish and narrow border. Special price..... 50c

Window Shades 49c each

A large table of 37 x 70 inch Window Shades, 9 styles to choose from. Colors are cream, white or green. All are trimmed with neat insertions or laces and for Wednesday will come complete with tassel, brackets and nails. Special each..... 49c

Wonderful Values in Tapestry Rugs for Wednesday

If you are not prepared to pay full amount for one of these Rugs, a small deposit will be accepted which will ensure us keeping the Rug you select till required. The values are most extraordinary, the designs the newest for this Spring and mostly all in the fawn shadings, from which can be selected pretty floral, Oriental, small all-over and medallion designs. These will all be spread out in a large pile for Wednesday to make choosing easy.

2 x 3 yards $5.89 3 x 3½ yards $6.98 3 x 4 yards $7.89 3½ x 4 yards $8.98

Wide Tapestry Curtains $2.69 pair

50-inch Tapestry Arch Curtains, 3 yds. long, in plain colors of Crimson or Green, woven in good reversible brocaded patterns with heavy Tassel Trimming top and bottom. Wednesday pr..... 2.69

Ends Best Imported Linoleums 39c sq. yard

About 25 Remnant Lengths of best Cork Linoleums, 1½ to 4 yards wide and up to 6 yards long. These are all our regular qualities, selling up to 75c square yard and with most of the ends in the better grades. Wednesday to clear by the end only, square yard 39c

TURNBULL'S

Rev. A. L. Geggie Gave Address

Large Audience Heard Eloquent Discourse in St. Andrew's Church Last Night

A large number were present in St. Andrew's Church last night, when the Rev. A. L. Geggie of Parkdale gave a very inspiring address in connection with the annual meeting of the Peterborough District Presbyterial of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Robert Pogue of St. Paul's Church, presided, and the Rev. Jas. Rollins of St. Andrew's Church assisted in the service.

Andrew Carnegie once said that a man did not cease to love his mother when he began to love his wife. So, said the Rev. Mr. Geggie, he had not lost his love for Scotland, his native country, when he began to love Canada. Scotland was his mother and Canada was his wife, and he did not purpose geting a divorce either. But the greatness of a nation should not be confused with its extent and area. A Scotchman once in conversation with a resident of Montreal, compared the dirty streets of that City with the streets in Glasgow. The Montrealer replied by comparing the buildings of Montreal with those of Glasgow and the St. Lawrence River with the Clyde. "Ay," said the Scotchman, "when I sail up the St. Lawrence I say, God has been guid to Montreal; but when I sail up to Glasgow, I say, 'what a lot the men here have done for the Clyde.'"

And who was it that had given to Canada her great geographical extent, her mineral wealth, and her agricultural advantage and opportunity? One hundred years ago the pioneers came to this country, took possession of an area of land and set about clearing it. But to-day that was not the case. The immigrants were asking for stretches of prairie already cleared and settled in the West. Talking to an agricultural expert out West, he had said to the speaker: "Do you kow you are standing on an area of soil and that you could grow as much grain at the bottom as at the top?" And there was no land where men were so prodigal of their resources as in Canada.

But the real wealth of a nation did not depend on the character of its people. There were in Canada certain magnetic currents that permeated the atmosphere. It was because of these currents that a Scotchman who could take two glasses of whiskey in the Old Country could only take one in Canada without becoming intoxicated. No land today could develop manhood that it is possible to develop in this Dominion. But the character of a country did not depend so much on the nature of the soil, as dropped in the boxes on election day, but upon the kind of men we dropped into the street in the morning.

The Anglo-Saxon civilization was the best to-day. It stood more for the principals of riberty than any other. For what country but England would stand for the depredations of the militant suffragettes. Let them try to burn houses down in Canada and where would the Canadian temper land them? And what country but England would allow the Ulster Volunteers to drill within the bounds of the Empire with the avowed object of opposing the Government with arms?

The problem of those present was not the Pole or the Bulgarian or the Ruthenian, but it was "our young Canadians—your boy and my boy". Here the speaker referred with regret to the great number who came from the Old Country and did not attend Church in Canada. We had to impregnate the younger generation with the passion to live a Christian life.

"Do you run your business the way you did twenty years ago?" asked the speaker. And in continuing, he urged the necessity of more up-to-date methods in the working of the Church. When money was needed a circular letter was not the medium through which to secure it, but a personal canvass.

It was the kindly grip and the loving contact that counted.

In conclusion, the speaker made a touching and powerful appeal for the Church workers to stand together until the Dominion of Canada had been won for Christ and as a nation, entered the Kingdom of God.

During the evening Rev. Mr. Keith read the Scripture lesson. The Choir rendered a beautiful anthem. H. C. Treneer played with wonderful expression, the Angels' Serenade, and Mr. Chas. Thorpe contributed a splendid solo.

Municipal Control Is A Failure

Much has been heard lately about the manner in which Police Chief Gummerson of Port Hope was dismissed from the force and also the manner in which the new Chief (Chief Royce) was appointed, and immediately suspended by the Mayor to enable him to investigate supposed charges that had been made. In that Town the Police Department is under the government of the municipality and that the method is causing trouble throughout the whole Dominion, is plainly evident.

Even in our own Council, some short time ago, Ald. Johnstone proposed to bring the local force under the watchful eye of the City Fathers, with a view to assuming control, and thereby reducing expenditure. To hear out the statement that the method is detrimental to the working of a Police Department. Chief Thompson was this morning interviewed by an Examiner reporter, and his statement is as follows:

"It is to be hoped that the retirement of Chief Carpenter and Deputy Chief Davies of Edmonton, both of whom are known throughout the domain as officers of high integrity, and also of the dismissal of Chief Gummerson from the Port Hope force, does not mean their withdrawal permanently from police service. They are a class of police officers that is all too rare, and can ill be spared from active work at this critical period in police history of Canada, particularly Western Canada.

The methods by which their retirements were brought about advances the necessity of divorcing the police service from direct municipal control, if we in Canada would escape the quagmire of political intrigue and chicanery in which the police organizations of the United States find themselves helplessly and apparently hopelessly wallowing.

Surely the citizens of that enterprising provincial capital (Edmonton) must realize by this time that there is something radically wrong with the system that brings about such frequent changes in the administration of her Police Department. Police efficiency without stability is impossible, and stability in police management under municipal control has turned out a dismal failure wherever tried.

Police officers who have to make an annual fight for their official lives with the baser elements of the community with which they have been warring during the year, and in the regulation of whose conduct they have been obliged, in the discharge of their duty, to invoke the strong arm of the law, need expect anything but unreasoning vengeance, should these elements be found in the ascendent when the ballots are counted.

If police conditions in Port Hope and Edmonton are as rotten as the Mayor describes them, need it occasion surprise, in view of the frequent changes in administration during the past few years.

What can be expected

Was it not rather too much to expect Chief Carpenter and Chief Gummerson, with acknowledged ability to bring complete order, out of chaos and confusion, resulting from a series of years of maladministration, in a few short months, in the face of opposition and disloyalty, which they had to encounter in the force, as well as the opposition of outside elements that started in with a determination to discredit them, and make their efforts at reform a failure from the start.

If conditions which the Mayor describes, exist, a judicial investigation such as Chief Carpenter asked for, and was entitled to as a matter of right, would have demonstrated it, and, furthermore, would have placed the responsibility of such conditions where it properly and justly belonged.

Not only have Edmonton and Port Hope lost the opportunity of rendering a distinct public service to the new world about them, in the matter of police reform, but has, through the actions of her representatives, become responsible for the removal from the records of public office, without investigation or trial, and degraded by the stigma of dismissal, names that are honoured and revered wherever known, and which during a period of many years of conspicuous public service, have never been touched by a breath of suspicion or scandal."

HEALTH EXHIBIT IN COLLEGIATE HALL

MR. RICHARDS IS ACTING CHIEF

The elevation of Mr. L. M. Hayes to the Senior Judgeship of Wellington County, and his consequent removal to that city will create a vacancy in the Board of Education. This will have to be filled immediately after Mr. Hayes leaves the city, and there is some speculation as to who will succeed him. His successor, whoever he may be, will represent the Separate School supporters in the Board of Education, and will be appointed by the Separate School Board.

Indirectly Mr. Hayes' appointment to the Judgeship has been responsible for the necessity of an election in the Centre Ward in the near future. Because he will sever his connection with the firm of Hall, Hayes and Hall of this city, Mr. E. H. D. Hall resigned as City Solicitor, and Mr. G. N. Gordon was appointed. This creates a vacancy in the Council, and an election will have to be held in the centre ward to select an alderman.

A REST GOWN, in crepe de Chine or soft satin with double tunic to form pannier, finished with sash of contrasting ribbon, and soft tulle at neck. In black and may other colours.

CY WARMAN HAS PASSED AWAY

Examiner Special:

MONTREAL, April 7.— Word was received here to-day that Cy Warman, the well known Canadian newspaperman and poet died in Chicago to-day.

CHARGES AND COUNTER CHARGES

PORT HOPE, April 7.—The air is full of charges and counter-charges that the police of the town have been bribed by the hotelkeepers' to wink at violations of the Liquor License Act, and an investigation before the county judge will be held.

On Friday last, Mr. L. G. Bennett, proprietor of the Queen's Hotel appeared before the police magistrate on a charge of selling liquor to a party who had assembled to play a game of cards. It was shown that one of the men brought liquor into the premises, and as no evidence of sale was forthcoming, the case against Mr. Bennett was dismissed. To-day the same case was reopened, and the charge amended to the effect that Mr. Bennett permitted and allowed liquor to be consumed on his premises.

The evidence did not disclose that Mr. Bennet had any knowledge of the liquor being consumed, and the magistrate dismissed the case. The charge against Mr. Bennett of suffering gambling on his premises on the same occasion was then proceeded with and Mr. Bennett was fined $30.00 and $4.50 costs. It is said that the Liquor License Act has been so shamefully disregarded in Port Hope of late that the attention of Hon. Mr. Hanna has been called to it.

POLICE BULLETIN ON THE POLICE WOMAN MATTER

The Chief Constables Association of Canada, print monthly a magazine entitled the Canadian Police Bulletin.

The following article is this quarter to be found in its pages.

A Merited Rebuke.

Busy-bodies of that class who are satisfied, except when regulating the morals of the community, and generally the affairs of the universe, received a rude shock when His Honour Judge Huycke, Chairman of the Board of Police Commissioners of the City of Peterborough, undertook to tell them just what he thought of their meddlesome interference in the matter of the appointment of a police woman, for which they were agitating, and in support of which a petition was presented, supplemented by every modern device known to the lobbyist, with the object of forcing the Board to make the appointment. The deputation had also waited upon the Board and in the arbitratory manner, assuming the characteristic of the impertinent meddler, urged them to immediate action. At a subsequent meeting, when announcing the Board's unanimous decision not to make the appointment, His Honour spoke at length and, in scathing terms, denounced that class of agitator, who in their determination to accomplish a purpose, be it wise or unwise, will stop at nothing "Even the Bench," said His Honour, "is not immune from their assaults."

There is such a wholesome lesson, both for the police governing bodies of Canada, and for the meddlesome agitator, in the address, that "The Bulletin" will publish it in full in its next issue, as it was reported in the Peterborough Examiner.

Regarding the matter, the Bulletin further says, "The Police Commissioners of Peterborough, instead of appointing a police woman, very wisely increased their patrol force, by two men, which will give the citizens better value for their money, and also appointed a Matron, to look after female prisoners, and investigate delicate female reports. It is to be regretted that the well understood title, "Police Matron" was ever confused in Canada, with that meaningless designation "Policewoman."

"The only police service that women are capable of performing has been very efficiently performed in all our large cities for years past by Police Matrons, and changing their title to policewomen is not going to make tem any more efficient or quality them for duties which they are physically incapable of performing. The fad originated in a western city, ambitious to have something, only in name, that no other city could boast of."

Alpine waterfalls could supply sufficient power to operate all the railways in Sutherland in the opinion of engineers who have investigated the question for the government.

In a new combined pneumatic and solid tire for automobiles only a heavy ring of rubber comes in contact with the road, the rest of the tire being protected by a steel ring.

The Chinese government, which owns the country's telegraph system, has extended it until more than 36,000 miles of land lines and about 1000 miles of cables are now in use.

Economy of floor space is the advantage of a Wisconsin inventor's stepladder in which a third section, carried between the front and back, can be raised to the desired height.

With the idea of eventually producing a perfect human race an English scientist has as a nucleus six children of as many nationalities, and will add five more to his colony.

STRAY TOPICS FROM LITTLE OLD NEW YORK

NEW YORK, April 4—Arrangements are being made for an elaborate celebraton to be held here this month in honour of the three hundred and fiftieth anniversary of Shakespeare's birth. The celebration will be under the auspices of the Shakespeare Club of New York City, in cooperation with the American Playgoers, the Board of Education, the Brooklyn Institute of Art and Science. The plans call for a big out door observance in Central Park, a dramatic pageant, and literary exercises of various sorts.

The American Bible Society has just made a unique shipment of a thousand Bibles, printed in the Gilbert Islands language, to Micronesia, a group of islands situated about 5,000 miles southwest of San Francisco. The Bibles were soldered up in tin packages of twenty and put in fifty stout wooden boxes for their long journey. To protect the volumes from insects the binders worked poison into their covers. The Bibles will be distributed principally from Ocean Island, which is a mere speck of land but a point of call for many ships because of the wealth of its phosphate deposits.

Richard A. Canfield has sold his famous collection of Whistler pictures, valued at several hundred thousand dollars. A few years ago, it will be remembered, Mr. Canfield was known as the greatest gambler in the world. But when District Attorney Jerome put the lid on gambling in New York eight years ago Mr. Canfield was forced to retire. It was generally believed at that time that he was a millionaire. His famous establishment next door to Delmonico's, and his equally famous gambling house, the Saratoga Club, near the Saratoga race course, for years were immensely profitable. Mr Canfield hailed originally from Providence and got his first start in the gambling profession by catering to the sporting proclivities of the idle rich at Newport. When his establishments in New York and Saratoga were closed he took many of his valuable pictures to his old home in Providence.

Tango enthusiasts and the votaries of the night life along Broadway gasped with astonishment the other night when a band of Salvation Army lads and lassies invaded the floor of the Jardin de Paris and several other of the best known and most popular dance establishments and made the trotters and the tangoers pause, and reflect that there was also a serious side of life. Contrary to their expectations, the Salvationists were welcomed to all the places they visited. The adjutant in charge of the little band delivered a brief speech, and his comrades sang "My Mother's Hand Upon my Brow" and other songs. The joyful crowds listened in silence to the songs and speeches, then applauded and offered contributions to the unusual visitors. The Salvation Army declined to accept the money.

It will be five years next Monday since Commander Robert E. Peary reached the North Pole. The Explorers' Club has arranged to give a dinner Monday evening in celebration of the anniversary. Rear Admiral Peary will be the guest of honour and President Woodrow Wilson and many notable officials and representatives of scientific societies in America and abroad have been invited to attend. One of the features of the evening's programme wil be the presentation of a gold medal to Admiral Peary. On one side the medal will have a bust of the explorer and on the other the seal of the club, with inscription. The Explorers' Club has a membership exceeding 200, and in this list are the names of many eminent travellers, some of whom have achieved distinction in the field of exploration. Commander Scott, who lost his life on the trip to the South Pole, was a member of the Club. Commander Evans of Scott's expedition, who arrived here recently from abroad, has been made an honorary member. Stefansson, Amundsen and Shackleton, all of them famous for their polar exploration, are members of the Club.

Drew the Line.

Judge—"I'll give you an hour to get out of town! Will you do it?"

Vagrant—"Oh, yes, I'll do it, but I'm darned if I'll hustle so fast coming back!"

Risky.

Roddy — I have documentary evidence, Sandy, that says my boy, Peter, is the rightful Duke o' Glenwurrawurra!

Sandy — Na doubt, Roddy, but 'twould be a shame to hae him throw up his job on th' trolley for that.

A. T. FONTAINE

has purchased Dr. Fullerton's Livery Business at No. 193 Hunter Street and solicits a continuance of the public patronage bestowed on the former owner, and every effort will be made to give prompt attention. Careful

Bargains in Fixtures

1 only 5 light fixture fitted with art glass lanterns finished in Empire Brass, regular $48.00 reduced to..... .....$38.00

1 only 4 light square Sheffield design, fixture fitted with Arnels, Lanterns, regular $18.00, reduced to..... .....$12.00

1 only glass fixture, beautiful design, regular $25.00, reduced to..... .....$17.00

1 only 5 light fixture with cast brass trimmings, fitted with prism shades, regular $15.00, reduced to..... .....$11.00

All Our Other Fixtures Cut One Third For This Week Only.

Alexander & Miller

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

PETERBORO' LACROSSE CLUB ORGANIZED INTERMEDIATE TEAM WILL BE ENTERED

Officers Elected at an Enthusiastic Meeting in St. Alphonsus' Lyceum Last Evening—Mr. Ed. Dillon is President.

PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT

At an enthusiastic and well attended meeting held in St. Alphonsus Lyceum last night, the Peterborough Lacrosse Club was organized, officers elected and other arrangements made for the sason. For the first time in half a dozen years Peterborough will be represented in the lacrosse field, last night's meeting deciding to place a team in the intermediate series of the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association. There was a splendid turnout of old players. Such well-known performers as Ed. Dillon, Denny Dobbin, Geo. Mein, Geo. Robertson, Lew Lebar, F. C. Weber, Larry Tracey, L. McCoy, and other players being on hand, while a number of enthusiastic followers of the game showed their interest by attending.

R. J. Begley, the convenor of the committee appointed last week, was in the chair. It was unanimously decided to proceed with the organization of the club, and the following list of officers was chosen, the only election being for positions on the executive committee for which eight were nominated:

Patrons and Patronesses — Mayor and Mrs. Buller, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Howden, Dr. and Mrs. Wightman, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kendry, Hon. J. R. and Mrs. Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Patterson ,Mr and Mrs. W. H. Denham, Mr. Robert Dobie, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hatton, Alderman and Mrs. Duncan, E. A. Peck, M.P.P. and Mrs. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Coulthard, Mr. and Mrs. Breyfogle, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Campbell, Mr and Mrs. J. W. Worth, Mr. F. D. Kerr, Mr. Wm. Rudkins, Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford, Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P.

Hon. President—Mr. Harry Phelan.
President—Ed. Dillon.
1st Vice-President—Geo. Robertson.
2nd Vice-President—R. J. Begley.
Secretary-Trasurer—H. T. Theobald.
Executive Committee—L. Lebar, R. M. Glover, Paul Trebilcock, Fred McGrath, A. Rose.
School Committee—R. J. Begley (chairman), F. C. Weber, Ed. Manning, W. J. Koster, F. D. Craig.

The question of what series the club should enter was briefly discussed, and on motion of Messrs. Begley and Mein it was decided that the Peterborough Lacrosse Club should place a team in the intermediate series of the O.A.L.A.

It was also decided that the club should be represented at the annual meeting of the Ontario Association in Toronto on Good Friday. Mr. E. B. Boswell stated that he would be in Toronto on that date and was willing to assist in any way he could. He was therefore nominated as one of the club's delegates, while President Dillon was selected at the other. Letters had been received from Percy Lancaster of Havelock and W. H. Roe of Campbellford, candidates for the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association Council, asking for the support of the Peterborough Club, but it was decided by the meeting that the local delegates should go unpledged. They were instructed to endeavour to have Peterborough placed in a district with Campbellford, Hastings and other eastern towns.

In connection with fostering the game among the youngsters, especially in the schools, it was thought advisable to appoint a special committee to look after this work. Mr. Begley reported that four dozen sticks for the use of the young players had already been promised. A committee composed of Mr. Begley, chairman, Ed. Manning, W. J. Foster, F. C. Weber and F. D. Craig was appointed to take hold of the work among the youngsters.

The membership fee of the club, on motion of Messrs. Koster and Tracey, was placed at $1.00, and a dozen of those present enrolled at once as members.

Players wishing to secure sticks can do so by calling at Messrs. Trebilcock Bros. store. Special arrangements have been made by which sticks may be secured at $1.00, sticks that usually sell at $2.50.

If the weather permits a number of players will turn out for the first practice on Good Friday afternoon. Through the kindness of Lt.-Col. Cheyne and the officers of the 57th Regiment the club has been given the use of the grounds in front of the armouries for practice purposes.

The newly elected officers will hold a meeting to-morrow (Wednesday) evening at 8 o'clock in St. Alphonsus' Lyceum at which a number of important matters will come up for discussion. Every member is expected to attend this meeting.

A large number of old lacrosse enthusiasts have promised to support the club financially, and the necessary backing will not be lacking.

The prospects for the club are of the brightest.

Here You Are Boys! Read These Rules And You Are Ready To Start

For the benefit of the youngsters in Peterborough who are anxious to learn to play lacrosse the Examiner publishes the following rules, taken from the O. A. L. A. constitution:

Rule IV.

Sec. 1—The twelve players on each side shall be designated as follows: 'Goalkeeper,' 'point,' 'cover-point,' 'first defence,' 'second defence,' 'third defence,' 'centre,' 'third defence,' 'centre,' 'third home,' 'second home,' 'first home,' 'outside home,' 'inside home.'

Rule VIII.

Sec. 1.—The game shall be started by the referee placing the ball in the centre of the field between the sticks of the players facing, and when both sides are ready the referee shall call 'play.' The players shall have their left side towards the goal they are attacking, and in every case the ball must be drawn.

Sec. 2.—A goal is scored by a player putting the ball in the goal net from the front.

Sec. 3—The playing time of the match shall be divided into four periods of twenty minutes each, actual playing time, ends to be changed only at the conclusion of each period.

Sec. 4.—In no case must the ball be faced closer to the goals than ten yards in any direction.

Sec. 5.—The goalkeeper, while defending his goal within the goal crease, although not allowed to catch and throw with his hand, may put away with his hand or block the ball in any manner with his stick or body.

Sec. 6.—Should the ball lodge in any place inaccessible to the stick, it shall be taken out, and the player picking it up shall 'face' with his nearest opponent.

Sec. 7.—A ball out of bounds must be 'faced' at the nearest point where it left the bounds, and all the players shall remain in their places until the ball is faced.

Sec. 8—Players may change their sticks during a match.

Sec. 9—If the player should be in possession of the ball when 'time' is called he must drop it on the ground.

Sec. 10—A player without a stick shall not touch the ball until he recovers his stick.

Sec. 11.—Should a player be injured during a match and compelled to leave the field, the opposite team shall drop a man to equalize the teams during his absence.

Sec. 12—No change of players shall be made after the match has commenced.

Sec. 13—In the event of any team starting to play what is known as 'rag' the referee shall at once stop the game and face the ball in the centre of the field. Should the offence be repeated the referee shall at once stop the game and give the opposing team a throw.

Sec. 14—Should a foul be claimed and disallowed, the side against whom the foul has been claimed shall be allowed a free throw or the ball shall be faced, at the option of the referee, should the foul be allowed the player fouled shall have a free throw, but in no case shall it be made within ten (10) yards of the goal. By a free throw it is understood that the player fouling and the one fouled shall be placed in the same positions as they occupied immediately previous to the foul, the player fouled having the ball on his lacrosse. At the word 'play' from the referee, each shall be allowed to play in any manner allowed by the rules of the game.

Sec. 15—The match shall be awarded to the club having won a majority of the goals. If at the end of fulltime the score is a tie, the referee shall order the match to continue. Teams to change ends and the match to continue for ten minutes, and if neither side has then scored a majority of goals similar periods of ten minutes shall be played. If at the end of thirty minutes neither side has scored a majority of goals, the match shall then be declared a drawn match.

A player shall not:

(1) Hold an opponent's lacrosse with his hands, arms or between his legs, nor hold, strike or trip him with his lacrosse; run in front of him or interfere in any way to keep him from the ball until another player reaches it.

(2) Hold, strike or trip an opponent, or push him with his hand.

(3) Wrestle with legs entwined, so as to throw an opponent.

(4) Touch the ball with his hands, save as in Rule IX., or excepting goalkeeper, as in Rule IX.

(5) Throw his lacrosse at a player or at the ball under any circumstances.

(6) Move from his position when 'time' is called until the ball is again faced.

(7) Go within the opponents' goal crease, nor shall he check the goalkeeper within the crease.

(8) Use the check commonly known as the 'square' or 'cross' check which consists of one player charging into another with both hands on the lacrosse, so as to make the stick meet the body of his opponent.

(9) Jump at, or shoulder an opponent from behind while running for or after reaching the ball.

(11) Kneel, lie down, or drop, in front of the opponent when both are in pursuit of the ball.

(12) Attempt to influence the decision of the umpire.

(13) Use threatening, profane or obscene language to any player or to the referee, umpires or captains, at any time during the match.

(14) Forcibly body check any opponent into a fence.

(15) Charge into an opponent after he (opponent) has thrown the ball.

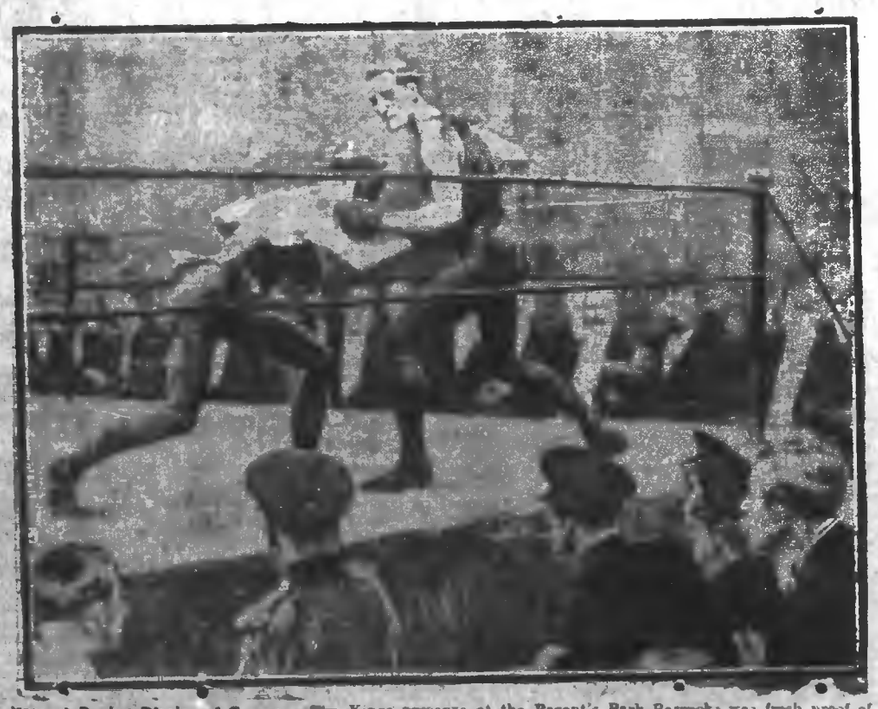
(16) Wear spiked shoes. (Rubbers excepted).

(17) Persistently throw the ball out of bounds, lie on same, or in any way try to prolong the time of the game.

(18) Check an opponent's lacrosse, or attempt to knock the same out of his hands in any way, unless both players are contending for the ball.

(19) Any player striking another on the head whether accidentally or otherwise, shall be ruled off for a period not less than five minutes, and any player striking another with the butt end of the stick shall be ruled off for not less than fifteen minutes.

The goals consist of two poles, six feet apart and six feet high, which for league games, must be fitted with a net.



King at Boxing Display of Guards — The Kings presence at the Regent's Park Barracks was fresh proof of the close attention with which he follows the development of sport. Preliminary contests of hard-hitting bouts were very amusing. At 9.45 the King, accompanied by Admiral Seymour, Lord Dundonald, and others, entered in evening dress. The above picture shows Bombardier Wells and Pat O'Keefe giving a pretty display of counters, though Wells always looked as if he were playing with his man. The next event, which showed both men at their best, was the six-round contest, was the real thing. Both Corporal Pay and Trooper Bradshaw use his and strong, and both hit tremendously hard. Corporal Pay knocked his man out in the first round.

Peterborough Wrestlers In Good Shape For Bouts Here On Thursday Night

The members of the wrestling class of the local Y.M.C.A., who are to take part in the Peterborough City Championships on Thursday evening, had a hard, fast work-out last evening for nearly two hours and this evening will put in their finishing touches. The class works out from half past five to seven o'clock. Lately the boys have had quite a few spectators in to watch them. To-morrow and Thursday most of the boys will rest up to be in good shape for Thursday night. One or two of them who are still a little over weight now take light exercise to help them get down to their weight limits.

Hartiaken, the 125 lb. wrestler, has decided to enter in the 135 lb. class as well, where he will meet Walsh, the Toronto city champion and former Ontario champion. Hartiaken, for his weight, is a wonderfully good amateur wrestler. Although he weighs only 123 lbs. he quite frequently takes falls from the 145 lb. and 150 lb. wrestlers, and very seldom loses a fall to them. He is a Graeco-Roman wrestler. In this style of wrestling any holds below the waist, including leg holds or trips are not allowed. Thus, he has developed all holds connected with the arms and rolls and is able to rip in a roll at the most unexpected moments and in the most unexpected positions. Time after time when his opponents think they have him Hartiaken takes an unexpected roll and pins them before they know how it was done. Since coming to Peterborough he has developed his leg work wonderfully and is certain to give a good account of himself in both the 125 and 135 lb. classes. It will be a great surprise to the local wrestlers if Hartiaken loses a fall in either classes.

Scott has been working hard to get down to the 145 lb. limit and still has several pounds to take off. He will be in even better condition than he was at Toronto and better up in his work and should make a first class showing.

Lees also has a little to take off to get in the 115 lb. class. He is going strong and fast and has improved considerably in science as a result of and since his Toronto contest. He stands a very good show of getting a decision over Hood, the Toronto wrestler. Keegan is down to weight in the 105 lb. class and Forbes is within the limit in the 135 lb. class.

Entries close to-day and will be announced to-morrow. Ladies will be admitted to the bouts. There was quite a large attendance of ladies at the recent bouts in Toronto.

CANADIAN LEAGUE NOTES

BRANTFORD, April 7—The arrival in the City of Rube Deneau has made baseball the chief topic of conversation in Brantford to-day. The former London manager and present pilot of the Red Sox arrived here yesterday afternoon for a conference with President Nelson in regard to the arrangements for bringing the players here to train toward the end o fthe month.

Two Big Leaguers.

Deneau brought several contracts with him and he has now quite a list of players who will get tryouts with the Brantford team. With the exception of a couple of pitchers that he expects to sign up this week, Rube's roster is complete. These two pitchers are from the St. Louis National League cub, according to Rube, and when he gets them he claims he will have the best hurling staff in the League.

Beat Troy for One Man.

Worfel, a twirler whom Troy of the New York State League, was putting up a fight for, was awarded to the Brantford Club. Deneau believes he will be a star. Connell, a big right-hander, and Carrol and Chase, left-handers, are others he is placing great confidence in. In Honeck Rube thinks he will have the best shortstop in the League, not excepting Edide Holly, while Carr, although admittedly a trifle small, is expected to burn up the outfield. Deneau has 30 men under contract at the present time, but only twenty of these will be asked to report for Spring training.

Rube's Last Year.

"This will probably be my last year in baseball and I intend to make it a winning one' said Deneau this morning. I have other pans for the future and I will retire at the end of the season. I do not say I will walk off with the pennant but the other teams will have to be stronger than they were last season to beat us out. I will have a better club than I had in London last year; in fact, I will have the best cub I have ever been connected with and it will be a fight all the way.

The Brantford Roster

The Red Sox players, at present under contract, are as follows, the first named being the probable selection in each case:

Pitchers — Carrel and Chase, lefthanders; Worfel, Connell, Gero, Gehring, Brodie, and Molyneaux and two men expected from the St. Louis Cardinals, four to be retained.

Catchers — Lamond, Harvey and Price.

First-baseman — Rube Deneau and 'Gabby' Ivers.

Second baseman — Wagner, Lattimer, Nauclair.

Shortstops—Honeck, Taylor.

Third baseman — Bickart, Johnny Nelson, Halenback, Belts.

Outfielders — Ivers or Deneau; Carr, Sandusky, Slemin, Nichols, Johnston and Ferris.

Petes Players Report A Week From To-day

Their is nothing new at the headquarters of the Peterborough Ball Club to-day, and from now on the fans will have to wait until the training season opens to hear much about the Petes. Manager Blount has his players rounded up, and the arrangements made for the training camp, so that there will be few new developments this week. A week from to-day Youngstown will be invaded by a small army of ball tossers from all directions, and next morning Manager Blount will have them all at work. Some twenty-five players will report at Youngstown, and before the team moves up to Erie for the opening game of the season, the squad will be cut down to fourteen or fifteen men, so that local fans will not see all Manager Blount's hopes. The Examiner is making preparations for a good service in connection with the training operations and readers of this paper will get the gossip about the old favourites and new stars in the Peterborough fold.

Random Ravings

Much of the beauty has gone from the Canadian League in the passing of Knotty Lee and Connie Murphy.

Red Fisher is demanding more money from the Hamilton Ball Club. Another case of a man higher up wanting his bit.

Dr. Yates, the new Hamilton manager, is a dentist. He will probably have a better pull than Knotty had.

Favourite songs of well-known people:

You'll Want Me Back"—Davy Rowon.

"The Umpire Is a Most Unhappy Man"—Umpire Evans.

"Silver Threads Among the Gold"—Geo. Needham.

"I'd Rather Be on the Outside Looking In"—Joe Byrne.

"I Miss You Most of All"—Dedicated to Harry Brant by President Denham.

"I Got Mine"—Curt Templin.

"Take Me Out to the Ball Game"—Chief Thompson.

"I Didn't Want To Do It"—Willie Swarts.

"Shall We Gather at the River"—The fans.

All this Home Rule agitation only makes us weary.

We'll not be happy till the Petes take three games at Erie.

"We'll miss Rowan because he was always pulling off something," said a local bug, yesterday. "Whad d'ye mean?- The only thing Davy ever pulled off at Riverside Park was his cap."

Hear about the wedding? The London Cockneys are going to Marrietta next week.

Chesty Rogers of the Ottawas sells paint when he isn't playing ball. Judging by his stick work, glue would be more in his line.

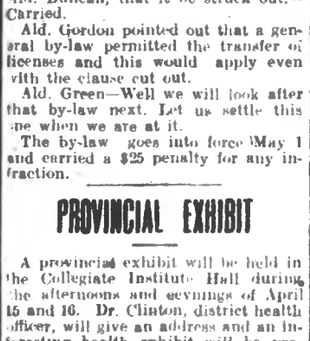
ATHLETIC CLUB MEETING

All members of the Peterborough Athletic Club are reminded of the meeting in the Y.M.C.A. to-morrow night at 8 o'clock. A full attendance of members is expected, as important business will come up.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE ATTRACTIONS

GRAND OPERA HOUSE TO-NIGHT
An Indian Drama entitled "The Love of Men" in 2 Reels
4 Other Reels 4 Comedy and Drama
Continuous Evening Performance commencing at 7.30 & 9 p.m.
ADULTS 10c :-: :-: :-: CHILDREN 5c.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, WEDNESDAY APRIL 8th.
A Play of New York Life—With Nothing to Offend.
A GIRL OF THE UNDERWORLD
IN FOUR ACTS
PRICES—25c, 35c, 50c—Gallery 15c.
SEATS ON SALE



DOUGLAS STANBURY

SPECIAL HOLIDAY ATTRACTION
APRIL 10 & 11 GOOD FRIDAY & SAT
Matinee Daily 2.30. Evening 8.15.
Douglas Stanbury
Toronto
Canada's Greatest Boy Singer.
Henry F. Dixie in a remarkable 3 Reel Drama by THE FAMOUS PLAYERS COMPANY of New York, Entitled "CHELSEA 7750"
3 Reels Pictures, Comedy and Drama. (These Change on Saturdays)
Reserve Seats 20c, Rush Seats (2nd Section, first Balcony 10c)
Sale Opens To-morrow (Wednesday) Morning.

LICENSE FIXED AT AT $25

The license for auctioneers in the City was fixed by the Council last night at $25, and while this by-law escaped the deluge, it was nevertheless subjected to a running fire during its passage. The former fee was $50 and it was at the request of several auctioneers that the sum was reduced.

Last night Ald. Stratton pointed out that the committee which had dealt with the question favoured a $25 license for residents of the City, and $50 for outsiders, but City Solicitor Hall had advised that this could not be arranged on the grounds that it was legislation that discriminated in favour of the local auctioneers. Reducing the fee to $25 he said, was opposed to the best interests of the merchants.

Ald. Green stated that it would not be keeping faith with the auctioneers if the $25 license were raised.

Ald. Duffus—A petition was read ere showing that some of the merchants favoured the $50 license.

Moved by Ald. Stratton, seconded by Mayor Buller that the license be raised to $50. Lost, all the other members opposing it.

Ald. Green took objection to the clause permitting the transfer of a license for $1, and moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan, that it be struck out.—Carried.

Ald. Gordon pointed out that a general by-law permitted the transfer of licenses and this would apply even with the clause cut out.

Ald. Green—Well we will look after that by-law next. Let us settle this one when we are at it.

The by-law goes into force May 1 and carried a $25 penalty for any infraction.

PROVINCIAL EXHIBIT

A provincial exhibit will be held in the Collegiate Institute Hall during the afternoons and evenings of April 15 and 16. Dr. Clinton, district health officer, will give an address and an interesting health exhibit will be presented. All the citizens will be invited and there will be no admission charge.

MR. W. RICHARDS IS ACTING CHIEF.

PORT HOPE, April 7.—Acting Chief Constable Royce was suspended from office on Saturday morning for thirty days, pending an investigation into certain charges made against him. Mr W. Richards, formerly Chief of Police of Midland, is acting in the meantime.

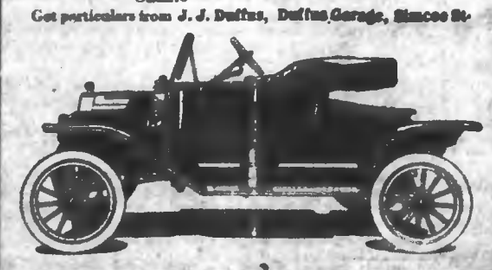
RED MILL
TO-DAY
CYNTHY
Featuring
MRS. WADLEY
The Great Peterboro Favourite
KING BAGGOT
in an IMP Feature
4—Other Reels—4
6—Reels Every Show—6
5c Admission To All 5c

Princess Theatre
TO-DAY BIG FEATURE
AMERICAN BORN
in 2 parts
5—Other Reels—5
SPECIAL VAUDEVILLE
Matinee Nights
5c and 10c

Brock St. Rink
Roller Skating
Friday and Sat.
Morning Afternoon and Evening
57th. REG. BAND
EACH DAY

READ THE EXAMINER

Ford
The Ford—the Lightest, Surest, Most Economical--the very essence of automobiling--and all Canadian
Model T Runabout f. o. b. Ford, Ontario $600
Get particulars from J. J. Duffus, Duffus Garage, Simcoe St.



Robt. Fair & Co. Ltd.

Every Day Something New For Easter

New Suits, New Coats
New Dresses New Waists

Suits in the newest spring models in all the popular materials. A host of new arrivals daily—yes almost hourly—at this busy period of the season. They represent the cleverest and most desirable of the latest models. As fast as they are produced they come to us. Our stock is always kept up with the neatest styles for your selection.

Leading The Way in New Millinery

Our whole sale suppliers in New York keeps us in direct touch with every up-to-the-minute creation in Millinery, and acting on advice received during the past few days our skilled Milliners have made up many new models presenting fresh touches of novelty.

At $5.00, $5.98, $7.00 and $9.50 may be found charming trimmed hats from our works rooms.

Gloves Most Acceptable Easter Gifts

Nowhere in Peterboro will be found so large an assortment and reliable a quality as carried by Robt. Fair & Co. Complete spring stock.

Glace, Suede, Cape Mocha in Ladies' and Children's sizes

75c, $1.00, $1.35, $1.50

FRIGHTENED A MOUSE TO DEATH

Heart failure and dying from fright are not confined to the human family but the same may be found among the lower animals. On Friday evening last in a house in this city, a full-fledged mouse, musically inclined, no doubt, took up its abode in the interior of the family organ, and at once commenced its noisy operations, just as the family was about to retire. In order to put an end to the disturbance at the earliest possible moment, the young lady of the house conceived the idea of setting a trap for the house, and acording she secured a spring trap which required a great deal of ingenuity and delicate touch to set the same, as it was its wont to go off on the slightest provocation. Having succeeded in her difficult tack she at once retired and arose the next morning at an early hour to learn the result, when lo, and behold! The prostrate form of the mouse lay before her alongside of the trap without being touched or bearing a mark, having been frightened to death by the sudden noise of the trap, which had gone off prematurely.

ANNOUNCEMENT

WE are glad to announce to the people of Peterborough that our Furniture Department which has been on 3rd floor, 422 George St., has been transfered to the Main floor, next to our Ready-to-Wear Department, 420 George St. Our stock is all complete: New Parlour Suites, Dining Room Suites, Bed Room Suites and Kitchen Furniture, Carpets, Linoleums, Lace and Tapestry Curtains, Table Covers, etc.

We Assure the Public That We Will Sell at Low Prices and on Very Easy Terms.

ZACKS BROS.

420—422 GEORGE STREET

CITY AND GENERAL

British Mails.

Mail for transmission to Europe, is despatched from this city every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and matter is received until midnight. Four mails a day are closed out at the Post Office, for transhipment to Great Britain. d-tf.

The Examiner Office Telephones.

The telephone numbers of the Examiner Office have been changed. The Business Office, formerly 57, is now 1439; the Editorial Office, which was 234, is now 1491; Mr. Dawe and Mr. Menzies are changed from 1237, and can be had by calling either of the above new numbers. Private branch exchange to all departments.

Notice.

Painting, papering and graining at reasonable prices. —Geo. Hawke, Brownlown P. O. 'Phone 1481. 22d-4d

Notice!

Carting and moving promptly and carefully attended to. Call or address J. Kelleher, 261 Romaine St. 26d-6f

Probabilities.

Easterly winds, with local snow or rain. Wednesday, northerly winds, cold and unsettled.

George Street Choir.

The George Street Choir will meet to-night at 7:30. There will be an Esther rehearsal at 8 o'clock.

Wanted to Purchase.

House in north end (conveniences), six rooms and bath. About $2,000.00. Apply C. J. Carroll & Co., 372 Water Street. 'Phone 282.

Y. M. C. A. Mother's Club.

The Mother's Club of the Y.M.C.A. will meet to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. All members are asked to be present as business of importance will be discussed.

A Mysterious Young Boarder.

A learned, solitary young man is unable to pay his board bills. You'll find out why in "Quod," by Henry Harrison. Formerly sold at $1.25; Now 50c; over 1000 good titles to choose from at Trebilcock Bros. 'Phone 205.

Auction Sale

At the home of Mr. R. Waram, 267 Sherbrooke Street, Tuesday, April 14th, at 1.30 o'clock, including piano, sewing machine, gas stove, wool carpets, rugs, and general houshold goods. All must be sold. Terms cash. —W. J. Hancock, Auctioneer. 6d-81

Telephone Change.

Messrs. A. N. Allison & Co.'s telephone has been changed from 126 to 363. New number, 363, where all calls will be promptly answered regarding real estate and insurance. A. N. Allison & Co., 160 Charlotte Street. 5d-8d.

Try The
Sanitary Grocery Store for

Home-made Raspberries, Sweet Oranges, Fancy Biscuits, Tickler's Pure Jam, Black Currant, Raspberry and Strawberry; Fearman's Hams and Bacon, fresh eggs and butter, Lea & Perrin's Sauce, Heins Catsup, Beans and Sweet Pickles, Caster Sugar and Loaf Sugar. Also Lettuce, Onions, and Radishes.—James R. Bell, 197 Hunter Street; near Bell Telephone Co. Phone 455.

Selling Out To J. J. Hill?

Examiner Special:

OTTAWA, Ont., April 7.—There is a rumour here to-day that Mackensie & Mann are selling out their Canadian Northern interests to J. J. Hill, of Great Northern fame.

TO ATTEND S. A. CITADEL

The Peterborough and Otonabee lodges of the I.O.O.F. will attend divine service at the Salvation Army Citidale on Sunday evening, April 26. The band will meet the members at their hall and escort them to the Citadel, where Adjutant McElhaney will preach. Afterwards the band will accompany the members back to their hall. A special musical programme will be prepared for the occasion.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. W. H. Waram will not receive to-morrow nor again this season.

Mrs. Harry Perkins will not receive to-morrow nor again this season.

Mrs. Alexander Weddell will not receive to-morrow nor again this season.

Mrs. Stranger, 311 Stewart street, will not receive to-morrow, nor again this season.

Mrs. E. M. Glover, 315 Margaret Avenue, will not receive to-morrow, or again this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Weese, of Belleville, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Spencer, 319 George street.

Mr. Tait, of the Tait Optical Co., 416 George street, returned last evening from a successful business trip to Havana.

Mrs. (Rev.) G. R. Brown of Campbellford is a guest of Mrs. W. H. Waram during the convention at St. Andrew's Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Leahy of Toronto, are visiting the latter's mother, Mrs. Robert W. Graham of 675 Stewart Street. Mrs. Leahy will remain until June.

Mr. G. A. Hanson, 573 Rogers Street, received news to-day of the death of his sister, Flora Maud, who passed away at St. Hillier's, Jersey, on March 19th.

WEDDING BELLS

PEARSON—DAVIS.

At the Manse of the Metropolitan Methodist Church, Toronto, on April 4th, there was solemnized by the Rev. Mr. Allison the wedding of Miss Alta, daughter of the late Johnston Davis, of Smith, to Mr. Ephriam Pearson, of Smith. The bride, who was unattended, was charmingly gowned in a tailored suit of blue serge with point lace, and wore a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

The happy couple left on the evening train amidst the hearty congratulations of their numerous friends, for New York and Boston.

Upon their return to Toronto they will be at home to their friends at 205 George street.

Seven Hundred Were Dined

Last evening between five and seven o'clock, seven hundred children were dined in the Sunday School Room of the George Street Methodist Church. The tea was given in connection with the anniversary of the George Street and Grace Sunday Schools, and was one of the most largely attended and most successful in the history of the Sunday Schools. The members of the Primary Department sat down to tea at five o'clock and were followed by those of the Intermediate and Senior grades.

The tables had been provisioned by the ladies of both Sunday schools and the quantity and quality of the victuals spoke eloquently for what they had done to make the tea a success. All of the fourteen tables offered an array of appetizing things, and in spite of the depletion of the good things by the hungry students there seemed always to be plenty in stores by the ladies for those that followed. The splendid service of the ladies made the tea a most enjoyable and memorable one for all who attended.

After the supper an interesting address was given in the church by Mr. Wilson Taylor, superintendent of the George street School, on Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress. The lecture was profusely illustrated with lantern slides, and the review of the book by Mr. Taylor was admirable. A large number heard the address.

During the evening Mrs. Renwick rendered a solo which was greatly enjoyed. The Rev. Mr. Peever presided at the meeting in the church.

WELCOMED THE CONVERTS

A fitting climax to the three weeks' revival at Park Street Baptist Church was the closing meeting last evening. The new members were given a hearty reception and Evangelist Pugsley's concluding address was most appropriate for the occasion. Early in the evening the entire congregation partook of supper in the basement, after which the service was commenced in the Church, the main auditorium and gallery being well filled.

Evangelist Pugsley chose for his subject last evening, "What Think Ye of Christ?" In a strikingly realistic manner he gave a vivid picture of a trial in which a number answered the above question. The Evangelist then summed up the evidence, pointing out what should be the Christian's view of Christ, and what He should regan in their daily lives.

Rev. Mr. McLaren of Gilmour Church followed with a few remarks, Rev. Mr. Connor by Evangelist Pugsley's solos.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation to the Pastor, Rev. Mr. Connor by Evangelist Pugsley of the evening's collection. In doing so the Evangelist remarked that he had never worked with a man who was more earnest and indefatigable in his labours, as their Pastor.

Rev. Mr. Connors acknowledged the kindness in a few well-chosen words, paying a well-deserved tribute to Mr. Pugsley, who had achieved such wonderful results in the spiritual life of the community. Mr. W. H. Moore, Superintendent of the Sunday School, also spoke briefly.

Evangelist Pugsley left to-day for Port Perry, where he will conduct similar services.

CAMERON'S MORNING MUSE

Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. Reeve Shaw's statement regarding the Gannon's Bridge, there naturally arises the question, if the bridge is "entirely under the jurisdiction of the county," why he, as a member of the council, and in his township's behalf, has not been more active in getting that body, with the co-operation of the two Governments, interested in a permanent bridge, instead of being satisfied with repairing a flimsy structure which is a continual and useless expense.

He states that the council has heard nothing from Mr. Cochrane, after his visit, regarding a new bridge. Would it be unwise to suggest that Mr. Shaw and the council take the initiative and consult this matter with the Department? The writer knows that the Dominion Government has been ready to redeem its promise.

It is common knowledge in the Township that the Dominion Government would have assisted materially a short time ago if the council had shown any willingness to undertake the project.

It is also understood that if a proper request comes from Mr. Shaw and the council, showing they are willing to do their share, a substantial grant will be given by the Provincial Government. Mr. Peck has so stated.

Mr. Shaw also states that the council is willing to consider any proposition that the Government will make towards a new bridge. Why then has not this proposition been approached to the Government and not wait for the latter to act first?

Considering these facts, it is only right, that in justice to those whom Mr. Shaw and the council represent, that active measures be taken to bring this matter to an immediate issue.—I am, etc.,

TAXPAYER.

Stars For The Week

To-day the planet Mercury will be at its farthest point in its orbit from the sun.

The planet Venus is an evening star at this time and is gradually drawing away from the sun, but as it sinks below the western horizon about an hour after sunset, it will not be readily seen yet for some little time.

Full moon will occur on Friday. On that day the moon will be at her nearest to the earth during the month—a distance equal to about 238,000 miles. The moon's orbit about the Earth is not a true circle, but is elongated. During the month the distance varies as much as 28,000 miles, 240,000 is the average or mean distance of the moon from the earth.

On Friday Mars will be just one-quarter way round the heavens away from the sun, or right overhead at sunset. If the position of Mars is carefully watched from night to night it will be readily seen that the planet is gradually shifting his position among the stars.

It was this shiftiness on the part of the ruddy planet, together with the idea that he was really alive that enforced the idea that as the God of War Mars was continually on the out look for an opportunity to fling his torch of war into the camps of peace. To the lively imaginations of the politicians of ancient time Mars occupied very much the same position as the manufacturers of warlike materials are supposed to do in modern times.

Cause for Pallor.

Wife—George, I want to see that letter.

Husband—What letter, dear?

Wife — That one you just opened. I know by the handwriting it is from a woman, and you turned pale when you read it. Hand it here, sir!

Husband — Here it is dear. It is from your dressmaker.

Stock Markets

A. E. Stratton & Co., Brokers, report the following:

You will probably see a quiet stock market for the balance of the week. The list waits an incentive. We do not se any reason why good issues with substantial earning powers should not be bought in recessions. Larger business is reported. It is expected that the next nine months will witness a big investment market, especially if the principle of rate advance is established, as we anticipate such action. Specialties may be taken up and advanced by pools very soon, according to the nature of things. We think this department should be given special attention. Purchases of standard stocks on reactions, including Union Pacific, Great Northern, and Reading, will give good results, but may require patience. In grain the bulging position is being maintained.

Worlds last Western laid off some man. Average price of twelve industrials advanced 13 of a point.

Average price of 20 active rail roads advanced 1-4 of a point. Amusement in London quiet.

A. E. Stratton & Co.) brokers, report fluctuations in New York stocks to-day as follows:

New York Stocks

Stocks	Open.	Close.
A.C.O.	97¾	97¾
A. T.
C. O.	127¼	127¾
M. O. P.	25¾	25¾
N. P.	114¾	114¾
R. I.	3¾	3¾
R. S.	6¼	6¼
S. P.	100¼	101¾
U. P.	150¾	150¾
C. P. R.	207	207
N. Y. C.	89½	89¾
Ills.	111	111
L. N.
S. R.	25¾	25¾
Pa.	116¾	116¾
ERIE	29¾	29¾
L. V.	144¾	144½
Rdg.	165½	165¾
O. W.
B. O.	90	90
C. O.	53¾	53¾
M. K.	108¾	108¾
R. R. T.	93¾	93¾
A. C. P.	77	77¼
A. S.	69¾	69¾
U. S.	63¾	63¾
C. F. I.	32	32
A. L. O.
CAN.	29½	29½
RUB.	61	61
WOOLWORTH.
SUGAR.	100½	100
C. P. U.	26½	26½
M. S. P.	66	67½

S.V.P.—BRIGHTEN UP!—S.V.V.

Don't Worry!

Those finger marks will wash right off. Walls finished with Sherwin-Williams

Flattone Wall Finish

Are as durable as they are delicate and beautiful. They are not easily marred and can be easily and quickly washed. Flattoned Walls are fadeless and stay bright and beautiful for many years.

Flattone Wall Finish

Makes an ideal finish for every room of the house. You have your choice of many beautiful colours. "Soft as the Rainbow tints," that harmonize perfectly and make home cheery and bright.

Flattoned Walls

Lend themselves admirably to artistic stencilling. Call and get our folder of colours and suggestions.

'Phone 205 MORGAN HARDWARE Co. 337 George LIMITED

The House of Quality and Service

S.V.P.—BRIGHTEN UP!—S.V.V.

EASTER MILLINERY

AT

MRS. J. WILSON'S

'PHONE 28 378 GEORGE STREET

Easter Cards and Post Cards are on display in great assortment at TREBILCOCK BROS. 417 George St.

We Are Anxious to give you any variety of

FISH

we can procure, and we always buy the best quality

Order Early to be sure of Prompt Delivery

Bell 'Phones 18 and 19

W. J. OKE

376 George Street

YOUR PORTRAIT— As an Easter remembrance, will be most fitting to the occasion —will be appreciated by your friends as an evidence of your thoughtfulness.

MOULE STUDIO

Next to Ole's

274½ George St., 'Phone 46

GARBAGE PAILS

SEE OUR WINDOWS! -:-:- WATCH OUR AD!

Covered to Meet the Requirements of The Sanitary Inspector.

THREE SIZES:

Small Size 12 x 13¾ in.
Priced at 85c

Medium Size 13½ x 15 in.
Priced at $1.10

Large Size 15 x 17¼ in.
Priced at $1.35

Made of Galvanized Iron — Will Not Rust

'PHONE 74 AND HAVE ONE OF THESE PAILS DELIVERED TO YOU.

Peterboro' Hardware Co.

Limited

PILES Do not suffer another day with itching, bleeding, or protruding Piles. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once and in certainly cure you. 60c. a box; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Sample box free if you mention this paper and enclose 1c. stamp to pay postage.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

Easter Holiday Fares

SINGLE FARE Good Going and Returning April 10 only

FARE and ONE-THIRD April 9-10-11-12 Return Limit April 14, 1914

(Minimum fare 25c)

Between all stations in Canada east of Port Arthur; also to Detroit and Port Huron, Mich., Buffalo, Black Rock, Niagara Falls and Suspension Bridge, N.Y.

SETTLERS' FARES
(One-way Second-class)
From stations in Ontario, Kingston, Renfrew and West to points in Alberta and Saskatchewan, each Tuesday during April.

LOW COLONIST FARES
(One-way Second-class)
From stations in Ontario to certain points in Alberta, British Columbia, Colorado, Colorado, Oregon Washington, etc. ON SALE DAILY UNTIL APRIL 15 inclusive.

Full particulars at all Grand Trunk Ticket Offices or write C. B. HUMING, D.P.A., Toronto, Ont.
B. A. BOSE, City Passenger and Ticket Agent
F. SANDY, Station Ticket Agent

CANADIAN PACIFIC

EASTER FARES

Between all Stations in Canada, Fort William and East and to Sault Ste. Marie, Detroit, Suspension Bridge, Buffalo and Niagara Falls, N.Y.

SINGLE FARE. Fare and One-Third
Good going Apr. 10 Good going Apr. 9-10-11-12, Return Limit Apr. 14

COLONIST FARES
(One-Way Second Class) to certain points in Alberta, California, Oregon, Arizona, British Columbia, Montana, Washington, Idaho, etc. Daily until April 15th

REDUCED SETTLERS' FARES
(One Way Second Class)
Each Tuesday until April 28.
Through Trains Toronto to Winnipeg and West. Colonist Cars on All Trains. No change en Route.
Particulars from Canadian Pacific Agents or write M. G. Murphy, D.P.A., Toronto.
J. Skinner, C.P.A., 343 George Street.

Railway Time Tables

GRAND TRUNK

	ARRIVE	DEPART
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Stouffville and Toronto	11.34 a.m. 9.00 p.m.	8.20 a.m. 5.35 p.m.
Port Hope and points east of Montreal and Boston	8.10 a.m. 5.30 p.m.	8.30 a.m. 9.05 p.m.
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago and west, Niagara Falls, Buffalo	12.10 p.m. 5.30 p.m.	11.40 a.m.
Cobourg, Montreal and East	8.30 a.m. 5.30 p.m.	9.05 p.m. 8.10 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay Stouffville, Uxbridge Markham Lindsay Local	11.34 a.m. 9.00 p.m. 10.15 p.m. 7.55 a.m.	7.10 a.m. 6.20 a.m. 5.35 p.m. 8.35 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	6.10 a.m. 5.50 p.m.	6.30 a.m. 1.30 p.m.
Lansdale	8.05 a.m. 5.15 p.m. 7.00 p.m.	7.00 a.m 12.20 p.m. 6.40 p.m.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

Going East—

Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec	11.45 a.m.
Indian River, Norwood Havelock, Tweed	1.47 a.m.
Havelock, Montreal, Quebec, St. John, N.B., Boston	12.45 a.m.
Havelock, Montreal, Quebec, St. John, N.B., Boston	12.20 a.m.
Ottawa Special for Smith's Falls and Ottawa only	1.20 a.m.

Going West—

Toronto, Guelph, Goderich	4.27 a.m.
Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, New York, Galt, Woodstock, St. Thomas, London, Chatham, Detroit, Chicago	6.24 a.m.
North Toronto, West Toronto	6.28 a.m.
*Local for Cavanville, Burketon, Bobcaygeon, Myrtle Toronto	7.45 a.m.
Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, New York, Detroit, Chicago	4.35 p.m.
Local points from Port McNichol, Peterboro, Indian River, Norwood, Havelock	6.37 p.m.
New train for Lindsay, Orillia and Port McNichol	9.16 a.m.

*Daily except Sunday

ALLAN LINE
ROYAL MAIL STEAMSHIPS
To Liverpool - Glasgow - London - Havre
To take the Allan Line means that the Ocean voyage will be one of the pleasantest memories of your trip abroad. Large, comfortable steamers, equipped with every convenience and luxury—the beautiful mail down the sheltered waters of the St. Lawrence—the courtesy and attention of the ship's attendants—are not easily forgotten.
Full particulars, illustrated booklets, etc., will be mailed upon application to THE ALLAN LINE - - - - - Toronto

OUR SERIAL STORY PAGE

"THE MAYOR'S WIFE"

By ANNA KATHARINE GREEN

(Continued from yesterday.)

CHAPTER XIX.

The Cry From the Stairs.

I was alone in the library when Nixon returned. He must have seen Mrs. Packard go up before he left, for he passed by without stopping, and the next moment I heard his foot on the stairs.

Some impulse made me step into the hall and cast a glance at his ascending figure. I could see only his back and the slide of his hand as it moved along the stair rail.

His was not an open nature at the best. I almost forgot the importance of his errand in watching the man himself. Had he not been a servant—but he was, and an old and foolishly fussy one. I would not imagine follies, only I wished I could follow him into Mrs. Packard's presence.

His stay, however, was too short for much to have been gained thereby. Almost immediately he reappeared shaking his head and looking very much disturbed, and I was watching his pottering descent when he was startled, and I was startled, by two cries which rang out simultaneously from above, one of pain and distress from the room he had just left, and one expressive of the utmost glee from the lips of the baby whom the nursemaid was bringing down from the upper hall.

Appalled by the anguish expressed in the mother's cry, I was bounding up-stairs when my course was stopped by one of the most poignant sights it has ever been my lot to witness. Mrs. Packard had heard her child's laugh, and flying from her room had met the little one on the threshold of her door and now, crying and sobbing, was kneeling with the child in her arms in the open space at the top of the stairs. Her paroxysm of grief, wild and unconstrained as it was, gave less hint of madness than of intolerable suffering.

Wondering at an abandonment which bespoke a grief too great for all further concealment, I glanced again at Nixon. He had paused in the middle of the staircase and was looking back in a dubious way denoting hesitation. But as the full force of the tragic scene above made itself felt in his slow mind, he showed a disposition to escape and tremblingly continued his descent. He was nearly upon me when he caught my eye. A glare awoke in his, and seeing his right arm rise threateningly, I thought he would certainly strike me. But he slid by without doing so.

What did it mean? Oh, what did it all mean?

CHAPTER XX.

EXPLANATION.

Determined to know the cause of Mrs. Packard's anguish, if not of Nixon's unprovoked anger against myself, I caught him back as he was passing me and peremptorily demanded:

"What message did you carry to Mrs. Packard to throw her into such a state as this? Answer! I am in this house to protect her against all such disturbances. What did you tell her?"

"Nothing."

Sullenness itself in the tone.

"Nothing" and you were sent on an errand? Didn't you fulfil it?"

"Yes."

"And didn't tell her what you learned?"

"No."

"Why?"

"She didn't give me the chance."

"Oh!"

"I know it sounds queer," Miss, but it's true. She didn't give me a chance to talk."

He muttered the final sentence. Indeed, all that we had said until now had been in a subdued tone, but now my voice unconsciously rose.

"You found Mr. Steele?"

"No, Miss, he was not at home."

"But they told you where to look for him?"

"No. His landlady thinks he is dead. He has queer spells, and some one had sent her word about a man, handsome like him, who was found dead at Hudson Three Corners last night. Mr. Steele told her he was going over to Hudson Three Corners. She has sent to see if the dead man is he."

"The dead man!"

Who spoke? Not Mrs. Packard! Surely that voice was another's. Yet we both looked up to see. The sight which met our eyes was astonishing, appalling. She had let her baby slip to the floor and had advanced to the stairs, where she stood, clutching the rail, looking down upon us, with a joy in her face matching the unholy elation we could still hear ringing in that word "dead."

Such a look might have leaped to life in the eyes of the Medusa when she turned her beauty upon her foredoomed victims.

"Dead!" came again in ringing repetition from Mrs. Packard's lips, every fibre in her tense form quivering and the gleam of hope shining brighter and brighter in her countenance. "No, not dead!" Then while Nixon trembled and succumbed inwardly to this spectacle of a gentle-hearted woman transformed by some secret and overwhelming emotion into an image of vindictive delight, her hands left the stair-rail and flew straight up over her head in the transcendent gesture which only the greatest crises in life call forth, and she exclaimed with awe-inspiring emphasis: "God could not have been so merciful!"

It is not often, perhaps it is only once in a life-time, that it is given us to look straight into the innermost recesses of the human soul. Never before had such an opportunity come to me, and possibly never would it come again, yet my first conscious impulse was one of fright at the appalling self-revelation she had made, not only in my hearing, but in that of nearly her whole household. I could see, over her shoulders, Letty's eyes staring wide in ingenuous dismay, while from the hall below rose the sound of hurrying feet as the girls came running in from the kitchen. Something must be done, and immediately, to recall her to herself, and, if possible, to reinstate her in the eyes of her servants.

Bounding upward to where she still stood forgetful and self-absorbed, I laid my hands softly but firmly on hers, which had fallen back upon the rail, and quietly said:

"You have some very strong reason, I see, for looking upon Mr. Steele as your husband's enemy rather than friend."

The appeal was timely. With a start she woke to the realisation of her position and of the suggestive words she had just uttered, and with a glance behind her at Letty and another at Nixon and her maids, who by this time had pushed their way to the foot of the stairs, she gathered herself up with a determination born of the necessity of the moment and emphatically replied:

"No: I do not know Mr. Steele well enough for that. My emotion at the unexpected tidings of his possible death springs from another cause." Here the help, the explanation for which she had been searching, came.

"Girls," she went on, addressing them with an emphasis which drew all eyes, "I am ashamed to tell you what has so deeply disturbed me these last few days. I should blame any one of you for being affected as I was. The great love I bear my husband and child is my excuse—a poor one, I know, but one you will understand. A week ago something happened to me in the library which frightened me very much. I saw—or thought I saw—what some would call an apparition, but what you would call a ghost. Don't shriek!" (The two girls behind me had begun to scream and make as if to run away.) "It was all imagination, of course—there can not really be any such thing. Ghosts in these days? Pshaw! But I was very nervous that night and could not help feeling that the mere fact of my thinking of anything so dreadful meant misfortune to some one in this house. Wait!" Her voice was imperious, and the shivering, terrified girls, superstitious to the backbone, stopped in spite of themselves. "You must hear it all, and you, too, Miss Saunders, who have only heard half. I was badly frightened then, especially as the ghost, spirit-man, or whatever it was, wore a look, in the one short moment I stood face to face with it, full of threat and warning. Next day Mr. Packard introduced his new secretary. Girls, he had the face of the Something I had seen, without the threatening look, which had so alarmed me."

"Bad 'cess to him!" rang in vigorous denunciation from (the cook. "Why didn't ye send him 'mejitly about his business? It's trouble he'll bring to us all and no mistake!"

"That was what I feared," assented her now thoroughly composed mistress. "So when Nixon said just now that Mr. Steele was dead, had fallen in a fit at Hudson Three Corners or something like that—I felt such wicked relief at finding that my experience had not meant danger to ourselves, but to him—wicked, because it was so selfish—that I forgot myself and cried out in the way you all heard. Blame me if you will, but don't frighten yourselves by talking about it. If Mr. Steele is indeed dead, we have enough to trouble us without that."

And with a fast glance at me, which ended in a wavering half-deprecatory smile, she stepped back and passed into her own room.

The mood in which I proceeded to my own quarters was as thoughtful as any I had ever experienced.

(To be continued.)

In eastern Pennsylvania an old railway water tank has been converted into a comfortable dwelling for two families.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

Mfr. Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

PETERBOROUGH COLD STORAGE

In full operation

All kinds of

COAL in Stock at Market Price

Both 'Phones 262

W. SCOTT CO., LIMITED

East City

Toronto Savings & Loan Comp'y

Notice is hereby given that a Quarterly Dividend of two and one-half per cent being at the rate of ten per cent per annum for the (3) three months ending 31st of March 1914, has been declared upon the Capital Stock of this Institution and the same will be payable at the offices of the Company in this City on and after April 1st, 1914.

The Transfer Books will be closed from the 19th to the 31st of March, both days inclusive.

By order of the Board,

W.G.MORROW
MANAGING DIRECTOR

Peterborough, March 20th, 1914

VITALITY REGAINED KIDNEYS CURED

Health Restored By "Fruit-a-tives"

HAGERSVILLE, ONT., Aug. 26th, 1913.

"About two years ago, I found my health in a very bad state. My kidneys and liver were not doing their work, and I became all run-down. I felt the need of some good remedy, and having seen "Fruit-a-tives" advertised, I decided to try them.

Their effect, I found more than satisfactory. Their action was mild and the results all that could have been expected.

My liver and kidneys resumed their normal action after I had taken upwards of a dozen boxes, and I regained my old time vitality. Today, I am as well as ever, the best health I have ever enjoyed, and I unhesitatingly give you this testimonial for publication if you wish"

B. A. KELLY.

In hundreds of letters received by the Fruit-a-tives Company, the same expression is used "Fruit-a-tives is the best kidney remedy in the world". At any rate, these tablets have proved the best to the hundreds of men and women who have been cured by taking them. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Banish the "Blues!"

If you have that depressed feeling it's more than likely that your blood is out of order—impoverished or poisoned.

There is only one thing that will alter your present condition—that's to restore your stomach to normal health and strength. For a weak or diseased stomach cannot make good blood. If your digestion is bad your food will not make the good blood which nourishes body, brain, heart and nerve.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

helps the stomach to do its work naturally and properly. Stimulates the liver. The system is freed from poison. The blood is purified. Every organ is rejuvenated. Instead of the "Blues," you feel fit and strong, equal to any task or up to any pleasure.

This great remedy has proved its worth year after year for over forty years. Let it prove its worth to you. Sold by medicine dealers in tablet or liquid form or send 50c for trial box by mail.

Send 21 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only on a free copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, clothbound, Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo.

For biliousness, constipation, sick-headache, or any ailment arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, take

"Keep the Nation Healthy" Wesden's Pills "Keep the Nation Healthy"

Act directly on the stomach and liver. 25c box

Sold and guaranteed in Peterboro by

James Lynch, Druggist, 168 HUNTER ST.
The Warne Drug Co. Limited, 351 GEORGE STREET

THE BANK OF OTTAWA
ESTABLISHED 1874.

Deposits Nov. 30, 1908 - - - $24,085,416
Deposits Nov. 30, 1913 - - - 40,807,499

OVER 95 OFFICES IN CANADA

A Savings Account

is an aid and incentive toward systematic saving. If you open an account now with a dollar or more and promptly deposit your surplus cash where it will earn interest, you will be gratified at the result.

Peterboro Branch, Geo. St., G. C. Wainwright, Manager

RONUK on Linoleum

Many people do not appreciate the necessity of a dressing for linoleum.

Linoleum is really quite porous. Water and dust penetrate the pores and rot the fibre and fabric, making it brittle and easily worn through, and causing it to crack.

RONUK FLOOR POLISH

—prevents this and doubles the life of linoleum. A light application of Ronuk seals up all these pores, preserves the fibre, retains its pliability, and brightens its appearance.

Ronuk produces a smooth surface from which all dust may be wiped with a dry cloth, it is never necessary to scrub it. Ronuk is sanitary. Try Ronuk on your linoleum as well as on your hardwood floors, and you will be surprised.

10c., 20c., 35c. and $1.00 the tin

If your dealer cannot supply you write to

RONUK LIMITED
Factory Portslade, England
91-93 Youville Sq., Montreal
Canadian Head Office
53 Yonge St., Toronto

Our assistant department will undertake the work of polishing and keeping polished, floors, woodwork and linoleum for institutions or residences.

TWENTY YEARS AGO on the First of March next, a wellknown resident of this city took out at age 28 a 10 pay 20 year endowment policy for $1000. No. 43860, in the Sun Life of Canada.

The yearly premium he paid on the participating plan for 10 years only was..... $69.30

The yearly premium he would have to pay on the non-participating plan for the ten years is..... $62.25

Extra paid for profits for ten years..... $7.05

He received in cash at the end of 20 years, $1,279.25, that is, the $70.50 extra that he paid for profits yielded him $279.35, almost 400 per cent.

Or, he could draw out $736.45 in cash, which is $43.45 more than all he paid in, and receive a fully paid-up participating policy for life.

You can never obtain such results as these on the non-participating plan unless you die and die early, so that the price will not become too high.

For particulars in your case call or 'phone the Sun Life Office, Crown Chambers Building.

W. H. HILL'S

General Insurance Agency, Crown Chamber Building

Corner Hunter and Water Streets

A. WEDDELL, Business Manager. 'Phone 14

HAWK BICYCLES

An up-to-date High Grade Bicycle, fitted with Roller Chain, New Departure Coaster Brake and Hubs, Enamelled Wood Rims, Detachable Tires, high grade equipment, including Mudguards, Pump and Tools, $22.50

Send for FREE 1914 Catalogue, 90 pages of Bicycles, Sundries and Repair Material. You can buy your supplies from us at Wholesale Prices.

T. W. BOYD & SON,
27 Notre Dame St. West, Montreal.

THE IMPERIAL LIFE
Assurance Co. of Canada

Each Premium Paid

On an IMPERIAL POLICY is so much money saved—not spent. Your family will reap the reward some day, or you may live to enjoy it yourself. In every case a Policy in THE IMPERIAL LIFE is

A Good Investment

W. G. MORROW, Agent
437 George Street

NO BETTER TIME!

TO HAVE YOUR PROPERTY INSURED AGAINST LOSS BY FIRE THAN NOW.

No better or safer Companies to take out a policy with, than those we represent.

You may have much or little, it's worth insuring.

See us about Fire Insurance To-Day!

Davis-Thompson Company
LIMITED
Insurance and General Agency
PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO.

MONEY TO LOAN.

MONEY TO LOAN—On Mortgage Security on Farm and City property on lowest terms of interest. G. N. Gordon, Barrister, 297 George Street.

MONEY TO LOAN—On Farm and Town property, at lowest current rates on easiest terms of payment. HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON, Successors to Stratton & Hall, Barristers, Peterborough, Ont. Office—Over the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

MONEY TO LEND—On first-class City and Farm Securities only, on current rates. BENNET & GOODWILL, Barristers, Solicitors, etc., No. 379 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone, No. 191. J. W. Bennet; E. L. Goodwill.

MEDICAL.

DR. BURNHAM, C.M.C.S., Edin., M.R.C.S., Eng., L.R.C.P., London, Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist. Hours—9-11 a.m., 2-4 p.m., 7-8 p.m. 'Phone 619. Office: Gaslee Block and Murray.

DR. R. E. KELLY, Late House Surgeon at St. Francis and Manhattan Maternity Hospitals, New York. Late House Physician at Riverside Isolation Hospital, Toronto. Hours, 1-3.30 p.m., 7-8 p.m. 'Phone 139. Office: 248 Hunter St. 6m

T. W. E. YOUNG M.D., C.M.
L.M.C.P., L.R.C.S., L.M., L.F.P.S., T.T.M.C.
Specialist in Women and Children
Stewart St. 'Phone 249

CHIROPRACTIC.

DR. E. W. KIRKWOOD, Chiropractor. Telephone 903. Office hours—8 to 10 a.m., 1 to 2 p.m.; 6 to 7 p.m. 407 Water Street, Peterborough, Ont.

OSTEOPATHY.

DR. AZA G. WALMSLEY—Osteopathic Physician. Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce, Hunter Street Entrance. 'Phone: Office, 649; Residence, 466. Office hours—9 to 12 a.m., 2 to 6 p.m. Evenings by appointment.

DR. IVA M. CARUTHERS, Osteopath. Office: Bank of Commerce Building, opposite Post Office. Hours—10 to 12 a.m., 1 to 5 p.m., and by appointment. 'Phone 649; Residence 'Phone, 1313

LEGAL.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office, 418 Water Street, Peterborough. Money to Loan at lowest current rates of interest, on easy terms of repayment. E. A. Peck, K.C., D. L. Kerr, V. J. McElderry.

G. N. GORDON.—Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public and Conveyancer. Commissioner for New York State. Money to Loan. Office upstairs, first door south of Madill's Drug Store. Bell 'phone 139, Standard 'phone 103. 297½ George St.

O'CONNELL & CORKERY.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries, Hunter street, two doors west of Post Office. Daniel O'Connell, John B. Corkery.

BUNDY & BURNHAM.—Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, etc. Offices: 379 Water Street. Money to Loan. Robert Bundy, K.C.; J. H. Burnham, M.A. Telephone No. 66.

DUMBLE & JOHNSTON.—Barristers, Solicitors, etc. Office over Toronto Savings and Loan Company, 438 George Street. D. W. Dumble, K.C.; W. F. Johnston.

A. E. DIXON—Notarial, Solicitor, etc. Office: Corner Hunter and George sts.; entrance next Madill's Drug Store. 4w

HALL, DAVIS & HALL.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries Public, Hunter St., Peterborough. Next to St. John's Church. Money to loan at lowest rates of interest. W. H. Hall, K.C., City Solicitor; Louis St. Davis, K.C.; and Basil D. Hall.

HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON.—Successors to Stratton & Hall, Barristers, Solicitors, etc., Peterborough, Ont. Office, Corner of Hunter and Water Sts., over Canadian Bank of Commerce. H. E. Hall, K.C., W. D. Davidson.

W. H. MOORE—Barrister, Solicitor, etc. Office, entrance first halfway west of Post Office, Peterborough, Ont. Money to Loan.

WOOD & WEARING—Barristers, etc. Offices: over Canadian Express Office, (facing Simcoe). Money to Loan. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney. Jos. Wearing, M.A.

ARCHITECTS.

W. BLACKWELL—Architect and Civil Engineer. Plans and estimates made on churches, public buildings and dwelling houses. Building, heating and plumbing a specialty. Office, 371 Water St., Peterborough.

AUCTIONEER
W. D. KETCHESON,
Licensed Auctioneer for Peterboro County
Residence 15 [illegible] STREET, CITY
'Phone 1078.

New York Chinese Cafe Co.
[illegible] St. 'Phone 668
[illegible] Chinese and short order or table d'hote dining rooms and [illegible] 25c for 35c Meal Ticket for $1.00

Dominion Cafe
Modern and up-to-date dining rooms also private family [illegible]. Drop in and try our special Curtis dishes. Nothing but the best of steaks and chops used. We guarantee the best of satisfaction to strangers, and all our patrons. 'Phone 668
328 George St
The [illegible] Manager
Open from 7 a.m. to 2 a.m.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

Jolly Young Person Having a Glorious Slide.

DASHING DOWN THE HILL.

Advent of Winter Brings Joy to the Little Ones—An Amusing Guessing Contest—About Animal Friendships. A Flower Puzzle.

Perhaps there are sports that provide more fun than coasting down a steep hill, but they are pretty hard to find at this time of year. With a clear road and a right good the dash is quickly over, but it can be done over and over, and one never gets tired. With a big bobsled and a crowd to fill it the sped is apt to make the sport dangerous, especially for little people. But the single sled is safe for almost any youngster when public streets are avoided. The best place is an open field or a large park, where autos and horse drawn vehicles are not allowed. Then hop on and let her go. The smiling young lady in the picture is Miss Antoinette Frissell, daughter of a New York physician. She was snapped in Central park not long ago.

© by American Press Association.

FLYING THROUGH THE SNOW.

A Guessing Game.

The guessing contest here described will furnish an amusing half hour at a party. To each couple hand a paper containing the following questions, with spaces left for the answers:

What kind of a cake adds variety to life? Spice cake.

What kind of cake should a politician eat? Election cake.

What kind of cake are lovers fond of? Kisses.

What kind of cake does a pugilist enjoy? Pound cake.

What kind of cake do boys love? Honey cake.

What kind of cake should be given the man who imposes on his friends? Sponge cake.

What kind of cake should the jeweler use? Gold and silver cake.

What kind for the sculptor? Marble cake.

What two cakes are most suitable for the minister? Scripture cake and angel food.

Animal Friendships.

The dog and the horse often become great friends and are very fond of each other. A gentleman had a Newfoundland dog that always went to the stable to get his horse. While the groom saddled the horse the dog lay with his head between his paws. When the horse was ready the dog took the rein in his mouth and led the horse to his master. He then followed him to ride. On returning the rein was given to the dog, and he led his friend back to the stable. If the groom happened to be out of the house the dog would loudly call for him.

Hidden Pictures.

He was a chic lover—in fact, quite a dude.

The pass for the ferries is ever ready.

Friends, is yesterday's milk sour?

Mr. Rader chided his son for telling an untruth.

The street peanut child was made queen Mary.

I always laugh when Jaffre sets the picnic table.

Answers.—Clever, penny, daisy, orchid, sweet pea, rose.

ASSESSMENT RETURNS FROM THE EAST WARD

(Continued from Page 1.)

ENGLEBURN AVENUE—WEST SIDE.

A. S. Cooper, tenant, 247 Engleburn avenue. Lot 17, Plan 124. Frontage 49 feet. Land value $300. Buildings $1,550. Total taxable property $1,850. Income assessment $500. Total assessment $2,350. P.S.S. Owner R. A. Elliott.

Joseph Lafferty, tenant, 251 Engleburn avenue. Owner R. A. Elliott. Lot 16, Plan 124. Frontage 45 feet. Lan dvalue $300. Buildings $1,550. Total taxable property $1,850. Business assessment $300. Total assessment $2,150. S.S.S.

John W. Hickey, owner, 255 Engleburn avenue. Lot 15, Plan 124. Frontage 40 feet. Land value $300. Buildings $1,350. Total taxable property $1,650. S.S.S.

Geo. P. Edwards, tenant, 259 Engleburn avenue. Owner R. A. Elliott. South part lot 14, Plan 124. Frontage 40 feet. Land value $300. Buildings $1,300. Total taxable property $1,600. P.S.S.

Thos. W. Oke, owner, 263 Engleburn avenue. North part lot 14 and lot 13, Plan 124. Frontage 40 feet. Land value $300. Buildings $1,350. Total taxable property $1,650. P.S.S.

Edward Huyche, owner, block D, Plan 124. Frontage 220 feet. Land value $250. No buildings. Total taxable property $350. P.S.S.

ENGLEBURN AVENUE—EAST SIDE.

Edward C. Huyche, owner, 299 Engleburn avenue. Part block A, Plan 124, and lots 9, 10, 11, 12, Plan 124. Land values $2,100, $200, $200, $200, $200. Buildings on block A, $2,100. Total taxable property $5,060. P.S.S.

ENGLEBURN PLACE—SOUTH SIDE.

Edward C. Huyche, owner, lot 22, Plan 124. Land value $220. No buildings. Total taxable property $220. P.S.S.

Percy Fitzgerald, owner, 7 Engleburn avenue. Lot 21, Plan 124. Land value $220. Buildings $2,220. Total taxable propty $2,300. P.Se.S.

R. A. Elliott, tenant, 3 Engleburn avenue. Owner Mr. Mathers. Land value $600. Buildings $2,600. Total taxable property $3,200. P.S.S.

CHARLES STREET—NORTH SIDE.

W. B. McAllister, owner, lots 23, 24, 25, Plan 124. Land values $160, $160, $180. No buildings. Total taxable property $500. P.S.S.

C. B. McAllister, owner, lots 26, 27, 28, 29, Plan 124. Land values $180, $180, $180 and $180. No buildings. Total taxable property $720. P.S.S.

CHARLES STREET—SOUTH SIDE.

Harry Evans, owner, lots 46 and 47, Plan 124. Land value $360. No buildings. Total taxable property $360. P.S.S.

Wm. Green, owner, lots 43, 44, 45, Plan 124. Land values $160, $160, $160. No buildings. Total taxable property $480. P.S.S.

TOTALS FOR EAST WARD.

Number Taxable Persons
Value of Buildings	6,171,900
Total Value of Property	1,020,360
Total Taxable Property	823,140
Total Assesment	1,089,500

TOTALS FOR CITY.

Number of Taxable Persons	5462
Total Land Value	$ 4,921,370
Value of Buildings	7,028,910
Total Value of Property	11,950,280
Total taxable property	9,594,190
Total Assesment	13,278,464

THE END.

THE DEMAND

It increasing enormously
Can we tell you the Reason Why?

"A Trial Package will bring Enlightenment"

"SALADA"

CEYLON TEAS ARE DELICIOUS TEAS"

ARE

Woman's World

Lively Times For Suffragettes at National Capital.

MRS. CATHERINE WAUGH MCCULLOCH AT THE TOP, MRS. THOMAS HEPBURN BELOW, MRS. FAITH BUNNELL IN THE CENTER.

For years the wolf has squatted pretty steadily at the door of the national suffrage headquarters. Sometimes he actually got inside the door, sometimes only his bowls in the distance reminded the national officers of his existence, but always they had him on their minds.

The annual convention has had a disconcerting way of voting large responsibilities upon the national board and neglecting to provide for the money. Last year, for example, the membership dues brought in but $5,000. The expenses of the association, which included the clearing house, provider of literature and the bureau of information for suffragists all over the country, were $53,000. The association was bankrupt before the end of January.

Through the strenuous efforts of the president, Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, the association pulled itself out of debt. But the board felt like the general who said, "Another such victory will be my death," and at this year's convention a "determined effort will be made to place the association on a firm basis and get away from the old plan of trying to worry along on inadequate membership dues and pledges.

The new constitution, over which Miss Carrie Chapman Catt and her committee have travailed and labored for within year, provides for a budget and the assumption by the convention of "distinct responsibility" for the budget.

Almost 500 delegates will attend the convention, and the leaders are expecting a lively time when the new constitution and budget are protested. The greatest excitement of the convention will doubtless be aroused on election night when the women who are given full credit for the passing of the partial suffrage bill in that state will speak. They are Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, Mrs. Ella Stewart and the four members of the so called suffrage lobby, Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, Mrs. Antoinette Funk, Mrs. Medill McCormick and Mrs. Sherman Booth.

There is to be a "men's night" at the convention, and James Lee Laidlaw, president of the National Men's Suffrage league, will preside, and several members of congress will speak in favor of [illegible]

A CIVIL SERVICE KNIGHT.

Sir Joseph Pope Alone Has Achieved That Honor.

Among the civil servants of the Dominion there is only one who bears the title of Knight. That one is Sir Joseph Pope, Under Secretary of State for External Affairs. Nor does he flaunt his title in the face of the public, says Francis A. Carman in Toronto Star Weekly. Look up his department in the telephone directory of Ottawa and you will find him down as plain "Joseph Pope." But just as a matter of simple historic fact, he does occupy this unique position, and he does not occupy it without justification. He is Knight Commander of the Order of St. Michael and St. George for the very good reason that he has been able in a number of instances to perform outstanding services for the Dominion, and he has been able to perform these outstanding services because he possessed qualifications which are exceedingly rare on this side of the Atlantic.

The central fact of these special qualifications is a wide knowledge of the "savoir faire" of official life. He knows how to do things. He knows his way around Government offices, and he knows his way around royal courts. He is an authority on the etiquette of official and court circles—a branch of knowledge which is highly useful even in our democratic community. Of course, he did not pick this up in a day. He had a long apprenticeship under that master of statecraft and of the craft of managing men, Sir John A. Macdonald.

The first occasion on which Sir Joseph was chosen to represent the Canadian Government in the entertainment of guests of state was in 1901, when our present King and Queen visited us as the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York. Everyone remembers how successful that tour was, and in its success Mr. Pope, as he then was, had a large part. It was for his services at that time he received his first mark of royal favor and entered the order of St. Michael and St. George as a Companion.

Five years later he accompanied Prince Arthur of Connaught on his tour through the Dominion, and in 1909 he was selected to receive Prince Fushimi of Japan on his visit to this country. In connection with the visit of Prince Arthur, Mr. Pope had bestowed upon him the Imperial Service Order, while the Japanese Government recognized his services to Prince Fushimi by conferring on him the order of the Sacred Treasure of the second class. In the same year as the latter, he was made a companion of the Victorian Order by the King because of his assistance in the organization of the tercentenary at Quebec. His elevation to knighthood came in the New Year's honors of 1912.

This tells the story of how Sir Joseph came to bear so many titles, but it does not by any means tell the story of the part he has played in the history of Canada. He has represented the Canadian people around the Council Board in a number of big diplomatic issues. He was attached to the staff of the British agent in the Behring Sea arbitration of 1893; and had a part in securing protection for the interests of Canadian sealers. He was agent of the Canadian Government in the Joint High Commission which sat in Quebec and Washington during the early years of the Administration of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He was associate secretary of the Alaskan Boundary tribunal. He accompanied Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux on his mission to Japan, which resulted in the limitation of Japanese immigration to the Dominion. And just two years ago he again represented Canada in the international conference on pelagic sealing, which advanced the work begun in the Behring Sea arbitration.

Sir Joseph is a native of Prince Edward Island, where he was born on August 16, 1854. His father was the Hon. William Henry Pope, who was one of the Fathers of Confederation, and his uncle, Hon. J. C. Pope, was Minister of Marine and Fisheries in the Cabinet of Sir John A. Macdonald.

Quite True.

"Mrs. Climber boasts that she was highborn."

"So she was—the top of a tenement."

Europe's Birth Rate.

The birth rate for Europe shows that for every 100 girls 106 boys are born.

WAS TROUBLED WITH BOILS AND CARBUNCLES.

There is no more frequent source of illness than that arising from bad blood, for when the blood becomes impure, it is only natural that boils, pimples or some other indication of bad blood should break out of the system.

Boils in themselves are not a dangerous trouble, but still at the same time are very painful, and the only way to get rid of them is to cleanse the blood of the impurities. Cleanse it thoroughly by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, that old and reliable blood medicine that has been on the market for nearly forty years.

Mr. James Wilde, Plaster Rock, N.B., writes:—"I was greatly troubled, a few years ago, with boils and carbuncles, and the doctor told me I was in a bad condition. My appetite failed me, I began to lose strength, and was pretty well run down when one of my friends recommended Burdock Blood Bitters. After using three bottles I began to feel like another man. My troubles soon left me, and to-day I can cordially give Burdock Blood Bitters a high recommendation to my friends."

(A Actual Size)

Are Cheapest by the Box

How you smack your lips over the delicious tang of a golden "Sunkist" orange! Breakfast would be a blank without it.

"Sunkist" are the finest selected oranges grown. Seedless, tree-ripened, thin-skinned, fibreless. Picked and wrapped in tissue paper, and packed by gloved hands. Cleanest of all fruits.

"Sunkist" Orange Spoon

Guaranteed Rogers A-1 Standard Silver plate. Rich, heavy. Exclusive "Sunkist" pattern. 27 different premiums.

For this orange spoon send 12 trademarks cut from "Sunkist" orange wrappers and 12 cents. "Red Ball" orange wrappers count same as "Sunkist."

In remitting, send amounts of 20 cents or over by Postal Note, Postoffice or Express Money Order.

Send your name for our complete free "Sunkist" premium circular and Premium Club Plan.

Reduced prices of your dealer's on "SUNKIST" Oranges by the box or half-box.

Address all orders for premium silverware and all correspondence to

CALIFORNIA FRUIT GROWERS EXCHANGE
166 King St., East, cor. Church, Toronto, Ont.

SUNKIST ORANGES

Land Let by Lit Candle.

A quaint custom was employed at Butterwick, near Boston, England, to determine the letting of a piece of meadow land. A candle was lighted and a pin stuck in it. Public bidding commenced. The candle burned until the flame reached the pin, which fell out, and the land was then declared let to the last bidder prior to the pin falling.

No Breakfast Fad Is Old.

Few people realize that the meal "breakfast" did not become recognized until late in the seventeenth century. The earliest period to which the word can be traced is 1463. In the days of the Tudors the higher classes dined at 5 and supped at 9, and the merchants seldom took their meals before 12 and 6 o'clock.

European Monkeys.

One of the rarest of living creatures is undoubtedly a European monkey. The only place on the continent where these animals may be found is on the rock of Gibraltar. They are of the type known as Barbary apes and are about the size of a terrier dog. A most noticeable feature is that they do not possess tails. Only about twenty of the apes exist, and only by unceasing protection and artificial feeding is the species preserved. Many theories are advanced as to how these apes first came to Gibraltar. A popular idea is that a subterranean passage exists between the rock and the adjacent coast of Africa, and that the monkeys pass to and fro, but the more matter of fact theory that they were originally imported by some local inhabitant is probably correct.—London Answers.

ORIGINAL GENUINE
Invigorating Nourishing Delicious.

The Food-Drink for All Ages. At Chemists, Hotels, Cafes and Stores.
For free sample write GILMOUR BROS. & CO., MONTREAL.

UNION BANK OF CANADA

A Quick Service in Making Collections

With 310 Branches in Canada, we can get into direct touch with a large proportion of your customers. As you know, this means saving of time in presenting Drafts and making Collections, and a more satisfactory service all round, than if the business had to be handled through two banks. Compare our list of Branches with your list of accounts and you'll see the force of this.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH, C. S. CRISPO, Manager
HUNTER and WATER Sts., Cor. Park & Reid Sts. A. E. WHITWORTH, Manager
ROSEWOOD BRANCH C. B. WARNE, Manager
HASTINGS BRANCH W. A. WARNE, Manager
STIRLING BRANCH

DUSTBANE

puts the er's (ease) in sweeping

IT KNOCKS THE DRUDGERY OUT OF SWEEP-DAY

Cleans Carpets

Brightens Floors

Order a tin to-day at your grocers or from your hardware man

Don't ask for sweeping compound

SAY DUSTBANE

BEWARE OF SUBSTITUTES

Detective Stories as Told by Real Detectives

How Johann J. Hoch, Murderer and Bigamist, Was Captured Single Handed Now Told for the First Time

Plunged His Knee Into the Pit of Hoch's Stomach.

Johann J. Hoch.

Some men—there are men-plenty who make murder a fine art. There are [illegible] and engravers who have attained [illegible] and forgery, [illegible] and bank breaking, [illegible] criminals—Johann Hoch and the Rev. Father Hans Schmidt—stand boldly forth as arch demons. Each surely tried the skill, persistence and endurance of the detectives, who searched high and low for them before they were run to cover. One, Hoch, was not only a murderer but among other things a bigamist, while Schmidt has just been convicted of one of the most [illegible] ever perpetrated in New York city.

By a strange coincidence Detective John J. O'Neill, who [illegible] in the Detective Bureau of the metropolis, captured single handed Hoch, bigamist and [illegible] and [illegible] responsible for the solution of the appalling murder of Anna Aumuller, some of whose dismembered body were found floating in the North River, while other parts had been [illegible] by the priest-slayer.

Both detectives believe that every really baffling crime mystery can only be solved by [illegible] arrived at after deep thought, patience and untiring effort on the part of the police. Such a statement at once stamps the man making it as one of mediocre ability. The really shrewd and successful detectives frankly admit that chance, luck or coincidence—call it what you will—plays a big part in the solution of many of the most celebrated cases. No better illustration of this is needed than the facts surrounding the capture of Hoch—due first to chance and then to the ready wit of the detective in seizing opportunity when it presented itself.

The capture of Schmidt, on the other hand, was only accomplished after scores of the very flower of the New York Detective Bureau, ably led by Inspector [illegible], had scoured that city and [illegible] New Jersey for every likely and tangible clew that bore on the case. The dogged persistence of O'Neill in hanging grimly to the frail [illegible] by a filmy clew uncovered in the early stages of the man hunt was finally productive of results, and when the door leading to the murder flat, wherein was [illegible] evidence of the revolting crime that had been committed, was thrown open this detective's [illegible] New York city of which have never been told, and it amply proves that constant vigilance and alertness [illegible] necessary to bring a [illegible] to the front, provided he has the [illegible] to win promotion through merit alone.

Johann Hoch is still referred to as one of the cleverest criminals to expiate his crime on a gallows. An adept by profession, he came originally from Merrweiler, a small town in Germany not far from Bingen-on-the-Rhine. There he married, but he did not bring his wife to this country with him. Immediately upon his arrival in America the records show he made a business of preying upon [illegible] and foolish women, especially widows, whom he induced to marry him. He promptly so arranged matters as to get hold of their property, and, this done, he would desert them. If they pursued him and became troublesome he would [illegible] on a reunion, remaining with them only long enough to solve the opportunity to poison and make way with them. Hoch made nothing a poor as a bigamist, for the records of criminology [illegible] do not indicate such another.

The records show that at least fifty women fell victims to his wiles, only Hoch himself knowing the exact number. With his bigamist tendencies he [illegible] mixed murder, choosing, with unerring calculation, arsenic as the best agent, with which to rid himself of his burdensome mates and thus evade discovery. He was cunning enough to know that arsenic is one of the component parts of the embalming fluid commonly employed by undertakers, and by its use he hoped to escape suspicion. A chemist himself, he was an adept at mixing all sorts of drugs. But, like all criminals of his class, his cunning proved his undoing, for by overplaying his part he betrayed himself.

In looking back and picking up the loose threads in the skein of Hoch's life the police discovered that in the year 1895 he had married in Chicago a Mrs. Marie Steinbrueckler. After living with Hoch for four months she died, the cause of death being given as nephritis. It may be noted that none of Hoch's wives were noted for longevity. The same cause, it was ascertained, he married Mary Rankin in Chicago, but deserted her the day after the wedding when she flatly refused to either give him money or place her property in his hands. A few months later Hoch [illegible] Kerth as a bridegroom, this time choosing as [illegible] Martha Warmfield, whom he [illegible] in four months, after obtaining $600 from her.

His next appearance was in Wheeling, W. Va., where he claimed a [illegible] woman by the name of Mary Hoch as [illegible]. She, too, died suddenly of nephritis. Her funeral occurred three months after her wedding day. In the autumn of 1896 Clara Bartell fell a victim to the wiles of this arch demon, and three months after her marriage in Cincinnati she, too, passed away under strange and suspicious circumstances. These deaths, which had occurred with almost monotonous regularity, all enriched the sorrowing widower, for all the real and personal property of the late wives passed into his possession. So far as the records show Hoch waited three months before he again married, this time selecting Anita Dunn, of Hamilton, Ohio, whom he speedily abandoned after tricking her out of $700.

The next woman to be victimized by this modern Bluebeard, so far as the police were able to ascertain, was Mrs. Annie Goehrke, of Chicago, whom he ruthlessly deserted after failing to obtain her money. Four months later Mrs. Mary Becker became his bride, but she only survived the wedding a few months. Her relatives promptly and unhesitatingly asserted that she was the victim of poison.

"Two months after Mary Becker's death Mrs. Mary Welcker, a widow, of Chicago, cast her lot with that of the bigamist and became his bride. It was for her murder that he was tried, convicted and hanged. Ten days after her marriage to Hoch she became violently ill. Twenty-two days later she died. The cause of death as cited in the physician's certificate was nephritis. Five days later, or two days after his last wife's funeral, Hoch married Mrs. Emilie Fischer, a sister of Mrs. Welcker-Hoch. He obtained $750 from this woman and disappeared.

It was the desertion and theft of $750 from this woman that really led to Hoch's apprehension. Mrs. Fischer-Hoch, in reporting to the police the disappearance of her husband, aroused the suspicions of the authorities and they set to work to untangle the somewhat hazy circumstances surrounding the death of this Mrs. Hoch's sister. The body of Mrs. Welcker-Hoch was exhumed and 7.5 grains of arsenic were found in the stomach. Search was made for Hoch, but he apparently had vanished into thin air and all efforts to locate him were futile.

In looking over Hoch's past the Chicago police were deeply chagrined to learn that only a few months previous he had been behind the bars in Chicago, following a shady transaction in the mortgaging of some furniture. When released from the Chicago jail he was seized by a policeman from Wheeling, W. Va., who charged him with the murder of his wife in that city, but with characteristic cunning he succeeded in proving to the satisfaction of the West Virginia authorities that his wife's death had been due to natural causes and he was discharged.

It might be added that while returning from the cemetery where he had just buried Mrs. Welcker-Hoch, Hoch, in his customary impetuous and ardent manner, proposed marriage to the dead woman's sister, Mrs. Fischer. Their troth was plighted in the funeral coach, Hoch procuring a license the same afternoon.

Realizing that it was no longer safe in Chicago or that vicinity, Hoch went to New York. The newspapers were devoting whole pages to the operations of this bluebeard and the police of the world were instructed to seize him at sight. Detective O'Neill at that time had just been appointed as a detective and detailed to the West Forty-seventh street police station. He was eager to make good, and in consequence he set to work to acquaint himself with every person and thing in his precinct. While passing through West Forty-seventh street near Tenth avenue he noticed two new and very expensive trunks being taken into a boarding house conducted by Mrs. Catherine Kimmerle, a comely and attractive young widow. This aroused his curiosity and a day or two later, upon meeting a man who boarded in the house, he asked about the ownership of the trunks.

His friend told him that a man had recently arrived in the boarding house who seemingly had nothing else to do but sit around the house and do chores for his landlady, such as peeling potatoes, washing dishes, scrubbing floors and the like.

"This fellow has all sorts of money and any abundance of new clothes," the detective's informant said, "but somehow he never goes out. When he is not performing little services for Mrs. Kimmerle he is making love to her. He seems to have plenty of money and his trunk is filled with clothes of the most expensive sort. He is a crank and has nothing to do with the other boarders."

The policeman had heard enough to arouse his curiosity. He determined to learn more about this newcomer into his midst, and determined to make it a point to see Mrs. Kimmerle and question her about her strange suitor. The next day the detective met Mrs. Kimmerle as she was returning from market. She verified all that the detective's friend had previously told him, adding that she had grown to fear her new boarder, who invariably carried a loaded revolver in his pocket.

"He is so persistent in his demand that I marry him," said the widow, "that I am afraid he will kill me when he realizes that my refusals cannot be shaken."

That was all the detective needed. From the photographs of Hoch that he had come to know so well he could trace a strange resemblance to the man whose description he now had from two sources. The detective was convinced that this new and ardent boarder was none other than Johann Hoch, so eagerly sought by the Chicago police. His procedure in laying siege to the heart, hand and little fortune of Mrs. Kimmerle was identical with that of Hoch the Bluebeard. Then and there he determined to arrest the stranger. He exacted a promise from Mrs. Kimmerle that she should come to the police station that evening and let him know whether Hoch had returned to the house. The woman was as good as her word, and after telling the police man of the suspect's return she added that he was [illegible] in the parlor, engaged in dressing [illegible] clothes, and that in the right hand pocket of the dressing gown he [illegible] revolver disposed.

Mrs. Kimmerle returned to her home and a few moments later the policeman rang the bell. Mrs. Kimmerle admitted him to the house and as he entered the parlor there sat a man whom at first glance he spotted as Hoch. Crossing the room to his side, the detective, who is of massive build, purposely stumbled, and in recovering his balance plunged his knee into the pit of Hoch's stomach. In attempting to regain his equilibrium he threw his arm about the body of the smaller man, and as he did so his hand slipped into the pocket of the dressing gown and as it was withdrawn it clutched the fully loaded revolver. Hoch was a fraction under five feet six inches in height, but small as he was he sprang to his feet and fought desperately with his powerful antagonist for possession of the revolver. It was not until he had been threatened with a severe beating that he submitted to arrest.

"Well, Hoch, I have been looking for you a long while," said the detective. "I am [illegible] Chicago police will be delighted when they hear that I have you safely tucked away."

"Whom do you take me for?" shrieked the little prisoner.

"For yourself—Johann J. Hoch, wife slayer, bigamist and all round crook that have [illegible] to say about yourself."

"Only that you have made a terrible mistake. My name is not Hoch, and as for being a murderer and a bigamist, you are a —— liar, and if you will remove these handcuffs for a moment I'll make you swallow your words."

But the detective was not in a trifling mood, and commanding his prisoner to don hat and coat, he led him to the West Forty-seventh street police station. On the way to the station Hoch admitted his identity, saying that there were too many photographs of him in the possession of women for him to further deny his real identity. The detective lost no time in communicating with Police Headquarters, for it was the proudest moment of his life when he said to the Inspector in charge:—"I wish to report, sir, the arrest of Johann Hoch, the bigamist and murderer, for whom the Chicago police have been looking."

That was the first inkling the New York Police Headquarters had that one of its newly appointed young detectives even had a clew to the whereabouts of this arch criminal. Hoch's removal to Chicago, his trial, conviction and execution speedily followed.

When the dismembered and unidentified body of a young woman was picked up on the Jersey side of the North River this detective, among others, was detailed to look the case over. There were a number of missing women reports at Headquarters and Inspector Faurot, in charge of the Detective Bureau, thought it possible that one of these might have met with foul play. The detective's familiarity with New Jersey's towns and cities made him well qualified for that end of the work, and he started in at the beginning. The pillow slip which was bound about the dismembered parts first attracted his attention. It was but the work of hours to ascertain the maker of this slip, and this manufacturer was speedily interviewed. From him the detective learned the names of individuals and firms in New York city who had purchased pillows of this design. These in turn were visited by the detective, and seemingly an endless task confronted him.

From these purchasers he ascertained the names of those to whom these pillows had been sold. All of these were accounted for, thus eliminating them from the list of the [illegible] flat. Finally the quest led him to an auction and [illegible] shop where twelve pillows of similar design had been purchased. This dealer, like the others, had sold out the entire stock. All but two of these had been traced and located. One of the remaining two had been [illegible] the captain of a canal boat. [illegible] these the detective decided that [illegible] was growing hot. The murder [illegible] had been committed aboard this canal boat, the body found in the recently purchased pillow slip, weighted and tossed overboard. [illegible] to find the canal boat.

This was not a [illegible] matter, but to the consternation of the detective the canal boat captain not only disowned [illegible] pillow slip found in the ship, but, when [illegible] into the cabin of his boat and came [illegible] with the slip in his hand. The [illegible] astonishing of all [illegible] followed.

Back to the second [illegible] and once more the books of the little dealer were [illegible] examined. This time detective. This second search showed up only what previously had been overlooked. The twelfth slip had been sold to Mrs. Schmidt and delivered at his request to a [illegible] the detective sallied forth, and [illegible] the janitor at this address, [illegible] that Mrs. Schmidt and his young [illegible] were occupying the top floor flat, but that nothing had been seen about the premises for several days. After [illegible] a detailed description of the [illegible] the detective [illegible] into the [illegible] developments.

For some days and four nights he sat in the [illegible] directly opposite this flat house, still not a person entered or left the [illegible] that he believed them to [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] followed tenants to the top floor in the hope that they might [illegible] the [illegible] flat, but each time he was thwarted in [illegible] purpose.

With the authority [illegible] to force the door, the detective, [illegible] found to be locked but the inner [illegible] open. On the evening of the fifth day the detective, wearied by his [illegible] vigil and his nerves [illegible] to the breaking point [illegible] strain, determined to [illegible] and settling once and for all the [illegible] to the ownership of the occupants of that flat. He was convinced that the [illegible] pillow, which he had here traced, would prove the key to the solution of the most baffling murder mystery that ever confronted the New York police.

Making his way once [illegible] the fire escape, by violently shaking the window sash, he succeeded in exerting a sufficiently strong draft to cause the inner shade to flutter and wave. A [illegible] lamp did the rest. As the shade blew to one side and the rays of his little lamp pierced the inky blackness of the room's interior, he got one [illegible] of what was within, but that was sufficient to prove to him that here a crime had been committed. Whether or not the body found in the river had been dismembered here mattered little, for [illegible] [illegible] all the evidences of [illegible] and [illegible] gruesome.

The detective [illegible] to [illegible] cautiously with [illegible], [illegible] might be all under [illegible] [illegible] one degree of the [illegible] [illegible] others would know, the [illegible] squad of detectives [illegible] the flat and there [illegible] the first positive clew which led to the almost immediate arrest of Father Schmidt in his rectory home.

Here was a case where patience, [illegible] and clever detectives were directly responsible for a [illegible] arrest. Could the circumstances leading up to the [illegible] of this priest and three [illegible] be [illegible] [illegible] would [illegible] it [illegible] [illegible] first chapter [illegible] [illegible] only a really clever [illegible] have [illegible].

CULTIVATE INTEREST IN MUSIC

Teaching the Young to Love Music Is Only a Matter of Making It Interesting to Them

ALMOST every girl plays the piano, but how many play it well? How many give real pleasure by their playing? Nearly every little girl has at some time to undergo the torture of "practising" the piano, and what tedious hours these are to a restless child! She is not unmusical perhaps, but the sitting still for so many hours, the enforced seclusion, are not compensated for by the desired end—at least, not in the child's opinion. The result, in most cases, is a mediocre ability to play five or six pieces (with a few hitches) for mother or father. Visitors are seldom asked nowadays to listen to these scarcely enjoyable solos.

The only pleasure the child gets out of the whole study is her ability to "pick out" a few songs and easy pieces at sight. If there is another member of the family who has also "studied music" they may enjoy playing duets together, or one may rise to the height of accompanying a song.

Made Enjoyable.

It is a noteworthy fact that music made in company is all the more enjoyable to the executants. Children love playing duets, and a trio is a triple joy. There does not live the child who would not consider it "fun" to play in a quintet, even if asked to play the piano part to drums, mouth organ and trumpet. It is the doing it together that makes it so enjoyable.

Why, when this fact is so patent, do we not make use of it in our children's education?

The Germans have done so, and the result is that musical culture is more general in Germany than in any other country.

In a certain German family there are four children, and each member plays a different instrument. The father plays the 'cello, the eldest boy the violin, the next boy the French horn, the third boy the clarinet and the baby—a girl of nine—plays the flute. The mother plays the piano. None of them are professionals, only the eldest boy has special talent for music, but the pleasure they have together during the long winter evenings when they practise is delightful to contemplate. After many hours of study, separately and together, they invite a few intimate friends to hear them, and their little concerts give pleasure to all.

What better pay could be devised to keep the boys at home, away from dangerous companions and the temptations of the tawdry pleasures?

The children have a strong incentive to practise when they have a concerted performance to work for, and there is no need to choose only classical pieces to play, for there are hundreds of arrangements of popular music that are easy enough for the youngest amateur. The musicians in park and restaurant bands are not generally advanced executants, and the parts written for them are within the ability of any intelligent boy or girl after a little practice.

Also the music of popular operas has been arranged for almost any and every combination of instruments. The children will be satisfied with light music for a time, but as there is no better way and, many believe, no way so good, to teach appreciation of classical music, they will soon demand the best of the past and present composers.

Let us suppose a family wishes to begin these musical evenings. There may be one member who plays the violin, another who sings and a third who plays the piano. These three can execute trios written for voice, violin and piano, but this is not enough. It is easy to find a pianist, so let the piano player leave the flute—a charming instrument for a woman, and designed to show off pretty lips and hands. In a short time she will be able to play easy solos and the flute parts in simple arrangements for small bands.

If there is a boy friend who plays a stringed instrument he will not be long learning to play a few notes on the 'cello, or even the 'bello, to help in accompaniments. There may be a girl who is fond of music but plays no instrument. Persuade her to learn the cornet or the clarinet—the former is much the easier—and it will do her lungs good, as well as make her a welcome addition to the orchestra—not to mention the pleasure she will get playing solos.

Refining Influence.

Just here a plea in favor of the wind instruments for women. There seems to be a silly prejudice against girls taking up the study or using and brass instruments. It is simply a prejudice, for while there is something unbecoming in the idea of a woman playing the trombone or the bassoon, there is nothing unwomanly in her playing the flute or clarinet. These instruments require delicate sensitive lips, and are especially suited to women.

Any two or three of these instruments are pleasing played together, and nothing could delight an [illegible] in trying new [illegible] in practising the [illegible] parts [illegible] to make a good "ensemble."

The refining influence of the [illegible] must finally [illegible] to be pointed out. At the same time the family are getting to know one another. An [illegible] is necessary in that we should [illegible] between children [illegible] other instruments, not always and [illegible] the piano.

If music in the home were [illegible] general [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

First Class Scranton
COAL
ALL SIZES IN STOCK
AT LOWEST PRICES
H.B. Taylor & Son
Both Phones 209
Cor. Aylmer & Wolfe Sts.

EAST CITY
COAL & WOOD
YARD
113 Hunter St. E. Phone 96
FIRST QUALITY
PITTSTON COAL
ALWAYS IN STOCK
Best Coal Mined,
at lowest prices.
Dried Wood, per cord.....$5.00
Cutting and Splitting Extra
Also Dry Pine and Hemlock Slabs $3.50
A. VEIT J. P. McCARTHY

COAL
PRICES
ROBT. HICKS
Will announce Opening Prices of D. L. & W. Scranton Coal, Screened by his Improved Process, on April 11th.
These Prices will interest you.

COAL
Why not burn the BEST.
Our Coal is recognized as
THE COAL OF QUALITY
If you are not using it NOW your neighbor is.
Ask them about it then order some for yourself.
The Peterborough Fuel & Carting Co.
162 Charlotte Street
Phones—Bell 160-670
941 Aylmer St. Phone Bell 302

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

DARK BROWN

and hopeful, yet there had been a thousand untoward happenings. Lina had worn her rubbers, but she loaned them to little Eva Allen, who had a cold and went home through the slush with no other covering for her feet than her well worn brown shoes.

Lina's rich Aunt Beatrice had written to say that she was sending her a new gown and some other things.

Just now Lina wanted a new gown more than anything else, for next week there was to be a dance, and Clayton Branch had asked her to go with him. Clayton Branch was the auburn-haired, red-cheekd cousin of the manager, and he had come from some place in the country to work in the store. Long ago Aunt Beatrice had promised her a pale blue satin dancing frock, and doubtless this was what had arrived.

She lightly skipped up the front steps. Mrs. Cable sat in the parlour talking to a caller and cried out to Lina, "A box arrived for you by parcel post, my dear, and I took it up to your room."

"Oh, thank you!" chirped Lina and flew upward as if on wings.

Mindless of everything save the mystery of that parcel, Lina cut the cords with fingers that trembled. Within was the gown folded under dainty layers of white tissue paper. "Oh, I hope it's got a pink satin rose on the girdle!" she whispered to her self.

Then she snatched away the paper. She did not cry out at what she saw, but she went whiter than anything in the room. Where she had expected to find shimmery blue satin, with perhaps a pink rose, was only a dark brown serge made in the plainest possible way, most unmistakably an everyday gown to be worn at her work in the store.

Lina was sensible, and she had the most grateful heart in the world. She was only twenty-one, but she had been earning her own living for three years — ever since her father died, and things generally went to smash — and she had learned some things. One of these things was to look a disagreeable fact in the eye and see how much that was not disagreeable could be got out of it.

"I'm very glad to get them," Lina said aloud, bravely. "I'll try it right on and see if it fits, though it's pretty apt to, for Aunt Beatrice has all my measurements."

But down in the bottom of her heart was a terrible ache. She had so counted on that blue satin. Until this moment she had not realized how absolutely necessary it was to her happiness. It seemed to her now that she could not go to the dance with Clayton Branch. She had nothing to go in.

She knew perfectly well what would happen when she told Clayton Branch she could not go. His red hair spelled trouble when it came to reason and patience. He would be violently angry. And doubtless he would turn right around and ask Alice Edwards to go in her stead.

Lina did not go down to dinner. She had a headache and no appetite, she told the landlady, who lumbered up to see why she was absent, also to see what had come in the box.

"My, that's a nice dress, now ain't it, my dear? What a good auntie you've got! And it's dark brown, like all your things, though I've sometimes wondered at your wearing one colour so much, my dear, more especially as you're dark complected. But that's according as you chooses, I'm sure."

Lina's pretty mouth gave one quiver. "Oh, I don't choose," she burst out. "It was Aunt Beatrice began it. She wears dark brown, and I suppose she thinks that what looks well on her will look just the same on me. And the first dark brown dress she gave me I had to have things to go with it. And I got them, and I've just kept on wearing them ever since. But sometimes everything looks d-dark brown to me and I hate it—I hate it!"

And thereupon Lina crumpled up on Mrs. Cable's large shoulder and sobbed a little. And Mrs. Cable, who had been a girl before she was a hard worked boarding-house mistress, patted her shoulder and told her not to mind, it was always darkest just before dawn and so on, ad infinitum. Then she went down to set the table for breakfast and Lina was left to try on her new dark brown dress and make the best of her disappointment.

Next morning Lina felt the result of a cold storm and a pair of wet feet. She had such a sore throat as she never remembered having, she ached all over and could not get out of bed. Mrs. Cable telephoned to the manager that she was too ill to leave the house; she also called a doctor.

So Lina lay abed and listened to the rain and had feverish, unhappy thoughts of being too ill to go to the dance even if she had the most gorgeous gown in the world to wear. All at once the light seemed to have gone out, she had become unconscious.

It was after 4 o'clock and night was hurrying out the day when Lina recovered. She heard Mrs. Cable's heavy footed ascent of the stairs. The door opened softly. 'Are you asleep, my dear?", came a whisper.

"No. Come in."

Mrs. Cable entered. She lugged a wrapped and corded parcel not unlike the first. "See what has just arrived, my dear," she said. "An other grand parcel!"

Lina sat up in bed, gasping. She rubbed her eyes. "Oh, Mrs. Cable, will you open it?" she begged.

"Surely!" Mrs. Cable knew exactly how to get into an interesting parcel quickly. She cut the cord, ripped off the paper and plucked up the cover. "Shut your eyes till I tell you to open 'em; my dear. I suspect something pretty," she said.

Lina shut her eyes tight. Her heart was going like mad. She heard a rustle, she smelled a scent like flowers. Then all at once the agony of suspense ended. Mrs. Cabl commanded. "Look!" and she looked.

Mrs. Cable was holding up a gown, and such a gown! It was a fascinating combination of pale blue satin and fine lace. There was the pink rose, too. And slippers, gloves, stockings, and a scarf — Aunt Beatrice had not only kept her promise, but had outdone herself.

At that moment the door opened and Kitty, Mrs. Cable's maid of all work, came in. She, too, carried a box. But it was a florist's box, long and deep. That Lina would open herself, while Mrs. Cable and Kitty looked on eagerly. There were a dozen rubbery stemmed pink roses and a card. If Lina had meant to kiss the roses, she made a mistake, for she kissed the card instead.

"Oh, 'tis grand to be young and have a fine beau!" sighed Mrs. Cable.

Then and there came the doctor. He was an old doctor, yet not so old but that he knew what joy blue satin and pink roses can bring to a girl's heart. He smiled as he looked at Lina sitting in the midst of the littered bed.

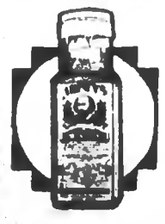
"Oh, doctor," cried Lina, "don't you suppose I'll be perfectly well by Friday night?"

The doctor had his experienced finger on her pulse. He smiled again teasingly. "I shouldn't wonder," he said.

Your Health Question

Keeping well is largely a matter of keeping every organ normally active. Livers that slow down and stomachs that falter need this Tonic Laxative—

Abbey's Effer-vescent Salt



At all Druggists and Stores throughout Canada
25 and 60 cents
FOR BETTER NERVES
Abbey's "VITA" Tablets
The Best Nerve Tonic

After highly "seasoned" foods, purify your breath —aid your digestion with Clean—Pure—Healthful
WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT

Some tasty vegetables are odorous. Many highly seasoned foods are not easily digested. This pure mint leaf juice purifies the breath and gives digestion aid in delicious form. It helps saliva besides. And your teeth are brightened and preserved—"over-eaten" feelings are relieved—by this inexpensive pocket companion that's so good for you.

Be SURE it's Wrigley's

Made in Canada
Wm. Wrigley Jr. Co., Ltd.
7 Scott St., Toronto, Ont.

BUY IT BY THE BOX
of twenty packages. It costs less—of any dealer—and stays fresh until used.

Chew it after every meal

85

Knew It Was Possible.

The Disgusted Golfer — Have you ever seen such rotten play?

The Weary Caddie (who has caddied three days for only his bare wage)—No, sir, but I've read of it in the comic papers.

His Object in Life.

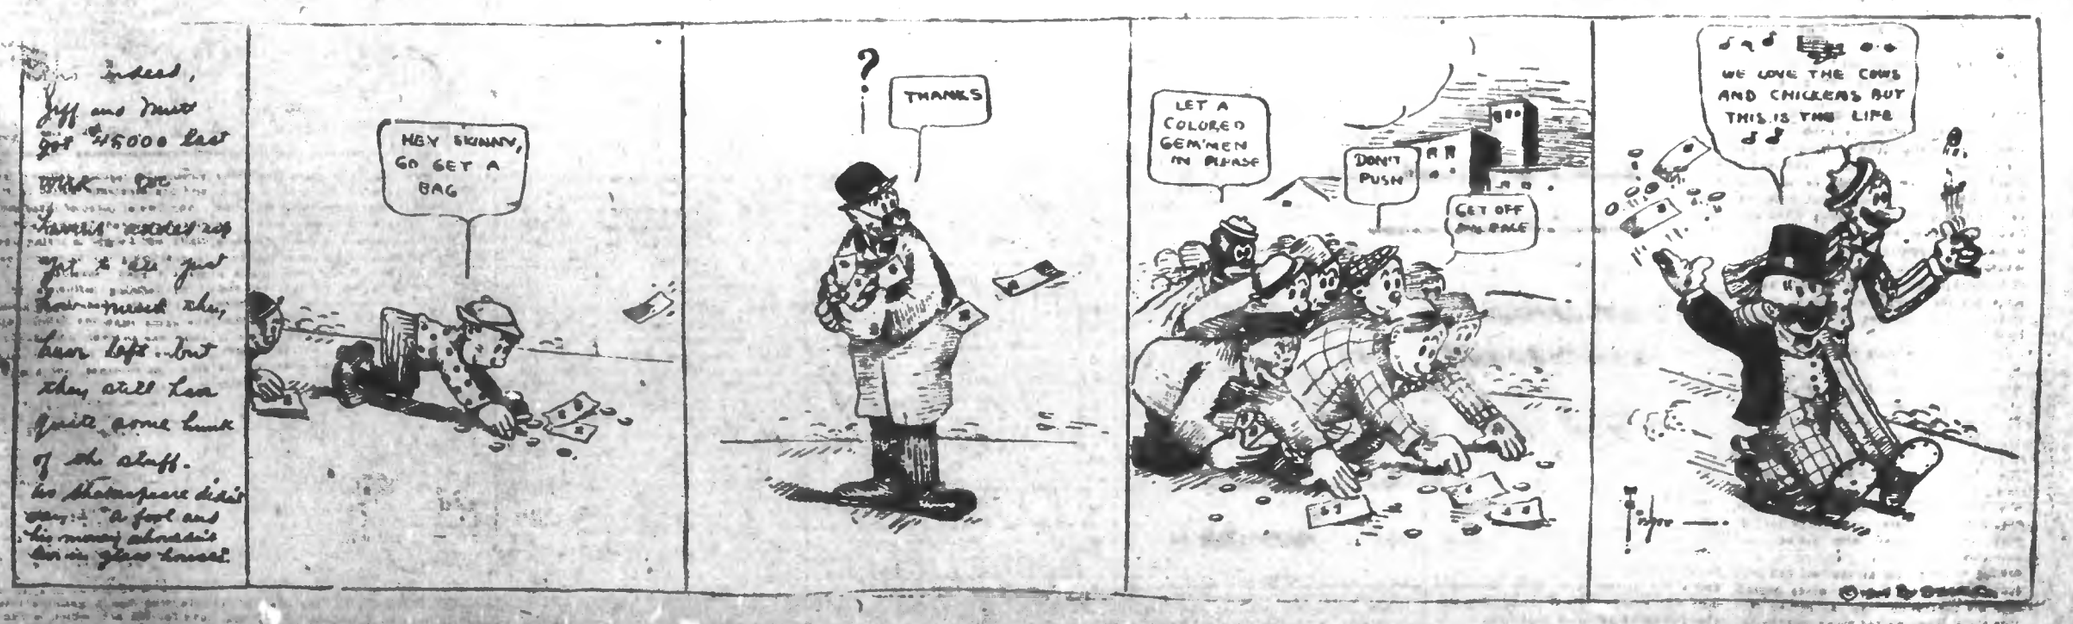
Reporter—To what do you consider, sir, that you owe your great age?

Centenarian — To smokin', young man. I'm collectin' cigar coupons to get a piano, an' by heck! I'll do it 'fore I die.

Shiloh 25¢
A safe, old-time remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis and whooping cough. Does not upset the stomach. Perfectly safe for all ages, even nursing infants. A small dose, only, needed and gives quick results. A household friend to thousands of Canadian homes since 1870. Buy Shiloh for coughs and colds.

J. J. SHADGETT
Sign, Carriage and Motor Car Painter
REPAIRS ATTENDED TO
Phone 443, Residence 1402
Cor. Charlotte & Aylmer

What's the Use of Having it If You Can't Toss it Off -:- -:- By "Bud" Fisher



PERRIN'S Dairy Cream Sodas

Every one of them must be good enough to uphold our reputation.

There are two kinds—the dainty "Fancy Thin" and the "regular" Dairy Cream Sodas.

In sealed packages at 5, 10 and 25 cents at your grocer's. Every package guaranteed.

Look for the Perrin Trade Mark on every package.

Send 10c. in coin or stamps and your grocer's name for the "Perrin sample package" of some of the other Perrin's Biscuit Dainties. 12

D. S. PERRIN & COMPANY LIMITED

LONDON, - - CANADA

Wireless as "Whip."

LONDON, April 8.—Wireless telegraphy was used as a "whip" for the first time in connection with Monday's Home Rule division.

Sir Robert Balfour and Hon. Joseph Martin, who were aboard the Lusitania, received an urgent message from the Government whip while still at sea. Reaching Liverpool, they took the earliest train and arrived at Westminster about an hour before the division occurred.

Judge McWatt Married.

TORONTO, April 8. — At the Queen's Hotel yesterday afternoon Judge W. D. McWatt, Sarnia, former Grand Master of Grand Lodge A. F. & A. M., was married to Miss Griselda MacDonald, of Grace Bay, N.S.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas Eakin. The bride's father was present. The newly-wedded couple left for New York.

VALUE OF RHEUM FROM THE COURT

Judge Barbeau Was Relieved of Rheumatism After Doctors Failed

If you have tried many other remedies and doctors' treatments for Rheumatism and found they failed do not be skeptical about trying RHEUMA. Read the testimony of Judge John Barbeau of Fort Loraine, Q.:

"After treatment by three doctors without result, I have been cured of a very bad case of Rheumatism by using two bottles of RHEUMA. It is now two years since I used the remedy, and I am still as well as ever. Previously, I was a cripple, walking with crutches."

Such testimony should be convincing, 50 cents of Warne Drug Co., guaranteed.

EXAMINER PATTERN SERVICE

DAILY FASHION HINT.

No. 6,619, Girl's Dress.

In this pretty frock we have the long, straight lines so becoming to little girls. The dress has a small box pleat stitched lying from shoulder to hem at each side of both front and back. The closing occupies the centre of the front and there is a plain panel to the back. The neck is trimmed with a wide collar, pointed in the back. The sleeves are of bishop shape, long or short.

The dress pattern, No. 6,619, is cut in sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Medium size requires 2¼ yards of 36 inch material.

This pattern can be obtained by sending 10 cents to the office of this paper.

When ordering remember to give your name and address as well as the number and size of pattern required, and age of a child.

Address—The Examiner Pattern Service, The Examiner Peterborough.

DECISION IS GIVEN

Famous Western Freight Rates Case Ends After Ten Years

REDUCTIONS ARE ORDERED

OTTAWA, April 8.—The judgment of the Board of Railway Commissioners in what is known as the Western Rate Case, which has occupied the attention of the Board in various forms since 1904, was issued yesterday afternoon.

The judgment covers some 300 pages and makes many substantial cuts. It deal with each contention in order, and refers frequently to the reports of the Board's chief traffic officer, and attaches his examples of reductions ordered

After dealing with various arguments of counsel, the judgment proceeds to outline a comprehensive basis to tolls and a complete rate structure for all railways in western Canada subject to its jurisdiction.

The territory west of the great lakes is divided into three sections. The first is called the prairie section, extending from the great lakes to the mountains, the second the Pacific section, including mainland rail lines in British Columbia; and the third the B. C. lake section, including the inland navigable waters in that province.

A standard scale of maximum freight rates is fixed for each section. The lowest scale in the west, now known as the Manitoba standard has been amplified to show rates up to two thousand and one hundred miles, and will apply throughout the entire prairie section and on the the British Columbia lakes, abolishing the higher scale now charged in Saskatchewan and Alberta. What will be known as the Pacific scale is on a somewhat higher basis and will govern in Pacific territory. These changes result in substantial reductions from the present standard maximum scales in Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

Local grain and flour rates are substantially reduced by two methods, first by a direct reduction ranging from 20 to 30 per cent., and secondly by making the terminal Fort William rates the maximum that may be charged between intermediate stations. For example, Broadview to Winnipeg now twenty becomes fifteen cents, through the application of the Fort William rate as maximum. The west-bound rates on flour and other grain products are similarly reduced.

The United Farmers of Alberta also win out in their application for reduced rates on these products to British Columbia stations.

Coal rates from Lethbridge and other Alberta mines are substantially cut; for example, from Lethbridge to Calgary from $1.50 per ton to $1.45, to Edmonton from $3.85 to $3.20, Swift Current $2.40 to $1.90, Regina $3.10 to $2.65, Virden $4.10 to $3.40, Saskatoon $3.95 to $3.50 per ton. From the Souris mines reductions made by the board in the Alameda case are confirmed and others made.

Carload sugar rates from Raymond, Alta., to prairie points also receive substantial cuts.

The special mileage rates on butter, cheese and eggs, dressed meats and dressed poultry, between all prairie points come in for reduction.

The special mileage tariffs on vegetables in Manitoba are known to be reasonable; the rates, however, in Saskatchewan and Alberta, which are on a somewhat higher scale, are reduced to the Manitoba basis.

The special rates on fruits and vegetables from British Columbia, which have been revised and reduced since the complaint against them was launched by the United Farmers of Alberta, are left untouched.

The rates on cement from Winnipeg are shown to be very little from those of Ontario, and are not reduced, but the higher rates from cement plants in Alberta and Saskatchewan are reduced to the Winnipeg scale.

No reduction is made in live stock rates, which are shown to be reasonable in view of the favorable carload minimum weights and the volume of traffic.

The rates on fence posts, firewood, brick, stone, gravel and sand are found to be generally lower than those applying in Ontario, but the higher scales prevailing in Alberta and Saskatchewan are reduced to the lower Manitoba levels.

Rates on ores, concentrates and smelter products in and from British Columbia are found to constitute a large percentage of the traffic of that province, and are found remunerative only in the sense of contributing to the general prosperity.

The rate on pig iron from Fort Arthur and Fort William to Winnipeg is reduced from twenty cents per hundred pounds to three dollars per gross ton, or 13.4 cents per 100 pounds.

The board has considered the question of local passenger rates in British Columbia very carefully. It finds that the local passenger business is at present being conducted at a loss and will not move at present.

The Chain of Lakes.

North Missouri's famous hunting ground, known as the Chain of Lakes, having resisted all attempts to drain and cultivate, has been allowed to return to its natural state. The Chain of Lakes is wilderness surrounded by rich farming land, towns and good country roads. This section was the original happy hunting ground for the Indians of the west. On the banks of the Charitan river, at the edge of the lake territory, they pitched their wigwams, built a stone fort or dam and put up an ingenious fish trap, for there were no game wardens in those days. That trap, repaired and strengthened from time to time, was inherited by white men who followed the Indians and operated half a century. Then the game wardens, attracted by the ancient fish trap's fame, went over to the river and blew it up with dynamite.—Argonaut.

DRUG CLERK TELLS HOW TO CURE INDIGESTION

Recommends to Sufferers the Best Stomach Remedy in Peterborough To-day.

"It is a wonder some of us have stomachs left," remarked a well-known drug clerk recently. "While all drug stores sell a score or more of stomach remedies for which there is a wide demand, most of them are just sweet pills which digest the food that is in the stomach at the time. They have no curative or strengthening effect on the stomach at all, and of course do not reach or cure the cause. So the same people keep on coming here and buying and using them until they are real chronic dyspeptics. When anyone really asks my advice, I swear by and recommend ordinary bisurated magnesia, which doesn't digest the food at all but just acts as an antacid and sweetens the sour, fermenting contents of the stomach. That stops the pain, heart-burn, sour rising, wind, sloating, fullness, etc., in just a few minutes, and the stomach digests its food without help or trouble, which is the proper way."

"Doctors make mistakes sometimes, too," he continued. "My own aunt had all kinds of trouble with her stomach for years. She bought and used several styles of digestive pills but got worse right along, so naturally she would. Finally she went to a doctor, who nearly scared her to death by telling her she had cancer of the stomach. She came to me with his prescription and told me what he said. I thought it was nonsense, so I sent her to another doctor whom I knew very well and he didn't tell her anything, but just gave her this something, bisurated magnesia. She took it two weeks and never has had any stomach trouble since and that's three years ago. She's my own aunt and I know this for a fact. Yes, a lot of bisurated magnesia is sold in Peterborough. All the druggists have it, I suppose, and all you take is a teaspoonful after every meal. It's all right."

Evidence From Sharks.

MONTREAL, April 8.—Judge Lavergne yesterday granted the application of lawyer for Edward Beck for the appointment of a commission to go to New York to take the evidence of Burns' detectives, which, it is alleged, supplied Mr. Beck with the material upon which he based articles in a weekly paper against certain City Hall officials, for which he has been arrested by Ald. Thomas O'Connell. Judge Lect was appointed to take the evidence.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With The Othine Prescription

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear beautiful complexion that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

ASQUITH IS SAFE.

There Is Now No Likelihood of a Contest In East Fife.

LONDON, April 8. — Unless some surprise should appear at the eleventh hour, Premier Asquith will today, for the ninth consecutive time, be returned, this time unopposed, to represent East Fife. This follows upon the decision of the Unionist executive at Cupar yesterday, when they announced that, in deference to the wishes of delegates, Col. Sprot agreed not to contest the seat. It would be entirely unfair to blame the Unionist headquarters in London, or, indeed, the local executive, for hesitating to extend the Premier the courtesy of an uncontested election. Col. Sprot seems to have been almost alone among the executive in failing to appreciate the wisdom of the step taken by the Premier in going to the War Office.

Dynamite Ship Wrecked.

NEW YORK, April 8. — A cable from Havana says:

Loaded with coal and dynamite, the British steamship Croyden is pounding to pieces on the rocks of Baruda Island, in the West Indies, with 27 men on board and several wrecking tugs half a mile away, afraid to venture to her assistance.

Darken Grey Hair, Look Young, Pretty

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens so Naturally That Nobody Can Tell

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural colour and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or grey; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair.

Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to mare it at home, which is musy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay grey! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair taking one small strand at a time; by morning the grey hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.

For sale by Warne Drug Co.

MURDER IS REVEALED.

Missing Man's Body Found Near House—Shot For His Money?

MIDLAND, April 8.—Robt. Hayde, a grocer of Tomahawk Point, two miles north of Henry Harbor, was murdered on or about the night of Friday, March 27. His body was found on Monday night, buried in a manure heap near the stable of his home. There was a shot wound in the back of his neck, whether inflicted by a gun or a rifle is not known, but the weapon had been fired close enough to the neck to singe the hair. Three men, who were aiding in the search for Hayde, which had been maintained since his disappearance on March 27, found the body.

Hayde was a bachelor, about fifty years of age, and lived alone. A sister resides here. On the day he disappeared he was for a short time in Midland. For some days search was made for him in the channels among the surrounding islands, as it was feared he might have dropped through a hole in the ice and been drowned. Later some people advanced the idea that he had been murdered for his money, of which he generally carried a considerable sum on his person. This fear has now been realized.

The men who found the body were standing on the manure heap discussing what further steps should be taken in the search when they noticed an unusual conformation in the pile and made their search.

CY WARMAN IS DEAD.

Widely-Known Journalist and Poet Passes Away.

CHICAGO, April 8.—Cy Warman died yesterday after a long illness from paralysis.

Warman was born in 1855 near Greenup, Ills., on a homestead presented to his father by the Government for gallant service in the Mexican war. He became known as the "Poet of the Rockies." His stories about railroad men were based on personal experiences at Salida, Col., where in the early eighties he worked as a wiper, a fireman and a locomotive engineer. He went to Denver and became a newspaper reporter. He later began publishing a railway journal. Meantime he was writing short poems and bits of prose, which after a time caught the public fancy. The poet later met and was married to Miss Marie Myrtle Jones, who inspired the lines, "For Sweet Marie," a song which has been popular all over the world.

Mr. Warman was connected with the Grand Trunk Railway's literary department, and was well known in Ontario.

Automobile Runs.

The license of the Japanese chauffeur is carried on the steering post.

Gasoline supply cans operated by a coin slot are in successful use in several places.

A material resembling celluloid, but clearer, tougher and more durable, has been invented in England for automobile wind shields.

An underground garage thirteen blocks long is proposed for Chicago to relieve business streets of the crush caused by parking automobiles in them.

The Real Cause Of Most Bad Complexions

It is a stern fact that no truly beautiful complexion ever came out of jars or bottles; the longer one uses cosmetics the worse the complexion becomes. Skin to be healthy, must breathe. It also must expel, through the pores, its share of the body's effete material. Creams and powders clog the pores, interfering both with elimination and breathing. If more women understand this, there would be fewer self-ruined complexions. If they would use ordinary mercolised wax instead of cosmetics, they would have natural, healthy complexions. This remarkable substance actually absorbs a bad skin, also unclogging the pores. Result: The fresher, younger underskin is permitted to breathe and to show itself. An exquisite new complexion gradually peeps out, one free from any appearance of artificiality. Get an ounce of mercolised wax at your druggist's and try it. Apply nightly like cold cream, for a week or so, washing it off mornings.

To eradicate wrinkles, here's a marvelously effective treatment which acts naturally and harmlessly: Dissolve 1½ ozs. powdered saxolite in ½ pt. witch hazel and use as a wash lotion.

Grey Is a Stay-at-Home.

The announcement that Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Secretary, will accompany the King and Queen on their forthcoming visit to Paris recalls the oft-stated fact that Sir Edward has never set foot on foreign soil. It has been said that he visited Madrid in 1906 and Berlin last year. It is announced now that neither of these visits were made. A few years ago Sir Edward said in a speech:

"For twenty-eight years my life has been a continual struggle to live at home."

It is generally reported that Sir Edward speaks no German and very bad French. Mr. Venizelos, the Greek Premier, said some time ago that he had the greatest difficulty in understanding Sir Edward Grey's French.

—brewed in Canada
—no duty to pay
—half the price of imported beers
—equals the finest German brews

O'Keefe's Pilsener Lager

"The Light Beer in the Light Bottle."

J. M. BRONCO & CO., Distributors, 642 Water Street, 'Phone 91. 134

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

Ald. G. N. Gordon, of Petersboro, has resigned to accept the position of city solicitor.

Ingersoll fire brigade went on strike yesterday as the council did not deal with the demands for increased pay.

The United States Senate committee on inter-oceanic Canals began its hearings on the Panama tolls question yesterday.

The last spike of the G. T. P. was driven about noon yesterday, at the east end of the bridge over the Nechaco at Fort Fraser, B.C.

Several Toronto physicians were arrested of considerable sums yesterday by the testimony of two gypsy women who visited their offices.

John Beach was instantly killed yesterday at Brookfield, his body being hurled head first through a board fence as he fell or jumped from a moving M. C. R. train.

Beaumont Carmichael, of Montreal, has been appointed to replace Judge Wetmore on the Indian claims commission of British Columbia. Judge Wetmore resigned some time ago.

Vittorio Gennaro, drug store proprietor, and Sam Ogranio were killed and two other Italians injured when a Black Hand bomb exploded in Gennaro's store in Detroit yesterday.

The proposed segregation of the Oriental children in the public schools of Vancouver, has raised a storm of protest from both the Chinese and Japanese residents, particularly the latter.

The report of the commission which investigated certain charges against officials at the penitentiary and went into conditions at the prison, is at last completed and will be published after Easter.

MOTHER TELLS

How Her Little Girl Was Restored to Health.

Mrs. Chas. Schrieter of 139 Hinrod Street, Brooklyn, N.Y., says: "My little girl was frail, sickly and all run down after having had the grippe. I was advised to give her Vinol, and after the first bottle noticed an improvement. She has taken four bottles and has picked up rapidly, having gained six pounds in three weeks.

The reason Vinol builds up weak, ailing children so quickly is because it contains in a delicious combination the two most world-famed tonics —i.e., the strength creating, body-building elements of cod liver oil, with all the useless grease eliminated, and tonic iron for the blood added. If you have a weak, puny, ailing child, try Vinol on our offer to return your money if it fails to benfit your little one.

McDermid and Jury, corner George and Charlotte streets, also Payne's Drug Store, corner eGorge and Simcoe streets.

AN AID TO MEMORY.

Merely Make an Appointment With Your Subconscious Mind.

You have often read that if you want to awaken at a certain hour in the morning you have only to impress your subconscious mind with that hour upon retiring and you will awaken at the appointed time without difficulty. Perhaps you have tried the experiment and been successful.

I have discovered a way by which the method can be extended and made still more successful.

Supposing you want to remind yourself of something of importance that you need to do early on the following day. You might write it down and put the memorandum under your watch or fasten it to the pincushion on your dresser, but it is a bother to have to use a mechanical memory tickler for such a purpose. It is like using crutches to walk with. What is your memory good for if it needs bolstering up constantly by this sort of expedient? You can teach your memory better habits.

Here is the way: Say to your subconscious mind at night, "When I am putting on my shoes in the morning I shall remember that I am to do so and so," describing the thing you wish to recall to mind.

By connecting your affirmation with a specific act like putting on your shoes you give the mind a sort of peg to hang the mental record on, and you will find the results will be more positive. Of course you can if you wish substitute any other act connected with the morning activities for that of putting on your shoes. The important thing is to make your affirmation positive and specific by connecting it with some act that you perform every morning.

You see, you are making an appointment with your subconscious mind to meet you at a certain place with certain reminders, and it is very necessary that the meeting place should be a familiar one and clearly understood. It should stand out sharply in the impression you give your subconscious mind, and thus the recollection will be correspondingly sharp and clear. The more familiar and common the act with which you bind up the affirmation the better.—William H. Towne in Nautilus.

Knitting In Arctics.

There have been many attempts at the soporific industry—the little mechanical activity which takes the brain from its usual occupation. Knitting is, perhaps, the best. Arctic explorers have divorced that knitting gets you through an Arctic night better than patience. And it is quite usual for athletes, in the nervous hours before the university boat race, for example, to be set at knitting for the calming of their nerves.—London Chronicle.

The Persian Month.

The Persians give distinctive names to each day of the month, just as we name the day of the week.

Japan's Ancient Dynasty.

The oldest royal dynasty in the world is that of Japan, which goes back unbroken 2,500 years.

AT ONCE! CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

Breathe Freely! Clears Stuffed-up, Inflamed Nose and Head and Stops Catarrhal Discharge. Cures Dull Headache.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membranes which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake to-night struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith — just once — in "Ely's Cream Balm," and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

For sale by Warne Drug Co.

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO, April 7.—The board of trade was closed today owing to the municipal election.

TORONTO GRAIN MARKET.

Wheat, fall, bushel	$0 98	to $1 00
Barley, bushel	0 62	0 64
Peas, bushel	0 80	....
Oats, bushel	0 41	....
Rye, bushel	0 65	....
Buckwheat, bushel	0 70	0 75

TORONTO DAIRY MARKET.

Butter, store lots	0 24	0 25
Butter, creamery, lb. rolls	0 31	0 32
Butter, separator, dairy	0 27	0 28
Butter, creamery, solids	0 27	0 28
Eggs, new-laid	0 21	0 22
Cheese, old, lb.	0 15	0 15½
Cheese, new, lb.	0 14½	0 15
Honey, comb, dozen	2 50	3 00
Honey, extracted, lb.	0 00	....

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, April 7.—Cash—Close—Wheat—No. 1 northern, 93½c; No. 2 do., 87c; No. 3 do., 83½c; No. 4, 82c; No. 5, 76c; No. 6, 74c; feed, 69c; No. 1 rejected seeds, 84½c; No. 2 do., 82c; No. 1 smutty, 84½c; No. 2 do., 81c; No. 1 red winter, 83½c; No. 2 do., 87c; No. 3 do., 85½c.

Oats—No. 2 C.W. 34½c; No. 3 C.W., 33½c; No. 2 feed, 32c.

Barley—No. 3, 46½c; No. 4, 43½c; rejected, 41½c; feed, 41½c.

Flax—No. 1 N.W.C., $1.36½; No. 2 C. W., $1.32½; No. 3 C.W., $1.23½.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN MARKET.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 7.—Close—Wheat—May, 87½c to 88¼c; July, 89½c; No. 1 hard, 91¼c to 91¾c; No. 1 northern, 89½c to 90½c; No. 2 do., 85½c to 87½c.

Corn—No. 3 yellow, 57c to 57½c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 34½c to 35c.

Flour and bran unchanged.

DULUTH GRAIN MARKET.

DULUTH April 7.—Close—Wheat—No. 1 hard, 89½c; No. 1 northern, 88½c; No. 2 do., 86½c; Montana, No. 2 hard, 87½c; May, 88½c to 89c; July, 90½c to 90¾c.

CATTLE MARKETS

UNION STOCK YARDS.

TORONTO, April 7.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Yards were 44 cars, comprising 463 cattle, 1077 hogs, 184 sheep and 523 calves.

Cattle.

Choice steers by the load sold as high as $8.45, one load at that price; choice steers and heifers, $7.75 to $8; good, $7.50 to $7.75; medium, $7.25 to $7.50; common, $7 to $7.25; choice cows, $7 to $7.25; good cows, $6.50 to $6.75; common to medium cows, $5 to $6.75; canners and cutters, $3.75 to $4.75; bulls, $5 to $7.50.

Stockers and Feeders.

Good to choice feeders very in demand, 900-lb. steers selling at $7 to $7.25; medium steers, $6.50 to $6.75; choice, $6.75 to $6.85.

Milkers and Springers.

Not many milkers and springers were offered. Prices were firm at $60 to $85 each.

Veal Calves.

Receipts of calves were larger than for some time. Common calves were cheaper, but good to choice veals were firm. Common calves were reported as low as $3.50 to $6 each; medium calves at $7 to $8.25 per cwt., and good to choice calves at $10 to $11 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Sheep, ewes, sold at $7 to $7.50; rams at $4 to $6.50; yearling lambs, $9 to $9.75 per cwt.; spring lambs, $7.50 to $9 each.

Hogs.

Selects, fed and watered, sold at $9.25, and $9 f.o.b. cars, and $8.50 to $8.65, weighed off cars.

EAST BUFFALO LIVE STOCK.

EAST BUFFALO, April 7.—Cattle—Receipts, 100; steady; prices unchanged.

Veals—Receipts, 250; slow and 50c lower; $5 to $11.75.

Hogs—Receipts, 2300; active and 5c lower; yorkers, $9.10 to $9.15, and yorkers and pigs, $9.10 to $9.15; roughs, $8.25 to $8.35; stags, $7 to $7.50; dairies, $9 to $9.10.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 2600; slow and steady; clipped lambs, 15c lower; wool lambs, $8.50 to $8.40; clipped lambs, $5 to $7.10.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Cattle—Receipts, 2500; market slow; beeves, $5.60 to $9.50; Texas steers, $7.35 to $8.20; stockers and feeders, $6.00 to $8; cows and heifers, $3.70 to $8.50; calves, $6.50 to $10.

Rheumatism

SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO, QUICKLY CURED BY "KEPHALDOL."

A druggist in Toronto said that he was asking an Old Country customer of his about KEPHALDOL TABLETS. This customer told him, "I suffered from severe Rheumatism and Sciatica for twenty years, hardly ever being free from these troubles. I read about KEPHALDOL in the Glasgow papers and sent home for some. Three hours after taking two tablets, the pain was almost gone, and after taking six or seven, I hadn't a bit of pain."

This druggist went in to see his doctor about his wife and asked him if he had ever heard of KEPHALDOL. The doctor said, "Yes, I understand KEPHALDOL is a reliable sedative and anodyne, relieving pain without affecting the heart or vital organs. Since KEPHALDOL has been introduced into Canada, I have prescribed it in cases of severe Headaches and Neuralgia, and just recently succeeded in helping a most severe case of La Grippe with it."

Since then, this druggist has ordered KEPHALDOL and recommended it to those of his customers who wanted something to relieve pain. If you are unable to get KEPHALDOL Tablets at your druggist's, send 50c. to Kephaldol Limited, 71 Latour Street, Montreal.

Japan's Political Crisis.

TOKIO, Japan, April 8. — The Japanese Empire has been thrown into a condition of utter political confusion by the inability of Viscount Keigo Kiyoura to form a Cabinet to replace that under the Premiership of Count Yamamoto.

All the political groups as well as the navy have virtually gone on strike. The various progressive factions declare that the constitution is not being properly observed, while the navy demands immediate advances of money for warship construction and the appointment of a sailor as Minister of Marine.

Had Hard Trip.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The Cunard liner Mauretania arrived Saturday from Liverpool and Queenstown twelve hours late. She was delayed by a series of terrific storms which lasted throughout the passage. Passengers were forced to remain from the outer decks during practically the whole voyage.

Three days out from Liverpool a stateroom on "A" deck caught fire from a short circuited electric wire. The interior was badly damaged, but because of the construction of the Mauretania it was impossible for the fire to spread. But a few of the passengers knew that there had been a fire.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

Are The Original Pill For The Cure Of Backache, Lame Back, Weak Back Or Any Other Kidney Trouble.

The fact that Doan's Kidney Pills are the original Kidney Pills has not prevented the placing of other preparations in pill form upon the market under the name Kidney Pills. It is necessary, therefore, that all wishing to secure the curative effects which have made Doan's Kidney Pills so popular everywhere, should see that the trade mark, the Maple Leaf, appears on the wrapper. Without this trade mark you are not getting the genuine Kidney Pills as originally placed before the people by Mr. James Doan, as shown by the following declaration.

Dominion of Canada, Province of Ontario, } To Wit:

In the matter of Doan's Kidney Pills.

I, James Doan, of Kingsville, in the County of Essex, Druggist, do solemnly declare that Doan's Kidney Pills were first manufactured and sold by me on the 14th day of February, A.D., 1885.

And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and knowing it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of "The Canada Evidence Act, 1893."

Declared before me at Kingsville, in the County of Essex, this 27th day of July, A.D., 1906. } James Doan.

W. A. Smith, A Commissioner, etc.

Price, 50c. a box, or 3 for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"Get the habit" and call at

JAY'S STORES

they know how to sell cheap, for cash.

All kinds of Furniture and Stoves in stock also Sewing Machines from $4.50.

Ladies and Gentlemens second-hand clothing. We have a lot of children's new dress es made up for spring. Call and see them

390 Aiymer St. Phone 623

CHINA PAINTING

Mrs. Langley McCarthy

Teaches Bisque, New and Beautiful Dark Week in China Painting.

Cash or Credit For Furniture

Open after with every day requirements for comfortable homes. Dressers, Parlour Tables, Rockers, Iron Beds, Springs, Oilcloths, Rugs, Oilcloths, Baby Carriages, Etc.

EMPIRE FURNITURE CO.

299 George St. Opposite Customs House Telephone 812.

CASH OR CREDIT

EDWIN ELCOME

Taxidermist.

Heads, Animals, Birds, Fish, etc mounted artistically and permanently.

Heads of Deer, Moose, Caribou Elk, etc., our Specialty.

Heads, Animals, Birds, Fish, Artificial Eyes, Taxidermists' supplies, Bird and Flower Guide Books for sale.

682 Harvey St.

Peterborough, Ontario

LUMBER

Rubberoid Materials, of all kinds of roofings, Sheathing, Felt and Rib Siding, Hardwood, Oak, Ash, Elm and all kinds of Planing, Sawing and Rip Lumber. Cedar and Rail Wood.

ALEX. McDONALD ESTATE

Phone 69. Cheapside St.

The Evening Examiner.

Pages 7-14

PETERBOROUGH, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 8, 1914

THE CALL TO ARMS HAS AGAIN GIVEN WAY TO THE CALL TO PRAYERS

Easter Will Bring a Measure of Peace and Good-will to Great Britain—Services in Churches

DEMONSTRATIONS OFF

Special Cable to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., April 8.— (Special cable.)—The prospects that Easter will bring a measure of peace and good will to men even between Irishmen with centuries of religious and political differences embittering them, are increasing as the week progresses. While Asquith's walk-over in East Fife was not unexpected, there is no doubt it is acceptable to all parties. Even the fighting Liberals were loth to go about with chips on their shoulders in regard to East Fife. There was a possibility of a reduced majority, as some of the government's recent measures, notably the Insurance Act, were not popular among the sturdy yeomen of that constituency. There are movements among the younger Irishmen both here and in the bigger cities of Ireland to push aside religious differences and settle matters on an economical basis. Pacific signs of the times are evident to-day in despatches from Ireland indicating that in both north and south some of the military demonstrations called for Good Friday have been called off. The call to arms has again given way to the call to prayer. In some churches there will be three days' continuous service and outstanding "Motif" of the whole chorus will be supplications for the peace of Great Britain and Ireland.

FUND FOR THE FAMILIES OF THE VICTIMS

Special to The Examiner:

TORONTO, April 8.—The City Council this afternoon opened a Canadian fund for the widows and orphans of the Newfoundlanders who lost their lives in the recent sealing disasters by voting fifty thousand dollars for that purpose.

"QUEEN ZEPHRA"

You have heard it talked about, you have seen it advertised, you have wondered if it will be all that it is represented.

If it were, you would not miss it.

You can be assured it will be all that it is represented and more, as this is guaranteed by the Conservatory of Music, Orchestra and the management of "Zephra," neither of whom will allow any advertising done that is false and everything that is advertised will be reproduced and much more.

Thursday morning will see the first work in the Grand at placing the carload of beautiful scenery and electrical equipment. The many details of this work take time, and a force of 14 men —stage carpenter, his crew, property men and electricians, will be required to properly handle the work on the stage.

The 150 people in cast are so well up in their parts that nothing remains to be done the rest of this week, but to put the finishing touches on their work, the part of their training that will make a beautiful and artistic production.

The participants have advance sale tickets which are exchangeable at the Grand Box Office on and after Friday next at 9 a.m., and the purchase of these tickets will insure those holding them a saving of time and annoyance when play opens.

Monday night a full and final stage rehearsal will be held in the Grand which will be the only thing necessary to insure perfect smoothness in the run of the production, which is Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, April 14, 15, 16, with a matinee Friday, April 17th.

Plan of seats opens Friday, April 10th, at 9 a.m.

Will The Record Be Broken To-morrow?

To-day is the twenty-seventh day that has passed without a fire alarm being rung in to disturb the tranquility of the local fire station. But the question in the minds of those who are familiar with the history of the local brigade is: "Will the three hold out another day?" The reason for this is that the record number of consecutive days since the organization of the present brigade in which there have been no fires is twenty-eight. To-morrow the record will have been equalled. But if it passes without a fire it will be broken, and the fire laddies will begin to hope for a fire to break the monotony.

WILL CUT BLOCK ON PATTERSON ST.

But the Question Arises as to Which is the Better of Two Proposals —Mr. Baker Wants to Begin Building Right Away

WILL HAVE 42 LOTS

City Engineer Parsons was preparing to-day a report on the plans submitted by Mr. Harry Baker for the opening of a subdivision on Patterson Street. The matter will likely be taken up at the meeting of the Board of Works to-night. The property faces on Patterson Street and extends from Monaghan Road almost half way to Park Street. Mr. Baker proposes to cut this section into 42 lots, opening up three short streets on each side of which there would be six lots. Their frontage is 33 ft. 6 in. with a depth of 76 ft. 8 in. The original plan called for lots 25 ft. by 50 ft., but the City Engineer simply refused to consider it. The Council will be asked to pass the new plan. There is an alternative possibility of running a street from Park Street to the Monaghan Road by taking 33 feet off the back of the lots now facing Patterson and Sherbrooke Streets. If this were carried out Mr. Baker would have 44 lots and the property owners on the south side of Sherbrooke Street would receive another frontage. As the lots are deep it would be possible to build. The owner of the property at the corner of Sherbrooke and the Boundary is said to be opposed to this plan, having two forty foot lots on the boundary which would be reduced to one lot of 47 feet. Mr. Baker has an immense pile of lumber, laths and shingles on the ground and is preparing to build on twenty-five of the lots that will be opened.

Maple Syrup Is Scarce

Price Varies From 40 to 50 Cents a Quart

As a result of various sugaring-off picnics through the maple woods of the country the finished product brown and watery, in the cans with labels or in glass sealers with mother's label written on in lead pencil is seen on every hand at the market. The price varies from 40 to 50 cents a quart and 30 cents a pint. Some farmers who haven't any shake their heads cynically and talk of 1913 and molasses, but it was not a late spring, and the snow in the woods was very light. In any event, their skepticism does not affect its flavour, and one wise seller kept a little jar ready to offer samples to doubters.

The Monday before Easter has not affected the price of eggs, and the price is still 22 cents for guaranteed new-laid. Spring lamb has quietened down to the level of the near-millionaire, and quotes itself at $.50 for hindquarters and $2 for forequarters. Oxtails, which are not as much used as they should be, are 12 cents a pound, and veal from 15 to 20 cents. Some good rib roasts of beef are selling at 18 cents.

TO-DAY'S STOCK MARKET

Special Cable to The Examiner:

TORONTO, April 8.—Receipts were heavy; trade good; prices, varied; no change in cattle; Calves $7 to $10; lights ewes, $6.75 to $7.50; hogs, fed and watered, $9.15 to $9.35; off cars, $9.40; f.o.b., $8.75 to $8.90.

ALDERMAN FOR CENTRE WARD

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Dear Sir,—The resignation of Alderman Gordon, to accept the city solicitorship, leaves a vacancy in the representation of Centre Ward which, I think, can be filled to good advantage without resort to a contested election. Alderman Gordon fully justified the confidence the people reposed in him by returning him at the head of the poll. A similar compliment was extended to Alderman Stratton, and while he headed the poll at the last election, Mr. H. Morgan came within two or three votes of getting elected. Therefore it seems to me that Mr. Morgan, in that way, received assurances of the confidence of the electors of the Ward to a very flattering degree—to a degree, it seems to me, that would justify his election by acclamation, if he will consent to be a candidate. This would avoid the turmoil and expense of a contested election, which latter in the present ticklish state of our finances is something to be shunned by all.

Yours truly,

Centre Ward Merchant.

Women of Ulster Make Bandages for Use if Civil War Comes.—A class of Nurses Working at Elmwood Hall, Belfast, Temporary Training Quarters. Every district in Ulster has its Women's Ambulance Class with specially appointed instructors and doctors. The picture shows such a class at Elmwood Hall, Belfast, which has been turned into temporary training quarters for the loyal women of Ulster.

ONE MONTH WITH HARD LABOUR IN COUNTY GAOL

For Robert Ryan, a Local Man, Charged With Stealing Money From a Drunken Man—Magistrate Reprimands Him

SOME "DON'TS"

Robert Ryan was charged at Police Court this morning with unlawfully carrying away the sum of $15 from the person of Peter Moffatt.

Mr. J. Wearing, Assistant Crown Prosecutor, conducted the case for the Crown, and the services of Mr. McElderry were secured for the prisoner. PeterMoffat was the first witness called. He stated that on March 31st he came to Town, and when he left home he had $16.75 in his pocket. He must have had some liquor, in fact he confessed he did, and, as the Magistrate remarked, "You must have got beastly drunk." His condition rendered the state of his mind a blank, and his evidence this morning was composed of "Don't remembers," or "Don't knows," and the following is a partial list of what he did not know:

Did not know how much money he spent.

Did not know what hotels he was in.

Did not know how many drinks he had.

Could not remember what denomination the bills he possessed were.

Could not remember whether or not he changed any bills.

Did not know how many glasses beer it would take to make him drunk.

Did not know how old he was.

Did not know anything that happened that day, and did not know whether he could sign his own name but said he would try hard.

When he got home he said he felt in his pockets and thought that he was some money short. He was asked by the police if he missed any money and investigation followed.

Stephen Grisdale disposed as to having seen the prisoner at the Palace Hotel on the day in question. Prisoner and Moffatt went into the yard to look at a horse. Witness saw prisoner put his hand into Moffatt's pocket and pull some paper out, and deposit it in his own pockets. Later he met a man by the name of Samuel Newell, to whom he remarked: "It is too bad to see the old man robbed; he has been treating us well all day."

Samuel Newell was then called, and corroborated the former witness' statement.

Mr. McElderry, for the defence, submitted that the evidence of the first witness was very unsatisfactory. The prisoner returned from the woods a short time ago and at that time had about $45 in his possession.

Magistrate Dumble was satisfied, however, that the man had taken money, although the exact amount could not be ascertained. The first witness said that he was short only $5, and as the prisoner could not be charged with stealing $15, as mentioned in the indictment.

"The evidence," said the Court, "is conclusive enough for me to find him guilty, and I sentence him to spend one month in the County Jail with hard labour."

"I am severe on these sort of men" said His Worship, "for I think it is a very mean thing to rob a drunken man."

THEY SAID FAREWELL TO MR. L. M. HAYES

Board of Education Sang "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" in Honour of New Judge for Wellington---Nineteen Years a Member of the Board.

For the first time in many years, and perhaps for the first time in its history, the Board of Education rose in a body last night and sang with considerable gusto, "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" in honour of Mr. L. M. Hayes, who resigned his position on the Board. The vocal effort was followed with three rousing cheers for the departing member of the Board who, after 19 years of service is compelled to sever his connection with it because of his recent appointment to the position of Senior Judge of Wellington County.

Just before last night's meeting adjourned, Dr. Morrison announced that he has received Mr. Hayes' resignation. In the resignation of their friend and confrere, Mr. Hayes, they were in a manner happy not to lose him, but tha this abilities had been recognised. They were indeed sorry to part with one of their members who had been with them so long. He wished on behalf of the Board that Mr. Hayes would enjoy long life, health and the wisdom of Solomon in his new position

Mr. Hill also spoke of his regret at Mr. Hayes' departure. He had been one of the most respected and esteemed members of the Board during the past 19 years. He sincerely hoped that the members of the Board would not fail to have the pleasure of meeting him during the summer months of every season at the summer resort which he had been in the habit of visiting in the past and where he still had a summer home.

On the motion of Messrs. Hill and Burnham the following resolution was passed:

"That this Board extends hearty congratulations to Mr. L. M.Hayes K.C., one of its members, who has been appointed to the honorable and responsible position of Senior Judge of the County of Wellington. Mr. Hayes has been a member of this Board for over 19 years. Chairman of the Board, and for several years Chairman of the Finance Committee. And as a member and as Chairman, and in other official positions on the Board, he has given valuable service to the schools of the City and to the people. We regret very much that Mr. Hayes will sever his connection with the Board, and will leave the City, as his excellent advice and aid have been of great service to the Board, and his thoroughly genial disposition and stirling quauties have made him a highly esteemed citizen."

Then followed the song and the cheers.

In rising to reply Mr. Hayes said, that he had been a member of the Board for 19 years and had been greatly surprised at the members singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." It was the first time to his knowledge that the Board had ever relaxed to such an extent, and he was all the more touched by their action. He could hardly realize that this was the last night with the members of the Board, and he felt he could not sever his connections with it without expressing his gratitude for the various courtesies extended him by the chairmen of the various committees. His connection with the Board had made him certain that the men who now were its members were deserving of the trust imposed upon them year after year.

It was moved by Mr. Eastwood and seconded by Mr. Crane that Mr. Hayes' resignation be accepted with regret.

ROYAL THEATRE

Must Lead With Big Attractions for GOOD FRIDAY

The management of the Royal will offer Friday and Saturday a very expensive programme, and something that the children can enjoy as well as the grown-ups. Mr. Peters, Peterborough's favourite singer, will appear at 3 o'clock and 8:30. Rowley and Garvey and Harry Leander are extra fine entertainers. The "Modern Vendetta" in 3 reels was secured specially for Friday, in spite of all these expensive attractions. The management will not raise the price of admission. Come and spend a pleasant time for 5c and 10c. 2d-83

Headquarters At Owen Sound

Special to The Examiner:

OWEN SOUND, April 8.—The announcement was made here, yesterday, by H. H. Gildersleeve, Manager of the Northern Navigation Co., that the Company's Georgian Bay fleet will hereafter make its headquarters at Owen Sound, instead of Collingwood. The Collingwood office was closed last Fall and the staff taken to Sarnia. Collingwood will still be part of call for the steamers.

WARDEN SHAW REPLIES TO TAXPAYER

To the Editor, The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In reply to "Taxpayer," I wish to make a few plain statements. In his letter to the "Examiner" yesterday, he asks why I have not done more as Reeve and member of the County Council to promote the erection of a new bridge at Gannon's Narrows, and have not been more active in getting the cooperation of the two governments.

I have only to say that if the Dominion and Provincial Governments are willing to do their share in building a new bridge, as th two former governments did in building the present bridge,—each paying one-third of the cost—the County might consider the expenditure of its third; which seems to be a reasonable matter for comsideration, since the County's share will be about $10,000.

If the Dominion and Provincial Governments will agree to this proposal—to each assume its third of the cost of a new bridg—I shall at once call a special meeting of the County Council to consider the matter, and personally use my influence and give my support as I have always done in the past, to secure the much needed new bridge at Gannon's Narrows.

Yours truly,

ROBERT SHAW.

Warden of Peterborough.

NEW CIVIC LEGISLATION IS BEING IGNORED

Laundry Operators Are Slow to Comply With the Recently Enacted By-laws Respecting Laundries

MUST BE INSPECTED

So far to date, four applications have been made for laundry licenses, so it is evident that upwards of twenty proprietors of Chinese laundries have ignored the by-law, that was recently enacted and which provides that each laundry operator doing business within the city limits, secure a license. The by-law came into force on April the first, or one week ago to-day. Considerable doubt exists as to who should enforce the by-laws as enacted by the City Council. The general consensus of opinion points to the police department, as the medium responsible. When application is made for a license, it devolves then, upon Sanitary Inspector Spence, to make an inspection of the premises concerned. Should his report be unfavourable to the applicant, the license is withheld, until such time as the laundry owner complies with the regulations set out in the by-law.

"The Common People!"

The following crudely worded notice was discovered by Sanitary Inspector Spence, tacked up in a local Chinese laundry:

NOTICE—Look that floor—we are must keep cleaning and dont spit on it and wiftnt put the damage tobacco and match in it as it is always keep it be good and I am hope the common people do that well too please."

The foregoing notice is apparently an answer to the edict, that was issued recently through the Board of Health Department, compelling owners of Chinese laundries to keep their premises clean and in a sanitary condition.

WANTS POSITION AS POLICE CHIEF

LINDSAY, April 8.—Daniel McLachlan, of Collingwood, has applied for the position of Chief of Police in Lindsay, understanding that the position was vacant. The applicant says he is 38 years of age, 6 feet 2 inches in height, strong, healthy and married, with 7 of a family. I have 25 years police experience, having acted as police clerk, detective and Chief of Police. I have been trained in the Jiu-Jitsu drill, and hold sanitary and St. Andrew's ambulance certificates.

Mr. McLachlan enclosed his photograph and also the names of men from whom references could be secured.

ANOTHER AVIATOR LOSES HIS LIFE

Special to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., April 8—There was another victim to the aeroplane experiments in the British Army today, when Sergeant Deane of the Aviation Corps fell while making a flight at Farnborough.

MUST SHOW THEIR NAMES

New Market Regulation Will Enable Purchasers to Know Farmers With Whom They Deal

IN EFFECT ON MAY 1

Of the twelve by-laws which were passed at Monday night's Council meeting should be of particular interest to the citizens. That is the amendment of the market by-law, indicating at least some interest in the convenience of the citizens in the Saturday trading. This by-law goes into force on May 1st, its two principal clauses being as follows:

All dead fowls, chickens, turkeys, geese, ducks and other poultry, sold on the market, shall be sold by weight, and shall have attached thereto a ticket showing the correct weight thereof, and shall not be sold or offered or exposed for sale unless they have such ticket attached; and no calf or veal shall be sold or offered or exposed for sale, the dressed weight of which without the head and feet is less than sixty pounds, or if by the quarter less than fifteen pounds.

Every person selling or offering or exposing for sale any article in the second flat of the market building shall display his or her name and address in some conspicuous place on or near the articles offered for sale.

PURCHASED A TEAM OF HORSES

A team of horses, valued at several hundred dollars, arrived in the City today from Toronto. They were consigned to the T. Kinnear Company, wholesale grocers. The animals will make a splendid acquisition to the equine population of the City. It is stated that they will figure in the show ring of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. They will be used by the Company for delivery purposes and to this end a brand new delivery outfit will be provided.

Asquith Is Unopposed

Special Cable to The Examiner:

CUPAR, East Fife, Scotland, April 8—Premier Asquith was automatically reelected to the House of Commons to-day, when he was formally nominated by the Liberals and no candidate put up to oppose him. The Premier will resume the Government leadership in the future action on the Home Rule bill.

CANVAS WAS VERY SUCCESSFUL

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the George Street Methodist Church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. W. Crossman, Brock Street. Mrs. S. R. Armstrong, Vice-President, occupied the chair, and there was a good attendance of the members.

The ladies, who have been making a canvass for money and members, since the last meeting of the Society, made their reports yesterday afternoon. The result of their efforts was very encouraging and in the neighbourhood of $160, as well as a goodly number of new members had been garnered in.

After the business of the meeting the ladies were entertained and refreshments were served by the hostess. The following programme was given:

Solo—Miss Mayole Armstrong.

Recitation—Miss Gladys Fentland.

Solo—Mrs. J. H. Beswick.

Instrumental duet—Mrs. J. G. Lewis and Mrs. A. E. Micks.

Business Paralyzed In Madoc Village

BELLEVILLE, April 8.—There is great uneasiness in the village of Madoc among the depositors in J. C. Dale & Company's private bank, which suspended payment last Wednesday. Mr. Dale is said to be in a state of nervous collapse at a sanatorium and as to the financial conditions it is impossible to make any statement until after the conclusion of the investigation of accounts, now being conducted by a member of the firm of Webb, Read, Hegan, Callingham & Company, chartered accountants, Toronto.

Business is about paralyzed in the village pending the adjustment, and the suspension is the one topic of conversation. Rumours of all kinds are heard upon the streets, but they will be neither denied nor verified by those with inside information until a complete statement is made.

Evening Examiner

Phone: Editorial 1033, Business Office 1033. Private Branch Exchange to all Depart-ments.

The Paid Circulation of The Daily Examiner is Over

4700 COPIES DAILY

SWORN TO AND GUARANTEED

The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited: Office, 419 George Street.

The Weekly Examiner, published Thursday morning.

The subscription price of The Daily Examiner is $4.00 per annum; that of The Weekly, $1.00.

Special U. S. Representative: W. H. Stockwell, 923 People's Gas Building, Chicago, Ill.

Advertising rates on application.

Hon. J. R. STRATTON, President.

E. H. CLOVER, Managing Director.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 8, 1914

CHILD'S PLAY.

Words fail a farmer to express adequate execration of the cow, that patiently surrenders her milk till the pail is full and then kicks it over. The Property Committee of the City Council greatly resembles such a cow. It seems a remarkable thing that a committee, which had met, talked over, deliberated upon and maturely considered the question of dealing with the collection of garbage, and embodied the fruits in its research, in a report, should have gone back on its own report, which was killed by the Council. What in the world is a committee for? In legislative usage a bill that passes the committee stage is considered as having virtually passed into law. The city bill before the Legislature has only passed the committee stage, and is regarded as virtually law, though it will have to submit to the formality of a third reading. The Home Rule Bill in the British Parliament is considered as virtually passed; though it has only passed the committee stage. And it seems that the committee report on the garbage collection question should have been accepted as final; if not the matter of referring a subject to a committee is a vain formality. According to constitutional usage the Property Committee has been defeated and should resign; it has voted want of confidence in itself, and the Council has voted want of confidence in it. When such a vote is passed in respect of a government, the government resigns. The members of the committee have wasted their time. On the basis of their finding expense has been incurred. Tenders have been called for and the result is a little sort of muddle which even the Mayor says he doesn't understand. Civic business as well as any other business should be done in a business way—as men do it and not as children might do it.

REAPING THE SOWING.

The English speaking residents of Montreal are suffering for the sins of their fire-eating Franco phobe friends in Ontario, who have been in the habit of making such heavy onslaughts upon our French Canadian fellow citizens and their religion. Thus they have provoked the inevitable reprisal. In the interests of Montreal it was desirable that Major Stephens, a most capable candidate should be elected to the mayoralty. He was strongly supported on his merits by prominent men of both political parties. He had been chairman of the best harbour commission Montreal ever had, and it was claimed that he would make the best mayor. And his chances seemed to be good, especially as according to a conventional understanding, it was the turn of an English speaking mayor. But racial influences were brought to the surface and the cry was that French speaking Montreal would "teach Ontario a lesson." The race cry, which had for its origin the intemperate violence of Ontario extremists, defeated Major Stephens by 5,000 majority. Thus the minority in Montreal is smitten through the intolerance of and vituperative activity of a section of the majority in Ontario; and thus one of the evils of dividing our citizenship on racial and religious lines, is exemplified. It would not be so bad if this course of action was founded upon principle and not upon party advantage. We were told on the authority of our own representative in Peterborough that the "No Temere" matter had a big influence in electing Mr. Borden in Ontario. Now this same Mr. Borden and his government, out of deference to the Nationalist and French element in his cabinet, has suppressed—forbidden the mails—to a publication called "The Menace," which affected a literature dear to the hearts of a section of the English speaking people of Ontario. And not a whimper of protest— only silence that can almost be cut with a knife.

TWO OF A KIND.

We may not at first thought, think it, but virtually the same principle is involved in the Borden government's tariff legislation and in the Home Rule problem. The fight over Home Rule is a struggle between the reactionary forces, the privileged classes and the ambition to uphold the rights of the democracy — the common people. The privileged classes of Great Britain that have "waxed fat and kicked" at the expense of the common people, are still kicking, because they see their special privileges menaced, and they make common cause with the privileged classes that have so long held the people—the common people of Ireland—in thrall. The protest of Ulster against Home Rule is only an incident—the stage play put on by the classes of privilege who are pulling the strings that put the marionettes in motion, as they think, without being seen. The Borden government is legislating in tariff matters on lines precisely the same in principle—favouring special and powerful interests and, in the process, ignoring the welfare of the mass of the people, the democracy of Canada.

We are accustomed to hear partizans speak of decadent England under free trade conditions. But the story of its immensely expanding trade does not justify such a characterization. Nor does its legislative record under a Liberal Government show that it is lacking in the will and ability to go forward and upward, to put within reach of the masses the benefits of advanced legislation. Great Britain is called the Mother of Parliaments, and the cradle of the highest liberty and enjoyment of right; and it was never more active and energetic than now in an agency in this regard. Witness the record of the present Liberal Government. What is the record?

"The present government of Great Britain has, in the last nine years, placed upon the statute book a great body of legislation for social reform—in the interests of the common people. Here are some of the beneficent laws: Compensation for workmen; protection for sailors; encouragement for those who want to go 'back to the land'; old age pensions for worn-out workmen and their wives; short hours for miners; protection for children employed in factories; labour exchanges to bring together workmen who need jobs and employers who need help; insurance for workmen against sickness and unemployment; half holidays and proper meal times for shop workers; a living wage and health and safety for coal miners."

The provision of these reforms and more of the same kind in the Asquith government's programme, is the real cause of the Ulster hubub. The privileged classes, the large land holders, the landlords, the silken social magnates see the door of the special privileges they have battened upon for centuries closing in their faces, hence the conspiracy to make Ulster's objetion to Home Rule the last stand for their fight for their special privileges. The danger is so imminent, the condition so desperate that even the horrors of civil war are not considered too small a price to pay for the retention of special privileges enjoyed at the expense of the democracy. The Asquith Government must be destroyed.

IF ASQUITH IS DESTROYED?

Back of all the purely party clamour and intrigue now going on at Westminster two facts stand out clear and distinct. The first is that an overwhelming majority of the people of Ireland are for Home Rule. The second is that the people of the United Kingdom as a whole declared for Home Rule at the last election.

A minority in Ireland is threatening, by force of arms, to prevent the Parliament of the United Kingdom from giving effect to the popular mandate. That minority has the active sympathy, if not the promised support, of the privileged classes in England, and their connections who largely fill the higher posts in the army. That sympathy and support are based, not on any affiliation in sympathy with Ulster, but on a desire to use Ulster as a means of destroying a Government which has done more to curb Privilege and advance Democracy in the United Kingdom in the last five or six years than had been accomplished in many years before, and a Government which Privilege fears may go further along the road already entered upon.

If the effort now being made to destroy the Asquith Government succeeds not only will the cause of Democracy be set back, but anarchy may easily result. If a minority in Ulster, by a show of force, blocks Home Rule to-day, an overwhelming majority in all Ireland may resort to force to-morrow to compel Home Rule. If the Tory officers of crack regiments are allowed to say whether they will or will not support the civil power to-day we may see the private in the ranks refusing to give similar aid to-morrow, when dissatisfied Labour is the cause of the disturbance. The way is prepared for an untold chain of evils when appeal is taken from the Ballot to the Sword.—Weekly Sun.

FOUND

2 PARCELS FOUND, ONE CONTAINING corded Dresden silk and one tan poplin. Owners can have same on applying at Examiner.

HONEST TORY VIEW OF COST AND CHARACTER OF TRANSCONTINENTAL

Mr. Tom King, one of the ablest members of the Press Gallery at Ottawa, in writing to his paper, the Toronto World (Tory) among other things, says:

"The Debate upon the National Transcontinental Railway has occupied practically the entire week. I say the debate upon the railway because the discussion has gone far beyond a review of the report filed by the investigation Commission which is nominally the subject before the House. This has been unavoidable, if only because Messrs. Gutelius and Lynch-Staunton, in their report discussed not only the mistakes and misdeeds of the old N.T.R. commission, but reviewed the political and economic policies involved in the planning, construction and future operation of the National Transcontinental Railway.

"The debate has not been without interest even though it traversed ground already well worn by many a parliamentary conflict. Hon. George P. Graham made a really notable speech. It has to be doubted whether the case against the investigating Commission and its report could have been presented more impressively. It has been objected that the speech was too long, but that objection applies to nearly every speech delivered in parliament. Its length is in a large part accounted for by the enormous mass of detail with which Mr. Graham has to deal, but lengthy as it may seem to those who have occasion to read it, it was to those who heard it neither tedious nor prolix."

• • • •

"Now what is the truth about the National Transcontinental?

"In the first place it may be as well for all hands around to agree upon a few elementary facts. The road, after all, is our property, we must try to make it efficient, and we must try, if possible, to make it pay.

"Now the National Transcontinental or, to speak more correctly, the eastern division of the National Transcontinental, extending eighteen hundred miles between Moncton, N. B., and Winnipeg, has cost, up to date, 140 million dollars, and will cost, when completed, 160 million dollars. This included bridges, sidings, stations, yards, shops, terminals, 'round houses, water tanks, and everything required for the immediate operation of a first-class railway. To this may be added interest upon the money invested to, say, Jan. 1, 1915, which brings the total cost of the finished road up to $180,000,000, or $100,000 a mile. The Western Division of the National Transcontinental, constructed by the Grand Trunk Pacific, with the aid of the Government, cost considerably less, the prairie construction being comparatively inexpensive, so that the road from sea to sea will be capitalized at $85,000 a mile.

"By compounding interest long enough and at a high enough rate, you can figure out that the road between Moncton and Winnipeg has cost, or at some time in the near future, will have cost $234,000,000, or $320,000,000, or any other amount that you choose to make it. By a similar device, the cost of the parliament buildings can be easily increased from $5,000,000 to $25,000,000."

• • • •

"But the pivotal fact is that the road will actually cost $160,000,000, a large part of which has been paid out of current revenue. It is to be doubted whether the road as it stands represents an increase of more than $76,000,000 in our national debt. I refer now to the government owned road between Moncton and Winnipeg. On the whole, it is probably not more of a burden than the intercolonial, which is capitalized at $100,000, and will have to be largely rebuilt if it is be an up-to-date railway.

"As to the physical perfection of the National Transcontinental, there seems to be no dispute. Such a road, say, between New York and Chicago, would carry a much greater capitalization. The objection ot the National Transcontinental is that it runs through a new country, almost a wilderness, unlikely to produce much local business, yet it is probably as promising a proposition as was the Canadian Pacific at its inception, and many of the lugubrious prophecies respecting the earning power of the National Transcontinetal may go down to history in company with the unfortunate epigram of the late Mr. Blake respecting the inability of the Canadian Pacific to earn enough money to pay for the axle grease necessary for its operation."

SITUATION WANTED

SITUATION WANTED ON FARM BY good, experienced Ploughman. R. D., 154 George St., Peterborough, Ont. 3d-82-1w-15-4745

LOST

LOST—A SMALL FOB OFF WATCH chain. Finder return to Examiner. Receive reward. 2d-81-4766

STRAYED FROM 546 WATERFORD ST. Brown and White Collie Pup. Tag 14. Reward at above address. 3d-81-4760

LOST—A GOLD LOCKET AND CHAIN on Sunday. Finder leave at Examiner Office. 3d-81-4725

WANTED

WANTED—SEWING. SEVERAL YEARS' experience in shop. Address 467 Downie Street. 2d-81-4730

WANTED

We have vacancies for several Domestic servants in first-class homes. Married couple without encumbrance for country. Farm hands with or without experience.

DOMINION EMPLOYMENT BUREAU
'PHONE 1214 174½ CHARLOTTE

"CHEER UP"

THE BEST IS YET TO COME!

If you save your money and BUY A LOT.

The best investment on EARTH in Earth itself.

Lots from $100 to $3000. Cash or Easy Terms by

T. Walker AND Co.
377 Park St. 'Phone 1002
The Original Lot Specialist

HELP WANTED—Female

WANTED—SALESLADY. Apply Zacks Bros., 422 George Street. 3d-81-4730

GOOD GIRL WANTED TO ASSIST IN Small Family. Apply 96 Dewes. 3d-81-4729

LADIES' WANTED TO WORK SPARE time at home. Box 44, Niagara Falls, Ontario. 6d-81-4722

LADIES WANTED FOR PERMANENT home work, colouring pictures; can make $15.00 to $20.00 weekly; experience unnecessary; material supplied; no canvassing. Royal Art Company, 58 James Chambers, Toronto. 2d-5-w-46-4666

HELP WANTED—MALE

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN, BRAKEmen, wages about $100 experience unnecessary. Send age, postage. Railway, care Examiner. 28d-78-4679

AGENTS WANTED

AGENTS, MAKE BIG MONEY HANDLING our fast-selling goods. Exceptional opportunity. Write to-day. Troy Contracting Company, Cosgrave Building, Toronto, Ont. 28d-56-4296

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE. WE have specialty selling at right to automobile owners. Big profits. Investigate immediately. Clyde Specialty Co., 68 River St., Verdun, Que.

AGENTS WANTED—WE HAVE AN UNusual premium proposition; every person will be interested. No outlay necessary. Apply B. C. I. Co., Ltd., 128 Albert St., Ottawa, Ont. dtf-151-3610

$15 WEEKLY TO ONE PERSON IN EACH locality taking order for cut-rate groceries. Redpath's best granulated sugar 4 cents pound, 3 bars Comfort, Sunlight or Surprise soap, 25 cents. Outfit free. National Supply Co., Windsor, Ont. 1w-15-4752

TO RENT

TO RENT—GOOD ROOM AND BOARD with private family. Apply Examiner Office.

UNFURNISHED ROOMS TO RENT. ONE child not objected to. 494 Waterford Street. 3d-82-4738

TO RENT—A COMFORTABLE LITTLE Cottage, 547 Downie, 4 rooms and bathroom. Apply to D. W. Dumble, 559 Downie, or Office. 3d-82-4764

FOR RENT—STORE AND DWELLING-House combined. Good business section. For particulars apply to No. 559 Water Street, City. dtf-76-4653

TO LET—A GOOD, WELL FURNISHED, steam heated Front Room for two gentlemen. Apply 64 Hunter Street. 28d-63

TO RENT—STORE, NO. 175½ SIMCOE ST. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-111-3619

TO RENT—GROCERY STORE, WITH large cellar. Yard and stable. Good location. Apply to "Owners," 155 Antrim Street, City. dtf-59

TO RENT—ROOMS ON HUNTER STREET, between George and Aylmer, suitable for two dwellings. Apply 437 George. dtf-39

TO RENT—ONE STORE IN GRAND Opera House Block. Steam heating. Immediate possession. Apply J. J. Turner & Sons. dtf-52-4069

TO RENT—FURNISHED ROOMS, ALL conveniences. Apply 514 Water St. 6d-78-4682

FOR SALE

TWO GOOD COOK STOVES FOR SALE. Apply 12 Inverlea. 5d-w.m.tu-81-4749

KITCHEN RANGE WITH RESERVOIR. Good baker. Cheap. 577 Bethune St. 3d-82-4733

FOR SALE—GOOD AXMINSTER CARPET, 13½ x 26; also good Rug, 2 good Persian Lamb Coats. Apply 190 Brock St. 2d-82-4736

FOR SALE—HOUSE, NO. 270 KING ST. All modern improvements. Hot water heating. 50 feet frontage. Apply to 332 Stewart Street. 28d-77-4673

FOR SALE—16 LOTS, WORTH $175 EACH, for $2,250, near De Laval Factory. Also buy or sell or exchange City or farm property. See John Bell, 451 Water St. 'Phone 1231.

LOTS SINGLY OR EN BLOC, FOR SALE near new factories, school and street car. J. S. Bell, 451 Water Street. Tel. 1231 28d-69-4w-13-4560

FOR SALE OR TO RENT ON EASY terms—One New Brick House on McGill Street. Small payment down. Will rent house at $15.00 per month. Handy to factories. Apply to A. H. Stratton and Co., over Medill's Drug Store. tf-m w f-81-4446

TEAMSTERS — READ THIS — A GOOD Solid Brick House, two-storey, double verandah, six rooms, water and light; stands 18 ft. x 30 ft., on a stone foundation, room for 2 head of horses, on a lot 34 ft. x 200 ft. Centrally located, a good buy at $2,250. Apply ... Gibbs, 174½ Charlotte.

ATTRACTIVE BARGAIN OFFERED ON substantial 8-Roomed Brick House, Rosewood Ave. Bathroom and conveniences. New furnace. Beautiful locality. Lot, 50 x 132. Small solid stable. Rent will more than meet interest and payments. Reason for selling, owner removed to Toronto. Apply 566 Bethune Street. 2d-81-4751

FOR SALE — FRAME DWELLING AND Store contained, and one-quarter of an acre of Land. Situated near church and school, eight miles from Norwood, five miles from Warsaw. Will be sold cheap if taken at once. Apply to 261 Simcoe Street, Peterborough, Ont. 2d-81-4764

FOR SALE — ONE GOOD HOUSE, NEW, just completed, with every modern convenience. Six rooms and bathroom on Cavanagh to old factories. Situated on corner lot. Purchaser requested to act quick and make down and give poss. Offer on easy terms. Must buying in the City, as it must be sold. Apply to 321 Charlotte Street. dtf-32

REAL ESTATE AND BUSINESS CARDS

NOTICE

J. R. DOCHERTY IS PREPARED TO undertake Painting and Repairing Church Steeples, Painting of Water Tanks, Smoke Stacks and Houses a specialty. 'Phone 1495, or 850 Water St. 28d-46-4681

PAINTING AND PAPER-HANGING AND Graining—I am prepared to do all kinds of painting and paper-hanging in a satisfactory manner and at reasonable prices. W. Keller, 169 James Street. 'Phone 1412. 28d-74-4613

PATENTS

HERBERT J. S. DENNISON, REGISTERED Attorney, 18 King Street West, Toronto. Patents, Trade Marks, Designs, Copyrights, protected everywhere. Eighteen years' experience. Write for booklet. 41f-94

GEORGE H. BOWEN
B. A. Sc., Registered Patent Attorney Mechanical and Electrical Engineer. Inventions developed and patented. Trade-marks registered.
34 Victoria St. Toronto

TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS & DESIGNS
PATENTS
STANLEY G. LIGHTFOOT
PATENT SOLICITOR AND ATTORNEY
LUMSDEN BLDG. (6 KING ST. W.) TORONTO.
WRITE FOR TERMS. M. 3753.

REAL SNAPS!

Double Dwelling on Wolfe St., will yield over 12½ per cent. on investment.

2 Lots on McGill Street, in good location.

Lot on Romaine Street, can be bought at a Bargain.

Market Garden to Rent and one for Sale.

New Modern Dwelling on George St. For Sale at a price below valuation.

R. J. KIDD
Agent for Fire, Life and Plate Glass Insurance British, Canadian and American Companies
'Phone 672 374 Water St.

A GOOD BUY

Modern brick house on Fredrick Ave., mantel and fireplace, front and back stairs, pantry, four bedrooms, bath, closets and cloak room, hot water in basement for laundry, cement floor outside entrance, also barn room for horse, buggy car. $3250.00. Apply to

MIGHT & TAYLOR
376 Water Street 10d-78

$1875 TAKES THIS

NEW TWO AND A HALF STOREY RED BRICK HOUSE, 7 rooms, light and water, 2 verandahs, and sleeping porch, cement floor in cellar, and cement walks, good location. This house would be a good buy at $2200. For terms apply to W. J. Koster, 599 Gilmour Street.

CENTRAL PROPERTY

AYLMER STREET

We have for sale in the centre of the City and on one of the best residential streets a House with four bedrooms and bathrooms, good clothes closets, parlour, dining rooms, kitchen summer kitchen, 33 ft. frontage and 100 ft. deep, hardwood floors. This property can be bought on good terms.

PRICE - $3800.00

ASK

C. J. Carroll & Co
THEY KNOW
372 WATER STREET
'Phone 422 Open Evenings
"WE SELL THE EARTH"

AUTO LIVERY

AUTO LIVERY — AUTOMOBILES TO Rent. Good autos, equipped with electric lights and shock absorbers. Careful chauffeurs. C. B. Banks. 'Phones 502 and 1021.

BOARDING HOUSES

MONTREAL HOUSE — TEMPERANCE House; Boarding House, Lunch Room, and Soft Drinks. Reasonable board by the week. 302 Aylmer St., 304 King St. James Head, Proprietor.

GUN REPAIRING

GUN REPAIRING—GUNS OF ALL MAKES repaired promptly. C. B. Banks, 302 George Street. 28d-107-4469

HOTELS

AMERICAN HOTEL — A HOME AWAY from home; good accommodation; centrally located. American plan. Sam Long, Mgr. 169 Hunter St. 'Phone 434.

JUNK AND COAL

COAL. COAL. COAL.

COAL IS ONE OF THE BIGGEST ITEMS of expenditure in your home, and we believe you are interested in the explanation, comparison and POSITIVE PROOF OF WHY CONNELL ANTHRACITE COAL IS THE BEST TO BUY. PRESENT PRICE—$7.50 PER TON. Our prices are the lowest. We aim to give our patrons Coal at a Fair Price at all times. Rush your orders and we will promptly deliver. LOW & CO. Office and Yards, 395 Bethune St. Tel. Bell 697.

MUSIC

PETERBOROUGH CONSERVATORY OF Music—Rupert Gliddon, Musical Director. 16th Year. A staff of 20 Resident and Visiting Teachers. Subjects taught: Piano, Vocal, Violin and other Stringed Instruments, Wind Instruments, Musical Theory. Social and Fancy Dancing. Corner of Hunter and Rubidge Streets. 'Phone 355.

MILLINERY

PETERBOROUGH MILLINERY PARlours — All latest styles in Millinery. Call and see our stock. Mrs. W. B. Armstrong, 435 George St. Old T.A.B. Rooms.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

THE RICHMOND STUDIO, 147 HUNTER Street, Corner George and Hunter Sts., is the place to go for Good Photographs. We specialize in Photographic Enlargements. See our new Flexible Mountings. Quality High—Prices Low. R. Farthing, Proprietor.

HAIR STORE

MRS. BYRNE'S HAIR STORE — ALL kinds hair goods, pads, shampooing and dressing. 424 George Street.

PIANOS AND MUSIC

W. L. TAYLOR — ... IN HIGH-Grade Pianos and Real Estate. 350 Water Street. 'Phone 1468.

REAL ESTATE

A FIRST-CLASS COTTAGE, LARGE CORner lot, 75 x 116 ft. All in good repair. South End. Price, $1,350; terms cash. A number of Houses, below $1,000, will sell at terms of $100 down; balance per monthly payments from $10 to $20. Now is the time to get a home of your own on monthly payments. Apply J. A. Gibbs, 174½ Charlotte Street.

SOCIETIES

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY FOR CARE of Neglected and Ill-Treated Children—Incorporated by Act of Legislature. Information required. Informant's Name kept Strictly Private. Children for adoption. Geo. Cochrane, Agent and Assistant Secretary.

SHOE REPAIRING

W. A. GREENSLADE, ELECTRICAL SHOE Repairing Shop. You do not buy any more by having your boots neatly repaired and finished equal to new by our up-to-date machines. Come in and see how it is done. Oak leather used on all sewn work. Shoes put on, ground and conceved. Corner Charlotte and Aylmer.

SKATING RINK

BROCK STREET ROLLER RINK OPEN for the Season. See our advertisement in other part of the paper, giving particulars of skating programme.

STOVES AND RANGES

WE SELL ON YOUR OWN TERMS — Weekly or monthly payments. New Empress Steel Range, Kitchen Cabinets, Chemical Closets, Sewing Machines, Standard Oak Heaters. One second-hand Singer Sewing Machine, drop head, at $15. Also a number of second-hand Stoves at a bargain. Call and see us. Open nights, Monday and Friday excepted. The National Manufacturing Co., 334 Water Street. Geo. E. Hazell, Manager.

STEAM LAUNDRIES

THE PETERBOROUGH LAUNDRY — ALL work laundered with the greatest care. W. P. Hetherington, Prop. 179 Charlotte Street. 'Phone 46.

FANNING'S STEAM LAUNDRY — ALL work laundered with the greatest care; no tearing or damaging the goods. 288 George Street. Both 'Phones 343.

TYPEWRITERS

PETERBOROUGH TYPEWRITER CO — Typewriter and office supplies of every description. Typewriter repairs. 'Phone 655.

SPECIALS

First-class modern brick house with furnace situated on Stewart St. east front south of Charlotte St. Price
$2650.00
Terms.

Modern red brick house on Dublin St. Price
$2050.00
Terms.

A fine brick cottage, stone foundation, light and water, large lot, on Dalhousie St. Price
$1500.00
Terms easy.

One lot with sewer and water past, south front. Price
$400.00

A red brick house newly decorated, new plumbing, large lot and in a first-class locality, south of Charlotte St. Price
$2300.00

A pair of modern houses, complete plumbing, 5 rooms
$3400.00
for the 2, South City.

If you have anything for sale or to rent, list at 324 George St.

H. J. McCANNAN,
Real Estate and Building Contractor
Office 324 George St., C. P. Railway Store Entrance. 'Phone 749.
Open Evenings. — Call — Information Cheerfully Given.

SPEND YOUR MONEY FOR THE GOODS AS ADVERTISED IN THE EXAMINER

VACANT LOTS

Gladstone Ave. South Side
2 lots 30 x 150 each....$7 per ft.
2 lots 30 x 150 each....$8 per ft.

Cameron St. North Side
1 lot 30 x 180 to 12 ft lane..$100
7 lots 30 x 180 " " each $175
8 lots 30 x 180 " " each $150
6 lots 30 x 180 " " each $160
4 lots 30 x 180 " " each $160
1 lot 50 x 185 " " $285

Monaghan Road, East Side
3 lots 30x90 to 10 ft. lane ea. $150

Park St., West Side
3 lots 28, 27, 27 x 90..each $100

George St. West Side, N. Lake
1 lot 40x100, price on application
Cor. lot 50x74 " "

Gladstone Ave., South Side
4 lots, 30 x 150 ..... each $300
4 lots, 30 x 150 ..... each $360

House and lot, 158 Lake St..$1600

REAL ESTATE GENERAL AGENTS — INSURANCE COMMISSION BROKERS

181 Charlotte St.
116 Hunter St.
Night 'Phone 1462. Day 'Phone 116

Blewett's List

Three Lots, with sewer, water and street car in front of them, each lot 66 ft. frontage, on Hunter.

One of the best Lots on Elm Ave. Cheap for quick sale.

75 feet on Charlotte Street West $10 per foot

Lots on Alberton Ave., $6 per foot

Murray and Alberton Ave. Lots, new extension, $7 to $10 per foot

Good Lot on Rosewood Ave., 46 ft. frontage, fine finish, at less than property alongside is selling for.

Apply to C. BLEWETT
173 Charlotte Street
con. Peel and Carlisle Co. 'Phone 1351

PETERBORO REAL ESTATE

Modern Houses
Building Lots
Business
Opportunities

Western Realty Investments
Crown Building 118 Hunter St. Telephone 654

Easter, Reading

If you intend to travel, have a good Book to read on the train, or for a quiet day at home there is a wonderful choice in our big list of

1000 Titles at 59c Each

Here are a few taken at random from our book-shelves—

Quincy
Within The Law
Guest Wilding
The Virginian
The Black Creek Stopping House
The Second Chance
The Iron Woman
The Man He Will
The Silver Horde
Treasure Valley
Restless Points
The Silver Maple
The Mistress of Shenstone
The Winning of Barbara Worth
Calling of Dan Matthews
Set in Silver
Freckles
Girl of the Limberlost
Love of the Wild
Round the Corner in Gay Street
Strawberry Acres
When Patsy Went to College
The Trail of '98
A Canadian Bank Clerk

Buy One of These for Easter—59c

Get our list of over 1000 titles.

Trebilcock Bros.

417 George St. - - - 'Phone 285

EASTER HATS

We are showing pretty adaptations of the New Styles for Spring Wear.

The collection includes clever and artistic devices in—

NEW SAILOR HATS with fore and aft trimming

SIMPLE SPRING HATS of Straw and Taffeta.

IMPORTED SPRAYS AND MOUNTS

Peterborough Millinery Parlours

MRS. W. B. ARMSTRONG, Proprietress 435 George St.
Miss Horsfield in Charge Up Stairs Old T.A.S. Rooms

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL

Spring Prices Dropped One Month Earlier Than Usual.

I sell exclusively Lehigh Valley Coal Company's Coal. THE BEST IN THE WORLD PROPERLY SCREENED at the following Cash Prices, to come in effect April 1st, 1914.

Egg Coal	-	$6.75 per Ton
Stove Coal	-	$6.75 per Ton
Nut Coal	-	$7.00 per Ton
Pea Coal	-	$6.00 per Ton

Early buyers are asked to order as soon as possible, and not wait till end of month, as prices quoted are for present delivery, so we will be pleased to have your orders by Mail, 'Phone or Personal Call at the Office.

Thanking the general public for the very large patronage of the past season, I hope by strict attention to your requirements to merit a continuance of the same.

J. E. A. FITZGERALD

'PHONE 181.

BIG ROADS SCHEME

Highways Board Recommends Establishment of Departments

WOULD SPEND $30,000,000

TORONTO, April 8.—The program of the Highways Commission was laid on the table of the Legislature by Hon. Dr. Reaume yesterday. In it appears the outline of a plan by which the entire road system of old Ontario will be completely reorganized.

The outstanding proposal of the whole is a 30-million-dollar expenditure on Ontario market and trunk roads, the same to take place in the next fifteen years, and contributed to by cities and motorists, with a reorganized department under a Minister and deputy and an unpaid advisory commission of three. The capital sum is to be raised by a bond issue, the interest and sinking fund outlays bringing the annual expenditure on permanent highways at the close of fifteen years to $2,500,000, at the rate of $1 per head of population.

The immediate proposals of the commission are:

1. Counties now under the Highway Act should be encouraged to continue road work this summer, and the regulations should be made elastic to allow other counties to begin work and thereby take advantage of the aid thereunder.

2. There should be created a sufficient organization to carry on this summer the following investigations:

(a) A motor survey of principal roads to determine their physical condition.

(b) A traffic census to determine the present road needs of the province.

(c) An investigation of main township road conditions.

(d) An investigation of the Hamilton-Toronto and Ottawa-St. Lawrence roads, obtaining plans and specifications of same.

(e) An investigation designed to outline a plan of market roads for counties not now operating under the Highway Act.

(f) A determination of suburban areas about principal centres.

The commissioners divide the provincial highways into two classes, county or market roads subdivided into suburban, interurban and rural and township roads. Suburban roads lie adjacent to the city in an area to be fixed by the province, and are to be maintained by trustee boards, comprising representatives of city and county. The contribution of cities should be 20 per cent. on construction and 33 1-3 per cent. towards maintenance. Remaining construction charges would be divided into 30 per cent. for county and 40 per cent. for province, the last including motor fees. If the cost of construction exceeds $1,000 per mile, the excess would be raised by a local improvement tax.

Interurban roads, or large traveled highways between cities, would have costs apportioned at 33 1-3 per cent. to county and remainder to province, one-half of latter coming from motor fees. In maintenance, 60 per cent. would rest on county and 40 per cent. on province, but such roads as Toronto-Hamilton road would be supported largely by cities.

Rural market roads would remain under control of county councils or of permanent commission appointed by them, construction and maintenance charges alike devolving 60 per cent. on county and 40 per cent. on province. On township roads it is suggested that Ontario spend $250,000 annually for three years, apportioning $50,000 on basis of assessment, $50,000 on basis of population and $150,000 on area on condition that every township spend $4 for every $1 by the Government, that proper drainage be installed, that roads be dragged, that statute labor be abolished or commuted, and that a proper road organization be established. The commission wants to bring the 48,500 miles of township roads to a high standard and to 86 7,000 county road mileage to bear the heavy demands of traffic.

To meet the scheme an expenditure of thirty millions is needed, and the province and counties would advance twelve millions apiece with cities six millions, this occurring over a 15-year period.

The revenue of the province would be supplemented by increased motor taxation fixed according to the ruling of the commission on horse-power for automobiles and per ton in case of trucks.

The selection of an advisory commission of three public-spirited men, to act as an unpaid board, co-operating with the Deputy Minister of Roads, is considered a solution of the provincial organization question.

May Make Armories "Dry."

OTTAWA, April 8.—To further the cause of temperance amongst the rank and file of the militia, the Hon. Col. Hughes said yesterday that he was seriously thinking of issuing an order forbidding the sale or use of intoxicating liquor in the drill halls throughout the Dominion.

"There are several drill halls in which the officers do not allow liquor to be used or sold, but as I have said, we are seriously thinking of having it out of all the drill halls," said the Minister.

A drill hall order would banish liquor from the officers' and sergeants' mess in a number of places.

Her First Visit.

Mrs. Youngbride—I'd like some fish please. What are these in the barrel?

Clerk—Salt mackerel, ma'am.

Mrs. Youngbride—Are they quite fresh.

LANE & EANO

UNDERTAKERS AND FURNITURE DEALERS

REMOVAL SALE OF FURNITURE

IN THEIR OWN NEW BUILDING

186 HUNTER STREET 8 DOORS WEST OF OLD STAND

GET OUR PRICES BEFORE BUYING.

Easter Music on the Victrola

All the Beautiful Hymns and Anthems that delight you on Easter Sunday are yours to hear and enjoy all the year round, if you own a Victrola.

Ask your nearest "His Master's Voice" dealer to play these Easter Records for you.

Ten-Inch Double-Sided Victor Records 75c.

Beautiful Isle of Somewhere (Easter Hymn) / Christ Arose (Easter Hymn)	Harold Jarvis / Hayden Quartet	16008
The Palms / The Holy City	Henry Macdonough / " "	16408
Oh Lord, Most Holy / Calvary	Trinity Choir / Elsie Baker	17240
Messiah—I Know That My Redeemer Liveth	Lucy Marsh	70071
Hosanna—Easter Song (In English)	Herbert Witherspoon	74279
Crucifix (Faure)	Caruso-Journet	89054
Ave Maria (Gounod)	Melba-Kubelik	89073
Gloria (Mozart) (from Twelfth Mass	Lyric Quartet	31589

Berliner Gram-o-phone Co.

LIMITED

115 Lenoir Street, Montreal

Dealers in Every Town and City.

VICTOR VICTROLAS and RECORDS

Visit our Victrola Department and have us play your favourite selection.

Special agents---THE J. M. GREENE MUSIC CO. Ltd.

Greene Music Building Charlotte Street

With Infantry And Cavalry

The officers of the 57th Regiment were highly pleased at the large turnout last evening when the first regular drill of the season was held. It was an indication, they said, of a good season, as usually the attendance at the first parade is a meagre one.

Col. Clegg was unavoidably delayed, and it was rather late in the evening before Capt. McLean, senior captain, took command and assembled the regiment in companies in the hall with the brass and bugle bands both in attendance.

No. 6 Company boasted of the largest number on parade.

The order was a short march out, and two hundred and sixty-seven strong, the regiment paraded down George Street, up Water, across Murray Street and back to the Armouries. The first parade of the season was looked upon almost wonderingly by the citizens, who were evidently interested spectators, who, while not taking an active part in the regiment, regard its welfare as one of their many hobbies.

The Band last night boasted of an attendance of 36 men, and many people were heard to remark, how well they played.

The fololwing was the strength of the various companies, etc., on parade last night: Officers 26. A Co'y, 12; B Co'y 17; C. Co'y 33; D. Co'y 15; E. Co'y 29; F. Co'y, 32; G. Co'y, 20; H Co'y, 20; Band 36, Bugle Band 21, Signallers 3.

On the return to the drill hall, the companies were handed over to their various officers for instruction. Sergt. Instructor Dunkerley took charge of a large squad of recruits, and under his moulding they were turned out something like soldiers at the end of the evening.

About 10 o'clock the regiment was called to attention, the order was given, "slope arms," and the rendition of the National Anthem concluded the evenings's work. "Officers fall out," and the well known order "dismiss" signified that there would not be another parade until Tuesday next.

A large number of recruits were sworn in before the colonel last evening. A medical officer is becoming more strict, and only men who have the necessary measurement are accepted. It was announced that recruiting would cease on the first Tuesday in May, to allow of the men attaining an efficient knowledge of their work before they went to camp.

Recruits drill will be held on Thursday night at the armouries, under Sergt. Inst. Dunkerley. Regular parade on Tuesday next.

Although arrangements have not been definitely decided, it is an assured fact that the men will be treated to a very enjoyable outing this year. The commanding officer has received invitations from several places, but a meeting of officers will determine the rendezvous.

With the 3rd R.C.D's.

Class in connection with the Prince of Wales' 3rd have been held in the Armouries for the past six weeks. Tonight is the last of the series, and on Friday the men who have been taking the course will go to Toronto and qualify for positions. The instructor, Sgt. Spalding of the Cavalry Barracks, Toronto, has conducted his work in a thorough, orderly manner, and his services have been greatly appreciated by the men who have been under his guidance, and also by the commanding officers of the squadrons to which the men were attached.

All are asked to be present to-night, as the whole of the work will be reviewed. The men will leave on Friday morning at 6.18, C.P.R., and immediately on their arrival at Toronto will report at the Stanley Barracks.

The following may be of interest to members of the 3rd R.C.D.'s.

Major C. T. Van Straubenzie, commanding "A" Squadron of R. C.D. at St. John's, Quebec, has passed his examination in Part I. tactical fitness to command. Although Major J. H. Elmsley is next senior for the command, being seconded for staff duty, this leaves Major Van Straubenzie next for the command of the Regiment of R.C.D.'s.

SLEEP, THE BEAUTY DOCTOR.

Women should have more sleep than men. When it comes to a matter of keeping one's youth and good looks, hours of refreshing sleep is the beauty doctor.

All the creams and powders in the world can not work magic for the woman who does not know enough to go to bed when she should. To cut down one's hours of sleep, is to reckon with wrinkles. Most women seem to think that what they fail to accomplish during the day can be made up at night, and as a result the clock strikes twelve or one before they even begin to get ready to retire. We all know the average time it takes a woman to prepare for bed. This is all a mistake, and if you wish to retain your youth and good looks, be sure to get your "beauty sleep."

Tests covering several years in a Stockholm school have shown that children continually exposed to the influence of electric currents grow faster and improve more rapidly mentally than those not so exposed.

The inventor of a corrugated propellor for motorboats claims it arrests the centrifugal action of the water along the blades and increases the driving power of the machinery without increasing the fuel consumption.

Radway's Ready Relief

Orwell Main, 43rd St., New York, writes: "My wife suddenly fell very sick with inflammation. I called in the doctor, but he failed to help her any. We have no time to be sick, so I brought my own doctor and with Radway's Ready Relief and Pills I relieved the inflammation in Kidneys, Bladder and Pelvis, and she was back to work two days later."

COLDS AND CROUPS

Simply rub Relief to the throat and chest until the surface smarts and reddens. Give Radway's Pills in such doses as will freely move the bowels. For a sudden cold take a dose of Radway's Pills and a teaspoonful of Relief with a teaspoonful of molasses, in a tumbler of hot water. Retire at once to bed, in the morning the cold will be gone.

RADWAY & CO., Montreal, Can.

"FAGOTS"

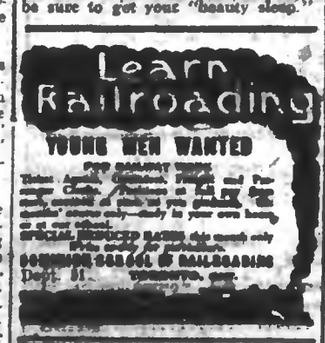
For Friday, an Englishman's favorite Dish, made after the favorite manner, by

WOODHOUSE, the Fishman

Open in new hour, day or night. If you want Fish cooked to the taste of a connoisseur.

The Best Fish and Chip Restaurant

305 George St.



TO

The Drink Habit

THE REAL THREE DAYS' TREATMENT

For the liquor habit will break these shackles. A simple, safe and effective treatment. Write or 'phone for particulars.

NEAL INSTITUTE,
78 St. Albert's Street,
TORONTO.

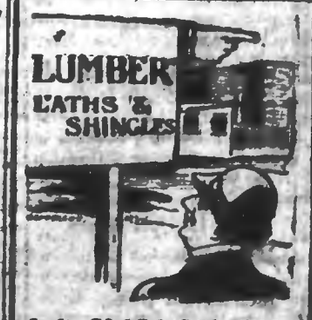
EASTER

Candy Baskets and Chocolate Eggs at

THE MARATHON CANDY KITCHEN

331 George St. Next to Bank of Hamilton.

ICE CREAM ALL YEAR ROUND



4-ft. SLABS FOR SALE

Cut from Elm, Basswood, Oak, Cedar, Maple and Elm logs, $3.00 per cord delivered.

Peterboro' Planing Mill Co.
197-197 Dublin St. 'Phone 48

The Height of Easter Displays in Fashionable New Apparel Here To-Morrow

Early in The Day Shopping is Wise---All Lines Are Complete, Exclusiveness and Moderate Prices Prevail

YOU have only two days left—To-morrow and Saturday to select your New Wear Things for Easter Sunday. Therefore let us impress upon you the necessity and desirability of securing your needs early. Make your want list out now and come down to this store and make selection early to-morrow.

Everything is still replete in Variety and Prices are within reach of all.

Better Styles—Better Values—Better Qualities cannot be found elsewhere.

"Our Styles are exclusive and they stay good looking"

SUITS

Moderate Prices are one thing—but moderate prices combined with Newest Fashions are another. Our Suit section is showing the very smartest spring ideas in Gabardines, Brocades, Crepes Novelty Plaids, Serges and other Fashionable Weaves at

$15.00, $18.50, $22.50, and $25.00

DRESSES

All the pretty New Notes of Fashion are seen in these handsome New York Dresses. The materials include Taffeta, Floral Ratine, Boutonne, Cassock Cloth, and many other novelty weaves, shown in all the New Shades, but in spite of their smartness and newness they are priced at

$20.00, $25.00 and $30.00

COATS

Individuality marks all "HALL'S" Coats, so that every woman who purchases a Hall Coat, even at one of these low prices may be sure she is getting an "Out of the ordinary" Coat. Easter Styles are tastefully presented in all the favourite materials, some extra good values being obtainable at

$13.50, $15.00, and $18.00

MILLINERY

Included in the Easter Display of Millinery are a few special lines of Ready-to-Wear, Semi-Dress and Dress Hats, for young girls, misses and women, in fact hats for every occasion at prices that are within the reach of all

$6.50, $7.50 and $8.50

BLOUSES

We have just opened a shipment of the most Charming Crepe and Voile Blouses you can possibly picture. They embody the newer treatments of sleeve, yoke and vestee, some daintily trimmed in materials of small floral patterns. Fascinating styles, one to please you.

$2.00, $3.50, $4.25 and $5.00

CHILDREN'S COATS

These Coats for Children from 4 to 14 years are thoroughly tailored in the latest styles &c. made to give two season's excellent wear. All New Fabrics, New Colourings. Bring the school girl in to-morrow. Something ... please at

$3.95 up to $10.00

You will also find our Easter Assortments of Neckwear, Gloves, Hosiery, Neck Ruchings, Corsets, Hand Bags, Brassieres, Parcels, Veilings, Ribbons, Lingeries, and etc. wonderfully replete with all the latest and Newest Novelties that Fashion has proclaimed as an accessory to the correct Easter Costume.

Comparison will prove that it costs no more to possess an article bearing the "Hall Quality Label" than without this assurance of authentic Style.

SEE THE WINDOW DISPLAY OF EASTER STYLES, TO-NIGHT

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

BURGLARS WERE REWARDED FOR ONE WEEK

Magistrate Jackson, of Lindsay, Finds Difficulty in Dealing With the Burglars Captured in Peterborough

PLEADED GUILTY

LINDSAY, April 8.—There was a big crowd on hand yesterday to hear the case against Smith and Wilson, who were arrested in Peterborough on the information of Governor Balfour on suspicion of being connected with the extensive burglaries which had taken place in Lindsay's business section a few nights ago.

Smith's Father Present.

Col. F. Holmes Hopkins appeared as the Crown Attorney. Smith and Wilson, under Chief Chilton and Constable Foster, along with a large number of witnesses, came in a moment or two after the hour set for the trial. Jas. Hodge, of Toronto, Chief Special Agent for the G.T.R. also was present. Smith's father sat next Mr. G. A. Jordan, who represented the prisoners. Both are under twenty years of age, mere boys, like many who appear upon the streets every day, but looking rather seedy.

Pleaded Guilty.

Magistrate Jackson read the charge against the prisoners, who elected to be tried by the Magistrate and pleaded guilty to all.

Crown Attorney's Remarks.

Crown Attorney Hopkins spoke of the numerous charges against them. Some of the charges might seem superfluous, but it was thought better to enter all. The main one, however, was in connection with Britton's store, where about four hundred dollars' worth of jewellery was taken.

He had had a talk with the prisoners and they had confessed to the authorities, giving full particulars and all information asked for that would be of assistance in rounding up the rest of the gang. They had confessed crimes at Bracebridge, Orillia, Gravenhurst, Midland and Penetanguishene. Their ages were only seventeen and nineteen yars. All the information given by them had been found correct. One of them was affiliated with a dangerous gang of criminals, one of whom was in Lindsay. The crime was a serious one, and the two boys could not be let go on as they had been doing.

Col. Hopkins asked that when sentence was given an order should be made that the stolen goods returned to the owners. It was not all Lindsay goods, as much of it came from other places.

Smith had a previous record at Midland, according to the Constable of that place.

In reply to an enquiry from Magistrate Jackson, Mr. G. A. Jordan replied that Smith was seventeen in January last. Wilson responded that he was eighteen the twenty-first of last July.

Plea for Prisoners.

Mr. Jordan then spoke a few words for the prisoners, drawing attention to the condition of the prisoners. Said he: "Smith's father came last night and we went to the gaol and saw them and had a long talk with the boys. Young Smith told all he knew about these robberies and about certain criminals who are leading boys astray. The law's purpose was to elevate, not to degrade. The accused should be thankful that, armed as they were, they were lucky they were not before the court as murderers or that they had not been killed themselves. Novels, excitement and bad company had brought them where they were, Smith particularly, as he was easily led. Wilson had a higher intellect and was forcible and a leader. There was no evidence of a previous conviction against him. A sufficient sentence would be in order so that they could ponder over their misdeeds and get away from bad influences.

Difficult Affair.

Magistrate Jackson said he would consider the matter a few days, as it was one of the most difficult affairs he had handled on account of boys of their age going this path. If Wilson had conducted himself properly he could fit himself for almost anything, but it will now be a difficult thing to overcome the record. The case was rendered all the more difficult as the boys did not belong to this county and an eye could not be kept on them. The public must be protected. If the accused had been caught in the act, they might have used their weapons, and the charge would have been a very much worse one. On account of the different phases of the case to consider the accused were remanded for sentence till Tuesday morning, April 14th, at half-past-nine o'clock.

Confessed to Other Thefts.

In conversation with Chief Special Agent Jas. Hodge of the G.T.R. Toronto, he stated that Smith and Wilson have confessed to thefts in Penetanguishene. Two dollars and fifty-five cents in silver were taken and a quantity of coppers as well as a money order which Smith tore up. In order that this case could be dropped the charge was laid formally after the trial by Chief Chilton. The G.T.R. wishes this to be done as the sentence on the previous charges would suffice.

No Change.

"How does the poor woman support herself in her affliction at losing her husband?"

"I suppose the same way she supported herself all the time he was living."

EASTER FAVOURS

We have many dainty gifts, typical for Easter. Many of these are priced at $1.00 and even less. They are new and attractive. Glad to show you.

Easter time makes gift-giving practical and appropriate.

SCHNEIDER, The Jeweller, George St.

"GENERAL" IS FINED $10.00

Special Wire to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., April 8—Mrs. "General" Drummond was more active when brought into court to-day to stand trial for disturbance at the Unionist celebrations in Hyde Park, Saturday, and was released on the payment of a fine of $10 and costs.

1100 SALOONS HAVE GONE DRY

Special to The Examiner:

CHICAGO, April 8.—While the women candidates were defeated in the Chicago elections, fresh results this morning show that the influence of the women's suffrage campaign resulted in the wiping out of eleven hundred saloons in the State of Illinois. Nineteen counties, including several big towns voted to go dry.

BOBCAYGEON MAN BADLY INJURED

BOBCAYGEON, April 8. — Mr. Hamlet Freeman received a severe kick from one of his horses in the abdomen on last Saturday, while he was working in the woods on the Galway Road. They drove him to the village with all haste and summoned Dr. Thorne, who applied all medical aid and we are glad to state that he is doing as well as could be expected.

FUNERAL OF MR. SOMERVILLE

Many Well Known Business Men Attend.

The remains of the late Mr. George A. Somerville, Manager of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company, were interred at the Forest Lawn Mausoleum yesterday, where many prominent Toronto and Provincial insurance men attended. The service was conducted in his late residence, 43 St. George Street, by Rev. Hugh Munroe of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and the pall-bearers were Messrs. Wegenast, Manager of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., Waterloo, Ont.; Robt. Cassels, Ross Gooderham, G. P. Schofield, A. E. Coulthard, Peterborough, and D. T. Hepburn, Uxbridge.

Out of respect for the late Manager the offices of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company were closed throughout the day.— Toronto Globe.

Risky.

Caller—I want to take out a large fire policy.

Agent—What's your business?

Caller—City employe.

Agent—Too big a risk. Curley is likely to fire you any day.

Easter Bargains

We are Offering Exceptionally Great Values in Ladies' and Gents' Ready-to-Wear and Millinery for Easter Week.

Ladies' Cloth Dresses—In all the latest shades and styles, regular up to $10, this week only..... $4.95

Ladies' Silk Dresses—Fine quality of silk, newest styles, in navy, brown, pink, Copenhagen and black, all sizes, regular $15.00 for..... $7.98

Ladies' Suits—Specially priced for this week. Regular up to $20.00 for..... $9.95

Ladies' Voile Blouses—Just from New York, latest styles, regular up to $2.00 for..... $1.00

Millinery—2 tables of Hats specially priced for Easter week, regular up to $7.00 for..... $2.98

Ostrich Feathers—Large size, in all leading shades, regular $3.00 for..... $1.98

Flowers—A great variety to choose from, regular up to $1.50 for only, per bunch..... 25c

Men's Suits—A special line of high class Tweeds and Worsteds, latest materials, regular $16.00 for..... $9.95

Men's Rain Coats—Guaranteed water-proof top, silk finish, all wool lining, regular $16.00, this week only..... $9.95

We invite all Responsible People to Open a Charge Account with

Zacks Bros.

420—422 GEORGE STREET

We Advise you not to Miss These Genuine Bargains

SOME THINGS AND A FEW OTHERS

And the early bird gets the cold weather.

The year may be reduced to two seasons, summer and winter. Spring and autumn are appendages, or possibly appendices.

A few more winters like this and the world's coal supply will be getting down to hard pan.

Every little blue coat has a movement all his own, and some have enough for the whole force.

Shall we pay the grocer, the butcher and the milliner, or make it an instalment on a new auto? That's the question.

Apparently "live" pool is growing in favour among the youths of the City from reports one hears. Some of the boys bewail their losses, and others get jagged with their win. Fine business, if you can believe the boys.

A nice cold Easter would be a fine alibi for miladi wearing her winter's suit.

London, Eng., has some clearing house. Maybe we aren't in London's class.

Brockville's Council decided upon a 30 mill tax rate on Monday night. St. Thomas has 23 1-2 mills.

Without any reference to individuals, it might be suggested that men in public office should draw close distinctions in regard to their public actions as individuals and as representatives of the entire citizenship.

There have been quite a number of lots put under the shovel during the past week, an indication of a splendid summer for the building trades.

A motion picture of the Council would require seven reels.

The man with the dimensions of a bean pole may find favour with the style sharks, but he'd have a poor chance to get on Chief Thompson's staff. A lean and hungry look has its limits.

LIBERAL AMENDMENT TO BUDGET

Special to The Examiner.

OTTAWA, APRIL 8.—An emphatic denial from the Liberal headquarters is given this morning to the report that the failure of the Liberal speakers to introduce the amendments to the budget speech is the result of a division of opinion and dissension among the members regarding the general question of tariff. The resolution which will constitute the Liberal amendment, has already been drawn up, and will be introduced by the first Liberal speaker upon resumption of the budget debate after the Easter recess. It is probable that the Speaker will be Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the intention being that the amendment incorporating the Liberal policy upon the tariff shall be announced by the leader of the Liberal party.

INDIANS CAMPING ON RIVER ARE AFTER MUSKRATS

Danny Muskrat was in the city today and stated that the river is open to the lake, but vehicles are still crossing the ice from Harwood to Hiawatha. The Indians have taken to the trail for rats, and hundreds of traps are out, practically from the lake to the vicinity of Peterborough. Few of the Indians come past the second bridge district, leaving this ground to Peterborough men. The Hiawatha trappers are quite satisfied with their catch so far, one man having already secured a comparatively large number of pelts. The Indians pitch their tents along the Otonabee's banks and with a good stove to supply heat they are quite comfortable. Out early in the morning, they make the round of their traps, this task taking up a large part of the day if the individual has many of them out.

So much greater is the demand for edible snails in France than the supply that artificial snails have been introduced, the only genuine portions of which are the shells.

EASTER SPECIALS

We have prepared for Easter with a finer stock than ever of LADIES' READY-TO-WEAR, DRY GOODS, MILLINERY, GENT'S CLOTHING and FURNISHINGS. These must be sold and we have cut the prices till our profits have gone out of sight.

Men's Ready-to-Wear

We have a Larger and Better Stock of Men's Suits this year than we ever had.

We can give you a well made Tweed Suit, which is well worth $8.00, for $5.00

One of the Newest Tweed and Worsted Suits which is well worth $10 for..... $7.50

See Our $10 Semi-Ready Suit Quality and Fit Guaranteed. This is the most valuable suit for the money which Peterboro' has ever offered.

Men's Llama Sox, worth 25c anywhere, on sale for..... pair 17½c

Men's Work Shirts, regular 50c for..... 39c

Men's Tweed and Worsted Trousers for..... $1

A Snap in Men's Fine Sample Shirts, worth up to $1.50, for 50c

MILLINERY

The Very Latest at the Lowest Prices.

Don't wait till the Season has advanced when we can sell you your Easter Hats at August Prices. A few of the latest shapes for..... 98c

Watered Silk Ribbon in all shades 5 ins. wide, for only, per yard..... 12½c

French Plumes in Black and White, 17 ins. long. Well worth from $3 to $4 for..... $1.50

Black Tango Plumes, 27 ins. long. These range in price from $20 to $25. On Sale for only..... $10.00

LADIES' SUITS

We have a fine new range of Ladies' Plain Tailored Suits, made of Japanese Serge and Whipcords, with lining of Silk & Satin. These are all worth $18, for $9.98

DRY GOODS

Mill Ends of very fine Lawn from one to five yards length, worth up to 25c per yard. On Sale..... yard 7½c

Pink and Pale Blue Flannelette. Regular 10c for..... 7½c

Table Oil Cloth, 45 inches wide, 25c everywhere .....On Sale 20c

Linen Towelling, 17 inches wide, Regular 10c. Sale Price 6½c

French Bath Towels, 36 x 40 in., well worth 40c for..... 25c

Art Sateen—All of which are latest designs suitable for comforters or furniture covering, reg. 15c for..... 10c

Curtain Scrim in newest patterns. Regular 20c for..... 12½c

Ends of Foulard Silk, worth 25c for..... 12½c

A Clearing Lot of Lawns worth up to 10c a yard. Now 2 yards for 5c

All-Over Aprons. Regular 50c for..... 29c

Ladies' and Children's Dressing Jackets, slightly damaged, worth up to $2 for 50c

Ladies' Shirts, slightly damaged. These are mostly made of woman cloth. On Sale for..... 59c

5 Card Brooms, 14½ inch Corn, a 40c value for 25c

N. SUKLOFF 293 George St. 'Phone 21

A SPLENDID ARRAY OF EASTER WEARABLES AT THE "CRESSMAN STORE"

Only Two Days---THURSDAY and SATURDAY In Which to Make Your Final Choice

Are you quite prepared for Easter? Surely there is something you need for the Great Fashion Event of the year. Every woman likes to look her best at Easter. It is the one time of the year for discarding the dull, dingy apparel of Winter and donning something in keeping with the brightness around you. The true Easter spirit is prevailing at the "Cressman Store." Seasonable merchandise is displayed in all its Easter freshness. Particular interest, hovers around the exceptional displays of Ready-to-Wears, Millinery and Shoes.

Ladies' $2.00 Umbrellas and Parasols $1.48

This is an Easter special that should attract a good many. The entire line of these parasols represent the season's best $2.00 values. They are guaranteed and are covered with a silk and wool gloria, with 24 inch paragon frame. A special feature of this line is the excellent range of new American handles.

Main Floor North

Extra Easter Novelties in Ladies' Neckwear, Frilling and Pleatings

We are making an exclusive showing of Fashion's very newest creations in every style and neckwear novelties. Hundreds and hundreds of yards of dainty new frillings and pleatings in net, lace, chiffon and crepe effects in a wide range of patterns from 10c to 85c. The 25c values are really exceptional.

Main Floor Centre

Special Easter Sale of Ladies' Suits at Less Than Half

Regular $18.00 to $27.50

$12.50

The CRESSMAN Grocery Limited

Store Open until 10 p.m. Thursday Night

An Attractive Easter Display Of What is Newest, Smartest, and Best in Millinery for Spring.

On Thursday and Saturday, we are making a Special Display of Chic Easter Models, each delightfully exquisite creations that are sure to meet with your approval; because of their style and becomingness they will appeal to you at first sight. In mentioning a few of the newest models—the Watteau, The Marquis and The Bustle—we may add that these are not extreme but exceedingly becoming to milady who has the desire to be smartly attired. This should prove a most interesting display to the Ladies of Peterborough.

Second Floor

Corsets Which Add Grace And Beauty to the Figure

American Lady D. & A. Nemo

Freiaset Front Lacing Corset

Perhaps you imagine you are hard to fit, if so, come in and let us dispel those fears. Three of the four makes named above are absolutely controlled by us in Peterboro', and we can safely say they represent the highest standard of American and Canadian Corsetry. Among them are speciality lines built to suit any figure in an immense range of qualities and styles. Special fittings can be arranged any morning you wish.

Main Floor South

A Complete Easter Stock of Perrin's Guaranteed Kid Gloves $1.00 and $1.25

Naturally you will be wanting New Gloves for Easter, and you will want reliable Gloves, out of which you intend to get a whole lot of satisfaction—we have them here, in the highest grade of all French makes; namely Perrin's—the Glove that has stood the test—that's why we guarantee it. These can be had in splendid shades of tan and grey, also in black, and white; in all sizes. Every pair fully guaranteed. Prices $1.00 and $1.25.

Main Floor Centre

The Advance Spring Sale of Shoes

This is an excellent opportunity to procure your Easter Footwear at splendid price reductions on the Season's newest shoes. Amongst them being some of the best Canadian and American made models. See the Large Shoe Bill for fuller particulars. Here are two lines of especial interest.

Two Lines Very Specially Priced $2.95

The first is a Button Boot in Kid, Gunmetal or Patent Colt. "Baby Bear" is the Last on which each of these leathers are made, and this Last has a somewhat mannish appearance. It has the broad toe and extension sole. the season's best values at $3.50 and $4.00. Now reduced to..... 2.95

Then the other model is a Cloth Top Button Boot with a very neat and dressy appearance. The leather is Patent Colt and the cloth a stout Cravenette, while this particular Last is called the "Dixie." All sizes and widths can be secured in these two lines. Very specially priced..... 2.95

Main Floor

Three Popular Models, Sale Price $2.39

There is the Kid Button Boot, the Kid Blucher Lace, and the Blucher Lace in Patent. Three lines that combine the excellent qualifications of fit, durability and appearance. At the regular stock prices these have been good selling lines, whilst at the reduced price they are a decided snap. Sale Price 2.39

Second Floor

The CRESSMAN Grocery Limited

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION WILL BE REPRESENTED AT TORONTO CONVENTION

Regular Monthly Meeting Was Held Last Night With All Members Present.

ACCOUNTS PASSED

At the regular meeting of the Board of Education last night the report of High School Inspector J. A. Houston was received and the members were greatly pleased with his remarks as a result of his visit to the local Collegiate Institute. In the report all the subjects were graded "1" and the equipment was pronounced splendid. The inspector saw fit to make only three recommendations, they being in connection with minor details of the equipment. A very small addition to art models, better physical advantages for the girls, and the installation of a motor in connection with the ventilating system were advised by the Inspector. The Board last night undertook to remedy one of these, by making a grant of $15.00 for art models. The other matters were left for the proper committees to deal with, but the installation of the motor has been included in the plans of the Board for some time. The report says that "in organization, management, efficiency of the staff and general tone, this is one of the best schools I have visited."

The attendance at the Collegiate Institute was embodied in a report from Principal H. R. H. Kenner. The attendance during the past month was:

	Enrolled	Av. Attendance
Form 5	16	15
Form 4	36	35
Form 3	32	31
Form 2A	40	39
Form 2B	39	37
Form 1A	35	33
Form 1b	34	33
Form 1C	0	20
Form. Com. 1	27	26
Form Com. 2	24	22
Total	312	301

The attendance at the public school as reported to the board last night was as follows:

	Enrolled	Av. Attendance
Central School	439	399
Queen Alex'dra school	296	257
King Edward school	400	362
Queen Mary school	393	360
King George school	237	219
South Central school	277	218
Kindergartens	'31	102
Total attendance	2322	1259

The epidemic of mumps which still prevails is responsible for the low average attendance in the Public schools.

Typewriters For P.C.I.

Mr. John Grant then announced to the Board than an offer had been made by the Underwood Typewriter Company to install ten new typewriters in place of the ten at present used by the students in the commercial department of the Collegiate Institute. The typewriters now in use were pretty badly worn and were not equipped with the modern devices. The offer from the Underwood Company included an allowance for the old typewriters that, he thought, made it advisable for the Board to accept.

Mr. Hill thought it would be better as in the past to have more than one different make of machine in the Collegiate Institute so that when the pupils left the school they would not be familiar with the one typewriter only. The Underwood people made the offer so that it could represent to business men that the stenographers-to-be were all learning on Oliver typewriters and that it would therefore be advisable to purchase one in preference to the other makes. Personally he had received better satisfaction from a different style of machine. The matter was referred to the chairman of the Supervision committee to report back to the Board. At present there are 5 Underwoods, 2 Olivers and 2 Monarchs in use at the Institute.

A circular letter was received advising the Board of the convention of the Ontario Technical Educational Association in Toronto on Tuesday, April the fourteenth. Mr. Eastwood was elected a delegate to the convention, on the motion of Messrs. Burnham and Crane.

On the motion of Messrs. Hill and Eastwood, the chairman of the Board and as many others as possible were authorized to attend the convention of the Ontario School Trustees to be held in Toronto on April the 15th.

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner wrote the Board to say that Mr. W. R. Morris had donated to the Institute a splendid selection of specimens of Canadian ferns which had been suitably encased by Mr. Firth. It was moved by Mr. Eastwood and seconded by Mr. Hayes that the thanks of the Board be tendered Mr. Morris for this donation.

Mr. Hill recalled to the memory of the Board that there was a regulation made in 1904 requiring the Principal of the Collegiate Institute to make a report on the staff every three months. This had not been followed of late. On the motion of Messrs. Hill and Hayes the Board decided to ask the Principal for such a report.

Mr. J. J. Turner, Jr., asked for leave of absence (without salary) for two months. This was granted him.

Letters were received from the Canadian Buffalo Forge Company and the Drake Heating Company offering to supply tenders for the installation of ventilation system in the Collegiate Institute.—Referred to the Property committee.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid:

E. B. Clegg	$ 14.75
R. J. Kidd	14.50
Trebilcock Bros.	2.80
D. Belleghem	283.80
J. M. Greene	1.75
R. Gibbs	2.00
P. Connal and Son	6.34
Peterborough Fuel and Carriage	98.75
Peterborough Water Comm.	1.00
Peterborough Examiner	9.56
T. A. Sturgeon and Co.	2.75
J. M. Walton	4.50
Wm. Madill	11.01
Matthews-Laing Company	9.20
Peterborough Hardware Co.	2.65
	6.51
Bell Telephone Co.	3.00
J. D. Craig	10.00
G. A. Gillespie	1.32
Higgins Hardware Co.	7.33
Public Library Board	3.25
Peterborough Planing Mill	5.46
T. A. Redner	4.05
Pet. Light and Power Co.	28.47
Pet. Light and Power Co.	386.80

A report from Miss Kennedy in regard to the past month's work was received. It showed that she had inspected 856 pupils. Of these 123 needed medical attendance, 197 had defective teeth and 47 were excluded because of uncleanliness. She had visited 53 homes and on the whole found the parents ready to assist her in the work.

Mr. Eastwood reported that $10,000 insurance had been added to each of the two new schools and $2,000 on the contents.

The Finance committee reported as follows:

Gentlemen,—Your Finance committee beg to report and recommend the payment of the following accounts:

Globe Printing Company	7.82
Mail & Empire	7.16
Singer Sewing Machine Co.	.60
Peterborough Examiner Co.	17.77
Trebilcock Bros.	.25
T. C. Elliott	6.14
Bell Telephone Co.	1.25
Wm. Madill	2.50
G. N. W. Teelgraph Co.	.26
The Moule Studio	1.00
W. H. Hamilton	5.00
Peterborough Planing Mill Co.	3.00
Peterborough Typewriter Co.	7.50
P. Connal & Son	5.70
R. J. Boden	152.00
Pe. Water Commissioners	1.00
Adamson & Dobbin (when certified to	147.31
Kingan Hardware Co., (when certified to	1.—
W. J. Johnston (when certified to	306.65
Peterborough Hardware Co.	1.65

All of which is respectfully submitted.

V. EASTWOOD, chairman.

It was moved by Mr. B. F. Ackerman and seconded by Dr. Burnham, that the payment of the following accounts be confirmed:

F. J. Drake, sect. per order	$ 2.00
Jason Elliott, sect. per order	2.80
R. J. Kidd, proportion of ins. on new buildings	39.45
Davis-Thompson Co., proportion of ins. on new buildings	111.40
Wellington Fire Ins. Co., proportion of ins. on new buildings	15.25
Queen City Fire Ins. Co., proportion of ins. on new buildings	25.80
Hand in Hand Fire Ins. Co., proportion of ins. on new buildings	25.80

Monies Received.

Text Book fees	$ 286.66
Rent Cedar Street house	5.00
City Treasurer, municipal grant	7,800.00
	$8,101.66

THE WEATHER

Wintry conditions seem unwilling to leave us, as witness the little snow storm we had last night and this morning. On the 8th of April last spring we had a similar fall, and on May 4th a number of years ago some four inches of last snow fell.—W.P.

DEATH OF WELL KNOWN RESIDENT OF LAKEFIELD

Mrs. Robert Butt of That Village Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon

LAKEFIELD, April 7. — Mr. Philip Pattrick spent a few days last week in Peterborough.

Mrs. Holderoft, who has been spending a week visiting her sister, Mrs. H. A. Bon-Oliel at the Rectory, returned to Havelock on Tuesday last.

Mr. Stanley White of Peterborough was in the village on Thursday last.

Mrs. F. H. Lingwood, of East Toronto, arrived on Saturday to spend a few weeks visiting her mother, Mrs. C. Atwood, at "Ashelworth."

A sale of work and home-made delicacies under the auspices of the Ladies' guild of St. John Baptist Church was held in the Old Church on Friday afternoon. Tea and cake were served by the ladies, and a sociable time was spent by all present.

Mr. Roland Carter arrived on Wednesday last on a visit to his parents, after spending the past two years in Northern Ontario.

Mr. E. R. Tate spent the week-end at his home in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Miller, of Peterborough, spent a few days last week visiting friends in the village.

Miss Atwood was in Peterborough, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. Grieve, on Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Hugh Davidson, of Winnipeg, Man., is visiting friends in the village.

Mrs. A. Northey was in Peterborough on Saturday.

Mrs. T. H. Adams, who has been a guest of Mrs. Browning for the past week, returned to her home in Peterborough on Friday last.

Mr. R. C. Strickland spent the week-end in the village visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Casson, on his return to Burleigh, after spending a few days in Toronto.

Mrs. McLearon and children, of Toronto, are visiting friends in the village.

Dr. F. H. Lingwood, of East Toronto, was the guest of Mrs. Atwood at "Ashelworth" on Saturday.

The death occurred on Tuesday last of Frederick Hampton, sixth son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hampton, of Smith, in his nineteenth year. He was chopping wood the previous Friday on his father's farm, when the axe slipped and almost severed the front part of the foot. He was brought in to Lakefield at once, where the wound was stitched and dressed, and though receiving every possible care, he was unable to survive the shock, and passed quietly away on Tuesday morning. The sympathies of the whole community go out to the family in their sad bereavement. The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon, and was largely attended.

A limelight lecture on the "Yellowstone National Park" was given by the Rev. Mr. Macausland, of Toronto, on Tuesday evening last at the Grove School.

FUNERAL WILL BE HELD TO-MORROW

The funeral of the late Joseph Poulson, who passed away in Detroit on Monday last, will be held to-morrow afternoon from the family residence, 192 Stewart Street, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

Deceased, who formerly resided in this City, but who has been a resident of Detroit for nine years before his death, is survived by his mother, one brother, and one sister of this City. His wife, who resided in Detroit, also survives him.

The remains of the deceased were brought to the City last evening.

Up-to-date.

Orator—"Fellow citizens! Whither are we drifting?"

"We ain't—we're tangoing!"

Passover Will Be Celebrated On Friday

By the Hebrews of Peterborough —It Will Be a Seven Day Holiday

UNLEAVENED BREAD

The Feast of the Passover, one of the oldest among the Hebrews, will start on Friday evening next. The passover, is a seven-day holiday observed by the members of the Jewish faith all over the world. It is in commemoration of the flight of the Jews from Egypt and the sparing of the first-born through the smearing of blood on the door. It is the custom of all Jewish families on the evening of the first day of the passover for the youngest member of the family to ask the head of the house the story of the flight from Egypt. The father then relates to the family the well-known Bible story. Certain symbols are used in commemoration of the deliverance. Of these the unleavened bread is foremost, and must be partaken of at every meal. This is the only season of the year that the unleavened bread is made.

Chief Wants Two More Men

Chief Chilton Thinks Lindsay's Police Force is Inadequate

LINDSAY, April 8.—Chief Chilton's report for the month of March was submitted to hte council Monday night and shows that twenty-one cases were dealt with by the Police Magistrate. Convictions in all but one (breach of Liquor License Act.) Fines and penalties collected and paid Town Treasurer, $78.25. Total paid Town Treasurer in fines and licenses, $158.25.

Chief Chilton recommended the appointment of one or more assistants on the police force to preserve the peace of the town. Peterborough, with a population of 18,000 possesses a force of thirteen men, amongst them two, plain clothes men are on duty all the time.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT ST. LUKE'S

Being Held Every Night During Holy Week—Subject Last Night

Large congregations are attending the special Holy week services at St. Luke's Church, the attendance last evening and on Monday, being very encouraging. The rector, Rev. F. J. Sawers, is delivering specially appropriate sermons, the subject Monday night being "Conversion," and Tuesday evening he spoke on "Consecration." Both discourses were full of helpful thoughts, and a strong appeal to the congregation to consecrate their lives to the service of Christ. The rector urged his hearers to seek only those pleasures which are wholesome, and which left one's purity of mind and body unspoiled and unsullied. The services will be continued each night with an additional one on Good Friday morning at 10:30.

GOOD BUYERS Buy in the Cheapest Market to Save Money — No Matter What They Are Buying!

CLEGG'S SPRING FURNITURE SALE GIVES YOU AN OPPORTUNITY

$31.75 Will buy a beautiful RANGE, just like the cut, the "Enterprise" brand. The highest grade and the most modern make. Worth $40.00.

$27.75 Will buy a Solid Oak KITCHEN CABINET, with drawers, enamel top, and all the latest labor-saving appliances. Worth $35.00.

$6.75 Will buy a HALL RACK, made of Ash, Golden Finish, with bevel plate mirror, box seat, and four double hooks. Regular $10.50.

$13.75 Will buy a large quarter cut oak LIBRARY TABLE, early English finish, heavy, well made. Regular 17.50.

Call in and let us show you the goods

CLEGG'S FURNITURE STORE

427 George St.

A Very Popular Soft Hat

Looks fine on most men—and This Store is the place to get it.

A smart Style that takes with men who want individuality and distinction.

Come and see our STETSON assortment. If you wish, we will give expert help in selecting the one model you ought to wear.

W. E. LECH Manufacturing Furrier And Hatter

366 GEORGE ST., Near Simcoe. 'Phone 726

$24.75 For an 8-Roomed House

We Are Underbids to any in Canadian Outfit of Electric Fixtures. Let us

ELECTRIC FIXTURES

for an EIGHT ROOMED HOUSE as follows:—

Parlour—2 Split Bead Shower Fixtures; Dining Room—16 inch Bowl with 4 Arm Fixture; Living Room—2 Split Bead Shower Fixtures; Kitchen, Bath Room, Upper Hall, and Bedrooms—6 Drop Lights for..... $24.75

SIX ROOMED HOUSE, same Proportion.

We have no old stock to dispose of. All new goods right up-to-date

GRANT & THORPE
Electrical Supplies & Contractors
430 GEORGE ST. PHONE 798

An Author's Experience
WITH
DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

Shock and Overwork caused Nervous Breakdown—Never found anything to compare with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a Restorative.

Miss Innes is widely known in New York, Toronto and other large centres as a Teacher of Dressmaking and as author of the most complete work on this subject: "Scientific Dressmaking and Millinery." This book has been ordered by the government for use in Women's Institutes throughout this province, and is being put into practically all Public Libraries. The experience which Miss Innes has had with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is told in such an interesting manner in her letter that we shall quote it in full.

MISS I. INNES

Miss I. Innes, 245 Huron St., Toronto, writes:—"I have a strong constitution and do not neglect the health as many do whose strenuous lives of overwork lead to breakdown of the nervous system. Consequently when, on receipt of a telegram announcing the death of a brother who was very dear to me, the nerves failed me, I went to my doctor and his prescription acted beautifully and restored the nervous system for a time. Again in New York I felt the need of a tonic and had the doctor's prescription filled but to no avail, and just here I want to emphasize the necessity of going to a reliable druggist who you know will use only the best and purest drugs. I was benefitted to some extent by trying a prescription which is used extensively by stock brokers on Wall Street, where fortunes are made and lost in a day, and the nerves give way under the enormous strain.

This helped me but I am writing this letter to say that nothing I used could for a moment be compared to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This treatment restored my exhausted nerves, gave me new vigor and energy, and banished the many distressing and disheartening symptoms which only nervous people will understand.

I know there are authors, journalists and business men with whom I come in contact daily who should know about this great nerve restorative. I know there are women in the home straining the last nerve to make the best use of the income in these times of high prices and whose nerve cells have been sapped by worry and anxiety until they live in misery and do not understand the reason. It is because I know this that I want to tell these nervous, worn out people about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. From my own experience I know just how they feel and just as certainly know that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will prove a wonderful blessing to them."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

GOOD ROADS ARE THE MARK OF CIVILIZATION

The Higher the Civilization, the Higher the Standard of the Roads —Interesting Address From An Authority Upon the Question of Good Roads.

The appended address, entitled "A Call for Sacrifice in Good Roads Movement," was delivered by S. L. Squire, Esq., of Waterford, at a meeting of the Ontario Good Roads Association:

Roads are a necessity. Trails are but forerunners of settlement. Roads are the mark of civilization and the higher the civilization, the higher the standard of the roads. Ontario demands better roads to-day than it ever had before, not only because it has reached a higher point of civilization, but because the demand upon the roads is greater than ever before in its history. The prosperity of anybody is largely measured by the cost of transportation and the primary factor in transportation is the road which leads from the producer to the market towns. I believe there is nothing that affects rural Ontario to the same extent as does its roads. Let us consider rural Ontario as it stands to-day. Statistics show us that the rural population of old Ontario has decreased in the last ten years about 100,000 people. The Province has not decreased in population, but the rural population of old Ontario has decreased. The increase of the population of Ontario in the last ten years has been in its cities and in Northern Ontario. Twenty-five thousand men have been lost to the rural sections of old Ontario during the last ten years. What does that mean? If we consider that the average earning power of an able-bodied man in Ontario is $800 per year—and that is not a high average—that would be equal to a capitalization of $10,000 invested at 6 per cent. Now let us capitalize the loss of rural Ontario in men in the last ten years, and we will find that the loss, if capitalized, would amount to no less than $250,000,000, and that would mean an earning power of $15,000,000. That is what the rural part of old Ontario has lost during the last ten years. What does that mean? It means not only that we have lost the value of the men, but we have lost value in the farms.

What has been the cause of this great leakage, and how can it be stopped? I know that there are a great many reasons why we have lost in the rural sections in the last ten years. It has not been because there is less labour there than there was ten years ago. I believe you will find that men have left the farm for the city because they have been faced with a splendid isolation for three or four months in the year owing to the very bad roads, and you cannot blame any young man who feels that sometimes he wants to get away from himself and to reach town or some large centre.

Do these young men do better when they get to town? No. If we can look into the average life of the men who live in the city, we would find that the man who leaves the farm, and goes to the city, does not make ends meet, but he likes to live in the city because he can go up and down the street on a good pavement and he has easy means of transportation. I believe if we make it easier for the man on the farm, the farm to get to his Church or social centre, and if we cut down the time which is required to make the trip we will make farm life more attractive.

I think it is the consensus of opinion of everybody in this meeting that we want better roads. When the cost of these better roads is considered, some men hold up their hands in holy horror. Good roads are expensive, but I contend that bad roads to a country like Ontario are far more expensive.

Some of you may have seen an article which appeared in the 'Country Gentleman' last week, in which it stated a Commission had been appointed by the City of Minneapolis to ascertain the loss occasioned by bad roads in that section of the country. During the year 1911, this Commission interviewed 4,000 farmers who were living within 25 miles of the City of Minneapolis, and from the evidence that was given by these 4,000 farmers, they found that there had been a loss to the farmers of that section for that one year of $680,000 by reason of bad roads. That was made up by breakage and the increased time required in order to make trips and by the deterioration of the produce that was carried to the market over the rough roads. In addition to that there was the loss to the manufacturers in the City of Minneapolis in taking his produce to the farms, and it was contended by that Commission that the loss within a radius of 25 mills of the City of Minneapolis in the year 1911 amounted to a sum of not less than $1,400,000. What was true of that section would be true of Ontario. I believe we, as an Association, will not have completed our work until we make it possible for the people of this country to go from place to place much easier than they can at present.

We spoke of the sacrifice that would be required. I wonder what we mean by that? Men, I believe that until we sacrifice selfishness upon the altar of the common good, we cannot expect what we are hoping for in connection with good roads. Selfishness of the farmer! Yes, he can be selfish, too. How often we have talked to farmers about better roads and they say, "I am not interested in it because that road is not going to pass my place"; because the improvement is not going to be immediately in front of his gate, he is not going to help it along; he is going to be selfish. The farmer is selfish because he believes all this agitation is for the benefit of the man who has a motor, and he says, "I can afford to pull my team a little harder just for the sake of seeing the man who has a car stuck in the mud." That selfishness on the part of the farmer has to be sacrificed upon the altar of the common good. The farmer is not alone in the matter of selfishness. We find the motorist is desirous of having the roads improved for what purpose? We have been told that they want roads from the American border to Ottawa and from Ottawa to Toronto and from Toronto to Windsor that there may be an inlet and an outlet for the pleasure of the American tourists. The motorist is selfish and he must take a larger view of the question of the improvement of our highways, and I think his selfishness should be sacrificed on the altar of the common good.

Then we have the politician who considers the party advantage before the public good. Both parties are reckoning on the [illegible] and [illegible] to [illegible] them, more than they are the public benefit that will be derived. If they can make it appear that they are working for us, and if they can pull the wool over our eyes and retain our allegiance, and get the advantage for their party they are satisfied. Party advantage and party expediency must be sacrificed upon the altar of the common good, and until that is done we cannot expect to accomplish all we are hoping for in connection with good roads.

What can we, as an association, hope for in connection with this matter? I believe we can hope that the flame kindled here will create such a consuming fire that this selfishness, no matter where it comes from, will be placed upon the altar and will be consumed by the fire until the gold only is left, and then the roads will be built.

In conclusion, I wish to say that I believe these things are possible if we will only sacrifice our selfishness. Good roads are absolutely necessary if we are going to maintain the present position of Ontario. The greatest asset of our country to-day is not its timber or its mines, but it is the agricultural resources, and we as an Association should do everything we possibly can to encourage the agriculturist and make it easier for him to reach his natural market. We must make farming more attractive, and if we do that we will build for ourselves a monument which will be left by us as a heritage or those who will follow.

Judgment Reserved

In Case of Carter vs. Bowen, of Havelock

I will reserve judgment until Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, said His Honour Judge Huycke at the conclusion of the Carter-Bowen case, yesterday. This case was the first of the non-jury sitting of the County Court.

The action involved a claim, brought by Mrs. Harry Carter, of Havelock, to recover the value of one horse, a buffalo robe, two collars, part of a set of harness, and one single set of harness, from Mr. Harry Bowen, of Havelock. Claimant was represented by Mr. G. N. Gordon of this city, and Mr. Chem, of Havelock, and Mr. Daniel O'Connell acted on behalf of defendant.

The following witnesses were called for plaintiff, and gave evidence of a minor character. Arthur Macklan, was a prospective buyer of the business, after the death of plaintiff's son. Howard Scriber told of certain monies that had been paid to plaintiff, and produced outstanding accounts in connection with the business at that time.

Frederick Black was also interested in the business for buying purposes, but did not make any efforts to follow up the result of his investigation. He took an inventory of the goods and stock, but could not remember what there was at that time, more particularly he could not recollect how many horses he saw. There were in his opinion 7 or 8, though it was the object of the defence to show that there were only five, and therefore plaintiff was not entitled to the value of a horse that was not there.

The Defence.

The first witness for the defence, was Harry Bowen, the defendant. He stated that he and Carter took possession of the business in 1909. They paid $1,900 for it, $800 of which was cash, and $000 mortgage. There was still $300 of the mortgage not paid, when Mrs. Carter and he made a settlement, and at that time she agreed to sell to him for 340.

Robert Graham, a Havelock resident, said that the horse, which plaintiff claimed defendant put to his own use, were used in the business. He had driven both, several times.

Mr. Gordon—You are a friend of Bowen.

Witness—Not particularly, no more than I was of Carter.

Mr. Gordon—Did you not board with Bowen?

Witness—Yes.

Mr. O'Connell—Did Carter board there too?

Witness—Yes, we all boarded together.

Judge Huycke (to counsel) — You know the old proverb about familiarity.

Mrs. Carter was then recalled, and was asked if she knew how many horses there were in the stable at the time the agreement was drawn up.

How many were there? asked Mr. O'Connell.

Witness assumed an air of ignorance, and it was some little time before counsel could obtain the required answer.

Mr. O'Connell—You told us something entirely different when you were here this morning. This evidently displeased witness more, and an explosion would doubtless have taken place, if Mr. O'Connell had not asked that the hysterical scene which prevailed at the morning session, be spared the court then.

Witness left the box with a business-like step, and retired to her seat at the rear of the court room. She must at that moment have come to the conclusion that she had not said all she wished to say, and suiting action to the word, the same smart step echoed through the court room, and ere many seconds had passed, Mrs. Carter again occupied the witness box, and with a decidedly loud and emphatic voice exclaimed: "When I sold my own business, I sold only my own share, and not my son's share." Again she retired, and there was silence while Mr. Gordon addressed the court.

Mr. O'Connell, however, was not so fortunate. As soon as he had commenced his address to the presiding judge, Mrs. Carter took a seat at the lawyer's table. A little later, she moved near the court reporter's desk, and faced Mr. O'Connell, who said impatiently, "I wish you would sit down, and not annoy or interrupt me while I am addressing the court."

His argument finished in silence, at the conclusion of which His Honour reserved judgment as stated.

Mainly for the use of school children is a new handkerchief with a secure pocket for coins in one of the corners.

STEEL LINKED EAST AND WEST ON G. T. P.

NECHAKO RIVER CROSSING, B. C., April 7th, 1914. — Steel east and west on the Grand Trunk Pacific was linked up to-day, the last mile being laid in the presence of Mr. Morley Donaldson, Vice-President and General Manager, and other officials of the company.

This point is 371 miles east of Prince Rupert and 1,375 miles from Winnipeg. Steel reached here a few days ago from the west, and one of the track-laying gangs was then disbanded, having used up material available, as the track-laying outfit coming from the east was expected to supply al steel to this point. There was no elaborate ceremony and only officers of the railway were present. The formal ceremony to include the driving of the golden spike will take place later when additional facilities will permit a number of distinguished guests to be present.

Since the beginning of the year steel has been laid on 143 miles of line. Contractors have been straining every resource to get the grade finished ahead of the track-laying gangs which were pressing them hard from both directions. The rapidity of progress since the beginning of the year has been partly due to the fact that the heavy mountain work was conquered, and construction had been going on in the broad agricultural belt of Central British Columbia. This point, which saw the joining of the steel, is itself in that district, for the Nechako River gives its name to the most noted of the agricultural belts of the interior.

The main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific extends from Winnipeg, Man., to Prince Rupert, B.C., a distance of 1,746 miles. he line first fololws the Assiniboine Valley in Manitoba, and runs through a district well settled before the advent of the railway. From Portgage la Prairie west, however, the whole district traversed was practically a new one,and one in which colonization and development has been due to the railway. Saskatoon Sask., and Edmonton, Alta., are the only cities which existed and had railway facilities prior to the advent of this railway. Now, however, the country is dotted with towns in all stages of development, from the tiny hamlet to flourishing divisional or junction points, with graded streets, cement sidewalks, sewers, municipal water and electric light. The country traversed in the prairie provinces is perhaps the finest agricultural belt in the world. here is always sufficient rainfall, and the soil practically throughout is the characteristic prairie loam. Wheat growing has been particularly successful, but the country is especially adapted to mixed farming, and farmers are taking more every year to mixed farming and dairying.

In British Columbia, the greatest agricultural area in the province, formerly shut off from the world, has been opened by the Grand Trunk Pacific, and thousands of settlers are now carving out their homes there. In the Nechako Valley the soil is alluvial silt of the greatest richness, reaching in some places a depth of 40 feet. here are a number of special districts along the line in British Columbia where fruit growing gives great promise. Rapid development of this district is looked forward to in view of the Alaska market which will absorb great quantities of farm produce, and to which this district lies the nearest.

ENGINEERING

The Grand Trunk Pacific is described as the best railway ever constructed. The route through the Yellowhead Pass in the Rocky Mountains is described as an exceptionally favorable one, offering the lowest grades of any transcontinental—fourtenths of one per cent., or 21 feet in the mile, against east-bound traffic, and five-tenths of one per cent., or 26.4 feet in the mile, against westbound traffic. This means an ability to haul longer and heavier trains than can be accommodated on other transcontinental lines, but to take full advantage of the route, engineering skill of the highest class was required. A grade has therefore, been constructed equal to that of most lines after many years of service, and solid steel bridges have been used instead of the timber trestles so often employed. A roadway eighteen feet wide has been constructed and laid with rails weighing 80 pounds to the yard. Six per cent. is the maximum curvature employed, and even this has been used very sparingly. On the prairie there are tangents as long as 47 miles.

HISTORY

The Grand Trunk Pacific Company was incorporated by Atc of Parliament in 1903, which authorized special arrangements for bond guarantees for the company. Construction was begun in Manitoba in 1905, and on the Pacific end in May, 1908. The first steel was laid in September, 1906.

EPIDEMIC ATTACKS LOCAL HORSE FLESH

The equestrian flesh of this City has been attacked during the past two weeks with an epidemic of neuralgia or distemper. The only cause for its prevalence just now that is given by the owners of the horses that are victims, is the weather with its rapid changes from mild to frosty, and dry to wet. One of the local livery stables has a fifth of its whole stock affected by the disease, but the epidemic is not confined to the livuries alone, although it is naturally very noticeable there. Several of the local men who own horses, either for business or pleasure, have animals suffering from neuralgia, and a good proportion of the horse flesh is on the sick list now.

DEATH OF FORMER PETERBOROUGH GIRL

The death of Miss Ada Whitfield occurred at her home near Cavanville on Saturday night. The deceased young lady of twenty or twenty-one years had a large number of friends in Peterborough, having attended the Collegiate Institute and Business College some years ago. Later she went to Toronto as a nurse-in-training and would have graduated in March had not failing health forced her to come home, last September. While in Peterborough she resided with her aunt Mrs. Wm. Ayers. For a week before death she was unconscious.

The [illegible] Gardener's Co[illegible]

The deceased is survived by brothers and four sisters, is deeply regretted by all who knew her.

FUNERAL OF CY WARMAN

Special Wire to The Examiner:

LONDON, Ont., April 8.—The body of the late Cy Warman, poet author and railroad man, will arrive here to-morrow morning. A special Pullman was attached to the train in Chicago for the funeral party. Rev. Dean Davis will officiate at a short funeral ceremony at the residence of the late Mr. Warman here. Many prominent Grand Trunk railroad officials will attend. The pallbearers will be: Hugh Dalrymple, fourth vice-president; D. T. Bell, passenger traffic manager; M. G. Elliott, general passenger agent, and J. D. MacDonald, assistant general passenger agent at Chicago.

SCHOOL REPORTS

Report of St. Joseph's school for the month of March. Names in order of merit.

Sr. IV—Loretto Fitzgerald 85 p.c., Joseph Corkery 67 p.c., Frank Lynch 57 p.c., Annie Carey 45 p.c.

Jr. IV—Alphonsus O'Toole 85 p.c., Frank Sullivan, 74 p.c., Irene Fitzgerald 72 p.c., Louise Redmond 72 p.c.; Eva Doherty 71 p.c., Patrick Lynch 68 p.c., Raymond Fitzgerald 67 p.c., Mary Carey 49 p.c., Vance Casey 18 p.c.

Jr. III— Annie Fitzgerald 74 p.c., Kathleen Sullivan 55 p.c., Edward O'Connor 28 p.c., John Fitzgerald 14 p.c., (Peter Clancey and Johnny Fitzgerald absent.)

Jr. II—Helena Fitzgerald 77 p.c., James Fitzgerald 76 p.c., Clair Fitzgerald, 64 p.c., Ella O'Connor 59 p.c., Kathleen Lynch, 59 p.c., Leo Fitzgerald 50 p.c., Vincent Doherty 41 p.c., Mary O'Toole 16 p.c., John Doherty 10 p.c.

Sr. I—May Fitzgerald, Gertie Heffernan, Frank Fitzgerald, Ella Lynch, Mark Clancey, Frank Doherty.

Primer—Thomas Heffernan, Thomas Fitzgerald, Lottie Doherty, Thomas Doherty, Frank Heffernan.

Perfect Attendance— Frank Lynch, Alphonsus O'Toole, Louise Redmond, Irene Fitzgerald, Frank Sullivan, Kathleen Sullivan, John Fitzgerald, Leo. Fitzgerald, Frank Fitzgerald, Ella Lynch.

A. M. BLACK, Teacher.

Following is the report of Warsaw School for March. The percentage of the total marks taken by each pupil is given;

Senior Room—

Class V.—Hazel Brown 89, Melville Crowe (present only for arithmetic and spelling) 79, Cecil Wason 69.

Class Sr. IV.—Mildred Clements 68, Harry Morgan 60, Ralph Wason 57.

Class Jr. IV.—Ruby Crowe 85, Alex. Calder, not present.

Class Sr. III.—Earl Hinton 82, Arthur Morgan 77, Ruby Davis 75, May Hinton 74, Edith Bullock 73, Alice Wason 73, Theodore Helps 69, Lillian Jennings 68, Bessie Aitkens 64.

Class Jr. III.—Helen Morgan 71, Milton Helps 69, Birdie Greystock 69, Muriel Mason 67, Blanche Bullock 65, Lulu Bell 56.

Report of Warsaw Junior Room for the month of March. Examinations were given in arithmetic, spelling, geography and hygiene. Percentage of the total number of marks taken by each pupil is given:

Second Class—Elsie Cooper 97, Fred Gunn 88, Helen Bowen 83, Frank Davis 81, Clifford Selkirk 74, Hilliard Edwards 73, John Douglas 66, John Morgan 61, Hector Monro 61, Elias Thompson (absent from examinations).

First Class—Archie Lonsberry 94, Ehle Tucker 86, Frankie Payne 80, Tom Bellis 76, Melville Gunn 66, Hiram Anderson 59, Gordon Bowen 59.

Sr. Primer Class—Bessie Hinton 97, Willene Reid 87, William Doherty 85.

(a) Primer Class—(Examination in arithmetic only)—Lillian Hinton 100, Russel Payne 40.

(b) Primer Class—(No examinations given)—Lily Lonsberry, Bert Thompson, Stanley Bullock, Laura Wilson.

The following is the report of S. S. No. 7, Douro, for the month of March, 1914:

Sr. IV—Florence Allen and Myrtle Allen (equal).

Jr. IV—M. Allen and I. Condon (equal), M. O'Brien.

III.—Mastine Maher, L. O'Brien, R. oCndon, and W. Barry (equal), Rich. O'Brien, Ada McCann, Agnes O'Brien.

II—Mabel Allen, R. Sullivan, F. O'Brien, Lillian McCann, Fr. Sullivan, S. O'Brien, Bertha McCann, Hubert Allen.

I.—Basil O'Brien, Chas. Tomms, M. Barry, Jos. Tomms, Jos. O'Brien, F. O'Brien.

Pr.—Jos. McCann, Clara Condon, W. Hamilton, Chas. Condon, Annie Allen, Garnet O'Brien, Leo Maher, John Dwyer.

Perfect attendance for month of March: F. Allen, M. Allen, I. Condon, A McCann, R. Sullivan, L. McCann, Mabel Allen, Chas. Condon, C. Condon.

G. C. O'D., Teacher.

The English city of Sheffield has 400 firms engaged in the manufacture of steel.

International Harvester Co. Farm Machinery

Complete lines of both McCormick and Deering Machines

McLaughlin and Queen Carriage Co.

Carriages Buggies, etc.

[illegible]

Heard & Northey

270 Water St. Phone 1250

LIVE STOCK MARKET

Special Wire to The Examiner:

UNION STOCK YARDS, Toronto, April 7—Receipts were light, 44 cars, 49 cattle, 1,077 hogs, 194 sheep and lambs, 363 calves.

Cattle: The trade in cattle was active at Monday's prices, but very firm.

Choice butchers steers $8 to $8.40.

Good butchers steers, $7.80 to $7.75.

Medium butchers steers, $7.25 to $7.50.

Common butchers steers, $6.75 to $7.25.

Choice butchers heifers $7.75 to $8.

Common butchers heifers, $7 to $7.50.

Choice cows, $7 to $7.50.

Good cows, $6.0 to $6.7.

Canners, $3.75 to $4.75.

Bulls, $7 to $7.50, and $8 for extra quality bulls.

Feeders and stockers: There was no change in feeders and stockers.

Choice steers, $8.75 to $7.25.

Medium steers, $6.25 to $6.60.

Stockers, $4.50 to $5.75.

Milkers and springers: Only a limited number were on sale at $65 to $95 each; bulk sold at $75 to $85 each.

Calves: There were 363 on sale and prices remained as firm as ever.

Choice veals $10 to $11, common to medium $7 to $9.25.

Sheep and lambs: Prices firm.

Sheep $7 to $8.0.

Culls and rams, $5 to $6.0.

Lambs, choice ewes and wethers, $9 to $9.7.

Selected, fed and watered, $9.3 and $9 f.o.b. cars, and $9.60 weighed off cars.

MR GEGGIE IS MODERATOR.

Head of Toronto Presbytery—Dr. Jellie Received.

TORONTO, April 8.—Rev. A. Geggie of the Parkdale Presbyterian Church, was appointed Moderator of the Toronto Presbytery at yesterday's monthly meeting.

Rev. Dr. Jellie, who has recently come from England to assist Rev. John McNeill at Cooke's Church, was introduced. Application will be made by the Toronto Presbytery to the General Assembly for Dr. Jellie to be received as a Minister of the Presbyterian Church of Canada.

No calls were reported, and the business was chiefly of a routine character.

Mr. Geggie is well-known in Peterborough, having lectured in St. Andrew's Church, on Monday evening.

A Fight for Principle.

"Why did you oppose that motion at our meeting?" asked one lady.

"Oh, I had nothing against the motion, but the member who made it once opposed a motion of mine and it's the first chance I have had to get even."

AT HOME

The Dramatic Section of St. Peter's T.A.S. will hold an At Home on Monday Evening, April 13th, in St. Alphonsus Lyceum.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Marmalade Oranges

have arrived.

I have the famous ELEPHANT BRAND Oranges

We have something in fruit fruits.

Specialty in Lemons, Parsley, Spring Onions, Radishes, Celery.

Try Our GROCERIES, always Fresh and Prices to Suit All.

D. M. MINICOLO

410 George St. Phone 923

RUPTURE

Our Success in Fitting Trusses

[illegible]

AITCHISON & COX

[illegible]

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Trout Will Be Carried By Toronto Maple Leafs

Peterboro' Player Earns Permanent Berth With the Leafs According to Despatches From the South

CARRY THREE CATCHERS

ARKANDELPHIA, April 8—Catcher Trout will become a permanent member of the Toronto Ball Club. At least this is the present intention of Manager Kelley, who figures that the team can afford to carry three catchers during the season. In the event of an accident that might disable Kelly or Snell, Trout would thus always be available. He is an extremely valuable man to have around, and, as stated previously, requires only weight to make him as good an average catcher as the Class AA clubs boast. He catches well, hits at a nice lip, is fast on the bases, and appears to have immensely improved since joining the Toronto club a year ago. Kelley wants him, and unless he is over-ruled by the people higher up, will have him along all season.

BASEBALL.

It loks as though Manager Bobbie Robinson of the Brooklyn Superbas, has found a regular pitcher in Aitchison, the former Newark twirler.

With Walsh, Schalk, Chappell and a few lesser lights on the hospital list it looks as though the White Sox may be up against it at the getaway.

Catcher Walter Snell — the Brown University man, secured by the Toronto International League team from the Boston Americans. Snell is sure of his place as second catcher for Toronto.

BOXING

Jack Dillon and Pueblo Jim Flynn will clash in a return engagement at Indianapolis on May 30.

Joe Borrell of Philadelphia has signed to box Bandsman Blake in London, the latter part of this month.

Bat. Nelson must be in the pugilistic discard for fair. They don't even introduce the Battler at the boxing shows any longer.

After his bout with Tommy Murphy in San Francisco this month Champion Willie Ritchie will return to Milwaukee for to prepare for the meeting with Charley White.

SIMPLEX
SHOE POLISH
Brightest and Best

THE LIST OF ENTRIES FOR WRESTLING CHAMPIONSHIPS

Fine Programme Assured for the Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium To-morrow Night--Half a Dozen Good Wrestlers Are Coming From Toronto.

The entries for the city wrestling championships closed last evening with Mr. J. J. Thompson, of the local Y.M.C.A. The ntries are as follows:

105-lb. Class—W. Osborne, St. Andrew's Athletic Club, Toronto; H. Keegan, Peterborough Y.M.C.A.

115-lb. Class—R. Hood, Toronto City Champion, Central Y.M.C.A.; Harold Lees, Peterborough Y.M.C.A.

125-lb. Class—A. Durnan, Toronto City Champion, Central Y.M.C.A.; A. Hartiken, Peterborough Y.M.C.A.

135-lb. Class—M. Walsh, Central Y.M.C.A., Toronto, Toronto City Champion and a former holder of the Ontario championship; A. Hartiken, Peterborough Y.M.C.A.; D. Forbes, Peterborough Y.M.C.A.

145-lb Class—Andrey Gibson, Ontario Y.M.C.A. Champion, and T. Harpley, Central Y.M.C.A., Toronto; W. Scott, M. Turner, Peterborough Y.M.C.A.

158-lb. Class—Alex. Gibson, Central Y.M.C.A., Toronto.

There being no Peterborough entries in the 158-pound class, efforts are being mad to secure another wrestler for that class from Toronto.

The Officials.

The officials will be as follows: Referee, S. W. Collings, Central Y.M.C.A., Toronto, or H. B. Cowan, Peterborough; time-keepers, J. J. Thompson and a representative of the Toronto Central Association.

During the bouts to-morrow evening it is the intention to prevent all shouting or noise of any kind. The audience will be allowed to clap the contestants when they appear on the mat, following any particularly good piece of work, and on the conclusion of the bout, but shouting to competitors, mentioning names, or any unseemly noise whatever, will be promptly stopped. If necessary the bouts will be closed until any such noise ceases. It is expected, however, that the audience will help and thereby aid the competitors to do their best work by keeping quiet. The upper gallery has been reserved for ladies and their escorts. The local boys completed their training yesterday afternoon and will rest up to-day and to-morrow in order to be in the best possible shape. In practically every class the contests are going to be very keen.

Random Ravings

Polite Fiction.

"I have a good offer from the Feds."

"I batted .485 and fielded .997 last season."

"I don't have to play baseball for a living."

"I was sick the day the scout was around or I'd never be back here."

"I don't expect to cop a pennant this season."

The Philadelphia Nationals have a pitcher named Tincup. Charley Dooin has one man he can count on to stick around the pump.

Some things we would like to forget;
Pitcher Baver.
Catcher Dorey.
Umpire Cancella.
The season of 1912.
Jo Jo Keenan's face.
Nemo Nasbor's fielding.
Slats Osborne's batting.
Mack McNeal's base running.
The last game at Ottawa in 1913.
The day Hilliard fanned with the bases full.
What we said in advance about Templin's team.

The latest despatches say that Trout will stick with the Torontos. Hard to say whether this is a boost or a knock.

"Give us pitchers," cry the managers

As they madly tear their hair,
But looking o'er his string of heavers
Curley murmurs "I should care."

Reports from the Buffalo training camp say that Mack McNeal is making a hit with his singing. As a baserunner, Mack is one of the best baritones we have heard.

"A Swimmer" writes to ask about the proposed baths for Peterborough. Judging from current events Mayor Buller's idea of public baths will be a cake of soap and a towel at the drinking fountains.

Current Jokes.

The weather.
The new hats.
This year's council.
Toronto's pitching staff.
Joe Byrne holding out.
The police-woman agitation.

Wonder if it will be a case of—
On again
Off again
Gone again
Flanagan.

The Doctor part of the names of the London and Hamilton managers is all right, but judging from their press stuff the second name in each case should be Cook.

"Why we have money to burn," says Gilmour
Doughty leader of the Federal Show,
But being a baker its ten to one
He will probably knead the dough.

Frank Chance says he does not expect to win the pennant this year. Several million fans entirely agree with the Peerless leader.

Our idea of oratory is Frank Shaughnessy's address to an umpire who has called him out at third base after a long hit to the outfield.

A Thrilling Situation.

Ottawa leading 4 to 1.
Ottawa pitcher, Kubat.
A White Cap on every bun.
Two out and C. Blount to bat.

A modern hero—a young man who will wear one of the new spring hats.

Lacrosse is a very exciting game. Evenly the sticks are highly strung.

This is a bad week for temperance. Many a worthy citizen will indulge in a bun on Friday.

Joe Byrne may not appeal to you as a graceful dancer, but he is certainly there with that hesitation stuff.

With the departure of the Normal girls, many young men in Peterborough will return to normal.

The Brampton Council has voted $400 to financing the trip of the Brampton Lacrosse Club to Vancouver after the Mann Cup. A photograph of the Peterborough Council passing a similar grant to a local sporting organization would be in demand by the museum.

Al. McCoy knocked out George Chip at New York last night. This is a case of knocking the block off the old Chip, instead of being an instance of a chip off the old block.

Fred Merkle drove a ball over the left-field fence at New Orleans yesterday. Must have bounced off his head.

LACROSSE MEETING TO-NIGHT

The executive of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club will meet at St. Alphonsus' Lyceum to-night at 8 o'clock. Every officer and every member of the committee is expected to be on hand, as a number of important matters will come up for discussion.

CANADIAN LEAGUE NOTES

Hamilton Herald: Every fan and fanette in this fair city should hang his or her head in shame and weep copious tears every time the Hamilton Canadian League club is mentioned, for hasn't the word gone forth from the pens of the mighty seven critics that Hamilton will rest comfortably at the bottom of the heap when the bell announces the last lap in the league race. Oh, but it's a gloomy outlook, and even before the youthful and good-looking Bob Yates takes the reins of office he has our sympathy. Regardless of the fact that he may produce the best club in the league he has been allotted nothing better than the cellar position. There is one consolation, however, in the knowledge that such is our fate and even the worst cannot injure the fore-warned local populace.

As a matter of fact the situation in the Canuck league is in direct contrast, and it is cribel the way the scribes in the tank towns about the circuit banter Hamilton folk. To read all the bunk that escapes these critics one living in Hamilton could not help but become uncomfortably warm under the collar, and rise up and declare, "We'll show them."

And that's just what we're going to do, even if in the words of the Brantford Expositor and others, "Hamilton has not yet shown that it is a baseball city either in the shape of a good team or by real patronage." The Hamilton club this year is entering on a new era, with a new manager and practically a new club, and with the fans working as one to make baseball a success, as it should be here, there is every reason to believe that it will be the best year experienced since the Canadian league was first thought of by Knotty Lee.

St. Thomas Times: The St. Thomas Baseball club will be in the midst of the fight for the pennant this coming season, right from the time the first ball is thrown until the last. The team is stronger this year than it ever has been during the previous seasons, and if they don't come out as pennant winners they will not be far away when the honours are handed out. The only weak spot now on the line-up is at first sack, and Craven is now angling for a good first sacker, but no particulars are being given out as to who it is. Brundage or Trailkill, with little money maybe, is all that is needed, it is thought, to make the trade.

Manager Craven and President Stanley, while not going around blowing about this year's team, are quietly sizing the prospects up, and think that, all things taken together, St. Thomas has the most likely lot of pennant winners of 1914. Manager Craven stated to The Times Friday that the battle would be a good one, with Toronto, Ottawa and Peterborough close contestants with St. Thomas will have one of the most formidoverlooked, as Manager Smith has some influence with several of the big leaguers, and London also seems to have a pretty good bunch of ball-players gathered together.

"Wild Bill" Baker, who has been holding out, has now come to terms, and a contract was sent him Friday. It is expected he will return it signed in a few days. Ray Clements is also expected to come into the fold any time. With these two in, St. Thomas will have one of the most formidable hurling staffs in the league. If Nevitt turns out as expected the receiving staff will also be very strong, as Dave Baker proved his worth last season.

Hubert Hadley, of Rochester, N. Y., is a cracker, by all reports, and should certainly make things hum around that old second bag. Then Forgue at short— everyone knows what good work Gil is capable of, and he claims he feels better now, than ever before, so look out for him.

Garney, last season with the Saints, is again seeking a berth here, but the management think that the team will go far better without him, and his application is not being entertained at all.

Fred Gadsby, last year with the Saints, will again endeavour to hold down some position on the team. He is under contract and may prove a valuable man.

Manager Heinie Smith of the Erie Yankees' Canadian League team, a little doubtful of the ability of the men he has received for the third sack, and receiving jobs, is at present making strenuous efforts to secure a seasoned catcher and a third-sacker.

Leo Wiltes of Rochester, and Paul Warner of Cleveland, are the present men signed for the third bag. Wiltse played with Guelph last season. Participating in 102 games, his average was—batting .286, fielding .907. Warner is known as a semi-pro player.

John Beck and Frank Daniels are the two backstops now under contract, but Smith expects to have a couple of other men report to him in the course of a few days.

Speaking of his pitchers, infield and outfield, Smith states that he thinks the men he has already signed for these positions are the best in the League.

The club uniforms arrived yesterday. The road uniforms are gray, with black caps, stockings and belts, with a black "E" in a diamond on the sleeve. The home uniforms are white, with the black trimmings.

Brantford Expositor: "What's the salary limit this year?" inquired Rube Deneau, turning to President Nelson.

"$1600," answered the genial President without batting an eyelash. "They made it that when we were figuring on Class B rating, and have never changed it."

That's all right,' replied the Rube "We will be well within it and we'll see that the other fellows are, too. In the past the sky has been the limit with some of the clubs. By means of phony contracts they have been able to make it appear that they were keeping within the limit, but, in reality, they were away beyond it. After the close of last season I made it my business to find out what some of those 'classy' players were really getting. Now I know, and, believe me, the other clubs are going to keep inside of $1600 a month or contribute weekly fines to the League Treasury. It's going to be a fight, but it's going to be a fair fight, or I'll know the reason why."

"Go to it, you're the boss," was the President's only rejoinder.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE ATTRACTIONS

GRAND OPERA HOUSE. TO-NIGHT
A Play of New York Life—With Nothing to Offend.
A GIRL OF THE UNDERWORLD
IN FOUR ACTS
PRICES—25c, 35c, 50c—Gallery 15c.
SEATS ON SALE

GRAND OPERA HOUSE TO-MORROW (THURSDAY) NIGHT
The Big Biograph Picture Feature Fighters of The Plains in 2 Reels
4 Other Reels 4 Comedy and Drama
Continuous Evening Performance commencing at 7.30 & 9 p.m.
ADULTS 10c CHILDREN 5c.

DOUGLAS STANBURY

SPECIAL HOLIDAY ATTRACTION
APRIL 10 & 11 GOOD FRIDAY & SAT
Matinee Daily 2.30. Evening 8.15.
Douglas Stanbury
Toronto
Canada's Greatest Boy Singer.
Henry E. Dixie in a remarkable 3 Reel Drama by THE FAMOUS PLAYERS COMPANY of New York. Entitled "CHELSEA 7750"
2 Reels Pictures, Comedy and Drama. (Theatre Closed on Saturday)
Reserve Seats 20c, Rush Seats (2nd Section, first Balcony 10c)
Seats on Sale

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, APRIL 14-15-16, MATINEE FRIDAY 17TH
The Merry Musical Spectacle QUEEN ZEPHRA
150—People in Cast and Dance Ensemble—150
The Big Show of The Season. Seats on Sale Friday, April 10.
Prices: Night—25-50-75c. 600 Gallery Seats 15c
Matinee—Children 25c, Adults 50c. 5d-85

Princess Theatre
Big Holiday Specialties
By Famous Players New York
IN THE FIRE LIGHT
This feature is in 3000 ft. 3 Reels
4 other reels 4
SPECIAL VAUDVILLE
Change in this
7 reels Good Vaudeville

RED MILL
Big Holiday Attractions
We show the Best Pictures in Town always.
LADY BABBIE
in 3000 feet
If you want good Pictures, visit the RED MILL on GOOD FRIDAY
4-OTHER REELS-4
Come and see
JOHN BUNNY
You will be sure to laugh and enjoy yourself at the
RED MILL
OPEN FROM 9 a.m. to 11 p.m.
5c Admission To All 5c

ROYAL THEATRE
SPECIAL SHOW FOR GOOD FRIDAY
NO CHANGE IN PRICE
MR. PETERS
Peterborough's Favourite Singer.
BOWLEY AND BARNEY
The one big Laughing Act.
HARRY LEANDER
The big Comedy Yell.
The BEST FEATURE PICTURE in Town for FRIDAY and SATURDAY
THE MODERN VENDETTA
in 3 reels 3000 feet.
4 Other good Canadian and Drama 4
OUR PRICE—
5c and 10c

ATHLETIC CLUB AT THE Y. M. C. A. THIS EVENING

Once more the officers and members of the Peterborough Athletic Club are reminded of the meeting to-night at 8 o'clock in the Y.M.C.A. It is important that every member should be on hand at this meeting.

HOMESEEKERS' EXCURSIONS; COLONIST FARES AND SETTLERS' TRAINS TO THE WEST.

Those taking advantage of above excursions, should bear in mind the many exclusive features offered by the Canadian Pacific Railway in connection with a trip to the West. It is the only all-Canadian Route. Only line operating through trains to Western Canada. No change of depots. Only line operating through standard and Tourist sleepers to Winnipeg and Vancouver. All equipment is owned and operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway, affording the highest form of efficiency.

Colonist Fares, (one way second class) to certain points in Alberta, British Columbia, California, Montana, Oregon, Washington, Arizona, Idaho, etc., in effect daily until April 15th.

Homeseekers' Fares will be in effect each Tuesday until October 27th inclusive, and round trip second-class tickets will be sold via the Canadian Pacific Railway from Ontario points (Azilda and East) West at very low fares, for example, from Toronto, also West and North of Toronto to Winnipeg and return, $35, to Edmonton and return, $43. Other points in proportion. Fares from points east of Toronto, will be slightly higher. Return limit two months.

Each Tuesday until April 28th, the Canadian Pacific will run Settlers' trains to Winnipeg and West, and for the accommodation of Settlers travelling with live stock and effects, a colonist car will be attached to the settlers' effects train. This car will leave Toronto on regular train at 10:20 p.m., and on arrival at West Toronto, it will be attached to Settlers' effects train, as mentioned above

For those not travelling with live stock and effects, special Colonist cars will be attached to regular trains from Toronto, running through to Winnipeg without change. No charge is made for accommodation in Colonist cars.

Tourist Sleeping cars are also operated on regular trains leaving Toronto 10:20 p.m. daily.

Full particulars from any C. P. R. Agent, or write M. G. Murphy, District Passenger Agent, Toronto

d-8-11-15-1wo

Here, Gentlemen,
Are Clothes of Quality

Clothes that any man, no matter what his position in life, can be proud to wear; Clothes that will lift any man up and away from the ordinary by giving him an appearance and bearing of taste, dignity and good judgment.

IN A WORD, MEN, we offer to you the finest Tailored Clothes in the world, garments that not only look well when you buy them, but as long as you wear them, because every detail in their making is looked after with the greatest care that not a solitary thing be left undone that is vitally important in making them the

"CLOTHES THAT SATISFY"

$18 to $30

They are made by SOCIETY BRAND, of course. Some men do not buy them because they think they are "expensive," but as a matter of fact, they are the cheapest clothes in the world, if you consider all that you get for the money. Any man who wears them will tell you so.

Society Brand Clothes

We Would Like to Show You a Few of the Newest Styles. Come

H. LeBRUN & CO.
WHERE QUALITY IS KING

LABATT'S STOUT
The very best for use in ill-health and convalescence
Awarded Medal and Highest Points in America at World's Fair, 1893
PURE—SOUND—WHOLESOME
JOHN LABATT, LIMITED, LONDON, CANADA

Robt. Fair & Co. Ltd.

Every Day Something New For Easter

New Suits, New Coats
New Dresses New Waists

Suits in the newest spring models in all the popular materials. A host of new arrivals daily—yes almost hourly—at this busy period of the season. They represent the cleverest and most desirable of the latest models. As fast as they are produced they come to us. Our stock is always kept up with the neatest styles for your selection.

Leading The Way in New Millinery

Our wholesale suppliers in New York keeps us in direct touch with every up-to-the-minute creation in Millinery, and acting on advice received during the past few days our skilled Milliners have made up many new models presenting fresh touches of novelty.

At $5.00, $5.98, $7.00 and $9.50 may be found charming trimmed hats from our works rooms.

Gloves Most Acceptable Easter Gifts

Nowhere in Peterboro will be found so large an assortment and reliable a quality as carried by Robt. Fair & Co. Complete spring stock.

Glace, Suede, Cape Mocha in Ladies' and Children's sizes

75c, $1.00, $1.35, $1.50

YOUR PORTRAIT — As an Easter remembrance, will be most fitting to the occasion —will be appreciated by your friends as an evidence of your thoughtfulness.

MOULE STUDIO
Next to Ole's
324½ Charlotte St., 'Phone 46

Brock St. Rink
Roller Skating
Friday and Sat.
Morning Afternoon and Evening
57th. REG. BAND
EACH DAY

ANNOUNCEMENT

WE are glad to announce to the people of Peterborough that our Furniture Department which has been on 3rd floor, 427 George St., has been transfered to the Main floor, next to our Ready-to-Wear Department, 420 George St. Our stock is all complete: New Parlour Suites, Dining Room Suites, Bed Room Suites and Kitchen Furniture, Carpets, Linoleums, Lace and Tapestry Curtains, Table Covers, etc.

We Assure the Public That We Will Sell at Low Prices and on Very Easy Terms.

You Can Buy Your Easter Furniture From us on Easy Terms

ZACKS BROS.
420—422 GEORGE STREET

Our Furniture Department Will be Open Evenings

CITY AND GENERAL

Good Friday being a holiday the route for that day will be served by the garbage collectors on Thursday.

British Mails.

Mail for transmission to Europe, is despatched from this city every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and matter is received until midnight. Four mails a day are closed out at the Post Office, for transhipment to Great Britain. 6-tf.

The Examiner Office Telephones.

The telephone numbers of the Examiner Office have been changed. The Business Office, formerly 57, is now 1690; the Editorial Office, which was 214, is now 1691; Mr. Dawe and Mr. Merrick are changed from 1217, and can be had by calling either of the above new numbers. Private branch exchange to all departments.

Notice.

Painting, papering and graining at reasonable prices. —Geo. Hawke Brownlown P. O. 'Phone 1431. 22d-6

Notice!

Carting and moving promptly and carefully attended to. Call or address J. Kelleher, 261 Romaine St. 26d-6

PROBABILITIES.

Strong north-west winds, colder with local snow flurries. Thursday north-west winds, fair and cold.

Purchased House.

Mr. Wm. Gibbs is reported to have purchased the house at 766 Water street from the estate of the late Mrs Jas. Hall.

Another Contract.

Mr. F. R. J. McPherson has secured the contract for electrical and other work to be done during the summer holidays at Regiopolis College, Kingston.

Address by Rev. J. Rollins.

The Rev. Jas. Rollins will address the Protestant Benevolent Federation in the S. O. E. Hall, Hunter street, on Friday next at 8 p.m. His subject will be "Liberty—Civil and Religious."

Easter Millinery.

Misses Ennis and Armstrong's millinery show rooms are all a-bloom with new novelties in hats for Easter and spring wear. Entrance, half door east of Payne's drug store, Simcoe Street. 2d-83-1w15.

EASTER

Ham, Bacon and Eggs.

Fearman's Hams and Bacons, the mild cured, superior flavour. See our window. The Sanitary Grocery Store near the Bell Telephone Co. Office James R. Bell. 'Phone 455.

A Mysterious Young Boarder.

A learned, solitary young man is unable to pay his board bills. You'll find out why in "Quest," by Henry Harrison. Formerly sold at $1.50 Now 50c; over 1000 good titles to choose from at Trehilcock Bros 'Phone 205.

Auction Sale

At the home of Mr. R. Waram, 267 Sherbrooke Street, Tuesday, April 14th, at 1.30 o'clock, including piano sewing machine, gas stove, wool carpets, rugs, and general household goods. All must be sold. Terms cash. —W. J. Hancock, Auctioneer. 6d-87

Name is Required.

Will the person who sent a communication for publication to the Examiner yesterday please send the name and address of the contributor, as we cannot depart from the rule of publishing any correspondence unless the name and address of sender is given.

Telephone Change.

Messrs. A. N. Allison & Co.'s telephone has been changed from 126 to 263. New number, 263, where all calls will be promptly answered regarding real estate and insurance. A. N. Allison & Co., 180 Charlotte Street. 5d-82.

COURT BRIDGENORTH, C.O.F.

In the name of Liberty, Benevolence and Concord, you are invited to the 23rd anniversary of the above Court of Forests, to be held in the C.O.F. Hall, Bridgenorth, on Thursday evening, April 16th. Dr. U. M. Stanley, of the Medical Board, High Court, and others, will address the meeting, besides an attractive musical programme. Admission 25c. 1d-84-1w15.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. A. Moore, Brock street, will not receive to-morrow.

Mrs. C. H. Moore and daughter went to Toronto yesterday.

Mrs. P. Maloney is the guest of Mrs. Greene, 433 Aylmer Street, for Easter.

Mr. W. C. Austin was in Toronto on business yesterday.

Mrs. H. S. McDuffee will not receive on Thursday, or again this season.

Mr. Hubert Eastwood has gone to Peterborough for the holidays.—Toronto Globe.

Miss Austin, of St. Thomas, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Austin, Weller street.

Mr. J. A. Brown, of New York, is in Peterborough visiting his uncle, Mr. John McGrath, Harvey street.

Mrs. W. P. Creswell and son, Beggie, have returned home after an absence of three months from the city.

Miss Glenn, of the Glenn-Charles Hair Goods Establishment, Toronto, will be at the Oriental Hotel, to-morrow.

Mr. Wilbert Gray left this morning for his home in Calgary, after spending the past four months in Peterborough.

Mr. Bert Cadigan returned to Edmonton, Alta., yesterday, after spending the past three months with his mother, East City.

Miss E. A. Gilles, student of the Business College, left the City today to spend the Easter vacation with his parents at Delora Mines, Ontario.

Mrs. W. H. Stevens and daughters, of Port Elgin, arrived in Peterborough on Tuesday and will spend a couple of weeks with Mrs. Stevens' mother, Mrs. Jas. Burnet, 833 Water Street.

Mr. Harry J. Seymour of Cavan, was very successful, taking honours in the now testing exams. at the O. A. C. course this spring. The Examiner congratulates him on his success. He has always taken a deep interest in farming.

The Rev. Harold Frost, B. A., of Victoria College has been secured by the Charlotte Street Methodist Church for the months of May and June. The Sunday services at that church will be conducted by the Rev. Wm. Jellinee of Toronto.

WEDDING BELLS

Peel—Beamer.

A very pleasant event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm Bannan, Omemee, when their daughter, Ethel Edna, was united in marriage to Mr. Milburn Peel, Lindsay. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. H. Currie, of Cardinal, Ont., formerly of Omemee Presbyterian Church, and Miss Celia Peel, of Toronto, sister of the groom, played the Wedding March. The bride, who was unattended, was gowned in cream brocaded satin, and wore an embroidered veil with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. After the ceremony the guests partook of a sumptuous dinner.

The happy couple left on the evening train for points west. The bride wore a green suit of ratine with a dainty silk blouse to match and a natty black hat and shadow veil.

Their many friends join in wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

OBITUARY

DAVID McKEE.

The late Mr. David McKee, who passed away March 14th, 1914, at the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Kingston, Ont. He was only thirty-five years of age. He is survived by his father, three brothers and one sister. The deceased young man was of excellent character and his demise will be deep regret to his many friends in Peterborough. 1d-1w.

MARGARET QUINN.

The death occurred yesterday, shortly after noon of Margaret Quinn of Lakefield, wife of Mr. Robt. Duff of that Village. The deceased had been ill eight weeks and passed away at her home in Lakefield. She was fifty years of age and was born in Lakefield, where she resided most of her life. She was the daughter of the late Christopher Quinn and not only very well known and highly respected in Lakefield, but has many friends in this City who will be very sorry to learn of her death.

She is survived by her husband and one son at home, and four brothers and sisters, all in Lakefield.

The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock to the Lakefield Cemetery.

PRESS FOR PROHIBITION

Special Wire to The Examiner:

TORONTO, April 8.—The wishes of 9,000 young Conservative voters from the rural parts of Ontario, asking that the Ontario Government should hold a plebiscite for complete prohibition of the use of liquor in the Province was presented to a full meeting of the Cabinet early this afternoon by a delegation representing the Young Men's Christian Association. Dr. McKim of Toronto, President of the Association, read a long address to the Cabinet, in which it was pointed out that unless the Government could accede to many demands their requests they would find it necessary to ally themselves with the opposite party. At the same time a petition containing 9,000 names, was submitted. The reply of the Government, through Hon. J. J. Foy, was that it was impossible for the Province to secure total prohibition; that Manitoba tried that once and was overruled by the Privy Council. No definite promises were made.

Coal is India's most important mineral product, followed by gold and manganese.

SEE US AND SEE BETTER

TAIT OPTICAL CO.
410 George St. 'Phone 1160

THE HOUSE WITH A GUARANTEE

Our Guarantee is not just so many words. It means that if your Glasses are not right, we will make them right, to your entire satisfaction.

Besides being experts in Eye Examination and Lens Manufacturing, we are adepts at adjusting frames and mountings to suit your own individual face.

Come and let us adjust your Glasses free of charge, whether we made them or not.

Absolutely Satisfaction Guaranteed

ST. GEORGE'S DAY TO BE OBSERVED

Our representative has been informed by the Rev. J. Price, that the Second Annual St. George's Day service, will be held this year at St. John's Church, which has been kindly lent by Canon Davidson for the occasion.

The service will be held on Monday evening, the 20th inst, instead of the 23rd, which is St. George's Day proper. This change of date is necessitated by the inability of His Grace, the Archbishop of Ottawa, to come to Peterborough on any other date during this month.

Although the Archbishop will be present, and will take part in the service, he will not preach. The sermon will be preached by the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Kingston, Dr. Bidwell.

The following particulars will show that St. George's Day service this year will be of very unique character, if not unparalleled in the history of the English Church in Peterborough.

To start with, an Archbishop, a Bishop, an Archdeacon, two Canons, a Rural Dean, and a number of Rectors will be present.

Then His Worship the Mayor and members of the City Council will attend in their official capacity. Also Col. Clegg, with the commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the 57th Regiment will be there.

And the "Daughters of the Empire," the "St. George" and the "Sons of England" societies have decided to be present. All this shows that the service will b a very representative one of the English community of the city and suburbs.

The details as to the order of the service will be published in our columns on Saturday, the 18th inst.

The service, which will be fully choral, will be repeated at St. George's Church on Sunday evening, the 26th inst., when the sermon will be preached by the Ven. Archdeacon Ingles, of Toronto.

COMMITTED SUICIDE

Special Wire to The Examiner:

NIAGARA FALLS, April 8.—An unknown woman, apparently a Jewess, threw herself into the cataract above the falls this morning, and when brought out by an officer with a pike pole, was dead. She was well dressed and about forty years of age.

NIAGARA FALLS, April 8.—(Later.)—The suicide has been identified as Mrs. C. E. Sanborn, of Buffalo, N.Y.

C. P. R. Made A New Low

The International Leader Crossed the 200 Line For the First Time in Seven Years

NEW YORK, April 8.—Bull traders in C.P.R. got a rude shock this morning. They woke up to find that the international leader had opened down five points from last night's close. The stock opened at 202 and closed at 200 flat. The low for the day was 199 3-4. This is the first time the C.P.R. has touched 200 in nearly seven years. The reduction in freight rates as ordered by the Canadian Railway Commission was the chief cause of the liquidation in C.P.R.

As regards other issues, the market was very narrow. Americans in London were heavy. London reported no disposition to open new commitments over the Easter holiday.

Wilson's candidates for Congress in New Jersey defeated by record vote.

Dana estimates shortage for first quarter of year 4,000 against 1,000 a year ago.

J. P. Morgan & Co. are organizing a syndicate to offer new Mexican 4 1-2 p.m. mortgage and improvement in New York.

Stock Markets

New York Stocks

Stocks	Open.	Close.
ATCH	97	97
K. T.
C. O.	125¾	125¾
M. O. P.	25¼	25¼
N. P.	114¾	114¾
R. I.	3¾	3¾
R. S.	5¼	5¼
S. P.	101	101¼
S. P.	94¾	95¼
U. P.	139¾	139¾

SWP—BRIGHTEN UP!—SWP

Don't Have Worn Spots on Your Floors

You won't have any if you use a finish made . . . especially to stand hard knocks . . .

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS
FLOOR LAC
Will Stain and Varnish

Floors, Furniture and Woodwork at one operation, and will resist to the greatest degree the hard knocks common to the ordinary household.

For Linoleums, Oilcloths and Hardwood Floors, we recommend

MARNOT

ASK FOR A COLOUR CARD — MORGAN HARDWARE Co. LIMITED — ASK FOR A COLOUR CARD

The House of Quality and Service
'Phone 710 327 George

SWP—BRIGHTEN UP!—SWP

EASTER MILLINERY
AT
MRS. J. WILSON'S
'Phone 348 322 GEORGE STREET

C. P. R.	202	200
N. Y. C.	99¾	99¾
Ills.
L. E.
S. R.	25¾	25¾
Pa.	116¾	116¾
ERIE	29½	29¾
R. V.	145	145
Rdg.	165¾	165¾
O. W.
R. O.	92½	92¾
C. O.	54¾	55½
N. K.	104	104
R. R. T.	92¾	92½
A. C. P.	77	76¾
A. B.	69	69¾
U. S.	63¼	63¾
C. F. I.
A. L. O.	34	34
CAN.	29¾	29
RUB.	60¾	60½
WOOLWORTH
SUGAR	100¼	100¼
C. P. U.	26½	26¼
M. S. P.	67	67¾

Chicago Grain Market

Wheat	Open.	Close
MAY	90¾	90¾
JULY	86¼	86½
Corn
MAY	68¾	69
JULY	68¾	68¾
Oats
MAY	39¼	39¼
JULY	39¾	39¾

TELEPHONE 790
When you want your Piano or Organ Tuned Right.
W. H. CUNNINGHAM,
343 Weller Street.

Easter Cards and Post Cards are on display in great assortment at
TREHILCOCK BROS.
417 George St.

We Are Anxious to give you any variety of

FISH

we can procure; and we always buy the best quality

Order Early to be sure of Prompt Delivery
Bell 'Phones 18 and 19

W. J. OKE
376 George Street

WASH DAY MADE EASY
BY USING THE

1900 Gravity Washer

The Easiest Running and Best Hand Power Machine Made.

SEE OUR WINDOWS! -:-:- WATCH OUR AD!

The 1900 Gravity Washer is one of the greatest labour saving devices in the house to-day. Wash Day made easy—think of that. A child can work it—Gravity does the work. Guaranteed to wash clean a Blanket or other heavy clothes, as well as the finest fabric.

The 1900 Gravity Washer is very simple in construction, all parts being made of first class material and absolutely guaranteed for five years against breakage of any kind.

If interested in Solving Wash Day Troubles see this Machine.

Peterboro' Hardware Co.
Limited

DRUGCRAFT, 274 GEO. ST.
For Ladies and Gentlemen
Open after Show
Ice Cream Sodas Fancy Drinks

The Evening Examiner.

DRUGCRAFT, 274 GEO. ST.
For Ladies and Gentlemen
Open after Show
Ice Cream Sodas Fancy Drinks

VOL. LV. No. 84 16 PAGES PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, APRIL 9, 1914 PAGES 1 TO 8 PRICE TWO CENTS

EASTER PHOTOGRAPHS

A Portrait of Mother or Father or a group of the children would be a fitting Easter remembrance.

New Styles and appropriate to the occasion.

Arrange for an appointment at

THE ROY STUDIO
140½ HUNTER ST.

APSLEY NEWS

Death of Miss Ida Tucker a Distinct Loss to the Community

Examiner Special:

APSLEY, April 8—Mr. Thomas McIlmoyle and daughter, Edna, left this week for Southy, Sask., to spend the summer with relatives there.

We are glad to hear that Walter Tucker is recovering from a severe illness and we hope to have him among us soon again.

Mr. P. Coones of Whitefish, Ont., was in the Village this week renewing old acquaintances.

Miss Flossie Stephens was the guest of Mrs. Prosser Sunday last.

Miss Certie Windsor was the guest of Miss Josephine McIlvena on Sunday last.

Dr. Shepherd of Apsley has been kept busy since his return from Wilberforce. The Doctor is a hustler and is right on the job when called on.

Mr. Alex Woods of Loon Lake was in the Village this week on business.

We are glad to hear that Mr. Stanley Windsor has fully recovered from his serious accident.

Mr. Wm. Thompson and Mr. B. Reid of Mt. Julian, were in the Village last week.

Miss Lillie Harris was the guest of Miss Ella Brown on Sunday last.

Mr. A. McColl of Apsley is busy overhauling his saw mill and preparing for a busy season's cut of lumber.

Mrs. Jas. Scott was the guest of Mr. Peter Johnson on Sunday last.

Warning.

"I was charmed with Mrs. Smith. She certainly is a lady of winning ways."

"Then you be careful how you accept her invitation to her bridge parties."

OUR HOME WOMEN HAVE BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Next time you go to the theater or to the "movies" just notice, if you please, how many of our home ladies have beautiful hair—glossy, lustrous, and well-dressed. Then, if you will pick out five or ten of those whose hair seems to be particularly pretty and will ask them what they use on it, we feel sure that at least more than half of them will say "Harmony Hair Beautifier." It is fast becoming the rage with both men and women who are particular about the appearance of their hair.

Sprinkle a little Harmony Hair Beautifier on your hair each time before brushing it. Contains no oil; will not change color of hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick, thorough cleansing. Washed out just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can injure the hair; leaves no hard film or stickiness—just a sweet cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us.

—McDermid & Jury, E. L. Payne, Peterborough, Ont.

DELICIOUS FLORIDA TOMATOES

Fine and Firm and in Natural Condition

JOE LONGO & Co.
ITALIAN FRUIT DEALERS
416 GEORGE ST. PHONE 881
280 CHARLOTTE ST. PHONE 1013

HAGGIS' CONFECTIONERY

For home-made Candies try Haggis. We keep the best ice cream quality in the City.

Try our Ice Cream, always on hand Pure and Wholesome.

HAGGIS' CONFECTIONERY
382 Geo. St. Opposite Crafter's

Jas. J. Hill On Farming

An Interview With the Farmer Financier of the Northwest —Raymond G. Carrel in the "Country Gentleman"

In all of this well-intentioned rural educational work our learned men—professors, lecturers, and high authorities—show a sad tendency to shoot over the head of the average American farmer, said James J. Hill. "They tell the farmer where some plant originated or how some plant is grown on some island in the middle of the Pacific. Poor marksmanship for sharpshooters. Their really fine store of practical knowledge goes to waste. It is never used.

"I say that these professors, lecturers, and high authorities should tell the farmer what he can do with his own hands on his own land. They should show him as well as tell him. If I had my way the Government would maintain a small model farm on its own land in every county of the agricultural states. The sight of well-tilled fields in contrast with the others of a neighbourhood would be worth more to agriculture than enough pamphlets issued from the Government printing office to paper every barn in the country, inside and out."

The septuagenarian empire builder of the great North-West offered the foregoing criticism of those who aim to lead the agriculturist out of the wilderness, and then added: "It's the truth, even if it bites." Mr. Hill sat before his desk in his private office on the ninth floor of No. 32 Nassau Street, New York City. He had dropped in from St. Paul half an hour before, and the news of his arrival had not got round "the Street."

Mr. Hill is New York's farthest-away commuter—he comes 1,320 miles. From twelve to fifteen times a year this "seventy-six years young" captain of industry catapults himself eastward on business. But he says he always leaves his heart in St. Paul; it is his mind and body alone that visit Wall Street. Once he told me he had three sons, six daughters, and seven adopted children. The lucky seven are the states of Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, South Dakota, Idaho, Washington, and Oregon.

To me Mr. Hill has often suggested a dual personality: Jim Hill of the North-West, lover of fine stock, friend of the farmer, and practical agriculturist; James J. Hill, financier of Wall Street, shrewd, calculating, and relentless when following a purpose.

His somewhat tired but still almost erect frame, unostentatiously garbed, has ever looked quite out of place among the fashionplate brokers and bankers of New York. He appears to be shut in, and out of his element, as he makes his way on foot from office to office through the deep canyons between the towering buildings of lower Manhattan. Even in his wonderful New York mansion, No. 8 East Sixty-fifth Street, where he used to serve banquets to his now deceased partners, Lord Strathcona and Lord Mountstephen, on gold plates, Mr. Hill never feels at his best. Just to have "a bit of the country" near at hand he has had a small roof-garden constructed atop his eastern residence, and there he often goes alone to sit and ponder about knotty problems of business.

"Oh, yes, I still live in St. Paul," Mr. Hill said to me. Then he looked over a statement I had prepared from a previous appointment with him. Mr. Hill is always very careful of what he says upon the subject of agriculture. For farming is his hobby.

Essentials of Good Farming.

We chatted about the North-West. I am quite sure this was the real Mr. Hill. He told me about his great farm in Minnesota; his herd of pure-blooded Ayrshire cattle imported for the specific purpose of distributing the stock among the farmers; his most pleasurable yearly trips round the county fairs of the North-West; the paintings in his beautiful western residence, 240 Summit Avenue; his two banks, the First National and the North-Western Trust Company; and his goings and comings from his private office on the fourth floor of the Great Northern Building, all in St. Paul.

Here is the statement of Mr. Hill after he had made a few corrections:

"Within the next half century the population of this country will have grown to more than a quarter of a billion people. How are we caring for the soil, and what possibilities of future support does it hold out to the people? We are only beginning to feel the great pressure upon the land.

"No longer can we say that 'Uncle Sam has land enough to give each of us a farm.' Equally threatening is the change in quality. There are two ways in which the productive power of the earth is lessened: First, by erosion and the sweeping away of the fertile surface soil into streams and thence to the sea; second, by exhaustion through wrong methods of cultivation.

"Thousands of acres in the East and South have by erosion been made unfit for tillage. North Carolina a century ago was one of the great agricultural states. Everywhere there now you see the land gullied by torrential rains—red and yellow clay banks exposed where once were fertile fields. Millions of acres have been so injured that only time can restore them.

"But far more ruinous is the process of soil exhaustion. It has crept over the land from East to West. The abandoned farms that are now the playthings of the city's rich or the game preserves of patrons of sport are mute evidences of this melancholy change. New Hampshire and Vermont and parts of New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts show long lists of them, and the same process of deterioration has spread to the Middle states, affecting Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

"In the last fifty years a great part of the richest land in the country has been brought under cultivation. We should, therefore, in the same time have raised proportionally the yield of our principal crops per acre, because the yield of old lands, if properly treated, tends to increase rather than to diminish. We are doing little more than keeping the acre product stationary. We must increase the product of our land in preparation for the increased demand that has already made itself felt. We must recognise the farm as the corner-stone of national prosperity and even of national character.

"You ask me to name the essential things that must be done to conserve the soil and at the same time give to its cultivator a large and increasing return. I have stated them many times. It is an old story. The essentials are:

"Rotation of crops.

"Thorough cultivation.

"Chemical soil analysis to discover in what elements of fertility, if any, it is deficient, and supplying them.

"The keeping of live stock and the liberal use of manure.

"The selection of only the best products for use as seed, and a careful test of germination before planting.

"Always more and better cultivation.

"Many years ago I said that the average crop of the principal farm products in the United States might be doubled, judging from the yields obtained in other countries, a comparison of soils and a contrast of methods employed. The highest authorities not only accept this conclusion now, but point to possibilities still more surprising. We would add billions of dollars every year to our wealth and yet leave the soil better than we found it.

"That rates on farm loans are still too high is mainly due to the farmer's want of punctuality in meeting his payments. In other words, he is careless. If a man is so using his acres that he is able to eke out only a bare living, what real basis has he for credit, though billions of capital were made available? Realized or prospective profits and ability to pay are the builders of easy credits and low rates.

"The argument for artificial enlargement of credit runs in a circle and returns to its starting point. When the value of the collateral—which is the land and what it produces—reaches a proper figure no artificial figure will be needed. Assistance by state or nation will do less than an increase of farm profits in extending the farmer's credit and may, if carried to excess, lead him into speculation, of which there is now more than sufficient. Trace down the majority of the loans asked for by farmers, and they are to buy more land rather than to improve the land that these men already possess.

"A man who is growing twelve bushels of wheat to the acre and getting fewer bushels every year cannot borrow on the same terms as one who is getting an increasing yield from his land. Up-to-date farmers are not complaining over credit difficulties. They are generally stockholders as well as depositors in credit institutions. Those who complain are generally the farmers who have neglected to care for their soil and are known in their community as poor farmers or speculators."

Diagnosing the Soil.

"Co-operation in distribution is a sadly neglected feature of farm business methods in America. It speaks ill for the intelligence and organized ability of the United States that we are still far behind most other countries of the world in this respect. While the profits of the middleman are often exaggerated they are for the most part economic waste. In most parts of Europe farmers long ago organised for distribution. The helplessness of American farmers is discreditable. It causes an enormous aggregate money loss.

"Any kind of organization for co-operative collecting and marketing that should bring demand for and steady supply of farm products together with certainty, and adapt each to the other with intelligence, would benefit both parties more than any possible reduction in the cost of transportation, clothing, groceries, and lumber, the extension of agricultural credit, or all combined. But one must remember that the modern consumer orders by telephone and expects prompt delivery, and does not go in person with a market basket.

"But, returning to the real underlying problem of modern, scientific agriculture, the only technical step in the whole process is soil analysis. To illustrate my point, every physician must diagnose the disease to the patient before determine what is the condition of the patient before prescribing a remedy. It is not necessary that the farmer should be a college graduate or a highly educated man. He can send a sample of his soil to the nearest agricultural college or state or government officials. They ought to be equipped with the intelligence to comply promptly with every such request that may be made upon them. He can select his seed, test it himself, cultivate his ground properly, and do all the rest just as well as an expert."

Turning to me when he had finished reading the interview Mr. Hill said: "I should say that about covers my general views on agriculture." His private secretary—a powerful, energetic young Irish-American named Martin Brown—came in with a typewritten page upon which had been copied the strongest points in Mr. Hill's interview. This Mr. Hill also read over and signed.

I remarked that one of the editors of The Country Gentleman had suggested my calling to his attention the fact that the farmers were complaining that fertilizer costs money, and that banks were not overly keen to lend money for such small purposes.

"Indeed, our bankers in the North-West and the West are not making that mistake," he replied. "B. F. Harris, an Illinois banker, tells me that bankers everywhere are awakening to a closer partnership with the farmer.

"As I have said, the trouble with the farmer is that he borrows too often, to get more land and not to improve the land he already owns. No farmer asking for a loan to fertilize his land should be refused by a bank. All along our railroad lines west of St. Paul the farmers are aroused—the bankers, too, for that matter. They are working in harmony."

Mr. Hill called attention to the numerous five-acre plots his railroads maintained in the North-West. Each farmer got eight dollars an acre for his work on these plots in addition to the product, the only condition being that he farm exactly as directed.

"Prof. F. R. Crane has charge of this work," said Mr. Hill. "See these reports up to last September. They show in wheat a plat yield of 30.40 bushels to the acre alongside a farm yield of 18.30 bushels; barley, 49.50 bushels alongside a yield of 28.30 bushels; and oats 66.05 bushels alongside a yield of 41.90 bushels.

"There," the farmer-financier continued, "you have what I call the proper sort of missionary work among farmers. It is done right under the farmer's eyes, on his own land, with his own hands. He works both the railroad plat and his own land. How long do you suppose it will take him to speed up all of his own land to the acre record of the railroad plat? With a little of the proper instruction the farmer can with his own hands on his own land handle the methods we show him as expertly as he handles the new machines that now gather the crops once harvested by hand."

That is Mr. Hill all over. He claims that a prosperous agricultural interest is as important to the country as good digestion is to a human being and he believes that fertile fields are the real gold mines of the United States.

"It would indeed be a pity if our Government turned away the immigrant of previous farm experience," he said upon the subject of farm labour. "We need him here badly.

"Newcomers should be directed to the farm instead of to the city. Here-to-fore immigration has paused in the great cities, and farmers who badly needed farm labour stretched out their hands in vain."

The thought came as I left the James J. Hill the North-West knows, passing through a lane of representatives of the Eastern money mart waiting in the outer office to see him, that the situation requires two Mr. Hills—one to attract the idle wealth of the East, the other to spread it over a new country in its development. After all, then, there is only one Mr. Hill—a great human bridge over which have passed the cost of many miles of rails and equipment and the industrial enterprises that follow in the wake of the shrill blast of the locomotive and the roar of passing trains laden with earth's produce.

Oh Pshaw!

"Buxton declares that 'Fanny Fifth Play' is its author's best work."

"His shaw d'oeuvre, so to speak."

In The Bathroom—

on the bathtub, wash-basin, linoleum, woodwork, mirrors, lavatories and all metal fixings, use Panshine. It is perfectly wholesome, has no disagreeable smell and leaves nothing but absolute cleanliness behind it.

PANSHINE

A pure, white, clean powder that doesn't scratch and positively will not harm the hands.

Large Sifter Top Tin, 10c. At all Grocers

P-4

LABATT'S STOUT
Has Special Qualities
MILDLY STIMULATING, NOURISHING, SUSTAINING
A Perfect Tonic
THIS IS THE TIME OF THE YEAR IT IS NEEDED
If not sold in your neighborhood, write
JOHN LABATT, LIMITED
LONDON CANADA

Easter Custom

It is a pleasant custom to remember your friends and relatives at Easter.

Why not take advantage of the occasion and have a new Photograph taken in your Easter attire to send to friends?

OPEN GOOD FRIDAY

Appointments for Good Friday, (April 10th) should be made without delay.

ORME STUDIO
170 Charlotte. Phone 630

DEAL IS OPPOSED

Liberals Protest Against Buying Timber Limit

PROPERTY TOO EXPENSIVE

TORONTO, April 9.—A high state of tension prevailed in the Legislature last evening when Hon. Mr. Hearst crossed swords with Chief Liberal Whip Charles Bowman regarding the proposed addition to Algonquin Park.

The trouble started when the North Bruce member, in attacking the Government purchase of the Pembroke Lumber Co. timber limits, declared that the whole deal was for the benefit of political friends of the Conservative party.

"We desire to protest," declared Mr. Bowman, "in the strongest possible manner against this transaction, and claim that it should not be consummated, that the principle is entirely wrong and that this old, worn-out limit should not be purchased from active political friends of the Government for $135,000."

Mr. Bowman moved in amendment that the purchase price be reduced to $35,000, which he considered a reasonable value of the limits.

"If this bill becomes law," he declared, "it means a most deliberate looting and plundering of the Provincial Treasury for active political friends of the Government."

This brought the Minister to his feet with a rush. "I am not at all surprised at the remarks with which the member has brought to a close his speech," he declared, "but if any man, either inside or outside the House, should not have used such language, it is the member for North Bruce."

Mr. Bowman instantly demanded "an explicit statement" of what was meant.

"Why does he ask when it is a matter in the public records of the House?" was the retort.

Again Mr. Bowman came back. "I presume that when the hon. member says it is a matter of public record that he refers to my connection with the Algoma Central Railway Co., and I want to say that if my connection had anything to do with the loan of two millions to the Soo company granted under the legislation of the Ross regime, all I have to say is this, that if I had anything to do with it, it was a most fortunate thing for the member from Sault Ste. Marie and the Province of Ontario."

"And more particularly the member from North Bruce," retorted the Minister.

"I have nothing to apologize for in that matter, and I repeat it was a most fortunate thing, and there is in that city to-day the largest and most successful company in the province, and if it were not for that the hon. Minister would likely be sitting in a deserted village with the green grass growing around him."

In reply to the charges which the Liberal whip preferred, the Minister said that the best timber cruisers in the north had been engaged, in the appraisal of the land in question, and that persons from both political parties had agreed on the quality of the timber, and the value of the bargain. He quoted some of these in the House to back his argument.

Messrs. Proudfoot of Huron, Hartt of Simcoe, and others joined in the debate before the second reading was carried on division.

When W. K. McNaught asked the privilege of special expedition in handling Toronto's bill to enable the city to go ahead with its postoffice square scheme yesterday afternoon, Hon. Messrs. Lucas and Foy demurred until full explanation had been given. Permission was sought in the bill to allow the negotiations of the City Council with the Federal Government for the new postoffice square. The measure was allowed to go direct to the private bills committee.

Evidence Taking Ends.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Taking of testimony by the Interstate Commerce Commission on the application of eastern railroads for a five per cent. increase in freight rates was concluded yesterday so far as the present phase of the proceeding is concerned. Protestants against any increase in the lake and rail rate closed their case with the testimony of Julius H. Barnes of Duluth, who urged that the lake and rail carriers were not entitled to an advance in rates, because their service was antiquated and unnecessarily expensive to shippers.

Nova-Centenarian Studies Music.

ST. MARYS, April 9. — Thomas Collins of the first concession of Biddulph township, who is ninety-nine and a half years old, has just commenced taking music lessons and is making good progress. He has lived in the reigns of six British sovereigns and is a remarkable individual in many ways.

On Nov. 12, Mr. Collins will be one hundred years old. His mind is clear, his memory almost a marvel. Nor is he bereft of agility and vigor.

U. S. To Pay $25,000,000.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Twenty-five million dollars is the amount the United States agrees to pay to Colombia for the partition of Panama and the acquisition of the canal zone, in the treaty signed in Bogota by American Minister Thompson and the Colombian authorities. This was stated here yesterday at the Colombian lega-

If you Buy a Kodak or Camera or if you do not

We are always pleased to talk Kodak over with you. If you have any idea of buying, but are still in doubt, come in and we will explain everything in detail and will not be disappointed if you decide not to purchase.

If you have trouble with your developing or printing let us help you, it is our business.

We develope any size Roll of Film for 10c. Our charge for Printing is equally reasonable. Call at

M'Dermid & Jury's
THE KODAK STORE

EXTRA—A Fresh Shipment of Huyler's Chocolates just arrived.

WOMEN CLOSED BARS.

First Equal Franchise Poll In Illinois Hit Publicans Hard.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Women voting for the first time in Illinois Township elections demonstrated their power Tuesday by closing the doors of more than a thousand saloons outside of Chicago, adding 16 counties to the 30 already dry and barring the sale of interlicants in approximately 200 of the 300 townships in which local option was an issue.

Their victory included 11 of the larger cities of the state, including Springfield, the state capital, which, until the votes were counted Tuesday night were wet territory.

Approximately 70 per cent. of the women voters favored the anti-saloon ticket, while male voters divided approximately 60 per cent. wet and 40 per cent. dry.

Minnesota anti-saloon advocates were elated yesterday over victories in most of the cities of the fourth class, which hold local option elections. Even St. Peter, where saloons have operated for more than sixty years, was swept into the dry column.

Local option voting in Michigan will close 43 saloons and one brewery.

BACH IS HELD UP.

Carlow County Farmers Get Back at Corrugh Camp Officers.

LONDON, April 9—Announcement was made last night that the popular Irish race meeting, Carlow Hunt Sportsmen races had been abandoned under very remarkable circumstances. One of the prizes offered for competition at the meeting is a military cup. Notices were yesterday served on the promoters of the races of a resolution which was passed on Sunday last by the Tullow branch of the United Irish League. It read that "in view of the attitude assumed by military officers at Carragh in connection with the Home Rule bill, we farmers of County Carlow protest against their racing over our lands in the future and request that the military cup be withdrawn from the program of the Carlow Hunt Sportsmen's races."

That Feeling of Security

HAVE you noticed the decreasing number of cords or chains attached to Eyeglasses?

THIS is largely because a recent improvement on the Fowler Eyeglass Mount enables us to fit you with Eyeglasses so securely yet comfortably that they do not require a chain to keep them on.

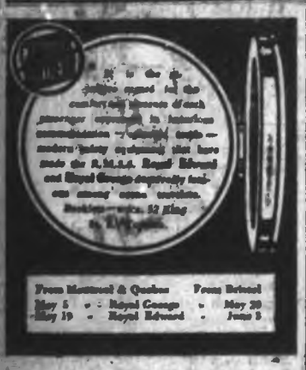
THESE Fowler Mounts are guaranteed to give perfect comfort, and you will certainly admit, when you see them, that they present a remarkable handsome appearance.

DROP IN and examine one of these Mounts. Price $3.

REMEMBER we use 'PEBLO' Quality Lenses in all our Glasses.

A. A. FOWLER
Phm. B.
EYESIGHT SPECIALIST
10 years of continuous successful Optical Service in this City.
Optical Parlour and Lens Grinding Plant with
RUGBY DRUG CO'Y
286 George St., Peterborough

LONDON PARIS
WHITE STAR
DOMINION LINE
R. A. ROSE, G.T.R. J. SKINNER C.P.R.
LOCAL AGENTS



From Montreal & Quebec — From Bristol
May 5 - Royal George - May 20
May 19 - Royal Edward - June 3
From St. John, N. B. — From Bristol
April 25 - Royal Edward - May 6

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
Easter Holiday Fares
SINGLE FARE — Going April 9-10-11-12, Returning April 10 only
FARE and ONE-THIRD — April 9-10-11-12, Return Limit April 14, 1914
(Children half fare)
Between all stations in Canada east of Port Arthur; also to Detroit and Port Huron, Mich., Buffalo, Black Rock, Niagara Falls and Suspension Bridge, N.Y.
SETTLERS' FARES
(One-way Second-class)
From stations in Ontario, Kingston, Renfrew and West to points in Alberta and Saskatchewan, each Tuesday during April.
LOW COLONIST FARES
(One-way Second-class)
From stations in Ontario to certain points in Alberta, British Columbia, California, Colorado, Oregon, Washington, etc. ON SALE DAILY UNTIL APRIL 15 inclusive.
Full particulars at all Grand Trunk Ticket Offices or write C. B. HORNING, D.P.A., Toronto, Ont.
R. A. ROSE, City Passenger and Ticket Agent
F. SANDY, Station Ticket Agent

CANADIAN PACIFIC
EASTER FARES
Between all Stations in Canada, Port William and West, and to South Ste. Marie, Detroit, Niagara Falls, Buffalo and Niagara Falls, N.Y.
SINGLE FARE — Fare and One-Third
Good going Apr. 10 | Good going Apr. 9-10-11-12, Return Limit Apr. 14
COLONIST FARES
(One-Way Second Class) to certain points in Alberta, [illegible], Oregon, Montana, British Columbia, Idaho, Wyoming, Utah, Nevada, etc. Daily until April 15th
REDUCED SETTLERS' FARES
(One-Way Second Class)
Each Tuesday until April 28.
Through Trains Toronto to Winnipeg and West. Colonist Cars on All Trains. No change for Boston.
Information from Canadian Pacific Agents or write M. G. Murphy, D.P.A., Toronto.
J. Skinner, C.P.A., 393 George Street.

Railway Time Tables

GRAND TRUNK

	ARRIVE	DEPART
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Sturgeon Falls and Toronto	11.54 a.m. 9.00 p.m.	8.20 a.m. 6.35 p.m.
Port Hope and points east of Montreal and Boston	8.10 a.m. 5.30 p.m.	8.10 a.m. 9.05 p.m.
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago and west, Niagara Falls, Buffalo	12.16 p.m. 5.30 p.m.	11.40 a.m.
Cobourg, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 5.30 p.m.	9.05 p.m. 6.10 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay, Stouffville, Uxbridge, Markham, Lindsay Local	11.54 a.m. 9.00 p.m. 10.15 p.m. 7.55 a.m.	7.10 a.m. 2.20 a.m. 6.35 p.m. 6.55 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 6.00 p.m.	8.20 a.m. 1.30 p.m.
Lansdowne	8.55 a.m. 6.15 p.m. 7.00 p.m.	7.00 a.m. 12.20 p.m. 6.40 p.m.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

Going East —

Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec	11.45 a.m.
*Indian River, Norwood, Havelock, Montreal	1.47 a.m.
Havelock, Montreal, Quebec, St. John, N.B., Boston	12.15 a.m.
Havelock, Montreal, Quebec, St. John, N.B., Boston	12.50 a.m.
Ottawa Special for Smith's Falls and Ottawa, only	1.20 a.m.
Going West —
Toronto, Guelph, Godarich	4.37 a.m.
Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, New York, Oak, Woodstock, St. Thomas, London, Chatham, Detroit, Chicago	2.04 a.m.
North Toronto, West Toronto	6.10 a.m.
*Local for Cavanville Barberton, Lakefield, Myrtle, Toronto	7.45 a.m.
Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, New York, Detroit, Chicago	4.35 p.m.
Lansdowne from Port McNicholl, Rapids, Indian River,
Norwood, Havelock	6.37 p.m.
Mail train for Lindsay, Orillia and Port McNicholl	9.15 a.m.

*Daily except Sunday.

Cash or Credit For Furniture
Store filled with every day requirements for comfortable homes. Davenports, Parlour Tables, Dressers, Dressers, Bedroom Outfits, Rugs, Oilcloths, Linoleums, Etc.
EMPIRE FURNITURE CO.
299 George St. Opposite Customs House
Telephone 812.
CASH OR CREDIT

OUR SERIAL STORY PAGE

"THE MAYOR'S WIFE"

By ANNA KATHARINE GREEN

(Continued from yesterday.)

CHAPTER XXI.

MERCY.

"Where is my wife?"

"Sleeping, sir, after a day of exhausting emotion."

"She didn't wire me?"

"No, sir."

"Perhaps she wasn't able?"

"She was not, Mayor Packard."

"I must see her. I came as soon as I could. Left Warner to fill my place on the platform, and it is the night of nights, too. Why, what's the matter?"

He had caught me staring over his shoulder at a form drawn up in the doorway.

"Nothing; I thought you had come alone."

"No, Mr. Steele is with me. He joined me at noon, just after I had telegraphed home. He has come back to finish the work I assigned him. He has at last discovered—or thinks he has—the real author of those libels. You have something special to say to me?" he whispered, as I followed him upstairs.

"Yes, and I think, if I were you, that I should say nothing to Mrs. Packard about Mr. Steele's having returned." And I rapidly detailed the occurrence of the afternoon, ending with Mrs. Packard's explanation to her servants.

The mayor showed impatience.

"Oh, I can not bother with such nonsense as that," he declared; "the situation is too serious."

I thought so, too, when in another moment his wife's door opened and she stepped out upon the landing to meet him. Her eyes fell on Mr. Steele, standing at the foot of the stairs, before they encountered her husband; and though she uttered no cry and hardly paused in her approach toward the mayor, I saw the heart within her die as suddenly and surely as the flame goes out in a gust of wind.

"You!" There was hysteria in the cry. Pray God that the wild note in it was not that of incipient insanity! "How good of you to give up making your great speech to-night, just to see how I have borne this last outrage! You do see, don't you?" Here she drew her form to its full height. "My husband believes in me, and it gives me courage to face the whole world. Ah! is that Mr. Steele I see below there? Pardon me, Mr. Steele, if I show surprise. We heard a false report of your illness this afternoon. Henry, hadn't Mr. Steele better come up-stairs? I presume you are here to talk over this last dreadful paragraph with me."

"It is not necessary for Mr. Steele to join us if you do not wish him to," I heard the mayor whisper in his wife's ear.

"Oh, I do not mind," she returned with an indifference whose reality I probably gaged more accurately than he did.

"That is good." And he called Mr. Steele up. "You see she is reasonable enough," he muttered in my ear as he motioned me to follow them into the up-stairs sitting-room to which she had led the way. "The more heads the better in a discussion of this kind," was the excuse he gave his wife and Mr. Steele as he ushered me in.

As neither answered, I considered my presence accepted and sat down in as remote a corner as offered. Verily the fates were active in my behalf.

Mayor Packard was about to close the door, when Mrs. Packard suddenly leaped by him with the cry:

"There's the baby! She must have heard your voice." And rushing into the hall she came back with the child whom she immediately placed in its father's arms. Then she slowly seated herself. Not until she had done so did she turn to Mr. Steele.

"Sit," said she, with a look and gesture her husband would have marvelled at had he not been momentarily occupied with the prattling child.

The secretary bowed and complied. Surely men of such great personal attractions are few. Instantly the light, shaded though it seemingly was in all directions, settled on his face, making him, to my astonished gaze, the leading personality in the group. Was this on account of the distinction inherent in extreme beauty or because of a new and dominating expression which had insensibly crept into his features?

The mayor, and the mayor only, seemed oblivious to the fact. Glancing up from the child, he opened the conference by saying:

"Tell Mrs. Packard, Steele, what you have just told me."

With a quiet shifting of his figure which brought him into a better line with the woman he was asked to address, the secretary opened his lips to reply when she, starting, reached out one hand and drew toward herself the little innocent figure of her child, which she at once placed between herself and him. Seeing this, I recalled the scraps of cipher left in my room above and wished I had succeeded in determining their meaning, if only to understand the present enigmatical situation.

Meanwhile Mr. Steele was saying in the mellow tone of a man accustomed to tune his voice to suit all occasions: "Mrs. Packard will excuse me if I seem abrupt. In obedience to commands laid upon me by his Honour, I spent both Tuesday and Wednesday in inquiries as to the origin of the offensive paragraph which appeared in Monday's issue of the Leader. Names were given me, but too many of them. It took me two days to sift them down to one, and when I had succeeded in doing this, it was only to find that the man I sought was ninety miles away. Madam, I journeyed those ninety miles to learn that meanwhile he had returned to this city. While I was covering those miles for the second time, to-day's paragraph appeared. I hastened to accuse its author of libel, but the result was hardly what I expected. Perhaps you know what he said."

"No," she harshly returned, "I do not." And with the instinctive gesture of one awaiting attack she raised her now sleepy and nodding child in front of her labouring breast with a look in her eyes which I see yet.

"He said—pardon me, your Honour, pardon me, Madam—that I was at liberty to point out what was false in it."

With a leap she was on her feet, towering above us all in her indignation and overpowering revolt against the man who was the conscious instrument of this insult. The child, loosened so suddenly from her arms, tottered and would have fallen, had not Mr. Steele leaned forward and drawn the little one across to himself. Mr. Packard, who, we must remember, had been more or less prepared for what his secretary had to say, cast a glance at his wife, teeming with varied emotions.

"And what did you reply to that?" were the words she hurled at the unabashed secretary.

"Nothing," was his grave reply. "I did not know myself what was false in it."

With sudden faltering, Mrs. Packard reseated herself, while the mayor, outraged by what was evidently a very unexpected answer, leaned forward in great anger, crying:

"That was not the account you gave me of this wretched interview. Explain yourself, Mr. Steele. Don't you see that your silence at such a moment, to say nothing of the attitude you at present assume, is an insult to Mrs. Packard?"

The smile he put in reply was deprecatory enough; so were the words his outburst had called forth.

"I did not mean, and do not mean to insult Mrs. Packard. I am merely showing how hampered a man is, whatever his feelings, when it comes to a question of facts known only to a lady with whom he has not exchanged fifty words since he came into her house. If Mrs. Packard will be good enough to inform me just how much and how little is true in the paragraph we are considering, I shall see this rascally reporter again and give him a better answer."

Mayor Packard looked unappeased. This was not the way to soothe a woman whom he believed to be greatly maligned. With an exclamation indicative of his feelings, he was about to address some hasty words to the composed, almost smiling, man who confronted him, when Mrs. Packard herself spoke with unexpected self-control, if not disdain.

"You are a very honest man, Mr. Steele. I commend the nicety of your scruples and am quite ready to trust myself to them. I own to no blot, in my past or present life, calling for public arraignment. If my statement of the fact is not enough, I bear swear on the head of my child—"

"No, no," he quickly interpolated, "don't frighten the baby. Swearing is not necessary; I am bound to believe your word, Mrs. Packard." And lifting a sheet of paper from a pile lying on the table before him, he took a pencil from his pocket and began making lines to amuse the child dancing on his knee.

Mrs. Packard's eyes opened in wonder mingled with some emotion deeper than distaste, but she said nothing, only watched in a fascinated way his moving fingers.

The mayor, mollified possibly by his secretary's last words, sank back again in his chair with the remark:

"You have heard Mrs. Packard's distinct denial. You are consequently armed for battle. See that you fight well. It is all a part of the scheme to break me up. One more paragraph of that kind and I shall be a wreck, even if my campaign is not."

"There will not be any more."

"Ah! you can assure me of that?"

"Positively."

"What are you playing there?"

It was Mrs. Packard who spoke. She was pointing at the scribble he was making on the paper.

"Tit-tat-to," he smiled, "to amuse the baby."

Did she hate to see him so occupied, or was her own restlessness of a nature demanding a like outlet?

Tearing her eyes away from him and the child, she looked about her in a wild way, till she came upon a box of matches standing on the large centre-table around which they were all grouped. Taking some in her hand, she commenced to lay them out on the table before her, possibly in an attempt to attract the baby's attention to herself. Puerile business, but it struck me forcibly, possibly from the effect it appeared to have upon the mayor. Looking from one to the other in an astonishment which was not without its hint of some new and overmastering feeling on his own part, he remarked:

"Isn't it time for the baby to go to bed? Surely our talk is too serious to be interrupted by games to please a child."

Without a word Mr. Steele rose and put the protesting child in the mother's arms. She, rising, carried it to the door, and, coming slowly back, reseated herself before the table and began to push the matches about again with fingers that trembled beyond her control. The mayor proceeded as if no time had elapsed since his last words.

"You had some words then with this Brainard—I think you called him Brainard—exacted some promise from him?"

"Yes, your Honour," was the only reply.

Did not Mrs. Packard speak, too? We all seemed to think so, for we turned toward her; but she gave no evidence of having said anything, though an increased nervousness was visible in her fingers as she pushed the matches about.

"I thought I was warranted in doing so much," continued Mr. Steele. "I could not buy the man with money, so I used threats."

"Right! anything to squelch him," exclaimed the mayor, but not with the vigour I expected from him. Some doubt, some dread—caught perhaps from his wife's attitude or expression — seemed to interpose between his indignation and the object of it. "You are our good friend, Steele, in spite of the shock you gave us a moment ago."

As no answer was made to this beyond a smile too subtle and too fine to be understood by his open-hearted chief, the mayor proceeded to declare:

"Then that matter is at an end. I pray that it may have done us no real harm. I do not think it has. People resent attacks on women, especially on one whose reputation has never known a shadow as girl, wife, or mother."

"Yes," came in slow assent from the lips which had just smiled, and he glanced at Mrs. Packard whose own lips seemed suddenly to become dry, for I saw her try to moisten them as her right hand groped about for something on the table-top and finally settled on a small paper-weight which she set down amongst her matches. Was it then or afterward that I began to have my first real doubt whether some shadow had not fallen across her apparently unsullied life?

(To be continued.)

More than 2,000 inventors applied last year for British patents relating to railways, motors and road vehicles and more than 500 for air craft developments.

POWER OF A PLAY

Laurence Irving Would Keep the Stage From Derogating

"It was in the person of my father that the drama received the highest recognition that had ever been bestowed upon it. He was the first actor to receive the honor of Knighthood, and he was the second—Garrick was the first—whose honored bones were laid to rest in Westminster Abbey. Therefore, one may truly say that the art of the actor has been honored by the Sovereign and sanctioned, or it might be said hallowed, by the Church," said Mr. Laurence Irving, the famous English actor, in an address. It behooves the stage and the public, he said, to see that it did not derogate from the eminence on which it had been placed.

Referring to the power for good wielded by the stage, Mr. Irving quoted the name of the play, "Everyman," which was a beautiful expression of truly catholic faith. When that play was presented in Canada, he said, he had heard that there were two Cabinet Ministers present. Before the performance was half-way through its course both rose and left the theatre. In two months from that date both were disgraced and ruined. "The lesson had struck them to the heart and they found it too hard to endure," said the speaker. He appealed to business men to support and uphold the stage, for they were a great element in the furtherance of dramatic art. There was to him something intensely romantic in controlling a great business. The drama was clearing away the fetish and quagmire that was pointing to a great extent our modern life.

FIRST TEMPERANCE SOCIETY

Its Organization Formed in Canada Till 1827

Canada's first known temperance society was organized at West River, N.S., in 1827 and the next year another was formed at Beaver River, N.S. These were both total abstinence bodies. The first temperance convention in the Dominion was held at Halifax in 1834. In 1840 the first non-drinking organization to be known as a "Temperance Society" was formed among Roman Catholics in the city of Montreal.

England felt the strength of the temperance movement to a greater extent than before when in 1832 the first organized movement was started by Joseph Livesy, who organized a band of workers at Preston, Eng.

Up to the present day the Church of England in Canada has moderation pledges which restrict only the use of ardent spirits.

The progress of temperance in the United States was more or less sporadic outcroppings of sentiment until in 1826 when Dr. Benjamin Rush of Philadephia took a firm stand and so earnest was his work that the feeling against liquor gradually grew until it reached proportions great enough to secure legislation.

Oils distilled from the needles of spruce and fir trees are being used to scent petroleuum floor oils which are sometimes objectionable on account of their odor.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
CURE
Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing
SICK
Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured
HEAD
Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.
ACHE
Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.
CARTER MEDICINE CO., NEW YORK.
Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

NO ALUM
MAGIC BAKING POWDER
CONTAINS NO ALUM

DR. A. W. CHASE'S CATARRH POWDER 25c.
is sent direct to the diseased parts by the Improved Blower. Heals the ulcers, clears the air passages, stops drop pings in the throat and permanently cures Catarrh and Hay Fever, 25c. a box; blower free. Accept no substitutes. All dealers or Edmanson Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

REGAL TABLE SALT
FREE RUNNING
Isn't this the Salt you have always wanted —a Salt that stays dry and free running, all the year round—and especially in damp, rainy weather?
"Regal" Salt is the finest grain of Windsor Salt prepared by a new process under perfectly hygienic methods making a pure and perfect free running Table Salt. 126
IS CLEAN SANITARY AND FREE RUNNING

THE BANK OF OTTAWA
ESTABLISHED 1874.
HEAD OFFICE, - - - OTTAWA, Canada.
Over 96 Offices throughout Canada.
By Bank Money Order,
Bank Draft, Telegraphic Transfer or Cable Transfer
we can transmit money for you to any point throughout the world.
Peterboro Branch, Geo. St., C. C. Wainwright, Manager

PILES.
You will find relief in Zam-Buk! It eases the tension, allaying pain, stops bleeding and brings ease. Perseverance, with Zam-Buk, means cure. Why not prove this? All Druggists and Stores—50c box
Zam-Buk
FOR ALL SUMMER SORES

A "Helping" Hand" Extended to the Middle Aged Woman

THERE comes a time in every woman's life when she undergoes an important change. This is a critical period. It is a time when a woman needs her full health and strength. For your own sake you should anticipate this.
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
has been recommended for over forty years as a tonic for women. It is helpful in the equalization of the circulation of the blood and in regulating the action of the bowels. Nervousness and low spirits disappear. Happiness and contentment take their place.
The latest in medical science is contained in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser—now in revised edition of 1008 pages, only 21c. Address Dr. Pierce's Invalid's Hotel, Buffalo.
Sold in tablet or liquid form by Medicine Dealers—or send 50 cents for sample box

THE IMPERIAL LIFE
Assurance Co. of Canada
Each Premium Paid
On an IMPERIAL POLICY is so much money saved—not spent. Your family will reap the reward some day, or you may live to enjoy it yourself. In every case a Policy in THE IMPERIAL LIFE is
A Good Investment
W. G. MORROW, Agent
437 George Street

NO BETTER — TIME!
TO HAVE YOUR PROPERTY INSURED AGAINST LOSS BY FIRE THAN NOW.
No better or safer Companies to take out a policy with, than those we represent.
You may have much or little, it's worth insuring.
See us about Fire Insurance To-Day!
Davis-Thompson Company
LIMITED
Insurance and General Agency
PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO.

MONEY TO LOAN.

MONEY TO LOAN—On Mortgage Security on Farm and City property on lowest rates of interest. G. N. Gordon, Barrister, 247 George Street.

MONEY TO LOAN—On Farm and Town property, at lowest current rates on easiest terms of payment. HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON, Successors to Stratton & Hall, Barristers, Peterborough, Ont. Office — Over the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

MONEY TO LEND—On first-class City and Farm Securities only, on current rates. BENNETT & GOODWILL, Barristers, Solicitors, etc., No. 426 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone, No. 191. J. W. Bennett; E. L. Goodwill.

MEDICAL.

DR. BUCHANAN, F.R.C.S., Edin., M.R.C.S., Eng., L.R.C.P., London. Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist. Hours—9-11 a.m., 2-4 p.m., 7-8 p.m. 'Phone 619. Office: Corner Water and Murray.

DR. R. E. KELLY, Late House Surgeon at St. Francis and Manhattan Maternity Hospitals, New York. Late House Physician at Riverside Isolation Hospital, Toronto. Hours, 1-3.30 p.m., 7-9 p.m. 'Phone 189. Office: 248 Hunter St. 6m

T.W.H. YOUNG M.D., C.M.
L.R.C.P., L.R.C.S., L.M., L.F.P.S., P.T.M.C.
Diseases of Women and Children
Hunter St. 'Phone 207

CHIROPRACTIC.

DR. S. W. KIRKWOOD, Chiropractor. Telephone 193. Office hours—8 to 10 a.m., 2 to 4 p.m., 7 to 8 p.m. 467 Water Street, Peterborough, Ont.

OSTEOPATHY.

DR. ADA G. WALMSLEY—Osteopathic Physician. Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce; Hunter Street Entrance. 'Phone: Office, 649; Residence, 469. Office hours—9 to 12 a.m., 2 to 6 p.m. Evenings by appointment.

DR. IVA M. CARUTHERS, Osteopath. Office: Bank of Commerce Building, opposite Post Office. Hours—10 to 12 a.m., 2 to 5 p.m., and by appointment. 'Phone 614. Residence 'Phone, 1371

LEGAL.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries, Offices, 416 Water Street, Peterborough. Money to Loan at lowest current rates of interest, on easy terms of repayment. H. A. Peck, K.C., D. Kerr, V. J. McElderry.

G. N. GORDON.—Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public and Conveyancer. Commissioner for New York State. Money to Loan. Office upstairs, first door south of Madill's Drug Store. Bell 'phone 329; Machine 'phone 169. 247½ George St

O'CONNELL & CORKERY.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries, Hunter Street, two doors west of Post Office. Daniel O'Connell, John R. Corkery.

RUDDY & BURNHAM.—Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, etc. Offices: 376 Water Street. Money to Loan. Robert Ruddy, K.C.; J. H. Burnham, M.A. Telephone No. 64.

DUMBLE & JOHNSTON.—Barristers, Solicitors, etc. Office over Toronto Savings and Loan Company, 426 George Street. D. W. Dumble, K.C.; W. F. Johnston.

A. E. DIXON.—Barrister, Solicitor, etc. Offices, Corner Hunter and George Sts. entrance, next Madill's Drug Store. dw

HALL, HAYES & HALL.—Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries Public, Hunter St., Peterborough. Next to St. John's Church. Money to Loan at lowest rates of interest. E. H. D. Hall, City Solicitor; Louis M. Hayes, K.C.; and Basil D. Hall.

HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON.—Successors to Stratton & Hall, Barristers, Solicitors, etc., Peterborough, Ont. Office, Corner of Hunter and Water sts., over Canadian Bank of Commerce. R. R. Hall, S. T. Medd, W. S. Davidson.

W. H. MOORE.—Barrister, Solicitor, etc. Office, entrance first hallway west of Post Office, Peterborough, Ont. Money to Loan.

WOOD & WEARING.—Barristers, etc. Offices, over Canadian Express Office, George Street. Money to Loan. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney. Jos. Wearing, M.A.

ARCHITECTS.

W. BLACKWELL.—Architect and Civil Engineer. Plans and estimates made of churches, public buildings and dwelling houses. Building, heating and plumbing a specialty. Office, 376 Water St., Peterborough.

AUCTIONEER
W. D. KETCHESON,
Licensed Auctioneer for Peterboro County
Sales attended to promptly and satisfactorily
Address 88 DOURO STREET, CITY
'Phone 1078.

New York Chinese Cafe Co.
George St. Phone 800
Regular meals served and short order a specialty. Comfortable dining rooms and excellent bill of fare 25c for 21 meals Open day and night Yee Yen, Manager

Dominion Cafe
Modern and up-to-date dining rooms also private dining table. Drop in and try our special China dishes. Nothing but the best of steaks and chops used. We guarantee the best of satisfaction to strangers, and all our patrons. 'Phone 838
328 George St
TOM HILL Manager.
Open from 7 a.m. to 1 a.m.

Dedication Of New Lodge Rooms By Havelock Order Of Oddfellows

Easter "At Home" to Be Given by Brotherhood of Railwaymen

HAVELOCK NEWS

Examiner Special:

HAVELOCK, April 7.—Mrs. Thos. Bardy and children have returned to their home in London, Ont., after an extended vacation with her mother, Mrs. Jas. Campbell.

Mrs. Jas. Seabrooke is rapidly recovering from her recent operation for appendicitis and hopes to be able soon to be removed from Mrs. Campbell's private hospital to her home.

Miss Mary Bannon is visiting with friends in Peterborough.

Mr. Willard Roche returned to his home in Kingston, after spending the week in Town, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Roche.

Miss Anna Bryans spent a few days last week in Lakefield, the guest of Miss Mable Sawyer.

Mr. Jack Lee of Savant was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Roche, last week.

King Dodo and Adams Plantation Co. appeared in the Opera House or two nights last week.

Mrs. Pickering spent last week at her home in Peternorough.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rose have taken up residence in the house lately occupied by Mrs. Taylor.

Mrs. G. A. Gillespie of Peterborough was in Town Monday.

Mrs. F. J. Squire and son, James, were in Norwood on Tuesday last.

Mrs. Alex. Innis entertained a number of friends to a progressive euchre party at her home on Monday evening last, in honour of her guest, Miss Keenan of Sunderland. Miss McWilliams and Mr. McGregor were the lucky winners of the first prizes and the consolation prizes were awarded to Miss Paget and Mr. H. Bennett.

Dr. Kindred and Mr. T. P. Lancaster were in Peterborough Monday, on business.

Mrs. Rev. Holdsworth and Master Harold spent last week with friends in Cobourg.

Mr. Thos. Cummings of Bancroft is visiting friends in town.

Mr. Fred Fry of Toronto was in town last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Warren of Peterborough were in town last week for a few days.

Mrs. Wm. Andrews was in Peterborough on Tuesday last.

Mrs. H. W. Roche was in Peterborough on Tuesday last.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ghent was in Peterborough last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Phillips spent Monday at Norwood.

Miss McWilliams spent Monday in Peterborough.

Mr. Isaac Barlow spent Monday in Peterborough.

Mr. W. Warren of Victoria was at Peterborough on Monday.

Mr. P. J. Wright of Waterloo, formerly Manager of the Bank of Toronto, here, was in Town recently, en route to Ottawa as a member of the big Western deputation, asking the Government for ship canals and subsidies for electric radial lines. Mr. Wright's many friends were delighted to see him.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rose and Mrs. Alex Rose have returned from Toronto, where they spent a few days.

Mrs. Norman Sliter of Schinwaxalls Falls, Mich., is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Henry Wing.

Mr. Jas. Fowler was in Peterborough last week on business.

Mr. Russell Joyce was in Peterborough on Friday last.

Mrs. W. Burgess and daughter if Belmont have returned from a visit with her brother, Dr. O. Howson of Kalamazoo, Mich. Miss Lila Burgess who also accompanied her mother, is remeaining in Kalamazoo with her uncle until mid-summer.

Mr. S. Hubel spent Monday in Norwood.

Mr. P. C. Jack has presented Knox Church, here, with a handsome oak Praise Board, in memory of the late Mrs. Jack.

Royal Lodge No. 286 Independent Order of Oddfellows entertained their friends at the dedication of its new lodge rooms in the Curtis Block on Friday evening of last week. A feature event of the evening was a mock invitation put on by the members of the Peterborough degree team.

Coronation Lodge No. 283, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, will hold an Easter At Home in the Town Hall on Easter Monday night, April 13th. The Comittee in charge of the event are Messrs. W. Buchanan, S. Deyo, H. Grey, W. Kelly and H. Drake.

Mr. J. P. Foster, formerly of Town, passed away at his home at 759 Milwaukee Avenue, East, Detroit, on March 4th, last, the cause of his death being acute pneumonia.

The Town Council will hold their regular April meeting Monday night, when the question of an appeal in the Robinson case, will likely come up for discussion.

Mr. Ray Phillips of Town, agent for the Ford automobile, has been successful in selling cars to Messrs. H. Wing and E. Hair of town and E. C. Pace of Cordova.

A number from Town attended the West Peterborough Conservative meeting in Peterborough on Monday last.

Prof. Pember of Toronto will be at the Dineen House on Tuesday, April 14th, with the latest styles in hair goods.

Assessor Brewster of Town is on his rounds again.

Mr. W. R. Warren of Peterborough, has sold his residence to that City to Mr. Fred Sedgwick, and has purchased Mr. F. F. Fry's country home, five miles east of Havelock, on the Cordova Road.

The funeral of the Bulgarian, N. Duloff, who is supposed to have met foul play, took place on Tuesday afternon of last week to the Maple Grove cemetery, Rev. C. W. Holdsworth conducting the services.

A large number of the unfortunate boy's comrades and others attended the service.

Mr. Eric West of Hastings, was in Town last week.

Dr. Crawford of Marmora, formerly of Havelock, was successfully operated on for appendicitis recently and is rapidly recovering.

The remains of Mr. Albert Sinclair the fireman who met death in the wreck on the C. P. R. at Cherrywood, last week, were brought to Havelock Sunday and were conveyed to the Maple Grove Cemetery for burial.

THE NEW LORD MINTO
Lord Melgund who has succeeded his late father as Earl of Minto. He is in the Scots Guards.

$5,000 FOR A FLEA

Scientist Declares They Form Interesting Study

"The public ought to know more about fleas," declared one scientist, who was much interested in Baron de Rothschild's recent purchase of a $5,000 flea from the coat of a sea otter. "The American Museum of Natural History is at present having made from a flea a model a foot in length for exhibition purposes. When ready for public inspection persons of an unscientific mind may be able to see what a flea really looks like.

"As a matter of fact there is very little likelihood that this five thousand dollar creature is a flea at all. It is very probably a close relative of the Dermacentor Americanus. There are a great many other small creatures masquerading as fleas. There is the sand flea, for instance, which is really as little like a flea as a snake is like an elephant.

"The flea has been a vastly overrated creature, so far as intelligence goes. Simply because fleas have been able to go on the stage the public has decided that they are intelligent. The mere fact that they can draw little wagons and otherwise perform for the amusement of the public means nothing. The secret of all this is instinct, not intelligence. The fact that a fly in a bottle will find its way out when the open end of the bottle is toward the light doesn't show that the fly uses its intelligence to get out of the bottle; it simply follows its instinct to go toward the light. In the same way the trainer of fleas bases his training on their instinct.

"The genuine flea has only six legs. The two front ones are short, the middle set are of medium length, and the back legs are long. It is this graduated set of legs which enables the flea to leap so quickly. The quickness of the jump made possible by these long hind legs accounts for that phenomenon which is regarded as one of its most striking characteristics, by those with whom a flea may have come in contact. The fact that one flea can frequently produce the impression of a flea army is also to be traced to the astonishing agility of the creature. The sea otter 'flea' would not have these characteristics. In regard to its habits of residence alone would it be comparable to a flea."

HOW "TIZ" HELPS SORE, TIRED FEET

"TIZ" is grand for aching, swollen, sweaty calloused feet or corns.

Good-bye sore feet, burning feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelling feet, tired feet.

Good-bye corns, callouses, bunions and raw spots. No more shoe tightness, no more limping with pain or drawing up your face in agony. "TIZ" is magical, acts right off. "TIZ" draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet—the only remedy that does. Use "TIZ" and wear smaller shoes. Ah! how comfortable your feet will feel. "TIZ" is a delight. "TIZ" is harmless.

Get a 25 cent box of "Tiz" now at any druggist or department store. Don't suffer. Have good feet, glad feet, feet that never swell, never hurt, never get tired. A year's foot comfort guaranteed or money refunded.

Meeting Of The Norwood Public Library Board

Mr. E. J. Laing Was Appointed Librarian—Norwood People Have Removed to Lindsay.

Examiner Special:

NORWOOD, April 8—Reeve B. W. Squire was in Toronto last week.

Dr. Pickering, of Forest, was a guest of his sister, Mrs. Keefer, last week.

The Daughters of the Empire and the Norwood Rifle are making arrangements for a big demonstration on Victoria Day.

Mr. D. Kelly and family moved to Lindsay last week. On Monday evening previous to their departure a number of his friends and neighbours presented him with a purse of money and the following address:

To Mr. David Kelly—

Dear Mr. Kelly,—It has been with feelings of regret that we have learned of your contemplated departure from amongst us, and ere you leave use on the morrow, we have taken the liberty of calling upon you this evening to bid farewell, and also extend you some tangible expression of the esteeme in which we hold the pleasant associations we have had with you in the many years gone by.

In the daily routine of life, as a neighbour and fellow-workman, you have ever proved yourself a true and kind friend in every sense; and our sincere wish is that you and your family may be spared to enjoy many years of health, happiness and prosperity in your new home. In saying God-speed we would ask you to please accept this address and purse as a little memento of Norwood and may it often bring you happy memories.

(Signed) JOHN HENDREN,
WM. BASKIN.

Band Engaged.

The Military Band of Campbellford has been engaged to furnish music on April 17th, at the first annual assembly of the local Company E, of the 40th Northumberland Regiment.

On Tuesday evening the adjourned meeting of the Norwood Public Library Board was held in the library room.

The secretary read the year's report which showed the affairs of the Library to be in good condition.

The following officers were elected for 1914:

President—J. G. Keefer.

Vice-President—Mr. Wm. Cuthbertson.

Directors—Messrs. J. G. Keefer, A. Breault, Wm. Cuthbertson, C. Tucker, P. M. Grover, R. C. Lawlor, J. E. Roxburgh, P. O'Reilly, A. S. Wilkinson, E. P. Cuffe.

Mr. E. J. Laing was re-appointed librarian and secretary.

A communication received from the Carnegie Corporation in reply to inquiries made by the secretary, and enclosing question forms to be filled out in the event of the town deciding to accept a grant for the erection of a library building, was discussed and some initial steps taken to secure particulars from other towns that have received grants.

Mrs. T. Pace, of Cordova, was in town on Thursday.

Rev. Mr. Lowe, who has accepted a call to Midland, preached his farewell sermon in the Baptist Church on Sunday evening.

Miss Armanel Peters, of Peterborough, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. J. L. Squire.

Mr. Bruce Lees, of Peterborough, visited on Sunday at the home of his aunt, Miss E. L. Waters.

Rev. W. H. Adams, of Toronto, a former pastor of the Methodist Church here, has been a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Keefer.

Mrs. Ira D. Moore and daughter are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Searight.

Mr. Armar D. Weir, of Madoc, is visitin his son, Mr. John Weir, and his daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Sutton.

Rev. Mr. Reer preached in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning. There was no evening service.

"Ben Hur" Illustrated.

Rev. Mr. Wilkinson, of Toronto, director of the People's Sunday Srvice in Massey Hall, preached in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening. On Monday evening, under the auspices of the W.M.S. he gave Lew Wallace's famous story "Ben Hur," illustrated by beautiful hand-painted lantern slides, and on Tuesday evening, under the direction of the Epworth League he gave an illustrated address on "The Passion Play." The proceeds on Monday night were $25, the admission being only 10 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Laing attended the banquet in Havelock on Friday night.

Misses Bessie and Olive Rose, of Havelock, were in town on Monday.

Mrs. Sills, of Peterborough, is a guest of Mrs. Andrew Davidson.

Mr. Garfield Anderson left on Monday for Peterborough, where he has accpted a position.

Mr. Will Andrew, of Havelock, was in town on Monday.

Mr. Sluggitt, of Warkworth, spent Sunday in town.

Rev. Mr. Snider preached in Westwood on Sunday morning, and in South Dummer in the afternoon.

Mrs. Wildes, of Havelock, was in town on Monday.

Mrs. Tudhope and daughter, Evelyn, have returned from a few weeks' visit in Toronto.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church will be held on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. (Dr.) Ford.

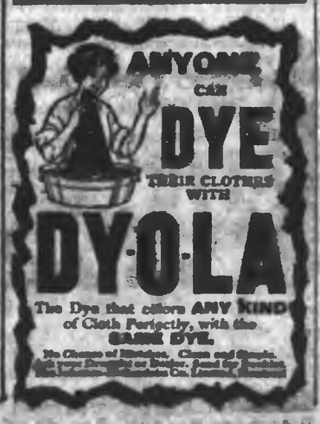
Miss Helen Harper, of Peterborough, is a guest at the home of her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harper.

Messrs. Green, Overend and Kelly, of Havelock, were in town Monday.

Mr. Roland Kidd, of Warsaw, visited on Sunday at Mr. R. Burgess'.

Fractions Versus Fact.

Teacher (explaining fractions) — Suppose now, Willie, you had eight little boys visiting you and you had only one apple; how much would each little boy get?



EFFECTIVE SPRING TONIC OVERCAME WEAKNESS

System Was All Run Down—Could Not Attend to Work —Lasting Cure Effected by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

The cold, changeable Canadian winter is a severe strain on all who are not in robust health. This is proved by the many deaths, particularly of aged people, which occur about March, and the very many people who find themselves weak and run down in the Spring.

The overeating of heavy foods and living in stuffy rooms, where the air is laden with poisons, leave the blood impure in the spring. You must have something to restore vigour, and, as stated in this letter, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the most effective spring tonic.

If you have any doubt on this point just read the letters that are appearing daily in this paper from persons who have proved the efficiency of this great food cure. No medicine ever aroused so much enthusiasm in those who have used it.

Mr. A. Sicard, Dana, Sask., writes: "When I began to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food my system was so much run down that I was weak and exhausted, and could not attend to my work. The effect of the Nerve Food was almost like magic, for in a few days the weakness wore away, and I found strength and vigour being restored to the body. That cure was effected three years ago, but I generally use the Nerve Food in the Spring as I can find no treatment so effective as a spring tonic."

You can avoid the headaches, the depression, the indigestion and tired, worn-out feelings this spring if you begin at once the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This great prescription enriches the blood, and there is no germicide so effective as pure, rich blood. Fifty cents a box, 5 for $2.50. All dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

A PAGE OF LATE NEWS AND GOSSIP FROM FOREIGN LANDS

CIGARETTE SMOKING AMONG ENGLISH WOMEN INCREASING

Excuses Are Rare, but It Is No Longer Considered "Unwomanly" to Indulge in the Practice—Should Women Ride Astride? Kaiser's Veto Discussed.

(Special Dispatch.)

London, April 6.

English women, unlike their Chicago sisters, have no desire to be cured of the cigarette habit. Clinics, such as have been opened in America for the treatment of feminine tobacco victims, are not needed in this country. At any rate, that is what I am led to believe.

"I rarely encounter cases of women who smoke excessively," said a prominent London doctor to your correspondent. "Women smoke quite moderately, as a rule. There is no doubt, however, that the cigarette habit is growing."

Five years ago the woman who smoked was associated with Bohemianism and suffragism; she was called "unwomanly," and "not quite nice." To-day the most respectable of feminine suburbanites smoke as a matter of course. One used to see the warning, "Ladies are requested not to smoke" in most West End restaurants. To-day the legend is antiquated. Only in one or two places does the restriction linger.

Inquiries at West End tobacconists elicited the fact that women have long since passed the stage when they demanded "ladies' cigarettes." A well known tobacconist said that his lady customers smoked much the same brands as men. A hospital nurse told me that almost every member of her profession smoked—usually in their bedrooms—and that it required some ingenuity to evade the vigilance of the matron.

The Kaiser's veto on the wives of German army officers riding astride has aroused widespread discussion in London. There is no doubt that in recent years riding astride has become more and more popular with women. In the country it is quite common, while in Rotten Row some women may be seen astride most days of the week.

It is suggested in support of the Kaiser's command that the practice of riding astride involves risk of internal injury to the women who follow the practice, although the effect may not make itself apparent for a long time. This view, however, is by no means generally accepted.

One of the most famous riding masters of the day, Mr. Heap, the manager of the Regent's Park Riding School, told me the other day that he knows many women, including several doctors' wives, who have ridden astride for years, and are none the worse for it.

"Several of them," added Mr. Heap, "are mothers of families, and so far from having in any way suffered from riding astride they enjoy splendid health, and tell me they attribute it to regular exercise on horseback.

"It depends on the woman and it depends on the horse. I should not advise a heavily built, stout woman to ride astride, and I should advise no woman to ride a horse with a back like a table.

"But a tallish, athletic woman, up to ten-stone weight, will suffer no harm from riding astride, provided she has a suitable horse. Such a woman, trained to ride astride, would ride thirty miles astride more comfortably than one riding side-saddle, and riding easily would suffer no ill effects."

A young typist working in a certain city office received a great surprise the other day. Her employer called her into his room and said to her, "Oh, Miss W——, I want you, if you don't mind, to go out and buy a sachet, one of those French perfume sachets, you know. Go and get something really nice."

Delighted with her strange commission, the girl went out and returned with a sachet. "Excellent," said the business man, as he smelt it. "Now will you please write out for me a copy of this letter on this paper?" He took some hand made azure blue paper. "And write it in as sloping, unbusinesslike, 'womanly' hand as possible. When you have written the letter I want you to keep it for a day or two in your handbag, along with the sachet, till it is thoroughly scented with the perfume. Then post it."

The letter explained all this strange procedure. It was addressed to the chief partner of a well known retail firm, and explained that he adopted this method of getting in touch with them because ordinary business letters in business envelopes had apparently never reached them, or, at least, always remained without response, although he knew he was quoting lower terms than any other firm for a thoroughly good article.

"A letter such as I am sending you now," he wrote, "will not, I think, be opened and diverted, as I am inclined to fear previous ones have been. No one would venture to open it."

The typist posted the letter two days later, and a satisfactory response was soon forthcoming, so the stratagem was a complete success.

KING GEORGE DROPS IN ON THE TENANTS OF MODEL FLATS OWNED BY THE PRINCE

Lady Evelyn King is the eldest daughter of the Earl and Countess of Lovelace and a charming debutante of the coming season. Lady Evelyn was born in 1896 and will be eighteen this year. Lady Mary Hamilton is the eldest daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Abercorn, who will make her debut in the coming season. She will be eighteen this year.

England's Ruler Surprises Some of the Housewives at Their Work and Chats with Them Concerning the Interest He Is Taking in Endeavoring to Provide Comforts for the Lower Classes.

(Special Dispatch.)

London, April 4.

THE political situation, serious though it is, has not interfered much with the gayety of London life, except that it curtailed the King's and Queen's proposed stop of a week with Lord and Lady Derby to two days. The King would not have gone at all, but he disliked disappointing the humble subjects who had made great preparations for his reception at Port Sunlight, Birkenhead, Chester.

The King was constantly in touch with the government each night at Knowsley Hall, the residence of Lord and Lady Derby, and received telegrams, one being despatched from the House of Commons giving a summary of the proceedings, and another from Lord Stamfordham, who remained behind to watch events dealing in a more intimate manner with the political crisis.

The King's and Queen's motor-car friends were invited to Knowsley Hall to meet them. Included were Count Albert Mensdorff, Lord and Lady Essex, Lord and Lady Pembroke, Lord Durham, Lady Anne Lambton, Lady Ilchester and Kellie and Mrs. Leopold de Rothschild.

Before going north the King and Queen once more showed their deep interest in the people by a surprise trip to the cottages and flats in Kennington, where the Prince of Wales recently became a landlord of model dwellings housing sixty families. No hint of the journey was given. The monarchs first observed an aged charwoman polishing the brass knobs of a door.

Looks Over Son's Flats.

"Couldn't have believed my eyes," the woman said, "that they even were coming near us. A fine lady is Queen Mary."

The trip was productive of many amusing incidents, all enjoyed by the King and Queen.

Ascending to the first floor of one of the flats, the King tapped on a door in a simple, unaffected way and said to the housewife, "I've come to inspect the cottages and flats I've built for my son. May I come in?"

"Although I recognised the King and Queen at once," said Mrs. Charlton, who occupies the flat, "I remained glued to the spot for several seconds while they passed through all the rooms inspecting everything."

At another flat Mrs. Marshall was just clearing away her husband's luncheon and a comedy was played. On a table was a glass and empty stout bottle, which Mrs. Marshall endeavored to hide, and, failing, apologised. The King and Queen laughed heartily, but the King kindly put the woman at ease, saying he was glad to observe that she attended to the comforts of her husband.

The King, practical in all things, inquired how the flats and cottages compared with the income of the tenants.

"I am anxious to make provision for the lower and middle classes," the King said. "I am anxious for the welfare of the working classes, and in London I have realised that these classes find it difficult to obtain a house within their means not too far from the centre. I had that in view when I decided to have these dwellings erected for my son, for this is a serious problem to hundreds in London today."

Charity Has a Share.

Royal and other society leaders are busy with works of charity. Under the patronage of Princess Christian and Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein an excellent matinee was held at the Victoria Palace in aid of the North London Home for Stray Dogs, established by the Dumb Friends' League.

Donna Augusta de Braganza, or Queen Augustine Victoria, of Portugal, as she is called by courtesy, performed the opening ceremony of the Royal Amateur Art Exhibition at Surrey House, surrounded by a great throng of notable women of society, who paid as much deference to her as if she actually were a reigning sovereign. She certainly looked very graceful in a black toilette, with a white fox muff and stole, long diamond earrings and diamond slides on her neck velvet. She wore a little black hat with aigrettes in front.

The Duchess of Somerset held a big sale of art at her house, in Grosvenor square, in aid of the International Hospital at Venice, founded by the late Lady Layard.

The Princess Royal, accompanied by Princess Maud, opened the new premises of the Church Army Medical Mission and presented comfortable garments to the patients and toys to the children. The Princess Royal accepted a bouquet from Mrs. Rollings, the oldest patient, much to her delight.

BRIDE'S SACRIFICE FOR HER PARENTS

(Special Dispatch.)

Calcutta, April 6.

SNEHALATA, the sixteen-year-old daughter of Babu Harendra Mukherjee, a broker of this city, burnt herself to death to save her father from ruin through the payment of an excessive marriage portion to her bridegroom.

Babu Harendra having asked a young undergraduate of the university in marriage for his daughter, the youth's father asked a price for him which for a time frustrated Harendra's hopes. After a second interview the sum was reduced to $5,000, two-thirds of which was to be paid in cash and the remainder in jewelry. Harendra decided to raise the money by a mortgage on his house.

Snehalata, who was a girl of exceptional beauty, thereupon resolved to sacrifice her life to preserve the fortune of her parents, and on the day before the transaction was to be closed she dressed in her best clothes and, climbing on the roof of the house, drenched her clothes with oil and set them on fire.

A Brahmin who happened to pass saw her and raised an alarm. The flames were put out with great difficulty, and Snehalata, still smiling, though enduring terrible agony, was conveyed to the medical college hospital. She died later in the evening.

Queen Mary Refitting Room at Windsor Like an English Manor

Collection of Wedgwood and Other China Ware, Together with Some Fine Old Jacobean Furniture, To Be Placed in the Renovated Chamber When Completed.

(Special Dispatch.)

London, April 4.

FOR some time Queen Mary has been engaged upon the formation of a new room at Windsor Castle that promises, when completed, to possess unique interest. While stopping there last summer the Queen found an unused room in one of the older parts of the castle, the oak panelling of which strongly appealed to her. She resolved to have this renovated and to convert it into a typical room of an English manor house, and the necessary work has since been carried out.

For some years the Queen has been making a collection of Wedgwood and other English china, this being now scattered between York Cottage, Sandringham—where the bulk of it is to be seen—Buckingham Palace and Windsor Castle. It is now to be placed in this new room, where some fine old Jacobean furniture also is to be kept.

Prince Albert, the King's second son, has now started off on a cruise on the dreadnought Collingwood, which is expected to last for several months, the vessel being attached to the First Battle Squadron as flagship of Vice Admiral Sir Stanley Colville. This probably will be the last occasion upon which the Prince will serve with the fleet until he has undergone a two years' course at Cambridge, where, it is understood, he will be entered at Trinity College after the summer vacation. It is expected that when he severs his connection with the Collingwood the Prince will be specially advanced to the rank of sub-lieutenant as a recognition of the amount of hard work he has done since he entered upon his seagoing experiences.

The decorators are getting busy in Mayfair, for houses are letting well, therefore the optimistic, and those whom it would benefit, are hoping for a very full season after Easter. Futurist notions have spread even to the exteriors of houses, and the very latest cry is the black hall door with silver knocker and handles.

There is a new firm of lady decorators who are showing some amazing schemes for the outside of houses, one of which is in tones of yellow, from the palest primrose to deepest orange. Another is to be in purple and cerise, the blinds to be of mauve, while a third is of dark blue and tangerine color. If it is impossible to get natural flowers to tone with these effects they propose to introduce artificial blooms in window boxes.

Girls are doing much entertaining "on their own" this spring. The up to date young woman of the day is a very managing young person, who has very often a suite of rooms in her parents' house, after the manner of a royal princess, to which her family comes only when they are invited. She gives the parties and even little luncheons to her intimates, when her own maid does the waiting, and her mother is not often honored with an invitation, for, as she explains, "You would feel out of it, as only young people are coming." The society girl of the day knows every one of people who are not on her mother's calling list.

TO STOP BOGUS MASSAGE PLACES

(Special Dispatch.)

London, April 6.

THERE is some prospect of definite and drastic action being taken soon to put an end to the scandal of bogus "massage establishments" which abound in certain quarters of London.

The London County Council (General) Powers' bill, which has just passed a second reading in the House of Commons, deals a deadly blow at those women who have picked up a smattering of massage methods and opened luxuriously furnished salons for the "treatment" of imaginary invalids. For mademoiselle the masseuse and the charming "expert" in chiropody will alike be required, under the terms of this bill, to register themselves and their establishments, at the cost of 5s each, and to submit to the periodical calls of duly appointed inspectors, whose duty it will be to see that nothing improper is going on.

Some months ago attention was drawn to this scandal, but since then it has become accentuated rather than diminished, and Piccadilly has been painted red and yellow with bold lettered sandwich boards flaunting in the face of every passer by the allurements of So-and-So's massage establishment, or the excellence of Miss ——'s manicurist skill.

The authorities will have power to refuse to register any one whose moral character is open to suspicion.

Famous Castle on the Market

Ancestral Home of Chiefs of Clan Menzies Will Be Sold in London May 29.

(Special Dispatch.)

London, April 4.

The ancient, historical and sporting domains of Castle Menzies, extending to about ninety thousand acres, including the well known shootings at Castle Menzies, Foss, Rannoch Lodge, Craganour, Corrievarkie and other moors, are to be offered for sale by Messrs. Knight, Frank & Rutley, at No. 20 Hanover square, on May 29, unless previously disposed of by private treaty.

Castle Menzies, the ancestral home of the chiefs of the Clan Menzies, and one of the finest baronial structures in Scotland, nestles at the base of the Rock of Weem, in the fertile district of Upper Strathtay, known as Appin na Mayneriech.

For centuries the whole district has belonged to the Menzies family. The scenery around Weem and Aberfeldy is world-famed, and immortalised in Burns' poem "The Birks of Aberfeldy," wherein mention is made of the Menzies or Menzies Burn, with its cascades and wooded ravines.

The date of the building of the castle is not definitely known, but it is said to have been as early as 1571. Built of slate whinstone, it has defied the centuries, but certainly the inflammable portions were destroyed by Neil Stewart of Garth, in 1568, and restoration was carried out between 1571 and 1577.

The picturesque stronghold, with its original old iron barred door, ancient turrets, corbelled stepped gables, carved coats of arms and dormer windows, is in a remarkably good state of preservation and the outer walls are from six to seven feet thick. The royal arms, granted by Queen Mary, on her trip in 1564, appear in the front, and Charles II.'s cypher over the Old Gate commemorated his call after the battle of Worcester. The additions to the building were made about 1840, when the new wing and porch were added.

The reception rooms include the banqueting hall, now used as a drawing room, decorated in panels divided by mouldings of the Georgian period; Queen Mary's sitting room, with old Tudor mantelpiece, and ceiling with pendant centre, designed probably for the Queen's sojourn in 1563; the library, dining room and business room.

The bedrooms include Queen Mary's bedchamber, where the Queen slept, and Prince Charlie's bedroom, in which he is said to have slept in 1745.

Huh!

Cincinnati Enquirer:—"If there is anything in this migration, I want to be an ear when I come back to this world," observed the Grouch.

"Why?" asked the Old Fogy.

"So I could spend all my summers in cold storage," replied the Grouch.

Thackeray Year in Salesrooms

Autograph Collectors Are Interested in Manuscripts Soon To Be Sold in London.

(Special Dispatch.)

London, April 4.

Among autograph collectors, who become more and more numerous, this will be remembered as a Thackeray year, as last year was a Browning.

Though the most important Thackeray manuscripts are now placed all more or less permanently, there still remain some valuable ones to be snapped up. There are four appearing at Sotheby's rooms in the first week of next month. They belong to Thackeray's daughter, Lady Ritchie, and some of them fit in with others originally in her possession and sold from the wonderful Thackeray collection of Major Lambert recently in New York.

At that sale, for example, were nine drawings illustrating Thackeray's letters to Edward FitzGerald. They were only a few among many dated between 1839 and 1856, and FitzGerald gave them to Miss Churchyard, with the remark that they would prove valuable one day. At the Lambert dispersal these nine were bought for £60. The remainder, more than one hundred and fifty in number, were pasted by the translator of Omar Khayyam into a volume which he bequeathed to Lady Ritchie, and this is the volume that is to be sold in London next month.

Along with it will come a manuscript fragment of unpublished travels, more than seventy original drawings to illustrate "A Journey from Cornhill to Cairo"—some of them used from the book—and a quarto manuscript, "Notes for the Four Georges," running into a hundred pages, about a fifth of them in Thackeray's handwriting. Into this notebook the author brought anecdotes and other materials relating to manners and customs of the period under readings, also in his own writing, like "London Streets 140 Years Ago," "Beau Nash," "Account of Rice, Executed for Forgery," "Lies in History" and many more.

It is the autographic relics of Thackeray's pencil even more than of his pen that are keenly sought for. His great gifts as an artist, which Charlotte Brontë perceived, are only now being adequately recognised, as was seen in the large amount paid for drawings from the Lambert "Thackerayana."

The Geometry of It.

Washington Star:—"How are you going to square yourself with the voters out at home?"

"I'm not going to square myself," replied Senator Sorghum. "I am simply going to round 'em up."

Sure.

Cincinnati Enquirer:—Gabe—Only one man in a thousand can whistle.

Steve—But the other 999 think they can.

A Spanish Bomb-Dropping Aeroplane in Morocco

Guerilla warfare continues in Spanish Morocco, but a new turn of affairs is likely to be reached by the introduction of bomb dropping aeroplanes by the Spanish forces. The illustration shows the biplane and bombs used by two Spanish artillery officers during a series of operations carried out against the enemy in difficult country, where they were hitherto safe from attack.

How Shamrock IV. Is Built

British Cup Defender Will Have Metal Frames with Wood Skin—Other Details.

(Special Dispatch.)

London, April 4.

AS the time approaches for the completion of Shamrock IV. interest in all the details relating to the new challenger is increasing. Various rumors have been current during the last week or so, and with the view of obtaining the latest and most authentic information your representative called upon Mr. Charles Nicholson at Gosport, where the vessel is in course of construction.

Mr. Nicholson entered fully into all details, and further favored me with a view of the yacht, or as much of her as is to be seen at present.

Obviously, there are certain details to which it would be even yet unfair to refer, although as time progresses the need for strict secrecy becomes less urgent.

Shamrock IV. is of composite build—that is, metal frames with a wood skin. In this respect she differs from the three preceding Shamrocks, which were of aluminum, bronze and steel respectively. Mr. Nicholson explained his reasons for deciding upon the wood skin. He said that in the first place metal plates would be so thin that there would be great difficulty in getting the rivets to hold, as their heads have to be countersunk flush to give a perfectly smooth surface. Then, Mr. Nicholson believes that the lines of the vessel will be more truly preserved with the wood skin than with metal plating, as the thin metal plates are apt to buckle between the frames. In support of his contention he referred to torpedo craft, whose sides often present a wavy appearance, due to the buckling of the plates. Then, again, there is more resistance in wood, which is a point to be considered in a racing yacht. When a metal built vessel strains it means the loosening of some of her fastenings, but this is not necessarily the case when wood is used. It will be remembered by all who have followed the course of recent cup contests that in Shamrock II. the loosening of rivets was a constant source of trouble.

In the construction of the vessel methods very similar to those adopted in building small racers are brought into use. Moulds are set up to insure the frames coming to the exact form. The vessel is now up in frame, and a few planks from the garboard up are already fastened. The wood skin will be of mahogany.

Another interesting operation in progress at the Gosport yard is the making of the mast for the challenger. This will be of wood, and hollow, and in itself is quite a big undertaking. There are firms which make a specialty of mast building, but Mr. Nicholson, for this occasion at any rate, prefers to build his own. Two masts will be made, one to be ready in case of a "carry away," and they will be the biggest hollow spars ever built.

Needless to say, Shamrock IV. is a boat of extreme design, and no matter what the ultimate issue of the contests may be she will be a credit to her designer. It may be definitely stated that she will have a centreboard. Under the American rule of measurement extreme draught is heavily penalised, but a centreboard is not measured, so by its use several feet of draught may be obtained without fine.

Shamrock IV. will probably be ready for launching about the end of April.

England Losing Its Landmarks

Old Ship Inn, Near Hammersmith Bridge, and George Hotel, at Reading, About to Go.

(Special Dispatch.)

London, April 6.

STILL more ancient landmarks dear to Londoners and interesting to tourists are to disappear. A few weeks ago it was stated that as London had suffered a year ago because so little was done to attract American tourists to London during the season, an effort was to be made to keep them longer during the forthcoming season, and this is the way it is being done.

What with the closing of all places of interest owing to the growing danger of suffragette outrages and the demolishing of old buildings, there will soon be hardly anything in London worth seeing by tourists.

Great indignation has been aroused by the news that the Old Ship Inn, which stands on the Mall, near Hammersmith Bridge, is to be destroyed. This is one of the best known landmarks on the famous course between Putney and Mortlake, but the licensing magistrates have ordered the extinction of the license on the ground of redundancy.

The original Old Ship was built on the site of the present building nearly three hundred years ago. Part of the old structure still remains, in the form of a very fine portico of red brick. This is a subject of great interest to antiquarians, for it is one of the oldest examples of brickwork in the neighborhood.

During the latter half of the century there jutted out from the frontage of the house the original Hammersmith Pier, which was served by the "penny steamboats" that plied up and down the river. A private terrace leads from the house to the water's edge, and from this a magnificent view of the inter-university boat race can be obtained. On a fine morning the outlook is charming. Old Chiswick Church stands in the foreground, while in the distance are the hills of Richmond.

"If this building," said the landlord of the Old Ship, "is demolished it will, no doubt be replaced by a factory or some other eyesore. This is a very dangerous part of the river, and no fewer than twenty lives have been saved from my terrace during the last three years. Without us there would be no landing stage on this side of the river for quite a long distance. Many well known authors frequented the house in years gone by."

And the old George Hotel at Reading is going, too. This ancient house was doing business in the days when the Abbot of Reading was one of the great men in the land, and it stands to-day in dignified repose in a busy street, not far from the gaunt ruins of the great abbey. High over its arched entrance, set a little askew, is the date of its foundation, 1506.

A Symptom.

Louisville Courier-Journal:—"Here's a critic says the drama is in its second childhood."

"I notice it has taken to playing in the sand."

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhœa. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

MILLBROOK NEWS

Examiner Special:

MILLBROOK, April 7. — Miss Hockey went up to Toronto last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Smith spent a few days last week in Lindsay.

Mr. Harry J. Armstrong returned last week on his farm in the west.

Miss Helen Armstrong, student at the Normal School, Peterborough, was home over Sunday.

Mr. Jas. Hales and daughter, Miss May, left on Monday for a three-months' visit with his son, George, in Kingsgate, B.C.

Mrs. R. Ruddy and babe, Master Gordon Ruddy, of Peterborough, are visiting friends in town, the guests of Mrs. McBeam.

Mr. T. B. Collins was in Toronto last week and took back with him his grandson, Master Jack Tumprey, who has been here for some weeks.

Col. H. A. Ward, K.C., was appointed Senior Judge of these counties at a meeting of the Cabinet at Ottawa.

This Store Recommends JAP-A-LAC because of its convenience. Anyone can use it with wonderful results.

JAP-A-LAC—the Home-Maker

TRANSFORM your house into a HOME with the aid of JAP-A-LAC—the Home-Maker. Finish your "den" in weathered oak, and give the tarnished brass andirons and lighting fixtures a wrought iron finish with dull black JAP-A-LAC. A gilded chair will add an artistic touch to the Drawing-Room—JAP-A-LAC gold will gild it. You can apply it yourself—no experience required—wonderful for renewing old, varnished and dingy-looking furniture or floors.

Always put up in Crown Tins bearing the name "GLIDDEN." Twenty-one colors to choose from. Ask at your local hardware store for a JAP-A-LAC color card and a copy of the little book, "A Thousand and One Uses of JAP-A-LAC."

In Peterborough JAP-A-LAC is sold by

The KINGAN HARDWARE Co., Ltd

JAP-A-LAC

Made by The Glidden Varnish Co., Limited, Toronto

Youre not really sick, still you don't feel "just right."

Your pain is the true of hundreds [illegible] sick, but feel [illegible] eating, work, one business and [illegible] are impeded. The chief cause [illegible] constipation. When you [illegible] that way, take the Best REMEDY FOR THE KIDNEYS.

Wesdem's Pills

SOLD AND GUARANTEED BY

Warne Drug Co. and James Lynch, Peterboro'

UP IN NEW ONTARIO.

Got Rheumatism Through Exposure, but Wesdem's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

"While on a trip with a survey party in Northern Ontario two years ago I contracted rheumatism through exposure and sleeping in damp clothes. When I returned home I was very lame and the pain in my joints was something awful. I was advised to try Wesdem's Kidney Pills, and after taking four boxes my rheumatism was entirely gone. Last year I was up on the survey party again, but I was never without a box of Wesdem's Kidney Pills, and have never had the slightest return of it.

John S. Dillon, Soo, Mich.

Good form

When Paying a Call.

Winter is the time of social formality, and as an expression of courtesy the call stands supreme. A formal call should be paid between the hours of 3 and 5:30 in the afternoon. You can readily see the reason for this, as a hostess must not be "caught napping," and the caller should give her time to finish any luncheon, nap or duties around the home, and at the same time a departure should be made that will enable the hostess to prepare for dinner.

It is permissible to make a morning call that is not entirely a social one. A call that has for its object a charitable task, the inquiry after the health of one in the household or the investigation of a servant's standing can be made at a convenient hour in the morning. Do not make a call of this character on the "at home" day, for this entertainment demands extra duties from the hostess, and she ought to be undisturbed. This type of call is not counted a social call and cannot be made to pay off any social debts.

If a friend has a special day on which she receives callers choose this by all means. The leaving of cards stating the day and the hour will make your calling list a very simple thing. Keep cards of this type and enter the facts in a little book.

If a bride is in her new home and has stated on her cards a social date it is discourteous to call before that time. She may not be prepared to receive visitors. Allow a reasonable length of time to elapse and make the first call. In a neighborhood where it is the custom to call on newly arrived residents there should be a comfortable time given to allow of a settling in the new home and an adjustment to one's surroundings.

An unmarried woman should call on a matron first, and a younger woman pays the first call on the older one without regard to the fact of the former's being married or single. The best thing to do is to acquaint yourself with the social customs of the city or country in which you reside.

Now, there are some calls that are obligatory. If you have been bridesmaid or an attendant at a wedding you should call on the true hostess of the wedding reception, the mother of the bride. This should be done shortly after the wedding.

Roast Goose.

Select a young goose and avoid the rank flavor and tough texture which age always gives this fowl. Draw, clean, singe and stuff with a breadcrumb dressing. Pour a cupful of boiling water over it to cicatrice the skin and keep in the juices. Roast, allowing twenty minutes to the pound, if young. If of uncertain age allow half an hour to each pound and baste often with salted water. Half an hour before it is done dredge it lightly with flour, baste with butter and water and let it brown and crisp.

Throw a cup of cold water into the liquor in the pan, which will cause the grease to rise to the top. Skim it all off very carefully, for, though goose grease is valuable in the domestic pharmacopoeia, it is neither palatable nor wholesome. Thicken the gravy with browned flour, add the giblets, which cook with the goose, minced very fine, boil up once and serve very hot.

Walnut Loaf Cake.

Ingredients: Half a cupful of butter, half a cupful of powdered sugar, half a cupful of granulated sugar, half a cupful of water, three eggs, a quarter of a pound of shelled and ground walnuts, one and a half cupfuls of sifted pastry flour, a teaspoonful of baking soda (careful level measurement) and two teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar. Method: Sift soda into flour, cream butter and sugar, add yolks and beat again; whip whites with cream of tartar, as for angel food; add to the rest, then beat in the nuts and the flour and water alternately. Bake in moderate heat in a loaf mold. Ice with maple icing and sprinkle chopped walnuts over.

Decorating the Turkey.

After stuffing the royal bird tie his legs and wings close to his sides and pull out the neck bone so it will project beyond the breast. When done make two niche frills out of folded writing paper (cut fine) and tie one on each leg with a piece of narrow red ribbon. Make a large frill and tie it on the neck bone, completely covering what would otherwise be unsightly. Make a nest of curly celery tops on the platter, place the turkey upon it and send him to the table in all his glory. It will be very becoming to his majesty and please the children greatly.

The Bustle—Perhaps.

There is a rumor that the bustle may come into vogue again. A certain Parisian dressmaker has adapted it to one of the new gowns, but even if it appears as a freak fancy surely it won't acquire any sort of vogue. Anyway, we are all hoping for the best. We have shown little desire to adopt the freak lamp shade tunic, so a certain firmness on our part may banish the bustle back to the obscurity from which it was evoked.

Holland is arranging to make further reclamations of the Zuyder Zee. Another 544 for the surviving of Colonel Goethals may be expected.

WOMEN FROM 45 to 55 TESTIFY

To the Merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during Change of Life.

Westbrook, Me. — "I was passing through the Change of Life and had pains in my back and side and was so weak I could hardly do my housework. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a lot of good. I will recommend your medicine to my friends and give you permission to publish my testimonial." — Mrs. LAWRENCE MARTIN, 12 King St., Westbrook, Maine.

Manston, Wis. — "At the Change of Life I suffered with pains in my back and legs until I could not stand. I also had night-sweats so that the sheets would be wet. I tried other medicine but got no relief. After taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to improve and I continued its use for six months. The pains left me, the night-sweats and hot flashes grew less, and in one year I was a different woman. I know I have to thank you for my continued good health ever since." — Mrs. M. J. BROWNELL, Manston, Wis.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled in such cases.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

One Drink at a Time.

An article recently published about a well-known London public house called "Dirty Dick's," where it was the rule that only one drink could be served to customers at a single visit, brings to mind another licensed house in the City where not only is a similar rule enforced, but where smoking is strictly prohibited.

The proprietors of this licensed house, which is in Artillery Lane, Bishopsgate, frankly state that they reserve to themselves the right to conduct their business upon any system they may deem expedient, and they cannot permit their rules to be broken on any account with impunity. Furthermore, they "respectfully request all persons objecting to the regulations, and who are not willing to act in strict conformity therewith, to kindly transfer their patronage to some other establishment."

Whale meat is said to be very palatable. It must be a tough job, however, to clean a mess of whales.

Emperor William is accredited with keeping twenty-six automobiles. And yet folks called Uncle Joe a czar!

Somebody ought to be able to make a fortune by compounding a complexion beautifier and naming it tan-go.

A Chicago man's life was saved when a bullet struck a gold coin in his pocket. Luck always breaks with the rich.

Bicycle Dealers take NOTICE

Trade that we have made may pass your door

We don't want it to—far rather would we pass along to you the numerous enquiries we have received from the Cycling public, in response to our advertising.

Our Business is Business with Dealers. You have seen the "Raleigh" advertised, but have you seen the "Raleigh" "POPULAR" Model at the popular price of $40?

We have the enquiries—will you take advantage of this in your territory?

Write for our plan of Dealer Co-operation

The Raleigh Cycle Co. Toronto

Warehouse 193 Queen Street East

THE RALEIGH NOTTINGHAM ENGLAND

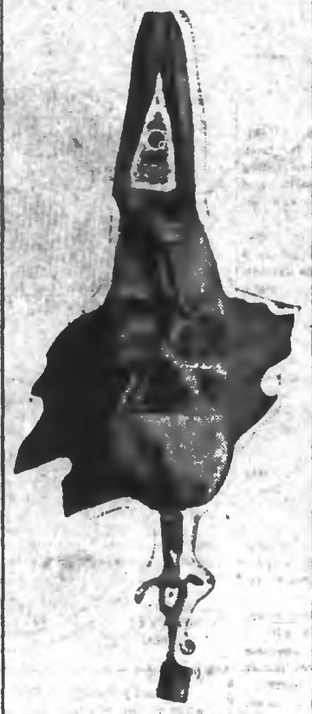
Raleigh "Popular" with Coaster Break, $40.00.

Raleigh "Gazelle" with Coaster Break, $35.00.

Dealers Wanted.

USEFUL AND PRETTY.

Just What the Housewife Will Like.



CORK BAG OF BLUE LINEN.

Corks are one of the little things one can never find when there is use for them. This little cork bag is the clever idea of an ingenious housekeeper who believes in "a place for everything and everything in its place."

The bag is built of blue linen, with a band of cretonne as a decoration. To the end of the bag is attached a corkscrew.

Homemade Flowerpot.

Flowerpots of any size or design may be made of plaster of paris in the following way: First secure a mold of the desired size. It must be smooth upon the outside and the top a little larger than the bottom. Grease the mold and cover it with paper. Mix plaster of paris one part, water two and one-half parts, and into this solution dip inch wide strips of muslin.

Invert the mold and cover the bottom with a square of muslin that has been dipped in the plaster mixture.

Then, upon the same plan that a surgeon employs to adjust a plaster cast, begin to wind diagonally, around and around, working from bottom to top and then back again, smoothing out the creases and keeping the strips even. When the last layer is in place add a generous coating of the plaster, rubbing it level by the hand. Set in a strong current of air, and in a short time the mold can be removed.

The strips of muslin should be about ten inches long to manage easily, and the size of the pot will govern the number used, as a large one will require more in order to produce a heavier article.

The last coating can be stamped with any ornamental impression or beautifully marbled by dusting a little powdered lye upon it before finishing.

Have You a Sautoire?

They formerly were known as lorgnette ribbons, but now they are commonly called sautoires—the quarter inch wide bands in black grosgrain that comes in yard lengths and are joined under hook equipped slides matching other slides of slightly larger size. The smart sautoire is fitted with slides of bar, circle, diamond or crescent shape in solid silver or gold set with brilliants or pearls and is designed to match a tiny watch or a vanity pendant, if lorgnettes are not used.

For elderly women the smartest thing in sautoires is fitted with a slide in cut jet, some of them in butterfly shape, and to suspend from these are circles in jets concealing a base of silver containing a vanity mirror.

Even more novel is the silk cord of yard length and of a brilliant shade of green, blue or red, supposed by the initiated to match the wearer's hosiery. Perhaps it does, but in any event it gives a fetching dash of color to the costume, and it serves to exhibit one of the new pear shaped pendants which come in pearls, amber, jet or brilliants—whichever one can afford.

Value of Neatness in Business World.

The business girl who knows the value of little things in a presentable and attractive appearance never appears at the office with shabby, unpolished boots or with carelessly manicured hands. The concentrated gaze of the man who is dictating is very likely to fix itself on his stenographer's hand, poised over her notebook, or his lowered, absorbed gaze to focus itself on her feet.

He may or may not notice that the hand is exquisitely white and dainty, and the little boot irreproachably neat with no button missing. But let the hand show rough and ragged nails, or the boot show shabby and buttonless features, in nine cases out of ten his gaze is arrested and a mental note against that employee is registered in his mind. Neatness should be the fetish of the girl worker, then economy, then wisdom in buying and finally all the attractiveness she can compass.

"English Managers Scouring American Stage." The ambition is wholesome but why could it not have been undertaken for native talent?

Twelve Thousand Miles From Ceylon

yet every package of "SALADA" TEA sold in Canada has the flavor, strength, and fragrance of the tea as it leaves the plantation in Ceylon. This is because is sealed in lead packages—air-tight and moisture-proof—thus preserving its delectable deliciousness

"SALADA"

BLACK, GREEN or MIXED

BAILIEBORO NEWS

Examiner Special:

BAILIEBORO, April 7.—Mr. John Greer was in Toronto last week.

Miss G. Hamill returned home last week.

Dr. Membray is taking Dr. Russell's place, who is laid up with his eye.

Mr. Harry Armstrong passed away on Saturday at the home of his father, Mr. John Armstrong, Millbrook, at the age of 40 years. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife and six children, two sons and four daughters. He was buried on Monday last by the Masons in St. John's Cemetery, 4th Line.

A LUMBERMAN'S OPINION

"I was troubled with palpitation of the heart and sleeplessness," writes Mr. Wm. Pritchard, Lumber Inspector, Lansdowne Mills, Ont., "and tried Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with very great benefit, as my whole system was strengthened and built up." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food forms new, rich blood and restores the feeble wasted nerve cells.

ENGLAND AND KING MENELIK.

British Government Watching Abyssinia—A Remarkable Career.

Since the death of Menelik England has been looking with anxious eyes upon Abyssinia, for there is considerable disorder in that country. Territory amounting to 8,000 square miles was ceded by the late negus to British Somaliland in 1897. All along the frontier bandit tribes have been collecting and threatening the central government. If, as the indications suggest, there is destined to be a series of wars to establish one of the many claimants to the throne, destitution among the Abyssinians will increase, and so will raids on British surrounding territory. Menelik had a great regard as well as a wholesome fear of the British Government.

With little authentic known about the Emperor Menelik, he did enough in his own obscure corner of the world to establish the reputation of being one of the most remarkable men whom the negroid race has produced in recent years. The descendant, as he boasted, of the Queen of Sheba, when he ascended the throne of Ethiopia he had to face a country riven among a score of petty states and principalities. He had to establish order and introduce the rudiments of civilization.

This he accomplished by calling to his aid the science and arts of Europe. He crushed the minor chiefs who opposed him and abolished slavery. He fostered the means of communication and encouraged agriculture. He even built railroads and encouraged his people to trade with the outside world.

Fenced in by fierce Mohammedans, Abyssinia remained unknown to Europe a thousand years. Still shut off from the sea by Italian Eritrea and British and French Somaliland, it is a hermit kingdom where almost anything may happen.

Brass Dies.

With proper care brass dies for printing upon wood have been known to make more than 2,000,000 impressions before wearing out.

The darker the day the clearer the call for you to shine.

The "Pops" on "Thais."

Miss Helen Stanley, one of the talented principals of the National Opera Co. of Montreal, narrates a conversation which she heard between a French and an Italian chorus woman in the wings at a performance of "Thais," the Massenet opera which was banned by Archbishop Bruchesi of Montreal. The conversation, barring the foreign accent of the participants, ran thus:

"Say, what's this opera about?"

"Well, there was a woman [illegible] Alexandra, and she was not a very good woman. And there was a monk who lived in his monastery, and he came and said, 'I'm going to convert you,' but he couldn't do it. Then he went away in the desert to pray for the woman, and he fell in love with her. So he came back, and found her living in her monastery, and he said, 'You come on to my monastery.' 'I love you.' And she said, 'Nothing doing. I'm going away to Heaven.'"

Students Are Honest.

A novel way of transacting business has been devised by the students living in the north residence of Toronto University, in which there is no person connected with a purchase but the buyer himself. No clerk is needed, for the fellows are upon their honor to place in the cash box the exact price of the article they appropriate. When the box was opened at the beginning of the present term a great many I.O.U.'s were found inside it, testifying to the large number of undergrads who were suffering temporary financial embarrassments during the Christmas term. All the promises were fulfilled in the first few days of the term, and the small store is continuing to do business at the rate of from $5 to $10 a day.

Nerves Were So Bad

THOUGHT SHE WOULD GO OUT OF HER MIND.

Diseases of the nervous system are very common. All the organs of the body may be sound while the nerve centres may be affected.

Many women become run down and worn out by household cares and duties never ending, and sooner or later find themselves with the nerves shattered, and the heart action weakened.

On the first sign of any weakness of either the heart or nerves, flagging energy, or physical breakdown, do not wait until your case becomes hopeless.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will at once quieten the nerves, strengthen the heart and build up the entire system.

Mrs. Archie Goodine, Tilley, N.B., writes:—"When I was troubled with my heart two years ago, I was very bad. My nerves were so unstrung that sometimes I would almost go out of my mind. I doctored myself with everything I could get, until at last I got four boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and they have cured me. I cannot speak too highly of this wonderful remedy, and will recommend it to all sufferers."

Price, 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The Treasure Discovered

Captain Kiddy and his little soldiers have discovered what they are looking for.

The flavor of Kellogg's Corn Flakes has won them. They eat it with gusto without knowing anything about its rare sustaining qualities—or that it is so good for them—just because they like it. Be sure to get

Kellogg's CORN FLAKES

The Original 10c per package.

CLARK'S

MEAT

Choicest fruits,—perfectly balanced—ready to use. Saves endless labour.

One quality

In place of cans.

Burns

WOULD BANISH BAR.

Petition Signed by 2,000 Conservatives Presented at Toronto.

TORONTO, April 9. — Requesting legislation to abolish all liquor shop, bar and [illegible] licenses in Ontario, and one year later the submission of the question of prohibition to a plebiscite of the people, a deputation of the Ontario Young Manhood Association, headed by Dr. H. A. McKim of Toronto, presented a petition containing 2,000 signatures to the Ontario Government yesterday. In an address accompanying the petition it was pointed out that unless the Government would in some degree accede to their requests, the signers of the petition who said they were all Conservatives, would have to ally themselves with the opposite party.

Hon. Mr. Foy, in acting Premier, replied. The Government, he said, realized the evils of intemperance as well as anybody, and wished to minimize them and check the use of liquor as much as possible, but he did not think abolition of bars would stop drinking.

Hon. W. J. Hanna said that the Government had further restrictions under consideration which could not be announced as yet.

A bite of this and a taste of that, all day long, dulls the appetite and weakens the digestion.

Restore your stomach to healthy vigor by taking a Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablet after each meal—and cut out the "pesting".

Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets are the best friends for sufferers from indigestion and dyspepsia. 50c. a box at your Druggist's. Made by the National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited.

149

"Get the habit" and call at

JAY'S STORES

they know how to sell cheap, for cash. All kinds of Furniture and Stoves in stock also Sewing Machines from $4.00.

Ladies' and Gentlemens secondhand clothing. We have a lot of children's new dress es made up for spring. Call and see them

390 Alymer St. 'Phone 498

CHINA PAINTING

Mrs. Langley McCarthy

Teacher Bissell's New and Improved Daily Work in China Painting.

A NOVEL PARTY HELD AT KEENE

Other Interesting Paragraphs from the Gleaner Capital

Examiner Specials

Keene, April 8.—Mrs. Rev. Edmison and little daughter, Dorothea, spent the past week with Mrs. Edmison's parents near Millbrook.

Miss Maggie Wallis is at home from Toronto for the Easter holidays.

The "Apostle" Party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McFarlane, last Thursday night, under the auspices of the Social Department of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church, was a decided success in every way. The evening was delightfully spent in music, guessing contests, and all kinds of games.

Mr. George McIntyre and sister, Miss Stella, attended the "Old Homestead" play at Peterborough last Thursday night.

Mr. C. E. McDonell of the Ontario Department of Agriculture of Norwood, visited the Keene School last week to give instruction about the preparation of the Rural Schol Fair to be held again in the Fall. This Fair will be held at Zion, as that place is the most central for the ten schools, whose representatives are to meet there. This fair will be much larger than the one held last year. The following school committee has been appointed. Chairman, Leo Foley; vice-chairman, Bertie McNeil; Sec.Treasurer, Miss Lottie Wedlock; This committee and the committees from the other nine schools are to meet in a few weeks at Peterborough when they will be given further instructions by Messrs. McRae and McDowall.

Mr. Irving Wedlock, who has been spending the winter with friends at Toronto, returned home last Saturday.

Messrs. Michael Kennedy and Edward Foley were in Peterborough last Saturday.

Mr. John Fletcher of Norwood was the week-end guest at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fletcher.

Mr. Albert Bishop left on Monday for Edmonton where he will spend the summer.

Mr. Thomas Nelson returned on Saturday from Peterborough, where he had been spending the past two weeks with friends.

Mrs. H. McLachlan returned home on Thursday from Peterborough, where she spent the week-end with friends.

Mr. Wm. Wedlock, Sr., was in Peterborough Saturday on business.

Mr Patterson, the Township Assessor, has completed his work and turned in his books last Thursday.

Mr. James Henderson spent Saturday last at Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gibson of Toronto are visiting at the home of Mrs. Wedlock's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wedlock.

Miss Ella Webb spent Monday and Tuesday with friends at Peterborough.

Mr. William Campbell was in Peterborough on Saturday.

A concert will be held on April 24 by the members of the 57th Band at the Town Hall, Keene, under the management of Mr. George T. Gall, and his Sunday School Class, the entertainment will be both vocal and instrumental.

Asquith Is Again in House.

LONDON, April 9.—Premier Asquith again became a member of the House of Commons yesterday, when he was returned unopposed by his old constituency of East Fife, Scotland. At noon, as no other candidate had put in an appearance, the returning officer of the constituency declared Mr. Asquith duly elected once more for the constituency he has represented in the lower House since 1886.

Sclater Succeeds Ewart.

LONDON, April 9.—Lt.-Gen. Sir Henry Crichton Sclater has been appointed adjutant-general to succeed Gen. Sir John Ewart, who resigned with Field Marshal Sir John French because of the Ulster difficulty.

GIFTS TO SEALERS' FUND.

King and Queen Head Lists—Total Is Given $16,000.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 9. — Premier Morris of Newfoundland cables from London that King George and Queen Mary have headed the subscription list in The London Times for the sealing disaster fund, with a donation of $750, and that generous contributions from other sources are being received.

The acting Premier has contributions of $2,000 each from the Dominion and Nova Scotia Steel Companies.

The steamer Kyle sent a wireless yesterday, when [illegible] south of Cape Race, reporting that she had seen nothing of the missing [illegible]. She spoke yesterday morning to the Gloucester schooner John Hammond, on the banks 190 miles south of Cape Race, which reported seeing no steamer.

Canada Gives $10,000.

OTTAWA, April 9.—When Parliament met yesterday afternoon Premier Borden announced that he had been in communication with Hon. John R. Bennett, acting Premier of Newfoundland, in respect to the recent disaster to the sealers and had volunteered to give practical evidence of Canadian sympathy by a grant to assist the families of the lost. He would accordingly ask Parliament for a grant of $10,000 for the purpose. "The action of the Government in this matter is worthy of commendation," commented Sir Wilfrid Laurier, "and will have the hearty support of this side of the House."

Toronto Gives $5,000.

TORONTO, April 9.—A grant of $5,000 was made by the City Council to the survivors of those lost in the recent disaster off Newfoundland when a large number of sealers were caught in a blizzard.

Ladies! Look Young Darken Grey Hair

Use the Old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know

Grey hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns grey and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay grey! Look younger! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Remedy." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the grey hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural colour is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

For sale by the Warne Drug Co.

HASTINGS NEWS

HASTINGS, April 7.—The pulpit in the Methodist Church was ably filled on Sunday at both services by the Rev. Howard, of Warkworth, who preached excellent sermons in the interest of the educational department of the Church work. The collections and subscriptions were in aid of the fund.

The Epworth League held their monthly consecration service on Monday night, when an interesting programme was given.

The Ladies Aid met on Thursday last at the Parsonage, when a number of important items of business were discussed. At the close of the session refreshments were served and a short time spent in social intercourse. Some thirty members were present.

Mr. R. Barron returned last week from Moorefield, whither he accompanied Mr. Oakman and family.

The League is preparing for a "Rubber Social," to be held on or about the 27th of this month.

"April Fool's Day" was pretty generally observed here, and numberless jokes were played on the unwary.

The weather up to the present has been cold and backward, the hard nightly frosts being trying to the fall crops.

Miss Ethel Collins spent Sunday under the parental roof.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Beavis spent Monday with friends in Norwood.

Miss Cardwell, of Westwood, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Warner.

Rev. T. H. Anderson drove to Warkworth on Sunday to take charge of the services there, in the absence of the pastor.

Mrs. Baskin, of Norwood, was in town on Saturday.

Messrs. David and Charlie Robb returned a few days ago from Cobalt, where they had spent some little time.

The Public School was opened on Saturday for work to allow the teacher, Miss McPherson, Monday, the 30th, for returning from her home at Whitby.

Miss C. Bolton, of Toronto, visited Hastings last week and succeeded in organizing the local branch of the Daughters of the Empire with a very creditable membership.

Mr. R. Walsh sent off another shipment of hogs on Friday last. These are busy days around the station.

We are pleased to see Mrs. D. Scriver around after her recent illness.

GUARANTEED RELIEF FROM ALL BOWEL ILLS

